STATIONS, MISSIONARIES, AND OTHER LABOURERS, MAY 5, 1874.

 A STATION is the place at which a Missionary or European Catechist is stationed, or at which Native Christians are located under Native pastoral superintendence in connexion with the Society. The letter (m) means Married.—Wives of Missionaries, &c., though not named, except when engaged in some specific employment, are always expected by the Society to lay themselves out to do good, in every practicable way, among Native Females; such as cultivating familiar intercourse with them, educating children, and instructing Female Adults.

The figures after the Names of the European Labourers show the date of their first connexion with the Society's Missions.

The asterisk (*) denotes that the Missionary is on his way out. The mark (†) that he is on his way home.

Ten days' notice shall be given in Three public Newspapers, of any such intended Meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called; which shall be deemed sufficient publicity.

IX. None of the Rules of the Society shall be repealed or altered, nor any new ones established, but at the Annual Meeting, or at a Special Meeting called for that purpose.

X. An Anniversary Sermon shall be preached at some Church in London, by a Clergyman appointed by the General Committee. An Annual Report of the Society shall be printed, for the use of its Members.

XXIII. Five Auditors shall be appointed by the Committee, annually, for the purpose of auditing the Accounts of the Society, of whom, Three shall be chosen from the General Body. Three shall be a Quorum.

XXIV. The Life Subscriptions, or a sufficient part thereof to be equal to the Subscriptions of the existing Members for Life, shall be placed in the Public Funds, in the Names of Four of the General Committee; who, on their acceptance of the trust, shall sign a declaration of the nature of it, and that they will relinquish the same whenever called upon for that purpose by the General Committee.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXV. In the appointment of Candidates for the Missionary Office, the following course shall be pursued: The Committee of Correspondence having found a person supposed to be suitable, shall determine by ballot to nominate him to the General Committee. Previous to the day of nomination, each Member of the General Committee shall receive notice of such nomination. On the day of nomination, a report shall be made, by some Member of the Committee of Correspondence, of his qualifications; and the General Committee shall then proceed to ballot for him, unless any Member shall declare that he wishes for further information; in which case the ballot shall be deferred till the next Meeting of the General Committee. In the ballot of either Committee, the agreement of at least Three-fourths of the Members present shall be necessary to his election.

XXVI. A Candidate thus chosen shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVII. If, during such preparation, any Two Members of the General Committee should see cause to disapprove of his principles or conduct, they may submit the subject to a Special Meeting of the Committee; and, if deemed proper, the Committee may appoint another ballot, to determine whether he shall be continued as a Candidate; of which special notice shall be given to each Member.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself as engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time, which the Committee shall choose: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society. As soon as he quits England, he shall keep a regular Journal of his studies and proceedings; a copy of which he shall send, as often as opportunity shall serve, to the Secretaries.

XXIX. Each candidate, after due preparation, shall, if not admitted to Holy Orders, be appointed by the Committee to act as a Catechist. If admitted to Holy Orders, he shall be appointed a Missionary*.

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the General Committee: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society, to the satisfaction of the Committee, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, suitable provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable. The General Committee shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. All questions relating to matters of Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, respecting which a difference shall arise between any Colonial Bishop and any Committee of the Society, shall be referred to the Archbishops and Bishops of the United Church of England and Ireland, whose decision thereupon shall be final.

XXXIII. The object of the preceding Law being only to provide a mode of settling questions relating to Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, as to which no provision has yet been made by the Society, it is not to be so construed, as in any other respect to alter the principles and practices of the Society, as they are contained in its Laws and Regulations, and explained in Appendix H. to the Thirty-ninth Report.

The proposed reference shall be made, through His Grace the Primate, by the Committee, accompanied by such explanations and statements as the Committee may deem advisable; and the Committee will be bound so to refer all questions, falling within the scope of the Rule so understood as aforesaid, which the Colonial Bishop shall require them to refer.

While all decisions of the Bench of Bishops on questions so referred will be considered by the Committee as binding on them and their agents or representatives, the Colonial Bishops or other Ecclesiastical Authorities, unless concurring in the reference, cannot properly be considered as so bound.

XXXIV. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon its designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

* The following passage, from Appendix H. to the Thirty-ninth Annual Report, illustrates the practice of the Society in reference to this Rule:—

"The Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth [ecclesiastically speaking] our Missionaries: these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same Colony. The Services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and Discipline of the Church."

APPENDIX II. TO THE THIRTY-NINTH REPORT.

REFERRED TO IN THE NOTE TO LAW XXIX.

REMARKS ON THE CONSTITUTION AND PRACTICE OF THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY, WITH REFERENCE TO ITS ECCLESIASTICAL RELATIONS.

It is the object of the following Remarks to show, that the constitution and practice of the Church Missionary Society are in strict conformity with Ecclesiastical principles, as they are recognized in the constitution and practice of the Church of England.

Throughout the system of the Church of England there is a recognized co-operation of temporal and spiritual functions in MATTERS ECCLESIASTICAL; that is, the Laity and Clergy have not only their separate and distinct provinces, but, in many important respects, they unite their agency for the accomplishing of Ecclesiastical acts.

For instance, in supplying a vacant Church, a Lay-patron selects and presents "his Clerk"—as the Clergyman is technically called—to the Bishop; who thereupon invests him with authority to minister in that Church. So, also, there are certain Lay-officers appointed to every Church—the Churchwardens or Sidesmen—whose duty it is, not only to guard, in conjunction with the Minister, the temporalities of the Church, but also to watch over the due performance of Divine Service, the morals of the parishioners, and the conduct of the Minister; and to report, from time to time, on each of these matters, to the Ecclesiastical Authorities. The duty of these officers is implied in the old appellation, "Sidesmen," or "Synodsmen"—men summoned to attend and give information at Synods and Visitations.

The distinction and co-operation of lay and spiritual functions in the Church of England might be further illustrated in the case of Ecclesiastical Courts, and various relations which arise out of the principle, that the Sovereign is the Supreme Ruler of the Church.

Keeping the foregoing distinction in view, the Church Missionary Society may be regarded as an Institution for discharging the temporal and lay offices necessary for the preaching of the Gospel among the Heathen. It is strictly a Lay Institution: it exercises, as a Society, no spiritual functions whatsoever.

Such being the constitution of the Society in theory—are its proceedings conducted in conformity with this theory, and with the Ecclesiastical principles of the Church of England?

In order to review these proceedings, they may be conveniently arranged under the FOUR following Heads:—

I. THE COLLECTION OF THE HOME REVENUE, and THE DISBURSEMENT OF IT ABROAD.

These acts are altogether within the province of Laymen.

II. THE SELECTING AND EDUCATING CANDIDATES FOR MISSIONARY EMPLOYMENT.

In this department there is no necessary encroachment upon spiritual functions. The Colleges in our Universities are Lay-Corporations, and may, in many cases, be administered and presided over by Laymen.

Yet it may be urged that in this department there is an approach to the peculiar province of Clergymen; because spiritual persons seem the more proper judges of a Candidate's fitness for Missionary employment; and it is generally admitted, that a Bishop may exercise a control over the education and training of Candidates to be advanced by himself to Holy Orders. Now, in both these particulars the Church Missionary Society has carefully guarded its proceedings. The examination of Missionary Candidates is referred to a Clerical Sub-Committee; and the General Committee consult and act upon the report of this Clerical trial and judgment. In respect of the other point, the education and training of Candidates for Holy Orders, the Church Missionary College at Islington has the sanction and approbation of the Bishop of London; who, in this country, admits to Holy Orders all the Society's Candidates; and his Lordship has repeatedly expressed his satisfaction at the results of the system of instruction, as they have been manifested in his examinations for Holy Orders.

III. The Third general head of the Society's proceedings is, THE SENDING FORTH, TO PARTICULAR STATIONS, THE MISSIONARIES THUS ORDAINED, OR OTHER CLERGYMEN WHO HAVE BEEN PREVIOUSLY ORDAINED.

Now, here an objection against the Society has been founded on the use of the term "sending forth:"—it sounds like an exercise of Ecclesiastical power. But, Ecclesiastically speaking, the Bishop of London "sends forth" every Missionary ordained by him. The Law of the land has sanctioned the Two Archbishops, and the Bishop of London, in ordaining persons to officiate abroad. The Secretary of the Church Missionary Society requests, by Letter, the Bishop of London to ordain, in conformity with the provisions of the Act of Parliament, such and such persons, whom the Society is willing to support in some Foreign Station. The Bishop, by the imposition of hands, gives them authority to preach the Gospel, with a view to their Foreign location.—In the case of persons already in Holy Orders, who may join the Society, they may be said to go forth by their own voluntary act; but their Letters of Orders, given by a Bishop of our Church, are their mission and commission, Ecclesiastically speaking.

Hence, to call the acts of the Church Missionary Society—in selecting the station, paying the passage-money, and agreeing to provide the Missionary's salary—to call these acts a SENDING FORTH of Preachers, in an Ecclesiastical sense, is to confound names with things, and to lose sight of all true Church principles.

IV. The Fourth general head under which the proceedings of the Church Missionary Society may be arranged, is, THE SUPERINTENDENCE OF MISSIONARIES IN THEIR LABOURS AMONG THE HEATHEN.

Here a distinction must be made between the case of those Foreign Stations which lie within the jurisdiction of a Colonial Bishop, and other stations, which are not so situated, and may therefore be termed Extra-diocesan.

In the first case, the Church Missionary Society has expressly determined, that all its ordained Missionaries shall be submitted for licence to the Bishop of the diocese in which they may be stationed; and that no Missionary shall exercise his spiritual functions in such diocese without a licence. The Society has further recognized the uncontrolled discretion of the Bishop to grant or withhold his licence, and the propriety of specifying in such licence a particular district as the field of labour; so that a Missionary cannot be removed from one district to another without the sanction of the Bishop.

These principles were stated in a Letter from the Society to the Bishop of Calcutta, signed by the Right Honourable the President—December 17, 1835—in a manner so satisfactory to the Bishop, that he embodied them in the four following Rules, expressed for the most part in the words of the Society's Letter: which were, at the Bishop's request, entered upon the minutes of the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, as the recognized Rules of their practice:—

"1. The Bishop expresses—by granting or withholding his licence, in which the sphere of the Missionary's labour is mentioned—his approbation, or otherwise, of that location.

"2. The Bishop superintends the Missionaries afterward, as the other Clergy, in the discharge of their Ecclesiastical duties.

"3. The Bishop receives from those—the Committee and Secretary—who still stand in the relation of Lay-patrons to the Missionary, such communications respecting his Ecclesiastical duties as may enable the Bishop to discharge that paternal superintendence to the best advantage.—The Archdeacon of Calcutta or Bombay acting under the Bishop's immediate directions when he happens to be absent.

"4. If the Bishop* or Archdeacon fills, at the request of the Society, the offices of Patron, President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, &c., he receives, further, all such confidential information, on all topics, as the Bishops officially neither could wish nor properly ask [to receive]."

The Bishop also wrote to the Parent Society in the following terms: "You seem to me to lay down the principle most correctly.....This is to me perfectly satisfactory; as I shall instantly inform the Archbishop of Canterbury, to whom I report all the proceedings of the diocese."—9th June, 1836.

It will be perceived, that the Missionaries, thus licensed, stand toward the Bishop in the relation rather of Stipendiary Curates, than of Beneficed Clergymen. For a Bishop in England cannot refuse a licence, or institution to a benefice, without assigning a reason which will bear investigation before a Court of Common Law; nor can he deprive a Clergyman of his benefice without a judicial process. But no law has provided any such check in the case of Missionaries; the Bishop has the power of withholding a licence, or of withdrawing it, at his sole discretion, without assigning any cause, as in the case of Stipendiary Curates in this country.

If it be asked, What are the checks and safeguards against the undue exercise of this discretionary power of the Bishop?—it may be replied, in the words of the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Parent Society, April 12, 1837,—

"We are not to take for granted, that discretionary power will be abused; but, on the contrary, to provide, by a cheerful and friendly spirit and conduct, against the likelihood of such an occurrence. If the event of arbitrary conduct should arise, or be supposed to arise, the remedies are—public opinion—an appeal to the Archbishop—and the Society's refusing to make other appointments and locations than those unreasonably objected to. Nothing is the least likely—and probability is the guide of life—to arise to impede or cramp the Committee; since they unquestionably and avowedly possess, The choice of men—The appointment of spheres of labour—The Temporal power, including pecuniary support."

* The Three Bishops of India, and the Bishop of Australia, are the Presidents of the Corresponding Committees in their respective dioceses.

But though the Bishop's licence is at once the pledge and proof that the Society's Missionaries are under Episcopal superintendence and jurisdiction, and that the spiritual oversight rests altogether with the Bishop; yet the Society may seem, to some persons, to keep up a kind of spiritual jurisdiction and oversight, by requiring accounts from the Missionaries of all their proceedings, and by giving them directions, from time to time, which may bear upon their spiritual duties. But it must be remembered, that the Society stands towards its Missionaries in the relation of Trustees of the fund out of which their salaries are paid. In the case of a Beneficed Clergyman in this country, the Minister is the guardian and possessor of the temporalities of the benefice, because the benefice is an endowment; and the Patron has no further connexion with the Minister whom he has once presented to the Bishop. In our case, the office of Patron is, in a sense, perpetuated by the payment of the salary, and the possession of all the temporalities of the Mission.

This matter has been well explained by the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, May 26, 1837:—"The Missionary Committees," says his Lordship, "have a far greater latitude in India than any Lay-patrons at home. Upon presenting his Clerk to the Bishop, the Patron at home is functus officio. The Clergyman is removed, on being once instituted and licensed, totally and for ever from the Patron, and is transferred to the superintendency of the Bishop. The Patron has nothing whatever more to do with him. But in India, the Committee is (1) the continued paymaster of the Missionary after he is duly licensed;—for institution and induction there are none. (2) They correspond with him. (3) They supply him with Catechists. (4) They report his chief proceedings home. (5) They propose removals and changes of Station to the Bishop. (6) They exercise, unavoidably, an influence which does not belong to the mere Lay-patron; and are aiding, in a variety of ways, to the comfortable and honourable discharge of the Missionary's most exalted and most spiritual duties."

It remains to consider the case of those Stations which are Extra-diocesan; i. e. where there is no Colonial Bishop of the Church of England having jurisdiction over them.

In these cases, the Society has endeavoured to procure for such Stations the benefits of the Episcopal office from the nearest Bishop of the Church of England. Application was made by the Committee both to the late and to the present Bishop of Madras to extend, as far as circumstances would admit, these benefits to the Mission of Travancore; which as an independent state, not forming part of the British Dominions, was not included in the diocese of Madras. A similar application was made, on behalf of the New Zealand Mission, to the Bishop of Australia, who at once acceded to the request, and kindly promised to visit New Zealand as soon as his other duties would permit; stating, in a Letter to the Society's representatives at Sydney, "It is highly satisfactory to me that our friends at home are taking a view of these things which proves them to belong, not only to a MISSIONARY, but also to a CHURCH Society." (See Annual Report, 1838.)

Such is a General View of the Constitution and Proceedings of the Church Missionary Society.

It is not intended to assert that errors are not sometimes committed in the application of these principles to matters of detail. It must be remembered that Missionary operations are, alas! new and anomalous in the system of the Church of England; and that it is not always easy to draw a definite line between the two provinces which belong respectively to the Bishop and the Committee. It has been observed by the Bishop of Calcutta—Letter, May 28, 1837:—"The boundaries of the power of Committees, as they approach to those of the Bishop, can be ascertained, in many points, only by time and observation." Perplexities have consequently occurred; and, unhappily, misunderstandings have sometimes arisen between the Representatives of the Society abroad and Ecclesiastical Authorities. But these are the principles by which the Home Committee have endeavoured to guide the proceedings of the Society; and they confidently respond to a sentiment expressed by the Bishop of Calcutta—"The principles of our new relations are now fully recognised: the details will soon find their level."—Letter, 9th June, 1836.

In reviewing the Ecclesiastical relations of the Church Missionary Society, there are two or three points which it seems very important to notice.

1. Missionary operations, as they are conducted by the Church Missionary Society, though apparently anomalous in the system of the Church of England, are yet in strict conformity with its constitution and principles: they are analogous to many other instances of voluntary exertion for the extension of true religion within the Church, in which Ecclesiastical authority and Lay co-operation unite for the accomplishment of the same end: so that these operations may be regarded as the acts of the Church of England, putting forth its energy for the Conversion of the Heathen World. For it has been shown, that the Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth our Missionaries—that these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same colony. The services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and Discipline of the Church. Even in the few cases in which Lutheran Clergymen are employed, this rule is observed; and all the congregations which are gathered into the fold of Christ are trained up as Members of the Church established in this land.

And here it may be observed, that nothing less than the sanction of a duly-assembled Convocation can more fully identify the acts of any Missionary Society, within the Church of England, with the Church *. Without such sanction, all associations of Churchmen must stand in the same position. Still further, not to notice the present abeyance of Convocations, it may be asserted, that even if the Church were to assemble in her provincial Convocations, and to decree and to regulate Missionary operations, such proceedings could not essentially add to, or alter, those important particulars which, under present circumstances, entitle the operations of the Church Missionary Society to be regarded as Missionary operations of the United Church of England and Ireland.

2. It must be ever borne in mind, that Missionary operations are, in their very nature, temporary and preparative;—that they are to be gradually but eventually superseded by a different order of things, when the Heathen Nations shall have become Christianized. In some cases, as in the West Indies, this change is further advanced than in others. Now, it must be expected, that in proportion as this change advances, difficulties and perplexities will arise in our Ecclesiastical relations, peculiar to this TRANSITION STATE—from Missionary operations, to that happy consummation when there shall be an endowed and established system of Christian Instruction, and a territorial division of Ministerial labour. This consummation the Church Missionary Society has ever kept in view, and devoutly desired; and, as far as possible, has prepared for its approach. In an interview with the Bishop of Barbadoes—April, 1835—this point was expressly alluded to: and it was stated by the Committee to his Lordship, "that whenever a district should be brought into the state of an organized Christian community, it should assume entirely the Parochial form, and cease to be occupied as a Missionary Station.—The Bishop entirely acquiesced in this view; and only expressed his anxiety that it should not be so acted upon as prematurely to deprive a district of the Missionary's services."—(Extracts from Committee's Minute.)

3. Lastly, it must be evident, from a review of the whole subject, that our Ecclesiastical relations depend, in many important respects, upon a mutual confidence and good understanding between the Committee and its representatives, and the Ecclesiastical Authorities both at home and abroad. This must be the case, to argue upon no higher grounds, while those relations are governed by Ecclesiastical laws and canons made without reference to Missionary operations, for an Established Church in a Christian country; and where so much is also necessarily left to the discretion of both parties. If we look to our Home operations, the Committee places confidence in the Bishop of London, that he will continue to ordain the Missionary Candidates introduced to his Lordship by the Society, according to the provisions of the Act: and the Lord Bishop of London relies upon the Committee's using every means to select, train, and duly qualify proper Candidates to be thus introduced to him.

So, also, in its Foreign operations, the Society places confidence in the Colonial Bishops—as it has been already shown, in a quotation from the Letter of Bishop Wilson—that they will not exercise an unreasonable or arbitrary discretion, in withholding or withdrawing licences from our Missionaries, or in refusing ordination to our Candidates. And the Bishops, by granting licences and ordination to the Missionaries of a voluntary Society, whose income is liable to fluctuations, and whose agents are constantly changing, manifestly place confidence in the Committees, that they will use every endeavour to keep up the Missions once established; and that they will not, on their part, act in an unreasonable or arbitrary manner, or withdraw the salary from a licensed Missionary, without reason sufficient to prove to the licensing Bishop the necessity of the proceedings.

It seems impossible to supersede this conventional understanding—as it may be termed—till Missions are supported by endowments, or till a code of Missionary canons be established by competent authority.

This mutual confidence and good understanding now exists, it may be thankfully asserted, between the Committee of the Society and the Ecclesiastical Authorities of every Colonial Diocese in which Missionaries are labouring. And may He, who is the God, not of confusion, but of peace, and "the great Shepherd and Bishop of Souls," unite together the hearts and hands of those who are labouring in this Holy Cause—"that all and every of these may, IN THEIR SEVERAL CALLINGS, serve truly and faithfully, to the glory of His name!" H. V.

February, 1839.

* The American Episcopal Church has, in Convention, thus identified itself with a Missionary Society.

At the Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Exeter Hall, Strand, on Tuesday, May 4, 1874, being the Seventy-fifth Anniversary—

The Right Hon. the EARL OF CHICHESTER, President, in the Chair,

AFTER PRAYER AND THE READING OF A PORTION OF HOLY SCRIPTURE,

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE HAVING BEEN READ BY THE REV. H. WRIGHT, M.A., Honorary Secretary.

On the Motion of the LORD ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY, V.P., seconded by the LORD BISHOP OF NORWICH, V.P., and supported by the LORD BISHOP OF VICTORIA, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, of which an Abstract has now been read, be received, and printed under the direction of the Committee; that the thanks of the Meeting be given to the Rev. J. W. Reeve for his Sermon before the Society last evening; to His Grace the Vice-Patron; to the Right Hon. the President and the Vice-Presidents; and to all those friends who, during the past year, have exerted themselves in its behalf; and that the following Gentlemen be appointed the Committee for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies.—[See List, p. iv.]

On the Motion of the LORD BISHOP OF RIPON, V.P., seconded by ARTHUR MILLS, Esq., M.P., and supported by the RIGHT REV. THE BISHOP OF ATHABASCA,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the income of the year just concluded, unprecedented in the Society's past history, cancelling the debt of the years previous, and supplying the means, not only for maintaining present efforts, but for extending the work in Japan, and for strengthening the North-west American Mission, is a ground for devout thankfulness to Him whose are the silver and the gold; at the same time the Meeting recognizes the imperative call for a yet deeper and wider spirit of consecration, so that men and means may be supplied still more largely, whereby advantage may be taken of the enlarged openings in Africa, China, and elsewhere.

On the motion of the REV. C. B. LEUPOLT, Missionary from Benares, seconded by the REV. JOHN RICHARDSON, M.A., Incumbent of Camden Church, Camberwell,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the encouraging signs of the increase of a spirit of inquiry in many parts of the mission field, together with the evidence of a counter-awakening and agitation among systems opposed to the Gospel, especially the Mohammedan, claim the serious attention of the Christian Church, and, with the further consideration of the large numbers in India and elsewhere who have come under the sound of the Gospel without embracing it, are calculated to call forth the spirit of earnest and persistent intercession among all those who are looking in lively hope for the fulfilment of the exceeding great and precious promises of the last days.

At a Second Meeting, held in Exeter Hall, on the Evening of the same Day—

SIR JOHN H. KENNAWAY, V.P., M.P., in the Chair,

Addresses were delivered by the Rev. Dr. MILLER, Vicar of Greenwich; the Rev. W. S. PRICE, Missionary from Nasik; and the Rev. EDWARD LOMER, M.A., Rector of Swanton Morley.

JOHN X. 16.

"AND OTHER SHEEP I HAVE, WHICH ARE NOT OF THIS FOLD: THEM ALSO I MUST BRING, AND THEY SHALL HEAR MY VOICE; AND THERE SHALL BE ONE FOLD, AND ONE SHEPHERD."

To the heart able to rejoice in present salvation, and to identify itself with the coming Kingdom of the Lord, our annual gatherings, on these occasions, must always be a matter of deep interest. So many brethren "with one accord in one place;" gathered from all parts of our land, yet all intent on one object—viz. to hear what our gracious Lord is doing in the ingathering of His people; and, as they learn how the blessed Gospel is being more and more preached "in all the world for a witness unto all nations," do they take heart under their various conflicts, in the tokens of "the coming of the day of God;" and, thus encouraged, return to their respective fields of labour, more full of the power of faith and love, to minister to their people.

I have no thoughts of my own to bring before you on the Missionary subject; but, as I desire that we may be encouraged in the Lord, and strengthened in our own souls and in our ministry, I ask you to attend for a few minutes to what the Master says; and as we hear of His grace, His purpose, His love, His power, His faithfulness, may we, by simple trust in Him, receive a word in season and go on our way rejoicing.

In the text we have—

I. The extent of Christ's flock.

II. His purpose respecting them.

III. The power by which they are gathered.

IV. Their oneness in Christ.

I. The extent of Christ's flock. Our Lord said these words in the character of the "Good Shepherd" Who "giveth His life for the sheep;" and in them He tells us of the vast and comprehensive character of His flock:—"Other sheep I have which are not of this fold"—i.e. not confined to the comparatively narrow limits of the outward Jewish fold; but, as His Gospel was to be preached "to every creature," so He Himself was to be God's "Salvation to the end of the earth." And as, in God's purpose, Jew and Gentile are to be "one in Christ" (Eph. ii. 14), so do we find it stated in the text; for the word rendered "fold," in the latter part of the verse, is really "flock;" so it would read, "Other sheep I have which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear My voice; and there shall be one flock, and one Shepherd:" not "one fold," as if all the sheep were to be gathered into one fold of outward uniformity, but, though quickened and gathered in different folds, the "flock" would be one in heart and spirit in the Lord—one in life and love and faith and loyalty to the Lord Jesus Christ, the one Great Shepherd.

This flock comprises all who were "chosen in Christ before the foundation of the world," and "predestinated unto the adoption of children" (Eph. i. 4, 5); the flock given by the Father to the Son, and to whom the Son is to give eternal life (John xvii. 2, 9); the sheep for which the Good Shepherd laid down His life, who are redeemed to God by His blood (Rev. v. 9); the great multitude which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues (Rev. vii. 10).

"Other sheep I have." Yes! they are Christ's; not only by gift of, and covenant with, the Father, but by the purchase of His own blood (Acts xx. 28), and they will eventually comprise "the travail of His soul," with which He will be "satisfied."

The moral condition as well as the outward circumstances, of many of Christ's sheep are such that it requires a great exercise of faith to believe they can be made children of God; but the Gospel is to find them out wherever they are, in all parts of the world, and to implant Christ's life in their soul, and fit them for glory—yea, to find them in whatever state and condition they are—learned and ignorant—civilized and savage.

Think for a moment of Christ's sheep in heathen lands—many of them at this time perhaps helpless, hopeless, full of sins and lusts—steeped in ignorance, ungodliness, cruelty, idolatry—savages, whose memory of yesterday is connected perhaps only with hunger and lust and murder and revenge, and whose thought for to-morrow is only for some fresh violence—and say, Are these Christ's sheep? Brethren, they may be, by the gift of the Father and the purchase of the Son, and God's Gospel shall one day gather them.

Turn your thoughts, again, to our own favoured land. Come with me to the mouth of some court, removed but a few yards from where we are now assembled, and tell me—Are these poor, sunken things, with apparently no thought beyond sensual enjoyment—are these the sheep of Christ? —these who are daily "wasting their substance with riotous living"? Shall these ever wear "the best robe," and sit down to table in the Father's house? Yea, brethren, even so, if it please God; for the Gospel is "the power of God unto salvation." The Spirit of Life may enter into their guilty, unreasoning, besotted souls. God may visit them with His salvation—may teach, refine, purify, elevate them —till they are filled with the mind of Christ, and at length crowned with glory and honour.

Oh! when we look at man as he is, and see what he has made himself by sin, it may seem hopeless that such should be raised; yet, in spite of all that looks so bad—of all that unbelief may suggest—you, who really believe Christ's word, may fall back on the text and say, "My Lord, who performs all, and gathers all, and saves all, has said, 'Other sheep I have;'" and when we know, from the statement of the Holy Ghost, that some of the Corinthians who were "washed and sanctified and justified in the name of the Lord Jesus and by the Spirit of our God," were once "idolaters and adulterers and thieves and drunkards" (1 Cor. vi. 9—11), we may go to our work of gathering souls to Christ, in humble confidence in the power of Christ's Word, and in the stability of Christ's purpose; yea, we may take up the words of the hymn,—

"For the love of God is broader Than the measures of man's mind;
And the heart of the Eternal
Is most wonderfully kind.

"We make His love too narrow
By false limits of our own;
And we magnify His strictness
With a zeal He will not own.

"There is plentiful redemption
In the blood that has been shed;
There is joy for all the members
In the sorrows of the Head."

II. His purpose respecting them. "Them also I must bring, and they shall hear My voice." What a mercy to be able to rest on the purpose of God, and to believe that it is one of love! What should we do, in our own individual case, unless we trusted the purpose of God, and believed that He would keep us? Knowing what we are we should sink. And what strength it gives in Missionary work, when we think of its difficulties and hindrances and disappointments, to read His words, "Them also I must bring," &c. How encouraging to see His purpose in His work; to see "the Good Shepherd" going after "the lost sheep until He find it;" never weary of His work—for His work is to find and "feed His flock like a Shepherd." They are all dear to Him, and necessary to the completeness of His body—the Church. This, "His work, is ever before Him;" for this He sits at the right hand of God; on this He is intent; for this the world lasts. What a staff and stay is this truth! Our labour shall not be in vain in the Lord.

And though, after all the efforts of Christ's servants, this or that soul shall not be gathered, yet we may take up the words prophetically spoken of the Lord (Isa. xlix. 6), "Though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord."

The text teaches there is a kind of holy necessity in gathering His sheep, as He says there was in His dying for them: "Ought not Christ to suffer these things?" The great purpose of God could not be fulfilled without Christ's death; nor can the holy purpose of Christ, without the ingathering of His sheep. "Them also I must bring." The commandment of the Father and the covenant with the Father seem alluded to. And how blessed to see, in the Word of God, that this purpose is as true of individuals as of the whole body! Can we doubt this when we see Philip the Deacon sent down "unto the way that leads from Jerusalem unto Gaza, which is desert"? What! into a desert to preach? Even so: for one of Christ's sheep is coming that way, and he is to be gathered in: and, behold, the Ethiopian Eunuch is brought to Christ and sent on his way rejoicing. Can we doubt God has a purpose, when we see Paul "forbidden of the Holy Ghost to preach the Word in Asia," and "not suffered by the Spirit to go into Bithynia," and subsequently summoned in a vision to go over into Macedonia? And though the harvest at Philippi seems but small—Lydia and the jailer—yet it assures us that the Shepherd's heart is true, and His sheep are dear, and no pains are spared to fulfil His purpose when the hour is come.

And how encouraging, as we follow Christ in His work, to read, "He must needs go through Samaria"! "Must needs"—why? Was it merely that that was the direct way from Judæa to Galilee, whither He was going? or was there a deeper reason—that the time was come to gather in a lost sheep who would be found at the well of Jacob? And though, when we read of "Jesus being wearied with His journey and sitting on the well," we thank God for the assurance of His sympathy with the way-worn or Missionary worker when he rests awhile, yet can we doubt there is another lesson, and that His holy soul was more refreshed, as ours should also be, by the consciousness of doing the will of Him that sent Him, and fulfilling His purpose? Oh! God's purpose is a gracious one, whether He forbids His Missionary servants to go here, or commands them to go there, or constrains them to abide where they are, "for I have much people in this city!" And happy is he whose ear is so "attent" to the voice of God's Spirit, and so willing to obey God's leadings, that he is ready to go wherever he is sent—whether into the desert to teach the "man in authority," or to take ship to gather in the keeper of a jail. Yes! happy is the man who has but one thought, viz., to do God's will and work out His holy purpose.

III. The power by which the sheep are gathered. In Missionary work we lean not only on the purpose but on the power of Christ. "Them also I must bring, and they shall hear My voice." They are His sheep, and it is His work to gather them. The great Agent in His work is,

1. The Holy Spirit of God. Without Him nothing effectual is done. However beautiful and complete and well-ordered the machinery, all will be like a field on which "the clouds are commanded that they rain no rain" (Isa. v. 6); while with Him the very desert will become like the garden of the Lord. The work of the Holy Ghost is necessary on every soul that is saved. It is said of Christ's sheep that they "hear His voice"—"know Him"—"follow Him"—and "a stranger they will not follow," &c. All this is the work of the Holy Ghost, whose office is to testify of Christ. It is also true that Christ has laid down His life for the sheep, and God has accepted Christ's death in their behalf. He is their Surety, their Substitute, and they are accepted in Him. His blood has cleansed all who are His manifested children from all sin; and they stand "complete" in Him; in short, "as He is, so are they in this world." All this is the teaching of the Holy Spirit. These children are indwelt by God's Holy Spirit—guided and led by Him. They sympathize with Him in taste and feeling and purpose; they live for His service and glory, and long to be like Him and with Him. This, too, is the work of the Holy Ghost.

The Scripture account of Christ's manifested sheep is, they are "born again" of God's Holy Spirit; and none can dispense with this change; for "if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of His." Let a man stand never so high in the world or never so low—let him be as refined and delicate as Agag, as corrupt as a miserable inhabitant of Sodom—of whatever age, as old as a patriarch before the flood, or cut off as soon as he was born—of whatever intellectual endowments, as accomplished as Satan or as uncultivated as a savage—"except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God." Let him be of whatever clime or country he will, what was necessary in Judæa, in the case of Nicodemus, is necessary in England: as he must have Jesus to save him, so he must have the Holy Ghost to new-create him. It is one and the selfsame Spirit acting upon all that are regenerated. It is not necessary that men should have the same extent of understanding, nor hold exactly the same opinions; but it is necessary they should have the same spiritual nature. It was as necessary to Adam after his fall as it will be to Adam's last-born son. It was necessary under the law; it is necessary under the Gospel, as is evident from our Lord's question to Nicodemus: "Art thou a master in Israel, and knowest not these things?"

The necessity of this change is further evident from the character of God, if God and man are to dwell together. Light and darkness cannot dwell together; there must, therefore, be a change. It cannot be in God; it must be in man. "God is not the God of the dead, but of the living." And the difference between Christ's people and the world is one of heart and nature and disposition. All this is the work of God the Holy Ghost.

So far as man has to do with the ingathering of Christ's sheep, the agency is two-fold. One is preaching: "Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature."

The other is prayer: "Pray ye, therefore, the Lord of the harvest, that He will send forth labourers into His harvest." They must go together.

2. Preaching. Should we not be smitten with shame that we have not earlier recognized our responsibility (for it was charged upon us), and gone more eagerly to the rescue of dying souls with the Word of God in our hands and the love of God in our hearts?—to think that so many centuries were allowed to pass, and nothing worthy of the name of effort was made to save the heathen?—that not until some seventy years ago was anything like a systematic attempt made?

And though the Lord has prospered this Society in a marvellous degree, and she has sent out Missionaries to many parts of the world, yet how much heathenism remains! how much of the world remains a spiritual desert! how small a part blossoms as the garden of the Lord! Our hearts would faint utterly, and our hands hang down, were we not sustained by the purpose and power of the Lord: "Them also I must bring." Dwell on this. "They shall hear My voice." It is not a question of doubt or mere probability, but a matter of fact and certainty. There may be many difficulties and hindrances to face, but to meet them we have the purpose and the power of God. The agency may be in itself "foolish" and "weak" and "base"—yea, utterly nothing—but that which makes it strong and effective is the arm of God. The men He most uses are those who have ceased from self, and rest all on Him—who speak His Word simply, intelligibly, faithfully, lovingly—who lean confidently on Him, and believe His "Word shall not return unto Him void, but shall accomplish that which He pleases, and prosper in the thing whereunto He sent it." They are men who recognize His purpose and believe in its fulfilment—who are patient to wait His time, but who still burn with zeal to gather in His people, because they know they are "chosen in Christ"—"given to Christ"—redeemed by Christ—and shall, in His own time, be gathered by Christ—so they can work on in faith, not despising the day of small things.

But let us not fail to recognize our part at home:

3. Prayer. "Pray ye therefore the Lord of the Harvest, that He would send forth labourers into His harvest" (Luke x. 2). Observe! "His harvest." The shocks of corn that are gathered in His season are all for God's glory. Be it ours to pray, more earnestly than ever, that He would send forth suitable men to do His work—to gather in His harvest—men who show that "the Lord is in them of a truth" by their consecration to His service; and, having given themselves to the Lord, whose only thought is, "Here am I, send me"—men who take up a Missionary life as "a work of faith and a labour of love," and who go forward in the "patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ," and carry on their work "in the sight of God and our Father" (1 Thess. i. 3). These are the men who, like the husbandmen, "have long patience till they receive the early and the latter rain"—men, whose faith can "remove mountains"—who can set to work to frame a written language where there was none before—who can compile grammars—can plod on at translations for years without fainting; diligently sowing the good seed of the Word of God; patiently praying for the harvest, knowing that the time must come, because Christ's purpose and glory are in it.

The good seed is sown wherever God appoints. The harvest is ripening under His sun. The secret power that nerves the arm of the Husbandman is the Lord's. It is His Holy Spirit that gives success; and we know that this varies in different places in the case even of the Apostles. Paul finds "a great door and effectual" opened to him at Ephesus, and gathers a rich harvest; while at Athens he gleans only a few scattered ears. Again, how different his reception at different places! He is stoned and left for dead at Lystra; while the Galatians were so affected by the Gospel that they would have "plucked out their eyes" for him. The Apostle was the same man in all places: his message was the same. The difference was in the purpose of God and the sovereignty of the Holy Spirit, Who rained down

His grace in one place more than in another. Just as of old, He left darkness in Egypt and made it light in Goshen, so it is now. It is Christ's voice that is heard in the message of the preacher, and then men's hearts answer and they are saved; while others hear only the voice of man and pass on unconcerned. Still, we must never forget the responsibility of man under the preaching of the Gospel. Though most men, like Stephen's hearers, "resist the Holy Ghost"—and this is very solemn—yet, in the midst of all, Christ's people are being gathered—and this is very glorious. It is these thoughts that give such weight to preaching. It is a savour of life or of death. Still, the knowledge that Missionary work is Christ's work, and that He is gathering His sheep, will give power and courage and faith and support to the Missionary abroad, and should give patient continuance in well-doing to those who pray at home; and in proportion as we can identify ourselves with Christ will be our energy. Far from the purpose of God making His people slack in the use of the means, it will increase their earnestness, knowing their "labour shall not be in vain in the Lord."

Yes! as they think of Christ running His all-seeing eye down the ages and generations during which His flock is to be born and called and disciplined, and eventually gathered, their hearts would rejoice in His purpose. And when they think again that, "as a Shepherd searcheth out His sheep in the cloudy and dark day," so would the Lord find all His sheep wherever they are hidden in this dark world, their hearts would rejoice again, for He knows where they are. And when His time is come, then theirs is come, and they shall be laid on His shoulders rejoicing. Not one would be lost. What a stimulus this would be to labour on, spending and being spent for Christ! To know that His great purpose underlies all their efforts, and that "His strength is made perfect in their weakness," is surely most blessed. Let them but be single-eyed—let them throw themselves into His purpose—rest all on His power—then all that the Father gave to the Son will be gathered, and there shall be "one flock and one Shepherd."

And this leads me to the last point,.

IV. Their oneness in Christ.—This is the grand truth taught in John xvii. and other parts of Scripture—that all Christ's sheep are to be one in Him; that, though there be many differences in non-essentials, in essentials they shall be one, possessing one life, acknowledging one Spirit, one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all. What a flock! What unity amongst them! a unity wrought by the Holy Spirit, and so in accordance with the mind of Christ. A real living oneness exists between Christ and all who believe on Him to life everlasting; for Christ Who proclaims in the text what He will do, is also the Power Who effects it. He has been made in the likeness of sinful flesh, that they might be made in the likeness of His glory. "He, Who knew no sin, has been made sin for us, that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him." And when we can believe, with such confidence, that Christ died for us, then we feel that, as He has been in the likeness of our death, we shall be also in the likeness of His resurrection. It is the Cross, and the Cross alone, which assures us of this. It is Christ alone Who has done and will do the work. When we see Christ on the Cross, we see God's estimate of man; he was held to be worth the gift of His Son, and the shedding of His blood. And when we see Christ on the Throne, we see what God would exalt man to when he is gathered to Christ, and fitted for glory.

It is true, the manifested sheep of Christ's flock are few; the visible sheep known to be such are rare, but the invisible though real sheep may be many. The day of the manifestation of the sons of God is yet to come (Rom. viii. 19). Is not the condition of the sheep of Christ's flock illustrated by the state of the Jews? God has a purpose with respect to them, but it is not yet fully developed. Their state now is most abject, but it is to be magnificent. They are, in God's mind, very different from what they are in the mind of man generally. Who, looking at the Jews "scattered and peeled," would imagine they are "the elect people of God"? but who, with the Bible in his hand, can doubt it? And so, many of Christ's sheep are in obscurity. There is little now in the children of God to mark their high descent or their coming greatness. Where are they? Hidden from almost every eye but His who made them His own. Still, Christ has His sheep both in places and numbers that we little suspect. See that man in the heathen Mission-field, very ignorant, knowing next to nothing of the Word of God, still born of God's Spirit, strong in faith, who has given up all for Christ, and whose very name is cast out as evil for the Son of Man's sake. Some stray seed of eternal life, sown by some passing Missionary, but directed in the purpose of God by the Holy Spirit, fell into what the Lord calls "an honest and good heart," and it took root; and, though left untended and untaught by man, has been watered and tended by the Lord, and the man has become "a tree of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that He might be glorified." Or look at home: behold that man, his head bowed with sadness, and his body drooping apparently with a weight of sorrow, yet in his face there is an air of calm submission which tells you God has chastened him "for his profit, that he might be partaker of His holiness."

Again, there is a family, and in it one less thought of than all the rest; who has no beauty, no talent, no accomplishments like the others, but who loves Christ and holiness, and who loves all for Christ's sake; who waits on all—gives way to all—tries to make life happy to all; and that one is the child of God—the one the good Shepherd has given His life for, has brought to Himself and carries in His bosom. There is another, who cannot tell you how he feels—whose better life is imprisoned in this house of clay; but there is Christ's life within, though it gleams forth but seldom. Still, like the lamps of Gideon's men, when "the pitcher is broken," the divine life will "shine forth as the Sun in the kingdom of his heavenly Father."

Christ has His hidden ones, often much afflicted and despised, but very dear to Him. They sit here in low places; their hearts are heavy, their trials most severe; but the day is coming when the veil that hides them shall be drawn aside, and they shall be manifested to all. And oh, what a day! The poor, vacant, idiotic mind that could grasp nothing—understand nothing—opening first of all to understand the Lord of glory! That wild, disordered, puzzled brain that turned things topsy-turvy, now seeing all things clearly, bursting into the unclouded glories of the Sun of Righteousness! The one, so little set by here, standing forth "a King and a Priest unto God"! The one, so often condemned, whose secret faith and prayer and love none knew, coming out with Hallelujahs! Many a one who stood furthest off beating his breast as the chief of sinners, now closest to the side of Jesus! And many we perhaps once looked down upon, now far above us!

Oh, what a day of wonder and glory! The hedges, which so long separated us, all broken down—the many "folds" become one "flock"—the sheep all gathered, and Christ Lord of all! Oh, what a day! Many, often misunderstood here, misunderstood no more; mistakes all rectified; divisions all healed. The weak ones made strong; the sorrowful, sorrowing no more. No spots of sin to sully their beautiful garments, but presented a glorious Church—the visible reflection of the Lord that bought them—of the Good Shepherd who fed them all their life long—who gathered them with His arm, carried them in His bosom, and brought them at last to glory!

Everything is tending to this point: let us, then, not only look for, but try to hasten on, the coming of the day of God. The day is certain—Christ says it is also near: "Behold, I come quickly." Let this be a fresh stimulus to every loving heart, remembering that "the time is short:" and let us lay aside everything which hampers and hinders us in a course of single-eyed devotedness to Christ, the Lord of Glory; and to the execution of His purpose, so far as we are indulged and permitted to contribute towards it.

May you all go back to your work, confident that you are engaged in no doubtful enterprise—confident that the flock shall be gathered and glorified! And although you may at times be discouraged by seeing how your efforts fail, yet you may be cheered by the assurance that the Master's cannot. When inclined to faint, recall the text, "Other sheep I have: them also I must bring." The cause, though dear to you, is dearer still to Christ. If your salvation be in it, so is His glory too.

Return, then, to your people, dear brethren, and tell them more earnestly than ever, to identify themselves with the Master. Can you do better in your preaching? Impossible! Can they do better in their learning? Impossible! Is it not our life, our power, our happiness, our usefulness, our object, to live and work for Him?

May we be more intent on this than ever! May our conscious knowledge of the Lord Jesus be deepened! May we be able to say with more unaffected truth and simplicity, "I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me; and the life which I live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, Who loved me and gave Himself for me!"

We cannot work too hard for such a Master. He will never allow our single-eyed efforts to fail. We may only sow the seed; other men may reap the harvest; but let us remember, he who sows and he who reaps shall one day rejoice together, and "he who goeth forth, weeping, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless—doubtless—come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him."

Over seventy years has this Society been working for the Lord. Many are the sheep which have been gathered into Christ's flock; and when, at the last great day, the question is asked of the Good Shepherd, "Where is the flock—that beautiful flock which I chose in Thee and gave to Thee?" the answer will be, "Of all which Thou gavest Me I have lost none." "Behold, Lord, I and the children which Thou hast given Me!"

Oh, what a shout of triumph there will be! We are not told what language we shall speak in heaven, but we know that the meaning of our song will be, "Unto Him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in His own blood; unto Him be glory and praise for ever and ever!"

THE following system for spelling NATIVE NAMES is respectfully recommended to the Society's Missionaries generally for adoption in their letters and reports, unless any of them should prefer a still closer approximation to the more elaborate scheme of Professor Lepsius. This system should not be applied, of course, to those well-known places of which the spelling has become so fixed that it would be mere pedantry to disturb it; as, for instance, Tinnevelly and Mysore.

RULES FOR PRONUNCIATION.

The powers of the vowels are as follows:—

a as in 'about.'	î as in 'pique.'
â usually as in 'father' (in North-Indian words as in 'all').	o as in 'not.'
	ô as in 'note.'
e as in 'hen.'	u as in 'full.'
ê as in 'fête.'	û as in 'truly.'
i as in 'thin.'	ai as i in 'thine.'
	au or ou as in 'bough.'

It needs only to be noticed further that—

y always sounds as in '*y*ou.'	gn as in 'poi*gn*ant,' 'Epa*gn*e.'
g „ as in '*g*o.'	ng as in 'thi*ng*.'
j „ as in '*j*oin.'	ei as in 'vein.'

h has always a separate sound, except in ch as in '*ch*urch,' and sh as in '*sh*e.'

c whether for k or s, being superfluous, is not used.

Doubled letters should each be pronounced distinctly, as in Italian.

ae or æ represents a sound intermediate between a in 'mat' and e in 'met.'

REPORT,

&c., &c.

THE year that has closed has been marked by signal instances of individual liberality among the friends of the Society. It will be remembered that last year's accounts closed with a very considerable deficit, due on the one hand to increased expenditure, and on the other to a falling short in the item of Legacies and Benefactions—the Associations, however, reaching the highest point that they had ever attained. The Committee, therefore, appealed to their friends throughout the country, feeling that, in order to encounter the increasing expenditure consequent upon the natural expansion of their large Missions, and to enter upon fresh fields of labour, there should be a decided increase in the permanent annual income of the Associations. Although an increase has not come in the way expected, the Committee thankfully acknowledge that their wants have been more than supplied from other sources, and they have been able not only to pay off the deficit of last year, and meet the large expenditure of the year that has just closed, but to show a considerable balance in hand. It is, however, to be noticed that a few individuals have supplied the large sums which swell the year's receipts. One legacy of 10,000*l.* represents a yearly contribution of 300*l.*, which used regularly to be made to the Sheffield Association by the late Miss Harrison. Another sum of 8000*l.* reminds the Committee that they no longer can number among the supporters of the Mission the name of Francis Wright of Osmaston. The Committee, while thankfully accepting these tokens of the Lord's favour, would renew their appeal to the Associations throughout the country for the increased support needed to enable them to sustain the work which now lies before them. The income for the year is as follows:—

Associations (including results of Day of Intercession)	£127,721
Benefactions	29,364
Legacies	33,509
Sundries	5,931
Total	£196,525

The items of Benefactions and Legacies are exceptional amounts—the one being 16,000*l.*, and the other 19,000*l.*, above the average. The Association returns show no increase on those of last year.

The Expenditure has been 169,717*l.*, of which about 4000*l.* is due to buildings in the West Africa Missions. So that the ordinary current expenditure may be stated at about 165,000*l.*

Ordinary Income as above . . .			£196,525 12 11
Expenditure . . .	£169,717 10 1
Benefactions specially invested	4,500 0 0
Deficiency in (1872-73) .	11,900 15 9
Balance in hand . . .			£10,407 7 1

The coming year presents three special directions for expansion—Japan, North-West America, and East Africa. The means which GOD has been pleased to place in the hands of the Committee enables them to occupy these fresh fields at once, and they would earnestly call upon the Associations throughout the country to bear their part in sustaining the extension.

Two remarkable instances of noble liberality have occurred within the past year. In one instance, the late J. W. Hill, Esq., of Bristol, placed in trust railway securities, valued at about 22,800*l.*, the income thereof to be applied to the general purposes of the Society. In the other, W. C. Jones, Esq., of Manchester, set apart, as a thankoffering to GOD for the recovery of a child, for Mission purposes, a sum of 20,700*l.* In the deed of trust he declares his confidence that the Church Missionary Society will maintain and teach the Protestant Evangelical principles of the Church of England, and he desires that the interest of the fund shall be applied in the employment of additional Native agency in the Society's Missions in Africa, Mauritius, Palestine, and India.

The famine now prevailing in Bengal has appealed to many of the friends of the Society, who have entrusted to the Committee for the relief of the sufferers a sum of 7354*l.*, the whole of which has been placed at the disposal of the Calcutta Committee, and will be disbursed through the agency of the Society's Missionaries.

Sums amounting in the whole to 5296*l.* have also been contributed for special objects.

Remembering the object so dear to his heart, viz., the development of the Native Churches in the Society's Missions, the Committee have felt that no memorial could be devised more in unison with the wishes of their departed friend than the establishment of a fund—to be called the "HENRY VENN NATIVE CHURCH FUND"—for aiding in the internal development of the Native Churches. It will be administered under the direction of the Church Missionary Society, and from it grants-in-aid will be made, not only to Native Churches, to assist them in providing for their own bishops and pastors, but also to Native Missionary Societies employing evangelists of their own. The contributions to this Fund have reached the sum of 8544*l.*

Thus in the space of one year there have been committed to the administration of the Committee, funds amounting in the whole to the unprecedented total of 261,221*l.*

The Committee have this year issued a new edition of the Church Missionary Atlas, which they can confidently recommend to the attention and study of all who wish to be well acquainted with the Society's operations. In a very favourable review of the Atlas, the Times of the 10th of March last makes the following observations:—

> The history of this Society is a record of what energy and perseverance can accomplish in the teeth of the severest difficulties, which must command the admiration of all sects and classes of the Christian world, and by the general success of its great endeavours will serve to obliterate any individual shortcomings or indiscretions that can be laid to its charge. It were idle to deny that there have been, during the seventy-four years of its existence, things done by members of this Society which it would have been as well to have left undone, but the merest glance at the brief narrative that accompanies the yearly publication of its statistics will cause us rather to note how few and slight, under the circumstances, have such occasions been, and to marvel how men placed, as these men have mostly been, in such exceptional positions, always of difficulty, and not seldom of danger, have been enabled to do the work they have done with so little interference with or hindrance to the work of others. We are led to these observations by the consideration of the Church Missionary Atlas for 1874, a most interesting work, compiled with great care, and affording, so far as the limited compass of its design enables it to afford, every information as to the past work and future prospects of the Mission.

PATRONAGE.

The office of Vice-President has been accepted by the Bishops Suffragan of Nottingham and of Dover, as well as by the Bishops of Victoria, Athabasca, and Saskatchewan.

Lord Darnley, Sir Harry Verney, and J. M. Holt, Esq., have been appointed to the same post, and the following have been nominated as Honorary Governors for Life:—The Rev. D. T. K. Drummond, M.A., Minister of St. Thomas's Episcopal Chapel, Edinburgh; the Rev. R. C. Billing, M.A., Vicar of Holy Trinity Church, Islington, and the Rev. W. H. Barlow, M.A., Rector of St. Ebbe's, Oxford.

ISLINGTON INSTITUTION.

The number of candidates under training has not exceeded twenty-nine at any period of the past year; yet the Committee rejoice to announce that out of forty-seven, whose offers have been considered since the last anniversary, eighteen have been accepted, and that of these six are University graduates, two from Oxford and four from Cambridge, three of whom had graduated in honours. The Committee cannot refrain from expressing their deep thankfulness to Almighty GOD for this indication of increasing interest in Missionary work in the English Universities. May much prayer ascend to the Lord of the Harvest that it may yet increase, and that Dublin also, which in times past has contributed some of her choicest sons, may not fall behind in her offerings for this high and holy enterprise. They look also for addition to their ranks from such colleges as St. Aidan's, Birkenhead, and St. John's, Highbury. Of the eighteen above mentioned, four were in Holy Orders when offering themselves, or have been ordained during the year; one was qualified in medicine and surgery, and has gone out as a Medical Missionary; three have been accepted for the work of Lay Agents, and the remaining ten are under training.

ORDINATION OF MISSIONARIES.

Nine of the Society's candidates were admitted to Holy Orders during the year, viz., six by the Bishop of London; one by the Right Rev. Bishop Harding, acting under a commission from the Archbishop of Canterbury; one by the Bishop of Rupert's Land, and one Native by the Bishop of Auckland. During the year, also, two of the Society's Missionaries, viz., the Rev. J. S. Burdon and the Rev. W. C. Bompas, have been admitted to the Episcopate.

SIERRA LEONE.

The European force in this Mission has been weakened by the resignation of the Rev. J. A. Lamb, who, after twelve years of faithful service in connexion with the Society at Sierra Leone and elsewhere, has accepted a living in this country; and by the death of Miss Ilott, who, after a brief career, in which she had proved herself a humble and happy Christian as well as a diligent and devoted labourer, succumbed to the deadly influence of the climate, and was removed to her heavenly rest on the 27th of July, 1873. The Committee are happy to say they have engaged another European lady to take her place (Miss Shoard), who, they have every reason to believe, will prove a worthy successor to her departed sister.

I. Native Church within the Colony.

Spiritual life and conflict in a Native Church.

The Committee still thank GOD for the Sierra Leone Native Church. The year just concluded furnishes continued proof of the presence of the Holy Spirit, both with the pastors and with the people.—Several difficulties have to be encountered, as regards the progress of the community, in things temporal and in things spiritual. Among these may be mentioned:—The comparative infertility or exhausted condition of the soil —the neglect of agriculture and the unhealthy preponderance of sedentary over active and out-door employment—the change from African to European modes of life—the continued existence of some injurious and debasing Native customs—the transition from the childlike freshness and simplicity of an infant Church to the higher but more arduous position of Christian manhood—and, lastly, race-feelings and struggles for independence, not altogether wrong in themselves, but sometimes misdirected and sometimes (perhaps) misunderstood.—The Bishop of the diocese (Dr. Cheetham) has been enabled to remain another year at his post, to the great benefit of the colony; and the confirmation services have been specially spoken of as seasons of spiritual blessing.—Besides surplice fees and weekly class payments, which average 500*l.* per annum, the Native Christians connected with the Church of England in Sierra Leone, numbering about 14,500, have raised during the year 350*l.* for the Native Pastorate Auxiliary, and 500*l.* for the Church Missionary Auxiliary.

II. Congregations still connected with the Society.

The Society still retains its connexion with Trinity Church, Kissy Road; with Christ Church, Pademba Road; and with the village of Charlotte, in the Mountain District. Nothing of special interest has been reported from Pademba Road. At Kissy Road, Mr. Palmer, the Native Curate, deplores the inconsistencies and religious indifference of many in his congregation, especially among the men. Yet, at the confirmation held by the Bishop, there was much apparently sincere manifestation of religious feeling, "many of the candidates as they knelt to receive the imposition of hands weeping, and others in the congregation joining in their tears." Also, the number of communicants has greatly increased, and fresh candidates are continually coming forward for the Spiritual conflict and progress in a Native Church.

inquirers' or confirmation class. The schools are prospering. From Charlotte, the Native Curate in charge (Mr. M. Pearce) reports as follows:—

The services on the Lord's-day are on the whole well attended; marked attention is paid while the Word is read and the Gospel preached. I have many reasons to believe that not a few of the members are true to their profession of the name of Christ, and are endeavouring to adorn the doctrine of Christ our Saviour in all things. Ten years ago I was in charge of this station for a very short time. I cannot but be much struck at the marked difference between the present and the past: most of the staunch idolaters have become converted, and are accredited members of the Church. To God be all the praise!

III. Education.

The Rev. M. Sunter, Principal of the Fourah Bay College, was compelled by the state of his health to return to England in March of the current year. At the close of 1873 there were eighteen students at the College—thirteen residents, five day-pupils. Seven students were approaching the termination of their third and last year. Three of these, young men of Ibo extraction, were looking forward to join the Niger Mission, as well as four juniors, who, at Bishop Crowther's request, were on a shorter term of reading. These have since joined the Bishop, who remarks, "I am thankful to say I have got seven promising young men from the Fourah Bay College, whose hearts seem to glow with zeal to go out to labour with us in the Niger Mission." The course of study is thorough. The Hebrew Bible, the Septuagint Version, and the Greek Testament are carefully studied. Much attention is paid to logic and to English literature. Mr. Sunter finds his African pupils to excel in memory more than in reasoning, and to be better linguists than mathematicians. The students are also employed as Sunday-school teachers, and in domiciliary visitation in the neighbourhood of the College. Mr. Sunter's work at the College includes periodical examinations of the Catechists connected with the Society and the Native Church, for which they are encouraged to prepare by careful study.

An African theological College.

It is in contemplation to establish at Fourah Bay a College for general instruction of a higher kind for the benefit of the English-speaking Natives on the whole of the West African Coast. A distinctive theological class will still be retained.

The Grammar School has suffered in some degree from severe personal and domestic trials, through which the principal has been called to pass. Yet the number of pupils has kept up, being ninety-eight, and their progress in study, writes Mr. Quaker, "has been greater than what was anticipated."

The FEMALE INSTITUTION, under the charge of Mrs. Caiger and Miss Caspari, has had to encounter other difficulties besides the loss of Miss Ilott, already referred to. The Committee have the utmost confidence in the zeal and competence of the ladies in charge, and believe that the blessing of GOD will accompany their labours.

IV. Evangelistic work beyond the Colony.

The Rev. H. Boston, with five Native helpers, continues his patient and diligent labours on the BULLOM SHORE. The amount of success which it has pleased GOD to give him may be illustrated by the fact that fifty persons were confirmed at Yongro, the central station, at the Bishop's last visit. Five of these were Bullom Natives. Five hundred and thirty Christians are under Mr. Boston's pastoral care, of whom 160 are communicants. The bulk of these are settlers from Sierra Leone. Unwearied efforts have been made for the evangelization of the heathen and Mohammedans; but though a willing audience can generally be obtained, there are but few inquirers, and only one adult was baptized during the year under review. The blessing which GOD has graciously given to Mr. Boston's labours among the Sierra Leone immigrants is, however, a matter of great importance, and affords ground for hope of ultimate progress among the Native population.

The Rev. C. F. Knödler has laboured in the QUIAH Country with the same devotedness and perseverance as in former years. He finds many willing hearers; but the work is impeded by the anarchy which followed on the death of the friendly chief, Bey Canta. It is a ground for much thankfulness and encouragement here, as on the Bullom Shore, that it has pleased GOD to awaken a spirit of religious earnestness and moral reformation among the nominally Christian immigrants from Sierra Leone.

The SHERBRO Mission is carried on under the superintendence of the Rev. A. Menzies, by a Native Clergyman (Rev. G. Hazeley) residing at Bendû, and by three Native Catechists stationed respectively at Victoria, Bonthe, and York Island. Eleven adults have been baptized at Victoria, and two at York Island. In other respects the report is nearly the same from all these stations, showing that it has pleased GOD to enkindle among the Sierra Leone emigrants greater desire for the means of grace, and to incline the heathen, though still sunk in abject superstition, to listen readily to the Gospel message. The work among the former of these two classes occupies a large portion of the time and strength of the Agents of the Mission.

LAGOS.

THE Committee are of opinion that the time has now come for definitely attempting the establishment at Lagos of a Native Pastorate connected with a Native Church Council and Church Fund. The plan adopted will closely resemble that which has been in operation in Sierra Leone. Movements in favour of independence had already sprung up among the Native Christians, which gave rise to some diversity of opinion; but there is reason to believe that the guidance of the Committee will be cheerfully accepted. It is hoped that an increased feeling of corporate responsibility and corporate dependence upon GOD will result in more active efforts on the part of the Lagos Christians for the evangelization of their heathen and Mohammedan fellow-townsmen. Meanwhile, as in former years, proofs have been given of the power of the Gospel in the consistent lives and peaceful departures of several individual believers. The whole population of Lagos is about 30,000. The Native Christians connected with the Society do not probably exceed 2000; but among them are to be found a large proportion of the leading inhabitants of the place.

Apart from educational institutions, the centres of work in Lagos are the five following:—Faji; Breadfruit, or St. Paul's; Ebute Ero; Aroloya, or Palm Church; and the suburb of Ebute Metta.

There are two congregations, numbering between five and six hundred souls, connected with the Society at Faji, one assembling in Christ Church, where services are conducted both in English and in Yoruba; and the other in a school-room, where there are Native services only. The latter is ministered to by the Rev. T. B. Wright, an African Clergyman recently ordained (in December, 1871), and for the present superintended by the European Missionary of the Faji station.

In connexion with the plans already referred to for calling out the activity of the Lagos Native Church, the Committee have transferred to Breadfruit from Sierra Leone a well-known Native brother, the Rev. James Johnson. The Rev. T. V. Faulkner was in charge during the year reported of. On the lists, the Native Christians number 822, the communicants 265. Mr. Faulkner was efficiently helped by leading lay members of his flock.

A Native Catechist, who assists Mr. Faulkner in the work at Breadfruit, gives the following interesting particulars:—

Conversion at Lagos.

It is with great joy and deep gratitude to God that I now write that ten men and nine women have been admitted into the Church by the rite of baptism. With the exception of a Sierra Leone man, about sixty years old, they have all been heathens.

One of them said he embraced Christianity "because he has something in it whereon his soul can rest." The old Sierra Leone man confessed that he had led a reckless and licentious life at Sierra Leone. He came to Lagos about four years ago, and God has been pleased to awaken him to a sense of his peril. His motto and favourite words are, "My sun will soon go down; I must hasten to do all my Lord commanded." Mr. P—— J—— has been instrumental in bringing four of these nineteen to the light of the Gospel. He housed one who escaped from the Ijesa country, and also redeemed three others who were his relatives from slavery. After insuring for them freedom of the body, he encouraged and directed them to Christ, who alone can liberate them from the far worse bondage of superstition and of sin, and give them "the glorious liberty of the children of God." But this zealous servant of Christ was called recently, in God's incomprehensible Providence, to pass through a severe trial. He lost his son, a youth of nineteen, of whom he entertained the highest hopes. The young man breathed his last early on the 6th of September, after a lingering and painful illness. During his suffering, he felt the burden of his sins, and was much troubled by it. Many times he despaired of forgiveness, but whenever he wrestled with God in prayer (for, though so weak, he frequently mustered all his remaining strength to kneel in earnest prayer), he would rise up from his knees with fresh assurances of pardon. The Word of God was dearest to his heart. His favourite portions were the 14th, 15th, and 16th chapters of St. John's Gospel, and especially the first three verses of the 14th; also the 38th chapter of Isaiah from the 9th verse. He longed very much to "depart and be with Christ." Even in his delirium, his passionate cry was, "Heaven! Heaven!" And so he continued, sometimes depressed by fears; at other times elevated with hopes of blissful immortality, till it pleased God to "deliver him from the burden of the flesh;" and he passed into eternity, leaving good testimony that he is safe "in the realms of the blest."

Zeal of a Lagos Native Christian.

The last hours of a young African Christian.

The Sunday-school is most encouraging. It is gratifying to walk into the school on a Sunday afternoon, and see the men formed into several classes in a row, the women in another, and the children in another part of the building. The most delightful sight is that of about forty old women, who are too old to learn to read, sitting on forms, and eagerly listening to their beloved teacher, while he interests them with narratives from Scripture, or unitedly repeating after him sentence after sentence from the translation of the Church Catechism, till they know a portion by heart. The average attendances of the school for the last six months are—for the morning, 165; afternoon, 378. We have on the teachers' list twenty-eight males and nine females.

A Sunday-school at Lagos.

The Ebute Ero congregation, comprising about 200 persons, with fifty-five communicants, is ministered to by a Native brother, the Rev. T. Morgan. Mr. Morgan's Annual Letter gives ground for believing that there is a work of grace in his flock, seen not only in their own edification, but in the attraction of the heathen into the Christian fold. Five adults have been baptized.

Mr. Faulkner, who is in charge of Ebute Metta, writes as follows:—

Fifteen adults have been added to the Church by baptism, and nineteen others have joined the candidates' class, chiefly from the surrounding farm villages. Some of the church members have been endeavouring to bring others within the fold of Christ, and have had their efforts owned and blessed. There has also been an increase of Christian liberality. This year the amount received from all sources is 35*l*. 16*s*. 2¾*d*., which contrasts very favourably with the year ending September, 1872. The Sunday services have been, on the whole, very well attended. The church is generally crowded, especially on Communion Sundays, when never less than 100 remain to partake. Those who do not come in for service at Ebute Metta hold one in the farm, to which they often invite some of the surrounding heathen. I have reasons for believing that these occasional services in the farm will soon assume a stated form, and prove a centre of light to the surrounding villages.

Mr. Faulkner sends also extracts from his journals, giving interesting accounts of visits among the neighbouring villages. He met with a good reception everywhere, and in several places the inhabitants expressed a desire for further acquaintance with the Gospel.

Female Institution.

This is under the charge of the Rev. A. and Mrs. Mann. It contained, at the date of the last Report, forty-one students. Those who leave are for the most part married almost immediately to young men in respectable positions of life, many of them Agents of the Society. They are thus placed in circumstances where they may exercise a wholesome influence, and may use the knowledge they have acquired in the service of their Lord. At the public examination, satisfactory proof has been given of the zeal and ability with which Mr. and Mrs. Mann have discharged their duties. Mrs. Roper has kindly given efficient help.

Missionary Explorations.

On the 5th of December, just two days after the day of Missionary intercession, Mr. Maser and Mr. Roper set off on an exploratory Missionary tour, returning to Lagos on the 3rd of January. Mr. Maser thus sums up the result of the expedition :—

Fresh opening on the West-African coast.

The Mahur, Ikale, and chiefly the Ondo tribe, are accessible to the preaching of the Gospel, and a new field of labour is thus opened for the agency of the Yoruba Mission. Taking the distance from Lagos to Leke as seventy miles, we went east for 160 miles, and north-east for 142 miles, which gives a total of 302 miles per canoe and on foot, and on our return on horseback; also all this country is inhabited by people speaking dialects of the Yoruba language.

When I came home I found a message from Ogudipe [the well-known Abeokuta chief], asking me to visit him before returning to Europe. Thus roads to the interior seem to open at once on all sides. What a result of the 3rd of December!

During the eighteen months closing at the end of 1873, a Native Reader also paid frequent and repeated visits to villages in the immediate vicinity of Lagos. He found willing listeners in almost every place, and heard many (apparently sincere) expressions of friendly feeling towards the British Government. Nowhere, however, was definite request made for the location among them of a Christian teacher.

BADAGRY.

At Badagry the Rev. S. Pearse (a Native Clergyman) had the happiness, on May 28th, 1873, to open a new and commodious church. He received gratifying help from the Native Christians of Lagos, Abeokuta, and Porto Novo. Two days previously an old and noted idolater announced her intention to give herself to the Lord, and became an earnest and diligent member of the Catechumen class.

In 1872 Mr. Pearse, in compliance with an invitation received from the king and people of Iworo, a small town ten miles east of Badagry, visited the place, and subsequently located amongst them a Christian teacher. The population of Iworo is not more than 300. The teacher has met with but little encouragement—the king and chiefs seeming not to be very hearty in the matter—while the people generally live in abject terror of the fetishes that are the objects of their worship. When, however, Mr. Pearse's description is read of what Iworo was in former times, it is matter for wonder and thankfulness that the Gospel should have gained in such a place any reception whatever. He writes :—

Illustration of African superstition.

From Benin, up to Dahomey, and as far as to the extremity of the Yoruba country, Iworo especially was had in awful veneration, and all kings paid yearly tributes of men and women slaves to the fetish King of Iworo, who were used for sacrifice or servants for life to the Elegbara. Human sacrifice was perpetrated at this place in a most cruel and shocking manner, from time immemorial, until some years ago, when Captain Glover put a stop to it. In those days, when the Elegbara reigned supreme, Iworo was a city of refuge for criminals, something like the Jewish cities of refuge for the man-slayer. Anybody escaping thither, no matter what might have been his crimes, was free from all punitive laws. Even the monkeys were held so sacred that nobody dared to molest them. On a market-day, these creatures would intrude into the market by scores, walk at large in the midst of the people, and take away what they pleased from the people, who were taught to believe they were metamorphosed servants of the Elegbara from Ifa. Such was the superstitious dread had of the idol and the place, in those days, that no one dared to pick up such cowries as dropped from the people on the market ground; but they were left as a kind of tribute to the idol, and were considered by the people themselves as good omen. I have had to walk through the market, ankle deep, on such devoted cowries.

OTTA.

The Rev. James White, a Native brother under the superintendence of Bishop Crowther, is the Missionary at this station. His candid and truthful account shows how much he needs the prayers of all who feel interested in African Missionary effort. The latest statistics give seventy-eight Native Christians and thirty-six communicants. There have been three adult baptisms during the year. Mr. White writes:—

Last year I had the pleasure of recording the conversion of the famous Erubami, and his baptism with that of two others, natives of Otta; and it was the prayer of the Committee that this incident should be the beginning of a new era in the history of the Otta race. The answer to this prayer we have partly realized in the conversion of three aged individuals—a man and two women. Aseni—for that is the name of the man—is nobody as regards this world's happiness, being in very humble circumstances of life. Once, indeed, he mounted high on the wings of wealth and fame, and had the command of a large fortune; but international wars, the bane of Africa, reduced him to the most abject poverty. Nevertheless, he holds a high rank among his countrymen, and takes his place in the Assembly of the Otta Elders in political matters as the representative of one of the districts into which Otta is divided. Aseni, therefore, though in mean circumstances, is of great repute; and it is this that gives importance and interest to his conversion. At present, I can only say of him and of the others, that whilst they are under preparation to receive the rite of baptism, they are also undergoing what seems to be the lot of every new convert—the persecution of their countrymen. The prayers of the Committee are solicited on their behalf, that they may be able to stand against the fiery darts of the wicked one.

It is remarkable that, notwithstanding these accessions to the Otta Church, the congregation, instead of becoming larger, remains the same, or is even getting smaller. The Rev. Mr. Pearse, of Badagry, who himself once had the charge of this station, in 1864, during my absence in Sierra Leone, and who on his way to Abeokuta, a few months ago, spent a Sabbath with us, remarked that the congregation does not appear to him to be any larger than it was nine years ago; but he observed that the individuals composing the present congregation are mostly new faces, and that he recognized only a few old ones. On a reference to our old class-lists, it is discovered that for the last ten years fourteen of our Church members have removed to Lagos, and are in connexion with one or other of the churches there; four have removed to Abeokuta, fourteen to Oke-odan and other places in its neighbourhood; twenty-three have been removed by death; and fourteen have relapsed into idolatry—making sixty-nine in all—forty-three of which number are natives of Otta, and twenty-six are foreigners. Another lamentable fact is the great backwardness of the young people of both sexes in this town to embrace the Gospel. The converts we have been instrumental in making are generally from the old people in humble circumstances of life. Such, however, is the will of the Lord. "Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring hither the poor and the maimed, and the halt, and the blind." The great, the mighty, the young, and the affluent reject the Gospel; and what shall we do but to be content with those whom God has been pleased to give us?

ABEOKUTA.

At Abeokuta the four principal stations are under the same management as before. AKE has for its pastor the Rev. D. Williams, IGBORE the Rev. W. Allen, OSHIELLE the Rev. W. Moore, who also exercises supervision where the services are conducted by unordained catechists. It will be remembered that all these bretnren are Native Africans. None of the congregations have received any considerable accessions, with the exception of Ake (the largest and most important among them), in connexion with which thirty adult converts from heathenism have been baptized, while nearly 100 candidates are seeking the same privilege. One of those baptized is a man of rank, having been an Ogboni, or member of Council. Signs of spiritual life have not been wanting. Discipline is observed; friendly communications with Ibadan are kept up; the remnant of Native Christians at the Society's old station of Oyo have been visited and encouraged, and the scattered bodies of Christians in various farm villages have been diligently looked after. The political spect of affairs has improved. The Dahomians again marched against Abeokuta; but, after encamping for some weeks within sight of the town, made a sudden and hasty retreat, sickness having greatly weakened their force. It is believed by some that one result of the Ashantee war will be to deter the Dahomian monarch from any further repetition of these hostile attempts. Towards the close of the year the roads were opened for trade with Lagos. Still more recently, by invitation from the well-known friendly chief, Ogudipe, two of the Society's European Missionaries visited Abeokuta and were well received. Thus, through GOD's great mercy, the Egba metropolis may ere long once again be the seat, not only of a Native Church, but also of a vigorous aggressive European Mission. Mr. Roper, one of these two European brethren, gives the following account of this visit, and of the present condition of the Native Church:—

Vigour of a Native Church in the absence of European Missionaries.

> We arrived at the Aro Gate of Abeokuta at nine o'clock a.m. yesterday (the 22nd of January); Ogudipe's messengers had met us long before, at Ebute Metta, and came all the way with us; but as we neared Abeokuta, messenger after messenger met us. On arriving at the Aro Gate, our people were sent on to the Ikija station (Ogudipe's), whilst we ourselves were taken first to those who are least friendly. We called on Akodu, and some other chiefs, who all said kind words to us; but one old man, whom we met in the street, and afterwards at the house of another chief, was full of real joy; this was the Balogan of Bagura. He is, and has long been, a friend to us and to our work. Then we went to Ogudipe. He received us very quietly, but with evident and sincere friendship. Our stay was short, and he sent on an escort of horsemen and footmen to take us over to Ikija station. On our way some of the Native Agents and Native Christians met us. They had not heard of our coming up; Ogudipe had done it all so quietly. My old friend, and the Society's faithful servant, Dady Goodwill, met us at the gate of this station; and I confess that my feelings were too much for me. I saw many old friends and familiar faces, and many who were boys and girls when I saw them before, now appeared as men and women. There is no use attempting a full narrative of our doings. Suffice it to say that the churches, meaning thereby the buildings, have been in three cases utterly destroyed. But the Church, meaning thereby the living body of faithful people, is in a better state than we expected. The Owu Church has been destroyed, and a heathen man has a compound on the spot; but the living Church has erected a new building not far off in its stead. The Igbein church was destroyed, and the residence has been taken by a heathen chief; but a very superior building has again been erected on the same site by the living Church. The Ikija church was utterly destroyed [accidentally by fire some months before the outbreak]; but the living Church rebuilt it. The Ake church they tried to destroy, but could not. They injured it much, however, but the living Church restored and re-opened it again. There are 1000 people who assemble there for worship; and of these, over 200 are communicants. Close questioning makes me feel that there is a real living Church here of no common order, after the nearly seven years of absence of European Missionaries. There are many things yet to do; but amidst the ruin of buildings, and destruction of houses, I can truly say of the living Church, "Cast down, but not destroyed; persecuted, but not forsaken." Yet the enmity against us is far from extinct. The town is divided into parties and factions. The part which any European Missionary coming here will have to play will be more difficult than at any previous time, and we cannot yet say that the town, meaning thereby all the rulers, will even receive a European at present.

The following passage from the journal of a Native Catechist describes the circumstances of the conversion of the Ogboni referred to above, and illustrates one of the various modes in which the Good Shepherd brings the heathen into His fold:—

Remarkable conversion of an Abeokuta Councillor.

This man had been a zealous idolater. About two years ago his wife came from his farm to tell one of his relatives, who is a member of my Church, that her husband was very ill, and unable to eat or to move about. This relative went accordingly, with some whom he got to assist him, to fetch the sick man home. The next day, about eight o'clock a.m., I saw them coming with the sick man, who was carried by two of them. I saluted them and praised them for their kindness. The sick man could not speak. I followed them to his home. His wife, who sat weeping by his side, provided him with what he was in need of, but he could not eat anything. Every day I called to see him, but he could not answer me a word. He was in this state for about six months, after which he began to speak and to move about in the house. One morning, when I called as usual, as soon as he saw me he began to thank me for my frequent visits, saying that, though he could not utter a word, yet he had noticed all my movements. I told him not to thank me, but to thank God for His kindness towards him. Shortly after his wife fell sick and died, leaving a little boy behind her. He was much distressed at this loss, but I comforted him from God's Word, and advised him to send for the child's grandmother to help him, which he did. A few days after, he came to my place to tell me that it was not the gods he had been worshipping that delivered him from his sickness, but the Lord Almighty who made him, and that he was therefore resolved to serve Him always. He asked again whether I thought that the Lord would receive him. He was much rejoiced when I read to him the word of our Saviour, "Him that cometh unto Me I will in no wise cast out." Next Sunday he came to church. After the evening service, he asked all the congregation to help him to pray that the Lord might forgive him all his sins. The people told him that if he continued coming to church the Lord would have mercy upon him and forgive him all his sins. He was much comforted on hearing these words. A few days after, he told his fellow-councillors that he was now a "book-man," would go to the "book-house" (the church) every Sunday, and would attend Councils no more. They said they would not prevent him. He then joined the candidates' class, and was baptized by the name of Job on the 31st of August.

IBADAN.

The Native Church at this station numbers 370 adherents, of whom 140 are communicants, connected with three congregations—Kudete, Aremo, and Ogunpa. No European Missionary has been there since the middle of 1869; but during 1873, as in former years, the Native Pastor (Rev. D. Olubi) and the lay agents who are his associates have laboured with much energy and perseverance. The Christians are well held together, and unpaid "elders" have been appointed "to see to the affairs of the Church." On the 17th of March, 1873, two of the churches, Aremo and Ogunpa, were destroyed by a furious storm of rain. This was the more trying as they had been but recently repaired. But sheds were at once erected for Divine Service, and preparations made for rebuilding the churches in a more substantial form. The first stones of the new edifices were laid respectively on the 12th and 13th of the following November. The Ibadan Christians subscribed liberally in money, materials, and labour; 57*l.* were subscribed at Lagos; 3*l.* from Abeokuta; and 31*l.* from a kind friend in England.—The work among the heathen is encouraging, the groups of listeners sometimes numbering 200 or 300 persons. The reception is varied, but there is a wide-spread recognition of the truth and excellence of God's Word. Eleven adults have been baptized. One of these new converts, a man of high position, and formerly a bigoted heathen, was recommended to join the Christian Church by the chief of the town, who is himself a Mohammedan.

NIGER MISSION.

Onitsha, 1857; Akassa, 1861; Lokoja, 1865; Bonny, 1866; Brass, 1868; Osamare, 1873.

Conducted by Native African Teachers, under the superintendence of the Right Rev. Bishop Crowther.

General.

Among other difficulties in the Niger Mission, two great hindrances to the progress of the Gospel are, the immorality of many of the nominally Christian Native African traders from other parts of the coast, and the growth of a money-loving spirit among the local population. The advance of commerce, though to be wished for on the whole, even in a Missionary point of view, tends to aggravate these evils. On the other hand, Bishop Crowther warmly acknowledges the help often received from the resident agents of European mercantile houses, and thanks God for a marked increase in the attention paid by this class to religious duties and the means of grace. A sadly different state of things prevailed at one time; and even now there is room for improvement, and cause for prayer as well as for thankfulness. The attitude of the chiefs, also, is in every place more favourable. It is also a great encouragement to the Bishop that the Walter Jones Fund has enabled the Committee to strengthen his pecuniary resources. He hopes, in consequence, to take up two new stations—one on the banks of the Niger, eighty miles higher up than Lokoja, opposite the town of Egga; and the other on the coast at New Calabar, where the chiefs have agreed to pay 200*l.* to defray the opening expenses. As regards the additional labourers that will be thus required, it has already been mentioned that the Bishop has obtained seven young men from the Fourah Bay College.

The immense importance of the Niger as a highway for trade, civilization, and the Gospel, becomes increasingly evident. The Haussa and Fulah tribes on one side, and the mingled population of the old Yoruba country on the other, are accessible by means of it; and in both of these directions signs are found of a willingness to cultivate friendly relations as well with the British Government and merchants as with the messengers of the Gospel.

The existing stations are six in number—Akassa, Brass and Bonny, on the Coast; Osamare, Onitsha and Lokoja on the Niger.

AKASSA.

Akassa, which is at the mouth of the Nun, one of the estuaries of the Niger, was first occupied in 1861, not from any hopeful Missionary prospects in the neighbourhood, but because the Mission party intended for the Niger were at that time prevented from ascending the river by the hostile disposition of some of the tribes on its banks. When the interior stations were occupied, Akassa was still retained as a base of communication. It also became a central station for the inhabitants of the delta generally, and children from Brass and neighbouring villages attended the Mission schools. Now that the Bishop has schools in Brass itself, these children have been withdrawn; and as the Akassa people have always been indifferent to the Gospel, it is not improbable that at some future time the iron building used as the Akassa Mission-house may be removed to some more favourable locality; but Bishop Crowther intends giving them a little further trial, hoping their hearts may be softened by the providential visitation of the plague of small-pox, which has recently carried off many of the inhabitants, including two of the chiefs and some of the leading heathen priests.

BRASS.

The persecution that raged so bitterly at this station in 1871 and the early part of 1872, gradually subsided, and has now (for the present at least) entirely ceased. The Native Missionary at the station (Rev. T. Johnson) thus describes the public acknowledgment that was made of GOD'S mercy in that deliverance :—

A thanksgiving service on cessation of persecution.

On Sunday, the 28th of September, I gave notice that Wednesday, the 1st of October, should be devoted to thanksgiving to Almighty God. Accordingly, we had a full service at 10.30 a.m. I preached from Psalm cxxiv. Our little chapel was crowded; the service was solemn; the countenance of every one bespoke joy and thankfulness. There were over 260 attendants. In the afternoon we had a meeting, when three of the first converted chiefs spoke very touchingly on the goodness of God to them as a Church and people, and encouraged their brethren to be steadfast in the Christian faith. Mr. Williams, agent for C. Horsfall and Sons, attended. He spoke on the topic of the persecution, himself being an eye-witness, and pointed out to them the great depth of gratitude they owed to God. After the meeting collections were to be made, but as there is no coin in the country, we could not receive the collections then. We had promises to the value of from 50*l.* to 60*l.*

Mr. Johnson adds :—

When the persecution took place in 1871 we had fifty converts. At the persecution three recanted. Since the persecution many came forward to inquire of their soul's salvation, so that we rejoice over more than 140 who acknowledge the power of the Gospel.

BONNY.

The Rev. D. Crowther, son of the Bishop, labours at this station. The civil war mentioned in preceding reports has been brought to a close through friendly British intervention. Its cessation, however, has been attended with the disadvantage that one of the conditions of peace was the removal of half of the population to another locality, where they could no longer receive regular instruction from the agents of the Mission. Religious services are conducted at two different chapels in English and Ibo respectively. The Ibo language is understood by the Native population, though they speak a dialect of their own which one of the agents of the Mission occasionally uses in his public addresses. A new congregation has been formed at Juju town, about four miles distant from the Mission station. The three congregations together aggregate 320 persons, of whom twelve are Europeans. The following extract from Mr. D. Crowther's letter of September 10, 1873, speaks for itself:—

United prayer-meeting of Europeans and Africans at a time of pestilence.

During the late sad mortality in this and other rivers in the months of April, May, and beginning of June, I felt it my duty to go among our friends in the shipping; and while sympathizing with those who have suffered losses by deaths, to arouse at the same time the feelings of those who remain, to the fact that our time to depart will also come. The reception I received in every ship has been a welcome one. With some I read portions of Scripture and prayed: to others religious tracts were given. The epidemic still raged; every other day the flag "half-mast," seen from this ship and that, and the mournful towing of a boat containing a coffin covered over with the Union Jack, sadly told the tale of the increase of the pestilence. During a conversation on board a hulk on the sad times, I proposed a prayer-meeting, at which we should humble ourselves before God, and plead for mercy and deliverance. This proposal met with the approbation of the gentlemen. Visiting another hulk, the same sentiments were expressed and approbation given, and so throughout the shipping. The church was so far completed as to be fit for use, and I thought a better and a more fitting occasion to open it could not be had. . . . . A short service was held on Sunday, the 22nd of June; the 24th chapter 2nd Samuel was read. Then a short address, taking for my text the 13th of St. John, latter part of 7th verse, "What I do thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter." At the conclusion of the address, I could not help remarking that our meeting that day was a further proof of the text; for who could have known, when the first donation and the subsequent ones were put down, that the first service to be held within the walls of the sacred edifice would be one so immediately connected with our friends, our neighbours, and ourselves? . . . . . The prayer for deliverance from plague was next read, and the Benediction closed the service. There were present seven Europeans, most of them the leading supercargoes in the river, and their clerks, and twenty-five Africans.

OSAMARE.

The occupation of this new post, on the shores of the Niger, twenty miles below Onitsha, was mentioned in the last Annual Report [p. 25]. The Rev. J. During is its Missionary. Bishop Crowther writes of it as follows:—

This station was partially occupied in 1871, by sending a Scripture Reader there for preliminary arrangements; in 1872 the Rev. J. During was removed hither from Akassa, residing in a temporary house for present use. The Niger having risen to an unusual height last year, for two months Mr. During was almost confined within doors, and could only move from house to house by means of canoes. Divine Service was, nothwithstanding, opened on the 8th of September at the house of Chief Odogun, where Mr. During was lodged for a few weeks. The congregation numbered thirty-six. On October 29th the congregation had increased to fifty.

The Bishop subsequently visited the place, and directed the elevation of the ground for a church and a dwelling-house to the height of three feet from the present level. This will secure "dry soil to move about on" during the annually recurring floods of September and October. The chiefs are labouring personally at the work, and attend Divine Service regularly with their dependents.

ONITSHA.

This station has passed through many vicissitudes and trials during the year. Small-pox raged in the town. King Idiali, who had only lately acceded to the throne, fell a victim to it. There were bereavements, also, in the families of the Mission agents. Several converts died, among whom was Adam Ayanbu, mentioned in the Report for '68-69. The consternation of the inhabitants was great. All kinds of superstitious notions were formed respecting the cause of the epidemic, some of these being at first unfavourable to the Mission. A dream, however, seen by one of the inhabitants, led to a change of view, and the epidemic was now said to be occasioned by their neglect of the Gospel. The church was soon filled to overflowing; and though, as the Bishop observes, no reliance can be placed on the permanent effects of such an impression, yet it is impossible not to hope for good, when a large number of heathen lend a listening ear to the preaching of the Gospel.

At the commencement of the year, Mr. Langley and Mr. Romaine (Africans, like all the other agents in the Niger Mission) were the Missionaries at this station. During its course, however, Mr. Langley was called to his rest. The Bishop gives a very interesting sketch of Mr. Langley's life and labours, from which the following extracts are subjoined:—

The finished course of an African minister.

Francis Langley, one of the original stock of those liberated from slave-ships, was landed at Sierra Leone as an adult. Here he was bound as an apprentice for many years to a native merchant. From his situation he had very little opportunity of regular school education; but by patient perseverance he acquired the art of reading, chiefly at the Sunday and evening schools, and a little writing at the latter and at other private opportunities which he embraced to improve himself. He was afterwards employed as a messenger in the Government service at Freetown, with a good salary, connected with extra advantages and prospect of promotion. When the want of suitable native teachers for the Niger Mission was brought before the members of the churches at Sierra Leone, Francis Langley made known his wishes to the then Governor of the Colony to resign his Government situation and offer himself for the Mission work. But the Governor, not wishing to lose Langley's services, strongly advised him against giving up his situation, as there was a prospect of promotion and increase of salary; and showed him the danger into which he was about to plunge himself and family amongst the uncivilized and barbarous heathen without protection from any civilized power.

The subject was well weighed, and made a topic of prayer to God by Francis for Divine guidance. The truthfulness of the advice was acknowledged, but he resolved to sacrifice his situation with its advantages, trusting that the Lord would provide. He committed his future safety to Him who has said, "Behold, I send you forth as lambs in the midst of wolves." In 1861 Francis Langley joined the Niger Mission. As if to put his faith to the test, he, with his wife and young family, was the solitary civilized Christian representative at Onitsha that year. It was not long before these savage heathens made several attempts in a body to plunder him at the dark hours of the night, but he boldly repulsed them through his vigilance and sleepless hours for many nights. When they saw that he was not one soon intimidated, he at last was befriended by the very savages who had sought to plunder him.

Some years after an out-station was taken up at the request of a chief of one of the districts of Onitsha; and Francis Langley was stationed there. Just about that time the suburbans were visited by an epidemic which carried off many of their number. Frightened by this visitation, they all forsook their houses and fled to the town of Onitsha, leaving Francis Langley and his family alone in the deserted suburb, separated from the town of Onitsha by at least half a mile of woods and jungles, exposed to the savage cannibals —Obotshis—whose farms and plantations were close to the new out-station. But, nothing fearing, in spite of all advice to remove back to the old station, Francis Langley kept his post, and would not desert it unless he had first received my instructions to do so. There he remained, receiving and instructing all who came to him by day, but left alone by night. Thus he kept his place for some ten months, till another abode was prepared for him at the upper end of Onitsha, which he occupied according to the best of his ability to the day of his death.

In 1869 Francis Langley was ordained deacon, and subsequently to the order of priesthood.

For a long time Francis was labouring under impaired health, from advancing age and other causes. He became seriously ill in March, and was removed to the central station for better care and attention under the immediate eye of his brethen; but there was no improvement. On the 13th of April he received the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper administered to him by the Rev. W. Romaine, and on the 14th, the day after Easter, Francis Langley entered into rest from his labours in his Master's service in hope of a glorious resurrection. His works do follow him.

LOKOJA.

This station, of which the Rev. T. C. John and the Rev. C. Paul are the Missionaries, was, by the last accounts, in a more settled condition, politically, than for several years past. It will be remembered that it forms at present part of the dominions of the King of Bida. Masaba, the late monarch, died in February, 1873. His nephew, Umoru, the sovereign now reigning, seems at present to be abler, and better disposed, than his predecessor. On Masaba's death, the Bunus, a neighbouring tribe, who had been much molested by his soldiers, attacked Lokoja with the intention of destroying it. They were, however, repulsed; and Umoru's soldiers, who were sent to garrison the town, have not only secured it from fear of further assault, but have conducted themselves satisfactorily in other respects. Bishop Crowther writes:—

Friendly feeling of African chiefs towards England, and Missionary advantages resulting thence.

> These prompt measures taken by King Umoru to secure peace and order encouraged many who had fled from Lokoja to return and rebuild their huts, and their friends and relatives accompanied them. Since the return of the runaways the congregations have been good, numbering at Trinity Church seventy, and at the Bunu Chapel sixty-five. Both these places of worship will now be enlarged.

In September of last year, Bishop Crowther paid a visit to King Umoru, being accompanied by the agent of a British house that conducts mercantile operations on the Niger. Umoru, who received them with the utmost courtesy and kindness, is a man of considerable intelligence, a student of Arabic literature, and, what is more important, exceedingly desirous of cultivating amicable relations with the British Government, and with European traders. The Sultans of Sokotu and Gondu (Fulah potentates, whose country lies to the North of Nupe, and who claim some kind of feudal superiority over Umoru) have encouraged him in his present judicious policy. The "protection of the stranded steamer, the Snowdon, in the Niger, since October, 1872, with only three Europeans on board," is also justly referred to by Bishop Crowther in his journals of September, 1873, as proving the sincerity of the Bida chieftain's friendly professions.

Proposed Extension of the Mission.

The following extract from Bishop Crowther's Annual Report will be read with much interest, and will stir up earnest prayers that his health and strength may be long preserved :—

Bishop Crowther's influence with African chiefs, and consequent opportunities for Missionary extension.

I have had an eye upon Egga for an advanced station some time back, as a basis of extension beyond Lokoja; but the fickleness of the late king gave me no favourable opportunity to press it. This would bring us eighty miles higher up the river from Lokoja, nearer to Bida, and of much easier access to the Yoruba country from the banks of the Niger. When the way is open, many people from Lagos travel overland to trade at Egga market. With this view I keep up friendship with the King of Ilorin by kind compliments. At this visit I suggested to King Umoru at Bida, in the presence of the English merchants, how important it would be if he would permit an establishment to be made on the high land on the other side of the river, opposite the town of Egga, where there is ample room, and the locality healthier than Egga, which is a mere deposit of the river, very muddy and filthy at the fall of rains. The huts are so close to each other that in many places there is not passage enough between for two persons to cross each other. When a merchant wants a place on shore for his trading purposes, many huts have to be pulled down to make room; the inmates must seek shelter elsewhere. I told the king that, if he consented to form such a plan as I had proposed, I would place my people there. He replied, "The proposal is very good; here are my councillors sitting by me; I will consult them to what conclusion we shall come about it; I will let you know." With this in view I have instructed the Rev. C. Paul to hold himself in readiness, the moment the king should give his consent, to proceed to Egga, and secure a place for this new ground. Should I be successful in this, we must not expect more rapid progress here, as regards the conversion of the people to Christianity, than in other Mohammedan countries. But we have heathen elements to work upon, and in due time a Native congregation will be collected as a seedling for the diffusion of Christianity among the surrounding tribes. I am taking advantage of present favourable opportunities to secure a footing, which it may probably not be so easy to accomplish after another change of government as at this time. On all hands I am looked upon as their oldest confidential friend and adviser with whom they have been acquainted from the days of their fathers. As they have thus confidently entrusted themselves to my advice, I think I should in return take advantage of it, to advise a more suitable locality where a Mission station could be planted in this part of the country, before another king arise, who may not know Joseph. Of one thing I am almost certain, that when once young Native Mission agents are located among this people, as long as they continue to behave themselves well, it is not likely they will ever be turned out.

The happy termination of the Ashantee war—sad as the circumstances of war must always be—will, it is confidently hoped, further the progress of the Gospel in West Africa, by increasing the security of those taking up their abode in the country for Missionary or commercial purposes. Several warm friends of the Society have urged upon the Committee the commencement of a Mission in the Ashantee country. The Basle Missionary Society has, however, been labouring with much success for upwards of forty years among the neighbouring tribes with a view to its occupation. Coomassie itself was occupied some years ago by the Wesleyans. The Committee shrink from intruding upon the labours of others; but are in communication with the Societies just named, to whose efforts they heartily wish God speed.

EAST-AFRICA MISSION.

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. John Rebmann, 1846.
Rev. Thomas Henry Sparshott (m), 1867.
Rev. W. B. Chancellor (m), 1873.

The Rev. T. H. Sparshott returned to East Africa last October, accompanied by the Rev. W. B. Chancellor, a newly ordained brother, who was proceeding thither for the first time. The Committee had also designated to East Africa a tried Industrial Agent, Mr. Bockstatt, who had been engaged in Sierra Leone. But it pleased God that, on the 22nd of November last, this faithful labourer, who had been temporarily employed in the Society's Jerusalem Mission, should be removed from work on earth to the more immediate presence of his Heavenly Master. A body of liberated Africans, from the Liberated African Asylum at Sharanpur, the Society's station near Nasik, in Western India, were transferred to Mombas (the base of the Society's operations on the East African Coast) in December of last year. To these last have been more recently added the companions of Jacob Wainwright, to whom it is due in measure that England has had the satisfaction of laying the mortal remains of her great Missionary traveller among the great and noble of the land. May these young men prove as faithful servants of their Heavenly Master as they seem to have been of their earthly one!

Call for vigorous action in East Africa.

As the Committee anticipated, the traffic in slaves was but partially checked by the Treaty negotiated by Sir Bartle Frere, and is likely to be resumed again with all its attendant horrors, unless England acts vigorously upon her determination that it shall altogether cease. There is reason for thankfulness that an influential Committee has been formed for the purpose of watching the course of events, and of allowing no rest to the English public or the English Government until the work is done. Meanwhile it is clear, as Sir Bartle Frere has pointed out more than once, that much valuable aid may be rendered by this Society, not only by taking the charge of liberated slaves, but still more by seeking to establish a chain of Missions towards the interior, whereby the most effectual barrier will be offered to the attempts that are being made to carry on the inhuman traffic by land. The necessity for some such action is abundantly evident from the reports presented to Parliament only a week ago, in which it appears that, to avoid the blockade, gangs are driven along the coast. Vice-Consul Elton ascertained that 4000 passed in one month, and that the chief result of the Treaty to the present time was that the trader no longer pays the poll-tax of 2½ dollars on each slave to the Sultan. These things seem to make it the more evident that no efforts will be really successful unless the Government assent to the formation on the East Coast of a Free Settlement. The Committee, on their part, are ready to do what they can, not only for putting an end to the traffic in slaves, but also for carrying the Gospel to the regions beyond.

With this view they requested the Rev. W. S. Price, formerly one of the Society's Missionaries at Nasik, who superintended the Sharanpur African Asylum at the time when Jacob Wainwright was one of its inmates, to proceed to Mombas, for the purpose of giving that advice and assistance in the initiation of new plans for which his long experience eminently adapts him. Mr. Price has cheerfully responded to the invitation, and the Committee have already designated a more youthful brother to co-operate with him, and hope that the great Master will supply them with other agents, some of whom may combine industrial with evangelistic qualifications, for this great enterprise.

Mr. Rebmann could not be persuaded to return to Europe in the summer of 1873, and felt with justice that it would be dangerous to return in the winter. The Committee are deeply grieved to add that Mr. Rebmann has now become totally blind. He hopes, however, to recover his sight again, by means of a surgical operation, on returning to Europe.

MEDITERRANEAN MISSION.

(Commenced at Malta in 1815.)

I. Turkish Mission.—II. Greece.—III. Asia Minor.—IV. Palestine.

MEDITERRANEAN.

General.

Progress under difficulties in the Turkish Empire.

In several places in the Turkish empire a spirit of inquiry is observable, together with a growing demand for copies of Holy Scripture; and opposition, though active, does not seem to come from the population generally. There is a quiet but effective vigilance exercised by persons of authority and influence; and a pressure is almost always brought to bear, sooner or later, on any persons that show inclinations towards Christianity. One of the Society's Native Agents unhesitatingly expressed his belief (in Oriental style) before a large, though private, gathering of Moslems, that if the Mohammedan Government were removed, the streams of the province would be scarcely sufficient for the Turks that would seek for baptism. That such a remark should have been made, and rather assented to than contradicted, indicates at least a diminution of the virulent hostility against the Gospel which was at one time universal in the Turkish population. As regards the political government, however, of these countries, the Committee simply ask that the toleration principles of the Hatti Humayoun may be frankly and effectively carried out. When God, in His Providence, thus gives the Gospel free course, they have no doubt it will be also accompanied by the life-giving energy of the Holy Spirit.

I. Turkish Mission.

CONSTANTINOPLE.

(First occupied, 1819; relinquished, 1821; re-occupied, 1858.)

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. Sigismund Wilhelm Koelle, Ph.D. (m), to West Africa, 1847; to Palestine, 1856; to Constantinople, 1862.

The Committee, and the members of the Society in general, must still wait upon God, that He will be graciously pleased to open a wider door for preaching the Gospel in European Turkey, and to accompany with richer blessing those very limited efforts beyond which it is at present impossible to advance. The last year has brought very clearly to view the difficulties referred to. The wife of one of the converts has forsaken her husband and returned to Mohammedanism, though the man is still firm and consistent in his profession. (This is the same person whose temporary secession, and subsequent recovery by her husband, was mentioned in the Report for 1870-71.) The afflicted brother will be remembered in the prayers of many. Sad to state, the daughter also of one of the Society's Agents (a highly-educated young woman) has been tempted to leave her father's house, and to become the inmate of a Turkish harem. Those with whom she is living profess to treat her honourably, and to allow her the free profession of Christianity. But the step which she has taken is altogether unjustifiable, and her position is one full of peril. Yet there are signs of Moslem bigotry giving way. Several inquirers (one of them, at least, a man of some position) openly and regularly attend Dr. Koelle's Turkish Service.

The Rev. R. H. Weakley, of the Smyrna Mission, who spent some portion of the year at Constantinople, while engaged in the revision of the Turkish Bible, gives the following opinion of the Native Agency now employed, and of what is still needed:—

Native Agency from among educated Mohammedans.

Dr. Koelle being absent some part of the time, it became my duty, in consonance with his expressed wish, as opportunity was afforded, to help the Native Agents of the Mission with sympathy and advice. Intercourse with these men was one of the pleasures of my stay in the capital. One of them, Ahmed, is an old acquaintance—a man who has suffered much for Christ's sake—a rough Turk, sanctified and polished by faith in the loving Master; the other a Persian of much mystic reading and feeling, all of which has now a new meaning and a new value as employed in bringing hungry souls to the Bread of Life. Both are zealous evangelists, each in his sphere. As regards Native Agency, however, the great want of Constantinople is a truly converted man of education and ability.

II. Greece.

SYRA.

(Commenced in 1828, while Greece was a part of the Turkish Empire.)

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. Frederick A. Hildner (m), 1829.

The following extracts from Mr. Hildner's Report show that his labours have had, through the blessing of GOD, a beneficial effect on the Greek Community :—

The Society's school in this island has proceeded as favourably as in any of the former years of its existence. The Greek Archbishop, with some of his Clergy and the local authorities, favoured the annual public examination with their presence. The former, indeed, has, since his appointment to the see of Syra, never failed to be present, and to express his lively interest in the school. The School Commission sent again a highly favourable report of the result of the examinations to the Minister of Instruction at Athens. The number of pupils scarcely comes up at present to 150; but its influence on the other schools in town, especially with respect to Christian instruction, is not diminished. In my Bible lessons, which I have continued to give to the two higher classes of the girls, especially on Sundays, there is always a small number of adults among my hearers. Lately a number of persons, principally teachers, have associated themselves to do something beneficial to the community of this town at large, and specially for the working people. The especial objects of this association are to diffuse useful knowledge among the common people, by lectures, by establishing a library, by organizing night schools—providing elementary instruction, including also Christian instruction—and, lastly, by explaining the Gospel on Sundays after the Church services in some of the schools. I was invited to deliver the opening speech in the hall of the public gymnasium. After some hesitation and repeated solicitation I accepted, and felt thankful that I was strengthened from on high in freely addressing an assembly of more than 200 persons of all classes. Among them were the Archbishop, some priests, and almost all the teachers and professors of the public schools.

III. Asia Minor.

SMYRNA.

(Commenced in 1830.)

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. John Theophilus Wolters (m), to Persia, 1832; to Syra, 1837; to Smyrna, 1842.
Rev. Robert Henry Weakley (m), to Constantinople, 1860; to Smyrna, 1869.
Rev. Theodore Frederic Wolters (m), 1860.

The Rev. J. T. Wolters has been alone at Smyrna during part of the year—his son, Mr. T. F. Wolters, having temporarily removed to Palestine to take charge of the Jerusalem Mission, in the absence of Mr. Klein; and Mr. Weakley, as already mentioned, having spent some months at Constantinople to assist in revising the Turkish version of the Holy Scriptures. Of the two Native Agents, Belisarius has been removed from Smyrna to Aidin, while Montesanto is still at Cassaba. Mr. Wolters, sen., writes as follows:—

Preaching in Greek (in Smyrna) and English (at Boujah); holding a Greek Bible-class during my son's absence; attending at the Mission-house at Smyrna; superintending the book-store and sale; instructing the Depositary and Mission Servant, and speaking to visitors—these have formed the outline of my employment.

Present state of religious liberty in Asia Minor.

During the year which is now drawing to a close, the calls of Mussulmans at our Mission-house have been less than the year before. Some that used to come frequently have shown their faces very seldom. But I have hope that those who are still at Smyrna will come again, and that others will come. They often stay away from fear of being known as inquirers; and, indeed, it requires the grace of God in no small degree to make them bold, and prompt them to come forward and confess Christ before men, from whom they have to expect nothing but contempt and scorn, if not open persecution. Our Agent, Belisarius, however, has frequent intercourse with Turks at Aidin, and so has our Agent, Montesanto, at Cassaba. I think that there is an encouragement in the fact that the Turkish authorities do not interfere with our work. They know, no doubt, what is our object. Our Mission-house is known; our books and some passages from the Word of God in Turkish are exposed to the view of all passers-by, and read by many. None interferes and asks, "What is this for?" On the contrary, frequently Turks come in, buy books, and enter into friendly talk. We may infer from this that religious liberty is being better understood and more generally acknowledged by the Turks.

The Rev. T. F. Wolters seems to have been especially struck of late with the religious carelessness of the Turks. This he regards as anything but a hopeful sign. He adds, however:—

> The question often occurs to my mind,—"Is it right to carry on a Mission where there is so little direct access to the people's minds and hearts? Is it not better to withdraw altogether from a field so unpromising?" Again and again I must answer, "That is not the question. The question is, Can the Gospel be brought to bear at all upon a people who have hitherto been so shut up in their bigoted and proud exclusiveness?" The question is answered: "It can;" and as long as this is the case, it seems to me that the providence of God does not say, Go elsewhere. Much, very much, may be done through the press, and more might be done in this way than has been done hitherto. We need more books—I do not mean such as are of a controversial character; for the present we are well supplied in this direction. Dr. Pfander's "Mizan ul Haqq" is a host in itself. But we want more books and tracts setting forth Gospel truth in its simplicity in a shape calculated to interest the Turkish mind. Something, too, ought to be done for the Turkish-speaking Greeks of Anatolia. They have hardly any literature, and would welcome anything which we might offer them. In the way of direct work, little can be done for the present in Smyrna itself; but a good deal in the interior of the country. I have always found the people there accessible on my Missionary journeys. For a year or two to come, it may be enough to visit the various towns and villages from Smyrna, especially if we could place a Native Agent here and there. But I look forward to the time when it will be necessary for one of the Missionaries to occupy some central post permanently.

Hopeful movements among the Greek Christians of Smyrna

The Greek Bishops and Priests, in at least the western parts of Asia Minor, are not only personally friendly to the Missionaries, but some of them strive to promote among their flocks the purchase and study of Bibles and Testaments. In some places Sunday-schools also, to which adult pupils are admitted, have lately been introduced into the Greek Church; and in this and other ways several of the laity are actively seeking or imparting Scriptural instruction. and its neighbourhood.

JERUSALEM.

The Rev. F. A. Klein is still the Missionary of this Station. He is assisted by a competent, earnest, and faithful Native Catechist, Chalib Jamal, to whose ordination (proposed to take place at the dedication of the new church) the Committee look forward with much pleasure. Mr. Klein found it necessary for his health to take change for a few weeks in Germany. During his absence the work was superintended by the Rev. T. F. Wolters, who was temporarily removed from Smyrna for that purpose. Mr. Klein left Palestine on the 3rd of October, returning thither again, accompanied by Mrs. Klein, in the latter part of February. Sad to relate, on his way from Jaffa to Jerusalem, Mr. Klein met with an accident, by which his leg was fractured and himself incapacitated from active work for several weeks. The latest accounts, however, give every hope of his permanent recovery.

In order to assist in the completion of the new church, Mr. Bockstatt, formerly of the Sierra Leone Mission, was temporarily stationed at Jerusalem, the Committee having designated him ultimately for East Africa. "His truly Christian character," writes Mr. Zeller, "and his great amiability, had gained for him the love and respect of his brethren, both European and Native." But in November of last year, after a brief illness, to the great sorrow of all, it pleased Him who doeth all things well to call away His faithful servant to the blessed repose of the spirits made perfect. This sad event has, of course, delayed the completion of the new church; which otherwise it was hoped would have been achieved before the close of 1873.

The Arab Protestant congregation, which represents a community of about 150 persons, is feeble spiritually as well as numerically. Yet there seems no doubt that there are some amongst them who love the Lord, and have experienced the power of saving grace. The completion of the new church, and the expected ordination of a faithful Native Pastor, will bring them in closer contact with the preached Gospel and the other divinely-appointed means of grace. May showers of spiritual blessing descend upon them!

A commencement has been made with a girls' school. It opened with only twelve girls, but the number soon increased to twenty-three, twelve of whom were Moslems of good families. A pious, intelligent, and active young teacher was supplied by Mrs. Mott, of Beyrout.

NAZARETH.

The Rev. J. Zeller and Mr. J. Huber are the European labourers at this station. The Rev. Michael Kawar, a Native brother, is Mr. Zeller's assistant at Nazareth; while another Native Minister, the Rev. Seraphim Bontaji, is at a more responsible post at Shefamer, but also supported by Mr. Zeller's superintendence.

Condition of Nazareth Native Christians from a Missionary point of view.

The Native Christians at Nazareth and the out-stations pay more attention than formerly to the means of grace, are increasing in the knowledge of God's Word, and show more consistency in their lives. They are more faithful also in the observance of the Lord's-day; and those of them that have lands of their own find that they do not suffer temporally in consequence. Their aggregate number is 454, of whom 65 are communicants. In this respect there has been no advance since 1868. Yet the Committee believe that the continued existence of this little Protestant community, with its pure worship and its growing acquaintance with spiritual truth, has had a good effect on the surrounding nominally Christian population, and even to some extent on the Mohammedans.

Mr. Zeller's state of health rendered it necessary for him to spend the summer months of 1873 in Germany. He returned in December, and gives the following interesting account of his welcome by his Nazareth friends:—

In the plain of Jezreel I was met by my wife and children and a number of men of our congregation; and when I reached Nazareth the number of friends who wished to greet me had swollen to such a stream that I made my entrée into the town surrounded by several hundred people on horse and on foot. During the following days the Mission-house was literally crammed from morning to night with those eager to welcome me, of our own people as well as of Moslems, Greeks and Latins. It was a great encouragement to me to see how affectionate the welcome of the people was; and I have particular reason to thank the Lord for having preserved the lives of all the members of our Missionary circle, and for having given amity and peace during my absence to our little flocks of Christians. Welcome given to a Missionary returning to his station.

At Shefamer there are about seventy Native Protestants, of whom eighteen are communicants. Four only of these are women. This disproportion Mr. Bontaji attributes to his having no girls' school. He is anxious to establish one. Its annual expense he reckons at about 30*l*. The boys' school has doubled the number of its pupils, having now sixty children, notwithstanding active opposition on the part of the priests and nuns of the Latin Church.

Education is becoming more prized in Galilee, there being an increase both in the supply and the demand. A still more cheering feature observable in some places is the growing sale of copies of Holy Scripture. A dispute between the Greek Patriarchs of Jerusalem and Constantinople at one time seemed likely to result in many of the Greek Christians joining themselves to the Protestant congregations. This anticipation, however, has not yet been realized.

SALT.

This is a new station, taken up by the Society at the request of Bishop Gobât—agents supported by the Bishop's own fund having previously laboured there. The Rev. Franklin Bellamy, Incumbent of St. Mary's, Devonport, who was led to offer himself to the Society early in 1873, with special reference to the work in Palestine, was appointed to this post, and reached it at the beginning of the current year. He was accompanied by Mr. Bûrazan, a Native of Central Asia, originally a Chaldee Christian, brought to a saving knowledge of the truth by the instrumentality of the American Missionaries at Mosul.

An unusually severe winter exposed Mr. Bellamy and his coadjutor to unexpected hardships. By God's mercy their health was not seriously affected; still less was their Missionary spirit diminished. Subsequently, however, Mr. Bellamy's domestic circumstances have, to his deep regret, compelled him to return to England. In a letter dated 2nd April, 1874, Mr. Bellamy thus speaks of the Native flock:—

As for the spiritual state of our congregation, I am most hopeful of it. Through all the terrible weather of this winter we have had good congregations. Last Sunday morning there were thirty men, not including children, and six women. We have decided proofs of Christianity in the lives of some, and in their appreciation of the Word of God.—We have had a terrible winter, but it seems now over. Two hundred houses in Salt (such as they are) have fallen, through the rains and snow.

English Congregation.

The following extracts from the Rev. T. K. Weatherhead's annual letter, interesting in other points of view, will also indicate the bearing of his labours on Missionary progress generally, as well as some of the reasons which have induced the Committee in maintaining this branch of the work :—

The past year has been as the preceding. We have had the same support and encouragement—indeed, rather better. Our congregations have been larger, and the power of the Word more apparent. I look for great results, in a Mission point of view, from our congregation. Quite two-thirds are Eurasians; and if it should please God to fill them with His Spirit, they will soon make His name to be known amongst their servants and others. There is an urgent need for work amongst such. They live more immediately amongst the people of the country, and they bear the name of Christian. How necessary to bear the character of Christian, and to have their banners set up in their houses in the name of the Lord! Our Sunday-school, for the children of Europeans and Eurasians, promises to be very helpful in the same direction. What can one expect amongst the heathen, if "Christian heathen" are at their very doors? The funds raised by the congregation [for various religious purposes] are better than last year. The year 1872 was good; the year 1873 is better. The total amounts to Rs. 7505! more than Rs. 600 a month.

Native Christians.

The Native Pastor, the Rev. Appaji Bapuji, writes as follows :—

I have seen during the year an increase of earnestness and spirituality amongst our little band of Christians. A few of them often come to our preaching-place; and whenever they get an opportunity they speak to their heathen fellow-countrymen about the saving power and love of Jesus Christ, and try to bring their acquaintances under Christian influence and instruction.

The Native Christians under Mr. Appaji's pastoral care are still few. Their number is given in the statistical tables as seventy-eight. Of these, thirty-eight are communicants. Two adults have been baptized during the year.

Evangelistic.

The Rev. J. G. Deimler has continued his labours among the Mohammedans. He writes:—

The Mussulman [or Hindustani] Mission has been carried on by reading and preaching in the streets, by a weekly address delivered in the jail, and by conversations held with individuals—sometimes in the hospital, sometimes in shops and houses, and sometimes on board the native craft lying in the harbour. To these methods of evangelizing the Mussulmans I must also add the opening, in the Bhendi Bazaar, of a tract and Bible-shop, which we endeavour to use as a place for reading, preaching, and conversation. As, however, it has not yet received a fair trial, nothing can be said at present as to its usefulness.

Mohammedan fanaticism.

At the preaching-places we experienced, chiefly from the Khankan-Mussulmans, a great deal of violent opposition and rudeness—treatment to which we had not been accustomed in former years, and to which they were undoubtedly excited by the harangues, levelled against Christianity and its professors, of a couple of illiterate Mussulman preachers, whose sole motive in thus addressing their co-religionists was to gain a livelihood. One of them was a rebel in the time of the mutiny. This antagonistic feeling found an outbreak on the evening of the 13th September, when the Society's valuable catechist, Daud Mokham, while on his way home from our book-shop, was stabbed in the back and severely wounded by a fanatic Mussulman youth. It is a matter for deep gratitude to God, both that when brought in the hospital face to face with his would-be murderer, and suffering severe bodily pains, Daud Mokham should have received grace to declare, under the impression that he was soon to die, in a most Christ-like and exemplary manner—"I forgive you, and may God forgive you too;" and also that the knife was not permitted, in the providence of God, to penetrate any vital part, thus sparing his life. We feel thankful, too, that he is still ready and cheerful to continue in proclaiming the Gospel of Christ in this city. The Mussulman was sentenced by the High Court to five years' imprisonment with hard labour. One immediate effect has been that they now keep clear of our preaching-places and our book-shops, so that we sometimes read for half an hour without gathering an audience.

Mr. Deimler makes some interesting remarks on the religious agitation now going on, among the Moslems, in Bombay and many other parts of India. Its Agents are generally very ignorant, even of Mohammedanism. He regards it, on the whole, as the spasmodic effort of a dying power, and adds :—

Present state of Mohammedans of Western India.

It is a gloomy picture that the Moslems of India as a body present to the philanthropic observer, though there are, it must be admitted, several honourable exceptions. Degeneration and decay, from a moral, social, and material point of view; pride and arrogancy as to the excellency of their own religion; a belief in their own former greatness, coupled with deep ignorance and lethargy; antipathy to European learning; a shrinking from exertion, both physical and mental; the gradual decline among them of all those qualities which are noblest in man; scrupulous sensitiveness respecting the sanctity of Islam, together with many violations of its precepts; here an outbreak of the evil passions of man, there an eruption of their deep-seated hatred against Christianity; and even where good convictions exist, a want of energy and mental power in following them out;—such are the prominent features of their condition. The only real means of enlightenment and progress in civilization and influence are commonly rejected by them, and thus they are drifting onward to an unknown goal, while in a spirit of blind fatalism they are looking for miraculous deliverance and restoration to their by-gone power and glory. There can be little doubt as to the existence of a widely-ramified and hidden net of Wahabi agitation spread throughout India and its borders. The local preachers, whose aim is not so much the propagation of their faith as opposition to Christianity, without being in connexion with that puritanic sect, excite by their appeals the evil passions of their hearers, and thus endanger the public peace. I doubt the propriety of calling these agitations "a revival of Islam;" for the movers in these agitations have not themselves any very profound acquaintance with the Koran and the traditions, neither does their influence tend to an increased study of them. Quotations from their religious books are only used at random for supporting their wild rhapsodies of impertinence against the book of the Christians, the New Testament, and its adherents. These agitations, together with single outbreaks on harmless individuals, are, in my opinion, no revival of Islam, but merely spasmodic efforts of a dying power. This state of things precludes our believing that the Mussulmans as a whole are a field ripe for the harvest. The waste ground, full of weeds, has yet to be ploughed and harrowed (it may be in part by the judgments of God), so as to be ready to receive the precious seed of the Word of God. How long this preparatory work will last God alone knows. But the God of love, wisdom, and power, may accomplish in one day the work of long periods by some extraordinary and miraculous interposition of His power. If it be asked what, under these circumstances, the duty of Christ's Church is, the unhesitating reply is:—To persevere lovingly in bringing the only remedy for all, even the most desperate cases, the blessed Gospel of Christ, to bear upon these people in whatever way possible; and to persevere in prayer that it may please the Lord in His great mercy to raise amongst them, by His Spirit and providence, a dissatisfaction with their present spiritual state, and a spirit of inquiry for salvation.

The women of the upper classes among the Mohammedans are not neglected. Mr. Deimler writes:—

> The Zenana Mission, with the exception of a couple of months in the rainy season, has been regularly carried on by Mrs. Deimler. The visits have almost entirely been confined to women of the Choga class. There are more houses open to her than she can visit properly. A sincere friendship has been formed between her and many of the women.

Mr. Appaji, who, besides caring for the Native flock, labours as an evangelist both among heathens and Mohammedans, writes as follows:—

Encouragements and discouragements of street-preaching at Bombay.

Mr. Weatherhead and Mr. H. C. Squires were my companions in street-preaching; and from the month of April last we made a special effort to bring the Gospel-message more regularly and prominently before the heathen who live in and who frequent our localities. We hired a shop in Duncan Road for preaching three times a week—viz., Monday, Wednesday, and Saturday. On these days we preached sometimes for two hours and a half, and some of our hearers come in and sit reasoning with us on several occasions. Through the kindness of Mr. Weatherhead, my hands were strengthened by the employment of a zealous Scripture reader, who lived in the shop and spoke to many persons even on other days besides the three days mentioned above. In order to draw the attention of the people, we used to sing Christian hymns to Native tunes, and our kind-hearted Bishop has given me Rs. 15 to buy Native musical instruments. Native music seems to attract the people very much; and when anything is sung to them in our own tunes, they seem really to value it, and pay great attention. Throughout the rains we had pretty good attendances; at times the number of our hearers was nearly ninety persons, and many stood until a tract was read, or until the speaker finished his argument. But I am sorry to say that of late, since the attempted murder of our Catechist, Brother Paul Mekham, of the Hindustani Mission, our audience in street-preaching seems to be lessened. When the Christian preachers of different denominations in Bombay now preach zealously in the streets, the Hindus and Mohammedans also stand side by side and preach against Christianity and its followers. A handbill has been published in Marathi, to the effect that no one should stand and listen to Christian Missionaries.

Mr. Appaji adds, however, the following encouraging observations:—

Caste is losing its influence in this great land. During the past year I have had an opportunity of knowing that men of rank and influence (some being Hindus of high-caste) freely associate with other castes, and even with Christians; and they now treat Missionaries and Native Christians with respect. There is also a spirit of inquiry amongst the people. I have had opportunities of giving tracts and portions of Scripture to persons who really wish to know about the truth. The Holy Spirit is also at work amongst the European Christian residents of India, and preparing them to bear witness to the saving power of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Hopeful symptoms in Bombay.

Schools.

The ROBERT MONEY SCHOOL is under the charge of the Rev. H. C. Squires. It has to struggle against many drawbacks; among which may be mentioned the superabundance of cheap and fairly good English education at present provided from various sources in Bombay; and, secondly, the difficulty, almost amounting to impossibility, of obtaining an adequate supply of Native Christian Teachers. The number of pupils has diminished from 246 to 182. The decrease has arisen partly from the discontinuance of a special class for Indo-Portuguese lads, which it was impossible to arrange on a satisfactory basis; and partly from the introduction of a stricter system, in regard to discipline and to promotion from one class in the school to another. The matriculation class has, however, increased from twenty-eight to twenty-nine. After discussing a plan for the remodelling of the school on a different system, Mr. Squires adds:—

Lest there should be any risk of my being misunderstood, I would plainly state that I for one would certainly shrink from recommending that our present style of Mission school should be done away with till something better can be substituted in its place. I believe that our schools, poorly attended as they are, are doing a work which it would be a great pity altogether to interrupt. We give God praise for what, in spite of their many defects, we believe He has accomplished by means of Mission schools. We are very far from despising the opportunities they afford us of coming into contact with [certain particular] classes of the people of this land.

Mr. Weatherhead thus corrects an error in the last Annual Report:—

The school adjoining our house is still carried on. In your last Annual Report, you made it appear to be Mrs. Weatherhead's. It is not so. Mrs. Robertson has fourteen Christian girls there as boarders; and the day-school of about seventy heathen girls is the same that Miss White had, and is in this same house. All that my wife does is to teach daily for an hour or two.

JUNIR.

The work at this station is still under the charge of the Rev. C. F. Schwarz, though for several reasons it has been thought desirable he should take up his residence at Nasik. It will be seen, by the following extract from Mr. Schwarz's letters, that GOD has been graciously pleased to vouchsafe some further fruit of former labours:—

Another convert at Junir.

It is satisfactory to see that, though Junir has at present no Missionary on the spot, it has not been entirely suspended. I have left a Native Agent there, and I regard Junir rather as an out-station, which still claims and has my careful consideration. When it was decided that we should make Nasik our head-quarters, a woman, who had for a considerable time been wishing for baptism, but had deferred it in the hope that her husband would also join her, came to the decision to remain no longer unbaptized for fear that she might die in this state. The husband, an old man, belongs to the Shoe-maker caste. I had often encouraged him to let his wife remain with him after baptism, and as far as himself was concerned, he had no objection; but his caste gave him all manner of annoyances, and the poor old woman had long suffered their constant attacks. I tried my utmost again for the same purpose, but in vain. The woman was baptized just before we left for Nasik, and lives now in the family of my Native helper, whom I left at Junir. Before her baptism a considerable number of the Shoe-makers came one evening to my helper's house, and tried to take the woman away by force. In this attempt a number of Brahmins, strange to say, volunteered their assistance, and in their wrath made common cause with the Shoe-makers, whom they otherwise despise and avoid.

MALLIGÂM.

The Native flock at this place numbers seventy-five persons. Twenty-six of these are communicants, and nine are catechumens or the children of catechumens. No adults were baptized during the year. Seven Native Christians have recently left the place. The pastor is a Native Clergyman, the Rev. Shanker Nana, who, in the absence of a Native Church Council, is under the superintendence of a European Missionary, the Rev. W. A. Roberts. The report of the character and conduct of the Native Christians is not positively unfavourable. But Mr. Roberts remarks, "The great want of our Christians generally is life, as manifested by progress and energy in doing good." Mr. Roberts' own work is among the heathen. He writes as follows :—

With regard to Malligâm itself, the villages round have been visited, and the preaching in both the bazaars regularly maintained. We generally get good audiences, who listen attentively to our message, and offer but little opposition. I think we may say a greater proportion of the higher class of the natives have been seen among the listeners than were noticed last year.

There are some eight or nine small towns at comparatively easy distances from Malligâm which are centres of numerous villages. Could a Catechist be placed in each of these eight centres, and gather a small Christian community, who would be a stationary light in the midst of the surrounding darkness, we might hope that the people, by so becoming acquainted with our religion, would possibly be won by its influence. Our village work, as I need hardly say, lies in the midst of an agricultural population, ignorant of things beyond their daily occupation, with little knowledge of the true nature of sin, with little sense of responsibility, and who are slaves to the prejudices and customs of their forefathers. In the small towns, as regards intelligence, the case, as might be expected, is somewhat different. Government schools are established; and a rising generation, at present full of conceit with that little knowledge which puffeth up, are, we would fain hope, notwithstanding their pride, seeking after the truth.

Evangelistic utility of a Mission School

Our three schools have been cheering portions of our work, and it is satisfactory to be able to report punctuality and diligence as well on the part of Brahmin teachers as on that of the Christian. I have endeavoured regularly, during the rainy season, one evening in the week to make our Malligâm schools an instrument to come in personal contact with the parents. Taking a few boys, I have gone with them to their homes, and have found this plan both interesting and profitable. I regard this as one of the uses of our Mission schools.

NASIK and SHARANPUR.

Sharanpur, it will be remembered, is a Christian village about a mile out of Nasik. The Rev. R. A. Squires has drawn up a printed Report of the Society's operations at this station, from which the following information is gathered

The Native Church numbers 465 persons, including, however, in this number, eighty-seven children in the orphanage and boarding-school, and forty-two inmates of the Liberated African Asylum. There are 140 communicants. The conduct of the Native Christians is, on the whole, satisfactory. "Only a few, however," writes Mr. Squires, "seem really anxious to rise to a high standard in the Christian life." Mr. Squires adds :—

It has been customary to have a social gathering of Native Christians in November to commemorate the founding of this little settlement. Last year the commemoration was held on a larger scale than usual. Native Christians of different denominations came from all parts of the Marathi-speaking country, and remained here a week. Papers were read, and addresses delivered every morning on various subjects of interest affecting the Native Church. In the afternoon, the company usually split up into bands to go and preach in Nasik.

In December, Mr. Price started a Native Church Committee as a preliminary step towards what may hereafter possibly become a Native Church Council. The duties of this Committee (as at present established) are chiefly two-fold—(1) to consult with the Missionary on matters of importance; and (2) to determine the disposal of all funds contributed by the Native Church.

As regards the extension of the Church, Mr. Squires writes :—

Conversions near Nasik.

In last year's Report a brief account was given of the conversion of Nimbaji, a Mahar in the neighbouring village of Makhmalabad. At first he had to pass through some very severe trials. Not only was he very badly treated by his relatives generally, but even his wife deserted him. After a time she returned. Since then all the members of his family have been won over. His mother was the first to come. One after another his three brothers with their wives have also joined him. The last of them is now preparing for baptism. Anand is another convert in the same village, who has given very unmistakable signs of sincerity. He belongs to the same caste as Nimbaji, and, like him, was a leading man in it. Before becoming a Christian he had been induced by his first wife to marry a second, as all the children of the first marriage had died. Apart from the general question of polygamy, there were circumstances in his particular case which made it advisable for him to put away this second wife before receiving baptism. The resolution to do so was not come to without a struggle, for he was very much attached to her; but his duty was clear, and he willingly submitted. It is allowable to hope that these are the beginnings of a good work at Makhmalabad. They also serve as instances to show the influence exerted by a good example. For these conversions are probably due to nothing so much as to a conviction produced by seeing the holy and blameless life of our simple-minded evangelist, Púnjaji, who lives in Makhmalabad, being himself a native of the village, and once the chief man in his caste. There are now some twenty Christians there. The village is five or six miles from here, which is rather far for them to come on a Sunday. In the rains, when the river is full, they cannot come at all, except by going a very long way round. The Native Church has proposed to give fifty or sixty rupees towards putting up a small building for preaching and worship, if the Society will supplement this sum by a grant of fifty or a hundred rupees.

Of the Evangelistic work, Mr. Squires writes:—

The past year has in some respects afforded special facilities for direct Evangelistic work. It has been the great year of pilgrimage. Thousands of strangers have flocked to Nasik, and the neighbouring shrine of Trimbuck, from all parts of the Bombay Presidency, and some even from the remotest quarters of India. Once every twelve years Jupiter passes through the sign of Leo. It is this circumstance which gives both the name (Sinvhasth) and the peculiar sanctity to the year now drawing to its close. However trivial and senseless the rites and ceremonies which the pilgrims have to perform may in other respects appear to us, there is one mark of wisdom about them all which commands our admiration—that is, the skilful manner in which everything is contrived so as to increase the power and wealth of a grossly ignorant and mercenary priesthood. With a view to the special feature of the year, Mr. Price prepared a little book in Marathi, entitled "Sinvhasth Máhátmya," or "The Glories of Sinvhasth." In it passages are quoted from the Hindu Shástras and translations of them given, to show the enormous absurdities which the people are required to believe. At the same time any truth that may underlie these errors is pointed out, and occasion is taken of it to direct their minds to the only means which can effectually cleanse from sin. The book has had a very large circulation; and among the many thousands who must have read it, or heard it read, it may be hoped that some at least have derived profit from it.

The Evangelists have made their usual circuits from month to month in the surrounding towns and villages. Mr. Goray, in addition to his many duties in the village, has preached almost daily in Nasik in company with one or two of his fellow-Catechists and Evangelists. Of late, there has been some show of a systematic opposition. Two or three individuals are always on the watch, and whenever any of our preachers stand up to speak, one or other of these immediately plants himself opposite, and begins to speak against them. Should our party move away to some other place, the opposite party follows. Should we split up into smaller companies, and go to different quarters of the town, they do the same. Any people who may gather round the Christian preachers are forthwith assailed with the question whether they are Christians or wish to be polluted. This taunt has usually had the desired effect of moving them to the opposite party; but it seems now to be less heeded. At first they began with reading and expounding their own scriptures. This was not found sufficiently attractive, and had soon to be abandoned. They now usually have the Bible in their hands; and by wresting and perverting its statements, try to turn the whole into ridicule. It is only right to say that several of the most influential native gentlemen of Nasik have remonstrated with their fellow-townsmen on what they are pleased to term their senseless proceedings. If there were any grounds for supposing that the conduct of these men represents the general feeling of the people, that might be a reason for our withdrawing from the field for a time, rather than give the slightest appearance of unseemly contention and wrangling. This, however, is not the case. The majority, we know, are quite willing to listen to anything we have to say.

Opposition to street-preaching at Nasik.

Nothing of special interest has occurred with respect to the schools. There is a Pantoji class of seven pupils under training, to become Vernacular school-masters; and a Normal class with six pupils, who are receiving an English education with a view of being employed either as catechists or as teachers in superior schools.

The Orphanage, properly speaking, is not an object to which the Society's funds will be devoted. But should Mr. Squires's proposal be carried out, of attaching to it a boarding-school for selected and promising children from Native Christian families, it would be quite in accordance with the Society's principles to render assistance.

The Liberated African Asylum of Nasik has become somewhat celebrated of late. At the time when Mr. Squires drew up his Report, there was every prospect of its soon coming to an end. It is probable, however, should the hopes entertained of the early and complete suppression of the East African Coast slave trade prove premature, that the Committee may be led to make an effort to secure the continuance or resuscitation of the Asylum on an improved and even enlarged basis.

AURANGABAD.

The Rev. Ruttonjee Nowrojee, a Native brother (originally a Parsee), has charge of the work connected with this station. The Native Christians number 225, of whom ninety-eight are communicants. They are found at Aurangabad, at Ambehohol, at Saigam and Badnapur. The great bulk of the Native Christians came originally from the lowest section of the population, having been village serfs, without any rights of their own; indolent in their habits, and dependent for their support, not on any fixed remuneration for work done, but on the contemptuous charity of the upper classes. Mr. Ruttonjee has made, and continues to make, several attempts to have them instructed in different branches of industry, and to stimulate them to exertion and self-reliance. Not much has yet been effected in this direction. Their knowledge of the Bible is, generally speaking, very small. A few of the adult males have learnt to read since their conversion, and the younger portion are, or have been, taught in the Mission schools. Yet the Missionary can discern signs of the power of the Word of God among them in their consistent conduct, their abandonment of drunkenness and the deleterious habit of hemp-smoking, and still more in their religious devotions. As a general rule, they are deeply impressed, he says, with the idea of prayer. To kneel down and offer up prayer is invariably their first action on awaking in the morning. Pecuniary contributions are regularly collected from them every Sunday, though at present the amount is very small. Of itinerant effort, Mr. Ruttonjee speaks as follows:—

> Our number has, I am thankful to say, been increased by the admission of three adults and nine children by baptism. An elderly woman, sister of our evangelist, Bapuji, has been baptized, with her two children. The sacrifices she has had to make are of no ordinary description. Not only has she had to give up her husband, but she is debarred from holding any intercourse with the rest of her children. She is fortunate in being allowed to retain possession of her two little children, whom her husband endeavoured, through the assistance of the Nizam's authorities, to take away; but the then acting bazaar master very wisely decreed that, on account of their tender age, they should continue to enjoy their mother's protection. I have also had the pleasure of baptizing Thiraji, brother of the late Adjutant Jamadar, with his interesting family, consisting of wife and two children. He is upwards of fifty-five years of age, and although the British Government has had his better days in their service, for which he receives a life pension, he does not, as most men do at his age, spend his time in idleness. He carries on a quiet trade, and is a fair specimen of a clean, industrious, and enlightened Christian man. Both he and his nephew, Mr. Andrew Cornelius, render me and my evangelists valuable help in preaching the Gospel during their spare hours. For this labour of love they neither expect nor receive any remuneration.

Unpaid Christian preachers at Aurangabad.

I am thankful to say that most of my people have known and felt the power of prayer. I will mention a solitary case by way of illustration. The faith of one of my Christians was greatly tried by a severe illness of his daughter, who was brought so low that, humanly speaking, no hope was left of her recovery. We prayed very earnestly, but for a while without any apparent good effect. The parents were unusually disconsolate, to our great sorrow and disappointment. Although the cold hand of death was visible, we prayed to the Lord that the life of the child, as a remarkable deliverance, might be spared, so that it might be the means of correcting the impatience and unbelief of the parents. The father, in his restless anxiety for the recovery of the child, sought the aid of an elderly Christian man. "I know of only one remedy," said he, "and I am ready to use it for your child. My remedy is prayer. Kneel by the side of the dying child, and we shall pray for its recovery through the tender mercies of Christ our great Physician." After offering prayer, the old man, with countenance full of joy and assurance, told the parents,—"I have used my remedy; be assured that our prayer is not only heard, but answered; your child is not to die; it will most surely recover." And such was the case.

Recovery of a Christian child in answer to prayer.

In making known the Gospel to the heathen, Mr. Ruttonjee is assisted by five Native Evangelists, a colporteur, and three Bible women. "The knowledge of the Gospel," he observes, "is steadily extending and influencing the minds of not a few of the heathen." Mr. Ruttonjee adds:—

> Preaching in the villages in the early mornings, and in the Cantonment Bazaar in the evenings, has been regularly and faithfully kept up by the evangelists, accompanied by the two unpaid helpers mentioned above. At first they met with bitter opposition from the camp people, especially from the Mohammedans; and at one time so threatening was the aspect of the opposition that the evangelists were greatly alarmed, and besought me to obtain the assistance of the authorities. I was reluctant to do this for more reasons than one, and told them that I felt sure that the opposition would soon die away. "At any rate," said I, "let us, first of all, implore assistance from our Heavenly Master." Prayer was no sooner offered than the answer came which far exceeded our best expectations. The bitterness of the opposition almost ceased, and in the course of a few days, those who were fierce, and talked of nothing less than bloodshed, became quiet listeners, and have ever since been remarkably friendly in their behaviour. For this, and for everything else, we praise the name of our exalted Saviour, who can subdue all things to Himself.

A remarkable answer to prayer.

On my way to, and back from, Bûldana we preached at every place we stopped at. In one place we halted for a whole day and night (it being Sunday), and had upwards of 100 people to listen to us for hours together. We made fire for them as the night was bitterly cold; but one fire was not sufficient for all. We made another—then again another—till the place, dark both in its natural and spiritual sense, seemed to be lit up with so many delightful fires, around which the poor simple people sat listening with attention and delight, to the sweet old story of redeeming love. In parting with them, and with many such villagers along our route, the reciprocal feelings were not unlike parting with those whom we had long held in warm estimation.

Itinerant preaching by a Native Missionary.

At Aurangabad itself, Mr. Ruttonjee has two schools receiving grants-in-aid from the Hydrabad Government. In these schools he uses the books of the Christian Vernacular Education Society, and also himself gives regular Bible instruction four times a week.

Towards the end of November Aurangabad was visited by the Bishop of Madras, to whose diocese it belongs. His Lordship examined the schools, and confirmed thirty-five of the Native flock. His visit was a great joy and refreshment to Mr. Ruttonjee and the Native Christians.

BÛLDÂNA.

The Rev. Lucas Maleba, a Native brother, is the Pastor of the little flock (thirty-eight souls) at this place. He is assisted by the advice of the Rev. Ruttonjee Nowrojee of Aurangabad, who pays him occasional visits. There is nothing of interest to report respecting the Native Christians, several of whom are in one way or other in the employ of the Mission. Mr. Lucas is assisted by two Evangelists, and a schoolmaster trained at Sharanpur. A second school has been opened at a place called Gûnî, by the invitation of its heathen inhabitants. Bulâna is therefore a centre of aggressive Missionary work. Several educated heathen attend Mr. Lucas's daily services, and there are three Brâhmin inquirers. One of these, a youth, attempted to leave his father's house, and to place himself under Mr. Nowrojee's care, but was detained by his friends, and treated subsequently with some severity. He still stands firm to his profession. Prayer is asked for, that the breath of God's Holy Spirit may kindle these sparks into a flame.

SINDH MISSION.

KARÂCHI.

The following very interesting extracts from Mr. Sheldon's Annual Letter need no preface or comment:—

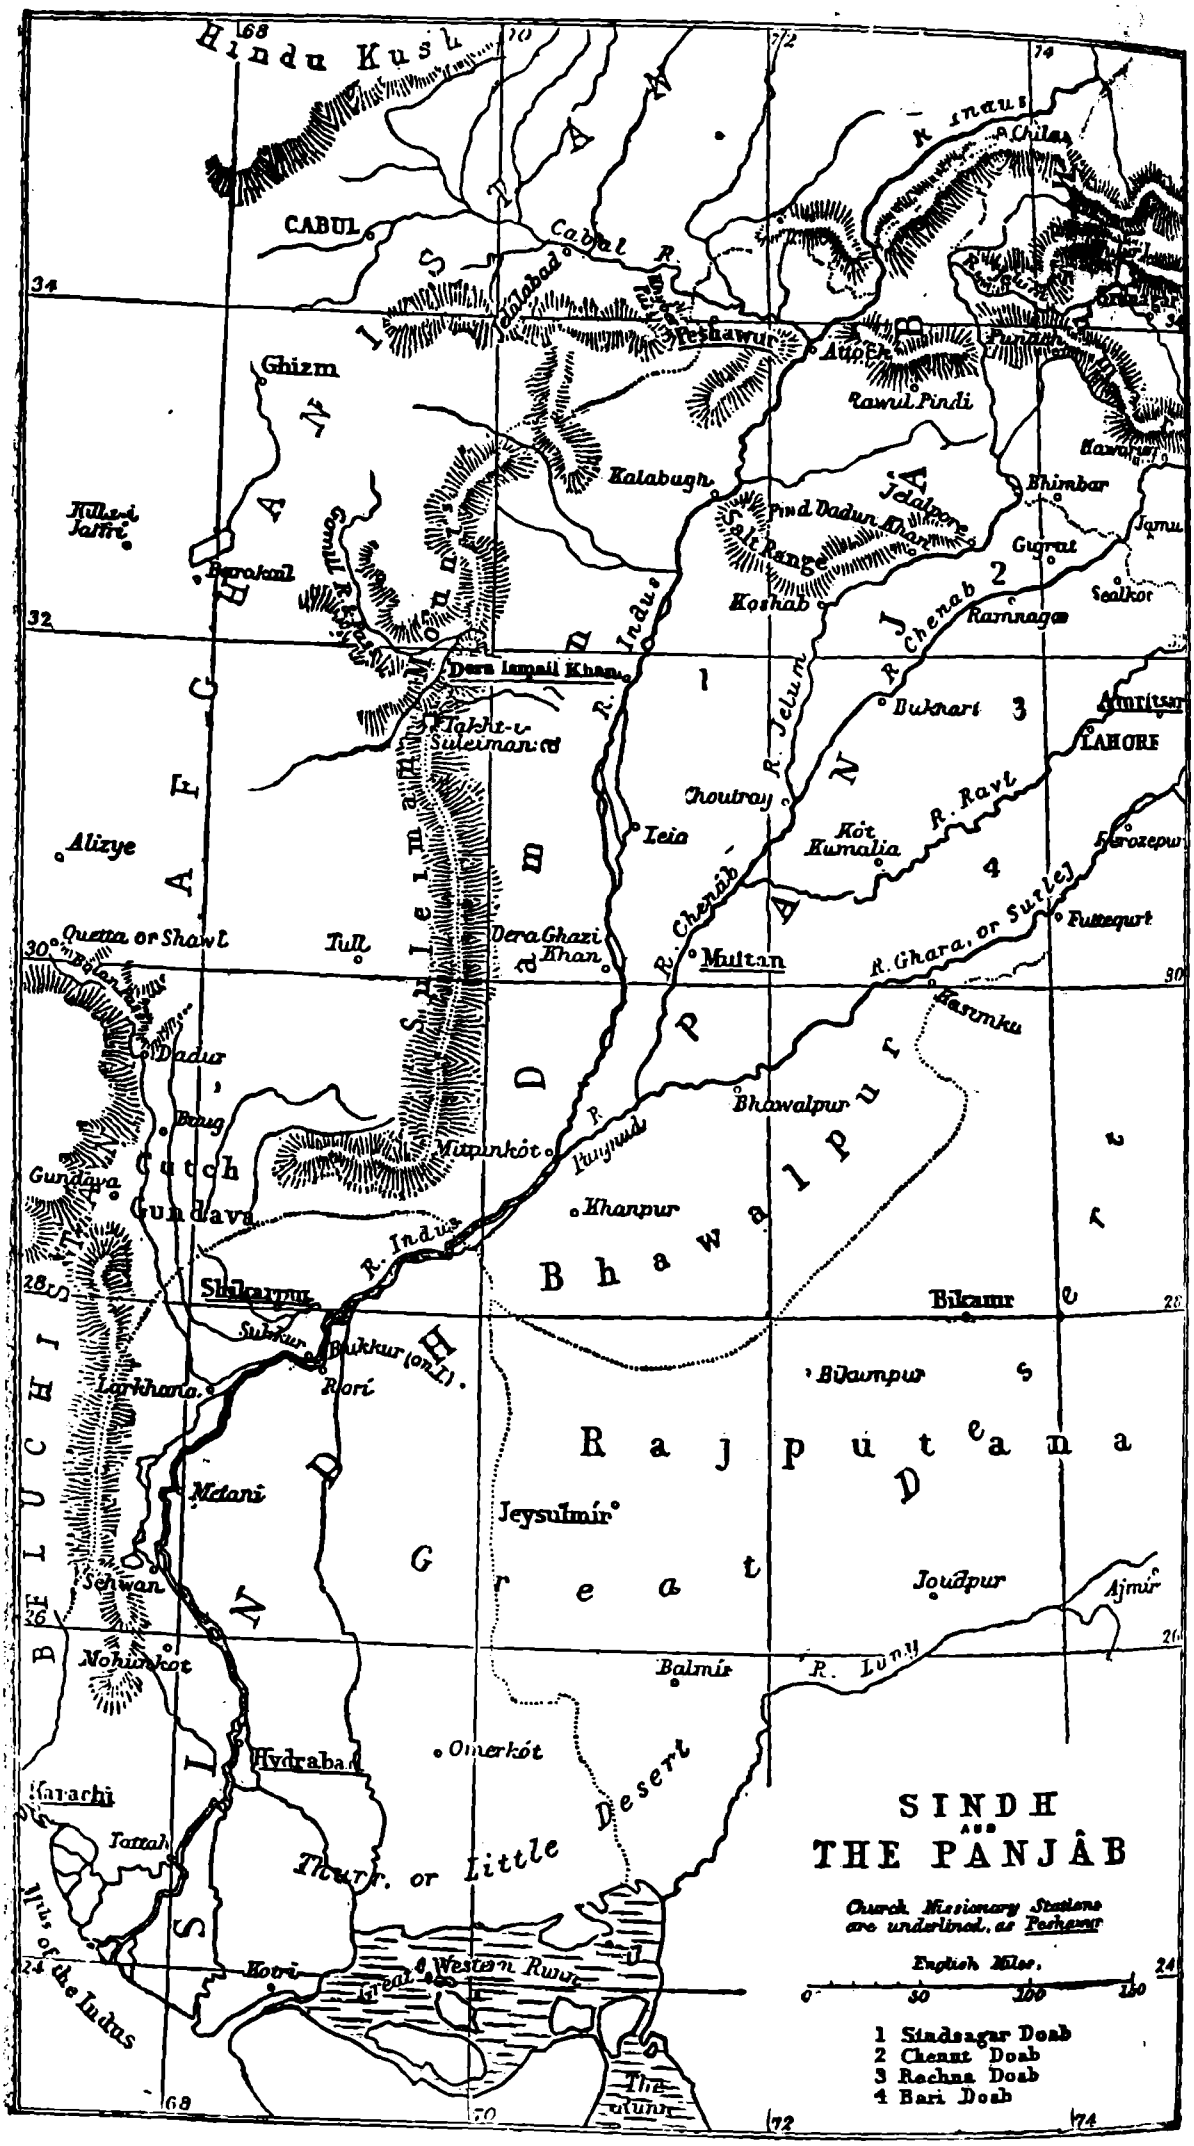

In reviewing the working of this Mission during the past year, there is much for which to be thankful. Health has been continued to us, every department has been maintained, and new ground has been broken. The arrival of the Rev. A. E. Cowley has strengthened our European staff. The Native staff (three of each sex, besides eleven non-Christian teachers) is in a fairly efficient state.

Hopeful state of the Karâchi Native Church.

The life that is shown in the Native Church, which has increased in numbers from fifty-one to sixty-five, is most hopeful. There are twenty-two communicants. The time seems to have arrived when all its members, feeling their responsibility, will endeavour, not only to preserve the purity of their own body, but also to make it aggressive. The coming year will, it is hoped, give us an active Church Committee to pave the way for a more permanent body, should God give us a Native Pastor.

Adherents and inquirers in Sindh.

The earnestness of the Native Church will greatly strengthen and stimulate our adherents and inquirers, some of whom are anxiously waiting for the hour when they may burst the bonds which still bind them to caste and family. We are greatly encouraged to hope well of not a few of these from their attendance at the means of grace and the deep interest they have shown in the concern of their souls at our Bible-classes. Many a time has my own heart been full to overflowing when seeing these young men so deeply impressed with the truths of God's Word, and returning home silent and thoughtful. Two of them have asked for baptism; and we are waiting for the way to open, when they may be publicly admitted into the Church. To this should be added the present state of feeling of old members of the class, communicated to us by letter. One of them who has long wished to be baptized—though circumstances at present seem to him to forbid it—has repeatedly, in his letters to the class, urged an open confession of Christ. Another writes, "I am paying more attention than ever to the subject of religion; and I earnestly desire and pray that God will lead me into the path of salvation." This writer further showed his interest by presenting a prize to a pupil of our Central School, who proved the best in our examination in Scripture.

Evangelistic Work (preaching in the bazaars and in the suburbs surrounding Karáchi) has been regularly carried on. During a greater part of the year two companies were out almost daily, proclaiming in all the centres of the population their message. Opposition there has been, but it has been less bitter than in past years. The reports of the preachers, given in month by month, are most assuring, and testify to the general good-will of the people. The great feature in this work, and it is most encouraging, is the presence of Native Christians with the preachers, and the fact that they are but little abused, and have wholly escaped violence. Some years ago this would hardly have been allowed. In connexion with this department, 2000 copies of tracts in the Sindhi language have been published at the expense of the local Mission, many of which have been sold or circulated. Increased willingness to listen to the Gospel.

From the commencement of the Mission to the present time, perhaps most attention has been paid to the Mohammedans. Yet they still continue as unimpressed as ever, attend least of all others at our services, and but rarely buy our books. Some of their leading families are very friendly with us personally, and will attend occasionally our gatherings, but do so more in order to show civility than to be instructed. But several of our more prominent converts have been won from this class, and two of them are now Christian teachers.—The Parsees form another class, small but influential. I cannot say, however, that their interest extends beyond our educational efforts, but it is a good sign that their former attitude of hostility has been changed for that of friendliness, and that their children are entrusted to our charge.—The Hindus, who form the largest section of the population, and include representatives of almost every part of India, and comprise the greater number of our audiences in the Bazaar, have fewer prejudices to overcome in attending our services, and gladly read our books. The effects of connexion and contact with Western civilization are visible everywhere amongst them. Dwellings are made more suitable and comfortable than before. There is a growing desire for the education of their females. There are some who read the Bible in their homes, but who are afraid to attend our Bible classes. In one or two instances I have surprised them when reading it, and have then heard from them their testimony of its value. Their greatest difficulty in following out their convictions arises from the prejudices and opposition of the female members of their families. Female education, therefore, is of the utmost importance. Amongst the Mahrattis, in particular, there has sprung up a spirit of inquiry. Two of them are now under instruction, with a view to baptism, together with their families. This is quite a new feature in our work. All that we have experienced hitherto has been the conversion of individuals, who have been compelled to leave their families.

Our Schools are—1. An Anglo-Vernacular school, with an attendance of 121, in which the pupils are instructed up to the matriculation standard. 2. A Vernacular boys' school for Guzarathis, attended by 250. 3. A Marathi girls' school, with thirty-three pupils; and, 4, a Sindhi girls' school with fourteen in attendance, giving a total of 418 scholars. The grants-in-aid from Government have amounted altogether to 1956 rupees. All these schools, as far as secular instruction is concerned, have given satisfaction. The grant-in-aid to the Anglo-Vernacular School was 286 rupees more than last year's, and one of its pupils passed the matriculation examination at the Bombay University. At the presentation of prizes by Sir W. Meredith, the Commissioner in Sindh, the attendance of visitors was large and influential, including representatives of all the leading sections of the community, bearing testimony to the estimation in which the school is held. The rule to have Scripture instruction in all the classes has been strictly adhered to. The upper boys have read Murray Mitchell's excellent book on "Christian Evidences," in which some of them passed a creditable examination. The Rev. A. E. Cowley has taken charge of this school. For the Marathi girls' school the services of a Christian mistress have been secured, who will devote part of her time to visiting native families. The daughter of one of the Catechists, with assistance from her father, manages the Sindhi girls' school. The children's home is still kept up, but, owing to failing funds, has had only six inmates. It is satisfactory to state that the boys who have passed through the home are all doing well. This good work was commenced by the late Mr. Bardsley and Mrs. Bardsley, and was very dear to their hearts. For their sake, as well as for the good the home has effected, we are desirous of continuing and enlarging it, but funds for the purpose are greatly needed.

HYDRABAD.

The Rev. A. Yarnold has been alone at this station during the year. The Committee are most anxious to strengthen the Sindh Mission, and pray earnestly that the Lord of the harvest would raise up labourers for this part of His field.

The number of Native Christians is exceedingly small, and has been recently reduced by the removal of some of them to other places. Mr. Yarnold writes respecting them :—

The Native Christian service has been on the whole well attended. We have always a sprinkling of adherents, whose attendance is to a certain extent satisfactory and encouraging; though I cannot help thinking that it is time these young men had relinquished their position as adherents, and had come out boldly to seek for admission into the Church.

In the Anglo-Vernacular School, notwithstanding the successful matriculation of two students, the numbers have declined through the opening of many private schools. The Bible Class mentioned in the following extract from Mr. Yarnold's Letter is connected with the school. It consists of non-Christian students :—

The Young Men's Bible Class has been fairly attended during the year, though the average attendance has not been quite so high as it was in 1872. The class for the study of "Paley's Evidences" was kept up during the greater part of the year, till preparation for various examinations on the part of the pupils and my own departure for the districts led to its discontinuance for a time. I hope to be able to hold a similar class during the coming year.

At the commencement of the cold season I closed the school for the vacation, and, in company with the Rev. A. E. Cowley (Kurrachee) and our Scripture Reader, I started upon a short itinerating tour in the Deputy Collectorate of Mohammed Khan Jo Tando. In the course of our tour we came across several old pupils of the Mission school. They always gave us a hearty welcome, and engaged with interest in religious conversation, and upon one or two occasions stood by us in the bazaar during our preaching.

Native Christians.

During the year 1873 the Mirzapur or Trinity Church congregation was still under the pastoral care of the Rev. J. Vaughan. But there is good reason to believe that the next Annual Report will speak of this congregation as having its Native Pastor, supported by its Native Church Fund. This fund, originally formed by contributions from the Native Christians and their European sympathizers, was judiciously invested in houses for the use of the Christians themselves. The rents thus accruing, and all further contributions from the members of the congregation and other friends, together with a sum of 1000 rupees granted from the Society's general funds, and a sum of Rs. 9000, borrowed from another Mission fund, were invested in the same way; and the net annual return is now adequate to the support of a Native Pastor.

In reference to this and other points connected with the Mirzapur congregation, Mr Vaughan writes as follows:—

The appointment of a suitable man as the first Native Pastor has been a matter of serious concern and earnest prayer. We trust God has heard and answered our prayers. A man of good education and long-tried Christian consistency, well reported of both by those that are without and those who are within, has been chosen for this important post. The Bishop has consented to ordain him, in the event of his passing his examination.—It is well known that the Church Missionary Society rather desiderates for its Native congregations a Sustentation Fund, in which several churches in a district will unite, than Endowment Funds for separate churches. If it be asked why the Mirzapur congregation adopted the latter plan of self-support, the answer is simply this, that there was not another congregation of the Society in Calcutta or its neighbourhood prepared to join it in such an amalgamated scheme as the Society preferred. The question then was, should the congregation go on alone and effect its own emancipation, or should it wait an indefinite period until other Churches would be prepared to join it? Such a question admitted of but one answer. For the congregation to have stood still when it was prepared to go on would have done harm to itself without doing good to others. Accordingly, the Church resolved to free itself first, and then to do what it could for others. It is already beginning to take up Mission work of its own.—One pleasing feature in connexion with the Native Christians has been an increased attendance at the Holy Communion during the year. We are well aware that this is not of itself necessarily a sign of increasing spirituality; but we are also convinced that where there is a growing spirituality this will be one of the attendant tokens, and we humbly trust it is in this case such a token. There are now upwards of 120 communicants.—In another respect the blessing of God year by year rests on this congregation. No year passes in which its numbers are not augmented by a body of hopeful converts. For the previous year we could tell of twenty who had thus been added to the Church. We have to record the same number for the past year.

A vigorous and self-supporting Native congregation.

At the beginning of the year the catechists, teachers, and readers in connexion with the Mission established an association among themselves for the purpose of prayer and consultation in reference to Mission work. As time advanced, their sympathies appeared to expand; they began to pray for the progress of Christ's kingdom, not here only, but throughout the whole land. In doing so, they naturally were led to think more of their Christian brethren scattered about this vast country. Then the thought occurred to seek their help in the work of prayer and sanctified deliberation. A circular was drawn up and sent to all the leading Mission stations in India, Burmah, and Ceylon, begging the brethren to set apart a fixed day for united prayer and consultation, and asking them to send the result of their deliberations, with a view to the publication of the whole. Fifty-five replies were received, representing 250 congregations. The character of the suggestions offered in them revealed a sound and healthy and Scriptural view of the matters discussed.

Nothing of special interest has occurred in connexion with the AGARPARA congregation. Its number has increased from 148 to 164 by immigration from other places. About fifty of these are communicants.

Of the KIDDERPUR or St. Barnabas' Church congregation, the Rev. M. S. Seal, a Native brother, reports as follows:—

Our Heavenly Father has dealt mercifully with us, led us by still waters, and done us good, whereof our hearts are glad. The few unmistakable followers of the Saviour have grown in grace and obtained numerical strength; and an increased willingness to glorify Him who died for them has marked their course. Some of them rendered me aid in the past year also without remuneration in my itinerations, and by two preaching tours undertaken during their holidays at their own expense. But I have to lament over the indifference and want of spirituality in a greater part of my charge. We have had a case of Church discipline, and have been obliged to excommunicate three members of a family; but they were of that class who, like the barren fig-tree, are only cumberers of the ground, and need to be removed. The congregation numbers 34 males, 46 females, and 57 children—in all, 137 souls. The amount contributed during the year is Rs. 213-10—viz., Rs. 117-10 to the Church Fund, and offertories Rs. 96.

A remarkable baptism.

Nine adults have been baptized in the two churches under my pastoral care. One of these was received into the Church of Christ, at his own request, in the open air in front of the Mission-tent in December last, in the presence of 300 Hindus and Mohammedans of both sexes. The utmost decorum was observed by the non-Christian witnesses throughout the whole ceremony, and during the addresses given to the candidate and to themselves. The newly baptized brother is a Hindu of Ruspánji, formerly a Mission station in connexion with Thakurpukur, and has considerable influence in his village. He is an intelligent man, of about twenty-eight years of age, and his character is unimpeachable. He heard the Gospel, and became anxious to know more of it. He read, he inquired, and he felt the force of truth acting powerfully on his mind. For the last six months he regularly attended Divine service in Christ Church, Thakurpukur, and received instruction. About three months before his baptism he made a public avowal of his faith in Christ, and communicated to his relatives his intention of receiving baptism in a short time. They affectionately and in tears dissuaded him from his purpose; but, having failed in their remonstrances, they adopted a different course. His father-in-law took away his wife, his own mother forsook him, his brother in a rage threatened to deprive him of his house, lands, and his rice crop, and the villagers persecuted him; but he had grace and strength given him to remain firm in all his trials. After baptism he returned home to his village, and is now living in his own house as an outcast, but without any molestation whatever. His brother is reconciled, his wife is promised back; but his aged parent is too superstitious to be persuaded to go back to her son. This public baptism made a favourable impression on the minds of the people, and served to remove the long-standing prejudice of the ignorant mass of villagers, that proselytes to Christianity were made by making them swallow either a little blood, or a piece of beef or pork. It also excited a spirit of inquiry in those parts, for we disposed of a larger number of portions of Scripture at the bi-weekly market the next day than we ever did before.—A pleasing incident came to my notice that very day. An elderly fisherwoman, observing a youth about to purchase a copy of the Proverbs, earnestly begged him not to touch the book, and advanced as a reason that the perusal of it was sure to bring him to that fate which a man unfortunately was brought to the day before. "Mother," said the colporteur, "don't be fighting against God; it is His book, and given to men to make them wise unto salvation. Allow me to read a little out of it, to enable you to judge for yourself." No sooner did she hear a part read out, than she eagerly snatched it out of his hand and said, "Enough, enough, child; here is the price for it; let me have the book for my son, for it will do him good."

A heathen woman struck with the excellency of God's Word.

Mr. Seal also has charge of Christ Church, Thakurpukur. He writes:—

In connexion with this church there are 228 Christians, of whom 96 are men, 33 women, and 99 children. Their contributions during the year amounted to Rs. 51-14-3. The congregation has in it some bad characters; but when I remember the pit out of which it was digged, I have ample reason for thankfulness to God that He has caused the Word of His grace to sink deep into the hearts of a few. About eight months ago a small band of faithful men formed themselves into a meeting, called the "Blessing-Seeking Conference." They meet together every Saturday evening to deliberate on plans for improving the moral and religious condition of their community, and to pray for a Divine blessing on their undertaking.

The "Blessing-Seeking" Conference.

A monthly social gathering among Native Christians.

A monthly social gathering has been started during the year, to which the whole congregation is invited. At this conference the high and the low, the rich and the poor, promiscuously sit together and hold friendly intercourse. It affords real pleasure to one to see here a well-informed man conversing with one or two poor day labourers as brethren, and labouring to remove their prejudices in certain Church matters; another there pointing out the necessity of leading a Christian life; a third talking on the plan and proceedings of the Home Societies with regard to Native congregations and their pastors; a fourth exposing the evil of intoxication to a man of irregular habits; a fifth explaining to some intelligent farmers the centripetal and the centrifugal forces by which the great ball on which we live is suspended in the air, and the causes of the eclipses and the tides; a sixth busily engaged in relating the proceedings of a law-suit in which both the plaintiff and the defendant have been reduced from affluence to poverty, and thereby impressing on the few who sat close to him the moral lesson of avoiding litigation; while a seventh is gathering information of the difficulties of a peasant's life, and dropping now and again a word of advice suited to his circumstances. Thus, after profitably spending a couple of hours or so towards the object of edifying and elevating the people, all retire into the church, where prayers are offered to Almighty God, and one or two suitable addresses given. Then they go back to the school-house and sit to a homely meal, placed before each on a plantain leaf. The repast being over, they return to their respective homes.

Of Kistopur and Terulia, two rural villages in the neighbourhood of Calcutta, the Calcutta Association Report speaks as follows:—

This Mission is under the pastoral charge of the Rev. R. K. Bose. It has not for long years back had many tokens of good attending it. We trust, however, certain hopeful indications may now be traced. The neat little Gothic church, which now stands on a small hill between the two villages, is an evidence of affectionate regard to that devoted Missionary (the Rev. T. Sandys), who so long and so faithfully laboured amongst the people. The devastation of the cyclone of 1864 led to the formation of two separate congregations and two schools. This circumstance unhappily resulted in petty jealousies and a party spirit. In the new church, built to the memory of one who was all peace and love, the two sections are brought together again, and thus, we trust, the spirit of brotherly love and charity will again prevail. In the last week of the old year an adult convert Evangelistic Operations.

Open-air preaching is regularly maintained. On two evenings in the week the Gospel is proclaimed in the preaching chapel adjoining the Mission compound. Very often a goodly number of respectable persons attend that service, though they would hesitate to stand and listen in the public street. "The preachers, every now and then," says the local report, "sally forth for a raid on the neighbouring towns and villages." The last Durga Pûja (a Native holiday season) was spent in a trip of this kind. The Catechists were accompanied by the head-master of a Mission school, "who seems to think work for Christ the best kind of rest during the vacation." An account was given of this excursion in the Bengal Christian Herald, from which the following extracts are selected:—

Preaching tour by Native Christians near Calcutta.

Our friends had rather a trying work among a certain class of hearers. It was, for the most part, composed of lawless youths, who, with a smattering of the third-rate literature of the West, and sometimes even of Scriptural facts and doctrines, have learnt only to breathe defiance to God and godliness. With a fatal complacency would these desperate victims of blank infidelity spout forth in the hearing of the horrified preacher the rankest of blasphemies, and there is no tying up their flippant, voluble tongues. The preachers also came in contact with certain Darsana Pandits, brimful of overweening vanity, who would fain hold you and your message in such contempt as to decline you even a moment's hearing. It is quite a scene to see them turn up the nose at every word you utter, and look round with a complacent smile on the obsequious disciples in attendance. It was a refreshing variety, however, for our friends to address assemblies composed, for the most part, of simple, modest, devout, orthodox Hindus, who would listen to the preached Word with becoming seriousness and interest, and even invite the preacher to repeat the message at his earliest convenience. To our view, these religious Hindus constitute by far the most hopeful class of hearers; and the fact of their being "in all things too superstitious" should be duly appreciated. In presenting to them the facts and doctrines of the Bible, our friends drew their attention to the testimonies afforded by their own sacred writings to the fundamental creed of Christianity, and argued that there were features in those writings which suggested certain longings and aspirations that found their fulfilment only in the religion of Jesus.

Another branch of Evangelistic effort is domiciliary visitation. The Calcutta Report speaks of it as follows: (the Secretary of the Association—Mr. Vaughan—is, in fact, describing his own experience) :—

The highly-educated and the well-to-do can only be reached in this way. It is beneath their dignity to stand in the public streets to listen to the wayside preacher. The preacher must go to them, and if he goes to their homes he will find them (with scarcely an exception) ready to welcome him and attend to anything he has got to communicate. We have carried on this kind of work for several years back, and we are as fully convinced of its importance as ever we were. One great advantage of this kind of effort is the insight which the visitor necessarily gets into the modes of thought and feeling prevailing among the classes visited. As a rule, the street-preacher learns little of what his audience thinks; for, except a few bold, and perhaps officious, hearers, all the rest quietly hearken to his message without remark. On the other hand, when the Missionary finds himself seated in the verandah with several Native gentlemen, he must more or less get at their minds as they get at his. In some cases he will be astonished at the amount of ignorance displayed by educated men as to the first principles of Christianity; in other cases he will be equally surprised at the amount of information which they have obtained on the subject. In any case, he enjoys rare opportunities for doing good to his fellows and glorifying his Lord and Master. Not unfrequently these conversational seasons have developed into actual preaching occasions, properly so called. The little knot of Babus have gone on increasing until, by a sort of natural transition, we have wound up the desultory talk with a pointed address to the hearts of all present. We do not remember, during the past year, a single instance in which we encountered anything like rudeness or incivility during those visits. On the contrary, we have, as a rule, met with the utmost cordiality, kindness, and candour; and, though we may not be able to tell of any striking results attending this work, we are quite sure it has not been in vain in the Lord.

Visits to Native gentlemen.

The work among the Coles has been carried on as usual. Some interesting features of it are thus referred to in the Calcutta Report:—

Three years ago the Cole catechists brought to light a colony of their countrymen in the neighbourhood of Barrackpore, of whose existence nobody seemed to be aware. Their history is this:—

More than fifty years ago an indigo-planter brought over a number of Coles to work in his factory. After a while, the planter died and the concern was broken up. In the meantime, the Coles had established themselves in a little hamlet of their own, and they preferred remaining where they were to returning to their own country. The population has gone on increasing, and at the present time there is a flourishing village of about 300 inhabitants. Ever since their discovery by the Cole catechists, these latter have kept up a kind of desultory visitation of the settlement. Some months ago, the people remarked that they would be much better pleased if one of their Christian brethren were to go and live in their midst. The hint was taken. A little house was set up on the spot, and already one of the Cole catechists has taken up his abode in the village. The children were altogether untaught, so that he has become a schoolmaster as well as a preacher; and he has very wisely begun on a sound principle—the people are to hear the Gospel freely until they embrace it, but they are to pay for the education of their children. To this arrangement the Coles have readily accorded their assent.

Missionary effort of a Native congregation.

Not the least pleasing feature in this case is the fact that the Native Church Committee of the Mirzapur congregation have engaged to adopt this new Mission station as their own, and so relieve the Society of any additional charge on this head. This is just as it ought to be. This congregation has achieved its own independence, so far as the means of self-support go, and now it goes a step forward and helps the Society in its endeavours to extend the kingdom of Christ among the heathen around.

The same Report gives the following description of efforts among the Mohammedans :—

Efforts among the Mohammedans.

As a matter of fact, this class of the population has been all but neglected by us hitherto. No one needs to be told that the arguments which are very fit and proper for a worshipper of Śiva and Kali have no bearing whatever upon the Mussulman hearer; nay, you will not unfrequently see the bearded Mohammedan nod his head with delighted approval as the Missionary attacks Hindu errors. Yet so far as our experience has gone, it is anything but congruous and convenient to stop in the midst of an address to Hindus to point a special arrow at the few Mohammedans who may be standing in the crowd. Far better, as we have always thought, would it be to have a special agency to deal with them apart. Happily we have been enabled to form such an agency. Last year, on the suggestion and with the aid of an excellent Christian lady, we appointed a preacher, a Mohammedan convert, to visit the boatmen along the banks of the river. These are almost entirely Mohammedans. We have just lately set apart another Mohammedan convert to accompany him in those visits.

Thus the mornings of each day are spent in teaching the boatmen, whilst in the afternoon the two brethren visit the houses of Mussulmans or preach in those districts where they abound. We trust a gracious blessing will rest upon this much-needed but long-delayed effort.

The reading of Scriptures to domestic servants has been steadily carried on. One conversion has resulted from this agency during the year. A young Uriya bearer heard the Word with meekness and faith, and was admitted into the fold of Christ.

The Native wards of two of the Calcutta hospitals, and the Lepers' Asylum, have been regularly visited during the year. One pleasing incident in the Medical College Hospital is thus described :—

Conversion of a dying Hindu in a hospital.

One of our [lay] preachers had been seized with illness and was himself a patient for a time in the hospital. On a bed adjoining his lay a suffering Hindu. The Christian brother did not fail to speak to him of the true Physician and the balm of Gilead. Gradually the truth found its way to the heart of the poor man. He rejoiced in Christ as his only hope, and looked forward to being formally numbered amongst His people. For a time there seemed every hope of his recovery; but his disease took a sudden and fatal turn. One night he hurriedly called his Christian friend to his side; he said he knew his end was come, and that there was only one thing he cared about, and that was baptism. He wished to die a baptized believer. He called upon his friend quickly to administer the rite. The shades of death were gathering fast over the sick man's brow; there was no time to call the Missionary, and so the catechist took water, looked to heaven, and poured it on the dying man in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Who shall say it was not a true baptism, and one registered in heaven, though not in our Church books?

A Native brother, the head master of one of the Society's English Schools, voluntarily spends much of his time in open-air preaching to adult brethren. The plan which he adopts is the following :—

Preaching on a tricycle.

He starts on his tricycle about four or five in the morning, and goes a great distance towards either end of the Barrackpore road. On his way he invariably finds groups of men and women, either as travellers from great distances, or as vendors of vegetables going to the different markets. When they are proceeding in the same direction with him, he joins them and enters into religious conversations, and points out to them Jesus Christ as the only Saviour of sinners. Should he meet such groups going in the opposite direction, he turns and accompanies them, speaking all the while about the salvation of their souls. Very frequently the travelling groups rest themselves for a while on the road side. He also stops and preaches; presently other groups come up, one after another, and form a large body of hearers of the Gospel. Thus distant people from cities and villages hear of Christ and his salvation.

Education.

At the CATHEDRAL MISSION COLLEGE the Missionaries engaged throughout the year were the Rev. S. Dyson, the Rev. Dr. Bauman, and the Rev. S. T. Leupolt.

It was mentioned in the Report for 1872-73, that a revised scheme of optional courses for the B.A. degree had been introduced, to come into force in 1873, by which the History of the Jews, including the Life of our Lord Jesus Christ, might be taken up as a subject for the B.A. degree.

Mr. Dyson thus speaks of the effects of this and other new plans:—

> The new scheme of optional courses for the B.A. degree came into operation this year. It is premature as yet to decide upon the success of the scheme, especially in its bearing upon high Mission education. The experience we have, as far as it goes, is not encouraging; but the discouraging result, it must be said, is very far from being attributable altogether to any defects in the scheme itself. I had taken for granted that the official recognition of our religious teaching in the University examinations for degrees, for which we had been so vigorously agitating, and which we, looking at the matter from a Missionary point of view, had hailed as a great improvement, would have been at once taken advantage of and applied to practice by all the Missionary colleges in Calcutta. This has not been the case. Meanwhile the Government special patronage and encouragement of the Physical Science course, which, however desirable in itself, would entail an expenditure beyond the resources of Mission colleges, has not tended to make the History and Moral Philosophy courses (which come more within our scope) more popular with students. The consequence has been, as regards this college, that the admissions to the new B.A. class were very few at the beginning, and during the session the class has dwindled down to two students. I have no certain knowledge, but I have reason to think that not more than a dozen candidates from Bengal will take up the History of the Jews for their B.A. examination in January, 1875. The scheme of optional courses has not, as yet, had a fair trial in any one branch, and I doubt not that in a year or so the favourable features in the plan will make themselves apparent.

The following extracts from Mr. Dyson's letter to the Committee deserve careful attention, and will, doubtless, call forth much prayer—that Mr. Dyson and his associates and the Committee may be rightly guided in their plans for reaching the particular classes for whose benefit the College was established; that the suitable instrumentality may be supplied; and, above all, that the quickening power of the HOLY GHOST may accompany the efforts put forth:—

It does not seem to me necessary to state at any length the reasons which, to my mind, and to Dr. Bauman's equally clearly, justify the maintenance of this college. This is heavy, monotonous work, no doubt, and with a heavy drag of secular, heavy, monotonous work attached to it. There is very little excitement, very little freedom, very little rest and health, such as are to be found in itinerant preaching. But Dr. Bauman and I both feel, and increasingly, that itinerant preaching never would secure that conveyance of Scriptural truth which we do; and would never reach the class at all that we get hold of. Yet we wish itinerant preaching to be vigorously pursued, and every other method also vigorously pursued. Any method of reaching the upper classes—for instance, domiciliary visitation—depends largely on the vigorous maintenance of this high Mission education. Our religious teaching in the college has been going on vigorously through the year. I myself have not much to complain of as regards the want of attention which repels some of my younger brethren. Dr. Bauman strongly testifies that no Native ever brings any interest to the subject of religion, whether the subject is discussed in a college class or in a private house, or by Native visitors in the Missionary's own house. It very much depends upon the Missionary himself whether he can excite interest in spite of the antecedent unwillingness; and, speaking of our college classes, I can say that quite as much interest and attention, if not more, are awakened, as you will find in any street-preaching. But this will not come of itself. It does not previously exist. Rather, generally, aversion in greater or less degree. In our college classes Dr. Bauman's experience tallies exactly with mine. Where diligent and laborious preparation has been made beforehand for the Scripture lesson, so that it does not consist of mere general exhortation, but is a detailed and full exposition of the words of the Gospel, the students do attend and are interested—not as much as if they were Christians; not as much as if they had no prejudices; not as much as those who have only à priori notions formed in England, and have no real knowledge of the people, might antecedently anticipate; but quite as much, and much more, intelligent interest than is secured by any other method. And this laying bare of the rich meaning and implications of Christ's words (in the parables, for instance) is itself a cogent, spiritual evidence of the truth of our religion; and Missionary teaching in college classes.

I cannot, so long as I believe as I do in the power of Christ's truth and the demonstration of the Spirit, think that these efforts are just wasted.

The English School has again had to struggle with various difficulties. One of these is "the multitude of non-Christian schools springing up like mushrooms on every side." "In this school," adds the Calcutta Association Report, "all the Christian boys of our Mission are taught; and we are thankful to have the opportunity of letting a goodly number of Hindu and Mussulman boys share in the privilege."

Other educational efforts are thus described in the Calcutta Report:—

A Hindu girls' school in Calcutta.

The school for Hindu girls of good caste has flourished amazingly during the year. Its efficiency has been well maintained, and the numbers have risen to nearly double the standard of last year. The attendance roll shows nearly a hundred names, and of late there has been a daily attendance of from eighty to ninety children. It is most pleasing to note the brightness and quick intelligence which the majority of those little Hindu maidens display. They readily learn anything they are put to. In reading, writing, arithmetic, and fancy work they acquit themselves with great credit; but what is of more value than all that, is the fact of their being "well up" in the facts and doctrines of our holy religion. No one could have listened to their answers to Scripture questions at their last examination without being cheered and encouraged.

The infant school of Christian children contains nearly thirty little children ranging from three years to eight. They have been well taught and cared for, and no small privilege is it for the parents of those children to have them so well grounded in the rudiments of knowledge, secular and sacred, at so early an age. The future well-being of the Native Church depends in no small degree on the early training of the children.

At the Agarpara English School, two young men offered themselves for baptism; but as soon as their intentions were made known to their friends, they were removed to some other place. Two Christian youths from the same school have joined the Cathedral Mission College, and are candidates for the B.A. degree, and the F.A. (First Arts) examination, respectively. In the various Agarpara schools, 700 pupils are under Christian instruction.

General state of feeling among the Heathen in Calcutta.

During the last few years outward regard to the national idolatry has rather grown than decreased in Calcutta. Hinduism seemed seriously shaken some years ago by the progress of English education. This led to strenuous reactionary efforts, among which may be mentioned the formation of a society for the express purpose of upholding the Hindu religion. The consequence is that men of education and intelligence no longer blush to take part openly in idolatrous ceremonies. Brahmoism, that new form of Indian deism, of which Keshab Chander Sen is one of the leaders, does not seem at the present time to be in any way auxiliary to the truth. On the one hand, large numbers of those who were at one time more or less openly attached to it, may now, to quote the words of the Brahmist organ—the Mirror—"be seen stealthily retracing their steps, and ignobly vowing allegiance to ancestral divinities and ancient errors." On the other hand, the doctrines which their teachers now systematically inculcate, strike at the fundamental truths, not only of the Gospel, but even of natural religion itself. The Lord Jesus is not spoken of by them with the same reverence as formerly, and attempts are made to deny or explain away the malignity of sin.

Yet there are many thousands who have in heart broken with Hinduism. The great majority of these seem unconcerned about religion altogether. Others, again, are standing on the very threshold of the kingdom of heaven, kept back only by the fear of man. Two instances are thus described by Mr. Vaughan, in the Report so largely quoted from already:—

Halting between two opinions.

Only the other day we had a long conversation with a Native gentleman of wealth and position. His son is studying for the bar in England. The father has long been a student of the Bible. He and his wife are [intellectually at least] believers in Christ. Every day he gathers his family around him, and reads with them the Word of Life. But with him too, alas! baptism is the boundary he cannot pass. When pressed, his reply is, "Wait awhile; let my son return from England, I shall then put the truth before him, and I trust he will come to see as we see, and then we shall all together enter the Church." It is really surprising to see the amount of Scripture knowledge acquired by some of those who are thus halting between two opinions. Some time ago, as we were conversing with a number of Babus, a respectable man came up and began quoting text after text with a facility and accuracy which astounded us. We expressed our regret that he, knowing so much, had not embraced Christ. "Ah," said he, speaking of himself and others of his stamp, "the truth is, we are all Christians in heart."

KRISHNAGAR.

Connected with the Sudder, or Central, Station of Krishnagar, there are 397 Native Christians, of whom 83 are communicants. No mention is made of adult baptisms. The Rev. C. H. Blumhardt reports as follows :—

I have reason to believe that God's blessing has rested on the means of grace attended by the Native congregations here and at out-stations at Bohirgachi. That there is spiritual life among many of the members belonging to them I have not the least doubt. I receive tokens of this both by their lives and in the earnestness and gratitude which some have often shown by the offerings of thanksgiving for mercies received. Our Native Pastorate Fund has also considerably improved, and in our last half-yearly meeting in Church Councils in October last we found an increase in the collections of sixty rupees above what they were last year for the same period.

Bazaar and street preaching has also been carried on by myself and my catechist as regularly as the weather would permit. Many interesting conversations I have had with Mohammedans and Hindus. There is never much opposition; but, alas! the truth seems to enter into one ear and go out again through the other instead of touching the heart and producing conversion.

Two of Mr. Blumhardt's daughters are engaged in Zenana work in the town. Scripture teaching, both in English and Bengali, is thus carried to the women of many respectable families. No special results are recorded, but it is earnestly hoped that the message thus carried of the Saviour's love will be welcomed by some hearts.

The district of Krishnagar, as distinguished from the Sudder station, is under the care of the Rev. A. P. Neele. His Report, herewith appended with but little omission, gives an unvarnished but interesting account of the work of God in the villages and districts referred to, and of the difficulties that have to be encountered. Eleven adults have been baptized during the year. Mr. Neele writes :—

Throughout the district of Krishnagar there are seven principal churches, viz. one at the Sudder station under the charge of Mr. Blumhardt, and six in the Mofussil or rural district. It is these six churches with their outposts that form my own charge. The whole Native Christian population, exclusive of the Sudder station and its outposts, numbers 5031, namely—At Bollabpur, 1254; Ratanpur, 1099; Kapasdanga, 881; Chapra, 761; Solo, 736; Joginda, 300. Of these 245 are communicants. In the six principal stations the Native Christians are the sole inhabitants. The subsidiary outpost stations number in all thirty-seven. In many of these, only some two or three nominally Christian families are living in Hindu or Mussulman villages. In other cases their numbers are higher, and they form a little colony inhabiting a Christian quarter; while in a few instances they are in the majority, or form a goodly proportion of the inhabitants of villages.

At Kapasdanga and Ratanpur the congregations are under the immediate charge of Native deacons, viz. that of the Rev. Molam Biswas at Kapasdanga, and the Rev. Sartok Biswas at Ratanpur. At the other four stations lay catechists are appointed. At the more important outposts readers are appointed. The people at these places assemble for worship, sometimes in the house of one of the people, sometimes in small and very simple buildings erected for the purpose, with mud walls and thatched roofs. A school for Christian children exists in each of the large stations. Boys and girls are instructed together, and the children of Hindus and Mohammedans are also admitted. The instruction is not carried on to a high standard. The boys get out in the fields as soon as they can; and as to the girls, the mothers like to get them equally soon to help in household work. Two great objects in view are that the children should be able to read and know their Bible, and that the boys should learn enough of account-keeping to preserve them from the frauds of money-lenders and land managers, which are the cause of half the miseries that the people suffer. For those boys who show an aptitude for learning, a higher education is available in connexion with the training school in Krishnagar, and there are similar means for girls elsewhere if needful. In most of the smaller outpost stations also, there are schools supported by the Society. In many of these, however, the principal attendants are Mussulman or Hindu children, the Christians forming a small minority. Besides the schools attended wholly or in part by Christian children there are several planted in heathen villages in which daily Scriptural instruction is given under Christian teachers. We hope that these teachers, besides teaching their classes, use all opportunities for good among the adult population; and the schools are an important aid to the work of the evangelists. All the catechists fill the latter office by preaching in the places neighbouring on their stations. A considerable extension of vernacular school work has taken place in the district within the last few months by means of the special fund contributed from the congregation of St. Peter's Church, Eaton Square, London. Eight new schools have been opened in the north of the district. In each of these an efficient teacher has been appointed, assisted by a local village schoolmaster. Daily Scriptural instruction is given in them all.

In so large a community, cases of serious misbehaviour must almost inevitably occur, but the conduct of the Native Christian community as a whole is exemplary. The attendance on the means of grace is much lower than it ought to be, and the number of communicants is very small. There are amongst the people some who are, I believe, "the salt of the earth," and who have experienced real conversion, but the signs of spiritual life are far less widely manifested than we could desire. Amongst the matters of an encouraging nature there may be named a considerable increase in the amount of subscriptions brought in at the last meeting of the Church Council for the Native Pastorate Fund. The increase of a spirit of prayer is likewise to be recorded. On four occasions lately, united prayer-meetings have been held of people from all the congregations. The number assembled amounted to 400 or 500 people. The idea was conceived, and all the arrangements carried out, entirely by the people themselves. On two of the occasions I was present myself and presided for about a couple of hours, but the Native brethren continued their devotions until an advanced hour in the night, and some remained on in alternate prayer and singing until the dawn. Present state of Krishnagar Native Christians.

The Rev. F. Gmelin devotes himself, as before, to Educational work, having under his charge twenty-one teachers and 587 pupils, of whom 41 are girls. His principal employment, however, is in connexion with the Training Institution, the importance of which can scarcely be exaggerated. The course of study embraces Holy Scripture, the Church Catechism, and the Articles of Religion, I. to XVIII.; English and Bengali literature; arithmetic, with the elements of geometry and algebra; geography; and history. The students are also practised in gymnastics and gardening. There are but twelve at present under training, and Mr. Gmelin would fain see in these clearer proofs that they had given their hearts to the Saviour. One or two of the number are, however, a source of joy to him in this respect.—The English School at Nuddea (Navadripa) was closed, partly from the low state of the Society's funds, and partly owing to the determined opposition of a former Hindu master, whom it had become necessary to dismiss.

BURDWAN.

The Rev. E. K. Blumhardt, B.A., son of Mr. Blumhardt, of Krishnagar, has been lately put in charge of this Mission. The heavy trials which, in the mysterious providence of God, this Mission has been called to pass through, and its apparently prostrate condition in consequence, are strikingly and painfully shown in Mr. Blumhardt's Report. It will be remembered that a terrible fever has raged for several years in this district, not carrying off its victims suddenly, but producing extreme and protracted debility, under which thousands have succumbed. Mr. Blumhardt writes:—

Sad effects of epidemic fever at Burdwan.

On Mr. Neele's removal to the Krishnagar district, I was put in charge of Burdwan—that is to say, I visit the station every Sunday, and at times during the week also, taking this in addition to my work in Calcutta and at Thakurpukur. And what shall I say of the work there? I did not of course know Burdwan when the number of Native Christians was large, and the Mission in a flourishing condition—and it is perhaps as well that no old associations can attach themselves to me in the work—but I may be permitted to give my first impressions of the Mission in its present state. That which struck me most was the look of extreme despondency that might be seen in almost every face, and the ruin and desolation that forced itself upon one everywhere. There were only about twelve men left amongst the Native Christians; and the greater number of these were Mission agents, who did their work indeed, but with little energy. But as they often say, during the last five years, their principal food has been little else but quinine, fever mixture, and medicines of various kinds. I know that it is not pleasant to listen to such reports of Mission work; but we need the prayers of friends as well as their praises; and here truly is a Mission for which we may entreat the earnest prayers of all the Lord's people; and it is only right that they should know the state of the place. "Poor Burdwan!" has become quite a stereotyped phrase now, no one mentioning the place without the addition of the adjective. For the last four or five months the story has been ever the same each time I visit the station—half the small congregation down with fever—well one day, unable to rise the next. I trust that my visits have some effect in comforting the people. I take, of course, the services, two in Bengali and one in English, preaching at the morning Bengali service, the catechists in turn doing the same in the afternoon. Thank God, though the lamp of His Word burns dimly at Burdwan, there is still some witness for Him. The catechists visit the dispensaries and preach in the bazaar; the colporteurs labour as zealously as they can; the school inspectors go their rounds, visiting the village schools—now, alas! far more than decimated by the fever—and last, but not by any means least, two Bible-women go amongst the heathen women (principally of the lower classes), and with the Bible in their hands tell the story of the Saviour's love. Ah! those Bible-women have often strengthened and refreshed my heart, coming every Sunday as they do to give an account of their week's labours. Their simple, child-like faith is very encouraging, and their work for the Lord, carried on, often at a time of great bodily weakness, in the midst of so many hindrances, would be a lesson to many a worker in more favoured portions of the Lord's vineyard.

There is no Mission school at all now, the English school having been given up early in the year. We do, however, still keep up a small Hindu girls' school in the town, though not from the Society's funds.

The Rev. A. L. Stern (having his head-quarters at Calcutta) has superintended work of a more aggressive and evangelistic character at some out-stations connected with the Krishnagar and Burdwan districts. These out-stations are five in number. Mr. Stern writes :—

At each of these five places we have two agents, catechists and readers, whose work is to preach the Gospel at their respective stations in the neighbouring villages, and from time to time to make longer tours to more distant places. Some of these out-stations have now in this way been occupied for more than ten years, and every morning and evening our agents have been engaged in preaching the Word of God, as far as they were capable of doing so, but real conversions have not yet taken place at any of these places. The chief results of their preaching, which our men are able to point out after many years of labour, are these:—that the people who at first, on their residing amongst them, showed so much hostility now have become friendly to them, and that some of them show much interest in the truth. To me our preachers have been very useful as guides in my visiting the people. They were able to take me to several houses where attention was paid to the message which I had to bring. In Pubna the wives of our agents are also exercising some influence among Native women, some Babus having made an engagement with them to give regular instruction to their wives. A few young men at Pubna have, during the past year, expressed a desire to become Christians. A youth, pupil of the English school, became deeply impressed with our preaching in the bazaar, and wanted to join us; but he was carried away by his father to his distant home, and has since been unable to continue his studies at Pubna. Another young man, a Mohammedan, had confessed Christ openly, and had defended the truth against the attacks of his schoolfellows. He was anxious to be baptized, but when his intentions became known, a Mohammedan Deputy Magistrate did all he could to pervert his mind, and he succeeded in his endeavours—at least for the present. At the station which we recently occupied, Shanamuhki, I became acquainted with a shopkeeper in whose heart a work of grace seemed to have begun. He daily came to our preachers and joined them in their worship. At last, when the people thought that he was going to be baptized, the most influential men of the town assembled, and decreed that they would impose a heavy fine upon the shopkeeper if he joined us, and they would make it impossible for him to exist amongst them any longer. By this our inquirer was intimidated, and though he discontinued to visit us openly, he would come sometimes by night.

Mr. Stern has also delivered public lectures in English and Bengali, for the benefit of the more educated Natives in Jamalpur and other places. Brahmoistic tenets prevail extensively among the educated classes in these localities, though few comparatively have formally enrolled themselves as members of the Brahmo Somaj. Mr. Stern's addresses have been listened to with courtesy and attention.

BHAGALPUR.

This is one of those stations for which intercessory prayer is earnestly requested by the faithful labourer, who is sorely tried and sometimes grieved at heart by the apparent absence of spiritual fruit. Mr. Drœse writes:—

> The Native Christian congregations at Bhagalpur number 325 souls—that is, 290 for Bhagalpur, and 35 for Jamalpur. The Missionary looks upon these little flocks as being yet very far from what Native Christian Churches in a heathen land ought to be. As regards outward conduct, most of them give no offence; but they are sadly lacking as regards zeal for the further spread of the faith they profess. If they were more fully animated by the divine life which Christ imparts to all who believe in Him, they would, heart and soul, pray and labour in order to bring others also to the feet of Jesus. This, together with the sad fact that there are some of our people who by no means lead consistent Christian lives, and outwardly show no better than their Mohammedan heathen countrymen, presents so dark a picture to the Missionary's view, that the few true children of light among his people almost fail to relieve the dreary death-like scene.
> Oh, for life and light coming down upon our people, and rendering all of them what they ought to be and might be—souls living and walking in the light!

The schools contain nearly 300 children, and are in a good condition, Mr. Drœse having obtained the efficient help of Mr. Pohlenz, formerly of the Chota Nagpur Mission.

SANTÂL MISSION.

The stations occupied in this Mission are three in number —TALJHARI, HIRAMPUR, and GODDA.

Of TALJHARI, the Rev. James Brown reports as follows:—

In the Taljhari Mission, as distinct from Hirampur and Godda, there are five congregations of Christians, numbering, in November last, 753. There are some candidates for baptism and several inquirers. During the year under review there have been in Taljhari District 119 baptisms. There are at present 286 Communicants, and about 100 Candidates for Confirmation, which will take place on February, 1874. The work of the Catechist is a very trying work; and I am sure they would wish themselves back to their ploughs and oxen, if they had not the love of Christ in their hearts. I know that they have to endure much pain and insult. Whatever may be their peculiar failings, they have graces neither few nor small.

It is desirable that there should be two Santal Pastors as soon as possible. One for Taljhari, and the other for Chuchhi. One is needed at the latter place because of its large congregation and its long distance from the three principal stations. The ordination of two Santal Pastors is not beset with any special difficulty, and we may expect it to be accomplished either in 1874 or 1875. The matter of a self-supporting Santal Church must stand over, I fear, until next year; for on account of the scarcity, which may soon amount to a famine, the people can hardly support themselves. However, it has been proposed, and many influential members are favourable to it, that a plan of systematic support be adopted, so that the Pastor may not be dependent upon the free-will offertories, which are made every Sunday, but that these be entirely distinct and devoted to charitable purposes, &c. The plan for raising the support of the Pastor is that every householder should pay a share according to his ability. I have much hope of this plan proving successful.

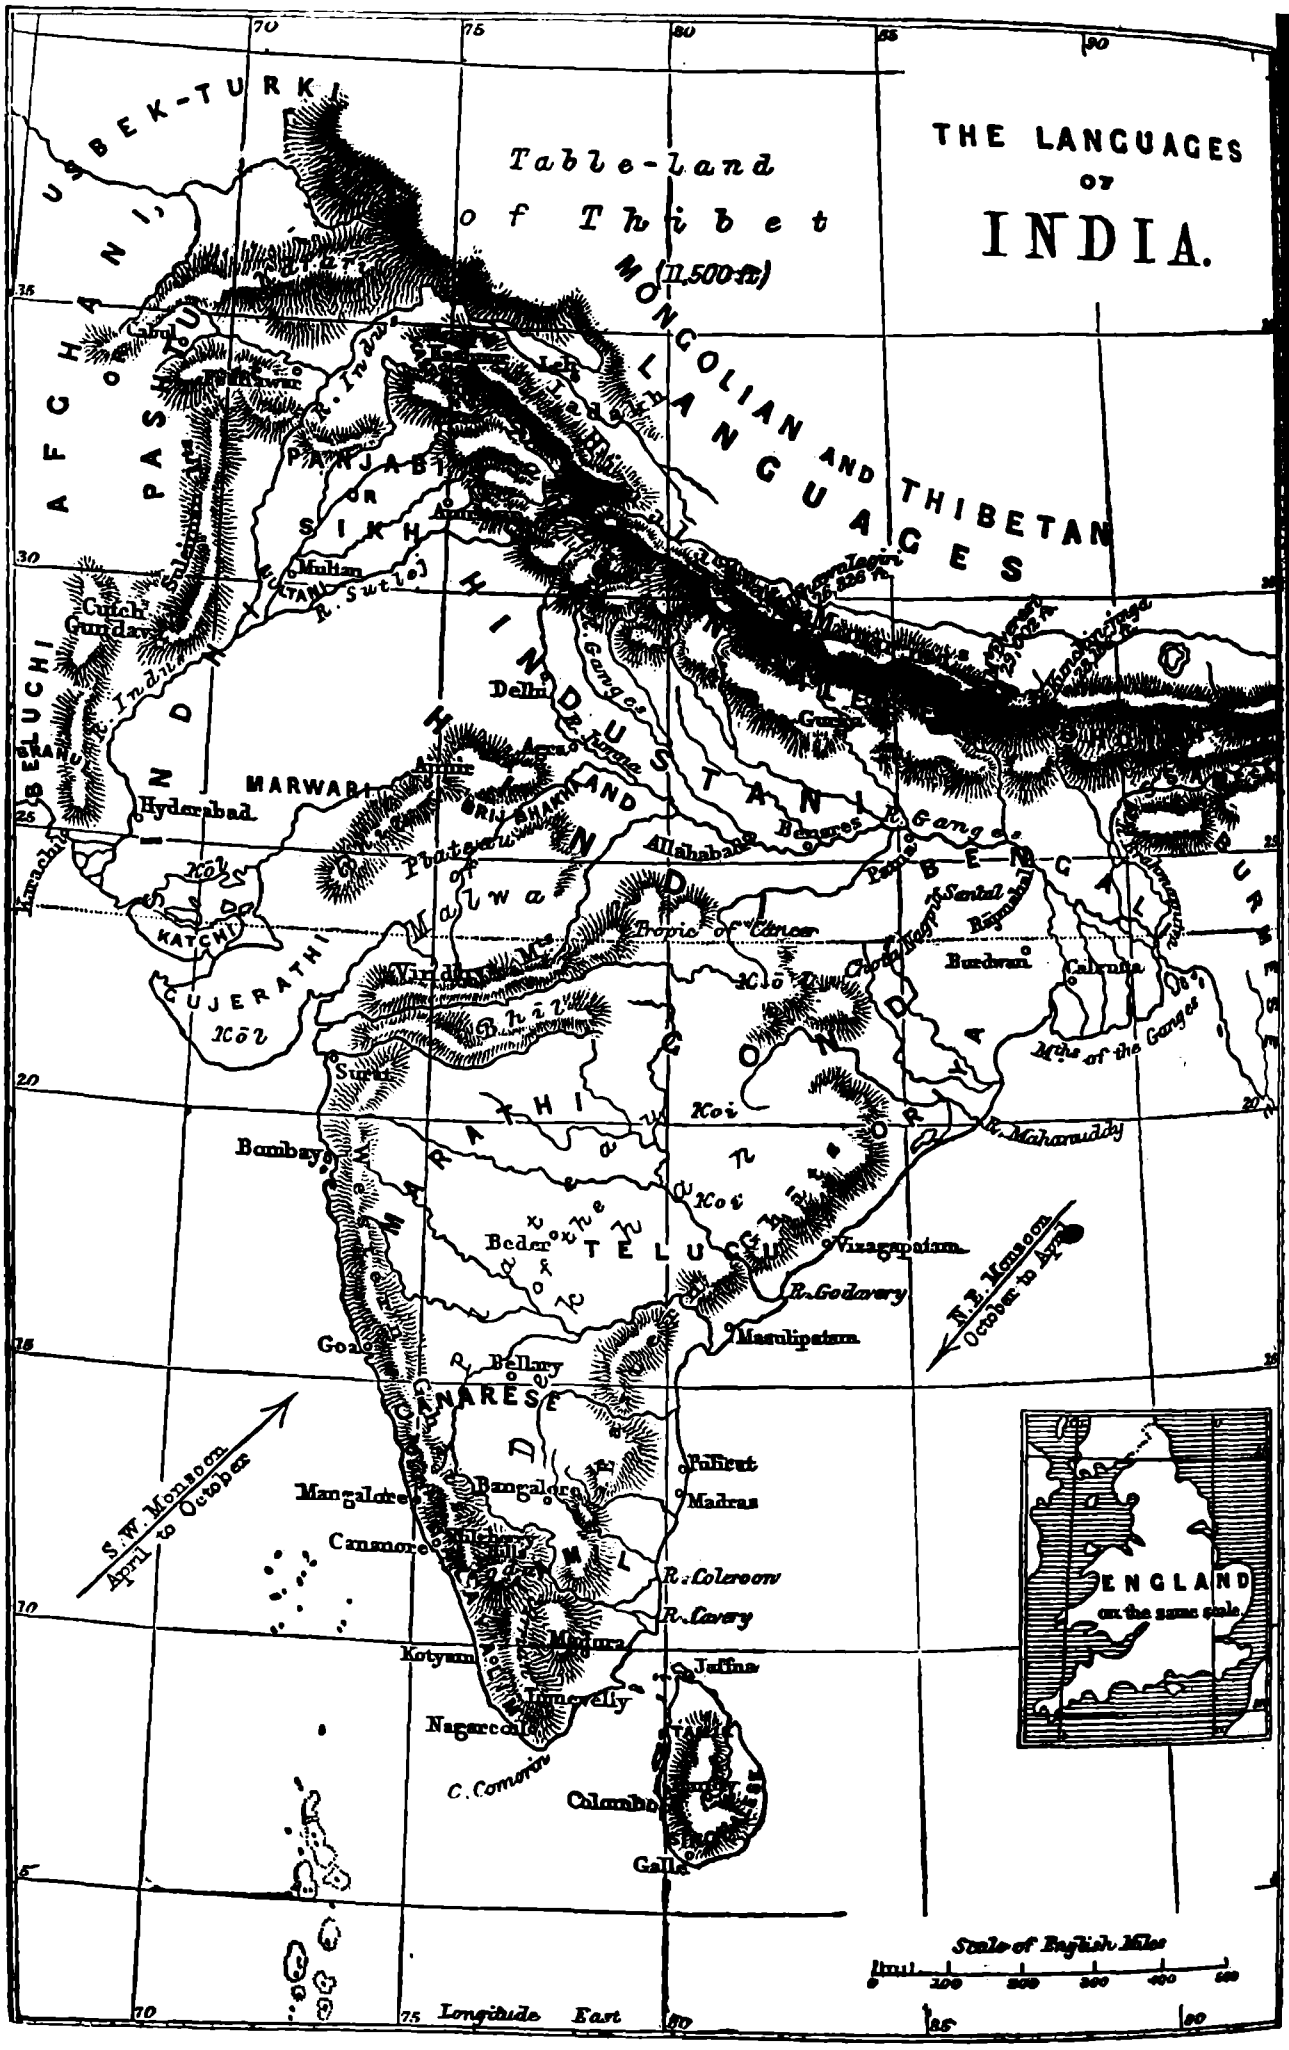

HIRAMPUR is under the charge of the Rev. H. Davis, who entered on his duties there in January, 1873. His Annual Letter shows that Santâl converts have in many instances to undergo as much persecution as those that come from the Hindu or Mohammedan population. Perhaps an exaggerated impression has prevailed in some quarters respecting a favourable inclination towards Christianity among the aboriginal tribes of India. The Native Christians in this portion of Santalia number 113, the communicants 38, and the children under instruction (all boys), 294. There were eight adult baptisms during the year. Mr. Davis writes:—

There were, on September 30th, sixteen village schools in connexion with Hirampur, and the boarding-school, under my own superintendence. Four youths from the boarding-school have been baptized since the 1st October last year. The three whom I baptized are still in the school; the one baptized by Mr. Brown left school shortly after his baptism. They have endured persecution for becoming Christians. They are treated by their friends as the vilest of the vile. Even the mud hut of the Santâl is cleaned out with cow-dung if they only enter. They are not allowed to eat in the same house; but if they visit their friends, as they each have done to speak of Christ, they are obliged to remain in the cow-house. One of the youths whom I baptized, named Baijun, had no parents living; but his brother, who is a well-to-do cultivator, opposed him in every way. He told him that if he was starving he would give him food; but he would never eat with him any more—he was unclean in his sight. Another named Bhim was anything but a good boy in the school; but a change came over him, and even his heathen village people said he was a different and better man, his mind was turned round. (This word is used by the Missionaries for "repent," as Matt. iii. 2: "The kingdom of heaven is near, therefore turn ye your mind round.") When he went to his parents to tell them he wished to become a Christian and to receive baptism, they forbade him to return to school, and kept him under guard for more than a week. At last he made his escape, and came to say that he wished for baptism. I told him he must have a month's probation, but afterwards shortened the time to a fortnight. When I proposed him to the Christians as one desirous of baptism, they said they were afraid he had some design in becoming a Christian, that he only desired that rite that he might spite some of his village people. It was therefore decided to send the Bengali evangelist (who is a Santâli scholar), and a Santâli Christian, to Bhim's village, to see his friends and hear their version of the matter. His people said he was a bad man before; now his mind is turned round—changed. After this the Christians felt that he ought to be received into the Church, for that something more than a human power was at work in Bhim's heart. He was baptized on the 28th of September, and was made an outcast by his people at once. His wife was taken from him; and his father, though he says he intends to become a Christian, but "not yet," abused him. Bhim's great desire is now that his people should be taught, and then he says they also will become Christians. Oh, for an outpouring of the Holy Spirit, that the eyes of these people may be opened, and that they may know Christ's love for them!

At Godda, where the Rev. A. Stark is engaged, the baptized Christians number 140. Seven adults have publicly confessed Christ by baptism during the year, and seven candidates are under instruction with the view of taking the same step. One of the newly-baptized is the wife of Nuna, whose conversion was mentioned in the last Annual Report, p. 71. It was there stated that she had been taken from him almost by force. She is now, of course, living with her husband.

The Bishop of Calcutta visited the Santâl Mission early in February of the present year, and confirmed 150 Santâl converts. On the following day was held the Annual Festival Service, which Mr. Welland, the Society's Calcutta Secretary, who accompanied his lordship, describes as "a happy service, though the offerings in kind were necessarily [owing to the drought] much smaller in quantity than in previous years."

BENARES.

The well-known veteran brethren, Smith and Leupolt, were both of them in England during the year under review.

The Sunday services in the City church were divided between the Rev. W. Hooper and the Native Pastor, the Rev. Samuel Nand.

From Mr. Hooper's journals we learn that he was also engaged in the important work of giving instruction to some of the Catechists, not only of Benares itself, but of some of the other stations in the North-West Provinces. He had a Hebrew class among them, which made good progress. Very systematic efforts were made by the same brother to bring the Gospel before the heathen, both by public preaching and by conversation with individuals. Early in 1874 Mr. Hooper removed to Lahore to take Mr. French's place at the Divinity School.

JAY NARAIN'S COLLEGE was during the latter half of the year under the charge of the Rev. H. D. Hubbard, Mr. Shackell's state of health having compelled him to vacate the post.

JAUNPUR AND AZIMGARH.

The work connected with these stations has been under the charge of Mr. Hubbard; who, however, since June, 1873, was compelled by the exigencies of the Benares Mission to take up his residence in that city, as stated above.

At Azimgarh, no change is reported respecting the congregation. A Native Evangelist, trained at the Lahore Divinity School, has lately been stationed at Azimgarh, whose labours will be watched with much interest, and will, it is hoped, be made the subject of intercessory prayer. The main school is not flourishing as regards numbers, though several branch schools in the neighbouring villages are successfully diffusing a knowledge of the Gospel.

At Jaunpur the school-house was destroyed by the floods of 1871. Its re-erection is now going forward, notwithstanding strong opposition from the fanaticism of the Mohammedans.

ALLAHABAD.

Allahabad, as the seat of Government of the North-West Provinces, is, of course, a place of considerable importance; and its rapidly increasing population already exceeds 100,000. It is also in the great line of communication that connects Calcutta with Bombay and Peshawar — being, in fact, at the angle where the two railways diverge from each other. The Society's Agency at Allahabad is not strong numerically, consisting only of a European Missionary (Rev. B. Davis), a Native Clergyman (Rev. D. Mohun), and ten unordained Native Christian labourers, these last being employed as Catechists, Readers, or school-teachers. There are, however, six European or American Missionaries of other bodies. Independently of considerations alluded to above, the Society was drawn to Allahabad by the settlement there, after the mutiny, of a colony of Native Christians from Sekandra, near Agra, who were connected with the Government press, and naturally followed it on its removal at that time from Agra to Allahabad. These have been collected together in a Christian village, under the pastoral care of a Native brother, the Rev. D. Mohun. Though Mr. Davis is in many ways able to render help to his Native brethren, his work is mainly Evangelistic, among the young by means of schools, and among the adults by street-preaching and by conversations with inquirers at his own residence. Towards the close of the year one of these inquirers (a Sikh, by name Sant Das, now called Yêsu Das) was admitted by baptism into the visible Church. Nothing of special interest has occurred in reference to the English School. Respecting the teachers employed in it Mr. Davis remarks:—

Though only one is a Christian, I believe none are opposed to Christianity, and of the greater number I have reason for confidence that they would rather take the side of its defence than offer any opposition to its teaching, being convinced of its excellence, though not prepared to accept Christ as their Lord and Saviour. Indeed, I believe the same spirit actuated our masters generally as was evinced in a little anecdote published in the general Report for 1871-72, as related by Mr. Wright, of Babu Dinu Band, who died since.

The anecdote referred to is as follows:—

"Only the other day one of the richest men in Allahabad came to me, asking that his son might be admitted. He was a thoroughly orthodox Hindu of the old school, and was evidently very anxious that the boy should get a good idiomatic knowledge of English, but equally anxious that his religious opinions should not be disturbed. His first question was, "Do you make the boys pray, and will my boy be forced to pray?" His next, "Will he read the Bible and become a Christian?" After explaining to him that the school was established for the very purpose of disseminating Christian truth and to instruct Hindu and Mohammedans in what we considered the truth, I told him that we did not force Christianity down the throats of our pupils, but placed our views plainly and honestly before the boys, and then left them to exercise their own intellects in the matter. He soon after left, promising to send his son; but probably he will never come. One of my teachers was in the room at the time, a Brahmo. He attacked the orthodox Hindu, and told him that the Mission school would be false to its profession if it did not endeavour to make known Christian truth, and that it was the duty of every liberal-minded man to be conversant with other views besides his own, and not to shut himself up in his own narrow creed."

JABALPUR.

At Jabalpur the Native Christians number 104 persons. Nineteen of these are communicants. There was only one adult baptism, the particulars of which, together with interesting intelligence on other subjects, will be found in the following extracts from Mr. Champion's letters:—

Remarkable conversion at Jabalpur through Native Christian instrumentality.

In September God gave us a new brother, whose conversion is one of peculiar interest and importance as the fruit of purely Native influence. He had been for a long time a teacher in our schools, and had thus come under the influence particularly of the dear brother whom I baptized in 1868, Jagannath Pandit. In their mutual intercourse, impressions were made upon the then Hindu, which were not supposed to be very deep. He became ill and had to resign his post in the school, and we feared that this would prove the end of his inquiries and of our hopes. But, happily, it was not so. When I heard of his continued anxiety I prepared to visit him in his house in the town; but this was thought, by those who knew most of his circumstances, to be undesirable. But where a European cannot go without being noticed, a Native can, and Jagannath's interest followed him up. His health grew worse, and he sent word to me, expressing his earnest wish to be baptized. With some difficulty he came to see me. I found him well instructed unto the kingdom of heaven, but with little hopes of recovering his health, and anxious to secure the comforts of the Gospel for his last days of weakness and dissolution. I baptized him with much thankfulness and wonder at what God had wrought. The same day he departed to his native village, a long way off, near Banda, and since that time (sad to say) we have not been able to discover any trace of him. I fear he may have died on the way home, with no one at hand to speak a word to him of his newly-found Saviour! He possessed means sufficient for his support, and, in point of fact, from the time of his voluntary disconnexion from our school, received nothing from any of us but simple Christian love and sympathy.

Our ten schools have gone on as steadily and satisfactorily as usual. We again passed two boys in the entrance examination.

At times with hope and at times with discouragement, I have continued my efforts among the Gonds. Their singular simplicity and docility of character, and (to a high degree in some matters) their pleasing intelligence, are points which draw one towards them irresistibly. But on the other hand their capacity is small and their memory weak, for such ideas as we wish to impart. I lately asked some villagers what they remembered of what I had said on a previous occasion. One man replied at once, "You ordered a hatchet," and beyond this we were able to elicit scarcely anything from them. They knew, however, that we had told them something about Jesus Christ, but what, or what He had done for men, they had no idea. I believe I have inaugurated a movement in the right direction by establishing a Christian agricultural colony (as yet in its infancy) among them. This will at once open an independent career in life for our orphans, and give me occasion to see the people of certain villages very frequently. Already a few of them begin to know and treat us as friends. We have numerous opportunities of showing our interest in them, and especially by giving them simple medicines. After our preaching one Sunday, the man who is most looked up to in the principal village said to one of the young Christian farmers, "Your religion is no doubt true, and we shall come to it one day." But then arises the question, When will that day come? Ten years elapsed before a single convert was baptized in the Chota Nagpur Mission among the Coles, and perhaps a very long time may elapse before converts of the right sort will come forward from among the Gonds. Meanwhile we must be content to labour and pray, and wait God's time.

State and prospects of Missionary work among the Gonds.

LUCKNOW.

The working staff of this Mission consists of the Rev. C. G. Daüble, the Rev. J. P. Ellwood, five Catechists and Readers, six Native school teachers, and five teachers in Zenanas and girls' schools. In addition to this, six ladies are employed in Zenanas by other Societies.

The Native Christians number 308, of whom ninety-six are communicants. The efforts for their benefit are thus described in the local Report:—

Our labours comprise the usual work of the Pastor of a Native Church, i. e. Public Services, twice on Sunday mornings and evenings, and a Bible and prayer-meeting on Wednesday evenings. Special services have also been held on several occasions, the day appointed for prayer for Missions, the first week in the new year, and Easter week. These services have been seasons of special blessings. The result of the last was an increased attendance at the Lord's Table (the number being the highest since the beginning of this Mission), and the appointment of several Native helpers, chosen by the Native Church Committee, some for holding private prayer-meetings in the houses of Native Christians, and some to assist in Sunday-school work.

The Schools are under the charge of the Rev. J. P. Ellwood, whose valuable Annual Letter breathes a spirit of much zeal and earnestness. He writes:—

English school at Lucknow.

I am glad to report that most of our schools are in a flourishing condition as far as secular attainments go. Of the spiritual work going on in the schools, suffice it to say that the Christian teachers assiduously go on in their work, and the boys, to all appearance, eagerly listen to all that is said. Every day, besides taking the secular subjects, I also have a class for Scripture, and can truly say that a good work is going on in the hearts of the boys. During the year we have had eight boys in our entrance-class in the main school. Four boys, having passed the test examination, will sit for the University examination in December. Two of these boys are Christians—we are very anxious these should pass. No boy has yet passed from our school. Should any be successful this year, it will give the Mission school a fair chance of numbering many of the sons of the Native gentry on its rolls. The study of the Bible during the year has received a fresh impetus. One of the St. John's scholarships has been allotted to us; and the boys, both Christians and Hindus, have done their best, and show that their knowledge of the Bible is encouraging. Several Native gentlemen manifest considerable interest in the progress of our schools. One gentleman has sent his disobedient son to be trained by us, and he made the remark that he felt quite sure his boy would improve morally in a Mission school.—Every week the Native Christian teachers meet at my house, when we study the Bible together and the "Evidences of Christianity." This gives me an opportunity of rousing them up, and exhorting them to be faithful to their calling.—Our Christian Sunday-school continues to prosper. We have also Sunday-schools for the heathen. These are four in number, and contain altogether 164 boys. Three of them are superintended by European voluntary workers, assisted by Natives; and the fourth by a Native Christian. In all the schools Christian hymns are sung to Hindustani tunes, in which all present join heartily. The pecuniary expenses are met by the voluntary subscriptions of the teachers, scholars, and friends. The residents of the station are always ready to give to this cause, and many Europeans have told me that they watch with great interest our progress in these schools.

I am glad to say that Mrs. Ellwood has been able during the year, by the blessing of God, to visit the Zenanas. She has found much to encourage her. Many anxious questions have been asked about our loving Saviour, and the people always say, "Come again as soon as you can." It is encouraging also to relate that many who were opposed to the reading of God's Word at first, are now willing to listen to the "sweet story of old." Day by day it becomes visible that there is an increased spirit of inquiry amongst the women; the men also sit down with their wives, and listen to what is said. There is a power in the Word, whether read or preached, and my dear wife fully believes that her visits are being blessed to those who hear. Oh! it is a blessed work to tell these poor women of a Saviour's love, and to see how eagerly they listen to all that is said.

Work in the Zenânas at Lucknow.

Mr. Ellwood gives the following very interesting account of his itinerating labours:—

During the month of January last I was able to make a Missionary tour in the villages of Lucknow, Sîtapur, and Hurdur districts. Many were the events of our little pilgrimage. Mr. Daûble kindly lent me one of his Catechists, who was joined by one of our Christian teachers from the school who can preach very well. In almost every village the people listened attentively to us. Some mocked and tried to oppose; but our good Father put words into our mouths to speak, and the objectors were silenced. After preaching in one village, a man came to me and said, "Sir, give me some of your little books, for I received one from a Missionary some time ago, and I liked it very much. I have read it many times." I afterwards understood that it was a Gospel which had been given by some servant of God; and evidently it had not been given in vain. Of course I gave him another book, which he gladly received. May it prove a blessing to his soul! In another village we met an assembly of Moulvies in the house of a Talûkdar. They had heard of our preaching, and therefore had prepared themselves to meet us with the best metal of the place. If ever we felt lonely it was at that time, surrounded as we were by the learned followers of the false prophet; but if ever we had stronger faith given to us than was usual, it was then. After discussing for about an hour, I said, "My dear friends, answer me this question, which is an important one for us all, 'Are your sins forgiven? Are you fit to die?'" These simple words seemed to tell upon them more than all our arguments. I soon obtained a silent hearing, and then unfolded the simple plan of salvation, comparing it with their own system. I endeavoured to show them how that in Christ all are savingly made alive. When we parted they begged I would come again as soon as convenient. The Talûkdar then sent me a basket of oranges, which act gave me the opportunity of sending a New Testament in return, which he very politely received. In every village I called upon the head man, and gave each a copy of the New Testament, which had kindly been supplied for the purpose by Colonel Anderson and another friend. In many villages the people declared that they had never heard of Christ before. In other places the name of Mr. Menge was mentioned with great respect as having visited them on one or two occasions.

Mr. Daüble in his printed Report thus refers to some of the hindrances to the progress of the Gospel in Oude and Northern India generally :—

Obstacles to the progress of the Gospel in North India.

We must not deceive ourselves; these obstacles are very great. First of all, this Northern half of India is an old hard-trodden religious battle-field. Here Brahmanism, having absorbed the local superstitions and thus become immensely popular, has fought successfully with, and gained the supremacy over, the warlike Kshatriyas; here it has also fought with, and expelled, the Buddhists, who have succeeded almost everywhere else in Asia. Here also it has successfully withstood the tremendous shock of Mohammedanism. The latter has indeed broken the political supremacy of Brahmanism in India, but it has exhausted itself in this effort, and left the inner citadel of Hinduism untouched.

Mohammedanism has prepared the way for another political power in India, and also, as I believe the future will show more clearly, prepared the way for the Truth. For the present, however, it has hardened the soil. The lower classes of Mohammedans are the worst to deal with. They are ignorant of their own religion, except a few of its outward observances, and, knowing nothing beyond brute force, their hatred to the victorious foreigner is the more obstinate.

But in addition to all the above hostile influences, many of the Europeans have a strong prejudice against Christian converts from the Hindus and Mohammedans, and the people know this. There is a large and increasing number of educated Native officials in all the different departments. Not a few of them, either owing to their being educated in Mission schools, or from reading European literature, have become aware of the inferiority of their own religion, and are more or less convinced of the excellency of the Christian religion. The fear, however, that any change in their religion would ruin their prospects of service and future advancement, deters them from following their convictions. Those around and under them would use all their influence to render them unpopular with both their European superiors and with the people.

FYZABAD.

The transfer of the Rev. C. F. Reuther to this station from Benares early in 1873 was mentioned in the last Report. He reached Fyzabad at the end of March in that year. Since

Mr. Reuther's arrival, Ajodhiya (the ancient capital of Oude), Sultanpur, Partabghar and Fanda have been taken up as out-stations. There have been no adult baptisms; and the congregation at Fyzabad has diminished from sixty-seven to twenty-six, owing to the departure of the Native regiment, with which most of them were connected. But there are signs notwithstanding that GOD is prospering the work, and preparing the ground for future sowing and reaping. The following extracts from Mr. Reuther's Annual Letter will illustrate what has been said:—

We have taken up Ajodhiya, Sultanpur, Partabgarh, and Fanda as out-stations. At Partabgarh there is at present only one Native helper engaged in preaching the Gospel. At Sultanpur two brethren are engaged in the same way. Ajodhiya is supplied by two helpers, who, are engaged in evangelistic labours, making known the Gospel every day in the bazaars and from house to house. Excursions have been and are being made into the neighbouring towns and villages. Upon the whole, we have been everywhere well received. Prejudices are being removed. The Hindus and Mohammedans are becoming more and more dissatisfied with their old religious systems, and are ill at ease. The Bible is read and admired in many places. At Fyzabad, Sultanpur, and Partabgarh there are a number of inquirers. Some of those have shaken off the fetters of their caste; others attend our Divine Service on Sunday; others read the Litany, the Morning Prayers, and the Psalms every day at home; and a high-standing Government servant, a Brahman by caste, wants to have a Bible and prayer meeting organized, which the Catechist is to conduct, and which he and other Natives will attend. Upon the whole, our Mission-field looks hopeful everywhere.

"Borderers" in Oude.

Our Zenana work has had the constant attention of Mrs. and Miss Reuther. There are several Zenanas open, visited by my wife and daughter. When I was the first time stationed at Fyzabad, the Natives of this place were still much prejudiced against female education; but this has ceased now. From different directions requests are being made for female instruction in the Zenanas. We thank the Lord for it, and take courage.

AGRA.

The Rev. F. H. Baring and Mr. R. J. Bell, were the European Missionaries at this station at the time when the Annual Letters were written; while a Native brother, the Rev. Joseph Jacob, ministered to the Native flock. The Rev. James Erhardt labours at a Christian village situate in Sekandra, a suburb six miles distant from the main city, and well known in connexion with the Christian orphanage, containing some 500 little ones rescued at different times from famine.

No report has been received from Mr. Jacob respecting the Native Christian Congregation.

Mr. Bell reports of ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE as follows:—

During the year we have had an increased number of pupils. In September we had on the College rolls 819; of these thirty-seven were Christians, and fifty-two Mohammedans. In our branch schools we had 156 pupils. In Agra, the number of pupils reading in Anglo-Vernacular schools is about 1420. We have therefore one-third of the pupils in Anglo-Vernacular schools under our Christian influence. Considering the many obstacles we have to meet, this is a subject calling for thankfulness and the earnest prayers of God's people. In the University examination St. John's stood first of all the aided colleges and schools in the North-West Provinces. Success in the University examinations ensures popularity. But we do not forget that we have a higher aim than mere University distinctions.

There are several deeply interesting cases of inquirers, more or less convinced, among the students and ex-students of the Agra College, who yet, for one reason or other, still hesitate to make open confession by receiving baptism.

Towards the close of 1872 the Committee received an offer from the Rev. W. Newton, of York, of twelve scholarships of 12*l.* each for three years, to assist Christian Students in the Society's English Schools and Colleges in India. Six of these were assigned to North India. Mr. Bell thus speaks of the advantages to be expected from Mr. Newton's kind and munificent donation:—

This gentleman's liberality is fully appreciated by our Christian students. We are thankful for his gift, and hope that other Christian gentlemen will follow his example, so that some of our poor, yet deserving Christians, may be enabled thereby to continue their studies. Many are in need of help. It is, I think, very desirable that our young Christians should receive the best education we can impart, for thereby their influence will be more extensive when they go out into the world. They cannot gain any position under Government unless they stand intellectually higher than their non-Christian countrymen. Competitive examinations show no favour. The first holder of this scholarship is a young Christian, Samuel Thomas, who is studying for his degree. His father is a Catechist under Mr. Hoernle at Meerut.

Another interesting and hopeful effort of a much humbler kind is thus described by Mr. Bell:—

Anson, our Reader, continues his morning and evening adult schools. He has sixty-seven on his rolls. They learn to read the Scriptures, to write, and some to work simple sums in arithmetic. It is a cheering sight to see so many poor men and boys meeting daily for instruction both before and after their work. Anson has gained their good will, and is enabled to speak freely to them of the love of God in Christ. On Sundays he preaches to them, and has thus profitable meetings.

Among the names on the list of Agra Missionaries is that of the Rev. F. E. Schneider, who, however (being an emeritus), only visits the place occasionally, spending the greater part of the year at a hill-station (Landour), and itinerating in the cold months. Mr. Schneider thus speaks of his last Missionary tour:—

An aged Missionary's joy in his work.

In many places the Gospel message was quite a new thing, and the novelty of preaching to the people in the bazaars created quite a sensation among them. Upon the whole the people behaved everywhere very civilly, always ready to listen attentively to our message. We found also much opportunity to sell books and tracts, which were anxiously sought after. The only drawback in this respect was the scarcity of readers. There were many villages, even large ones, which had no school, and it was therefore no wonder that many of the common and even respectable people could not read. I have great cause to be thankful for the innumerable blessings which the Lord bestowed on us all during this long journey. He gave me an unusual measure of health and strength, so that I could joyfully bear the fatigues of the journey, and, what is far more than bodily health and strength, He blessed my soul with spiritual joy and comfort, so that I can say, without any exaggeration, that I was never so much delighted in preaching to the heathen, and that I often felt in my own heart the saving power and influence which the Word of God exercises.

Mr. Schneider speaks of the opposition to the public preaching of the Word as being very great in Allahabad and some other large towns where it has long been carried on. This is not the case in Calcutta; and in respect to other places also testimony may be brought to show that generally speaking steady continuance in the public proclamation of the Gospel to the heathen at length weakens the hostility that has been provoked. Active opposition, of whatever kind, comes chiefly from the Mohammedans. Perhaps, as a rule, the mental condition of the heathen audience, as they become familiar with the often-repeated message, passes through the three stages of (1) the interest of novelty, (2) indifference or dislike, and (3) quiet and respectful attention on the part of at least a sufficient number to encourage the continuance of the effort. At Landour, Mr. Schneider, in addition to literary Missionary work, has preached the Word to such heathen and Native Christians as he could assemble. Two candidates for baptism are under his instruction, who have given proofs of steadiness and zeal under some little persecution.

No report has reached the Committee of the work at Sekandra. Mr. Erhardt has, however, given some interesting particulars of another work that has devolved upon him, that of superintending the colportage supported by the munificence of Col. Roxburgh. He writes :—

Effects of colportage.

About June the colporteurs brought in a young man, the son of a pensioner of the Rajah of Bhurtpore, who wanted baptism. My people did not know much about him. When I questioned him why and wherefore, and what he knew of the Christian religion, he stated, "I know all that is written in the books these men sell, and I want to be a Christian." We kept him here for a long time, and at last he was baptized. A more earnest and well-behaved youth I have never seen. He has returned, and is now a servant of the Rajah. The conversion of this man I consider a direct fruit of colportage. In January, February, and March, my people were at Gwalior. The colporteurs got among a Native regiment by means of a Christian soldier, who had been baptized by me. The regiment consists of all sorts of castes, and there arose a great inquiry among the Mebbars which the Brahmin Sipahis did not relish. They commenced to dispute; and in proof of the wickedness of Brahmins, the other castes bought our books, and quoted from them. The commanding officer had to shut up the dispute. The result of the affair was that a great number of soldiers came to a prayer-meeting, and bought nearly the whole stock of books; and the Native Christian has applied for prayer-books, that he may be able to conduct a little meeting. Our next journey will be to Gwalior, when the rains are over; and then we will see what became of the movement.

Miss Ellwanger labours among the Native women of rank, collecting a few of the younger ones in small schools, and visiting the adults at their own houses. At present the Hindus of this class seem more accessible to the truth than the Mohammedans.

MATTRA.

The only account which the Committee have received of the work at this station is contained in the following passage from the report of Mr. Bell of Agra :—

Madho Ram, our Native Pastor in Mattra, furnishes an interesting account of one of his pupils. He says, "The young man whom I baptized last Good Friday was a student of our former Mission school. He was long convinced of the truth of Christianity; but he had not the courage to confess Christ before men until last Good Friday, and since then he has been enabled by God's grace to bear all sorts of reproaches for the cross of Christ from his heathen friends and relatives." We rejoice with our dear brother, and pray that he may yet see many others coming to Jesus. He has recommenced a school in Mattra, and has an average attendance of forty-seven pupils. He has a class of six or more every Sunday, who read the Bible with him.

ALIGARH.

Aligarh is a town containing a population of about 50,000, and is situated fifty-five miles to the north of Agra. There is here a little band of thirty Native Christians engaged in offices or as domestic servants. Though the Missionary (Rev. J. D. Hoernle) is able to report favourably of their general conduct, they do not seem to exercise any influence on the surrounding heathenism, nor do their numbers increase by the accession of converts or inquirers. During the hot season Mr. Hoernle preaches in the Bazaar once or twice a week, and visits for the same purpose the neighbouring villages. In the winter months he undertook a preaching tour in the direction of Agra and Bulandshahar. With the exception of two villages, where the Missionary and his Catechists were hooted out of the place, the message was heard with outward marks of respect, though there were no indications of any spiritual effect. There is one intelligent Mohammedan inquirer of whom hopes are entertained. Mr. Hoernle is further occupied in translational duties. He has in hand a Hindi version of a Commentary on the Gospels, as also a Santali rendering of Barth's Bible Stories, having been himself formerly engaged in the Santal Mission.

Bulandshahar.

This out-station has been superintended from Aligarh by Mr. J. D. Hoernle, who visits it four times a year. No signs of advance are reported.

MÎRAT.

The Rev. C. T. Hoernle is still the Missionary of this station. His Annual Report is one of Missionary trials rather than of Missionary successes. There have been no adult baptisms. One out-station, Ikla, seems to be in the course of being abandoned by its Native Christian inhabitants, owing to their inability to pay the rent demanded by the Zemindar. By the latest returns there were connected with the Mîrat station 664 Native Christians. Of these 318 were communicants. These numbers are a reduction from those of the previous year, owing to Bulandshahar and Sekanderabad being united with Aligarh. The Church Council consists of two lay members from each congregation, with the Missionary as its President, and the Native Pastor (Rev. F. Abel) as its Vice-President. It performs its duties satisfactorily, and the spirit of liberality is on the increase.

The schools are threatened with difficulties, owing to new rules formed by Government in connexion with their grants-in-aid.

A Zenana school, under the care of Miss Zenker, has fifty pupils, all belonging to the higher classes of Native society.

KÔTGURH.

The Rev. W. Rebsch, who is the Missionary of Kôtgurh, has lately issued an historical outline of the Mission from its commencement, in the year 1843. The native name of the place is Kôt-guru, the abode of the Guru, referring to a Guru, or religious teacher, whose burial-place is in the principal village of the district, and is still held in reverence. Kôtgurh is, properly speaking, a group of villages, forty-one in number, with 2400 inhabitants. The population amongst which this Mission has been at work is that known by the name of Hindu Pahâri, or Hindu hill people. These are divided into Brahmins, Rajputs, Kôlis (supposed to be aborigines), and Kanaits (said to be of mixed descent from Rajputs and Kôlis). The mode of bringing the Gospel to the people was from the first twofold—schools and itineration. One of the earliest pupils in the schools was the first convert, Kadshu, now Native Minister at Lahore.

The church mentioned in the last Report was, by the most recent accounts, "almost ready." It will accommodate 200 persons, and the whole expenses of the building will have been 400*l.*, timber having been supplied gratuitously from the Government forests. The conduct of the Native Christians has been on the whole satisfactory.

One characteristic of the Native Church is thus described by Mr. Rebsch:—

> In Kôtgurh the Native community of our Church is peculiar in its way. In other stations it will be found, upon inquiry, that many Native Christians come from a distance; several generally join a station, having been baptized elsewhere; others are orphans, without known parentage; others have migrated from various causes. None of these circumstances exist in Kôtgurh. Except a catechist, who was brought up in the Orphanage of Benares, and a Native schoolmaster trained at Amritsar, all the present Native members of the Kôtgurh Church were baptized here; belonging, of course, to a variety of castes, from Rajputs down to Kolis.

The following extract from Mr. Rebsch's Report will be read with much interest:—

A young boy instrumental in the conversion of a whole family.

During the current year a whole family was baptized, owing to the resolution shown by a lad of fourteen. This boy had been in school for eight years, and worked hard to benefit by the instruction he received. About three years since he came to Mr. Rebsch, requesting to be admitted into the Church. Though his youth prevented the adoption of such a course at that time, still he kept firm to his purpose. He began to work upon his parents. Being of superior intellectual powers, he brought such an amount of argument, repetition, and entreaty to bear upon his old father, that he at last seriously inquired into the great truths admired by his son. From inquiry to belief is but a step, and with a resolute son to back him up and repel the annoyances heaped upon him by his neighbours, he and his household asked for baptism. Accordingly the whole family, consisting of six souls, together with four others—children of the school—were baptized on May 11, 1873. The boy, the instrument of God in this conversion, received the name of Timothy. He is now a monitor in the Kôtgurh School; and, should he do well, and funds be forthcoming, it is the intention of the Missionary to send him to the Rev. Mr. French's Divinity School at Lahore.

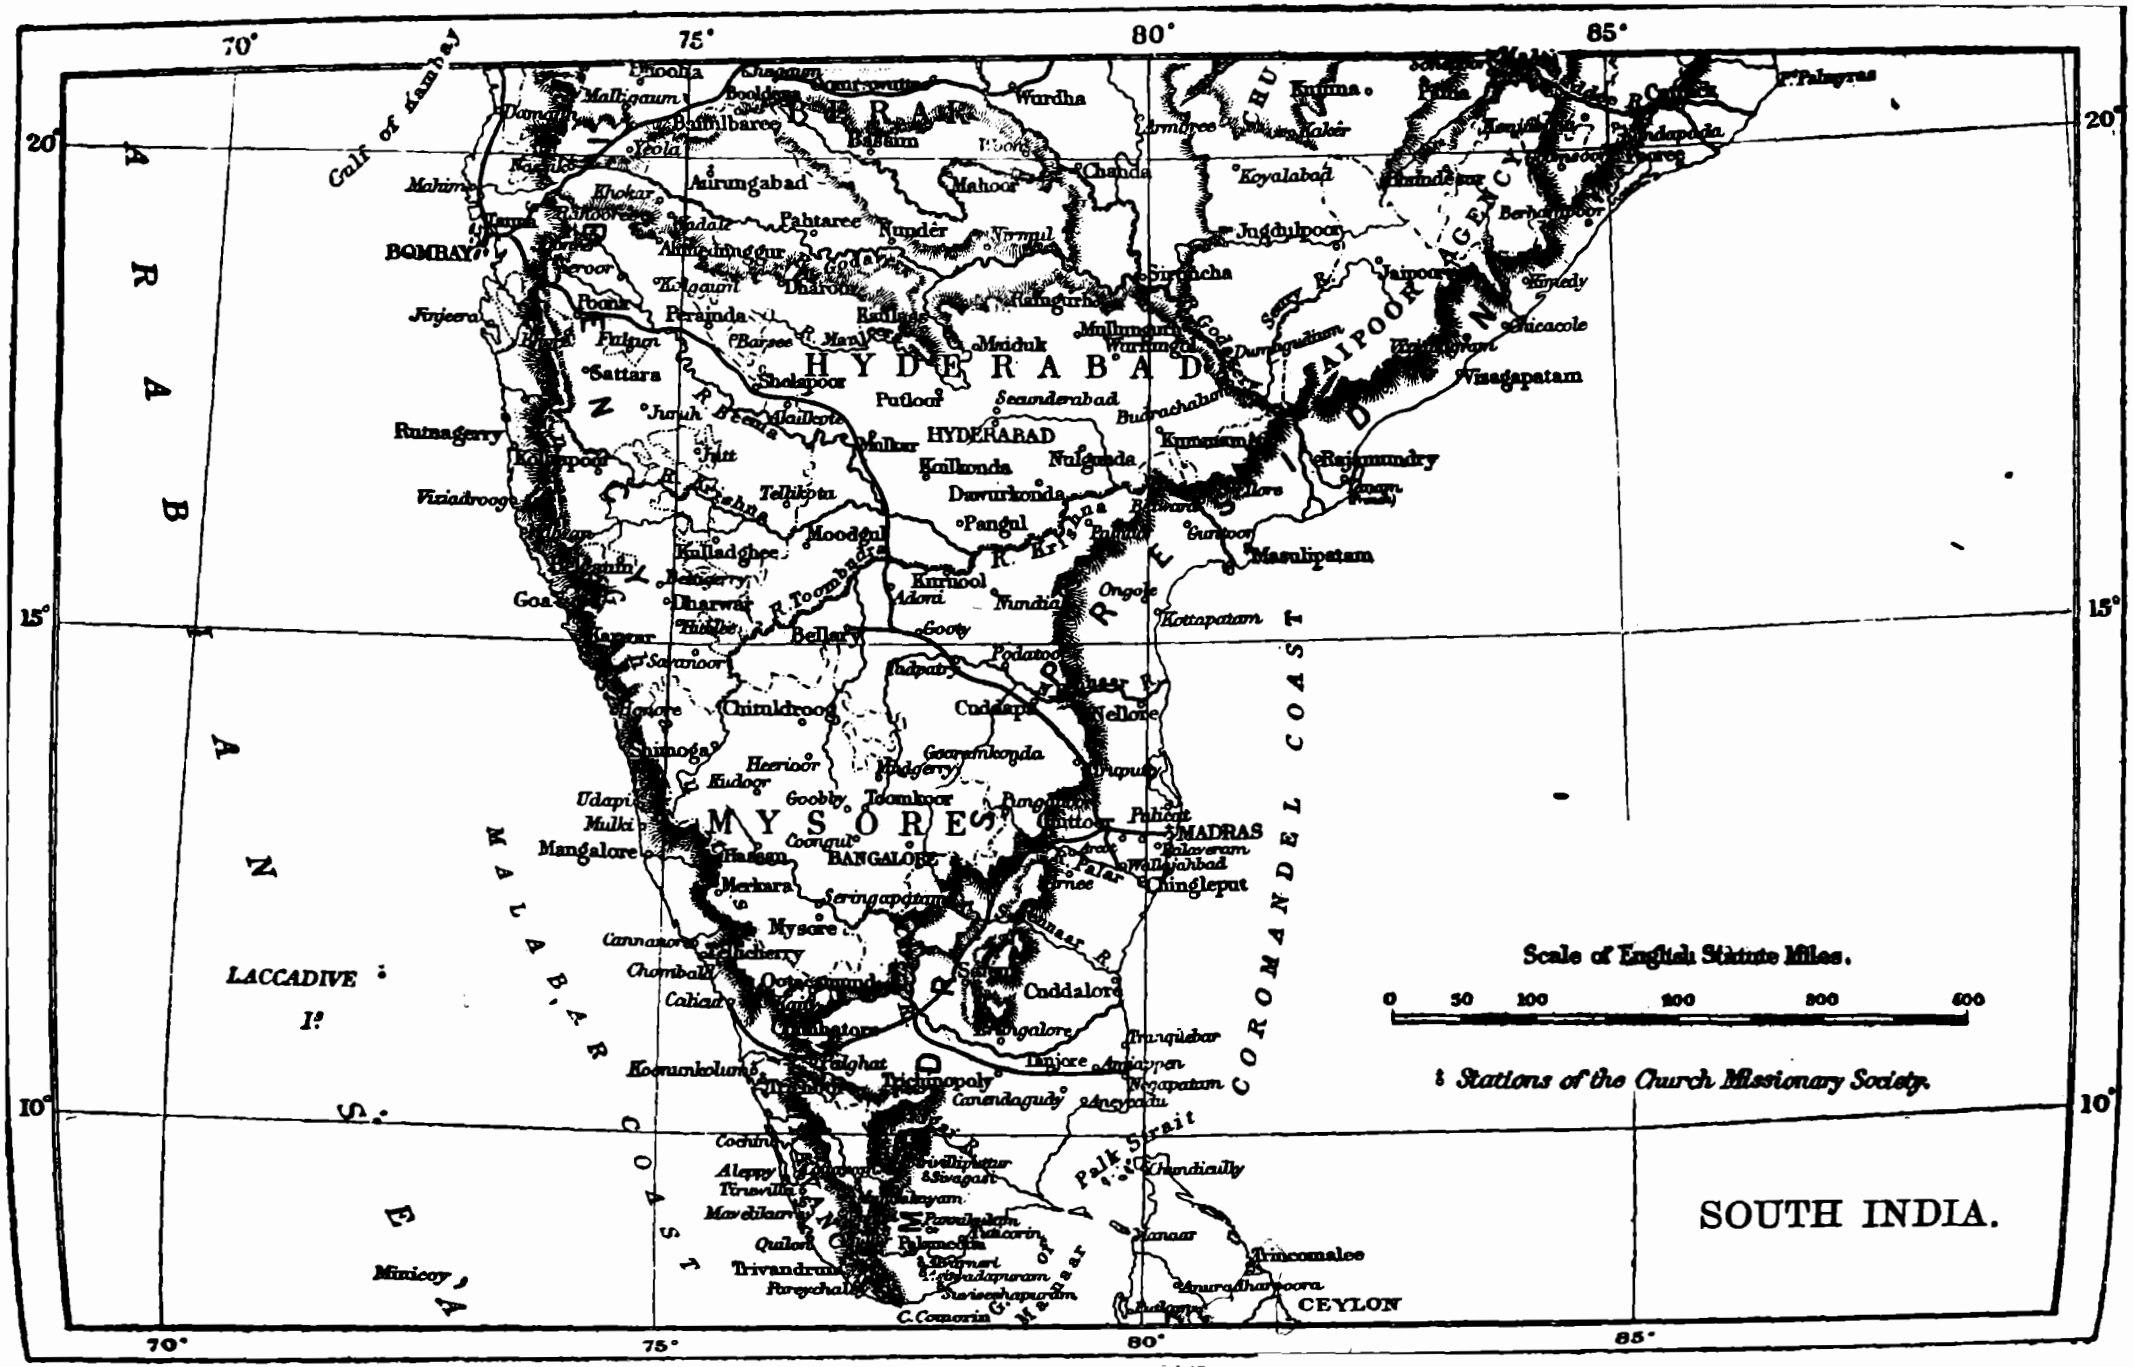

The schools, containing 200 children, are under the care of Mr. Bentel, a zealous and competent agent, trained in Germany.

KANGRA.

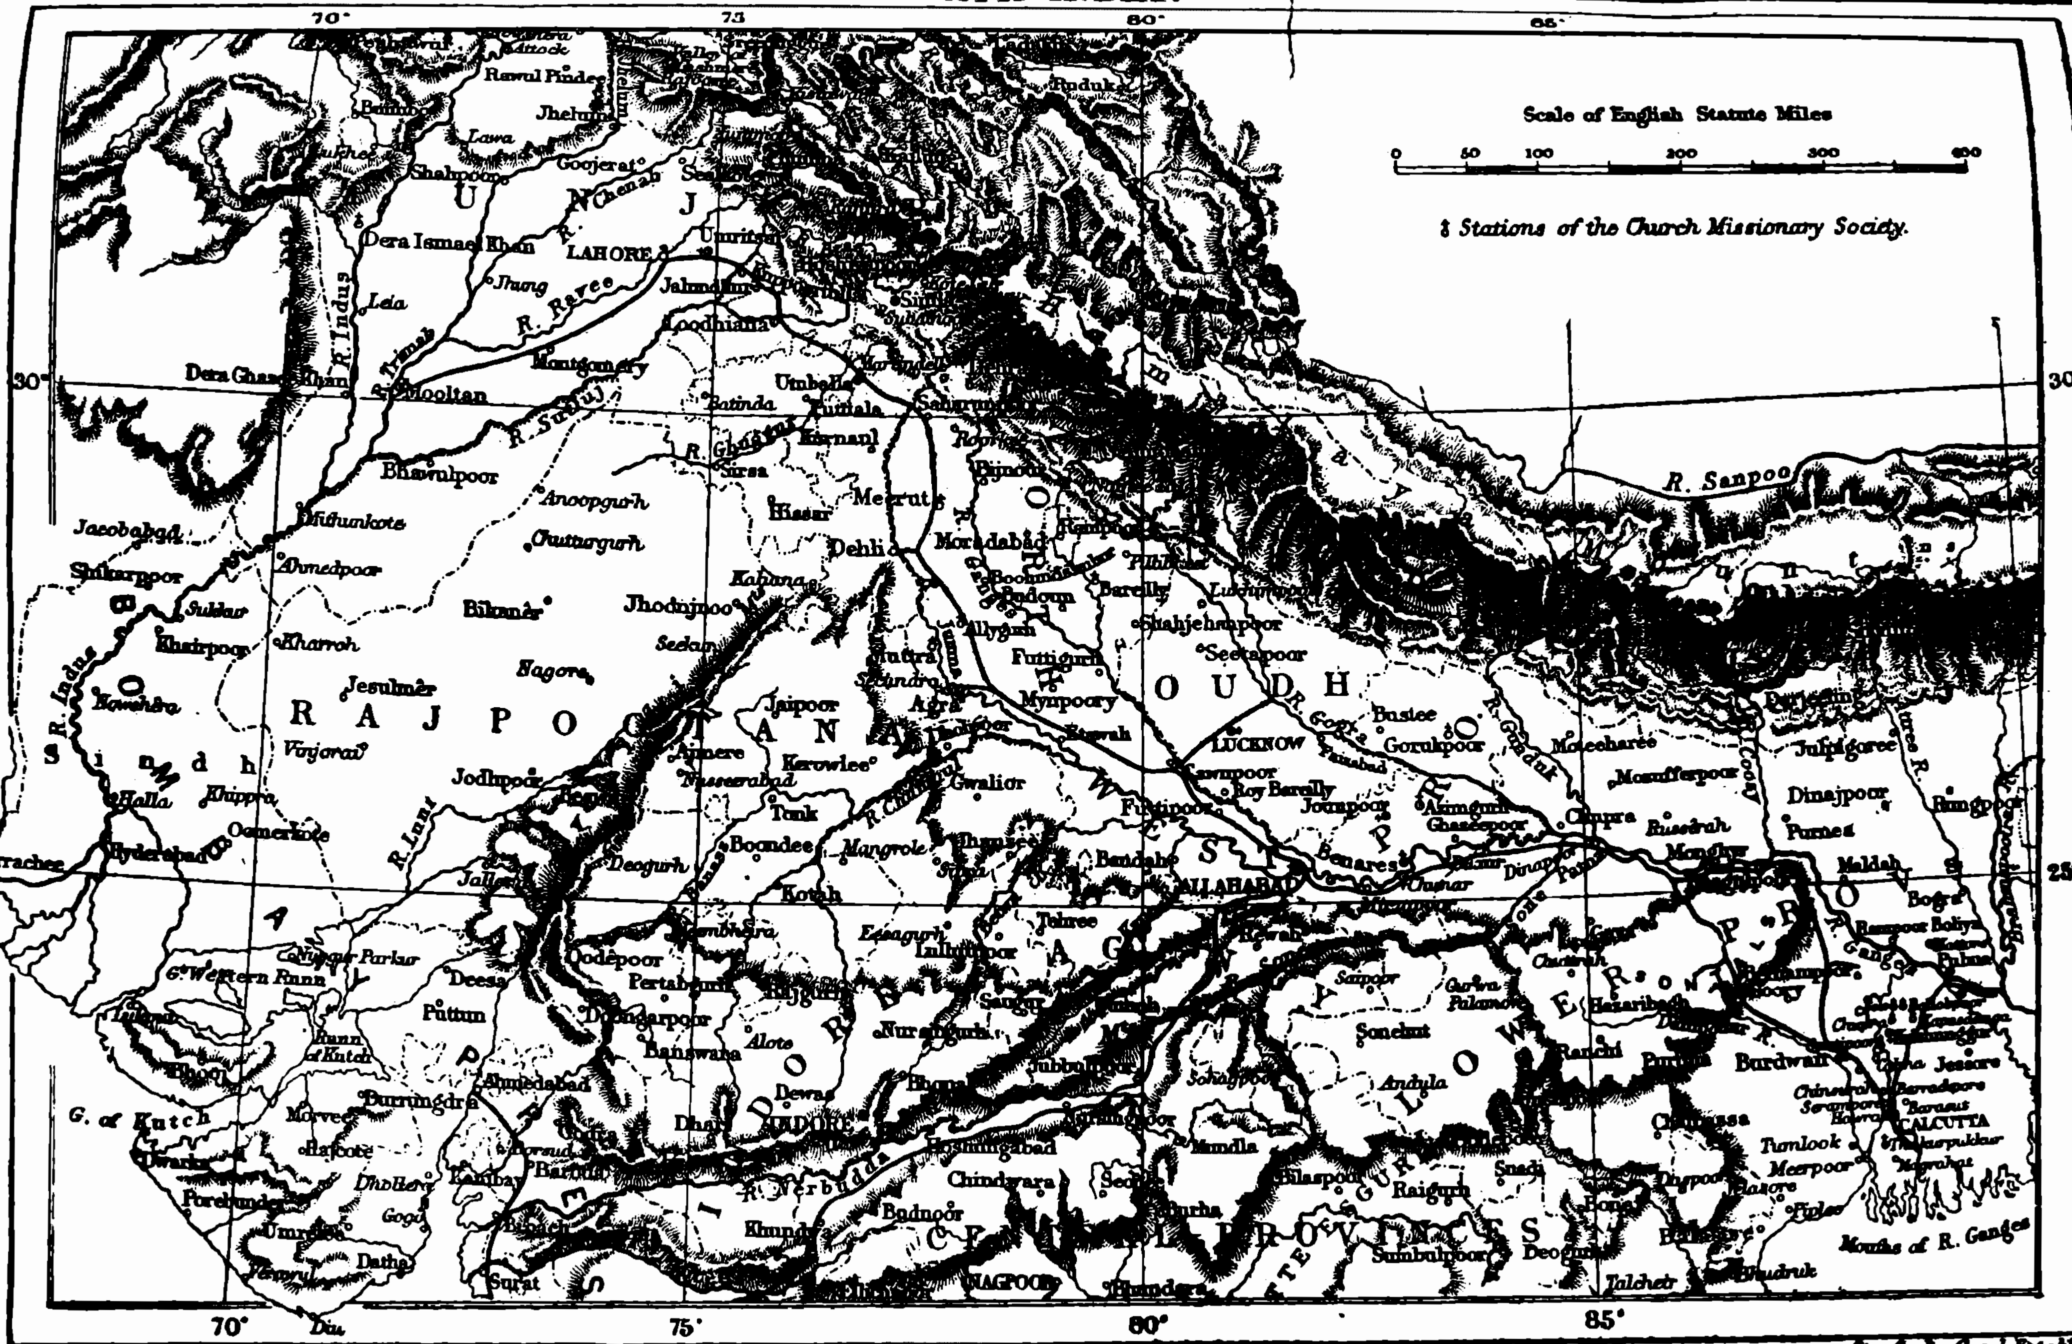

The Rev. J. N. Merk is able to report favourably of the little Native congregation (thirty-six in number) as regards attendance on the means of grace and freedom from outward misdemeanour. But they have not been instrumental, to any large extent, in bringing their heathen countrymen to the knowledge of the Saviour. One youth has been baptized, the nephew of the Catechist. A landslip having rendered the old Mission house insecure, much of Mr. Merk's time has been taken up in the construction of a new residence; and he has thus been prevented from taking his usual Missionary tour. The schools have gone on as usual, 154 boys being under instruction. Mrs. and the Misses Merk, who have recently returned from Europe, are engaged in the Zenanas.

who for some years had been labouring in this city, to send thither one of its agents, for the benefit of several Native Christians, professedly connected with the Church of England, but who in many cases were living in total neglect of religion. The Rev. James Kadshu, a Native brother, referred to above in the Report of Kôtghur, was appointed accordingly, and in a letter recently received he gives the following review of his work up to the present time:—

On 5th May, 1867, I opened this Mission. The first Divine Service I held at this place, with ten or twelve Christians of our Church, in a private house of Mr. Davis; and now the congregation numbers about 163. The poorer class of Christians, being left alone like lost sheep in the wilderness, took very little notice of the Holy Sabbath, and lived immoral lives. When I hired a house to hold Divine Service, on Sunday and weekday service, some of the Roman Catholics showed courage to come to hear the Word of God. For months they attended our church. No sooner had they found out how they were kept in the dark by their priests and bishops from the knowledge of the Bible, than they requested to be received in the Church of England; so several families joined and became members of our Church. One of these, formerly a bigoted Roman Catholic, became a devout servant of Christ and a very zealous member of our Church. Being appointed a reader in our Mission, he began to move about among the Christians, and tried his best to get them to lead a Christian life. So by the help of the Holy Spirit many have now returned to the Shepherd of their souls. Several are devout communicants, and I perceive the Spirit of God is working in this small body of Christians. Many of the Hindus and Mohammedans also have been brought to the Church of Christ. So I have to return many thanks to God the Almighty for His grace and for the success I have met with in the past seven years, and beg the kindness of all Christian brethren to remember us all in their prayers for the increased blessing of the Holy Spirit of God.

Of the 163 Native Christians, thirty are communicants; and there have been during the year seven adult baptisms.

DIVINITY SCHOOL.

Mr. French's last Report is for the year which closed on the 30th November, 1873. During the first seven months of that year Mr. French was assisted by Mr. Clark, who "most kindly and helpfully came over from Amritsar and devoted a portion of each week to the instruction of the senior department." Mr. French also thankfully acknowledges the "good and substantial service rendered by Mr. Wade." Mr. Gordon has given himself assiduously to the study of the Native languages, and is now at Pind Dádan Khan, to superintend and carry forward Evangelistic work in the Jhelum district. Mr. Bateman has given valuable aid by taking out some of the students with him in his itinerations. Mr. French writes:—

Our year which has just closed (November 30th) commenced with a mark of progress which I pray God may be of no unfrequent recurrence in the history of our Divinity School, i.e. the ordination of one student who had been through about a year's course with us, and of another who could only be spared for a shorter period. The Bishop was considerate enough to be satisfied with the result of the examination, and expressed himself hopefully and encouragingly of the results which, he believed, would be realized in the future. His Lordship desired I should present the candidates to him at the ordination, and I can hardly imagine anything more solemn and affecting than presenting one's own "preparandi" on such an occasion, just because of the close relation it bears to a more solemn occasion still of which the Apostle speaks: "That we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus."

The students who left the College in July returned for the most part to the Missions from which they originally came. Mr. French gives the following account of the present position of some of them:—

Two are in charge of important out-stations in the Amritsar district. One is working under a chaplain at Dinapore, yet with full charge of rather a large Native congregation. Another of our students is gone to take charge of the Azimgarh Mission. He was a disciple of Moulvie Safdar Ali, one of the pillars of our North Indian Church, for whom he has an intense respect. Another student has cheerfully gone to labour, at present solitary and single-handed, on the banks of the Jhelum. Another student, the oldest of all, is gone to work at Bannû as schoolmaster and preacher, but I fear ill-health has somewhat crippled his powers. A young Afghan, who had been with us two years, has gone to work in the Peshâwar Mission.

Mr. French speaks with much affection of the young labourers thus sent out into the LORD'S vineyard. The letters of several of them, he says, "betoken a happy sense of a call received and a heart resolved on zealous and entire consecration of itself to the work of winning souls to Christ." He adds:—

It is a serious addition to my work, as head of the school, to correspond with former students; and it is a work that must naturally tend to grow with time; yet who could refuse it, or rather not gladly hail it, as a precious cementing of old bonds, and one means of showing that we were not merely doing a perfunctory routine-work as teachers, but having our students in our hearts; so that, if but in ever so small a way, our relation might be that described by the Apostle, "In the defence and confirmation of the Gospel, ye all are partakers of my grace. I long after you all in the bowels of Jesus Christ."

The supply of new students more than compensated the loss through the departure of those who had completed their studies and through the removal of one or two others to their heavenly rest.

Of one student whose loss is deplored, Mr. French writes as follows:—(he had been engaged for a few days on an exploratory mission in the Jhelum country):—

Finished course of a young Native theological student.

That fortnight's preaching was the whole term of service allotted to this young student, in God's providence, after a laborious preparation for the ministry of some three years, during which time he had made remarkable progress, and usually headed our examination lists; and what was more, had exhibited "many excellent gifts," and a kind of Apostolic spirit. In the villages around Lahore also from time to time, as well as about Abbottabad during our migration last year, and with us in the Lahore bazaars, he had borne his witness valiantly and faithfully. He left us at Midsummer, too ill to take part in the last examinations, and with a deep sadness and outgush of sorrow, which seemed to indicate that he felt his warfare was nearly over. When I said to him one day that I had great confidence, through Christ, that his crown would not prove a starless one, he replied, "Oh no! Even if my life should not be spared to preach any more, yet I should not have quite a starless crown. God has used me already to bring some." It was an affecting mark of his true-hearted and single-eyed devotion to the work of Christ, which he left us to undertake in the Kangra Valley, that even in his delirium he would imagine himself surrounded by listening crowds, and preach to them and warn them in moving words to accept the Saviour of sinners.

The course of study embraces—the Holy Scriptures in the original languages and in the Septuagint version; the substance of several important works on the Divinity of our Lord, the purposes of His incarnation, and the work of the Holy Spirit; some selected extracts from Augustine's works; with a careful analysis of the Church history of the fourth and fifth centuries. In reference to this last subject Mr.

French observes: "It is our plan not merely to dwell on the facts of Church history, but on the force and value of the facts, what testimony they bear to the character of Christianity, and to that of the Christians of each particular country and age of the Church; what the relation is in which we stand to them; what we may learn from them to do, and what to avoid and undo." Several days in each week also, Mr. Wade and Mr. French are accompanied by one or more of the students in visiting the city, or the places of concourse outside the city, for the purpose of outdoor preaching and conversations with inquirers. Their itinerations with Mr. Bateman have been already referred to.

In a letter of later date than Mr. French's Report, the Rev. T. R. Wade writes:—

> All our rooms are now occupied with students, and others wish to come, so that if our present numbers stay to complete their full course of study and we do not refuse all application for admission for the next two years, we shall be obliged to build two new houses. There are twenty-one students now in residence, and this is all we can accommodate.

The following extracts from Mr. French's journal will be found deeply interesting:—

Conversations with inquirers.

December 31*st.*—Employed in a long conversation with two remarkable men—one quite a worshipper of his own reason, a man of great ingenuity and acuteness in argument; the other seemed really to be under the Holy Spirit's teaching, and confessed to have had his mind already set at rest on many difficult questions. We talked about the Sonship of the Lord Jesus. He asked whether it was to be found in the Old Testament; and we read together Psalm ii. with Hebrews i. which surprised him, but was readily admitted as a satisfactory reply. He said many disputed points were thoroughly settled in his mind, and some were still unsettled. I mentioned to him the beautiful passage of Irenæus which pleased him much, a kind of germ of Butler's great work, that "as in nature many things were discoverable by man, and some were left in doubt and obscurity, so it might be looked for that in the Word some, yea, most would be revealed, but that some would, to the end, be veiled and shrouded; veiled, perhaps, even in heaven to all eternity, that God might be always our Teacher, and men always learners." We had much conversation also on God's image in man; its moral character, not metaphysical. "Yes," said the reason-worshipper, "but man is powerful also." "True," I replied, "but this is rather a shadow of Divine power than a likeness; Holiness is the likeness, and Love also." He would have split hairs on this subject; but I said, "We are not met here as a company of hakîms (i.e. philosophers), but for "religious conversation," which the other gladly assented to.

January 5th.—Went through city of J——, a large straggling street nearly a mile in length, population said to be from 15,000 to 20,000. Went into the place of worship of a sect called the Baberees, in which an interesting occasion was given of preaching Christ. The scene was striking; an inner and outer court; in recess of the inner was the "Granth" temple, with a Pandit reading and perhaps expounding the "Granth," to which Divine honours were being paid by sundry "Kotows" in Chinese fashion. On the right was the women's temple, in which were some eight or ten worshippers; elsewhere some thirty or forty men, a few of them gaily dressed; the handsomest and most well-dressed man being the Guru himself, who came to meet me, pacing loftily in his tall wooden sandals. He had a seat for himself and for me placed, and about sixty or seventy, chiefly educated men, sat around in the sunshine. The subject of "Santosh," i.e. peace of mind, was introduced, and I asked him how it was obtained? He answered, "By works of holy men," which he explained afterwards to mean not one's own works, like the "Karm Kriya" of the Hindus, but a stock of merit accumulated by awliyas and ambiyas, i.e. patriarchs and prophets, yogees, gurus, &c., by inheriting which, as worshippers, they became pure and perfect, and found peace of conscience. I then dwelt on Luther's thought, of there being two kinds of works—one which was imperfect and defiled, and could never reconcile with God, or bring peace—the other God's work, which was perfect in its efficacy and power, to justify, sanctify and restore. One Pandit asked "what thing God was?" When I replied, "God is love," he seemed well pleased, as also with Anselm's thought, that He was "the height and sum of all possible perfections." We came then to the true Incarnation, the Door, the Way, the Life; and considered what the work was He came on earth to finish; what He found man, and whereto He raises him.

Conversation on the way of peace, and on the nature of God.

The future employment of those trained in the Lahore College is a question in which the Committee, and the Society's Agents and representatives in North India, must humbly seek guidance from GOD. Some of the students will naturally return to the Missionaries by whom they were sent. For others, fields of Evangelistic labour will be sought in districts not far from the College itself, and where they may enjoy the advice and help of some of the Missionaries attached to the College. One such district has already been selected, in the neighbourhood of Jhelum and Pind Dêdan Khan. The Rev. G. M. Gordon proposes to take up his residence in one of these districts, and support the Native Evangelists by his presence, counsel, and co-operation.

AMRITSAR.

The Society's European Missionaries labouring at Amritsar at the close of 1873 were the Rev. Robert Clark, the Rev. F. H. Baring, and the Rev. T. J. Mayer. Mr. Baring had moved thither quite recently, having been previously stationed at Lucknow and Agra. He was transferred to Amritsar to supply the place of the Rev. Hermann Hoernle, who towards the close of the year under review was removed to Mîrat (Meerut) to assist his father. In the early part of the current year Mr. Mayer was removed to Derajât; and the Amritsar Mission was reinforced by the arrival from England of the Rev. B. H. Skelton. The following extracts from the local Report will be read with much interest:—

Amritsar is the oldest Mission of the Church of England in the Panjâb. A city of 135,000 inhabitants, in the centre of a district containing 1,000,000 of people, in the very heart of the country, in the midst of the Sikh people and the old Sikh chiefs who live all around it; the religious metropolis of the Panjab, and the emporium of commerce for all North India, uniting the territories both within and beyond our frontier with all India and with England; the place of meeting for people of many nations at its religious and commercial fairs; it affords opportunities for Missionary work which are almost unequalled in the North of India. Whatever takes place in Amritsar is known and talked of in many cities and countries. Whatever influences Amritsar, influences many other places, both far and near. Missionary work in Amritsar should therefore be constantly advancing.

The Amritsar congregation consists of 185 members, of whom 62 are communicants. There have been 31 baptisms during the year, of whom 11 are adults. Amritsar itself has been barren of fruit during the past year, as far as adult baptisms are concerned; but the blessing of God has rested on our out-stations, and especially on Nârowâl and Fatehgarh. Amongst the Native Christians in Amritsar, we thank God that there are several men of education and independent circumstances, who are labouring actively, and in loving harmony with the Mission, for the furtherance of Christ's cause. We look on such Native gentlemen, and on all independent devoted workers, as the mainstay of the Mission.

At a special meeting of the members of the Native congregation convened by the Church Council, on the 17th of August, some very earnest and impressive speeches were made by Native friends on the urgent necessity that the Native Church should rise to its true position, and instead of allowing a Foreign Church to pay the salary of their Native Pastor, that they should by one common effort undertake this work themselves, and raise a fund, from the interest of which, together with their own subscriptions, the salary of a Native Pastor may be entirely defrayed. The enthusiasm of this meeting was remarkable, and the decision arrived at was altogether unanimous, that it must be done now. A paper was produced, and subscriptions were at once given in to the amount of Rs. 253 (every rupee of which was given by Native Christians), which was afterwards, within two days, increased to Rs. 401, of which Rs. 260: 8 have been received.

We gladly this year record—the re-creation of "Shamaun's Flag for Christ." It will be remembered, that in 1867-68, Shamaun, who was the first-fruits of the Amritsar Mission, formerly a Sikh Granthi, or priest, and baptized by Mr. Fitzpatrick in 1853, bequeathed to the Mission his house on the Santoksar Tank, and all his property, in order, as he said, that "a flag for Christ might be erected in a city where so many flags are seen to the honour of Nanuk and Mohammed, and of the Hindu deities." He referred to the flags which are seen on the tops of the highest trees in the city, which mark out the abodes of the faqirs of the Native religions; and he desired that his house might be set apart as the permanent residence of some Native teacher, who would be thus a representative in Amritsar of the Christian faith. In consequence of some public improvements Shamaun's house was taken down, but compensation to the amount of Rs. 1059 was given for it. These Rs. 1059 were therefore at once available for the re-erection of this "Flag for Christ" in some other part of the city. The site behind the Native Pastor's house was recommended for the purpose by the Native Church Council; and a large "Mission-room," with verandahs and side-rooms, has been erected, to serve as a hall for meetings and public discussions, and for lectures, and also for a Sunday-school and a night-school, and for a general Native Christian reading-room and library. Efforts were at once made by the Christian community to procure the funds required. They collected Rs. 103 amongst themselves, and Rs. 1029 from European friends. The cost of the building up to the 30th September has been Rs. 2687; about Rs. 600 more will be required to complete it.

Shamaun's Flag for Christ.

The Rev. R. Bateman, who resides at Madhopûr, has charge of the out-stations. A blessing has been graciously vouchsafed on his labours. He writes as follows:—

There has been only one baptism in Madhopur during the year; the candidate came from Nârowâl, as mentioned below. His parents and relatives tried very hard to dissuade him, but he bore abuse and entreaty with equal firmness. One day his mother began to beat him with her shoe; he appeased her by taking off his own and offering it her as a stouter weapon. Poor woman! it was heart-rending to see her grief in the prospect of his baptism. One day she caught hold of my feet, and in an agony said, "Why do you take my only son?

Baptism at Madhopur.

Are there no other boys that will suit you?" It was in vain to try to comfort her. The lad tenderly raised her up, and told her he would never cease to be her son. What do we know of such trials as these?

The Mission at Nârowâl consists simply of an Anglo-Vernacular school, with an average attendance of some seventy boys. The head master and a junior teacher are Christians, and they labour well to make known the truth in school and out; so much so that the people complain that the city is filled with the (to them as yet) obnoxious doctrines of Christianity. An old student of the school, a Jat Sikh, now Lambardar (fiscal headman) of his village close by, who, after studying in the Christian Vernacular Educational Normal School in Amritsar, was baptized in Delhi last spring, has just been added to the list of teachers, so that I hope more than ever will be done by Native brethren in this place.

Inquirers and Converts at a Mission English School.

On my first visit during the year under review, I found the school closed, and the Christians gone to Amritsar, so I had a much better opportunity of judging of the boys than if I had seen them with their master as usual. I liked what I saw. Some of them stuck to me in the house and in the bazaar, constantly talking on religious subjects. One evening they drew the stumps before their game of cricket was over, because they said it was time for me to go to the bazaar, and they wanted to go too. It is usual to hold Sunday service in the Mission-house, but they asked me to hold it in the school, so that all might be present; one of them giving as a reason that there were no Christians now in Narowal. "What!" said A., pointing to B., "there is one." "Why do you call B. a Christian?" said I. "Because he knows something he can't be a Mohammedan," was the reply. B. has since been baptized. At Christmas I had the pleasure with Mr. Wade of teaching these boys from morning to night, and was again very much encouraged. During this visit, D. told me, before his father, of his full intention to receive baptism. He replied, "If you will wait a little, your mother and I will join you, for we also know that Christianity is true." Easter was the time fixed. When it came, I went to Narowal again, but found the old man still urging delay, and the son in despair gone to Amritsar. I soon received a letter from him asking me to baptize him there on my arrival. This I read to the other boys to see how they would take it. It was listened to with pleasure, and applauded by all the elder boys. I appointed the 4th of May for his baptism. D., however, was recalled by his father, who sent him word on the 1st of May that the whole family would join him. Thus, just as the brave boy had made up his mind to leave all and stand alone with Christ, all his family were given him as companions, and father, mother, brother, wife, and sisters were baptized, on the 11th of May—the males before 200 heathen, and the females before the Christian Church. It is easy to smile at the facility of purpose shown by the father; and, indeed, one could not but desire that he had acted with greater courage and independence; but let the critic reflect how often in our own land, where a bold profession does not bring with it a tithe of the disaster that follows here, father has led son, or son helped father, to do and to profess what was felt but feared. Let him rather pray God that, here as there, the bands of family love may often be made the means of drawing kindred hearts to Him whose blessed hands alone can bind them in the bundle of life together. Previous to the 11th of May, I spent several happy days in teaching the male candidates; Mrs. Ghose, the head master's wife, taking charge of the women. Many boys were constantly present, of whom E., F., G., H., J., K., L. are specially mentioned in my diary. All was not happy, however, for one sheep, who was to have been baptized with the others, was missing. He was carried off the night before, to be cured, as the villagers said, of Christianity in Lahore by that notorious villifier of Christ and Christianity, Hafiz Waliullah. He escaped, however, and a week or two later found his way to me at Madhopur, and was baptized in the Ravi there. These baptisms frightened the people and encouraged the inquiring lads, of whom five, F., H., J., L., and another, have asked for baptism, and K. has been removed to Lahore, while A., E., and G. have apparently turned back. Two of these boys, belonging to one of the leading families, took refuge in the head-master's house. They were, however, forcibly removed by a Mohammedan rabble and subsequently sent up to the Deputy Commissioner, before whom they disclaimed all intention—for the present, at least—of becoming Christians. The excitement caused by these cases has of course injured the school. When I was there last month only thirty boys could be mustered. This state of things will gradually improve. Meanwhile, thanking God that the main object of the school's existence has been granted, we may congratulate ourselves. as well, that in the Government Middle School Examination held last Christmas, a Narowal boy came out first in all the Punjab.

The following extract from the Rev. T. J. Mayer's Annual Letter shows some elements of the current of thought now prevailing among certain classes of the Native population :—

Last August, the boys in the Mission school having formed a debating club (in English), asked me to become president. I acceded, and since that time our numbers have steadily increased. We had a great fight over one regulation, but it was carried at last by an overwhelming majority: "Religious subjects of all kinds shall be admitted." Several papers have been read—some of them very creditable, one only against Christianity—read, I regret to say, by an old Mission school boy—criticized, I rejoice to say, unsparingly and well by the members themselves. "Sikhism and Christianity," "Female Education in the East," have been the best papers, and all speak very decidedly on the hindrances to study and all moral and social improvement arising from—1. Early training; 2. Early marriages; 3. Degradation of woman; 4. Immoral writings and teachers.

DERAJÂT.

The Rev. W. Thwaites is at present the Missionary at this station, the Rev. D. and Mrs. Brodie having been compelled by sickness to return to England early in 1874. Though it was first occupied in 1862, the work must be regarded as still only incipient. The Native Christians number only thirteen; and during the year under review there were no adult baptisms. The European labourers have been zealous and energetic, but the frequent changes induced by failure of health and other causes have, to all human appearance, been prejudicial to the progress of the Mission. Mr. Thwaites writes:—

The catechist preaches regularly in the city, but the people are bigoted and ignorant. I have not begun to preach yet myself, as I have not learnt the common language of the people—a species of Panjabi—but I have had some very interesting conversations in Urdu with Natives on religious subjects. The number attending our Native services is as yet small. My work in the school is interesting and encouraging; the boys are grateful, and many of them intelligent, and I trust I am making my way to their hearts.

Tank.

The Rev. John Williams, a Native brother, formerly labouring here as a Medical Lay Evangelist, was ordained early in 1873 after a few months' instruction at the Lahore Divinity School. He then returned to Tank, where he still carries on his former work. The following extracts from Mr. Brodie's letters will illustrate the nature of Mr. Williams' labours:—

There was an old Sayad, one of the descendants of the prophet, as this title implies, who received great respect from all Mohammedans, even from the Nawâb himself, and was therefore very proud. He disliked the efforts made at the hospital in Tank to teach those who came there about the Gospel, and took every opportunity of abusing all concerned. Indeed, he would denounce even those who spoke to or were friendly with the Native doctor, our dear brother, John Williams. At last, on one occasion he had a severe fall from his horse, and was injured in his chest and arms. This led him to the Native doctor, who, knowing his temper and feelings, took especial care to treat him kindly. For the first day or two perhaps nothing was said on the subject of religion, and then it was introduced most warily by speaking on those points where there was agreement between them. The Mohammedans acknowledge that Christ is to come again to judge the world, and on this subject the Native doctor read the 20th of Revelations, with which the old man was greatly struck. He then took him to the Old Testament, and spoke to him of the prophets whose names he knew, reading various parts of the narratives in illustration of what he said. This led on the subject of the (so-called) prophet Mohammed. It was not, however, without signs of displeasure that the old man heard comments on his character; but when all these were fortified by quotations from accepted books, they were listened to with more of thoughtfulness than anger. All this occurred while he was visiting the hospital for treatment. After being cured, however, he continued his daily visits, and boldly sought to have both the Old and New Testaments read and explained to him. He did not miss coming one day until he fell ill again. This illness was of so severe a character and of such short duration that the Native doctor had not the opportunity of seeing him again; but on all hands it is admitted that he on his death-bed spoke plainly before many of his change of feeling with reference to the doctrines of the Gospel, and of his altered opinion of the Christians. He advised a friend in a most earnest manner to send his son to the "Doctor Sahib" to be taught about Christ. He mentioned to the Nawâb also how mistaken he had been in his views about the Christians and Christianity. Since his death his wife has continued very friendly, coming to visit the wife of the Native doctor, and making presents on the occasion of the birth of a son to him. The Native doctor makes a rule of sitting out amongst the people every afternoon, when all the patients, indoor and outdoor, have been attended to. Sometimes these conversations are so prolonged that it is nine or ten at night before he can get his evening meal.

Labours of a Native Medical Missionary.

BANNU (BUNNOO).

During the year 1873 the work at Bannu was superintended by Mr. Brodie. There were only ten Native Christians in the place, and their numbers were not increased by any adult baptisms. Sixty boys are attending the Mission school; but there is no desire for education among the people, and even the Government schools are failures in this district. Much difficulty had been met with at Bannu in obtaining a suitable master. Mr. Brodie partly undertook that duty himself, and was also training for the post a Native

Christian who had been for some time under Mr. French at the Lahore College.—Early in the current year Mr. Mayer was transferred to Bannu, to take Mr. Brodie's place, whose return to England has been already mentioned.

Abdul Masih, the convert whose sufferings under persecution were so graphically described in an extract from Mr. Brodie's letter, printed in the Report for 1871-72, p. 113, is now residing in his own village on his own land, which had been with difficulty rescued by the help of the law from the hands of his bigoted enemies. "I hope," adds Mr. Brodie, "he is a light in that dark place, but we cannot expect much from only a partially enlightened man."

PESHÂWAR.

The agency now at work at this station consists of two European Missionaries, Mr. Hughes and Mr. Jukes; a Native Pastor, the Rev. Imâm Shah; an honorary Native Catechist, Babu Sohun Lall; a Christian head master; three other Christian teachers; and (lately added) an Evangelist or Reader, a converted Affghan, who has been trained at the Lahore Divinity School. This last is a Sayad, or supposed descendant of Mohammed. The Native Christians on the rolls number seventy-seven, of whom thirty-one are communicants. Three adults were baptized during the year.—Respecting the schools, Mr. Hughes reports as follows:—

> There are 398 boys and 106 girls, making a total of 504 pupils on the rolls of our schools. The total number could be easily increased, but as Christian teaching cannot be secured for a larger number, we have closed some of our branch schools. The attendance at our central school is as large as it has ever been. The Inspector of schools was pleased with the general progress of this Institution. At the close of the year 1872, one student passed the Matriculation examination of the Calcutta University with credit, and ten passed the Lahore Middle School Examination. Christian instruction has been regularly imparted to the pupils, the first class being taken by the Missionary Superintendent, and the others by Christian teachers.

Mr. Hughes regards the spiritual enlightenment of the Mohammedans as the object to which the efforts of the Peshâwar Mission are more specially directed. The following remarks of his in reference to this subject will be read with much interest:—

> One feature in the religion of Islam which usually excites the admiration of Europeans in this country is the simplicity and devotion of its religious exercises. It is this, more than anything else, which has won the favourable criticisms of travellers in the east, and has been considered by some an argument in favour of the system. To listen to the early morning call of the Muezzin, "Come to prayer, come to prayer; prayer is better than sleep,"—to see successive rows of white turbaned Moslems fall low in solemn worship of their God,—to mark how the poorest villager worships side by side with his chief,—and to notice the absorbing reverence which characterizes every face, the rapt attention of every worshipper, is well calculated to awaken within us an admiration for the Mohammedan system. But when we remember that those prayers and prostrations are but the cold, mechanical performances of a meritorious duty, that not one in a hundred in that assemby knows, much less thinks, of what he is actually saying, that each prostration is said to be an act which can atone for sins committed, the veil is raised, the charm is broken, and we see the momentous difference between prayer, as taught by the Korán, and prayer, as beautifully expressed in the simple instructions of our blessed Lord. It is this which explains a phenomenon in the Christian religion. A Mohammedan will engage in devotion in the crowd, in the railway-carriage, in the midst of an assembly; whilst a Christian is often even ashamed to be seen praying. For whilst the devotional system of the one fails to affect the heart, that of the other teaches us that there is something so pure, so holy, so lofty, in true piety and true religion, that it demands sincerity and repels hypocrisy. Mohammedanism paralyzes the conscience; Christianity awakens and vivifies its pulsations. Many have expressed surprise that Government statistics should show a greater percentage of crime amongst the followers of Mohammed than amongst the idolatrous Hindus. But to those acquainted with the moral and ethical system of Islam, the fact is one easily accounted for. Its pernicious influence upon social life, and the degrading position which it assigns to women, are but too well known. . . . . An eastern traveller of some eminence (M. Vambery) some time ago wrote an essay on the Mohammedan revival, in which he says a revival of the Mohàmmedan religion is "surely extending itself over the entire surface and through the length and depth of Islam." In Central Asia the reverse is most certainly the case. M. Vambery has himself stated, in a more recent work (his history of Bokhára), that "Russian successes in Central Russia have dealt Islamism the severest blow it has ever received from Christendom in the course of a thousand years of struggle." And we can testify from our own observation that the fanaticism and bigotry of the people on our north-west frontier arise rather from jealousy and antagonism of race than from deep religious convictions. The number of Musjids, in which preaching is carried on, is exceedingly small, and the infidelity of many of their religious teachers is beyond a doubt. What, then, is the duty of Christians? To vilify and despise our Mohammedan fellow-subjects? To heap curses on those who deny the blessed truths of our religion? No, rather let us, in the true spirit of our Divine Lord, return good for evil. Attack the system of the Korán with the sword and it will flourish, for it is its native air. But touch it with the spirit of love, and like the sensitive plant it will yield beneath the power of that touch. And this is what the Church Missionary Society's Mission at Peshâwar attempts to do. Its schools, its bazaar preachings, its itinerations, and its charities have each and all its end in view—to press home Christian truth in a Christian way, and to lead the deluded followers of Islamism to the Cross of Him who said, "If I be lifted up, I will draw all men unto me."

Mr. Hughes narrates some interesting incidents of his itinerations. They are too long for insertion in this Report, but they show that the Affghans are willing to listen; and that notwithstanding their at present strong and demonstrative attachment to Mohammedanism, their kindliness almost invariably gets the better of their fanaticism, when the Missionary fearlessly trusts himself to them.

KASHMIR.

The Committee thank GOD that He has graciously raised up a successor to the late lamented Dr. Elmslie, in the person of Dr. Maxwell. Dr. Maxwell is a medical graduate of the University of Cambridge, and a nephew of the late General John Nicholson. He reached Srinagar, the capital, early in the summer of 1873, accompanied by the Rev. R. Clark, and was very courteously received by his Highness the Maharajah. The work had not been entirely neglected, as will be seen by the following very interesting extracts from a letter written by Mr. Wade, of the Lahore Divinity School:—

During the three months of last summer's vacation I went into Kashmir viâ Murree, in company with Mr. French and two Native Christian assistants of the late Dr. Elmslie. I was glad to find that some people on the way in, to whom I had given tracts in former years, had read them, and came and asked for more.

After reaching Srinagar, and making a Missionary excursion to the heathen festival at Amarnath, I started off to the east of the valley, accompanied by the two assistants and old Qadir Bakhsh, the Kashmîri catechist. Since I have known Kashmir, and I went there first in 1866 with Dr. Elmslie, I have never seen the people press in such crowds for medicines, or listen with such interest to the Gospel, as they did last summer in Islamabad and Vernag. At the latter place I have seen about 300 at a time assembled under the cherry and walnut trees there; from morning to night we were surrounded by the poor people clamouring for help. They followed us from place to place as best they could, walking sometimes with the greatest difficulty ten and fifteen miles; and many who could not travel so far would wait for hours at the sides of the roads along which we were expected to pass. Disciples would bring in their sick teachers, children their parents, and parents their children, on their backs or on their shoulders, or on Charpoys, or on doolies. One poor man carried his lame daughter over a rugged mountain path for about six miles, and looked unutterably sad when told we could not cure her. Before medicines were distributed a portion of Scripture was always read, and an address given to the people assembled. And very touching it was to see the old catechist, ninety years of age, standing up in the midst of a multitude of men, women, and children, exhorting them with tears to think of their eternal interests, and beseeching them by all they held dear, by the love of God, and the fear of hell, to come to the Good Physician, who alone could cure their sick souls, of which their sick bodies were but poor types, and give them lasting peace. Often have I seen him quite break down and mingle his tears with those of the sufferers around; and at the close of the address, when prayer was offered for a blessing on the Word preached and the medicines to be distributed, for health and light and liberty, the people would join with sobs, and sighs, and groans, and ejaculations to God for mercy, and after each petition would repeat a loud Amen.

Expression of affection for deceased Mission Agents.

His death is the greatest loss the Kashmir Medical Mission has sustained, next to that of Dr. Elmslie. They both had devoted their lives to the work, were well known and much loved in the country, and spoke the language of the people. Their names are remembered with much affection in the valley, and the people mourn their deaths as a personal loss. "Sahib," said one weeping, "God's curse must rest upon this poor oppressed country; for when Elmslie Sahib came amongst us like an avatar (incarnation of God), healing our sick bodies and speaking kind words to our souls, the poor Kashmiris rejoiced that they had at last one friend to care for them; but God took him from us; then his disciple was left, and now he is gone, and we are left friendless as before. Poor Kashmir!" I was very glad to tell them that another Dr. Sahib was coming out from England to live amongst them, and love them, and labour for their souls.

GENERAL.

So far as encouragement can be afforded by Missionary statistics, such grounds for thankfulness are not wanting in the Society's South Indian Missions. During the year the Native Christians, including Catechumens, have increased from 56,700 to 59,300, and the Communicants from 10,550 to 11,640. The adult baptisms have been 882. The evidences of extension vary in different places, being most striking among the Telugu and Malayalim populations; but there has been almost everywhere a marked growth in the self-support and independence of the Native Church.

MADRAS.

The Native Church.

The Native Christians in Madras are gathered into two pastorates, ministered to respectively by the Rev. W. T. Satthianadhan and the Rev. V. Simeon. These two brethren are connected with a Native Church Council; and all church expenses are met from a Native Church Fund. The Council has been in existence since the year 1868. The Church Fund, whose disbursements it regulates, consists partly of Native contributions and partly of a grant from the Church Missionary Society. The Native contributions yielded during the year 1873 the sum of Rs. 1828; and during the seven years since the formation of the Council the annual expenses of the Society in connexion with the Madras Pastorates have decreased from Rs. 4626 to Rs. 2040. This process is continuing, so that the monthly grant from the Church Missionary Society is now only Rs. 150, being just half of what it was six years ago.

Mr. Satthianadhan's Annual Letter, which refers to the Northern Pastorate, is deeply interesting, and calls for much thanksgiving to the Great Head of the Church. He writes:—

It is a matter for sincere gratitude that the Madras Southern Pastorate under my charge has been progressing favourably. Its numerical strength is 291, against 250 in the past year, an increase which is greater than that of all the years put together since the formation of the pastorate in 1867. The number of adult baptisms during the year has been nine.

There are some intelligent members in connexion with this pastorate who are making efforts to make their Church not only self-supporting, but also self-extending. Among these there are an M.D., a B.A., six F.A.'s, and two Matriculated men, all graduates and undergraduates of the Madras University. Besides these there are some others, who, though not graduates, have fair educational attainments. A large proportion of these men have tolerably good incomes, and are in easy circumstances. One of them, a prominent member of the Native Church Council, is a private medical practitioner; another is a barrister in the High Court. Several others are connected with the educational department. One of these has a large Anglo-Vernacular School of his own in Chintadreppettah, containing upwards of 300 boys. His curriculum embraces the Matriculation standard. The school receives no grant either from Government or from any Mission, and yet it is entirely self-supporting.

A vigorous Native Church.

Three or four of the members regularly assist me in open-air preaching. Seven others have recently formed themselves into an association whose object it is to reach and leaven the educated Hindus with the truths of the Gospel by means of English lectures. Two such lectures have already been delivered in the hall of the Anglo-Vernacular School already alluded to. On both occasions the hall was crowded, and the lectures were listened to with much apparent interest.

One of the adults baptized during the year is the wife of Jesudasen, the "Mudalia convert" from Sadras. He and his two children were baptized three years ago; but she stayed with her heathen relatives for about twenty months. Many were the efforts and prayers made on her behalf; but everything seemed ineffectual. At a time, however, when we least expected it, she joined her family, and, after a few months of instruction, was admitted into the Christian Church by baptism. Her name is Ruth Parangothe, and, like Ruth of old, she has been undergoing a series of severe trials. Her only daughter, named Gnanathebam, a sweet little girl of about twelve years old, was cut off by typhoid fever in May last. Gnanathebam was a pupil in one of our schools, and though she hardly knew her letters at the time of her baptism, she made such rapid progress, that she soon rose to the highest class. There is a Juvenile Association in connexion with this pastorate, comprising about thirty children. They meet together every Lord's-day for reading, exhortation, and prayer. Dear Gnanathebam was a leading member, and often edified them by her simple and earnest addresses and prayers. There was hardly a prayer in which she did not remember her poor heathen mother. She used to pray as follows:—"O Lord, bring my mother into Thy fold!" When, in answer to her prayer, her mother was brought into the fold of Christ, she paid a shilling as a thankoffering to the Lord. In the school she was like a little Missionary. She often conversed with her heathen schoolmates about religion, and influenced them for good. Her last words to her weeping mother were, "Jesus, Jesus." After a short illness, she sweetly fell asleep in Jesus. The whole school wept for her. This is one of the trials which Ruth Parangothe was called upon to endure. But this is not all. Her poor husband, Jesudasen, a true, earnest, and devoted convert, who was an inspector and Bible teacher in the three Hindu Girls' Schools under my wife's charge, was attacked with paralysis, and lost not only the use of his right extremities, but his powers of speech also. But to the praise of God's grace, these trials have been so sanctified for Ruth's spiritual good, that she is now a better, stronger, and more devoted Christian than before. "I loved my daughter," says she, "more than my God, and actually made an idol of her; but the Lord speaks to me in language which cannot be mistaken. He tells me, 'Do not depend upon earthly props and comforts, but look up to Me and Me alone.'" Her heathen relatives often taunt her with the remark, "What have you gained by becoming a Christian?" But she is not disheartened. She answers them thus:—"My daughter is gone to heaven, and is now in the presence of the Saviour, whom she loved and served here below. My husband is indeed weak in body, but happy in mind and right in spirit. Affliction and death are no loss to a true Christian." I am thankful to add that her husband is better, though his speech has hardly been restored; but it is beautiful to witness the sweet spirit of resignation with which he bears his affliction and submits to the Divine Will.

The Minister of the Northern Pastorate is the Rev. V. Simeon. Connected with it there are 472 Native Christians, of whom 208 are communicants.

Madras Itinerancy.

There are now 574 Native Christians connected with the itinerancy, of whom 239 are communicants. There have been seven adult baptisms. The Rev. W. P. Schaffter, who has charge of this branch, reports as follows:—

Under my charge I have four regular congregations and two villages with a few Christians, about each of which I shall briefly state some particulars.

1. Palâveram. This congregation consists of seventy-two souls, of whom twenty-four are communicants. It had been for a long time in a lifeless state. On Sundays scarcely a dozen people would meet in church, and only about four or five would attend at the Lord's Supper. Lately a great change has taken place through the zeal and wise management of the catechist I had appointed there. Prayer-meetings were established and well attended. All the expenses connected with the Palâveram Mission are met by local subscriptions. Our best thanks are due to the Rev. C. R. Drury, the chaplain, and also to the European residents at the station.—2. The Mount Congregation. The work here has been but lately handed over to the Church Missionary Society. Till November, 1872, it was carried on by the Rev. C. R. Drury, chaplain, the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel giving a monthly grant of Rs. 10. The London Missionary Society last February also closed their work here, and handed over their congregation, consisting of about forty or fifty souls, and their small vernacular school, to the Church Missionary Society. The number of souls connected with this congregation is about 180, and the number of communicants 71. On the whole, I have every reason to be pleased with the general conduct of the Native Christians of this place. This Mission also is entirely supported by local subscriptions.—3. Punamalli. This congregation has dwindled down from seventy-seven to fifty-eight souls. The nineteen missing have left for other places. With the exception of one or two families, all the others are very poor, and mostly servants. The one great fault connected with this congregation is that they do not exert themselves in the least to bring their fellow-countrymen or their own relatives to a knowledge of the truth as it is in Jesus. At Palâveram and the Mount, and at Mêvalur, there is more of this spirit, but none at Punamalli.—4. Mêvalur.—This congregation, which came over from the Romish Church some fifty years ago, is, on the whole, doing well. The people are tried Christians. For the last forty years they have stood steadfast in the faith, though at times they have been left almost entirely to themselves, and had to bear some amount of oppression from the heathen. As regards vitality in the Church, I have proofs of it in their desire to bring over souls from heathenism and Roman Catholicism to the true faith in the adjoining village of Valaveram. On the 4th of April the Bishop came over to this place to hold a confirmation. This was a great day for Mêvalur, being the first time a Bishop has honoured the village with a visit. For two or three days previous to his lordship's arrival the whole congregation was busy from morning to night, white-washing our pretty little church, raising a small mud wall round the cemetery, and making other preparations against his coming. Twelve men and twelve women were confirmed. This visit will be long held in grateful memory by the people of this place. The number of Christians in Mêvalur is 269, of whom 72 are communicants.

I recently called on all the communicants of the four congregations in my district to elect two members from each congregation, who were to form themselves into a Native Church Committee. This committee was to undertake the management of all their church matters and finances, subject to the sanction of the Madras Church Missionary Committee. The Mount and Palâveram congregations were formed into one pastorate, under the superintendence of one catechist; and the Punamalli and Mêvalur congregations into another pastorate, under the care of another catechist, assisted by a Scripture reader. Our first meeting of the committee took place in September. I am thankful to say that this arrangement has acted most beneficially on the congregations.

Every one of the catechists has a small district assigned to him to itinerate in, of which the village he lives in is the centre. He is bound to visit and preach in every village and hamlet within this district once a month. During the past year we have been permitted to baptize five adults and one boy, converts from heathenism. One of these, indeed, has since gone back. The persecution, which he at first firmly bore, at last proved too much for him. The others have proved steadfast in the faith. In three small villages about ten miles south from the Mount an awakening has taken place, and about seven families have expressed a desire to be instructed in Christian truths preparatory to baptism.

Hindustani Mission.

The work of this Mission is among the Mohammedan population. Hitherto it has consisted chiefly of an Anglo-Hindustani school (the Harris School) for Mohammedan boys and young men, under the charge of the Rev. E. Sell. In 1872 the Committee appointed a second Missionary, the Rev. M. G. Goldsmith, to make use of the footing thus obtained for efforts among the adults. While learning the language, Mr. Goldsmith, by the wish of the Committee, resided at Calcutta, where he was able to render some help in the English Sunday services that devolve on the Calcutta Secretary. He now returns to Madras, and is entering upon the work with much thought and prayer. Of the Harris School Mr. Sell writes:—

You will remember that for some years we have been slowly gaining strength at the rate of an extra class each year. I have now a very good preparatory matriculation class. It is not large, but the boys are intelligent and pleasant to deal with. Our numbers are now in the English Department 100, as against 79 this time last year. This year some of the pupils in the higher classes tried to organize a conspiracy to prevent the willing ones from reading the Gospels. The professed objection was a disinclination to speak of God as "Our Father" when reading the Sermon on the Mount. However, a friendly boy gave me warning, and I went to class prepared to meet the objection by a reference to the terms employed in Sufi poetry to describe the Deity. Thus the difficulty was got over without the loss of a single boy.

Efforts among Mohammedan's in Madras.

Owing to the standard of the school being low for some years past, not many boys have gone into Government employment; but those who have maintain a friendly intercourse with me, personally when in Madras, or by letter when away. The lads assume an attitude of firmness with regard to their own religion; but their objections to Christianity are generally directed against the authenticity and genuineness of the Scriptures, and never partake of the indecency and vulgarity so common amongst low Mohammedans. They are also apparently quite willing to read books when lent to them.

Generally speaking, the tone of Mohammedan society is, outwardly and socially, at least, more friendly than formerly, but the people are still very bigoted and reserved, and very much behind the Hindus in general progress and enlightenment.

Work in the Zenanas.

A new step has been taken in this department by asking a small fee from the pupils. As a rule, this has been cheerfully acceded to. The European lady employed by the Society in this work finds that "personal appeal" is rather avoided when the claims of the truth are pressed on their consciences, though, on the other hand, "there is no dislike to hear of our Saviour's life and doings." The Tamil versions of "Line upon Line" and "Peep of Day" are very acceptable.—Mrs. Satthianâdhan is also actively engaged in the same field.

OOTACAMUND.

It has pleased GOD that the Native Minister, the Rev. J. A. James, should pass through severe domestic bereavement, being deprived of his two eldest sons in two successive years. Nothing of special interest has occurred in reference to the congregation or the work among the heathen.

II. Tinnevelly.

The Mission is divided into 9 districts, viz. 1, Palamcotta; 2, Meignânapuram; 3, Suvisêshapuram; 4, Dohnavur; 5, Paneivilei; 6, Pannikullam; 7, Nallur; 8, Surandei; 9, Sivagâsi.

TINNEVELLY.

General.

With much ground for thanksgiving, the Committee last year could not regard the Tinnevelly Native Church without anxiety and apprehension. Individual instances of spiritual life were not few, but there seemed to be little general advance, while caste feeling checked the growth of mutual brotherly love. This state of things has not entirely passed away, but the Committee can thank GOD for signs of improvement. The number of communicants has increased by nearly one-tenth, numbering now not far short of 7000, or one-fourth of the whole number of baptized Christians.

During the visit of the Rev. E. Sargent to England the Committee had much consultation with him respecting the future plans of the Mission, and the further development of the Native Church. One feature of the policy which the Committee are disposed to adopt is that one or more senior Missionaries should devote themselves to the Native Church, whilst the other European brethren should labour chiefly among the heathen. The plan mentioned and described at length in last year's Report as newly introduced into the Travancore Mission—that, namely, of establishing both Provincial and District Church Councils for the management of the secular affairs of the Church—has been also adopted in Tinnevelly and seems likely to work well. Dr. Sargent, on whom the Archbishop of Canterbury kindly bestowed the well-deserved honour of the degree of a Doctor of Divinity, is now once again in South India, and is in deliberation with the Madras Corresponding Committee, and with his Missionary brethren in Tinnevelly, as to the best mode of stirring up the Tamil Church of that province to enter on the responsibilities of self-support and self-government. The Committee cannot too earnestly ask the prayers of the supporters of the Society that the Tinnevelly Native Christians may unitedly and individually enter into closer communion with their Divine Head and draw more directly out of His fulness.

PRÆPARANDI INSTITUTION.

The Rev. Ashton Dibb who was in charge of this Institution during the year 1873, wrote nine months ago an interesting account of its origin, progress, and present condition; from which the following extracts are selected:—

The object of this Institution is a large and important one. It is to supply the whole of the Church Missionary Society's Missions in Tinnevelly with catechists and schoolmasters, as well as to furnish theological training to candidates for Holy Orders.

Gradual growth of the Tinnevelly system for training agents.

In the beginning of the Tinnevelly Mission "not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble" joined the Christian ranks. Those who put themselves under instruction were poor, and withal very ignorant. They were also widely scattered in various localities, and the Missionary used to visit them for Christian worship and instruction as often as he could, which was not more than once a month. During the intervals between these periodical visits, it was necessary to have some instruction given, and some texts and truths of God's Word impressed upon the people's minds, both as a basis for further instruction, and also as nails to fasten in the disciples' memory the instruction which had already been given. And as few of the disciples were themselves apt to teach, this impressing of truths and texts by memoriter lessons was effected in some cases by heathen schoolmasters. By God's blessing, however, on His servants' labours, such agency was in a few years rendered unnecessary, and the Missionaries began to say—

"Non tali auxilio, non adjutoribus istis Tempus eget."

Another plan was tried. Each Missionary took in hand some of the more hopeful of his disciples for training as teachers; and after more or less of such training as, under the circumstances, he was able to give, employed them in the Mission. This plan met the emergency, and acted well for a time, but in a few years the progress of the Mission outgrew this also, and it was felt that something more was wanted.

A third plan was tried. One Missionary was appointed to take charge of all the young men who were to be trained for Mission work, and to make them his special charge. This plan secured both more regular instruction for the pupils, and also more liberty to the Missionaries to devote themselves to the work of their several districts; and it has been adhered to, with advantage, ever since. It was commenced about the year 1846, but was fairly established in 1851, when a substantial building was erected in Palamcotta as the Præparandi Institution, and placed under the care of the Rev. E. Sargent.

The results of all the toil and labour and expense which this Institution has entailed, are not to be told in a few words; but the palpable facts are that more than two hundred men have been sent forth from it to labour in the Mission fields of Tinnevelly, and that of these twelve have been ordained as Native Clergymen. The literature of the Tamil language—and especially its theological literature—has been also promoted. Good Tamil books in theology were scarce when the Institution was established, and consequently it was the work of the Principal first to prepare Tamil lectures, and then to elaborate those into Tamil books. In this manner, first a volume on the XXXIX Articles was published; then a Tamil translation of "Paley's Evidences of Christianity," and in addition a volume of Natural Philosophy.

The Præparandi Institution admitted at one time those only who were intended to become Readers, Catechists, and Native Ministers. During the years 1871 to 1873 it also trained those who were to become Vernacular Schoolmasters. It seems probable that the former plan will be once more reverted to.

ENGLISH INSTITUTION.

In the absence of Mr. Spratt, this Institution, which amalgamates the old Training Institution for Schoolmasters and the Anglo-Vernacular School formerly conducted by Mr. Cruikshanks, has been under the charge of Mr. T. Kember, whose report gives a full and clear delineation of the work which it has pleased GOD to entrust to him. Extracts only can be given here. Mr. Kember writes:—

The Institution, established on its present footing in October, 1870, has been steadily at work for three years. The following statistics for that period will be interesting:—Number on the roll in October 1870, 195; number admitted since, 221; number left, 246; average number on the Roll during the three years, 190; average number present, 150; number on the Roll September 1873, 170; average number of Christian Boarders, 48. The number of Christians, day scholars and boarders together, has generally been rather more than two-fifths of the total number on the Roll. The number of Christian Boarders at the end of September was 36. Of these, 7 were sons of the Native Clergy, and 17 sons of other Mission Agents; the remaining 12 were sons of other members of the Native congregations. Our numbers include youths of all castes, and of various religious creeds, Mohammedanism included.

Character of instruction received by heathen students in a Mission-school.

The Bible is read and explained daily; the doctrines and truths of Christianity are constantly reiterated, and the minds of all our pupils thoroughly imbued with Christian principles. And since more than half of those under instruction are Hindus or Mohammedans, the Institution has a thoroughly Missionary character.

It is seldom that we are permitted to see any direct results of our religious teaching, but we believe that the good seed will, in God's own time and way, spring up and bear fruit an hundred-fold. At present, the standard of our highest class is that of the University Matriculation. In the class next below, portions of the English text-books prescribed for the Matriculation are studied; and in all the other classes, a carefully graduated scheme is followed in all the subjects. The study of English has a most beneficial effect on the mind of a Hindu youth. As an instrument of mental culture it is excellent. It aids, in an eminent degree, the acquirement of the habit of thinking, a matter by no means easy of accomplishment. Besides this, the study of English is, indirectly, a medium of imparting Christian truth, and inculcating Christian principles and practice. It is remarkable to what an extent Christian doctrines and principles permeate and pervade the works of our great classical authors, portions of which are appointed for the University examinations. Take, for example, Cowper's "Friendship," one of the portions for this year's Matriculation. It is impossible to elucidate many of these passages without fully explaining the fundamental truths of our Holy religion, and the plan of salvation which it reveals. Often do we feel most deeply the need of grace, wisdom, and discretion, to enable us diligently to "sow beside all waters," and ever to be about our Father's business, losing no opportunity of declaring "the only name given under heaven among men, whereby they may be saved." Besides reading the historical and other portions of the sacred Scriptures, our more advanced pupils study a book on the Evidences of Christianity, by Dr. Mitchell, written expressly for Indian youth, in a strikingly clear and forcible style. No student can possibly leave our Institution after completing his reading for the Matriculation Examination without possessing a thorough head-knowledge of the leading facts of Bible History, and of the plan of salvation by Jesus Christ, which the Bible alone reveals. On Sundays we have classes for Scriptural instruction only. The attendance of the Hindus is purely voluntary, yet a goodly proportion of them regularly attend, and are amongst the most interested and thoughtful of the hearers.

The Boarders (who are all Christians) constitute our Normal department. They are classified in two divisions for instruction in the art of school-management and teaching. Those in the lower division read Dr. Murdoch's "Hints on Education," in the Vernacular; and those in the higher division read Fowler's "Manual on Teaching," in English. Every week Criticism Lessons are given by the Normal students, in turn; and for additional exercise in teaching, they go by turns to the Practising School, which is carried on close by.

A fair proportion of the students, when they leave the Institution, obtain employment as schoolmasters. Some have gone in that capacity to Madura, Ceylon, and Madras. Of these we receive, from time to time, satisfactory accounts as regards their efficiency and success. Many who have received their first notions of map-drawing and making plans from our drawing-master, have obtained employment in the "Revenue Settlement," and other Government Departments, where they acquit themselves with credit. A few of our students, after passing the Matriculation examination, have gone to Madras to continue their studies.

I believe the Palamcottah English Institution is doing a good and great work. It exercises a real and permanent influence on the Native community around, Hindu as well as Christian; and it is a real boon to our Native Christians. It furnishes a most valuable opportunity for those Native Christians who desire it, to educate their sons on Christian principles, and to give them the knowledge that shall render them capable of taking a creditable stand in society, and fit them to occupy offices of trust and responsibility, as well as the knowledge that shall make them wise unto eternal life. God grant that this influence may be continually increased and extended, to the glory of His ever-blessed Name!

SARAH TUCKER INSTITUTION.

As stated last year, this is a superior educational establishment for Native Christian young women with the special object of fitting them to become teachers in Mission Schools. During the year now reported of, it was under the charge of the Rev. A. H. and Mrs. Lash, who have since been compelled by the state of Mr. Lash's health to return to England. At the date of Mr. Lash's annual letter it contained 85 students. Their conduct and progress in Scriptural studies were satisfactory, and some of them give signs of a work of grace in their hearts. As regards secular knowledge it may be sufficient to say that the Government Inspector examined the Institution in January and gave a very satisfactory report. Other points are thus referred to by Mr. Lash:—

At present our 85 girls are from the following classes:—Daughters of Native Clergy, 13; of Catechists, 30; of Schoolmasters, 16; of Writers and Government Officials, 11; of Cultivators, 15. Our former Students are widely scattered, some of them having accompanied their husbands to Madura, Madras, Ceylon, and the Mauritius. Of several of these we have had very pleasing accounts. As far as we can learn the number of our former Students at present employed is, in the Sarah Tucker Institution and Branch Schools, 34; by Tinnevelly District Missionaries in Boarding Schools, &c., 9; in Madura, Ceylon, Madras, &c., 10: Total, 53.

Several affiliated girls' schools, have been established in connexion with the Sarah Tucker Institution in various parts of Tinnevelly. Mr. Lash's annual letter gives the following account of them:—

Female education in Tinnevelly.

Since November last we have established ten new Schools, and the number of girls on the Roll books of the thirty Schools affiliated with the Institution was 662 last quarter. This shows an increase of 200 since last Report. I lately visited the town of Tinnevelly and could not help being struck with the change that has taken place since the first Girls' School was opened there years ago. On my first visit shortly after the opening of the School I found an attendance of ten little girls, but I heard afterwards that my visit so alarmed the people that they took most of their girls away, for they said, "he means to carry them off to Palamcotta and make Christians of them." This week I found 100 children in the three schools now established in the town, and one of the principal inhabitants offered me a large room in his very fine house, free of rent, for our School, promised to send his wife and daughters to learn, and also to use his influence with the other inhabitants to induce them to send their girls. With regard to the funds for the support of these thirty schools we have not yet had to apply to the Committee for help: the liberality of friends and the aid we have received from Government having sufficed for their support. As the work extends—as we hope it will until the girls in the branch schools amount to thousands instead of hundreds—we may find it necessary to solicit a little help, and I have confidence that the Committee will not refuse assistance when it is needed. The work, as far as the caste girls in towns are concerned is an entirely new one; for when we arrived in Tinnevelly, nearly seven years ago, there was not a single school in the district attended by Caste Hindu girls, while the inhabitants of the towns were so opposed to female education that every attempt to establish such schools among them had failed.

PALAMCOTTA DISTRICT.

The Rev. Jesudâsan John, son of the deceased and well-known Rev. John Dêvasagâyam, is the Pastor of a sub-district, of which the town of Tinnevelly is the centre. In this pastorate there are six congregations, comprising 970 Christians, of whom 212 are communicants. Ten adults were baptized during this year. In one of his congregations, however, several have relapsed into heathenism. The spiritual work that is going on is illustrated by the following extracts from Mr. Jesudâsan's letter:—

Here I beg to bring to the notice of the Parent Committee, the case of a convert now in much affliction on account of his Christian profession. This man was of high-caste when a heathen. He broke caste and separated himself from his wife, but still lives in the same home with his wife under peculiar circumstances, being taunted by his wife and other caste people. He bears all this very patiently and continues speaking to his wife and others; telling them that he himself has felt the value of the Gospel and the love of Jesus Christ in his heart. He is much respected by most of the people in his neighbourhood. Three or four well-to-do Vellalans or Chetties are however very angry with him, and try all sorts of ways to make him renounce his faith. He has been severely beaten three or four times by his own brothers-in-law, and his property was taken from him. When he came and informed me all this, I asked him what he did for his enemies? Do you wish to go to law or to pray for them? He said, "I pray for them to the Lord Jesus Christ, to open their eyes to see their Saviour Jesus, like me. If they knew Him they would not do these acts."

Persecution of a convert in Tinnevelly.

Some encouragement has been met with in preaching to the heathen:—

We continue our efforts among the heathen living in Tinnevelly and its suburbs and its villages. In four principal places in Tinnevelly we have preaching-places, where we freely deliver the Gospel message. We preach the Gospel to them both individually and collectedly. Once I was kindly invited by a respectable man, a heathen, a Brahmin, the brother of a high official in Tanjore. He gave me a seat in his verandah and permitted me to tell him about Christianity. I was told he is one of those who read the Bible privately in their homes. A large crowd of heathens, (most of them were officials in the session court and Collector's cutcherry), gathered round me, and I had a great many questions to answer one after another. I silently asked help from God. One Brahmin at Tinnevelly at last asked, "What advantage do your people obtain by being Christians?" "By believing in the Lord Jesus Christ as their only Saviour, they obtain the pardon of their sins, peace of mind and eternal life hereafter." "Do you think all your Christians enjoy these privileges?" I said, "I cannot say they all do. I know there are many who enjoy these blessings, and we do our best to teach them to obtain them through the way appointed by God and revealed in His holy Word." The Native gentleman asked several questions about the new birth, baptism, &c. I explained to him the fundamental doctrines of the Gospel. Many allow the truthfulness and the excellency of our religion, but positively deny the possibility of walking up to it.

Conversation between a Native Minister and Native heathen of high position.

MENGNÂNAPURAM.

This district is under the charge of a Native Church Council, consisting of 14 Native Clergymen, and a larger number of lay delegates, with the Rev. A. Dibb as its Chairman. On its rolls are registered 13,206 Native Christians, of whom 2452 are Communicants. The adult baptisms during the year were 108.

SUVISÊSHAPURAM.

The Native Christians of this district number 2903, of whom 758 are Communicants. There were 641 adult baptisms. Respecting school work the Rev. V. Harcourt, the Missionary of the district, writes as follows:—

I regard school work as Missionary work, and direct Missionary work. "The kingdom of heaven is like to leaven." May not the leaven be introduced by the child's school-book or lesson, or artless talk, as well as by a tract or word sown by the wayside? I have sent the following short accounts of two of our little ones' death-beds to the "Juvenile Instructor," but I should like to insert them here also:—In Minâchinâthapuram one of my school-girls was dying. Her name was Yésudial. Her mother's weak faith failed her at the prospect of her child's death, and she tempted her to renounce her faith in Christ and rub ashes on her forehead and join in some heathen ceremony. The ashes were produced. The child was proof against the temptation; begged her mother to desist and to send for her teacher, and told him to pray by her and for her. She died clinging to her hope in her Saviour. Her father is a good Christian, and was very angry with what his wife had done. The whole scene made a strong impression on the heathen of the place.—Another instance of hopeful spiritual work effected in the school is that of a heathen lad, Vélâyutham, who was seized with small-pox of a virulent kind. His teacher still visited and prayed with him. When the lad's end was near, his heathen father related he held his school-book, the Gospel of St. John, close to his breast, and died with it so clasped. He was a Vellâlan youth. "He was your child," his father added, relating the circumstance, "and must have gone to your Mission-school if he had lived." Such a bright lad he was, and his school was in a little out-of-the-way cluster of houses, hardly worth visiting, as the school was small, and a visit involved a night's stay at the catechist's house. Yet here, as I believe, one of God's children was preparing his flight for heaven.

Strength perfected out of the mouth of babes and sucklings.

PANEIVILEI.

Paneivilei has a Native Church Council, with its three Native Pastors, its lay delegates, and its European Chairman, the Rev. A. H. Lash. The Native Christians at the last returns amounted to 2523; of these 476 were Communicants. Fifteen adults were baptized during the year. The Communicants are more than at any previous date; but in 1862 the number of adherents was greater than at present, reaching to 3020. It must be borne in mind that in the Tinnevelly districts it has always been the case that many attach themselves outwardly to the Christian Church from secular motives. Religious instruction is not refused to such, provided that they renounce idolatrous practices and submit to Christian discipline. Some of these after a time fall away, but others remain steadfast. An illustrative case is thus described by Mr. Lash:—

The inhabitants of one village in Mr. Abraham's pastorate, about ninety persons, have placed themselves under instruction, and given over their devil-temple to be used as a place of worship. I attended the village, and prayed with and catechized the people. On inquiring about their motive for desiring to become Christians, I learnt that they had had a dispute with their landlord, and thought that by becoming Christians they would secure our help. I begged Mr. Abraham to let them understand fully that I would do nothing to help them in their worldly affairs, and also to impress upon them that to take the name of Christians from such a motive was sinful and dishonouring to God. At the same time I begged him to endeavour to impress them with the fact that Christian privileges were infinitely more valuable than any worldly advantages, and to encourage them to persevere in their profession until they had learnt something about the truth as it is in Jesus. They have continued steadfast for more than six months now, and Mr. Abraham reports favourably of them. Several families in other villages have expressed their determination to embrace Christianity, and, on the whole, about 150 persons have placed themselves under instruction.

The two following extracts from Mr. Lash's Annual Letter will also be read with interest:—

There is not much to record in connexion with this district; things have gone on much as usual. The heathen and Roman Catholics have been rather more active in their opposition to Christianity, which is perhaps a good sign; anything is better than stagnation and indifference. The great danger in the present day is lest Christianity should be tolerated as a kind of new caste, and the sharp division between the Christians and the heathen be lost. The temptations of the Tinnevelly Christians resemble those of the children of Israel among the heathen natives of Canaan; and we have frequently to deplore a too-close intimacy between the Christians and their heathen neighbours, which results in a deadness to spiritual things, and too often leads to marriage connexions between them. Anything, therefore, like persecution for the sake of Christ, or arising from fear of the power of the Gospel, is, in one point of view, rather a subject for congratulation than otherwise.

Dying hours of a Native Pastor's wife.

I will conclude my letter with a few extracts from an account of the death of the wife of the Rev. David Rasenthiram, the Native Pastor employed in this district. She died on the 20th of May. Her husband writes as follows:—"I often approached the dying bed of my dear wife to inquire as to her hope. 'I thought,' said I, 'that God would call me before you to Himself, but now I see He is calling you first.' 'Yes,' she replied, 'I am ready to go to God. God will give you good health. You must love and guide our children.' She then turned to her children standing round her bed, and said, 'I have not strength to speak much to my precious children. My precious children! walk in the fear of God.' Then, after a little while, she said, looking upwards, 'Is this all this world can give? How bitter this is! Now I suffer from thirst, but in a little while I shall drink the living waters! In a little while I shall thirst no more. I am ready to go into the kingdom of God. Now my body is in great pain; pray for me that God will take me into His kingdom without much more suffering.' We then prayed for her. After this she asked to have the Lord's Supper administered to her. The Rev. A. Isaac, however, was not in the place; and I said to her, 'You have not power to swallow the bread.' She replied, 'It is good,' and did not ask for it again. I then said a few passages from the Bible, and she repeated the words after me,—'Oh, death, where is thy sting? Oh, grave, where is thy victory?' 'Whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth,' &c. She then looked up to heaven, and said, 'Ah! Lord, Thy servant is ready! send Thine angels to take me, and call me to Thy kingdom.' These were her last words." She leaves five children. One daughter has passed through her course at the Sarah Tucker Institution, and is now a teacher in the Paneivilei Girls' Boarding School. Another is a student in the Institution. Both are good girls, and we trust their mother's prayers for them are being answered.

NALLUR.

The Rev. D. Gnânamuttu, whose pastorate forms the western division of this district, thus speaks of the general condition of those for whose souls he watches:—

Though our number stands now almost the same as it stood before, yet I think our humble labours have not been in vain, as will appear from the following statements:—I have found, on close inquiry about the spiritual state of our people, that most of them keep the Lord's Day holy. They are making progress in Scripture knowledge; willingly obey the discipline of the Church; improve in their moral conduct; and have a zeal and love for the religion they profess. Family worship is conducted in about sixty houses; and about seventy individual Christians are in the habit of conversing with the heathen, visiting the sick among the Christians, and rendering help to the persecuted and afflicted members. They also assist in teaching the Sunday-schools and in conducting the Bible-classes. Special prayer-meetings for the conversion of the heathen and for spiritual growth among Christians are held in several congregations. A good number of our people have learned that it is their duty and privilege to contribute to the funds of the Church. A monthly prayer-meeting of all agents is also held at my place, for united prayer and consultation on such topics as are connected with our work. I am sure we too have had a share of the benefit of the united prayers of the people of God throughout the world on the 20th day of last December. I am glad to say that the 3rd of December—the day appointed by his Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury for Intercessory Prayer for Missions—was solemnly observed in all the congregations, the morning attendants being about 480, and the evening attendants 420.

Spiritual progress of Nallur Christians.

Mr. Gnânamuttu's pastorate is not very large numerically (numbering 1161 souls). These, however, are widely scattered over fifty or sixty different villages.—In regard to the number of houses (mentioned above) where family worship is conducted, it must be borne in mind that many Native Christian heads of families are unable to read.

SURANDEI.

The Rev. N. Honiss is the Missionary of this district. The statistics are as follows:—494 Communicants, 2456 Native Christians (including Catechumens), eleven adult baptisms during the year, and 897 children in the schools, of whom 101 are girls.

A Native Church Council (of which Mr. Honiss is the Chairman) exercises superintendence over the Christian community, and more particularly over the disbursements of the Native Church Funds. Pastoral duties devolve upon two Native brethren in Deacons' Orders, and fifteen or sixteen Catechists and Readers. Mr. Honiss's Annual Letter gives very interesting particulars respecting the condition and progress of the Native Church. It is subjoined with but few omissions :—

Advance of self-support at Surandei.

The Church Council I am inclined to regard as a great success. Having had charge of three districts for the greater part of the year, I have been led to throw a great deal of the responsibility on the Council. In all cases of removing agents, of dismissing, or employing others, they have been consulted. No money has been sanctioned for schools or church building, without their sanction and approval. Wherever serious disputes have arisen, the Council has sat in judgment, and their decision has been final. When any of the people or agents have had grievances, they have been discussed and disposed of in the Council. This responsibility and power has rendered the position of a counsellor honourable, and in addition to the number we started with, several applications for the office have been received. Some villages complained that they were not represented. Last week I was somewhat gratified at receiving an anonymous letter, complaining that I had appointed a catechist without the sanction of the Council. I am satisfied there is a healthier feeling with reference to self-support. In one village, a retired catechist has consented to perform the duties of a catechist for which he declines to accept any pay. At another place, there is a small congregation of not more than forty souls, from which when reductions were made, the catechist was withdrawn. For five years they have been hoping and begging that "the Mission would take pity upon them," which meant that they were still expecting that we should do for them all that has been done in days gone by. They have at last arrived at the conclusion that it would be as well to do something for themselves. Six months ago the head man told me that their children and women were growing up in ignorance, and they had determined to have a catechist of their own. They selected a man of whom I quite approved. They provide him with a house and food, and ask for the help of one rupee alone, per mensem, from the Mission. They have also collected £10 10*s.* towards an Endowment Fund for their Church.—In almost every village they have commenced an Endowment Fund for their Church, against the anxious day, when the purse-strings of the C. M. S. are drawn still tighter. The general Endowment Fund for the district amounts to nearly £600.

A converted thief.

At Uthumalei I was pleased to find my old friend Vaduvalu firm in the faith. He is the converted thief whose touching story I told at many a Missionary Meeting in England. When I saw him, a pretty little boy was standing by his side. "Is that yours?" I said. "No, my grandchild. His father is a heathen, but I like to bring him to church, and his father does not object." "If you accustom him to come to church, and teach him, he may grow up a Christian." "Yes," he replied, placing his hand upon the head of the little innocent; "if God has had mercy on me, the greatest sinner in Tinnevelly, won't He have mercy on him?"

No special mention is made of work among the heathen. But it may be observed that the great majority of the school children are of heathen families.

SIVAGÂSI.

The statistics of this district give the following numbers:—Native Christians, 3744; Communicants, 579; adult baptisms, 28. In 1857 it numbered only 950 persons under instruction. It has its Native Church Council, of which the Rev. R. R. Meadows is the Chairman. The following interesting papers are extracted from Mr. Meadows's Report for 1873, and from a letter written by the same Missionary, in November, 1873:—

After more than two years' residence in England, we returned with health thoroughly established, and reached Madras the last day in April. Many, many thanks to God for the mercies connected with our sojourn there and our return to our work! Mr. Spratt had very kindly taken charge of the district, in addition to his other and numerous duties. I was sorry not to have the opportunity of thanking him in person, besides consulting him on many points.—We were grieved at not seeing the familiar faces of some whose intimate acquaintance we had enjoyed, and whose Christian character we had long admired. One of these was the matron of the boarding-schools, who died about a year before we returned. We had left her in charge, and she had faithfully and efficiently done her duty. All who visited the schools during our absence, both Missionaries and Government servants, bore one and the same testimony to her efficiency, and to the neatness and order which prevailed. She was a woman of rare Christian excellence. Mrs. Meadows loved her as a sister, and wept over her loss as such.—It is difficult to make any general remark which shall apply to all the congregations; for they vary much from one another. There are congregations where all seem ignorant and bad. There are others where a few promising exceptions are to be seen. And there are bright, hearty, well-instructed Christians in a goodly number of places. There are Christian congregations in at least 105 villages, besides individuals and single families in a great many more.

Much prayer and praise will be called forth by the account contained, in the following extract from Mr. Meadows's letters, of God's work in several individual conversions:—

The town of Sivagâsi seemed to be awaking from its long slum-

ber. I had not reached Sachiapuram, perhaps a single day, before two men, whom the more I know the more I value, came forward and said they wished to become Christians. They were men of influence in the town, both living in good substantial houses, and one of them considered a man of wealth. They had already began to search the Scriptures diligently. They had for some time been paying a young Christian woman, the daughter of my writer, to teach their girls to read. As time went on I found that they had closed their shops on Sundays, and had severed mercantile connexions involving Sunday labour. But they lingered a little, for they wished their wives to be baptized with them; and they had a friend, equally earnest with themselves, whose illness made delay on his part imperative. However, on Sunday, November 2nd, they, their whole households, and their friend were baptized, and with them, several from an older congregation in the town, making in all (adults and infants) 17 persons. These men are no ordinary Christians. They have considered well every step they have taken, and pondered over every chapter of the Bible. They often came to me with hard questions, or with difficult verses. One of their questions was: "If the serpent was the unconscious instrument of Satan's subtlety, why did the curse fall upon it?" One of their texts was: "And surely your blood of your lives will I require; at the hand of every beast and at the hand of man." One of them I found had been puzzling over the subject of the Canon of the New Testament: "Who fixed it?" "On whose authority were these books received and other writings rejected?" Then I found that the richer man of the two had gathered from the Scriptures the duty of almsgiving, and had resolved to give one tenth of his income. I anticipate great results from the conversion of these men, and ask for prayer that they may continue earnest and faithful unto death.

A portion of the Sivagâsi District forms the pastorate of the Rev. D. Devapprasâdham, who writes as follows:—

My work is in North Tinnevelly, amongst a large population near the Western Ghats. The Congregations are poor, and their numbers few. But they that sow in tears shall reap in joy. God knows who of them are His. We must expect to see tares among the wheat, and as the soils are various, so will be the fruit. Some value the means of grace, are anxious for salvation, and wish to glorify God. Trials drive some away from Christ and the Gospel, while those trials tend to bring out the faith of some. One of the greatest trials is that connected with marriage. Some marry heathen wives, yet without heathen ceremonies. . . . How few are my Christians compared with the heathen! and what are six catechists and five schoolmasters to so many! Yet the catechists do what they can, some having 100, some fifty villages to preach in, which they visit some once, some three times in the year, according as they are far or near. Of course they preach only to those they meet in the streets. Their voice cannot reach the interior of the houses. The objections which the heathen raise are the following:—"Your religion is good, nay, too good for us to think of walking according to it. We shall come to it if it is so fated; and when God gives the will." Others are simple infidels, and say, "Who has seen heaven or hell?" "Who knows whether we have a soul, or whether there will be a resurrection?" Some say, "Wait, wait." Others are of no outward religion, but fear God in secret. Some are searching into our religion. We have to contend against many obstacles, among which may be mentioned caste prejudice, caste customs, ignorance, superstition, as well as fornication, drunkenness, and pride. Difficulties about marriage, and the fear of losing friends, keep many back. Then some fear the persecution of their superiors, or are deterred through fear of losing their favour. Hence they throng to draw the idol cars. Very few put themselves under Christian instruction from a sense of need of salvation. They come for the most part to get protection, and those who fail generally go back. A few remain, and live to the glory of the Lord, who walks in the midst of the Churches, gives His Spirit, and removes all defects.

State of the heathen in North Tinnevelly.

The Rev. V. Vedanayagam is the Native Pastor of Vâgeikulam, another section of the Mission District of Sivagâsi. It contains 1700 Native Christians, of whom 164 are Communicants. Twenty adults were baptized during the year. Other marks of progress and God's blessing will be found in the appended extracts from Mr. Vedanayagam's Annual Letter:—

During the year the number of the Christians, including the Catechumens is somewhat increased, there having been an accession of about 400 people from heathenism, including children, most of whom have no doubt sought instruction from worldly motives. How far they will stand firm remains to be seen. Although the receiving of such people is objected to by some, I do not see any reason why we should reject them when they come and entreat us to take and instruct them in the way of salvation, as it is set forth in our Holy Bible, however defective their motives may be. We employ itinerating Catechists, assigning them so many heathen villages, bidding them go about from village to village to preach the Gospel, though it is known that they often return home quite dejected, having met with no people that would listen to their preaching. Whereas these people voluntarily come and sit down before us, with their wives and children, listening with attention to what we have to say.

I told you in my last letter of a baptism of an interesting nature having taken place at Kalugu Malei, one of the noted citadels of Satan in Tinnevelly, and that the Gospel, the blessed leaven, was silently working in the hearts of the people there; and so, through the good hand of God, we have had some three baptisms of people of different castes, viz. a Brahmin, a Vellâlan, and an artisan, baptized one after another at three different times. The first of these having been, for a period of twenty-two years, an intimate friend of Swamidâsan Naik, the first-fruits of Kalugu Malei, was through his persuasion led to read the Gospel, which he did several times over and over for a long period of six years, at the end of which time he came forward at the risk of losing his dear wife and children, and was baptized last April at Sachiapuram, where he still remains. He belonged to a respectable family of a peculiar class of Brahmins, whose chief business used, in former times, to be sacrificing horses and cows; Srowthies (priests). Nididâsan himself—for that is his baptismal name—was called before his baptism Ramalingam Srowthy. He had been employed by the late Ettiapûram Zemindar to pray for him every day, being monthly paid by him; and his grandfather was highly honoured by the said Zemindar. But Nididasan can truly say with St. Paul, "I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord." For the last eight months he has been separated from his wife, whom he loved and still loves with great affection, and, I fear, from what I have just heard, the separation will be a lengthened one. May God, with whom nothing is impossible, so order things that they may soon be reunited! Christian sympathy and prayer are solicited on his behalf.—P—— P—— and S—— A——, who have been baptized one after another, from Kalugu Malei, have been the happy results of the untiring efforts of Swamidasan Naik, the schoolmaster of the town. All these good results are, however, under God, due to that noble institution, the Bible Society, which had sent us gratis, some seven years ago, a large supply of Tamil New Testaments to be distributed among the heathen schoolmasters in this district. One of these was accordingly given to Swamidasan, the schoolmaster, who was then called Ramaswamy Naik; and it has, through God's mercy, done its glorious work as a blessed leaven in the hearts of the above-mentioned individuals, changing their hearts and consciences, and making them fit for the kingdom of Heaven. But when the dough is leavened, it must needs be put on the oven; trials and afflictions commonly attend this change; thus saints are made fit for their Master's table. And so the faith and patience of these dear men are sorely tried. P—— P—— undergoes a severe trial through his wife and brothers and relations. He is daily taunted and reproached. His wife came to me with all her children, almost immediately after his baptism, threatening that if I did not suffer her husband to go back to heathenism, she would kill herself and her children in my presence, and that she would rather do this than suffer the disgrace of seeing him a Christian. The man, however, was not in the least intimidated by this; and he faces all the fiery ordeal as a true Christian in a calm and composed mind. He was baptized by Mr. Meadows at Sachiapuram on August 1. Several other baptisms also of an important nature have taken place in the year amongst the Naiks and others.

General.

The Malayalim language, which may almost be regarded as a dialectic variation of Tamil, is spoken throughout all the districts occupied by the Society in these two Native States; and the Mission taken as a whole may therefore be termed the Malayalim Mission. Though not without its weak points, it has for many years enjoyed visible blessing from the Lord of the Harvest. The year just closed again calls for the same thankful acknowledgment. Nearly 400 adults have been baptized, and there has been a yet larger addition to the number of Communicants, while among the slave population (now liberated) inquirers and catechumens are still coming forward in considerable numbers.

A still more interesting feature of the year has been the religious awakening in Travancore, of which most of the readers of this Report will have heard something. By December, in 1873, this revival had extended to thirteen congregations of the Syrian Church, and to nine of the Society's congregations. Later accounts speak of it as extending into fresh districts among the Syrian Christians, and becoming more connected with the reform-movement in that ancient community. The Rev. David Fenn, one of the Society's Secretaries at Madras, who was visiting Travancore at the time, gives the following account of its first rise:—(the two Evangelist brothers whom Mr. Fenn mentions, are the brothers of the Rev. Justus Joseph, one of the Native Pastors connected with the Society):—

Origin of Revival in Travancore.

In July last in Manguri, a village in which the two evangelist brothers Jâco and Matthai live, a woman of our congregation had a remarkable dream. A dark cloud seemed to come down from the sky close to her, resting, as she thought, on her neck, and at the time she heard a voice saying to her, "Except you repent you will perish." She awoke in a tremor, and was very deeply affected: she had not before shown any signs of being a decided Christian. About the same time the wife of one of the evangelists, a truly Christian woman, saw a similar vision, which produced a deep impression upon her. The two women began to speak to and pray with others very earnestly. Soon after, the C. M. S. schoolmaster in Kattanam itself was struck down, his body trembling, and his mind overpowered with a sense of his sins. Others in Kattanam were similarly affected; some Syrians in Kayankulam, a market town four miles from Kattanam, who had always been on friendly terms with the C. M. S. congregation there, came over to see what this new thing was. The two evangelists also were active in seizing the opportunity of preaching earnestly to both Syrians and heathen. From these places the movement spread till it reached in all nine congregations of those connected with us, and thirteen of the Syrian Church.

Further extracts from the same letter illustrate the character of the revival. Mr. Fenn writes:—

Features of the Travancore revival.

At Manguri I had some conversation with Matthai, the younger of the two evangelist brothers, on the all-absorbing subject. When I asked him what fruits besides sorrow for sin, the revival was bringing forth, he mentioned zeal in making known the Gospel, watchfulness against spiritual pride, and reconciliation between those before at variance. From Manguri we went on to Kayankulam. This is a busy market town, with a large Syrian congregation said to amount to 1000 persons, besides some Romo-

Syrians, Mohammedans, and many Hindus. There are seven Catanars (Syrian clergymen) attached to the church, one of them a nephew of the Metran (Bishop). All the seven seem to have thrown themselves into the movement, and some of them have been subjects of overpowering physical sensations. About one hundred of the congregation have been also subjects of these, though the Catanars do not speak confidently of more than fifty as truly converted. Some of the Catanars understand Tamil, and others are said to be learning it, on purpose to enable themselves to make use of Tamil Christian books. There has been lately more calmness; but the diligence of the people in attending daily service at church has not abated. Before the revival no one came to church except on Sundays and on fast days. Now besides a fair congregation every morning, there is one of at least one hundred every evening at a service lasting above an hour, in which two chapters are read, lyrics sung, extempore prayer offered, and an address given by a Catanar, each taking his day in turn. They asked me to give the address this evening. It was interesting to hear the two chapters read by one of the Catanars from Mr. Bailey's Malayalim Bible distinctly and intelligibly; there were at least 250 people present, the lyrics were joined in heartly, and so was the Lord's prayer at the conclusion of each extempore prayer. The most striking feature, however, was the way which the whole congregation took up the word Kartthava (O Lord), with which each petition was concluded. In the second extempore prayer, offered by a member of the congregation, in more passionate tones, this fervour of desire to join degenerated into a confused murmuring which would soon have drowned the voice of the man who led in prayer, if he had not concluded. I then spoke to them from Phil. i. 8 and Heb. vi. 1. They listened with much attention, seeming quite to understand my Tamil.—I heard about the revival also from the Rev. Messrs. Tharien, O. Mamen, and J. Joseph, three of the Native Pastors. Their accounts confirmed what I saw and heard as above described. It is perhaps too soon to attempt any calculation of the numbers who show signs of a real change of heart. From what I heard in regard to two or three of the Syrian congregations, I should be inclined to think that, as at Kayankulam, so in other places, from 50 to 100 were awakened in each place. Our own congregations in which the revival has taken place are much smaller; and possibly not above ten or fifteen have been awakened in each; in some cases even fewer. The new interest shown in lyrics is very remarkable. The tunes are introduced from Tamil. The lyrics are five in number and were composed since the revival began by a younger brother of the two evangelist brothers. They have had a very large sale, and are exceedingly popular. They seem just to give the vent required for the excited feelings of the people, and while our English tunes cannot be mastered by Native congregations, these Tamil tunes, when there is a good leader, are taken up by hundreds of voices at once with the greatest accuracy. The movement is one of the deepest interest, but its influence and proportions must not be over-estimated. On the one hand from our conversation with the Catanars of Kayankulam we gathered that they are somewhat timid about introducing permanent reforms. They fancy that if they adopt the reformed liturgy printed by the Catanar of Tiruwella, and in use in some churches in that neighbourhood, they will alienate the minds of other Syrians, who dislike this as savouring of the "English Church," though it merely contains such omissions as I believe their revivalists themselves approve of and practise. On the other hand, they seem to be pushing extempore prayer rather to an excess, in a way much more likely, one would have thought, to alienate the non-reforming party. It would be a very desirable step if the Metran would authorize a simple form of daily prayer, to which extempore prayer may be added, when desired.—In regard to many of the subjects of the revival, it seems as if they did not yet understand that the joy of the Lord is their strength. They seem to cherish their feelings of conviction and sorrow for sin, and to continue too long in the first stage of the Christian's new life. The constant recurrence day after day of the same physical sensations in the same persons, and the continued clamour caused by several members of the congregation crying out together, so as to drown the voice of him who leads in prayer, are somewhat unwholesome signs. These might, as we saw, be easily checked; but the leaders seem unwilling to do so, as they regard them, if not as a sort of miracle, yet at least as a means by which the Spirit works. However these things have subsided in places where the revival began three months ago.—It is encouraging to notice with what respect our own Native Clergy are everywhere received, and what an influence for good they seem to be exerting both on Catanars and people.

COTTAYAM.

Cambridge Nicholson Institution.

The Rev. J. M. Speechly has lately resumed charge of this Institution, after absence (through failing health) of nearly three years, returning to it early in 1873. During that time it was not found possible to appoint any resident Principal. There were thirty-two resident Students at the date of Mr. Speechly's annual letter. Mr. Speechly's desire is not so much to have a large number of students, but rather to raise their qualifications, as well by other means as by exercising increased care in the selection of those admitted. He has already a class of four superior young men that are studying under his superintendence English, Greek, and Sanskrit. One of them is a Syrian deacon. The future employment of these young men is a question on which direction must be sought from Him who giveth wisdom.

COTTAYAM COLLEGE.

The following extracts from the Report of the Rev. J. H. Bishop will show the present condition of the College and the character of the studies pursued:—

Objects aimed at in a Missionary English College.

We commenced our duties in the institution for the year 1873 on January 2nd with 137 students on the rolls, and closed on December 9th with 119. The general routine and instruction imparted in the college have been similar to those of the previous year. Our object has been, and still is, not to cram boys for any particular examination, but to give them, in every sense of the word, a good liberal education based on Christian principles, such as is suitable to the age and country in which we live, and such as will fit boys for any position in life to which in God's Providence they may be called. This high standard should be kept in view by all those engaged in Christian education. The work will not then seem a drudgery, nor will it be performed in a perfunctory way—it will be regarded as a noble profession, it will bring with it its own reward. Are we teaching boys History, and shall we pass over the deep moral instruction with which the life of a nation, like that of an individual character, is replete? Are we teaching Geography? Shall we merely make the students learn by rote a few lists of towns, or rivers, or capitals—the dry bones, as it were, of the lesson,—shall we not give the lesson life, and point out to our pupils the deep interest attached to all members of the great human family and all that concerns them—that they are our brethren—children of a common Father—that we ought to sympathize with them, and ask how we can benefit them? Should we not consider how the marvellous inventions of the age have in some instances annihilated space and brought distant nations and peoples face to face. Thus every lesson in geography should enlarge our hearts, should make us more unselfish and more grateful for our mercies, as well as enrich our memories with useful or curious facts. Are we teaching Mathematics? What a deeply interesting and profitable subject we have here if we regard it in a proper light, not as a mere mechanical or ingenious puzzle, but to show us the proper mode of investigating truth! Who can estimate the importance of furnishing the minds of young men going forth into a world abounding with error and sophistry, with instruments whereby they can distinguish truth from falsehood, the real from the sham, light from darkness. The course of study pursued in the college embraces the subjects required for the Matriculation Examination; but as most boys do not receive further instruction after the Matriculation Examination, we endeavour to teach them other subjects which will expand their minds and enlarge their ideas, such as ancient and modern history, experimental science, a little Greek—which forms an interesting link between the Sanskrit and English languages—and also elementary mental philosophy.

Nine of the Students presented themselves for the Peter Cator Prize Examination in Scripture (open for all Students of a certain age in South India). Of these four were successful, one obtaining the first prize, worth sixty rupees. Four Students also were candidates for the matriculation examination at the Madras University, all of whom passed, one in the first class.

COTTAYAM, PALLAM, AND MUNDAKAYAM DISTRICTS.

The Society's work here has been carried on by the Rev. H. Baker. As Chairman of the District Council he thus reports of the Pastorates :—

Native pastorates in Travancore.

Cochin is the most northern; here Mr. Kuruwella has held his own work continuously, though afflicted with much illness in his family. Several of the European heads of firms here have been most liberal in subscribing for benches for seating the congregation, and for communion plate; the endowment fund provides both a minister and a Scripture reader for this church; and the subscriptions of the congregations cover all other necessaries; so that I may call this an independent and self-subsisting pastorate. A worthy old reader has been removed by death, in which he proved his faith by his works; a new and, I trust, worthy successor has been appointed from the Cambridge Nicholson Institution, one of the Bishop's prize-men.—At Olesha Mr. Thoma has not only worked diligently in his own pastorate, but has helped me one Sunday every five weeks at Cottayam Church; and is joint editor with me of the Treasury of Knowledge, of which 500 copies and over are sold, and which sustains itself. The people of this pastorate, from being rather close, have become very liberal; a turbulent congregation has become orderly; and the increase has been steady but sure, not, as Mr. Thoma says, "in rushes, but here one and there one, showing, probably, a stable, permanent, increase." Prayer-meetings and readings of Scripture here, as elsewhere, are increasing.—At Cottayam I am myself the pastor. At first I could not keep up the continuous interest of the people during a twenty minutes' sermon; women played with their children, or would not stand up at proper times; men slept in peace during the Collects and Litany, so much so that one of my Missionary brethren rather thought I brawled and interrupted the service by keeping order; the utter carelessness was indeed sad in church; drunken suppers were frequent; and monthly attendance at public worship was thought sufficient by some. Some have now left the church; at the same time there is an increasing interest in religion and attendance at the Lord's table among the College and Institution lads; the congregation has begun to brighten; people meet now for prayer. Still there is room for improvement. A teacher in the College, another from the Model school, have been churchwardens during the past year; and I owe them, and other Christian men of the congregation, much for their example, teaching, forbearance, and settling of quarrels among us!—At Pallam, where most of the people have been baptized by me, or with few exceptions brought in by my father or myself, Mr. Koshi has been quietly but surely at work. Much of his time is taken up in Bible revision, and in supervising manuscripts for the Tract Society; but the schools and people are still cared for. I sometimes wish Mr. Koshi's time was entirely given to his literary work; but we should then lose his teaching, which I value much for my old children. Many here are of Syrian, Nair, or Chogan origin. One remark made by this pastor I can fully corroborate. "The superiority in Bible or confirmation classes of women who have been in girls' schools, is wonderful; you strike the steel and the spark follows; in other Native women the mind is all dough, too wet or dry to be moulded any way."—At Changanachery Mr. Koratha has rather an extended district; and the majority of his people were once low-caste people, with a sprinkling of Syrians and Chogans. He has a very interesting congregation now, gathered out of a neighbourhood where much work has been done for years with apparently little success. Now the result has been that of many inquiring, earnest people, some have been induced to join the Roman Church, and many have come to us. Changanachery itself is a large market town, to which important roads are being made; many of the poorer people, consequently, crowd to this centre, and our Pastor has daily opportunities of preaching and conversation, of which he fully avails himself. The church and pastor's house are very happily situated at the entrance of the town, and stand prominently out.—Erecarte and this neighbourhood require much hard travel, and Mr. Jâko is fully capable of it.—Mallapalli still contains a warm-hearted, honest people, and Mr. O. Mamen, to the utmost of his strength, does his work. The slave population all round is being brought to learn and be formed into congregations; the Syrians have followed our people, and here, as at Puthupalli, have their meetings for devotion. The Sunday-school here is a most important agent for good: great numbers of young men have not only learnt to read in it, but are now voluntary unpaid helpers in teaching others, and able, many of them, to show that they are learned in Scripture, able to give answers regarding the faith committed to them. The village schools are in order, and the people have raised Rs. 500 to enlarge their church, besides their Rs. 1500 endowment, and Rs. 75 (now raised to Rs. 100) for current expenses annually.

I have two more pastorates, Mundakayam and Melkavu, under my care. The Rev. Messrs. A. Jâko and M. Curien have in a great measure the charge over these places, but being only in deacons' orders have not full charge. With the exception of Mundakayam village itself, where all castes congregate, the people are all Arrians. Mr. M. Curien has, during the past year, lived at Mundakayam, and has exercised a good influence. Road-making and other public works had caused a great demand for labour, and the circulation of considerable sums among a poor people; this had led them to neglect religious duties much. Some, living in open sin, have been sent out of the church; but I hope we are improving. The Arrians, on the whole, all along the villages, continue stable, and are gradually increasing in numbers.

The following passages are extracted from Mr. Baker's account of what is more purely his Missionary work:—

Missionary work in the hill country of Travancore.

On the steep sides of the highest hill—like birds' nests, perched among the rocks—are numbers of Arrians; rarely do low-country people reach them. Mrs. Baker went once; I and Mr. K. Jâko and a few Readers have often visited them. We have fifty-three baptized, and others also adherents, among them. A great desire to be Christians is prevalent, but some Moormen pedlars, and a man who seeks to farm these hills, are the opponents; they fear the loss of their gains if the people are taught to read, as they did among the Melkavu hills, the pupils outstripping the teachers in acuteness. However, besides the regular teacher, himself a Christian Arrian, agents of Syrian birth are now regularly traversing these hills till the fever season begins, and I hope myself to be there some time this season.—In the Etamanûr talûk I have five congregations of people, once called slave or unclean (Pûliar). These worship in long, neat cajan sheds, and are in possession of the land, as registered for this purpose, after long series of contests and absurd pretexts often put forward against us. Some of these people live on hills, cultivating ginger, turmeric, orris root, &c. for their late masters; but one congregation is scattered along bogs and marshes. The school-house is on the bank of a deep river full of alligators, and dangerous. Twice have gangs of tobacco-smugglers taken possession of the school, and kept it against all comers during bad weather; hence you may imagine how wild a spot these marshes are.—Arpucurra, eight miles to the north of Cottayam in this district, is at present the head-quarters of one of our Deacons. The Bishop confirmed 200 persons here during his last visit. This congregation is a very mixed one, being composed of Syrian and Chogan converts and others; it acts, too, as the mother church of the five others referred to above.—I have rather an unsatisfactory congregation twelve miles east of Cottayam, another of Syrians at seventeen miles, and three more south and east of that, all situate in a wild country between Mundakayam and Mallapalli. This whole land has been thickly inhabited; now whole villages are gone, but jack and mango trees in hundreds show where they once flourished. Some ancient families have large estates, and many poor tenants upon them. Nedencûnna, Sherwilly, Kungra, and other places, have a few rich people, but hundreds of poor of every caste; here, God willing, we shall have good congregations. I have baptized many in the last few years, and a very good and earnest spirit is manifested by the people. The difficulty is that these people are unwilling to go to worship far, and want a place to meet in each village; this neither our means nor the number of our agents will allow. Schoolmasters voluntarily teach adults on Sundays, but even thus the agency does not suffice, for the converts are very ignorant.—There is a large deserted village on the borders of this portion of my district, which many of our poor people beg me to procure for them, and they would settle it, just as Mundakayam was settled. On commencing my Mission to the Arrians I wanted a central spot; there was land, and at that time Hindus becoming Christians were disinherited. I had many such poverty-stricken men; I lent them seed; for years they have wanted nothing of any man, but are independent Christians, rather too much so for many. I considered the time and plan for Mundakayam good; but now poor Christians get more protection than they did twenty-two years ago; hence I doubt about encouraging a new settlement to aid their self-help.

Mr. Baker, with the aid of Mrs. Baker and his eldest daughter, superintends also a Girls' Boarding School, with seventy-three pupils, six of whom form a Training class. The expenses are partly met from a fund supplied by a friend in England, who has wished that the Institution thus founded might be termed the Buchanan Institution, and might have for its object the promotion of higher Christian education among the women of Travancore.

MÂVELIKARA.

The Rev. J. Caley is the Society's Missionary at this station. He superintends the work in the Mission districts, and is chairman of the district Church Council for the pastorates. The statistics are as follows:—In the Pastorates, Native Christians, 3434; Communicants. 1110; Adult baptisms, 38. In the Mission districts:—Native Christians, 2106; Communicants, 576; Adult baptisms, 58. The following passages are extracted from Mr. Caley's Annual Letter:—

Native Ministers in Travancore.

The Native Ministers in this district are all earnest-minded men of God who are earnestly doing His work, and I feel it a privilege to work with them. But although much has been done in the district, much also remains to be done. There are numbers of heathens to whom the Gospel must be preached, heathens who must be won to Christ. The organization and consolidation of the Native Church are great matters, still we must not forget the aggressive part of our work. There are Hindus who could be reached if only we had the means. The reductions that took place last year placed the Mission in a sort of from hand-to-mouth condition, barely able to occupy the ground it had won. This is not enough. We must go on. But, however, I sincerely trust the next quarter will place us in a better condition.

Attempt to catch fishermen in the Gospel net.

I have got a school established on new ground, and have more than forty children in it. The place is called Radapuram, on the sea-coast opposite the Pastorate of Puthapally. During a tour about seven weeks ago the Native Minister of Puthapally and I went across the backwater to see these people. We found they knew the art of catching fish, but that was all. In fact, to hear them talk, you might have thought that there was nothing else going on in the world but fishing. After getting them to explain to me some of the means they adopted, and the different nets they used to catch fish, &c. &c., I told them of one who had got them in his net, and asked them how they were going to get free. By-and-by we got their attention, and were able to let them know something of our message. When we left I told the Native clergyman that we ought to try to do something for them, and asked him to go over again and see if he could get a school there, and so by degrees reach the adults. The next time I saw him he had got a school started, and last week he told me there were more than forty in it.

ALLEPIE.

At this station the Native Christians on the Society's register number 561. Of these no less than 145 are Communicants, but their spiritual vitality does not show itself in any successful efforts for the conversion of the heathen. No adult baptisms took place during the year. A suitable Native Pastor is yet to be sought for. The Society's Missionary at the place (Rev. W. Johnson) is, however, able to mention some proofs, though partly of a lower and secondary character, of the power of God's grace among the Allepie Christians. He writes :—

A European merchant who employs hundreds of Natives in his factory here, assured me he could tell a Protestant Christian in his yard by his appearance and behaviour. And another merchant, who employs a Protestant writer, speaks of his subordinate in the highest terms. Again, it is a fact without doubt that European ladies are most anxious to obtain, as Ayahs, girls who have been educated in our Mission schools. Amidst many adverse and disparaging statements as to the result of Missionary effort, female education has been certainly advanced by it. In many a house in which the family altar was never raised, the whole family never taught to say, "Our Father which art in heaven," may now be seen women leading the domestic service with humble devotion at the hour of evening prayer, and again, offering up the matin song ere the quick-rising Eastern sun has shed its rays.

One of the leading events of the past year was the visit of our beloved bishop. It was our opinion that our reverence for Episcopacy should be as clearly shown as those of our neighbours the Roman Catholics, and together with this feeling we attempted to show our regard for the bishop himself. The reception went off as well as the most sanguine could have expected. Immense crowds gathered along the sides of the canal, of Romanists, Mohammedans, and heathens. All asked what this demonstration was about; and I cannot help thinking that the very fact of his Lordship's visit tended greatly to strengthen our hands, as it showed that Protestants and members of the Native Church in India respected the Episcopate, and that the members of the Allepie congregation loved their chief pastor, whose heart they knew was with them and for them. The following day his Lordship had the Confirmation Service in English, when eleven young persons were presented to the bishop. On the following Sunday at early morn many old members of the Church, and the newly confirmed, knelt around the table of the Lord and partook of the Eucharistic feast. The eleven o'clock service was well attended. We had during the past year been able to provide seats for some 300 persons. On this occasion benches from the schools provided seats for others; and some 450 persons were affectionately and solemnly addressed by the bishop, while 112 candidates were presented for confirmation. The bishop was kind enough to express publicly his satisfaction at the appearance and order of the church.

I have been enabled during the past year to form a Church Committee of Natives, who with me now guide and direct the affairs of our Church; and I have felt this a real help, the responsibility being in a measure taken off me. I am now enabled to say, "The Church Committee have agreed" to such and such steps. Thus, in regard to objectionable dances, which used to take place after marriage, we were able to interfere with a high hand, and put a stop to all such improprieties. Questions of marriage and the mode of dealing with unruly members are talked over, and accounts audited. By this means the congregation feel a greater interest in their Church.

In speaking of the work in the district, Mr. Johnson mentions that the Mohammedans have made several converts among the heathen, chiefly from the Pulayan caste. There are, however, several candidates for baptism from the same class, with whose conduct and progress Mr. Johnson expresses himself gratified, though he had not seen his way to admit any of them into the visible Church. Christian instruction has long been given in Allepie and its neighbourhood. The great need now felt is a larger outpouring of the Holy Spirit.

TRICHUR.

The Rev. W. Smith is the Missionary at this station. There are connected with it 510 Native Christians and 190 Communicants, and there have been during the year twenty adult Baptisms. Mr. Smith reports as follows:—

The day of prayer (20th December, 1872) was observed by all; and from that day a marked improvement was evident amongst the people. The means of grace were more valued, and a desire to live in peace with their neighbours was more largely shown. The church was full at the morning service; and ninety-eight partook of the Lord's Supper. In the evening they met again for prayer in the school-room, and I allowed the people to conduct it themselves. They entered into the scheme most heartily; and very earnest and genuine were the prayers that they themselves should be filled with the love of Christ, and that from their midst some should go out, without pay, to become Ambassadors for Him. Such meetings leave many blessings behind them.

We have had many losses this year by death. The new convert of whom I spoke in my last Annual Letter has entered into rest. He continued a faithful and consistent disciple of his Saviour to the end. His brief Christian life was spent entirely in preaching Christ crucified, and in exhorting all men to flee to the only Saviour, whose love he himself had found so precious. From village to village and town to town he journeyed, an unpaid agent, carrying with him the seed of life. At one of these towns he was attacked by small-pox, which has been very prevalent, and died. His illness was short, and he entered into rest. For two years only did the Master allow him to work, but he worked assiduously and earnestly. His course was soon finished, and he is now in the presence of his Redeemer.

The congregation of Patticaad still increases in numbers, and also, I trust, in grace. It is a congregation which is remarkably united. They are free from quarrels, and all take great interest in the gathering in of converts from heathenism. They have subscribed liberally to the fund raised for the completion of their church. Several candidates for baptism are in their midst. Amongst these is a man who formerly was amongst our bitterest opponents. When his brother, four years ago, became a Christian, this man threatened to kill him. He took away the convert's child by force, and it was with great difficulty Mr. Bower, who was then in charge, could rescue it. He was the head man of his caste in the village, and was feared by all. He was the foremost in lawless deeds, and reviled the name of Christ. But now, how changed! The prayers of his brother for him were heard at the throne of grace, and he is now, with his wife and four children, a candidate for baptism.

Conversion of one who was once a bitter persecutor.

The work amongst the slaves is progressing slowly yet surely. There are many opponents to our work. Their owners—or rather late owners, for slavery is abolished—prevent our preaching amongst them to the utmost of their power. They are unwilling to give even the smallest plot of ground on which to build a school-house. But when the slaves discover that they have no opportunities for learning whilst in their present employ, they will seek other masters who will give them their full rights. As labour is scarce, the masters to prevent this will give ground, though reluctantly.

In November, 1873, the Mission was cheered by a welcome visit from the Bishop of Madras, who confirmed fifty-two persons, forty of whom are now regular Communicants.

Mr. Smith has earnestly pressed on the people the duty of contributing to the support of a Native Pastor. The difficulty in persuading them arises from the fact that they had so long been accustomed to the system of having all Church expenses defrayed by the Society; showing how important it is that pecuniary self-support should be urged on infant Christian communities from the first. However, Mr. Smith has been so far successful that the Native Church Fund has now been fairly established, though its amount is at present small.

KUNNANKULLAM.

The Rev. W. Hope, who had charge of this district up to the close of January, 1873, being then compelled to leave it through the illness of Mrs. Hope, has furnished an interesting sketch of the Society's work here since its commencement. Kunnankullam is a Syrian town in the Cochin territory, and is the largest Syrian town on the Malabar Coast, there being no less than 1200 Syrians within its precincts or in the immediate neighbourhood. The majority of these belong to the reactionary, or more superstitious, section of their Church. It was first occupied by the Society as an out-station. About twenty years ago the Rev. J. G. Beuttler took up his residence in the town, and laboured with much zeal among both Syrians and heathen. The congregation has increased in number, from 34 in the year 1853 to 288 at the present time. Several of those who came over from the Syrian Church here were sources of much trouble for many years, from their contentious and quarrelsome spirit. For the last four years, however, peace and harmony have prevailed. The converts of late years have been mostly from the heathens. Many of these have had to undergo much persecution.

Mr. Hope thus describes his departure from the Mission :—

It was with deep sorrow that I took leave of a Mission that I had learnt to love, notwithstanding many difficulties and trials. The closing scenes of my work were most interesting, and the affection our people manifested to us will never fade from our memory. On Saturday, 25th January, 1873, the Mission congregation all assembled in the church to partake together of the Lord's Supper for the last time. It was a deeply affecting occasion, and will long be remembered, I feel sure. On the same day an aged man, a Tamban of high caste, was received into the church by baptism. After service the congregation adjourned to the Mission Bungalow, where they all sat down to a farewell feast, to which they had been invited by us. The men sat down in the verandah, the women and children in one of the large rooms of the bungalow. It was very interesting to see the newly-baptized convert sitting down with the rest as his brethren in the Lord. On the next day, Sunday, after baptizing a slave family, I preached farewell sermons to my people. The Thursday following was the day appointed for our leaving Kunnankullam, and at an early hour our bungalow was crowded with our people, who had come to bid us good-bye. A large number accompanied us on the road, which passed through the village where some of the most recent converts lived. These good people brought us milk and young cocoa-nuts to refresh ourselves on the journey. After we had proceeded about nine miles on our journey, some of our people, having taken leave of us, returned to their homes. But a goodly number still remained, who accompanied us to Shoranore, and waited to see us off at the railway station the following morning. I was much struck with the affection of these simple people. One could not help calling to mind those scenes recorded in the Acts of the Apostles, in which St. Paul's converts accompanied him to the ship in which he was to sail. (Acts xx. 38; xxi. 5, 6.) Some time afterwards, when our people heard of the serious illness of my dear wife, they manifested the greatest sorrow, and several letters from them assured us that we were remembered in prayer at the throne of grace. Not content with this, two of their number came specially to see my dear wife while we were staying at Coonoor, as they had heard very sad accounts of her illness. They had taken a long journey and had paid their own expenses. When it is considered how reluctant the Malayalim people are to leave their native land, and especially to travel in mountain districts, some idea may be realized of the sincere affection these people still retained for us.

On Mr. Hope's leaving Kunnankullam, his place was taken by the Rev. F. Bower, from whose report for 1873 the following extracts are subjoined:—

It was in February, 1873, that I took charge of this Mission, and many have been the blessings received from the hand of our gracious God since then. Trials and difficulties we have had, but His grace has been sufficient for us.—The Congregation numbers 288, including 135 children. Of these 139 are Communicants. The people attend the Church Services regularly, and are most attentive to the Word of God when read and preached, but the monthly prayer meetings have, I am grieved to say, been somewhat neglected. The majority are certainly very poor, and the contribution which they have to give at these meetings may partly account for their non-attendance. Another cause for regret is their seeming indifference about the spread of the Gospel amongst their fellow-countrymen. I have spoken to them on this important subject, and trust not in vain. One step in the right direction has been the establishing of a weekly prayer meeting for the conversion of the heathen. What we want is more love for souls, more earnestness, more prayer to God for His blessing on our feeble efforts for the spread of the Gospel. Union and harmony have prevailed amongst most of our people, in spite of those who have tried to sow the seeds of discord. Three adults have been baptized during the year; one of these, a chogan, had no sooner placed himself under instruction than he was persecuted, and since becoming a Christian he has been deserted by almost all his relatives and friends. I was much struck by his simplicity and earnestness when received into the Church by baptism.—Preaching to the heathen has been regularly carried on; and the Gospel has, I am thankful to say, generally been listened to with respectful attention by the majority of all classes. Now and then, of course, a caviller has made his appearance.

There are nine schools, in which 230 children are taught. These schools have been on the whole fairly attended, and tolerably good progress has been made by the pupils. But education does not seem to be so fully appreciated here as in the south, and hence the difficulty of getting up good schools. Those in the villages have often afforded me excellent opportunities of preaching to many who possibly otherwise might not have heard of a Saviour's love. The girls' school in the Mission compound, under Mrs. Bower's superintendence, is a source of much encouragement. It is a pleasure to see how happy and cheerful the children look, and the way in which they have worked during the last few months has been very satisfactory.

I may here mention that we were very much refreshed last month by a visit from Mr. Speechly and two Brahmin converts from Mavelikara, the Evangelist teachers mentioned in the account of the revival in Travancore. These men are brothers, and the zeal and ability with which they preached Christ crucified here and in other places were most cheering. Never before did I feel so forcibly the truth of these words, "The Gospel is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth." I am persuaded that if spared they will, by God's blessing, do a great work in Travancore, for their whole heart and soul seem to be in it. Would that we had more agents like them!

TELUGU MISSION.

General.

The increase in the number of Catechumens in the Telugu district has been more marked than in any other field throughout the whole of India. About 4000 persons are now under instruction, being more than double the number recorded last year.

MASULIPATAM.

Education.

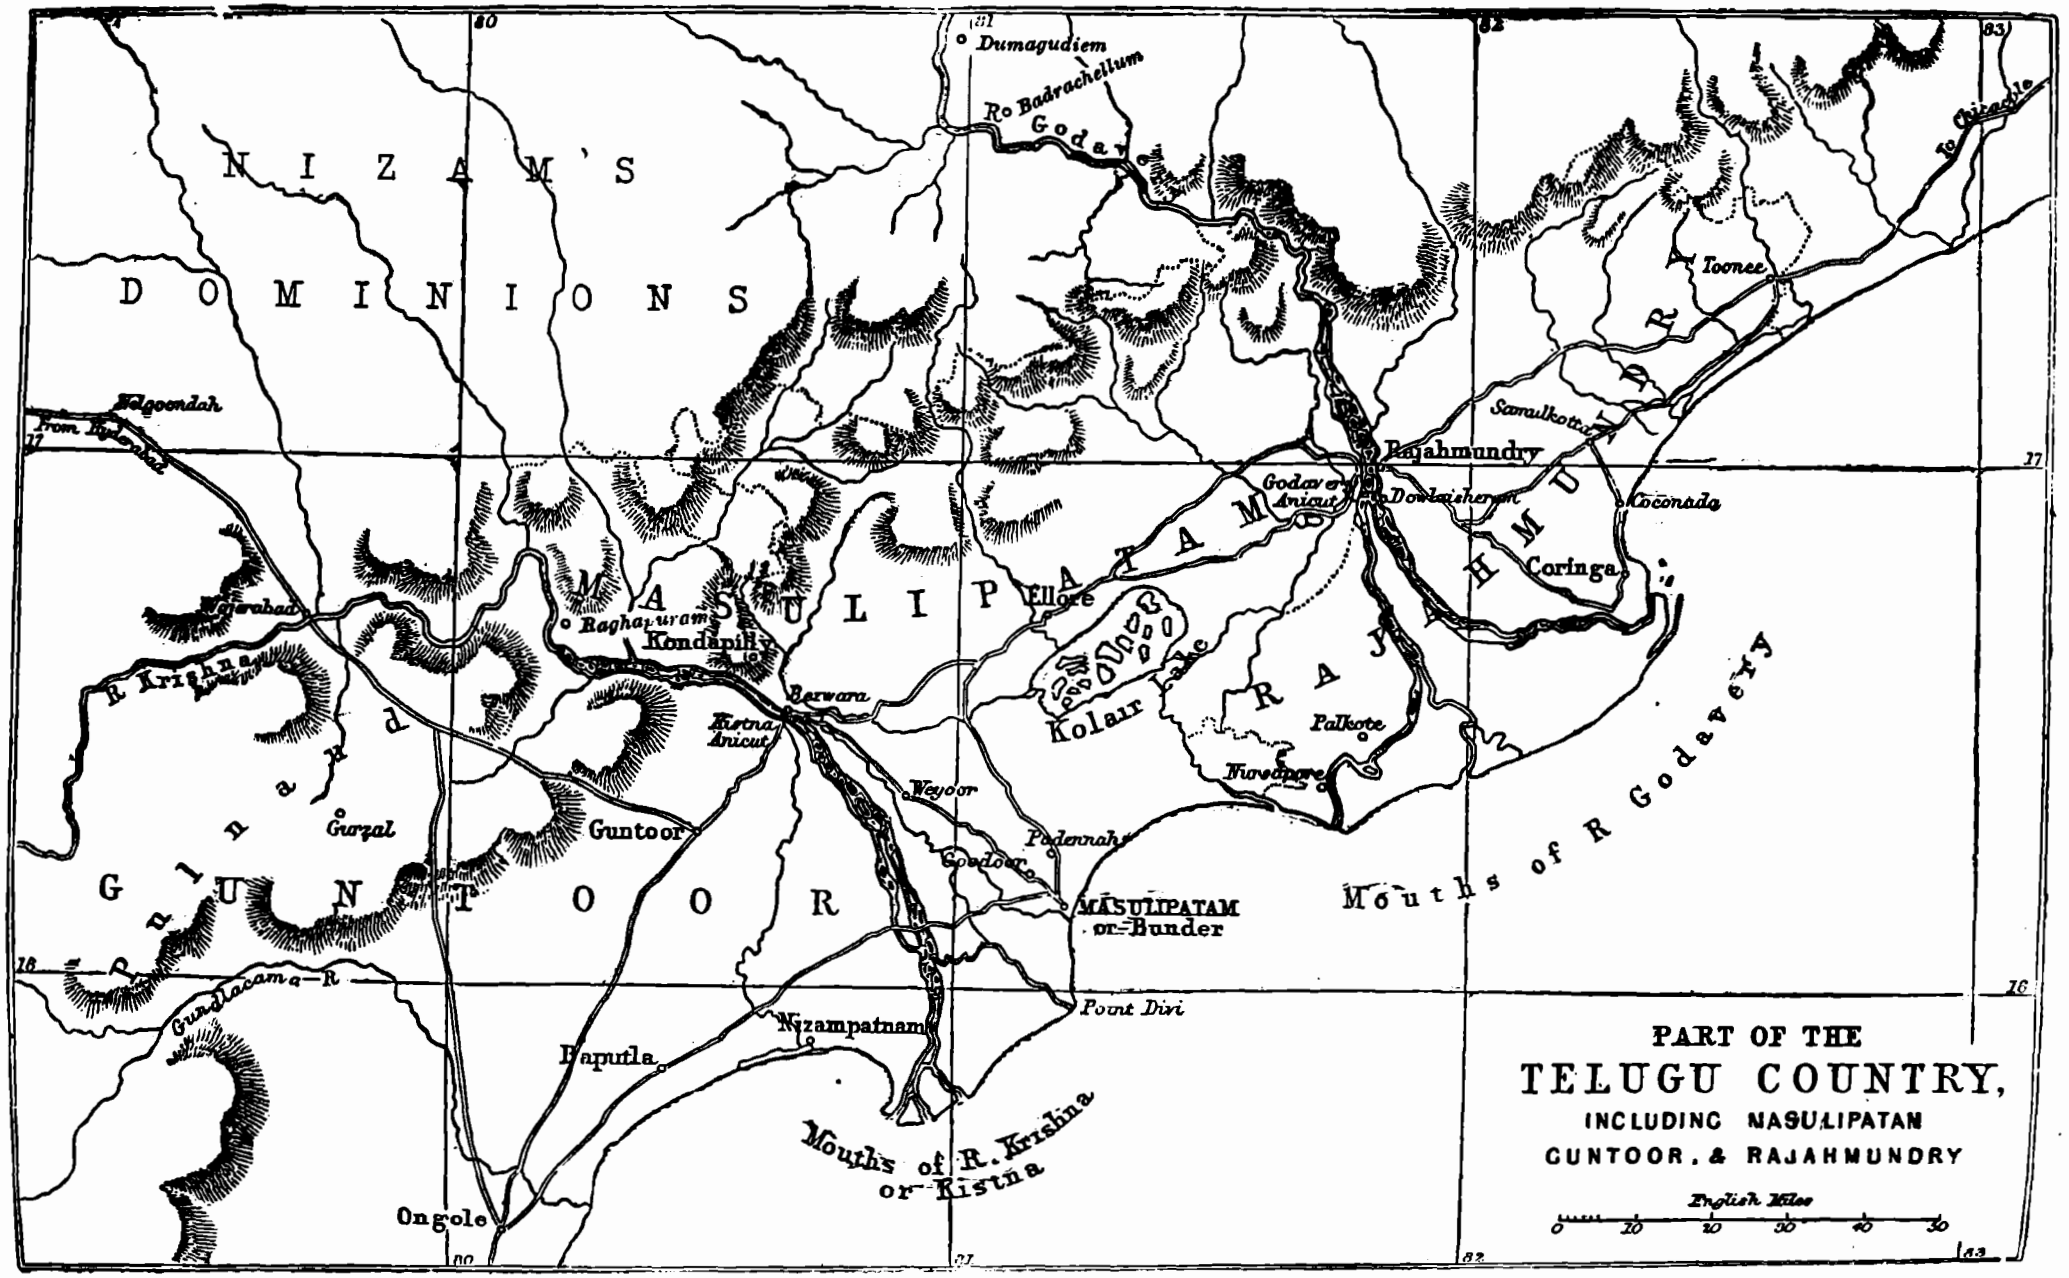

During the year 1873, the Church Mission ANGLO-VERNACULAR SCHOOL completed its thirtieth year, and received the new name of the NOBLE HIGH SCHOOL. The building which it now occupies was erected in memory of Mr. Noble, and a portion of its expense was met by the Noble Memorial Fund. Accommodation is provided in it for fifteen classes, containing 400 boys and young men. About two years ago, efforts were made to form branch schools in various parts of the town. One only of these has survived, which extends the influence of Christian education into a part of the town that had been scarcely touched by it previously, and which proves a useful feeder to the High School. The head master of the Branch School is a Native Christian, one of the converts of the High School, and formerly a Brahmin. The total numbers under instruction, in March, 1874, were 235 in the High School, and 83 in the Branch. Mr. Sharp was assisted during the year by the Rev. W. Clayton, and by a Native brother, one of Mr. Noble's converts, the Rev. M. Ratnam; Mr. Ratnam has, however, been largely occupied in revising the Telugu translation of the Bible.

On the 29th of March in the present year, subsequent to the date of the Annual Missionary returns, Mr. Sharp was thrown from his horse and very seriously injured. At least six months must elapse, the doctors report, before he can resume any active work. Humbly accepting this seeming "evil" "at the hands of the Lord," the Committee appeal to the Universities of England and Ireland to send them one who will labour in the spirit of Robert Noble and his successor, for the spiritual benefit of the young men of the higher classes in the Telugu country,—a most important section of the community, among whom the NOBLE HIGH SCHOOL has certainly introduced the Gospel and reaped some spiritual harvest.

The importance of the VERNACULAR TRAINING INSTITUTION is greater than ever, owing to the pressing demand for Native Christian teachers in many heathen villages. The following extracts from the last Report of Mr. Thornton, its superintendent, will convey some notion of its present state, and of the difficulties which have to be encountered :—

It is now seven years since I entered upon my work in the Training Institution. The need of truly trained Christian schoolmasters had long been felt in the Telugu Mission. In many parts the Mâla population had manifested a great desire for schools. In places where there were already Christian converts, schools were needed for the education of the Christian children. In these instances, the school followed in the train of Christianity. Where no such converts existed, the school became the means whereby a way was opened for the regular and systematic preaching of the Gospel. The need for Christian schoolmasters was the same in both cases. To minister to this need the Committee decided upon the development of the Masulipatam Vernacular School into a Training Institution. This same Vernacular School, under the late Rev. J. E. Sharkey, had already done good service in respect of training teachers. As I write, the names of half a dozen or more of our most valuable agents occur to me, all of whom owe their training and present positions of usefulness to "Sharkey's School," as the Institution is still often called. I took charge in July 1866. The Missionaries in charge of the various districts were to send in a certain number of the most promising pupils belonging to their village schools. These were to be received into the Institution, and remain in it until in respect of age attainments and character, they were fitted to return to the district whence they had been sent, as qualified village schoolmasters. The system was in operation some time before I took charge. I simply entered into it. The lads thus sent in resided together and formed a boarding-school under the domestic charge of a superintendent. It was intended that this establishment should ultimately become a home for Normal students. This end has all along been kept in view; but until quite recently the non-existence of out-station boarding-schools, and the limited supply of well-grown youths from the district, have necessitated the admittance of quite young boys. This course, it is hoped, will now no longer be necessary. In future we propose to admit none but young men, and so render the establishment simply a Students' Home. When I entered upon my charge there were eighteen boarders. There are now thirty-six, and for the last five years there have been an average of more than thirty-three, the numbers having sometimes risen to above forty. Of those now in the school twenty-six are bonâ fide students, being young men of the average age of eighteen or so, who are studying in the Normal School, and preparing for one or other of the Government Certificate Examinations.

Forty-two students have passed out as schoolmasters since July, 1866. Generally they are spoken of in favourable terms by the Missionaries under whom they are working. Mr. Thornton has also under his care a Mohammedan School, with an average attendance of about seventy.

Work in the District.

The statistics of the DISTRICT for the year ending 31st December, 1873, are as follows:—Native Christians, 1108; Communicants, 103; Adult baptisms, 172. The following very interesting passages are extracted from a letter written by the Rev. Albert H. Arden, under date Nov., 1873:—

Of the district work in these parts it may most truly be said that "the poor have the Gospel preached to them." We do not neglect the caste people; we often preach to them; but it is the Pariahs that listen most readily. It is in their villages that we are asked to put schools, and it is amongst them that the work chiefly lies. Hence the district Missionary's time is chiefly spent in the Pariah villages; and as it would often be impossible to take a tent, both on the score of delay and expense, his time is often passed in some little hut in the Pariah hamlet attached to some well-to-do caste village. The people are as a rule very poor, and consequently the villages are exceedingly dirty. During my present round, which I commenced about twenty days ago, several days have been spent in small school-houses in Pariah hamlets. .... It will give an idea of the sort of life if I describe where I am and what I am doing. I am about twenty miles from Masulipatam, in the village of Chéyuru. The people are partly the farm-servants of the caste villagers close by; while a few carry on, amid many difficulties, a little cultivation of their own. About eighteen months ago they were, after many efforts on their part, allowed a Christian teacher. A few families have shown considerable earnestness in learning the truths of our holy religion, and this afternoon I hope to have the privilege of baptizing about thirty souls. I have had a long talk with the people this morning, and read and prayed with them. They have now gone to take their rice, and at about four o'clock this afternoon they will assemble again for prayers and baptism. I am sitting in a small shed with two walls only, the other two sides being open. A few palmyra leaves form the roof, which is supported on two props about seven feet high. This forms the village "cathedral," as well as the academy in which the alumni of the village pursue their arduous alphabetical researches. If I did not keep on my sun-hat the result would probably be a sunstroke, and keeping it on all day will probably result in a tolerable headache before evening. My table is two boxes put one on the top of the other; and yet one of the boxes contains what to a Missionary is far more satisfactory than the finest of tables—a lot of images and charms, which the people have this morning handed over to me. . . . The cathedral is about eight feet by fourteen, and the height of the two side walls about four feet. It is in the centre of the village, which does not add to the salubrity of the spot or tend to lessen the effect of the village effluvia. A few of the village children, boys and girls, are sitting about the place. Some of them have clad themselves, in honour of my arrival, with a few inches of rags, but the majority of them prefer to dispense altogether with these incumbrances. . . . . The district Missionary is undoubtedly able in most cases to see more direct fruit from his labours than is permitted to a school Missionary. And such fruit it has been my privilege to gather in largely during the past few days. In the village of Mandavelly ten have been baptized; in Perigudem, forty; in Atsaveram, twenty; and ere I post this letter I hope to be able to tell of many more. All these have been under instruction from four to five years. Many villages are anxious to put themselves under instruction; but we are not at present able to commence systematic work in them, through want of funds and trained Native Agents. A catechist visits them occasionally; but until a teacher can be located in the village, and give the adults, as well as the children, daily instruction, we cannot, humanly speaking, expect a lasting impression to be made upon the people, who are of course exceedingly ignorant and degraded. Within the last three months I have sent teachers to two villages, Gongalavanigunta and Peiguru. Both are large villages, and in the former especially the people seem very unanimous and earnest in their desire for instruction. Where the money for the salary of these two teachers is to come from I do not know; but I cannot but think that in such cases a Missionary ought to occupy the ground if he can find suitable agents, and trust "to the Lord of the harvest" for the silver and the gold.

It is with much regret the Committee add that Mrs. Arden's failure of health has brought Mr. Arden to this country, with no prospect of returning to the Mission.

BEZWADA.

The Rev. J. Harrison is the Missionary at this station. Copious extracts are subjoined herewith, from his Report:—

I send with pleasure my report of another year's work, and do so with great thankfulness to God, for it has been a year of much fruit. The number of adherents in the district has more than doubled; and the higher class schools in Bêzwara have to a large extent revived from the blow they received two years ago. The number of adherents in the district is now 531, and the number of baptized 85. It will, doubtless, strike you that the number of adherents very far exceeds the number of baptized, and that the latter number is very small. The reason is the difficulty of instructing so many without catechists to help me. I have only two readers and a few schoolmasters; and these, with two or three exceptions, are very indifferent agents. Under these circumstances, unless I were to baptize without properly instructing, there must necessarily be a great discrepancy between the number of adherents and baptized, and this will continue to be the case until I can prepare a good agency to help me.

Difficulties encountered by inquirers in the Bêzwara district.

The Christians (so they call themselves in the vernacular, although only a few of them are baptized) are scattered in thirteen villages, on the north-east bank of the river Krishna, within a radius of eighteen miles from Bêzwara, the central station. The tract of country which it has fallen to my lot to work in is entirely surrounded by other Mission districts, either of our own or of the American Lutheran Society. Nearly all the Christians are either cultivators or weavers. Some have land and cattle of their own; but generally they are very dependent. Where English law prevails there cannot be actual slavery; but being always in debt to their employers (from their marriage to the grave), they are virtually serfs. If they displease their masters the choice put before them is—"Pay your debts, or be sold out of your house, and lose your employment." It is an old Indian system for the masters to lend money to their servants when marriages and deaths occur, and the latter seem to think they have a right to the privilege. The ordinary pay of a servant is a measure of grain daily, and a present of a large quantity when the harvest is gathered in, with the right to borrow money at marriages and deaths. A kind of semi-serfdom is the result. This relationship between employers and employees is often the source of a great deal of trouble when the latter become Christians. The Ryots, indeed, prevent large numbers from becoming Christians. However, notwithstanding the trials they have to pass through, I am glad to be able to report well of the Christians in every village except one.

The Caste Girls' School is still not so satisfactory as I could wish, and during the year has fluctuated a great deal. We had not until last month a suitable building, having had to retire into the cook-room of the former school-house. The Brahmins have opened an opposition school, in order to entice away our children; and have partly succeeded. Since entering the new school-house, however, the number on the rolls has gone up to forty, and the average daily attendance is thirty-five. The new building is a substantial and handsome one, and has cost Rs. 2200. The money has been all locally raised; but there is a debt of about Rs. 200. The Local Funds' Board have given half-grant. I hoped last year that the ill-feeling that arose against the school two years ago would have subsided by this time, but I am sorry to say it has not. We may well be thankful, however, for the success attained in a country like this, where it is thought to be the chief mission of a woman to cook curry and rice.

Bêzwara has during the last four years doubled its population, and has become the busiest town in the Krishna district. It is the head-quarters of the department of public works, and occupies a convenient and central position for trade in relation to the canals and the Hydrabad and Guntoor roads.

RAGHAPURAM.

The Rev. T. Y. Darling, the Missionary at this station, is enabled to report that the Native Christians have increased from 564 to 629, and the Communicants from 81 to 115, and that he has admitted 67 adults by baptism into the visible Church. Of one adult baptism which took place subsequently, Mr. Darling gives the following deeply interesting account:—

A remarkable conversion at Raghapuram.

For some months past hopes have been entertained that this young man intended to embrace Christianity. On Thursday last he informed his relations of his intention; but they did not think that he would do so immediately, and were contemplating taking steps to remove him from my influence. He was decided, came to me, and said he could not defer the step any longer; that he must remain with me and confess Christ. I then felt I could no longer refuse to receive him. I did not allow him to break caste at once, but first sent word to his relations—a brother and a brother-in-law—that he had decided to become a Christian. They received the message with great indignation, and proceeded to collect a number of people to try and take him away by force. The Lord frustrated their plans. About a dozen persons, including the leading Brahmins—his former friends—came to the bungalow. The relatives were very angry. I tried to reason, but it was of no use. I then went off to the magistrate, making a statement of the case. He came here, and had a long interview with Lutchmayya (for that is his name), and there recorded his deposition, which was, that he had thought well over the step, and that he had decided of his own free will to be a Christian; that I had given him no medicine, and that I had used no force; but that God had given him the desire. It was a full and most impartial test, and the young man passed through it nobly. Yesterday his relatives came again, and when they found he had broken caste they gave up all hopes. This young man is a Kamma, and connected with the Zemindar of these parts. He was baptized on Sunday, February 6th, 1874. The Kammas are the principal land-holders of these parts. The Zemindar to whom Lutchmayya is related is one of this class, and owns twenty-five villages all round here. He is, at present, a bitter enemy of Christianity.

The following extracts from Mr. Darling's Annual Letter will also call for thanksgiving:—

Answer to prayer.

It was our privilege here to be able to remember the invitation to united prayer on the 3rd of December, and again during the week of prayer in January. They were occasions of great enjoyment to us, and we have received a blessing. For myself, I was deeply impressed with the fact that an answer to these prayers put up by God's servants in all parts of the world was vouchsafed to me in my work in a very marked manner, as I experienced during a preaching tour from which I have recently returned. Wherever we went to make known the Gospel, there we found ready listeners, and without a single exception the people received us gladly and paid great respect to our message. People of all castes heard us, and we realized in a marked degree that God was with us, working by us, and through us. In one village, where on former occasions we met with much opposition and hate for many years, there was a striking change. Our enemies became suddenly at peace with us, and were willing that we should preach as often as we desired; and they followed us from one place to another when we changed our positions.

We were very greatly refreshed by our Bishop's visit on the 4th and 5th February. On the first day that he was with us, ninety-nine persons renewed their Baptismal vows and were confirmed; and on the following day the Holy Communion was celebrated, when 158 Communicants, 154 of whom were Natives, approached the Table of the Lord. These are gratifying proofs of the progress of our work, and I desire to give the praise and glory to the grace of God which has wrought these things.

ELLORE.

The work in the district connected with this station is carried on by the Rev. F. W. N. Alexander. He thus speaks of the blessings and encouragements which God has graciously vouchsafed to his labours:—

Our District Church Council has been fairly started, and has been the means of doing some good already. For the year ending September 30th, 1873, Rs. 240 of Native contributions were actually expended; of this Rs. 160 went to the pay of Native Agents, and Rs. 40 in building. This year we have devoted Rs. 200 to Native helpers, and Rs. 66 to buildings, out of an estimated expenditure of Rs. 320; and this will undoubtedly increase year by year. The statistics show a total of 574 adherents under instruction, and 61 Communicants; as compared with 511 of the former, and 57 of the latter, in the returns of 1872. The movement amongst the Mâlas is truly surprising; hardly have we begun work in a new village when we have pressing invitations from several others; and this has often led to our employing men but partially fitted for the post they hold. The pressure on us to begin new schools is very great; and in my district a new school is always followed by the adults becoming inquirers, and in time by their conversion to Christianity. At the present moment there are three openings where I might hopefully commence work, if only we had the right men to begin with. This pressing for Native Agents has led us to the plan of employing several of our boarding-girls, who have married and gone out into the district, in the mixed schools.—As yet the caste people in rural parts stand quite aloof from us, and refuse to enter our schools or be influenced by us in any way.

Pressing demand for Christian teachers among the Mâlas.

The Anglo Vernacular School at this place, is under the care of the Rev. J. E. Padfield. In addition to painful domestic bereavements, Mr. Padfield has also met with severe trials and disappointments in his Missionary work. One of these is thus described by him:—

Last June one of the boys in my Matriculation class—a respectable Sudra, son of a pensioned Subadar (Native Commissioned Officer)—came to me in great distress of mind. He was one of my favourite pupils, clever, well-behaved, and gentle, and about twenty-two years of age. For some time he could not speak, but at length he burst forth, almost in tears, with, "Sir, I feel I must throw myself into the arms of Jesus." We were quite overjoyed, and after consulting with our Native Christian brethren and Mr. Alexander, we could see nothing to prevent his at once taking the important step. He was of full age, of irreproachable morals, and had a most intimate acquaintance with the Bible and the plan of salvation. On the day following he again came to the Mission Home, and there wrote a letter to his father, telling him of the step he was taking, and at the same time he broke caste by eating food with us and one of our Christian Teachers. I need not describe the scene that ensued. I will only say that it was the most distressing scene I ever witnessed, and it was continued for several days. On the Sunday following the

A young convert succumbs to persecution.

Friday when he declared himself to be a Christian, I baptized him. The father of the youth brought an action against me in the Civil Court for damages. The Judge who presides over the Court is a Native—a heathen Brahmin. For two days we were all in the Court for many hours; and, to be brief, on the second day the poor young man was overcome by the prayers and entreaties and even threats of his family and friends, and he gave way. He returned to his father's home, and, I am grieved to say, openly apostatized. He did not do this without many struggles. His anguish of mind was so great that he was thrown into a fever, and for two or three days was very ill. You can imagine our grief. Poor fellow, he is now living in the town, to all intents and purposes a heathen; but I still hope that in the Lord's own good time he may be again brought back to the fold.

Later in the year the school was reduced to about one-third of its number through the Hindu boys leaving it en masse, on occasion of the admission of two thoroughly respectable Christian boys of Pariah descent. It is expected, however, that they will return, though the Hindus have established a rival school where caste distinctions are rigidly maintained. Respectable boys of Pariah descent are freely admitted into the Government High Schools.

DUMAGUDIEM (KOI MISSION).

The Rev. John Cain and a Native Clergyman, the Rev. J. V. Razu, are labouring in this Mission. Mr. Cain, however, did not reach Dumagudiem till nearly the close of 1873. Instead, therefore, of forwarding his own account, he has sent a translation of a Report drawn up by Mr. Razu. This document is doubly interesting, by showing the aspect in which the work presents itself to devoted and intelligent, but un-Anglicized, Native Christian labourers. Extracts are subjoined:—

The agents are too few for the work here. They can only travel and tell the tidings once in the different villages. There are a number of Kois around here who have heard a little of the Gospel, and have left off worshipping idols and keeping their feasts. Not long ago two Christian agents went to a village about fifty miles from here, and met with two Kois who had come from a village thirty miles beyond. When these Kois heard the glad tidings, they prostrated themselves, and earnestly begged, "Oh! come to our village, and tell this good news." In 1871 I went across the Sebree and preached in more than 100 villages; and from that time those who then heard the Word have not in the least opposed it, but have begged for instructors. At that time they gladly listened, and bountifully supplied me and my companions with food. During the past year a great change has taken place in many villages around Dumagudiem, and many Kois have desired to hear the Word. In three villages about thirty Malas have placed themselves under instruction. So we need more helpers, both to teach and preach.—In Dumagudiem itself I have often preached, and the people have replied, "Your words are good, but will salvation come to us by believing in God and Jesus Christ, even if we do not leave our caste?" I have replied, "Those who are washed in the Saviour's blood, and are sanctified by the Holy Spirit, are the holy caste. Those who oppose Jesus Christ form the caste which is in the dark. To the holy caste, heaven; to the caste in the dark there will be hell." Their reply has been, "We will not join with Malas. To make friends and to unite with such is too difficult." I have answered them, "Unholy people are Malas. But those who were of the Mala caste, if they know God in Jesus Christ, are the true Brahmins."

The true Brahmins.

CEYLON MISSION.

(Commenced 1817.)

I. Colombo and Cotta. II. Baddegama. III. Kandy. IV. Jaffna.

CEYLON.

This Mission has suffered from the weakened condition of the European force. The efficiency of some of the schools has been impaired; and, in one or two places, aggressive evangelistic operations have been retarded. Yet the number of adult baptisms is larger than in the previous year, being nearly 140, while 290 candidates are under instruction. The whole population of Ceylon, by the census of 1871, is 2,401,000. Of these, 1,675,000 are Singhalese, 533,000 are Tamils, and 160,000 are Moormen. The Protestant Native Christians may be estimated at about 30,000, of whom about 4700 are connected with the Church Missionary Society. In pecuniary liberality almost, if not altogether, the first place among the Native Churches connected with the Society, is occupied by those of Ceylon. Upwards of 13,000 rupees were raised by them for religious purposes during the year; though their number, as stated above, is under 5000, and there was no special occasion which called forth their liberality.

The subjoined extract from the (Overland) Ceylon Observer, the most largely circulated of the local newspapers, of September 16th, 1873, gives an independent view of the Society's work in the island:—

Testimony of an independent local newspaper to the Society's work in Ceylon.

In both Evangelistic labour, and in Educational work of a Christian character, there is ample evidence on all sides of steady, satisfactory progress throughout the Mission fields in the island during last year. A glance over the Report of the admirably organized and thoroughly-worked South Ceylon Wesleyan Mission, cannot fail to show any subscriber how carefully and steadily the all important work of teaching and preaching is carried on at each of the Stations occupied by this body, extending from Negombo in the Western Province to Matara in the South, as well as in Kandy in the Central Province. The Church Mission in Ceylon, with perhaps a wider field, and embracing operations which seem to us in some respects more strikingly Missionary than the somewhat pastoral character of a good deal of the Wesleyan work, has also a satisfactory return to make of progress in Evangelistic labour, notwithstanding the severe losses it has sustained by the enforced departure of several of its European staff. In the Central and North-Western Provinces especially, the Church Mission is sustaining a most meritorious and desirable work in its Itinerating Agency, which under the able direction of Mr. Coles, we regard as at this moment, without exception, perhaps the most interesting branch of purely Missionary operations in Ceylon; and the results, so far we observe, are very encouraging.

COLOMBO.

Singhalese Branch.

The Singhalese congregations in connexion with the Society are two in number, one assembling at the Mission Church in Galle Face, the other at Hunupitiya. The Galle Face Church is the place of worship for those who wish to avail themselves of it in the neighbouring suburb of Slave Island, while Hunupitiya is in the adjoining portion of the Cinnamon Gardens. The Statistical tables give 134 Native Christians; 26 Communicants; average attendance at divine service, 90; contributions, 270 rupees. No adult baptism took place during the year under review. One candidate for baptism is now under instruction. The Rev. C. Jayasinha, a Native brother now well advanced in years, thus describes the population of the district:—

Considering what sort of people we have to deal with at this place, we are thankful to Almighty God even for the small measure of success already attained. The people here are a motley population, of whom the Singhalese community is a small sprinkling from various Districts, especially from Galle and Matura, the strongholds of heathenism. They flock together here with no higher motive than worldly gain; and when their circumstances become improved they begin to revive Buddhism, and all other superstitions, which they have imbibed in their younger days; so that ridicule of religion, disregard to whatever is good, a determination to oppose Christianity, low and vulgar habits, are to be seen around the place. What St. Paul said of the Cretans might be applied to these people, yet he did not think it unimportant to provide them with a Titus to set in order the things that were wanting amongst them. The outskirts are numerously inhabited by respectable native families.

A public dispute took place between Christians and Buddhists in August, 1873, at Pânadûra, a village on the coast twelve miles south of Colombo. It was conducted entirely by Natives, and the Christians that attended and took part were mainly of the Wesleyan body; Pânadura lying outside of the Church Missionary Society's districts. One of the Society's catechists, however, was present, and did good service. As far as can be gathered from the Reports received, the Lord was graciously pleased to manifestly stand by His servants on the occasion. Mr. Jayasinha thus refers to the incident:—

I believe you must have read in Ceylon papers of the great controversy at Pânadura in August last, between Christians and Buddhists, which occupied two days, and how the latter were put to utter confusion. The conduct of the Christians of the place (who were mostly Wesleyans) during these eventful days reflected much credit on their profession, and their Champion, the Rev. David De Silva, Wesleyan Minister, has shown much sense and erudition in combating the notorious heathen priest, Meguttuwatte, who faced the field in company with about 100 other priests. God is surely able to do great things for us, and He will yet do greater things.

Tamil Branch.

The Rev. E. M. Griffith, who laboured here from May to November, during the year 1873, reports as follows:—

The number of Christians on the list belonging to the seven congregations of the Mission (in Colombo, Negombo, and Galle) is 731. This is an increase of 160 on last year. Of these 125 are Communicants. The number of baptisms during the year has been fourteen adults and seventeen children. The liberality of the people is very encouraging. The spiritual condition of the Tamil Christians has its light and dark shades. I am glad to say I have, within the last few months, noticed a less litigious spirit existing among them. The Juvenile Church Missionary Association has shown some life. It held a bazaar in September, and handed over its proceeds, some 50 rupees, for a school at Negombo. Thus Christian children here are doing something towards teaching the heathen children of that town. I have noticed two young men, members, joining our Catechists in their Bazaar preaching, though at present they seldom speak.

Besides the care of the Congregations, the work of the Mission consists of preaching in the Coffee Stores and twice a week in the Bazaars, visiting the hospitals and jails in each place, as well as carrying the message of the Gospel to the Coolies on the cocoa-nut estates near Negombo and on other estates in the vicinity of Galle and Baddêgama. In Colombo, also, the visiting from house to house among the heathen has been persevered in as far as possible. The same pleasing feature exists in connexion with our Bazaar preaching as existed in former years. The various nationalities that stand in crowds listening to the proclamation of "Peace with God," through a risen Saviour, evidently, by their attention, by the tracts sold afterwards, and by the not unfrequent conversations that follow, show that they feel an interest in our message.

The Schools, containing 161 children, have been fairly prospering. From Slave Island School one boy has been baptized, and another is a candidate.

COTTA.

The Native Christians of this district are ministered to in spiritual things by three Native Pastors, who are connected with a Native Church Council of which the Rev. R. T. Dowbiggin is the Chairman. "Looking at the district as a whole," says Mr. Dowbiggin, "the view is cheering, and the progress satisfactory." The extract that follows, from the report of the Rev. D. Jayasingha, one of the Pastors referred to, will in some degree illustrate the present condition of the whole district :—

Though I cannot mention any apparent increase of converts to the Church, yet there is a spirit of inquiry prevailing among the heathen. The entrance of heathen into the church for worldly lucre is checked by the new marriage ordinance [taking away certain secular advantages, previously connected with Christian marriage]. Religious controversies are everywhere prevailing. The destruction of the soul and body after death, and the formation of a new being from the merits or demerits of the individual, a doctrine of Buddha concealed by the Buddhist Priests, was disclosed at the controversy at Pânadura. Many of the Buddhists have seen the absurdity of the doctrine, and are divided among themselves. One of the great stumbling-blocks to the heathen mind is the inconsistent and irreligious lives of so-called Christians. But thank God that there are a few who are zealous for Christ, and this number is increasing year by year. . . . There was a time when the Native Agents could not do anything in the absence of European Missionaries, except the holding of Divine Service on Sundays; but now they have courage and boldness to go even among the zealous Buddhists, to tell them that Buddhism is a mere delusion, and that there is no salvation in Buddha, but that Christ is the only Saviour of sinners, and that there is pardon and salvation in Him. Had the present plan been adopted twenty-five years ago, the Native Church would have been established by this time, and the supervision which is exercised by the European Missionaries might have been taken by the Native Church itself.

Increased boldness of Native preachers in Ceylon.

A very hopeful and important movement among the Native Christians of the Cotta district is thus reported of by Mr. Dowbiggin:—(Aid will be given to it from the Henry Venn Native Church Fund):—

There is an earnest desire in the hearts of some of our people to extend the borders of our tent; and the feeling has lately taken definite action in the shape of extra Sunday Services, and visiting Buddhist families to read the Scriptures and talk with them about Christianity. A new feature in the District has been the establishment of a "Native Church Missionary Association." In previous years, what were called "Missionary Meetings" were held, but they were really "Church Pastoral Aid" gatherings, for the money collected went to the Church Fund. When it was suggested to the Pastors and the people that the money should be devoted to real Missionary work they gladly embraced the idea, and now we have our "Singhalese Church Missionary Association," which sends an Itinerating Catechist to preach the Gospel to the heathen. The district to be evangelized will contain about 250 or 300 square miles of country, extending on the south-east to within eight miles of Ratnapura. Within this area are, I suppose, not less than 40,000 or 50,000 people, and their villages are easy of access by means of roads. I hope to second this effort, by establishing Schools in central villages where any desire is manifested by the people towards Christianity.

A Native Missionary Society.

In the schools, which are under Mr. Dowbiggin's superintendence, there are 728 girls, and 988 boys. Of the girls, 48 are in the Cotta boarding-school. The boarding department of the Cotta English School has been reopened, the inmates paying 10 rupees monthly. The Præparandi Institution is also conducted by Mr. Dowbiggin. It contains eight students who, besides receiving instruction, occasionally accompany the Itinerating Catechist in his preaching expeditions.

II. Baddêgama.

BADDEGAMA.

The Rev. J. Allcock reports as follows:—

Our number of baptized Christians is 315 against 303 of last year. Three or four people have died during the year, whose faith remained firm unto death, and some have left the District for Kandy, Colombo, and other parts. The number of baptisms has not been quite so great as last year. During the past twelve months I have baptized twenty-six (the number in the previous year was forty-one); but there are fifty-two Catechumens, the greater part of whom I hope to baptize very shortly. We have also forty-five persons preparing for confirmation, and trust that in due time they will become worthy communicants. Some members of the congregation have fallen into open sin, and give no proof of repentance. Others have been a comfort and help to us, by visiting the poor, the sick, and by teaching and preaching the word. About 1000 rupees have been subscribed during the year for all purposes.

Evangelistic efficacy of Missionary Schools.

Our educational work is extending every year. We have nearly 1100 children taught by twenty-seven masters and mistresses in thirteen boys' schools and eleven girls' schools. The work of education has been much extended by means of Government Grants. The system of payment by results I think satisfies all parties, and will do immense good. The Government Report just out shows that nearly 25,000 children are being educated in Christian Schools. Here they get, in most cases, a sound Christian education; and the influence of good Christian teachers will be most beneficial. A school begun in any heathen village, is like a letter of recommendation to the parents; it softens their prejudices, and makes the Missionary better known to the people. Many of them become willing to come to our preachings, and some have become Christians.

Singhalese Congregation.

These congregations are connected with a Native Church Council, of which the Rev. S. Coles is the Chairman, and are under the spiritual care of two Native Pastors, the Rev. Henry Gunasêkara and the Rev. B. Wîrasingha. Mr. Coles writes:—

As Chairman of the Kandy Church Council, I have great pleasure to bear witness that the five congregations there represented show several signs of real improvement, that their representatives in the Council take great interest in their work, that the subscriptions have considerably increased, and that the sense of their responsibilities and understanding of their duties seem to be deepening and increasing. They have erected a house for the Catechist at Gampola, and have nearly raised a sufficient sum to purchase one for the Native Pastor in Kandy, and to build a girls' school.

Mr. Gunasékara has carried on his work with the same fidelity and diligence as in former years, and is deservedly esteemed both by his own flock and by his European and Native brethren in the ministry. Nothing of special interest has occurred during the year in the congregation under his care.

ITINERATING MISSION.

The Rev. S. Coles has charge of this important and very interesting branch of the work. He is assisted by nine Catechists, four Readers, ten Schoolmasters, and four Schoolmistresses. The number of Native Christians, including Catechumens, is 554. Mr. Coles writes in a spirit of grateful thanksgiving to GOD for the blessing graciously bestowed on the labours of himself and his associates. Copious extracts from his Annual Letter are subjoined :—

A successful itinerant Mission.

The Mission under my charge affords many matters for thankfulness and praise, and also calls to more devoted, faithful, prayerful labours. During the past year our heavenly Father has granted me and my fellow-labourers health and strength to carry on unremittingly the work entrusted to us, and in almost all our stations has blessed our efforts in the extension of His kingdom, and in feeding the flocks entrusted to our charge. It gives me great pleasure to state that my assistants have heartily co-operated with me, and evince a sincere and earnest desire for the success of our labours in Christ's vineyard. Operations have been carried on at seventeen stations, where there are Christian congregations whose spiritual welfare is cared for, and where the Gospel is carried into the surrounding districts amongst the Buddhists. In some of these congregations services are conducted by the Christians themselves, as they have no resident catechist or teacher with them; and I think our people realize more than formerly that every Christian belongs not only to the chosen generation, but also to the royal priesthood, and that it is the duty and privilege of each one to seek to save souls.

Fifty-one adults and twenty-nine children have been received into the Church by baptism; two Buddhist priests have cast off their robes, openly renounced Buddhism, and are now under instruction for baptism; five new congregations have been formed, where Divine service is regularly held; six new schools have been opened; a substantial church erected; and our contributions for the past year amounted to 273*l.* 7*s.* 4*d.*, being an increase of 161*l.* on the sum collected the previous year.

I now proceed to give a few details on the various branches of our work at the different stations. At Gampola the congregation has considerably increased, and a girls' school has been opened, which is very well attended. At Pussellâwa, which is visited by the Gampola catechist, there has been one baptism. A catechist has been stationed, and a new school opened at Nâwalapitiya, a most important place, which is rapidly increasing in size and importance, as the present terminus of the railway, nearly completed. The school is prospering; there have been eight baptisms, and about 30*l.* collected towards the erection of a church. At Kêgalle nine persons have been baptized, and it was from this district that one of the Buddhist priests above-mentioned came to Kandy and cast off his robes. He is an aged man, but most fearless in his denunciations of Buddhism and confession of the truth of Christianity. The catechist at Kurunægala is encouraged in his important work there, and has unlimited opportunities of making known the Gospel to many thousands. There have been eighteen baptisms here, and a girls' school lately opened is prospering. The Talampitiya district, in which are five congregations in the villages, Talampitiya, Hewâdiwela, Korigamana, Mitænwela, and Jâkaduwa, is one where God has blessed our labours. I have taken preliminary measures to form these five congregations into one body, under a Church Council, for the management of their affairs. At Talampitiya a church has been erected, chiefly by the donations and labours of the Christians there: twelve persons have been baptized, and there are many inquirers after the truths of Christianity. At Hewâdiwela there have been twenty-one baptisms, and the Christians, influenced by the example of their Talampitiya brothers, have given land for a church, built a school and teacher's house on a portion of it, and are now busy in collecting materials for the erection of the house of God. At Korigamana five persons have been baptized, and the Christians are about to build a small place of worship. There have been four baptisms at Mitænwela, and eight at Jâkaduwa. The latter is a new field of labour, and very encouraging. The two first converts had passed the prime of life ere they came to Christ; but their conduct in life, and that of one of them in death, appear to have produced a very good effect on the villagers. There are now many inquirers, and they are making preparations to erect a school where also Divine Service will be held. There have been three baptisms at Kundesâli, and five at Hanguranketa, in both of which places are schools conducted free of expense to the Church Missionary Society. A service is regularly held at Perâdenia by the Christians there, and they take great pains to carry it on without a resident Missionary agent.

The district of Anurâdhapura [the ancient capital of Ceylon], larger than the average of English counties, is one of our distant outposts, with only one catechist and one schoolmaster to work in it; and what are they among so many? Buildings for a boarding-school have been erected at Anurâdhapura by local means, and already a few boys are living with the teacher in preparation for operations in the new buildings which they expect to occupy before Christmas. I have visited the district twice in the past year. There have been four baptisms, and there are several inquirers. We have lately opened two village schools, but it is too soon to speak of results. A Buddhist priest from that district cast off his robes in Kandy, and is now under instruction to become a teacher.

Preaching to the heathen in the streets and places of public resort has been carried on as in the previous years. We are generally well received, and attention is paid to our discourses. Inquirers sometimes come to us for further instruction, and large numbers of tracts have been sold. In prisons and hospitals we are welcomed, and good results have in several cases followed our labours.

COLLEGIATE SCHOOL.

The Principal of the Collegiate School is the Rev. R. Collins, M.A., of St. John's College, Cambridge. His Report, extracts from which are here appended, is dated January 21, 1874:—

This half-year I begin with a class for matriculation at Calcutta University next December, an F.A. student and three B.A. students, besides the second class upper schools. One of my first-class boys has just passed the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University. He continues in the school as an F.A. student. Our school stood in December, 1872—the last Grant-in-Aid Examination reported on—second in the island as to the proportion of Grants-in-Aid received. This is encouraging. We presented only forty-nine, as the school had not been opened a year, and only those who had been fully nine months in the school could be presented. At present I employ four masters; and the number of boys on the books is about 115, just now at the commencement of our half-year, several elder boys having left, and others coming in almost daily. The moral and religious aspect of the school is decidedly improving. At one time book-stealing and other malpractices were an almost daily episode in our school routine; but I am glad to say the last eight or nine months have passed without a single case of the kind. Religiously we have some very hopeful cases; and I trust that God in due time will give us a harvest of souls. One of the boys has expressed a desire ultimately to enter the Ministry.

TAMIL COOLY MISSION.

It is a matter of deep grief to the Committee that owing to failure of health in several of the Society's Missions, and the fewness of Missionary Candidates supplied by the Church in England, they have not been able to preserve the European staff of the Mission at its proper strength. At the commencement of 1871, the Rev. W. Clark and the Rev. E. M. Griffith divided the work between them, superintending respectively the northern and southern divisions. From May to November in 1873 Mr. Griffith was compelled by the pressing exigency of the Colombo Mission to remove thither, and in the present year 1874 Mr. Clark has been drawn away by the same cause. The Committee have designated a new Missionary to this field; and meanwhile they rejoice that Mr. Griffith's hands are strengthened by the aid of two ordained Native brethren, as well as by a large number of faithful Native Catechists. The following passages are extracted from Mr. Clark's Report:—

Character of Tamil Christians in the Ceylon Cooly Mission.

On the whole we have reason to be satisfied with the general character and conduct of our people. They have shown a fair amount of liberality, and have for the most part attended on the means of grace, and have in many instances won the praise of their employers. Some bear very high characters as good and trustworthy servants in the various capacities in which they are employed. There are, of course, exceptions. Much intelligent energy and a good deal of right Christian feeling have been exhibited by the converts in the district of Dickoya. They have undertaken most willingly to manage their own affairs, raise funds, and provide services in the absence of the catechist on his tours of duty. They have also established a school, which they manage and support, and intend to provide a rest-house for coolies who have to spend the night at the place. They would have set about building a church had they not been told that they might have the use of the store at which the Chaplain holds English service. There was a time when the Christians of this district gave but little satisfaction. Several of the leading men among them were living in sin, and for a long time resisted all efforts to reform them. But this state of things now no longer exists.

The Native Clergy have been diligent and faithful. The Rev. P. Peter, especially, has been of important service to me, by visiting the districts, holding services, baptizing, catechizing, or gathering meetings for general purposes, collecting funds and obtaining information, and has in this way enabled me to do much more than I could otherwise have done. He has fully realized all my hopes when I proposed that he should be ordained to this post. When he has been ordained priest he will be of still greater assistance.

The following brief extract from the Report of the Tamil Assistant Missionary referred to above, the Rev. P. Peter, will be read with much pleasure:—

My third journey was to Dickoya through Nawalapitiya. The day appointed for special prayers in 1872 was observed in Nawalapitiya. On the 20th of December last the Tamil as well as Singhalese and Portuguese Christians joined together. The attendants amounted to fifty. It was a pleasant, delightful, and lively meeting. Singing, reading, and prayers were conducted both in Singhalese and Tamil. All went home with a cheerful heart. "Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!"

Mr. Peter mentions several instances of Tamil Christians whose acceptance of the only Saviour was partly due, instrumentally, to the kind persuasions and instructions of their European employers.

The year's statistics of the Tamil Cooly Mission give 897 Native Christians, 196 Communicants, and 25 adult baptisms.

IV. Jaffna District.

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. David Wood (m), 1867: at home.

JAFFNA.

The Jaffna Mission has also suffered from the failure of health among the Ceylon European Missionaries. One of the two European brethren in Jaffna, Mr. Wood, had been called away in 1871 to fill up a vacancy in Colombo. Mr. Good, who was then left single-handed, broke down in 1872, and for some time it was found impossible to supply his place. In 1873 Mr. Wood returned to Jaffna; but his health also failed, and in August of the same year he was compelled to embark for England. The station was thus again bereft of European aid, and has continued in that state ever since. The Rev. J. D. Simmons, however, of the Tinnevelly Mission, now recruiting his health in this country, has been appointed to Jaffna, and will proceed thither (God willing) towards the close of the current year. The work of the Native Church has in the meantime been efficiently carried on by the four Native Pastors; Mr. Hensman, Mr. Handy, Mr. Hoole, and Mr. Champion. Nor have the heathen been neglected. On the other hand, the Schools have suffered very considerably. The following extracts from the Reports of two of the Native brethren will illustrate what has been said. Mr. Hensman writes:—

> We have had to feel very much the great responsibility devolving on us more this year than ever before, owing to the absence of the European Missionary, who had the responsibility and general oversight of the work. We handled the work with trembling and fear, and carried it on with much caution, looking daily for grace, wisdom, and strength to the great Head of the Church. The Churches yet require the counsel and support of the European Missionary, and it is our prayer that God would soon make up the great want.—In respect to the congregations there was an increase in number and a steady growth in spirituality. The love for the Sabbath and for God's Word is real and even growing. The interest for God's Word is manifested in the Bible classes held on Sundays and in the weekdays. We find that those Christians who make use of their Bibles are thriving well, and bring forth fruits of righteousness. The heathens around feel the power of their holy example, and confide in them more than they do in their heathen brethren, however influential and respectable they may be. The meetings held on the 20th of December, 1872, have roused up the minds of several to awake more for evangelistic work. Another pleasing feature in most of our Christians is, their forwardness to contribute towards the support of their Pastor and for other religious purposes.—The work among the heathen has been carried on as usual by visits from home to home, family gatherings, and moonlight meetings. By their means the seed has been scattered among all classes. Many see that the religion we preach contains good things; they respect it on account of its high morals and admit it to be a heaven-born religion. There are persons among the heathen who defend the teachings of the Bible against those who abuse them. In a meeting one day a heathen man said to his priest, "Sir, have you any such teaching in your Shasters?" Ignorance, bigotry, and superstition have been removed to a great extent. The love of the world and of sin keep many away from Christ.

Heathen acknowledging the excellence of the Gospel.

Mr. Handy writes:—

I am happy to state that most of the members of my congregation are growing in grace and piety. With the exception of a few, they are punctual and regular in frequenting the House of God: they have frequently been visited and edified. The Word of God is valued and read by them regularly at their family altar. I cannot omit to mention something of one of our consistent and faithful Christians. He, for some time was on bad terms with his heathen brother, but having felt, that as a Christian, he must not cherish or allow such bad feelings to exist between him and his brother, used the following best means to bring about a reconciliation. Having selected the fifty-first Psalm, he went to his brother in company with a catechist. After reading it to his brother in the presence of several other heathens he entreated him (acknowledging his offence to him) to forgive him, so that he might enjoy a peaceful conscience, void of offence. His brother, who was deeply affected by the proceedings, turning to those who were there present, remarked thus, "It is the Bible of the Christians, which persuaded my brother to humble himself thus and to seek for forgiveness for an offence which he has done to me a few days ago;

now see what an excellent religion is that of the Christians, which makes a man to feel sensible of his wrongs and to acknowledge them before the offended party."

MAURITIUS AND MADAGASCAR MISSIONS.

Mauritius Mission.

(Commenced in 1856.)

Division of the Mission: 1. Tamil-speaking Coolies. 2. Bengali and Hindustani-speaking Coolies.

European Mission Establishment:

Ven. Archdeacon Stephen Hobbs (m), to South India, 1839; to Mauritius, 1856.
Rev. Frederick Schurr (m), to Bengal, 1845; to Mauritius, 1874.
Rev. Paul Ansorgé (m), to Bengal, 1845; to Mauritius, 1857: at home.
Rev. Henry Dison Buswell (m), to Ceylon, 1862; to Mauritius, 1866.

MAURITIUS.

Mission Staff.

The Venerable Archdeacon Hobbs, the Rev. P. Ansorgé, and the Rev. H. D. Buswell were the Society's European Missionaries in Mauritius during the year 1873. Mr. Ansorgé's valuable services were, however, almost lost to the Mission during the latter half of the year, through his increasing illness; and just at the close of the year he was compelled to leave for Europe. The Committee have sent out the Rev. F. Schurr, late of the Krishnagar Mission, to supply Mr. Ansorgé's place. The other labourers are the Rev. C. Kushalli, a Native brother from North India, thirteen Catechists, and a few Native Christian teachers in Schools whose numbers are not given. Archdeacon Hobbs, Mr. Buswell, and six of the catechists laboured among the South India Coolies; while Mr. Ansorgé (who has since been succeeded by Mr. Schurr), Mr. Kushalli, and seven Catechists, were employed among the immigrants from North India.

Native Christians.

The Native Christians, as registered on the Congregation lists, aggregated, at the close of last year, 1118. These numbers were replenished during the year by 212 baptisms, of whom 163 were adults. They manifest a warm attachment to those that watch for their souls; and two or three of them render valuable assistance to the catechists, by spending most of their spare time in voluntary efforts to win their neighbours to faith in Christ. Further particulars will be gathered from the following extract from Mr. Buswell's Report. The Committee heartily concur in Mr. Buswell's wish that a Native ordained Pastor may be found for the Tamil Christians. (The great majority of the immigrants from South India belong to the Tamil population.)

Mr. Buswell writes:—

The exigencies of Immigration are supposed to necessitate a vast disparity in the numbers of the sexes. There is room to question the practice of a system which compels a half of the adult male population to celibacy or crime. At any rate the responsibility thus incurred by a Christian Government is great. In seeking to build up our Christian congregations, and to maintain purity of faith and practice, we have to contend with the great evil above referred to, in addition to habits of insobriety which, alas, have followed almost everywhere in the train of Western civilization. . . . . There has been an increased desire on the part of our people to avail themselves of the means of grace afforded them. The members of the Church begin to recognize their duty in relation to their poorer brethren. I have been much gratified, on visiting the sick members of our congregations, to find their fellow-Christians generally on the spot rendering aid. The women, especially seem forward to do each other service in times of need. This true exhibition of Christian kindness will not be without its effect upon their heathen neighbours. There are other indications of progress. I shall be very thankful when the way is made clear for the placing of the Tamil Church, in this district, under a Native Pastor. I venture to think that no step would be better calculated to develope the work around us.

Work among the Heathen.

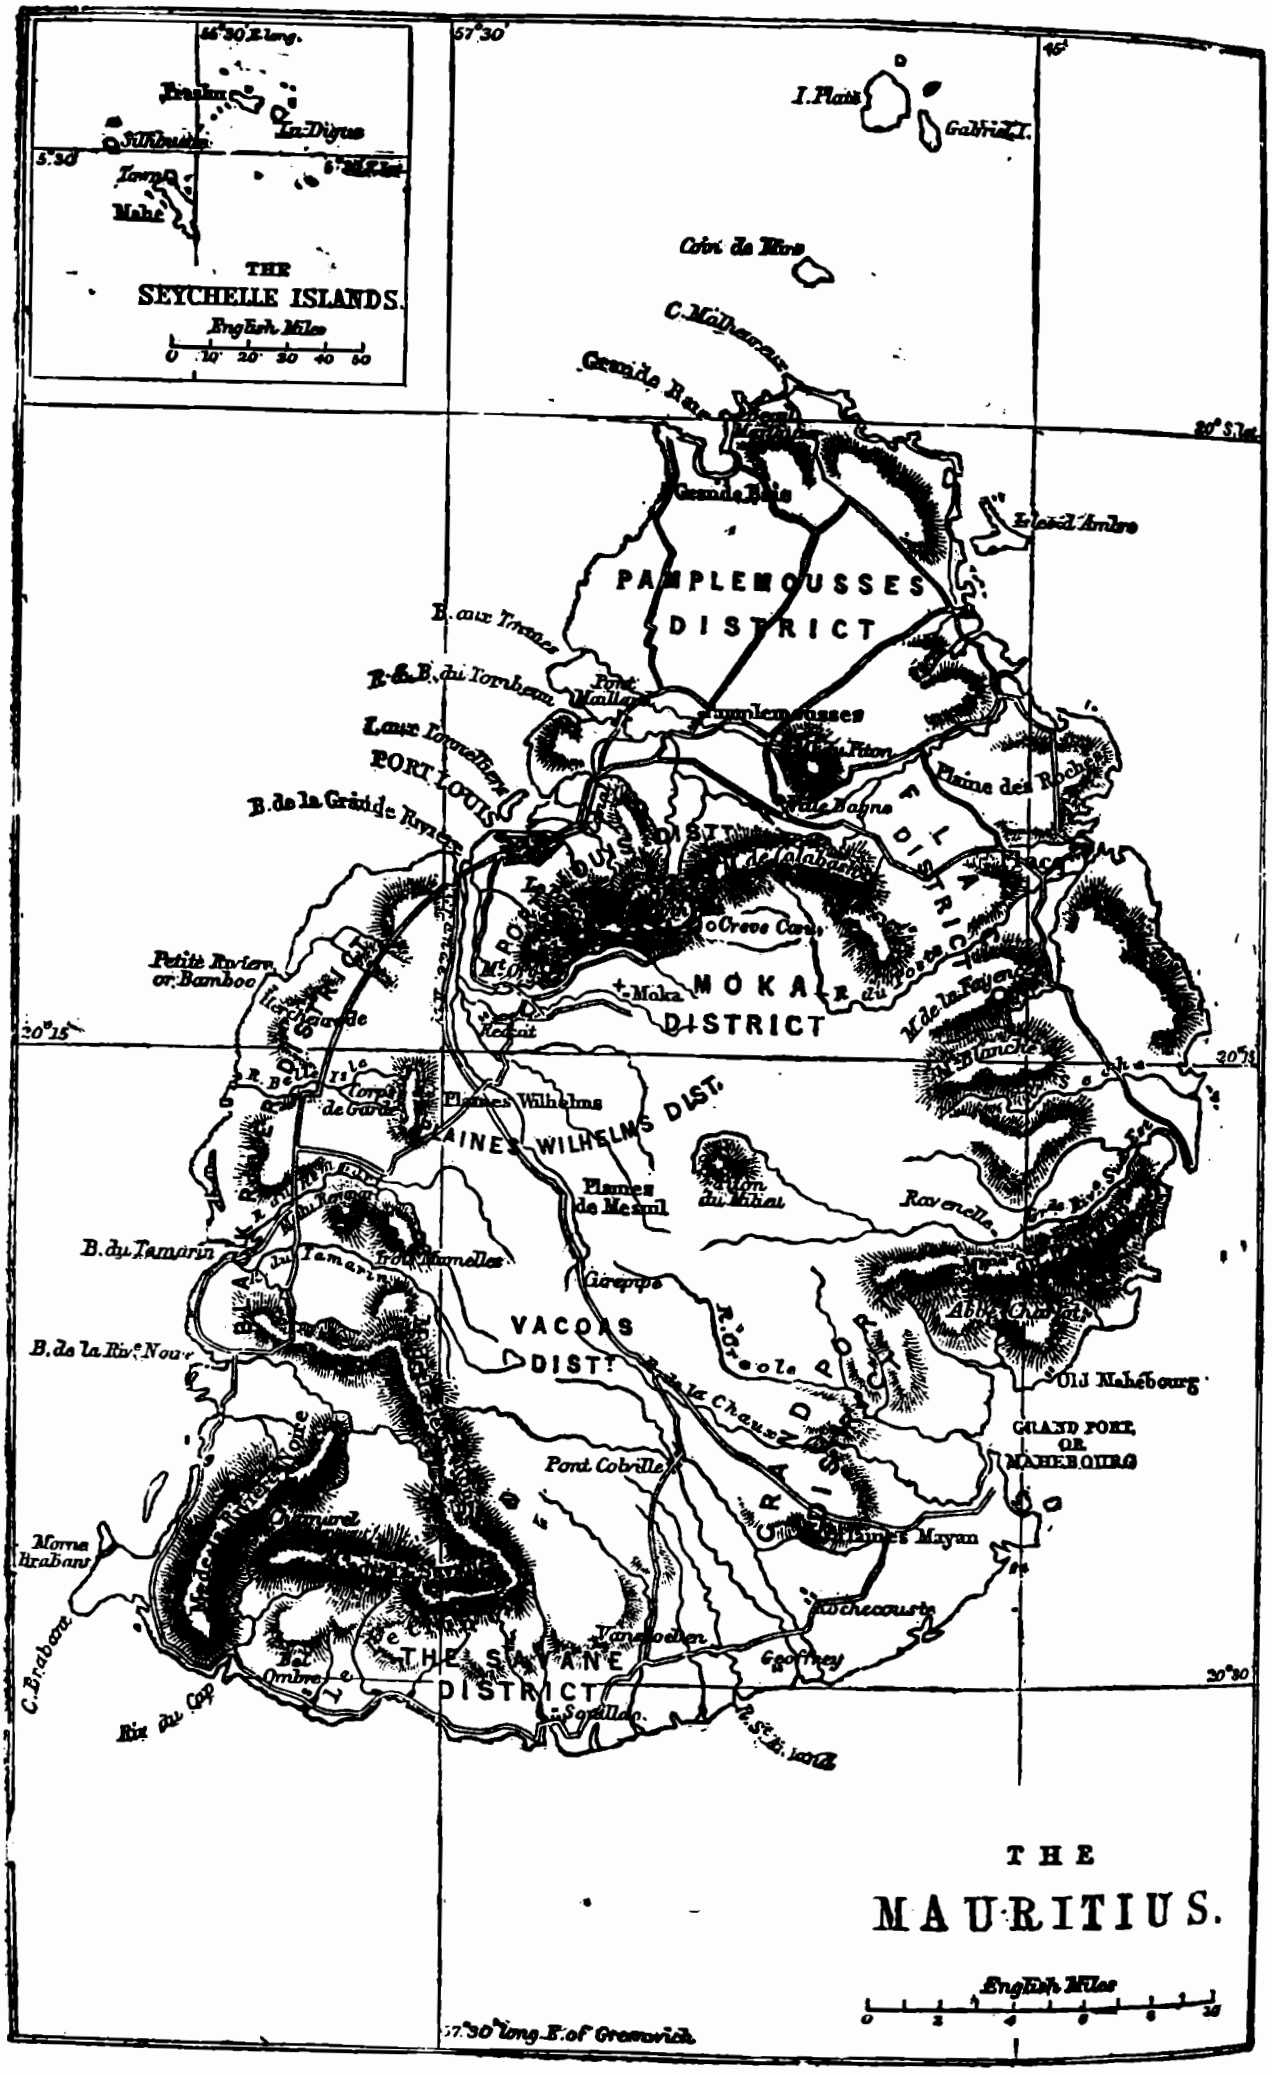

The baptism of 163 adults, already mentioned, shows that efforts in this department have been carried on, and that God has been graciously pleased to bless them. The Ven. S. Hobbs gives the following particulars:—

My experience during the past year as regards the neighbourhood of the station, is an exact repetition of what I have often before reported. Several instances have occurred of persons expressing their full consent to the instructions of myself and the catechists, and their fixed resolution to enrol themselves amongst our little company of worshippers; but as soon as their purpose came to be known, the opposing neighbours have hastened to dissuade them by means of threats and warnings of very inconvenient consequences.—The catechist stationed at Flacq has by the Lord's blessing been successful in gathering in several converts. About a year ago, when I took him for the first time to the camp of one of the states in that neighbourhood, we stood and preached at the door of the first hut where we met with people, two or three members of the family coming out to listen, and a few neighbours presently joining the audience. That family has now unanimously embraced the religion of Christ, having gladly received the catechist's instructions on his subsequent visits; and I have had the satisfaction of baptizing the aged mother and one of her sons, another of whom would have presented himself with his wife and two children, but that one of the latter was suffering from an infectious disease.

The Rev. C. Kushalli narrates the following striking instance of the conversion of a Mohammedan, the chief instrumentality having apparently been the private reading of God's Word:—

Conversion of a Persian Mohammedan.

A Persian merchant [resident in Mauritius] gave me the following history of himself:—"I have wished to be baptized these twenty years. During all that time I have believed in my mind that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, and that the Christian religion is the only true one. I was afraid to confess openly, fearing my father and relatives. When I was in my native land, Iran, I saw and conversed with the Armenian Christians. My father was then in Mauritius. After some time I came to Mauritius by my father's orders. I got an Arabic Bible from a Mohammedan acquaintance and read it privately. My father sent me to work at his shop, where some Creole clerks were employed; these were all Roman Catholics. I conversed with them about their religion, and went with them to their churches. When my father knew that I was joining with the Christians he sent me back to Iran; there I remained for two years. I was sent to Rangoon with goods, and I returned again to Iran. I always read the Bible secretly. Some time after I returned again to Mauritius. At this time my father left Mauritius, and I inquired into the Roman Catholic religion. I found that their religion was not according to the Bible. Afterwards I inquired into the Protestant religion, and found that it was true." Now this same man was baptized on 17th August, 1873, at St. Paul's Church, by the Rev. P. Ansorgé. His name is Mirza Abdul Karim, and his Christian name is George Christian Hope. When his friends the Arabs heard that he was baptized, they went to his place, reviling and cursing and even beating him; but he said he would bear all patiently for Christ's sake. He is well educated in Persian, Arabic, and Hindustani; and therefore the other Arabs are the more vexed with him. But he tells them he will always be one of Christ's followers.

Education.

The Præparandi class under Mr. Buswell contains five students. There is much difficulty in obtaining candidates, as intelligent and trustworthy young men are in great request for other employments.

The Boarding School for Tamil children at CREVE CŒUR contains 44 inmates, and that for North India children has 47. There are five Day Schools managed by the Local Church Missionary Association, supplying instruction altogether to 196 children. Facilities are also afforded for giving systematic religious instruction to the children attending Government schools, as well as to the inmates of the hospitals and prisons.

While these sheets were undergoing correction for the press, the Committee received intelligence of a public meeting held at Port Louis, under the auspices of the Governor and the Bishop, for promoting more liberal support to Missionary operations among the Indians. His Excellency delivered a stirring address on the occasion, and no less a sum than 160*l.* was collected on the occasion, including a donation of 50*l.* from the Governor himself. Considerable additions to this amount are expected, when the lists are sent round to known friends of the cause, who were unavoidably absent from the meeting.

Madagascar Mission.

(Commenced 1863.)

Rev. Thomas Campbell (m), 1863.
Rev. Herbert Maundrell (m), 1863: at home.

MADAGASCAR.

Of the three Missionaries connected with the Madagascar Mission at the beginning of the year, one (Rev. W. Deming), owing to ill health, has been transferred to Japan, another (Rev. H. Maundrell) was at the close of the year in England on sick-leave, and the third (Rev. T. Campbell) was detained in Mauritius on account of the health of his wife. Meanwhile the consecration of a Bishop for Madagascar by the Scotch Episcopal Church, and the announcement of his intention to commence Missionary operations on a large scale at the capital have, in the judgment of the Committee, rendered it impossible for the Church Missionary Society to continue its labours in the island without being implicated in difficulties which it is most important to avoid. Under these circumstances they have come to the conclusion that they will be acting most consistently with their Church of England character, with the truest loyalty to their invariable principle of non-interference with the work of other Protestant Societies, as well as most in accordance with the providential indications of their duty, by withdrawing from the island. A step of this kind cannot be taken without deep regret; yet is it a true source of satisfaction to the Committee that the Malagasy congregations, from whom they are thus compelled to sever themselves, possess GOD'S written Word in their own language, that they have been taught to look to it as their only rule of faith, and that the history of the Malagasy Church itself supplies a blessed instance of the sufficiency of those lively oracles for the support and the increase of the children of GOD, even when all human aid has been withdrawn.

It has been entrusted to the Rev. T. Campbell to take the necessary steps for carrying out the Committee's instructions, in such a manner as appears most conducive to the spiritual well-being of the congregations that have hitherto been connected with the Society.

GENERAL.

THERE is no part of the Mission field to which the Committee look with deeper interest than to the vast area and immense population of the Chinese Empire. Most earnest is their longing desire that the Church in England would place larger means at their disposal both of men and money (the former especially at this juncture), for entering on the many promising openings which China at this moment presents. But they look with humble prayer and expectation to the Lord of the Harvest. It is a source of much satisfaction to the Committee that the appointment to the Bishopric of Victoria has fallen to one of the Society's Missionaries, Dr. Burdon, of Peking. They anticipate much benefit to the Society's efforts in South China from Dr. Burdon's knowledge of the language and lengthened Missionary experience.

The following extract from a letter of Bishop Russell, dated Ningpo, 15th December, 1873, will illustrate what has been said above :—

When I last met the Committee before starting from England, I did not then see my way to urge upon them much enlargement of the foreign agency, on the supposition of the impracticability of inland residence Late events, however, and especially the distinct recognition of the right of foreign Missionaries to reside at Hangchow on the part of the high officials there, induce me to think that such residence is now quite practicable, that a large augmentation of our Missionary band might be made with advantage, and that new centres of work might be opened up in various parts of the interior.

HONG KONG.

Hong Kong has lost the very valuable services of the Rev. J. Piper, who has been transferred to Japan to take the post of Secretary of that Mission. The Rev. A. B. Hutchinson was thus left alone. But it will be seen by the subjoined extracts from his Report, that the good hand of the Lord has been with him as well as with his Native associate. Mr. Hutchinson writes :—

I have felt increasingly persuaded during the year that we owe much of the blessing which has been experienced amongst us to the Intercession which ascended to the Throne of Divine Grace on the 20th December, 1872, and the 3rd December, 1873. It has been a year of trial and difficulty for us all; for the Church in its being deprived of one upon whom it had learnt to lean, one who understood both the language and the people, my predecessor removed to Japan, and to myself having so much to learn in all ways, with many hindrances to rapid progress in study, arising from the responsibilities of the position which made themselves felt from the very first. But the departure of Mr. Piper has been followed by no decrease in the means of grace available for either Christians or heathens, nor by any decrease in the numbers attending upon the same. Thus our great fear has been happily dispelled. Our Native brother, the Rev. Lo-Sam-Yuen, has been stimulated to increased and steady exertion. He has been blessed with exceptionally good health, and thus the preaching of the Gospel has been regularly carried on five nights of every week to a congregation of rarely less than 80 and frequently above 150. Sympathizers in our work, such as the Chief Justice, and the Military Chaplain, who have occasionally visited the church during the preaching hour, have expressed much surprise and pleasure at the quiet order prevailing and the attention displayed.

Congregation and Communicants.—In both cases I have to report an increase. Our numbers now stand at 51 and 22 respectively. Of these the words are true, "Other men have laboured, ye have entered into their labours." Of the thirteen communicants with whom we began the year, I have to record sorrowfully the withdrawal of two (who had fallen into sin). To the eleven remaining has been added another eleven. Of these four have come to us from Demerara. Thither they went as heathens in search of earthly treasure, and thence returned as Christians, having found the true riches. Very thankful were they to find at once the opportunity of continuing to enjoy those means of grace which they had learnt to value on that distant shore. One of them holds a good position in the police force.

There have been some inquirers. One of these is a man of good education, employed by several families as a schoolmaster. Whilst in the interior he had heard of the foreigner's new doctrine; soon after settling here last February he began to attend the preaching. In July he put himself under instruction, and commenced attending the Sunday morning services and the Bible classes, accompanied by one of our communicants who speaks English fluently. He has visited me several times, and conversed at length on the great doctrines of the faith. His reasons for wishing to "enter the doctrine" he put thus: "In the Confucian books he found nothing about forgiveness, or sin, or what was to come after death. Our doctrine explains these things; he had examined it and found it very reasonable, and therefore would wish to enter it." He has gradually progressed in spiritual knowledge, especially the heart-searching requirements of the decalogue; but the doctrine of the Atonement is at present a great difficulty to him. I am much interested in his case, and would commend him to your prayers.

His possession of knowledge is a hindrance to a humble reception of revealed truth. I believe him to be under the influence of the Holy Spirit, and look forward hopefully to his being enabled to count all things but loss to win Christ.

During the last few months two of our communicants have, as Bible women, begun a much-needed work—that of visiting the better class of Chinese women. They are under the superintendence of Miss Oxlad, whose ready help and willing co-operation in all matters affecting the welfare of the women and girls of the congregation is really invaluable. One of these is the widow of a Christian teacher, many years a communicant. She has a fair knowledge of English, and is well fitted for her present employment.

In a later communication, dated April, 1874, Mr. Hutchinson adds:—

During the past three months, much has occurred to cheer and gladden our hearts in the Mission. Our boys' school reopened on the 3rd ultimo with eighty pupils; above thirty had to be refused admission in addition to these. The parents distinctly understand that the doctrine of Jesus will hold a primary place in all instruction given. Miss Oxlad's schools for girls, which are officially under my management, contain now over 100 pupils. The Government Inspector's Report for the past year is exceedingly gratifying.

FUH-CHOW.

The Committee view with the utmost sympathy the deeply interesting work in the Fo-kîn province, of which Fuh-Chow is the capital, and ardently wish it was in their power to reinforce more largely the labourers employed there. The sole cause of their not doing so is the comparative fewness of suitable Missionary candidates. May the Lord's call be more distinctly heard, and may increasing numbers respond to it! The Society's Missionaries at Fuh-Chow during 1873 were the Rev. J. R. Wolfe and the Rev. J. E. Mahood. A young Missionary (ordained while this Report was passing through the press), has been recently designated to the same field. The division of work between Mr. Wolfe and Mr. Mahood is for the most part territorial; Mr. Wolfe taking the southern district and Mr. Mahood the northern. The statistics of the district give 1075 Native Christians, 270 Communicants, and 117 adult baptisms during the year. Mr. Wolfe reports as follows:—

There have been two deaths among the converts this year. They died full of hope, leaning upon the Saviour. One of them especially, an old man, who suffered much in the persecutions four or five years ago, has left behind him a bright testimony and a precious memory to the Native Church. Even on his death-bed he has been the succourer of myself and of many of the Native Christians. His words of simple faith and holy resignation have deeply, in a trying hour, helped my own faith, and encouraged my sinking soul. They have also been a great comfort to many of the Native Christians in their trials and in their life of faith. Truly the memory of the just is blessed. His last hours on earth were spent in earnest prayers and longing for the spread of the Saviour's kingdom, and his last breath was exhausted in exhorting his friends and family ever to cleave closely to the Saviour. The happy result of this has been that some of those who heard him and witnessed his triumphant faith over death have since joined themselves to the Saviour whom their departed friend and relation trusted and loved so well. His parting words will long be remembered, and his memory will long be precious to the Lo-Nguong Church. Another very encouraging feature during the year has been an expressed willingness on the part of the Native Church to contribute systematically towards self-support. At a meeting of all the Catechists of this district, with representatives from all or most of the congregations of Lo-Nguong and Ning Taik, it was unanimously resolved that from the beginning of January, 1874, efforts should be made to establish weekly collections for the purpose of receiving systematic contributions from each member of the Church towards the support of the Gospel among them. I look forward with deep interest to this experiment, and with hope for its success.

Native Christians in the southern districts of the Fuh-Chow Mission.

I have been much encouraged in the course of my journeyings through the country during the past year at what struck me as the rapid and extensive spread of Christian ideas among the people generally. The name of Jesus is no longer unknown in these regions, and the contrast now in this respect, compared with what was the case eight years ago, when I made my first visit to these parts, and when the precious name was, if known at all, a by-word and a scorn, is very great indeed.—The good seed that has been sown during the past seven or eight years, especially in the districts of Lo-Nguong and Ning Taik, appears now to be springing up rapidly and bringing forth fruit, I hope and trust, to the glory of God. Here and there throughout these two important Hîns, bands of Christians have been gathered out of the surrounding heathenism, and are daily increasing in numbers, and I trust too growing in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. In these two departmental districts I have been permitted, in the good providence of God, during the past year to admit into the Church by baptism 115 members, including twenty-seven children; while the number of candidates and inquirers has increased, including 116 children, to 516 souls. Most of those who have been admitted this year have been under instruction and regular attendants on Divine worship for at least one year, and many of them for more than four years. The future is fraught with light and hope for this poor benighted people. O may the full blaze of the noon-day sun speedily shine upon us and overpower all this moral and spiritual darkness by its glorious and enlightening rays!

The past year too has been marked by a remarkable quiet, and the absence of any violent external persecution. The Missionaries, both foreign and Native, have had uninterrupted liberty to travel throughout the province, and free access to every city and town and hamlet in preaching the word of life. Still here and there on the part of the authorities there has been an evident desire to evade acknowledged treaty rights in the way of permanent occupation of certain localities, and on the part of a certain class of people, an inclination to give petty annoyances and local troubles to the Christians. But on the whole we have dwelt in peace during the year.

But while there has been much thus to encourage us during the past year, there has been also something to discourage and try our faith, and cause much sorrow to the Missionary. I have had the painful duty to dismiss two of the Catechists, one of whom was a literary graduate, and whom also, I am sorry to say, we found it necessary to expel from the Church. Another cause of discouragement is the utter want of interest in the important district of Lieng Kong, as well as in this vast city of Fuh-chow. The case of the latter especially calls for much prayer and searchings of heart. Preaching has been carried on by myself, assisted by the Rev. Wong Kiu Taik in the chapel in South Street. But generally speaking, the congregations have not been so large as in former years. There has not been a single candidate or inquirer from the city of Fuh-Chow during the year.

In a private letter of more recent date Mr. Wolfe states that he has 500 candidates for baptism on his lists.

Mr. Mahood writes:—

During the year several new villages have been opened up for the preaching of the Gospel. The people in country places have listened willingly to the glad tidings of salvation, and, with the exception of one or two places, we have met with no serious opposition from the heathen around us. This year my labours have been confined chiefly to the Ku-Cheng and Iong-Ping districts, comprising an extensive region of hilly country, stretching about 150 miles N.N.W. of Fuh-Chow.

In the city of Ku-Cheng sixteen adults who have given evidence of a sincere faith and dependence on the Lord Jesus, have been received this year into the Church by baptism. Some of the people in this great heathen city, who were once the chief opponents of Christianity, are now publishing abroad the tidings of salvation; and many of those who have not yet renounced idolatry are compelled to say that Christianity is good, and that it is effectual in changing the lives and characters of wicked men. In the very city, where two years ago our chapel was torn down, and where I was surrounded by an infuriated mob for nearly a day and a night, crying out for the head of the foreigner, we can now proclaim the Gospel without molestation to crowds of anxious hearers.—One young man, who embraced Christianity last year, has been so much harassed by his brothers and friends that at times he is compelled to flee from his home and take refuge in the most distant parts of the province. He attended our last half-yearly conference at Ku-Cheng, and with joy narrated to us how God had kept him when far from us, and how he was enabled to tell many of the love of Christ for poor sinners.—There is an important feature in our work in the neighbouroood of Ku-Cheng which may be worthy of notice. The Gospel, instead of remaining stationary in one place, and there influencing the people, seems to spread its influence from town to town and from village to village. . . . . Within the last year or two, five villages have been influenced by it, and in each of them we have church members, varying from four to eleven in number. Each of these villages acts as a centre of influence, and, in all probability, will yet become the nucleus of a large congregation. On account of the distance of these places from the central place of worship, it was impossible for the catechist to attend to the spiritual wants of the people; but to supply the deficiency, I have got the Christians to select from their midst some of the most devoted and intelligent young men, who, without money or any other wordly advantage, will go to these villages on Sabbath evenings, or whenever they have time, to pray and read with those who cannot attend the place of worship. God in His goodness has raised up six young men in that district to undertake this work, and I have every hope that it will be a great help to our catechists, and will tend to extend the Gospel throughout the country.—In the village of Siu-Kek, about fifteen miles from Ku-Cheng, the Lord has been opening up an entrance for us, and this year eleven from that place have been added to our list of inquirers, and have renounced their heathen practices. . . . . There is a lepers' village a short distance from the city of Ku-Cheng, where all those in the district who are afflicted with that loathsome disease are compelled to live. One of our Christians spends most of his time in instructing these poor suffering people, and I am thankful to say that his labour has not been in vain.—At Sang-Iong, about 36 miles north-east of Ku-Cheng, I am thankful to say that Christianity is still progressing, notwithstanding the opposition of the enemy. . . . . When our chapel was first established there, there was a considerable amount of opposition shown to us by the heathen. Threatening placards were posted up on the doors of the chapels, and those who joined our congregation were insulted and threatened as persons who had committed some terrible crime. But now our religion is looked upon with respect by those who once opposed it.—At Suo-Iong, a village containing upwards of 3000 inhabitants, our work is also encouraging. Although our chapel has been only established there about three years, we have now more than twenty in the congregation. Three of those who have been baptized are old men. One had passed his eighty-fourth year, and this old man, although bowed down with years, came to Ku-Cheng a short time ago, a distance of about thirty-three miles, to attend our half-yearly conference and to testify of what God had done for him, and now he endeavours to go from village to village to exhort the people to cast away their idols and to trust in Christ.—Our work is also still progressing at Ang-Iong. Christianity is overcoming the superstitions of heathenism, so that in that very village where the people, a few years ago, were the very slaves of their idols, the doors of the heathen temple are seldom opened; and, in the course of a year, there is hardly a devotee to be seen prostrating himself at the shrine of Buddha. This year the Christians have collected the money that formerly belonged to their ancestral worship, and have given it to rebuild the chapel that was partly destroyed two years ago. The Christian carpenter who was instrumental in the hand of God in introducing Christianity into that place is still as zealous as ever in spreading the glad tidings of salvation to other places, and in warning the people to flee from the wrath to come. There were five adults baptized at Ang-Iong this year; and there is every sign of a much greater increase before long.

At Sang-po-Chai I have been encouraged very much this year in seeing the progress the Christians have made in the knowledge of the Word of God. In the evenings, when the day's work is over, the Christians assemble in the little chapel to read the Scriptures and to pray. Ung-Kung, the brother of the Christian carpenter at Ang-Iong, is now acting as catechist there, and he seems to live in an atmosphere of piety. For miles around that village, the heathen people respect the Christians there as an upright people. The money contributed by that little congregation this year for the support of the Native helpers has been much more, in proportion to the number of the Christians, than has been collected at any of our other Stations. . . . . A remarkable conversion of a young man, a bigoted Buddhist, took place there this year. The mother of this young man and two of his brothers joined our Church three years ago, and since then they have proved themselves consistent Christians. When they joined the Church the youngest brother, then only twenty-two years of age, was terribly enraged. He thought that to embrace Christianity would bring certain destruction on their family. For some time he hardly spoke to any person in the house, but during that time his mother and brothers ceased not to offer up fervent prayer on his behalf that God might change his wicked heart. This year, to the great delight of the family, he has been led as an humble suppliant to the foot of the Cross. A short time ago, at one of our prayer-meetings at Ku-Cheng, he wept most bitterly when he thought of the past; and at the same time he rejoiced in Christ his Saviour that he was delivered from the superstitions of his forefathers. In narrating some of his past experience to me, he said, "Sir, two years ago, when you asked me to believe in Christ, I was filled with hatred towards you, and I wished you dead. I felt like St. Paul when he went to persecute the Christians, I wished them all dead; but now I love you for bringing us the glad tidings of salvation, and I love the Christians; and, above all, I delight to honour the name of Him whom I once despised."

This year I am sorry to have to record the death of one of our most devoted Christians. That zealous Christian woman at Puang-Lang, who, two years ago, in the face of insult and persecution, boldly professed her faith in Christ (see Report for 1872, p. 195), has been called to her final rest. In December last she had a severe attack of illness, and for two days lay speechless. Afterwards she recovered, to the great joy of all her friends, and in a few days was able to visit the neighbouring villages. She then began most earnestly to exhort the people to renounce heathenism and to embrace Christ as their only Saviour. Crowds of people flocked to hear her, and many wept as she exhorted them to repent and flee from the wrath to come. For a month after her recovery she went from village to village exhorting the people to cast away their idols, and to look unto Jesus as their only hope. After this her strength began to fail, but still she persevered in proclaiming Christ unto the people; and at last, full of joy and hope, without a sigh or pain, she fell asleep in Jesus. Her triumphant death has been the means of strengthening many of the feebler Christians in the faith of Christ.

Zeal of a Chinese Christian woman.

At Iong-Ping there has been much opposition on the part of the Mandarins. One conversion that has taken place is remarkable from its chief or only instrumental cause being the perusal of Holy Scripture. Mr. Mahood refers to it as follows:—

Conversion through perusal of the Scriptures.

Two years ago a man from Iong-Ping called upon me at Fuh-Chow. He had heard of Christianity, but had very imperfect notions about it. I urged him at the time to trust in the merits of Christ as the only hope of salvation, and at the same time I gave him a copy of the Scriptures to read when he returned home. Since then he has renounced idolatry, and is now professing Christianity; and not only has he himself embraced our religion, but he has led another family in a village about sixteen miles from Iong-Ping to embrace the Gospel also. I trust that the Lord will keep them faithful, for they may yet prove a great help in forwarding the cause of Christ in that region.

In a subsequent letter Mr. Mahood writes :—

God seems to be blessing the work in the Ku-Cheng and Iong-Ping districts, so that within the past few months upwards of 120 new members have joined us, and if our work goes on as it is now doing, that whole région may be before long influenced by Christianity. The congregation at Ku-Cheng has increased from forty to one hundred and twenty since I sent you the Annual Report. At Ang-Iong the congregation has increased from thirty to sixty within the past few months, and Buddhism in that village has almost ceased to exist.

Competent Native Christian teachers are much needed. It is a matter of satisfaction that Mr. Wolfe has, at present, thirteen young men under instruction, with a view to their becoming ultimately preachers of the Gospel to their countrymen. Other plans are in contemplation for attaining the same object.

SHANGHAI.

The Native Christians connected with the Society at this great centre of trade number at present only fifteen persons. Nearly all of them, however, are Communicants; and two of their number have initiated an effort for the evangelization of their countrymen, which the Rev. T. McClatchie thus describes :—

About the beginning of the year, the two sons of our late native Clergyman Dsaw came to me and proposed that we should try to increase our congregation by opening a School in the neighbourhood. They offered to collect subscriptions amongst their friends to pay the rent of our home, if I would assist them by paying part of the teacher's salary. To this I willingly agreed. We secured a literary graduate as a teacher, and in a few weeks we had a school of seventeen boys. Their pupils learn their own Chinese Classics during the forenoon, and they are instructed in Christianity during each afternoon; they also, with their teachers, attend the Sunday and weekday services.

In reference to his own labours among the heathen, Mr. McClatchie writes :—

The attendance at our church in the city is small but regular. The Schools are catechized in the church every Wednesday after noon, after service; and the converts are instructed in a class, every Friday afternoon, after service. The services in the out-house attached to my own dwelling continue to be well attended, as the place is situated in one of the greatest thoroughfares in the settlement; this congregation, being composed of passers-by, is different every day. At these services we get Chinese merchants and others from various provinces, who come here for commercial purposes. We have had several inquirers during the past year, who have taken books away with them, and also some slight knowledge of Christianity. We have also had visits from several of the literary class; and some lively discussions, particularly on the doctrine of the forgiveness of sins, have taken place. One "did not see why so much stress should be laid on the necessity of obtaining forgiveness, when he himself, as well as others, had no sins whatever to be forgiven, and even granting that all men are sinners, how can an Invisible Being forgive our sins?" Another wishes to know "how he can become a Christian? Must he wear different clothes? Must he observe fasts like the Buddhists?" A third thinks it very strange that foreigners should be so anxious to induce the Chinese to believe in the religion of Jesus, but supposes that they have some political object in view, they wish to gain power in China, and perhaps want to seize the country for themselves.

English merchants at Shanghai have given their testimony to the truth and reality of Missionary work in the province, by contributing in response to an appeal from Bishop Russell in the pulpit, the sum of nearly 150*l.*

NINGPO.

Mission Staff.

This is thus described by Bishop Russell:—

At Ningpo, we have Messrs. Gough, A. E. Moule, Bates, and Miss Laurence. Mr. Gough, in addition to the work of the Secretariat [subsequently transferred to the Rev. T. McClatchie], superintends the City district and the boys' boarding-school. Mr. A. E. Moule takes charge of the large Missionary district in the Z-ky'i Hîn, which lies on the north and south of a range of hills intersecting it, where we have seven out-stations. Mr. Bates has under his supervision the Lake and Tsong-tseng districts, where we have five out-stations. Miss Laurence attends to the girls' boarding-school.

The whole number of Native Christians in the Ningpo districts amounts to 446; of these no less than 241 are communicants. Fifty one adults were baptized during the year.

Ningpo City.

A glimpse of the condition of the Native Christians is furnished by Bishop Russell's account of a Confirmation held there. The Bishop writes:—

On Sunday, October 12th, I confirmed forty-four persons, fifteen males and twenty-nine females, in our principal Church (Grace Church) in the city of Ningpo. These had been carefully prepared for the solemn rite by Mr. Gough, who presented them to me. The congregation, principally composed of Native Christians, was the largest I had seen there, numbering over 200 persons, who conducted themselves throughout the service with considerable decorum, and left apparently impressed with the solemnity of the occasion.

Referring to the more strictly speaking Missionary work of preaching to the heathen, Mr. Gough writes:—

For this purpose, our church and another room have been opened daily (except on Saturday); indeed, the church has been generally opened twice in the day, in the evening as well as in the afternoon. Mr. Bates superintends the preaching in the room, and myself that in the church—joining the catechist there as often as we can. Another room in the south end of the city has been put in repair, and a senior catechist has lived there and opened it for daily preaching. I join him now and then when I have strength and time for it. One very interesting case of conversion has occurred there.

In the Boys' Boarding-School, the plan of committing to memory large portions of Scripture has been continued. It seems to suit the Chinese mind. One boy has repeated the whole of the New Testament.

Z-ky'i District.

This, as above stated, is under the care of the Rev. A. E. Moule. It comprises nine Missionary centres surrounded by large and thickly peopled tracts of country, and covers an area of about 600 miles. The following extracts from Mr. Moule's report will illustrate the difficulties met with and the success granted:—

In the world of nature it has been a year of very remarkable drought. Between September 20, 1872, and September 20, 1873, we had scarcely twenty days of heavy rain. This drought, however, so severe and so calamitous to the crops, has been only partial. During its prevalence the Saen-Poh Christians met together for three days prayer with fasting, and gracious showers were sent at a very critical season. What might we not receive were we to pray with similar earnestness for the dews of the Holy Spirit!

Occasionally I have thought that I saw traces of more direct hostility than in former years. For instance, within the past few days I have had some difficulty at a newly-opened station, Tong-bu-deo. On the street-front of the wall I had the words written in Chinese,—"The Church of the Holy Religion of Jesus." The next day, when passing by, I found that they had been whitewashed over. On inquiry I find that our next-door neighbour is the offender; and his motive was, not dislike to the catechist, (on the contrary, he is on friendly terms with him), but in so many words, alas! "hatred of Jesus." Terrible words even to write! But Saul was urged by the same motive to Damascus; and this poor Chinese Saul may soon, perhaps, become a zealous Paul.—In the town of Vi-Kô-z, where, after much opposition, I secured a small house a year ago, notice has been given by the head-men of the place, that any one named Vi who dares to become a Christian, will be struck off the family roll, and expelled the place—a threat which terrifies very many. But it was the same when our Lord was on earth; the Jews gave a similar order and in vain.—The journals of the catechists which they write for me, and bring up once a month, abound with such entries as these:—"Visited five or six villages to-day; no one cared to listen. In one or two places we were forcibly turned out of the courtyard." Then, like rays of light and hope, I notice such entries as these:—"Here we preached for two hours and more; they poured out tea and brought us chairs; and all exclaimed, How true and excellent is the doctrine." And sometimes I find similar entries in my own journal. On one occasion, after a long afternoon's preaching, reaching my boat at nightfall, I found a deputation from the large village close by. "We were busy," they said, "this afternoon, and had no time to listen, will you preach to us this evening?" Most gladly we did so; and in the little village hall, lighted with candles by the people, we preached to an excellent and attentive audience for more than two hours.

Bishop Russell gives the following account of confirmations held in the same district:—

At Z-ky'i city, on Sunday, October 19th, I confirmed nine persons. This city is in Mr. A. E. Moule's district, and contains a population of about 40,000. Some twenty years ago it was much celebrated for the wealth, literary character and pride of its people; and hence, at that time, we found it to be a most difficult and discouraging field for Missionary work. During the Tae-ping rebellion, however, a large portion of the city was destroyed, many of the wealthy inhabitants reduced to poverty, and the pride of all considerably humbled; and now there seems a brighter prospect than before for the Gospel message.

On November 16th I was at Kwun-hae-we, our principal station in Mr. A. E. Moule's district, situated on the north side of the hills, and distant about thirty miles from Ningpo. Here I had the privilege of confirming thirty-three persons in a pretty church, lately erected, under the superintendence of Mr. Moule, with funds raised by Bishop Alford amongst the foreign communities of China. This church has sittings to accommodate about 150 persons, which were all occupied on this occasion. At the afternoon service Mr. Moule baptized four adults and one infant; and his brother, Mr. G. E. Moule from Hang Chow, who was also present, preached to a congregation quite as large as the morning one.

Gratifying advance in a district near Ningpo.

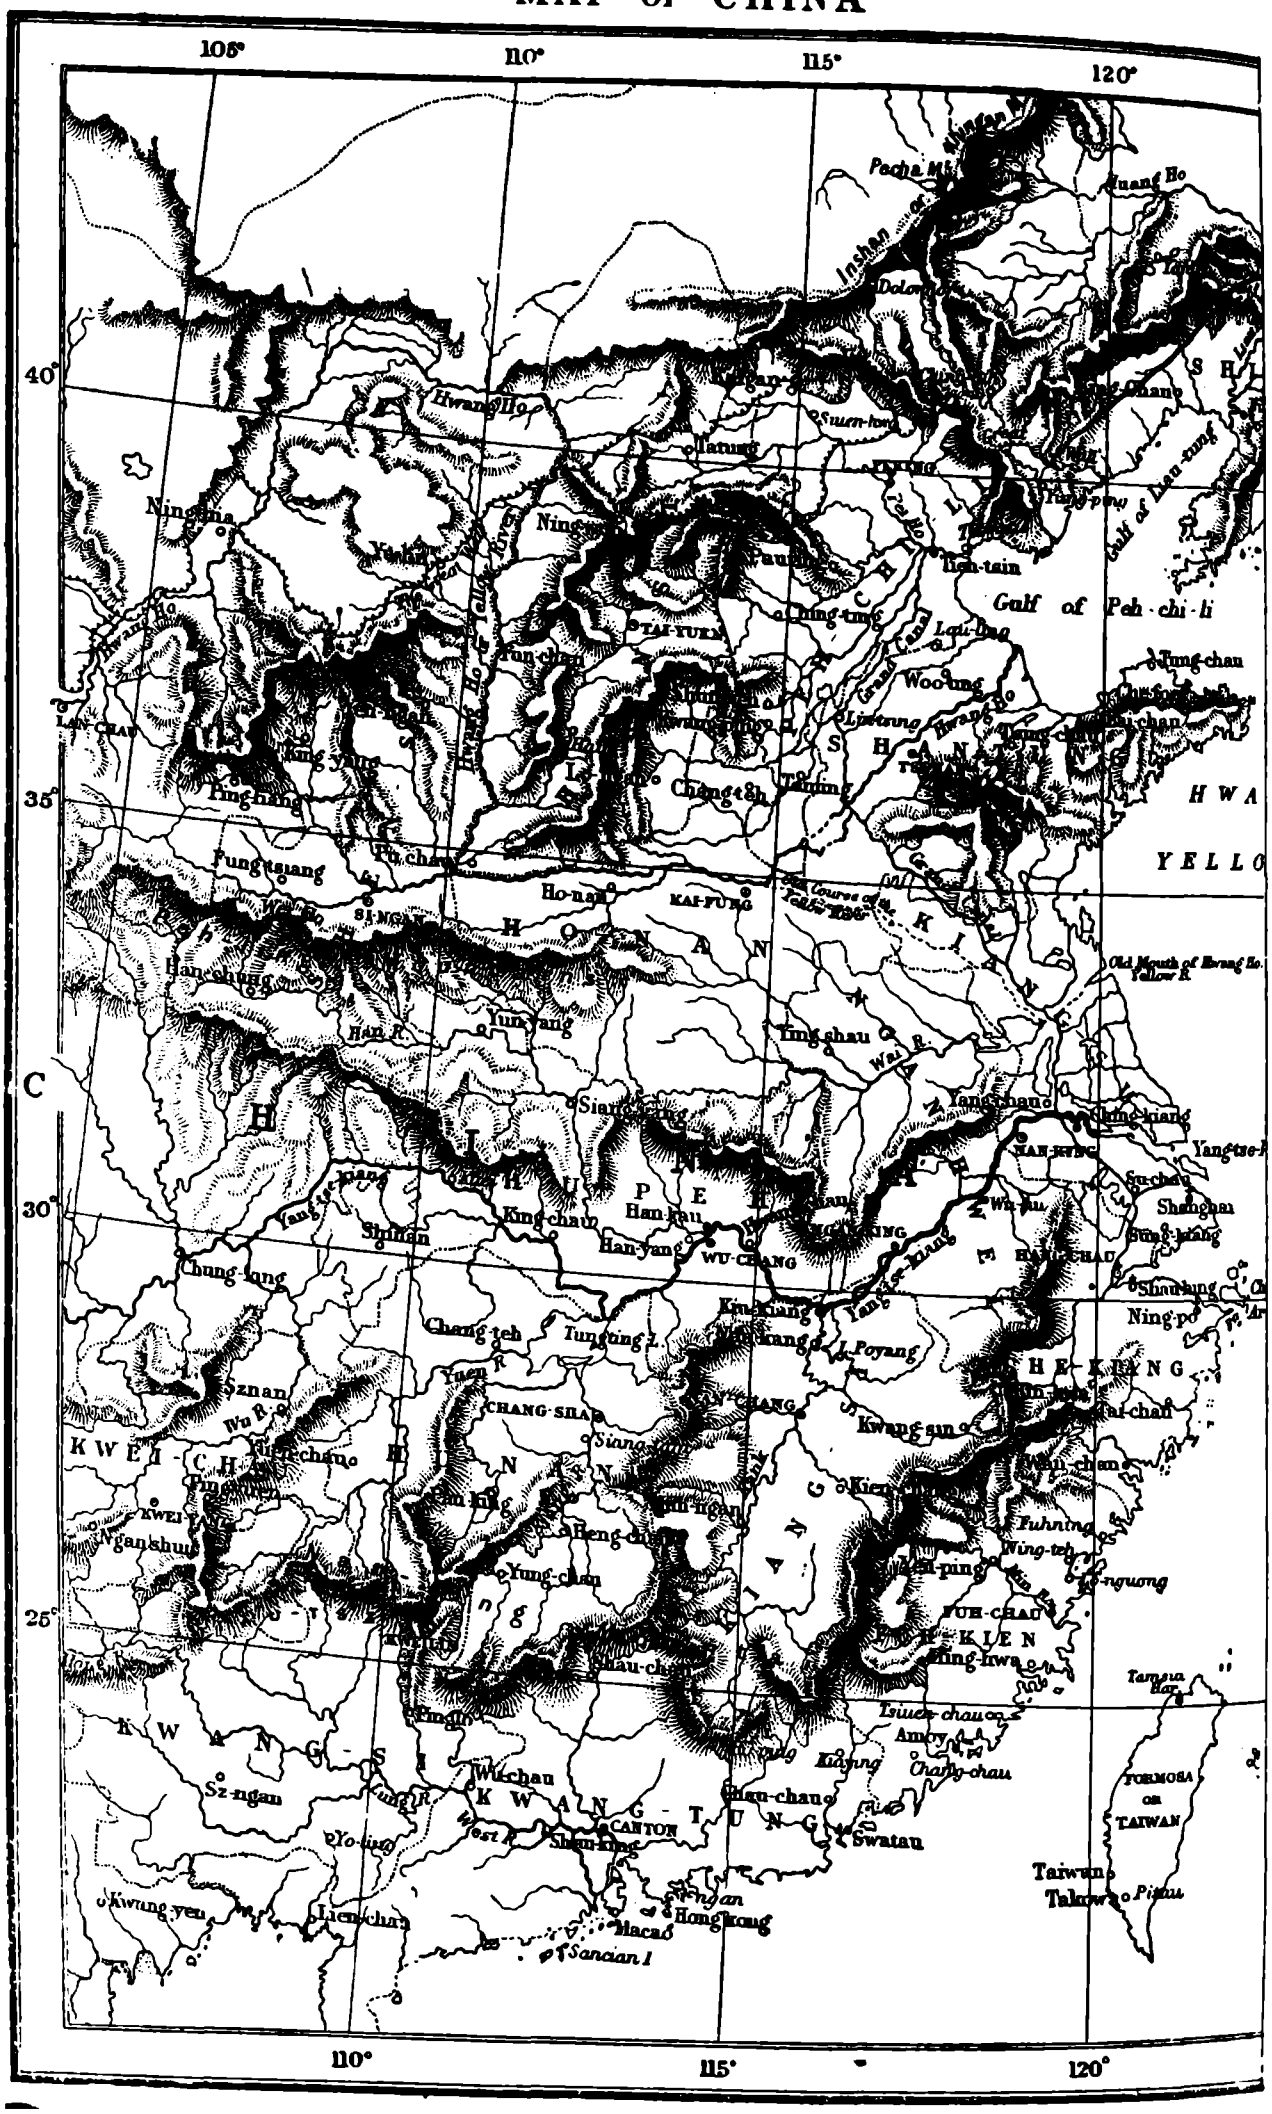

When I recall to mind the difficulties connected with the opening of this station some twenty years ago, the violent opposition we then encountered from the local gentry and the people generally; and when I compare with it the present condition of things, surrounded by a people, on the whole, friendly and well-disposed towards us, having a community of Native Christians numbering more than 100, and all the apparatus of a prosperous Mission in full working order, with a catechist at the head of no common calibre, whom I hope soon to have the privilege of ordaining, I am compelled to exclaim in gratitude and wonder, "What hath God wrought!"

Lehi and Tsong Tseng Districts.

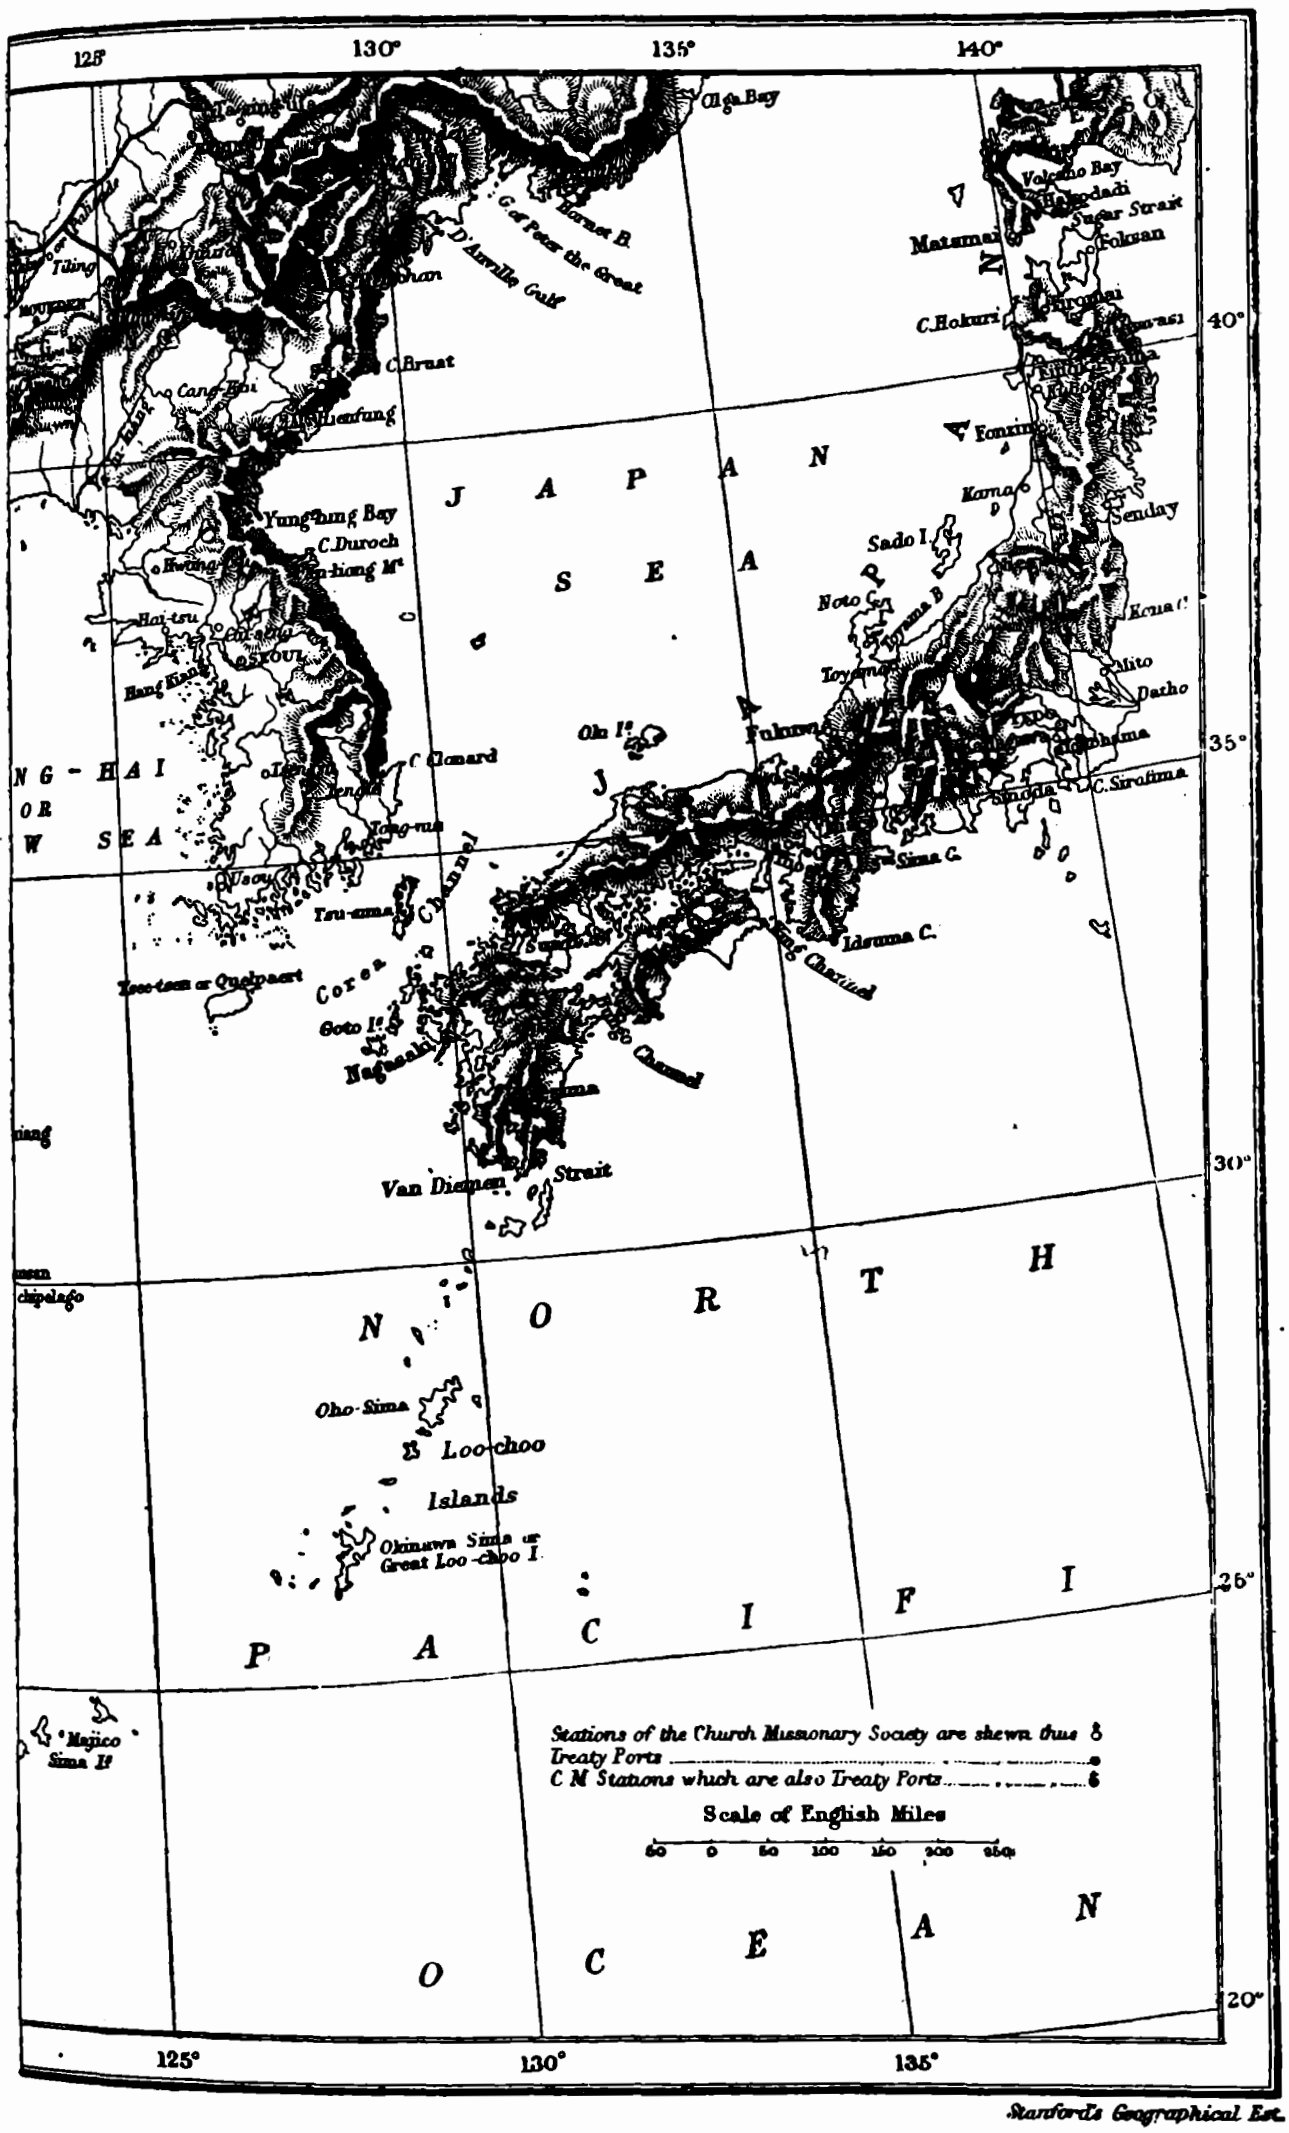

The Rev. James Bates, in his Annual Letter, speaks of the year 1873 as having been one of "great quietness" in a Missionary point of view. Five adults have been baptized, and there are a few inquirers. Bishop Russell gives the following account of a confirmation held in this district:—

On Sunday, October 28th, I confirmed eighteen, eleven women and seven men, at a village in the Lehi district. The little chapel in which we held the service at this place is the smallest and poorest of any at our out-stations. It is only a small upper room in a wretched Chinese house, occupied by the catechist in charge. Still we had there on this occasion, a nice, orderly, and devout company of about forty persons, nearly all Christians of Mr. Bates' district, and amongst them Mr. Bates, Mrs. Russell, and our good friend Mr. Krauss of Shanghae, who came down to see us before his departure for England. He seemed much surprised and pleased at finding in such a place such a company of well-instructed and apparently sincere Chinese Christians, who could have no motive whatever, in this remote locality, for embracing the Gospel, except a belief in and love of its saving truth.

AND JAPAN

Stanford's Geographical Est.

Signs of inquiry have appeared in some hill villages near the out-station of Da-le. In the autumn of 1873 Mr. Bates made a Missionary tour in a plain beyond the lakes. The willingness of the people to listen has encouraged him to hire a room in its chief town, the little city of Da-song.

Instruction of Native Agents.

This important work has been entrusted to Mr. A. E. Moule, who remarks on those under his care that their conversations on Scripture difficulties display sometimes a marvellous depth of thought and knowledge of the Bible.

SHAU HYING.

The Rev. J. D. Valentine and the Rev. H. Gretton are the Missionaries at this station. The latter, however, did not reach Shau Hying until December last. The Rev. R. Palmer, who was at Shau Hying at the commencement of 1873, left China by medical order in August of the same year. Mr. Valentine thus refers to encouragements graciously granted as regards the appliances and agencies of the Mission.

At the beginning of the year we had to vacate the preaching-room we had occupied for twelve months in the High Street, the landlord requiring the premises for his son. But now we have in a better part of the same busy street a room twice the size of the one we had before. The rent we have paid all along out of our offertory, our Church fund, and I hope we shall continue to do so.

Then again, last year we had to record the loss by death of the only Native helper we had. Now we have two Native brethren, both possessed of a fair knowledge of the Chinese character, and of the doctrines of the Gospel, and both preparing to pass the Conference Examination next spring; when, I trust and pray, both will become fully accredited agents of the Society.

The following account given by Mr. Valentine of an adult baptism also illustrates the character of, at least, one family among the little band of Shau Hying Native Christians :—

A remarkable answer to prayer.

There has been but one person baptized here since my last Annual Report was sent in. This is one of the four mentioned last year as being on my list; but not the young man, a Native of Ningpo, who seemed so earnest about salvation, for he fell into disgrace, and subsequently gave up his situation in our household, and ceased to be an inquirer. The person who has been baptized is the eldest son of Christian parents, that is to say, of parents who are now Christians and communicants, Mr. and Mrs. Vong. This son of theirs, is, like Augustine of old, "the child of many prayers." When the Taeping insurgents ravaged the district they carried off Mr. Vong's two sons, this young man, then a lad of fifteen or sixteen, and his brother. For seven years nothing was heard of them. Meantime, the Gospel of the grace of God had reached Hang Chow, where Mr. Vong then resided. It reached his ears, it reached his heart; he believed and was baptized. The loss of his sons pressed heavily on his spirit, but now he knew where to flee for succour. He prayed and prayed that his sons might be brought back to him in safety. His prayers were not unheeded, for, before many months had elapsed, on a Sunday, as I have often heard the old gentleman say with delight, the eldest son entered the house. Soon after this happy event Mrs. Vong believed the truth, and was received into the Church by baptism. Then the two earnestly and constantly united in prayer for the return of their younger son. Again prayer was heard and answered; the missing son was brought home to his rejoicing parents, and that on a Sunday also. This considerably confirmed the faith of both father and mother in the truth of the Christian religion. "How can I but believe that there is a God that hears and answers prayer," I have heard Mr. Vong say again and again, "when He has heard my prayers in this remarkable manner?" "And few parents have been so blessed," says Mrs. Vong, "as to have two sons restored to them." Now one of these sons is a Christian, and was baptized by me on Whit-Sunday by the name of Sik-wœ (Bestowed Favour).

On another subject Mr. Valentine writes:—

The Day of Intercession was about the happiest day we have had in Shau Hying. Not only our own Christians, but several from the Baptist Mission and from the Inland Mission assembled in our little church for united prayer, and earnest were the supplications that the Lord of the harvest would thrust forth labourers into His harvest.

Mr. Valentine speaks with much thankfulness and joy of the open doors which it has pleased God to grant for Evangelistic work. He writes Dec. 16, 1873:—

Opening of a country out-station near Shau Hying.

On Sunday afternoons I have had, since May last, an open service; that is to say, I have had the doors thrown open to the heathen after the Litany has been read, thinking that passers-by seeing our regular attendants in church, might venture in. The result has been very encouraging so far as regards the entrance of outsiders. —This day (Dec. 16) has witnessed the commencement in connexion with this station, of what I consider the most important and the most interesting work in this country, I mean the opening of a country out-station. (For some reason or other city work is everywhere, in China, less productive than country work. It is so at Fuhchow, it is so at Ningpo, it is so here. Last week only did I see my way clear to enter on this field of labour. I mentioned the matter to my colleague and to my two Native Brethren, and all were in favour of my making the experiment. So summoning my two Native Brethren into my study, I gave them directions to go to a town about ten English miles to the south-west of the city and search for a suitable room, and prayed with them that the Lord would be pleased to open the way. That very evening they returned, bringing the gratifying intelligence that after looking at several houses, they had found one which they both considered would be most suitable for our purpose, and that in the course of a day or two the landlord would come hither to talk about renting it to us. The landlord came, attended our evening prayers, listened most cheeringly to what was said, and willingly let the house to us for a term of five years at a most reasonable rental. Such an important transaction, so easily and successfully accomplished, seemed almost too much for one's faith. But the fact stands, and to-day my wife and I have been to see for ourselves, and fully agree with our Native brethren that the place selected has been well chosen. Li-ts, the town where we have thus opened our first out-station, is a very busy place on market days, which happen every other day, and the key to an extensive district in which no Christian labourer, native or foreign, is at present engaged. The people seem exceedingly well-disposed. They flocked to-day into the room to hear what we had to say, and some purchased the Christian books we had for sale. Perhaps it is not too much to hope that the friends of our beloved Society will make such an effort as this one of those "topics for prayer" which you have recently and wisely introduced into the pages of the "Record."

HANG CHOW.

There is no Mission that seems more to call for the prayers of the Christian Church than that carried on at HANG CHOW. The immense population of the city, its literary importance, the dialectical difficulties (peculiarly great even for China), the trying climate, the hope deferred, and, it may be added, the family trials to which some of the Missionary party have been subjected, may be mentioned among other special demands for intercession and sympathy. The Society's Missionaries here are the Rev. G. E. Moule, the Rev. A. Elwin, and Dr. Galt. There are 32 Native Christians, of whom 20 are communicants. Two adult baptisms have taken place, widows of eighty and sixty years of age respectively.—The daily preaching in the city has been conducted with little intermission; and Mrs. Moule has a weekly meeting of women.—The opium hospital, under the charge of Dr. Galt, was opened about the middle of November, 1873, with accommodation for twenty patients. Six inmates were soon admitted. A valuable Native assistant was obtained from the American Mission, who dispenses medicine, and gives religious instruction. "Reports come from every quarter," Dr. Galt writes,

"of the unsatisfactoriness of the cure of opium smokers; very few being permanently rescued. We beg that you will remember us in your prayers. There is accommodation for other patients also, and two surgical operations were successfully performed in the first fortnight."

The following passage in one of Bishop Russell's letters, describing a confirmation held in Hang Chow, expresses also the Bishop's view of the prospects of the Mission:—

On Nov. 23, I held a confirmation at Hang Chow in Mr. G. E. Moule's nice little church in that city (erected principally with private means). I confirmed eighteen persons, fourteen being members of Mr. Moule's own flock, and four having come from Shau Hying for the occasion. Probably no candidates for this holy rite in the province had received such careful instruction for it, as those fourteen members of Mr. Moule's congregation, or came forward with a more intelligent appreciation of its meaning and use. It would not be easy even at home to find such an orderly and well-conducted body of Christians during divine service. The whole company, Christians and heathen included, amounted to about fifty persons. With all the arrangements at Hang Chow as regards the Missionaries' residence, Dr. Galt's Hospital, &c., &c., I was also greatly pleased. As yet the work amongst the Natives has not assumed very large proportions, but the nucleus of one is being made, which will in the end abundantly reward all the faith and patience and labour and prayer which have been spent upon it.

Ningpo, Shau Hying and Hang Chow are all in the province of Chekeang. The Missionaries of these places are accustomed to meet in a half-yearly Conference. Bishop Russell thus refers to an important subject discussed at one of these gatherings:—

Our half-yearly Conference was held at my house on Nov. 5th, 6th and 7th. One good result which has been attained, is the appointment of a Committee to draw up rules for the selection and guidance of local Church Committees, in connexion with our more advanced Native congregations. This, I trust, is one step in the right direction, which will eventually lead to the formation of Native District Councils, and to the placing of Native Church organization on a more satisfactory basis than it is at present.

JAPAN MISSION.

(Commenced 1869.)

European Mission Establishment:

Rev. Charles Frederick Warren (m), to China, 1864; to Japan, 1873.
Rev. John Piper (m), to China, 1866, to Japan, 1873, Secretary of the Mission.
Rev. George Ensor, B.A. (m), 1868: at home.
Rev. Henderson Burnside (m), 1870.
Rev. Walter Dening (m), to Madagascar, 1870; to Japan, 1873.
Rev. Philip K. Fyson, B.A. (m), 1874.

Six Missionaries for Japan.

When the Report for 1872-3 was issued from the press, the Rev. H. Burnside was the Society's solitary Missionary to the Japanese empire. It will be seen from the list given above that the Lord has been graciously pleased to enable the Committee largely to strengthen the Mission. Three Missionaries, the Rev. C. F. Warren, and the Rev. J. Piper, both formerly of Hong Kong, and the Rev. W. Dening, formerly of Madagascar, have been transferred to Japan from other Missions; while the Rev. P. K. Fyson, of Christ's College, Cambridge, and the Rev. Henry Evington, of Pembroke College, Oxford, are proceeding thither from this country.

The following extracts from Mr. Burnside's Report will be read with deep interest, and stir up much prayer:—

Beginning of public Christian worship for Japanese at Nagasaki.

I have a Bible-class, consisting of three baptized men, every morning for the space of an hour. We are reading on alternate mornings the Book of Genesis and the Gospel of St. John. Great and most pleasing interest is evinced by them when thus perusing together the life-giving Word of God. I have decided, also, to commence a public service at our bungalow. Hitherto I have met with much encouragement—that is, so far as numbers are concerned. On the first Sunday eight attended, on the second eleven, and on the third—last Sunday—there were twenty-two present. The order of service I at present adopt is as follows:—We first sing a hymn; then I read a chapter from Genesis (the only portion of the Old Testament at present in the Vernacular); then follows the Litany, after which another hymn; then a chapter out of the New Testament, from one of the translated Gospels, and finally a sermon and the benediction. I have also a public service, conducted in exactly the same way, on Wednesday evening. All this, of course, takes place at the Mission premises in the foreign settlement.

I have lately thought that the time has at length come when one might with safety and with much profit cautiously visit a little among the people, in order that those of them who, from one cause or another, cannot, or perhaps will not, visit us, may become acquainted with the good news of salvation through Jesus Christ.

Visit to a Japanese Buddhist Temple.

In the course of one of these visits, about three weeks ago, a very interesting incident occurred. I went into one of the large Buddhist temples in the town, and whilst there expressed a wish to a bystander that I might be allowed to enter into the place where the idol is located. My bystander friend referred me to the priests, remarking, as he did so, that he thought it would be difficult. I accordingly called upon the priests. They, as is always the case, were very gracious and polite. They informed me, however, that nobody but priests were allowed within the sacred enclosure. Ultimately they gave way, and told me that I might enter. This I proceeded to do, accompanied by about twenty priests. Inside I beheld, as I expected, the idol, altar, incense, flowers, and all the other paraphernalia of heathen and idolatrous worship. My heart grew hot within me. I felt that I must speak; and so for the space of three-quarters of an hour, and in the very presence of their idol, I was enabled, by God's grace, to preach to the poor fellows of the Lord Jesus and of His great and only salvation, as also of the hollowness and fearfulness of idolatry. They confessed that very much of what I said was true, told me that I was a learned man, and some of them expressed a wish to be allowed to come and see me, in order that they might hear more about Christ. Of course I said that I should be most delighted to welcome and to talk to them if they would come. That same afternoon two of their number called and stayed, conversing about the Bible for some considerable time. Two or three days afterwards, another one—not a Nagasaki man—who was about to return to his own district in the country, called upon me. He wished, he said, to purchase a Bible to take home with him.

Considerable numbers of the natives are continually visiting me to hear of Christ. Almost every day some come; but, alas! they are not all sincere inquirers. Some come simply for curiosity's sake, whilst there are others whose only object in view is to while away an idle hour. There are others again, who are actuated by purely, selfish motives—either they want you to teach them English, or else to enter your service as a servant. There are a good number of young men, sons of gentlemen, who are actuated by this latter motive. There are men who have come in from the country round about to learn English in Nagasaki. Finding, as is often the case, their little store of money running short, they are but only too eager to enter the service of a foreigner in the capacity of a servant—and that too, most frequently, without any wages—in order that they may be kept from starving, whilst still having some little leisure time in which to devote themselves to study.

You will, I am sure, deeply sympathize with us in that which has of late so filled our hearts with gladness and our tongues with praise. A dear native ——, who was baptized by Mr. Ensor, and who, some two and a half years ago, was arrested in one of the streets of this city and thrown into prison, avowedly on the charge of having transgressed the laws with reference to the wearing of two swords, but really on account of his bold profession of Christianity, has just been set, unconditionally, at liberty. He is now one of the three who come to read the Bible with me every morning. His earnestness and fervency of spirit are peculiarly cheering and refreshing to one's soul.

Japan is opening rapidly. I cannot and do not think that an edict of toleration will be withheld much longer. The present edicts are being openly violated, a violation of which the Government are perfectly cognizant, and yet no notice is taken thereof. There is now a public service held in every post in Japan where Missionaries are located, no opposition whatsoever being offered either to the Missionary who conducts it or to the natives who attend. It was my great privilege to be present at the public service held at Kobi, by the American Missionaries, on three several occasions during September last, and I could not but most thankfully observe, not only the great attention paid by those present, but also that their numbers were steadily on the increase. What are now wanted are men to come out to study the language. They are wanted at once.

NEW ZEALAND MISSION.

III. Western District, comprising the Diocese of Wellington.

General.

The fear of political disturbance, or of outbreaks of hostility between the European and Native races in New Zealand, appears to be slowly passing away. "The restless spirits among the Maoris," writes the Bishop of Waiapu, "seem now to be aware that it is hopeless for them to expect any advantage from war and strife." This change for the better the Bishop ascribes mainly to the judicious policy of the present Colonial administration.

Desire for religious ordinances seems to be almost everywhere reviving among the Native population, but it is universally felt that a faithful Native Ministry must be chiefly looked to as the agency upon which a blessing may be humbly expected; and difficulty is often found in procuring candidates for Holy Orders, the best and ablest men being earnestly solicited to take employment under Government. Promising young Native Christians are however receiving instruction at St. Stephen's Institution, Auckland, with the view of being prepared to minister the Word of Life to their countrymen.

AUCKLAND.

Few Natives reside either in Auckland itself or in its immediate neighbourhood. Arrangements are made for ministering to these, but detailed information of the work has not been supplied.

KAITAIA.

This district is still under the charge of the Rev. J. Matthews and Mr. W. G. Puckey. These faithful labourers are now far advanced in years; and their strength, especially that of the latter, is impaired. The number of the Native Christians of the Mission district is not stated; but it can scarcely be less than 1500, as there are no less than 300 communicants. Again, as for several years past, the Missionaries can report that the members of their flocks are industrious and prosperous in things temporal, on friendly terms with their European neighbours, and maintaining satisfactory relations with the Colonial Government.—As regards matters of higher importance, the services of a Native Minister, the Rev. R. Tangata, are of great value; and three candidates for Holy Orders from the district are receiving instruction at St. Stephen's. The unpaid teachers (forty in number) continue to be faithful and useful; but having to support themselves by their daily labour, they cannot do the work of men altogether set apart for ministerial duties.—Native Christians are liberal in pecuniary gifts for necessary Church expenses.—Amongst several examples of individual piety, one illustrative instance may here be mentioned of triumphant faith in a Maori Christian on her dying bed. She had long adorned the Gospel by her consistent life. In her last hours, while in the midst of severe and protracted suffering, a bystander quoted for her comfort the words, "Come unto Me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden." "Yes," she replied; "but another text suits me now, 'Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.'"—Education is advancing with aid from the public funds. Messrs. Matthews and Puckey do not find that the Government rules respecting grants in aid present any hindrance to the children receiving proper religious instruction.

Joy in death.

In the early part of 1873 Mr. Puckey's house was accidentally destroyed by fire. This put him to much loss and inconvenience; but it also gave occasion to the Maoris to show their affection. Mr. Puckey writes:—

Affection of Native Christians towards their Missionary.

> Our home was burnt down between twelve and one in the morning. We went over to the parsonage in our night-dresses. Before breakfast, some of our Maori lady-friends came, bringing dresses for my wife and daughter—and the offering was more valuable, because very probably they had not more than three for their own wear—perhaps only a change. One brought her best dress, a flaming pink—she was an old lady. Another brought a print flounced skirt, another a muslin skirt. A young girl insisted on our daughter accepting her hat. One young woman brought four shillings, and insisted on its being accepted. Many Maori visitors visited us to express their sympathy, just as English ladies and gentlemen would have done; many shed tears. Two days after the fire many had come to view the ruins—I was there—I asked, "Will any one stop the gap made by the fire, to prevent our cow coming into the garden?" At once they responded, —"In the morning before you are out of bed we will come, each one bringing a stick and a piece of torotoro (a sort of vine which they use to tie their fences with, instead of using nails), and it will be done." So it was. That same week they came, bringing potatoes and Kumaras, every one giving something. Reckoning at five shillings a member, they brought nearly 4*l.* worth, and said more will be brought by-and-bye. . . . We always have felt strong affection for the Maori race. How much more now! so much simple kindness was manifested by them—it was worth more than gold and silver! I have been actively engaged in the Society's service for over fifty years. My time for hard labour has passed; my old white horse and my own grey hairs go well together; but I am never more happy than when I am doing my Master's work.

WAIKATO AND TAUPIRI.

The Rev. B. Y. Ashwell resides during the summer at a place called Hopuhopu, in the Waikato district. A Native brother, often mentioned in the Society's Reports, the Rev. Seth Tarawhiti, is associated with him. In May of last year, Mr. Ashwell was apprehensive of disturbances among the "Kingite" Natives, and even that open hostilities might be renewed between them and the Colonial Government. He asked for prayer that war might be averted (See Church Missionary Society Record, pp. 332, 333). Through the mercy of God this danger passed away. (The winter months Mr. Ashwell spent at Auckland, ministering to the Native population there.)

Mr. Ashwell writes:—

Painful comparison between past and present at Waikato.

There are many influences, at the present moment in the Waikato, to draw away the minds of the friendly natives from Gospel truths.—I do feel greatly, when visiting the remnants of large tribes and villages, the depressing influences of their present degradation compared with the heart-cheering and delightful scenes of the power of the Gospel in the Waikato from the years 1851 to 1861; when there were more than thirty congregations, four averaging from two to three hundred attendants, six averaging from fifty to a hundred, and ten averaging from thirty to forty; and more than five hundred communicants. Our boarding and day-schools, also, were in full operation, Native teachers were zealous and numerous, prayer meetings were frequent and well-attended, and there was everything to fill our hearts with joy and thankfulness. But, alas, what a change worldly-mindedness succeeded by war has brought upon the once flourishing Waikato! It is almost too much for the Missionary to pass by the deserted stations, where churches and schools once flourished; and I am not ashamed to say that I have shed many bitter tears when I have reflected on the change.

HAURAKI.

The statistics of 1873 show a marked advance on those of the year previous; the number of Native Christians attached to the congregations, having increased from 600 to 1000, and of communicants from 30 to 88. Those thus brought under the sound of the Gospel, were, for the most part, already nominal Christians. Five adults, however, have received baptism. The report furnished by the Missionary of the district (Rev. G. Maunsell) is, on the whole, exceedingly cheering. He writes :—

Advanceat Hauraki.

I have to report a continued and increased interest in religious matters. The greater part of the people show almost an eagerness after the services of the Church. Prayers are held at nearly every settlement morning and evening daily, in places where for the years subsequent to the wars no respect was shown at all to religion. Those who were unbaptized are coming forward generally as candidates. Chiefs who before held aloof, or contemptuously rejected invitations to worship, have joined or headed the general movement. Drunkenness has greatly diminished. Hymns are constantly practised and sung. Three churches have been built, and more are in contemplation. Young men come forward to act as Lay Readers. Collections have been and are still being made. There is also a desire for instruction. Two young men are preparing for the Ministry, and another is ready to offer himself. The amount spent in church-building, minister's stipends, offertories &c., aggregate more than 350*l*. Europeans sometimes contribute to the subscription lists taken round by the collectors, thus showing a kindly feeling and interest. The number of communicants has increased. The fewness of the communicants I attribute to the generally disorganized state of the district after the war, and to the fact of my having single-handed to deal with a scattered population in a large area, so that I was not able to pay them such attention as I could have wished. Now I am thankful to say I am relieved from much of the ordinary pastoral duties formerly devolving upon me by the hearty and earnest assistance of two Native Deacons. The Rev. W. Pomare is assiduous in the discharge of his duties and cordially welcomed by the people ; his rank being of itself a passport to their favour. The people have placed a horse at his disposal and for me also when I go to administer the Lord's Supper in those parts. His home is at Mahurangi and his district about 100 miles long. His salary 40*l*. per annum, is derived from the Ngatiwhatua endowment and is in no way chargeable to the Society. My other Native brother, Turipona, exercises great influence, and some of the people who have lately returned to the forms of worship tell me plainly that it was his persuasions alone that led them to do so. The district he has to travel over is a very rough one, involving heavy walking and climbing. His visits are always welcome to the people and they would like to have them oftener. I have urged them to make collections when he pays his visits, in order to defray his expenses by steamer and sailing-vessel, as all their settlements are accessible by that means. Several of my flock have departed this life in the faith and fear of the Lord. I add an account of one furnished me by her husband.

Zeal and efficiency of two Maori clergymen.

This contains the bright side of my account. But there are many tares still amongst the wheat, many bad fish are taken in the net. Sins of unchastity and drunkenness are indulged in by many, and some confess to me that they do indeed find a law in their members warring against the war in their minds.

The following is the obituary referred to above by Mr. Maunsell. It was written in Maori by her husband, a Native Lay Reader:

A dying Maori Christian woman.

The sayings of Mary Poroa on the 6th of April, 1873. She said to me:—"My dear, be strong in the faith; hold fast. Hell is an evil place." I said, "Where then is the good place?" She said, "Heaven is the good place, joyful and loveable. It is the dwelling of God. God is in all the world. Heaven and earth are full of His glory. Heaven is His throne, and earth is His footstool." I said, "How many gods are there in heaven?" She said, "One; Father, Son, and Holy Spirit; One only. The Son is in the bosom of the Father." I asked, "What people will see God?" She answered, "Those that believe shall truly see God, not only with the mind." I asked, "Whose God is Jehovah?" She replied, "The God of the quick and the dead."

TAUPO.

The Rev. T. S. Grace, who is the Missionary of this district, has during the year been able to make three journeys into the Taupo country, and has found the Natives more ready to assemble for religious worship and instruction, and more ready to acknowledge the sinfulness of their irreligion and drunkenness and love of money. They also show more concern for the spiritual welfare of the children.

II. Eastern District.

Seven stations have been occupied in this district in the following chronological order—1. Tauranga, 1835; 2. Maketu, 1835; 3. Rotorua, 1835; 4. Turanga, 1840; 5. Waiapu (East Cape), 1842; 6. Wairoa, 1844; 7. Heretaunga, 1844.

European Mission Establishment:

Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Waiapu, D.C.L. (m), 1825.
Ven. Archdeacon Alfred Nesbit Brown (m), 1829.
Rev. Seymour Mills Spencer (m), 1841.
Rev. Samuel Williams (m), 1846.
Ven. Archdeacon William Leonard Williams, B.A. (m), 1853.
Mr. W. Reynolds, joined in the Mission, 1873.

General.

Archdeacon Leonard Williams gives the following general view of the religious state of the Maori population in the Archdeaconry of Waiapu.

There is an indication of increasing earnestness among the people, to be found in the fact that a number of persons hitherto unbaptized have lately come forward as candidates for baptism. Of these eight have been baptized during the past year. The number of unbaptized adults, however, in this district is not large. —The most unsatisfactory feature in the present condition of things is, perhaps, the difficulty that is experienced in getting the youth of both sexes to attend classes for instruction preparatory to confirmation. In this, however, I trust we shall be more successful as the unsettling effect of the war passes more entirely away. —Of candidates for the Ministry I am sorry to say that we have no more as yet in this district.—The last meeting of the Turanga Native Church Board was held in April, at Wharepanga, in the Waiapu district. The proceedings attracted a great deal of interest; and there was much earnest and practical discussion on various subjects, and especially on the best means of counteracting the dreadful scourge of drunkenness. The evil is a crying one, and though it cannot as yet be said to have received a decided check, yet we confidently expect that the blessing of God will rest on the persevering efforts of the Board in this as well as in other matters, and crown them eventually with success.

The aggregate number of communicants in the districts of WAIAPU (EAST CAPE), TURANGA, WAIROA, and HERETAUNGA is 638.

The Government efforts to promote education have met with only doubtful success in the Archdeaconary of Waiapu. The prospect was at first hopeful; but when the novelty had passed away, the attendance at the schools fell off very considerably. Both teachers and scholars would feel more interest in their work (supposing the former to possess proper qualifications) if Scriptural teaching proved a regular part of the daily course.

TAURANGA AND MAKETU.

The Ven. Archdeacon Brown's report is less cheering than those of some of his younger brethren, probably from his more vivid remembrance of the bright hopes entertained in years gone by. It will be understood that the "war" to which the Archdeacon refers is now a thing of the past, though, alas! many of its effects are too sadly present. He writes:—

As far as TAURANGA is concerned, I have little to communicate that will either interest or cheer. War, with its attendant evils, has sadly changed the face of our vineyard, and what was once like the "Garden of Eden," now wears the appearance of "a desolate wilderness." There are few gleams of light amidst surrounding darkness, and there is, on the part of the natives, an indifference which is even more trying to contend with than direct opposition. —The profession of Hauhauism is becoming less; promises are made to repair some of the dilapidated chapels; a few children are brought for baptism, and a general desire expressed that Government would establish schools throughout the country. Several are in operation in this district, but as the education is purely secular, we can derive little satisfaction from the experiment.

The Rev. Ihara Te Ahu is still carrying on his work at MAKETU, and makes visits, when his health permits, amongst the Lakes and East Coast tribes. His reports are of a sad character as to the spiritual state of the natives, although they pay him marked respect, and listen attentively to his preaching while making these periodical journeys. I am increasingly persuaded that if our scattered flocks are again brought within the fold of the Good Shepherd, it will be through the instrumentality of Native Teachers.

ROTORUA.

The Rev. S. M. Spencer has to deplore the prevalence of intemperance among the Maoris of this district. At the same time the experience of recent journeys leads him to hope that the comparative quietness now vouchsafed to the Native Church will be instrumental in God's hands to promote "a gradual return to the good paths."

HERETAUNGA.

No report has been received from the Rev. Samuel Williams of the general work in this district; but the Te Aute Boarding School which is situated near Mr. Williams's residence is spoken of by the Bishop of Waiapu as "doing well under its able master, Mr. Reynolds."

III. Western District.

The district was first occupied by Bishop Hadfield in 1839. It now comprises two stations: 1. Wanganui, 1840; 2. Otaki, 1842.

WANGANUI.

The work connected with this station has suffered a severe loss in the death of the Rev. R. Taylor. The Bishop of Wellington writes as follows :—

Peaceful departure of a veteran Missionary.

The Rev. Richard Taylor was taken away on the 10th of October. On the 7th I received a telegram from his son saying that he was sinking rapidly. I hastened hither in the first steamer, but arrived four hours after he had expired. He died happily in the midst of his family, in his sixty-ninth year, suffering no pain, and having his mind clear and calm to the end. The medical man who attended him told me he had never seen a more peaceful death. Within half an hour of his death he thanked him for his attention and care ; and then, having assured his family that he still recognized them all, and was looking forward to rest, without an audible sound he breathed his last breath. On the following Sunday I preached his funeral sermon ; and on the Monday read the service, when he was laid in the grave. He was followed to the grave by a very large number of both his own countrymen and Maoris.

Mr. Taylor was much beloved by all who knew him. In former years he was probably the most active Missionary in the country in visiting Native settlements. It is now thirty years since he came to reside and labour in this place. During the whole intervening period, we heartily co-operated together in the work of the Mission. Never for one moment was our cordial brotherly friendship interrupted. He, who lived to serve and honour God, and extend the kingdom of his Redeemer, and who died in faith, is now gone to his rest. May I labour as he has done, and in God's time follow him !

Further particulars of Mr. Taylor's last hours are given by his son, Mr. B. K. Taylor.

He was perfectly sensible to the last, and calmly fell asleep in Jesus, without a sigh or the slightest struggle, peaceful and happy ; he suffered no pain, but perfect peace pervaded his entire frame. There was a simple trust in the one foundation he spoke of. It was quite a privilege to watch so holy a death-bed. Several Natives came to see him during his last moments ; and though unable to speak, he silently gave his hand, and then pointed upwards, thus begging them with his last energies to hold fast the faith, and not to forget their first love.

Mr. B. K. Taylor speaks of the Natives in this district as being very unsettled, but he hopes "a better feeling is springing up among them." Faithful Native Pastors, if they can be obtained, will doubtless be blessed here as elsewhere. They must be sought for by prayer from God, and by the proper use of other means.

GENERAL.

Extension and calls for extension in North-West America.

The Committee have taken measures for strengthening this Mission. It is true that, vast as its area is, the heathen population is small—far less, in fact, than is often found in a single city in India or China—but the willingness of the people to receive the Gospel, and the success granted to past labours, are calls that cannot be denied. The complete evangelization of these tribes seems not far distant; and the time may be hoped for when such aid as the Indian Christians need will be supplied by the Church of the Colony. The present, however, is a critical period, the tide of immigration having only just set in. It is cause for thankfulness that the diocese of Rupert's Land has for its Bishop so energetic a worker, and one so thoroughly accordant with the principles of the Society. The consecration of Bishop Horden for Moosonee, mentioned last year, has been followed by that of another of the Society's Missionaries, Dr. Bompas, for the Athabasca and Mackenzie River Districts, as also of Archdeacon McLean for Saskatchewan. In the former of these two new dioceses the population is almost exclusively Indian; while in the latter are to be found several thousands of the same race hitherto untouched by Missionary effort. Attempts to reach these last are in progress; and reinforcements are arranged or proposed for Athabasca, Manitoba, and Moosonee.

Province of Manitoba.

The self-support and Missionary activity of the Colonial and Indian Church in the province of Manitoba have been much hindered by the ravages of the locusts. But the spirit of the people is good, and the Committee believe that the Indian Christians will supply both means and men for the Lord's work. As regards the sending forth and the needful preparation of labourers, the Committee look with deep and prayerful interest to St. John's Theological College, and to the well-considered measures which the Bishop is adopting to secure its efficiency and usefulness. The Rev. J. Grisdale, who is the Society's Missionary at St. Andrew's and is associated with Archdeacon Cowley in the Secretaryship of the Mission, has been appointed on the College staff as one of its Professors, and will enter on his new duties as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made.

ST. ANDREW'S.

At the commencement of June, 1873, Archdeacon Cowley was relieved of the charge of St. Andrew's by the arrival of the Rev. John Grisdale. The congregation is thoroughly Anglicized, and of semi-European descent. It is acknowledged on all hands that this congregation cannot permanently remain connected with the Society, but must in due time be united with the Church of the country. At the time of writing his annual letter, Mr. Grisdale had about one hundred candidates in his classes for confirmation, and found that they came up in all respects to the average standard of such classes in England.

From the Society's other Stations in Manitoba, viz., ST. CLEMENT'S, MAPLETON; ST. PETER'S, at the INDIAN SETTLEMENT; ST. MARY'S, LA PRAIRIE; and SCANTERBURY; nothing of special interest has been reported.

Proposed new Station in North-West America.

The Committee hope to open a new station at Fort Francis, a post occupied by the Hudson's Bay Company in a vast tract of unsettled country lying between Fort William at the west end of Lake Superior and the Red River Settlement (or Winnipeg, as this last place is now called). The length of the ordinary canoe route between Lake Superior and Winnipeg is 635 miles; and the intermediate district consists of a chain of lakes and rivers, presenting frequent obstructions to boat navigation in falls and rapids. This country will now be occupied by British emigrants; but adequate reserves have been set apart for the Indians, who are about 4000 in number. The Rev. Robert Phair, who laboured in North-West America from 1863 till 1872, when he came to England on leave, and who hopes to return during the present summer, has been appointed to open out this new Mission.

Swan River.

Mr. J. Reader, a theological Student from Islington, has been appointed to reinforce the Mission Staff in the Province; where at present the Rev. George Bruce (a Native clergyman) and two or three Native Catechists, are the only labourers engaged. Mr. Reader left England in company with Bishop Bompas on May 12th, 1874, and is to be stationed at TOUCHWOOD HILLS.

Saskatchewan.

The Rev. Luke Caldwell (an Indian by birth) and one or two subordinate agents are at present the only representatives of the Society in this province. Saskatchewan will doubtless become the home of a large white population. But the newly consecrated Bishop (Dr. McLean) is desirous that the Society should aid him in doing something for the Indians who at present wander over these districts. The Committee, in March of the present year, designated for this work Mr. J. Hines, who had been receiving instruction for nine months at the Society's preparatory Institution at Reading. Mr. Hines subsequently left England in company with Bishop Bompas on May 12th, 1874. It is proposed that he should proceed to Green Lake for the purpose of carrying the Gospel to the Indians, and at the same time teaching them to settle down and cultivate the soil. The arduous character of the work among the Indians of Saskatechewan, commonly called Plain Indians, and the consequent need of much prayer on Mr. Hines's behalf, will appear from the following remarks in a letter from Mr. Mackay, of Stanley, who has on several occasions come in contact with parties belonging to those wandering tribes. Mr. Mackay writes :—

Difficulties to be encountered in Saskatchewan.

The work among the Plain tribes of the Saskatchewan is a work full of difficulty. In the first place they are greater wanderers than the Indians in other parts of the country. The wood Indians have their regular hunting grounds, beyond which they seldom extend their wanderings, and they keep to their own trading-posts, which they visit regularly, at least twice a year, in the spring and autumn. The Plain Indians, for the most part, wander from place to place, visiting first one post and then another, at long and irregular intervals. Again, the Plain Indians are greatly demoralized. For many years the plains were flooded with strong drink, which, of course, brought with it the usual long list of vices and crimes. Theft, murder, and immoralities of every kind are prevalent, and thought nothing of, and, in fact, are often a subject of boasting. At present, the prohibitory law passed by the Canadian Government has put a stop to the traffic in strong drink in some parts of the country; but the wretched Indians have actually concocted a strong infusion of tea, tobacco, "pain-killer," and anything else that will make the mixture "strong," and still keep up their debaucheries as they did before they were deprived of rum and whisky. They are bitterly opposed to the white man's religion; and lastly their practice of living together in large bands, makes them more difficult to influence than the scattered inhabitants of the wooded country. A Missionary to the Indians of the Saskatchewan must be prepared to "endure hardness."

English River.

STANLEY.

The Rev. J. A. Mackay, a native of Rupert's Land, of mixed descent, is the Missionary of this district. His time has been very much occupied by the temporalities of the Mission; as the buildings at the Station (church, parsonage, and schoolroom), constructed of wood according to the custom of the country, need frequent repair. The social advance of the people is slow, nor have there been any marked indications during the year of religious and spiritual progress. Yet Mr. Mackay is able to write:—

Difference between Christian and heathen Indians.

I am encouraged by a spirit of interest manifested by my people in Church matters, so far as we are able to carry out Church organization, under the disadvantages consequent on their wandering mode of life. On the whole, although our people are not all that we should wish them to be, either in spiritual or worldly things, yet we have every reason to be thankful that they are even what they are. During my recent visit to the Saskatchewan, I often thought of the difference between our Stanley Indians and the poor natives of that part of the country. As a body, I am thankful to bear witness they are superior, not only in being (by profession) Christians, but in dress, in manners, in morality, in industry, and almost everything. The means and labour that have been spent at Stanley, although they may not have yielded as great results as one would desire, yet have not been spent in vain. Without giving a too highly-coloured picture, we may well thank God and take courage.

Mackenzie River.

Reinforcements for Mackenzie River.

The Missionaries labouring in this district during the greater part of 1873 were the Rev. W. C. Bompas, the Rev. R. McDonald, and the Rev. W. D. Reeve. Towards the close of the year Mr. Bompas left the district to return to England for the purpose of being consecrated Bishop of the Athabasca District. Though sorry to lose Mr. Bompas even for a time, his two colleagues felt that the loss to the Mission and themselves was far more than counterbalanced by the prospective advantages of the new arrangement. About the same time their hands were strengthened by the arrival of three young men, who had been trained at St. John's, Red River. Two of these are stationed for the present with Mr. Reeve at FORT SIMPSON, and the third further to the north at Fort Norman. Messrs. Reeve and McDonald will be still further rejoiced when they hear of the intention of the Home Committee to strengthen the Bishop's hands by adding to the number of the Society's European Agents in his diocese. One of these, Mr. A. J.

Shaw, accompanied the Bishop on his return. Mr. Shaw is to be stationed at Fort Vermillion, where part of his duties will unhappily be to protect the Indians from the efforts of the emissaries of Rome.

FORT SIMPSON.

The Rev. W. D. Reeve has been for another year in charge of the work connected with this Station. It has already been mentioned that two of the young men recently sent from St. John's College are at present with Mr. Reeve at Fort Simpson. Of the work at Fort Simpson itself, nothing specially noteworthy is recorded. Mr. Reeve made two journeys to the Indians, one in January, 1873, and the other in May of the same year. He found the Indians "pleased to have the opportunity of receiving instruction."

FORT YOUCON.

The Rev. R. McDonald is the Missionary at this station. No intelligence has been received from it of a later date than August or September, 1873, at which time Mr. McDonald was on his return journey to the place, or had only just reached it, after an absence of some months in England. Mr. (now Bishop) Bompas had visited the place while Mr. Macdonald was away, and in letters written at that time thus spoke of the Loucheux (or, as they are sometimes termed Tukuth) converts :—

I have spent nearly the whole year with the Indians in their camps, endeavouring to secure their stedfastness to the faith, and have enjoyed it much in the inner man, if not altogether in the outward one. . . . The Indians have given me much pleasure, and every day has been like a Sunday with them. This summer the daily evening prayers have often been followed by long-continued tears on the part of all the Indians present sobbing over their sins and ignorance.

Earnest desire for instruction among the Loucheux Christian Indians.

And again :—

I have also visited at their own camps the whole of the Loucheux Indians connected with this post. Each day I spent in the Loucheux camps was like a Sunday, as the Indians were clustered around me from early morning till late at night, learning prayers, hymns, and Scripture lessons as I was able to teach them. I never met with so earnest desires after God's Word, nor have I passed so happy a time since I left England. Indeed, I think I may say that, had I ever found at home such a warm attachment of the people to their Minister, and so zealous a desire for instruction, I should not have been a Missionary. These mountain Loucheux seem the "fewest of all people," but I cannot help hoping that they are "a chosen race."

York Factory District.

In this district, which abuts on the more westerly part of the south-west shore of Hudson's Bay, three languages are spoken by the different sections of the Native population: a dialect of Cree by the major portion of the Indians, Chipwyan at and round Churchill in the north-west; and Eskimo by a few wandering parties belonging to that race. Mr. Kirkby, its well-known Missionary, who formerly laboured among Chipwyan-speaking people at Fort Simpson on the Mackenzie River, has considerable acquaintance with that language. Among the Cree Indians he is assisted by several intelligent and faithful Indian fellow-labourers, some of whom receive no pay from the Society, supporting themselves like their fellow-tribesmen in general by hunting and fishing. Efforts to reach the Eskimo during the year under review have been unavailing.

The following extracts from Mr. Kirkby's letter, dated YORK FACTORY, August 4th, 1873, will be read with interest:—

Indians at York Factory.

We left Churchill on the 29th ult., and arrived here on Saturday afternoon, the 2nd instant, grateful to God for all His many mercies to me during my absence, and thankful to find all well here upon my return. . . . The two full services on Sundays, and prayers every evening, had been conducted by one or other of the catechists, and the people have all attended with the greatest regularity; and not our own people only, but also the strangers who were down from inland also. By them my dear wife sent up a good many Bibles into the interior. A school of fifty-two children, in daily attendance, has also been kept ever since the Indians arrived in the spring.

Trout Lake, mentioned in the following extract, is an out-station among the Cree Indians, lying nearly 300 miles south of York Factory. Mr. Kirkby writes:—

"The letter I had from the catechist at Trout Lake last February was very encouraging. All the Indians who hunt anywhere near the Fort remained with him in the Fall so long as they possibly could, that they might have the advantage of daily hearing the Gospel, and of receiving whatever instruction he could give them; and those who during the winter were near, came in for service every Sunday, and returned to their tents again on Monday morning. There are some who cling yet to their heathenism and to their sins, but they form a small minority. The others have all manifested a desire to know Jesus and to become His disciples. The great sowing-time will commence in the spring, as then all the Indians trading at the Fort come in, and the greater part of the families remain tented there all summer, whilst the men go down to Severn in the boats.

Diligent attention of Indian converts on the means of grace.

Mr. Kirkby was at CHURCHILL among the Chipwyans from April to July, 1873. In a very interesting letter written from thence to the Committee, he thus speaks of the peculiar claims of the work, and of the blessings which GOD had vouchsafed to it:—

At Trout Lake the people have the faithful teaching of the catechist, and at Severn they have the priceless benefit of God's Word, and can read its life-giving truths for themselves; but these poor Chipwyans have no Bible, nor any to tell them of a Saviour's love. Therefore, though few in number as compared to the Crees of Severn and Trout Lake, I felt it to be my duty to come here this season. I left home April 9th, and came here with dogs over the last snow, and have been here since. In knowledge the Indians have made great progress. They are much delighted with their new books, and have been most diligent in learning to read them. This the greater part of them can now do; and when I see the gladness and ease with which the men use them, I feel amply repaid for whatever trouble the preparation of them cost me. . . . . Apart from the services with, and direct instruction given to the Indians, my whole time has been devoted to the Chipwyan language, and to the making of translations into it. Ten new hymns are now ready, making thirty in all. I have also a fair translation of the Morning Service (somewhat abridged), and of the Litany. But my great wish is to give them, as soon as possible, a portion at least of God's blessed Word, for that after all is the great thing. Two of the Gospels are nearly ready, but I would like them to be a little more tested before doing anything with them.

James's Bay, or Moose District.

Moosonee. In a letter dated MOOSE FACTORY, September 9th, 1873, the Bishop writes as follows:—

The goodness of God to me, to mine, and the Church under my charge has indeed been great within the last twelve months. During my long absence, the members of my family left here were kept in a state of continuous good health, and my charge was well cared for. Sunday by Sunday the church-bell summoned the worshippers, once for an English service, twice for Indian services. The Sunday-school was attended to, and the week-day school was not neglected; and I am happy to add that the attendance both at church and school was all but as good as when I was myself here. This I attribute, under God, to the kindness and sympathy of the Christian gentleman in charge of the Moose Factory for the Hon. Hudson's Bay Company. On my arrival I at once commenced holding confirmation classes both for my English and Indian speaking congregation, and after very careful preparation I, on Sunday last, confirmed thirty-six—sixteen at the English service, twenty at the Indian. I have likewise been much engaged in translational labour, which has occupied very much of my time, and which I am still pursuing.

Valuable help rendered by a Christian officer of the Hudson's Bay Company.

The Bishop then refers to the three different races with whom he comes in contact, and the efforts now making to carry the Gospel to them.

1st. The Eskimos. God has seen fit in His loving wisdom once more to try that infant Church. Some time since, wishing to give the poor Eskimos all the assistance in my power, I appointed Leutolf, an Eskimo trained by the Moravians, to be their teacher. He was soon after drowned. Then John Horden became the teacher of his countrymen. He was cut off suddenly. Lastly, Timothy Komuk, a very energetic man, and apparently as strong as man could possibly be, was appointed, and I have just heard that he too has passed away. Truly God's footsteps are not known.—2nd. The Sotos. These occupy a large portion of the diocese, and many of them are still heathen, although the Gospel is making good progress among them. Osnaburgh and Martin's Falls will be visited by Mr. Vincent next year; and if a suitable man can be found at either of these places, he will be brought down to be placed under training. From Metawakumme too I hope to get down a man and his wife next summer.—3rd. The Crees. These are the best cared-for portion of the Indian family in the diocese, and among them the greatest spiritual results have been obtained. Almost all of them, scattered over an immense area, are nominally, at least, Christian.

Disappointment among the Eskimos.

ALBANY.

ALBANY, with its out-stations of Osnaburgh and St. Martin's Fall in one direction, and Rupert's House and Mistasinee in another, is under the charge of a Native Minister, the Rev. T. Vincent. The number of Native Christians is 570; of Communicants, 52. Of the work at Albany itself Mr. Vincent writes:—

Native Christians at Albany.

In winter you are aware that every Mission Station is to a certain extent deserted by its people, and Albany is not an exception in that respect. With the return of our dear people in spring that new life is as it were given to us. The voice of prayer and praise then ascends daily from our little Church, as divine services are conducted regularly morning and evening when I am present. On each Lord's-day we have always three services, one in English and two in Indian. We have our Sunday-school as well, which is always very well attended. Circumstances at present have prevented our keeping a regular day-school, but I hope to take it up again and continue it throughout the winter. Not the least interesting are our prayer-meetings, which we hold once a week, and in which our older men take an active part. They are requested to pray alternately, and it is certainly very pleasing to hear them. Their language is so simple and child-like, that it warms one's heart to listen to them; for not unfrequently their words seem dictated by the Holy Spirit of God. When I am absent from the station, Isaac Hardisty, the Native teacher, conducts the services and the Sunday-school, visiting the sick as well, and he also is assisted by others.

Towards the close of the summer Mr. Vincent paid a visit to Mistasinee, spending some days at Rupert's House in going and returning. At both these places the Indians (all Christians by profession) gave him a warm welcome, and heartily joined with him in the Holy Communion and other means of grace.

NORTH-PACIFIC MISSION.

(Commenced in 1856.)

European Mission Establishment:

Mr. William Duncan, 1856.
Rev. Robert Tomlinson, B.A. (m), 1867.
Mr. W. H. Collison (m), 1873.

METLAHKATLAH.

Mr. W. Duncan's Annual Letter is of its usual deeply interesting character. The following selections from it will give a view of the encouraging work of which Mr. Duncan is the honoured instrument. He writes:—

In no year during the existence of the Mission have God's mercies been more abundantly showered upon us than during the year that is past. One of the foremost of these blessings, though one of the latest given, is the safe arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Collison at Metlahkatlah, who, in the spirit of true fellow-labourers, at once buckled on their harness, and, in addition to the no mean labour of acquiring a new tongue, have cheerfully undertaken such duties as are within their reach. I have still thankfully to record God's blessing on the secular affairs of our little settlement, though, through being alone (until very recently), I have not been able to cultivate the openings for our secular advancement as quickly as I had hoped to do. Our steps will quicken in due time.—The total amount of subscriptions from England and friends in the colony which have reached me to this date is 582*l.* 9*s.* 8*d.*, and the contributions of the Indians of the village and surrounding tribes for church-building amount to 176*l.*, making a total of 758*l.* 9*s.* 8*d.* Against this we have expended the sum of 842*l.* 10*s.* as follows, viz.:—Building large workshops, 172*l.*; utensils and machinery for industrial pursuits, 75*l.*; new church building (yet in progress), 595*l.* 10*s.* I anticipate that it will take not less than 500*l.* more to complete our new church, and, in addition, we have the prospect of building a large number of Indian dwellings according to a new model; thus I may have to provide not less a sum than 1000*l.* to meet all our wants for the coming year.—Our new church-building, you will be glad to learn, has made good progress during the past year. The massive timbers for framing, which Governor Trutch and Captain Cator, of H.M.S. "Scout," saw on the ground last year, and doubted of our ability to raise, are, I am happy to say, now fixed, and fixed well, in their places, and all by Indian labour.

Admiral Cochrane, H.M.S. "Boxer," paying a very hasty visit last summer, took us by surprise while at our carpentry work for the church. On walking into our work-sheds, and seeing a number of Indians at their work-benches, he vociferated, "'I say, these men are not Indians, they are white men. I say, my good man,' addressing the Indian nearest him, "what is your name?" Of course, no response met the astonished admiral, but only wondering looks; but when I interpreted the admiral's words, we heard roars of laughter at the admiral's expense. He had come on shore during pouring rain, accompanied only by his secretary, but had not been many minutes with us before he desired a note to be sent to the ship, inviting other officers on shore, assuring them that they would be greatly interested. Next morning he paid us another visit to take photographs of the church and village. Before he left us he expressed to me how pleased he was to have seen us, and promised another and a longer visit during the coming summer.—In consequence of constant additions being made to our numbers from surrounding tribes, we have at last decided in laying out a town site, with roads running at right angles to the coast line, and capable of accommodating 200 houses, each with a garden in front.

Admiral Cochrane's visit to Metlahkatlah.

We have no adult baptisms to report this year, but 110 catechumens are receiving special instruction preparatory to receiving that rite. Twenty infants have been baptized during the year, and an additional number are awaiting Mr. Tomlinson's next visit.

A very hopeful change has taken place among the Indians of Fort Simpson, through the preaching of the Gospel by the Christian Indians of Metlahkatlah. We have now a select body of teachers, who take the Sundays by turns; two proceeding every Saturday to Fort Simpson, staying over the Sunday, and returning to Metlahkatlah (weather permitting) on the Monday. On Friday nights I spend some time with the teachers, assisting them with the subjects they have chosen to preach upon. They receive no remuneration, though they are often four or five days away, whilst the severity of the weather ofttimes severely tests their devotion and endurance.

Voluntary evangelists from Metlahkatlah.

This Christmas we decided to invite all the congregation at Fort Simpson to spend the festival with us at Metlahkatlah, that they might receive the benefit of a series of special services, and be preserved from falling into those excesses which we had reason to fear would follow, should they spend the Christmas by themselves. About 250 availed themselves of our invitation, and they arrived at Metlahkatlah the day before Christmas, in twenty-one canoes, which indeed presented a pleasing picture, as they approached us with flags flying. According to a previous arrangement, they all clustered to the market-house, which we at present use for our church, and which had been previously very appropriately decorated by brother and Mrs. Collison. On our guests being seated I gave them a short address, and after prayer, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Collison, shook hands with them all. They then were quartered round the village, and a very exciting scene ensued, all the villagers literally scrambling for the guests. To settle matters amicably, I had to send two constables round the village to adjust the distribution of our new friends.—Christmas-day was a great day, houses decorated with evergreens, flags flying, constables and council passing from house to house in their uniforms, and greeting the inmates. Now a string of young men, then another of young women, might be seen going into this house, then into that; friends meeting on the road, shaking hands everywhere; everybody greeting everybody; hours occupied with hand-shaking and interchanging good wishes; nobody thinking of anything else but scattering smiles and greetings, till the church bell rung, and all wended their way to meet and worship God. The crowd seemed so great that fears were entertained that our meeting-house could not accommodate them. I at once decided that the children should assemble in the school-house and have a separate service. Even with this arrangement our meeting-house was crowded to excess. There could not have been less than 700 present. What a contrast to the Christmas-day services I held twelve or fourteen years ago at Fort Simpson! The Tsimsheans might well sing on this day, "Glory to God in the highest, on earth peace, good will towards men."—I held special services every night while the Fort Simpson people were here with us. The subjects upon which I addressed them were as follows, viz.:—"Thou shalt call His name Jesus;" "Thy Word is a lamp," &c.; "Understandest thou what thou readest?" "Ye must be born again;" "Can the Ethiopian change his skin?" "What shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" "One thing is needful;" "Give me thy hand;" "Quit you like men." In addition, we had a midnight service on New-year's eve. The people attended the services regularly, and seemed to drink in the Word.—On Friday, the 2nd of January, our guests departed home. When ready to start, the church bell rang, and they paddled their canoes to our meeting-house, which is built upon the beach. Leaving their canoes, they reassembled for a short address and a concluding prayer. This over, again entering their canoes, they pushed a little from the beach, a cannon was fired, and amid the ringing cheers of hundreds of voices they dashed off, paddling with all their might. In a few seconds they simultaneously halted, and returned as hearty cheers as they were receiving. The air now rang with the double cheering; caps, handkerchiefs, and flags waving; the whole forming a very animated scene. Thus our guests departed.

Peace, order, sobriety, and abstinence from crimes of violence, have extended from Metlahkatlah to the neighbouring districts. Reconciliation has been solemnly ratified among tribes that had been embittered against each other for upwards of thirty years. Yet both at Fort Simpson and from other quarters Mr. Duncan meets with opposition and difficulties that call for the sympathy and prayers of the many friends interested in his work.

KINCOLITH.

The Rev. R. Tomlinson is still at this Station. The Native Christians are fifty-two in number. No adult baptisms are recorded; nor has there been any marked addition to the number of settlers. The schools are regularly attended by about forty children. "There has been a decided improvement," writes Mr. Tomlinson, "in the tone of the village; and the influence for good exercised by the Christians is making itself felt, not only among those settled here, but also among surrounding tribes." Mr. Tomlinson has also made exploratory Missionary journeys in the neighbouring districts, where he has been well received. "Come and teach us," was the one request, "and we will gladly hear."

CONCLUSION.

Open Doors.

WHILE deeply thankful for abundant indications of increased Missionary spirit in this country, the Committee see still more signal proof of GOD's blessing, during the year now concluded, in the Mission Field itself.—Open doors present themselves on every side. But a few months have passed since the Committee were assured that in the then condition of China, that immense field scarcely called for additional labourers. Cities in the interior, at that time partially closed, are now accessible, and Bishop Russell asks for the largest possible reinforcements. Here alone there would be more than sufficient demand for all the means and men at the Society's disposal. Meanwhile, favourable opportunities for taking up new ground offer themselves in Japan, in the Panjâb, in Central India, in Sindh, in Africa, and in North-West America.—It has pleased GOD also to prosper existing operations. The statistical tables report advance in the numbers of Catechumens, of baptized Christians, and of Communicants, in almost every Mission. A closer examination does not remove the satisfaction thus occasioned. There is increased activity in the Native Churches. These infant communities are growing in intelligence and moral strength. Social elevation still, as of old, proves itself to be one of the secondary effects of the preaching of the Gospel. The efforts made to call forth among the Native Christians a spirit of activity and independence have been successful. Consciousness of strength has been acquired, rendering self-support and self-extension more easy and natural. There have been also increasing evidences of a sense of sin and a persuasion of pardon; of a sense of human weakness, and reliance on Divine strength; of spiritual knowledge of GOD's Word; of the constraining power of the Saviour's love, and zeal for His glory; of affectionate brotherly love among fellow-believers, and compassion for those still in darkness.

Extension and increased vitality of Native Churches.

The Committee cannot but connect this with the prayers that were so generally and solemnly offered last December for the special putting forth of the power of the Holy Ghost in connexion with Missionary effort. Doubtless, there are fields still comparatively barren, populations (such as in parts of Northern India) where faith and patience are sorely tried by the lingering of the spiritual harvest. Doubtless, too, the progress that has been made renders more evident the vastness of the work yet remaining. But it shows also that success may be humbly expected, that the means used are such as GOD blesses, and that supplications for blessing are graciously accepted. The progress will be greater when there is more spiritual life in the Church at home. Let the members of the Society seek for and expect more of the life-giving power of the HOLY GHOST; let them have more sympathy with the LORD JESUS in the great work which He is carrying forward; and let there be more of the joyous and grateful self-consecration to "Him that has loved us, and washed us from our sins in His own blood." Gold and silver will then be freely yielded, personal service will be abundant, the Church will arise and shine; and before the practically manifested love and life and power of the Gospel, Mohammedan bigotry, Brahmin pride, and the scepticism of the Anglicized Hindu will be overcome; and North India, as well as Africa and China, will year by year yield its thousands, and its millions, to become followers of the Lamb in this present chequered scene of joy and sorrow, and to reign with Him hereafter as "Kings and Priests unto GOD and His Father." "To Him be glory and dominion for ever and ever, Amen!"

PRAYER USED AT THE ANNUAL MEETINGS OF THE SOCIETY.

ALMIGHTY and most merciful FATHER, we give Thee humble thanks for the light of Thy Gospel. Make us more grateful for this Thy mercy, and more zealous for the salvation of all mankind.

Visit in mercy the Church of Christ; enrich it more abundantly with the grace of Thy Holy Spirit; and bless its endeavours to make known Thy Truth. Unite, as one man, all who are truly labouring for Thee. Disappoint the designs of Satan. Let all Christian Societies live in harmony and love; give them wisdom in all their plans; perfect Thy strength in their weakness; and direct their labours to Thy glory!

The Harvest truly is great, but the Labourers are few! O Thou Lord of the Harvest, send forth Labourers into Thy harvest! Fill with Thy Spirit those whom Thou hast sent forth; and enable them faithfully and boldly to preach, among Jews and Gentiles, the unsearchable riches of Christ. Keep them from the snares of the world, the flesh, and the Devil; deliver them from all evil; and make them wise to win souls.

Upon all the Native Converts whom Thou hast gathered to Thyself, through Thy labouring servants throughout the world, pour out Thy Holy Spirit, that, as Thou hast begotten them again unto a lively hope, so they may ever be followers of Thee as dear children. Deliver them from all remaining darkness and ignorance; destroy and abolish in their hearts all that remains of Satan's kingdom; grant that their faith, and hope, and love may grow exceedingly; make them to be ready to every good work, and more especially to exert themselves for the salvation of those around them; that so, by their zeal and faithful testimony, by their holiness and fruitfulness, they may glorify Thy name before their countrymen, and bring in unto Thee, from the midst of them, such as shall be saved.

Have compassion, O Most-merciful Father, on all those who have come under instruction, though they be not yet altogether Christians. Convince them effectually, by Thy Word and Spirit, of their sinful and miserable state; pour upon them the Spirit of grace and supplication, and draw them to Jesus.

Take away blindness from the Jews. Let them receive Thee, O Jesus, as their Messiah, and proclaim Thy saving Name among the Gentiles.

Deliver all Mohammedans from the delusions of the False Prophet! O Thou True Prophet of Thy Church, enlighten them by Thy Holy Spirit, and bow them down at the foot of Thy Cross!

Pity blind Idolaters, who are kept in cruel bondage by the god of this world. Turn them from idols, that they may serve the Living and True God.

O Thou Almighty Saviour, who by the right hand of God art exalted, and hast received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, shed forth His light and grace on this dark world!

Cause all Christians, we beseech Thee, to sow bountifully; that they may reap also bountifully. O Thou that lovest a cheerful giver, let all grace abound toward them, that they may minister liberally of their substance to the making known of Thy Name!

With these our humble prayers, we join our praises and thanksgivings for what Thou hast already done in making known Thy salvation: perfect Thy work, O Lord; shortly accomplish the number of Thine elect; and hasten the coming of Thy Kingdom.

Be present with us, O Lord, at this time. Give us all a single eye to Thy glory. May Thy blessing rest upon our meeting; and may all our hearts be this day quickened and encouraged to fresh and persevering efforts in Thy Service.

We ask these mercies for the glory of Thy Name, through the merits and mediation of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ; and would ascribe to Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, Three Persons in One God, everlasting praise. Amen!

Our Father which art in Heaven: Hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil; for thine is the kingdom, the power and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

NOTICE TO TREASURERS AND SECRETARIES OF ASSOCIATIONS.

THE Committee of the Church Missionary Society request the Treasurers or Secretaries of Associations to transmit the proceeds of their respective Associations, together with the Contribution Lists and Accounts, as soon after the close of their Financial Year as possible. The Lists and Accounts should be written legibly to avoid mistakes in printing, and made up in the manner in which the same are printed in the Parent Society's Report. The Local Officers being appointed by the Associations, their names, as well as the date at which the Accounts of the Association are closed, should be specified. Where the Account or the List is a printed one, two copies should be forwarded.

The Committee would also point out, for wider adoption, the convenience of a practice very generally observed by Associations, of making remittances on account whenever any considerable proportion of the year's receipts is in the hands of the Local Treasurer. This practice, they have reason to believe, would be acceptable to many of their Contributors, and would tend to equalize in a greater degree the income and expenditure in the earlier months of the Society's Financial Year.

The Society's General Accounts are closed on the 31st of March, and all Moneys and Lists belonging to the year must be received at the Society's House by that date, in order that the Lists may be inserted in their proper place in the Report.

The appending of the Lists and Accounts of the Associations to the Annual Report is a general acknowledgment to the Local Contributors that their Contributions have been received by the Parent Society; and the Committee are desirous of preventing the dissatisfaction which they are aware is occasioned by the omission of the Lists in the Report in consequence of the Money or the List having been received too late for insertion.

Where an Association has Branches connected with it, the Accounts of the Branches should be forwarded to the Secretary of the Association some time before the period for forwarding the Accounts of the Association to London. When this is not done within a reasonable time, such Branches should be considered as self-excluded, and the Accounts forwarded without them.

To prevent mistakes, it is requested that Branch Associations will in every case, where practicable, forward their Money and Lists through the Association with which they are connected, and not direct to the Parent Society.

The Committee return their cordial thanks to the Treasurers of Associations, and to those friends who kindly fill the office of Secretary—an office which, they are well aware, draws largely on the time and attention of those who occupy it, but on the efficient discharge of the duties of which the prosperity of an Association chiefly depends.

N.B.—Benefactors of Ten Pounds and upward, whose names have appeared in former Lists of the Associations, will find them in the List of "Benefactions of Former Years."
