STATIONS, CLERICAL OR LAY MISSIONARIES, AND NATIVE CLERGYMEN

SUPPORTED EITHER DIRECTLY BY THE SOCIETY, OR BY NATIVE CHURCH FUNDS AIDED BY THE SOCIETY.

MAY 1, 1879.

* A STATION is the place at which a Clerical or Lay Missionary is stationed, or at which Native Christians are located under Native pastoral superintendence in connexion with the Society. The letter (m) means Married. —Wives of Missionaries, &c., though not named, except when engaged in some specific employment, are always expected by the Society to lay themselves out to do good, in every practicable way, among Native Women; such as cultivating familiar intercourse with them, educating children, and instructing the adult women.

The figures after the Names of the European Labourers show the date of their first connexion with the Society's Missions.

The mark ‡ denotes that the Name to which it is prefixed is that of an Agent supported by Native Church Funds aided by the Society. The Native Ministers in New Zealand are supported partly by Subscriptions from Native Christians, and partly from the rents of lands belonging to the Society in the Colony.

The Names of Native Clergymen are printed in italics. The figures after their names show the dates of ordination; these are now printed for the first time.

All the names under one station or department of work are now printed in order of date, without reference to nationality, sex, orders, or other difference.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS

OF THE

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY FOR AFRICA AND THE EAST.

(As revised at a Special Meeting of Members of the Society, held June 25, 1878.)

I. THIS Institution shall be designated "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East;" and shall be conducted by a Patron or Patrons, a Vice-Patron, a President, Vice-Presidents, a COMMITTEE, and such Officers as may be deemed necessary, all being Members of the Established Church of England or of the Church of Ireland.

II. The office of PATRON of the Society shall be reserved for Members of the Royal Family; and that of VICE-PATRON for His Grace the Primate of all England, if, being a Member of the Society, he shall accept the office. The PRESIDENT shall be such Temporal Peer or Commoner as may be appointed to that office; and VICE-PRESIDENTS shall consist of all Archbishops and Bishops of the Churches of England and Ireland, who, being Members of the Society, shall accept the office; and of such other persons as, being also Members, shall be appointed thereto.

OF MEMBERS AND GOVERNORS.

III. Annual Subscribers of One Guinea and upward, and if Clergymen, Half-a-Guinea, with Collectors of Fifty-two Shillings and upward per annum, shall be Members of the Society during the continuance of such Subscriptions or Collections. Benefactors of Ten Guineas, or upward, and Clergymen making Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, shall be Members for Life.

IV. Annual Subscribers of Five Guineas shall be Governors during the continuance of such Subscription; and Benefactors of Fifty Pounds and upward shall be Governors for Life.

V. Members and Governors of Auxiliaries and of Associations who contribute the above sums shall be considered as Members and Governors of the Parent Society.

VI. The COMMITTEE shall have the power of appointing such persons as have rendered essential services to the Society, either Honorary Members for Life, or Honorary Governors for Life.

OF GENERAL MEETINGS.

VII. An Annual Meeting of the Members of the Society shall be held in London, on the First Tuesday in May; unless that day shall fall on the 7th of May, in which case the Annual Meeting shall be held, for that year, on Tuesday the 30th of April; when the Proceedings of the foregoing year shall be reported, the Accounts presented, and a Treasurer and COMMITTEE chosen.

VIII. The COMMITTEE may summon a Special General Meeting of the Members of the Society [at which not less than Thirty shall constitute a Quorum] at any time, and they shall do so on receipt of a requisition in writing, addressed to the Secretaries, and signed by not less than Fifty Members of the Society, and specifying the object of the Meeting. Ten days' notice shall be given in Three public Newspapers, of any such intended Meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called; which shall be deemed sufficient publicity.

IX. None of the Laws and Regulations of the Society shall be repealed or altered, nor any new ones made, but at the Annual Meeting, or at a Special General Meeting called for that purpose.

X. An Anniversary Sermon shall be preached at some Church in London, by a Clergyman appointed by the COMMITTEE. An Annual Report of the Society shall be printed, for the use of its Members.

OF THE COMMITTEE.

XI. The COMMITTEE shall consist of Twenty-four Lay Members of the Established Church of England or of the Church of Ireland; and of all Clergymen who are Members of the Society and have been so for not less than one year. Of the Twenty-four Lay Members, Eighteen shall be re-appointed each year from the existing COMMITTEE, and Six shall be elected from the General Body of the Society.

XII. The COMMITTEE shall elect, at their First Meeting in every year, either from among themselves, or from the other Members of the Society (being Members of the Established Church of England or of the Church of Ireland), a Committee of Patronage, a Committee of Funds, a Committee of Correspondence, a Committee of Finance, and a Committee of Estimates, and shall have power to fill up vacancies. Each of the said Committees shall keep Minutes of its Proceedings, and shall report the same for confirmation to the COMMITTEE.

XIII. The office of the Committee of Patronage is, to procure patronage and support to the Society; and to nominate to the COMMITTEE, proper persons as Patrons, President, Vice-Presidents, Honorary Life Governors, Honorary Life Members of the Society, and preachers of the Anniversary Sermons.

XIV. The office of the Committee of Funds is, to circulate information respecting the Society; to adopt means of obtaining Subscriptions, Benefactions, and Collections in Churches, Chapels, and at Meetings; to take a general oversight of the Associations; and to nominate, from time to time, to the COMMITTEE, suitable persons to act as Agents and Representatives of the Society for these objects.

XV. The office of the Committee of Correspondence is, to seek for proper Missionaries, to nominate them to the COMMITTEE, to superintend their instruction, to recommend their location, and to correspond with them when sent out, and generally to direct the foreign work of the Society.

XVI. The office of the Committee of Finance is, generally to superintend the accounts and financial affairs of the Society.

XVII. The office of the Committee of Estimates is, to prepare and submit to the COMMITTEE an Estimate of the probable expenditure of the Society, and from time to time to note and to report to the COMMITTEE how far the expenditure corresponds with the sanctioned Estimate.

XVIII. The Committee of Correspondence shall elect from among themselves, at their first Meeting in every year, a Clerical Sub-Committee, for the examination of Missionary Candidates.

XIX. The COMMITTEE shall receive and deal with the Reports of the other Committees, shall decide upon the countries where Missions shall be carried on, and shall superintend and control the affairs of the Society in general.

XX. The COMMITTEE shall have power to appoint such Officers and Assistants as they shall deem necessary for the well-conducting of the affairs of the Society, subject, in the case of the appointment of Secretaries, to the approbation of the next Annual Meeting. One, at least, of the Secretaries shall be a layman.

XXI. The COMMITTEE shall meet on the Second Monday in every Month, and oftener if needful; but should the second Monday be a Bank Holiday the Meeting shall be held on the day following. The other Committees shall meet as often, and at such places, as shall be by them agreed on. All Committee Meetings shall be opened with reading a Form of Prayer composed for that purpose, or one or more suitable Prayers selected from the Liturgy.

XXII. The Patrons, Vice-Patron, President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Secretaries, shall be considered, ex officio, Members of all Committees. Governors, being Members of the Established Church of England, or of the Church of Ireland, shall be entitled to attend and vote at all Meetings of the COMMITTEE.

XXIII. Five Members shall be necessary to form a Quorum of the COMMITTEE; and Three of each of the Committees provided for in Law XII.; in each case exclusive of the Secretaries. In cases of equality of votes, the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

XXIV. All payments on account of the Society shall be signed by Three Members of the COMMITTEE, in Committee, and the Lay Secretary, or in his absence by one of the other Secretaries.

XXV. Five Auditors shall be appointed by the COMMITTEE, annually, for the purpose of auditing the Accounts of the Society, of whom not more than two shall be Members of the COMMITTEE. Three shall be a Quorum.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXVI. In the selection of Candidates for the Missionary office the following course shall be pursued. The cases of Candidates who are already in Holy Orders, or who are University Graduates, or whom it is proposed to send out without further training, shall be considered by the Committee of Correspondence, the Candidate having (as a rule) appeared in person before them, and a report having been given, after a personal interview, by one or more members of the Clerical Sub-Committee. If any Member of the Committee of Correspondence shall show reason for requiring further information, the consideration shall be deferred till a subsequent Meeting of that Committee. Other Candidates shall be examined by the Clerical Sub-Committee, which shall report to the Committee of Correspondence.

XXVII. A Candidate nominated by the Committee of Correspondence, and accepted by the COMMITTEE, shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time that the COMMITTEE shall decide, and be subject to such Regulations as may be established by the COMMITTEE for the direction of Missionaries: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society.

XXIX. Each Candidate, when duly prepared and finally approved for Missionary work, shall go out, either ordained or unordained, at the discretion of the COMMITTEE*.

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the COMMITTEE: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society, to the satisfaction of the COMMITTEE, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, such provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable as in the judgment of the COMMITTEE is suitable. The COMMITTEE shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support. The COMMITTEE shall be further empowered in special cases to make such arrangements with those employed by them as they may think fit.

GENERAL.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. All questions relating to matters of Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, respecting which a difference shall arise between a Bishop of the Church of England abroad and the COMMITTEE, shall, in the absence of any tribunal having legal cognizance of the same, be referred to the Archbishops and Bishops of the Provinces of Canterbury and York, whose decision thereupon shall be binding upon the Society and its agents and representatives.

The proposed reference shall be made by the COMMITTEE, through His Grace the Primate, accompanied by such explanations and statements as the COMMITTEE may deem advisable.

XXXIII. The object of the preceding Law being only to provide a mode of settling questions relating to Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, as to which no provision has yet been made by the Society, it is not to be so construed, as in any other respect to alter the principles and practices of the Society, as they are contained in its Laws and Regulations.

XXXIV. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon its designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

* The Bishops of the Church of England, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth [ecclesiastically speaking] the Society's Missionaries; and in the event of their being appointed by the COMMITTEE to labour at stations within the jurisdiction of a Bishop of the Church of England abroad, it is the practice of the Society to apply to the Bishop for licenses, in which are specified the districts to which the Missionaries have been assigned. This is done on the understanding that licenses will neither be refused, nor when granted be withdrawn from the Missionaries during their connexion with the Society, except for some assigned legal cause.

At the Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Exeter Hall, Strand, on Tuesday, May 6, 1879, being the Eightieth Anniversary—

The Right Hon. the EARL OF CHICHESTER, President, in the Chair,

AFTER PRAYER AND THE READING OF A PORTION OF HOLY SCRIPTURE, THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE HAVING BEEN READ BY THE REV. H. WRIGHT, M.A., Honorary Secretary;

On the Motion of the RIGHT REV. THE LORD BISHOP OF ROCHESTER, V.P., seconded by the REV. EDWARD HOARE, M.A., Hon. Canon of Canterbury, and Vicar of Holy Trinity, Tunbridge Wells, it was—

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, of which an Abstract has now been read, be adopted, and printed under the direction of the Committee; that the thanks of the Meeting be given to the Rev. C. F. Childe, Rector of Holbrook, Suffolk, for his Sermon before the Society last evening, and that it be printed and circulated; that Captain the Hon. Francis Maude, R.N., be the Treasurer of the Society, and the following gentlemen the Committee for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies.—[See List, p. iv.]

Prayer was then offered up by the Rev. J. Richardson, Vicar of Camden Church, Camberwell.

On the Motion of the RIGHT REV. THE BISHOP OF RUPERT'S LAND, V.P., seconded by the EARL OF ABERDEEN, V.P., and supported by the REV. J. BUCKLEY WOOD, Missionary from Yoruba, it was—

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That this Meeting desires to join in humble and hearty thanksgiving for the tokens of the presence of the Holy Ghost in the Mission-field during the past year, as manifested in the conversion of souls to God, and in the awakening of Native Christians to a higher sense of their privileges and responsibilities, as also in the gracious support vouchsafed both to Missionaries and Native converts under circumstances of peculiar difficulty and trial; and trusts to be stirred up thereby to a deeper sense of the need and the power of prayer in obtaining blessing upon the work.

On the Motion of the REV. W. RIDLEY, Bishop Designate of Caledonia, seconded by the REV. W. T. STORRS, B.D., Missionary from Santalia,—

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That, in view of the continued opening up of fresh and extensive fields of labour, efforts should be constantly made abroad to throw the Native Churches on their own resources, and to push forward to the regions beyond; and at the same time friends at home should be constantly urged not to be satisfied with maintaining the financial position which has been reached by the Society, but to be ever putting forth fresh energies until the Gospel of the grace of God is proclaimed amid every nation and in every tongue.

At a Second Meeting, held in Exeter Hall, on the Evening of the same Day—

ADMIRAL PREVOST in the Chair,

Addresses were delivered by the Chairman; the Right Rev. Bishop of Saskatchewan, V.P.; the Rev. A. B. Hutchinson, Missionary from China; the Rev. W. T. Storrs, B.D., Missionary from Santalia; and the Rev. F. F. Goe, M.A., Rector of St. George's, Bloomsbury.

BY THE

REV. CHARLES FREDERICK CHILDE, M.A.,

RECTOR OF HOLBROOK, SUFFOLK; FORMERLY PRINCIPAL OF THE CHURCH MISSIONARY COLLEGE, ISLINGTON.

LUKE xi. 21, 22.

"WHEN A STRONG MAN ARMED KEEPETH HIS PALACE, HIS GOODS ARE IN PEACE: BUT WHEN A STRONGER THAN HE SHALL COME UPON HIM, AND OVERCOME HIM, HE TAKETH FROM HIM ALL HIS ARMOUR WHEREIN HE TRUSTED AND DIVIDETH HIS SPOILS."

OUR blessed Lord is here replying to the blasphemous cavil which had ascribed His cure of the demoniac to collusion with Beelzebub. He employs that "irresistible logic of illustration," which was best adapted to expose the folly of the objection. His argument is an appeal to the common sense of His hearers; and was intended to bring home the conviction that the power which had set the poor dumb victim free, was both superior and antagonistic to that which had enthralled him.

The miracle was at once a type and a prophecy of a spiritual and far greater deliverance. The work of redeeming and saving mankind may be resolved into the self-same elements,—a conflict between two mighty antagonists, and a victory achieved by the stronger over the weaker.

With a special and practical object in view, I shall attempt to apply the illustration to the work and issue of Evangelical Missions, and would commend it to your prayerful attention as setting forth,—

I. The Author of Missionary difficulties;

II. The Source of Missionary success.

The grand object of Evangelical Missions is, to establish the kingdom of God's dear Son. Now it is an essential feature of that kingdom, that it claims to be universal; and, consequently, cannot prevail but by the overthrow of that other and opposing kingdom, the prince and ruler of which I have indicated as—

I. The Author of Missionary difficulties.

It is a very grave defect in not a little of the theology of our day to ignore, if not to deny, the objective reality of Satan's existence, personality, agency, and power. Yet it should be obvious that if there had been no Satan, there would have been no sin, no condemnation, no curse, no hell. If there had been no Satan, there would have been no Christ, no Gospel, no Redemption.

From the beginning to the end of the Bible, from the first promise to the last judgment, there are no objects that bulk so large upon the inspired page as the two mighty antagonists exhibited in our text.

Our notice is, in the first instance, directed to him who is called "the strong man armed."

He is evidently represented as a Person. The Satan of the Bible is no mere abstraction; not evil, but the Evil One; not the principle of evil, but the Author of Evil. He is not even a personification, but an actual, living, historical person. As such he appears throughout "the volume of the Book." He who, in the Old Testament, corrupted Eve, harassed Job, tempted David, withstood Joshua, the high priest,—meets us still, at every turn, in the New Testament, and always as the same actual person.

When, however, we thus speak of him, we do not mean to denote a mere human person. He is a spirit, and consequently invisible. In the language of the Catechism, he is "our ghostly enemy," without flesh and blood, but only the more formidable to flesh and blood. He is here represented as "the strong one." Let us remember that this is the testimony of Him who was most competent to speak on the point. Whatever others may say or do, the Son of man did not ignore, did not despise, the power of His adversary.

Yet, notwithstanding all his vast and supernatural strength, the Enemy does not rely upon that alone. Our text represents him as "armed."

"Armed" with consummate craft. The subtlety of "the old serpent" is the attribute which most prominently comes into view in the history of the first temptation. He can still assume all disguises, entering the fold in sheep's clothing, and imposing himself upon the Church as "a minister of righteousness," or as "an angel of light." Thus not only does he succeed in seducing individuals, but is able to "deceive the nations," and blind them with the mists of degrading error.

"Armed" also with a vast and perfectly-organized host of evil spirits, subject to his control, and fulfilling his pleasure. Thus we read of "the Devil and his angels;" "the dragon and his angels." They are represented as "legions," to indicate their number, as "principalities and powers" to suggest the potency of their sway. Hence it comes to pass that though, as a creature, Satan is neither omniscient nor omnipresent, yet in his influence he is seemingly ubiquitous. Is there a child of God, in the remotest region of earth, who is a stranger to his buffetings, or who has not smarted from his fiery darts?

Yet again, he is "armed" with the skill acquired from the experience of thousands of years; and with the confidence generated by continual successes.

On the other hand, though he is said to "trust in his armour," he does not rely on that alone, but is unceasingly vigilant. His victims too often sleep. He rarely slumbers or sleeps. In the language of our text, he "keeps," or guards "his palace." That "palace" is the heart of man,—of the individual, and of the race. It is called "his own palace." He claims it as such by the right of usurped possession. Its faculties, powers, affections, are the "spoils" which he watches with such jealous care, lest a ray of light, or hope, of truth or grace, should enter in, to guide or to cheer.

The result of this sentinel-vigilance is that "his goods are in peace." This does not mean that the prisoners he has led captive, the victims he has ensnared, enjoy true rest of soul. Far, very far from that. In reality, it is he himself who is "at peace" with regard to them. He feels that his power over them is secure, and has no apprehension that his ancient reign will be disturbed.

Such, then, being the Adversary pourtrayed in our text, there was the strongest antecedent presumption that he would oppose all possible "difficulties" to the progress of Evangelical Missions, if by any means he might frustrate an agency, and crush an influence, so hostile and fatal to his sway. A rapid glance must suffice to indicate how unremitting and desperate have been his efforts to this end, from the beginning of the Gospel until now.

Our attention is naturally directed, in the first instance, to the moral and spiritual state of the world, at the advent of the Divine Missionary.

As regards the Jews, it is their own Messiah who testifies that the devil of idolatry had been cast out of the nation, only to make room for the entrance and indwelling of "seven other spirits more wicked than himself."

In illustration of the condition of the heathen world, the awful description in the first chapter of the Epistle to the Romans, at once recurs to the mind. But apart from that more detailed portraiture, there are a few expressions of a negative form, which, when heedfully pondered and in any measure duly realized, present such a depth of moral wretchedness and ruin to the view, as far transcends the most elaborate recital.

The Holy Spirit declares that the heathen, as such, are—"Without understanding;"

"Without natural affection;"
"Without Christ;"
"Without God;"
"Without hope;"
"Without excuse."

Such was the state of that "world" which Jesus tells us was to to be, in its entirety, "the field" of evangelical Missions. Satan was its "prince;" Satan was its "god." "The strong man kept" it as "his palace, and his goods were in peace." So completely was this the case, that the end for which the Divine Missionary "came into the world" is expressly said to have been "that He might destroy the works of the Devil."

There is, accordingly, something at once solemn and significant in that mysterious scene at the opening of the Gospel story, when "the Captain of our salvation" and "the prince of darkness" met, as it were, in personal and mortal combat. The encounter was but a prelude to persevering assaults and varied wiles. This is incidentally disclosed in the gracious testimony which Jesus bore to his disciples, saying, "Ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations."

Knowing, however, that the most effectual way to frustrate Missions was to corrupt the Missionaries, the enemy still persevered in his policy. The memorable warning, "Simon, Simon, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat, but I have prayed for thee," suggests that nothing but their Master's grace and intercession could have kept even "the glorious company of the Apostles" from falling. We all remember how soon the beautiful description of the strictly primitive Church is marred by the appearance of worldliness and hypocrisy. The point now insisted upon is, that the Holy Spirit refers these evils to their true source. The question to Ananias, "Why hath Satan filled thine heart?"—the rebuke to Simon Magus, "Thou child of the Devil," are instances in point.

Very instructive, too, in this aspect, is the commission given to the great Missionary to the heathen, in these words: "Unto whom now I send thee, to turn them from darkness unto light, and from the power of Satan unto God." The Apostle's personal experience and his Missionary experience alike testified to the reality of that "power." Call it Jewish superstition, or what not, no one was so consistent in referring "Missionary difficulties" to this one source.

Was he "buffeted by a thorn in the flesh"? He regarded the trial as "a messenger, or angel, of Satan." Was he prevented from visiting a station which needed his oversight? He accounts for the disappointment, not by adverse winds, distracting occupations, or anything of the kind, but by saying, "Satan hindered us." If converts were "corrupted from their simplicity," or chaste fidelity to Christ, it was in consequence of "the ministers of Satan,"—the expression is specially noteworthy in this our day,—"the ministers of Satan being transformed into ministers of Christ."

He reminded churches of their need of watchfulness against that subtle foe, as those who were "not ignorant of his devices," and charged disciples so to govern their anger as "not to give place to the Devil."

The "revelation of the man of sin" he predicted as being "according to the working," or energy, "of Satan." Go where he might, he met this "working." The Jewish sorcerer, Barjesus, sought to pervert the Roman proconsul, Sergius Paulus, from the faith, because he was a "child of the Devil." The mass of the heathen are described as "walking according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience."

And why was it that, when such a Missionary as Paul preached "the glorious Gospel of the blessed God," it was nevertheless "hid" to so many that heard it? Why were they "lost"? The inspired Missionary himself says it was because "the god of this world had blinded their eyes."

Yet, again, it behoves us to ponder well the view presented by the Great Head of the Church, in "the Revelation which God gave unto Him, to show unto His servants." There, too, we find "the Faithful and True Witness" still setting forth, to the disciples of the next generation, Satan as the great, the real difficulty. Thus he marks how the Church in Smyrna is harassed by "the synagogue of Satan." The angel of the Church in Pergamos "dwells where Satan's seat," or throne, "is," and where Satan himself dwells. The followers of "Jezebel" at Thyatira are censured as boasting their knowledge of "the depths of Satan." The evils now abroad are thought by many to be the fruit of the forthgoing of the "three unclean spirits, which are the spirits of devils." And what will the Millenium, in its negative aspect, be, but the binding of Satan? or what the final apostasy, but the loosing of Satan? or what the final victory, but the casting of Satan into the lake of fire and brimstone?

It would seem impossible to give the least serious heed to such a review as we have now taken without observing, not only that the Divine Missionary and the Apostolic Missionaries met with "difficulties" in the prosecution of their enterprise, but that they consistently and uniformly referred those difficulties, however great and varied, to this one source. It should be evident that the minds of the inspired writers were steeped in the conviction of the all-pervading agency and antagonism of the "strong man armed."

It occurs, then, to ask in passing, Is not such a habit of thought alien from modern notions? Does not such a mode of speech sound obsolete to modern ears? Yet we may be well assured that it was no unmeaning phraseology which was taught by the Holy Ghost.

A parallel to the foregoing description would be presented by a review of the state of the world at the commencing era of modern Missions, a little more than eighty years ago. It could not be more aptly outlined than in the words, "the strong man armed kept his palace, and his goods were in peace."

Five-sixths of the world were actually shut out, by various causes, from the cheering light and gladdening sound of the Gospel; so shut out that, humanly speaking, there was no possibility of the entering in of the ambassadors of Christ.

The time would fail to tell of the manifold forms of false religion by which "the old serpent" then deceived, and still deceives, the nations. But surely the triumph, at once of his pride and of his craft, must be the prevalence of devil-worship. In India, in Africa, in North America, the author of all evil is adored and propitiated as the only averter of evil. Devil-temples, devil-priests, devil-sacrifices, devil-dances, devil-oracles, are the outward symbols and expressions of a religion in which, as a living Missionary has observed, "there is not a ray of light, and not a spark of love."

Should it be asked, Why insist upon a point which, however orthodox, is so uninviting?—I answer, Because it is the scriptural, and therefore the true view of the subject. Christian Missions, like individual Christian experience, are nothing if not a warfare. It is not the case of an annual guinea paid, and souls forthwith converted, and a spiritual Church built up, as a matter of course. It is the casting out of "the strong one" from his long-usurped and securely-held dominion. It is the expulsion of a superhuman foe, whose name is Legion.

Again, this view teaches and enforces our duty as scarcely any other can. Once realized, it must put an immediate end to all apathy, half-heartedness and listless effort, in the true and loyal disciples of Jesus.

But it is more than time to turn to the other and brighter aspect of our subject, and contemplate,

II. The Source of Missionary success.

Our text reveals a Champion, "the Captain of the Lord's host," Who, forasmuch as He is "stronger than the strong man armed," attacks and overcomes him, strips him of his armour, and divides his spoils. It might have been expected that His going forth would have been "with observation," with bannered hosts, and "all the pomp and circumstance," of war. Instead of this, or anything resembling this, the "warfare" was to be "accomplished" and the victory achieved by a process as paradoxical and as seemingly unlikely, as it was profoundly wise and eminently successful.

The battle of man's redemption and of a world's emancipation was to be fought with no carnal weapons, but by the revelation and proclamation of the truth. "The law came by Moses," and "worked death." "Grace and truth came by Jesus Christ." His own account of His Mission was given in these remarkable terms,—"To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth."

But if such a mode of encountering "the strong man armed" was peculiar and unprecedented, the manner in which it was prosecuted was stranger still. The "witness" of "Jesus" to the truth" was borne through a life of humiliation, self-denial, temptation, and suffering. "Obedient unto death"—was at once a description of His spirit and an epitome of His course. He lived but for one end,—to do His Father's will. He knew but one joy,—to finish His Father's work. He cherished but one ambition,—to glorify His Father's name.

There was no one thing which He so continually and emphatically repudiated as independent will, or isolated action. "I do nothing of Myself, but as my Father hath taught Me," is the uniform tenour of His professions.

Is it asked, How did His father teach Him, we answer, Even as He teaches you and me,—by the self-same Spirit of truth and grace. It is important to grasp the fact, that all that Jesus was, and taught, and did, as Mediator, He was, and taught and did, by the unction and power of the Holy Ghost, which abode upon Him and dwelt in Him, "without measure." Surely, if this is a great mystery, it is very full of instruction to all who are called to carry on the same work!

Then, as for the nature of the "witness" which it was His great Mission "to bear:" it was "truth" taking the form of "grace"—"the good news of the grace of God"—salvation by grace—grace, and not works—grace, and not circumcision—grace and not ritual. It was a ministry of reconciliation, publishing an amnesty to condemned rebels, and proclaiming a jubilee of release to the captives of "the strong man armed."

No other means would have availed to secure the end. There is an iron inflexibility in the human will, a flinty obduracy in the human heart, which no mere external force can overcome. "The omnipotence of loving-kindness" is the only solvent which is equal to the task. And such was pre-eminently the spirit which breathed throughout His ministry. "Come unto Me, and learn of Me," He said, "for I am meek and lowly in heart." However faithful and uncompromising His testimony might be, He never "brake the bruised reed, nor quenched the smoking flax."

So He fulfilled His Missionary course. Sad, and sorrowful, and "acquainted with grief," His pilgrimage from Bethlehem to Calvary was one long Via Dolorosa. The shadow of the Cross was flung before each onward footstep, till He came to the closing agony. Then was "His visage marred," "His heel bruised," His flesh "ploughed," His heart broken. Submissive still, and patient still, He "learnt" one life-long lesson of "obedience by the things which He suffered."

Never, sure, was warfare accomplished by tactics such as these! And yet they were triumphantly successful. He overcame "the strong man," by submitting to his power. The decisive blow to Satan was given on the cross; by that bruising of His own heel, He bruised the serpent's head. "By death, He destroyed him that had the power of death."

Treading in their Master's footsteps, the Apostolic Missionaries bore witness to the truth, by bearing witness to Him. They "went everywhere, preaching Jesus Christ and Him crucified."

As an immediate consequence, they soon found their Master's warning words verified. One and all, they had to "drink," more or less, of their Master's "cup." And thus it came to pass, that the era of Missions ushered in the era of martyrs.

Some of us may have been deeply interested as we looked upon a well-known picture representing a group of those barbarian athletes, who, after having been trained as gladiators, were "butchered to make a Roman holiday." The artist had exhibited them standing, with their characteristic weapons, in the arena of the Coliseum, and in the act of making their obeisance to the imperial despot who presided, as the immediate prelude to their mortal combat. We were conscious, perhaps, of a measure of involuntary admiration for their devotedness, vainglorious though it might be, as looking up with undaunted cheerfulness, they are supposed to say, "Hail, Cæsar, Imperator, the death-doomed salute thee."

But even then, we felt how much more sublime the heroism of Christian martyrs and confessors, who when "set forth as it were last," and therefore "appointed to death, were made a spectacle unto the world, and to angels, and to men," and "yielded up their bodies" to violence, and torture, and death, not only with unresisting patience, but "with joyfulness."

And what was the result? Amid varied scenes and nationalities, "the Lord gave testimony" to the message which His servants bore. By "the foolishness of preaching," those primitive Missionaries and their successors "turned the world upside down;" and the result was—Christendom!

The commencement of modern evangelical Missions marked a distinct era in the history of the Church; apparently characterized as such, by a distinct symbol in the Apocalypse.

We have seen how unpromising was the religious outlook at that period; yet it was just at the very noon of that spiritual night, that "a time of refreshing from the presence of the Lord" was vouchsafed. Thus, if it was the age of Hume, and Gibbon, and Voltaire, of the Deists and the Illuminati; it was also the day of Wesley and Whitfield, of Berridge and Venn, of Newton and Simeon, of Wilberforce and "others whose names are in the Book of Life." The building of the spiritual temple was resumed at home, and God, at the same time, gave the signal to "the angel with the everlasting Gospel" to wing his flight to the ends of the earth.

It was, I doubt not, this gracious revival of religion, assuming this form, that saved our country from impending ruin; and, little as we deserved it, made us a spectacle and a monument of sovereign favour and distinguishing mercy to all the nations of the west.

It has been the aim of our own Society, from the beginning, to "walk in the old paths;" pursuing the same end as Christ and His Apostles; employing the same class of agents—spiritual men, and none others,—for spiritual work; using the same instrument—the truth of the Gospel; trusting to the same support—the promised presence of the Saviour; and looking for the same result—progressive victory over all the power of "the strong man armed."

With varying gifts and degrees of grace, our Missionaries, as a body, have been men of a truly Apostolic spirit. They have "continued steadfastly in the Apostles' doctrine." The grand "truth" to which they have "borne witness," has been, salvation through the blood of the Cross; salvation by grace, through faith alone.

Nor has this been all. They have approved themselves ready, like the first Missionaries, not only to preach the Cross, but to bear it, and so to be witnesses to Christ, in both acceptations of the original term.

History records no nobler examples of true heroism—the heroism of passive courage, of self-denial, and of self-devotion—than we can produce from the annals of modern Missions, in every part of the world. At the time—well remembered by some of us—when West Africa was known as "the white man's grave;" when to set foot there, was to sicken; when to sicken was, in the majority of cases, to die—what was the language of the Missionaries themselves, when writing home, from amidst the actual scene of the mortality?

"Ah, who would not be a Missionary to Africa?" exclaimed the sainted Johnson: "had I ten thousand lives, I would willingly offer them up, for the sake of one poor negro." So when the veteran Nyländer had lost a fellow-helper, taken away after one short fortnight: "Be not discouraged," he writes to the Committee at home, "neither be ye dismayed, for it is the Lord's battle we are fighting, and we are conquering, even when falling."

And as then, in the West, so more recently in the East, and interior of "The Dark Continent." Scarcely had our dear brethren entered upon their enterprise of opening Central Africa to the Gospel, when two of them were called to glorify God by a violent death. We cannot but mourn the immediate loss to the Mission, but our sorrow is cheered by the full assurance of hope that the precious seed of martyr-blood has not been sown in vain. We are reminded of the Swiss patriot, who, gathering into his outspread arms the spears of the advancing Austrian foe, focussed their points in his own breast, with the expiring shout, "Make way for liberty." So, we confidently trust and believe, have these Christian heroes died to "make way" for the Gospel.

What now, has been the outcome of all the toil, and prayers, and trials of the last eighty years? Has there been "profit" in this "labour?" fruit, from all the painful culture bestowed? in a word, success to the enterprise so courageously and patiently conducted?

Many are ready with a decided and strongly-pronounced negative reply. "Talk of success," say they, "when the unconverted remain to the converted as thousands to one? No; Missions are a failure." The unbelief of ignorance is only too ready to adopt the verdict, and echo the assertion. We look, it may be, at a Missionary map of the world; we mark how vast, as well as dark, is "the face of the covering" spread like a pall "over the face" of heathendom, notwithstanding the evangelistic efforts of some threescore Societies, and we are tempted to repeat "Missions are a failure." This leads to well-meant but gratuitous attempts to extenuate the failure, to explain the failure, to apologize for the failure, and to invent a variety of nostrums to remedy the failure.

Did time allow, nothing would be easier than to prove, beyond all reasonable controversy, not only that Missions are not a failure, but that they are the grandest, most signal success that the world has ever witnessed.

It must be borne in mind that success in war is always to be estimated by (1) The greatness of the "difficulties" to be overcome, and (2) The adequacy or inadequacy of the means employed to overcome them.

(1.) What just conception could a student of modern history have formed of England's great captain, and of his successes in the Peninsula, had it not been for the publication of those invaluable "Letters and Despatches" which reveal the multitudinous, peculiar, and incessant "difficulties," in the face of which, and in spite of which, those successes were achieved? Wonderful as it is to read that he never lost a battle nor a gun—it is far more wonderful to realize that he won his laurels, notwithstanding that his forces were too often ill-equipped, his allies supine and incapable, and his countrymen at home impatient and suspicious.

We have already glanced at the difficulties of Missionary warfare, and at the too often forgotten Author of them; it is but reasonable to inquire—

(2.) What has been the force opposed to the enemy? What adequate means have been employed to combat "the strong man armed?"

The whole Church, as one man, should have answered to Emmanuel's summons, as to a trumpet-call, and taken up arms against "every high thing that exalted itself against" His reign; should have wrestled in prayer, should have witnessed unto blood. When it can be proved that this has been done,—faithfully and persistently done, and done in vain,—it may be reasonable to talk of Missions being a failure. But has this been done? Nay, verily. Instead of this, we, the professing Church of Christ, have too often given of the leavings of our luxury; sought to do our Master's work at the cheapest rate; striven to carry on a "little war," yet looked for rapid triumphs; "sown sparingly," and claimed, nevertheless, to "reap bountifully."

Missions a failure! No; a thousand times No. Suppose that it were wheat-harvest to-day; the waving fields all white and ready for the hand of the reaper. But suppose "the spirit of slumber" to have seized upon the husbandmen, and that, instead of sending the sickle into their crops, they slept the sleep of the sluggard, throughout the precious "weeks of harvest." If a few, more diligent and wiser than their neighbours, sent forth their labourers into the standing corn, and, in every case, brought home golden sheaves for the garner, would it be rational for the former to complain of bad seasons, to talk of agricultural depression, or to say that the harvest was "a failure?"

Failure, in one sense, there has been. We admit it, and would call upon all Christendom to confess it before God. Yes, lamentable failure, so far as the Church at large is concerned—a failure in obedience and zeal, in faith and love. But, when the question is as to the efforts put forth by the mere remnant who have really set their heart to the work of Missions,—these, so far from having proved a failure, have been crowned with a success to which the world can produce no parallel.

The two first Missionaries of our Society sailed for West Africa only four years before the date of my own birth. The baptism of the first six converts by the late Mr. Bickersteth, then Secretary, was an event quite within the limits to which memory reaches back. Now, I would earnestly charge it upon all who may have the privilege of hearing to-morrow's report, that they try to realize that all the missions and stations, the converts, the scholars, the adherents, the native churches, native agents, native clergy—scattered, multiplied, and with rapidly-increasing ratio still multiplying, over the face of the earth—are the fruits gathered from its "dark places," during a single lifetime. Sure I feel, that, just in proportion to their intelligent apprehension of the facts already mentioned,—the "difficulties" opposed by "the strong man armed," and the inadequate scale on which they have been encountered,—will be the adoring astonishment with which they exclaim, "What hath God wrought!"

In every quarter of the globe, Christian Missions have civilized, purified, elevated tribe after tribe, nation after nation. They have made thousands upon thousands—nay, I say advisedly, millions,—freer, happier, better than before. In short, we insist that, if Missions are a failure because the great end of Missions is not yet completely attained, then the Gospel is a failure, Christianity is a failure, Redemption itself is a failure. Nay, we may turn round upon ignorant and therefore prejudiced objectors, and say,—From the same train of reasoning we must conclude that physical science is a failure, seeing that philosophers have not yet absolutely determined the principle of life, or the nature of light. Such a preposterous judgment would be only a strictly parallel example of the folly of confounding two very different things,—incomplete success, and failure.

It should, methinks, be no trivial addition to the joy of these spiritual victories that the Divine Captain, who leads His Missionary army to the field and defeats the foe, "divides the spoil." He will not suffer any one church or society to monopolize either the privilege of sharing in the campaign, or of carrying off the rewards of success. All truly Protestant and Evangelical Missionary Societies and agents are "one in Christ." A genuine catholic spirit will teach us frankly to recognize this; and, wherever we have reason to believe that God has granted a blessing, to say, "I therein do rejoice, yea and will rejoice." Nay, more than this, we should seek to "purge out the old leaven" of lurking regret which finds utterance in the familiar expression, "Utinam noster esses!" Let us rather feel ourselves blessed in the blessings of our brethren, and enriched by their prosperity. "All things," says the Apostle, "are yours, whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas." Let us appropriate the grand inheritance, and delight to think of Carey, and Williams, and Judson, and Duff, and Hunt, as "ours," even as Martyn, and Ragland, and Fox, and Patteson, and Fenn, are "ours." It is my solemn conviction that we shall never get the fulness of blessing upon our Church, or her Missions, till we cultivate this spirit to the utmost.

Still, notwithstanding manifold infirmities and shortcomings, the success accorded to our Society has been so great that, were there no remaining difficulties and trials, there would be a very possible danger of our being "exalted above measure." This, doubtless, is one reason why many "a thorn" is "given" to try the patience, and many "a messenger of Satan" permitted to "buffet" the faith of the Lord's servants.

Sometimes the difficulty is one evidently opposed by "the strong man armed;" one of enormous dimensions—not merely "a stone of stumbling," but "a rock of offence." Of such a kind it may suffice to instance the opium-monopoly in India—a scandal to our national policy, and a blot on our national Christianity; quite sufficient, if the laws of God's moral government remain the same as of old, to bring the sorest of His sore judgments upon our guilty nation, and provoke Him to wither our prosperity, to blight our commerce, to disgrace our arms. O that, in His infinite mercy, He would awaken the national conscience to the foul sin and shame of perpetuating such a lawless outrage upon the well-being of one-third of the human race!

Another class of difficulties springs from our very success. As churches multiply and become regularly organized, ecclesiastical problems, at once delicate and complicated, arise, requiring much "meekness of wisdom," and, at the same time, much vigilance, firmness, and moral courage, for their satisfactory solution.

To secure the important, yet, as it sometimes seems, opposing interests of zeal and of order, of lawful authority and of spiritual liberty; to know where to yield, where to stand like a rock; where to conform and where to resist; where to please all men, where to withstand even those whom we would fain respect and revere; how to maintain unity, yet never to surrender truth; how to sacrifice our own will, yet never to surrender one iota of principle; how to do justice to sincerity in an opponent, yet none the less to guard against being carried away by mere personal influence; how to "render to all their dues,"—courtesy, allegiance, obedience,—yet boldly to protest against error; how to be consistent as Churchmen, yet how to be faithful as witnesses;—all this is a severe exercise of Christian graces, and the Enemy will never fail to render every such crisis a season of manifold and sore temptation. Nevertheless, the very discussion of such questions, if conducted in a right spirit, may be overruled to elicit truth, and to remove stumbling-blocks for the time to come.

The principles for the guidance of such discussions, and the elements for their determination, may almost invariably be discovered in the Word of God.

The inspired Missionary records supply a notable illustration and precedent. We there read of an attempt made by certain newly-arrived teachers to impose, as by authority, a Jewish rite upon a Gentile church. The Missionaries on the spot,—men of mature experience, who had planted and watered the Church, whose devoted labours God had owned and blessed, and who knew the circumstances of their own spiritual children,—saw that the truth and liberty of the Gospel were at stake, and that the observance, if enforced, would prove a stumbling-block and a snare. Hence they resolutely resisted the attempt, and had "no small dissension and disputation" with the intruders. Thereupon, the Holy Spirit directed that the question should be referred from the actual scene of controversy to Jerusalem, for the deliberation and decision of the parent Church. At the Council there convened, it was affirmed by one Apostle, that "to put" an unaccustomed and needless "yoke upon the neck" of disciples who had turned to God from heathenism, was nothing short of "tempting God." The sentence of the President and Metropolitan was, not to trouble them; and the result of the whole was the despatch of an encyclical letter, expressing regret that any should have so misrepresented the views and disposition of the parent Church as to "trouble the minds and subvert the souls" of the Gentile converts, and announcing this memorable decision,

"It seemed good to the Holy Ghost and to us to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things."

Surely the lesson thus taught by Divine authority to the Church of all ages is, that whilst there may be certain "necessary things" which must be heedfully observed, for the sake of peace and order, the guiding and ruling principle of all Church legislation and Church government should be, the maximum of liberty in things non-essential, with the minimum of interference, innovation, and arbitrary imposition. And if so in general, more especially so in the Mission field.

Another way in which God is now trying His Church by success, as heretofore by difficulty, is by opening up well-nigh illimitable fields of present barrenness, calling for the hand of the spiritual husbandman. But shall we yield to the suggestion of the enemy, and faint at the far-reaching prospect, instead of welcoming the appeal? Are we prepared to go to Him who spreads it before us and say, "Lord, it is enough. Thy blessings are too costly. Since every fresh success is attended with an onward summons, hold now Thine hand, and make no further demands upon our zeal or our liberality?" God forbid! Be that far from a Church redeemed with blood! Let us only walk by faith, and we shall find that, if difficulties remain and abound, encouragements much more abound. Viewed and read aright, the Missionary map spreads out the whole world as the land of promise. We seem to hear Christ say to His Church, "I have set before thee an open door;" "I will give thee power over the nations." In that drear wilderness of humanity shall waters break out and streams in the desert. Its most parched and thirsty lands shall "rejoice and blossom as the rose."

We have lately heard of a bold engineering project for flooding a portion of the African Sahara with the waters of the Atlantic; let us only flood the entire continent with the water of life, and rich indeed, beyond imagination rich, shall be the spiritual harvest garnered.

But even if it were otherwise, if the difficulties were far greater, and the encouragements far fewer, our duty would still be plain and paramount. We want no new revelation as to this point. "The Church has received her marching orders," and only needs faith and love and obedience to obey them. We read that when the crusaders of old were beaten back, for a moment, by the fierce Saracen onset, their commander's war-cry, "God wills it! God wills it!" sufficed to rally the disheartened to the standard of the cross, and to turn back the ebbing tide of battle. And should the will and command of our Divine Captain have less virtue to fire his soldiers with high resolve and nerve them to heroic endurance?

We all profess to look and long for our Lord's appearing; but meanwhile, with this doctrine continually on our lips, are we all doing our part to hasten His coming? He has bequeathed to His Church not only a promise, but a commission, and given "to every man his work." Have we done it? Are we doing it? If not, instead of our having any ground to murmur, because He is "slack concerning His promise" and "delayeth His coming," might He not rather complain, It is you that detain My chariot wheels?

Yet see how patiently and graciously the Lord has dealt with us, instead of punishing us for our many provocations! Other European nations have had the army of the invader, or, worse still, the sword of civil war ravaging their lands, but we have been spared. In other countries, communism and nihilism, secret conspiracy and assassination are systematically sapping the foundations of society—making monarchs tremble, and preparing the way for a reign of terror or for the extinction of liberty. There is more than enough of such revolutionary forces, the same elements, to work deadly mischief in our own land. Nevertheless, "for the elects' sake," God has restrained the fury and madness of the people, and I verily believe that the Missionary work of the churches in its manifold developments, represented by a continuous series of anniversaries, now stretching over two months, is the true conservative force and safe-guard of our land.

Yet, while we insist that modern Missions are not a failure, but a grand success, let none suppose that we are satisfied with the past, or that we imagine any considerable proportion of the Church's work to be accomplished. That work demands from all her members an intentness of purpose, a devotedness of zeal, a concentration of energy, of which very, very few have the slightest adequate conception.

We need, brethren, and should cherish a holy enthusiasm. The world which tolerates, nay admires enthusiasm in science, in art, in any and in every secular pursuit, condemns it in religion; and charges it as a fault upon Missionaries and the friends of Missions, that we are enthusiasts. Would God that we all were more worthy of such an honourable reproach! "Would God that all the Lord's professing people" were enthusiasts; that, in the same sense as St. Paul, and for the like reason, they were obnoxious to the taunt, "Thou art beside thyself"! How different then would be the interest taken in Missionary operations and progress! How real and how deep! how universal and how individual!

We show ourselves perfectly capable of such interest in other matters. Let a British army be summoned to take the field, and how eagerly is its every movement watched; all the details of embarkation, the ships that convey them, the weather they will encounter, the officers that command them, the forces that will be opposed to them! How impatiently do we look, day by day, for tidings from the seat of war. How keenly is every reverse felt, how wide-spread the sorrow for our slain heroes, how unanimous the resolve to sustain the survivors, to recruit their ranks, to provide for their wants! There may be real distress at home, commercial depression, financial embarrassment; yet no one thinks of reducing our forces, cutting down their supplies, or grudging them anything needful for prosecuting the war till complete victory is achieved.

In order, however, to enthusiasm such as this, there must be deep-rooted principles, deep-seated convictions; and in order to these, a strong and steadfast faith in the word of God—not a mere otiose reception of evangelical views, but a personal and experimental acquaintance with vital truth. Let who will cry out against "dogma," it is just that which has made our Society what it is. For a length of period, almost beyond precedent, the purity of evangelical truth has been preserved amongst us, and has operated powerfully upon the Church at large. That truth is all embodied in what is thus scornfully styled "dogma." The corruption of man's fallen nature, the vicarious atonement of Christ, justification through faith in His blood, regeneration and sanctification by the Spirit of grace—these are truths which, when received into the heart, are destructive of Satan's empire there. What marvel, then, that he should seek to make the unstable and ignorant ashamed of them, by attaching an opprobious stigma to them? Dogma is the husk, which contains the living germ of truth. Vitalized and energized by the Holy Ghost, it has been the stay and support, the food and the cordial of all who have done great things, or suffered great things in the cause of Christ.

Once more, the most urgent of all practical wants is a deep and absorbing sense of personal obligation.

It was once remarked by a prelate of our Church, that upon man rests the responsibility of man's salvation. It was a startling assertion, but in the sense intended, it was true. The entire Church, and every member of the same, is responsible, not for the acceptance, but for the publication of salvation "to every creature." No pains that we could bestow to inculcate and to cherish this sense of individual obligation, would be superfluous or excessive. It should form a part of primary education for all our Christian youth. Every one should be taught, from earliest years, to pray, to give, to labour, as though the issue depended upon his only zeal and devotedness.

And on whom, my honoured brethren in the ministry, does the task of thus training the people of God to a sense of this personal responsibility, devolve? Whose is the fault if they continue lukewarm, because ignorant? Does no measure of the blame, think you, lie at our door?

I know full well, that I am speaking to many of the most devoted friends and supporters of Missions. God forbid that I should arrogate the right of censure or of dictation to them, or to any. At the same time, I feel constrained to give utterance to the conviction that, viewing the matter in the light of the urgent necessity for the work—the solemn issues at stake—the paramount obligation of the command,—the personal responsibility which it entails,—scarcely any of us are more than half awake.

Ah, my brethren, the day will come,—may the good Lord hasten it!—when the whole Church of Christ will start as from a death-sleep, and awake to a sense of her true position and calling. The first, most healthy symptom of such a revival would be humiliation and contrition for past shortcomings, under a realizing and deep conviction of their awful consequences. Soon would follow the heart-deep cry, "Deliver us from bloodguiltiness, O God!" Yes, brethren, "bloodguiltiness!" For is it, or is it not, true that millions upon millions have perished, and are perishing, whom the Church of Christ might instrumentally have saved? Blessed be His name, we know that God has "opened the door of faith" to all alike; and that He is "willing," sincerely willing, that "all should be saved." There is no one truth more distinctly revealed in all His Word than that. Let us never forget that, where plain duty is concerned, we have nothing whatever to do with secret purposes, or eternal decrees,—as our Article so wisely teaches, when, after commending the "unspeakable comfort" of those doctrines of grace, it adds, "In all our doings, that will of God is to be followed, which we have expressly declared in the Word of God." It is, I repeat, His "expressly declared" will that "all should be saved"—(θέλει σωθῆναι are the "words which the Holy Ghost teacheth"),—and in order thereto, that they should "come to the knowledge of the truth."

We have then, this appalling, yet little-heeded fact before us. Heathen are perishing by millions, who might be saved; whom God "would have to be saved;" whom He charges His Church to bring to the knowledge of His truth that they may be saved; who are at present shut out from the knowledge of salvation for no apparent reason but because that Church, which owes everything to the riches of His mercy, and the greatness of His love, is too indolent, too selfish to accept, and execute the grand and blessed commission, to proclaim His Gospel. Instead of moving heaven and earth with the holy "violence" of our efforts; instead of giving the Lord no rest, and taking no denial, till He lay bare His arm and work with us,—we, the bulk of nominal Christians, are content to drift on, drowning the appeal of perishing myriads with the din of the world's vanity, or with the clamour of the Church's strife. O, sirs, are we not "verily guilty concerning our brethren," and ought we not to be "pricked in our heart" with the conviction of such cruel wrong?

We marvel, as often as we think of it, at the patience of the Most High towards a world at enmity with Him. But should we not much more be amazed at His longsuffering forbearance towards a Church so ungrateful and so inhuman?

O for a fresh baptism of that Spirit with which the primitive disciples were baptized! What is there that a Christian nation like ours might not then effect?

Constrained by a sense of redeeming love and pardoning mercy, the noblest of our youth would realize that they were not their own, and, fired with a holy ambition to be employed in the service of their King, would say, "Here am I, send me."

Their educated Christian sisters, who had no more immediate and superior obligation to detain them, would more than emulate their devotedness, and find a vent for wasted sympathies, and scope for buried talents, in the evangelization and elevation of oppressed womanhood.

The rich, no longer content with admiring the beautiful sentiment of that posthumous oracle, "It is more blessed to give than to receive," would dare to "devise liberal things"—would bring forth their hid treasures, sacrifice their choicest possessions, break the alabaster box, pour forth their costliest ointment, and give on a scale of royal munificence, "as a king giveth to a king."

The poor, who still so often shame the rich by giving "to their power," would renew the wondrous paradoxes of primitive charity, and grateful for "abounding joy" in the midst of "a great trial of affliction, would give "beyond their power," and exhibit "riches of liberality" amidst the "depth of their poverty."

And O for a large outpouring of "the spirit of grace and of supplications," finding utterance in prayer that takes hold of the promise and wrestles with the Promiser! Let us see to it, brethren, that our supplications are henceforth more intelligent and direct, as well as energized and fervent. Let us pray, and teach our people to pray, that the Lord of the harvest may send forth labourers into His harvest. Let us ask Him, "always, in every prayer" of ours, to bless our universities and schools, and very especially to bless our Missionary colleges. Let us pray, above all, that He would fill the hearts of our Committee at home with the Spirit of His grace, and guide and govern all their counsels with "the wisdom that cometh down from above." Let us never forget that all who take a hearty and practical part in the conduct of Missions are, for that very reason, the objects of the most deadly malice of "the strong man armed." Could he once succeed in "privily bringing in false brethren" among that body—could he insinuate ever so little of the leaven of error, whether of sacerdotalism or of infidelity—could he sow the seeds of discord and disunion—could he, though but in a single instance, seduce them to surrender truth or compromise principle,—or could he, on the other hand, hurry them away to the exhibition of an impatient, self-willed spirit, and so, to rash and violent measures,—there would be joy in the presence of the powers of darkness, and the blow would be felt in every region of the earth. Few, who are not intimate with the working of such a Society, can appreciate the unspeakable importance to the Church and to the world of the proceedings of that council-board, and of the spirit in which they are conducted.

The attempt has been made, in the foregoing discourse, to set forth the nature of Missionary work, and to stir up our minds to the conviction that it is no mere holiday pastime, or philanthropic promenade,—to be undertaken at our option, or prosecuted at our convenience,—but an arduous and unceasing conflict with the principalities and powers of hell; that it is waged by bearing faithful witness to "the truth as it is in Jesus;" that though, like all warfare, it necessarily involves difficulties, sacrifices, and trials, yet wherever it has been loyally, energetically, and prayerfully conducted, it has been crowned with marvellous and still-advancing success; that, on the other hand, in order to its complete and final triumph, there is needed an enthusiasm generated by deep convictions and rooted principles, together with a sense of individual responsibility, such as the Church at large seems as yet scarcely to have imagined.

Brethren, "the time is short." Life itself is but one contracted opportunity. Let us seek to redeem it.

One of our choicest and most able friends, who has passed to his rest since our last anniversary, spake of himself, when on the verge of the eternal world, as engaged in taking a penitent as well as grateful review of life. Of one thing we are quite sure that he never repented—the consecration of his surpassing eloquence and varied gifts to support the cause of Missions. Neither, be assured, will you.

Brethren, "the time is short," and the work to be done is still vast. Indeed, it almost seems to be scarcely begun. A world has yet to be evangelized. Oh! that even now, met as we are inthis solemn assembly, and in the presence of God, calling to mind "Whose we are, and Whom we profess to serve," we might yield up ourselves and all we are, afresh to Him, to fight His battles and extend His kingdom! "Remember that you are Romans!" was the watchword of a commander to his legions, in the days of the old Republic, and that short harangue sufficed to brace their nerves for labour and to render them invincible in battle. And should the thought that we are Christians, the baptized soldiers of the Cross, be less effectual to animate us for the holy war in which we are engaged for Him, and under Him?

Brethren, "the time is short." It is impossible to have attended these anniversary services for nearly half a century without being solemnly reminded of the truth. How many, whose very places in this church were almost familiar to us, does one miss to-day! "Our fathers, where are they?" Soon will others be asking the selfsame question with reference to us. Soon the voice that now speaks will be hushed and mute. Realizing the fact at this moment, I would fain have my last utterance to be this:—

"My beloved brethren, be ye steadfast"—steadfast in the faith, steadfast in principle—"unmoveable" by all the wiles and assaults of "the strong man armed;" not only so, but "abounding," yea, "always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know"—from experience, from the history of God's Church, from the nature and word of God Himself—"that your labour is not," never shall be, cannot be, "in vain in the Lord."

REPORT,

&c., &c.

THE Committee regret that they have not so satisfactory a balance-sheet to present to their friends as they could have wished, yet none the less are they constrained to preface their Report with a hearty note of praise and thanksgiving. If human friends have not sufficiently realized their needs, the Lord has not been unmindful of His servants—though the storehouse needs replenishing, the dews of heaven have not failed to come upon the fields, even in unwonted measure; and therein the Committee rejoice, yea, and they will rejoice.

The Receipts during the past year have been as follows:—Associations, 134,969*l.*, as against 143,696*l.* of the previous year, and 132,246*l.*, the average of the last five years; Benefactions, 25,617*l.*, as against 35,757*l.* of the previous year, and 15,757*l.*, the average of the last five years; Legacies, 12,448*l.*, as against 16,177*l.* of the previous year, and 26,174*l.*, the average of the last five years; Sundries, 7571*l.*, as against 8394*l.* of the previous year, and 7425*l.*, the average of the last five years. To the Victoria Nyanza Mission Fund 6286*l.* has been contributed during the year, and to the East Africa Mission Fund 343*l.*, making a total of available income during the year of 187,235*l.*

The General Expenditure during the year has been 189,598*l.*; the expenditure on account of the Victoria Nyanza Mission, much of it unexpected, occasioned by the sad disaster at Ukĕrĕwĕ, 13,839*l.*; and on account of the East Africa Mission Fund, 748*l.*; making the total expenditure during the year 204,186*l.*, and leaving an excess of expenditure over income for the year of 16,951*l.* Adding to this the deficiency of last year of 4321*l.* under General Expenditure, and of 3485*l.* under Special Funds, the total deficit of the last two years, which has to be taken from the Society's working capital, is 24,757*l.*

In connexion with the year's receipts, and in addition to those mentioned above, the Committee have to record with thankfulness a second munificent gift from Mr. William Charles Jones of 35,000*l.*, deposited in trust for the development of an evangelistic Native agency in connexion with the Native Churches of India. But as the interest only of this sum is available from year to year, and it is devoted to a special object, it cannot be taken account of in the regular income and expenditure of the year. The Committee have further received 10,601*l.* for special objects, and not available for the general purposes of the Society, making a grand total entrusted to the Society during the year of 232,836*l.*

From the above statement, the friends of the Society will readily understand that while the present position is certainly not one to occasion depression in regard to the future, it must needs be one for the moment of considerable embarrassment. That it may be fully understood and appreciated, and the responsibility shared by those to whom it rightly belongs, the Committee would ask their friends to take a brief review of the financial circumstances of the Society during the last three years.

Two years ago, at the anniversary of 1877, a deficiency was announced of 17,446*l.* The Committee then pointed out clearly to their friends that the increase of Missionary candidates, and the occupation of new fields, rendered it imperative that there should be an increase to their annual income of not less than 20,000*l.* At the same time, they at once took measures for retrenchment, which, if fully carried into effect, would have reduced the estimated expenditure by nearly 10,000*l.* As soon, however, as these plans were made known, the assurances of support were such that the Committee were induced in a measure to modify the process of retrenchment, and to await with hope and patience the result of the year's efforts. They were not disappointed in their hopes. The sum of 212,000*l.* was received, which was sufficient, after removing the large deficiency of the year 1876-7, to meet, within 7000*l.*, the expenditure of 1877-8. Under these circumstances they believed they were acting in accordance with the wishes of their friends generally in refraining from any further retrenchments, and in allowing estimates framed with much care for about 200,000*l*. Early, however, in last winter, it became apparent that the receipts from Legacies would fall far short of the average, and that the effort of 1877 was not being maintained; and at once the Committee took measures to make their position known. It was impossible then to reduce the current expenditure to any appreciable extent; and, although the Committee most thankfully acknowledge the warm response to their representations on the part of a few of their friends, the time was too short to retrieve their position. Yet, regarding the candidates who continue to offer for the work, and the loud calls for extension in the Mission Field as indications of the will of God, the Committee cherish the hope that the present embarrassment is only temporary, and that the regular income of the Society will rise ere long to the required amount.

Meanwhile, what is to be done?

First, the Committee appeal for special gifts not only to restore to the working capital of the Society the 24,757*l*. taken from it, but also to add 10,000*l*. to it, as it is at present insufficient for the exigencies of the work, and they are obliged to borrow for several months of the year to meet the current expenditure. The need of this will be readily understood when it is mentioned that, whereas on the 31st of January the expenditure had reached a total of 159,672*l*., the receipts were only 85,110*l*., and that in the month of March 86,731*l*. was received, of which 65,000*l*. came in on the last three days of the month. The 35,000*l*. now asked for may appear a large sum to raise in addition to the regular income of the year; but nothing is impossible to faith, and when it is seen on the one hand that the work must be crippled until it is raised, and on the other that, by the grace of God, the Society, with its Missionaries, is still holding fast to the same Protestant and spiritual principles which gave it birth, the Committee cannot doubt that it will be forthcoming in due time, and, as has been the case from the beginning, in the language of the Society's first Secretary, "difficulties will be removed, so far as they require to be removed."

The same warm friend who came forward in 1877, when the first whisper of a deficiency was heard, has come forward again, addressing the Secretaries in the following terms:—"Dear Brethren,—In the Society's hour of need, confident that many share my strong convictions, I prayerfully devote 1000*l*. to commence a Deficiency Fund for 1879. . . . . To efface the adverse balance is indispensable. Scarcely less urgent is the demand for steady increase. Let us confront this double necessity with the faith that overcomes. Multiply, expand, improve all sources of income, ordinary and special. The Lord form in His people a perfect heart to offer willingly; then use our poor service for His own work of salvation. Your unworthy FELLOW-SERVANT."

A few other friends to whom the need was made known have contributed an additional 7000*l.*, so that the Fund is now fairly launched, and only needs to be added to. This includes 1500*l.* anonymously given under the suggestive description of "A thank-offering for an income untouched by commercial depression."

Secondly, It is the clear duty of the Committee to consider seriously how they may carry out material retrenchments, so as to cause the least pain and anxiety to the Missionaries in the field, and the least permanent injury to the progress of the work.

Thirdly, the Committee will continue in prayer and effort that the income of the Society may grow, and in this they will look for the zealous co-operation of their friends. They are well aware that the commercial depression prevalent throughout the country has had something to do this year with impeding that growth of income upon which they relied. At the same time their experience of the results achieved in parochial associations that are heartily and efficiently worked, enables them to say with confidence that if all those clergymen who have full sympathy with the principles of the Society would only throw themselves zealously into the work, and determine by God's help that their parishes, whether great or small, shall have vigorous, well-worked associations of the Society, not only would new spiritual life be infused into those parishes, but whatever the ebbs and flows of commercial prosperity in this country might be, the word retrenchment would cease to have a place in the vocabulary of the Church Missionary Society.

MISSIONARY CANDIDATES.

Fifteen already qualified labourers have been accepted for the work of the Society during the past year, of whom ten were prepared to go out at once. Of these Oxford has contributed one; Cambridge, four; Dublin, one; King's College one; St. John's, Highbury, one; and Edinburgh, three Medical Missionaries.

Of fifty-eight others who have offered themselves for Missionary work, fourteen have been accepted as suitable to be trained in the Society's College.

PATRONAGE.

To the list of Vice-Presidents will be added, on their acceptance of the office, the names of Dr. Maclagan, Bishop of Lichfield; Dr. Lightfoot, Bishop of Durham; and Dr. Gregg, Bishop of Cork. The name of Dr. Pakenham Walsh, Bishop of Ossory and Ferns, was already on the list as Dean of Cashel. The office of Vice-President has also been accepted by Dr. Sandford, Bishop of Gibraltar; Dr. Hellmuth, Bishop of Huron; Dr. Stanton, Bishop of North Queensland; Bishop Oxenden; and General Alexander, for many years a member of the Committee. The last named intrepid soldier and servant of the Lord Jesus Christ, has been subsequently removed to his heavenly rest.

The following, having rendered essential services to the Society, have been added to the list of Honorary Governors for Life:—The Rev. John Barton, Vicar of Holy Trinity, Cambridge; the Rev. E. H. Bickersteth, Vicar of Christ Church, Hampstead; Colonel Hughes and Arthur Lang, Esq., old and respected members of the Committee; the Rev. H. W. Sheppard, Rector of Emsworth; the Rev. J. Allan Smith, Vicar of Holy Trinity, Nottingham; William Sparks, Esq., of Crewkerne, Somerset; the Rev. V. J. Stanton, Rector of Halesworth; and the Rev. A. W. W. Steel, of Cambridge.

Death has removed from the ranks of the Church Militant some old and staunch friends of the Society, amongst whom mention may well be made of Hugh McNeile, Lord Dynevor, Russell Gurney, and Dr. Leslie. While we bless on their behalf the holy name of their Lord and ours, may the prayer be abundantly answered that we may have "grace so to follow their good examples that with them we may be partakers of His Heavenly Kingdom"!

NUMBER OF LABOURERS.

During the year seventeen European Clergymen and eleven Laymen, and two Female Teachers, have been sent out from Europe or received in the Missions; and twenty European labourers of all classes have, through death and other causes, ceased to be agents of the Society. The number of the Society's European labourers, on May 1st, 1879, is as follows:—

Abroad—
Missionaries in Holy Orders	174
Lay Missionaries	45
Female Teachers	9
		228
At Home—
Missionaries in Holy Orders	32
Lay Missionaries	4
Female Teachers	4

Of the Native ordained labourers, one has died during the year. The present number is 189, an increase of 17 on the total of the preceding year. There are also ten country-born Clergy labouring as agents of the Society.

Missions.

WEST-AFRICA MISSION.

SIERRA LEONE.

The Committee would begin the report of this Mission with reminding their friends that there is in Sierra Leone a Native Christian Church, with 5000 Communicants, which is the result of the Society's labours, and which for several years has received from its funds an annual grant of 300*l*. None of the Sierra Leone congregations are now in direct connexion with the Society.

Mission to the Mohammedans.

For nearly three years a Mission to the Mohammedans formed a distinct branch of the Society's work in the colony. This important enterprise is now attached to the Fourah Bay College. It was carried on, during 1878, by Mr. A. Burtchaell with much spirit, and with many tokens of success. Towards the close of the year, Mr. Burtchaell was removed to the station of Port Lokkoh. Mr. Burtchaell writes under date November 22nd, 1878:—

The opening of the year found me, I trust, more at home in my work amongst the Mohammedans of Sierra Leone; and, from that time up to the present, there is much cause for thankfulness for the many opportunities afforded to me for preaching Christ to the Mohammedans, both at their homes and in their religious assemblies.

Mohammedan inquirers.

One Sunday, seven Mussulmans came for religious instruction in the Bible. I noticed amongst the number a venerable-looking man, who had lately arrived in the colony from some distant place.

He said that ever since he came to Sierra Leone he had been longing to see the Missionary. When our Bible lesson was over, he came up to me, and earnestly asked for a Bible. I told him if he came regularly and was in earnest, he should get one after a time. He did so, and I was only too glad to fulfil my promise. As long as he remained in town he came regularly, bringing his Bible with him, to read it and hear it explained. One morning, when we had finished our reading, he said, "Jesus is in our midst as we read His Word, and He will bless us." This venerable-looking Mohammedan has gone back to his country, bearing with him the Word of God; and may we not hope and pray that the Holy Spirit may guide him into the way of peace?—Another Mussulman, from Fulah, also received an Arabic Bible, and, while journeying home, wrote me a letter in which he says, "That book (the Bible) which I have—I read it every time—that is my word." In another letter to me he writes thus:—"This letter is a few words about the Prophet of God, Jesus Christ, Son of Mary. God grant Him Peace! Amen. Assist us for His sake, and all who live in the world. Jesus raised the dead, for He has power. He is a wonderful man in every way, and the people believe Him; you must increase in loving Him every day and night, because Jesus has power as God Himself has power. Every one that follows Jesus must be placed in the centre of heaven, without being examined and without trouble. Jesus has saved the world by His blood: that blood cometh out of His side—the Messiah. He is the Sun: nothing can cover the Sun: His light shall not grow dark. He is a faithful guide, and does not get angry. He is a rope, and cannot be cut: a lantern that cannot be broken. He is the way to lead you to God. He is a doctor to those who trust in Him in every place. There is none like Him in truth, first and last. We live in His love by day and night, in walking, standing, sitting down, eating and drinking—all are in His hands. Oh, God of praise and glory, assist us for Jesus Christ's sake, the Son of Mary!" I have given the above as it was translated from Arabic into English by my interpreter.—During the great fast of Ramadhân, the Mohammedans of different tribes met separately every night for their service of prayer. I am thankful to our Father that I was allowed to address them after their service. The tutor of Fourah Bay College accompanied me. The first night we went to the Fulahs. The priest was glad to see us, and gave me leave to speak to the assembly present, when he had finished his sermon. They were addressed from Ps. li. 10, and I must say our night open-air congregations were very attentive. When I had finished, the Alfa called me to him, and, taking my hand in his, thanked me publicly for my discourse, and asked me to come again.

Our Mohammedan school still goes on doing a silent, but we trust a good, work. One could wish that the children would attend more regularly. The school was examined in September by Mr. Davis, tutor of the College.

The Committee have now appointed me to another station; but I sincerely trust that this Mission will never be given up. There are many open doors; the people in most cases willingly listen to the missionary, and the promise is, "My Word shall not return to Me void." I feel more convinced than ever, that, by patient, prayerful labour, many a Moslem shall be brought to the foot of the Cross.

Education.

Native African Graduates.

FOURAH BAY COLLEGE is affiliated to the University of Durham. Graces have been recently passed at that University conferring the degree of B.A. on three of the Fourah Bay Students, and Licences in Theology on five others. The Examination had been conducted by means of written papers sent to Sierra Leone. The Sub-Dean (Canon A. S. Farrar) remarked, on the occasion, that these were the first set of Degrees that had ever been conferred upon Students of Fourah Bay College since its affiliation with Durham University, and that the Students had passed an examination of the most remarkable excellence. "It was a source of gratification to them all," he added, "to think that they had done the right thing in uniting Fourah Bay College with Durham University; and the gentleman in charge of that College, who was an M.A. of Durham University, had conducted it in a most efficient manner, and had sent up his pupils in a fit state for examination. These Students were pure negroes, and this was the first instance of their having obtained actual degrees in any of the Universities; and he could not help but feel that this spoke well for the prospects of civilization and Christianity in Central Africa."

Eighty-nine pupils were in attendance at the GRAMMAR SCHOOL at the close of 1878, receiving the usual complete classical and scientific education given in Grammar Schools in this country, based upon and culminating in Revealed Truth. The number at the beginning of the year was seventy-three. The fees are one guinea per quarter. A Wesleyan High School has been lately opened in Freetown, the quarterly fee of which is at present half-a-guinea. The rivalry between the two institutions will be, it is hoped, of a generous and salutary character; but the continued success of the Grammar School under these circumstances supplies another proof, in addition to those furnished by the Fourah Bay College, that the commercial depression has not seriously interfered with the educational progress of the colony. Mr. Quaker writes:—

The pupils have, on the whole, given me every satisfaction in regard to their moral behaviour. I trust there are not a few among them with whom is the secret (of safety) of the Lord, because they fear Him.

The 25th of June last completed my thirty years' connexion with the school as an appointed teacher. No less than 800 boys and young men have been admitted here during that period. It is indeed a solemn responsibility, and therefore to God my eyes are ever being lifted for all necessary grace and strength.

The ANNIE WALSH INSTITUTION continues its quiet but important work of giving the Native girls a useful and Christian education. The building has been enlarged so as to accommodate 80 boarders and 150 day-scholars. The Institution has suffered loss by the return home of Miss Caspari after 12 years of faithful service. It is feared her health will not permit her return; but, as long as she lives, the Institution will have a warm place in her heart and in her prayers. Mrs. Burton (sister to the late Mrs. Faulkner), has been appointed in her place; and much advantage is anticipated from the residence in the institution of Mr. Burton, a Missionary of tried Christian character. He acts as the Society's Industrial Superintendent on the West Coast, in the place of Mr. Ashcroft, now removed to the Niger.

PORT LOKKOH.

Mr. Burtchaell was transferred to Port Lokkoh towards the end of November, 1878. Mr. J. A. Alley, from the Society's College at Islington, who, like Mr. Burtchaell, is a lay Missionary, and who reached Sierra Leone in November, 1878, has also been appointed to this station. Mr. Burtchaell writes:—

I left Freetown for this place towards the end of November, leaving Mr. Alley in town till he got over his first fever. I am glad to say he has had the fever and got over it well. I am now settled down, and trust that God will give me grace to be His faithful servant to the poor heathen Timnehs, and to love them for Christ's sake.

Progress at Port Lokkoh.

Every evening we go out visiting and preaching the Gospel to our Timneh friends in their compounds. We are very well received, so far; and both the king and chiefs are very friendly towards us. At present many of them think we have come to trade. Daily we have visitors, both the natives, and strangers from Futah, Sangara, and other places. They are told of the Gospel. Often we have a large gathering in our house, listening to the good news. I am glad to say the last few Sundays many Timnehs have been present at our service. Mr. Schlenker's Timneh Translation of the Prayer Book is used, and the Lesson is read in their language, so that the Natives are able to say "Amen." In the evening, on Sunday, we preach in the open air; often there is a large number.—Mr. Taylor, one of the Fourah Bay men, is here as a Catechist; he is getting on admirably with the pupils and language: in his school lately opened he has eighteen heathen children attending.—There are many villages lying around us, and I am hoping this month to go off to them.—Africa is ruined by the petty wars that are continuously taking place. The slave-trade is another cause of ruin. I am pained often by seeing batches of slaves driven along, as if they were no better than cattle. I hope we may be able to get the king and chiefs to pass a law that slaves found going through our compound shall be set free. —The Timnehs are very superstitious. God is to them "an unknown being;" kufi, or devil is their protector. Here and there one meets with their little kufi temples and sacred stones. The cotton-tree is highly venerated by them, for in that the kufi is said to dwell. There is such a tree near us, and is surrounded by a grove of banana-trees, the fruit of which tree, when ripe, is never plucked, but left on the trees for kufi.

LAGOS.

The Committee have again to acknowledge with much regret that little or no visible advance has been made during the year in the organization of the Lagos Native Church. The funds and agency of the Society must not be responsible for the pastoral care of Native Christians.

EBUTE ERO, with its 71 Communicants, is the only congregation whose expenses are met from the Native Church Fund. This fund receives contributions, of course, from all the Lagos congregations. The pastor of Ebute Ero, (Rev. W. Morgan, an African) has had the joy of receiving fifteen adults into the visible church by baptism. One of the new converts is a son of the ex-king of Lagos.

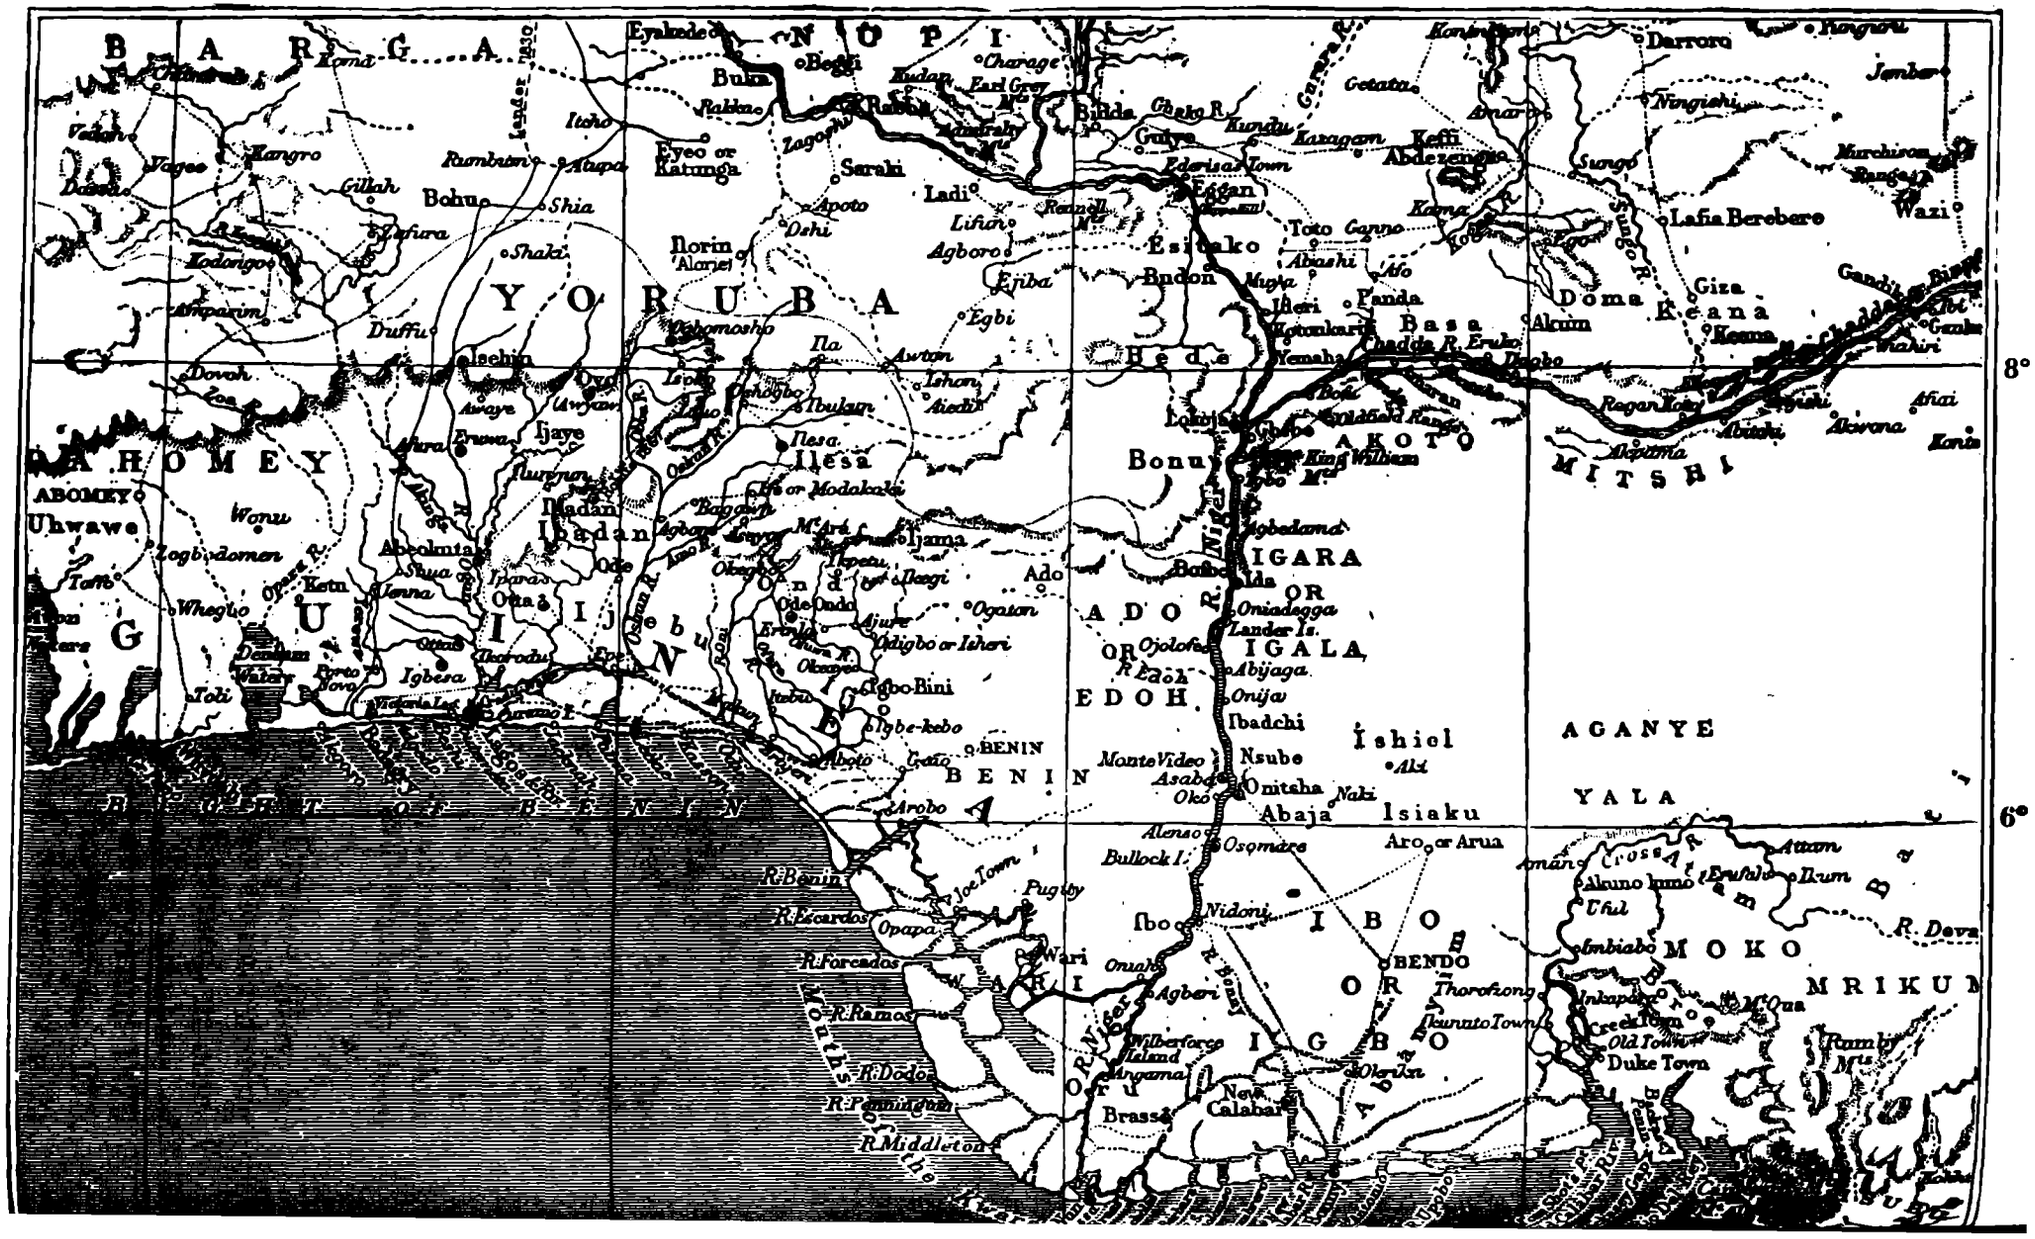

The FAJI congregation has for its minister the Rev. T. B. Wright, an African clergyman. Thirteen adults have been baptized during the year; and the Adherents have increased in number from 423 to 456. Their contributions for religious purposes exceeded 110*l*. The present number of Communicants is not given. At the close of 1877 there were 190. Some were removed during 1878, in the exercise of Church discipline. Mr. Wright reports:—

Voluntary evangelistic efforts of African Christians.

> In spite of the many deaths, our Church here keeps on a steady increase. But at the same time we have too often to lament the immorality prevalent among our young people. Several have been struck off the list for this reason.—Mr. Maser has been most energetic in his efforts to carry the Gospel to the neighbouring villages on the eastern part of Lagos. With this view he has organized a set of volunteers from our Sunday-school teachers, who go by twos to speak to those who would listen about Jesus. I can almost say that, as a rule, our Christians, men and women, are preachers. Most of our converts are got in through their exertions. There are several instances of conversions made in remote places far from Mission Stations.—On July 21st, I had the privilege of admitting 13 adults (5 men and 8 women) into the visible Church by baptism. One man amongst them had been a Mohammedan for a period of twenty-six years.—Amongst the number of inquirers this year is a Shango priestess, who has brought over to me all her idols. Although she is an old woman, yet she attends regularly her class and Sunday-school. Three other inquirers, a man and two women, had previously been Mohammedans.

The Native Pastor of AROLOYA, or PALM CHURCH (Rev. N. Johnson), deplores the small number of accessions during the year. Seven adults only have been baptized, in comparison with 22 in the year preceding. The numbers of Communicants and Adherents at the close of 1878 and 1879 were for the former year 270 and 80, for the latter year 275 and 67. Mr. Johnson expresses his belief, however, that in spiritual life the congregation as a whole is advancing. The following extract from his letter is interesting :—

Conversion of a son through witnessing the support given to his mother in dying hours.

An aged woman in the congregation has recently joined the Church triumphant, after a painful illness protracted for above twelve months. But while the earthly tabernacle was giving way, the inward man was being renewed day by day. Mohammedan and heathen friends bore testimony to this. Her simple but strong faith in a dying Saviour, and her entire resignation to the will of God, under most excruciating pains, wrought so powerfully on her only surviving son—who had been a stern resister of the truth for many years—that immediately after her death he resolved to embrace the religion that had supported and comforted his mother in the hours of death. His wife joined him. This I cannot but regard as an answer to the fervent and repeated prayers of the aged woman; for long before, but especially towards the close of her life, the conversion of her son—her only surviving son out of thirteen children—was the most prominent topic of discussion whenever we met.

The congregation of BREAD FRUIT, as well as the GRAMMAR SCHOOL, has been during the year under the management of Archdeacon Johnson. No Report has been received of the Archdeacon's labours.

Of EBUTE META the Rev. V. Faulkner reports as follows :—

The statistics [550 Native Adherents, 228 Communicants] show a steady increase as compared with last year. Accessions continue to be made from among the heathen, twenty-seven having joined us during the year, whilst twenty-two of the former class of candidates have been baptized. The increase in the number of Communicants (eight) is very small; but this is owing to Church discipline which has suspended some from communion. The weekday classes for communicants and candidates might perhaps have been better attended; but I feel some allowance must be made for the people, on the ground of their chief occupation being in the farms, a distance of fully nine miles.

Extension by means of voluntary efforts of Native Christians.

The Sunday services in some of the farm villages have been regularly kept up by voluntary agency. So encouraging has this work been that two places have been formed into C.M.S. stations, and provided with resident agents; and soon I shall recommend that a third be taken on the Society's list.

The financial statistics of the past encourage me more than any previous year; for out of the 184*l*. 10*s*. 4½*d*. received from all sources, 127*l*. 6*s*. 10*d*. was gathered from the congregation, thus giving promise ere long of Ebute Meta becoming a self-supporting Church.

Education.

Of the FEMALE INSTITUTION, Mr. J. Field reports as follows :—

The Female Institution, under my charge, has been peculiarly tried, and I am thankful to the Lord that it is still afloat. Left without its mistress in the early part of the year, many of the girls were either kept back or sent elsewhere. When Mrs. Field was ordered to England on medical certificate, I was strongly urged to accompany her; but I determined, at all hazards, to remain in the apparently sinking ship. Since then I have often felt thankful for it. We commenced the year with about forty girls, and on the 18th instant, when we closed for the Christmas vacation, the number on the books was still thirty-seven. During Mrs. Field's absence the work was carried on as usual, except that the boarding part had to be discontinued, there being no lady to superintend it. There are now four classes, one of which falls to my entire charge. I have been striving to lay a good foundation on elementary subjects, with the view of launching out a little further during the ensuing year. I hope, when the school year begins, to place in the hands of a few, two or three books of a more advanced nature than what they have been accustomed to. The girls who have been taking music lessons have done very well. The needlework department has, I fear, suffered from Mrs. Field's absence.

BADAGRY.

The work at this station has always been toilsome, accompanied with many difficulties, and encountered by stubborn opposition. Among the difficulties may be reckoned the depression of trade and the consequent decrease of population. The Adherents number 106, of whom 27 are Communicants. Their pastor (Rev. D. Coker, an African), speaks highly of their liberality in giving. Some of them also show their zeal by speaking of the Saviour to their heathen neighbours. There are out-stations at Iworo and Ajido.

OTA.

This, like Badagry, has proved a hard and stubborn soil. The Rev. J. White (African) has not had much visible encouragement; but the fruits of his past toil will, doubtless, yet be seen, even though it be not until after Mr. White's removal to some other sphere—a contingency which seems probable and which would not be unacceptable to Mr. White himself. He writes :—

I have to report a decrease in our congregation, caused by deaths and removals to other places, whilst, on the other hand, there has been no accession from among the heathens to fill up the gap which has been made. Next to the Popoes [at Badagry and its neighbourhood] I hardly know of a race more deep-rooted in their prejudice against the Gospel, nor more obstinate in their persistence to maintain the ancient superstitions of their forefathers. The future state is with them a matter of indifference. It is true that since the introduction of the Gospel here twenty-six years ago, we have had as many as 110 baptisms of adults and children; but two-thirds of these have been emigrants from the interior or other places. What I say is the characteristic of the indigenous population, that is to say, of the whole of the people called "the Awories," comprising Ota, Igbesa, Ilaro, Ado, and their dependencies.

Our Sunday services have been regular, and as regularly attended by our converts, and occasionally by a few heathens also. I made mention in my last Annual Letter of some half-a-dozen females who banded together, stating that it had long been their desire to join us, but that they had been afraid of being secretly poisoned, but that it was now their determination to attend the house of God regularly. They continued faithful to their promise for some time, when the frown of the public put a final stop to their coming to the house of God. We have had several experiences of this kind.

Death of an African Christian.

Among the losses we have sustained by death, is Esther Ogutolu, the daughter of one of the chiefs of Itele. During her illness, she was observed by her husband to be frequent and earnest in prayer, confessing her sins, and asking God for forgiveness through the Saviour. I visited her for the last time the night before her departure. After she had bidden farewell to her husband and all present, I asked whether we should pray with her. "O, yes!" she said. After praying we asked whether she wanted anything. "Nothing but the white robe," she replied. About 4 a.m. next day, she called her husband, and in an exulting tone of voice, exclaimed, "Our Father has brought me the white robe; come, put it on me." These were her last words, and she expired shortly after.

Another who died in peace during the year was a daughter of the King of Igbesa, who was baptized in Abeokuta by Mr. Townsend in 1848, and who afterwards removed to Ota.

The incident described in the following passage shows that some good has been effected by Mr. White's labours, even from the mere philanthropist's point of view:—

A human sacrifice prevented.

For the first time since our residence here, we were successful in saving the life of a poor old woman, who was said to be guilty of witchcraft, because she entered the enclosure of the god Owo, and trode on a forbidden spot within the enclosure, and because she made a voluntary confession of having compassed the death of several individuals, whom she named, by her craft. The poor woman is evidently not in her senses; but this was overlooked, and by the law of the land she becomes a victim of the god. Several instances of the kind had occurred in times past, but our interference had been of no avail. On this occasion Mr. George, our Scripture-reader, went to the priestess of the god, whom he had known at Ilorin, where they were both slaves some years ago, to dissuade her from having a hand in the murder of the poor woman. So far from complying with Mr. George's request, the priestess regarded the application as a great affront, and summoned all the worshippers of the god, among whom are some of the leading elders, to join with her in complaining to the authorities of the town. They were enjoined, however, by the king and chiefs to set the woman at liberty, and were informed that, should anything happen to her, they would be made responsible.

ABEOKUTA.

The Rev. James Johnson, who is Chairman of the Abeokuta Native Church Council, and has also been commissioned to watch over the Society's Missionary work in Abeokuta and its out-stations, commences his Annual Letter, dated March, 1879, with the following remarks on the trying and distressing circumstances under which the labours of the year have been carried on :—

Since my last Annual Letter we have had to do our work here amidst all the inconveniences and difficulties of a warfare which drags its paces very slowly. The value of time, the damaging and serious consequences to both parties engaged in it of such an irregular and protracted warfare, and the troubles to the humbler classes, do not seem to be sufficently appreciated by those on either side who are responsible for the conduct of it. The war policy of the country is to harass an enemy to submission by kidnapping, blockades, and starvation, more than by hand-to-hand sharp and quick fight. . . . . Ibadan has against it, besides Abeokuta, a combination of some of its tributary towns, and the Mohammedan country of Ilorin. The object alleged to be aimed at in the combination, is freedom from its oppressive rule, and its destruction as a warlike power, it being considered an hindrance and an obstruction to the development of peaceful industries, and being charged with keeping up the struggling flames and the dying embers of that old warlike spirit, which for so many years has harried, harassed, and desolated the country. All sigh, and are eager for the return of peace and security, and a greater intercourse with the coast. There have been some encounters, with losses more or less important to both sides; but perhaps this war has also a long, slow, and tedious history to pass through.

I have endeavoured to give effect to the several recommendations adopted by the Abeokuta Church last year, for the development of growth, and for self-support, and have been able, besides attending to other important engagements, to perform tours of inspection and itinerancy to Iperu on the east, and Ilaro on the south-west. Independent and unpaid lay agency has been pressed more into service in the several districts; and some of the voluntaries have shown zeal and love for the work, whilst others who had begun to run well, need to be reminded again and again of their obligations. Spiritual life is still low. One great obstacle to the holy development and renewal desired is the frivolous disposition of the people. The countenances of the congregations do not often show that there is any large response to the heart of the pulpit. But some old members have already noticed a change coming on and speak of it. There have been about 33 deaths in the Abeokuta Church among registered members. A good hope is entertained of them that have fallen asleep. Some were able to testify on their death-beds that they had not received the grace of God in vain, and that they were filled with the hope of a blessed immortality.

Accessions to the Church from heathenism and Mohammedanism have exceeded those of the preceding year, though the latter gave no representative. But in consequence of the over-preponderance of deaths, suspensions, and removals together there has been no increase in the number of adherents. The Communicants have also diminished from the same cause, their present number being 674, though the candidates for Communion have increased from 198 to 238. The adult baptisms have been 67 as against 38 of the preceding year.

Street preaching and house-to-house visiting have been more or less employed. The reports received from these sources and from itinerancies, besides my own personal observations, show that there is abroad a large amount of disbelief in heathenism, and a distrust of the power of the gods to help. But together with this, there is a large amount of outward compliance with heathen worship, either from the fear of domestic persecution, or from the dread of the avenging deities, which still lingers with them. Our superior Christian morality also still operates to keep them away from us. The Babalawos, also not blind to, and ever active in, their own interest, have been for the most part our greatest opponents. The Church is putting forth a little more life in the work of winning heathens for Christ, following them to their houses and farms. A heathen that I fell in with in my last itinerancy, said of, and to, my companion, Mr. Doherty, and myself, in a very furious temper, "How troublesome these people are! they pest your life at home, and when you come to your farm, they follow you; disturbers of people's peace they are!"

Opposition of the heathen to evangelistic effort.

Mr. Johnson's efforts to call forth liberality in gifts to the Lord's treasury have met with some success, but not to the extent he desires. The class payments have been increased; and offerings at a special harvest service yielded a sum of 27*l*. Personal service has also been yielded. Besides the paid agents, eighty-four voluntaries carry on evangelistic or pastoral work in the several districts with which they are connected. The aggregate of contributions has exceeded 420*l*.

From the statistics accompanying the Rev. D. Williams's Annual Letter, it would seem that AKÉ has received more evident tokens of Divine blessing during the year than some of the other Abeokuta stations. Thirty-three adults have been baptized, and the Communicants have increased from 294 to 306. Thirty-six candidates for baptism are under instruction. The whole number of Adherents is 1200. Mr. Williams's Letter itself, however, shows that, together with encouragements, there is something to sadden, and much that calls for prayer. He writes :—

During the year, Sunday and Thursday divine services, Saturday Class meetings, Sunday and weekday schools, had been regularly kept; but the attendances in the different meetings were sometimes very unsatisfactory, Sunday schools being much neglected, and Sunday divine services irregularly attended; the spirit of carelessness having prevailed much, and unwillingness to take the trouble to learn to read, although they were often spoken to, sometimes from the pulpit.

Voluntary African Christian preachers.

Much help has been given me from my congregation by the few selected members of both sexes who have gone out among the heathens to preach Christ to them. I have made it a duty to meet regularly with them monthly, on the first Monday, to receive reports of their work during the month. On the whole they have given me satisfactory accounts of the several places in which they had been to preach; in the streets, market-places, and heathen compounds. Oftentimes they would allude to the arduousness of the work of converting people, and their disappointment in not seeing all who seem to be convinced at their preachings and conversation turn to God at once. I have urged them to be much engaged in prayer to God for heavenly blessing upon their labour, not depending upon their strength and effort alone, but upon the Holy Spirit whose work it is to convert men. I have also encouraged them to hold prayer-meetings among themselves in the house of one of their number, at any day they might fix upon, to ask God's blessings upon the noble work to which they have been appointed.

OSHIELLE.

The Rev. W. Moore writes:—

During the past year there has been no adult baptism; and the number of the communicants is decreasing by deaths and removals, in consequence of the war.

Conversion of a notorious idolater.

However, it has pleased the Lord to cheer our hearts by the conversion of a notorious idolater, who was the chief man of the Egun system in this village. Many resorted to him to have their deceased fathers brought from the world of spirits; many women believed that their children have been given them by his Egun, and brought him offerings accordingly. He is a blacksmith by trade, but his chief gain used to be obtained by the diabolical system of Egun. The war having almost stopped farming, his trade as a smith ceased also, because his chief work as a smith is to supply farming implements. Lately, on a day when he had not a cowry to purchase food for himself and his four children, a woman brought unexpectedly a he-goat, a fowl, oil, and six heads of cowries (6*s.*) as a thankoffering to his Egun for having preserved a child of hers from death some time ago. He at once refused the gift, telling the woman that Egun was no more with him, because Egun was of the devil, and he was a worshipper of God.

IBADAN.

No Annual Letter has been received from the Rev. D. Olubi; but Mr. Johnson of Abeokuta writes as follows:—

Few letters have been exchanged between the Rev. D. Olubi, of Ibadan, and other interior agents and myself on account of the war blockade; but they speak hopefully of the work. Accessions from heathenism are steady and general at Ibadan, though not large; the Church is growing in grace. A spirit of inquiry manifests itself here and there; there have been youthful patience and steadfastness under domestic persecution, notwithstanding war troubles and a case of backsliding into Mohammedanism.*

NIGER MISSION.

Onitsha, 1857; Akasa, 1861; Lokoja, 1865; Bonny, 1866; Brass, 1868 Osamâre, 1873; New Calabar, 1874; Asaba, 1875; Kipo Hill (Egan) 1876; Alenso, 1878.

(Commenced 1857.)

THE African Clergymen labouring on the banks of the Niger may be appropriately termed Missionaries, as with scarcely, if any, exception, they are not natives of the countries where they are at work, nor do they belong to the same nationalities as the tribes whom they are evangelizing. They are as follows:—At BONNY, Archdeacon Crowther; at BRASS, the Rev. T. Johnson; at NEW CALABAR, the Rev. W. E. Carew; at OSAMÂRE, the Rev. J. Düring; at ALENSO, the Rev. John Buck; at ONITSHA, the Rev. S. S. Perry; at ASABA, the Rev. E. Phillips; at LOKOJA, the Rev. T. C. John; and at KIPO HILL, the Rev. C. Paul; all, of course, under the guidance of Bishop Crowther. Archdeacon Johnson, of the Upper Niger, was during the year on leave of absence at Lagos, to supply the exigencies of that Mission.

The aggregate statistics of the Niger Mission for the year ending 30th September, 1878, as given by Bishop Crowther show 92 adult baptisms during the year, 208 Communicants, and 1860 average attendance at the congregation. At the close of 1878 the number under the last head would be considerably increased in consequence of the favourable change at Bonny, so that the whole number of Native Adherents reckoned in this way would not be less than 2000. Considering, however, that nearly 300 of these are children, some probably of heathen parents, and that at BRASS some may be attending church simply with the view of pleasing the king and chiefs, it may be safer to reckon the number of Adherents at 1500.

The following is a condensation of Bishop Crowther's Report on the Niger Mission:—

General.

Degradation of the heathen tribes, among whom the Niger Missionaries labour.

The Niger Mission began twenty-one years ago. The inhabitants of these countries were at that time in the deepest ignorance and degradation, worshipping supposed spirits represented by shapeless blocks of wood, to which sacrifices were made of animals and human beings. At Onitsha for instance, there was an annual human sacrifice for the sin of the nation; sixty human victims were sacrificed at the funeral of the king; slaves were buried often alive with the corpses of their masters, to accompany them as servants into the world of spirits. (One was so buried at Alenso in June, 1877).

Twin-born children were put to death. In many places cannibalism prevailed, as is still the case at Obokshi, not six miles from Onitsha, where the graves of the dead are sometimes watched for five or six nights to prevent their being rifled for this purpose. These horrid and degrading practices are not yet extinct, even in the neighbourhood of the Missionary stations, though they are slowly dying out.

What has been done to raise the people of these countries from this state of degradation?

In the Lower District of the Niger Mission, eight stations are established, besides smaller out-stations. At all of these, the atrocious customs just mentioned are denounced; their abominableness in the sight of God is pointed out, and the coming of Jesus Christ, God's only Son, in human flesh, for the purpose of abolishing these and all other evils, is continually proclaimed. My efforts have been opposed by vehement persecution; though a favourable change has now been brought about through the steady endurance of the Christian confessors, and through recent visitations of God on the persecutors of His people.

The Stations.

There is no change for the better at AKASA, I am sorry to say.

The Rev. J. Düring, with two lay helpers, has laboured during the year at OSAMARE. At this station there is at present a halting between two opinions among a large number of the natives. They are convinced that they cannot serve two masters, and that they must now decide whether they shall continue in heathenism or adopt the new religion entirely. This state of things we regard as an encouragement. One of the teachers at this station has stirred up much opposition by action into which he was led by zeal without adequate knowledge.—Horrible human sacrifices are still largely practised in this neighbourhood.

At ALENSO human sacrifices and other superstitious usages are as frequent as at Osamare.

Happy change at Bonny.

A great change has taken place at BONNY. Towards the close of May, whether through witnessing the patient constancy of the persecuted Christians, or through the influence and remonstrances of the European traders, the majority of the chiefs showed symptoms of wishing to allow religious toleration. Prayer was unceasingly offered by the Church; and letters of sympathy came in to Archdeacon Crowther from England and India, as well as from other parts of Africa. At their meetings the afflicted converts implored that God would pour down on their persecutors, not, as on Sodom and Gomorrah, the rain of fire and brimstone to destroy them, but the rain of His love, as on Saul of Tarsus, to convert them. A favourite wife of one of the hostile chiefs, herself a cruel foe of the Christians, was laid low by disease. Large sums of money were spent to propitiate the idols, and the heathen priests loudly predicted her recovery. But the disease proved fatal; and Archdeacon Crowther's kindly visits to the bereaved chief produced a deep impression. The persecuting laws, if not formally repealed, ceased to be enforced. On returning from England, King George Pepple, whose dignity is acknowledged, but whose authority is extremely limited, took the first opportunity, after landing, to attend Divine Service and publicly give thanks for his preservation during the voyage. From that time forward he boldly and openly attended public worship. Others also, though at first with trembling steps, began to venture into the house of God. The attendance at church, which had consisted of little more than the school children, thirty in number, gradually increased to a congregation of 100. The advance, once begun, continued, until when I preached in November, 1878, the congregation numbered 500, and reached 600 in the month following.

Many of the chiefs at Bonny are fully persuaded of the truths of Christianity. But though the persecution has for the time ceased, there is still the fear of its again breaking out.

The Mission at BRASS was the first to pass through the fiery trials of persecution, so much so, that not only was the Native Pastor compelled to leave the place, but King Okiya himself was fined fifty pieces of cloth by his fellow-chiefs for supporting the Mission. The congregation at Tuwon now numbers 400 persons. Another congregation has recently been formed at Nembe, the capital, entirely through Okiya's exertions. On the 3rd of November, I preached to a congregation of nearly 700 persons, crowded into a temporary place of worship erected by that chief. In the absence of a clergyman, the service is conducted by four young converts belonging to the king's retinue, the singing being led by one of his daughters. Every day, at seven in the morning, and again at seven in the evening, the king's household (about sixty persons) are invited, by the shrill sound of a boatswain's whistle, to unite in family prayer. The population of Nembe may be estimated at about 10,000. Preparations are making to occupy this place permanently as a key to the hostile Delta tribes.

The Mission at NEW CALABAR is still in an unsettled condition. The chiefs show much unwillingness to fulfil their promises in paying for the education of their children. They assembled, however, at an examination at the school, conducted by myself, where five European merchants were also present, and supported me in my demand for payment.

The labourers at ONITSHA were the Rev. W. Romaine and the Rev. S. S. Perry, assisted by a Native Christian schoolmaster. The former of these has been recently removed by death. The difficulties of the Mission are increased by the bad examples of civilised nominal Christians. Yet the places of worship are tolerably well attended; and the observance of the Sabbath is becoming not infrequent, even among the heathen. A chief of Obotshi, a neighbouring town where cannibalism prevails, has been induced to give up that abominable practice. The younger portion of the population are favourably disposed to the Mission. The Native Christians show some liberality in their pecuniary contributions.

The Rev. E. Phillips and a lay Native helper are labouring at ASABA. The superstitions and habits of the people resemble those of Osamare and Alenso, human sacrifices included.

LOKOJA, at the junction of the Quora and Binue rivers, forms the point of communication between the inland countries and the sea coast, and is thus an important centre of trade. Its connexion with the King of Bida, Umoru, is in some respects disadvantageous. It is too far from the capital to be controlled by the king himself, and those whom he sends to represent him sometimes abuse their power. The soldiers receive no regular pay, but subsist by what they exact from the people.

We have here two places of worship, Trinity Church for a mixed Hausa, Nupe, and Yoruba congregation, and the Bunu Chapel for a native tribe of that name, speaking a dialect of their own. The former of these two buildings has, unfortunately, recently become unfit for use, the roof having fallen in during the last rainy season. Mr. Ashcroft has drawn up plans for a more suitable building, which will shortly be erected.

Having received urgent invitation from Akaia, the chief of Gbebe, a former station, to visit his town, I went thither on the 4th of September, in a canoe furnished by the chief himself. I visited and formally accepted the piece of ground granted by Akaia for the Mission Station.

Prospects of extension on the Binue.

On the 14th of September we left Lokoja in the "Henry Venn" for Yimaha, on the Binue, in accordance with an invitation of the late king, and with the desire of making arrangements with his youthful son and successor, Kpanaki. On landing we found that Kpanaki was not at home, but in camp at war with a rival younger brother. In his absence we visited the Mohammedan chief priest, who was acting as viceroy, and who received us with great respect. He advised me to see the king at his camp, twenty miles distant. On the 16th, I proceeded in the "Henry Venn" to the camp, which was only twenty yards distant from the bank of the river. The interview, however, was fruitless, the king being greatly offended at my refusing to give him any help, or appearance of help, in his hostilities against his brother. After I had left him, a king in the inland country, who is Kpanaki's superior, reprimanded him severely, and ordered him to invite us back to Yimaha for immediate occupation. I sent back word that I might be expected to visit Yimaha next season.

The station at KIPO HILL is silently exercising a beneficial influence on the mixed Mohammedan and heathen population by which it is surrounded. Count de Semelle, a French explorer, Monsieur Burdo, a Belgian explorer, and a European mercantile agent from a house at Liverpool, have very thankfully availed themselves of the "Henry Venn" steamer and of the Society's Mission Stations in these parts. Thus these upper stations contribute to the comfort and health of visitors to the Niger, whose schemes of operation, though different from our own, yet tend to the elevation of Africa from her degraded condition. King Umoru placed a boy in my charge to be educated at Kipo Hill. By mistake he was brought down to the coast, and is now at Bonny under the care of Archdeacon Crowther.

Prospects of extension on the Quora.

On the 23rd of September I left Egan, opposite Kipo Hill, for Shonga, a place about ninety-four miles up the Quora, beyond Kipo Hill. Shonga is on the right, or southern, bank of the Quora, about eighty miles distant from Ilorin. I met the old King Aliku, who had received us so kindly on our overland route in 1871. He at once recognized me, and heard with pleasure of my purpose to establish a Mission station at Shonga, and my desire thus to open up a communication with Ilorin. A suitable piece of land, selected by myself, was cheerfully granted. The prevailing religion here is Mohammedanism. The war now raging between Ilorin and Ibadan retards my plans for the present. Three European mercantile establishments are carrying on business at Shonga.

In October I visited Bida, and informed Umoru of my advance to Shonga, and of my intention to go farther up the Binue next year. Umoru had been intensely anxious to see me, partly from desire to know the truth respecting the Sultan of Constantinople, of whose difficulties he had heard some vague reports, and partly wishing for my advice respecting some complaints brought by merchants against Nupe chiefs in the river. I showed the king an Arabic Atlas; and with the help of the map of the seat of war, the globe which he had from me last year, and newspapers which I had brought with me, I was able to give him the most recent news as well as correct notions respecting the situations of Constantinople, Cyprus, and England. Umoru expressed his warm admiration for the Queen of England.

The new Mission steamer, the "Henry Venn," reached the Niger in June, and has proved most helpful to the work, carrying the Bishop and Mr. Ashcroft (who has charge of the temporalities of the Mission) backwards and forwards continually between the stations. She was also very useful in taking supplies from Lagos to the Native brethren in the Ondo country (Yoruba Mission), by way of the lagoons. The Committee lament that the more lengthened voyage up that river, which the Bishop was to have made next year in the interests of missionary exploration, will probably have to be postponed in consequence of the serious financial difficulties from which the Society is now suffering.*

EAST AFRICA MISSION.

Kisulutini, 1844; Frere Town, 1875.

THROUGH the good hand of God, the Society's work in East Africa has been held fast, and is advancing. Upwards of 600 Natives are under regular Christian instruction, of whom 64 are Communicants. These belong to the four classes of—(1) Bombays, African Christians brought from Western India; (2) Liberated slaves, brought in from English cruisers; (3) Wanika converts; and (4) Runaway slaves, from distant villages of the neighbouring countries.

In September, 1878, this Mission had the great advantage of a visit from the Bishop of Mauritius. Bishop Royston reached Zanzibar on the 29th August, where he was most cordially received, not only by the Consul-General, Dr. Kirk, but also by the Sultan. On Friday, the 6th September, the Bishop and Mrs. Royston reached Mombasa, being conveyed thither in H.M.S. the Fawn, through the kindness of the commanding officer Captain Wharton. (The Bishop acknowledges similar obligations to Admiral Corbett and Captain Sullivan.) The Bishop writes:—

> And now we were at Mombasa, the place whose noble missionaries, Krapf and Rebmann, made me long, when I first offered myself to the Society, to be allowed to join them in their work. You will often have heard of the great beauty of the scenery—the beautiful creek, affording a splendid harbour inside the island which you pass to the left; and the sloping and now well-occupied land of FRERE TOWN facing you. A ferry-boat carries a constant succession of Wanikas and other mainland dwellers to the market of this fortified old town (Mombasa), who, with their bows and arrows and burdens of produce, are ever passing through the Christian settlement, seeing, one trusts, and hearing too, much which will at least conciliate them for future intercourse.

Our arrival at Frere Town being wholly unexpected, Mr. Streeter, the able and very effective Lay Superintendent of the Mission, was absent at Kisulitini; but we met him in the course of the evening returning in the Mission cabin-boat Alice down the strongly-running creek. We proceeded to the school—a large, long, masonry building, thatched with cocoa-nut leaves. The children, about eighty-five in number—mostly released slaves—began to sing some English songs and hymns with greater accuracy, harmony, and expression, not to say melodiousness, than I think I have ever heard in any Mission school. This is owing to Mr. Handford's careful use of the Tonic Sol-fa system, and the richness of the African voice.—There was no missionary clergyman either at Frere Town or Kisulitini; Mr. Menzies, my old pupil, whom I had hoped to meet, not having arrived, and Mr. Binns having gone home for priest's orders. [Mr. Menzies left England for Mombasa in April, 1879; Mr. Binns reached Frere Town only a few days after Bishop Royston left it.]

Bishop Royston's testimony to the work in East Africa.

The next day (Saturday), was spent as follows:—First, early prayers in Suaheli at 6.30 in the school-room, attended by the children, the members of the Mission, and several of the "Bombay" Africans. This was conducted by the catechist, George David, in a very nice and apparently interesting way; the singing and responses leaving little to be desired by the outward ear. After being introduced to the various Native agents of the large and varied establishments, I went round the shamba with Mr. Streeter, visiting the separate villages of the Makuas, Nyapus, Yaos, and "Bombays," the workshops, stores, &c., and was much pleased with the general good order which prevailed, and with Mr. Streeter's pleasant greetings at the hands of the people. At noon we went to call on the Wali, the governor of Mombasa.

Sunday was a busy day. At eight was the Suahēli service for the ex-slaves; conducted, as to repetition of texts, &c., much as a Tinnevelly service for inquirers at a village station. About 180 were present. I afterwards addressed them from John viii., "If therefore the Son shall make ye free, ye shall be free indeed," George David acting as interpreter. Then, again, the Sunday-school at 9.30, taken with loving zeal by Mr. Streeter, at whose request I addressed the children and teachers. At 11 was a service wholly in English, which I took, preaching from Rom. xii. 1; and afterwards administered the Holy Communion to thirty-three persons, mostly "Bombay" Christians and the Mission agents. Outward conduct was all that could be desired; and, throughout, the attention was well sustained. From all I hear I think that there is more life among the poor people who come from Bombay than was at first manifested. After an early dinner there was a second Sunday-school for the children, and at four a Suaheli service by the catechist.

Monday was spent in many interesting employments. In the morning I had a class of English-speaking men to prepare for confirmation—an engagement which I found very pleasant on several subsequent mornings. Mrs. Royston took some young women and boys; the catechists took the rest. At ten was the Wali's return visit of ceremony, followed by that of several other elders, &c., from Mombasa. Then the examination of the various classes of Mr. Handford's school—all most encouraging. The rest of the day was spent with the agents of the Mission, who on Monday evening meet for conference and prayer. The general feeling was one of quiet hopefulness, amid many difficulties and disappointments.

Tuesday brought the early Suaheli service at 6.30, and the classes for confirmation. About noon Mr. Streeter and I started for Kisulitini (Rabai), ascending the beautiful winding creek in the cabin-boat for about ten miles. On disembarking we walked, or rode on donkeys, through very pleasant scenery, now traversed by a good road made by Mr. Price, from the creek to Rabai. The country at first reminded me of Devonshire; afterwards, when we got to the range of hills, it had more of the appearance of Coonoor. The climate was very enjoyable; indeed, it seemed all that could be desired at Frere Town also at this season, owing to the delicious and almost always permanent sea breeze. —We passed a small mission shamba at a little place called Rynî with a lovely prospect. A few "Bombays" and others live here with a catechist, but he was unfortunately out.

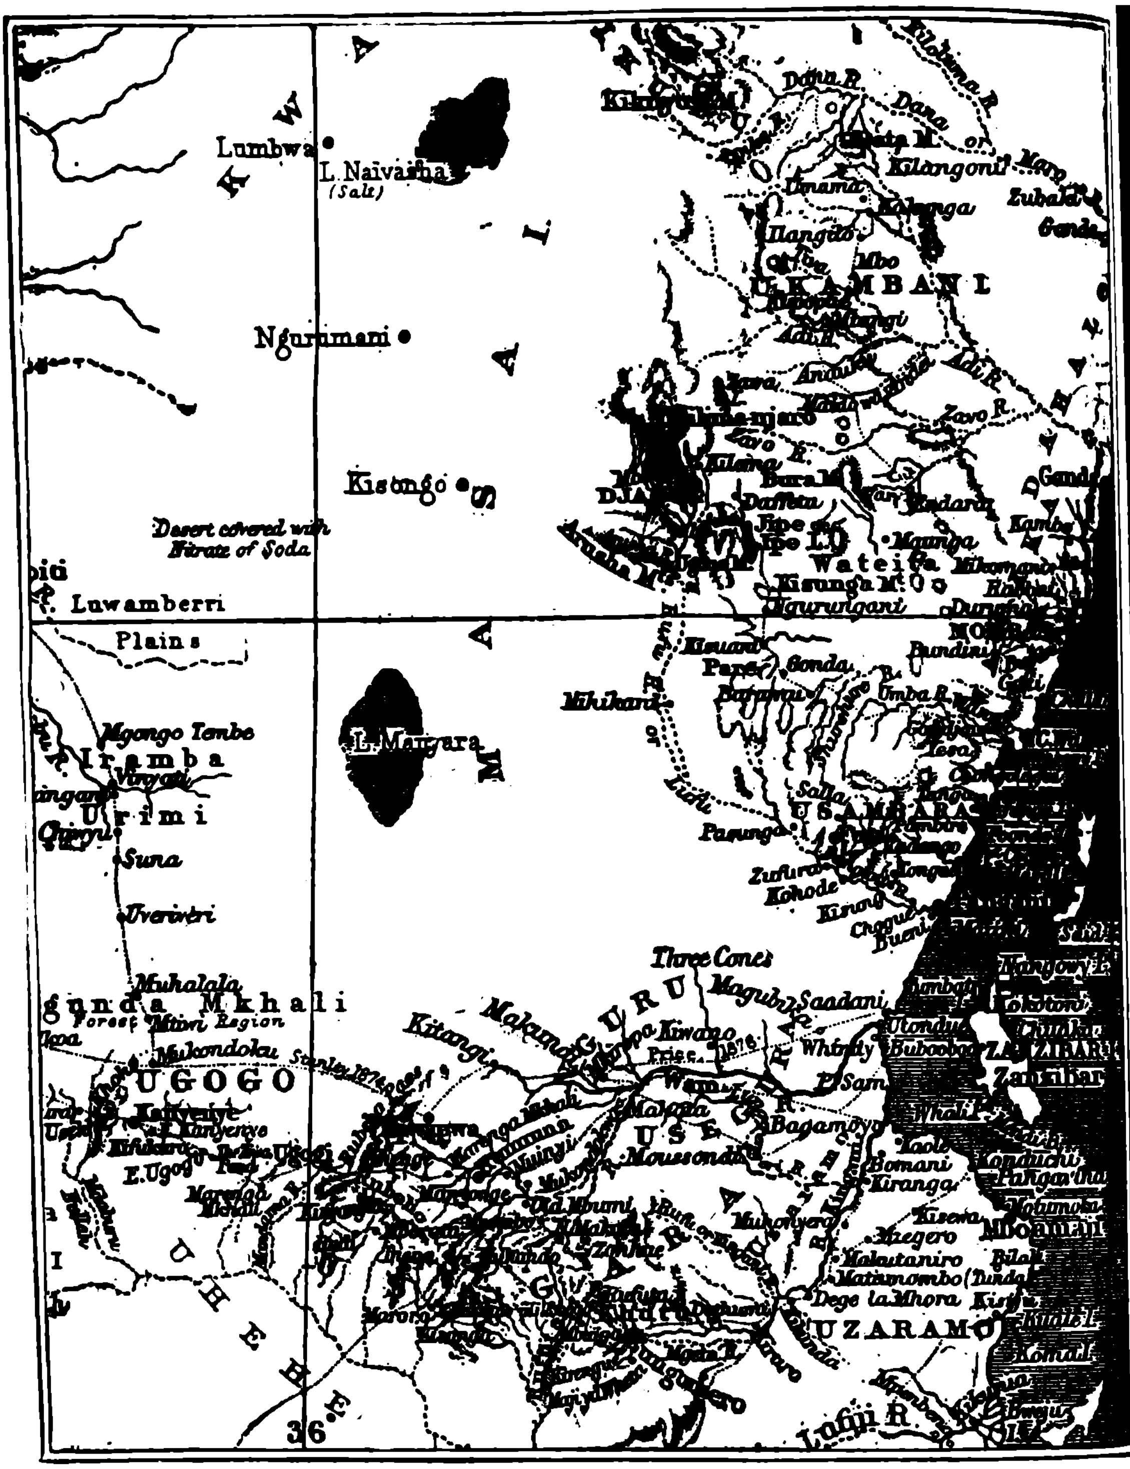

Reception of the Bishop of Mauritus at Kisulitini.

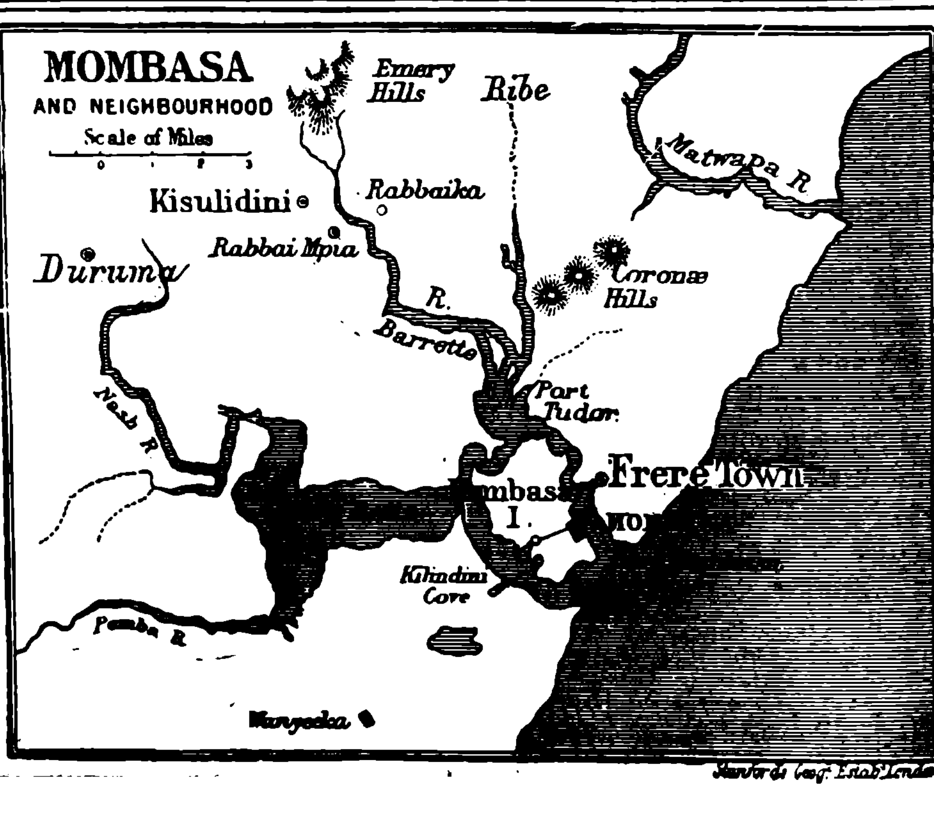

Ere long the KISULITINI (Rabai) mission buildings appeared, beautifully "set upon a hill," and in due time we arrived. At the entrance to the village the catechist, William Jones, came out to escort us with the children of the school, some eighteen in number, who sang a hymn in Suahêli to the tune of "Onward, Christian soldiers," &c., very prettily. On entering we found the village "square" lined on one side by the men, headed by the aged convert, Abraham Abe Gunja, and on the other by the women. All saluted us very heartily. After a few words to one and another, we went into the neat little chapel, forming one side of the square of building of which Mr. Rebmann's house formed the opposite. It was a very interesting scene—the chapel full of "Bombays," freed slaves, and Wanikas; the service, a few prayers in Suaheli, and an address translated for me by the catechist, with hymns, &c., very heartily sung; and all the associations of the place above the average of even mission interest. After arranging for next morning's service, and explaining why I had come, I walked with

Mr. Streeter round the village, which is most nicely and conveniently laid out, till "the road which leads to the Lake" ended, and we returned to the mission-house under the beautiful moon. I was much reminded of similar work in Mundakayam and Melkavu in Travancore, to which I was introduced by your zealous missionary, Henry Baker, now many years ago. Thus, wherever the story of the cross is truly told, Europe, Asia, or Africa, does the living Saviour gather the people to Him. May it please Him in due time to open up a path to every tribe of this dark continent for the entrance of His life-giving Word! And surely, but for "the cattle-lifting Masai" who at present intervene, "the way to the Lake" lies —rather will lie ere long—from Mombasa direct through to Uganda.

Next morning, Wednesday, the large musical bell, swung in a mango-tree, summoned us all to early prayers. The room once more was full, and I addressed the people, through the catechist, on the nature of the confirmation service, for which I invited those who were qualified to come to Frere Town on Friday. The baptism of the first Wanika woman at Rabai, with her three children, followed, and added not a little to the importance of the occasion. Soon after we presently found out that three more Wanika women, with the adult son of one of them, the wife of the chief "Medicine man" of the tribe, were most earnest in their desire to be baptized. We accordingly adjourned to the catechist's neat house, and found these people—one of them having her children around her in a very interesting group, and all deeply solemnized in manner. Indeed, I never remember seeing a group of Natives so manifestly touched by the Spirit of God, or a little assembly in which the presence of the Saviour seemed more deeply felt. When closely questioned through the catechist, they all, in individual but common sentiments, and with most evident sincerity, confessed their deep conviction of sin, their earnest trust in the Saviour, of whom they had now long heard, and of whose work and words they had been well instructed, and of whose holy faith they now earnestly desired to make a public profession. The fear was lest, as their husbands, though often at the services, are not yet prepared to take up the cross, the poor women might have to follow them ere long into the midst of heathendom, far from all the means of grace. But, even so, they promised to continue faithful unto death; and presently, two of the husbands came in expressing their full concurrence in the wish of the women to be with their children baptized, and promising to remain near, if not in the midst of the Christians. And from what passed I quite hope to hear that ere long both those men will have publicly professed the faith of Christ. The subsequent solemn service, at which the four adults and ten children were baptized in the midst of a nice congregation of some fifty or sixty people, was a season of more than usual impressiveness to us all.—Before it began I publicly received back two poor women into the congregation who had, under peculiar circumstances, gone astray, and desired to make open acknowledgment of their error. They seemed truly penitent. —In the afternoon we returned to Frere Town, which we reached a little after 8 p.m.

Thursday was occupied, at Frere Town, with the confirmation classes, and with conference both with the catechist, as to his own reading and work, and with individual members of the congregation, especially the candidates. I was much pleased with the catechist's practical management of a very peculiar charge, without immediate clerical supervision, and trust that he will qualify himself, by systematic study, for admission to the Native Pastorate ere long. The absence of any ordained missionary, and my wish that he should study a little more first, alone prevented me from acceding to the expressed wish that Catechist George David should be ordained deacon, without additional pay from the Mission.

Bishop Royston's testimony to the work in East Africa.

In the course of the day some of the interesting Giriama converts came down to take part in the confirmation service. I was much pleased with them, but would earnestly recommend that a catechist be sent to live among them. They showed a marked independence of Christian character, and seemed steadfast in meeting for prayer and worship.

Friday, the next day, and the last of my pleasant stay on the coast, was fully occupied with very varied engagements. There was the usual Suahêli service at 6.30, followed at 10 by the crowded assembly for the Confirmation. Much care had been taken to see that only those whose character and attainments seemed suitable should be accepted, so that this first occasion might be not undesirable as a standard for the future. There were, naturally, some who were already communicants. The great bell—hourly struck, near the landing-place and office, night and day, by one of the settlement watchmen—loudly summoned us to the school-chapel, which was soon filled with not far short of 400 worshippers, including Messrs. Wakefield and Seden, of the Wesleyan Mission at Ribé. The service began with the reception of an excommunicate member, as at Rabai; then a hymn; the baptismal service, when four were baptized; then the confirmation service, with an address by myself to the various classes present, translated by Catechist George David. Then the female candidates, from Frere Town twelve, from Rabai thirteen, and Giriama one, were confirmed, followed by the males, fourteen, eleven, and three, from those stations respectively—in all fifty-four. The last of those who were confirmed were old Abraham Abe Gunja, of Rabai, and his worthy son Isaac, who knelt side by side to receive the imposition of hands, amid the united prayers of pastor and people for their "continuance as Christ's for ever, and daily growth in His Holy Spirit until they come to His eternal kingdom." After another hymn, the Communion Service was begun, and, after a short address to the communicants, the rest of the congregation retired at the end of the prayer for the militant Church of Christ. Some sixty remained for the administration, including most of the Rabai and Giriama people. The whole service was most devoutly attended to, and the responses and hymns very hearty and melodious.

A pleasant meeting of the agents in our quarters, at which our friends from Ribé were also present, and joined us in prayer and conference, brought this happy day to its conclusion, and at four o'clock next morning we were on board the Highland Lassie, to proceed to Zanzibar on our way homeward.

FRERE TOWN.

The united statistics of FRERE TOWN, Godoma, in the Giriama country, and Buni, register 428 Native Adherents and 45 Communicants. Mr. J. R. Streeter, the Lay Superintendent at Frere Town, writes as follows, under date December 28, 1878:—

In reviewing the work of the year there can be no doubt that, in spite of many difficulties, progress has been made.

Signs of the work of the HOLY SPIRIT among the freed slaves at Mombasa.

Amongst the freed slaves, twelve months ago, there seemed a great indifference to anything that was good; and their self-denying pastor, the Rev. J. A. Lamb, and George David spoke to almost empty benches. Now nearly all are present at their Sunday morning service, and listen very attentively both to George and myself; and our Heavenly Father graciously allows us to see some signs of coming fruit. There are seven or eight who have learnt a little of God's Word, and wish to be baptized, and who by their blameless lives show their wish to be sincere. One in particular I may mention, now living at Buni. He is a good fellow—one of the first workmen I had given me last year—and when I went over to see him, his face beamed with delight as he told me he loved God, and wished to serve Him better, and as he showed me the neat little house he has just put up, his newly-born babe and his good wife, who wishes to be baptized also. Then, in the afternoon, they attend well the little room I had built for them close to their own homes; they used not to come to afternoon class at all scarcely, even after I got them to attend the morning, and one had to go gently. When the room proved too small, I asked who would volunteer to help to enlarge it. Over forty came forward; and the result is that they have now a nice large hut 32 × 17 feet, which they call their own. This I believe is the first work for the Mission they have done freely.

With regard to the "Bombays," I feel that I cannnot say much. One month they seem to do the right, and the meetings are fairly attended; another month it is the reverse. This does not include the heads, of whom I cannot speak too highly; and there are some of the others who are ornaments to their Christian profession. Their Institute, opened three months back, is doing its work fairly, and I hope will show those who have gone astray a better way of spending their evenings. The temptations for these poor people here are very great. All round the place are toddy-shops; and there are other temptations in abundance.

With regard to the place progressing temporarily, it will scarcely do to look to the "revenue returns." Still in some respects the town is thriving. It would be no small thing for a village in England to have twelve new houses added to it; here that number of freed slaves have come out from the mission-rooms, and built good houses for themselves in plots of ground allotted to each. Others are beginning to build, and some have remodelled their old ones. Altogether the place looks different. They take a pride in their new homes; and as one takes a walk round, which I do every day after work is over, it seems to me a pretty picture to see the "once a slave" sitting by his own cot, mending the dear wife's gown, or fondling the "little black diamond," while she is busy with the evening meal. There are some happy homes here, and although I have often heard it said of the Africans, they have no real love for their children or one another, I don't believe it; for the way some mothers care for their little ones, now they live in hopes of seeing them grow up with them, is surprising; and I have seen, more than once, when the husbands have been going on journeys, some one on the shore taking what sometimes proves, alas! "the last fond look."

Family affection among African Natives.

We have also, I am glad to say, been enabled to enlarge our borders. In the spring we were on an enclosed piece of some eighty acres of bad ground; but now, we have secured twenty acres of better ground, and have thus gained clear right of way, through our own shambas, right out to the wastes where our men spend half their week, and a few of them all their time, in cultivating for themselves. I have taken possession of a large piece out there in the name of the C.M.S., for future development. By this time next year I hope to see the place well established, and the people less dependent on the Mission.

Mr. J. W. Handford, who has charge of the Schools, reports as follows, under date 31st December, 1878:—

The sum total of the daily morning attendance is 108. I have just concluded my Christmas examination. The subject in which the whole school was most backward last year was reading, but this year it is the most successful subject. This is mainly owing to the excellent reading-books which I received at the commencement of the present year. As last year, all the children attend school from 8.30 to 12 a.m. In the afternoon, the girls attend the sewing-class, and the elder boys are employed by Mr.

Streeter, principally in agricultural pursuits. During the year several boys have been removed from the school to permanent work. In accordance with the wish of the Committee, it is my purpose to make Suahêli the chief element in the secular department. If the children have made such progress in a foreign language, their advance in their own, with their present knowledge, will, with God's blessing, be very speedy. The earnest attention of the children during the daily Scripture-lesson, their ready answers, their love for the Bible, and their devoutness in prayer, plainly bespeak, I think, a sowing of the good seed in their hearts.

An African Native Christian village.

A visit of five weeks has recently been paid to the Giriama Christians by Mr. Handford from Frere Town. He found that some of them, nineteen in all, had moved with their leader, Abe Sidi, to a spot in the forest called Fulladoyo, by the side of a small deep-flowing river. There they were clearing the forest and building their shambas; after which they intended erecting a place for the worship of God. Meanwhile Abe Sidi has cleared a circular spot in the wood, kept sacred by being closed round, just outside the village, and there they assemble twice every Sunday for worship. In reference to a teacher being sent to them, Abe Sidi remarked, that whether a teacher was sent or not, it would be all the same; he was thankful that he knew sufficient to take him to heaven, and whatever more was necessary he felt that the Holy Spirit would teach him;—he would do all he could to win souls to the Saviour. Mr. Handford adds, "I cannot express the admiration I have for this man; his very manner and bearing draws you to him, and I felt as though I could sit at his feet and be taught."

KISULUTINI.

The Rev. H. K. Binns gives the following account of the present state of things at this station:—

The Mission originally was to the Wanika alone of the Rabai district, and then the village was small, and the inquirers few; but when Mr. Price came, and brought with him the Nasik boys from Bombay, with their wives and families, the aspect of the place was entirely changed. The village was of course increased in size, and the congregation considerably swelled; but the increase due to the accessions from heathenism was at that time comparatively small.

What has been the progress made since that time?—The Bombay boys have been variously employed, it being impressed on all that they must eventually support themselves entirely. Some have caused us no little trouble and anxiety, others have been very well behaved and consistent, but those among them who are anxious to spread the glad tidings are few indeed.—The few Wanika who have joined us are very different. With one or two exceptions, they are missionaries to their own people.—But there is a third class of inhabitants which has lately been formed, and which is rapidly increasing. When I went home in the summer of 1877, I left a comparatively small village, formed of one square, containing from twenty to thirty houses. On my return I find a long street, extending away to the north-west, another to the north-east, another to the south. All the houses have been built entirely by the Natives themselves, and their inmates are runaway slaves from the Giriama country. At the present rate of increase, this population will soon be very large. The in-coming slaves average about one a day, and belong to various tribes. They appear anxious to learn, and attend church and classes regularly; and, though in Christianity they are hardly yet born, some of them promise very well.

The Statistical Returns of Kisulutini are:—180 Native Christians; 19 Communicants; 13 Adult Baptisms.

As regards the Missionary influence that the settlements of Frere Town and Kisulutini are exerting on the neighbouring tribes, one of the Native Catechists, Mr. George David, writes as follows:—

Influence exercised by the Mombasa settlements on the neighbouring tribes.

God has put in the hearts of the people in this part of Africa, the belief of a nation, a white race, whose wish is to love the Africans. That nation is known and highly praised for its equity in judgment. It makes no difference in persons; whether white or black, whose right it is, he must have it. It is called Ingereza (English). Persons often seek aid of that nation; and then the seed of the Gospel is planted in them. Also the fame of the skilfulness of the doctors of that nation is great among the Africans. Thus when a doctor is heard of as having settled in a Mission to do good to body and soul, the word body is so sweet to them that it thrills their hearts with joy, and makes them crawl from village to village till they reach their benefactor. The word soul is to them nothing but darkness. But when they come to their journey's end, both remedies are given to them, and sometimes both are gladly received.

The post of Medical Missionary has been vacant throughout the year.

Invitation to Missionaries from a heathen king.

A letter has been received at Frere Town from Mandara, king of Chagga, the country in which the snow-clad mountain Kilimandjaro is situated. Mandara offers to place himself and all his people, young and old, under the instruction of the Missionaries. Too much reliance must not be placed upon this communication; but Chagga will doubtless ere long be one of the places visited by the European or Native Evangelist.

The Native Christian community, though not large, has now arrived at such a stage of advancement as to need more constant Episcopal aid and oversight. The Committee are taking steps to procure the appointment of a Bishop, who may not only supply this want, but may exercise such Episcopal functions as may be needed for the Missions of the Society accessible from the East Coast.

Early in the present year the Sultan of Zanzibar paid a visit to Mombasa, remaining there a week. Mr. Streeter considers that the good effects of his visit will be great. "He was very severe on those who were in any way concerned in the slave-trade, and gave strict orders to put a stop to the kidnapping business that had been openly carried on there."*

NYANZA MISSION.

Mpwapwa, 1876; Rubâga, 1877.

THE work of the year in this Mission has been more that of preparation for the future than of actual evangelistic effort.

The stations at present occupied are MPWAPWA, about 200 miles inland from the coast, opposite Zanzibar; and RUBÂGA, the capital of King Mtesa in Uganda.

At MPWAPWA there were, in May, 1878, four Missionaries—Dr. Baxter (the Medical Missionary), Mr. Last, Mr. Copplestone, and Mr. Henry. Mr. Copplestone subsequently left for Uganda, in company with Mr. Stokes. On the 19th of August, Mr. Henry was compelled by failure of health to return to England. Two students from the Society's College at Islington have been designated to this station.

Dr. Baxter and Mr. Last are now comfortably established in temporary buildings, while the latter is busily engaged in erecting more permanent ones. They have flocks and fowls, and twenty-five acres under cultivation, from which they have already begun to enjoy the fruits. They speak favourably of the natives with whom they have come in contact. Six Ugogo lads come to Dr. Baxter for instruction every morning at sunrise, and again in the middle of the day.

Mr. Last writes:—

Commencement of Mission work at Mpwapwa.

I have no doubt that, when we are all fairly settled and got a good school-room built, we shall have a good number of scholars. There will be difficulties as to where the children are to live (those who come from distant districts), but I feel sure that these will be overcome. I have begun a school for the boys who left Mombasa to come here with me. They are ten in number. I also conduct service in my hut every Sunday in Suahêli, and, after the address, give a short address prepared in the week-time. There is quite a nice little congregation of our people from Mombasa—about twenty-six when all are present. Twice a week, in the evening, the boys, and any men who please, come to my hut, and we spend an hour in singing, ready for Sunday. This is enjoyed by all.

Prospects of evangelization in the neighbourhood of Mpwapwa.

There is here a great and open door among the people around us. I can speak more especially of the six districts of Tubugwe, Mlali, Lubehu, Kitangi, Mamboia and Magubika-Kaguru. These places are sultanships rather than towns, across each of which it takes a day or more to pass. In each sultanship there are a great number of tembes, and each could produce several hundreds of armed men in an emergency. I have passed through the first five of these places three different times, and, always sleeping in a Native's house in the tembe, if possible, have become very well acquainted with them. The [tribal appellative] is Kaguru, but the name of the country is Geja. The country is probably about eighty miles wide, and the same in length. I have always found the Kaguru people very kind. A house was always put at my disposal; my men were provided with places to cook and sleep, even when between sixty and seventy. The women always brought me Indian corn-flour. At Tubugwe in particular much kindness has been shown to me.

The following extract from one of Dr. Baxter's letters, seems to show the spirit in which the Mission is conducted :—

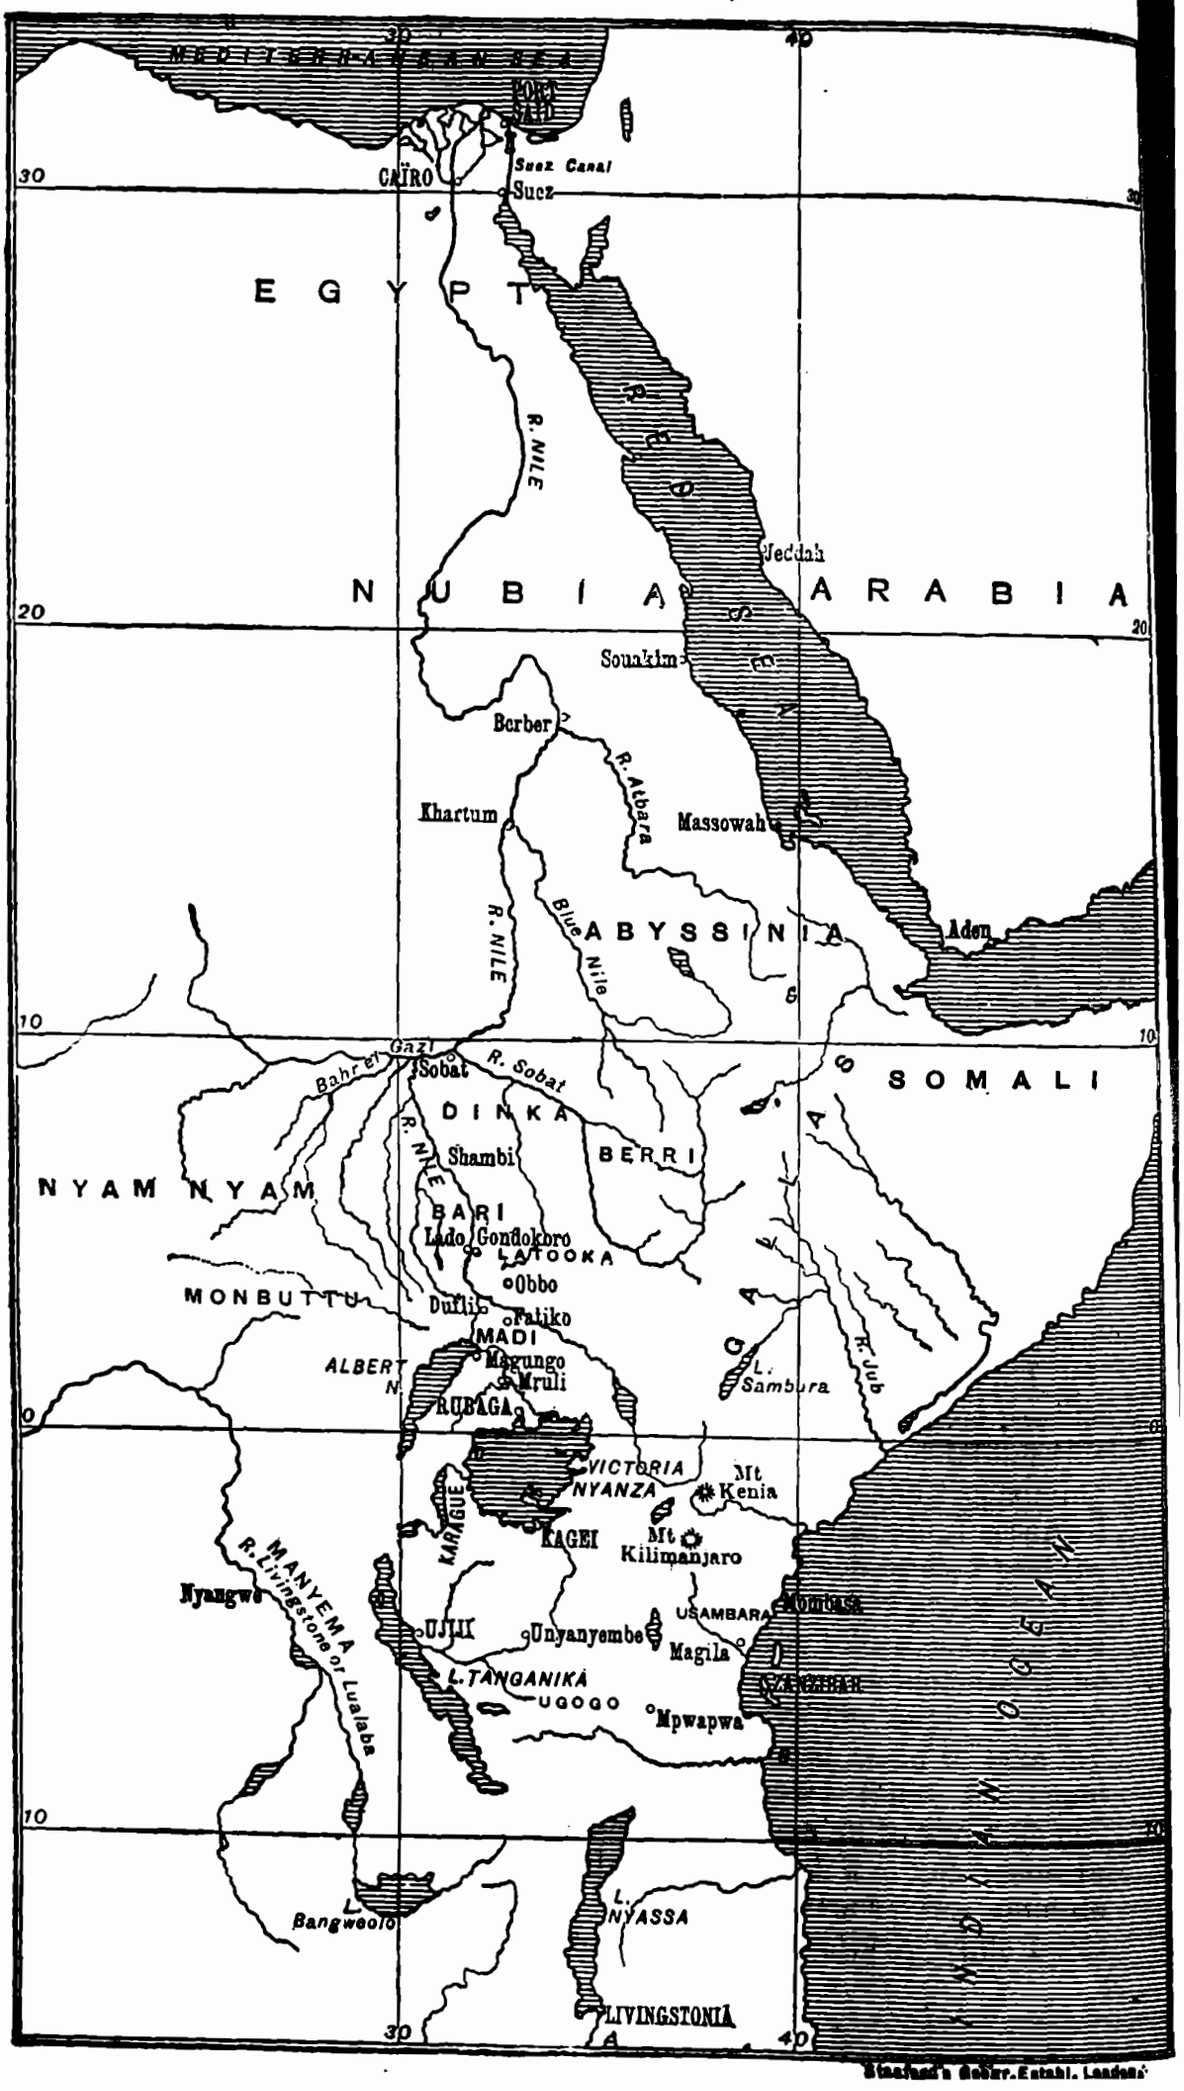

Missionary work in the neighbourhood of Mpwapwa.

We stopped at Kidudwe on Saturday, March 23rd. The headman gave me a goat, or rather promised one. On Sunday, of course, we rested there, and I took the opportunity of collecting about one dozen Natives in the evening to hear the glad tidings. After some persuasion they came and sat under a tree in front of my tent-door. I then spoke to them, through my interpreter Ali, of the creation, the distinction between a man and a beast, the fall, the remedy in Christ; His life, death, and resurrection; the home in glory, the judgment; and then of God's preserving care over His people, as illustrated by Daniel, &c., &c. They listened very attentively for about two hours or more, and I then suggested that they had heard enough for to-night. They said it would do, if I told them more next time I came, to which I agreed. All then left except two. These two asked me to remain and live there and teach them. I told them I could not do that, but that I expected to pass by there occasionally, and would then tell them more.

A Missionary who would not defend himself.

Next day the chief stated that all the people wanted cloth, and that unless I gave each a piece they would fight me. I asked him why he wished to fight, when he had before said he wanted to be friends, and had given me a goat as a token of this. He said it was the people of the next village who wanted to fight. I then found its chief. He said both he and his people wanted cloth, and unless I gave it them they would fight. I took my guns and revolver and showed them to him, and then again told him I wanted to be friends, but would not give him the cloth he demanded. I said if he fought it was his own fault, and, telling my men to proceed with their loads, gave my revolver to my headman, and gave the chief who had given me the goat the cloth I had promised him. I was then told that I could cross the bridge, which I did. I soon felt thoroughly ashamed of myself for making this warlike display. I felt I had lost a glorious opportunity of telling this chief and the people with him Whose servant I was, and proclaiming the Gospel to him. Having taken the goods to Mkindu, I returned with thirteen men to this chief's village. On reaching it, I told the chief the object of my coming to these parts, and then proclaimed to him and a few others who were near the truths told to some of the people the previous Sunday, and added that on the morrow, if he or his people demanded cloth, I would not give him any. I would not fight, even if they fought. If God allowed them to take my cloth, or to kill me, I was content. I trusted Him; He could preserve me if He wished. Though they were all to shoot at me, not a bullet could hit without His consent. I was not afraid to die when He chose to call me. I was His servant; He could do with me as He pleased. The chief listened attentively while I was speaking, stopping me sometimes if I said something he did not understand, and constantly assenting with the word "Queli! queli!" ("Truly! truly!") Next morning both the chief and people were very friendly, and did not ask for cloth, though a portion of my goods had been left in their village nearly a week. They greeted me with "Yambo" ("Good morning"), and allowed us to take all the things away without asking for a thing.

As regards Missionary work at RUBÂGA, Mr. Wilson's opportunities are still somewhat circumscribed. Whether from the opposition of the chiefs by whom Mtesa is surrounded or from other causes, no public and general preaching of the gospel seems possible at present. Mr. Wilson has been able to give away, to persons who can understand them, copies of the Arabic Bible and of the Mizan-al-haqq. The relations between Mr. Wilson and the Uganda Monarch are amicable; and on one occasion Mr. Wilson was able to dissuade him from a military expedition which would probably have involved a war with Egypt.

On hearing of the death of Lieut. Smith and Mr. O'Neill, Mtesa, who at first did not believe the report, sent messengers to Kagêi to ascertain the truth. Mr. Wilson accompanied them, reaching Kagêi on the 12th January, 1878. After learning what he could of the particulars of the sad catastrophe, Mr. Wilson set off for Unyanyembe to obtain a fresh supply of beads. Having satisfactorily accomplished his purpose at Uyui, without actually proceeding to Unyanyembe itself, the Missionary returned to Uganda, which he reached, viâ Kagêi, in the end of March, 1878. Uyui is the residence of Said Bin Salim, the Sultan of Zanzibar's late Governor at Unyanyembe, who has uniformly shown himself friendly to the Society's Missionaries. By the end of August Mr. Wilson was once more at Kagêi, where he met Mr. Mackay.

Mr. Mackay, it will be remembered, was one of the original party sent out for the Nyanza Mission in 1876, being in the caravan that left Mpwapwa on the 21st October of that year under the leadership of Lieut. Smith. At that time he was compelled by failure of health to return to Zanzibar, where, however, he diligently exerted himself in preparing to lead another caravan to Lake Victoria. A variety of causes detained him in the districts between Mpwapwa and Zanzibar, until March, 1878, when, on receiving urgent letters from Mr. Wilson, he at once pushed forward for the Lake, taking only a small party with him. Uyui was reached, after a very rapid and difficult journey, on the 30th of April, two months after Mr. Wilson had left it. Mr. Mackay was kindly received by the Arabs both at Uyui and Unyanyembe. Shortly after—the exact date is not given—Mr. Mackay set out for Kagêi, which was reached early in July. The resolution, already formed, was without delay carried out, to visit Lukongeh, the chief of the Island of Ukĕrĕwê, where Smith and O'Neill had been murdered. Mr. Mackay went without retinue, and unarmed. He was received with every profession of friendship; and during the whole of his stay on the island this amicable tone was maintained, notwithstanding that the missionary energetically remonstrated with Lukongeh, and demanded that as a proof of friendship the guns and other property of Smith and O'Neill should be restored. This demand has not yet been complied with; but Mr. Mackay returned safely to Kagêi on the evening of the third day after leaving it. Kaduma, the chief of Kagêi has been uniformly friendly; as a proof of which may be mentioned that the equipment of Lieut. Smith's expedition, which had been in Kaduwa's care ever since the massacre, was found perfectly intact. Engines, boiler, tools, implements of all kinds, garden seeds, tins of bacon, &c., &c.—almost everything was complete, even to its smallest belonging.

On the 9th of August the two missionaries, Wilson and Mackay, had the pleasure of seeing each other, Mr. Wilson arriving from Uganda, as above stated, after a two months' journey on the Lake. The two were hoping to start for Rubâga two days after, in the "Daisy," which Mr. Mackay had succeeded in repairing and refitting.

Rumanîka, the humane chief of Karagué, so highly spoken of by Colonel Grant, has died. Mtesa, who claims feudatory superiority over the country, has sent an army to place one of Rumanîka's sons on the throne.

Messrs. Stokes and Copplestone, as has been before mentioned, left Mpwapwa for Uganda on the 19th of August, 1878. On the 6th October, they reached Uyui, which they left for Kagêi at the close of the year.

The Committee deeply lament to add that Mr. Penrose, a zealous industrial agent, who was following them at the head of a smaller caravan, fell in with robbers, by whom he was murdered.

On May 8th, 1878, Messrs. Pearson, Litchfield, Felkin, and Hall left England for Egypt to make their way to Uganda, by the Nile. Mr. Pearson, who had previously been an officer in the mercantile navy, was appointed leader of the party. Mr. Litchfield was its clerical member, having been admitted to deacon's and priest's orders on May 1st and 5th, respectively, by Bishops Perry and Ryan, who had received commission to do so from the Archbishop of Canterbury. Mr. Felkin is a medical missionary. The route adopted was viâ Suakim, on the western coast of the Red Sea, from which Berber on the Nile can be reached with comparative facility. Suakim was reached on the 9th of June. Here Mr. Hall was struck down by heat apoplexy and compelled to return to England. Berber was reached early in July; Khartoum, higher up the Nile, about half way, in distance, between Alexandria and Lake Victoria, on the 9th of August. At Khartoum the missionaries first met Colonel Gordon (Governor of the Sûdan, under the Khedive), who showed them much kindness. Lâdo, also on the Nile, opposite Gondokoro, distant in a straight line about 300 miles from the Lake, and more than 1700 from Alexandria, was reached on the 20th of October. After three weeks' stay there, the advance was again resumed, and a place called Regief was reached on the 7th of November. Regief is but a short distance from Gondokoro. The voyage in various places has been much retarded, through the blocking up of the Nile by floating masses of reeds and papyrus.*

MEDITERRANEAN MISSION.

Jerusalem, 1851; Nazareth, 1852; Salt, 1873; Nablûs, 1876; Jaffa, 1876; Gaza, 1878.

The Society's Mediterranean Mission is now confined to Palestine, including, of course, the districts beyond the Jordan. The Palestine Mission staff has been much strengthened of late years, partly by the introduction of new labourers into the country, and partly by the connexion with the Society of much of the work formerly carried on as a distinct effort by Bishop Gobat. In the year 1874

* For further accounts of the Nyanza Mission, see "C.M. Intelligencer," July to November, 1878, and February, March, and May, 1879, also "C.M. Gleaner," July, 1878, and February to June, 1879.

there were employed by the Society in the Palestine Mission two Missionaries in holy orders, one Lay Missionary, and two Native Clergymen. At present there are nine Clerical Missionaries, one Lay Missionary, and three Native Clergymen. Another Native Clergyman is about to be added.

The Mohammedans are still the main object of the Society's efforts; and there is abundant evidence that they can be reached, by judicious perseverance, through the instrumentality of schools and private conversation.

General.

Recent public events will, it is hoped, prove helpful to Missionary work; and this hope is warmly participated in by American Missionaries in Syria and other parts of Western Asia. The Rev. J. Huber writes:—

Another important fact which took place during the past year, i. e. the taking possession of the Isle of Cyprus by the English, will have a good influence on this country; and every one feels himself nearer to civilization and the justice of a good government. Whilst in former years the French language was considered the most useful on this coast, the English language will now be most eagerly learned and valued. Several young men from Beyrût, who have learnt English in the schools of the American missionaries, went to Cyprus and found good employment.

On another subject, the Rev. T. F. Wolters, the Secretary of the Mission, writes as follows:—

Attend our services on Sundays, and our Bible-classes and prayer-meetings on weekdays, you will see hardly any women. Jerusalem is the only exception. Even in Nazareth, scarcely a dozen attend on Sundays. Can you wonder at this? What are we doing for the women? Have we any Bible-women at work? Have we schools sufficient to meet the demand? Look at our schools. We have one (girls) day-school in Jerusalem, another in Nablus, a third in Ramleh, and a fourth in Lydd. But they are all of a very elementary character. What I would recommend is this. Send us out, or get some of the ladies' Societies to send out, two or three ladies for Jerusalem, Nablûs, and Nazareth. By house-to-house visiting, Bible-classes, sewing-meetings, medical missions —by any one of these means, or by all, according to the requirements of each place, an influence would be brought to bear upon the homes of the natives which would support the influence of our day-schools. The day-schools, also, ought to be increased in number and made more efficient as possible where they exist, and, where not, we should, without delay, open them.

While these pages were passing through the press, the sad intelligence reached the Committee of the death of the well known and devoted Missionary, Bishop Gobat. More detailed references to the departed prelate's life and labours will be found in the Society's monthly publications.

Preparation of Native Agents.

A TRAINING INSTITUTION at Jerusalem—for Schoolmasters and Evangelists, from whom the ranks of the Native Clergy may be subsequently replenished—is now under the care of the Rev. J. Zeller. The students are at present nine in number. The adjoining Diocesan School furnishes the students with opportunities for practising themselves as teachers. Mr. Zeller speaks with thankfulness of their conduct and progress, and attributes much of this success to the piety and abilities of the Native Resident Master. Mr. Zeller adds :—

Besides instruction in the fundamental doctrines of the Bible, especially the mediatorial office of Christ, and the regeneration of the human heart through the work of the Holy Spirit, I give the pupils an outline of the doctrines of Islam, so that they may be able successfully to expose the errors of that religious system. Our students preach, in turn, at Beit Sahûr, our nearest out-station, and accompany me occasionally on my preaching tours to the more distant out-stations.

The training of female agents for the Palestine Mission is carried on at Beyrût in a college connected with the British Syrian School Society, which receives on that account a grant-in-aid from the C.M. Society.

JERUSALEM.

The Native Protestants connected with Jerusalem and its outposts, number 224. Of these 62 are Communicants. The Rev. M. Kawar is their pastor. No Native Church Council having yet been established for the Palestine Mission, Mr. Kawar is under the superintendence of the Rev. J. Zeller; and the Sunday morning services are taken alternately by Mr. Zeller and himself. One of the chief difficulties of the work at Jerusalem, as throughout Palestine, is the abject dependence, the utter want of self-help, that characterizes all denominations of Native Christians. This weakness of character is due partly to their political situation, but still more to the pauperizing influence of the Greek and Latin convents. A large proportion of the Greek, Latin, and Armenian Christians depend for subsistence on the alms which they receive from those institutions. To call forth a better spirit Mr. Zeller has established a Native Church Committee, which holds regular meetings, and considers, it is hoped in a prayerful spirit, "the best means of making the Native Church a light in the surrounding darkness."

In addition to his pastoral duties, Mr. Kawar finds opportunities, by means of the book-store, of conversing on spiritual subjects with Mohammedans, as well as with non-Protestant Native Christians.

The out-stations are under the care of Mr. G. Nyland, who resides at Ramallah. Mr. Nyland writes:—

Our Protestant congregation at Ramallah consists of at least forty families, and our school counts seventy children. It is a very hopeful sign that in the winter, every evening, between twenty and forty persons gather together in my room to read the Word of God In this evening Bible-class the people are very attentive; and I know that the Word has been blessed to some of them, for they speak about it in other villages, even among Moslems.

In our [smaller] out-stations, Birzeit and Tayibeh, where we have schools, congregations are forming. I visit these places during the week, and often stay there over-night in order to gather the men after their work for reading and prayer. Occasionally Mohammedans come to our meetings and are glad to listen. In Birzeit about twenty children attend school, and the congregation numbers thirteen families. In Tayibeh we have twenty-five children at school, and the congregation counts fifteen families. In each of these places the Latins have recently established a church and convent. These convents accustom the people to expect material support from every European settling among them.

I often visit the Mohammedan villages of the neighbourhood, and I always find a ready reception with many Moslems. In the village the fanaticism of the Mohammedans is decreasing, but the fear of persecution prevents them from freely expressing their sentiments on religious subjects.

JAFFA.

The work at this station is zealously carried on by the Rev. J. Longley Hall. The Native Christians connected with it number 110, the Communicants 45. There is no church (material edifice) at present; but a full service is conducted every Sunday morning in the school-room, and a prayer-meeting in the evening.—Services are also held at the out-station of Lydd, and are fairly attended, though there, as at Jaffa and Ramleh, Mr. Hall desires to see proofs of "a real genuine work of the Spirit." A burial-ground has at length been obtained for the Lydd Protestants, notwithstanding the united opposition of the Moslems, Greeks, and Latins.—At Ramleh the work has been thrown back by the misconduct of one of the Teachers, now dismissed.—In the three stations or outstations, JAFFA, Ramleh, and Lydd, 170 boys and 93 girls are under instruction. No Moslem children are attending at present.

Mr. Hall gives a deeply interesting and encouraging account of his last visit, in company with his Native catechist, to Abood, a large village in the neighbourhood of Jaffa. He had visited the place several times during the last eighteen months; and on the last occasion, in the beginning of 1879, he writes as follows:—

Deep interest in the Gospel shown by some Palestine villagers.

This visit was the most interesting and enjoyable which I have paid to the town. We soon had fifty or sixty men round us, and they at once began to ask us the most important questions—"Who said, Come unto Me, all ye that labour, &c., &c., and to whom was it spoken?" These questions afforded us subjects from which to preach the Gospel to them from 6.30 p.m. till midnight. They were all in rapt attention, eagerly listening and asking questions. My catechist and I felt, as we had seldom felt before, the presence of Christ; and I am quite sure that there will be rich results from this visit. The Spirit was undoubtedly creating within the hearts of the people a hungering and thirsting after spiritual knowledge. When we prayed, all knelt most devoutly; and not a sound was heard, and not a whisper was breathed by any one of them. In their own (Greek) churches, these people are accustomed during the services to talk and make as much noise as they please.

At the close of the visit they begged and entreated that a teacher should be sent to them. To give force to their words, they seized hold of my catechist and said they should detain him by force that he might always teach them. I told them this could not be allowed, but that I would write at once to the C.M.S. and ask them for permission to send an efficient Evangelist teacher to Abood immediately, and to open a school. I therefore write now, very earnestly, to ask that I may be permitted to do this. The whole expense will not be more than 60*l.* the first year.

It is with much pain that the Committee have been obliged to refuse this appeal for the present; but the state of the funds allows no alternative. They trust that Mr. Hall will be able to arrange that they be not left without at least an occasional visit from himself or the Native catechist.

GAZA.

The Rev. A. Schapira has recently been appointed to this ancient city, one of the oldest in the world, and still the second town in Palestine. The prospects of the work are hopeful.

NABLOÛS.

The Rev. C. Fallscheer is the Missionary in charge of this Station. The Adherents number 156, of whom 51 are Communicants. Mr. Fallscheer writes:—

GOD has given us hearers in our private conversations, in our Sunday services, and in our weekly meetings, in Nabloûs itself, and also in our three out-stations—hearers who prefer listening to us to partaking in dead ceremonies in their own churches. He has aroused in some a desire to read His holy Word, and to think about it.

Every week I hold a meeting for mothers. This is very hard work, as the women do not know how to read, nor do they understand the Arabic language of the Bible. Every time we meet, I must not only read the passage on which I intend to speak, but tell it to them again in my own words. Shorter texts I repeat to them until they have committed them to memory.

Our girls' school here is attended by about forty-one scholars, of whom more than half are Mohammedans. The first lesson is a Scripture lesson from the New Testament, then reading, writing, learning Scripture texts by heart, singing, arithmetic—half an hour each. We close with a Scripture lesson from the Old Testament. In the afternoon the girls are taught needlework The boys' school continues to prosper. The number of scholars is forty. Our school in Rafidieh is in a very good state, although during the summer it was only attended by twelve scholars, the children having to perform field-work.

The Sunday services at the out-stations are performed by the old priest Châlîl, and the two teachers, Girius and Jacob. When I am preaching in one of the out-stations, Girius takes my place at Nabloûs.

We also have a colporteur, who visits the dispersed Christians on the mountains of Nabloûs.

NAZARETH.

The Rev. J. Huber is the Society's Missionary at this station. The pastor of the Native flock is the Rev. Seraphim Boutaji; who, however, is under the superintendence of Mr. Huber, in consequence of there being no Native Church Council for the Palestine Mission. Mr. S. Boutaji was transferred to Nazareth from the out-station of Shefamer at the close of July, 1878. The Native Christian Adherents are estimated at 436, the Communicants at 50 the numbers for the preceding year having been, respectively, 420 and 40. Mr. Huber writes:—

With regard to the spiritual state of our congregations, I may say that there is some improvement, and especially among the younger members, many of whom attended our schools when they were boys, and got a certain knowledge of the Gospel truths, and promise to become better Protestants than those we have had hitherto. Some of our old members, instead of learning more of the things necessary for their salvation, busy themselves in striving to do away with all Church government. Mr. Seraphim Boutaji, however, is getting them round. Our Sunday services here are well attended. One Sunday I stay here, and have the two services in the morning and in the afternoon, and the next Sunday I go to the villages Medjedel and Yafa, and Mr. Boutaji remains here. Our Bible-classes on Tuesday and Friday evening are better attended since Mr. Boutaji came here. These meetings are very useful for people who are yet ignorant in the Word of God. Every person may ask questions about the portions or verses of Scripture which are read.

Our schools have been well attended during the whole year, the average number of children being rather more than 150. In spite of the great poverty, we collect a little money from the children in the towns, and by degrees they get accustomed to it. In the villages we have not yet succeeded to get any payment.

In our out-stations it happens sometimes that one or two Mohammedans remain during the service from beginning to the end. We have also a few Mohammedan boys in our schools.

SALT (RAMOTH GILEAD).

The Rev. T. F. Wolters writes:—

The work in Salt has maintained its ground during the past year. If there have been no accessions to our numbers, there has, on the other hand, been no decrease. In consequence of considerable aid in money granted by the Latin priest, the Roman Catholic community has increased greatly. So far our position appears to be worse than it was. But, in knowledge and intelligence and general influence, and, to some extent, in good conduct, our people are superior to those around them. The removal of the Rev. Chalil Jamal to Salt was deferred much longer than we had wished; but finally he went over in August. We have good hope that his presence there will prove beneficial.

During my late tour on the east of the Jordan I was much struck with the neglected condition of the Christians. They belong to the Greek Church, and are indeed sheep without a shepherd. Though standing under the Patriarch of Jerusalem, they are quite uncared for. On the whole of Jebel Ajlim (Mount Gilead), from the Wadi Zerka (Valley of the Jabbok) to the confines of the Hauran, there is but one priest, who finds it hard work to go from place to place, and attend to baptisms, marriages and funerals. There are no schools, no means of instruction, either for the young or for adults; and yet the people are anxious to be instructed. The way seems open for us to go in and occupy the ground. The Latins are stirring. They have occupied Salt and Kerek, and two villages not far from the former. I am fully convinced that, if we do not promptly enter upon these openings when they occur, we shall find, later on, that the way is closed.

PERSIA MISSION.

JULFA.

Mr. Bruce's Annual Letter, as will be seen from the extracts given below, affords many grounds for encouragement. The Committee have resolved to strengthen the Persian Mission by the appointment to it of a Medical Missionary, Mr. Edward Hoernle, who, it is hoped, will reach Julfa in the course of the present year. Mr. Hoernle, though a fully instructed medical man, will make the spiritual interests of the Mission his chief concern, and will, it is not improbable, be admitted to Holy Orders before leaving Europe. Mr. Bruce writes:—

Four of our Communicants and one very hopeful catechumen left Julfa this year. They are a great loss to our little flock—especially one, who was a member of the Church Committee and an earnest Christian—but we trust the seed sown in their hearts will bear fruit in other lands. Our Sunday morning and afternoon services, in Persian, by myself; and Saturday afternoon service, in Armenian, by Chapet Yorab; and Wednesday prayer-meeting are attended by greater numbers than last year. Indeed, I never saw a congregation more regular in attendance on the means of grace. On Sunday mornings the school-chapel is nearly quite full. The Pastorate Fund on December 31st, 1876, amounted to 80 mauns. At the end of 1877 it was Krs. 200; this year it is Krs. 621. Last year we had 130 Adherents, 35 Communicants, and 80 Sunday scholars; this year we have 170 Adherents, 54 Communicants, and 105 Sunday scholars.—We had one death (of a baby) in our congregation, but even connected with that we had a cause for special gratitude. Our people lived in fear of the first Protestant funeral, as our Tobiahs and Sanballats threatened our little flock that they would not allow a Protestant to be buried peaceably. On 27th August I headed the first Native Protestant funeral procession through the streets of Julfa without a word being spoken against us. We had selected for the Protestant "God's acre," a large corner of the Armenian consecrated graveyard, separated by a public road from the graves of the Armenians and Roman Catholics. I had also given notice to the leading Armenians of Julfa that we purposed appropriating it, if the Armenians made no objection. Never had a poor man's baby a larger funeral. The Mission-chapel was filled. I preached on "Be ye ready also;" and many who had never heard the Gospel before had full and present salvation by the blood of Jesus set before them. And the object of my funeral service—not to pray for the dead, but to give thanks for those who fall asleep in Jesus, and pray for the living—was explained.

We cannot too strongly express our gratitude to our Heavenly Father, for having put into the heart of a kind though previously unknown friend, E. Edmond, Esq., of Edinburgh, to raise 100*l.* per annum towards defraying the expenses of a medical missionary for Julfa. As for the last fifteen years my wife and myself have never had the advantage of a European fellow-labourer (except for one or two very short intervals), and have been all that time shut out entirely from intercourse with other Missions, and almost from communion with other Christians, except our own converts, it may be imagined with what joy we look forward to being joined by Mr. Edward Hoernle next year.

The number of scholars has remained about the same as last year, viz.:—Boys' School: 59 Protestants and Adherents; 71 Armenians—total, 130. Girls' School: 28 Protestants and adherents, and 23 Armenians—total, 51. Under Mr. C. Johannes' good care, all the teachers have worked well for the year, and given great satisfaction. Two of our eldest pupils have been promoted to pupil-teachers, and one has got a good situation in Bushire. I have a class of eleven boys, whom I daily instruct in the Bible and English.

My time has been much taken up by the superintendence of building operations. Thank God, this work is now all but finished. Our premises consist now of a large Mission-house and stable-yard, Mission-chapel, orphanage (with good garden), and girls' school, and play-ground. The Persian Fund only produced 923*l.*, and no additional charge has been made on the funds of the C.M.S. A sum of about 50*l.* is wanted to complete the Mission-buildings next year. Gymnastics have been introduced in the play-ground, and are of great use. The boys thoroughly enjoy them, and a fair share of amusement, mixed with work, makes them love their school, and insures punctuality in attendance. [The Basle Missionary Society has recently handed over the sum of 1385*l.* to the C.M.S. for the Julfa orphanage. The C.M.S. funds are not available for orphanages.]

I have this year completed the revision of the translation of the New Testament in Persian. I have also made a first revision of forty-eight chapters of Genesis and a few Psalms. A Revision Committee for the Old Testament has now been formed of Revs. J. Bassett and J. Potter, of the American Mission in Teheran, and myself.

I have not been able to take a single itinerancy tour this year, and my work for Mohammedans has been confined to receiving visitors and carrying on the revision of the translation of the Bible for them. One has occasionally attended our services, and we have had many interesting visits.

An agent of the British and Foreign Bible Society, who recently visited Ispahan, in an official Report to his own Society, wrote as follows:—

Hopeful prospects of the Mission in Persia.

"I found at Ispahan one of the most flourishing Missionary Stations in Persia. Ooroomiah cannot show more results than Mr. Bruce can. He has a congregation of about 150, of which above 50 are Communicants. He has a very convenient, simple, but tastefully built and commodious chapel, the best I have seen anywhere in Persia, with schools, orphanage, &c., all in a flourishing condition. It fills one's heart with joy and thankfulness to see the Lord's work prospering here, and also to see how Mr. and Mrs. Bruce are esteemed and loved by their congregation and pupils."

(European Missionaries first arrived in 1820.)

I. Bombay.—II. Deccan.

This Mission has suffered much, during this and the two or three preceding years, through the removal, by death and other causes, of Missionary labourers. Two young and zealous recruits would, it was hoped, have been added to its staff before the close of the year; but the need of retrenchments may cause the arrangement to be postponed.

I. Bombay.

Native Christian Congregation.

This little flock, now of about ninety souls, under the care of the Rev. Appaji Bapuji, belongs for the most part to a class of life especially looked down on, Mr. Appaji states, by the Hindus—domestic servants. Mr. Appaji does not forget, however, their dignity as immortal beings for whom Christ died; and some of them at least are brethren beloved in the Lord. "My motto," he says, "is, 'Try again,' with every man." They will learn in time that faithful discharge of duty in any lawful calling deserves and gains respect. In some of them an increase of Christian activity and circumspection is already observable.

Education.

In the ROBERT MONEY SCHOOL a knowledge of Christianity, together with secular instruction, is imparted daily to about 250 young Natives of India. But—as regards the great object for which the Society labours, the conversion of souls to God—during the present year, as during many past years, the School has neither yielded fruit nor shown any signs of doing so. Some change of plan appears to be needed; and the question is under the Committee's serious consideration.

The Rev. Jani Alli, who assists in the Robert Money School, has also opened a Hostel or Christian Home for sons of Native Christians who wish to attend Christian Colleges or Government Medical Colleges in Bombay. (It is well known that the Bible is not taught in any Government educational institution; but this characteristic is of course less open to objection in an institution, such as a Medical College, which avowedly attempts only one special department of knowledge.) Mr. Jani Alli writes:—

I was privileged to open in January with one boarder, but within a fortnight another came, then a third, and so on till I had six; this number stood for several months; but one was obliged to return to his parents, failing to pass the examination necessary for entrance into the Government Medical College. Of the five at present with me, one is a son of the Rev. Narayan Sheshadri, of the Free Church of Scotland. Two are sons of the Rev. Appaji Bapuji, and one of the Rev. Ratanji Nowroji. Four of the boys attend the "Robert Money School," their ages vary from twelve to eighteen. Both Mr. Carss and Mr. Jackson speak favourably of them, as well-behaved and diligent students. Every evening they are catechized at family prayers, and in the morning I give them help in their lessons. They all pay for their board.

Evangelistic Work.

The Rev. Appaji Bapuji labours in this department, besides ministering (as mentioned above) to the Native Congregation. He is not without encouragement. The feelings of the people he regards as undergoing a great change. Many read the Bible with care and weigh its truths. Many also purchase the Holy Scriptures and other Christian books for their own use.

The MOHAMMEDAN MISSION has not, properly speaking, been resumed as yet. Mr. Jani Alli, however, in his domiciliary visits, has met with one or two Mohammedans, as will be seen from the following extract:—

Mohammedan inquirers in Bombay.

Domiciliary Visits, I am extremely sorry to say, I have not been able to pay, except at two houses. There have been several difficulties in the way. However, I hope, nothing preventing, to make further attempts next year. Both the gentlemen whose acquaintance I have formed are very respectable and well educated. One is a Hindu M.A. of Calcutta, and holding an important position under the Bombay Government; the other is a Mohammedan solicitor, educated at University College, London. I have found both these open to conviction, willing to converse freely on religion, and ready to read religious works. With the Mohammedan and his cousin I have had some intensely interesting talks. One afternoon he invited me to his spacious house, splendidly furnished in English style, and introduced me to his father and the family Moulvi, a very learned and subtle man. After conversing with them all for nearly two hours on religion, we parted in a very friendly way. Since then I have seen the young man several times; but the Moulvi, suspecting that he was in danger of losing all faith in Mohammedanism, has placed him under regular instruction, at the same time getting a promise from him never to tell me what he has been learning. Very strangely, the Moulvi admits almost all the Christian doctrines, even the Sonship of our Lord, but has his own interpretations. He says that every word in the Bible and the Koran has two meanings, one for the vulgar, and the other—the true one—for those initiated into the mysteries of his peculiar system.

Then there is a Mohammedan inquirer, who has been reading the New Testament with me for an hour every evening for more than three months. He first heard the Gospel from Mr. Roberts at Malegam. More than once has he asked for baptism. After baptising him, I shall give all the particulars.

NASIK AND SHARANPUR.

At the commencement of 1878, the Rev. C. F. Schwarz was the only European Missionary at this station. This devoted and single-hearted labourer was suddenly called away to his rest in the following August. Temporary, but necessarily inadequate, arrangements were made to meet the emergency. Under this great pressure, the Committee unwillingly asked the Rev. W. A. Roberts to return to Western India before his strength had been thoroughly recruited—an invitation with which Mr. Roberts most loyally complied.

The Rev. Lucas Maloba, a Native brother, thus refers to these changes:—

The Rev. C. F. Schwarz, the resident Missionary, was suddenly removed from us by death on the 13th of August. By his death both the congregation and myself have suffered great loss. It was suggested to the Society to send to this station a missionary who has good experience and knowledge of this part of the country. We are thankful to the Almighty for fulfilling this our desire. We welcome amongst us the Rev. Mr. Roberts with joy.

Mr. Maloba continues:—

A large number of Christians and candidates for baptism, who had come here during the time of scarcity, went away in the months of October and November. The present numerical strength of the congregation, including the stations of Makhmalabad, Camp Deolale, Egulpûra and Pathurdi, [has thus been reduced to] 378 baptized souls, viz., 164 adults and 209 children, out of which 107 are communicants. The number of candidates for baptism is 31, i.e. 12 adults and 19 children. In the year under review, 2 adults and 12 children have been baptized, and 17 persons have died.

Preaching to the heathen.—From the beginning of the year, up to the end of March, I visited in all 103 villages. Two bands of evangelists accompanied me. Our plan was to encamp at a central village, or town, from three to six days. From this point we went and preached in the surrounding villages in the mornings. One band accompanied me to one village, when the other went to another village, each in turn going every second or third day to the villages visited by the other. In the evenings we preached at the place of our encampment, visited various persons, and held religious conversations with them.—In the month of April the Government commenced, as relief work, the construction of a large tank, about fifteen miles from this station. A large number of people were employed. By the advice of Mr. Schwarz, a tent was pitched there, and two bands of Scripture-readers were placed there. At first the Brahmins, who superintended the work, opposed us, threatening the people who came to hear us, and sending them away. In course of time, however, they themselves began to receive our books, and converse with us. The people on the work came to the tent after their day's work was over, even up to nine o'clock; and the Scripture-readers, in return, visited them. In June the work was stopped on account of the rains. During the next four months the Scripture-readers preached in the evenings in the town of Nasik, and in the morning in the neighbouring villages. In the course of the day they studied the Bible, the Prayer-book, and the Evidences of Christianity, with Mr. Schwarz, Mr. Goray, and myself. After October they again went into the district. I could not myself leave the station as often as I wished, in consequence of there being no resident missionary; but I preached twice a week in the surrounding villages, and two or three times in the town

In 1877, Major Jacob, the Army Inspector of Schools, gave Rs. 40 to enable us to preach in the form of Kirtan. By the means thus placed at our disposal, the catechist, Scripture-readers, and some of the school-boys, acquired considerable knowledge of Marathi music, which helped us much in preaching the Gospel. Six Kirtans were performed, which were attended by large numbers of people.

Candidates for baptism from high caste heathen.

The young man, aged twenty-four years, who is the son of the Patil (Village Headman), of Makhmalabad, and who had come here two years ago to join us, but was persuaded by his relatives to go back with them, and was admitted again into caste, felt ashamed when he met any Christian. His Hindu friends made him read the religious books of the Hindus; but he, having some knowledge of Christianity, often raised doubts, which made them threaten him. During the year under review he went to the Scripture reader every night for instruction, and twice came to Sharanpur to profess Christ openly. I sent him back, advising him to learn more about Christianity until the arrival of a new missionary, when he could appear before him for examination, and, if found fit, receive baptism. Another young lad, the son of a Brahmin of Nasik, often heard us preach on the banks of the Godavery, and became an inquirer. During the last monsoon he came to me daily for instruction. I advised him also to wait, but one day he came to Sharanpur during my absence, and stayed there. His relatives did their best to persuade him to go back, but without success. He has been with us for the last three months, and we hope to see him baptized soon.

MALEGÂM.

The Rev. F. G. Macartney is the Missionary of this station. From his copious and interesting report, the following extracts are inserted:—

Malegâm is the station from which the Khandeish is worked. I took charge of it last march, upon the departure of the Rev. W. A. Roberts, who had laboured here for six years, and who was deservedly esteemed by both Europeans and Natives.

Our Native Christian agents here number 14, viz.—a Native pastor, who is, however, now very feeble, a catechist, 2 assistant catechists, 3 readers, 1 probationer, 4 Christian school teachers, and 2 female teachers. Of these the catechist and one of the assistant catechists are stationed at Dhûlia, the capital of Khandeish. A reader is placed at Phuldaur, a village thirty miles to the north-west of Malegâm.

The most important of all the subjects on which we have to report is the Native Church. If this is in a healthy and flourishing state, its influence for good must be felt on the surrounding heathenism. Our flock here is a little one, and a scattered one, gathered and kept together with much difficulty. We number in all about a hundred souls, about half of whom live in Malegâm; the other half is scattered in six or seven villages in the surrounding districts. It is very difficult at any time for a missionary to speak of the positive growth in Christian graces of the Native Christians under his charge. However, I may say that their attendance on the ordinances of religion is fairly good. Quite of their own accord the members of the congregation living near the Mission-house meet every evening for worship; each member taking his turn for a week to conduct their evening devotions. Nor have I known of any grave scandal or offence during the year calling for Church discipline. Five children and five adults have been baptized during the year.

I append a few details concerning two of the adult baptisms.

Baptism of the son of a Hindu religious teacher.

Jewun Gyanu is the son of a Gosavi (religious teacher). He heard some of the Sharanpur evangelists preach in a place called Kopergam about three years ago; and he remained in the same town with them for three months. They taught him the Lord's Prayer, Ten Commandments, read and explained to him portions of the New Testament, and had many conversations with them. He was convinced of the truth, but had not the courage then to make a public profession. Some time afterwards one of his brothers went into the Ahmednagar districts, was converted to Christianity and baptized by the Rev. J. Taylor, of the S.P.G. Mission. Jewun, in opposition to his father and other relatives, now left his home, a village about twenty-four miles from here, for Ahmednagar, and begged Mr. Taylor to receive him into the Christian Church. Mr. Taylor, finding that Jewun belonged to my district, kindly sent him to me, with the hope that, if his village was visited, others would join in the desire for Christian instruction. A reader was stationed for two months among his people. Some of them, the father especially, were very bitter at first; but, through God's blessing on the patient efforts of the reader, they became more tolerant and reasonable after a time, and even allowed the reader to dwell in a part of their house. I myself visited the village on one occasion, and had a long conversation with Jewun's relatives; but the fear of persecution kept them all back except Jewun and his wife. The old father had another reason. What would become of his honour and renown, he asked, when his 999 disciples, who lived scattered about in the Konkan, should hear of his apostasy? He is partly supported by the alms of his disciples. However, the old Gosavi's feelings towards us are evidently very different from what they were; and I have hopes that he and others from the same quarter will yet join us. Jewun and his wife were baptized on Sunday, October 6th.

Conversion and baptism of a Brahmin.

Paulus Ramchandra Patea is a young Brahman, twenty-one years of age, who lost his father when quite a child, and was then adopted by another respectable and educated Brahman, an assistant engineer in the Public Works Department. When a boy, he attended our Anglo-Vernacular School at Malegâm; but it does not appear that he had then any leaning towards our religion. He was married to the daughter of the deputy-collector of Dhûlia, and thus became influentially connected. A pious officer, named Colonel Bell, many years ago the executive engineer for the Khandeish district, gave a large quarto Marathi Bible to Paulus's father. Between two and three years ago, Paulus often heard our Dhûlia evangelists preach in the town, and was so impressed that he sought out our little school there, and began to visit the catechist. At the same time he commenced to study the Bible. His relatives were very indignant. He persevered, however, and read through the whole, from Genesis to Revelation. After some months he made up his mind at all costs to embrace Christianity. Eighteen months ago he ran away from Dhûlia, and came to Malegâm, asking Mr. Roberts to baptize him. He remained here three days, and broke caste by eating with our Native Christians. His friends, however, managed to decoy him away under false pretences; and with great expense he was taken to Nasik and received into caste again. But the old desires soon returned, and after reading the New Testament for some time with the catechist, he wrote, asking me to come to Dhûlia and baptize him. I went thither, and having examined him, sent notice to his friends that he would be baptized that afternoon. A crowd soon collected about our small Mission premises, and as many as could squeezed themselves into the front apartment of the house. Then began a scene I shall not easily forget. The entreaties, the threats, the adorations to which Paulus was subjected were distressing to behold. This went on for two or three hours; but when it was found that he could not be turned from his purpose, all except a few of his most intimate friends, left the house. The baptism took place before a crowd of Dhûlia people, who remained very quiet during the ceremony. Great surprise was expressed at the simplicity of the service. They thought that Paulus would at least have been made to eat some cow's flesh or drink some intoxicating draught. After the baptism the crowd increased, and there was great excitement in the town; vakîls from the court, and clerks from the Government office, came in to see and abuse the renegade; and it became necessary at last to call in the police. This was the first case of a Brahman being baptized in Dhûlia. A meeting was shortly after held at which it was determined to send letters to the great centres of Brahminism—Benares, Nasik, Trimbuck, &c., asking if a baptized Brahman who had broken caste twice could be received into caste again. It was decided that if a Brahman had been a Christian ten years and then wished to return to his old faith, he could be received. A few days elapsed, and Paulus feared that his friends would use force. He therefore fled from Dhûlia, and took refuge in the Mission bungalow here for a few days. Since then he has been little troubled. This young man has lost much, pecuniarily, by becoming a Christian; and for peace he has freely given up all claim upon his share of the family property. He desires now to make himself useful as a preacher among his fellow-countrymen. Surely our friends will remember him in prayer.

Itinerating.—I made a tour to the east of Malegâm, for three months, returning home at the beginning of March. Two Native helpers accompanied me. Our work was entirely among the rural population. In most places we had attentive and good audiences; in many instances we were welcomed, and the people gladly listened to the tidings of salvation. Everywhere the folly of idolatry is frequently acknowledged; but caste still seems to hold the people with an iron hand. The listeners, as a rule, willingly agree to all that the Christian has to say about God, heaven, hell, &c., but, as soon as he touches upon the office and work of Christ, the audience show, by unmistakable signs, that the theme is unpalatable. Altogether about 220 towns and villages were visited and preached in. Besides these, many places have been systematically visited during the year; such as the villages around Malegâm, Dhûlia, and Neir. In connexion with our itinerating, an important work is the sale of Christian books. Two of our agents have been very active in this work, and in the districts and station several hundred of the Tract Society's books have been disposed of—all, with but few exceptions, sold, not given away.

Bazaar Preaching.—This has been carried on twice a week as heretofore. Several of the converts of the Khandeish Mission have been drawn towards Christianity by public preaching. Last year a Mussulman, who was under instruction for some time with Mr. Roberts, heard the preaching in the town, and was thus led to visit the missionary. He desired to be baptized, and as he intended to reside in Bombay, he was sent to our missionary there, the Rev. Jani Alli. (See p. 54.)

AURANGABAD.

The Rev. Ratanji (Ruttonjee) Nowroji has met with severe trials during the year. To these he thus refers :—

It has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove from my side one who had shared my joys and sorrows for sixteen years—a faithful wife and an affectionate mother of seven children. Suddenly called away in the midst of health and usefulness, her death has been a sad and severe blow. But it is no small consolation to recall the fact that, in the midst of severe pain and suffering brought on by cholera, she bore testimony, with a mind full of peace, to the loving presence of the Saviour in whom her soul delighted. Apart from the duties of the household, which were by no means few or easy, she had entirely relieved me of the important work of instructing the women of my congregation, and of holding daily services for them. But since this is ordered by none other than He who does all things well, I meekly bow to His wise dispensation.

I am writing this letter from my bed. A sad accident, which happened on the 27th December last, has fractured the bones of my right foot in three places; and such was the severity of the blow which has caused this, that I have narrowly escaped mortification, which, had it set in, would have made amputation absolutely necessary. Confined to my bed, in a weak and helpless condition, I am distressed at the thought of being laid aside at a time when there is so much work to be done; but doubtless there is (as is observed by a dear chaplain in his letter of sympathy) "some good purpose hidden under all this, for God's work does not depend entirely upon our work."

Mr. Ratanji adds :—

During the past year there were 15 deaths, and 37 baptisms in my congregation. Of the latter, 11 were adults, and 26 were children. The wife of our interesting convert, Khanduji, who had shown great aversion to Christianity, was among the number of those who were baptized on the day our church was opened. Both her former animosity against, and her present adoption of, Christianity are remarkable.

In a village called Lohogam, about twenty miles to the south of Aurangabad, there are several candidates for baptism. These are drawn, more or less, by a new convert, who, from his consistent character, enjoys the good opinion of all the people. As the whole village, including the Mohammedans, are favourably disposed to our intentions, I hope shortly to place there a Christian teacher, who, with Divine blessing, may meet with much encouragement and success in a field which seems so hopeful.

Throughout the season of distressing scarcity which has prevailed, more or less, all over India, I have been enabled to support a goodly number of starving people by employing them on relief works—the necessary funds being supplied by the Parent Committee, out of the Famine Relief Fund, through the Corresponding Committee. Besides several additions and improvements to the Society's buildings, we have now a large and substantial—and may I not say a beautiful?—place for Divine worship erected at this station on a suitable spot of ground.

Although the severity of the famine is no longer felt, great distress still prevails. Most of my Christians have been obliged to leave their respective villages, and to take up their temporary residence wherever they can meet with employment. A necessity of this kind is far from being agreeable; but I trace God's hand in it. I am thankful to state that some of my Christians thus scattered are bearing testimony for Christ. Those who are able to read are supplied with the Word of God, which they read for the profit of their heathen brethren, as well as their own.

PANJÂB AND SINDH MISSION.

PANJÂB: Kôtgur, commenced 1847; Amritsar, 1852; Kangra, 1854; Peshâwar, 1855; Mûltân, 1856; Derajât, 1861; Kashmir, 1863; Lahore, 1867; Pind Dâdan Khan (Jhelum Itinerancy), 1876; Dera Ghazi Khan, 1879.

SINDH: Karachi, 1850; Hydrabad, 1856.

General.

THE establishment of the Bishopric of Lahore, and the inclusion of Sindh in the new diocese, have led to the formation, for these Missions, of a separate Corresponding Committee, which has been joined by several influential laymen.

Contemplated advance from the North-west frontier of India.

The Committee have good hope that the sad war on the Northern frontier will be overruled for the opening up of the regions beyond—Afghanistan, Kafiristan, and Belûchistan—to the preachers of the Gospel. The Society's faithful pioneer Missionary, the Rev. G. M. Gordon, accompanied the troops to Kandahar, ministering to their spiritual wants by the way. At Kandahar itself he had interesting interviews with some of the leading inhabitants. In the hope of an onward advance, the Society's frontier stations have been somewhat strengthened, Dera Ghazi Khan in particular having been occupied for the first time by two European Missionaries. Generally also the Missionaries have been encouraged to hold themselves in readiness to advance so soon as a favourable opportunity arrives. But this, like other extensions, will be difficult in the Society's present financial circumstances.

KANGRA.

The Missionary in charge of this station during the year 1878 was the Rev. C. F. Reuther. He had retired thither from the more arduous post of Faizabad in the year 1875. On the 22nd of January, 1879, Mr. Reuther was called to his rest. He had been an energetic Missionary, strong in faith and hope; and the Committee do not doubt that fruits of his past labours will be reaped by those who follow him. At the date of Mr. Reuther's last Annual Letter there were, connected with the station, sixty-five Native Christian Adherents and twenty Communicants. Mr. Reuther wrote:—

Our Native Christians have walked as becomes the Gospel of Christ. Their contributions to charitable purposes have been Rs. 238 : 11 : 6.

The Gospel has been made known to the heathen throughout the year, in the district as well as at Kangra and Bhawan. Domiciliary visits have not been neglected. In our itinerating journeys we have been at Palampur, east of Kangra; Nurpur, in the west; and Iwala Nukhi, Nadaon, and Sujanpur, south of Kangra. The people have offered no opposition anywhere; nor have they, on the other hand, shown any particular interest in hearing the glad tidings. Their melas have been but thinly attended, and their idols are in many places neglected. Even the famous golden temple at Kangra is going down, like Diana of the Ephesians. Its priests frown at us, and believe that the influence of the Gospel destroys their idol worship.

Our schools have been carried on as usual, but our numbers have somewhat decreased. We have at present in five schools 200 children under instruction—50 girls and 150 boys.

KÔTGUR.

The Missionary at Kôtgur (also called Guru-kôt) is the Rev. W. Rebsch, now advanced in years. He writes:—

We have about 100 Native Christians, in Simla and Kôtgur, with regular and fairly attended services on Sunday and week-days. We have also Church committees—and I admit they are of great assistance, but not without peculiar difficulties. The people are ready to help; sometimes the poor make me quite ashamed with their liberality when collections are made. However, I miss still that spiritual life and hearty interest in propagating the knowledge of the Gospel, which is necessary, in many of them. The Simla congregation fluctuates with the arrival and departure of European visitors.

Our schools are appreciated both by Christian and heathen. We have constantly applications for more, if we only could get good godly teachers for them. Three more were established the last three months; we have now nine, six for boys and three for girls.—God has heard our prayers, and given us help, for which we have been looking out some time. Two young English ladies, Misses Pogson, voluntarily came to us last year with the desire to make themselves useful in our Mission. The youngest is helping in our girls' schools; the other assists me in attendance on the sick. Mrs. Rebsch and myself felt the want of young hands to help us, and we are most thankful.

One adult only was baptized during the year.

It will be seen from the above that, as regards the Society's work, Simla, strangely as the expression may sound, is an out-station from Kotgur. In reference to this arrangement Mr. Hooper, of the LAHORE DIVINITY SCHOOL (who recently visited Simla for the sake of health), writes as follows:—

I am decidedly of opinion that Simla should if possible be taken up more vigorously and not (at any rate while the supreme Government is here) be treated as a mere branch of Kotgur. The Native Christians at Simla are most of them in great need of pastoral superintendence. But, besides this, Simla attracts during the season a number of educated and influential Natives; and some of these are seeking after the truth, and there should be some one at hand to meet and by God's help to guide them. Thomas Edwards late honorary District Catechist, C.M.S., now lay-pastor, is full of zeal; but he cannot undertake the work to which I have referred.

Mr. Hooper thus speaks of a Missionary opening in this neighbourhood:—

I spent a day and a half at Rampur, the capital of the little Basera Kingdom. I was very much struck by its importance as a field for Missionary effort. It ought not to be left to the rare visits which Mr. Rebsch is able to give to it, and to the somewhat more frequent ones of Native agents, who cannot be said to have the special qualifications required for it. The place is simply and truly Hindu: not a single Mussulman is to be found in it. The people speak clear good Hindi, quite as good as at Benares. They received me with great friendliness—with a good deal of good-humoured banter, it is true, but with increasing interest. Of course my message had all the attraction of novelty for them; and the longer one stayed among them, the more would Satan's opposition be proved; but still I cannot help thinking that the Lord has some of His own people in that small but compact city.

AMRITSAR AND BATALA.

The changes that have occurred in the agency of the Mission and of the Native Church during the year are thus described in the Local Report :—

The Rev. F. H. Baring has left Amritsar to undertake the Principalship of a Boarding School for the higher class of Native Christian Boys at Batála. The Rev. A. Bailey arrived from England at the commencement of the year, and has proceeded at its close, with Mrs. Bailey, to take charge of the Bannu Mission, in the place of the Rev. T. J. L. and Mrs. Mayer, who are proceeding on sick leave to England. Mrs. Elmslie, after six years of faithful labour, especially carried on amongst the children of the girls' and boys' Orphanage Schools, has gone on furlough to England, to return, we trust, to Amritsar in the cold season of 1879. [Her place is supplied for the present by Mrs. Reuther, late of Kangra.] Mr. E. Meyers arrived from England early in January; and the Rev. A. T. Fisher is shortly expected from England to take over charge of the Amritsar Boys' Schools from Mr. Baring.

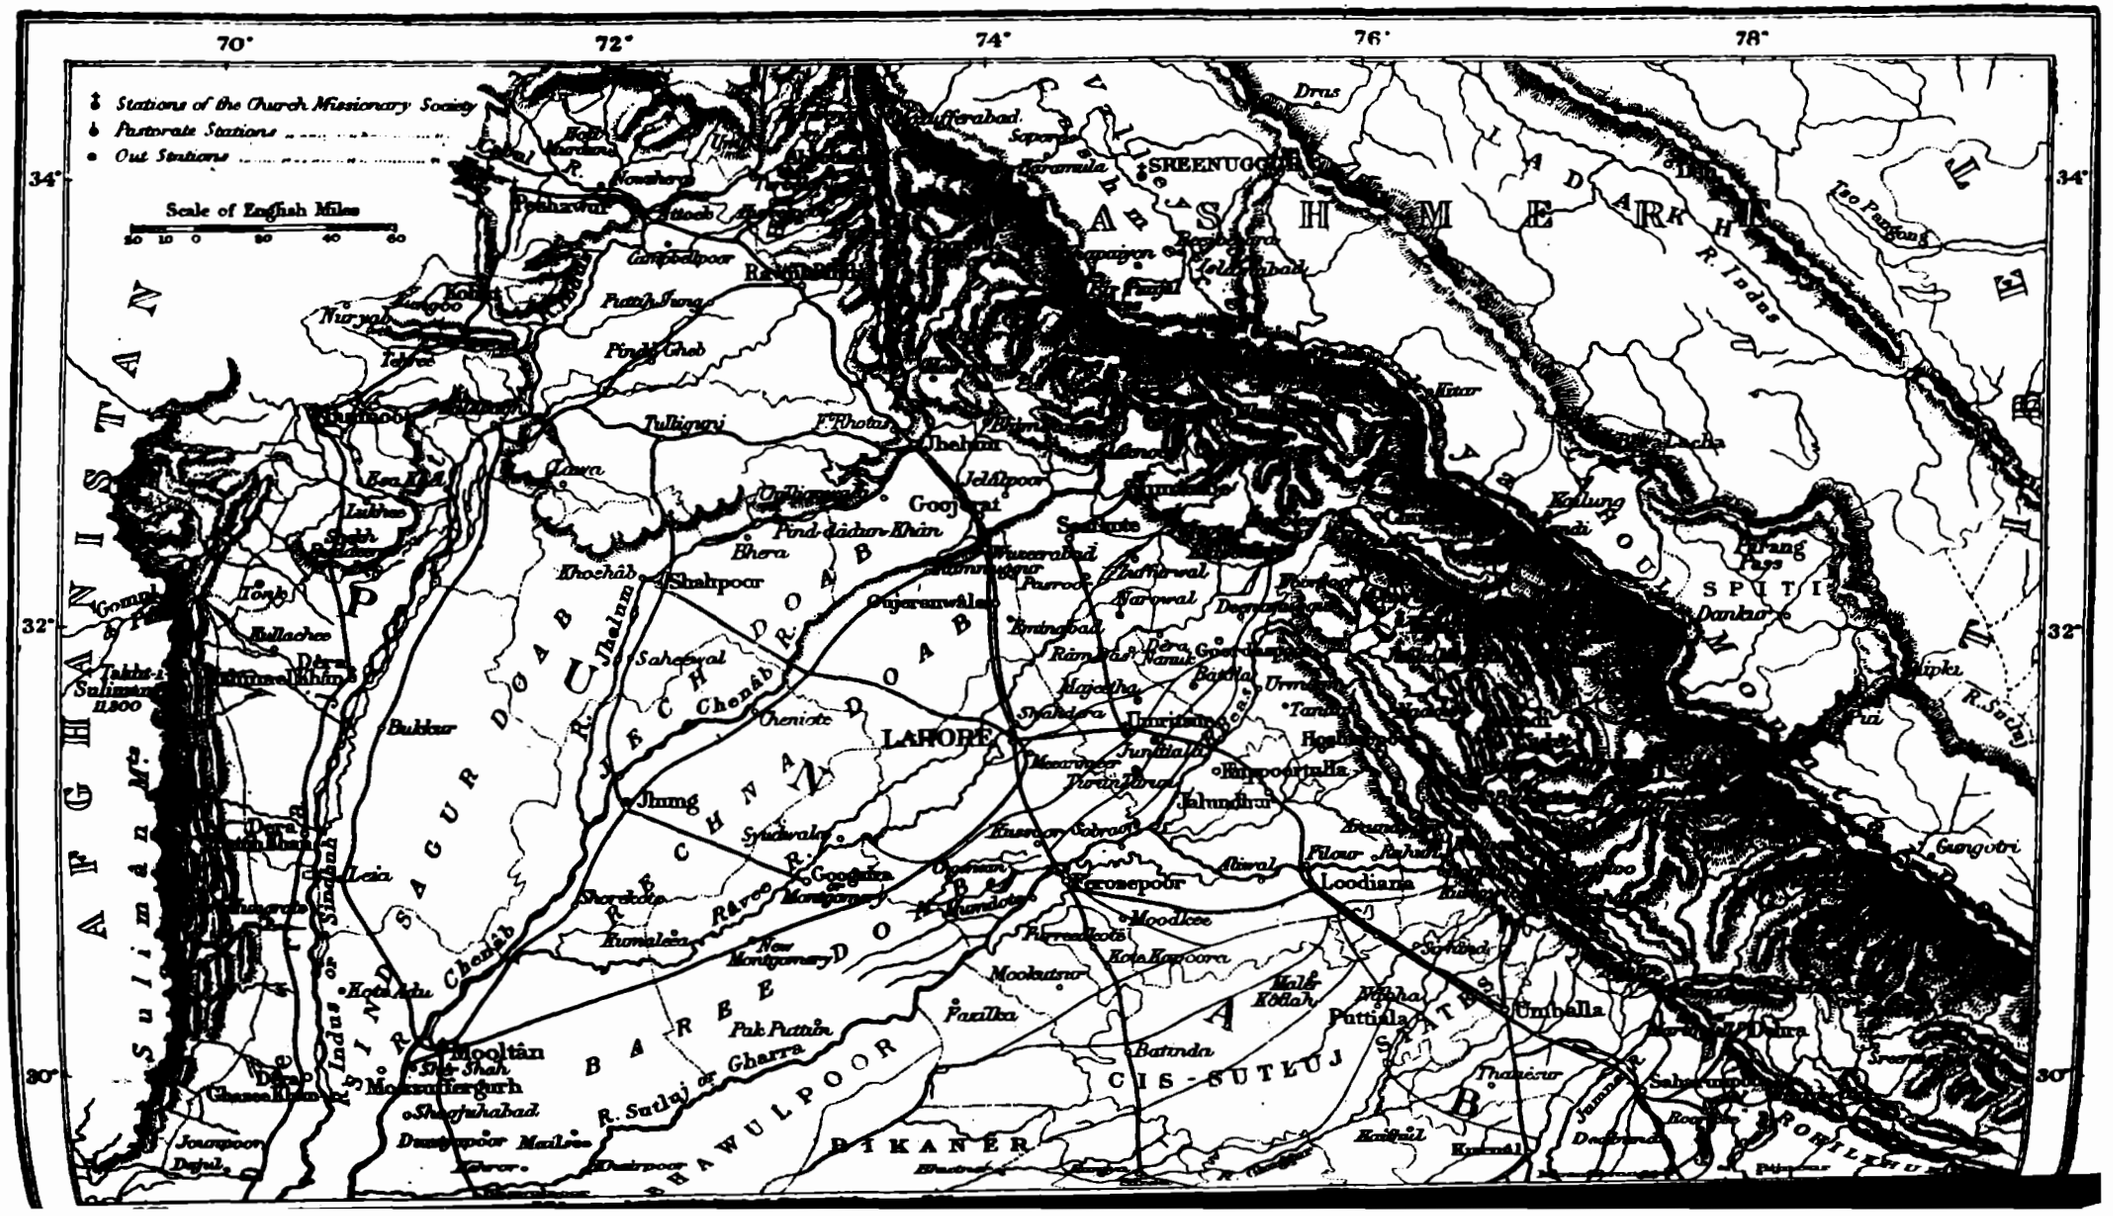

The Rev. Imád-ud-din has returned from Lahore to Amritsar, and is now engaged in writing Commentaries and other religious works, and in taking the Church Services in Amritsar in connexion with the Rev. R. Clark. The Rev. Mian Sádiq has resigned the Pastorship of the Amritsar congregation for itinerant work in the country round Batála: whilst at the same time he is actively carrying on the responsible and important duties of Secretary to the Church Missionary Society's Native Church Council of the Panjab. Mûnshî Sáhib Dyál has been entrusted temporarily with the lay charge of the Amritsar Native congregation. Babu Nobin Chandar Das has been recommended for the Pastorship of the Simla congregation.

Three of the Native labourers have died during the year, respecting one of whom, who may be regarded as a martyr, Mr. Clark writes as follows :—

Death of a faithful Native Catechist.

Our mission has during the past year, lost Babu Daud Mohkam, who for many years was the faithful fellow-labourer of Mr. Deimler of Bombay. It was there given to him not only to believe in Christ, but also to suffer for His sake; for he was one day stabbed by a fanatical Mohammedan when preaching in the streets, and was so dangerously wounded that for a time life was despaired of. By God's grace, strength was restored, and he again began to carry on his duties as Catechist in Bombay, though he never fully recovered from the wound which he had received. When Mr. Deimler's Mission to the Mohammedans in Bombay was closed, in consequence of necessary reductions in the Society's operations, Babu Daud Mohkam was transferred, by his own request, to Amritsar, where he began his labour under the direction of the Rev. W. Keene. His wound broke out afresh, and his lungs became affected. He was tenderly nursed to the last by his niece, Mrs. Hankin of Amritsar, and he died in simple trust in Christ.

This leaves the staff of the Native Church and the Mission as follows:—AMRITSAR: Natives, Rev. Imad-ud-dîn, with fifteen unordained helpers, four of whom are engaged in educational work; Europeans, Rev. Robert Clark, M.A.; Mr. H. F. Beutel; Rev. A. T. Fisher, B.A.; Mr. E. Meyers: BATÁLA: Rev. F. H. Baring, M.A., with three unordained Native helpers: NÂROWÂL: Rev. B. N. Ghôs, and an unordained helper: CLARKABAD: Rev. Daud Singh: and three unordained Native helpers at other out-stations: Itineration: Native, Rev. Mian Sádiq; Europeans, Rev. W. Keene, M.A.; and Rev. R. Bateman, M.A. Also Mrs. Reüther and six ladies connected with the Indian Female Instruction Society, one of these being Miss Tucker, well known as A. L. O. E.

Native Congregations.

Mr. Clark writes:—

The number of native Christians in Amritsar and its eight out-stations is now 432; namely, 124 men, 90 women, and 218 children. In 1877 it was 345. The increase during the year 1878 has thus been 87. The number of Baptisms 94, namely, 25 men, 11 women, and 58 children. During the year 1877, they were 35; namely, 5 men, 8 women, and 22 children. The contributions given bonâ fide by Natives in Amritsar and its out-stations to religious purposes in 1878 have been Rs. 929. To this sum must be added Rs. 598 given in Amritsar and its out-stations by bonâ fide Native friends to the Alexandra School; and Rs. 55 to the Panjab Religious Book Society. The sum total received in Amritsar and its out-stations in 1878 has thus been Rs. 1582. In 1877 it was Rs. 645. A part of the sum received in 1878 has been generously contributed to special objects by non-Christian friends.

The Amritsar congregation deplores the departure from their midst of their Pastor, the Rev. Mian Sádiq, whom they love. He is a son of Mian Paulus, late Lambardar (fiscal head man) of Narowal, one of the earliest converts in Amritsar, whose faith in Christ is still remembered with thankfulness to Him who gave it. We may speak of him in something the same terms as St. Paul spoke of the devout Apollos, "as touching our brother, we greatly desired him to remain with the brethren, but his will was not at all to remain." His heart is much drawn-out towards the unevangelized community around his birth-place Narowal, and Batála, and the district all round Amritsar, where he is so well known.

The Amritsar congregation during the past year has suffered from want of practical organization and sustained effort. The Rev. Imád-ud-din will continue as before to minister in our public services in connexion with the Missionary. God has given him gifts of preaching and of writing which he has ever used to His glory and the benefit of the congregation. We need now more private services, more Bible readings, more cottage or house meetings, more visiting from house to house.

There never were so many true inquirers in and around Amritsar as there are now. Let us only present to them the realities of a well-ordered and united Church. Let them see that our faith is true, and is fixed on one who is able to save.

Itinerant Mission.

This branch of the work is divided between the Rev. W. Keene and the Rev. R. Bateman.

Mr. Keene writes :—

As stated in my last report, I resumed my district work on November 16th, 1877. I continued my itinerations until Easter Eve, April 20th, 1878, when I came in finally to Amritsar for the hot weather.

From March 1st to September 30th my energetic catechist carried on his district work alone, and visited one hundred and seventy-three villages; and I hope that during the next hot weather he will have visited every town and village in the Amritsar Tahsil, and from his station at Jandiála will also have jotted down a short history of every place for future reference.

Converts and inquirers from among Hindu ascetics.

As the fruit of this labour, and of seed sown on previous occasions by others, as well as by myself, thirty individuals have manifested more than ordinary interest in the glad tidings of the Gospel, and are enrolled in our book as inquirers. Of these seven are women. One, a Sádhni, [ascetic woman,] I sent in to be instructed by the ladies in Amritsar. Being a woman acquainted with letters, she has been placed in the Girls' Normal School, where she receives regular instruction. She is connected with a very respectable Sádh's family living in a country village. The family numbers five souls, inclusive of herself, all of whom give a welcome to Christian Teachers. The son's wife has read the Gospel of St. John in Gurmukhi, and committed some of it to memory. The Sádh is a Mahant (head man) among Hindu Faqirs—a man of fine presence and superior intelligence. On account of his friendly reception of us Christians, the village people have forbidden his drawing water from their wells; and some houses have stopped giving him the usual alms.

All that is needed for the systematic and successful working of the three Tahsils into which the Amritsar district is divided, is that each Tahsil should possess two good native preachers with one active colporteur.

Mr. Bateman writes :—

Through ill-health I have only been at my work for six months out of the twelve under review. On the other hand I have had more help than usual. Besides the Bishop of Lahore; Messrs. Weitbrecht, Chatterji, Shirreff, Mian Sádiq, and Babu Izhaq have in turn been with me, so that a good deal of preaching has been done, and in a pretty wide area.

Narowal also has had much of my time. My visits there are always delightful. There is as it were, "the smell of a field which the Lord hath blessed." This year again two boys have come out from Islam. One is a tradesman's son, aged nineteen, whom I think I should have singled out last year as the hardest and most bigoted of all our pupils. Escaped from the restraint of school, he would oppose the Christian Teacher in the Bazaar, and spent his leisure in studying arguments for the overthrow of Christianity. Now he is entirely changed, and wins all hearts by the earnestness and humility of his Christian advocacy. I believe that Mr. Beutel's extreme forbearance, when the boy was abusing his doctrine in the Bazaar last January, was the means of turning his heart towards Christ. Shortly after his baptism I received 5*l.* from an old schoolfellow of my own, and with this I put him to school under Mr. Baring. He will not bear the strain of a long course of study, and I shall probably enlist him in the mercantile cohort. The other boy was a collector of Octroi. He had long been drawing nearer to Christ, and I was not surprised when his first spoken word on the subject was a request for baptism. It was difficult to resist calling him Matthew. He continued "at the receipt of custom" for three months; those who passed in and out of the city reviling him daily. After being thus tried, I took him—he is only seventeen—back into the school. These two boys were baptized at Easter.

Conversions from among Mohammedans.

In November the Bishop visited us. Not only the Christians, but the whole respectable population of the town turned out on the road to welcome him. I collected such of the boys as had not been confirmed in Amritsar; and it was good to hear them declare in their native place, before all men, that they had made no childish mistake, as is generally supposed, in becoming Christians. All but three of the Narowal boy-converts were Mohammedans, and at any time would be welcomed back to their fathers' houses if they would abjure or dissemble their faith. The Confirmation was a great strengthening of the Church; and we shall long and thankfully remember our Bishop's visit.

In the course of the year a Brahmin faqir, who years ago had been warned by a Mohammedan faqir that the truth lay in Christianity, and who last year had a striking dream to the same effect, was received into the Church. His is too long a story to relate at all fully here. Being an idolater, his first impulse on waking from his dream was to procure images of our Lord and His Apostles. He went on foot sixty miles, armed with Rs. 18, to get them in Conversion of a Brahmin faqir.

Lahore. Happily he fell in there with Moulavi Imad-ud-din, who gave him a Testament, and with Babu Raha, who sold him for Rs. 2, instead of images, a complete set of Scripture pictures. These he bound up in a Bible, and on them he can now descant in a most interesting and profitable way. Long after this I found, however, that he was still keeping the balance of his money to make an image of the Saviour with. At last, feeling sure that he had turned to God from idols, I presented him to the bishop for baptism. An infant was baptized at the same time. After the service he said, "Remember now that I am of the same age as this little one, we are both babes in Christ; feed me with milk, I pray you." Striking words to fall from the lips of a strapping fellow who had served his time in the army, and wore a presentation ring from the Maharajah of Kashmir, whose orderly he had been. He had a house of his own, which was looted, and land of which he was dispossessed, on becoming a Christian. He now supports himself as a Chowkidar, or watchman.

Schools.

The Christian Boys' Boarding School at BATÁLA has for its Principal the Rev. F. H. Baring, who has charge, of course, of all the Society's work at that place. Mr. Baring has not himself supplied any report. Miss Tucker writes:—

Prosperous and hopeful condition of the Batála Christian Boys' Boarding School.

Dwelling under the same roof with the Christian Boys' Boarding School, I naturally see much of its working. It is, we hope, the nucleus of a seminary which may be an incalculable blessing to the Panjâb, and through it to all India. The boys are select ones. We look amongst them for our future native pastors, doctors, lawyers, merchants, and Government officials. Their physical, as well as mental energies are drawn out; their Principal teaches them not only to work with spirit, but to play with spirit. But the most striking feature of the Batála School is the Missionary spirit which prevails amongst the lads, especially the older, amongst whom are converts who have themselves known what it is to suffer for Christ. The earnest wish of the Principal is that every boy, whatever be his future position in life, should feel himself bound to try to bring souls to the Saviour. Batála promises to be a nursery for Honorary Catechists. Young voices proclaim the truth in the streets of Batála, the smaller boys supporting their companions by singing Christian hymns. As a dweller in the building where they reside, I can bear witness that I never met with a better-behaved set of lads. In a land where falsehood is fearfully prevalent, I do not think that I have ever heard a lie spoken by one of them. I hear the merry shout, the whistle and the song, but never the oath or the impure word.

This establishment at Batála is also a central point to which earnest inquirers and persecuted converts are naturally drawn.

"It is a Refuge!" said a Christian Moulvie to me one day, glancing up at the goodly edifice. No regular funds are provided for this purpose, though a few kind friends have helped to defray the expense of helping converts. Free hospitality is extended. This was particularly the case at Christmas time. Native Christians from various points flocked to Batála, sure of a welcome. The Teacher's wife from the mud-built village where she is the only Christian woman; the converted faqir wrapped in his blanket, the tradesman from his shop, the Munshi, the youth in Government employ, merry women, bright-eyed brown babies coming to spend a holy happy Christmas together. To at least nine adults present it was their first one after entering the fold of the Church. About sixty persons assembled in the room which has been converted into a chapel; and the walls built by a Sikh prince for his own pleasure rang with joyful hymns. After service gifts were distributed to all present. Foot-races and other sports succeeded, Hindu and Mohammedan scholars from the Batála Mission schools, and village schools, sharing in the amusement, and seeing how genial is the spirit of Christianity. The feast for Native Christians was spread on the floor of the large school-room. More than sixty, including little ones, sat down on the mat in pleasant fellowship. The converted Brahmins shared the meal with the youth of the despised Mihtar caste, and the late Mohammedan gaily chatted with the Christian Hindu.

A happy Christmas among Panjâb Christians.

Batála, a city containing upwards of 25,000 inhabitants, is not only important in itself, but as being a central point in a district studded with villages, in which the Gospel has been diligently preached, not without visible signs of bearing fruit. The number of baptized persons now in Batála, and the branch stations whose members are expected to come in for Church festivals, may be reckoned at sixty-eight, including children. More inquirers are coming forward.

Mr. H. F. Beutel has laboured diligently in the AMRITSAR Boys' Orphanage—which is of course not supported by the funds of the Society—and in the Branch Schools in and near Amritsar. There is nothing of special interest to report in this department. (Mr. Beutel also gives time to public preaching; and his instrumentality by this effort in the conversion of a youth recently baptized has been already mentioned.)

The Amritsar Report gives the following account of the opening of the Alexandra School:—

The Alexandra School, though not finished, was opened with a dedicatory service by the Bishop of Lahore, on the 27th December, 1878. The great school-room was tastefully decorated with garlands and flowers; and on the walls on both sides were two large scrolls, one in English and the other in Urdu, with the words inscribed in white letters on a red ground, "All Thy children shall be taught of the Lord." The room was crowded, and spectators were looking in at every door. In the building itself were seated together Punjâbis and Europeans, men, women, and children. In the centre of the large room sat the Bishop, with Archdeacon Matthew by his side. Behind him were the Rais and many of the chief inhabitants of Amritsar, who are specially interested in the school, and who are many of them themselves liberal subscribers to it. Before the Bishop were seated the members of the Church Council, collected together from many parts of the country at their Annual Meeting, the representatives of the Churches from places even as distant as Karâchi and Dera Ismail Khan, who sat together with visitors from both Peshâwar on the north, and Delhi on the south. The pupils of the Lahore Christian Girls' School, together with those of Mrs. Elmslie's Orphanage School at Amritsar, formed the choir The meeting commenced with the singing of the Hymn which is a translation of the 127th Psalm. The Report was then read both in English and Urdu; and the Bishop then rose from his seat and after an impressive speech appropriate to the occasion declared the building open. All knelt reverently, whilst he dedicated it to God in earnest, fervent prayer. The anthem followed, "Suffer little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not. And Jesus laid His hands on them and blessed them." The native chiefs looked wonderingly at the choir of happy and intelligent girls, who showed by their harmonious voices, how out of the mouths of babes and sucklings, God can perfect praise. General Maclagan then addressed the meeting, as the representative of many English Christian friends, and he expressed the interest which they take in the Native Church, and in the Alexandra School in particular. As an engineer he drew attention to the structure of the building before them, which he said was "commodiously planned, and substantially constructed." After another hymn, Mr. Abdullah Athim, Extra Assistant Commissioner of Karnal, addressed the meeting on behalf of the Native Christians; and he was followed by the Agha Kalbabid Sahib, Extra Assistant Commissioner of Amritsar, who bore testimony to the interest which is taken in the school by the people of Amritsar generally. Mr. Bôs of Delhi then rose from the body of the meeting to express on behalf of the parents of the children (of whom he was one himself) their thankfulness to the promoters of the undertaking for the efforts which had been made on their behalf, and the perfect confidence which is felt in the education which is given. The proceedings terminated with the National Anthem, when the walls rang very appropriately again with "God save the Queen" in a Christian institution which bears the name of the "Alexandra School."

The cost of the building, up to the present time (the 27th December) has been Rs. 53,513, of which 1000*l.* have been given by the Church Missionary Society, 1,000*l.* by Walter Jones, Esq., 500*l.* by an anonymous friend, and the rest in smaller sums by very many donors, both in England and in India. We would draw attention specially to the fact that Rs. 2408 of the above sum have been given by Native friends, Rs. 1000 by the Amritsar Municipality.

The Lady Lawrence Girls' Schools, which are evangelistic institutions for the benefit of Heathen and Mohammedan children, and which are conducted, in connexion with the Mission, by ladies belonging to the Indian Female Instruction Society, have been doing good service through the year.

LAHORE.

The Bazaar Church was for some months under the care of Dr. Weitbrecht, who kindly added this to his work at the College. On St. Thomas's Day, 1878, a former student of the College, Yaqub Ali, who had been head Catechist of Agra, was ordained to the Church by the Bishop of Lahore. Being so young in the ministry, and still in deacon's orders, he is glad to have the advantage of Dr. Weitbrecht's advice and guidance. The congregation is composed for the most part, not of converts, but of Urdu-speaking Christian people, who, from one cause or another, have congregated in the political capital of the Panjâb. Those who know anything of India will know what are the weaknesses to which such a congregation is liable. (Several of the better-class Native Christians prefer attending at the College Chapel.) Dr. Weitbrecht trusts, however, that improvement is going on. He hopes for some benefit from the erection of a new church in a more quiet part of the city. And he adds :—

> But what we need more than all is the enlivening influences of the Creator Spirit, that by His operation a temple of living stones may be built up; and I feel more than ever thankful that in the prayer for this we are supported by our Committee and other friends at home.

St. John's Divinity School was, during the year under review, 1878, under the charge of the Rev. W. Hooper (the Principal), the Rev. F. A. P. Shirreff, and the Rev. Dr. Weitbrecht. The first-named of these devoted and (it need scarcely be added) very able Missionaries has kindly supplied the following cheering account of the work of the year :—

> St. John's Divinity School has been much prospered. No less than nine students went forth from it on July 1st, 1878, having completed their career. Most of these are now diligently engaged in faithful work in different parts of the Panjâb and North-west provinces. One, Yaqub Ali, was ordained by Bishop French at his first ordination, at Lahore, on Dec. 22, to the pastoral charge of the bazaar church congregation there. Another, though not yet ordained, is making himself very useful as a sort of lay-pastor at Amritsar. Others are appointed to Mr. Gordon's stations of Pind Dadan Khan and Jhang respectively. As a consequence of this large exodus of students, the number at the end of the year (12) was not equal to that at the beginning (20); but it has increased again since.

The academical year at the College is from October 1st to July 1st, and therefore our review of any year includes the end of one course of lectures, and the beginning of another. At the beginning of 1878 lectures were given on the Minor Prophets, the Books of Kings, the Psalms, the Epistles to the Romans and the Hebrews, the History of the modern Church of England, the History of the Doctrine of the Person of Christ (from Dr. Dorner), and Gregory the Great's "Pastoral Care." At the end of the year courses were begun on Genesis, the Psalms, the Gospel History, the Acts, the History of the Church from Constantine to Gregory the Great, Davison on Prophecy, and the Urdu language, which last was taught, besides the Hebrew and Greek grammars, by the pupil teacher, an alumnus of the College. Public preaching was carried on throughout the year by the students under the missionaries' eye, and many of them increased rapidly in the wisdom and the power necessary to this important work. With only one or two sad exceptions, I can report a most cheering growth in grace in all the students.

Conversion of a Mohammedan.

One instance is subjoined, being a case of special interest; though, for obvious reasons, his name is withheld. He is a native of a village at some distance from Lahore. Many years ago a white missionary visited the village; and our friend went forth with the village maulvi to encounter him, and, according to his own impression, easily silenced him. Next year a native missionary came, and left some Christian books, which the subject of our narrative eagerly read; though (such is the power of prejudice) his first impression of the New Testament, which he read through, was that it was a very bad book. Some time after, he heard of the conversion to Christianity of a native magistrate in a neighbouring town. He fearlessly wrote to him, and told him he had made a great mistake, not in forsaking Hinduism, but in passing by the blessed religion of the Prophet. The magistrate, not at all offended, thought that such an honest youth would be worth getting hold of; and replied kindly to him. A correspondence ensued, followed by frequent interviews; by God's blessing on which (not only on the argument employed, but on the Christian character displayed by the magistrate), our friend gradually lost his faith in Islam, and obtained a conviction of the truth of Christianity. He was sent to the Rev. Sadiq Masih of Amritsar for the removal of his remaining doubts, and for fuller instruction in Christianity; and was baptized by him in February. On his returning to his village for a short visit, he suffered of course a good deal; but the opposition of his enemies was partly disarmed by their seeing him entirely unchanged in dress, name, mode of eating, &c., in fact in everything except the Christianity which was now in his heart and in his life. Immediately afterwards, he came to the Divinity school, and no student has displayed more avidity for instruction or more docility when instructed, or more zeal for the salvation of his former co-religionists, than he: and it will not be wondered at therefore that he has made great progress already in every way. His wish is, not to become a paid agent of any society, but to earn his livelihood by shop-keeping (to which he has been accustomed), while spending his leisure in preaching Christ, and commending the Gospel by conducting business in a Christian way.

The walls of the garden, in which the Divinity school is established, have given a much-needed and highly-valued shelter to many young converts, who are not studying in our college, but in one of the Government Colleges, or engaged in some other occupation; while the daily services and the Christian influences they enjoy are being blessed to the building of them up for becoming useful Christian members of society in future.

JHELUM ITINERANCY.

The Rev. G. M. Gordon, who, like the Rev. F. H. Baring, generously devotes not only his time and energies, but also a large portion of his pecuniary means, to Missionary effort, is at the head of this department. Though no full report of his labours there has been received by the Committee for now two years, incidental references made by other Missionaries indicate the zeal and self-denial with which they have been carried on, and also the important results which, with God's blessing, are likely to follow.

(Mr. Gordon's visit to Kandahar has already been mentioned.)

The Rev. C. P. C. Nugent, who has been appointed to assist Mr. Gordon, is entering on his work with much spirit, and has already had very interesting conversations with leading Mohammedans of the neighbourhood. The reception he meets with in his itinerations is very various. Occasionally the audience are hostile and even insolent. At other times they will converse with much courtesy and at the MÛLTÂN.

The Rev. J. Doxey and Mr. Briggs are the Missionaries of this station. Mr. Briggs reports as follows:—

Another year's labours have been brought to a close without any visible result in the shape of baptisms. To some of our more thoughful students and ex-students, Brahmoism and Arianism have proved too convenient halting-places between Hinduism and Christianity. When one looks back but a few years and remembers the utter stagnation of mind and repression of thought that once existed, one ought, perhaps, to be thankful that men have begun to think even a little. But it is only a few that are even thoughtful.

The great event of the year was the distribution of prizes to the boys of your Mûltan school, by Bishop French, assisted by the Deputy Commissioner of the district, Captain Lang, and Brigadier-General Murray, on the 25th May last. Special invitations had been issued to all the Europeans of the station, all the Native gentlemen and officials of the district, and the parents of the boys. Notices were also posted in all the public places of the city. In this way more than a thousand persons, dressed in all the colours of the rainbow, were got together under vari-coloured canopies erected in the school enclosure, to witness the distribution of prizes, and hear the "Lord Pádrí Sáhib" deliver an oration in their own tongue. The Bishop addressed them in a thrilling speech on the relative duties, touching from time to time on the object nearest to his heart, religion and education. The speech took the people by surprise, both as to matter and delivery. Numbers of the hearers afterwards called at our house to pay their respects to the man that had charmed them by his oratory; but the Bishop left with me for Shujá'abád, &c., the next day.

Through the kindness of Captain Lang, the large building in which we have held school at Shujá'abád for the last eight years, and which was originally built as a corn-market, has been given to the Mission. It is seventy-six feet long by forty-four feet broad, and is very conveniently situated.

Mrs. Briggs's work in the city is thriving, and promises to yield fruit before long.

At the close of the year we had eleven Christian assistants in school and zenána work. It is very difficult to procure Christian helpers of the right stamp and almost as difficult to keep them when we have them.

DERA GHAZI KHAN.

It has already been mentioned that this town is now for the first time occupied by two European Missionaries.

The brethren appointed to the post are Dr. Andrew Jukes and the Rev. A. Lewis.

DERA ISMAIL KHAN.

This is one of the Society's Trans-Indus stations, among a Pathan (Afghan) population, though in British territory. Its Missionary is the Rev. Wm. Thwaites, who is assisted by a Native brother (Rev. J. Williams) at the out-station of Tank. Mr. Williams, though in holy orders, is a well-instructed medical expert. The Native Christian Adherents connected with the two places number thirty, and the Communicants nine. One adult was baptized during the year. Amongst a very bigoted population, the small body of Native Christians has won the respect of Mohammedan and Hindu neighbours; and its members are now looked upon as an important part of the community. The Bazaar preaching, conducted by an estimable Native Catechist, himself a convert from Islam, is intelligently listened to, the opposition being of a less "senseless" character than formerly. Several regularly come to the Mission for further instruction, notwithstanding the dissuasions of their friends. One or two are kept back by the prospect that, were they to profess faith in Christ, they would have no means of subsistence. The Native Church Committee will doubtless devise plans for meeting this difficulty. In such a station as Dera Ismail Khan it should be made evident to all that one who joins the Christian Church unites himself to a brotherhood, who will by no means indeed support him in idleness, but will at the same time afford him all reasonable help in things temporal as well as in things spiritual. Mr. Thwaites further writes:—

The school has been well attended the greater part of the year. There have been no baptisms. Many have the head-knowledge of Christianity, but not the heart to make a bold confession.

A successful Native Evangelist.

The work of John Williams, at Tank, went on steadily till May, 1878, when he found it necessary to take a holiday. When he went on leave to his native place, Gorakpûr, he was of great use during an outbreak of cholera in July. During the year ending February, 8764 patients attended his hospital in Tank. He is often sent for to visit the houses of the more well-to-do inhabitants. His work of a body-healer sometimes, too, carries him a considerable distance into the district. On all these different occasions he seeks and finds opportunities to sow the seed of truth. He has many visitors from the hills—wild, fierce-looking men, not pleasant to have as enemies; but they look upon John Williams as their very good friend. John Williams speaks of being very much in want of some surgical instruments, and I mention it here because, perhaps, some generous friend of Medical Missions at home might present him with a set. Our funds also will not always allow of our getting English medicines.

The Bishop of Lahore's visit was, perhaps, the great event of the year. It was like a breeze of fresh air to us all, which did us all good. Mr. Gordon, too, and Mr. Clark, who accompanied him, did us great good by their visit.

Mohammedan fanaticism overcome by Christian love.

In connexion with Mr. Williams's work an interesting proof of the abatement of Mohammedan fanaticism before the power of Christian love is mentioned by the Society's Panjâb Corresponding Secretary, the Rev. R. Clark. "The Waziris [during the late Afghan war], when they destroyed Tank the other day, spared the C.M.S. Mission Hospital avowedly on account of our native brother; the Government Dispensary was not spared, but amid the wild confusion our property was untouched. This is one of the most striking facts connected with Mission work that I have ever heard."

BANNU.

The Rev. T. L. Mayer was the Missionary at this station for the year 1878. Much of his time has been occupied in translational work. Of the Native Christians (twenty in number, including Catechumens) Mr. Mayer is not able to give a satisfactory account. Other branches of the work he thus refers to:—

I have been very much encouraged this year by the number of visitors and inquirers—nearly double what they were last year.

The preaching, too, in the bazaar has been much more calm and dignified. People will sit and listen for half an hour, instead of roaring and shaking their hands as they used to do. Now and then only will some furious fanatic come in with wild gestures and shouts, and put all in confusion. I have had much talk with the Waziri tribes also, and, thanks to "Pilgrim's Progress," was able to get their attention.

The Schools now number over 200 boys. Besides the Central School we have three branch schools in the city—one is a Hindi and Punjabi School, the others are Urdu.

The Book-shop sales have much increased this year, and I think this may now be called a permanent institution.

In a later communication Mr. Mayer writes:—

I had the pleasure of baptizing the first boy from the Bannu Mission School last Sunday week, the 12th of January. Dûni Chand was, before his baptism, a Hindu of low caste, and has been many years in the Mission School. Last year he took the first prize in Scripture on the occasion of the Lieutenant-Governor's visit. This year he stood second. Dûni declared his intention of becoming a Christian immediately after the vacation began. He is one of a number of brothers who all live together. Their sister I baptized last year, and married her to the telegraph master afterwards. I was much pleased to see his brothers come in to see him baptized. They stood round the font, three fine young men; and the interest they showed in what was going on, leads me to hope that in God's good time, they too may seek for righteousness and find mercy. Benjamin and his wife have been the main sowers here. Benjamin, you will remember, is the head master.

PESHÂWAR.

The Native Pastor at this station is the Rev. Imam Shah, whose "blameless life," writes one of his European brethren, "is a great source of strength to us, as well as a good and healthy example to his flock." The statistical returns give the following numbers:—Native Communicants, 34; Adherents, 103; Adult Baptisms, 3.

Mr. Imam Shah writes:—

The congregation seems to be flourishing, although there have been some failings; but I am thankful to see true faith, brotherly love, and friendly feeling among the members of our congregation, both towards those of their own community and towards Hindus and Mohammedans.

Our principal work is to preach the Gospel to the heathen. This has been regularly carried on. The Hindu shrines and Sikh temples have been visited for this purpose. Some brethren among us visit people at their houses, and talk to them about the love of God, and about the grace of Christ. Many people hear the Gospel message in our book-shop, where, on some occasions, there have been some uproars and excitements; while others hear the Gospel message gladly and quietly, and delight to read our tracts.

The European Missionaries are the Rev. T. P. Hughes and the Rev. W. Jukes. Mr. Hughes was in England during the year 1878. From Mr. Jukes's Annual Letter the following very interesting extracts are subjoined:—

A young Afghan lad, an inquirer, who had been reading in our Mission school for some years, unfortunately had not made that advance which warranted us in keeping him any longer at our own expense. He wished to be baptized last year, with the other Afghan lad, the Saiyad about whom Mr. Hughes informed you last year. Not thinking him sufficiently acquainted with the saving truths of Christianity, we sent him down to the printing-press at Amritsar to learn compositor's work, and at the same time to receive Christian instruction. Early this year he received baptism at the hands of Mr. Clark.

Baptism of a faqir.

Another baptism was that of a Bengali of good family and education, of an ascetic turn of mind, who had for the last four or five years been trying to attain greater holiness by living the life of a faqir, and visiting all the Hindu holy places. Shocked with the amount of licentiousness and abominations everywhere tolerated under the cloak of religion, he sought refuge in Christianity. At last he found himself at Peshâwar. My acquaintance with him arose by his asking me in my house for a Bible, when his open face and tall commanding appearance told me at once that he was above the ordinary run of faqirs. He felt great difficulty in tearing himself away from the great kindness of his former friends. After some time, however, God gave him grace to make a bold confession before some of them. It is almost needless to say that it was the sign on their part for most determined and unqualified hatred and opposition. As we could find him no occupation here, the climate of Peshâwar disagreed with him, and we allowed him to carry out his own wish to go down to Lahore. His former roaming life has somewhat disqualified him for active Christian work, unless it be as a Christian faqir, in company with some one else, going about among his late co-religionists, leading them to the Saviour.

Conversion from Mohammedanism of a Native military officer.

But what has given greater satisfaction still is the fact that the late Subadar Dilawar Khan, the converted Afghan brigand (whose picture Mr. Hughes has so graphically portrayed in one of your recent numbers of the C.M. Intelligencer), though dead, lives in the hearts of many, and the seed he sowed so many years ago is now bringing forth fruit. He had immense influence in his regiment, which resulted in one or two of his fellow-countrymen receiving baptism, and which left a strong impression in the minds of many more. One of these latter, a Native officer, has for a long time wished publicly to renounce Islam, but did not like to do so until he had got his discharge, and had been placed on the pension-list. This stands in the way of his getting any further promotion; but, as he told me with a smile on his face, he will now be able to fulfil the desire he formed many years ago of receiving baptism, which his friend, Dilawar Khan, and all the missionaries who have been here for the last ten or fourteen years, have been pressing upon him. I sent him down to Lahore, and have just heard by post that Mr. Hooper has baptized him.

During the last year, our Hujra (guest-house) has been carrying on its Scriptural employment of hospitality, enabling us quietly of an evening, when all else is seeking repose, to place before our guests the simple truths of Christianity. The good which can be carried on in this way is incalculable. But in order to make it successful, there must be plenty of itineration.

There are many hopeful lads in the Mission school who seem to take a deep interest in my Bible classes; but leaving school, as they generally do, at an early age, the temptations of an independent life too often prove to be too strong for them, and their consciences become parched and dried up.—The Pathan Hostel, which we built last year for the accommodation of village lads attending the Mission school, is going on well. We were so flooded with applicants that we were obliged to make a rule to accept none who were not proficients in either Persian or Urdu.

Mr. Jukes's Annual Letter concludes with the following words:—

I trust that the Society will be prepared to send up missionaries to Cabul and Kafiristan so soon as [existing restrictions are withdrawn]; and that I may be permitted to be one of the pioneers, to proclaim the Gospel of our blessed Saviour in those regions. They also must be won for the kingdom of our Master.

Tentative Missionary visit to Jelâlabad.

Mr. Hughes returned to India early in the current year. On the 3rd of April, very shortly after reaching the Panjâb, Mr. Hughes wrote a letter to the Committee, dated Jelâlabad. He had ridden to that place without molestation, and had received friendly salutations from some of the inhabitants with whom he had been previously acquainted. He does not, however, consider the country to be as yet really open for evangelistic work.

KASHMIR.

Dr. Downes's Annual Letter is dated 15th November, 1878. He had been at Srinagar, the capital, from the beginning of May. Mr. Wade joined him in June. In August and September the minds of the Missionaries, indeed of the whole population, were so occupied with the terrible devastations of the famine, that the more proper work of the hospital was almost entirely suspended. In October there was a temporary relief, at first through an improvement in the administration of the Native Government, and afterwards through the ripening of the new rice crop. More recently, however, the famine seems to have returned with all its former severity. In the winter just concluded, the Mission has for the first time since its establishment, been allowed to remain in Kashmir during the cold season. Dr. Downes writes:—

I have been out a few days' march into the country. I wish I could speak of "fields ripe for the harvest." Alas! I only see depopulated villages, and a scanty, degraded Mohammedan population, oppressed by a superior Hindu community.—We still hold our own; and if we seem little able at present to influence these people for good, we can, at any rate, show ourselves to be their friends. I think we are regarded by many in this light.

SINDH.

KARACHI.

THE Rev. James Sheldon reports as follows:—

The Native congregation now numbers in all ninety members, being an increase of seventeen on last year's return, with thirty-seven communicants. This advance is owing to conversions, the good effects of which have been great. The congregation has been encouraged, especially the Christian women, who meet in much larger numbers at Mrs. Sheldon's weekly Bible readings. The attendance at the services has been more regular, and in increasing numbers, and a true spirit of devotion and liberality has been called forth. The receipts for religious objects from bonâ-fide Native Christian sources are nearly Rs. 400.

Conversion of a high caste Hindu.

The first of the converts was a Hindu of good caste and education, a native of Surat, but for several years a resident here. He is at present employed in the Telegraph Department of the S. P. and Delhi Railway on a fair salary, with excellent testimonials of service. He was first seriously influenced in favour of Christianity by one of our old scholars, who is still a Hindu—one convinced, but not converted. After passing through the usual probation of six months, he was publicly baptized on Easter Sunday, 1878. His Christian character since has been humble and consistent.—On Whit-Sunday, in the presence of a large congregation, and with the hearty good wishes and prayers of the whole Native Church, I baptized a Subadar of the police, his wife and child. His story is as follows.

Interesting conversion of a Subadar of the police.

Among the mixed population of Karachi is a small body of aboriginal Bhîls, in number not more than 340. These men originally came to the province about 1843, and were employed in the police. One of them rose steadily until he became Subadar, and has now retired upon a pension after thirty-four years' service. He is greatly respected by his people. His first drawings towards us he traces to a dream. From that moment he made up his mind to attend the mission church. When his regular attendance and devout manner indicated sincerity, he was encouraged to come to my New Testament readings after the daily morning service, and in due course was placed upon the list of our inquirers. Diligently, and day by day, he read with me the Gospel story, drinking in its precious truths, his whole face lighting up as the love of the Saviour grew upon him. He never seemed ashamed to acknowledge Christ, speaking of Him everywhere, and especially in his own family. His wife caught his spirit and became as earnest as her husband. At the Christmas following, the Subadar's brother, with wife, daughter, and daughter-in-law, were baptized. To the zeal, faithfulness, and consistency of the Subadar, all bear willing testimony. He gladly opens his house to receive inquirers, willing, for Christ's sake, to share his all with them. He gathers his neighbours around him for prayer; and he is now enduring persecution on account of his faith. All this is producing fruit. One of his intimate friends, a man of good caste and well to do, has asked for baptism. Others of our converts have shown the same spirit.

Causes which, in God's providence, have led to inquiry in southern and other parts of India, have also produced results here. During several months some 500 of the weaver class were in a state of semi-starvation, and were, through the Mission, provided with a daily supply of grain. Instruction was given to them by one of our Christian agents, himself a convert from Mohammedanism, whose heart was wonderfully drawn out towards them. He has frequently expressed a wish to live and die with these poor outcast people, could he only win them to Christ. Several of these families, through the liberality of his Highness the Rao of Cutch, were sent back to their own country, where we hope to obtain for them further Christian instruction. Those who remain here are willing to be taught by us in their homes.

Evangelistic efforts have been continued. At the central station, large crowds have assembled at the preaching week by week. The reports of all our Native agents are of an encouraging character. Occasional disturbances are candidly acknowledged, but, as a rule, the audiences are respectful and attentive.—In connexion with this branch 2200 books have been sold, which, with other sales, give a total of nearly 3000 actually sold. In addition to our usual agency, the Bible Society sanctioned the employment of a colporteur to distribute portions of the Gospels, in various languages, to the readers of the Native regiments passing through Karachi en route to Afghanistan. More than one thousand portions of God's Holy Word, besides a large number of tracts, have been disposed of. The men generally received the books gladly, and many of them, at their own request, were supplied with a catechism, giving a brief statement of our Christian faith. The good feeling of the Native officers and men afforded excellent opportunities to our evangelists to converse with them on the subject of religion.

Willingness of Native soldiers to converse on religious subjects and to receive Christian books.

The educational branch of our work comprises two schools for boys, and one for girls, with an aggregate attendance of 412 pupils. After a complete vernacular course in the preparatory school, boys are admitted into the Anglo-Vernacular School to learn English. Those who remain there long enough are sent up at last to the Bombay University Matriculation Examination. The object kept in view is to give a useful and solid training, based upon Scriptural principles, and to qualify those who pass through the whole course for the higher grades of Government and civil employment. After the inspection in October, the Rev. J. Bambridge took charge of the school, and has thrown himself most heartily into his work. At our suggestion he has resumed the matriculation class, which we hope will give, as it used to do, a status to the school. It will also induce the pupils of the upper standards to complete their course, and thus, when at an age capable of comprehending the evidences and deeper truths of Christianity, to continue their Scripture studies.

HYDRABAD.

The Rev. G. Shirt, who is at present alone at this station, writes:—

The Services in our little church are generally two on each Sunday. The one in the morning is followed by an address, intended to edify our few believers, though it is attended by others also. At the evening service, which is usually very well attended, there is an address to those who as yet "are without." Those of the latter class who habitually attend must gain a deeper knowledge of Christianity; and, by some of their acts they show a deeper appreciation of it; but hitherto it has ended here. The cross is not taken up, and therefore Christ is not followed.

Evangelistic Effort.—Early in the year we visited Tattah, a somewhat tumble-down old town, but formerly of great importance. It is still the head-quarters of an enterprising trading community. Years ago, when our brethren from Karachi visited it, they were ill-treated; we were kindly received, and guested the whole time we stayed. Thanks to the Karachi Mission school, under God, for this change.—Part of our hot weather vacation was spent at Mohammed Khan jo Tando; here we had good audiences, very little opposition, and an encouraging sale of tracts and books. Two men, who opposed us violently on our first visit eight years ago, were now attentive listeners to the Word.—In April last, the catechist and myself went to Sukkur by invitation to meet our honoured and beloved Bishop. We spent nearly a fortnight there and at Shikarpúr, preaching in company with Mr. Gordon; in both places we had good audiences, and a brisk sale of Christian literature. At the latter place a feast was given us by old pupils of the Mission school here—a feast which introduced us to a very respectable audience, for a moonlight address.—The opening of the Indus Valley State Railway gave us an opportunity of visiting Sehwan, Sarkano, and a second time Sukkur. At Sehwan we experienced much kindness from an old pupil of the school here; but the Mohammedan population gave us rather a hot reception. This we were prepared for, knowing that Satan reigns there, having his throne at the tomb of a Mohammedan saint named Lal Shahabaz, around which, dirt, drunkenness, immorality, and fanaticism gather thick and strong.—Sarkaar received us in the night, where we had constant preachings and conversations, followed by an increasing demand for our tracts and books; again and again we were pressed to return soon.—Our second visit to Sukkur lasted nearly a fortnight. We had very little opposition in our preaching; questions were frequently asked, but with two exceptions they were not in a cavilling spirit; our audiences were large, and a great number of tracts and books were sold.—We ought to have in Sindh one man who can devote himself to preaching in the different towns; but when Hydrabad has only one European missionary, what can he do? At the most he can only devote his school vacations to this work.

Schools.—The attendance in our English-teaching school has increased since last year; and for the last six months the missionary in charge has felt it his duty to spend five hours a day at this work, for he has a deep conviction that a Mission school without a missionary-hearted principal is a misnomer. Religious instruction is given in all the classes by the missionary himself, assisted by the catechist, who is a convert from Islam. The Girls' School has had the benefit of Mrs. Shirt's daily superintendence for the whole year. Among the seventy girls attending the school are a few daughters of very respectable Native gentlemen. The attendance at the Boys' Vernacular School has fallen off. Probably one cause of this has been the more systematic religious instruction which we have been able to introduce. We shall not banish it in order to secure a greater muster-roll.

Literary Effort.—An Arabic Sindhi edition of Sachi Sahmi has been prepared and published; and one of A.L.O.E.'s tracts has been translated, and is now in the press. It is hoped that this year (1879) may see others of them translated; for they are all well calculated to suit Native taste and to do good. The crowning work of the year in this department has been the completion of the New Testament in Sindhi. This work was begun by the Rev. A. Burn, and carried to the end of the Acts of the Apostles. After then being in abeyance for a few years, it was taken up by the Rev. C. W. Isenberg in 1867. He made a rough translation of the Epistle to the Romans, and the first Epistle to the Corinthians; sickness laid him aside in 1869; and in the following year death stayed his hand. After some time it was taken up by the present missionary, and, amidst many interruptions, has at last, with God's blessing, been brought to a conclusion.*

THE Committee are thankful that a PRÆPARANDI CLASS has once again been established; and they earnestly hope that the present effort will prove permanently successful. The Rev. W. R. Blackett writes under date 11th December, 1878:—

Bengal Preparandi Class.

The Preparandi Class has been carried on now since the beginning of April, and I am well satisfied, on the whole, with my seven pupils. The three juniors receive instruction, in the Training School, in history and geography, and (from Yakub, one of the seniors) in Bengali language and literature. They also attend the Training School when I give the lads of that school their lesson on the Articles twice a week. Besides, I have read with these same juniors St. Matthew, Genesis, and most of the Acts; and they have written for me an abstract of the books down to 1st Kings. In conjunction with the seniors, they have also read the greater part of the Bengali Introduction to the Bible; also a book on Hinduism contrasted with Christianity. I tried to find a similar book on Mohammedanism, but, as there is none, I have had to give them notes of my own on the subject, and let them write them from dictation. This is slow work for both teacher and pupils; but there is nothing else for it in the present dearth of suitable books. Besides the above-mentioned Introduction, the seniors have read with me the Epistle to the Hebrews, about forty of the Psalms, and ecclesiastical history nearly to the end of the second century. I have dwelt a little on the Gnostic and other heresies, finding them interesting to the men, and not without analogies in certain tendencies of thought in India. We have read also the Apostles' Creed, with explanations and proofs, and are now going through the Articles in some detail. We have also gone cursorily through the Prayer Book, and are taking up now the subject of sermons. On all these subjects I have to teach by dictation, and so we get over very little ground. But indeed I live from hand to mouth in the way of preparation, as I am only just able to help in advance. When there is a mela in the neighbourhood, I send my men out to preach, and take advantage of the time for preparation. Another year I shall hope to condense my notes and improve them in many ways.

I want to keep the juniors for two years at least, but to send out the seniors next April, at the end of one year. Our present three weeks' evangelization tour I regard as a not unimportant part of the training of the men. It enables me to gain more insight into the characters and qualifications of my pupils. It gives them practice in preaching and in answering objections. It also gives them some feeling of the amount of work to be done, the vast number of the heathen still untouched by any kind of evangelization.

Mr. Blackett adds:—

The Training School (for Schoolmasters) keeps up its former satisfactory state. The new class, admitted last April, turns out to be rather a promising one. Most of the boys are fairly clever, and, having had a little previous instruction while pupil-teachers, they are progressing well. But I feel that this institution wants far more attention than I can by any means give it.

The Committee have designated a Student from the Islington College to assist Mr. Blackett.

Cathedral Mission College.

Mr. Dyson (now Dr. Dyson), the Principal of the CATHEDRAL MISSION COLLEGE, left Calcutta on furlough on the 9th March, 1878. Dr. Baumann, one of the Missionary Professors, left for Europe on the 16th of the same month. Temporarily to fill this gap (which had been foreseen), the Parent Committee had appointed the Revs. Dr. Rudolf Hoernle and H. D. Williamson. Dr. Rudolf Hoernle had been formerly of the Benares Mission. At the time of his appointment to Calcutta he was in England, where he had been engaged for many months in linguistic studies bearing on missionary work. He reached Calcutta on the 31st January, 1878. Mr. Williamson, who had been designated for the Gond Mission, reached Calcutta in February, 1878. Mr. Hodgson, who had been similarly detained from the Jabalpur Mission in the preceding year, was also still at the College. Mr. Bell, one of the regular European staff, rejoined the College in January, 1879, after an absence of one year and eight months. Anticipating his arrival, Mr. Hodgson and Mr. Williamson proceeded to their respective Missions in the preceding November. In his Annual Letter, written towards the close of 1878, Dr. Hoernle, after mentioning these changes, writes :—

Another Professor (mainly to teach English and the Bible) is still required. There is no one who could be spared for the College from among the missionaries who are already in this country; and, unless some one is especially sent for the College from England, I fear there will be very considerable difficulties in the way of maintaining the College in its present condition.

In consequence of the departure of Messrs. Dyson and Baumann, it became also necessary to make a change in the constitution of the Native staff of professors. In the place of an assistant-professor of mathematics, who gave only half his time, a professor for the full time (five hours) was engaged to teach both philosophy and mathematics in the lower classes. He is a distinguished Christian graduate of this University, a former pupil of the College, and the son of one of the Society's agents in Calcutta. Being a Christian, he also takes a share in the religious instruction.

Since July a Theological Class has been added to the College. It is taught from six to eight o'clock every evening, except on Saturdays. The course includes instruction in Greek and Hebrew, Bible and Church history, Christian evidences and liturgies. Other subjects will be added gradually. The class is intended principally for Christian students, but others may also be admitted. At present the number of students is seven, all Christians. If Latin were added to the subjects of instruction, there is reason to believe that a few non-Christians might join, who take up Latin instead of Sanskrit for the University Examinations. At present there are difficulties in the way of this addition, but perhaps they may be removed after a time. The instructorial staff of the Theological Class consists, besides the European professors of the College, of Mr. Blumhardt of the C.M.S., and Mr. Ayerst, chaplain of Dumdum, who have placed the college under great obligations by their kind and gratuitous assistance. In conclusion, I may add that the instruction of this Theological Class is equally and heartily enjoyed by both students and professors. To the latter, especially, it is a welcome relief from the secular instruction which they must give in the other department of the College.

In other respects the routine of the College is carried on precisely as it has been under my predecessor, and which has been sufficiently explained in the Reports of previous years.

Native Christian Congregations.

The congregations, of Christ Church, which had no Native ordained Pastor during the year under review, of Kistapur, whose pastor is the Rev. Molam Biswas, of Bonhoogly, attended to by a catechist, and of Thakurpuker, under the care of the Rev. Râjkristo Bose, are all reported on by the Rev. E. K. Blumhardt, whose remarks on the state of the Native Christians show his deep solicitude for their spiritual advance and well-being. The whole number of Adherents attached to these congregations amounts to 646. Of these 208 are Communicants. In some of the congregations, no outlet is mentioned as having been found for the Christian activity of the people. If this be the case, it is the less to be wondered at that they seem to be mainly interested in seeking to promote the temporal welfare of themselves and their families. Bonhoogly appears to be the most striking exception, where the Christians are stated by Mr. Blumhardt to be far more advanced in self-support than any congregation with which he is acquainted in Bengal. It is to be lamented that there is no Native Church Council with which these congregations are connected. Nor does any one of them seem to have its own Church Committee. There is a periodical meeting of the Society's agents in Thakurpuker, which is, no doubt, a great help to its excellent and self-denying Native pastor; but it cannot be called a Church Committee, as it lacks the essential element of independent lay members. It may be necessary sometimes to place on Church Committees pious peasants or artisans. Such men, if unfit, may become fit by practice.

Of the congregations of Trinity Church in Amherst Street, and of Kidderpur, numbering respectively 311 and 240 Native Christians, and 140 and 86 Communicants, no reports have been received besides the statistical returns. From these it appears that seven adults were baptized in connexion with the Amherst Street congregation, and four with that of Kidderpur.

AGARPÂRA.

The statistics for the year 1878 give 159 Native Christian Adherents and 59 Communicants. The Rev. F. J. De Rozario has recently retired from the charge of this station. His long services and advancing years entitle him to some degree of repose. Mr. De Rozario will doubtless testify for the Master as long as his strength continues; but no definite work will be assigned to him by the Committee.

In his Annual Letter for 1878 Mr. De Rozario writes:—

Conversion of a Brahmin at Agarpâra.

In the beginning of the present year illness compelled me to go on leave for a change. The work was entrusted to two faithful and zealous Native catechists of long experience. The labours of one of them received a blessing in the conversion of a Brahmin young man, twenty-one years old, of a respectable family of this village. This young man was baptized on the 31st October last, after due probation and instruction, and after a firm resistance to the importunities of his parents and friends. The baptism took place in the church in the presence of some of his Hindu friends and of all the teachers and pupils of the English and Vernacular schools. After the convert had answered the first question, saying, "I renounce them all," I said, "If so, renounce in the presence of all the Hindus here, and of the congregation, the token and mark of Hinduism which you have been wearing." He readily removed from off his neck the Brahminical skein of cotton and handed it to me. We have had several Brahmin converts in former years from the villages round about us; but this is the first instance of a Brahmin of Agarpâra.

I may also mention that a Brahmin youth of our English school was, a few months back, baptized by the Rev. Mr. Rudra at Calcutta. The lad was from a village two miles from Agarpâra.

There are at Agarpâra, a Native Christian Girls' Boarding School, and an Orphanage, which, during the year 1878, were under the care of Miss H. J. Neele. The trials that these institutions had to pass through from the prevalence of sickness were referred to in the Report for 1877. Towards the close of 1878 Miss Neele wrote:—

At the beginning of the year I was myself laid aside by illness; and all our party were so debilitated by the fever, that, with the sanction of the Calcutta Committee, we took possession of the vacant mission-house at Bankûrah, the authorities of the E. I. Railway kindly taking the whole party at half-fares as far as Râniganj. This, with God's blessing, was the means of enabling them to shake off the fever which might otherwise have ruined their health for life. On our return home, work began again regularly, but with diminished numbers. The vacancies caused by death in the orphanage were soon filled up; but the greater proportion of the boarders feared to return, which is hardly to be wondered at. We have dispensed with the Pandit, as a constant teacher, he only taking two classes during the day. Miss Roy (a passed pupil of the Calcutta Normal School, and daughter of a former Native agent of the C.M.S.) very efficiently supplies his place in all the other classes.—Our out-station schools are going on much as usual. The attendance has, of course, been very much affected by the fever, but not quite so much as last year. The Bonhooghly school is, I trust, bringing forth real fruit, as one of the former pupils is very anxious to come here for further instruction before baptism. She is connected with one of the Christian families at Bonhooghly. There are also two other women of that neighbourhood very anxious for baptism. As I explained to these poor women, there may be cases in which it would be impossible for them to come out and be baptized; but if they make their wish known, and are prevented by husbands or fathers, God will take knowledge of the wish of their hearts.

KRISHNAGAR.

The Native Church of Krishnagar has been passing through a severe crisis. The policy now adopted for all the Society's Missions is that of calling into action the Native Christians as a community. In applying this principle to Krishnagar, more especially at the meeting of the Church Council, in Oct., 1877, Mr. Vaughan came into collision with the caste-prejudices still unhappily prevailing among the Christians. Deplorable ill-feeling, utterly abhorrent to Christian brotherly love, was shown by too many. The priests of Rome seized the opportunity, and strove to draw the converts into their own corrupt Church. Against these evils Mr. Vaughan contended earnestly, travelling unweariedly from village to village, and spending long hours at every place in energetic, faithful and loving remonstrance. A few of the more zealous Native Christians aided his efforts, especially an aged brother from Calcutta, whose remarkable conversion was reported a few years ago. The difficulties have now to a large extent passed away. The Bishop of Calcutta, recently visiting the district, confirmed large numbers of candidates, remonstrating with the dissentients, some of whom, however, still keep aloof. On the occasion of the last meeting of the Church Council in 1878, the Bollobpur church was crowded with devout worshippers. One hundred and twenty-two gathered round the table of the Lord; and amongst them was a goodly number of those who were, a year ago, regarded as outcast and vile. The efforts of the Romish priests have been entirely defeated. "I believe I am right in saying," writes Mr. Vaughan, October 28, 1878, "that the priests have not baptized half-a-dozen persons, though they insist on re-

baptism as a sine quâ non." The following extract from the same letter will be read with interest:—

Remarkable blessing on the faith and zeal of some Bengali peasants.

I will now show you one bright oasis in the Mission. That oasis is Joginda, the most northerly of our stations. I have told you before of a little knot of godly men there, simple day-labourers. Joginda has three dependent villages, and these devoted brethren spend their evenings in visiting and instructing the Christians of these villages. At Joginda the Jesuits failed to gain even a temporary footing. When, some two months ago, the priest presented himself there, these good men at once confronted him. "Sahib," said they, "pray what has led you to invade our fold?" "I have come," said he, "to make Christians." "What!" said they, "are we not Christians? are we not disciples of Christ? have we not been baptized in His name? We have got a pastor and a church of our own; we don't want you, and we won't have you; but if you really want to make Christians, go to the thousands of heathen around, who have never heard the Saviour's name." Hereupon the priest set off to another of our villages, but he found these faithful brethren at his heels; he tried another village, but, wherever he went, there they were. At last, in disgust, he beat a retreat. I may mention, in passing, that, aided by the liberality of that good man, Mr. Dudley Smith, I have been enabled to refurnish, and in various ways improve, the interior of all our central churches. (Already a more reverent demeanour of the congregations shows that such things, though very secondary, have a wholesome effect.) But the Joginda church calls for more than improvement; it demands enlargement. This is a novel necessity in the history of this Mission. All this is, under God, the fruit of the labours and prayers of those few godly men. They are strong in faith, and believe in prayer. I cannot withhold from you a beautiful and touching illustration of this fact. Nearly three months ago, a poor woman of Joginda, known to be utterly dark and indifferent, was dying. These faithful brethren did all they could to arouse her to spiritual concern. All seemed in vain. They then said to each other, "What can we do? we must not let her pass into eternity in this state." At once they resolved to spend a whole day in fasting and prayer for her awakening. They did this, and mark the result. That very night did the poor woman awake, as out of a deadly slumber; she began to cry for mercy and forgiveness through the blood of Jesus; and those brethren assured me with thankful joy, that they had every hope of her salvation.*

BURDWAN.

It has not yet been found possible to replace a Missionary at this once well-known station. Mr. Blumhardt, who,

* See also letters of the Rev. J. Vaughan, "C.M. Intelligencer," April, 1879.

during the year 1878, visited it from Calcutta, writes as follows:—

It grieves me to the heart to see this station lie almost waste, neglected, and forlorn. The congregation is very much the same that it was last year. I have visited it once a month, and tried to help the people; and though it is not much that I can do for them, I feel that still they are encouraged by my periodical visits.

Faith and perseverance of Native preachers under discouraging circumstances.

There are preachers stationed not only at Burdwan, but also at Râniganj and Bankûra. These have spent a large portion of their time during the past year in itineration, and from the accounts they give me, it would seem as though the fields were ripening for the harvest. Would that there were more labourers! I must confess that I have often felt put to shame by the earnestness these preachers show under discouragements. They always come back from their tours with rejoicing, and tell how God has been with them and inclined the hearts of the people to listen.

The Native Christians at Burdwan are ninety in number; thirty-seven of these being Communicants.

BHAGALPÛR.

The Rev. E. Droese is the Missionary of this station. The Native Adherents, including about 100 children in the Orphanage, number 373. Of these, twenty-six belong to the out-station of Sahibganj; and eighty-two to Jamalpur. Adverting to some disappointed hopes, Mr. Droese writes:—

Why does blessing seem sometimes to be withheld?

Ah! how often have missionaries found that as soon as they begin to write and speak about an interesting movement, then the thing comes to nought! Why is this so? O God! Thou knowest. Is it, perhaps, that, before giving an account of an accomplished fact in the kingdom of God, the missionary has commonly had to pass through such a chastening at the Lord's hand, that he can speak about his work without risk of being puffed up with vainglory?

SANTÂLIA.

The Rev. W. T. Storrs, who left India for England in February, 1879, gives the following general view of the work of the year:—

I dread writing, lest I should glorify myself, or attempt to do so. Not, indeed, that my year's work gives much scope for self-glorification. In several villages the people have seemed very hopeful, and still seem likely eventually to become Christians; but each man waits for another to take the lead, and all are afraid of the first great step. I confess, too, without any shame, that I have not made much effort to reach the heathen myself. My time has been mainly occupied in the most necessary work of trying to quicken the Native Church to more zeal and earnestness, and in preparing the candidates for ordination. I hope, however, that the ordination of these men for pastoral work will leave my brethren more free for the work of evangelization. We have had to exercise some severe discipline, but I think the effect has been most wholesome. In one or two instances I have been greatly grieved by obstinate carelessness, and in one or two cases by painful weakness; but in every instance I have seen some improvement. The attendance, at church on Sundays, and daily in their own village chapels, seems to have greatly improved. I can scarcely imagine anything more delightful than the genial kindness with which one is greeted in any Christian village when going in the evening to pay them a visit, or to join them in their simple village worship. But what I most long for I have not yet seen—and that is a return to the old earnestness in striving to bring kinsmen and neighbours within the fold of Christ.

There have been several touching instances of real piety among the people; but these I should not like to put on paper.

Santal candidates for ordination.

I have had immense pleasure in the preparation of the candidates for ordination. Their diligence was most praiseworthy. Two of them are the first two Santâls baptized in the Mission, viz. Bhim and Sido. They worked so hard that Bhim was ill for six weeks previous to his ordination, and I am sadly afraid that Sido has permanently injured his eyesight by incessant reading. The Bishop said that some of their papers were as good as, or better than, those of many English candidates.

During the year I have made the experiment (without putting the Society to any expense) of sending out earnest, though illiterate, men to preach among their countrymen. They have been men of middle age, and approved Christian character, and I thought, and still do think, that they were more likely to influence their fellow-countrymen than our young boy-like catechists. But I have no tangible results to record from this experiment.

The two candidates mentioned above, together with a third Santal Christian, received deacon's orders on the 30th of November, 1878, at Taljhari itself, the Bishop of Calcutta having kindly visited the place for that purpose.

GODDA was again, during the year 1878, under the charge of the Rev. A. Stark. Nineteen adults were baptized with their infant children. A falling off in the number of registered adherents is due to the transference of certain villages to the care of the Rev. Ram Châran, Native Pastor of CHUCHI. The number of Communicants has, notwithstanding, increased from ninety-seven to 115. The Bishop of Calcutta confirmed forty-eight candidates during the visit just referred to.

Two families of Pahâris (hill-men) were baptized on the day of the Confirmation, consisting of twelve souls. Mr. Stark earnestly begs, as Mr. Brown did last year, that a missionary may be sent to labour among the Pahâris. These tribes number about 500,000 persons. At the time when a Pahâri regiment was stationed at Bhâgalpur, efforts were made amongst them which resulted in the formation of a little Native Christian community. When the regiment broke up, the Pahâri Christians returned to their mountain homes. They did not manifest much zeal for the evangelization of their tribesmen; and those that still survive retain, with very few exceptions, nothing more than the name of Christians. The Committee will rejoice much if the Church at home enables them to send an Evangelist to labour among tribes that have attracted the interest of all missionaries who have come much in contact with them.

Opening amongst Hill tribes.

Mr. Stark has under his care eighteen village schools with 241 names on the books. Holy Scripture is carefully taught to all the children. In the boys' boarding school there are fifty inmates, and in the girls' boarding school twenty-eight.

The Rev. F. T. Cole has charge of the TALJHARI Schools, as well as of the new district of Dharmpur. Five adults, young men or boys sufficiently old to be baptized as adults, received baptism while inmates of the Boys' Boarding School. Two of these had been previously convinced of the truth of Christianity, and had come to the school to receive necessary further instruction.

In the DHARMPUR district, seven adults have been baptized by Mr. Cole, over all of whom he rejoiced, at the time of writing his Annual Letter, though with trembling.

Mr. J. Tunbridge, who has now gained some acquaintance with the language, has entered upon work at the new station of BHÂGÂYA. He writes:—

We found the Santals, as a rule, attentive and well-disposed, though very slow at taking in new ideas. In a few villages we met with a good deal of opposition. It generally came from the old men, or else from those in very flourishing circumstances. Arguments they have none. Excuses are plentiful enough. If their head-men are absent they say, "We cannot do anything without our chiefs." When these are present, then it is that their forefathers taught them to sacrifice to evil spirits, and that this custom has been handed on from generation to generation. Some, however, by their intelligent questions, show they are struck by the story of a Saviour's love for sinners.

Missionary difficulties in Santalia.

The present Hinduizing process, which is rapidly gaining ground in the Santal country, is by no means favourable to mission-work. The people are fast losing their national honesty and truthfulness, as well as their purity of morals. The head-men have, as a body, already become corrupt, and this has a very bad influence.*

BENÂRES.

Benâres Divinity School.

The Rev. H. M. M. Hackett, who was sent out towards the close of 1877 to initiate and take charge of a DIVINITY SCHOOL for the North-West Provinces, settled in Benâres early in 1878. His first work was to study the Urdu and Hindi languages, in which, however, he was partially interrupted by having for several months to superintend Jay Narain's College. On being relieved of this, the study of the languages and the consideration of arrangements for the proposed Divinity College were seriously taken in hand. After visiting the LAHORE DIVINITY SCHOOL, and consulting with its Principal (Mr. Hooper), Mr. Hackett felt that it would be better to postpone the formal opening of the Divinity School at Benâres for a year and a half. Meanwhile, he would perfect himself in the languages, and would, after the ensuing autumn, read privately with two or three students, if any should wish for such help. To Mr. Hackett's joy, he found Mr. Hooper quite disposed, after a few months' sojourn in Europe, to take up the work of the Benâres Divinity College. In this case Mr. Hooper would of course be the Principal, and Mr. Hackett would wish to be Mr. Hooper's coadjutor. May these plans be graciously prospered by the Lord of the Harvest!

For several months of the year 1878, Mr. Hackett took charge of JAY NARAYAN'S COLLEGE. He writes:—

Opening and alleging from the Scriptures that Jesus is the very Christ.

My work consisted of teaching English and Scripture to the entrance class, Scripture to a Hindi class, and the general supervision of the school. In the entrance class we had a daily average attendance of about twenty boys, and I never was more interested in a class in my life. They were all very eager to pass the entrance examination in the Calcutta University, in which Scriptural knowledge is not taken into account. After a little, however, some of them appeared to me to take actually more interest in the Scripture than in any of their other subjects. When I met with the objection that they did not believe the Bible to be the Word of God, I proposed that first the Hindus and Mussulmans should tell us what reasons they had for believing their books to be from God, and that then I should do the same for the Christians. They, however, referred me to their pandits and moulvies. My turn came next; and for about six months, till the school broke up in December, we discussed the arguments in favour of Christianity. I encouraged them to object and argue; and though occasionally a foolish thing was said, of which the speaker himself was thoroughly ashamed when its folly was pointed out, yet, as a rule, their objections were fairly argued. First we took up the Resurrection of Christ, and I gave them Paley's Arguments for Miracles, as applied to it, that the Apostles, the witnesses, were either deceived, or deceivers, or true. Then we took up the argument from prophecy, which occupied almost all the rest of the time, as each prophecy cited had to be closely examined. We then took up the moral character of the Bible, and all the ordinary, and some very extraordinary, objections were brought forward. At the end of the year I examined them on the subject, and was quite delighted with the amount which seemed to have stuck to them. I was very sorry to lose these boys, as some of them seemed very much in earnest in seeking after the truth. I invited them to come and see me in the afternoon whenever they could, and two or three have come to me since.

No Report has been received respecting the Native Christian Congregation in Benâres.

AZIMGARH.

The Missionary in charge of this station (Rev. B. H. Skelton) has resided during the year at Gorakpur, conducting the Mission at that station in the absence of the Rev. H. Stern. One of Mr. Skelton's predecessors had been led to commence building a somewhat large Mission Church; not at the expense of the general funds of the Society. It has proved a long and tedious task, but seems now at length on the verge of completion; and Mr. Skelton expresses his gratitude for help received from local friends. Meanwhile the Sunday services are conducted by the Native Christian head master of the Mission School. The congregation is very small, and is not increasing.

The School is fairly prospering in a secular point of view.

Mr. Skelton is of opinion that in some respects Azimgarh would be an especially suitable head-quarters for Missionary itineration.

JAUNPUR is now an out-station of Benâres.

GORAKPUR.

This station has been under the care of the Rev. B. H. Skelton. Nothing of special interest has occurred during the year. By the latest statistics the Native Adherents at Gorakpur itself and the village of Bashâratpur numbered respectively 375 and 568; and the Communicants 55 and 45.

ALLAHABAD.

Mr. G. H. Weber is now in charge of the Society's work at this station. The pastoral care of the Native Christians devolves, as before, on the Rev. D. Mohun.

Mr. Weber thus refers to the scene that met his view on his first arrival:—

A Native Christian village.

Our first introduction to the Christians and Christian village at Allahabad was on a Sunday morning, and it would be difficult to describe our feelings of pleasure and surprise at what seemed to come up so much more to our ideal of a little Christian settlement in this heathen land, than anything we had come across before. I need not stop to describe to you the pretty little church, the handsome school, the neat pastor's house, and the well-laid-out village, with its rows of well-kept houses—the whole imbedded in a mango-grove, and standing quite apart upon a prominent eminence.

During the larger portion of the year 1878, however, the Rev. Brocklesby Davis, Chairman of the N. W. Provinces Native Church Provincial Council, was the Society's Missionary at this station. He wrote immediately before his removal:—

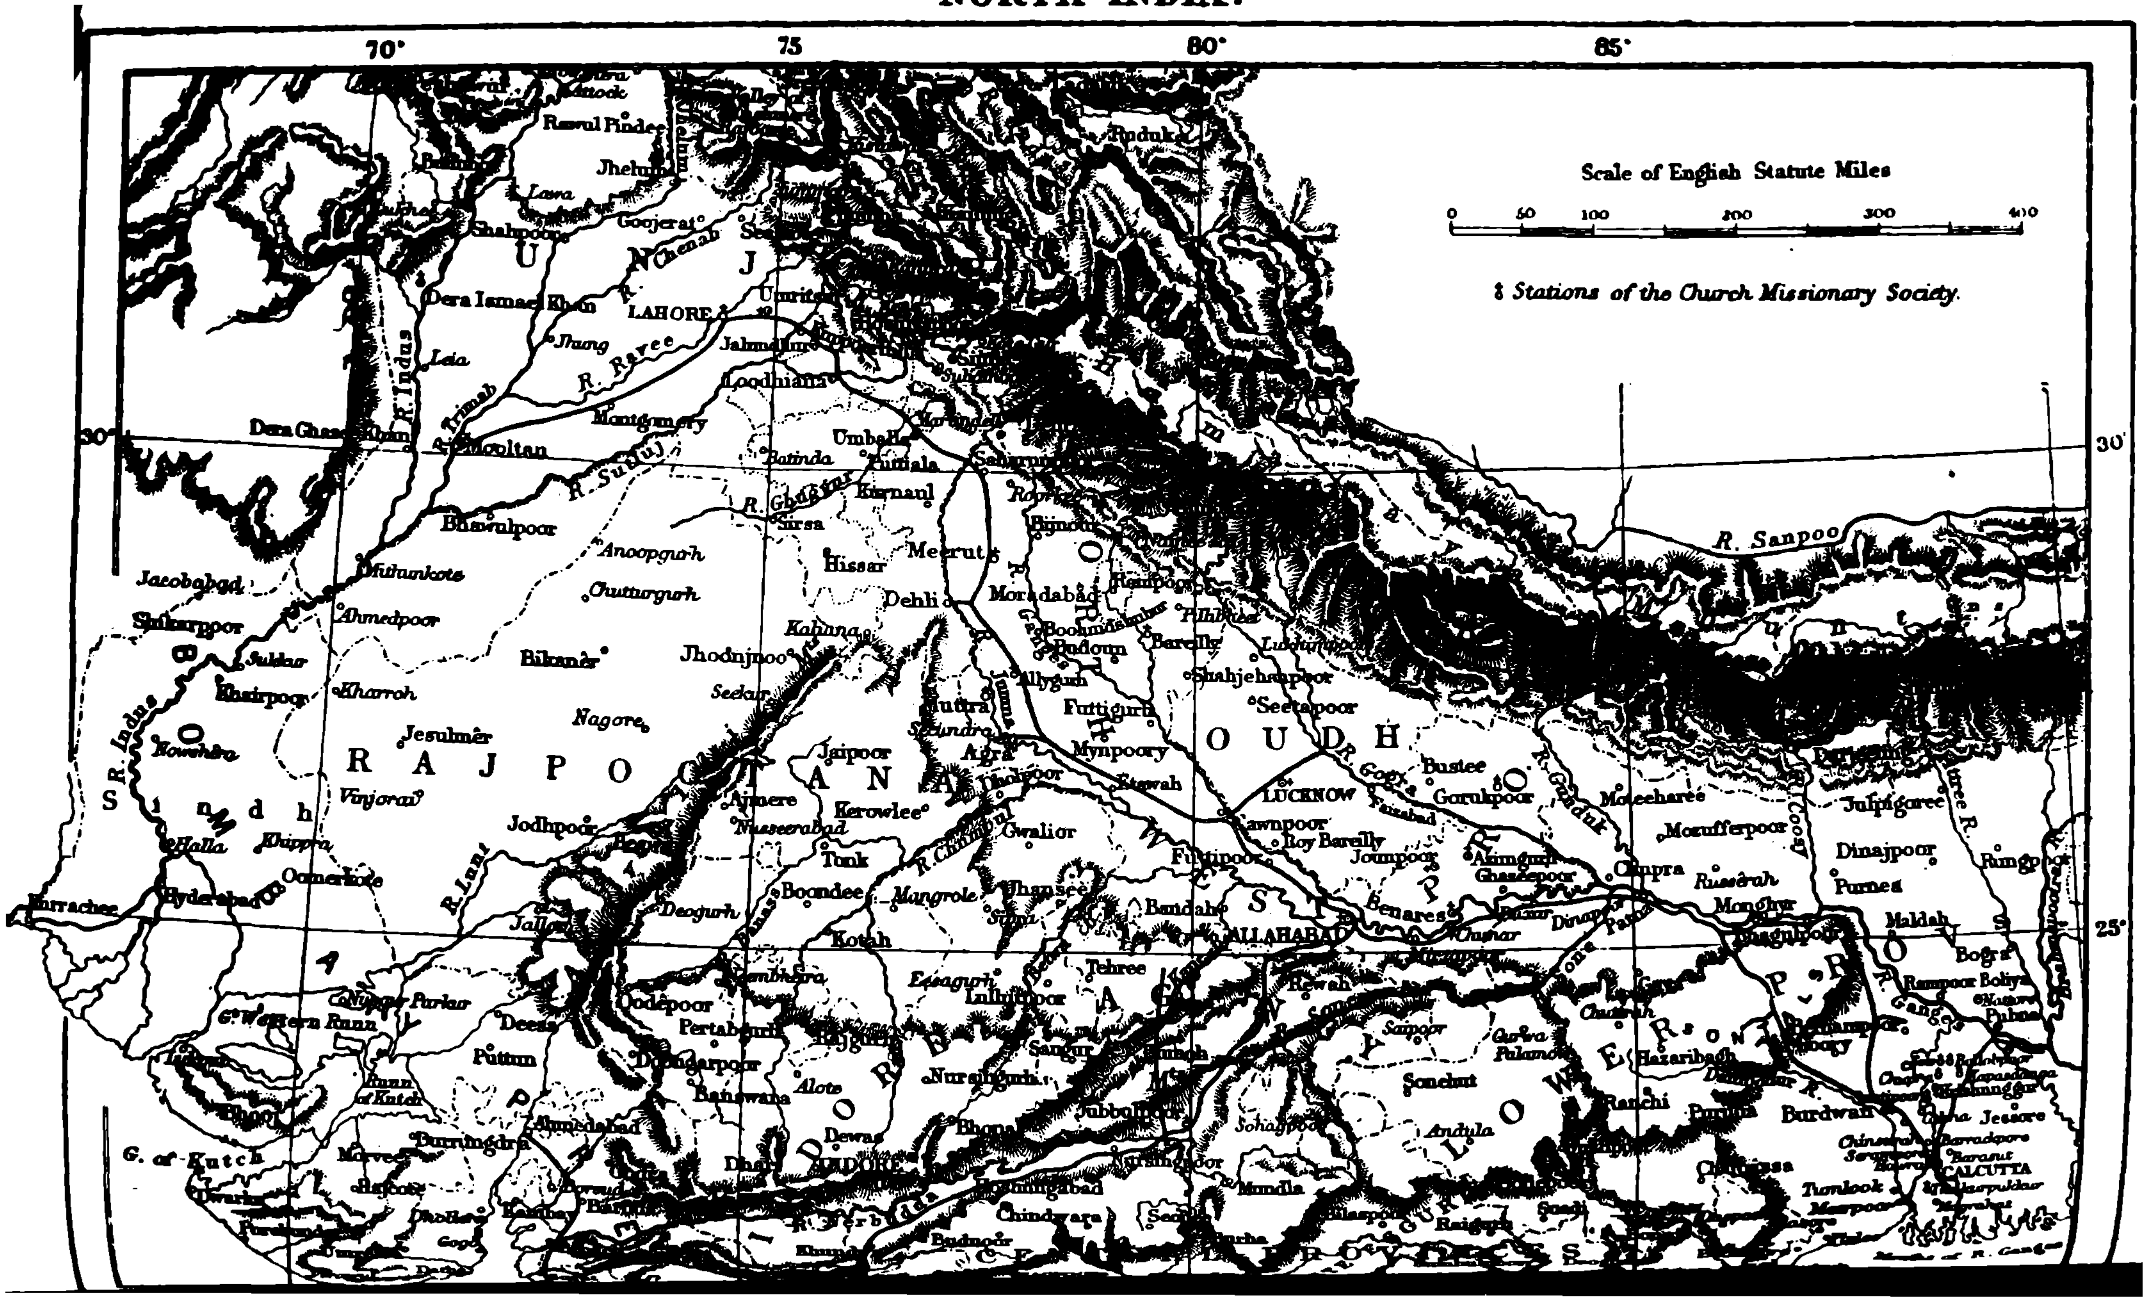

Our work for the past year went on satisfactorily during the part of it in which I was absent in England. Our college had diminished somewhat in numbers; but everything else appeared, on my return, much as I left it. Two women have been baptized during the year, one of them in my absence, but neither case seems to call for especial remark. I have had several inquirers since my return; of them we still have three men and two women, who profess to be seeking for the truth. I have some hope with respect to the men.

The statistical returns give 501 Adherents and 137 Communicants; a slight increase on those of the year preceding.

JABALPUR.

Whether from immigration or from the accession of inquirers, the number of Adherents at this station has increased from 135 to 159, the Communicants remaining the same as in the previous year, forty-five. The baptisms, adults and infants combined, have been thirteen. Mr. Champion writes:—

Thank God, though most unworthy, I have been permitted to admit four adults to the Church of Christ this year. It is true that they are not of the mighty or noble, one being butler and another maid-servant in the family of a gentleman in Jabalpur, and the others their son and his wife. Still they are people of weight and respectability in their station of life, and have as yet shown themselves consistent Christians. One feature in their case is peculiarly pleasing—namely, that their master and his daughter were very helpful in bringing about their final decision.

Our schools have not greatly prospered this year. The illness and death of one head-master, and delay and disappointment as to his successor—the necessity also of cutting down our expenditure, on account of straitened finances—has been against us.

Injurious consequences of delay in meeting an opportunity for extension.

The Committee have often expressed their deep sorrow at the circumstances that have for fifteen years hindered compliance with Mr. Champion's earnest entreaties for the commencement of work among the Gonds. At last it has been found possible not only to set Mr. Champion himself free for this work, but to associate with him in it a younger Missionary brother, the Rev. H. D. Williamson. But the following extract from Mr. Champion's Annual Letter shows that the delay has to all appearance been injurious positively as well as negatively:—

Years ago I might have been more confident, but now I confess to entering upon the work of the Gond Mission with a great amount of diffidence. Let the following incident point to some of the impediments to be overcome, and to the need of prompt action on our part. It must be more than ten years ago that I met a panda (Hinduizing Gond priest of Devi) and had a good deal of talk with him. In January last I met him again, and, in reply to a similar inquiry, he gave as one of his reasons for not making any change that the number of Gonds who became pandas and worshipped Devi was constantly increasing!

LUCKNOW.

The Missionaries in charge of this station during 1878 were the Rev. G. C. Daeuble and the Rev. G. B. Durrant. Mr. Daeuble, who left India for Europe in March, 1879, reports as follows:—

Our Native Church has, at last, its own pastor [Rev. D. Solomon], and is advancing in self-government. How happy is the nurse when she sees her child gaining in firmness and beginning to stand and walk alone! The less it requires her guiding and helping hand, the more she rejoices. Our people have held their first annual Christian Mela on the 9th November last, the second anniversary of the laying of the foundation stone of our new church, Zahuri Masih, i. e. Epiphany of Christ. The arrangements were all made by a sub-committee selected for the purpose by the Church Committee. It was very successful. In the evening the church was lighted up outside, in the Native fashion, with thousands of little oil-lamps—the style of building exactly suited for this purpose—and it looked exceedingly beautiful with its lines and circles of numberless little stars. May all the members of the Church shine as brightly as those little lamps did in the darkness!

Our Native Communicants number 132; the Native Adherents (including Catechumens) and their children, 317. One adult was baptized during the year.

Mr. Durrant, whose work has been almost exclusively evangelistic, has given a deeply interesting report, from which the following extracts are here subjoined :—

The Name of Jesus honoured among the heathen.

Quite apart from our existing Native Christian congregations, there is, as is confessed even by many who look coldly upon missionary work, a mighty work going on under the surface. I have been often struck with thankful wonderment, during my itinerating journeys, at meeting with so many examples of men impressed with the conviction that the Christian religion is, after all, the true one, and destined ultimately to triumph everywhere. I have met with well-educated young men, who, on many of the great questions connected with the existence of God, and man's relationship to Him, showed the most painful flippancy; and yet, when they had occasion to speak of the Divine Founder of our religion, it was with hushed voice and reverent demeanour that they uttered the name "Jesus Christ," their whole manner betokening their secret conviction that they were now on ground specially holy. Numbers of such persons are scattered up and down through the whole country; a large proportion of them have been educated in our Mission-schools and Colleges.

As regards bazaar-preaching; the Word of God is regularly preached from week to week at five different places in the city. The audiences, as usual, vary in size and also in temper, being now attentive and quiet, and now again noisy and controversial.

A new feature in our work during the past year was the commencement of a series of lectures in English, specially intended for educated Bengali Babus. Several were delivered, and the attendance was very encouraging.

In July last, I was enabled, through the kind help of friends in England, to open a new out-station. The funds of the Society were at that time in a very depressed condition; but friends at home most generously came to my assistance, and supplied me with the means of supporting a catechist.

FAIZABAD.

The Rev. J. P. Ellwood is still at this station. The Native Christian Adherents have increased from seventy-eight to 129, and the Communicants from twenty-nine to forty-five. This advance in numbers is independent of that which arises from the connexion with Faizabad of the out-station of Basti, formerly attached to Gorakpur. The Adherents at Basti number twenty-five, and the Communicants seventeen.

Three Adults were baptized in connexion with Faizabad during the year. Mr. Ellwood writes:—

Our little church [the material edifice] is complete, and nothing is now wanting, humanly speaking, that could be desired. The Native Christians are many of them true followers of the Lord Jesus Christ. There is a bond of Christian brotherhood amongst them which I hope may long continue. Many of the Eurasian bandsmen of the 2nd Native Infantry have been induced during the year to attend the services more regularly with their families. The men have now all gone to the Cabul campaign; but from time to time they write to their families, and always wish to be remembered to the brethren in Faizabad. We have missionary meetings every three months, when the brethren working in the out-stations give some account of their work before the congregation. In March the Lord Bishop of Calcutta held a confirmation in the Mission church. This was an occasion of great interest, being the first time, as the Native Christians remarked, that a confirmation has been held in the Faizabad Mission. Seventeen candidates were presented.

The book-stall is still doing a useful work, and the new book-shop in the city is nearly ready for use. A good colporteur has also been secured. A large number of religious books, chiefly vernacular, have been sold during the year.

Conversion of a Hindu controversial opponent.

The bazaar-preaching has been carried on as usual. At some of our preaching-stations we always find an attentive congregation, and in others the opposition has very much decreased. In a former report I referred to the opposition raised against us by a Mohammedan and a Hindu preacher in the bazaar. We were agreeably surprised to see the Hindu preacher, during the last Mela, stand up on the very spot on which he had opposed us, and preach Christ to the people. It appears his conscience being aroused, he left Faizabad, and was ultimately brought to Christ through the instrumentality of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Mansell, American missionaries at Gonda. The truth now comes out. He and the Mohammedan preacher were paid by a number of Babus to annoy us at all our preaching-stations; but the Hindu felt he could go on no longer opposing what he saw to be the truth. Thus the devices of the enemies of God are made subservient to the working of His power.

The Faizabad district is a fine field for itinerating. The people generally welcome us, and in many cases visit our encampment to hear something more. On revisiting a village, we find that a friendly feeling is shown towards us. The winter months are spent in visiting village after village, our tents being pitched in the same place for three or four days at a time. "Since you Christians came to this part of the country," said an old Mohammedan woman one day to us, "our teachers have taught us to give up idolatrous customs, but it was not so before you came."

Public preaching at a Hindu Mela.

Anand Masih, our catechist, is still carrying on the work in Ajudhya. Two large Melas take place every year in Ajudhya. At such seasons we muster all the force we can command. Our last Mela took place at the beginning of November. Mr. Baumann kindly came up from Benares, and brought three catechists with him; Mr. Skelton sent three catechists from Gorakpur—making in all thirteen preachers and one colporteur. Besides this, the Rev. Mr. Mansell, of the American Methodist Mission, brought with him two catechists and two colporteurs, and joined his forces with ours. A large square tent was pitched just on the spot where the crowd is wont to pass, capable of admitting about 150 people comfortably. The plan answered admirably. Sometimes there were upwards of 200 people patiently listening, and seldom less than a hundred. The preaching began early in the morning, and was continued till evening for three days, each man taking his turn for half an hour. There seemed to be more interest exhibited by the pilgrims than usual. Several stayed two or three hours to listen to and converse with us. If only this work could be followed up by seeking out these inquirers, it would prove a blessing. But it is difficult to hit upon a plan for reaching men whose whereabouts it is almost impossible to determine.

The preaching has been carried on as usual in Akbarpur by Peter Wazir, an old catechist. There are several large towns in the district, which he visits regularly.

Sultanpur is a station of much promise; but, alas! yielding no immediate fruit to our labours. At the bazaar-preaching the people listen willingly; and many Native gentlemen welcome a friendly visit, and are not offended when religious topics are introduced. The Native reading-room is always at our service, if required for a lecture to the Babus; and we always find a goodly assembly at such times. In fact, Christianity is considered a respectable religion, and worthy of a hearing; but further they do not advance.

There are five Christian families in connexion with the congregation in Pertabghar; three of them are farmers, and reside about ten miles off, on the Allahabad road. They often come in for Divine Service, and the catechist visits them at stated seasons. The service is held in the house of a Native Christian of respectable standing in the Government office. He is always ready to help us, and to welcome the Native brethren to his house.

The Basti Mission was made over to me by the Rev. H. Stern of Gorakpur at the beginning of April. Since that time I have visited it regularly every two months. The catechist, who studied for a time at Lahore College, is a very intelligent young man, and has a very nice way in dealing with Natives generally, especially with Native Christians. There are a hundred scholars in the boys' school, and it is in a very fair condition. The head-master is a good Christian young man, and is generally liked by the boys and teachers.

Mrs. Ellwood still continues to carry on her work in the Zenana Schools, and in visiting the Zenanas. For some time many of the Zenanas have been closed against her, on account of a trial which took place in Lucknow, touching a Bengali widow who wished to become a Christian. They show, however, a tendency to receive her visits again.

Prejudice is rife, especially amongst Mohammedans; and we are persuaded, from varied experiences, that much of the prejudice to Christianity is national more than religious. We are looked upon as foreigners, bringing a foreign religion with us, which without us might, in many cases, be more acceptable to them.

AGRA.

The Rev. C. E. Vines, Senior Missionary at this station, is in weak health, and was absent in the hills during five months of the year; but his long experience and other high qualifications as a Missionary give great value to the efforts that he has been able to make. In reference to the statistics for 1877, Mr. Vines observes :—

A remark is made in the last Annual Report on the larger numbers of Native Adherents and Communicants as compared with the previous year. The number of Adherents there given as 353 should be 313; and the increase is due in great measure to the inclusion of the lads of the Normal school and the girls of the boarding-school in the congregation.

The statistics for 1878, for Agra and Mattra combined, are 316 Native Christians and 107 Communicants. Two adults only have been baptized during the year. Mr. Vines reports on the work of the year as follows :—

Our Christian community has been growing in the power of self-government, though not to the same extent in Christian graces. Our meetings in connexion with the Native Missionary Association have not latterly been so interesting or so well attended. The congregational collections have also apparently fallen off. This has been in part due to the scarcity and sickness prevailing during the past two years.—An evening administration of the Holy Communion has been introduced. It is now administered once a month in the morning and once in the evening. I consider an evening administration specially suitable for India. It also strikes at the root of the superstitious notion some are spreading in India that the Holy Communion should be taken fasting.

The work amongst the Chamars (leather-workers) is spreading. Another man has been engaged to work amongst them. Many of them, although not professedly Christians, would, I believe, be correctly styled adherents.

The Christian Girls' Boarding-school for the North-West Provinces has flourished, under many disadvantages. The number of boarders has been on the average twenty-seven, and the fees realized over Rs. 900. Part of this sum has been given by English friends in India; but I find that the girls' parents have paid nearly Rs. 700. We have had still more blessed signs of this work prospering in the appearances of spiritual life amongst the children. Most of them, however, are at present very young.—The Bazaar Schools have made progress. Amidst fever and death Miss Ellwanger has struggled on undauntedly. It is also a proof of prejudice overcome that we can now bring the girls to our compound, and let them, and the ladies who witness, breathe a pure atmosphere, while hymns are sung and prizes distributed.—The Zenana work has also prospered. Many more Zenanas are opened. In thirty houses at least the Word of God and His message of love regularly find an entrance.

Passing now to the work which we have been permitted to carry on at our out-stations—the chief matters of remark in connexion with Mattra are:—the return of the Rev. Madho Ram to the care of the congregation, which was so many years in his charge before his short residence in Agra; the introduction of Christian teachers into the school in place of the Mohammedan Munshi and Hindu Pandit; and the greater care bestowed on the five Christian lads in the school, irrespective of their original caste. These last measures have diminished the numbers attending the school, but are certainly a move in the right direction.—We again have a catechist at Binderaban. He is an old man, but can work in the hot weather when others fail. He has found encouragement, and seekers after truth, even in this ancient seat of superstition.—For a great part of the year Ferozabad, Tûndla, and Etmadpûr were without a resident catechist.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE, AGRA, has had to struggle with many difficulties during the past year. It has not yet decisively regained that recognition and support from the Government to which, on the principles of the Educational Despatch of 1854, it would seem entitled. The Principal is the Rev. J. A. Lloyd, who writes as follows:—

The work of St. John's College has gone on during the year as usual in regard to its management and reading. There has been no case of a boy changing his religion for our faith amongst those present with us. There has, however, been, I feel, much real earnest thought about Christianity, and a deep interest undoubtedly felt in the religious teaching, which has made us, as teachers, thankful and full of hope.—The Haileybury College regularly sends out money to be used in some special way, generally to support a Christian lecturer. Mr. Vines, not being able, in the latter part of the year, to get any one to lecture publicly, gave me a portion of the money with the understanding that I should have a "Haileybury teacher." I gave one of our Christian masters this appointment, and he each fortnight gives written addresses to the upper English-speaking classes. One of these boys expressed a wish to see the lecturer privately, and afterwards brought a request from his brother that we should go to his house, when he would assemble his friends. They have named Sunday as a day which suited them best, most of them being clerks. I hope to be able to have this in my own house soon.—There has been for the last two years a scheme for giving theological scholarships to boys reading in the school department in the North-West Provinces and Oude. Three were to be earned by mission and three by non-mission schools. Of the first three, our boys gained the two highest; and out of the non-mission three, an old Johnian, now reading in the Government College, gained one. —In the matriculation or "entrance class" this year, half the number of the students—viz. I believe twelve—are Christians, nearly all being members of Mr. Wright's Normal School. I am glad to add, moreover, that the majority of them are in the upper part of the class.

No report has been received of the Schoolmasters' Training College. It is under the care of Mr. A. H. Wright.

In the prospect of an early visit to England, Mr. Vines thus describes the progress made at Agra during sixteen years:—

Growth of independence in a Native Christian Church.

The Agra Christian congregation, when I reached India, had no Native pastor, no trace of independence. It has now an almost independent organization, the missionary chairman of its Church Committee being the only controlling element on behalf of the Society. It collects and distributes its own funds, and has its own missionary association.—There was one centre where the Chamar caste was taught. There are now fifteen. A Bible-woman is also just appointed to teach the women among them.—We could get no girls to school. We have now from forty to fifty Zenana houses open, two ladies working in Zenanas, and one in the Bazaar schools. We have our Christian boarding-school under two young English ladies, containing girls whose parents are willing to pay for them. —The College is flourishing again under Mr. Lloyd; and Mr. Wright has a large Normal School.

There have been also other, though few, yet sure, tokens of the inward workings of His grace. He has gathered some to Himself; some remain. The workers change, but the Lord changeth not, and in trust and faith I and my dear wife hope one day to find that our labour has not been in vain in the Lord, that "sowing in tears, we shall reap in joy."

ALIGARH.

The work at this station, and at Soron, is under the charge of the Rev. J. Stuart. The Native Christian Adherents number fifty-six, of whom twenty are Communicants. Mr. Stuart writes:—

Baptisms at Soron.

I had two or three interesting baptisms at Soron during the past year—one an old man, with whom I was somewhat struck. Multum in parvo would be the best definition of his theological attainments; for he seemed to know little but one thing, and on this point he was immovable—"I am most certain that Jesus Christ is my Saviour"—very much like, "One thing I know, that whereas I was blind, now I see." Another of the party was a fine young fellow of the Sweeper caste. In my special remarks to himself, just before baptism, he thought I was suggesting that, after his baptism, he would probably disdain his old calling and wish to become a "Mûnshi." He stretched out his arm, as if his hand still held the scavenger's broom, and with a semi-circular movement, as if engaged in his calling, declared that his baptism was not with any earthly ulterior object, and that he would continue his old employment to the end.

We have had many inquirers this year—several of them, I think, perfectly sincere. Earthly difficulties alone stood between them and immediate baptism. Home readers may not be able to fully appreciate the force of this argument as we, alas! can.

The openings for preaching in this Mission are boundless; the audiences generally large, and, I might almost say, always most attentive and respectful. Last night, in the bazaar, the crowd of earnest faces was somewhat remarkable. We still adhere to the plan of occupying the bazaar for an hour or so after dark.

MÎRAT (MEERUT).

The Rev. Hermann Hoernle is the Missionary of this station. There is also a Native Pastor, the Rev. D. Jeremy. Mr. Hoernle writes:—

The Mîrat congregations consist of two rather different classes of people: 1. Converts from heathenism and Mohammedanism, and the children of such converts: 2. Eurasians, small pensioners of government, and others who claim to be of mixed descent. People of this latter class differ very little, if at all, from pure natives. The males know more or less of English, but not the females, with few exceptions.

Since my arrival here it has been my constant endeavour to give effect to the policy of the Society in trying to make the Native Christians here more and more self-supporting, and more and more independent of foreign aid, and of the help of the European Missionary. In this I was only treading in the footsteps of my revered father, who had already introduced the pastorate, established the Church Committee, and taught the Christian duty of subscribing according to their means to the Church fund.

There have been during the year 6 adult baptisms, 5 men and 1 woman, and 32 infant baptisms. Of the adults, 5 were Hindus and 1 Mohammedan. Several of them are relations of Christians at Ikla, and they have evidently been induced by their intercourse with them to throw in their lot with them, and to join their God and their religion, let us hope with a sincere conviction of the truth of the Gospel. The Mohammedan is a man who reads and writes, and is able to do the work of a munshi or clerk; and so we managed to get him employment in an engineer's office. At present I believe he has returned to his home. We have several inquirers, and I hope, if it be God's will, we shall be enabled to baptize some of them soon.

The preaching of the Gospel to the heathen has been regularly continued by the catechists and readers, who go out as far as possible daily at stated times to preach the Gospel in the streets of the town and its surroundings. Also an itinerating tour was made by us during the cold weather to inspect our out-stations, to visit Christians living here and there scattered abroad, and to preach in the outlying villages and small towns.—I have also commenced an Evangelistic open-air service on Wednesday evenings. We have chosen three convenient places in Mîrat, so situated that crowds can assemble without obstructing the traffic, and where there is space enough to put up a small tent open on all sides. Here we assemble, readers and catechists as well as the Christian teachers in the schools, taking each place in an established order. The preaching commences a little before sunset, and continues for about three hours. The Christian boys living in the boarding-school help the preaching by singing of hymns. Thus far we have always had large numbers to hear us. The singing is evidently a great attraction. Under the protection of the dark shades of the evening, when our tent is lighted up by our lamps only, many persons have been seen such as from their rank and position would never approach in daytime.

I have begun this year to make a regular visitation of all the villages round about Mîrat, situated at the distance of between three and four miles from the centre. Once a week I go out with one or two men, to visit one of these villages. We leave, as early morning breaks, in a carriage, so as to get along as rapidly as possible as far as there is a high road. Then we go across fields or country roads to the village we propose to visit. Having arrived there, we collect as many of the villagers as can be got together, generally between thirty and fifty men, besides women who may be listening inside their houses. To these we proclaim our message, and have some friendly talk. We are thus gradually becoming acquainted with all the villages lying close to us.

In the Anglo-Vernacular High School about 300 boys are instructed. This school has a Native head-master, son of Pastor Jeremy, who is assisted by myself. He is much liked by the pupils, and is a very popular man in Mîrat generally. We have day schools at Kanka Khera and Malyana for Christian boys and girls, the Christian girls and infants' school in the Mission compound here, and the Zenana school in the city for heathen girls. The boarding-school for Christian boys proves to be more and more useful.

ANNFIELD, DEHRA DÛN.

The Missionary of this station is the Rev. C. T. Hoernle, assisted by a Native Pastor, the Rev. J. Richards. In the Christian colony at Annfield there was among a small section of the people a momentary recurrence, through the persuasion of heathen neighbours, to idolatrous practices. The rest of the community, however, stood firm, and put a stop to the evil, at least outwardly. Mr. Hoernle adds:—

Reception of fifty converts from heathenism.

The Annfield congregation is steadily growing, in number at any rate, though less so in spiritual life and godly conversation. At the close of 1877, the distress and sufferings, consequent on the scarcity and high prices of all sorts of provisions, compelled many among the poorer classes to leave their homes in search of food and life. Some fifty of these came to Annfield, where they found ready reception and help in Christian families. Attracted by the Christian sympathy which they found, they remained here, after the distress had subsided, finding sufficient employment in the Christian cultivators' fields, and in the adjoining tea plantations. Some relief work had been provided for them during the period of the hardest pressure in January and February of that year, by means of the timely help afforded from the C.M.S.'s Famine Fund. On visiting Annfield in November, 1878, I found them housed in cattle-sheds and grass-huts erected by themselves, and working for their bread. The time had come for a decision. Assembled before the members of the Panchayat and other witnesses, they were given to understand that, though joining the Christian congregation for good would be best for their eternal welfare, they were at liberty to act in these matters at their own wish. It was explained that the mere change of religion would bring no temporal advantages; they must earn their bread by labour. All without exception declared that their faith was in Christ for the salvation of their souls, and that their minds were made up to remain at Annfield, and henceforth to live and work as Christians. After due preparation the first party, consisting of twelve persons (men, women, and children), was baptized on January 12th, 1879; and sixteen more on the 19th January. The rest (sixteen or eighteen), still under instruction, will be baptized, God willing, in a week or two, the whole number being about forty-six. This accession has increased the number of souls in our Christian colony to 418. The new members are, most of them, steady and hopeful. My joy at this encouragement at the close of my missionary ministry is not unmixed with fear; but my hope and trust is in Him who is the Author of man's faith, and also its Finisher.

The evangelistic branch, on the Massuri and Landour hills, was continued throughout the season. Many of the poor Pahâris (hill-men) have repeatedly heard the old, but ever new and sweet, story. Useful little tracts, given to such as could read, have found their way into their secluded homes.—Visits have also been paid to the villages of the Dûn round about Annfield. The people always receive us kindly, and hear the Word of God willingly. That, after all, we were not allowed to gather in a larger amount of fruit causes me the most poignant sorrow.

MADRAS AND SOUTH-INDIA MISSION.

Madras, commenced 1814; Travancore and Cochin, 1816; Tinnevelly, 1817; Telugu Mission, 1841.

General.

The South-India Mission has suffered bereavements during the past year which will long be keenly felt. David Fenn, the beloved Secretary of the Mission; Henry Baker, of Travancore, the apostle of the Hill Arrians; William Ellington, and Ann Sharkey, of the Telugu Mission, the latter so well known for her admirable Girls' Boarding School; have all been removed by death. "They rest from their labours, and their works do follow them." But the Lord liveth, and is with His people still; and blessing has been vouchsafed in a yet larger measure than in the years gone by.

I. Madras.

Native Christian Congregations.

The Native Christian congregations attached to the Society in Madras, are divided into two pastorates, termed respectively the Southern and Northern. The Pastor of the former is a brother whose name is now well known in this country, the Rev. W. T. Sattianâdhan. The Northern Pastor is the Rev. V. Simeon. The pecuniary expenses of these pastorates, including, of course, the pastors' salaries, are met from a Native Church Fund, formed at present in nearly equal measure by contributions from Native Christians and by a grant from the general funds of the Society.

The following extracts from the last Annual Report of the Native Church Council will be read with interest:—

Notice by Madras Native Church Council of Mr. Sattianâdhan's visit to England.

One event which has happened during the past year deserves notice,—we mean the visit of the Chairman, the Rev. W. T. Sattianâdhan, to England. At the kind invitation of the Parent Committee of the C.M. Society, Mr. and Mrs. Sattianâdhan left for England in March last; and after a sojourn of six months in that very interesting country, they safely returned to Madras at the close of November last. The Council cannot but cherish the hope that their visit to England, as the first representatives of the Native Church of the C.M. Society in Southern India, and their advocacy of the great cause of Indian Missions, will have had the effect of awakening or deepening the interest of many English Christians in the Indian Church, and that they will be permitted to labour long in the Lord's vineyard with redoubled zeal and devotion as the result of their visit to that highly favoured country. During Mr. Sattianâdhan's absence for nearly nine months, the Rev. V. Simeon acted as Chairman of the N.C. Council. Under the general supervision of the late Rev. D. Fenn, the affairs of the Southern Pastorate and all the religious services connected therewith were conducted by the Rev. J. Cornelius, assisted by catechist Surgunam, and several leading lay members of the congregations.

The four congregations comprising the two Pastorates are to a great extent composed of people who have come from different parts of the country for education, employment, &c. When their object has been accomplished, many of them leave Madras for different spheres of usefulness in the country. But notwithstanding this drawback, the numerical strength of the two Pastorates is not diminished. On the contrary, there is a gradual increase. In connexion with the Southern Pastorate, 15 persons were at the close of the year admitted into the church by baptism from heathenism, and two by reception from Romanism. Most of these were famine children under the training of Mr. A. Andrews, a useful member of the congregation at John Pereira's, who conducts a school of his own.—The contributions have again fallen off slightly. The famine and consequent high prices, the departure of some members from the city, and the absence of Mr. Sattianâdhan from the Southern Pastorate for the greater part of the year, were some of the causes which have led to this result.

The statistics of the two Pastorates may be summarized as follows:—The number of adherents is 864, against 834 in the previous year; Communicants 426 against 411; those who are able to read, 563 against 522; the number of baptisms is 34, of whom 12 are adults. In the two Pastorates the aggregate income of the year is Rs. 1,503-5-0, and the sum paid to the Native Church Council is Rs. 1,118-15-3.

The Rev. V. Simeon thus writes of a fresh evangelistic effort contemplated by himself and members of his flock:—

Proposal to establish a second Lecture Hall in Madras, supported by Native Christians.

In Madras, lectures are delivered in English to educated Hindus. Many are induced to attend in order to learn new things and to improve themselves in English style; but I believe that such lectures will prove useful to the spiritual welfare of some of them. I now propose to open a lecture-hall, in which a lecture shall be delivered every month in the Tamil language for the benefit of educated Hindus. Lectures delivered to Hindus in their own language are likely to influence their thoughts and feelings very strongly. I have already chosen a building for this purpose, but there is some difficulty in getting it. There are men competent to deliver such lectures, both in my congregation as well as among my friends.

HARRIS SCHOOL AND MOHAMMEDAN MISSION.

The Rev. E. Sell returned to Madras in the close of 1877. His reception at the Harris School is thus described by his colleague, the Rev. M. G. Goldsmith:—

On December 19th, 1877, we gladly welcomed back Sell, whose reception by the teachers and boys was quite of a triumphal character. An arch was erected of bamboo, &c., over the outer school-gate, a hearty address of welcome delivered, and a breakfast of Mohammedan delicacies provided. This was in Christmas holiday time. School re-opened, under Sell's charge, on January 21st.

Mr. Sell himself writes:—

Though I cannot say that I have one scholar who is anxious about his soul, all being what would be called good Mussulmans, yet I do think there is a deeper sense of right and wrong, more truthfulness, and, generally speaking, a better moral tone. This is something, for I am sure that the utter deadening of the moral sense is a great obstacle to evangelizing work. Mr. Goldsmith kindly gives me eight hours a week in the Scripture classes. This enables us to reach all boys who can read either English or Hindustani. Our Bible teaching naturally keeps away a great number of boys, probably as many as we get. Amongst those who remain, prejudice is certainly softening; and, though some scarcely conceal their contempt, others take an apparent interest in the new facts and truths brought before their minds. In our 4th Class (6th being the highest) two boys studied the whole of the prescribed subjects for the Peter Cator Prize Examination, for knowledge of Holy Scripture, and have both gained certificates. The subjects were not being read in that class, and I knew nothing of their intention until a few weeks before the examination. When compared with the state of things a few years ago, it is a good sign when Mussulman lads will study God's Word privately, for an examination which leads to no preferment in a temporal sense. It is a step, too, which requires more moral courage in a Mussulman boy than might be supposed.

Mohammedan youths studying Holy Scripture.

You may remember that some two years ago a Khandani Class was started here under the patronage of Lady Anna Gore Langton. The term Khandani is applied to all descendants of Wallajah, hence it is equal to the term "a noble." As a separate school, the scheme has collapsed. A few Khandani lads remain in the Harris School, and are called Gore Langton Scholars.

We send up a few boys for matriculation this year. I wish there were more, for the expenditure of strength and money is practically as much for a small class as a large one. In the present state of the Mussulman community, however, any great increase is not to be expected. But the Harris School exists for higher aims than merely scholastic ones.

The number of Scholars in the Harris School is 108.

Mr. Goldsmith, besides assisting Mr. Sell, endeavours to gain access to the Mohammedans generally. Some of these efforts are described in the subjoined extracts from his Annual Letter:—

In January I delivered an English lecture on Islam, to Hindus, in the Chintadrepettah Lecture Hall. Some Mohammedans were present, and were rather excited over some of the remarks made. They threatened to reply to it, and borrowed my manuscript for the purpose; but their reply has never appeared—nor my manuscript!

In May we were enlivened by the presence of some Bengal Mussulmans, who had come here on famine duty in the medical service. One especially had a remarkable knowledge of Scripture, and a very friendly and pleasant manner. They were lodging all together in a house in the Narsingapûram district of Madras, where we had several discussions. My hopes with some of these as well as with other Mohammedans are often chilled by their making remarks which they know to be untrue, and which thus prove their insincerity. Their arguments, too, are, as I tell them, such as lead to downright scepticism, and must eventually sap their faith in the Koran, quite as much as their faith in our holy books. The fact is, they are very hard pressed now; and their only refuge is to declare that we have corrupted our books, and that therefore they are unreliable. The great proof of this is that Mohammed resolutely asserted that he was foretold in the Bible; as, therefore, we have no mention of him in our Bible, our Bible is evidently corrupted! There are, it need scarcely be said, many arguments in defence, which we ply patiently and constantly; and day by day we seek for more light from Heaven. Amongst the poor and ignorant there may be earnest thoughts of God even under Islam, but my experience of the Maulavis and educated men is sad. Some of their doctrines are quite enough to cut the roots of all true piety. Man's salvation is made to depend on the caprice of God; and many stories are current of how religious men have been condemned to hell, and profligates rewarded with heaven.

Controversies with Mohammedans.

In the end of June, Dr. Van Someren sent me away for a three months' change. I went to Bangalore. This is a great Mohammedan centre; and there is a large Mussulman population throughout the Mysore province, of which it is the capital. The total number is 208,991, of whom 58,485 are in and around Bangalore. I was able to spend much time in intercourse with them, and found them very vigorous against Christianity. No missionary society has hitherto made direct effort for bringing them to Christ. Some profitable discussions and conversations were held. Very little is done for the great Mohammedan populations of Mysore. The W.M.S. and L.M.S. have active and faithful labourers in the province; but their energies are devoted to the Canarese population, which gives them more work even now than they can thoroughly occupy. They gave me the right hand of fellowship, and seemed glad that any one should come to talk to the Mohammedans. I should much like to see our C.M.S. undertaking this field.

Opening for fresh work among Mohammedans.

There are other large fields for Mohammedan evangelistic work unoccupied. In Madras itself there are the hundreds of Labi Mohammedans, who talk Tamil, but write it in Arabic character, and who are untouched, I fear, by Tamil labourers. There are whole villages also of them in Tinnevelly, I believe, where they keep themselves aloof from Hindus and Christians. Might not something be done for them? In the Telugu country there are numerous Mohammedans, and still more in the Nizam's dominions, which border on our C.M.S. territory.

MADRAS ITINERANCY.

The Society's work in the country districts adjoining Madras, in the Collectorate of Chinglepat, has been for some years designated the Madras Itinerancy. The congregations comprise between 500 and 600 Native Christians. No Annual Letter has been received from the Missionary in charge.

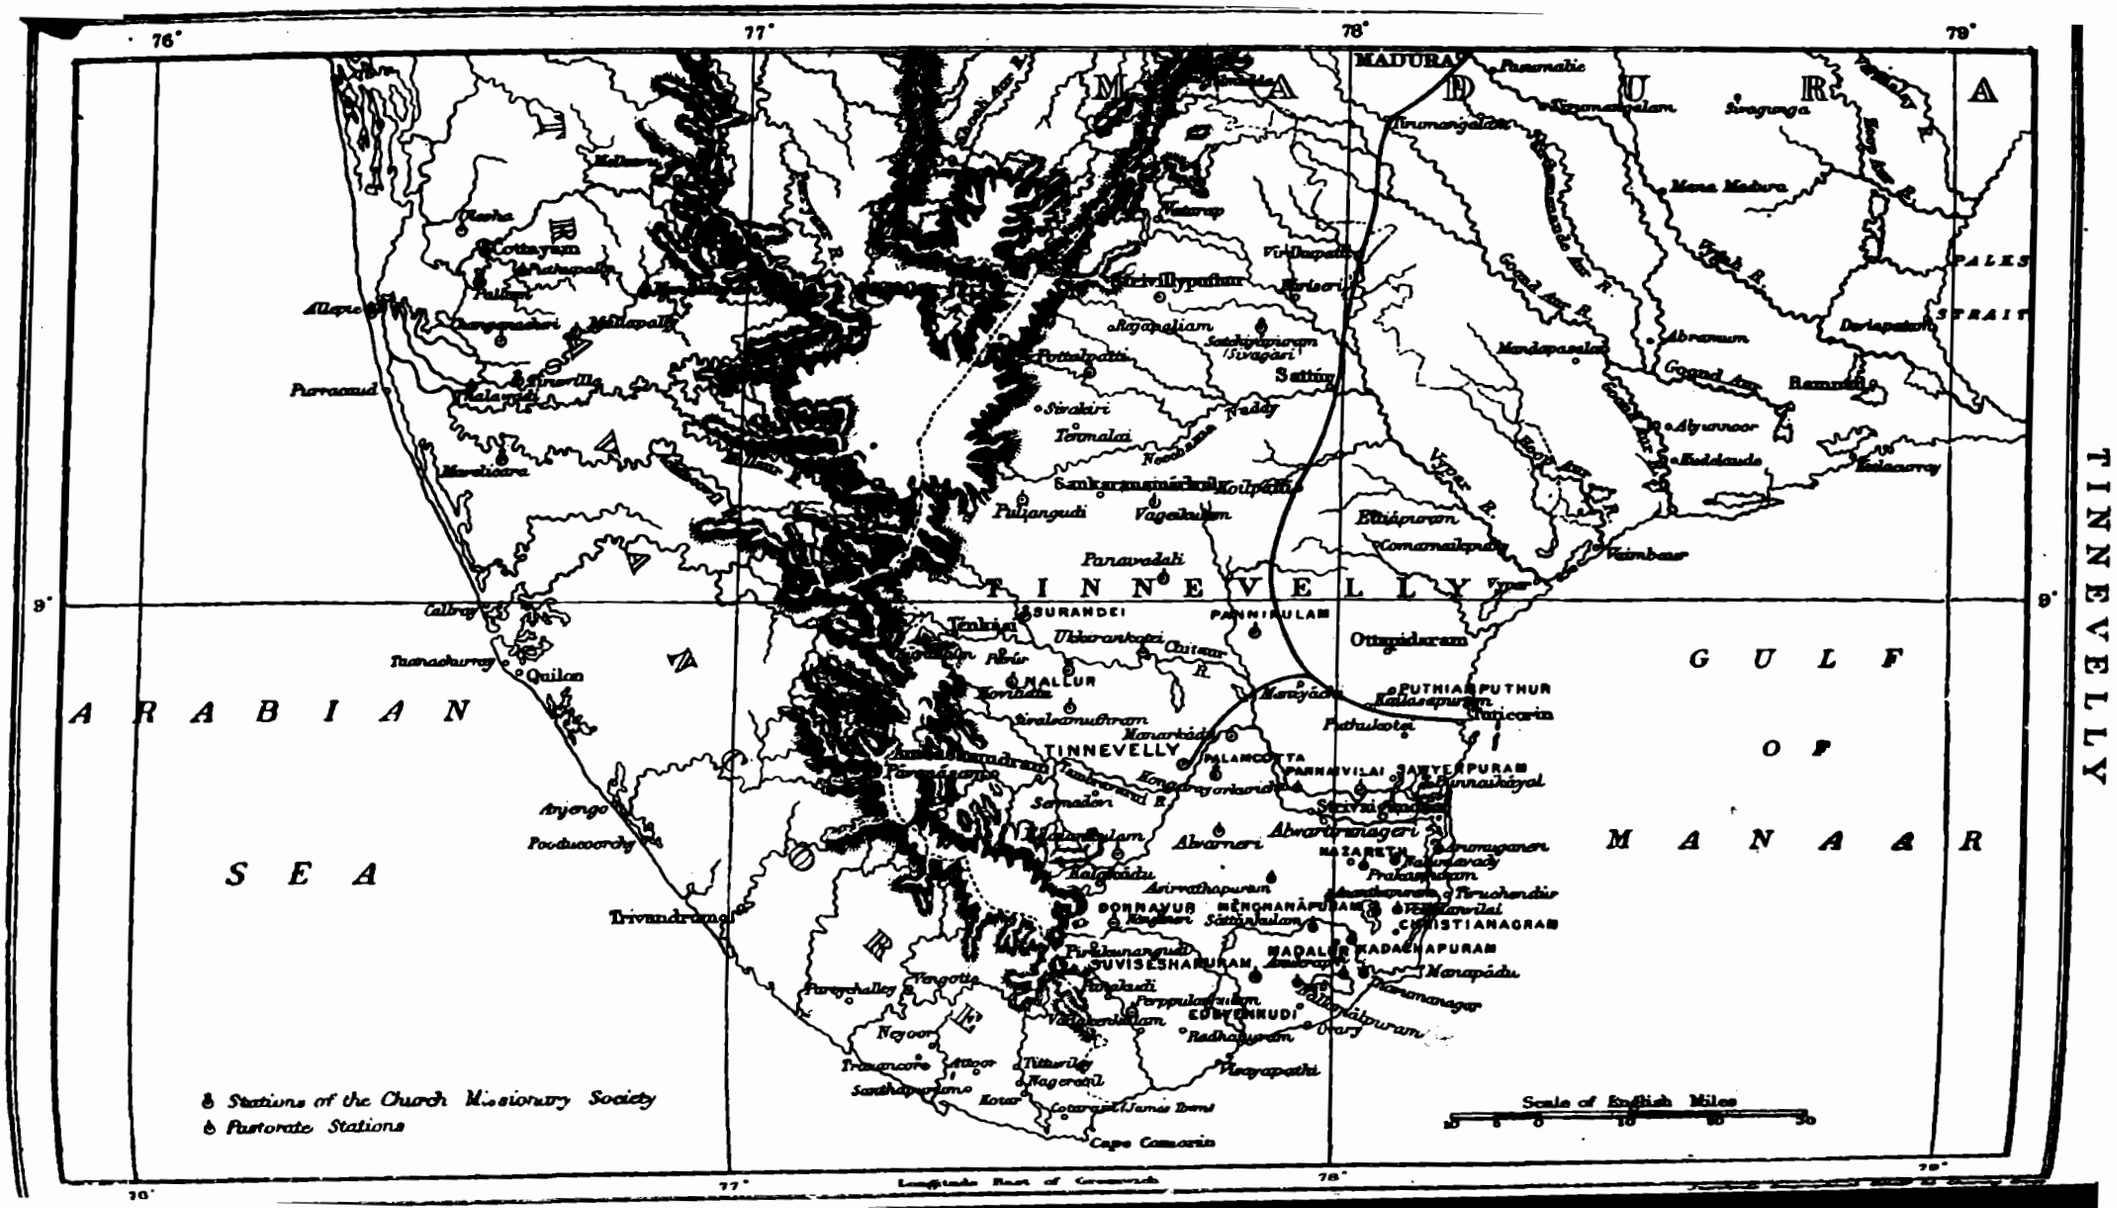

II. Tinnevelly.

The Mission is divided into 10 districts, viz. 1, Palamcotta; 2, Mengnânapuram; 3, Dohnavur; 4, Paneivilei; 5, Pannikullam; 6, Nallur; 7, Surandei; 8, Nallammalpuram; 9, Suvisêshapuram; 10, Sivagâsi.

Large accession from the heathen in Tinnevelly.

THE most conspicuous event of the year in South India has been the large accession from heathenism in the Tinnevelly districts. It will be remembered that the famine of 1877 was more severe in the districts connected with the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel than in those connected with the Church Missionary Society, and that consequently the relief given in the former districts was larger. This exhibition of Christian charity produced a profound impression on the heathen, and, coupled with special evangelistic efforts, made by private Native Christians, as well as by the agents of that Mission, led to upwards of 20,000 asking for Christian instruction. At the last anniversary the Committee expressed their strong hopes that the favourable effects of that impulse would extend to the Society's districts also. They now humbly thank God that such has been the case. More than fifteen thousand heathen have applied to Bishop Sargent, or to the Native Clergymen whom he superintends, for instruction with a view to admission into the visible Church of Christ. Several hundreds have already received baptism. The Native Church also, no longer, as in former days, dependent on a large staff of resident European missionaries, has been enabled, in God's great mercy, to come nobly forward in meeting the emergency. Three hundred and ninety unpaid labourers, some of them women, from a community of less than 40,000 baptized persons, have voluntarily offered themselves to labour among their inquiring and still heathen countrymen. In reference to this movement Bishop Sargent writes :—

These 389 voluntary helpers give at the most one day, or part of a day, in each week, to go among the heathen, and speak or preach to them. Some of them go oftener. In some places a small subscription is made to defray the expenses of lights, where the preaching is conducted by night. Now I regard this movement not only by its results on the heathen, but by its results on the men's own minds. It must do them good. In every chief congregation there is an evening set apart for social prayer meeting, when these men narrate the incidents of their last efforts. In fact, in all that I see happening around me, I hardly know which to prefer in my thankfulness—the influx of so many heathen to receive Christian teaching, or the rousing up of our slumbering converts to a sense of their duty to the heathen.

The statistical returns are made up in South India for the year ending September 30th, and therefore do not include all the inquirers above referred to, many of them having come forward subsequent to that date.

The returns for PALAMCOTTA district are, 7505 Adherents, 1230 Native Communicants, 23 Native Spiritual Agents, and 192 Adult Baptisms. The corresponding numbers for the preceding year were 6032; 1218; and 61.

The statistics of SURANDEI give the following numbers: Adherents, 3141; Communicants, 586; Native Spiritual Agents, 15; and Adult Baptisms, 28. The corresponding numbers for the preceding year were 2696; 583; 13; and 10.

The PANNEIVILEI statistics are: Adherents, 4569; Communicants, 521; Native Spiritual Agents, 14; and Adult Baptisms, 175. For the preceding year, 2500; 552; 13; and 30.

PANNIKULLAM: Adherents, 3292; Communicants, 630; Native Spiritual Agents, 16; and Adult Baptisms, 43. For the preceding year, 2573; 597; 18; and 25.

NALLUR: Adherents, 3451; Communicants, 487; Native Spiritual Agents, 14; and Adult Baptisms, 72. For the preceding year, 2835; 493; 15; and 20.

NALLAMMALPURAM: Adherents, 1777; Communicants, 413; Native Spiritual Agents, 6; and Adult Baptisms, 2. For the preceding year, 1646; 398; 7; and 3.

SUVISÊSHAPURAM: Adherents, 2714; Communicants, 353; Native Spiritual Agents, 9; and Adult Baptisms, 9. For the preceding year, 1846; 336; 6; and 10.

MENGNÂNAPURAM: Adherents, 16,270; Communicants, 2807; Native Spiritual Agents, 51; and Adult Baptisms, 162. For the preceding year, 11,359; 2700; 49; and 107.

It will be observed from the statistics given above that the largest district in Tinnevelly is that of Mengnânapuram. It may be taken as a very fair type of the larger part of the Tinnevelly Mission and Native Church generally, especially in the southern districts. This thought will give additional interest to the following extract from the Madras Church Missionary Record:—

It is the custom of each Church Council to have a yearly meeting, and to lay a statement of the general progress of the district before the whole body of Christians in the district. On this day, at Mengnanapuram, little less than 2000 Native Christians assembled together to hear how God's work had been progressing in their midst; and as the hymn of praise rolled forth from the whole congregation in full and hearty melody, cold indeed would have been the heart that did not thank God and take courage for all He had accomplished in the midst of a land once wholly given to idolatry. The Report which we subjoin speaks for itself. It is a translation of a composition drawn up entirely by Native Agents. [Extracts only are here given.]

Annual Report of Mengnanapuram Native Church Council.

Through the mercy of our God we have just passed through another year and have entered upon a new one. . . . . .

(I.) Congregations.—We all know in how very many places the Gospel vine has been newly planted during the past year. We hope that the time is advancing when it will cover the whole of this province, and the fruits of righteousness be seen on all sides. True we have been brought into closer antagonism with Romanism than heretofore, but we are glad to observe that our people generally have a great dislike to the corrupt practices which are paraded before them.—Although the severe famine that afflicted the land has not yet quite passed away, yet we are thankful to say that the majority of our people have not grown weary in their charity. Some have given even more than they were accustomed to give. But there are two or three congregations that have fallen short in this matter. We hope they will try to remove this defect during the present year.—Family Prayers are conducted in more families than in former years. Some of the parents teach their children Scripture lessons at their homes.—Attendance at the services of the Church is becoming more regular and reverential.—Many have heartily devoted themselves to preach the gospel to the heathen. We are sorry, however, to observe that up to this time our sisters have not, except in some very few cases, been bold enough to go to other villages and tell their sisters about the preciousness of Jesus the Saviour. We would remind them that a little captive damsel from the land of Israel was the cause of the cure of the leprosy of Naaman.—The heathen are daily becoming better acquainted with the nature of our religion. During this year upwards of 2700 have joined the Church in this district [as Catechumens], some of whom were once persecutors of Christians.

(II.) Schools. There are 103 Village Day Schools in the district, containing 2221 boys and 1448 girls. Ninety schoolmasters, 39 school-mistresses and 17 catechists give instruction to these children. The Native Pastors weekly examine the school children in Scripture lessons and impart needful instruction. Three inspecting masters examine these schools monthly. The Government have so raised the tests of examination that few children can now succeed. Our result grants are expected to reach hardly one-fifth of the amount gained last year. Schools have been established in the newly formed congregations. Wherever our religion gains a footing there education and civilization begin to flourish.

(III.) Building of Churches.—The building of substantial Christian churches is a manifest proof that the religion of Christ has been firmly established in this land. Such durable churches are numerous, and are increasing yearly in the district.

(IV.) Special Events.—In the last year's report it was mentioned that six men were set apart for the holy ministry. These men and three Deacons, after passing a fair examination under persons appointed by the Bishop, were ordained on the 22nd September, 1878. The heart-searching and touching address given by the Bishop on the previous evening must have made a deep impression on the minds of the newly ordained men.

(V.) Church Committees.—These have been established during the year in every Pastorate with fair promise of being really useful.

Resolutions having been spoken to and unanimously adopted, bearing on the duty of self-support, and expressing kindly feeling towards Bishop Sargent and the Parent Committee, Bishop Sargent observed that the past year was a new era in the Missions of Tinnevelly, and he hoped the accessions to the Church would progress and strengthen week by week. Our successes, however, entailed responsibility and increased exertion. He would therefore like in this assembly to say a few words to those who voluntarily went among the heathen with the message of salvation. Would all such being present stand up? 124 men stood up. The Bishop then spoke to them of the advantages which they held above paid agents. The service they performed had no remuneration from the Society; but the work itself was the best of pay and the master they had to look to was the loving Lord Jesus. After they had sat down, the Bishop asked if there were none others who desired to follow the good example of these men in the numerous villages around? Thirty-eight men then stood up and offered themselves to join the ranks of voluntary agents to the heathen. The Bishop welcomed these fresh volunteers, but added, it could not be that this good work should be confined to the men, had the women no share to take in so good a work? Seven women then stood up and offered to do what they could in their respective neighbourhoods. The Bishop encouraged them with suitable advice to persevere in this good work—as sometimes women can effect more than men, for even when our Lord was on earth, His twelve disciples went into the village of Samaria and came bringing no one with them to the Master, but the woman went there, and brought out the whole village.

Referring to Mr. W. C. Jones's munificent gift, and its application to Tinnevelly, Bishop Sargent writes :—

Mr. Jones' princely offering has filled the minds of our people with wonder, admiration, and praise. I mean that they wonder at and admire the grace bestowed upon the man, and they praise God for His favour to His Church in this heathen land. Above all it has struck us how very opportunely this gift has been placed at the disposal of the C.M.S. We have had unwonted accessions from the heathen, and now unwonted means of meeting our wants have been providentially raised up for us. This is the Lord's doing.

Education.

The Rev. A. H. Lash is Principal of the SARAH TUCKER INSTITUTION. He writes as follows :—

A change in the Government Grant Rules has obliged us to divide the institution into two distinct departments, under separate staffs of teachers. The Normal Department contains only girls who have passed all the Result Standard Examinations; the remainder of the pupils form the Practising School. We have at present fifty-eight students in the Normal Department, and sixty-one pupils in the Practising School. Besides these there are twenty-one day-scholars, of whom eight are Eurasian girls. The latter class (recently established) is a great boon to some of the Eurasian residents of Palamcotta. Its expense will not fall on the Society, being met by fees, Government grants, and, if necessary, special subscriptions.—In the last Government examination for teachers, our seventeen candidates all passed in the first class of their respective grades. In the higher grade three of our girls headed the list. Out of twenty candidates for this grade from the city of Madras, only two passed in the first-class. —In the examination by H.M. Inspector of Schools in teaching power, all the students obtained first-class certificates.

With regard to the spiritual state of the students, especially of the elder girls, we have much cause for thankfulness; their conduct has been almost everything we could desire; they are diligent, affectionate, and truthful; they seem to delight in religious exercises, and have frequent private meetings for prayer among themselves.—Several of our young teachers also have shown an earnest desire to promote the salvation of others. One employed her holidays in labouring among the women of the village in which her father is a pastor: she instituted Bible readings and prayer-meetings, and secured an attendance of twenty-five women, who came regularly to be instructed by her. As another instance of the same kind, I may mention that the student who came out highest in the Government Certificate Examination has lately married a wealthy widower—one like-minded with herself. When service is over on Sundays, she holds a Bible-class of all the women who can read in the congregation. Twenty-five women attend regularly. On weekday evenings she gathers the women together in different houses, and goes from house to house in the village, holding prayer-meetings and Bible-readings.

Voluntary efforts of Native Christian educated young women.

In the Branch Schools attached to the Sarah Tucker Institution, there has been in the numbers attending during the year a slight falling off. This has been occasioned by the still remaining effects of the famine, and perhaps still more by the floods—several schools near the river being washed away, and the vicinity rendered unhealthy. The discontinuance of the Government Capitation Grant has also had an unfavourable effect. Three new schools have been opened—two in North Tinnevelly—which promise well. The impossibility of procuring suitable teachers has prevented us from opening more. The teachers have worked well during the year.

Usborne Memorial School.—The foundation stone of this School was laid by Mr. R. K. Puckle, C.I.E., on the 2nd of March, 1878. It is a School in Palamcotta for Hindu girls, and is named after the Misses Usborne, who, during their lifetime, were munificent benefactors to the cause of female education in the Tinnevelly Province. It was intended to serve also as a hall for the delivery of public lectures. It was opened on the 4th of November, 1878; and the series of lectures was inaugurated by Bishop Sargent, who gave a most interesting account of his visit to Pompeii. The collector of the district, J. B. Pennington, Esq., presided; and there was a good attendance of Natives and Europeans. During the month, lectures were delivered by Bishop Caldwell, the Rev. H. Schaffter, and myself. The attendance was large, ranging from 100 to 160 persons. All the leading Native gentlemen of the place, many of them Brahmins, attended. A small fee is charged, which defrays all expenses, and leaves a margin, which is expended in the purchase of newspapers and periodicals. During the day the room is occupied by the girls, of whom there are 100 on the roll, with from seventy to eighty in average attendance; the numbers, however, are increasing, and as there is a Brahmin quarter of the town close by, we hope, by degrees, to have a good number of Brahmin girls. On Saturday evenings the room is used for religious meetings, to which all are invited; addresses are given, and discussion encouraged. The attendance at these meetings has been good—about eighty on an average.

Public lectures for the benefit of the heathen.

Last Saturday I gave a lecture on Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," illustrated by magic-lantern views, and accompanied with "sacred song." The room was densely crowded, and the audience appeared much gratified. Many heathen were present. This attempt to reach the higher classes is entirely in its infancy. I ask the prayers of the Lord's people that abiding fruit may result.

The boarding-schools of Nallur, Surandei, Panneivilei, and Suviseshapuram, contain 110 girls, and are in a satisfactory condition. They appear to be increasingly valued by the Native community.

From the causes referred to, the whole number of scholars under Mr. Lash's charge has declined from 1690 to 1470.

No Report has been received from the PALAMCOTTA ENGLISH INSTITUTION.

SIVAGÂSI.

The Rev. V. Vêdanâyagam writes as follows:—

The Christians of the three pastorates number in all 3676, being an increase of 311 on the last return. [The Communicants number 514.] There have been also accessions from heathenism, though very few in comparison with those in the south. These have not been included in this account, but reserved for the next return. We have had seventy-four adults and eighty infants baptized during the year, against sixty-two adults and seventy-five infants of last year. The late famine has driven away 182 of our Christians to different parts of the country to seek sustenance, and carried off 219 by death. This visitation has done much for the Christians towards their growth in spiritual life. I would particularly mention the Kondarettipatu congregation. It remained spiritually dead for more than thirty years, till 1876, when God, in great mercy, had pity on them, and blessed the calamity, as well as the faithful preaching of their most exemplary catechist now living among them, to their spiritual revival. They are now hungering and thirsting after the means of grace.

Spiritual benefits resulting from the famine.

Liberality of Native Christians.

The contributions of the Christians are also hopeful. Though driven to extremity by the famine, their subscriptions to the Church Fund this year have exceeded those of last year by nearly Rs. 100. Three of the Christians have made up their minds to give one-tenth of their income to the Fund. Two of our Christians, having no children, have made over their landed property to our Church Fund. This fact will, no doubt, prove a salutary precedent to several of our Christians. Indeed, an old man who is similarly circumstanced, and who has built a small substantial church in his own village, almost entirely at his own cost, has since promised to follow their example.

The schools of the three pastorates are not so prosperous as we could wish. The famine has driven away many of the children, not only from our schools, but also from their own homes. The number of the children is less by sixteen than that of last year. Also new rules introduced by Government have largely diminished their result grants.—The Anglo-Vernacular School at Sangeranaikoil, which was in a very low condition, is now improving under a new efficient matriculated Native Christian teacher.

Preaching to the heathen is steadily kept up. Tracts and hand-bills have been largely circulated. Very little opposition is offered by the majority of non-Christians; the few who do oppose are those who have read sceptical works (English, or translated from English). Many of the educated Hindus, occupying responsible posts under Government, having had great regard for the holy and devoted life of Mr. Ragland, I wrote to Miss Owen for some copies of his memoir, and distributed them freely among them. They have read them with deep interest, and expressed their great admiration for the way in which he devoted his time and talent to the good of others. May they be led by the influence of the Holy Spirit to follow Christ as Mr. Ragland did!

Effects of the memory of Ragland.

SÂCHIAPURAM.

The Rev. Hugh Horsley combines with Evangelistic work among the heathen, the care of a small district connected with the Sâchiapuram station. It contains 665 Native Adherents, of whom 133 are Communicants.

Mr. Horsley writes:—

The general tone of morality among the Christians is, I grieve to say, lower than one would like to see. Unhappy divisions exist where unity, peace, and concord ought to increase and abound. But while there is much to deplore, there is much cause also to rejoice over some who are growing in knowledge and walking in accordance with the Gospels. I have much satisfaction in some of the agents under me, and can rejoice in them as true yoke-fellows. Distress is still felt among the people, owing to the high rate of prices; there being no lack, however, of labour, the people are kept from absolute want. Notwithstanding the present high rate of prices, we hope to collect at least Rs. 200, which is an increase on last year's contributions, namely, Rs. 180.

During the year I have baptized six adults. Among these is an old woman of seventy years of age, formerly a most bigoted heathen, but now a new creature in Christ, drinking in eagerly all that is told her of Jesus and His great salvation. She is a person of some wealth and good position. Naturally hasty-tempered and close, she is now learning to have control over her temper and to be comparatively liberal with her money.

Evangelistic work.—It has been my desire to spend, if possible, two weeks in every month under canvas. During the year I can report eight itinerancies of longer and shorter duration. The Gospel has thus been preached in a large number of villages. There is a good deal of head-knowledge of the truths of Christianity, but the hearts of the people generally seem dead. One meets with cold assent in every direction; but true conviction and action are rare.

III. Travancore and Cochin.

(Commenced in 1816.)

The Mission is divided into six districts: 1, Cottayam, Pallam, and Mundakayam; 2, Màvelikara and Tiruwella; 3, Alleppie; 4, Alwaye; 5, Trichur; 6, Kannânkulam.

CAMBRIDGE NICHOLSON INSTITUTION.

The Rev. W. J. Richards reports as follows:—

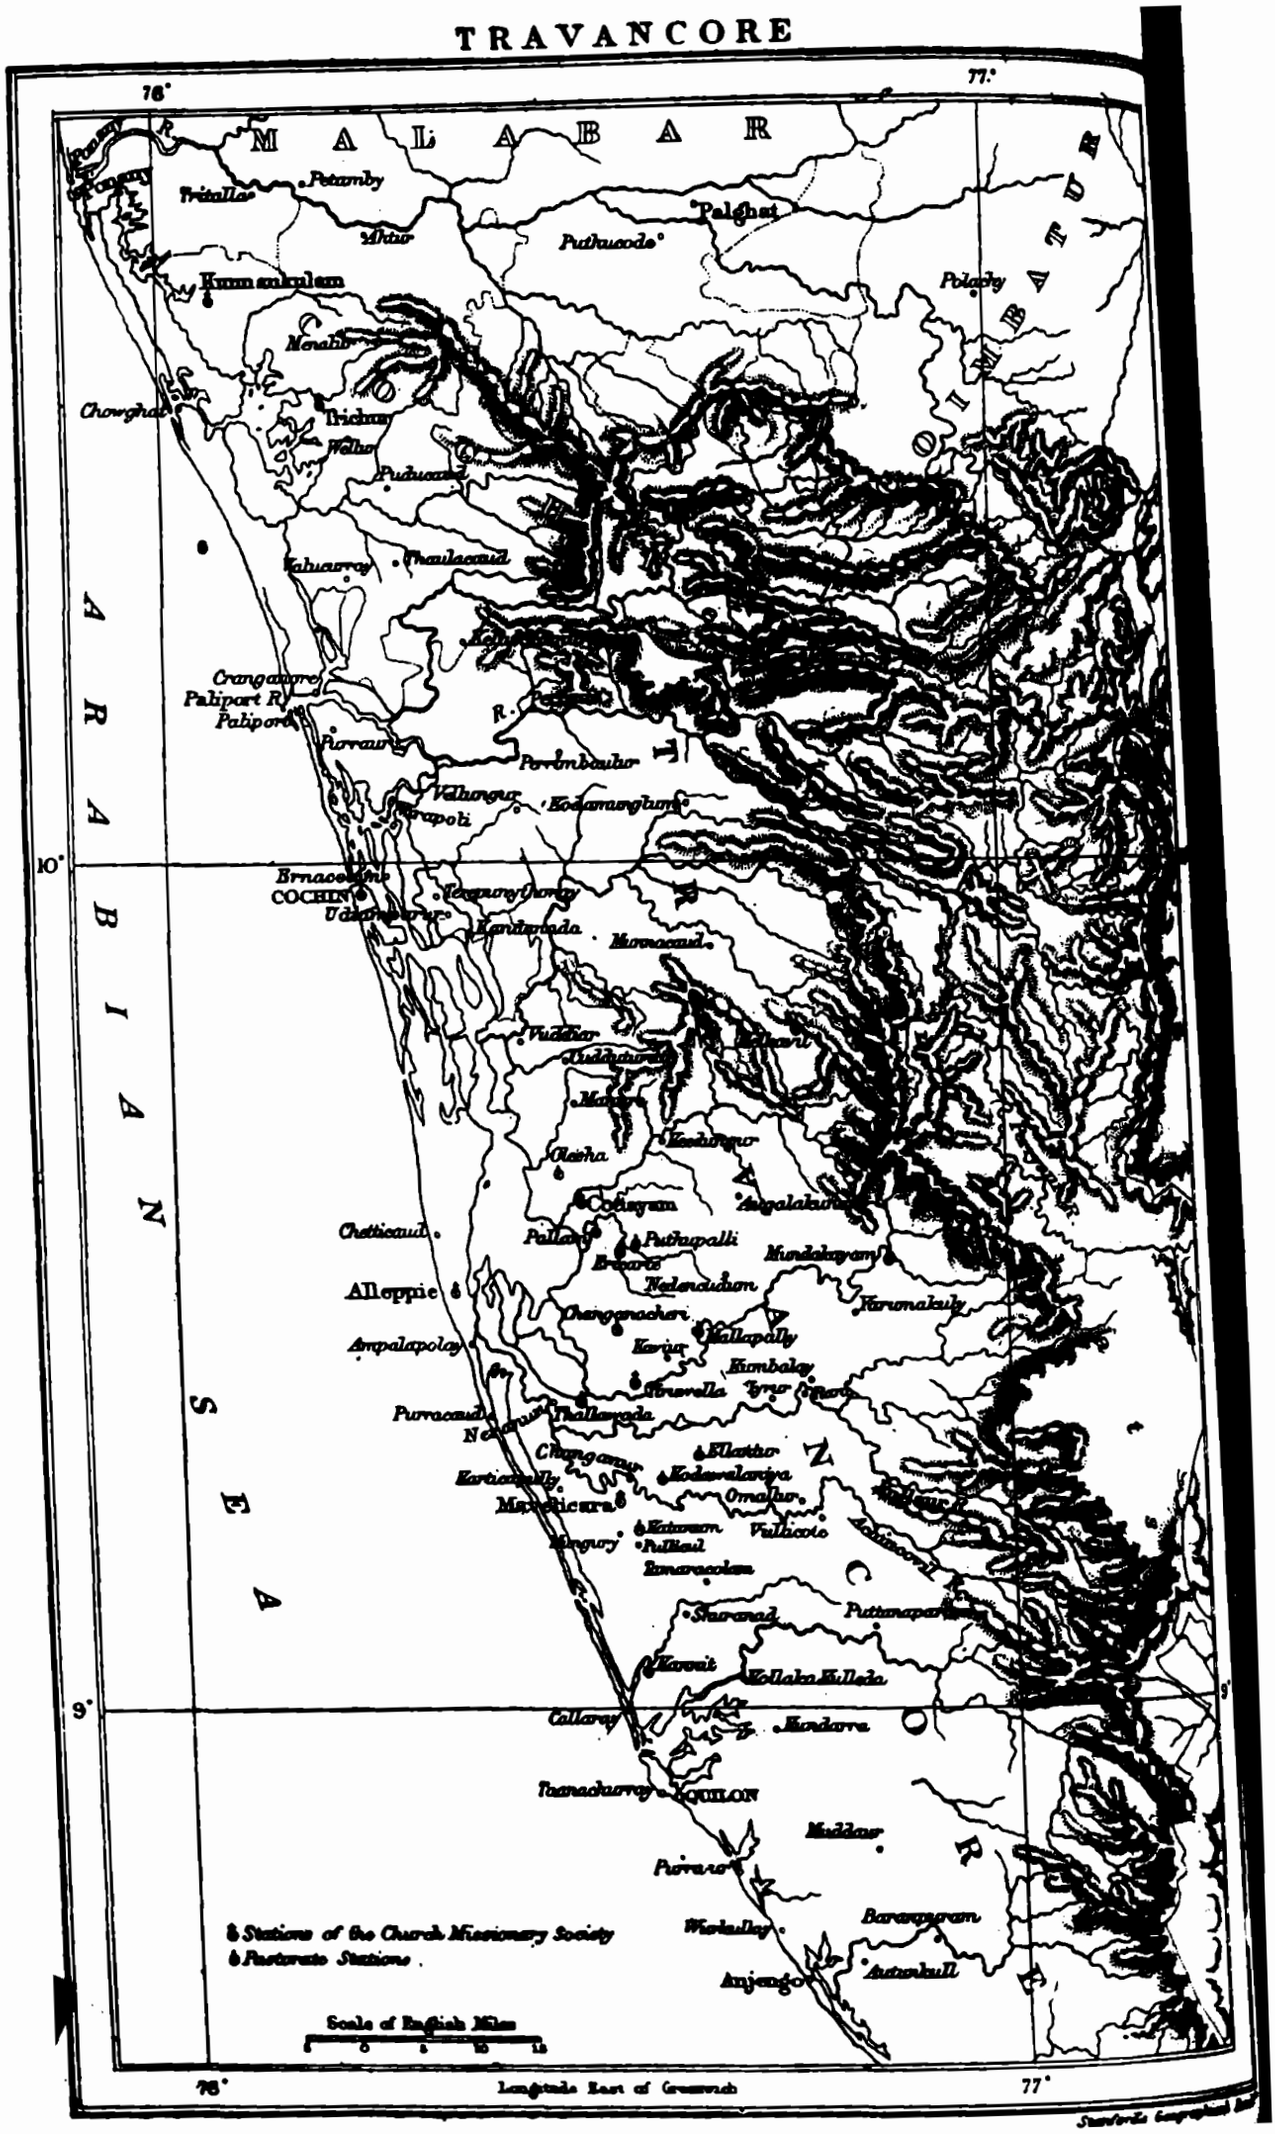

Mr. Martin Browne has helped in the Cottayam College during the year, but has also been able to give one hour a day to the C.N. Institution. The Rev. Jacob Chandy, who assisted me during the early part of the year, was very much debilitated towards its close, and is now transferred to Trichur for a time, to get a change of work and scene. The other masters have been very diligent and painstaking. A manual of geography, prepared by them as notes for their classes, treating particularly of Asia, India, Travancore, and Cochin, was issued from our press in 1878, and has been approved of by the Cochin and Travancore (Native) Governments for use in their schools.

The Divinity Class has given me much satisfaction. Class A consists of two matriculated students who have passed through the Cottayam College. In Class B there has been an average of four. A Syrian Catanar, sent by the Rev. R. H. Maddox, joined during the last term, and read all the subjects prescribed except those in English. The lectures for this class had to be prepared in Malayalim. Each student in turn preaches a written sermon before his fellow-students, by whom it is afterwards criticized. It is a great matter in Travancore to be able to expound the Scriptures; as so few—perhaps not more than fifteen or twenty of all the hundreds of Syrian clergy—can preach in their own language. One student of this Class, P. T. Matthai—son of Rev. J. Tarien, and a very diligent young man—died of consumption at his home. Matthai's last days were such as the believer's should be. He had firm faith in his Saviour, and no fear of dying.

Mr. Browne has paid great attention to the Training Class for Schoolmasters, and has examined in the method and practice of teaching sixteen students, of whom fourteen passed.

Sunday services and addresses (in one place, as mentioned last year, to a Syrian congregation) have been carried on by the Divinity students; and preaching to the heathen has also been

COTTAYAM COLLEGE.

The Rev. F. W. Ainley, under date 23rd December, 1878, reported as follows :—

There has been little change in the College. Mr. Bishop's unwearying labour for ten years is seen in every part, and will endure. Mr. Browne has greatly helped in the teaching. The conduct of the boys has, on the whole, been satisfactory, and their attention to work good. Some of them are regular communicants (previously confirmed by the Bishop of Madras), and give evidence of a good life. . . . . Only just now a Brahmin boy, not a Christian, in the highest class, going away for the Madras University Matriculation Examination, asked me to pray for him (which I do heartily), promising to read his Bible daily. The Bible read and explained for a full hour in the freshness of morning school has its influence on all the boys, Christian or heathen, and will prevail over all ignorance as the Holy Ghost makes its meaning clear.

Voluntary efforts of Native Christian students.

Every Sunday the older boys go out into the neighbourhood to teach the heathen, in Sunday Schools. More than a hundred and fifty heathen boys are so taught every Sunday, and the number will increase. On Wednesday, which is a half-holiday, some half dozen of the boys in the upper classes go out with me to preach to the adult heathen. We take with us a picture (Religious Tract Society), describing a parable of our Lord or an historical episode in the Old Testament. As we sing in their own tongue, the people gather round, often only a few, and sometimes unwilling to hear, but still the seed is sown. At such times we distribute tracts and sell Gospels if the people will buy. All this is done with a certain method, as we have our Church Missionary Association with regular meetings, treasurers, auditors, and reports—subscriptions being collected from the masters and boys.

To his own and the Committee's deep sorrow, Mr. Ainley's Missionary career, so promisingly begun, has, it is feared, been cut short. Symptoms appeared which led to his return home, and which medical advisers regard as forbidding his residence in the tropics; though it is hoped he may long serve his Master in some more favourable climate.

COTTAYAM DISTRICT.

The Rev. R. H. Maddox writes as follows :—

Church Councils.

The appointment of our senior Native pastor as Vice-Chairman of the District Church Council has given very general satisfaction. The meetings for business are held at each pastorate in rotation.

The pastors and delegates meet first in the church, where divine Service—open to all—is conducted, and a sermon is preached by one of the pastors, appointed to preach at the previous meeting. A short time is allowed for recreation, and then the meeting for business commences. The chairman sits at a table with the secretary. The pastors and delegates take their places near. Proceedings are begun with a short extempore prayer by one of the pastors. I am glad to say that the members, both clerical and lay, show a growing interest in these gatherings. The subjects introduced are often of a deeply interesting and important nature, and are freely and thoroughly and thoughtfully discussed.

Collections for Church objects are increasing; but, in consequence of the famine, our subscriptions do not come up to our requirements. —Our pastorates have received again this year large accessions from the heathen. As these are chiefly from the poor slave castes, the cost of supplying teachers [will severely tax] the resources of the Church Council.—We are looking forward hopefully for the arrival of our Bishop for the Native Church. I trust that he will be encouraged by finding what it is not the lot of every newly-appointed Bishop to find—a large, well-organized, well-instructed, intelligent Christian Church, trained in self-government and advanced in self-support. It would ill become me to prophesy; but I do confidently look for very great advance, with God's blessing, in the affairs of our Native Church in this land, as soon as its organization is completed, by the appointment of an European Bishop, of earnest zeal and ripe missionary experience such as we know our honoured brother, who has been chosen for this position, so eminently possesses. The reforming Syrian Christians, also, are looking anxiously towards us.

The loss of our senior missionary, the Rev. H. Baker, has cast a sad gloom over us all in the Mission. Although of late he was officially unconnected with the Native Church Council, there is no doubt that he had the interest of the Native Church at heart; and we shall feel his loss in many ways.

The Cottayam District Council were filled with much joy and thankfulness on hearing of the W. C. Jones Fund. Their chairman, Mr. Maddox, writes as follows:—

Encouragement of Native Christian effort by the W. C. Jones Fund.

At our Church Council Meeting held on the 19th inst., we carefully considered the suggestions contained in your letter in connexion with the conditions of the trust deed. We have been able to make such re-arrangements as will set several Catechists free for Evangelistic work,—their places being supplied by voluntary agency. The employment of volunteers is not a new thing with us: the present, however, is a favourable time for its increase. The proportion of the annual cost of maintaining its own religious worship and pastoral work raised by the Cottayam District Church Council is over two-fifths (the amount required by the rules of the W. C. Jones' Fund). The total annual expenditure of the Church Council is Rs. 5702.—Towards this sum the Society's grant is Rs. 3313-8-0.—Balance raised by Church Council, Rs. 2388-8-0. The Church Council proposes to work in the unevangelized country within its own limits, for the present. There is ample scope here for vigorous exertion. The Council will set apart the sum of Rs. 50 per mensem or Rs. 600 per annum for this object. It is also prepared to set apart six men at once for Missionary work; and when we receive the grant from the W. C. Jones Fund we shall hope to increase their number by as many more.

We desire to express our devout thankfulness to God for this most seasonable opportunity afforded to the Native Church to carry on direct Missionary work in the District by means of its own agency.

Besides being Chairman of the Cottayam District Church Council, Mr. Maddox has been in charge, during the year, of the Alwaye Itinerancy, and (as regards general superintendence) of the work connected with Alleppie and Pallam. He gives as the combined statistics of these districts the following numbers:—Communicants, 1976; Adherents, 9839; Adult Baptisms, 198.

ALLEPPIE AND PALLAM.

Mr. Maddox writes:—

The work here has been maintained by the Native clergy of the pastorates in the districts. The leading Government officer of the station has lately put forth an appeal, by which I hope the salary of the pastor may be wholly met, and a portion, if not the whole, of the working expenses of the Mission in the town be defrayed. At Pallam, the Rev. Mr. Koshi has visited the several Mission congregations and schools, in addition to his pastoral duties, and to the heavy responsibilities of Chief Reviser of the Malayalim version of the Bible.

ALWAYE ITINERANCY.

This department of the Travancore Mission is under the care of the Rev. R. H. Maddox. He writes:—

I am gradually getting my working staff of agents complete. This has taken me longer than I expected. I would rather wait long than encumber the Mission with unsuitable agents. Schools have been often opened at each centre, in the face of the greatest opposition; but they seem now to progress favourably. They are conducted mostly by young men trained in the C.N.I. at Cottayam. I have only three out of the requisite six itinerant readers. This is by far the most difficult agency to get together, although indispensable. A friend, a banker in Leeds, maintains one of them. We must not put our trust too much in organization; but without some well-laid plan of operation it is difficult to reach the many classes scattered through so wide a country.

Signs of religious awakening among the Syrian Christians.

The Syrians have changed their hostile front. In many parts of the country they are friendly and helpful in the work. Their zeal for their absent Patriarch is subsiding, and they are beginning to desire the light and knowledge which they know we are able to bring to them in the Scriptures of truth.—An old Syrian Christian of Parur, while staying at Alwaye for the bathing season, was greatly impressed with the preaching he had heard, and with the conversations he had had with our people and myself. On returning to Parur he stirred up the Catanar (Syrian Presbyter), and many of the people to the reading of the Scriptures and prayer. At his request I visited the place, and was invited to stay in the church rooms with the Catanar. There, all day long, crowds of people, headed by my old friend, came to see me, and to read the Scripture and join together in prayer. I hope to visit this place or send the readers as often as possible.

A hopeful work has also been begun at Parûty, twelve miles to the east of Alwaye. When the readers first visited that place, eighteen months ago, the Syrians threatened to stone them if they preached, and refused to allow them to stay a night in the place. Going there six months later, no one would receive me into his house. I sat in the outer porch gate of the church. At last the Catanars came cautiously one by one from the church room to have a look at me. I talked to them all in a friendly way, and hid all feeling at their inhospitality, though I rallied them a little on the subject when I was going away. My next visit was a different one.

Religious reformation and revival in a Syrian congregation.

A young Catanar invited me at once to his house. There I met some earnest-minded men, who told me that they were dissatisfied with the ignorance of their priests, and desired instruction in the Word of God. The Catanar was as much in earnest as his people, but his position was a trying and difficult one. For some time he continued at his post in the church. At length he broke away altogether. He said his conscience would not allow him, since he had taken regularly to reading the Scriptures, to continue the sacrifice of the mass for the souls of the dead, and other such observances. After some weeks spent in study of the Scripture and in prayer, he offered to devote himself to the work of teaching in our itinerancy. He is now, although a full Catanar, amongst our students at the C.N.I. preparing diligently and earnestly for future work among his own people.

Among the heathen also our work is, I hope, beginning to make itself felt. Great numbers of Hindus are reached by preaching, and by conversations in the house and on the way-side.

TRICHUR AND KANNÂNKULAM.

Mr. Maddox is also in charge of these districts. He writes as follows:—

The work in these two districts can bear no comparison with the work in the south. The central congregations are sadly deficient in knowledge and Christian growth. The Protestant community is small and poor. To a sense of weakness they have added miserable dependence. The district of Kannânkulam compares favourably with Trichur in many of these respects.—With a view to overcome these defects, two important steps have lately been taken. 1st. I have brought those congregations into closer contact with their more enlightened and advanced fellow-Christians of the south by incorporating them into the Cottayam District Church Council. Their delegates have now an opportunity from time to time of visiting the southern pastorates, and becoming acquainted with their working and order. (They have, moreover, the advantage of a resident pastor, one who has worked for years in a pastorate in the south). There are signs of improvement. The first delegates who attended a Church Council meeting in the south returned full of what they had seen and heard. They called a meeting of their people, told them all they had witnessed, and laid special stress on the kindness and hospitality they had received. The people were encouraged. They felt they belonged to a large and influential body, which they had not realized before. 2ndly. The work in the itinerancy has been pushed on during the year. The wide gap between the work in the north and that in the south will, in time, be filled with a network of schools and churches, we may hope. This will connect, as with a living thread of love and fellowship and power, the now isolated and feeble Church of the north with the more vigorous and more advanced Church of the south.

Christian communities strengthening one another.

We have had several accessions from heathenism during the past year. At Trichur we have had sixteen adult baptisms, at Kannânkulam nine. Others who have joined during the year, are under instruction with a view to baptism.

IV. Telugu Mission.

The Telugu Mission comprises Masulipatam, 1841; Ellore, 1854; Bêzwâra, 1858; the Koi Mission (Dummagudem), 1860; Raghapuram, 1872.

THE TRAINING INSTITUTION.

This is at Masulipatam. During the year 1878 it was under the care of the Rev. W. G. Baker, who, under date 6th December, 1878, reported as follows:—

The past year has been an exceedingly happy one; and the boys have done well in, I think I may say, nearly every respect.

With regard to their studies in secular subjects, out of six boys who presented themselves for the fifth grade teachers' certificate examination last December, five were successful, four of whom were placed in the first class. For proficiency in Scriptural knowledge, our Bishop offers annual prizes, four of which are awarded to successful competitors in the Telugu country. This examination differs from the Peter Cator prizes, in being conducted in the vernacular. The results of this year's examination are just out. One of Mr. Cain's teachers stands first on the list; then follow in order the names of four of my boys, three of whom have prizes. I am gratified at the result of the latter examination; but it is no more than we ought to expect, because, of course, great pains are taken to ground the boys well in Scriptural knowledge. This is, and must be, our distinctive characteristic.

The Rev. J. E. Padfield, who, on returning from England, took charge at the commencement of the present year, writes under date 26th February, 1879:—

I am now going on with my old work in the Training Institution. We are just sending out six young men who have passed through the Institution and taken good certificates. The Institution thus year by year sends out a staff of carefully trained Christian schoolmasters into the surrounding villages.

MASULIPATAM.

The statistics of the DISTRICT give 1414 Adherents, 202 Communicants, and 15 Adult Baptisms. Its Missionary is the Rev. W. Clayton, who writes as follows:—

As far as I know, the outward life of the Native Christians, as a whole, during the past year, has been satisfactory. In a few cases it has been necessary to exercise discipline.—The contributions have kept up well; including the value of labour given, upwards of 400 rupees were contributed in 1878. The collections are generally made on Sundays, just before the attendance-roll is called at the end of the service. Some give money, others fruit, vegetables, eggs, rice, or other grain. Then two of the principal Church members count the money, and value the offerings, which are disposed of. The thank-offerings are from very varied reasons; often for recovery from sickness, for the birth of a son, for plentiful crops, for obtaining work, or because the cattle sent to graze at a distance have returned safely. Besides the regular Sunday collections, Advent Sunday was set apart as a "Mission Sunday," by our Provincial Church Council; and on that day, in every village, we had missionary sermons. The money collected, 18*l.* 10*s.*, was sent to the Secretary of the Provincial Council to go towards paying an agent to work in connexion with the Provincial Council.—With regard to our own District Council, it is as yet the day of small things; but I hope it is beginning to be a power among the Christians. The members are interested in all that is brought before them, and help the missionary in settling cases which they often know the particulars of better than he does.—The outward organization of the Church here is complete. There are catechists and readers; schoolmasters; buildings for prayers and schools; Church councils; panchayats, or a kind of council of five in each village, for settling disputes; poor funds; widows' fund; and many other agencies. We need the breath of the Spirit, that it may become more a living Church, that the means of grace may be channels of blessing; that each member may be a light to those sitting in darkness, so that God may be glorified in all, and by all.—As regards numbers, they are very little in excess of last year. Many have died; others have left the district. There are about 400 waiting for baptism still under instruction and probation.

The village schools are still suffering from the effects of the famine. There is, however, some improvement now in the attendance; and they will soon, I hope, recover themselves.—I am glad to say the heathen caste girls' schools, under my wife's care, are flourishing. There are about 220 girls in the three schools. Lately she had the offer of a house rent-free, with twenty-five pupils, to begin a new school with, in a distant part of the town. Although we have very little money in hand, she could not refuse it.

Among the heathen there is less prejudice against the Christian religion than formerly; many of them certainly have a respect for it, if they do not believe it to be true.

The Rev. E. N. Hodges reports:—

I took charge of the NOBLE HIGH SCHOOL from Mr. Sharp on April 30th, 1878, and began my work as headmaster, May 1st. We had an interesting meeting in the schoolroom on Easter Monday, when the prizes were distributed for the past year, and Mr. Sharp bade farewell to the school and his old friends and former pupils. The Collector, J. G. Horsfall, Esq., was in the chair, and all the Europeans of the station were present. The masters and boys presented Mr. Sharp with addresses expressing their gratitude and affection. They had also, of their own accord, started a subscription to commemorate his long connexion with the school by founding a scholarship or prize in his name. At the close of the meeting the Collector asked permission, in the name of the European community, to join in the memorial. A sum of Rs. 350 was collected, which will enable me to give two prizes annually—the one for Scripture, the other for English. Independently of this, one of Mr. Sharp's old pupils, in writing him a farewell, offered to give two prizes for Bible knowledge, as a mark of esteem, adding a request that his name should be concealed.

After only one year's experience of missionary school-work, perhaps I ought not to say more (I certainly cannot say less) than this, that my interest in it increases daily, and that I am more and more convinced of the necessity of Mission schools, if we are to reach the upper classes of Hindu society. I am fully alive, at the same time, to the difficulties of this work, and to the special objections made against it. As far as Bible-teaching goes, we have much more freedom than in England. We are not hampered by conscience clauses, or limited to the beginning or end of the day in giving religious instruction. It is true the Government demand four hours' secular work a day as a condition for receiving a grant-in-aid; but happily English literature, such as we teach, is so steeped with Christianity and allusions to the Bible, that the secular work alone affords abundant opportunity of teaching Christianity and Bible truth. In reading the Bible with me, several of the boys borrowed Commentaries from the library, which shows that they took more than ordinary interest in it. Many of the F.A. boys (students reading for the First Arts, or Intermediate University Examination) come from the Hindu school, and know positively nothing of the Bible or Christianity, save the false representations of the enemy; and I have been very much impressed with the eagerness with which they listen and read the true story of Jesus Christ and the foundation of His Church on earth. There have been no baptisms this year, but there are tokens that God's Word is steadily doing its work. Publicity may not be given to many a touching interview with some who are not far from the kingdom of God. We have three Christians of Brahmin descent as teachers, who of course mingle freely with the other masters, and to whom the boys pay equal respect as to the others. We often have animated discussions in our Bible Classes.

A Missionary's first impression of the benefit of Mission English Schools.

The Rev. A. W. Poole, who is now the Rugby Fox Master, adds to his work in the Robert Noble School, what is indeed more particularly that for which he offered himself and was accepted by the Committee, EVANGELISTIC EFFORT AMONG THE ADULT EDUCATED HEATHEN. Of this branch he reports as follows:—

Among the Hindu gentlemen of this town there does not seem to be anything like the same readiness to receive visits as in Madras. Partly, no doubt, this arises from the fact that most of the houses are very old fashioned, and, as they say, "not fit to receive Europeans." But this has been amply compensated for by their readiness to come and see us. I may safely say that dozens of old pupils, now in the Cutcherry or the Court, have called to see me in the early morning. I hesitate to record any of the many interesting conversations I have had, as further knowledge of the men will show me what weight to attach to their words. Certainly the English-speaking Natives of Masulipatam are a much more acute and independent class than those of Madras. They form quite a large society, and number some really clever men. But the work which has been more peculiarly my own, has been the delivery of lectures. On April 20 I delivered a lecture on the History, Constitution, and Studies of Oxford. We had the school hall well filled. A large number of Native officials, and masters and boys of the Hindu school, as well as our own, were present. I then announced a course of six lectures on "Christianity as an Historical Religion," to be given on Sunday mornings at 7 a.m. We began on June 2. About eighty or ninety were present. The second lecture, still better attended, was on June 9, on the growth of Christianity. Damódarayya Garu, the Government pleader and an old opponent, who had taken notes at both lectures, announced a lecture on Christianity for the following Saturday, at the Hindu School. Of course I was there. There was a large attendance, and the Deputy-Collector in the chair. The lecture (delivered in Telugu) was very long. The chairman and others, at the close, dissented from the lecturer's views of the absurdity of a book revelation. He had laid down three conditions which a revelation should fulfil before it could be accepted: it must be (1) universal, (2) clear, (3) demonstrable. He ended by a few isolated passages of Scripture, pitted against one another as contradictory and took up the position that inasmuch as God had made the world once for all with fixed laws, revelation on His part and prayer on ours were equally absurd. Next morning, June 16, I gave my third lecture. My subject was "the claim of Christianity to be absolute." It gave me an opportunity of bringing out Bishop Butler's arguments on the three points raised the day before. Next Sunday, June 23, I discussed "Non-Christian witnesses to the historic truth of Christianity." July 14th, fifth lecture: District Mûnsif in the chair: subject, "Christianity and the Bible." Owing to my having to go to Madras, there was considerable delay in giving the sixth. I delivered it, however, on Oct. 5: subject, "Christianity a continued miracle."

BEZWÂRA.

Until the beginning of April, 1878, this district was in the charge of the Rev. J. Harrison. It was then placed under the care of the Rev. W. G. Baker, who, until nearly the close of the year, as has already been mentioned, was also at the head of the Training College. "I have not been able," he naturally writes, "to give to the district the attention and watchful care I should have wished."

The statistical returns at the close of 1878 give 502 Adherents, 62 Communicants, and 59 Adult Baptisms during the year.

The Rev. M. Ratnam is in charge of the Anglo-Vernacular School at this station. He expresses himself as "sadly feeling the want of a Christian assistant." Many of the boys feel inclined towards Christianity; but none during the year have ventured to come out and confess Christ publicly.

ELLORE.

The Missionary of this station, the Rev. F. W. N. Alexander, reports as follows:—

Our statistics give the following results:—Total Adherents, 853; Native Communicants, 127. Considering the great pressure on the people from famine, these figures compare not unfavourably with those given last year, which were:—Adherents, 900; Communicants, 116. The number of baptized Christians has slightly increased, from 605 to 616; so that we are justified in feeling that the famine has not materially hurt our work, though it has for the time put a stop to all progress, and seriously affected mission-work in other respects. Many inquirers have dropped off. The Christians as a body have stood firm; and there has been a considerable advance in the religious instruction of our adherents. Before the close of the twelve months under review I had the satisfaction of beginning work in a new town, thirty miles from Ellore, in a most important centre, and just on the borders of the Nizam's territory. I confidently expect a good ingathering in that direction, when the pressure of famine is over.

The district schools have been all more or less affected by the withdrawal of the children. Some schools were closed altogether. In some places, one meal a day was given to the children to enable them to attend.—I am glad to tell you that progress has been made in the education of Mussulman girls. We have now ninety pupils in three schools, and I hope we shall hereafter see still further progress in that direction.—The attendance of Hindu girls of the upper class seems to languish, from the pressure of high prices; but, with returning plenty, we may expect to see a large increase in pupils of this description.

The Rev. A. Morgan has charge of the Anglo-Vernacular High School, and two schools preparatory to it. Mrs. Morgan superintends a large girls' school.

RAGHAPURAM.

At the commencement of 1878, the Raghapuram district was under the care of the Rev. W. Ellington, who, in order to meet an emergency, had voluntarily removed to it from the more central, and, in many respects, more attractive, district of Masulipatam. In June of the same year, this devoted Missionary, who had been assisting Mr. Alexander in the revision of the Telugu translation of the Bible, was called away to his heavenly rest at Bezwâra, apparently in the prime of his usefulness. The Rev. J. Stone, formerly employed in the Noble High School, was, with his own full consent, appointed to the vacancy. The spirit of Mr. Stone's Annual Letter is hopeful. The Adherents number 756, and the Communicants 255; and in the year 1878 there were 14 Adult Baptisms.

DUMMAGUDEM.

The work at this station was carried on during the year 1878 by the Rev. J. Cain and a Native clergyman, the Rev. I. V. Razu. The state of the Mission is hopeful; though, through several families leaving the district, the increase in numbers during the year was but small. The returns at the close of the years 1877 and 1878 were respectively—Adherents, 348 and 359; Communicants, 69 and 82.

Mr. Razu reports (translated by Mr. Cain):—

During the past year the work has gone on quietly and steadily—Mr. Cain taking charge of the Dummagudem congregation, and I of the Nallapalli and Jinnelagudem congregations. The Nallapalli and Jinnelagudem congregations consist of both Koi and Mala Christians. Several heathen Kois and Malas attend very regularly. Both Koi and Mala Christians show a much greater desire to tell to their own relatives and friends the peace and happiness they have found. Last year the head Brahman of Parnasala remonstrated most strongly with the Christian Kois for refusing to draw the idol car at the annual festival; and he was backed up by a leading native police officer; but they steadily refused. On being told that they were ignorant men, the head Koi replied, "Well, I know I am a sinner, and that Jesus died for me, and that is the great point."—All our Christians have given more liberally than they did even during the years of prosperity before the last two years' famine.

An "ignorant" Native Christian.

The Christian Malas at Jujiram, which is in the Nizam's country, have been in trouble this year, but God has graciously delivered them. The Karnam of the village stirred up one or two more of the leading villagers to cause all the land of the Christians to be taken away. I went to the village, and, after fully hearing the whole matter, advised the Christians to appeal to the Nizam's Tahsildar. They agreed, and the final result was that their lands were given back to them, and, as the Karnam's term of service expired at that time, he left the village, and has been succeeded by one who is a kind friend of mine. The leading caste men of the village have again become most friendly, and frequently call for the teacher and the reader to go to their houses to talk and sing hymns. Several in the surrounding villages have asked for baptism, and have begged for schools to be established in their villages.

Mr. Cain writes under date December 17, 1878:—

I always like to let my dear brother Razu Garu write his letter first, so that mine, if necessary, can be of a supplementary character.

At the end of last year we had a visit from our Bishop, who was able to stay three days. On the morning of his arrival, he held a Confirmation in Dummagudem, and in the afternoon at Nallapalli; the next day we had most of our Christians in to a service in Dummagudem; and on the following day the Bishop met the Church Committee, questioned the children, and gave a short address to the agents. All were delighted with his visit.

In a later communication Mr. Cain mentions that, on Christmas day, he baptized a Razu convert, who appears to be a very earnest and devout man, and who has gained a good report of all.*

CEYLON MISSION.

I. Colombo and Cotta. II. Baddegama. III. Kandy. IV. Jaffna.

THOUGH this Mission has not been set free, as was hoped, from its ecclesiastical difficulties, the steady annual advance which has for some time been its characteristic, has, during the past twelve months, not only not been interrupted, but has surpassed that of any preceding year. Nearly 200 adults have been received into the visible Church; and inquirers are under instruction at every station. Recent troubles have called the Native Church to action, and have shown it to be possessed of more energy and self-reliance, and of a stronger and more intelligent Protestant spirit, than even the most sanguine among the Missionaries had believed to be the case.

Vigour and self-reliance of Ceylon Native Christians.

Five Native candidates, in different parts of the Ceylon Mission, have now been waiting for more than four years to receive ordination. The inconveniences resulting from this to the Native Church are very great, and are becoming intolerable, but will not induce the Native Christians to accept the erroneous teaching, or the superstitious ritual, or the illegal domination, with which they believe themselves to be threatened.—For reasons which the Committee cannot but regard as wholly invalid, the Bishop has declined to license or ordain any more members of the Society. The Archbishop of Canterbury is now in correspondence with the Bishop on the subject. In the event of the Bishop adhering to his decision, the Committee trust that a way will be found for securing to the Missionaries and the Native Church the enjoyment of their just and proper rights. The refusal of the Missionaries to partake of the Lord's Supper with the Bishop in connexion with a ritual which involved distinct breaches of the law of the Church of England, has led to a correspondence between the Bishop of Colombo and the Society's local Secretary, on the Church of England view of a sacrificial aspect in the Lord's Supper. The perusal of the correspondence has made the Committee deeply thankful that it has been granted to a Missionary of the Society to defend so ably and so faithfully, and in so temperate a spirit, what they believe to be the doctrine both of the Church of England, and of the Holy Scriptures.—For further particulars on this subject vide Appendix.

I. Colombo and Cotta.

Tamil Branch.

The Rev. W. E. Rowlands has recently removed from Colombo to take part in the Tamil Cooly Mission. The Rev. D. Wood, formerly of Jaffna, succeeds him. Of the Colombo work Mr. Rowlands writes:—

The number of Christians connected with our congregation has slightly increased during the year. The total number (including children) in Colombo itself, Galkisse, Negombo, and Galle is now 1092; but most of the Tamil people in Ceylon are so migratory, that numbers are not so good an indication of progress as in the case of the Singhalese. The communicants number 234. The attendance at Divine Service, in most places throughout the year has been fair, and in some (Maradâna, for instance), a decided improvement upon last year. I wish I could say that there were also distinct marks of a growing spirituality amongst our people. With respect to liberality, however, and a gradual progress towards self-support, we have ground for encouragement. The contributions to the Native Church Fund this year (Rs. 826: 26) have been Rs. 106: 38 above the amount received last year, that amount being in its turn an advance of Rs. 59 on the contributions of the previous year.

Conversion in a jail.

The baptisms during the year have been fifty in all—twenty-one adults and twenty-nine children. One of the adults—a young man of twenty-five—was a fruit from work in the Colombo jails, and one for which we may heartily thank God. Up to the time of his being brought to Colombo he had never heard of Jesus and his salvation; but, while in prison, he listened attentively to the catechist's preaching, and manifested a desire for personal instruction. This was, of course, thankfully given, and week by week he became more confirmed in the faith of Christ. At his own request he received baptism the day after his release from jail. It was his earnest wish to carry the Word of Life to the benighted people of his own village; but he very rightly thought that he would be better qualified to do this if he first received more instruction himself. He is therefore now, for the present, working in a village some distance from Colombo with one of the Singhalese catechists, (being almost as conversant with Singhalese as with Tamil). His conduct, I am glad to hear, has hitherto been very satisfactory.

In street preaching we have had large and attentive audiences, though not permitted to know of definite results. Many in the jails and hospitals have "received the Word gladly," and some have been baptized. In the mission-room, the monthly average number of visitors conversed with during the last six months has been over 300, of whom Hindus form the largest part, and Roman Catholics the next. Several Mohammedans also have bought Christian books, and have come in again and again, showing an evident wish for religious conversation.

We have now twelve schools in all; and the number of children on the list has risen, since last year, from 293 to 378.—The little day-schools alluded to in my last Annual Letter—which (by my beloved wife's express wish) were set on foot chiefly with the hope of being able to do something for the good of Mohammedan girls—have, to a certain extent, answered that purpose. In some of them there are several of that class of girls; and in the Mutwal school there are a few who have been in regular attendance for nearly three years, and have therefore learnt a good deal of Christian truth.—

Our girls' boarding-school was reopened at Easter, and has been going on very well since then. Several new girls have been admitted, so that we have on the list twenty-three (only two short of our full number). Mrs. Wood is now in charge of this part of the work.—The boys' boarding-school has, I am thankful to say, continued most satisfactory. All the boys presented at the Government Examination for 1877 passed very well. The religious teaching, also, is thorough and systematic, and is carried on with so much earnestness and reality (especially by the head master), that scarcely a single heathen boy comes under its influence without being more or less impressed with the truth of Christianity. Some appear quite to have made up their mind to become Christians. One of these is the son of a heathen Kangany (overseer) from a coffee estate in the Dimbula district. Since I took up the work of the Cooly Mission, I have heard from the catechist, who visits the estate where the boy's father lives, that he, too, on the catechist's last visit, expressed a wish to be a Christian, and, on being asked what had led him to this change of mind, said that his son had been writing to him from Colombo, urging him to believe on the Lord Jesus Christ.

A boy in a Mission School inducing his heathen parent to become an enquirer.

Singhalese Branch.

This branch of the work is now connected with the Cotta Church Council. It is on a small scale, the greater part of Colombo being occupied by other Missionary organizations. Nothing of special interest has occurred during the year.

COTTA.

The PREPARANDI INSTITUTION presents difficulties theoretical and practical. It sometimes pleases God to compensate by extraordinary spiritual gifts for deficiency in natural endowments; speaking generally, however, men of a certain intellectual calibre are required to be fit subjects of training for that work which the Preparandi Institution has in view. Such men it is not easy to find. The Missionaries and the Committee will give the subject their most thoughtful consideration, praying earnestly for guidance. At present there are only two students at Cotta, three others being placed under charge of experienced catechists in order to ascertain by their actual employment in the work how far they are likely to be useful as agents of the Society and of the Native Church.

In the DISTRICT, the Native Christian adherents have increased from 873 to 1118, and the communicants from 184 to 208. Six adults only have been baptized, but there is a large number of candidates. The Chairman of the District Church Council is the Rev. J. Jones. From his report, it would seem that the Cotta Native Church closely resembles the Church in England. He writes:—

The attendance at church I do not consider satisfactory. There are a few earnest Christians; but the standard of spirituality, and of knowledge too, is, as a rule, low. The contributions show some increase, which is so far satisfactory, as the year, owing to incessant rain, has been a very trying one for the people, much of the paddy in this district having been destroyed. The Church Council is composed of intelligent and influential men, who take an interest in the welfare of the Church, and some of whom render voluntary assistance to the pastors. As yet, however, I do not see at all sufficient realization of the need of greatly increased effort to make the Church what it must be, self-supporting. The Church Committees [each congregation or group of small congregations has its own Committee] I think likely to be very useful. There are six in operation in this district now. They comprise the most satisfactory members of the various congregations. They meet monthly, and discuss with apparent interest the affairs of their own church, &c.

Evangelistic work in the district is carried on by Mr. Jones. Evening meetings, especially on moonlight nights, in the open air, are well attended both by Christians and Buddhists.

Evangelistic work, beyond the Cotta district, but radiating from Cotta as a centre, is under the care of the Rev. R. T. Dowbiggin. Mr. Dowbiggin and his Native coadjutors have laboured in the streets, gaols, and hospitals of Colombo as well as at the police courts; and also in the neighbouring kôrĕlas of Hêwâgam and Rayigam. The work in the Liyanwela district has been extended to Bôpê and Angampitiya.

Mr. Dowbiggin has also charge of the Educational work in the Cotta district. This has again prospered. Seven young people from the schools received baptism as converts from Buddhism during the year. The total number of scholars at the close of 1878 was 2502, of whom 1120 were girls. The boys' English school, with its 22 boarders and 96 day boys, and the girls' boarding school with 36 pupils, both at Cotta, are going on well, and receive no grant from the Society. The 43 day schools cost altogether Rs. 5340, of which little more than one-fourth is met from the Society's funds.

II. Baddegama.

Baddêgama, commenced 1819; Bentot, 1861.

The Rev. J. Allcock still continues his zealous labours in the district of which Baddêgama is the missionary centre.

Mr. Allcock writes:—

We have seen some increase among our people of that spirit which is contained in the word of the apostle, "I have great heaviness and continual sorrow in my heart for my kinsmen according to the flesh."

Conversion and subsequent spiritual experience of a Buddhist youth.

About seven years ago a heathen boy began to attend Baddêgama Church. Previously he had been the pupil of a Buddhist priest, and his mind had been filled with the atheistic and soul-destroying doctrines of Buddhism. The comfort and light-giving Word of Life began gradually to illuminate his heart, and he was soon after baptized. The first great discovery made to him by grace was his soul's leprosy, and his cry was, "Woe is me, for I am of unclean lips;" or, rather, of an unclean heart. Soon afterwards, a time of great conflict came. Apollyon attacked him with all the cruelty, guile, and malice of hell. Apollyon brought him down to to the Slough of Despond, and took him as a poor prisoner to Doubting Castle. Satan's chief dart was, "Your sins are too many and too great to be forgiven." Night and day he had no rest of mind or body; and it seemed as though he was on the borders of lunacy. Some Christians thought he was mad, and should be sent to the doctor; but the real medicine which he required was the Word of God. He went to his minister and opened his grief. The first words that were spoken to him were, "For he is a liar, and the father of it. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own." And with this Apollyon received a deadly thrust, which made him give back as one that had received his mortal wound. A flood of light was immediately thrown on the full, perfect, all-sufficient, and infinite efficacy of the cross of Christ. The scales fell from his eyes; and he saw and embraced the present and eternal absolution of all his sins. He has been a humble and joyful believer in Christ ever since. As you will expect, his first prayer and labour was to get his brothers and sisters and kinsmen converted. God has blessed his efforts, after six years, in the conversion of his elder sister and her two daughters, who were baptized about two months ago.

Contest between Christian and Buddhist preachers.

When the Government agent sells by auction the Government share of the grain of the country, we generally try to put a temporary shed for a book-stall and for preaching. We did so last August. There is an agent of Satan here, who visits every place we visit, and does all in his power to undo our work and evil affect the Buddhists against the Gospel. Blind Bartimæus of Dodanduwa calls him the "Desolator of the World." For three days we were preaching and disputing from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. On the first day this agent of Satan had the largest congregation; on the second day his auditors were reduced by half; and on the third day he was left alone in his chair, and looked towards our large congregation like a melancholy heron looks after fish when it has nothing to eat. This melancholy desolation moved the compassion of B. P., catechist, and he said, "We must not be cruel to him, but kind." He went and tried to persuade him to come and hear the words of the Gospel. "Oh, sir," replied the enemy, "it is like inviting a rat to jump into the mouth of the serpent."

Twenty-five adults were baptized in this district during the year, and there are about seventy inquirers. Mr. Allcock estimates the present number of adherents as 500, that for the previous year having been 462. The Communicants have not increased, the present number being 148. More than twenty unpaid lay preachers have laboured on Sundays during the year, with much blessing and success.

III. Kandy.

Kandy, commenced, 1818; Itinerating Mission, 1852; Tamil Cooly Mission, 1855.

The Rev. H. Gunasêkără, besides being chairman of the Kandy Church Council, with which several congregations are connected, has charge of the central Singhalese congregation in Kandy itself, which, though small (the registered members numbering 208), is an influential body, and has increased during the year under review. There are forty communicants. Seven adults have been baptized during the year; and there are three candidates under instruction. Mr. Gunasêkara has been comforted by the sympathy and substantial help of his congregation during the fatal illness of his only son. Of his evangelistic work Mr. Gunasêkara writes:—

Conversion and baptism of a prisoner in a jail.

I have carried on preaching at a junction of the streets, in company with Rev. S. Coles, whenever he was in town, and with Mr. P. J. Perera, the catechist, as in past years. People listen to our message as usual, and sometimes they buy books and tracts. I have also preached once a week in the bazaar preaching-room, and on Sunday-morning in the jail. As a result of this last effort, I had the pleasure, this year also, of baptizing one person. He himself earnestly applied for baptism. He had heard the Gospel preached for some years, and had from the beginning had a clear understanding of the way of salvation, but had relapsed for a time to a state of indifference through listening to Buddhist objections. He observed one day, "God has not given us His religion to answer objections, but to secure our salvation, so I am not anxious about replying to objections; I am satisfied there is salvation for me in Christianity, and that is enough for me."

The Rev. B. P. Wîrasingha ministers to small congregations in two schools of Kandy, Katukaelê and Gaetaembê. Their aggregate number is 180. There are 27 Communicants; four adults were baptized during the year, and there are ten candidates. The contributions for religious purposes have increased. The advance under these heads is small; but its importance is enhanced by there having been many deaths and removals.

Mr. T. Dunn reports as follows :—

I have had charge of TRINITY COLLEGE since April last, when the principal, the Rev. R. Collins, left for England on furlough. After Mr. Collins left, I was informed by the Registrar of Calcutta University that his (Mr. C.'s) application for the affiliation of the College up to the standard of the B.A. degree had been granted.

The number of students has kept up. We have at present an average attendance of about 100, and 117 on the rolls; 106 are in the Lower School, and the remaining eleven are the students of the College and the Upper School. There are three students in the F.A. (First Arts') class. The Students in the Lower School are, at present, taught by four Native masters, three of whom are undergraduates of Calcutta University. The two senior masters hope to go to Calcutta for their B.A. examination in January, 1880. Fourteen of the students are boarders. After morning prayers, the first hour of each day is devoted to religious instruction. In the Upper School we have studied part of "Paley's Evidences," in addition to the regular Bible lessons. Many of the lessons in the reading-books are on religious subjects; and even in the most secular lessons we often have opportunities for religious teaching.

Our Sunday-school, has made great progress during the year. We have now an average attendance of forty-five, the majority of whom are students of the College. They are the sons of Singhalese gentlemen, and many of them are Buddhists. Three of the masters and several of the more influential members of Mr. Gunasêkara's congregation give voluntary help in teaching. The more advanced boys are taught in English, the others in Singhalese.

The Rev. W. E. Rowlands, Rev. W. P. Schaffter, and Rev. A. R. Cavalier jointly conduct the TAMIL COOLY MISSION. They are assisted by 42 Catechists and 34 Teachers. The total number of adherents is 1396; and there have been thirty adult baptisms during the year.

The Rev. S. Coles, having rejoined the Mission, and the Rev. G. F. Unwin having been compelled by failure of health to return to England, it falls to the former to report of this branch. And a very cheering account he is permitted to give, notwithstanding drawbacks. He writes:—

There are in this itinerancy about 1200 Christians, connected with 27 congregations; and the average attendance at Divine worship is 631. There have been 140 baptisms since my last Report, and of these 89 were adults. We have 49 catechumens and 105 inquirers; 24 Sunday-schools, with an average attendance of 255 scholars; and 40 day-schools, attended by 1574 children.

I am under great difficulties through the indefinite postponement of the ordination of Native helpers, who have been waiting more than four years to be admitted to the ministry. The number of communicants is lamentably small (only 129); but this is not to be wondered at, for the reason just referred to.—The Romanists have sent a priest into the Talampitiya district, for the purpose of gaining converts to their Church. Our Christians show a most determined opposition. About a month ago he challenged Mr. Jones and myself to a public controversy, which we accepted. It was carried on in the presence of about 200 people, and lasted six hours. Perfect order and quiet were maintained throughout; and our people departed with a much clearer insight into the errors of Romanism than they previously had, and a firm determination to hold fast to their Bibles and the doctrines therein taught. There are seven congregations in the Talampitiya district, and they urgently need a minister to reside and work among them; but hope deferred maketh their hearts sick. Abraham, Paul, and Solomon are the chief evangelistic agents here. They abound in good works, and labour most earnestly to extend the kingdom of Christ in that district. They have seventy-five inquirers on their lists, and are generally well received wherever they go.—Almost all of our congregations have been increased by additions from heathenism; and in some cases the numbers added to the churches have been considerable. We have also been encouraged by a young Singhalese man, who relinquished his situation under Government, where he was working very satisfactorily to his superiors, and was certain of promotion if he had remained in that service, in order that he might devote himself to direct Mission work, and seek in winning souls for Christ. Before he took this step, he was fully aware that he would have to work with a much smaller salary than he had hitherto received; but he cared not for that, and has been about four months working very hard as teacher and evangelist at a village which I have often referred to before—Munamali. He has more than ninety children in his school, whom he is most anxious to train up for Christ, and has several adult candidates for baptism. We hope that his wife will soon be able to open a school for girls there, for which we are making preparations.—Mr. Sûriarachi, who was educated at Trinity College, Kandy, and was afterwards appointed catechist to Kaegalla, is working well there; I wish I had many like him. He holds services in English, as well as Singhalese, and these are very well attended. Besides this, he assists me in the general superintendence of the work in that district, where our prospects are very hopeful. In the older districts—Gampola, Nâwalapitiya, and Kurunaegala—the work has been conducted as usual. Although the people of this country have suffered from the effects of the famine in South India, from the greatly enhanced prices of food, yet they have contributed willingly towards the Lord's work carried on in their midst. The total amount received here since my last Report is Rs. 5727, of which sum Rs. 3314 were contributed by Natives. Another pleasing proof of their sincerity and earnestness was shown me last April, when I was invited to the opening service of a nice substantial school-chapel, which they had erected during my absence from the island, at a cost of Rs. 1000.

IV. Jaffna District.

Nallur, commenced 1818; Chundikuli, 1842; Kopay, 1847.

The Rev. J. D. Simmons has during the year superintended the Evangelistic work of this Mission, and is Chairman of the Native Church Council. The following is an extract from the Report:—

Eighteen adult baptisms is one part of the result of a year's work. It is below our expectation, and very far below our desire. But we know not how near the latter rain and the rising of the Sun of Righteousness with healing in His wings may be. Fourteen of the converts are youths connected with various schools. One has had much trial to endure from his heathen parents.—The Church Council is successfully conducting its business. The lay interest in the work shows no signs of flagging, rather, I think, new energy has been manifested. Each congregation has also its committee. —I hope that, by God's help, we shall keep the infant Church from receiving the seeds of doctrinal error and ritualism. I am thankful to say that the independent laymen show some interest in this most important matter; but my hope is in God, and not in man.

Aggressive work amongst the heathen is the special work of the catechists. House-to-house visitation, public preaching in school bungalows and (on moonlight nights) in the open air, tract and Bible distribution, have been pretty vigorously carried on. Myself and several catechists spent six weeks itinerating in the mainland of Ceylon, south of the Jaffna Peninsula; and we have since visited the islands and other places not often reached. Every part of our field has had the jubilee trumpet blown over it this year. We have scattered the seed broadcast. More than 500 single Gospels or copies of Genesis, twenty-nine New Testaments, and eight Bibles have been sold; 2000 tracts have been sold; and nearly 8000 hand-bills have been given, in this itinerating work.

The Kopay Institution has gone on satisfactorily. There are thirteen youths in the training-class, and nineteen boys in the boarding-school. Two finished their course in April, and are now employed as schoolmasters.—The work of the Girls' Boarding School has been carried on by the same staff of teachers. Six girls have left the school after passing the Sixth Standard Examination. These girls receive not only an intellectual training, which fits them to become the wives of educated men or to be schoolmistresses, but are carefully taught the precious truths of God's Word.

The Native Pastors seem to be deservedly esteemed by their flocks. Mr. Handy, has to a great extent regained his health.

Towards the close of 1878, the Rev. D. Wood was transferred to Colombo. While at Jaffna he had charge of the Educational work, of which he reports as follows:—

The year was a very trying one. Cholera again visited the district, and many schools were closed in the early part of the year. —The Chundikuli Seminary was sadly interrupted. The average attendance in October, 1877, was nearly 200, but, owing to an outbreak of cholera, fell to 63 in November. We reopened, after vacation, in the middle of January with 93. This average increased month by month until, in September, we again had 200. This state of things told upon the finances of the school, both in the way of fees and of Government grant-in-aid. The chief point of interest from a spiritual point of view, was the baptism of one of the day students. He was soon called upon to take up the cross. His parents did everything they could to make him deny his Saviour, but without success. Compelled at length to leave his father's house, he took refuge for a few days with a Native pastor. Afterwards, as he had no means of support, he was admitted as a boarder. I hope to be able to induce some friends to contribute towards his expenses. Another student publicly renounced Romanism, and was received into our Church.—The Kopay English School has not suffered much interruption, and has increased both in number of pupils and in general efficiency. I had the pleasure of baptizing two lads at this school. The average attendance in September was 33.

Conversion in a Missionary English School.

The Kokoville English School and the Vernacular Schools suffered considerably from scarcity and from the prevalence of cholera.

There are cases of religious interest in several of these schools, which we hope may ripen into an open confession of Christ.*

MAURITIUS MISSION.

Division of the Mission: 1. Tamil-speaking Coolies (Madras Branch), 1857. 2. Bengali and Hindustani-speaking Coolies (Calcutta Branch), 1857. 3. The Seychelles Islands, 1875.

THE PREPARANDI CLASS under Mr. Schurr's care contains six pupils. Two left during the year, being appointed as Catechists in the Mission, one to work under Mr. Honiss at Creve-Cœur, of which place he is a Native, and the other under Mr. Schurr himself at Mahebourg in the Grand Port district. Two others took their places in the Class. The conduct of the students, and their progress in study, have been satisfactory.

Work among Calcutta Coolies.

This branch of the Mission is divided geographically. The Rev. F. Schurr takes the southernmost districts of Grand Port and Savanne, and the Rev. P. Ansorgé the rest of the island; Mr. Schurr having charge also, as above stated, of the Preparandi Institution. Mr. Schurr's station is at ROSE BELLE, in Grand Port. During the year the Native Christians under Mr. Schurr's care have increased from 62 to 94, thirteen having been added to their number by adult baptism. The Communicants have increased from six to twenty. It is also an encouraging sign that the Native Christians have set on foot voluntary private meetings for prayer and edification.

In the Rev. P. Ansorgé's districts there are now 1002 Native Christians, not including catechumens. Ninety-seven of these are recent converts, or the infant children of such converts. Very few Native Christians have during the year either come from India or returned to that country The communicants number 178. Mr. Ansorgé's Native helpers (Rev. C. Kûshallî and seven catechists) all combine pastoral with evangelistic work. The Gospel is preached in the plantations, on the high-roads, in prisons, in hospitals, and at the Immigration Depôt.

Work among Madras Coolies.

This branch is divided between the Rev. H. D. Buswell and the Rev. N. Honiss.

Mr. Buswell writes :—

The suggestions offered in the Society's annual letter to the missionary brethren, with a view to develope the activity of the Native Churches, commend themselves to me as specially appropriate and valuable. It is my intention, in visiting the several small Christian communities in my district, to urge, more persistently than I have hitherto done, the duty and advantages of providing for their own religious worship. I fear that hitherto our Christians in the villages have not sufficiently understood the duty of meeting together for worship and for mutual edification, and that, in general, they have failed to do so excepting when the missionary has supplied them with the services of a catechist. Very considerable efforts have been made towards providing a portion of the Native pastor's salary. Salaried ministers, however, are only required where a sufficient number of converts justifies and provides for the outlay; but ministrations are required wherever two or three believers are found together.—The Native pastor, the Rev. John Gabb, has striven hard to show himself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed. He has just had leave to visit India. I trust that the change to his native country will establish his health and refresh his soul.—Twenty-two adults have been baptized during the year.

Mr. Buswell gives an interesting account of the baptism of a Chinese whose wife and children were Romanists, but who, with him, joined "the English religion." The Missionary longs for an earnest Chinese Catechist. Would it not be possible for one of the "Madras" or "Calcutta" Catechists, or Præparandi, to learn the Chinese language?—An interesting effort has also been initiated by Mr. Buswell among the (African) descendants of the ex-slave population. Its expenses are not met from the Society's funds. At present, indeed, none of the agents under Mr. Buswell's immediate supervision are paid directly by the Society.

In Mr. Honiss's district, the number of adherents during the year has more than doubled, being now 203. There are twenty-three communicants; and five adults have been baptized during the year. Two of the adult baptisms are of special interest, being the result of the prayers and efforts of an aged Christian sister, daughter of the late well-known John Dêvasagayam of Tinnevelly. Mr. Honiss remarks that the present favourable opportunity in Mauritius is not likely to last long; as not only are Romish Missionaries likely soon to enter the field, but Hindu priests are coming over in large numbers from the Indian Continent.

SEYCHELLES.

This Mission has been recently strengthened by the addition to it of Mr. and Mrs. Warry. Mr. Warry is a trained schoolmaster. In the course of the year 1878, the Rev. W. B. Chancellor again became the Civil Chaplain of Seychelles, while still superintending the Society's work. Early in 1879, Mr. Chancellor was compelled by an affection of his eyes to leave Seychelles, and subsequently to embark at Mauritius for England; Mr. Buswell going over from Mauritius, to take temporary charge of the Seychelles Mission.

The Boarding School of African children, about sixty in number at the date of the most recent returns, forms the nucleus of the Mission. About 150 acres of land have been made over to the Society by the Government at a nominal annual rent. Mr. Chancellor saw some indications of the work of the HOLY SPIRIT in the hearts of the children, but found their parents very difficult of access. These latter have to a great extent forgotten their own language, and do not know enough of Creole French to understand religious conversations in it.

CHINA MISSION.

Southern Division.

HONG KONG.

THE Committee notice with deep thankfulness the gradual acceleration of Missionary advance in this interesting, but in some respects unfavourably circumstanced, station. It is a sad fact that the selection of any place as the seat of British Government, though a reason why British Christians should not neglect it, is not a reason for expecting Missionary success there. Steady, patient, and prayerful work, however, is every year receiving at Hong Kong greater signs of Divine blessing. During the year, fourteen adults have been baptized; while the Native adherents have increased from 123 to 157, and the communicants from 50 to 64. The regular attendance and reverently earnest demeanour of the Native Christians, at the Lord's Supper, at the ordinary Sunday Services, and at the Bible Class, are very cheering to the Missionary. The progress at the out-stations is also most encouraging. Of these there are now seven in full working order.

The European Missionary during 1878 was the Rev. A. B. Hutchinson. The Missionaries at this present time are the Rev. E. Davys, M.A. (formerly of Leicester, who is an honorary Missionary), and the Rev. J. Grundy; Mr. Hutchinson having returned home to recruit his health. It is to be regretted that there is no space in these pages for Mr. Hutchinson's lengthened and deeply interesting report.*

BISHOP BURDON has commenced a new Mission at Pakkoi, to which the Society has made a small grant; and it seems likely to be one of great interest.

FOO-CHOW, NING-TAIK, KU-CHENG, AND LO-NGUONG.

The Society's work at these stations is carried on by the Revs. J. Wolfe, R. W. Stewart, Ll. Lloyd, and (recently joined) Dr. Van Someren Taylor, all residing at Foo-Chow. The Native Clergymen are the Revs. Tang Tang-Pieng at Ning-Taik, and Ting Sing-Ki, at Ku-Cheng.

The reports of the year are deeply interesting, furnishing abundant cause both for thanksgiving and for prayer.

In 1877 the Mission and Native Church had to mourn

* For further notices of Hong Kong, see "C.M. Gleaner" for August and September, 1878.

Death of an able and devoted Native Clergyman.

The Rev. Ling Sieng Sing died at Lo Nguong, after a long and somewhat painful illness. He never fully recovered from the shock of the barbarous treatment he received about three years ago at the hands of the gentry at Kiong Ning Fu. He was a man full of zeal, and remarkable for his knowledge of the Word of God; an able preacher also, and most energetic in the superintendence and work of his large and important district, which included the two Hiens of Lo Nguong and Lieng-kong. But our loss is his gain. He is now at rest in the presence of his Lord whom he loved so well, and whom he served so faithfully on earth. The persecutions to which members of his poor flock were subjected, together with the general troubles of the Mission, deeply affected his most sensitive mind, and it gave way under the weight of accumulated sorrows and anxieties on behalf of the Church of Christ in his native Fu-kien. His last days and nights were spent in reading the Holy Scriptures, and in earnest prayer for the Church of God.

Mr. Wolfe gives the following general review of the year:—

Persecutions in Fu-kien.

The past year has been one of unexampled trial and difficulty in the history of the Fu-kien Mission. The hostility of the gentry and literati, which for the last few years has been manifesting itself at intervals, has this year burst all its restraints, and vented its fury upon the Mission at different points, culminating in the disgraceful and serious outrage committed upon ourselves and the Mission houses in the city of Foo-chow, under the superintendence, I was going to say, of the Chinese authorities, and in the very presence of H.M. Consul. We have also to report the utter destruction of our chapels at Kiong Ning Fu and Tik Kaw, and our expulsion from other places during the year, by hired mobs instigated and led in person by a few of the gentry and literati. The authorities also still refuse to restore the property at Yen-pen (Iong Ping) Fu, which was destroyed six or seven years ago by the gentry. Threats of further destruction and expulsion from our chapels all over the country, are being made and carried out while I write, and fill us with much anxiety and apprehension. But the Lord reigneth.

We have admitted 237 by baptism into the visible Church of Christ during the year. Sixty-one of these were the children of Christian parents. The entire number of Christians, adults and children, at this moment in connexion with this Mission is 3000, perhaps rather over. (This includes about 500 or 600 in the Hok Chiang district, which we have this year incorporated into our Mission.) Of course in so large a body of Native Christians there are many degrees of Christian attainments and many spiritual deficiencies; but what other motive than the love of Christ can influence these people to suffer for Christ as they have done during the past years?

There are, at the end of this year 1878, one hundred out-stations connected with this Mission throughout its thirteen large districts, containing 104 churches and chapels. These are served by two Native Clergymen and 100 Native catechists, assisted by a large body of voluntary exhorters. There are seven schools, including the two boarding-schools at Foo-chow. We have every reason to believe that these agents are men influenced by the Spirit of God, and by love to the Saviour; and their conduct and zeal during the year have been, on the whole, satisfactory and encouraging. One only has been disconnected. He fled from his station under persecution, was publicly rebuked at the Conference for his cowardice, and was pronounced, in consequence, unfit for the office of catechist.

Native Christian Conference at Foo-chow.

Our Conference assembled this year on the first week in December. We had, as usual, a very large attendance, and the various subjects for deliberation and discussion were handled with much spirit and ability. Many of our younger men spoke, and took part in the discussion, and gave much promise of power and future usefulness in the Church of Christ in this province. We spent eight happy and useful days in conference and prayer, and we all felt much refreshed and greatly encouraged in the midst of great and real sorrow, and external trials and difficulties. The large number of Native Christians that then met together, day after day, in the Mission church in the very heart of the city, without molestation, at a time of much excitement, and when it was thought by some that great hostility existed in the minds of the people against us, refuted this notion, and at the same time tested the Christian courage of our converts.

Of the out-stations Mr. Wolfe speaks as follows:—

Lieng-Kong.—The district of Lieng-Kong presents nothing for special notice during the past year. But the city station has at length given us a little encouragement. Three have been baptized, and there are between twenty and thirty regular attendants on the various means of grace. This increased interest excited a corresponding amount of persecution. The new converts have been sorely tried, some having been seriously beaten; but, by the grace of God, they are all holding on their way. The book depôt in the city was forcibly closed, and partially destroyed, by the ever hostile literati and gentry; but, after some delay and great difficulty, it was ultimately restored to us by the local magistrate. The very interesting station of Tau-ka, out of which the gentry are trying to expel us, has, in consequence of this opposition, made rather slow progress this year; yet many there are willing to hear, and the agent employed is a true and faithful man of God. The Persecution in the Lieng-Kong district.

Ma-pé station also, has undergone severe trials. The gentry led a gang of fifty low opium-smoking ruffians, and attempted to pull down the chapel; but were checked by the timely interference of an influential neighbour and friend of the Tau-ka catechist. The catechist, however, lost his little child, it is supposed, through the fright of the tumult.

Lo-Nguong.—This interesting and familiar district has lost its faithful and devoted pastor and superintendent (Rev. Ling Sieng Sing), and also has had to endure much from persecution. One very interesting young man has been baptized from the city, and, humanly speaking, had the health and life of our dear brother Ling been spared, the number of baptisms from the city would have been much larger. But we know that the ways of God are dictated by infinite wisdom and boundless love. —Much interest has been awakened in the old village of Tong-a, in this district, and twenty-six have been baptized there during the year, while a very large number are under preparatory instruction. In Wong Pwong, eleven have been baptized.—The Church at A-chia has been sorely tried during the last two or three years, but especially so this year, by the violent persecution of a few of the local literati and their ever-subservient followers, the ruffians and the low vagabonds of the district; and though eleven members have been received into the church by baptism, the disturbed state of the district and neighbourhood has been anything but favourable to the progress of the mission-work in this place. Two of the A-chia brethren are in prison. They have been most cruelly beaten in order to make them confess a crime of which they are entirely innocent. Their houses and families have been plundered, and their property sold away, and the proceeds of the sale distributed among the persecutors. Their letters to us from prison breathe a simple trust in Jesus, and a determination never to forsake Him.—There appears to be a lull in the interest that for a time so hopefully manifested itself at Iong Lung; but Heng Iong, in the same neighbourhood, has given us some encouragement, and six have been received here by baptism.—There have been a few baptisms at each of the other stations in this district. A good many inquirers, however, have fallen away.—Sia Sen Ong, the head catechist at Ang Iong, takes charge of the Lo-Nguong district for 1879, in consequence of the lamented death of the Rev. Ling Sieng Sing. I earnestly ask the prayers of Christians in England for this interesting catechist, that God would bless his labours at Lo Nguong, his native district, as He has blessed him in the region and district of Ang Iong. You will remember he was the first fruits of A-chia unto Christ. The widow of the late Rev. Su Chong Ing labours successfully in this district as a Bible-woman.

notwithstanding opposition, there has been a quiet progress. The city of Ning-Taik presents very little encouragement. Its congregation is composed solely of converts from the surrounding villages. During the year, there have been twenty-seven baptisms in connexion with it, and its condition has decidedly improved in every respect.—There has been a very encouraging work going on in the old station of Siok Chuo, after a year or two of comparative deadness; and a good many inquirers have placed themselves under instruction. There have been seven baptisms at Ting-Sang-Ki; and, on the whole, there has been much encouragement both here and at Chung Iong. The congregations at Chek Tu, Lek Tu, and Ni Tu have been slightly increased.—Two additional stations were opened in the district towards the close of the year.

Hok-Ning Fu.—Though there have been only two baptisms in this district since last report, some progress has been made in removing prejudices and spreading abroad an increased knowledge of Christianity. Preaching in the chapel has been well attended. This is the only place all over the Mission which has been comparatively free from persecution. One out-station has been occupied; and the catechist reports great willingness on the part of the people to listen to what he has to tell them about Christ. There can be little doubt, however, that, as soon as any deep interest is manifested, the gentry and literati will stir up trouble and persecution.

KU-CHENG.—Eastern District.—This district has given us a great deal of sorrow during the year. A great many have gone back and walk no more with us. Persecution has apparently stamped out all the interest which at one time filled us with thankfulness and joy. At present some of our chapels are threatened with destruction, and we cannot tell what a day may bring forth. The gentry and literati are encouraged by the attitude of the officers; and the poor people everywhere are under the impression that Christianity is under the ban of the Government. The Ku-cheng magistrate is reported to have declared in open court that all Christians should be compelled to conform to the heathen customs of their native villages. These customs involve worship at the graves of the ancestors and before the tablets, and joining in all public idolatrous processions and the like, and also subscribing money for the support of the idol shrines and temples.

KU-CHENG.—Central District.—The hostile conduct of the magistrate has had not unnaturally, a bad effect upon the progress of our work in the city. Inquirers have fallen away; and the increase during the year has been very small. Few, compared with former occasions, now attend the services. The Rev. Ting Sing-Ki, the devoted Native pastor in charge of the district and congregation, has shown much ability and energy; and we have great cause of thankfulness for the grace bestowed upon him. The work among the women in this city has been more encouraging this year. Some considerable interest in the Gospel has been manifested among the poor wretched lepers in the lazaret outside the west gate. Twenty of them meet together for service on Sundays and other seasons; and the services are conducted for them by one of the Christians, who has taken up his abode among them for the purpose of bringing them to Jesus. I visit the place whenever I am at Ku-cheng; and nothing is more interesting and encouraging than the conduct of this aged Christian, and the interest he seems to take in the spiritual welfare of these most wretched and loathsome-looking men and women. This disease of leprosy is truly a "living death." But thanks be to God! we have reason to believe that from this lazaret of corruption in the city of Ku-cheng some have been washed in the blood of Jesus, and made fit and meet for the company of the saints in light. This thought alone is almost enough to encourage one to fight on and faint not, in the midst of so much opposition and deadly hate of Satan.—The work throughout the entire district has suffered much in the same way as that in the city. At Ngu Tu, however, the work has taken great strides. More than 100 have placed themselves under instruction. The women especially seem most zealous. The catechist is a most earnest man, and devoted to the Saviour. The Bible-woman also has laboured well, and helped the catechist's wife in her work among the poor ignorant women of this place.

Work among lepers at Ku-Cheng.

KU-CHENG.—S. W. District.—The work in this district has not suffered so much, from persecution and the opposition of the gentry, as that in the other two districts of Ku-cheng.—Though the baptisms at Ang Iong have been only seven this year, there has not been so great a falling away of candidates and inquirers as in other districts. Still, we expected much greater things in this district than we have realized during the year. Tong-Liang, around which gathered so much interest last year, and for which so many earnest prayers were offered, has not at all justified our hopes. There has been only one baptized; and two have been expelled. There have been seven baptisms at Cho Iong. In Cho Pang, on the other hand, which last year gave us very great discouragement, a goodly number of inquirers have placed themselves under instruction.—Ting Sing-Ang, the only brother of the Rev. Ting, takes charge of this interesting district next year (1879). He is a young man of promise and ability. He was educated in our school, and married one of our school-girls, who is also a very intelligent and earnest Christian woman. There are no people in the world to whom St. Paul's words to Timothy, "Let no one despise thy youth," are more applicable than the Chinese. They can see very little wisdom in youth when set over them as teachers. We therefore request most earnest prayer on behalf of Ting Sing-Ang.

Kiong-Ning-Fu.—The work in this large and densely populated district has been all but stopped on account of the bitter opposition and violent persecutions of the literati and gentry. Two of our chapels have been destroyed, and the catechists severely beaten and expelled from their stations. We still retain three stations in this district; but though the people are exceedingly civil, and listen willingly, the catechists are in constant danger of being expelled by the landlords, who in their turn are threatened by the gentry, because they allow the Christians to rent the chapels.

Iong Ping Fu.—The opposition of the gentry, in this district also, has greatly interfered with the peaceful prosecution of our work, and we have very little progress to report.—There have been four baptisms at Nang Sang; but there has been no increase in the numbers of inquirers or candidates for baptism.—The fact of the chapel at Iong Ping Fu itself, which was destroyed by the gentry seven years ago, not having been yet restored, has deterred numbers, who might otherwise have joined us.

Hing Wha Fu.—There are four catechists labouring in this district, which lies south of Min River—two in the city of Hing Wha, and two in the large and important town of Ang Tau.—There has been considerable trouble and persecution at this latter place; and the greater portion of the interesting class of inquirers and candidates for baptism, which was reported here last year, has been scattered. There have been no baptisms at Ang Tau during the year. The catechists, however, visit the surrounding villages, and meet small classes of inquirers at two or three places, who are afraid to visit the chapel on Sundays to attend the services.—There does not appear to be much opposition in the city of Hing Wha; but there are very few Christians or inquirers. Only one has been baptized there this year. We have some considerable difficulty in procuring suitable premises in the city.

Taikwha.—This district also has suffered from the general persecution during the year; not, however, of a very violent character in this region. But there are hopeful indications in Pê Hî and U Iong that God is about to pour out His blessing upon this district.—The inquirers at U Iong have increased to fifty or over, and four have been baptized during the year. The chapel has had to be greatly enlarged towards the end of the year; and the subsequent accounts are, on the whole, encouraging.—Pê Hi has had a large increase of inquirers; and five very interesting men have been received into the Church by baptism. Here also the chapel requires enlarging, in order to accommodate all who come to the Sabbath services. We sadly want a good man to take the superintendence of this deeply interesting district who can speak its dialect. Very few of our best catechists can speak more than the Foo-chow dialect.

Hok Chiang.—We now include this district in our work, thus making thirteen districts altogether, which, if we had sufficient men and superintendents, could be at once divided into thirty large districts, each capable of giving work to 300 or 400 earnest Native catechists. The report of this district will properly belong to 1879. We have now four earnest and intelligent catechists working in this district among the fourteen small congregations calling themselves Ang-Lik-Angs (Anglicans).

Foo-chow.—There are three or four inquirers in this great city; but we cannot speak with any confidence yet as to their sincerity or steadfastness. The scorn to which the Christians are exposed from the proud literati of this Chinese Athens is a severe ordeal for a young convert to pass through, and I regret to say has proved fatal to many who promised at one time to run well. Public preaching in the streets was suspended in this city for some months; and even the chapels were closed for some time, on account of the boldness of the lowest class of the city vagabonds who imagined they might insult us, and tear down our chapels with impunity. These are the tools of the gentry and literati. The orderly and respectable portion of the people of this city has never shown hostility to us or our mission work. All the trouble comes from the second class gentry and literati, and their hired rabble.

Hostility of a section of the Chinese literati, and friendly feeling of the general population.

The outrage at Foo-chow above referred to is fully detailed in the Church Missionary Intelligencer for January, 1879. It took place on the 31st of August, 1878. H.M. Consul and ten or twelve Mandarins had come to the Mission House, to inspect the building which had been erected in the Mission premises, against which some of the literati had raised objections. A band of rioters, doubtless hired for the occasion, gradually gathered together, and at last, led on by some of the literati, destroyed the college and an adjoining house in the presence of the Consul and the Mandarins. The Mandarins, though they had soldiers with them, made no attempt to check this act of violence. When the mob threatened to enter the Mission house itself, the ladies of the Mission escaped by a back door, and walked a mile and a half in the open street, till they reached a place of refuge in the American church. None of the rioters were in the streets through which they had to pass; and the people whom they met showed no disposition whatever to molest them. This is one of many proofs that the population generally have no unkindly feeling towards the Mission; the animosity being confined to the literati, and, in its virulence, to a section only of them. "It was gratifying," writes Mr. Stewart, "that of all the faces I have learnt to know while preaching in the streets, not one was to be seen aiding the rioters. Those who were there did us good service, striving their very best to keep the crowds quiet."

Though the building has thus been destroyed, the work of the Training College is ably carried on by Mr. Stewart. He has had twenty-five students under his care during the year, ten of whom have gone forth into active work, and have been found satisfactory.*

BISHOP RUSSELL writes:—

I held during the year six confirmations for Chinese Christians, one at Ningpo, one at Z-ky'i, one at Kwun-hœ-we, one at the Lakes, one at Hang-chow, and one at Great Valley Stream, in the Cü-Kyi district. In all, then, during the year, I confirmed 113 Chinese candidates, which makes the whole number, since the commencement of my episcopate to the present, exactly three hundred; 284 Chinese, and 16 Europeans.

On Trinity Sunday I admitted to priests' orders the Revs. 'O Kwông-yiāo, Wông Yiu-kwông, and Dzing Ts-sing. The subsequent demeanour of these three men has fully justified, as well their elevation to the priesthood, as their appointment to the pastorship of Native congregations and to separate and independent spheres of labour.

Comments by a Chinese heathen on the parable of the Prodigal Son.

In one of my Missionary journeys I was brought into contact with an old gentleman, over seventy years of age, six feet high, and very deaf. After trying in vain to communicate to him Christian truth, by means of speaking, or rather shouting, I found that he was a good reader, and, laying a copy of the New Testament before me, I turned to the story of the Prodigal Son, and asked him to read it to me. He did so, freely commenting upon it as he went along, somewhat as follows:—"'A certain man had two sons'—well, that's just my case—'and the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me.' Why, strange to say, that is exactly what my younger son has done! 'And he divided unto them his living. And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living.'" Here he put down the book, looked at me, and said, "This story exactly fits my case; this is just what that younger son of mine has done. He has spent all I gave him in opium smoking. Oh! how is it that you foreigners have brought us that dreadful thing which brings such misery and ruin upon us?" "We deserve to be beaten," I replied: "but go on with the story." He read on until he came to the words, "And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger! I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee, and am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants,"—when he again put down the Book, and told a by-stander to go at once and call his younger son to him, that he too might hear the story. The messenger went, and after a short time returned, saying that his son could not come now, as he was engaged in opium-smoking. "Oh!" said the old man, staring me again in the face—and this time with tears trickling down his cheeks, presenting one of the most affecting sights I have ever witnessed in China—"Oh! tell me how it is that you foreigners have brought to us such a thing as this opium, which has ruined my son and millions of others too?" "We do indeed deserve to be beaten," I replied; "we are altogether inexcusable. But pray finish the story." He went on "'And he arose and went to his father. But when he was a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion on him, and ran and fell on his neck [here, to illustrate it, he threw his brawny arms round my neck], and kissed him. And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son. But the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him.' Well, now, if that wretched son of mine would only act in this way, I too would treat him well. I wouldn't long leave him in his present ragged, half-naked condition. I would gladly give him a good suit of clothes to wear, and good food to eat." "Finish the story," I said. He continued, "'and put a ring on his hand.' Oh, no! I wouldn't do that—that would be treating him with too much courtesy—with good clothes and good food he ought to be well satisfied." He then read the remainder of this wonderful story without much additional comment, when I attempted to lead him from its earthly to its heavenly meaning. Some months afterwards the old man succeeded in inducing his prodigal son to come to Ningpo, where he was cured of opium-smoking by Dr. Barchet, of the American Baptist Mission; and our earnest hope and prayer is that both father and son may be cured of the still greater plague of sin by the great Physician of souls.

NINGPO.

The statistics for Ningpo and its out-stations as supplied by the Rev. F. F. Gough, give 530 Native Christian Adherents, of whom 495 are baptized, and 225 are Communicants. These numbers do not appreciably differ from those of the year previous.—In the City of Ningpo itself there are about 170 Native Christians connected with the Society. Their pastor is the Rev. Dzing-Ts-Sing. Mr. Gough, who is the Missionary of the station, describes Mr. Dzing's preaching as interesting and Scriptural. Mr. Gough's own work has been much impeded by feeble health.

Education.

The TRAINING COLLEGE is under the care of the Rev. J. C. Hoare. Of this very important work Mr. Hoare reports as follows:—

The Ningpo Training College.

At the close of the last year we numbered seventeen students. Of these, two are now schoolmasters in country schools. We have added to our number two men who are under training for the work of catechists, one youth of nineteen years of age, and six boys. At present, therefore, twenty-four students are under training. Many candidates for admission we are compelled to refuse, simply because we have not accommodation for them.—Those students who formed the first-class of last year have now reached the age of twenty, and are therefore employed actively, whilst they still attend the College lectures. Six students are thus employed. One of these acts as assistant under the Native master in the College, and renders me most effective help in teaching the younger boys. In addition to his Native scholarship, he is thoroughly fitted for giving lessons in Scriptural instruction, and has, during the past year, almost entirely relieved me of the arithmetic, &c. Latterly he has been teaching Greek to some of the brightest of the younger boys. Two others are in charge of a day-school near to the Bishop's house, which has been handed over to me as a means of training students in school-teaching. They have kept the school well together; and the boys are well taught. The remaining three are preparing for the work of catechists. For three days in the week they either go out into the country with me, or go out, independently, to help in the services at the various out-stations. During the other four days, their mornings and evenings are devoted to study, the afternoons to preaching in the neighbourhood. —The younger students, with the exception of some of them being employed in Sunday-School teaching, have been kept entirely to their books, or, rather, in the sad lack of books from which we suffer, to their lectures. Five of them are now attending the same lectures as the older students.—These lectures have been upon portions of the Old and New Testaments, whilst, for systematic theology, we have still been going on with Pearson on the Creed. I trust that before long we may thus be able to print a small text-book containing the substance of Pearson's work. In addition to theology and Scripture, we have been keeping steadily to the ordinary routine of general education. The Native classics, of course, take up much of our time. They have also studied arithmetic, and, during the past half-year, Algebra, Secular and Church History, and Geography; and I have given them a few lectures on physical science. Greek, too, has been attempted; and I think that before long some of them will be able to handle their Greek Testament with ease. The youngest boys are also engaged in the same studies, according to their various abilities.

In the place of systematic theology they learn the Scriptures by heart.

Mr. Hoare has also five day-schools under his charge. Day-schools are necessary for the sake of the children of the Christians; and they might also, Mr. Hoare thinks, be a useful evangelistic agency.

Miss Laurence's labours in the girls' boarding school, where the numbers have risen to 27, have been continued under circumstances that might discourage a less zealous labourer. Education for their daughters is as yet not appreciated by the Native Christians; and the girls of the boarding school are therefore only children whose parents and friends are unable, or unwilling, to support them. Not only are no fees paid for their education; but even their food and clothing are given them gratuitously. Of course, the expense of this is not met from the Society's funds; and such a state of things is only a temporary expedient adopted in the hope that so plentiful a supply of careful education will soon create a demand for it. Some of the children in the boarding school are from heathen families. Of these, two were baptized during the year.—The same energetic Missionary sister has also a boys' boarding school for young children. Here clothing is not given, and most of the boys pay something for food. Some of them come from heathen families; and, sad to say, these are the boys whose conduct is most satisfactory. It is a matter for thankfulness, however, that one of them, a highly intelligent child of thirteen, has been baptized with the consent of his friends.

Miss Laurence has also been most energetic and useful in Literary and Itinerating work. As regards the latter, she expresses her conviction that if ladies in England could only realize "the open door" and see what a self-rewarding life that of a Missionary is, there would be no lack of labourers.

Out-stations.

The Rev. J. Bates has charge of the out-stations, assisted at Z-ky'i by the Rev. Wong Yiu Kwông. The number of baptisms has been small; but Mr. Bates is very hopeful of the future. Mr. Wong states that the Chinese generally have a much higher opinion of "the doctrine" than formerly. Buddhism, on the other hand, he says, is declining; the magistrates hate it, and are trying to suppress it; and the convents and monasteries are being turned into free schools and other public offices.

Decline of Buddhism in some parts of China.

SHAO-HING.

The Rev. J. D. Valentine is again alone at this station, the Rev. R. Palmer having been compelled by complete failure of health to leave for England with very little prospect of being able to return to the Mission. The Native Christians number 34. Mr. Valentine, who deplores the loss of his very energetic fellow-worker, has patiently carried on the work, at the Sunday services, in the High Street preaching room, at the boys' day school, at the out-stations, and in connexion with the printing press. There have been no marked tokens of success during the year.

HANG-CHOW.

The Missionaries at this station during 1878 were the Rev. A. E. Moule and till nearly the close of the year Dr. Galt. The lamented death of Mrs. Galt is referred to below. The Rev. A. Elwin and Mrs. Elwin rejoined the Mission at the close of 1878. The prominent event in the Mission is the advance that God has graciously granted in the Chu-Ki district. But Mr. Moule's Annual Letter is full of interest, while bringing out to view subjects for prayer as well as for thanksgiving. He writes :—

Among the trials that have befallen our mission has been the serious illness of Mrs. Galt, rendering the return of Dr. Galt and his family to England next spring an evident necessity. [To the deep sorrow of the missionaries, Mrs. Galt died on her way home.] We trust that, through God's good providence, the work of the Opium Refuge and of the Hospital, which has been encouraging and hopeful all through the past year, may not be wholly suspended, during the necessary absence of the doctor. This good work is now known far and wide; and had we but the money and the men, it might be greatly extended in usefulness.

On October 4th, 1877, the date of my last statistics, I heard of a Christian element in four or five villages. I believe that on October 16th, 1878, the date of my present statistics, there were Christian adherents in fourteen or fifteen villages. In my last Annual Letter I spoke of twenty baptized Christians and some thirty inquirers. We have now ninety-two baptized persons and thirty new inquirers.—We have lost only one by death during the year, an old woman, one of my brother's earliest converts. She died in peace, and is, we trust, with the Lord. But we fear that four of the baptized Christians have gone astray.

There are still very few inquirers in the city of Hang-chow; and there have been no accessions to our station at Pondhead (Dan-de). During a recent visit, however, I gathered that very many in that neighbourhood understand, and incline to, the Gospel, being hindered rom profession, partly by the many foolish stories adverse to Christianity which are so current, and chiefly by the value of their ancestral land, which they expect to have to abandon when they abandon ancestral worship.—Our station in the Hien city of Fuyang, thirty miles west of Hangchow, after two years of barrenness, has just cheered our hearts by one baptism—the promise and firstfruit, we hope, of a large harvest. An elderly man named Hyti, after several months' inquiry at the chapel, was baptized there last October.

The past year has been one of terrible suffering in the five northern provinces of China; and though mercifully preserved in Cheh-Kiang from famine, yet the effect of the far-off misery has not been unfelt. Provisions of all kinds have been dear, and business generally slack. Though we should be thankful, therefore, to see a doubling of Native Church contributions, when God grants us, as He has done this year, a doubling both of Christian adherents and of communicants, yet we are glad, under the circumstances mentioned above, of any increase; and it must be remembered that about half of the newly-baptized were received just as the year under review was closing. The actual increase is about twenty per cent.

Remarkable movement in the Chu-ki district.

The most cheering feature in the Hang-Chow work, indeed in the whole Che-kiang Mission, is the continued blessing graciously vouchsafed to the movement at the Great Valley Stream in the Chu-ki district. By the beginning of 1878, seventeen adults, there had received baptism. In February of the same year, an organized and preconcerted movement was made by some of the neighbouring gentry with the view of suppressing the new religion. The local magistrate visited the spot, but gave the Christians neither redress nor protection. Not till after repeated remonstrances from Mr Moule, from Bishop Russell, and from H.M. Consul, was the district at length quieted. Meanwhile several of the Christians had been insulted, robbed, and beaten. All, however, with one exception, as well as the inquirers, were enabled, by God's grace, to stand firm, and to show at the same time a forgiving spirit. "They worry and threaten us," said one, "and then we all go to prayer." Another, being brought before the local magistrate, and asked by him why he did not now worship his ancestors, replied, "We obey God's Ten Commandments." "What ten commandments?" asked the magistrate; whereupon the convert, kneeling before him, repeated them for all to hear, and added, "This religion of Jesus is from heaven. We are not disobeying the Emperor's laws. All we ask is that we may leave off what God forbids." Sixteen more adults were baptized on the 1st and 2nd of May, and no fewer than forty-four on a subsequent visit. A spirit of inquiry is spreading through the whole district.

Street-preaching in a Chinese city.

The Rev. J. H. Sedgwick has now acquired the Hang-Chow dialect so far as to have begun preaching in it. Those who have formed for themselves a superficially attractive picture of open-air preaching in a heathen town, may have their error corrected by Mr. Sedgwick's realistic description of it; accompanied, as that description is, however, by reference to a thought which gives to the work its true dignity and nobleness. Mr. Sedgwick writes :—

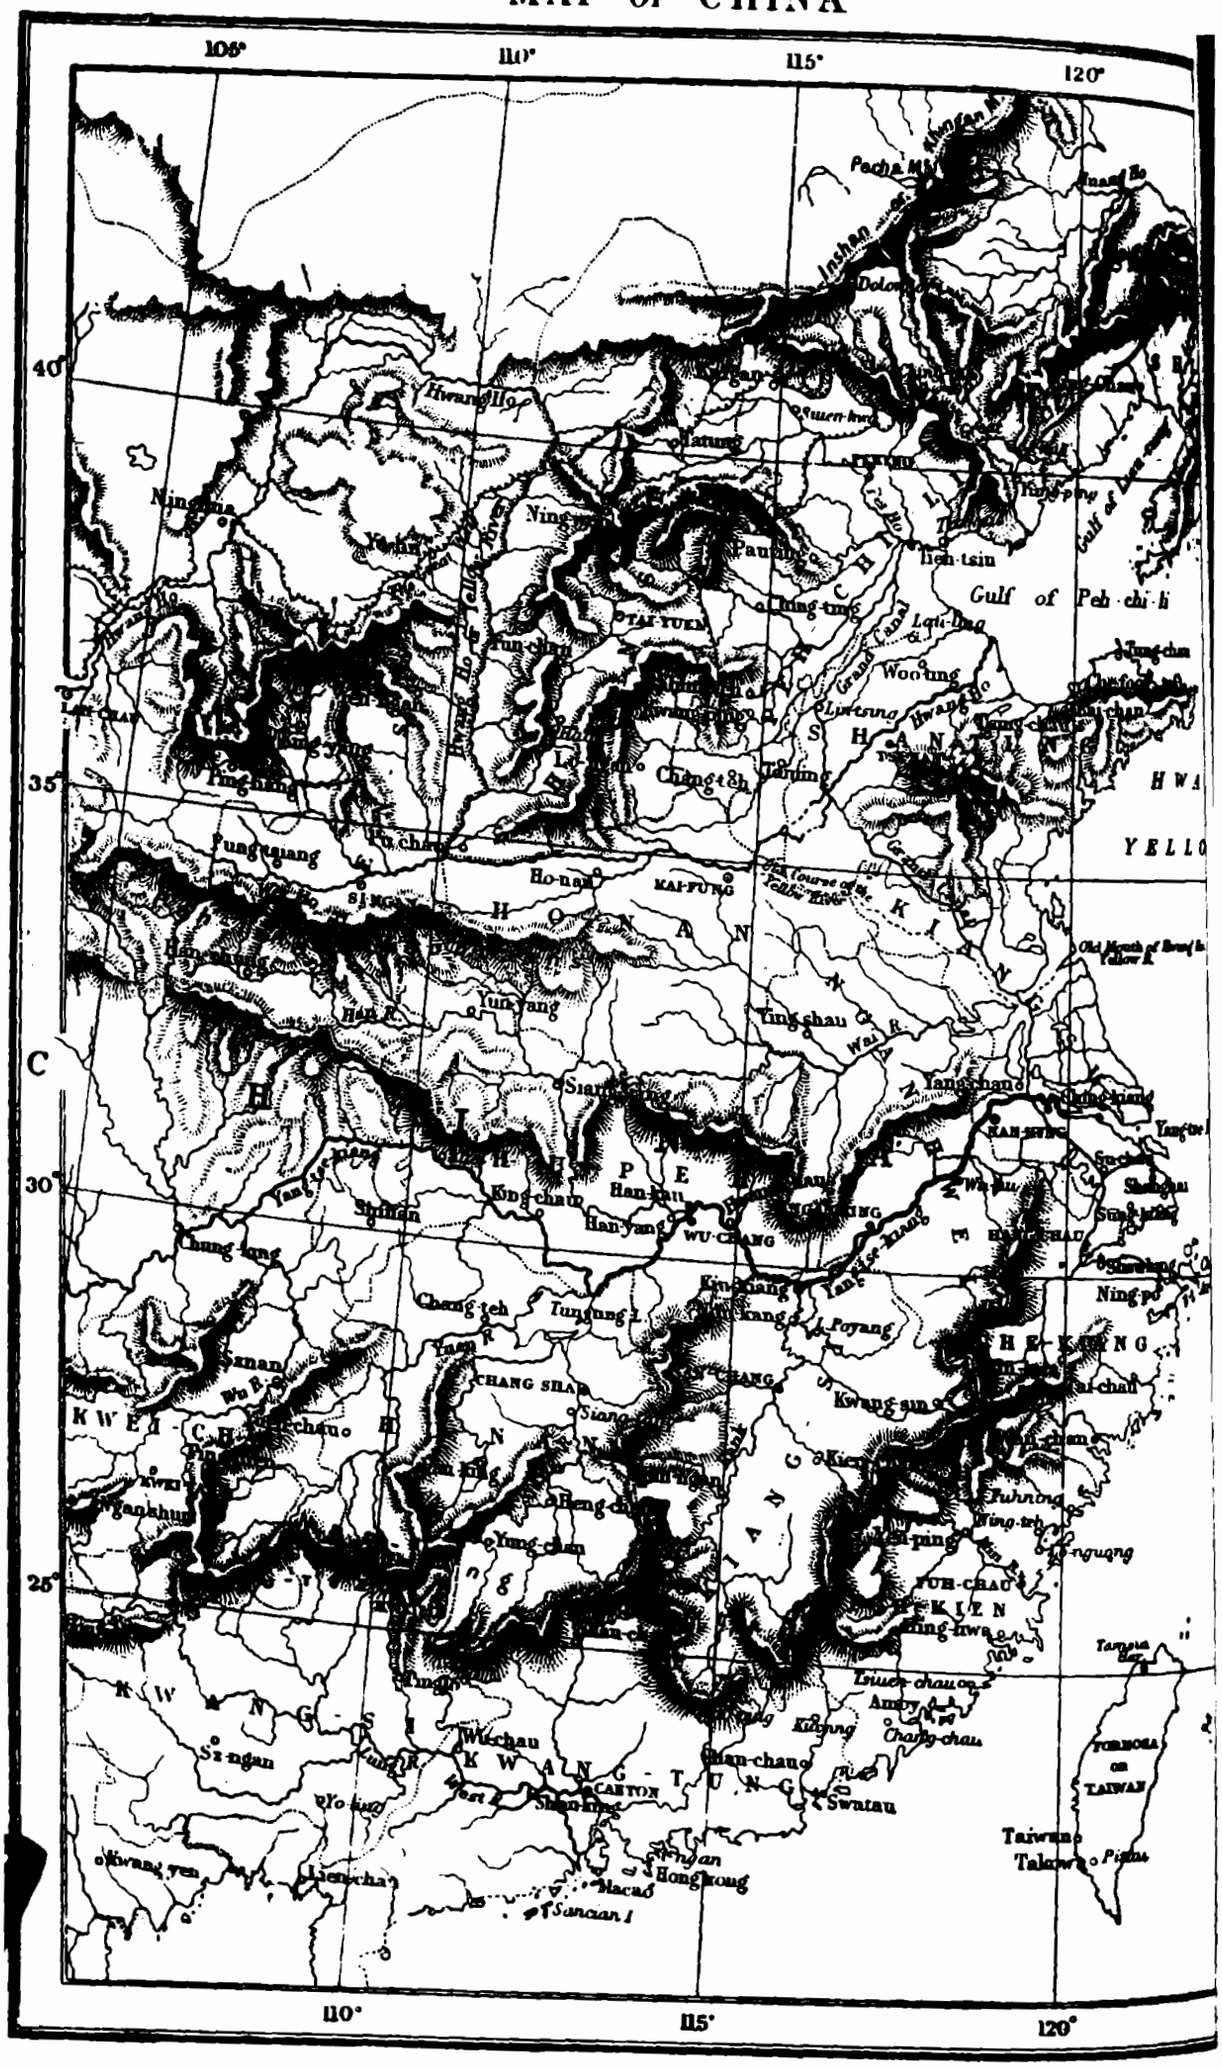

> It is in the main street, and, consequently, whenever a foreigner makes his appearance, he is never in want of a large congregation, which is made up of birdcage-bearing Tartars from their garrison near at hand (these people, in particular, are seldom seen without a bird in a cage, which they train to perform clever tricks); country people on their way home from making their purchases in the great city; shop-boys who linger on their way, when perhaps they ought not: exquisites, with feminine, colourless, expressionless faces, in long blue watered-silk robes, bright silk trousers, and embroidered shoes (these listen either for a short time only, or with a supercilious sneer at the mere idea that they lack anything!); sinister-looking, low-browed Buddhist priests in their long dirty-yellow robes; boys returning from school, or from making purchases at neighbouring shops; tinkers, with their-stock-in trade, like snails, on their back; fortune-tellers; vendors of boiled potatoes, idlers, beggars and vagabonds of every description, who are glad of anything so exciting as the sight of a foreigner murdering their language in cold blood in their very presence. . . . . But one always feels, in doing that kind of work, one is at least treading, however feebly, in the footsteps of Him who, with only the blue vault of heaven overhead, addressed a homely-clad multitude in a vulgar dialect, scorned of the proud.*

SHANGHAE.

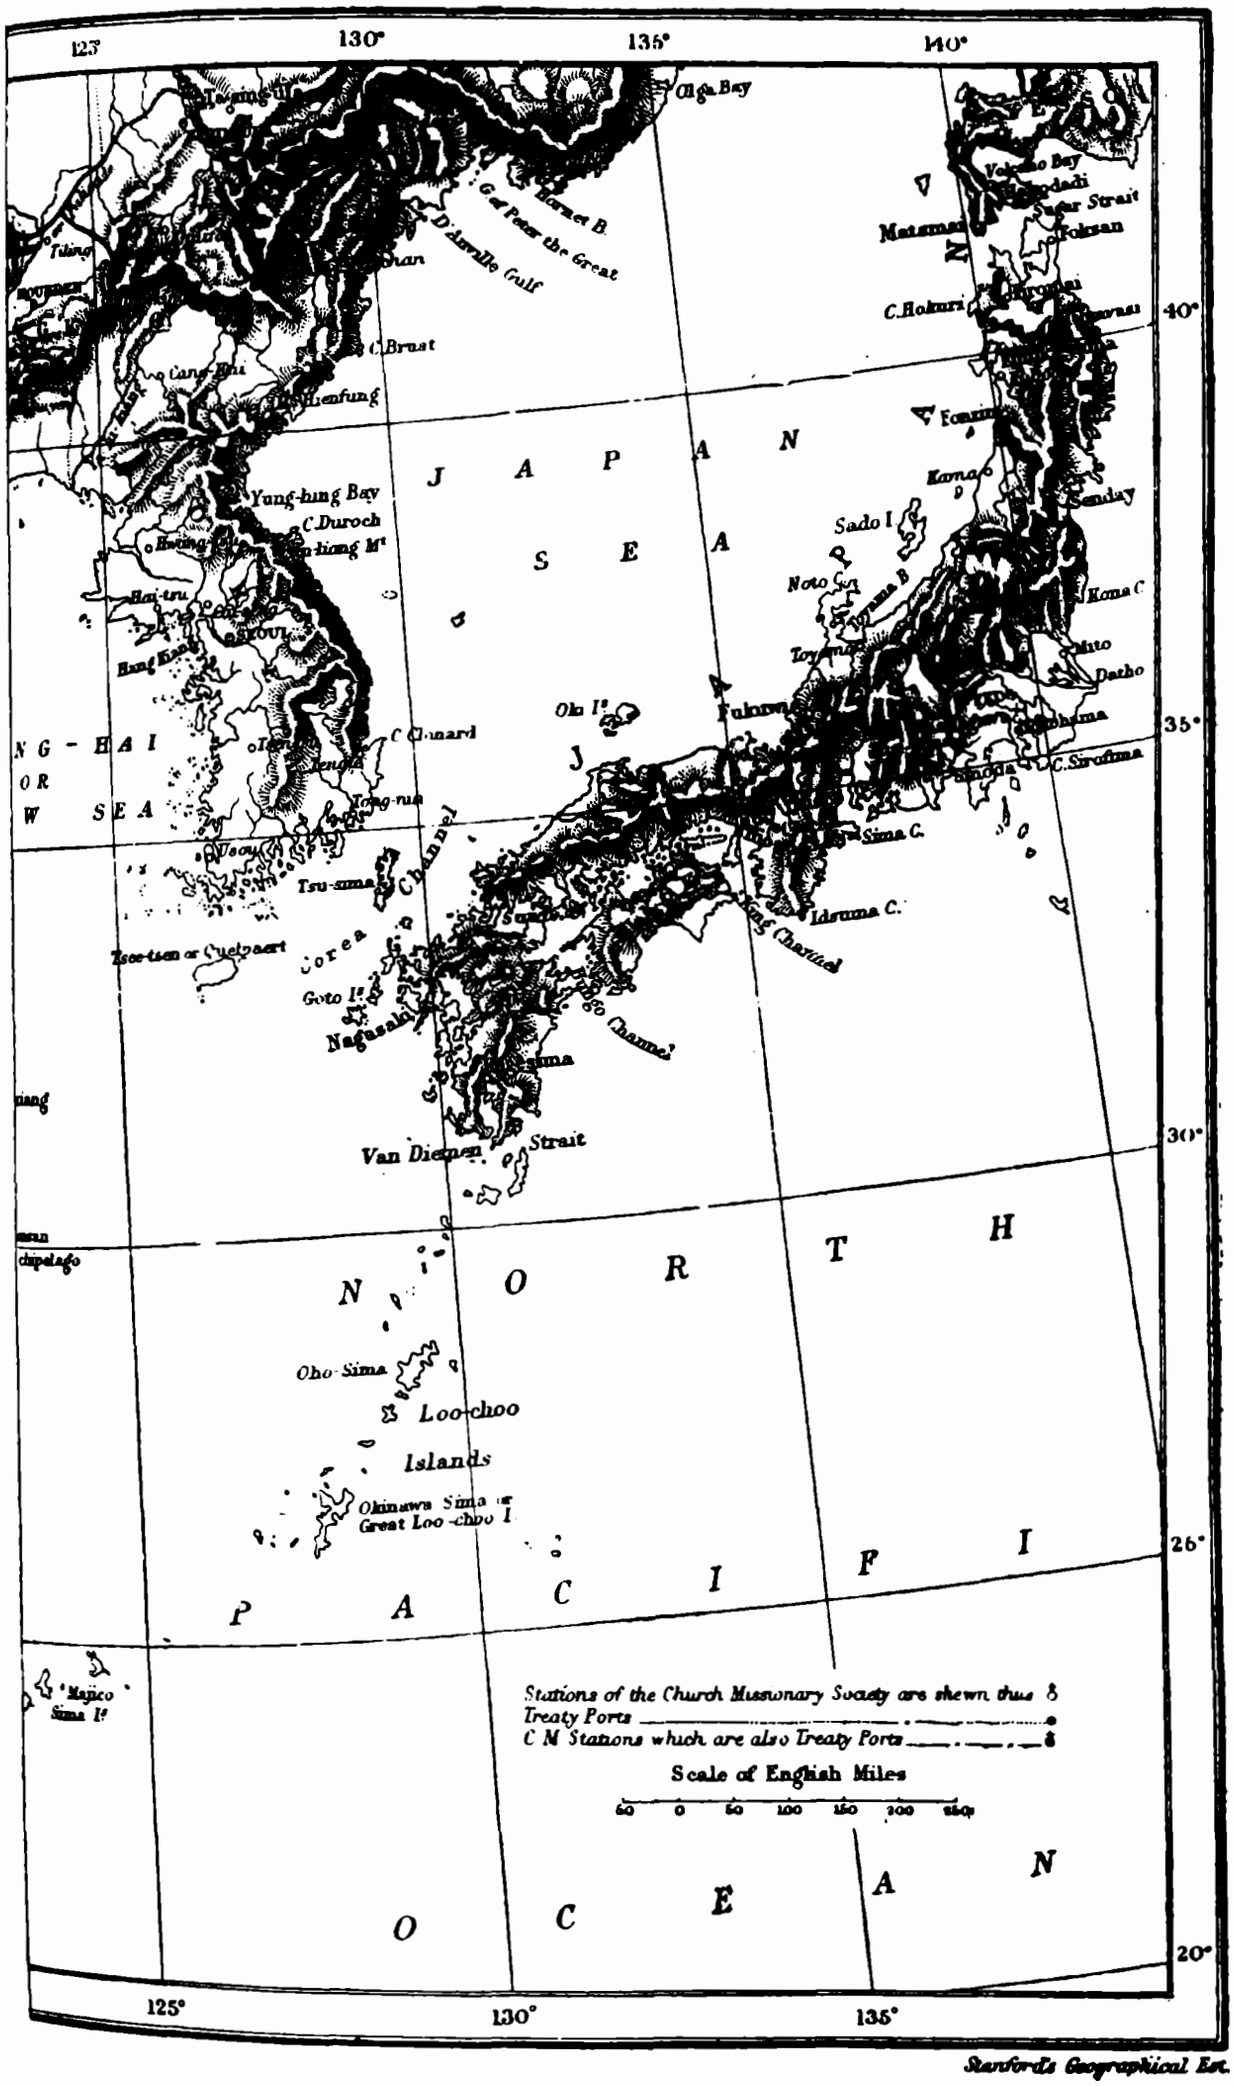

The Rev. T. McClatchie is the Missionary of this station. A new Mission house, situated in a neighbourhood densely populated by the Chinese, was occupied in May, 1878. A hall has also been rented in one of the chief thoroughfares, which has been named Këang-fuh-tang (the hall for discoursing about happiness), and in which the Catechist daily gives instruction to large congregations. Three of the pupils in the schools have expressed a desire to be baptized, as also a respectable Chinese, who with his wife and children, attends church regularly.

Stanford's Geographical Est.

Mr. G. Lanning, who has charge of an Anglo-Chinese school at Shanghae, of which the expenses are borne by a fund raised at Ningpo for this purpose and now belonging to the Society, reports as follows:—

The attendance throughout the year has been fairly satisfactory, yet not enough, with our present fees, to cover the whole of the expenses; and a scheme for raising the fees has therefore been decided on by the Bishop and the resident Committee. The present scholars are paying $4 per month; but after the Chinese New Year all new comers will be charged $5. The influence of the school is, I believe, widening; and there is a probability that the boys now attending the school will remain longer than was formerly the case. Several have left during the year; and nearly all have obtained remunerative situations in the Customs' or Consular services, or in merchants' offices. With several I keep up acquaintance since they left school, but some are gone to other ports. The desire amongst the Chinese for learning English is increasing. The people to whom Christian missionaries have access are generally those of the lower classes only. In my school there are sons of mandarins, who, it is not too much to say, would never hear the name of God did they not come here to learn English. Why should not an effort be made to bring the Gospel to this class also?

Influence of the Shanghae Mission School.

PEKING.

At this station and the out-station of Yung-tsing, the Adherents number 75 and the Communicants 37. One adult was baptized during the year.

The Missionaries engaged in this difficult field are the Rev. H. Collins and the Rev. W. Brereton. There has been no special encouragement during the year. Apathy rather than opposition, but an apathy with which the Native Christians seem also to be affected, is the principal obstacle to Missionary progress. Nor has the famine, or the distribution of relief by the Missionaries, been attended, so far as can be seen, with any favourable consequences in a Missionary point of view.*

JAPAN MISSION.

General.

THE Japanese Empire is still rapidly advancing in the course it adopted a few years ago. Representative assemblies, municipal institutions, Chambers of Commerce, the fuller development of postal arrangements and of telegraphic communications, railway extensions, benevolent societies, and a newspaper press—all these are sufficient indications of secular progress and enlightenment.—As regards the Missionary aspect of affairs, it is almost necessary, as Mr. Maundrell observes, "to be living in Japan to be able to realize how great a change is taking place in the minds of the people in reference to the Christian religion." "The number of baptisms," he adds, "may be small; and there may be, as yet, only a poor statistical account to give; but the most hopeful sign of the times is that which cannot be gauged by numbers—the prejudices of the people breaking down before the light and power of the Word of God, and Christianity no longer despised to the same extent as formerly as 'the evil way,' but beginning to be thought by many to be what we know it really is, the only good and true way." In some of the more educated circles, however, dislike and contempt of all religions, is the temper of mind that finds most favour. There are, again, signs that a feeling of Japanese nationality may ultimately lead to the attempted rehabilitation of some modified form of their ancient religion, Shintoism. The votaries of Buddhism also are making great efforts to revive that creed.—The number of Native Christians in connexion with the Society's Mission has risen from 88 to 128; of Communicants from 30 to 62.

Secular and Missionary progress in Japan.

One of the events of the year in the Japan Mission is the printing, for the first time in Japanese, of a portion of the Book of Common Prayer.

TOKIO (YEDO).

The Rev. J. Piper, besides being Secretary of the whole Mission, is the Missionary at this station.—The Native adherents are twenty-two in number, of whom ten are Communicants. Some of them manifest an increasing interest in the truth.—A neat little church, not erected at the expense of the Society, was opened 5th May, 1878, by the Bishop of Victoria. It will seat 150 persons.—Three adults were baptized during the year. Of one of these, Mr. Piper gives the following account:—

Story of the conversion and baptism of a Japanese.

He was a policeman in this city, with a slight knowledge of English, and was led to inquire about Christianity by a few sentences in (I think) Peter Parley's book. He came to see me first at the close of 1876; and, as usual with inquirers, I proposed that we should read a gospel together. He came very regularly, as his duties would permit him. In March, 1877, soon after the Satsuma rebellion broke out, he suddenly disappeared. About two months passed away without our hearing a word from or of him, when, to my thankful surprise, a short letter came from him, written amidst the scenes of the civil war. He therein told me that he had been suddenly ordered to the south, and had no time to come and tell me. He further said he had not forgotten the truths he had learned with me—indeed, they had comforted him amidst the dreadful scenes through which he was passing. After three months more, I again received a few lines from him, informing me that he was suffering from a bullet wound received in the war, and was in a hospital some two miles from our house. One of our Christians and I took an early opportunity of visiting him. We found him cheerful, and with the Gospel by his bedside; not afraid also of speaking of Christianity in the presence of his fellow-sufferers. We visited him several times; but the dreadful sights at the seat of war, and the severity of the wound, had so told on him, that after a while, madness ensued. At last we gave up all hope of his recovery. You can imagine the feelings of gratitude and astonishment which came over us one morning at breakfast, when the servant came and announced the presence of this very man, restored, and "in his right mind." After a short time I baptized him in our new church on Sunday, May 26th.

Besides the church above mentioned, Mr. Piper has rented a preaching chapel in another situation in the city; where he and his helpers have preached three times a week, weather permitting, to very fair audiences.

NAGASÂKI.

At this station the Adherents have increased during the year from 29 to 48, and the Communicants from 13 to 18. The Rev. H. Maundrell, and the Rev. W. Andrews (recently joined), are the Missionaries of this station. The services in the church at Deshima (the suburb where the Mission buildings are situated) have been kept up uninterruptedly, attended regularly by the Christians, and variously by inquirers and passers-by. The behaviour of the latter is now quiet and orderly, which was not always the case. They more frequently stay also during the service. During the year sixteen adults have openly confessed Christ and received baptism.—A church-school has been erected, a two-storied building 40 ft. by 24 ft., at the cost of $900, mostly contributed by foreign residents in gratitude for the Missionary's services at the English Church. It will be useful as a day school for Christian children, as also for evening lectures and similar purposes.

Mr. Maundrell has four promising students under training with the view of becoming Mission agents. They know enough of English to make use of English theological books. They have studied with Mr. Maundrell the Pentateuch, two of the Gospels and the Acts, as also the Church Catechism, and Paley's Natural Theology, which last book interests them exceedingly.

OSÂKA.

At this station, which is occupied by the Rev. C. F. Warren, a Missionary of some experience, and the Rev. H. Evington, M.A., there has been steady and cheering progress. The Communicants now number twenty; and no fewer than seventeen adults were baptized during the year. A Church Committee also has been formed consisting of five Native Communicants and the two European Missionaries. Three of the Communicants render voluntary and valuable assistance at services and meetings.

NIIGÂTA.

There are but eight Adherents at this infant station, six of whom are Communicants. The corresponding numbers at the close of 1877 were five and three. The devoted Missionary, the Rev. P. K. Fyson, sorrowfully longs for more rapid advance; while he acknowledges that equally zealous labourers in some other parts of the Mission field are still less gladdened by visible tokens of success. Just at the time of writing his Annual Letter, there seemed to be a special absence of encouraging symptoms. Mr. Fyson will be remembered in prayer by some who read these pages. Five adults, however, were baptized by him during the year. The conduct of the converts, also, has been satisfactory, with one exception; and there is a change for the better in the general attitude of the people towards Christianity. Mr. Fyson finds even Shinto and Buddhist priests accessible to religious conversation.

HAKODÂTI.

The Rev. W. Dening and the Rev. J. Williams were the Missionaries at this station during a large portion of the year 1878. Mr. Williams was subsequently transferred to Tokio.

The Native adherents at this station number fifteen, and the Communicants eight. Two adults were baptized during the year. The foundation-stone of a new Mission-chapel was laid on the 14th August by the resident English Consul, in the presence of a large number of the foreign residents and of Native Christians and adherents belonging to various Christian Missions. It was opened for Divine service on the 24th November following, and will accommodate from 300 to 350 persons. The building is sometimes quite full on Sunday evening; and the service on Thursday is well attended. —The Bible classes (twice each week), are now held in the school room at the back of the new chapel instead of in the Missionary's own house. A larger attendance is thus insured, both from the station being more central, and from many of the Natives not caring to be seen at the house of a Missionary. — The sale of Christian books during the year has been considerable.—A very marked and favourable change has come over the mind of the Hakodati public in reference to Christian doctrine.

At the three out-stations of Ono, Arikôwa, and Nanai, the work has been carried on with hopeful prospects, but no special result. At the last-named of these three places there is a Government Model Farm, which has brought together a number of intelligent young men who are admirers of almost everything foreign.*

NEW ZEALAND MISSION.

European Missionaries first arrived in New South Wales, 1810; proceeded to New Zealand, 1814; Mission confined to the Northern Island.

DIVISION OF THE MISSION.

I. Northern Division, comprising chiefly the Diocese of Auckland.
II. Eastern Division, comprising chiefly the Diocese of Waiapu.
III. Western Division, comprising chiefly the Diocese of Wellington.

Hopeful prospects of the New Zealand Mission.

THE tone of the annual letters from the Society's Missionaries is on the whole very decidedly one of hopefulness. Bishop Selwyn, it may be remembered also, standing on the brink of eternity, and evidently musing on the trials sustained by the Society's Mission, and on the departure from the faith of so many professed Christian Natives, exclaimed emphatically, "They will return."

During the year under review the oldest missionary in the Society's service, Mr. W. G. Puckey, who joined the New Zealand Mission in 1823, before there was a single Maori convert, has entered peacefully into his rest.

I. Northern Division.

1. Bay of Islands (Paihia and Waimate), commenced 1814; 2. Auckland (Hauraki), 1833; 3. Kaitaia, 1834; 4. Waikato, 1840; 5. Taupo, 1855; 6. Kaipara, 1877.

No Annual Letter has been received this year from Archdeacon Clarke, who exercises a superintendence over the work in the districts of KAITAIA, WAIMATE, PAIHIA, and KAIPARA.

Spiritual and temporal prosperity of Kaitaia.

From Kaitaia, however, the Rev. J. Matthews reports favourably. Of the spiritual condition of the Maories under his charge he augurs well, from their punctual and devout observance of the different means of grace in all their villages. Meetings for the instruction of the unordained Native Teachers, who are all voluntary and unpaid agents, are regularly held and well attended.—The temporal affairs of the Maories in this district are "quietly prosperous;" and numbers of them are now earning money on the Kauri gum-fields.—There have been, during the year, twenty-seven infant baptisms and nine burials. This does not seem to indicate decline of population.—Three young men from this district, of whose qualifications Mr. Matthews thinks highly, are at St. Stephen's, Auckland, preparing for holy orders.

Instruction of voluntary unpaid Native preachers.

The Rev. F. T. Baker, who gives only a portion of his time to the Society's work, labours in the Kaipara district; the Maori population of which is composed chiefly of roving gum-diggers, who are rarely to be met with at their homes, excepting in the planting and harvesting seasons. Mr. Baker's engagements with his European congregations interfere with his following up the Natives in their ramblings. He has therefore invited one or more of their number to come every week to his house to receive instruction, preparatory to holding Divine Service with their companions on the Sunday. The young men who come to him are attentive; and their preaching is acceptable to the people. An awakened spirit has come over the people. Many have become reformed characters, the number of Communicants has increased, and there is a growing demand for Bibles and Prayer-books. A new church was opened in June last at the junction of the Kaihu and Wairoa rivers, for the use of Europeans and Natives. It cost upwards of 900*l*. The Natives contributed largely.

The Rev. B. Y. Ashwell, assisted by a devoted and experienced Maori clergyman, Mr. Heta Tarawhiti, as well as by a younger Native brother, is in charge of WAIKATO. No general and complete report has been received of the work of the year. Mr. Ashwell has, however, written one or two very interesting letters, from which it appears that a house has been built for Mr. Heta Tarawhiti in the Maori King's country, into which it was hoped he would remove after Christmas, 1878. Mr. Ashwell has seized every opportunity to converse with the alienated Maoris. Many of them listen to him with attention, and profess love for him personally. Mr. Ashwell hopes that the political excitement will soon pass away, and that then there will be less indifference to the Gospel.

The Rev. J. S. Hill had been appointed by the Committee to be associated with the Rev. T. S. Grace in the charge of TAUPO. Mr. Grace's serious illness, and other causes, have interfered with this arrangement, at least for the present. The hopeful commencement by Mr. and Mrs. Grace of two boarding-schools for boys and girls at Tauranga will be noticed under the report of that station.

Those who watch with interest the New Zealand Mission, look with thankfulness on the flourishing condition of certain parts of the Northern diocese, districts from which, fifty years ago, the merciless Hongi led his destroying bands over the whole island; and the hope cannot but be entertained that in the present generation, and from the same districts, Christian Maories will be raised up, who, by travelling far and wide as loving and humble, but well-instructed, evangelists, will make ample amends for the injuries inflicted by their forefathers.

II. Eastern Division.

Eight stations have been occupied in this division in the following chronological order:—1. Tauranga, 1835; 2. Rotorua and Maketu, 1835; 3. Turanga (now including Wairoa), 1840; 4. Waiapu (East Cape), 1842; 5. Napier (Te Aute), 1844.

TAURANGA, ROTORUA, AND MAKETU.

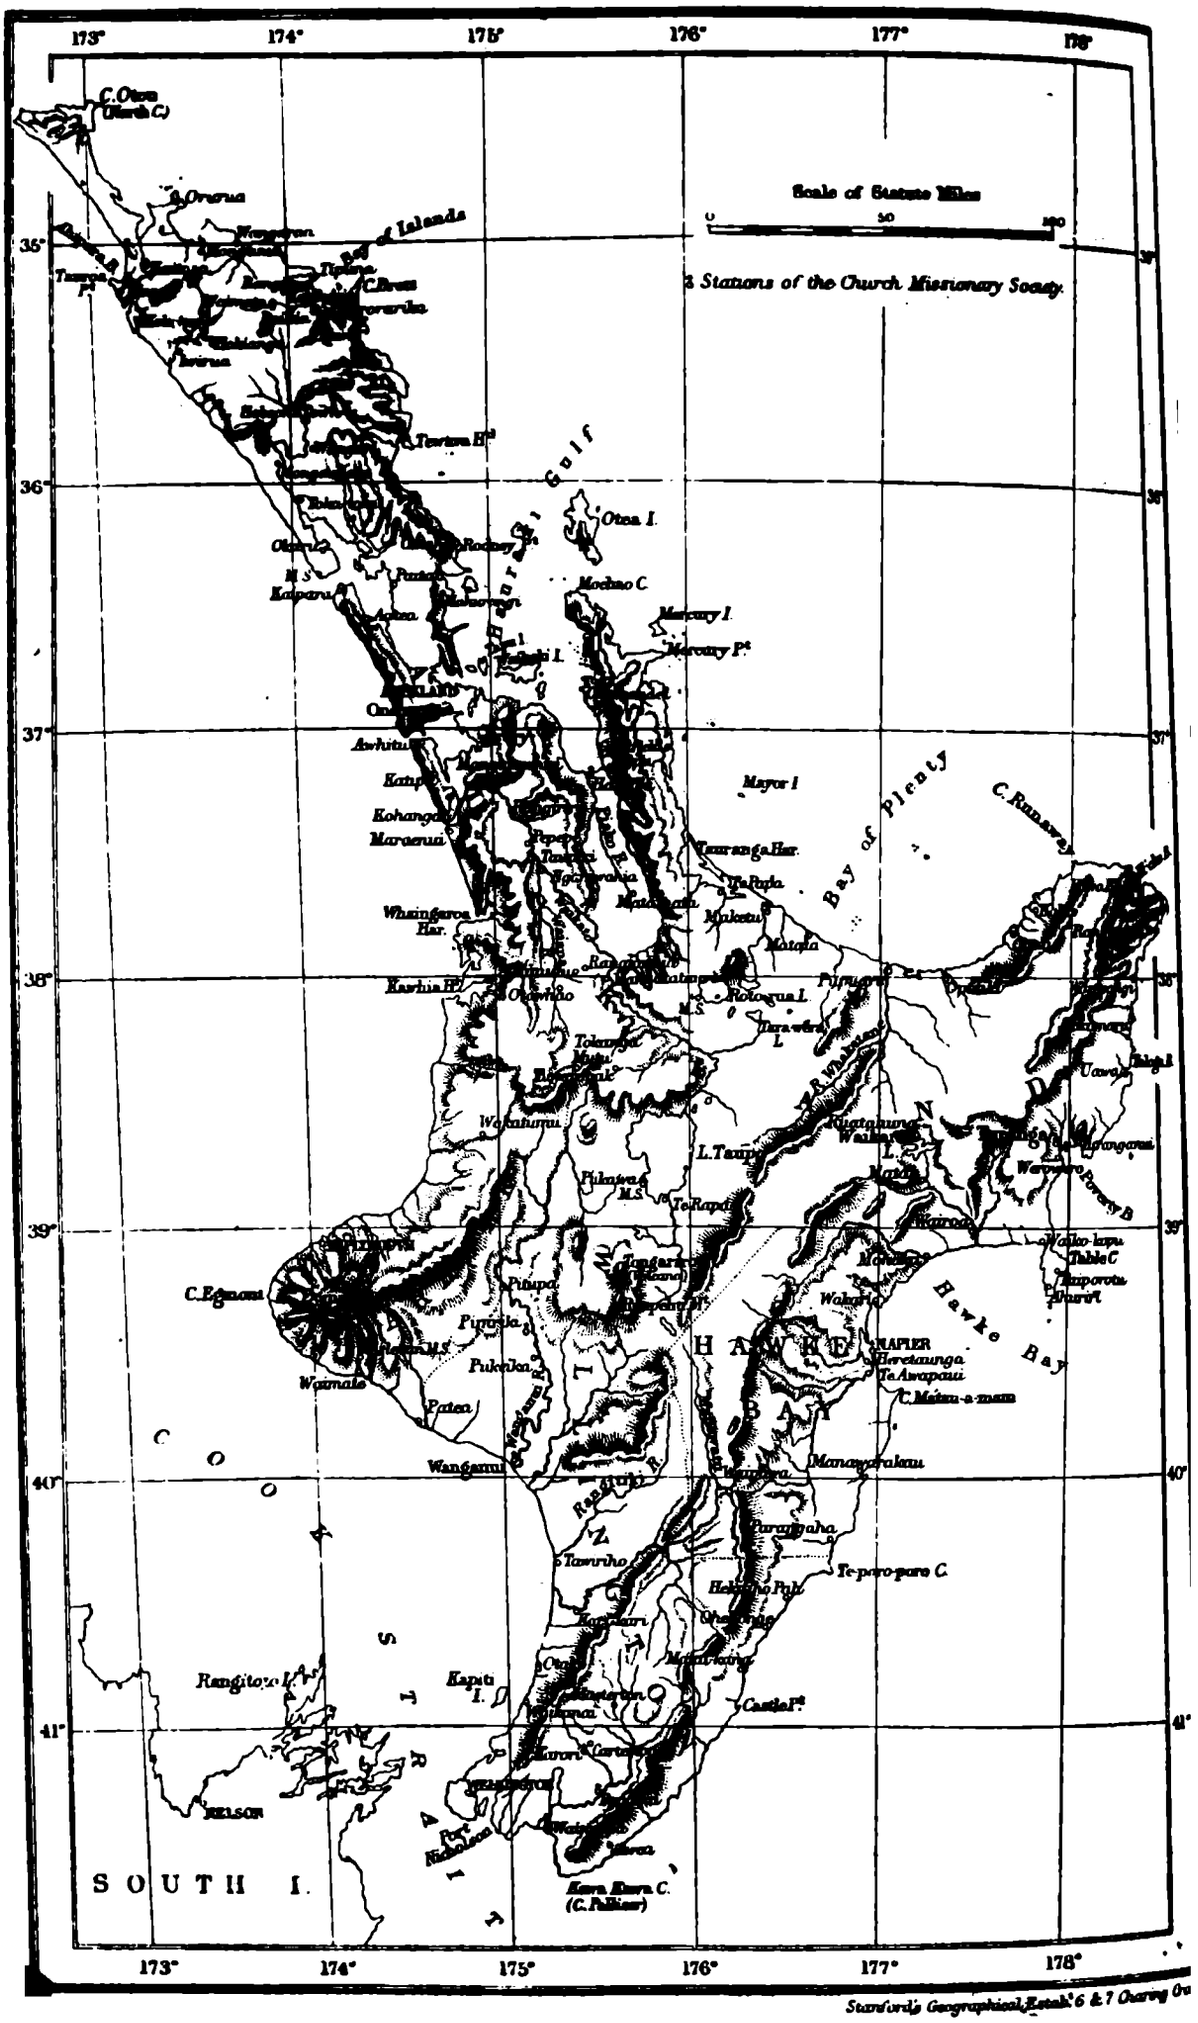

These districts are comprised in the Archdeaconry of the Society's veteran Missionary, the Ven. A. N. Brown. About one-half of the Maories in these parts profess a new Unitarian religion introduced by the well-known Native chief, Te Kûti. The other half are nominally members of the Church of England. Many of these latter, however, are much demoralized, public worship being sadly neglected, the children receiving but little religious education, and drunkenness prevailing to a deplorable extent. Still some hopeful symptoms are observed by Archdeacon Brown, as well as by his colleagues, the Rev. S. M. Spencer and the Rev. G. Maunsell.

Archdeacon Brown writes:—

I have been enabled still to minister to my small flock at Manugatapu, and still to encourage the hope that the Tauranga Natives will yet return to Him from whom they have so long and rebelliously wandered. Several Maories, who had been led astray to adopt the Jewish Sabbath for Divine worship, meet again on the Christian Sabbath; and many parties who have long held aloof from their old teachers, now express a wish to be visited by the missionary or native teacher.

The Rev. G. Maunsell, who is still in the fresh vigour of early middle age, and whose devotedness and ability have been thoroughly proved by his work in the northern districts, has been transferred (comparatively recently) to these less hopeful, or at least less advanced, fields. The results are sadly different at present; but the Committee entertain the fullest confidence that Mr. Maunsell's perseverance and faith will be ultimately accompanied with the

NEW ZEALAND (NORTH ISLAND)

Divine blessing. At the same time, they would ask for intercessory prayer on his behalf. Mr. Maunsell writes :—

It is very hard to say whether we have made any progress or not. We have become more familiar with one another; but still the old objections to a closer union and fellowship in a common faith and practice are urged. For myself the people profess kindly regard; but they declare that as a body they do not feel confidence in us, and they generally cling to the crude, ill-digested systems which they have adopted. Visits have been paid us by the Bishop and Archdeacon Williams, by Rev. T. Grace, jun., and by some of the Maori clergy from the north. At the Bishop's second visit my old friend and helper, W. Turipona, from the north, happened to be here on his own business, and, in a few weighty words, set before his Maori hearers the beneficial effects of the Gospel in levelling the old barriers raised by ancient feuds, and then urged them to cling to the pillar of the faith first reared in this land, and not to re-erect the partition walls by introducing new-fangled ideas. All the Maori clergy whom I get to accompany me on my rounds, take up the same ground. Their own tribes were, at one time or other, at war with this people; and they are able to forcibly impress upon their hearers the contrast between the state of things then and since the Gospel had free course.—In November, by the Bishop's desire, I visited Opotiki and adjacent places, and had a very friendly reception from the people, who urged me to visit them frequently; and I have arranged with Mr. Spencer to alternate my visits with his, viz. twice a year.

Efforts of the Native Clergy to bring back Maori seceders.

The Rev. S. M. Spencer, who reports of the work in the Rotorua district, mentions hopeful indications in many places of a favourable reaction and of a return to the practices of former discipleship. A general desire is manifested for the regular solemnization of matrimony, for the baptism of children, and for the Christian burial of deceased relatives. Mr. Spencer anticipated much advantage from "an extensive and laborious tour of visitation" shortly about to be undertaken by the Bishop of Waiapu (Dr. Stuart) accompanied by Archdeacon Williams.

The Rev. T. S. Grace and Mrs. Grace, in accordance with their own wishes, were instructed by the Committee, on their return to New Zealand in February, 1877, to establish Boarding Schools in the neighbourhood of Tauranga for Maori boys and girls. At the close of 1878, Mr. Grace wrote that the girls school was going on satisfactorily, with six pupils, their progress in studies being, in Mrs. Grace's opinion, greater than that of English girls; while they took part in the domestic work of the house. He hoped soon to enlarge the accommodation. Timber had been ordered from the saw mills for the boys'-school. Mr. Grace anticipated seeing both schools in operation by the end of 1879. This devoted Missionary has since been laid low by very serious illness.

WAIAPU, TURANGA, AND TE AUTE.

Ordination in New Zealand.

The most noteworthy event is, perhaps, the ordination, held in the old Native Church at Whakato on September 22; at which one of our deacons was ordained priest, and three others were admitted to the diaconate. The three new deacons were pupils at Waerengahika, at the time the establishment was broken up in 1865, and have given good proof of steadfastness during the period which has since elapsed. The Rev. Matiaha Pahewa, who was admitted to priest's orders, is in charge of the Tokamaru district, in which he has been labouring most assiduously as a deacon for a number of years past. The Rev. Kerehoma Piwaka is now resident deacon in the district between the rivers of Turanganui and Tologa Bay. The Rev. Rutene Te Aihu has his work in Poverty Bay, and the Rev. Hone Te Wainohu will assist the Rev. Tamihana Huata in the wide district of Wairoa and Mohaka. Money has been contributed by the people at various times towards endowment funds for the support of these new deacons; and the people who came together to witness the ordination brought with them no less a sum than 305*l*. for this object.—The Bishop visited the district again in the month of November, and held confirmations at six different places, when 142 persons were confirmed.—The number of Communicants has kept up steadily.—Two meetings of the Native Church Board have been held during the year now closing: one in March, and the other in November. The latter meeting was held at Tologa Bay, under the presidency of the Bishop, and was very well attended. The most remarkable feature in this meeting was the desire which was shown, especially by some of the lay members, to avail themselves of such methods of organization as they have at command for carrying out measures that may tend to help forward the work of the Church.—But we must keep in view the other side of the picture. The education of the children is not progressing as it ought to do. Drunkenness, too, though much checked everywhere, is still deplorably prevalent in some places, especially at Waiapu. At Wairoa, again, there has been a defection of some of the people to the deistical system, introduced by Te Kûti, which is so prevalent now in the greater part of the Bay of Plenty. This movement, however, like the Hauhauism of 1865, is more political than religious, though very detrimental to true religion.

A deeply interesting account is given of the ordinations by the BISHOP OF WAIAPU himself, Dr. Stuart, for which, however, it is impossible to find space in these pages. One incident only can be recorded. The Bishop writes:—

Maori orators and Bishop Stuart's reply.

In the course of the forenoon we received formal speeches of welcome; a "lay-representative," and one of the candidate deacons, being the spokesmen. They walked up and down in front of us as we sat on the verandah, pacing backwards and forwards in the manner of the Maori orators. Their speeches were not bare compliments, but contained many sensible remarks, couched in the highly figurative and allusive language which they are so fond of. The Archdeacon's lectures seem to have been much valued by those who had studied with him; and great was their regret that the time they had had with him had been so short, and that they were not younger men to have profited more by his instructions. "Our people will ask us, when we return, 'What have you brought in your baskets?' and we shall have nothing to show but a few small shell-fish we have picked up on the high beach. Whereas, could we have had the advantage of the spring-tide to have gone far out, we could have filled our baskets with cray-fish and other treasures of the deep." In my reply, taking up their illustration of the baskets, I told them that, though I shared their regret that they had not had a longer time with the Archdeacon, yet I hoped they had some good seed in their baskets, which, when planted out, would, with God's blessing, yield increase, and that, as they were not inexperienced husbandmen, they might, even with the little seed they had, get more return from their labour than younger but less experienced labourers more abundantly furnished. They must not, then, be disheartened; but, remembering how God does often choose the weak things of this world, look to Him for strength, and let "Prayer and Pains" be their motto.

III. Western Division.

First occupied by Bishop Hadfield in 1839. It now comprises three stations: 1. Wanganui, 1840; 2. Otaki, 1842; 3. Wairarapa, re-occupied, 1877.

This division is co-extensive with the diocese of Wellington, whose Bishop is one of the Society's Missionaries, Dr. Hadfield. In the Society's work among the Maories the Bishop is assisted by a European presbyter, the Rev. J. McWilliam, and by four Native clergymen.

No report has been received of the work in WANGANUI, or in the northern part of the diocese.

The Rev. J. McWilliam, stationed at OTAKI, who, with the help of two Native clergymen, conducts the work in the south, writes as follows:—

During the past year our services have been regularly kept up with fair average, and usually very attentive, congregations. Services have also been established at three new places. But, while the majority of those professing themselves Christians have remained steadfast, still a considerable number have been led away by the sophistries, pretensions, and promises of the Hauhau preachers. These preachers identify themselves with the Maori king party; and, by thus giving their new religion a semi-political basis, they often gain converts who would never think of joining them exclusively on religious grounds.

Two new places of worship have been built in the district during the year, in two small villages—one, Porirua, at the southern extremity of the district; the other, called Matakarapa, on the Manawatu River. The former was opened by the Bishop early in the year, who preached to about sixty, and administered Holy Communion to twenty Native Christians. Since then he has held a confirmation there, when fifteen persons, chiefly old people, after a lengthened examination, were admitted into full communion. The little church at Matakarapa is not yet quite finished inside. They are wisely anxious to have all the work done and paid for, before they ask the Bishop to open it.—There are other two churches building. One of these is about forty miles up the Manawatu River, above Matakarapa. It was begun this year, and is already nearly finished. The other is at a village called Horowhenua, situated on the shore of a beautiful lake about fourteen miles from Otaki. It has been under way for over two years. The delay is strange and characteristic of the people. Until about three years ago, the inhabitants of that village, numbering about 100 adults—with the exception of about half a dozen, the remnant left to preserve the good seed—were all Hauhaus. Waiting our time, and seeing an evident waning in their zeal for their ephemeral religion, I, together with the native deacon working here with me, made as it were an attack upon this tottering stronghold of Satan, and, as we conceived, completely overthrew it, for they came back in a body to the church, and entreated us to make their village one of our regular preaching stations. They also at once began to prepare timber for a church. While thus employed, a malignant fever broke out, which lasted several months, and carried off a number of their young people. Other diseases followed, which also proved fatal in a number of instances. The work at the church was stopped; and at last they became persuaded—notwithstanding all we could urge to the contrary—that the epidemic was sent in anger by the god of the Hauhaus. However, they have not formally gone back to Hauhauism, and they still assemble and listen attentively when we go there to preach; so we must not despair of yet winning them back, and by the Holy Spirit's influence building them up stronger in the faith.

A disappointment.

Our annual Church meeting took place, as usual, in April

There were some discouraging circumstances; but still, the fact of our meeting together, worshipping together, and hearing each other's account of the one work, cannot fail to do good by uniting, encouraging, strengthening us, and drawing down God's blessing upon our work.—The voluntary contributions have, I grieve to say, somewhat fallen off during the past year.*

MANITOBA.

The Rev. R. Young, Joint Secretary of the Mission with Archdeacon Cowley, is also the minister of St. Andrew's. St. Andrew's is a congregation gathered together in the first instance by the labours of the Missionaries, but now advanced beyond the proper province of a Missionary Society. Mr. Young labours to stir them up to the duty of self-support. The difficulty arises, he thinks, not from the absence of good intentions, nor yet from the want of ability, but from the "lack of thought." But he trusts to be successful by patient perseverance. As regards personal service in Mission work, the congregation does not altogether fail of its duty. Two promising young men from among them entered upon work during the year as catechist schoolmasters. One of these, to the great grief of all who knew him, was subsequently carried off by a fatal illness. Two others are students at St. John's College, and are very well reported of.—The railway communication now established between this province and the United States will, it is hoped, supply the farmers (agriculture being one of the principal employments of the members of this congregation), with a steady market for their produce, and thus better their circumstances.

Mr. Young mentions the following interesting fact:—

The present Premier of Manitoba.

The present premier is member for St. Andrew's, and a parishioner. He is a man of acknowledged ability; and his fitness to be the head of our legislature is readily acknowledged by every nationality gathered within the province. He attracted the notice, as also evidently the esteem, of Lord Dufferin during his viceregal visit. At one of the political meetings, being twitted with his humble origin, he frankly admitted it, and, I am told, paid a very graceful tribute to the Church Missionary Society, to which he owned that he owed his education, and so the ground-work of his prosperity.

ST. CLEMENT'S MAPLETON, has been under the care of the Rev. A. E. Cowley. The services are regularly attended; but the year has not been marked with any event of special interest.

FORT ALEXANDER.

Temporal advance of the Indians, and greater willingness to hear the truth.

FORT FRANCIS (also called Alberton) has for its Missionary the Rev. R. Phair. He resides himself at the central station, and has two assistants, a pure Native at American River, and one of mixed descent at Long Sault. At all these three stations, Mr. Phair observes a greater desire to hear the truth and more carefulness in observing the Lord's Day. The "dog feasts" have not such fascination for the Indians now as they had some time ago. The Indians are also more and more settling down to agriculture, though the produce of their farms is not yet sufficient for their maintenance.

At or near the central station (Fort Francis itself), ten new houses have been erected by the Indians, the inhabitants of which appear to be prosperous and in good spirits. Two adults are under instruction for baptism.

The Native agent at American River is Mr. Peter Spencer, a Native Christian, who was brought up to the carpentering trade, and who is on that account able to help the Indian Christians in many ways and to gain an influence with them. Tents are no longer seen here. All the Indians live in houses, some of these being very clean and tidy. As a rule all work is suspended on the Lord's Day. There are several persons in Mr. Spencer's flock whom Mr. Phair hopes soon to admit to baptism.

At Long Sault the Mission is in charge of Mr. James McCorrister, a Native Christian of mixed descent. He has in his neighbourhood two chiefs, one on either side of him, and several medicine men. One of the chiefs is a highly intelligent man and a successful agriculturist, who appreciates also the advantages of education, but is kept back from embracing Christianity, through being a polygamist. The other is a man of fewer natural abilities, but seems to Mr. Phair to be nearer to the kingdom of heaven. One or two of the followers of the latter chief are nearly ready to be baptized. Mr. McCorrister is very hopeful of the young people, who meet regularly for singing and instruction.

SWAN RIVER DISTRICT.

Archdeacon Cowley, who recently visited FAIRFORD (under the charge of Rev. G. Bruce), writes as follows :—

Advance of Christianity at Fairford.

I spent nearly three weeks at Fairford, and had opportunities of seeing a great number of the Indians belonging to Fairford. They are divided into three bands ; each with its chief and counsellors, who wear distinctive dresses, and each having also its school, supported by the Government. Christianity is rapidly permeating the mass; and already most of them either profess it, or are inquirers, with a strong leaning towards our holy religion. They are said to number about 500 souls. The new church, 68 ft. × 27 ft. 9 in. was in use, and was in every way a nice, plain, and comfortable building. The people attend Divine service very well. Their behaviour is highly decorous, many responding in English ; marked attention is paid to the sermons. The services were conducted in Soto and English. I inclined to a greater measure of Soto, especially in the reading of God's Holy Word. They have a regular morning offertory ; and the ordinary church officers actively co-operate in the support of the ministry, and in efforts to reach the heathen beyond. There is also a growth in Scriptural knowledge. An Indian remarked to me, "It is not now as it used to be; when reference is made in a sermon to anything (in Scripture history) we understand it at once."

A more exact reckoning of the Native Christian Adherents connected with TOUCHWOOD HILLS gives the number this year as 109; the conjectural estimate of the preceding year having been 150. There is no reason to suppose, however, that there has been any real diminution; and the tone of Mr. Reader's letter is hopeful. The public services have been fairly attended, and the outward behaviour of the worshippers is more reverent. The Communicants also have, on the whole, Mr. Reader thinks, grown in grace and in the knowledge of Christ. A prayer meeting every Wednesday is well attended. Two adults have been baptized during the year, and there are several candidates. Mr. Reader is now able to preach in the Cree language.—Mr. Settee, a Native Christian (not to be confused with the Rev. James Settee) is studying for the ministry under Mr. Reader's guidance.—Mr. Reader writes:—

The future betokens work everywhere. The Indians must be brought into settlements; or they will, ere long, be no more, at least in this part. I believe the stronghold of heathenism here is tottering. Satan is raising opposition, which only encourages us, for we know that victory is nigh.

CUMBERLAND DISTRICT.

The work connected with CUMBERLAND HOUSE is conducted by the Rev. B. McKenzie, a Native clergyman. Mr. McKenzie speaks of his congregation as "always good," and sees reason to believe that, through God's blessing on his labours, several have been led more earnestly to seek the Saviour.

CARLTON.

The Society's Secretary for this division, the Rev. J. A. Mackay, visited Nepowewin, known in past years as the station of the well-known Indian brother—now at rest—Henry Budd. Mr. Mackay reports of it as follows:—

At the Nepowewin, the small band of Native Christians keeps well together, and increases by a few coming in from other parts of the country. The heathen around seem still indifferent to the truth. Sunday services are regularly carried on by the Native Catechist, and attended by all the Christian Indians. The reserve was about to be surveyed when I was down; and I selected a site in a central and favourable locality for a Mission Station. A building will, I hope, be commenced in the course of the winter. The new site is about four miles from the old station.

The following extracts from Mr. T. Clarke's journal will be read with much interest:—

April 11, 1878. I arrived at my new home in the Mikisiwuche; and I must confess that a feeling of loneliness came over me at times. Undoubtedly I feel it much more through leaving the many comforts that I enjoyed with dear Mr. and Mrs. Mackay at Battleford last winter.—The first thing after my arrival here, was to plough for the Indians, and to assist them in farming. Sufficient land was broken to sow thirty bushels of barley, six of wheat, and to plant 30 bushels of potatoes. The seeds were given by the Government. Some worked very well indeed, while others were rather lazy. But on the whole they did tolerably well.—In my last letter I put "learning the language" in the 4th place. But now I must give the items thus: 1st, learning Cree; 2nd, learning Cree; 3rd, learning Cree; 4th, spare time, learning the language. My desire is to get a thorough knowledge of it, so as to be able to preach without an interpreter.—We have two services and Sunday School on Sundays, and a weekday school held twice a day. The Indians appear to be taking a greater interest in spiritual things; and we doubt not but that ere long many will be led to acknowledge Jesus as their Saviour.—My first year's experience in the so-called "Great Lone Land" may be briefly summed up thus:—(1st) Most agreeably surprised both with the country and climate: (2nd) Never worked harder in my life and never felt happier in any occupation: (3rd) Enjoyed good health: (4th) Hardships few; and (5th) The work very encouraging, but not without discouragements. Surely, then, the promises, in my case, have been verified, that, "As thy days, so shall thy strength be," "My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest," and "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world."

First impressions of a young Missionary.

Mr. Mackay spends every alternate Sunday with Mr. Clarke, taking the Services. Mr. Clarke has with his own hands, aided by one Indian, built a house for himself, and a schoolroom, in which latter at present the Services are conducted.

ASISIPI.

The Rev. J. Hines continues to labour at this station diligently and with good courage. The two "Reserves" in his neighbourhood seem to comprise an Indian population of about 740 persons. One of them—the Asisipi Reserve—is ten miles by seven. The other—the Snake River Reserve—is six miles by thirteen. A schoolmaster is stationed at each place; and Mr. Hines visits each every alternate week. At each visit he is able to gather an audience and proclaim the Gospel to them. The schools are not so well attended as might be wished, partly from the Indians being settled so far apart. The fields of the Indians seem to have been fairly productive in 1878, which is a matter for thankfulness, as their hunting expeditions were remarkably unsuccessful.

STANLEY.

The Rev. S. Trivett, who was admitted to deacon's and priest's orders by the Bishop of Saskatchewan while in this country in June, 1878, reached Stanley, with Mrs. Trivett, on the 8th October following. He was received by the Indians with loud expressions of delight. On the day after he administered the Holy Communion to twenty-seven Indian Christians. Mr. Trivett writes under date December 26, 1878:—

"The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places." Stanley is itself a very pretty place. The scenery is very picturesque. The Indians I love already; they are very good-natured, and very earnest in their worship; many come 10 or 12 miles on a Saturday in order to order to worship in God's house on His Holy Sabbath. In the fall they come in their canoes, and when winter has set in they come with their dogs. The church at Stanley is very handsome; in fact it looks better than St. John's Cathedral at Winnepeg. We have two services on each Sunday, with Sunday School. Mr. Sinclair interprets the sermons for me, and reads the lessons and some of the prayers in Cree. Both Mrs. Trivett and myself are now able to join with them. We can sing from the Syllabics. The hymns have a very sweet sound when sung in Cree.

Mr. Trivett's time has been necessarily much taken up with the erection and repair of Missionary buildings. His Native coadjutor, Mr. Sinclair, estimates the number of Native Christians at 450; the Communicants at 127. The children attending school numbered 90. The baptisms from March till December were—Adults, 1; Infants, 16. There were also two marriages and one death. These returns do not indicate a diminishing population.

Labours of Bishop

THE area of this Mission is the same as that of the diocese of Athabasca; and the Committee would venture to bear testimony to the self-denying zeal and untiring energy with which BISHOP BOMPAS, travelling thousands of miles on foot, in canoes, and on dog-sledges, denying himself the comfort of a settled home, has endeavoured to supply Episcopal oversight over this vast region.

A Circular has been lately issued by the Bishop to the officials of the Hudson's Bay Company, the following extract from which at once gives a general view of what has been effected, and throws light on some of the special circumstances of the Mission :—

Bishop Bompas's brief summary of what has been done in the Athabasca diocese.

But some may inquire what has been done or is doing? The answer may be shortly as follows:—(1) Six points in the Diocese are occupied as Mission Stations; six Mission-houses have been erected, and three Mission churches, and preparation is made for erecting three more Mission churches. (2) A manual has been printed in seven dialects of the country, containing a summary of Christian instruction; and in the chief dialects of Slave and Chipewyan, there has been printed in the Indian character, a manual of Devotion which contains copious instruction, and which, even the Roman Catholic Indians tell us, is better than the priests' books. (3) Gospels have also been printed in Slave and Chipewyan. (4) The Tukuth nation long since signalized the power of the Gospel, by turning completely from heathenism to Christianity; and they still drink in eagerly Christian and Protestant truths. Full translations have been made into their language. (5) The majority of the Slave and Beaver Indian tribes declare themselves to be on the side of the Protestant minister, and are willing to be taught; while the Roman Catholic Indians at all the posts are, we believe, as already intimated, greatly leavened by our teaching.

Help that may be given in the Athabasca Mission by European residents.

It may be asked, "In what way are we expected to help the Mission?" 1. Those who are in charge of posts can assist, by obtaining permission to put up a small building outside the forts, to be used by the Missionary at his periodical visits, or at least by providing a room for that purpose. 2. By holding regular Sunday prayers with the Protestant servants. 3. By discouraging vice and gambling, both by word and example. 4. By obtaining from the Missions, and circulating, religious books and tracts—first reading them yourselves, that you may be able to talk about them. 5. All classes may endeavour to assist in teaching the children and ignorant persons to read and write, and in circulating religious books among the Indians. 6. Those who are acquainted with the Indian languages, or who can obtain interpreters, may speak to the natives on the subject of religion, recommending the Gospel to their acceptance, and giving them religious information out of the Bible. 7. All can call on the Missionary, when they have an opportunity of meeting him and speaking to him about their own souls' welfare, and also offer him any sympathy and help in any matters that may be consistent with their duty. 8. All can pray for the Missionaries and their work, that they may be rendered wise and energetic, and may be strengthened with power from on high. 9. All can be regular in attendance on Divine worship whenever held, and heartily and spiritually join therein. 10. All can regularly read their Bibles, or hear them read, and consult the Missionaries from time to time about any passages that they may not rightly understand.

The Mission may be roughly divided into three sections, geographically marked by Lake Athabasca in the south, Great Slave Lake in the centre, and Peel River in the north. In the winter of 1878-9 the Bishop himself was in the Southernmost of these three districts. He writes:—

Plans for reaching the degraded North American Indians.

I have now retired to the calm retreat of Peace River to recruit, in a winter's repose, from the wear and tear of my long travel. The dwindling Beaver Indian tribes that roam here are not averse to the Gospel, but sadly degraded. I know of no other way to elevate them but for a missionary to settle down patiently among them, and teach them, by example, civilized habits and husbandry, as well as moral virtue and Christian faith. Among these Indian aborigines it will not suffice to follow the Apostolic or Pauline model of passing evangelizing visits as to civilized nations; but we have need indeed to seek to be as the good Samaritan to these poor outcasts; to go to them, and bind up their wounds, and show them Christianity in action before they will understand it, and also expand their minds by patient instruction till they are able to appreciate it. The school and the farm must be the handmaids to the Gospel in these Missions; and the surprising success of Mr. Duncan at Metlahkatlah is attributed by him greatly to his uniting with the instilling of the Gospel into the minds of the people, an effort to raise the social standing of the Natives by caring for their material wants.

The Society's station on Peace River is FORT VERMILLION, the Missionary of which is the Rev. A. Garrioch. The latest report received from him is dated 20th June, 1878. Its tone is hopeful.

From FORT SIMPSON, in the central district, the Rev. W. D. Reeve sends an encouraging report. Several Indians nominally attached to the Romish Missions, but altogether ignorant of Christian doctrine, living in the neighbourhood of Fort Providence invited him to visit them, and received his instructions with the utmost eagerness. One hundred and thirty of them have united themselves to the Society's Mission.

Tukuth Mission.

FORT MACPHERSON, on the Peel River, is the station of Archdeacon McDonald, who is principally known in connexion with the Tukuth Mission.

In a letter dated February 4th, 1878, containing news one year later than that given in the Society's report for 1877-8, the Archdeacon writes:—

The Indians, so far as I am aware, evince as warm an interest as ever in regard to divine things. But it is to be feared that, unless they be visited more frequently, and have more time bestowed on them, they will suffer loss. It is more than a year since I saw the whole of the Indians of La Pierre's House; and a longer time has elapsed since I saw the whole of those connected with Rampart House and Fort Youcon. There has been a small increase to the number of Christians, as may be seen in the statistics. The baptismal register shows a total of 1447. The want of wine prevented the administration of the Lord's Supper. Six deaths have occurred; of which three were adults, and I was happy to learn that they died in the hope of a blessed immortality through faith in the merits and mediation of Christ. The (unpaid) Indian Christian leaders deserve great praise for their diligence in the performance of their duties; but they require to be continually receiving additional instruction to enable them to teach others. I am thankful to say that, within the last two years, four out of the eighteen Indian Christian leaders have learnt to read fairly in the New Testament in their own tongue. One of them is passing the winter with me, and is making fair progress. Owing to the difficulty of obtaining provisions, I could hardly venture to keep more than one or two with me at a time. If I were able to spend some time with them in their camps in winter, more might be done; but this I do not anticipate until more efficient help is afforded.

Unpaid Christian leaders.

The Bishop of Athabasca writing under date November 1878, thus refers to the Youcon (Tukuth) Mission:—

The Youcon tribes are the only ones in this diocese which lie to the westward of the Rocky Mountains; and these share, with the western coast tribes, their eagerness after instruction and Gospel truth. But we have, alas! at present, no Mission agent in this diocese to the west of the mountains; for Archdeacon Macdonald has now been left for three years without an assistant, and his own head-quarters are to the east of the mountains. I trust this lack will be at once supplied; for the French Missionaries, who assailed in vain our Youcon Mission from Mackenzie River, are now approaching it from British Columbia by way of the coast. My own partial view is that the interests of the Society's Youcon Missions equal that of any in the world, including even Metlahkatlah; and I regret much that they are inadequately occupied. The French priests have hitherto been able to do but little with the tribes west of the Rocky Mountains; for their manly and independent spirit spurns the spiritual tyrany and overbearing pretensions of the priests.

Need and deep interest of the Youcon Mission.

James' Bay District, 1851; York, 1854.

THE Bishop of Moosonee thus reports of the general work of the diocese:—

The most strenuous efforts have been made to attend to the spiritual wants of all parts of the diocese. Archdeacon Kirkby has spent some months at Churchill. Mr. Vincent has gone through the whole Albany district. Mr. Keen is now prosecuting his journey through the Rupert's River district, and Mr. Sanders through that of Kenoogoomisse. Mr. Peck is among the Eskimos.

JAMES' BAY DISTRICT.

The Bishop writes as follows:—

Advance at Moose.

I remained at MOOSE during the summer, but shall soon set out on a journey to the eastern shore of the bay. I had intended being absent for the season, but am really glad I have not been; indeed, did our staff allow of it, Moose should never be without a clergyman during the summer, seeing it is the centre of the trade of the whole country, and has always a large summer population. My stay here has been most useful, and has been much blessed. Our daily services have been remarkably well attended. Great interest has been shown in the lectures I have delivered on the Acts of the Apostles and the Epistle to the Romans. Piety has been deepened, and benevolence encouraged. At our last Communion, four presented themselves at the Lord's table for the first time; and four more will come forward at the Communion to be held on Sunday next. In the beginning of the summer I proposed to our Indian congregation to employ, as an assistant in our Indian school, a young man who, through an accident, had lost an arm. It was at once agreed to; and our monthly offertory has been sufficiently large to pay him well for his services. One only has been removed from among us during the year, Susan Checho, a married Indian woman. It was a death of peace, indeed. I have never known two happier deaths than those of Susan and her brother, who died some years ago.

In the beginning of the year I was engaged in preparing Mr. Peck for the ministry and his missionary life. I had an apt pupil, and one who, knowing the nature of the work to which he had been called, used every moment as a sacred trust committed to him; his studies, both in divinity and the Indian language, were so satisfactorily pursued that I was enabled to ordain him deacon in February last.

Mr. Peck's own account of his work at LITTLE WHALE RIVER, among the Eskimos, will be read with much interest:—

The Eskimos are willing to learn; they are eager in many cases to embrace the gospel; they show me much kindness; and I have the aid of one of their countrymen in my work. But I long and pray for clearer manifestations of the Spirit's power among my people. I am not half satisfied with some; their religion does not reach the heart. With others I have better grounds of confidence, so that I can rejoice over them and believe they are the Lord's people.—After my arrival at Little Whale River, I tried to enter into the study of the Eskimo language in good earnest. My chief mode of study is to write down accounts of various subjects from the lips of the Eskimos; then I translate and gather any strange words, &c. which I may meet with. My good old helper, Molusto, teaches me every morning and afternoon, and takes a great pride in his work. I also converse with the Eskimos, that I may notice their mode of speaking, so that I may get the language as pure as possible. I do not wish any one to imagine that I am master of the language yet, but I think I have made fair progress by the above means.—I have meetings for my people every weekday evening. These are very punctually attended. There has been scarcely any cases of wilful non-attendance; and for the last six months I cannot mention thirty cases of absence altogether. Our little meetings are of a very simple nature indeed. When I enter the Eskimo iglo (snow-hut) I sit down and make myself at home; after a little while I kneel down and ask God's blessing; we then sing a hymn; a portion of Scripture is then read, upon which I comment or read an address prepared during the day; we then sing another hymn, and offer up another prayer. I then divide them in classes, some reading portions of God's Word, and some reading the Catechism. After some time I shake hands with all and bid them good-bye, to which words they ofttimes heartily respond, "Goonaî, Goonaî."—The little books containing portions of Scripture, &c., have proved and will prove great treasures. The Eskimos are delighted with them. My friend Molusto gives his opinion of them something after this manner, "The books that have come, they are good, for they are right, they have sense and they make men glad. I am always thinking they are good, the things (books) that are given to use. I am very thankful."—There are at present some of my people preparing for baptism, and for these I ask the prayers of friends.

Promising commencement among the Eskimos.

There are about 500 Native Adherents connected with ALBANY, under the pastoral care of a country-born clergyman, the Rev. T. Vincent. Of these fifty are communicants. Twenty-seven adults and fifteen children were baptized during the year. As the Christian Indians of these parts, like their still heathen countrymen, subsist by hunting, they are necessarily absent from the Mission stations during the larger portion of the year. But Mr. Vincent writes, "I have reason to believe that while far away from us, they continue to practise the reading of the portions of Scripture possessed by them, and engage in prayer and praise."

York.

Archdeacon Kirkby is still the Missionary at this station. The Communicants at York Factory itself (not including Europeans) have increased from 45 to 60. The whole number of Adherents is not given; but there appears plainly to have been an advance under this head also. As regards natural increase, there have been twenty births and one death. Two families, however, have left for Norway house. The people generally have been faithful in attending the ordinances of God's house; and the greater part of them seem to strive to live consistently. But there are others who grieve the Missionary by their carelessness and sin. During the Archdeacon's absence from the central station, the Indian services were kept up by the three Indian readers. At the annual collection for the Mission 13*l.* was contributed by the Indians out of their deep poverty.

The out-post of Trout Lake is mentioned by the Archdeacon in his statistics only. The Native Communicants there number 30.—At Severn the work is less advanced, the Communicants numbering only four. The only mention of Severn in the Archdeacon's Annual Letter, is in the following very interesting passage:—

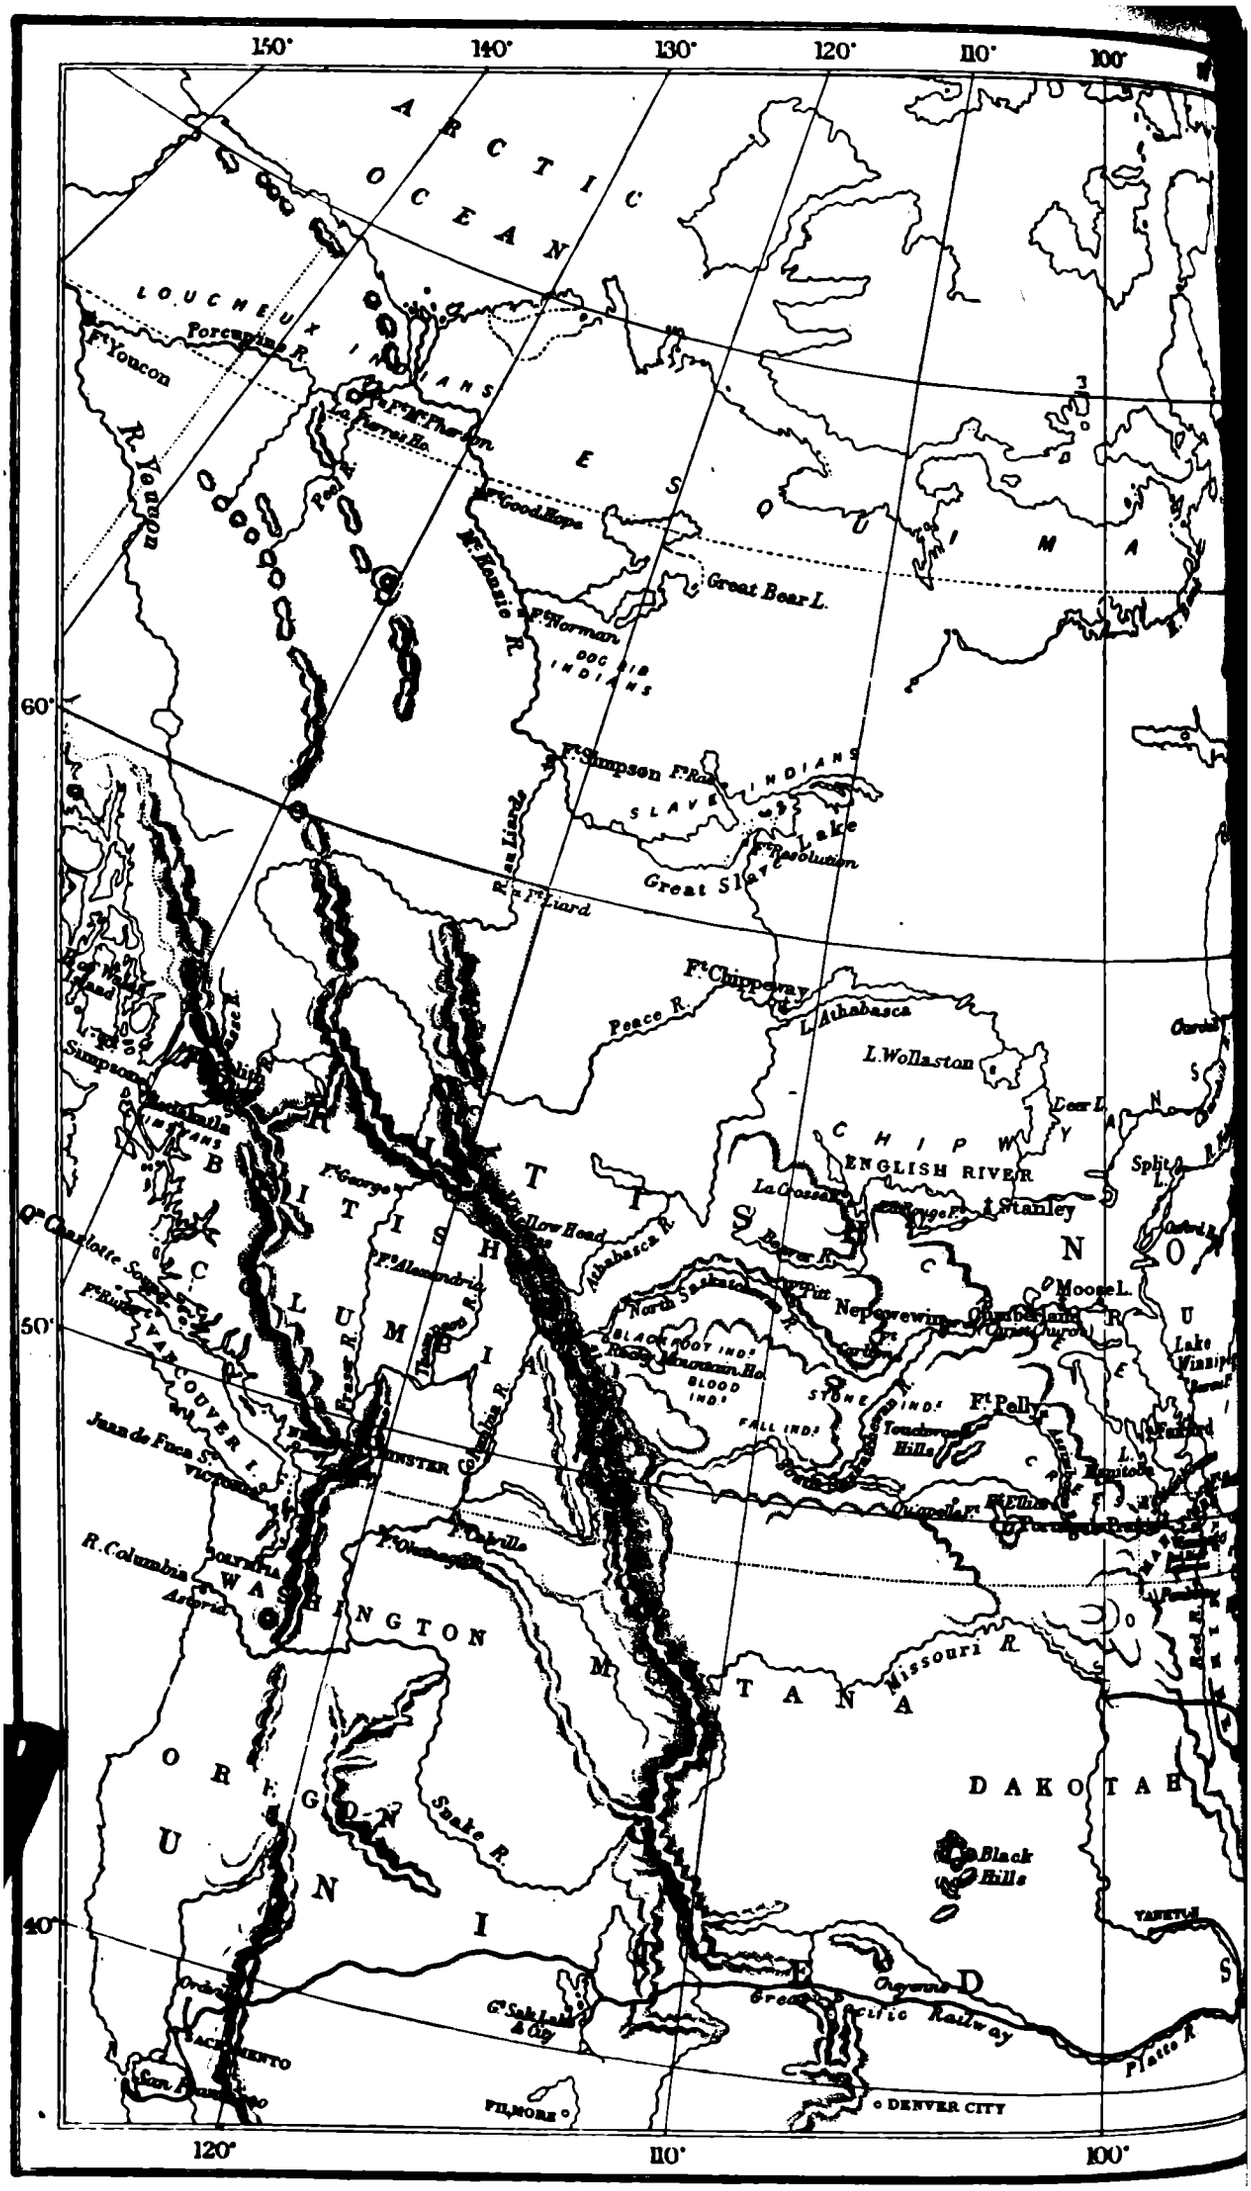

Liberality of a Christian Indian.

One man at Severn, in acknowledgment of God's mercies to him, sent me up a beautiful silver-fox skin, the primest and best fur in the country, with a nice little note, which I have here, saying that he wished to give that—the best he had, and the best his country could afford—to God, in thankfulness for the mercies he had received during the past year, and more especially for the comfort of a church, which he now enjoys.

Of Churchill Archdeacon Kirkby writes:—

Hopeful state of Churchill Indians.

I left home early in April to accompany the Churchill packet-men back to that place. We accomplished the journey within a week. Mr. and Mrs. Spencer were very kind and helpful to me, and I remained at Churchill nearly four months. It is, as you know, the northernmost end of my parish, and a dreary place to spend a summer in; but the work was full of interest. There were about a hundred Indians and half that number of Eskimos there during the greater part of my stay. With the former I had much comfort, and never saw them so attentive. Day by day they came together for instruction; and evening by evening we had a short service of prayer and praise in the neat little church, which was often completely filled. As a people, the Chipewyans are not at all demonstrative—quite the reverse; but several of them spoke to me in all earnestness about their souls, and I do believe that a work of grace is going on among them.—The Eskimos are a happy, contented race of people; but, oh! so dark as to all that concerns their eternal welfare. None at the fort could give me any assistance in the language; so I determined to secure, if possible, a boy from them to bring here to educate; and I am glad to inform you that an orphan lad, about sixteen years old, was given to me, and that he is now here, and appears to like his change of life very much.

The Indians of Churchill are Chipewyans, those of York and its other out-stations being Crees. The latter already have the Bible in their own language. The Gospels in Chipewyan were sent out to Churchill in 1878; and while the Archdeacon was in Churchill he completed the translation of the New Testament.

NORTH PACIFIC MISSION.

Metlakahtla, 1856; Kincolith, 1864; Fort Rupert, 1878.

THE Committee have had great pleasure in co-operating with the Bishop of British Columbia for the separation of the northern part of his diocese into a separate See (Caledonia); and they have hailed with thankfulness the designation of an old Panjâb Missionary, Mr. Ridley, to this important post. Happy change at Metlakahtla.

During the past year the Mission received a visit from the naval officer to whom, under God, its establishment was due twenty-two years ago—Admiral Prevost. On his return he kindly attended a meeting of the Committee, and described the happy change which these years have witnessed. Savagery and heathenism formerly reigned supreme. Now a single Indian can go anywhere without fear. At Metlakahtla itself the Admiral met with the warmest reception. He and his party were carried up the beach in a canoe, on men's shoulders, and welcomed with the hymn "What a friend we have in Jesus," sung in English. Of the secular progress of the Indians, Admiral Prevost spoke most favourably; while he added that, having at various times been almost all over the world, and having now spent a whole month among the Tsimshean Christians, he could say that he had never seen anywhere more simple and truthful Christianity.

METLAKAHTLA.

From Mr. Duncan's most cheering and interesting report the following extracts are subjoined:—

Prosperity of the Church at Metlakahtla.

Our four weekly services continue to be largely attended, and the Word of God received with deep and solemn interest.—Twenty-one adults have been baptized since my last Annual Letter. Over one hundred are on the catechumen list. Infants baptized during the year number thirty-four.—On New Year's Day—our great day for public business—we enrolled twenty new men into the companies. These, with wives and children, number about fifty souls who have joined our settlement from surrounding tribes during the past year. The new-comers were from Kitsahlan and Kitsamakalum, on the Skeena River, and Kithratla, Kitkaht, and Fort Simpson, on the coast. We have now the whole of the Kitkaht tribe at Metlakahtla. The total number of Native Christian Adherents is 1000.—Our Native Church elders as a body are doing good service by their consistent walk and zeal in God's work.—We have had some earnest calls for help from a coast tribe, called Kitloab, about 150 miles south of us. Last summer I sent a Native teacher back with a party who had come as a deputation, and he stayed with the tribe a short time. On our invitation, a party of twenty came to spend Christmas with us, and remained about four weeks. Our people took great interest in them, and they returned home apparently much impressed with what they had heard and seen. A few of the Kitloabs are already settlers here, and I anticipate others will join us; but, in the meantime, the tribe being aroused and craving instruction, we must try to arrange some plan by which they may be regularly cared for.—The past year is noted as the first in which a Native-born evangelist has been taken into the Mission staff as a regular helper. David Leask, who was one of my first little band of scholars at Fort Simpson in 1858, has joined Mr. Collison in the Queen Charlotte Island Mission at Masset.

Our progress in temporal matters continues. Twenty-eight of our new houses are up; and I have already in hand deposits from the Indians (who make me their banker) towards the building of other twenty-five. The outline of our new town cropping up is a wholesome stimulant; and industry and desire to improve are rapidly supplanting sloth and indifference. Hence how very opportune the visit of our warm and distinguished friend, Admiral Prevost, last summer! And how very appropriate his munificent gift of street-lamps for our village! Our main road is now over half a mile long; and the lamps, being placed at nice intervals, make us look very grand at night.—Since Admiral Prevost's visit, I have erected a number of commodious workshops, covering over 6000 feet of area, which I have presented to the Native industrial companies. These shops have cost about 250*l*., but the whole expense has been borne by the trade profits.—The past year been remarkably peaceful in the whole district. Our prison has been empty nearly the whole year. In the summer months, however, I experienced an anxious and worrying time in arbitrating about the Indian fisheries, which had lately been encroached upon by the whites. My position was a very painful one; but God graciously blessed my efforts, and we were preserved in peace.—I can perceive a decided and growing improvement in the health of our community.

Temporal progress at Metlakahtla.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE'S ISLAND.

The Rev. W. H. Collison writes, under date 26th October, 1878:—

The majority of the Hydahs appear unconcerned about their spiritual state; yet the truth is making progress, and not a few are inquiring earnestly for the way of Life. At a little social meeting which I had a few days past, the principal chief said, "I was formerly careless and unconcerned about the message which the white chief brought us; but I can be so no longer. Even at night when I lie awake in my bed, I cry to God to pardon my many sins and save me. I know now it is true, all true, and I want to be safe in the ark, ever serving the Saviour;" and he continued at some length, exhorting the others to receive the Word. Another chief also spoke with intense earnestness and feeling. He said, "A short time since I was blind and knew nothing of these great things. But Jesus has opened my eyes and now I see. Jesus is the way, and I am in that way now. I am happy, very happy; but one thing keeps me back, and when that is over, I will seek to be baptized, and live only for God." This "one thing" referred to is a giving away of property on account of a deceased brother, whose effects he took charge of, and put up a carved pole to his memory. As he has already promised, and given notice to the tribe, he does not wish to draw back. Another, a young man, is already obeying the injunction "Let them that heareth say, Come, &c.;" and at the salmon fishing and elsewhere he has endeavoured to gather his friends together for prayer and praise.

Mr. G. Sneath has been appointed to this station. Mr. Collison will then be able to reside at Metlakahtla conducting the ministerial duties of that station, and at the same time co-operating with Mr. Duncan in taking measures for the general advance of the Mission.

FORT RUPERT.

Hopeful beginning among the Quoquolt Indians.

The Rev. A. J. Hall is the Missionary among the Fort Rupert Indians. Their language is known by the name of Quoquolt. He first landed there to commence Missionary work on the 12th March, 1878. The Roman Catholics had a Mission at Fort Rupert for eleven years; but, failing to meet with success, left the place about ten years ago. Since Mr. Hall's arrival, however, a Roman Catholic priest has again visited the neighbourhood. There are twenty Quoquolt villages stretching along the north coast of Vancouver Island and the neighbouring main land of British Columbia. Mr. Hall's school and religious services have been held in an Indian house which he fitted up for the purpose. The Indians, he observes, did not "rush to his services at first and then drop off." A few came at first, and the numbers gradually increased; until at last the congregation amounted to eighty, the majority being men—men who have frequently committed murder. They have a great desire to learn to read.

In March of the present year, Mr. Hall paid a visit to the Nu-uit-ty tribe, who live about thirty miles from Fort Rupert, at the northernmost point of the island. One hundred and fifty Indians listened attentively to addresses from him; and, notwithstanding the vehement dissuasions of a Roman Catholic priest who was present on the occasion, the head chief earnestly begged him to settle amongst them.

KINCOLITH.

Until March, 1879, the date of his Annual Letter, the Rev. R. Tomlinson may be regarded as having been the Missionary of this station. He still retained, however, the wish mentioned in the Report for 1877-8, to resign Kincolith to a younger labourer, and proceed to the unevangelized tribes in the interior. But there are difficulties in the way; and the Committee have requested the Bishop-designate of Caledonia to advise with Mr. Tomlinson on the subject when he reaches the new diocese. The total number of baptized Christians at Kincolith is 150. There are sixty other settlers, many of whom are candidates for baptism. The number of settlers does not seem likely to increase very rapidly, as the villages in the neighbourhood have been taken up by the Canadian Wesleyan Missionary Society. As regards the general condition of his people, Mr. Tomlinson considers that, during the first half of the year 1878, there were signs of steady progress in their spiritual life and moral conduct. Advances were also making in temporal matters. Five new two-storey houses were put up, and preparations were made for the erection of others. During the latter half of the year Mr. Tomlinson was very much away from them, partly on Missionary tours and partly on a necessary visit to Victoria, his place being supplied at Kincolith by Mr. Schutt, who had not yet mastered the Kincolith dialect. A feeling of unrest then manifested itself; which, however, Mr. Tomlinson hopes will prove to be only temporary. Kincolith was visited by Bishop Bompas, with commission from the Bishop of British Columbia, in the early part of 1879. Mr. Collison being at Kincolith at the time, his ordination by Bishop Bompas, as deacon and priest, took place at that station in March of that year. After the ordination there was an examination of Catechumens; and the Bishop administered baptism to seventeen adults and twelve children. Eleven more adults were baptized in January, 1879. Admiral Prevost's visit to the station in July, 1878, much cheered both the Missionary and his native flock.

Efforts for the evangelization of neighbouring places have been blessed with some success at Kittackdamix, at the head of the navigation at the Naas River. The Word preached has been steadily taking root in the hearts of several of the people; a Native teacher from Kincolith having been stationed amongst them, towards whose expenses 12*l.* were contributed by the Kincolith Christians. A site has been selected for a Christian village at Kittackdamix, and a schoolhouse erected on it. Several families promised to move thither in the summer of 1879.

Mr. Tomlinson has been put on the commission of the peace. The proposal was made to him quite unexpectedly. The results, however, he thinks, have been good. "The hearts of the well-disposed are strengthened; while the ill-disposed whites are restrained from molesting the Native settlers."

* The Society has in past years withdrawn from eighty-two Stations, chiefly transferred to the Native Church of Sierra Leone (which, however, is in various ways, still closely connected with the Society), or added to Parochial Establishments in the West Indies, containing at the time of transfer thirteen Native Clergy, 5426 Communicants, and 13,898 Scholars; one of these, Kissey Road, with 574 Communicants, having been relinquished during the year just concluded.

CONCLUSION.

No one, the Committee think, can have read through the review of the year's work given in the preceding pages without being prepared to agree with them that, looking abroad on the Mission Field, the friends of the Society never had more cause for thankfulness and hope than at the present moment. Never were there more manifest tokens of the blessing from on high, and never greater encouragement for the spiritual husbandman to sow plenteously. Never were there wider doors thrown open for the preachers of the Gospel than at the present moment in all three continents—Africa, Asia, and America. Moreover, never, the Committee believe, in the annals of the Society has there been before, at one time, so goodly a band of labourers prepared to go forth from Islington as in the present year—the firstfruits, as they may well be reckoned, of the answer to the prayers of the first days of intercession offered in all the fervour of newly-kindled earnestness. And yet, strangely enough, as it might at first seem, all these tokens of blessed encouragement are received at a time when the Committee have to announce with sorrow insufficient pecuniary resources. With increased blessing, increased openings, increased labourers, there is for the time an income incommensurate with the exigencies of the work, demanding retrenchment instead of permitting expansion.

Insufficiency of pecuniary resources.

What shall the Committee say to this? They cannot doubt that it is their primary duty to urge afresh upon their friends, humbly and yet earnestly, that increased opportunities bring with them increased responsibilities; and that these must be felt by the loyal heart to bring with them increased obligations to a whole-hearted consecration. They feel deeply to-day that they would be false not only to all the precious traditions of the Society, but to their own convictions, to their own prayers, and to their Lord Himself, if they for an instant allowed it to be thought that they calmly acquiesced in a policy of retrenchment, or indeed in any policy but that of going forward. For the moment they accept the situation forced upon them as inevitable; they accept it as a call to themselves to humiliation and self-examination; and they trust it will be so accepted by all the friends of the Society everywhere, producing in all deep searchings of heart whether there is the faithfulness there ought to be to the Lord who bought them, in respect of the silver and the gold of which they are His stewards. The occasion is just one for showing whether there is the same holy loyalty and patriotism towards the King of kings and the interests of His kingdom, as the people of this country are ever ready to exhibit when the honour of their sovereign and her dominions is at stake. No sacrifice is thought by them too great to secure success to their country's arms and to maintain the glory of her name. Ought there to be less devotion on the part of Christ's subjects to Him and His glory, who bought them with His blood to be for ever His, whose Kingdom is righteousness and peace and joy, and who makes conquests only that He may save for ever?

The new Mission fields opening up before the Society in Africa, in Central Asia, in China, make the Committee feel as if in those great continents, with their teeming millions, the Church of Christ has as yet done little more than obtain a footing, and that the real earnest attack must now begin. The Committee rejoice that other Societies are awaking to this, and making organized efforts to share in the work. They rejoice greatly in these efforts; they desire, as far as possible, to co-operate with the authors of them; but they would not that the Church Missionary Society should lag behind.

Surely, then, there are not a few at the present juncture who will lay to heart whether there is not too much conformity to the world on the part of Christ's servants in respect of laying up treasure on earth where the moth and the rust corrupt; and whether they would not be acting more wisely by seeking to keep in view that day when the far-reaching meaning of the Master's words shall be realized, "He that loveth his life shall lose it, and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal."

Finally, trying and humbling as the present position of the Society is, the Committee have a firm hope that it will be overruled for good, as it assuredly will be if it induces more self-examination—more humiliation of heart—more simple dependence upon God—more hearty and entire consecration to His service. They look for God to show again, as He has often done before, that He humbles that He may use—that He causes His servants to realize their own poverty, and insufficiency, and unworthiness, that He may put forth in them His power, and reveal in them the wealth of His resources. The Committee have a happy confidence in God that the present depression is only temporary, that the wave has only receded for a moment, that it may presently reach a point that it has never reached before, and that it is still the gracious purpose of the Lord of Hosts to give to the Church Missionary Society a full share in the triumphs of that day when the knowledge of the glory of the Lord shall cover the earth as the waters cover the sea.

ALMIGHTY and most merciful FATHER, we give Thee humble thanks for the light of Thy Gospel. Make us more grateful for this Thy mercy, and more zealous for the salvation of all mankind.

Visit in mercy the Church of Christ; enrich it more abundantly with the grace of Thy Holy Spirit; and bless its endeavours to make known Thy Truth. Unite, as one man, all who are truly labouring for Thee. Disappoint the designs of Satan. Let all Christian Societies live in harmony and love; give them wisdom in all their plans; perfect Thy strength in their weakness; and direct their labours to Thy glory!

The Harvest truly is great, but the Labourers are few! O Thou Lord of the Harvest, send forth Labourers into Thy Harvest! Fill with Thy Spirit those whom Thou hast sent forth; and enable them faithfully and boldly to preach, among Jews and Gentiles, the unsearchable riches of Christ. Keep them from the snares of the world, the flesh, and the devil; deliver them from all evil; and make them wise to win souls.

Upon all the Native Converts whom Thou hast gathered to Thyself, through Thy labouring servants throughout the world, pour out Thy Holy Spirit, that, as Thou hast begotten them again unto a lively hope, so they may ever be followers of Thee as dear children. Deliver them from all remaining darkness and ignorance; destroy and abolish in their hearts all that remains of Satan's kingdom; grant that their faith, and hope, and love may grow exceedingly; make them to be ready to every good work, and more especially to exert themselves for the salvation of those around them; that so, by their zeal and faithful testimony, by their holiness and fruitfulness, they may glorify Thy name before their countrymen, and bring in unto Thee, from the midst of them, such as shall be saved.

Have compassion, O Most-merciful Father, on all those who have come under instruction, though they be not yet altogether Christians. Convince them effectually, by Thy Word and Spirit, of their sinful and miserable state; pour upon them the spirit of grace and supplication, and draw them to Jesus.

Take away blindness from the Jews. Let them receive Thee, O Jesus, as their Messiah, and proclaim Thy saving Name among the Gentiles.

Deliver all Mohammedans from the delusions of the False Prophet! O Thou True Prophet of Thy Church, enlighten them by Thy Holy Spirit, and bow them down at the foot of Thy Cross!

Pity blind Idolaters, who are kept in cruel bondage by the god of this world. Turn them from idols, that they may serve the Living and True God.

O Thou Almighty Saviour, who by the right hand of God art exalted, and hast received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, shed forth His light and grace on this dark world!

Cause all Christians, we beseech Thee, to sow bountifully; that they may reap also bountifully. O Thou that lovest a cheerful giver, let all grace abound toward them, that they may minister liberally of their substance to the making known of Thy Name!

With these our humble prayers, we join our praises and thanksgivings for what Thou hast already done in making known Thy salvation; perfect Thy work, O Lord; shortly accomplish the number of Thine elect; and hasten the coming of Thy Kingdom.

Be present with us, O Lord, at this time. Give us all a single eye to Thy glory. May Thy blessing rest upon our meeting; and may all our hearts be this day quickened and encouraged to fresh and persevering efforts in Thy Service.

We ask these mercies for the glory of Thy Name, through the merits and mediation of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ; and would ascribe to Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, Three Persons in One God, everlasting praise. Amen

OUR Father which art in Heaven: Hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil; for Thine is the kingdom, the power and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

PRAYER USED AT THE OPENING OF MEETINGS OF THE COMMITTEE OF CORRESPONDENCE.

ALMIGHTY GOD, our Heavenly Father, who hast purchased to Thyself an Universal Church, by the precious blood of Thy dear Son, we give Thee hearty thanks that it hath pleased Thee to call us to the knowledge of Thy grace and faith in Thee, and to appoint our lot in an age and country, where the true light shineth. We bless Thee that Thou hast awakened us in some measure to feel our responsibilities. We praise Thee for what we have seen and heard of the power of Thy word among the heathen; we adore Thee for Thy many servants who have gone out from amongst us to toil and suffer and die in making known Thy salvation; and we thank Thee that Thou dost allow us, unworthy sinners, to unite together in this work of faith and labour of love.

We humbly confess our past lukewarmness in this Thy service, notwithstanding these Thine inestimable benefits and mercies. For our Lord Jesus Christ's sake, forgive us our past negligences, and so endue us with Thy Holy Spirit, that we may more earnestly seek Thy glory in the salvation of souls.

Grant us, we beseech Thee, Thy very present help at these our meetings. We ask, most gracious God and Father, for a constraining sense of the love of the Lord Jesus, and for wisdom to direct us in all our endeavours. Increase upon us the spirit of power and of love and of a sound mind. Give us faith and courage; give us zeal and patience; give us a single eye to Thy glory, and help us to bear and to forbear. The silver and the gold are Thine, O King of kings! Supply us with what is needful for our great work, and make us faithful stewards of Thy bounty, for proclaiming to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ.

We pray also for all who are united with us in the direction of this sacred cause. May Thine especial blessing rest upon our Committees, with their Secretaries, throughout the world. Bestow on them the help that we feel so needful for ourselves. Enable them to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace, and ever to find favour in the sight of all with whom they may have to do.

Especially we beseech Thee to look, O most merciful Father, upon our Missionary brethren. Draw out our hearts towards them more and more; and while they are bearing the burden abroad, give us grace to help and succour them by our sympathy and prayers at home. Bless every letter written to them from this house, and all our intercourse with them. We pray for them that they may be filled with Thy Spirit. Grant that the same mind may be in them which was also in Christ Jesus. Let them never lose their first love. Raise them above the cares of this world. Help them to deny themselves and to endure all things for the elect's sake. Give them the tongue of the learned. Clothe them with humility. Teach them to follow peace with each other, and with all men. Support them under spiritual distresses, temptations of the adversary, bodily sickness, domestic anxieties, and hope deferred. And so confirm Thy word from their lips by the power of the Holy Ghost, that through them multitudes may be turned from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto Thee, our God.

We most heartily thank Thee, O Lord, for those whom Thou hast already sent forth through this Society; and we pray for a yet larger outpouring of a Missionary spirit on our younger Clergy, on the members of our Universities, on those who are elsewhere preparing for this holy work, on the young men of all ranks and orders throughout our land. And herein do we implore Thy special favour on our Islington Institution, that its numbers may be replenished continually; and that none may go forth thence but such as shall be able ministers of the New Testament, full of faith, and of the Holy Ghost.

We praise Thee, O Thou God of all grace, for the Converts, the Native Catechists, and the Native Clergy, whom Thou hast granted to us in our several Missions. As Thou hast raised the Native Churches thus far, bring them, we pray Thee, to full ripeness and perfectness of age in Christ. Pour out upon them Thy Holy Spirit. Stablish, strengthen, settle them, and so enlarge their liberality, that they may both maintain Thy word among themselves, and may make it known to the regions beyond them, till all the Gentiles hear the glad tidings of Thy love.

And now, O Lord God, be Thou in the midst of us to-day. Give us a constant sense of Thy presence, and may all our undertakings be begun, continued, and ended in Thee, to the honour of Thy great name, for the sake of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

APPENDIX.

THE Society's Report for 1876-7 contained an Appendix (marked A) stating the nature and circumstances of the differences that had arisen between the Society and the Bishop of Colombo. Since the issuing of that Report letters on various subjects have passed between the Bishop, the Society's Secretary in Ceylon, and the Committee. To the earlier portion of that correspondence it is unnecessary to refer at any length. It will be sufficient to quote the following passage from the Annual Report for 1877-8:—

"In the course of the year just concluded, the Bishop of Colombo offered to recognize the Tamil Cooly Mission in the same way as it had been recognized by his predecessors, if a guarantee could be given that the Mission was conducted on Church of England principles. Though the Committee did not see the need of such a guarantee—as the rules of the Mission provide that such shall be the case, and no evidence had been adduced of their having been transgressed—they readily acceded to the Bishop's wishes, and a guarantee was accordingly given. This step was at first misunderstood by the local Tamil Cooly Mission Committee; but the Parent Committee rejoice that the explanations they have offered have proved satisfactory. They have assured their friends that no change of plan or principle is intended, and that the Society is as determined as ever to maintain the just liberties of the Mission and to preserve to the Tamil Cooly Christians purity of doctrine and simplicity of worship. The Committee have full confidence that the laws and established practice of the Church of England will protect the due freedom of their Missionary operations, notwithstanding the difficulties attendant on the transition from the early days of evangelistic effort to the establishment of that indigenous and self-governing Native Church which they have always regarded as the ultimate issue of a successful Mission."

In January, 1878, a letter was received from the Bishop of Colombo, in which he wrote as follows:—"I can now feel with great thankfulness that the matter of the Tamil Cooly Mission is no longer a barrier between myself and the Church Missionary Society. There remain, however, questions far more serious than this, on which we are still at issue. The 'claims' advanced by me in July, 1876, I still advance; though I no longer stand alone in advancing them, in so far at least as the principles involved in them are the same as those enunciated by the Bishops of this Province in March, 1877. But it should be understood that I not only concur in enunciating them as abstract principles, but hold that the circumstances of this Diocese render it my duty to insist on them, within proper limits and with proper consideration for custom, in my practical dealings with the clergy. I consider myself bound to insist on them, not in behalf of the Episcopal power as opposed to the discretion of the Presbytery, but in behalf of the independence of the Church of this Diocse, of which, when its Synod is not sitting, I am the representative—an independence seriously endangered by the retention in lay hands in England of powers which belong by the ordinance of Christ to the living body here. Since, however, it may be hoped that the voice of the assembled Fathers of the Church will, in the Conference at Lambeth, put these principles beyond dispute, I shall refrain from carrying them into action until after that Conference has met. In saying this much, I have no wish to renew the strife; on the contrary, I hope that these important principles may be secured by friendly discussion; but I think it important that it should not be forgotten, in our rejoicing over the removal of a superficial difficulty, that the original matter still remains to be dealt with."

The Committee replied very briefly, simply expressing their continued adherence to their Resolutions of October, 1876, and also to their Memorandum of June, 1877, upon the Resolutions of the Indian Bishops. In answer to this the Bishop wrote on April 22nd, expressing great disappointment that the Committee manifested no readiness to refer the questions at issue to the proposed Conference of Bishops at Lambeth, and adding,—

"I am therefore compelled to entreat you, for the present at least, not to ask my sanction, tacit or formal, to the appointment of any new member of your Society in this Diocese, unless you can also give me good reason to return to my hope that you will allow your position to be modified, if necessary, by any decisive resolution at which the assembled Bishops may arrive."

The Resolutions arrived at by the Lambeth Conference are well known. That Conference did not put forth their decisions as having any binding force; but the Committee were glad to find that the arrangements which the Lambeth Conference recommended for licences, did not differ materially from those contemplated in the new Note to the Society's 29th Law, which were agreed upon shortly before the Conference was held.

While in England, the Bishop of Colombo had two interviews with selected members of the Committee. The principal question discussed was the relation of the Native Church to the English ecclesiastical organization. The Bishop stated that he proposed to call a Diocesan Synod or Conference of all the clergy in Ceylon, including Natives, and of lay delegates (also including Natives) from the various congregations. The Committee were unwilling to see any step taken which might appear to prejudge, in a direction which they considered adverse to the best interests of the Native Church, the question whether or no it should be encouraged to look for independence of foreign control and for its own ecclesiastical organization. The Bishop, however, expressed a hope that the Society's missionaries would at all events attend an informal preliminary Conference, to be held on his return to Ceylon, at which the further question of the propriety of calling the more formal Synod would be discussed. Before the Bishop left England, the Committee wrote to him, stating that they saw no sufficient reason for altering the opinion expressed in their Memorandum on the Resolutions of the Indian Bishops (i.e. that a permanent organic union between English and Native Churches was undesirable in India and Ceylon), but that "they had never exercised any control over the Society's missionaries in regard to attendance upon any informal Conference to which the Bishop might think well to invite them."

On his return to Ceylon, in the autumn of last year, the Bishop issued notices for the preliminary Conference, to be held in December. On Sept. 9th, the Rev. W. Oakley, in the name of the Society's Missionaries, wrote to the Bishop, inquiring what subjects were to be discussed, and also "requesting permission to absent themselves" from the Communion Service which was to precede the Conference, for the reason thus stated:—

"We make this request, not because of any objection to unite with the other members of the Conference in partaking of the Lord's Supper, but because of certain practices which, we believe, are usually observed at the Cathedral, and which we therefore presume will be retained on that day. We allude to the following: —1. The placing of a Cross on or above the Communion Table. 2. The placing of flowers or other ornaments on the Table. 3. The Eastward position. 4. The elevation of the elements. 5. The mixing of water with the wine. 6. The washing of vessels at the Table, and partaking of the water. We regret very much having to raise this difficulty, but we should be doing violence to our own consciences, and putting ourselves in an altogether false position with our Native Christians, were we to seem to give countenance to practices which they, as well as ourselves, believe to be at variance with the Protestant character of the Church of England."

Accompanying this letter was a brief note, asking the Bishop if he were prepared to receive candidates for Holy Orders at the ensuing Christmas Ordination. It was desired to present to him on that occasion the Acting Principal of the Society's College at Kandy, Mr. T. Dunn, and also five Native Christians, who had been long waiting to be ordained.

In the Bishop's reply, dated Oct. 18th, he stated that he regarded the request of the Missionaries as "a serious intrusion on the liberty of their brother clergy," "an attempt to deprive others of their lawful freedom," and "a grave charge against himself." He "declined, therefore, to demand any such concession from the cathedral clergy." He also stated his own views of the six points referred to by Mr. Oakley. He considered the cross legal, "in accordance with the general practice of the Christian Church," and "highly desirable in itself;" the flowers also legal, and "pleasing and harmless;" the Eastward position equally legal, "in accordance with the practice of the Universal Church," and "of the highest value as an exponent of doctrine." The elevation of the elements he acknowledged to be illegal, but stated that it would not be used on the occasion, and that he had never used it. The use of the "mixed chalice" he acknowledged to have been also "declared illegal by the most recent judgment," but affirmed it to be "in accordance with primitive and universal practice," "highly desirable, for practical reasons, in those climates," and "a practice against which it would be most injurious to press the law, even were the law less uncertain." The "washing of vessels, &c.," he was not aware had been "made the subject of any lawsuit," and it was "extremely desirable, if not absolutely necessary, to a complete observance of the rubric." He concluded by appealing to them to withdraw their objections, and to join in the Holy Communion at the cathedral, adding, "Should you be still unwilling to do so, I cannot ask you to join in anything else. I shall in that case excuse each of you, not only from the Holy Communion, and from the Conference, but also from the Triennial Visitation." He also said that, "while such questions were pending," he could not "entertain any applications for ordination."

At the same time the Bishop wrote to the Home Committee on the subject, enclosing a copy of Mr. Oakley's letter and of his own. In this letter he again asserted that the Missionaries had contemplated "a serious invasion of liberty." He further noticed some other minor questions, particularly certain alleged irregularities with regard to licences. Into these questions it is unnecessary to enter, because, on the subsequent representation of three Missionaries whose "irregularities" were referred to, the Bishop exonerated them from the charge of any intentional disregard of his wishes, though still expressing an opinion that the licences (originally granted by previous Bishops) were too vague and elastic in terms, and allowed the holders undue freedom. The letter thus goes on:—

"It is of urgent importance that we should clearly see the danger which is involved in the present attitude of your Missionaries. They have hitherto been linked with their brethren through the Bishop, to whom they have looked for Confirmations and Ordinations, and whose licence they have consented to receive. But if they should be found to be practically disregarding the episcopal control which did link them with their brethren, and taking steps which intrude on the province or threaten the liberties of their brethren, what is to hold us together any longer? What is to follow but open rupture? You will have seen, in what I have said above, how near to this sad conclusion a combination of different circumstances has already brought us. The refusal of your Missionaries to receive the Holy Communion at my hands in the Cathedral has made it impossible for me to ordain any one whom they present or whom they will control. Meanwhile, their disregard of my licence compels me to say that until these things are rectified I can grant no more."

In the same letter the Bishop acknowledged, on the part of the Missionaries, "many instances of personal deference, and some very welcome proofs of a desire—particularly in regard to the Tamil Cooly Mission—to work in union with fellow-clergy."

On Oct. 23rd Mr. Oakley replied to the Bishop's letter to him, explaining that the Missionaries had no desire to intrude on the liberties of others, but only to preserve their own:—

"We have simply requested permission to be absent from the celebration of the Holy Communion at the Cathedral, on a certain occasion, because we believe that a ritual is observed, in which we ourselves could not conscientiously join, and which we feel bound, by every means in our power, to exclude from that part of the Native Church with which we are connected. We have made no reference whatever to the liberties of the clergy. We very naturally wish to preserve our own liberty; and we feel specially bound to abstain from participating in a ritual which we are using our utmost influence to prevent from spreading in the Native Church."

Mr. Oakley also proceeds to justify the objections to the cathedral ritual, taking the several practices seriatim. He thus expresses the general feeling of the Missionaries:—

"In our endeavours, by the help and blessing of God, to rescue the heathen from their degrading superstitions, and other abominable idolatries, we firmly believe that some of the ritualistic ceremonies which are now being introduced into the Church of England will prove most formidable obstacles. Taking the Bible as our guide, we are prepared to offer a full, and free, and everlasting Salvation to all who believe in the Lord Jesus Christ. We direct them to Him, as 'the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world.' We assure them that 'all who believe in Him will not perish, but will have everlasting life.' That 'He is the way, the truth, and the life, and that no one can come to the Father but by Him.' But we cannot help feeling deeply impressed with the fact, that the ritual now being introduced into the Church tends very seriously to obscure the great truths of the Gospel, and will, we fear, have the effect of turning many away from a simple, personal trust in the Lord Jesus Christ. The six points referred to in our letter, five of which your Lordship is prepared to defend, show, very clearly, that the system which is thus supported, rests upon a doctrine which we cannot recognize as Scriptural, and which we cannot therefore accept. The whole system rests upon it. Your Lordship says, 'The Eastward position . . . is of the highest value, as an exponent of doctrine.'"

On receipt of the Bishop's letter and the rest of the correspondence, the Committee of the Church Missionary Society gave full and careful consideration to the whole subject, and adopted a Memorandum, which was sent to the Bishop on Dec. 20th. On the subject of the proposed Communion Service, this Memorandum thus expresses the views of the Committee:—

"With respect to the request of the Society's Missionaries to be excused from attendance at the Holy Communion in the cathedral of Colombo, on the occasion of the meeting of the proposed 'Informal Conference:'—

"1. Inasmuch as the ritual observed at the cathedral upon the administration of the Lord's Supper involved practices, some of which the Missionaries regarded as illegal, and all of them as exponents, more or less, of grave doctrinal error, and likely to prove a stumbling-block to the Native Christians and to the heathen, the Committee are of opinion that the Missionaries were fully warranted in desiring to absent themselves on the occasion. It should be borne in mind that the Missionaries expected to find at the cathedral two, if not three, practices which have been distinctly declared illegal in the Church of England,—viz. the elevation of the elements (Martin v. Mackonochie, &c.), the mixing of water with the wine (Martin v. Mackonochie, Hebbert v. Purchas, &c.), and the placing of a cross, if it was placed either upon the Table, or so immediately above the Table as to appear upon it (Masters v. Durst, 1876). With reference to the Eastward position, it has indeed been decided that provided the breaking of bread and other manual acts are performed in such a way that the congregation can see them, the rubric does not determine on which side of the Table the officiating minister should stand; and thus, if the matter were left as the Judgment of the Privy Council has left it, the position might be regarded as a matter of indifference. But the Bishop's letter to Mr. Oakley has shown that the Missionaries had good reason for not regarding it as a matter of indifference; and has indeed placed it out of their power in the future so to regard it, inasmuch as he has stated that it is 'of the highest value as an exponent of doctrine.' Now the doctrine of which it is generally supposed to be an exponent, and which may be presumed to be that to which the Bishop refers, is the doctrine of a propitiatory sacrifice by a priest. If this be so, the Committee dare not advise a concession. They must rather maintain that the Bishop has placed their Missionaries in a position in which they cannot possibly give way, but rather are bound, by their duty to the truth of God and to their ordination promises, to stand firm in their resistance to that which they believe to be opposed to the teaching of Holy Scripture and to some of those fundamental principles of the Church of England which are drawn from it. With regard to the 2nd and 6th practices mentioned, since the placing of flowers or other ornaments on the Table was understood by the Missionaries to indicate that the table had in it something of the character of an altar, and the washing of the vessels at the Table and partaking of the water to indicate that a change had taken place in the consecrated wine—they were clearly right in objecting to those practices as exponents of doctrines which are not doctrines of the Church of England. Moreover, in regard to the former of these practices, when the special circumstances of the case are considered, and it is remembered that flowers constitute the chief offerings of the heathen, not only in Buddhism, but also in devil worship, and that the custom was thus calculated to lead the people to a belief that there is no essential difference between the Christian system and their own,—it seems to the Committee, that on the ground of the highest expediency, the Missionaries of the Society had sufficient reason for placing this practice in the category of those to which they had conscientious objection.

"2. In informing the Bishop beforehand of their conscientious objection to partake of the Lord's Supper in connexion with such a ritual as they anticipated at the cathedral, the Missionaries, in the judgment of the Committee, only acted with due courtesy towards the Bishop; and might have laid themselves open to a charge of disrespect if they had stayed away without giving the Bishop any reason for their absence. The Committee fail to perceive that the Missionaries were herein in any sense justly chargeable with 'an attempt upon the liberty of the other clergy of the diocese,' since they only desired liberty for themselves to act in accordance with their own conscientious convictions. The Committee would further remark that, so far as they are aware, the attendance of the clergy at the Holy Communion on a particular occasion (except that of Ordination, when it is required by the Rubric) has never been insisted on by any Bishop of the Church of England in this country as a necessary condition of their due recognition as clergymen of the diocese.

"Finally, the Committee would respectfully submit to the Bishop that the persistent attempt on his part to use his official position for forcing upon the members of the Protestant Church of England who differ from him, ornaments and ritual, some items of which are confessedly prohibited by the courts of law—others barely allowed—and all of them innovations upon the general usages of the Church of England, must inevitably lead to that 'open rupture,' which he himself apprehends. But they would solemnly impress upon him that, if this should happen, he, and not the Committee or the Missionaries, must be answerable to the Church for such a lamentable event. During the last three years Native Christians have been excluded from the Holy Communion, and Confirmations* and Ordinations have been postponed; and now the Bishop states that it would be impossible for him to receive candidates presented by the Missionaries for Ordination, or to invite the Missionaries themselves to attend his Visitation, unless they will abandon their present attitude —unless, that is to say, they will take a part with him in countenancing transgressions of the Church's law. Such a state of things, the Committee entirely agree with the Bishop, cannot continue. Nevertheless, the Committee cannot for one moment contemplate the withdrawal of their Mission from Ceylon. They consider that the Missionaries and the Native Christians connected with the Society have a right to claim in Ceylon the liberty and the privileges which belong to clergymen and members of the Church of England in this country, without forfeiting episcopal jurisdiction; and that it is therefore the bounden duty of the Committee at home to uphold them in asserting that right, and in securing its continued enjoyment."

While the Bishop's letter to the Committee, and the Committee's reply, were on the way to and from England, circumstances had arisen in Ceylon, which for the purposes of this Appendix it is necessary to explain. The Committee had been taking steps to strengthen the Society's staff in Ceylon. The Rev. W. Clark, of the Tamil Cooly Mission, had returned home in weakened health at the beginning of 1878, and one of the two young laymen who had been sent out to assist him in 1877 had also returned invalided. Thus the whole work of superintending a Mission covering an area sixty or eighty miles square, and of corresponding with the planters, by whose subscriptions it was mainly supported, had devolved on the Rev. A. R. Cavalier. Accordingly, the Rev. W. E. Rowlands, who has long worked the Tamil Mission in and around Colombo, was desired to move up to Kandy, which is the centre of the work among the coolies; and the Rev. W. P. Schaffter, formerly of Tinnevelly and Madras, was sent out from England; these two brethren being appointed, with Mr. Cavalier, joint superintendents of the Tamil Cooly Mission. At the same time, a young Missionary, just ordained in England, the Rev. I. J. Pickford, was also sent out to prepare for Tamil work. To fill Mr. Rowland's vacant post at Colombo, the Rev. D. Wood was moved from Jaffna; and, to supply his place there, the Rev. E. Blackmore was brought over from Tinnevelly. Thus the Ceylon Tamil Missions were reinforced by three ordained Missionaries.

On Nov. 4th, i. e. subsequent to the correspondence between the Bishop and Mr. Oakley, but before any communications could be received from England, Mr. Oakley wrote to the Bishop notifying the appointments of Messrs. Rowlands, Wood, Schaffter, and Blackmore: stating that, but for the recent correspondence, he should now have asked the Bishop to countersign the licences of the two former, and to grant fresh licences to the two latter; and requesting to be favoured with his Lordship's wishes regarding the licences under existing circumstances.

Upon this the Bishop, on Nov. 8th, addressed a second letter to the Home Committee, pointing out what he considered to be anomalies in the system of licences hitherto pursued, and expressing his intention to revise that system. He urged that, having bound himself by the recommendations of the Lambeth Conference, which (in his opinion) gave the holders of licences a more secure tenure than they could otherwise claim, he was entitled to alter the licences so as to limit the powers conferred by them. "In assigning the specific limits and conditions," he would be "assisted by five clergy elected for that purpose." In the meanwhile, he would meet the immediate emergency by granting "temporary leave of absence" to Mr. Rowlands and Mr. Wood; but Mr. Schaffter and Mr. Blackmore must present themselves to him and "submit to due examination." In the same letter the Bishop intimated that he had postponed the proposed Conference, and his Visitation, in the hope that by so doing he might secure the attendance of the Missionaries.

Early in January, the Committee's Memorandum reached Ceylon. On the 17th the Bishop briefly addressed the Committee in reply, expressing "his sorrow that they had decided to uphold the Missionaries in the position they had adopted," and explicitly stating that he could "now neither license nor ordain any member of the Church Missionary Society." With those, however, who already held his licence, he "hoped not to be obliged to interfere."

On Jan. 24th Mr. Schaffter and Mr. Pickford were officially informed by the Registrar of the Diocese that their applications for licences were refused, and that the refusal had been registered on Jan. 8th. On the 16th the Bishop, through his chaplain, informed Mr. Oakley that, to meet the objections of the Missionaries, he had determined to modify the ritual to be used at the Communion Service on the occasion of the Conference:—

"Desiring that on so important an occasion there should be nothing which can reasonably be believed by any person to be illegal, the Bishop desires me to inform you, that in the celebration of the Holy Communion on the occasion of the proposed informal Conference, the wine will not be mixed with water, there will not be 'a cross placed either on the table, or immediately above it, so as to appear upon it,' and that care will be taken 'that the breaking of bread and other manual facts are performed in such a way that the congregation can see them.' In deference to the wish of some of the Clergy of your Society, there will be no flowers upon the holy table, and the consumption of the remainder of the consecrated bread and wine will be performed in the simplest manner compatible with the reverence required by the rubric."

* The Bishop subsequently stated that this was not the case; that he had "in no instance withheld or refused to hold a Confirmation."

Thereupon Mr. Oakley and Mr. Jones called upon the Bishop to inquire what he proposed doing with regard to the Eastward position; and the Bishop afterwards called at the Mission-house, when further conversation took place on the subject. On the 20th Mr. Oakley addressed a letter to him, in the name of himself and the other Missionaries, stating that serious difficulties still remained in the way of their attending the service:—

"I would respectfully call your Lordship's attention to the fact that I and my fellow-missionaries of the C.M.S. are compelled to regard the practice, not as it stands by itself, but in connexion with your own statement that it is 'of the highest value as an exponent of doctrine.' Your Lordship having declined to give us any further information as to the doctrine which you believe this position to imply, we are obliged to interpret your expression in the light of your answer to the memorial presented to you in September, 1876, by members of the congregation of St. Paul's, Kandy. In it you say, 'it (the Eastward position) has been and is considered, by those who are better able to judge than I, to be desirable in itself, as setting forth the spiritual attitude in which the Priest stands, both towards the people, as leading them and acting on their behalf, and towards God, as representing before Him the Sacrifice which was offered once for all on Calvary. And since there is danger that this aspect of the rite—its sacrificial aspect—should be forgotten among us the outward attitude which most clearly symbolizes it seems to be in itself desirable.' From this it is apparent that the adoption of the Eastward position by your Lordship, on such an important occasion, is intended to teach that the Lord's Supper is a sacrificial rite: and an acceptance by us of your invitation would, therefore, make us appear to be participators in a sacrifice rather than in a sacrament or communion. With all respect I beg to submit to your Lordship that to regard the Holy Communion in this light—inasmuch as it is generally understood to imply a change in the substance of the Bread and Wine—is, in the language of our Church, 'repugnant to the plain words of Scripture, overthroweth the nature of a Sacrament, and hath given occasion to many superstitions.'—(Art. xxviii.) On this ground I and my brethren feel that the retention of the Eastward position will render it impossible for us to participate in the service to which you invite us."

The letter then refers to the fact that when the hundred Bishops, assembled for the Lambeth Conference, met at St. Paul's Cathedral to partake of the Lord's Supper, the Eastward position was not taken; and concludes thus:—

"I and my brother Missionaries, as loyal Clergymen of the Church of England, are most anxious to carry out her doctrine and discipline in accordance with what has been the almost universal practice since the time of the Reformation, and to which we have been accustomed ever since we entered the ministry. We have no wish to interfere with the liberties and consciences of others, but we hope to be allowed to retain liberty of conscience for ourselves, and the right of private judgment as to the teaching of God's Word. Apart from the above-mentioned difficulties, I believe it to be without precedent that the reception of the Holy Communion and the acceptance of a certain ritual should be made necessary qualifications for either attendance at a visitation, or the obtaining of the Bishop's licence."

The Bishop replied in a letter of considerable length, in which he recognizes the fact that the controversy had now become one, not of "technical objections on grounds of law," but of doctrine, acknowledges that his doctrinal views are those expressed in his Kandy letter, quoted by Mr. Oakley, and proceeds at great length to justify those views as "in accordance with Holy Scripture, taught by the Catholic Church in all ages, embodied in the formularies of the Church of England, and taught by all her greatest divines." His conclusion is as follows:—

"If my doctrine is lawful, do not make it a ground of refusal to communicate; if it is unlawful, charge me with heresy. No other course is either canonical, or manly, or just. If you lay such a formal charge, I, while I lie under it, will certainly not be burdensome to you; but as long as no such formal charge is laid, I cannot be blamed if I treat you as guilty of an outrage on the liberty of your brethren, a breach of loyalty to your Bishop, and, I must add with much sorrow, a reckless attack upon the truth."

This letter is dated Jan. 24th, but it was not sent until Feb. 6th, when a postscript was added, which thus concludes:—

"You have tried, in vain, to deny the principles of Church order, and the Lambeth Conference (to which you can appeal, it seems, on occasion) has ruled against you; you have tried to dictate to your brethren a narrow and uncomely ritual, but even the Privy Council itself is not restrictive enough to meet your views. Yet with all this we could in some degree bear. I have refrained from enforcing the Church order to which you are unaccustomed; I have gone a long way to please you in ritual; but your third step is on to ground where there is no concession. Here my answer is distinct, and I give it without diffidence, because I know that the whole Church speaks with me. Every great Anglican teacher, from Alcuin to this day, every great Anglican Missionary from Boniface to Selwyn—resents with me your narrow disloyalty. Either prove your charge against us all, or penitently withdraw it, or else prepare to be held as men whom the Church cannot satisfy."

(The Committee do not admit that the Lambeth Conference have in any sense "ruled against" the Missionaries.)

This letter, however, the Bishop put into print, and circulated among the Ceylon clergy. On March 5th Mr. Oakley issued his rejoinder, a letter of equal length, which was likewise printed and circulated. Both these important documents appear in extenso in the Correspondence lately published by the Society, and it is needless—as it would certainly be difficult—to make extracts for these pages. Mr. Oakley's concluding paragraph, however, may be quoted, which is a reply to the Bishop's conclusion given above:—

"You speak of us as 'men whom the Church cannot satisfy.' That statement shows how entirely you have misapprehended our position. It is because the Church of England does satisfy us, that we continue, what we have always sought to be, loyal clergy of her communion. It is because the Church of England in her services, and especially the service for the Holy Communion, her Formularies, and her Ritual, as we understood and accepted them at our Ordination, does satisfy us, that we decline to be moved from the stand-point which we have hitherto occupied, or to take part in a Ritual which as I have shown, her Reformers and Divines repudiate."

The Ceylon Diocesan Gazette of April 5th contained a further rejoinder from the Bishop, to which the Missionaries again replied. Neither of these documents contain any new matter that requires insertion here.

Shortly before the "informal Conference" referred to above, the Bishop entered into communications with the Missionaries through a third party. The Missionaries explained that, while they could not help regarding the Bishop's views on the Holy Communion as erroneous, they were quite prepared to withdraw the sentence (which, in fact, had been done in Mr. Oakley's letter to the Bishop of March 5), in which they had applied to the Bishop's expressed views on the subject, the language used by the Church of England to condemn the doctrine of Transubstantiation. Thereupon the Bishop requested the Rev. J. L. Jones (the Society's Missionary) to administer the Communion in the Cathedral on the second morning of the Conference in the way to which he (Mr. Jones) was accustomed. This was done, the Bishop and clergy generally receiving the elements from Mr. Jones and the Archdeacon who assisted him. The Conference discussions immediately followed, the Society's Missionaries (with the exception of one or two who were at a distance) taking part.

THE WALTER JONES NATIVE MISSION FUND.

A LARGE number of Agents are employed in connexion with this Fund. Its object (which is steadily kept in view) is not to relieve the general funds of the Society, but to set on foot Additional Native Agency.

Reference to the pages of this Report, under the heads of the various stations named on the following page, and to the further accounts given in the Society's monthly periodicals, will clearly indicate the great assistance which the Walter Jones Fund renders to the Society's Missionary operations.

VI. The objects of this Association shall be, to call forth the zeal of well-disposed persons, and particularly those of the Established Church, in support of the Church Missionary Society—to recommend proper persons who may offer themselves as Missionaries to the Parent Society—to disperse as widely as possible Missionary information—to promote the formation of Branch Associations—and to procure Collections and other Contributions.

VII. The whole of the funds so obtained, after deducting incidental expenses only, shall be remitted to the Church Missionary Society, in aid of its designs.

VIII. A General Meeting shall be held annually, on such day as shall be fixed by the Committee; when a Report of the Proceedings of the Association shall be read, and an account of its receipts and disbursements presented, duly audited.

THIRD RESOLUTION.—Moved by

Seconded by

That the success which, under the Divine Blessing, has attended the Church Missionary Society in its efforts to make known the Gospel of Christ among the Heathen, is a loud and providential call for increased exertions, for devout thanksgiving to Almighty God, and for continual prayer for a more abundant out-pouring of the Holy Spirit to render the means employed successful.

FOURTH RESOLUTION.—Moved by

Seconded by

That the new and enlarged openings for Missionary exertion, in different quarters, demand our best energies to make known the blessed Gospel of Christ to Heathen and Mohammedan Nations.

 This mark * denotes that the Sermon was preached at St. Ann's, Blackfriars; this †, that it was preached at St. Bride's, Fleet Street; the Twenty-third was preached at Christ Church, Newgate Street; the Thirty-first at St. Sepulchre's; the Thirty-second at St. Clement Danes; and the Thirty-third at St. Andrew's, Holborn.

The Collections at the Sixteenth and Subsequent Anniversaries include the sums contributed at the Annual Meetings.

NOTICE TO TREASURERS AND SECRETARIES OF ASSOCIATIONS.

THE Committee of the Church Missionary Society request the Treasurers or Secretaries of Associations to transmit the proceeds of their respective Associations, together with the Contribution Lists and Accounts, as soon after the close of their Financial Year as possible.

The Society's General Accounts are closed on the 31st of March, and all moneys belonging to the year must be received at the Society's House by that date, in order to secure the insertion of the Lists in their proper places in the Report.

The Lists and Accounts (written legibly to avoid mistakes in printing, and made up in the manner in which the same are printed in the Parent Society's Report) must, in order to secure insertion among the Association Lists in the Report, be sent in not later than the 31st of March. But both labour and expense may be saved to the Society by sending in the Lists and Accounts at such earlier as is possible. The date at which the Accounts of the Association are closed, and the names of the Local Officers, should be specified. Should no names be given, it will be assumed that they remain the same as in the previous Report, and the List will be so printed. Where the Account or the List is a printed one, two copies should be forwarded.

Where an Association has Branches connected with it, the Accounts of the Branches must be forwarded to the Secretary of the Association some time before the period for forwarding the Accounts of the Association to London. When this is not done within a reasonable time, such Branches should be considered as self-excluded, and the Accounts forwarded without them.

To prevent mistakes, it is requested that Branch Associations will in every case, where practicable, forward their Money and Lists through the Association with which they are connected, and not direct to the Parent Society.

The Committee would also point out, for more universal adoption, the convenience of making remittances on account whenever any considerable proportion of the year's receipts is in the hands of the Local Treasurer. This course would tend to equalize in a greater degree the Income and Expenditure in the earlier months of the Society's Financial Year, and save the Society a considerable yearly sum.

The Committee return their cordial thanks to the Treasurers of Associations, and to those friends who kindly fill the office of Secretary—an office which, they are well aware, draws largely on the time and attention of those who occupy it, but on the efficient discharge of the duties of which, the prosperity of an Association chiefly depends.

N.B.—Benefactors of Ten Pounds and upward, whose names have appeared in former Lists of the Associations, will find them in the List of "Benefactions of Former Years."

IV.—ENGLISH ASSOCIATIONS.

NOTE.—All Contributions from Associations are for the year ending December 31st, 1878, except where otherwise stated.

* These Funds are deposited with the Society, pending their appropriation by their respective Trustees or Claimants.

1. The Capital Fund which serves as a means of meeting the current expenditure during the earlier months of the year, when the receipts do not meet the requirements of the various Missions in those months.
2. Filed accounts of Investments, of which the interest only is applicable to current expenditure in each year, for the purposes of the several objects for which they have been specially contributed.
3. Funds which may be used in part during the year.

XXVII.—APPENDIX.

 Lists of the following Associations not having been received in time for the Audit are not included in the accounts, but are printed specially for this year, in order to avoid disappointment.
