STATIONS, CLERICAL OR LAY MISSIONARIES, AND NATIVE CLERGYMEN

SUPPORTED EITHER DIRECTLY BY THE SOCIETY, OR BY NATIVE CHURCH FUNDS SUBSIDIZED OR AIDED BY THE SOCIETY.

JUNE 1, 1883.

* A STATION is the place at which a Clerical or Lay Missionary is stationed, or at which Native Christians are located under Native pastoral superintendence in connexion with the Society. The letter (m) means Married. —Wives of Missionaries, &c., though not named, except when engaged in some specific employment, are always expected by the Society to lay themselves out to do good, in every practicable way, among Native Women; such as cultivating familiar intercourse with them, educating children, and instructing the adult women.

The figures after the Names of the European Labourers show the date of their first connexion with the Society's Missions.

The mark ‡ denotes that the Name to which it is prefixed is that of an Agent supported by Native Church Funds aided by the Society. The Native Ministers in New Zealand are supported partly by Subscriptions from Native Christians, and partly from the rents of lands belonging to the Society in the Colony.

The Names of Native Clergymen are printed in italics. The figures after their names show the date of ordination.

All the names under one station or department of work are printed in order of date, without reference to nationality, sex, orders, or other difference.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS

OF THE

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY FOR AFRICA AND THE EAST.

(As revised at a Special Meeting of Members of the Society, held June 25, 1878.)

I. THIS Institution shall be designated "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East;" and shall be conducted by a Patron or Patrons, a Vice-Patron, a President, Vice-Presidents, a COMMITTEE, and such Officers as may be deemed necessary, all being Members of the Established Church of England or of the Church of Ireland.

II. The office of PATRON of the Society shall be reserved for Members of the Royal Family; and that of VICE-PATRON for His Grace the Primate of all England, if, being a Member of the Society, he shall accept the office. The PRESIDENT shall be such Temporal Peer or Commoner as may be appointed to that office; and VICE-PRESIDENTS shall consist of all Archbishops and Bishops of the Churches of England and Ireland, who, being Members of the Society, shall accept the office; and of such other persons as, being also Members, shall be appointed thereto.

OF MEMBERS AND GOVERNORS.

III. Annual Subscribers of One Guinea and upward, and if Clergymen, Half-a-Guinea, with Collectors of Fifty-two Shillings and upward per annum, shall be Members of the Society during the continuance of such Subscriptions or Collections. Benefactors of Ten Guineas, or upward, and Clergymen making Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, shall be Members for Life.

IV. Annual Subscribers of Five Guineas shall be Governors during the continuance of such Subscription; and Benefactors of Fifty Pounds and upward shall be Governors for Life.

V. Members and Governors of Auxiliaries and of Associations who contribute the above sums shall be considered as Members and Governors of the Parent Society.

VI. The COMMITTEE shall have the power of appointing such persons as have rendered essential services to the Society, either Honorary Members for Life, or Honorary Governors for Life.

OF GENERAL MEETINGS.

VII. An Annual Meeting of the Members of the Society shall be held in London, on the First Tuesday in May; unless that day shall fall on the 7th of May in which case the Annual Meeting shall be held, for that year, on Tuesday the 30th of April; when the Proceedings of the foregoing year shall be reported, the Accounts presented, and a Treasurer and COMMITTEE chosen.

VIII. The COMMITTEE may summon a Special General Meeting of the Members of the Society [at which not less than Thirty shall constitute a Quorum] at any time, and they shall do so on receipt of a requisition in writing, addressed to the Secretaries, and signed by not less than Fifty Members of the Society, and specifying the object of the Meeting. Ten days' notice shall be given in Three public Newspapers, of any such intended Meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called; which shall be deemed sufficient publicity.

IX. None of the Laws and Regulations of the Society shall be repealed or altered, nor any new ones made, but at the Annual Meeting, or at a Special General Meeting called for that purpose.

X. An Anniversary Sermon shall be preached at some Church in London, by a Clergyman appointed by the COMMITTEE. An Annual Report of the Society shall be printed, for the use of its Members.

OF THE COMMITTEE.

XI. The COMMITTEE shall consist of Twenty-four Lay Members of the Established Church of England or of the Church of Ireland; and of all Clergymen who are Members of the Society and have been so for not less than one year. Of the Twenty-four Lay Members, Eighteen shall be re-appointed each year from the existing COMMITTEE, and Six shall be elected from the General Body of the Society.

XII. The COMMITTEE shall elect, at their First Meeting in every year, either from among themselves, or from the other Members of the Society (being Members of the Established Church of England or of the Church of Ireland), a Committee of Patronage, a Committee of Funds, a Committee of Correspondence, a Committee of Finance, and a Committee of Estimates, and shall have power to fill up vacancies. Each of the said Committees shall keep Minutes of its Proceedings, and shall report the same for confirmation to the COMMITTEE.

XIII. The office of the Committee of Patronage is, to procure patronage and support to the Society; and to nominate to the COMMITTEE, proper persons as Patrons, President, Vice-Presidents, Honorary Life Governors, Honorary Life Members of the Society, and preachers of the Anniversary Sermons.

XIV. The office of the Committee of Funds is, to circulate information respecting the Society; to adopt means of obtaining Subscriptions, Benefactions, and Collections in Churches, Chapels, and at Meetings; to take a general oversight of the Associations; and to nominate, from time to time, to the COMMITTEE, suitable persons to act as Agents and Representatives of the Society for these objects.

XV. The office of the Committee of Correspondence is, to seek for proper Missionaries, to nominate them to the COMMITTEE, to superintend their instruction, to recommend their location, and to correspond with them when sent out, and generally to direct the foreign work of the Society.

XVI. The office of the Committee of Finance is, generally to superintend the accounts and financial affairs of the Society.

XVII. The office of the Committee of Estimates is, to prepare and submit to the COMMITTEE an Estimate of the probable expenditure of the Society, and from time to time to note and to report to the COMMITTEE how far the expenditure corresponds with the sanctioned Estimate.

XVIII. The Committee of Correspondence shall elect from among themselves, at their first Meeting in every year, a Clerical Sub-Committee, for the examination of Missionary Candidates.

XIX. The COMMITTEE shall receive and deal with the Reports of the other Committees, shall decide upon the countries where Missions shall be carried on, and shall superintend and control the affairs of the Society in general.

XX. The COMMITTEE shall have power to appoint such Officers and Assistants as they shall deem necessary for the well-conducting of the affairs of the Society, subject, in the case of the appointment of Secretaries, to the approbation of the next Annual Meeting. One, at least, of the Secretaries shall be a layman.

XXI. The COMMITTEE shall meet on the Second Monday in every Month, and oftener if needful; but should the second Monday be a Bank Holiday the Meeting shall be held on the day following. The other Committees shall meet as often, and at such places, as shall be by them agreed on. All Committee Meetings shall be opened with reading a Form of Prayer composed for that purpose, or one or more suitable Prayers selected from the Liturgy.

XXII. The Patrons, Vice-Patron, President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Secretaries, shall be considered, ex officio, Members of all Committees. Governors, being Members of the Established Church of England, or of the Church of Ireland, shall be entitled to attend and vote at all Meetings of the COMMITTEE.

XXIII. Five Members shall be necessary to form a Quorum of the COMMITTEE; and Three of each of the Committees provided for in Law XII.; in each case exclusive of the Secretaries. In cases of equality of votes, the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

XXIV. All payments on account of the Society shall be signed by Three Members of the COMMITTEE, in Committee, and the Lay Secretary, or in his absence by one of the other Secretaries.

XXV. Five Auditors shall be appointed by the COMMITTEE, annually, for the purpose of auditing the Accounts of the Society, of whom not more than two shall be Members of the COMMITTEE. Three shall be a Quorum.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXVI. In the selection of Candidates for the Missionary office the following course shall be pursued. The cases of Candidates who are already in Holy Orders, or who are University Graduates, or whom it is proposed to send out without further training, shall be considered by the Committee of Correspondence, the Candidate having (as a rule) appeared in person before them, and a report having been given, after a personal interview, by one or more members of the Clerical Sub-Committee. If any Member of the Committee of Correspondence shall show reason for requiring further information, the consideration shall be deferred till a subsequent Meeting of that Committee. Other Candidates shall be examined by the Clerical Sub-Committee, which shall report to the Committee of Correspondence.

XXVII. A Candidate nominated by the Committee of Correspondence, and accepted by the COMMITTEE, shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time that the COMMITTEE shall decide, and be subject to such Regulations as may be established by the COMMITTEE for the direction of Missionaries: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society.

XXIX. Each Candidate, when duly prepared and finally approved for Missionary work, shall go out, either ordained or unordained, at the discretion of the COMMITTEE*.

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the COMMITTEE: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society, to the satisfaction of the COMMITTEE, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, such provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable as in the judgment of the COMMITTEE is suitable. The COMMITTEE shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support. The COMMITTEE shall be further empowered in special cases to make such arrangements with those employed by them as they may think fit.

GENERAL.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. All questions relating to matters of Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, respecting which a difference shall arise between a Bishop of the Church of England abroad and the COMMITTEE, shall, in the absence of any tribunal having legal cognizance of the same, be referred to the Archbishops and Bishops of the Provinces of Canterbury and York, whose decision thereupon shall be binding upon the Society and its agents and representatives.

The proposed reference shall be made by the COMMITTEE, through His Grace the Primate, accompanied by such explanations and statements as the COMMITTEE may deem advisable.

XXXIII. The object of the preceding Law being only to provide a mode of settling questions relating to Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, as to which no provision has yet been made by the Society, it is not to be so construed, as in any other respect to alter the principles and practices of the Society, as they are contained in its Laws and Regulations.

XXXIV. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon its designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

* The Bishops of the Church of England, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth [ecclesiastically speaking] the Society's Missionaries; and in the event of their being appointed by the COMMITTEE to labour at stations within the jurisdiction of a Bishop of the Church of England abroad, it is the practice of the Society to apply to the Bishop for licenses, in which are specified the districts to which the Missionaries have been assigned. This is done on the understanding that licenses will neither be refused, nor when granted be withdrawn from the Missionaries during their connexion with the Society, except for some assigned legal cause.

PRAYER USED AT THE ANNUAL MEETINGS OF THE SOCIETY AND AT THE OPENING OF MEETINGS OF THE GENERAL COMMITTEE.

ALMIGHTY and most merciful FATHER, we give Thee humble thanks for the light of Thy Gospel. Make us more grateful for this Thy mercy, and more zealous for the salvation of all mankind.

Visit in mercy the Church of Christ; enrich it more abundantly with the grace of Thy Holy Spirit; and bless its endeavours to make known Thy Truth. Unite, as one man, all who are truly labouring for Thee. Disappoint the designs of Satan. Let all Christian Societies live in harmony and love; give them wisdom in all their plans; perfect Thy strength in their weakness; and direct their labours to Thy glory!

The harvest truly is great, but the Labourers are few! O Thou Lord of the Harvest, send forth labourers into Thy Harvest! Fill with Thy Spirit those whom Thou hast sent forth; and enable them faithfully and boldly to preach, among Jews and Gentiles, the unsearchable riches of Christ. Keep them from the snares of the world, the flesh, and the devil; deliver them from all evil; and make them wise to win souls.

Upon all the Native Converts whom Thou hast gathered to Thyself, through Thy labouring servants throughout the world, pour out Thy Holy Spirit, that, as Thou hast begotten them again unto a lively hope, so they may ever be followers of Thee as dear children. Deliver them from all remaining darkness and ignorance; destroy and abolish in their hearts all that remains of Satan's kingdom; grant that their faith, and hope, and love may grow exceedingly; make them to be ready to every good work, and more especially to exert themselves for the salvation of those around them; that so, by their zeal and faithful testimony, by their holiness and faithfulness, they may glorify Thy name before their countrymen, and bring in unto Thee, from the midst of them, such as shall be saved.

Have compassion, O Most-merciful Father, on all those who have come under instruction, though they be not yet altogether Christians. Convince them effectually, by Thy Word and Spirit, of their sinful and miserable state; pour upon them the spirit of grace and supplication, and draw them to Jesus.

Take away blindness from the Jews. Let them receive Thee, O Jesus, as their Messiah, and proclaim Thy saving Name among the Gentiles.

Deliver all Mohammedans from the delusions of the False Prophet! O Thou True Prophet of Thy Church, enlighten them by Thy Holy Spirit, and bow them down at the foot of Thy Cross!

Pity blind Idolaters, who are kept in cruel bondage by the god of this world. Turn them from idols, that they may serve the Living and True God.

O Thou Almighty Saviour, who by the right hand of God art exalted, and hast received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, shed forth His light and grace on this dark world!

Cause all Christians, we beseech Thee, to sow bountifully; that they may reap also bountifully. O Thou that lovest a cheerful giver, let all grace abound toward them, that they may minister liberally of their substance to the making known of Thy Name!

With these our humble prayers, we join our praises and thanksgivings for what Thou hast already done in making known Thy salvation; perfect Thy work, O Lord; shortly accomplish the number of Thine elect; and hasten the coming of Thy Kingdom.

Be present with us, O Lord, at this time. Give us all a single eye to Thy glory. May Thy blessing rest upon our meeting; and may all our hearts be this day quickened and encouraged to fresh and persevering efforts in Thy Service.

We ask these mercies for the glory of Thy Name, through the merits and mediation of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ; and would ascribe to Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, Three Persons in One God, everlasting praise. Amen.

OUR Father which art in Heaven: Hallowed be Thy Name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil: for Thine is the kingdom, the power and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

PRAYER USED AT THE OPENING OF MEETINGS OF THE COMMITTEE OF CORRESPONDENCE.

ALMIGHTY GOD, our Heavenly Father, who hast purchased to Thyself an Universal Church, by the precious blood of Thy dear Son, we give Thee hearty thanks that it hath pleased Thee to call us to the knowledge of Thy grace and faith in Thee, and to appoint our lot in an age and country, where the true light shineth. We bless Thee that Thou hast awakened us in some measure to feel our responsibilities. We praise Thee for what we have seen and heard of the power of Thy Word among the heathen; we adore Thee for Thy many servants who have gone out from amongst us to toil and suffer and die in making known Thy salvation; and we thank Thee that Thou dost allow us, unworthy sinners, to unite together in this work of faith and labour of love.

We humbly confess our past lukewarmness in this Thy service, notwithstanding these Thine inestimable benefits and mercies. For our Lord Jesus Christ's sake, forgive us our past negligences, and so endue us with Thy Holy Spirit, that we may more earnestly seek Thy glory in the salvation of souls.

Grant us, we beseech Thee, Thy very present help at these our meetings. We ask, most gracious God and Father, for a constraining sense of the love of the Lord Jesus, and for wisdom to direct us in all our endeavours. Increase upon us the spirit of power and of love and of a sound mind. Give us faith and courage; give us zeal and patience; give us a single eye to Thy glory, and help us to bear and to forbear. The silver and the gold are thine, O King of kings! Supply us with what is needful for our great work, and make us faithful stewards of Thy bounty, for proclaiming to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ.

We pray also for all who are united with us in the direction of this sacred cause.

May Thine especial blessing rest upon our Committees, with their Secretaries, throughout the world. Bestow on them the help that we feel so needful for ourselves. Enable them to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace, and ever to find favour in the sight of all with whom they may have to do.

Especially we beseech Thee to look, O most merciful Father, upon our Missionary brethren. Draw out our hearts towards them more and more; and while they are bearing the burden abroad, give us grace to help and succour them by our sympathy and prayers at home. Bless every letter written to them from this house, and all our intercourse with them. We pray for them that they may be filled with Thy Spirit. Grant that the same mind may be in them which was also in Christ Jesus. Let them never lose their first love. Raise them above the cares of this world. Help them to deny themselves and to endure all things for the elect's sake. Give them the tongue of the learned. Clothe them with humility. Teach them to follow peace with each other, and with all men. Support them under spiritual distresses, temptations of the adversary, bodily sickness, domestic anxieties, and hope deferred. And so confirm Thy word from their lips by the power of the Holy Ghost, that through them multitudes may be turned from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto Thee, our God.

We most heartily thank Thee, O Lord, for those whom Thou hast already sent forth through this Society; and we pray for a yet larger outpouring of a Missionary spirit on our younger Clergy, on the members of our Universities, on those who are elsewhere preparing for this holy work, on the young men of all ranks and orders throughout our land. And herein do we implore Thy special favour on our Islington Institution, that its numbers may be replenished continually; and that none may go forth thence but such as shall be able ministers of the New Testament, full of Faith, and of the Holy Ghost.

We praise Thee, O Thou God of all grace, for the Converts, the Native Catechists, and the Native Clergy, whom Thou hast granted to us in our several Missions. As Thou hast raised the Native Churches thus far, bring them, we pray Thee, to full ripeness and perfectness of age in Christ. Pour out upon them Thy Holy Spirit. Stablish, strengthen, settle them, and so enlarge their liberality, that they may both maintain Thy word among themselves, and may make it known to the regions beyond them, till all the Gentiles hear the glad tidings of Thy love.

And now, O Lord God, be Thou in the midst of us to-day. Give us a constant sense of Thy presence, and may all our undertakings be begun, continued, and ended in Thee, to the honour of Thy great name, for the sake of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

NOTES ON CONSTRUCTION OF YORUBA LANGUAGE, by Rev. J. B. Wood. 1*s.*

THE following system for spelling NATIVE NAMES is recommended to the Society's Missionaries generally for adoption in their letters and reports, unless any of them should prefer a still closer approximation to the more elaborate scheme of Professor Lepsius. This system should not be applied, of course, to those well-known places of which the spelling has become so fixed that it would be mere pedantry to disturb it; as, for instance, Travancore (Travankur), and Lucknow (Laknau). Other well-known names, spelt correctly according to this method, are not pronounced accordingly by English residents. For example, the a in Lagos is always pronounced by English residents, when speaking English, as in the word make.

â usually as in '*f*ather' (in North-Indian words as in '*a*ll').
e as in '*p*en.'
ê as in '*f*ête.'
i as in '*th*in.'
î as in '*p*ique.'
o as in '*n*ot,' or as in the French '*b*onne.'
ô as in '*n*ote.'
u as in '*f*ull.'
û as in '*tr*uly.'
ai as i in '*th*ine.'
au or ou or ow as in '*b*ough.'

It needs only to be noticed further that—

y always sounds as in '*y*ou.'
g „ as in '*g*o.'
j „ as in '*j*oin.'
gn as in 'poi*gn*ant.'
ng as in 'thi*ng*.'
ei as in 'v*ei*n.'

h has always a separate sound, except in ch as in '*ch*urch,' and sh as in she;' th and dh should, therefore, not be used in South Indian names to express the dental t and d.

c whether for k or s, being superfluous, is not used.

Doubled letters should each be pronounced distinctly, as in Italian.

ae represents a sound intermediate between a in '*m*at' and e in '*m*et.'

The above Rules are not adopted in the N.W. America Mission.

At the Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Exeter Hall, Strand, on Tuesday, May 1, 1883, being the Eighty-fourth Anniversary—

The LORD ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY, Vice-Patron, in the Chair,

AFTER PRAYER AND THE READING OF A PORTION OF HOLY SCRIPTURE,

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE HAVING BEEN READ BY THE REV. F. E. WIGRAM, M.A., Honorary Secretary, and the meeting briefly addressed by the RIGHT HON. THE PRESIDENT;

On the Motion of EARL CAIRNS, V.P., seconded by the REV. A. W. POOLE, M.A., Missionary from Masulipatam, and supported by the REV. SYDNEY GEDGE, M.A., it was—

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, of which an Abstract has now been read, be adopted, and printed under the direction of the Committee; that this Meeting records its profound sense of the loss which the Society has sustained by the death of Archbishop Tait, its veneration for his memory, and its thankfulness for the many and great services which he was enabled to render during his lengthened connexion with the Society; that the thanks of the Meeting be given to his Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury for his cordial acceptance of the office of Vice-Patron, and to the Rev. Canon Tristram, D.D., for his Sermon before the Society last evening, and that it be printed and circulated; that Captain the Hon. Francis Maude, R.N., V.P., be the Treasurer of the Society; and that the Committee be appointed for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies.

On the Motion of the LORD BISHOP OF CALCUTTA, V.P., seconded by the REV. H. NEWTON, M.A., Missionary from Ceylon, it was—

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That in view of the urgent calls from all parts of the world for additional labourers both to strengthen and develop existing work, and to take advantage of fresh openings, this Meeting recognizes the importance of pressing with redoubled energy the claims of the Foreign Mission Field for men and for means; and the duty of earnest prayer to the Lord of the harvest that He will raise up from the Universities, and from other sources, men full of faith and of the Holy Ghost who shall go forth and proclaim with no uncertain sound, both to Mohammedan and heathen nations, the unsearchable riches of Christ.

On the Motion of the RIGHT REV. THE BISHOP OF SASKATCHEWAN, V.P., seconded by the REV. E. LOMBE, B.A., Rector of Swanton Morley, Norfolk:—

That this Meeting, while fully recognizing the gravity of the prospect before the Society, owing to the rapid and inevitable growth of its expenditure, and while deeply feeling the magnitude of the responsibilities resting on the Committee, would take courage by recalling the past history of the Society, and would call on every Member of the Society in humble dependence on the Holy Spirit's quickening and guiding grace to exercise renewed self-denial and fresh effort in its behalf as the best thank-offering for the many signal mercies which have marked the year now under review.

At a Meeting, held in Exeter Hall, on the Evening of the same Day—

THE RIGHT REV. THE BISHOP OF BALLAARAT, V.P., in the Chair,

Addresses were delivered by the Chairman; the Rev. H. Sutton, M.A.; Dr. E. Downes, Medical Missionary from Kashmir; Rev. W. J. Richards, Missionary from Travancore; and H. Morris, Esq., late of the Indian Civil Service.

SERMON,

PREACHED

AT ST. BRIDE'S CHURCH, FLEET STREET,

ON MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 30, 1883,

BEFORE THE

Church Missionary Society,

BY THE

REV. H. B. TRISTRAM, D.D., F.R.S.

CANON OF DURHAM, AND HON. ASSOCIATION SECRETARY OF THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT.

"AND HE SAID, THUS SAITH THE LORD, MAKE THIS VALLEY FULL OF DITCHES. FOR THUS SAITH THE LORD, YE SHALL NOT SEE WIND, NEITHER SHALL YE SEE RAIN; YET THAT VALLEY SHALL BE FILLED WITH WATER."—2 Kings iii. 16, 17.

THE circumstances under which Elisha gave this inspired command are these. About a year before, Judah and Jehoshaphat had experienced a providential deliverance from invasion by the combined powers of Moab, Ammon, and Edom. After a national fast and worship in the temple, with the pleading of Solomon's prayer, the army, preceded by the holy singers of praise, went out to the heights of Tekoa. The next day, as they advanced, they beheld the foe engaged in mutual slaughter; Edom first destroyed, then Moab and Ammon turning against each other. Their deliverance was achieved without a blow, and in the Valley of Berachah (or "blessing") they returned their thanks.

Now Jehoshaphat is persuaded to unite with Israel against

Moab, its revolted tributary, and in order to obtain the aid of Edom, now ruled by a deputy king under Judah, they make the détour by the Valley of Salt (the Akabah), to enter Moab by its southern and strategically defenceless frontier. There was, no doubt, military skill in the plan of campaign, but one contingency had been overlooked. They reached the boundary of Moab, the Valley of Zered, נַחַל, a torrent bed where for some part of the year water is found; but they had miscalculated, and all was dry. To the same valley, 556 years before, the troops of Israel had arrived after thirty-eight years' wandering in the wilderness, when the water from the rock ceased to flow, and for the first time they had to dig for a supply; when the people sang, "Spring up, O well. . . . The princes digged the well, the nobles of the people digged it, by the lawgiver." For the Lord had said, "Gather the people together, and I will give them water."

Again the armies of Israel and Judah stand in the same valley—still known as Wady el Ahsa, "the valley of the water-holes"—no longer guided by the pillar and the cloud, no longer united in one worship, but an alliance of idolatrous Israel and Edom with faithful Jehoshaphat. Doubtless this strait furnished another warning, like the breaking of his ships at Ezion-geber, against alliance with idolaters.

Human sagacity was at fault. Human resources were exhausted. Springs there were none. In their despair the King of Israel turned to Elisha, who had accompanied the army, perhaps foreseeing the event. But the prophet at first spurns him who in other days had sought only to the idolatrous prophets of his family. Yet for the sake of Judah and her king, still true to the worship of Jehovah, a new wonder of providential mercy was shown to all, by Him who sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust.

The command comes, "Thus saith the Lord, Make this valley full of ditches (or tanks)." Can it be that the prophet is mocking them? No sign of water is there. In a cloudless summer sky the sun beats fiercely on the arid plain. No breath of wind disturbs the sultry atmosphere, or gives the slightest hope that clouds may yet rise with a freshening breeze, and discharge their moisture on the burning sands. "Ye shall not see wind, neither shall ye see rain." Whence shall come the provision? Water could not come, but from the firmament above.

Yet faith won the victory. The armies believed the heaven-inspired words of the prophet, and they digged. That night's toil, that digging in the arid wady of the Arabah, the El Ahsa, was no less an act of faith than that act of Noah, warned by God of the impending flood in a land that knew not rain, when "he prepared the ark to the saving of his house."

We know the result. Scarcely was the labour ended, when with the morning, at the moment of their worship, while they offered the meat-offering (typifying the offering of self to the Lord), which immediately followed on the daily sacrifice of the lamb (the acknowledgment of Christ's atonement), the water came down the wady by the way of Edom, from which it drains, and the pools were filled with water.

Why was the miracle made necessary? Prudent forethought is a gift from God, and never to be neglected with impunity. Could not the Almighty have prevented the emergency? Could not His prophet have warned the generals beforehand of the peril they must encounter? The result gives the answer. The heaven-sent aid was for the discomfiture of Moab as well as for the supply of Israel's allies. So, for the triumphant discomfiture of Satan, are the mysterious permission of sin and heathen idolatries, and the difficulties of Mission work. In the history before us, by no ordinary human arrangement, but by Divine command alone, the apparently foolish and hopeless ceremony is performed of making cisterns in a place and at a season when water was not.

Not to strain a metaphor which circumstances will not bear out, between this enterprise and that great work in which we who are here to-night assembled are engaged, the commands are certainly parallel: "Make this valley full of tanks," and "Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature." As parallel are the promises: "That valley shall be filled with water," and "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world." Shall we not await a parallel in the fulfilment: "The Israelites rose up, and smote the Moabites, so that they fled before them: but they went forward smiting the Moabites, even in their country"?

But the chief parallel to be traced is between the command to the armies accompanying a promise of heaven-sent blessing, and the command with promise to us, "Go," and "Lo, I am with you," &c.

How gladly do we for the most part hail the one; how slow are we to recognize the obligation of the other! Yet of all the tokens of administrative wisdom in the dealings of God with His Church and people, this stands out pre-eminent, that the command attends the promise, giving scope to the living faith which accepts the promise, to rise joyfully to the execution of the command, "to the obedience of faith."

And the fulfilment of the promise came when the armies had shown faith in believing, and in acting on that belief; had shown self-dedication, for they were just making the morning sacrifice; and obedience, for they had digged.

The blessing, of which none of these three could in any way be considered the procuring cause, was bestowed in the channel prepared, at the hour of the sacrifice. And the faith which is receptive of God's promise is ever an active faith, obedient to command. What is the digging of the tank? What is the preaching of the Gospel? The one cannot bring the water, the other cannot change the heart. They may both bring before the Lord the empty vessel, "the open mouth" for Him "to fill out of the fulness that is in Christ. For it pleased the Lord that in Him should all fulness dwell. And of His fulness have we all received." Yes; we are in possession of the blessings. We dwell in a land where are wells digged which we digged not, vineyards and olive-trees which we planted not. Apostolic men have dug for us the wells, martyrs and confessors of the Reformation have cleared them out, and perennial springs flow in upon us. Beware we, lest we forget the Lord our God, and forget the cry from afar of the poor and needy who seek water, and their tongue faileth them for thirst for the water of life. Oh, beware lest we forget the exhortation, "Let him that heareth say, Come; and let him that is athirst come: and whosoever will, let him take of the water of life freely."

It is not now for ourselves as it was for Judah, that the tanks are to be dug. But not less the stimulant to exertion, for the love, not of self, but of Christ, constraining us to live not to ourselves, but to Him who died for us.

Have we not already seen the first big drops of the coming shower? Do not the annals of Sierra Leone, of Tinnevelly, of Fuh-kien, speak to us as a voice from heaven, "Not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts"? And when this much has been granted—even in the midst of the night of toil and digging—shall we doubt but that the morning will come; and with the Sun of Righteousness rising with healing in His wings, the knowledge of the Lord shall yet cover the earth, as the waters cover the sea?

But we must dig. The digging of those tanks was necessary for success, yet it did not bring, it could not bring the water. For that Divine power was needed. But when the tanks were dug the water came. The task might seem most forbidding and unprofitable, but it was set by irrefragable authority. The result was (1st) an abundant flow of water for the relief of their thirst, and (2ndly) it further conduced to their triumphant victory, through the impression produced on their enemies by the sight of what God had done. The Lord had taught His people the obedience of faith, but that results are to be left to Him.

In like manner, the grandest act (shall we reverently say it?) possible to the Almighty Father, the rehabilitation of a fallen world through the reconciliation of the Cross and the ministration of the Holy Spirit, might have been performed as a single act of Deity, apart, alone, supreme,—no influence but the Divine acting on the human spirit. Yet does that Almighty God condescend to use the saved man to help to win his fellow-men. What honour so grand as thus to be used? What marvel so great as the blessing on this work?

When Christianity has once taken root in a country, philosophers will soon discover any number of natural causes. Here there may have been, they will tell us, no systematized religion to preoccupy the soil, and man, naturally a religious animal, craved for some system, and accepted that which was offered. There there was a primæval teaching, never wholly lost, though overlaid and buried by the accretions of ages, which prepared the nation to receive a less elaborated and purer cult; for the new teaching struck a responsive chord in their minds. We may reply, What are these primæval teachings but dry torrent beds, from which the stream has ages agone departed, and left no trace of moisture behind?

The workers who have toiled through the night can only say, "We saw neither wind nor rain, yet the water has come. Our business has been to dig the tanks, and pray for the outpouring." The early labours of the Missionary pioneers have had no other warrant for their justification than the command, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature."

We too are called on, like the armies of Israel, to dig tanks in the waterless waste of heathendom, and this is an act of faith. Men do not raise objections to digging tanks when the stream is by—they are willing to dig channels in the watered meadows at home. Yet what is this watering with the pot, this horticulture, but the pastoral work, where the stream is flowing continuous and evident? Needful, absolutely needful it is; criminal in the highest degree, to omit it. Yet the workers remain not all at home. They are sent afar to the enemy's territory. There we have to dig in the dry valley. "Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make His paths straight. The crooked shall be made straight, and the rough ways shall be made smooth; and all flesh shall see the salvation of God."

Our great work in making tanks is to remove the obstacles to the reception of the Gospel.

We go, for instance, to the Mohammedan world, to those mighty valleys with which the old Eastern world is scored and seamed—valleys where once flowed the stream of the water of life, but now only furrowed by the ancient watercourses of a degenerate and then desiccated Christianity. How do they come to be now dry? In the very history of the case we find a solution of the problem. Without entering on the question, in what exact proportions honest fanaticism, self-delusion, and unscrupulous ambition were combined in the character of the false prophet of Arabia; we must admit that, at first a seeker after God in the dark, he found in his revolt against the degraded idolatry of the Ka'aba—on the one hand a Judaism debased by the puerilities of the Talmud—on the other a Christianity degraded and overlaid by human inventions, reduced to a round of drivelling observances, from which the Spirit had departed, powerless to mould the life or to quicken the heart. Upon these he built and compounded his motley amalgam. How different might have been the result had he encountered a living Christianity, had his inquiring mind ever been fed by the study of the written Word! But, in fact, he found nothing to resist him, and he appeared at the most degenerate and disorderly period of the Persians, the Romans, and the barbarians of Europe. His system won its way by the sword alone; by the sword alone it still stands.

It is the fashion among some of the wise of this world to prophesy the regeneration of Islam. We cannot descry the signs of that coming dawn. The system appeals to nothing spiritual in man's nature. There is not a word of God's holiness, or of His hatred of sin. There is no idea of man's sinful state by nature, nor of the guilt of sin, per se. It has no quarrel with human nature as it is, and it makes no demand for an inward regeneration. It prescribes a very lenient morality; its ritual exercises the body rather than the mind, the memory rather than the soul. The rewards of its paradise are of the earth, earthy, sensuous and sensual. There is nothing here to reform. There is no sign of a hidden life in these desiccated wadies; there is not even a straggling palm-tree here and there, which has struck its roots deep enough to find a hidden moisture, enabling it to retain life in the midst of the wilderness of death. There is no hope of success in striking an artesian well, which shall reach some hidden source of spiritual Moslem life, and regenerate the surface. There is no recuperative power in a decaying creed which touches neither heart nor conscience, which awakes no sense of sin or yearning after holiness, which does not even touch the intellect, for its devotion is simply mechanical. If it had, however obscured or hidden by vain traditions, like the old Churches of the East, a Saviour and a Redeemer, whose promises and words might be exhumed from amidst a mass of corruption, there might be regeneration. But it has nothing to offer the awakened or anxious soul. The mystic Sufi seeks rest in vain, for out of Christ he cannot find it. The valley is dry—nor well nor stream is there. "Make this valley full of ditches;" "Prepare ye the way of the Lord;" "and in the morning it shall be filled with water."

But it is not yet morning. For 1200 years Christendom never touched the Moslem. No trench was ever dug in that dry valley. The Crusader met him with his own weapons, and he failed. And yet we in this century have hardly scratched the surface. Still some big drops have fallen, presage of the coming waters. From Abdul Messeh—the fruit of Henry Martyn's labours, the first Moslem convert, ordained fifty years ago, and our first Native Missionary—to the Imad-ud-Dîn and Ahmed Tewfik of to-day, Christ has given to His Church souls for her hire, snatched from the death of Islam.

And to the lands of the Crescent, though late in the world's history, though the shades of evening be coming on, the Church Missionary Society now goes—not like some guerilla band, to devastate a country she has no intention of occupying, but, like Isaac and Israel, to sink the wells of permanent settlement.

In no less than five of these dry lands has she begun to dig—in Palestine, in India, in Africa, at last in Persia, and now once more in Egypt. Has not the Lord summoned us? In Palestine we have to win back the very earliest of the conquests of Islam, and we have to dig in the face of enemies with our sword girded on our side. Yet even here the water begins to flow. The first difficulties have been overcome. Prejudice has so far yielded that the Word is listened to, the scriptural school is no longer under a ban; and when an attentive ear has been gained, the ground is ready for the reception of the seed. Still we labour under a hostile rule.

Egypt calls us once more. In its present circumstances, and with the flag of England unfurled there, where rings out more clearly the command to occupy, emphasized by the pledge that "Princes shall come out of Egypt; Ethiopia shall soon stretch out her hands unto God." May the veteran and the neophyte who have just entered on the pioneer work be but the first in a long and rapidly expanding list of the toilers who shall make the highway to the Eastern world an highway for our God!

In Africa, too, in every Mission we are confronted by Mohammedanism, and by an aggressive Mohammedanism. But there we have many advantages. Islam is not indigenous —the superiority of the white man is always felt and generally acknowledged; and in the marvellous chain of providences which seem to have beckoned us on towards the Central Lakes, so that we may assuredly gather that the Lord has called us to preach the Gospel there; amidst all our present trials, disappointments, and perplexities, at least this is the first attempt to stem the advance of the desolating creed, and to head and turn back the forward march of the apostles of Islam and the slave-trade.

We turn eastward again to Persia. Who can be deaf to the cry from thence to break up the fallow ground and dig? The land whose sons were first of the Gentiles to adore the infant Saviour; the land to which Henry Martyn left as his legacy the Gospel of Jesus in the tongue of the people, to which he gave the last year of his Missionary life, and that life itself. Oh, shame on Christian England, who has allowed more than sixty years to pass ere she has planted there the living Missionary, the only fitting monument to the greatest of her Missionary heroes!

Last and chiefest of the dry lands of Islam, where we are bidden to arise and dig, is our own India. Already there is the water oozing into the tanks. There the Lord has graciously already allowed His servants to see some fruit of their labours. To every theorist who would assert the hopelessness of Moslem Missions, the facts of North India supply a refutation. The labours of Pfander, Bishop French, Bruce, Gordon, Hughes, and a host of men valiant for Christ, have already borne fruit. Who can forget Dilawar Khan, the proto-martyr of the Afghan Church, and his strange, romantic story? Who can read the Bishop of Lahore's account of the living germs of a Native Christian Church, fostered by the inner teaching of erstwhile Moslem fakirs and their purely indigenous method of working, and not recognize the Holy Spirit's work already manifest? "Ever and anon," says the Bishop, "I have found an unlooked-for drawing together of heart between the Mohammedan doctor and the Christian Missionary, as though the Holy Spirit had manifestly been beforehand, working a deep sense of need—need of the pardon of sin, of closer fellowship with God, of the new-creating, sanctifying influences of the Holy Ghost." "We suspect," writes the noble James Vaughan, removed from us ere we thought his work half done, "if the Gospel is to win its way among the Mussulmans of India, it will not be so much by religious controversy—certainly not by direct attacks upon Islam and its founder—but by a body of fervid, loving, self-denying preachers, appealing with burning eloquence to the moral consciousness of their hearers, proclaiming the terrors of God's law, which they do not deny, and the solemnity of the coming judgment, in which they believe: then let the sweet, soft notes of redeeming love be poured, like the balm of Gilead, on the quivering sore, and life and healing may be looked for. But where are the men to do this? We do not hesitate to reply that for such a work we look not to Europeans, but to the converted sons of India. Imagine an Abdul Wahab, a Syud Ahmad, and a Titu Miyan, fired with the love of Jesus and of souls, and we have the type of Missionary fitted to cope with the Moslem population of India. One such man might, under God, cause the heartstrings of anxious thousands to vibrate, whilst the cry went forth from their lips, 'What must I do to be saved?'" If but one in fifty of the students trained in the C.M.S. College at Lahore should prove a preacher of this type, the result will be a glorious success. Ay, when we look afield on the vast wastes of Mohammedanism east and south, there is much land to be possessed!

And now we turn to the almost illimitable spiritual wastes of Buddhism. No water is there. All is dry. Not a germ of life. There, too, we would make the wilderness full of tanks. Whence shall the water flow that shall bring life to 450,000,000—one-third of the whole human race, shut up to that soulless creed—souls for whom Christ died? I am not here to discuss the life, the aspirations, the honest intentions of Gautama, a seeker doubtless after a truth which he never found, but to remind you that Buddha can no more produce a spring or well of life than can Mohammed; that we cannot give the life, but we can dig the tanks, which the Spirit of Christ even now begins to fill with the water of life. Infinitely more marvellous in its rapid extension than Islam, and that extension not due to the sword, Buddhism was, no doubt, in its origin a revolution against degeneracy, a manly and virtuous protest against caste tyranny and priestly assumption, and it gained an easy victory. Yet what is its creed by which to live, its hope in which to die? It has been shortly summed up in three brief articles:—

1. There is no God.
2. Conscious existence is the worst possible evil.
3. Annihilation is the highest possible good.

To cease to be, the crown of all!

Yet so craves the human mind for some certainty on which to rest, that 300 years before our Divine commission to go into all the world was heard, Buddhism was sending forth its heralds to proclaim in strange lands its admirable morality and its lifeless, godless creed.

And dreary though it be, yet to India Buddha brought much. It enjoined a world-wide benevolence, it enforced universal charity, it set forth the common brotherhood of all mankind, it denounced caste.

To China it brought hope, for Confucius had given her sons no hope. He could only say,—

> "Of heaven and hell I have no power to sing,
> I cannot ease the burden of your fears."

But Gautama could not bring life and immortality to light. His system might introduce hopes clearer than before of future rewards, of a heaven and a hell. But having excited this hope of a succession of lives and deaths, the transmigration of souls from one dwelling-place to another, till Nirvâna, "the passionless bride, divine tranquillity" of Lucretius is reached, yet tranquillity without consciousness—annihilation in everything but the name—Buddhism has nothing to give. What is it?

> "If any teach Nirvâna is to cease,
> Say unto such they lie;
> If any teach Nirvâna is to live,
> Say unto such they err."

A promise of life so dreamy and vague the practical Chinese could not grasp—it was too immaterial for them; and they in turn have corrupted Buddhism, and invented their paradise of the pure delights of nature in the west.

And, again, as a godless creed Buddhism could not maintain its hold on India. Its morality was high and hard; but if there be no God, no eternal recompense, where are the sanctions or encouragements for well-doing? Why forego present enjoyment if nought but annihilation face us in the future? It has no resurrection, no reunion with the departed, no service of God through eternity.

No wonder that one who knew it well should write, "However we may admire and wonder at the structure, it has proved to be—what godless morality must ever be—a veritable castle in the air. Buddhism has utterly failed in making its followers virtuous, benevolent, and unselfish. The moral excellencies enjoined by Buddha are nowhere more conspicuous by their absence than in those lands where his religion most abounds" (Vaughan). "The Buddhist dream of life," says Archdeacon Moule, "is indeed but the shadow of death. They have no God, they are literally Atheists; they adore men, and their hope is Nirvâna—an eternal nothing. Shall we not hasten to the rescue with the Saviour's blessed promise, 'I am the Life'?"

And if the water of life cannot be raised from the wastes of Buddhism, much less can it be drawn from the systems it partially superseded—from the astrology and necromancy of Taouism; or the cold, blank negations of Confucius—a morality without authority to enforce it, a religion without a future, giving no comfort to ordinary mortals in life or death. Something more is needed.

> "Man, on the dubious wave of error toss'd,
> His ship half founder'd, and his compass lost,
> Sees, far as human optics may command,
> A sleeping fog, and fancies it dry land,
> Spreads all his canvas, every sinew plies,
> Pants for it, aims at it, enters it and dies!"

And that certainty, which no Mencius or uninspired sage could grasp, your Missionaries are giving to China and Japan.

They have but begun to dig. Yet see we not already the first trickling and bubbling waters of a stream that shall widen till it fertilizes all the thirsty land, and makes the wilderness to blossom as the rose? What is the story of the Fuh-kien Mission, stranger than fiction, with its 100 catechists, seed sown and springing up we knew not how—the Christian Conference of last year attended by 300 delegates—but a call, ringing every day louder and clearer, to break up the fallow ground? Mark the progress. Eleven years without a single convert. At the end of the next fourteen years, midst bitter and repeated persecutions, 1400 Native Christians; and in four years more over 4000; and the communicants to-day equalling the whole number of converts four years ago. They have nothing earthly to gain. Their profession brings suffering and loss. We can give them no money, no protection. They are as much Chinese subjects as before. Yet the grain of mustard seed grows!

And what though the Cheh-Kiang Mission number no more than 1000 converts? Yet that betokens a wondrous outpouring. It is not morning yet; and in the words of a Missionary who knows that field well: "The wires are laid, we wait but the flash from heaven."

Japan might have seemed more unpromising even than China. Yet mightily has the Spirit wrought! An opponent has described the advance of the Gospel there as a fire sweeping over a plain, which constantly increases in power. At the end of thirteen years, the Holy Spirit's power has been shown on eighteen native teachers and 340 converts. As a Japanese catechist observed, "We went to school to criticize the Christian doctrine, but at last it conquered us."

Turn we to the rugged defiles of Hinduism. Is there less call to dig the tanks there than in the bleak deserts of Buddha, or the dry wadys of Islam? Can we penetrate through the strata of historic Brahminism till we reach the fossils of the Vedas? and will these exhumed pour forth living water? Vain is the search! The truths, the maxims are there, but they are the fossils of a perished moral life. They are apart from the life of to-day, and they have no inherent recuperative power. These exhumed fossils of the literary strata, long hidden from human eyes and at last unearthed, are evidence that "that which may be known of God is manifest in them, for God manifested it unto them." But they held the truth in unrighteousness; and the professors of the modern "science of comparative religion" forget that Pagan truth is not one thing, and Christian truth another, but truth comes only from Him who is the Truth, and neither Jewish prophet nor heathen philosopher can attain to it, or act up to it, save by His aid. The heathen refused to have God in their knowledge, and so God gave them up to a reprobate mind—Moslem, Buddhist, Brahmin, Confucian, alike lost the truth they once had, and lost it irretrievably.

What advantage, then, hath Christianity? Much every way, but chiefly in this, that it, and it alone, supplies the missing link. Man has ever known his duty, but he has ever lacked the power to fulfil it. The Gospel alone has supplied the power. It is life from the dead. The creative intellect of the Hindu seems dead. Gradually debased from the life and purity of the days of the Vedas by Brahminism, it drove out Buddhism, and settled down into the calm of spiritual paralysis and intellectual death. For 1500 years it has been prostrate, receptive, imitative only. Yet this is the race that civilized Southern Asia, and influenced the thought and language of Europe more than ever Egypt did. Not only historical analogy, but the nature of Christianity itself, entitles us to expect that He who is the Life and Light of man, and was lifted up to draw all men unto Him, will develope through His Church new intellectual and spiritual forces, even in the calm, the passive, the brooding Asiatic of the south. "The Gospel has given weapons, while the Vedas and Confucius merely furnished rules." To quote the words of a great Missionary already named: "By its wondrous display of Divine compassion, by the presentation of its marvellous scheme of vicarious atonement, by its matchless example of redeeming love, by the glorious hopes which it inspires, it electrifies the dormant affections and energies of the human mind, it satisfies its deepest yearnings, it pours a stream of living vigour into dead souls, and brings to a beautiful and glorious realization man's moral sense; it enables him not only to appreciate and approve, but to do the things which are lovely, honest, pure, and of good report. In this sense, emphatically, Christianity is unique and incomparable. However beautiful the moral precepts of the heathen may be, it is the beauty of a corpse hastening to decay. Christianity breathes life into the corpse, and arrests its decomposition." Deeper and more rapid year by year is the flow of the life-giving water. When the number of Indian Native Protestant Christians has leapt from 318,000 in 1871 to 528,000 in 1881, and the number of the Church Missionary Society's Native clergy from 77 to 127, while our own converts reach over 106,000,* we can only exclaim, "What hath God wrought!"

We have glanced at the great non-Christian systems, and we find no water of life in any of them. Still more vain to seek it in the unorganized superstitions of Red Indians or New Zealanders, or in the Fetish worship of Africa. Everywhere the heathen world is athirst, and they know it not. Wherever we go, our work is one, and it is plain: "Make this valley full of tanks." We can provide no water—no water for ablution; for it is the blood of Christ alone that can wash away sin. No water to quench their thirst; for that water is the gift of God, the spiritual life by the Spirit of God.

But we may prepare for this. What is the Bible teaching of the school, the bazaar preaching, the worship and the teaching of the Mission chapel, the tale of Christ's love poured into the ear of the anxious inquirer, but the digging of the tank?

* As the Census figures include Ceylon, the numbers of Native Christians and Clergy are taken on the same basis.

And in guiding and directing this labour the Church Missionary Society takes her stand on the written Word, the form of sound words—Christ, our Sacrifice, not our mere Divine exemplar: life in the Holy Spirit, the scope and end of the Church. The Father of infinite love, who hath predestinated us according to the good pleasure of His will; the Son, in whom we have redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of His grace; the Holy Spirit, to be strengthened with might by His Spirit in the inner man.

We must go to the heathen, not with sentiments, but with facts, with dogma, with the definite outline of the Gospel scheme. All other teaching is shadowy, misty, intangible. It can shape no character, it can trace out no course. Take heed, then, unto the doctrine: "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." "See to it that ye rightly divide the word of truth." "Hold fast the form of sound words."

Never was that caution more needful than at this moment, when we are threatened with a general dissolution of states from the decay of religion, when we are startled and shocked by being told from the judgment seat that Christianity is no longer part and parcel of the laws of England. That decay will not be arrested by neglecting the old paths for devious byeways. If the Cross does not attract, no merely self-denying Atonement will draw all men. No germinal system of regeneration, in which water in the priest's hand is first, and the Holy Spirit second, will bring the nations to life. No elevating of the Satanic sneer, "Thou shalt not surely die," into a dogma of the Church, will win the heathen, though it may accommodate the Buddhist and the Pantheist.

In these dangerous days, when we know not whether it is the tidal wave of unbelief on the one side, or of superstition on the other, which threatens to be the first to engulf the Church's ship; when she needs a Luther's heart and a Luther's voice to guide her and to teach her; when too many of those who should be her Luthers, flatter themselves they are treading in the steps of peace-loving Melancthon, while really drifting helpless in the wake of Erasmus, crying "Peace," when there is no peace; more than ever is there need that the voice of the Church Missionary Society should be distinct, definite, and unmistakable, whether in her utterances at home, or in the teaching of her sons in the Mission-field.

There can be no peace that is not founded on truth. A great prelate warned us the other day, in the Northern Convocation, to beware of patching up a false peace, but to do the right and hold the true whatever storms may rage around, or whatever hard words may be said. "The great cause of truth," said he, "is at stake; belief in God is at stake; the question between time and eternity is at stake; the floods are rising up, and soon the little temple of peace, built upon the sands, will fall and perish utterly."

Let us hold, then, with a grasp of unwavering faith the great doctrines of grace, not as a plastic, flexible terminology which may mean anything or nothing, but as the mathematician works upon axioms he cannot demonstrate, he cannot reject: for doctrines are the lines which eternal truth has traced to span the chasm of doubt, and to pierce the opposing mountains of thought. The Gospel has triumphed, because it begins with doctrine, and supplies in that very doctrine the yearning wants of human nature.

But shall we rest here? Will our creed, orthodox as that of Ephesus when she had lost her first love, save our own souls, or draw the heathen to Christ? The sword of truth cannot thrust in a nerveless arm. The faith which is in Christ Jesus must be a personal expression of the energy of the truth. He alone can preach Christ to the heathen, who has felt the load of sin himself, and taken that burden to the foot of the cross, and left it there; who speaks of that which he has heard with the spiritual ear, which he has looked upon with the eye of faith, and his hands have handled, by personal experience, of the Word of Life. The personal contact of the soul with its Saviour, as it is brought into vital union with Him, and draws out of His fulness grace for grace, is the alone true spring of faith; and the Holy Ghost is the efficient agent of it within the soul, by the inward witness in ourselves.

With the oil of this faith has the zeal of every Apostle, of every pastor, of every Missionary been fed. It has nourished the constancy of martyrs, it has nerved the courage of reformers as they gave their bodies to be burned.

And to this faith let us add the love which is in Christ Jesus—love to Him who hath redeemed us, and love for His sake to all those for whom Christ died. We of the ministry are not merely vehicles for handing over truth from God to man. The Word must become humanized, so to speak, in its transit from preacher to hearer. Love brings the Gospel message with the precious tincture of human sympathy. "Whether we be afflicted," says St. Paul, "or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and salvation."

Shall we then grow faint-hearted if the water seems to ooze but slowly into the tanks. Shall we deem that the Missionary who sees as yet no fruit, is but as "a child writing its little alphabet on the sands of time, soon to be washed out by the rising tide"? It is not so. Truth, even from the humblest lips, can never die. Fixed truth, the grasp of faith, the labour of love,—these can never die. They are laid up in the store-house of eternity. The work of human hands and human brains done for time, passes away. The spiritual results of sanctified toil for Christ are as immortal as the soul itself.

Shall we halt, then, if the ground seems hard and the toil heavy? Shall we say with the unfaithful steward, "I cannot dig, to beg I am ashamed?" Shall we not ask, each one of himself, and respond right loyally to the question once so disloyally put: "How much owest thou unto my Lord?" Take thy bill, sit down quickly, and write—shall I say—half as much again? Nay, rather,—

> "Love so amazing, so divine, > Demands my soul, my life, my all."

Labour on, then. Dig deep the tanks, the trenches round the altar, and cease not to pray, till ye have proved the Lord, whether He "will not open the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

REPORT,

&c., &c.

"A JOYFUL and a pleasant thing it is to be thankful." The year now to be reviewed has been a year of signal mercies to the Church Missionary Society. It has been marked by a considerable extension of the Society's missionary work; by remarkable evidences of the presence and blessing of God in the mission-field; by dangers averted, fears belied, obstacles overcome; by many tokens of increasing interest in the work throughout the country; by notable examples of faith and liberality among the Society's friends; by freedom from pressing financial anxieties, and the receipt of a larger income (apart from Special Funds) than in any previous year in the Society's history.

The year's receipts have been as follows:—

Ordinary:	Associations	143,614	16	5
	Benefactions	19,847	8	11
	Legacies	24,115	4	11
	Sundries	12,824	17	0
		200,402	7	3
Extension Fund		6037	2	9
Special Funds: Contributions and Interest		13,335	6	3
Extraordinary Receipts: Sales of Property, &c.		5,456	13	5
	Total	£225,231	9	8

—which is exclusive of a noble gift from Mr. W. C. Jones presently to be mentioned.

The receipts on the Extension Fund include 1500*l.* raised by Bishop Burdon towards a new Mission in Western Quan-tung; 1326*l.* raised by Dr. Bruce towards a new Mission at Baghdad; 588*l.* from "E. S. N." for the Bheel Mission; and 600*l.* from Mrs. Henry Wright for a Medical Mission at Salt. The contributions to Special Funds include 1751*l.* for the Egypt and Palestine Fund; 2061*l.* for the Bishop of the Niger's Funds; 1603*l.* additional for the Henry Wright Memorial Fund; and 1000*l.* on account of a fund raised in memory of the late Dr. Shann, of York, to be used in providing Medical Missions with instruments and medicines.

The Ordinary Expenditure of the year has been 202,127*l.* 17*s.* 5*d.*, thus exceeding the Ordinary Income by 1725*l.* The expenditure on the Extension Fund has been 4062*l.* 14*s.* 10*d.*, and on various other Special Funds, 9292*l.* 19*s.* 3*d.*; making a grand total of 215,483*l.* 11*s.* 6*d.*

An examination of these figures suggests several grounds of thankfulness to God:—

1. The Ordinary Receipts show an increase on the preceding year of nearly 10,000*l.* The increase from Associations is 5070*l.*, and the total amount contributed through them much larger than in any previous year. When the impoverished condition of the agricultural districts is remembered, this is a most gratifying result of the exertions made by the Society's friends. Legacies are 5468*l.* more, and Benefactions 1111*l.* less.

The increase from Associations is more important than appears at first sight.

(a) In the only previous year (1879-80) that their contributions exceeded 140,000*l.*, there were special causes for it, particularly the inclusion of some large legacies paid to the Hibernian Auxiliary.

(b) The past year, so far from being helped by any abnormal increment, has had exceptional disadvantages. Hitherto it has been the custom to bring into the year's accounts the balances held by the treasurers of the different Local Associations on the 31st March; but in consequence of the difficulty experienced in ascertaining the amount of these balances, and the delay thus occasioned in the preparation of the Report, the Committee this year resolved, after consulting with the leading friends concerned, to take account only of sums actually paid to the Parent Society by March 31st. Last year the local balances exceeded in the aggregate 3000*l.*; and although it is not likely that the amount excluded this year under the new rule is so large as that, it is enough to make a perceptible deduction off the total. One important town, for instance, which raised over 600*l.*, and another which raised over 300*l.*, will not appear at all, those sums having been paid in too late to be included.

(c) Some of the largest Associations show a heavy falling off, which is probably due in part to the cause just noticed under (b), but it much enhances the value of the increase elsewhere. Brighton stands for an advance of 660*l.*; Birmingham, 481*l.*; Bristol, 470*l.*; Derby, 209*l.*; Exeter and Devon, 207*l.*; Hampstead, 440*l.*; Halifax, 203*l.*; Ipswich and East Suffolk, 250*l.*; Norfolk and Norwich, 585*l.*; Shrewsbury, 200*l.* Other Associations deserve special mention for a steady and in some cases rapid increase year by year. Taking the last four or five years, Bournemouth has risen from 248*l.* to 655*l.*; Eastbourne, from 183*l.* to 747*l.*; Leeds, from 797*l.* to 1172*l.*; Paddington, from 1300*l.* to 2100*l.* (mainly due to Christ Church, Lancaster Gate); Plymouth, from 182*l.* to 582*l.*; Stockport, from 29*l.* to 241*l.*; Trinity, Marylebone, from 55*l.* to 238*l.*

2. A comparison of the receipts for ten years exhibits the growth of the Society in its real proportions. The average Ordinary Income in the four years ending March 31st, 1873, was 149,180*l.* The average in the four years ending March 31st, 1883, was 194,386*l.*, or, making certain adjustments to render the comparison equal, 192,641*l.* This shows in ten years an increase in the Society's Ordinary Income of more than 43,000*l.* a year.

3. The improvement in the Society's general financial position in the last four years will cause thankful surprise to all who examine it. On the 31st March, 1879, the deficits of three successive years had reduced the reserve funds to Forty-three thousand pounds in round figures. The corresponding amount now is Eighty-four thousand. The Special Deficiency Contributions of 1879-80 enabled the Committee to restore the Capital Fund to the fixed sum of 60,000*l.*, and to start with 11,000*l.* a new Contingency Fund, to which would be carried exceptional receipts and exceptional expenses, and which would also move up and down as each year showed within itself a surplus or a deficit. This Fund, although in two years out of the three it has had to meet excess of ordinary expenditure over ordinary income, has grown to 24,735*l.*, chiefly through certain extraordinary receipts (sales of property, &c.) in the last two years. A part of this, however, is virtually pledged for grants not yet actually paid.

4. Outside all these stands the Extension Fund, started in 1880, to which has been contributed in less than three years the large sum of 26,211*l.* Of this sum, 17,492*l.* is still in hand; but this is all allotted for the support of work undertaken on the strength of it.

It is with much thankfulness that the Committee view the work done by the Extension Fund. Through the instrumentality of the special contributions in 1880-81 to send out a year sooner some of the ordained men then kept at home, or to provide additional men for three years, several have now been long enough in the field to become efficient missionaries, making known the Gospel in the languages of the people. Through other benefactions for specific objects, distinct advance has been made into the regions beyond. In the past year, the two additional men placed, at one donor's desire, on the Afghan frontier, have been able to take up new and definite itinerating districts there; the missionary to the Bheels of Rajputana, maintained by another donor, has sent a second and encouraging report; the city of Hok-Ning-fu, in the Fuh-Kien province of China, has been successfully occupied by an Extension Fund man; a medical missionary has been appointed to the Island of Hainan, South China, in virtue of the sums raised for the Fund by Bishop Burdon; outlying posts in the Dioceses of Caledonia, Athabasca, and Moosonee have been filled up, in the two latter cases specifically for work among the Eskimo (one of these is all but the northernmost mission station in the world, well within the Arctic Circle); the long-desired move forward from Mombasa into the country years ago indicated by Dr. Krapf as an inviting field has now been made; and last, not least, the additions to the Fund caused by Dr. Bruce's efforts have enabled the Society to place on its list of stations the historic city of Baghdad.

But while it is the bounden duty of the Committee to praise and magnify God for such a position of things, they desire earnestly to make two requests: (a) That the Society's income may not be supposed to be larger than it really is; (b) that the rapid growth of the expenditure may be realized; which in the past year has sprung up 12,000*l.*, without reckoning the charges on the Extension Fund.

(a) The income is commonly spoken of as "over 200,000*l.* a year," sometimes as "220,000*l.* a year." This is distinctly misleading. The Ordinary Income, which alone is a safe subject of comparison, has in the past year just touched 200,000*l.* for the first time; and this only because, in order to make the accounts more complete, certain sums (amounting in the year under review to over 8000*l.*) have lately been included in it, which were formerly treated in a different way.

(b) There is nothing unexpected in the great rise in the Expenditure. The Committee plainly saw what was coming, and stated it in last year's Report. The retrenchments in the Missions ordered in the two preceding years could not be maintained in the face of the natural expansion of the work consequent upon God's blessing vouchsafed to the labours of the workers; nor would it have been right to have maintained them when the Society's position had so greatly improved. The result of more liberal estimates was inevitable, and it has yet to be more fully realized. The expenditure of the year, large as it appears, has been less than was anticipated, owing to certain vacancies not having yet been filled up; and the Committee fully expect another considerable increase in the current year.

It was with a deep sense of the urgent needs of the mission-field, and of the certainty that the Society's existing resources are altogether inadequate to meet them, that one of the most devoted friends of the missionary cause, the Rev. E. H. Bickersteth, put forth, after last year's Anniversary, his animating appeal for "Half as Much Again" —an appeal suggested by some words in the Bishop of Ossory's sermon. Great interest has been manifested in this venture of faith, and many have been the inquiries as to the result of it. Yet the Committee are quite unable to ascertain what it has produced. It has unquestionably been responded to by a great number of individuals, whose hearts God has touched; but in probably the large majority of cases there are no means of tracing the response. If a little child puts three halfpence into its missionary box instead of a penny—as is known to have been done by many—how can that be registered? Nor would that missionary box then give "half as much again" unless every separate contributor did the like. It might be thought that Annual Subscriptions alone, if increased fifty per cent., would effect a large augmentation in the income; yet if every annual subscriber in the kingdom gave "half as much again," the whole increase would not exceed 20,000*l*. The great variety in the sources of income has to be remembered; and to obtain the 300,000*l*. mentioned by the Bishop of Ossory, not only Subscriptions, but Benefactions, Church Collections, Boxes, Cards, Sales of Work, &c., &c., and even Legacies, would have to be "half as much again." Looking at the actual circumstances of the case, therefore, the Committee see no reason for discouragement because the result of Mr. Bickersteth's appeal is not more apparent. They doubt not that the many considerable increases in the returns from Associations are in fact due to it, and that it has been blessed of God to deepen in thousands of hearts a sense of the greatness of the cause and a desire to help it on; and they confidently anticipate that the appeal will continue to exercise a real influence upon the hearts of the Society's friends, the result of which will appear in future years.

While ardent faith has been exemplified in Mr. Bickersteth's stirring appeal, liberality in the bestowal of wealth for the service of God has been not less conspicuously illustrated by the princely gift of Seventy-Two Thousand Pounds by W. C. Jones, Esq., for a "William Charles Jones China and Japan Native Church and Mission Fund"—which, added to his previous benefactions, makes nearly 130,000*l.* committed to the Society's administration by this one generous donor within nine years. The Committee thank God for putting it into His servant's heart thus to dedicate his substance to the cause of Foreign Missions, and, in particular, that the great fields of China and Japan should now share his munificence. It is important, however, to bear in mind that this Fund is not designed to relieve the Society of its expenditure. Rather will it lead to an increase in that expenditure. The money—i.e. the interest of the capital sum—is to be wholly spent upon Native agents, Native Churches, &c., and the additional missionaries who will in due time be required for their training and superintendence and development must be provided by the Society.

The objects of the Fund are four: (1) The establishment of colleges for training pastors, evangelists, medical missionaries, &c. (Natives); (2) The support of Native agents employed by the Society; (3) The development of Native Churches, by helping them to provide their own pastors, churches, schools, &c.; (4) The promotion of evangelistic work on the part of the Native Churches themselves. Object 2 is akin to that of the Walter Jones Fund, and Object 4 to that of the W. C. Jones India Native Church Fund; while Object 3 is similar to that of the Henry Venn Memorial Fund. For the purpose of Object 1 a limited portion of the capital may be used.

PATRONAGE.

The governing body of the Society has again suffered the loss of many honoured members in the past year. Foremost among them must be mentioned, with profound veneration and regret, the Most Reverend the Vice-Patron, Archibald Campbell Tait, Archbishop of Canterbury. The Committee would recall with gratitude the hearty interest taken in the Society by Dr. Tait for at least forty-five years, dating from his Oxford days; the important help he rendered to its cause by his speeches and sermons in its behalf, as Head Master of Rugby, as Dean of Carlisle, as Bishop of London, and as Primate; and the many occasions on which he gave the Committee wise and highly-valued counsel; and they would ascribe praise to Almighty God for having so eminently fitted His servant for the arduous responsibilities of his high office. Among the Vice-Presidents removed by death have been the excellent Bishop of Llandaff; the much-respected Earl of Harrowby; the Society's staunch and life-long friend and advocate, Francis Close, late Dean of Carlisle; the Right Hon. Sir Joseph Napier, Bart., late Lord Chancellor of Ireland, and for many years a leading patron of the Hibernian Auxiliary; Sir George Grey, Bart., formerly Secretary of State, and the Hon. Sydney Roper Curzon, both of whom had been in years gone by active members of the Committee; and—in some respects the greatest loss of all—Arthur Lang, Esq., who for nearly half a century was the wise and devoted friend of the missionary cause, both in India and in England, and for the latter half of that period was a constant attendant at the Church Missionary House, serving on almost every sub-committee, and sometimes spending the greater part of the week in Salisbury Square.

Six Honorary Life Governors have been called away—Archdeacon Prest, J. B. Alexander, Esq., and Dr. Shann, all of whom did much for the cause in the north of England; Canon Reeve, long the much-valued minister of Portman Chapel; the venerable Rev. J. Pratt (son of the Josiah Pratt who was one of the first secretaries of the Society); and Prebendary Charles Marshall, Vicar of St. Bride's, whose face and voice were familiar to all who attended the Annual Sermon.

Two members of the General Committee have been removed by death—Colonel Smith, for some years Chairman of the Finance Committee, and George Loch, Esq., a valued helper for many years both in India and in England; and two much-respected former members—J. G. Sheppard, Esq., and R. Trotter, Esq.

The Society welcomes to-day the Most Reverend Edward White Benson, D.D., Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, not only as Primate of all England and Metropolitan, but also in the office which he has been pleased, like his four immediate predecessors, to accept, that of Vice-Patron of the Society; and the Committee feel that they truly represent their whole constituency when they now repeat, what they have already expressed to his Grace personally, their thanks for his acceptance of that office, and their fervent hope and prayer that much grace and wisdom may be vouchsafed to him in the exalted position in the Church to which in the providence of God he has been called.

The Bishops of Newcastle, Llandaff, and Truro have accepted the office of Vice-President. The Committee have also appointed as Vice-Presidents the Bishop of Sierra Leone, the Earl of Harrowby, Sir Bartle Frere, G.C.S.I., and George Arbuthnot, Esq.

To fill the six vacancies in the list of One Hundred Honorary Governors for Life the Committee have nominated the following:—The Rev. Canon Tristram, Honorary Association Secretary for the Northern District; the Rev. W. Doyle, and G. F. Watts, Esq., Hon. Secretaries of the Manchester Auxiliary; Hugh Evans, Esq., Treasurer of the Liverpool Auxiliary; R. C. Hankinson, Esq., President of the Southampton Auxiliary; and Colonel Channer, for many years a member of the Committee..

SUPPLY OF MISSIONARIES.

Thirty-six candidates for missionary service have been accepted during the year.

Of these, twenty-three were received on probation for further training, and thirteen ready to go out. Of the thirteen, there are two graduates of Cambridge and one of Oxford; five medical men, graduates of Edinburgh, Glasgow, or Durham; two Students of the London College of Divinity, Highbury; and three ladies. The Society still greatly needs a large supply of well-qualified candidates from the Universities; but the Committee would thank God for no less than fifty-five graduates accepted in the last seven years.

HOME ORGANIZATION.

The Committee desire to express their gratitude for the way in which the Home work of the Society is conducted by the Association Secretaries, Hon. District Secretaries, and Secretaries and Treasurers of Associations throughout the country. They feel, however, that old plans need to be worked with fresh vigour, and new plans to be formed from time to time. They are therefore especially glad to observe that the system of Hon. District Secretaries for defined districts is not only being much extended, but increasingly well worked, and also that Church Missionary Unions for conference and prayer are established in almost every English county.

The reports of nearly all the Association Secretaries presented in January last showed this to be the case. In nearly every county there is now an annual meeting of the Honorary District Secretaries, at which the work done during the year is carefully reviewed, and mutual counsel is offered as to the best way of gaining new parishes and efficiently working those already supporting the Society. The Committee feel that such meetings are most important, as well as the larger gatherings of the C.M. Unions. They rejoice to know that already new ground is being occupied, and they look forward with hope to the still better results which they feel sure will appear when every county is mapped out into manageable districts, each having its own Hon. District Secretary working in harmony with the Association Secretary.

The Committee believe that the increased funds from Associations this year are in no small degree due to the efforts of the Hon. District Secretaries. Nor would they forget the very valuable services rendered by Secretaries and Treasurers of Associations, by Collectors, by those who manage Juvenile Associations, and by those who have kindly preached and spoken on behalf of the Society. How much is due to this last class of helpers is apparent from the fact that last year, out of about 7500 sermons preached on behalf of the Society, more than 5000 were preached by those who have no official connexion with the Society otherwise than of an honorary character.

Among new plans for stimulating missionary zeal voluntarily set on foot by local friends of the Society, the Committee would refer to the two very successful Missionary Exhibitions held recently at Cambridge and Norwich. In each case a considerable sum was realized for the Society's General Fund; but what was still more important, a large amount of missionary information was given, and interest in missionary work increased. Such exhibitions, held from time to time in various parts of the country, would do much to keep alive where it already exists, and arouse where it does not yet exist, a love for missionary work. Even in single parishes, smaller exhibitions of the kind may be held with advantage. One such was worked very successfully in the past year at Holy Trinity, Penge.

In London a "C.M.S. Lay Workers' Union" has been established. Its main object is to enlist the help of young men, especially in giving missionary addresses in Sunday-schools, and in the conduct of Juvenile Associations. There is a mine of wealth in Sunday-schools yet unworked, notwithstanding all that is done by them. If one school in a very poor district in London can send up, from boys, girls, and infants, more than 40*l.* a year, it cannot be doubted that if other schools were equally well worked there would be a vast increase to the Society's funds from this source. But both teachers and scholars need to be interested, and to this end need knowledge, and it is hoped that the members of the Lay Workers' Union will, by acquiring knowledge themselves and then communicating it to others, do much to enlist the young in the cause of Missions. The Committee trust that other large towns will soon have their own Lay Workers' Unions.

In Ireland a very interesting effort has recently been made in a new direction. To some extent the children of the poor are reached, but as a rule schools of the upper classes do little or nothing for Missions. Certain undergraduates of Trinity College, Dublin, have undertaken to organize associations in such schools. The Committee cannot but hope that from these schools will come forward in due time worthy successors to the well-known and highly-valued missionaries whom Ireland has given to the Society in past years. They would heartily commend this new departure as well worthy of imitation in England. They hope to see the time when in a very large number of schools, both for boys and girls, of the upper classes, Missionary Associations will be founded and successfully worked.

It should be observed that all these special efforts are the result of purely voluntary and local enterprise, and they are illustrations of the hearty sympathy and vigorous energy manifested thoughout the country by the friends of the missionary cause, and of the spiritual principles of the Society. The Committee unfeignedly thank God for such tokens of His favour and blessing.

ORDINATION OF MISSIONARIES.

WEST AFRICA MISSION.

Sierra Leone, 1816; Port Lokkoh, 1876.

"CHANGE," but the Committee trust not "decay," has marked the past year in relation to Sierra Leone. The oldest European missionary and the oldest Native clergyman have died at their posts; the Principal of Fourah Bay College has retired; other changes have also occurred; and one of the younger of the African clergy wrote at the beginning of the present year, "The Diocese is without a Bishop, the Colony without a Chaplain, the Society without a Secretary, and Fourah Bay without a Principal." This, however, is not the first time in its history that Sierra Leone has been, in the providence of God, suddenly deprived of its leading workers. The difference is this—that formerly the work came to a standstill for want of them, while now the established Native Church quietly goes on in its uninterrupted course, ready to welcome new comers from England, but not in despair because they tarry. One African clergyman has kept the Society's local accounts; another has filled the Government chaplaincy; two others have conducted the college studies; while the African Bishop of the Niger, halting at Sierra Leone on his way back to his own more distant sphere of labour, has performed episcopal functions in the vacant diocese under a special commission from the late Archbishop of Canterbury—who signed the necessary papers with trembling hand upon his dying bed.

Change, but not decay, at Sierra Leone.

It was with unfeigned satisfaction that the Committee lately bid God-speed to the new Bishop of Sierra Leone, Dr. E. G. Ingham, on his departure for Africa. They render praise to the great Head of the Church that it has pleased Him to raise up a Chief Pastor for West Africa so thoroughly identified with the Society, and so whole-hearted in his allegiance to its spiritual principles. Bishop Ingham goes forth with the advantages of youth, energy, and parochial experience; and the Committee earnestly trust that the

The new Bishop of Sierra Leone.

Lord will give him favour in the sight of the African people, whether Christian, Mohammedan, or Heathen, and make him a blessing to them all. It is a token for good that on the day of his consecration special prayer-meetings on his behalf were held in all the parishes of Sierra Leone; and on his arrival there he was warmly received by all classes of the community. The Committee cannot but refer to the striking contrast drawn by Canon Hoare in the Consecration Sermon* between the gathering at St. Ann's Rectory, Blackfriars, on Jan. 2nd, 1804, when the founders of the Society met to take leave of the first two missionaries to Africa, and the scene at the Chapel Royal, Whitehall, on Feb. 24th, 1883, when the sixth Bishop of Sierra Leone was solemnly set apart to preside over a well-organized and established African Church. And they recognize, with the revered preacher, that the signal victories won in the interval have been won by the combined power of the Cross of Christ, of the word of faithful testimony, and of a deep self-devotion to the Lord.

Death of Rev. C. A. Reichardt and Rev. J. Quaker.

Reverting to the losses of the year, the Committee have had to mourn the death of the Rev. C. A. L. Reichardt, Vice-Principal of Fourah Bay College, and of the Rev. James Quaker, Principal of the Grammar School. Mr. Reichardt was well known to linguistic scholars for his valuable works in the Fûlah language. He was much respected in the colony, especially by the Mohammedans, many of whom attended his funeral. Mr. Quaker had been connected with the Grammar School in various capacities for thirty-three years. No Native clergyman on the coast had won more universal respect. He will be remembered, writes his assistant and successor, the Rev. Obadiah Moore, as "the teacher of the youth of his country," almost all the leading men of the colony having been educated by him. His exertions also for some years as Secretary of the Native Church Missionary Society call for special recognition. How well the grace of God that was in him had enabled him to overcome some characteristic imperfections of the natural African character, may be gathered from the simple fact that, although his death was sudden and unlooked-for, "everything connected with the school was found in perfect order, and the accounts were particularly clear."

Educational Institutions.

The other chief loss of the year, that of the Rev. Metcalfe Sunter from the Principalship of Fourah Bay College, is happily due to a cause that still permits him to labour in and for West Africa. He has been appointed Government Inspector of Schools in the coast settlements, from the Gambia to Lagos. The Committee recall with gratitude his assiduous efforts during twelve years in the cause of Christian education in connexion with the Society, and they doubt not that the same cause will prosper in his hands in the more extended field now open to him. A competent Principal for the College, however, has become one of the Society's most urgent wants.

* See C.M. Intelligencer, April, 1883.

The Rev. Obadiah Moore, an African educated in England, has been appointed Principal of the Grammar School, of which he was Assistant Tutor under Mr. Quaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton have returned to the Mission after a season of furlough in America, and are again in charge of the Annie Walsh Female Institution. The educational arrangements are directed by Miss Ansell, who has been sent out during the year, and who has entered on her important duties with marked zeal and Christian earnestness.

Work of Rev. G. Nicol on the Gambia.

Friends at home have had the pleasure, during the year, of welcoming one of the oldest of the Native clergy, the Rev. George Nicol, Government Chaplain at Bathurst, on the Gambia, and formerly Tutor at Fourah Bay College; and the Committee have noted with pleasure the bestowal on him, by the University of Durham, of the honorary degree of M.A., the first distinction of the kind conferred upon an African, except Bishop Crowther's Oxford D.D. Mr. Nicol has been desirous of establishing a pastoral Mission on that river to provide spiritual ministrations for the many Christian Africans (of the Church of England) from Sierra Leone who are engaged in commercial pursuits at the different trading ports. Not a few of these, it is to be feared, are Christians in little more than the statistical sense, and make no attempt to give forth a little light amid the surrounding darkness; and no work could be more important than to bring a high and holy influence to bear upon them. The Committee were unable, with the vast fields open and opening before the Society elsewhere, to undertake fresh responsibilities on the Gambia; and they pray that God will give the Sierra Leone Church the spirit and the means to care for her scattered children in these outlying territories.

Linguistic Work: Mende and Fûlah.

Linguistic work in relation to the many tongues of West Africa has not been neglected. Mr. Reichardt, before his death, had almost completed a Fûlah version of St. Mark's Gospel; and the Rev. J. F. Schön, who still continues, in England, his valuable labours in this behalf, has prepared Vocabularies in Mende, which have been commended to the S.P.C.K. for publication under the direction of its active Foreign Translation Committee.

Sierra Leone Native Church and Missions.

No general report of the Sierra Leone Native Church has been received; but the annual financial statement of the Church Committee, presented in May, 1882, shows a total receipt for the year of 2246*l.*, of which sum 889*l.* came from class payments (the largest ever raised), 622*l.* from the Native Pastorate Auxiliary Association, 47*l.* from surplice fees, and the remainder from C.M.S. and Henry Venn Fund grants, &c. The expenditure included 1499*l.* for stipends of clergy, 466*l.* for catechists and catechetical duties, 80*l.* for church repairs, and other items; and a satisfactory balance of 216*l.* was carried forward. The largest sum from a single parish was 288*l.* from Holy Trinity, Kissy Road, of which the Rev. D. G. Williams is pastor.

In addition to these funds for the maintenance of their own pastorate, the congregations raised for the Sierra Leone Church Missions 417*l.*, which was expended upon the outlying Missions in Bullom, Quiah, and Tasso Island. At the various stations there was an average aggregate attendance at public worship of 621 persons. The communicants had increased from 251 to 303, and the children in the schools from 274 to 330. There were 50 baptisms in the year reviewed; but only four were of adult converts. The stirring missionary sermon preached at the anniversary by the Rev. D. G. Williams has been published in the C.M. Intelligencer. He called on his fellow-Christian Africans to "work, work hard, and work together" for the regeneration of Africa.

The Native clergy continue to increase in number. On November 12th, Bishop Crowther (under a commission from the Archbishop of Canterbury, as already mentioned) ordained three Africans at Sierra Leone, one (the Rev. H. P. Thompson) to a curacy in the Colony, and two who had volunteered for the (S.P.G.) Rio Pongas Mission.

PORT LOKKOH.

This is the station of the Society's Timneh or Temné Mission. Mr. J. A. Alley, the zealous lay missionary, has been patiently and diligently sowing the good seed over the surrounding country, having visited during his preaching tours some fifty towns and villages. He is assisted by two Native agents, Mr. S. Taylor and Mr. W. C. Morgan, both of them educated men and graduates of Durham, although they have never been out of Africa. At Port Lokkoh itself there is a congregation of English-speaking Natives from Sierra Leone engaged in trade, for whom regular services and classes are held, with Day and Sunday schools. A wide and inviting field lies open in this part of West Africa to missionary effort; but neither the Church at home nor the Church on the coast seems ready to supply men and means to occupy it. Meanwhile the Committee are thankful for the faithful labours of Mr. Alley and his helpers, and pray that this little Mission may prove to be like other little Missions in the Society's experience, the source and centre of great and lasting blessing.

A wide field waiting for men.

YORUBA MISSION.

Badagry, 1845; Abeokuta and Oshielle, 1846; Ibadan, 1852; Lagos, 1852; Otta, 1852; Leke, 1875; Ondo, 1876.

Sickness and death in the Yoruba Mission.

THE Committee have again been disappointed in the result of their efforts to reinforce this Mission. Two of the younger men attached to it were sent home invalided during the year, viz. the Rev. C. H. V. Gollmer (son of the veteran of that name), who had been out four years, and the Rev. J. S. Bradshaw, who had only been a few months on the coast; and the latter zealous and promising missionary was, to the grief of all who knew him, called away by the Master within an hour or two of his landing at Liverpool. Another newly-ordained man allotted to Lagos was prohibited by the Society's medical advisers from going to West Africa, and was accordingly diverted to China. Eight men have been designated to the Yoruba Mission in eight years, and not one of them is now at work there. Two have died; three are at home invalided; and three are labouring in other parts of the world. The consequenee is that the names of Maser, Mann, Wood, and Faulkner, neither of which has been on the roll less than twenty-three years, still indicate the working staff of the Mission; to which has just been also added the name of the Rev. J. A. Lamb, who was likewise a Yoruba missionary twenty-two years ago, but has in later years been engaged elsewhere, at Sierra Leone and in East Africa, and who has now gone back to Lagos at the invitation of the Committee, in consequence of the Rev. J. B. Wood being detained in England by medical orders, and of the Rev. V. Faulkner being on his way home.

Under these circumstances the Society's friends will not be surprised that but little has been done to carry out the plans for extension matured four or five years ago. It is, however, not a little remarkable that all this time the contemplated advance into the Interior has been impracticable, owing to the state of war in which the country has been languishing. The Committee pray that it may soon please God to open the doors at present closed, and then at the same time to send forth messengers of His own appointment to occupy the land.

Native agents in Yoruba.

Meanwhile, it is a cause of thankfulness that, as at Sierra Leone, so in this Mission, the lack of European labourers has been supplied by Native clergymen and catechists. There are now sixteen ordained Africans at work in the Yoruba country, including two lately ordained by Bishop Crowther, during the vacancy in the see of Sierra Leone, under Archbishop Tait's commission, as in the case before mentioned. They greatly need the prayers, however, of the friends of Africa at home. The circumstances amid which they labour would in many respects try the most faithful and spiritually-minded of English clergymen, and the power of the Holy Ghost can alone fit them for the arduous task of raising up a Native Church sound in doctrine and pure in life, letting its light shine before men, and holding forth the word of life to the surrounding heathen.

LAGOS, AND THE COAST DISTRICT.

The Rev. J. A. Maser has fulfilled the duties of Secretary of the Yoruba Mission during the year, with the charge of Christ Church and its English-speaking (though African) congregation; and the Rev. A. and Mrs. Mann have continued their labours in connexion with the Female Institution. Mr. Mann has also taken, as before, a leading part in linguistic work as Chairman of the Bible Translation Committee; and since Mr. Gollmer's departure he has been obliged to add the Training Institution to his burdens.

All the other work in Lagos is in Native hands. The Grammar School may be especially mentioned, which is prospering under the mastership of the Rev. Isaac Oluwole, B.A. of Durham. Its secular success is undoubted. Mr. Oluwole dwells in his report on the great importance of its exercising a high moral and Christian influence, particularly in view of the low moral standard prevalent in Lagos. "In a community like this," he writes, "the young learn evil fast, and a school like ours is affected. We want more truthfulness and conscientiousness. There are, however, those who give us joy, and who, we have reason to believe, are what Christian boys ought to be—diligent, obedient, straightforward, kind, and evidently God-fearing. This number," he justly adds, "will increase only with the increase of true Christian homes, where parents endeavour to discharge their duties faithfully." New buildings for the school were opened by the Lieut.-Governor of Lagos on January 23rd last year. Lagos Grammar School.

The Native Church parishes in Lagos have seen no change in their ministerial staff during the year; and the remarks upon them in last Annual Report do not call for Lagos Native Church.

repetition. The Rev. T. B. Wright, of St. Peter's, Faji (a church still directly connected with the Society), who in his advancing years is looked up to with undiminished confidence and respect, writes in thankful and hopeful strain. His baptized members number 457, of whom no less than 253 are communicants, the average attendance at the Lord's Supper being 162. Thirty-two adults were baptized during the year, "old inquirers who had passed their probationary state;" while fourteen inquirers were brought in, "convinced by the Spirit of their ignorance and sin, and seeking knowledge and the way of salvation," who are now receiving instruction preparatory to baptism. Sunday-schools and Bible-classes have been regularly held, and prayer-meetings daily and weekly. Contributions to religious objects amounted in the year to 159*l.* The special danger of the Lagos Church, and its true security, are rightly indicated in Mr. Wright's concluding sentence—"May the Church be preserved from corruption and worldliness, and may nothing be known in her but Jesus and Him crucified!" The Rev. James Johnson's report of St. Paul's, Breadfruit, the leading church in the Native pastorate, is of much the same general character, but everything is on a larger scale. The 1200 baptized Christians forming the congregation, of whom 500 are communicants, contributed 853*l.* for various church and Mission purposes. There are forty-four adult candidates for baptism, but only six were admitted to the Church during the year. Some instances of spiritual awakening among professing Christians are mentioned, especially one which was the fruit of a sermon on 2 Sam. xiv. 22, "Let me see the king's face." Monday and Tuesday in Whitsun week are kept at this church as "days of general pleading with God for the gift of the Holy Ghost, for a holy life, and for earnest and zealous working and a general revival in the Church." On the last occasion, "several humble, earnest, and believing prayers were offered up to the Lord. I cannot say," continues Mr. Johnson, "that the general body has been quickened, or that we have had any great shower of the Spirit's power; but we may be thankful that we were enabled to pray as we did." Such prayers will certainly not remain unanswered.

Rev. James Johnson and the Native Church.

Mr. Johnson dwells at length on one matter which is significant of the general condition of things at Lagos. A large part of the population is bi-lingual. Yoruba is the vernacular of the great majority; but many of the immigrants from Sierra Leone and elsewhere are more accustomed to the English language, which has also spread not a little among those who are strictly Natives. Accordingly in past years the services and classes at Breadfruit have been conducted mostly in English. Nevertheless, the proportionate number of those Christians whose mother-tongue is Yoruba, and who only know a little colloquial English, has been rapidly increasing, owing to the large accessions of natives and the decreasing influx of immigrants. Mr. Johnson, true to his consistently-held policy of "Africa for the Africans," and convinced that "the Yoruba Church is the Church of the country," has been gradually superseding the English language in the services and classes; but the change has been an unpopular one. Young Lagos is not unlike young Bengal. The use of English is regarded as a test of education, not to say of gentility; and Yoruba sermons and class-teachings are accounted fit only for the poor and illiterate. Many, therefore, have neglected these to attend English ministrations, even making use of the latter merely to increase their familiarity with the favoured foreign tongue. "It was of little consequence to them how much of it was understood, felt, and enjoyed, and whether the soul was actually fed or not." But Mr. Johnson has persevered. Except on Sunday evening, all his sermons are now in Yoruba; and during the year he has taken a large Bible-class through the Yoruba version of the Epistle to the Romans. And there are signs that the tide is turning. Some are beginning to understand the object aimed at in the change; and "the last report read in Yoruba at a public anniversary meeting at the Breadfruit schoolroom was listened to with more respect and appreciation than had been or could have been the case before." The Committee entirely sympathize with Mr. Johnson's purpose. They know well that in a newly-civilized community the desire for what is showy and will minister to vanity is sure to be strong, and that a great cry for independence may be accompanied by little inclination to bear the responsibilities of independence. Race-feeling is much manifested at Lagos, despite the fashionable use of the English language. But if the Native Church of Lagos is to be a real power, it must cultivate relations with its sister churches, scattered and feeble, on the mainland; it must show its ability to walk alone by going after the lost sheep of its own people; it must take as its motto St. Paul's pregnant words, "Knowledge puffeth up; but love buildeth up."

Lagos Church Missions.

A society has lately been formed called "The Lagos Church Missions," similar to the one at Sierra Leone; and the missionary contributions of the congregations, which had before come home to the Parent Society, will now be expended on the Native Church's own evangelistic efforts. The first public meetings, adult and juvenile, were held in Breadfruit schoolroom on December 6th. Bishop Crowther presided, and the Rev. James Johnson read the report, which announced that 138*l.* had been already raised. The Committee heartily wish this new effort God speed.

Ebute Meta and Otta remain under the pastoral care of the Rev. J. White; but to the latter place has lately been appointed one of the two Natives ordained on Dec. 24, the Rev. E. Buko. The Rev. D. Coker of Badagry reports the baptism of five adults in the year; but they were catechumens of long standing. Leke, the Rev. A. Mann writes, "is just now much reduced, but it supports well the three places of worship."

At Ode Ondo, the centre of the outlying Ondo Mission far to the East, the Rev. C. Phillips continues testifying "repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ." He has seventy-three Christian adherents, but only sixteen of these have yet been baptized, the rest being still under preliminary instruction. Many others, though without the courage to join the little community, are plainly influenced by the teaching of the missionary. Three men lately brought their ifas (palm-nuts representing Ifa, the god of fortune) to Mr. Phillips in token of their renunciation of heathenism, but at present they go no further. The problem which perplexes so many Missions presents itself at Ode Ondo, how to distinguish between customs that are idolatrous and those that are only national peculiarities; that is to say, what Christian converts must be expected to give up, and what may be rightly tolerated, even if it can scarcely be encouraged. "It often taxes my mind," says Mr. Phillips, "to discriminate between them. I feel that Christianity imposes upon her converts no obligation to forego customs which are purely national." Concerning slavery and polygamy he writes:—

How to deal with national customs.

> The system of slavery causes some difficulty. We find it a delicate matter to deal with it in our converts, for fear of a complication with the Ondo authorities. But in our sermons and at our class-meetings we constantly show them the evil of the system, and we require from them that they shall not trade in slaves. But we have refrained from the subject of the keeping of slaves in their houses, only we admonish them to treat their slaves with kindness, "knowing that they also have a Master in heaven."

The system of polygamy is also retarding our progress as a Christian community. The men have found it very difficult to break themselves from the family ties they had made before their conversion. The women also found it difficult to unite obedience to their heathen husbands with loyalty to Christ. There are four women in our congregation who, though otherwise fitted for baptism, could not come forward. Three of them could read the Yoruba Scriptures. They all attend the services regularly and take part in the church duties. One is so fond of her books that she is often found reading them by herself, or trying to acquaint her heathen friends or neighbours with what she learns from them. May the Good Shepherd "strengthen in them the things which remain!"

Here the experience of Mr. Coker of Badagry may be noted. A large number of heathen, semi-heathen, and semi-Christian polygamists came to his half-yearly school examination. "I catechized the children on the Old Testament. 'How many wives had Adam?' 'One.' 'How many had Noah?' 'One.' Thus it was shown that the whole world is the offspring of monogamy, and that polygamy was not instituted by God."

Human sacrifices at Ode Ondo.

Reverting to Ode Ondo, the Committee regret to hear that the treaty concluded with the Ondo people by the Governor of Lagos two years ago, for the abolition of human sacrifices (see Annual Report, 1880-81, p. 19) has been utterly set at nought. The king wrote to the governor that he and his chief "had not been able to overcome their apprehensions as to what would result from the abolition of the human sacrifices to Esu and Oramafe, two deities dreaded from time immemorial;" and early in September last, six men and four women were massacred at the funeral of a principal chief. The influence of the Mission is felt, nevertheless. "A respectable minority" of the people now desire that these horrors should cease, and the third chief in rank in the country lately denounced them in public council as "an offence to the Almighty Creator."

INTERIOR MISSION: ABEOKUTA AND IBADAN.

The letters of the Rev. V. Faulkner, who has been in charge at ABEOKUTA, tell of many troubles and anxieties connected with the subjects already noticed under the head of Ode Ondo, slavery and polygamy; and the encouraging tone of his report last year has not been maintained. The conflict with the evils besetting Yoruba Christianity will, the Committee perceive, be prolonged and arduous, but if those who contend for truth and right flinch not, and continue "watching unto prayer," the issue cannot be doubtful. One of the most faithful and influential, however, has been called to his heavenly rest during the year.

Death of Okenla, the Christian Balogun.

The well-known Christian Balogun, or war-chief, John Okenla, the conqueror of the Dahomian assailants in 1875, died on September 7th. Mr. Faulkner thus writes of him :—

> He was an old man of between seventy and eighty years of age, but very active. He was one of the earliest Christians baptized in this country, and for over seventy years has held the post of Christian Balogun. He was also the founder of the Christian village of Shuren, between Abeokuta and Otta. About a fortnight before his death, being away from home, he walked about twenty-five miles on Saturday, slept on the road, and early on Sunday walked another ten miles or so to be in time for morning service. He arrived at 9.15, and was in his place in church by 10.30, remaining during the whole service, and afterwards for Sacrament, also attending the afternoon service. On Monday, September 4th, we held our Harvest Thanksgiving Service, at which he was present and engaged in prayer, and also persisted in carrying his own offering (a bag of twenty thousand cowries) into the church and laying it down in front of the Communion rails. He died on the Thursday following, after only two hours' illness. The funeral took place on Saturday, September 9th. At the grave our Native choir sang a poem composed by some of their number. It was a picture I shall never forget. Many strong men were holding their guns with one hand, and with the other wiping the tears from their eyes.

The death is also reported of William Goodwill, an aged Native agent, whose name will be remembered by readers of the early history of the Yoruba Mission forty years ago. The Rev. W. Moore, Native pastor of the Ikija township, writes, "He died full of joy and peace in believing in the Lord Jesus as the Lamb of God."

The Abeokuta statistics show much the same figures as last year, except that the baptized Christians appear considerably more, and the unbaptized considerably less, the difference being greater than the recorded baptisms of 64 adults and 79 children would account for. The return gives, baptized, 2252; catechumens, 151; total adherents, 2403. The congregations contributed no less than 409*l.* for religious objects during the year. Abeokuta has received an additional Native pastor by the ordination (as before mentioned) of Mr. Samuel Doherty, who has been for some years an active evangelist. He has charge of the Igbore congregation.

No report has been received from IBADAN, which is still wholly isolated by the unhappy war that desolates the land. The only event to record in connexion with this station is a sad one—the destruction by fire, on March 31st, 1882, of the Mission-house, so long the abode of Mr. and Mrs. Hinderer. The Rev. D. Olubi, the Native pastor, who occupied it, lost everything—personal effects, books, and papers, and the church registers. The Committee trust that the Church of living souls in Ibadan is like the bush at Horeb, unconsumed in the midst of the fire of many and sore trials, preserved by the presence of its Lord in the hearts of His people.

Ordination of Rev. T. Phillips by Bishop Crowther.

Bishop Crowther left England for the Niger in October. One of the most interesting incidents of his visit to this country was the solemn service at St. Paul's, Onslow Square, on June 29th, when he admitted to priests' orders the Rev. Thomas Phillips, B.A. of Trinity College, Dublin, and of the Church Missionary College, the newly appointed English Secretary of the Niger Mission. This was the first instance of a white clergyman being ordained by a black Bishop; and the Committee heartily re-echo the words of their friend the Rev. W. N. Ripley of Norwich, in the ordination sermon,* "How this sight makes us realize our union in Christ Jesus! —that as there is one God, Who has made of one blood all nations of the earth, and one Mediator between God and man, the Man Christ Jesus, who gave Himself a ransom for all, for that all have sinned,—so now, that in Him there is neither black nor white, bond nor free, but all one in Christ." They earnestly trust that this oneness may be fostered on the Niger, notwithstanding natural race feelings; and that Englishman and African may advance up the great waterway of West Central Africa side by side, with no rivalry but as to how much each can do for the extension of their common Master's Kingdom.

Mr. Phillips reached Lagos on August 22nd, and having taken over the secretarial accounts, &c., from Mr. Gollmer, who was acting pro tem., proceeded to the Niger in the Henry Venn, and ascended the river to Lokoja. Since then he has been mainly occupied at Brass and other places in the Delta. The Committee have followed him in his peculiarly difficult post with special sympathy and intercession, and prayed that he might be made a great blessing to the Niger Mission.*

Full and interesting reports of the various stations have been received from the African Archdeacons, Henry Johnson and Dandeson Crowther. But before noticing them further, it is necessary to refer to the most painful event in the history of the Niger Mission from its commencement, the trial on a charge of murder of two Native ex-agents of the Society, and their sentence by the Court at Sierra Leone to long terms of penal servitude, on their being found guilty of manslaughter. It was in 1877 that the cruel treatment of a girl by these two unhappy men issued in her death. One of them was at the time a schoolmaster at Onitsha, in the employment of the Mission; the other had been dismissed by Bishop Crowther for misconduct in 1875, but had subsequently been re-engaged as a sort of clerk and storekeeper. There is reason to fear that cruelty and licence are by no means uncommon on the Niger, not only, as might of course be expected, among the heathen natives of the country, but also among the numerous traders and others from the Christianized districts of Sierra Leone, the Gold Coast, &c., many of whom are in Africa what the rougher type of backwoodsman is in America and Australia. The perseverance of the Government, after the matter had been brought to their notice by the Society's missionaries, in bringing these two men to trial despite many difficulties, will, the Committee hope, do something to spread a wholesome fear of British justice; and painful as it is that the example should have been made in the case of those who had been associated, in however subordinate a capacity, with missionary work, this only illustrates afresh the just law of Divine providence that "judgment must begin at the house of God." The Committee have no fear that the eagerness of certain newspapers, which never notice missionary successes, to make capital out of the affair, will do any real injury to the cause of Missions. They will only remark, first, that the Christianity of England has little right to cast stones at the Christianity of Africa; and secondly, that the crime which has now met its just punishment occurred before the Henry Venn steamer went out and facilitated supervision of the isolated upper stations; before the appointment of the two Archdeacons; before the schemes for the improved administration and development of the Mission; before the remarkable movement towards Christianity at Brass and Bonny, which has excited so much interest in the last two or three years. Nothing, therefore, that has been said of late, in the Society's publications and elsewhere, regarding the progress of evangelization on the Niger is affected by the recent trial. The sorrow which all must feel at the wickedness of the convicted men, and of any others who may have known the case and not reported it, should not divert attention from the real work which God is doing, with very imperfect instruments, at various places on the Niger.

Defence of the Society in the House of Lords.

The Committee must here express their gratitude to his Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury, to the Right Hon. the President, and especially to the Right Hon. Earl Cairns, for their powerful defence of the Society in the House of Lords on April 12th.* They feel sure that the result of the debate on that occasion can only be increased confidence in the Society on the part of all who are willing to judge the matter fairly.

STATIONS IN THE DELTA.

The Delta of the Niger is the district under the superintendence of Archdeacon D. C. Crowther. Of the stations of Akassa and New Calabar there is little to say. The former continues unfruitful; and at the latter the work has been almost at a standstill, owing to the war between the chiefs of the place and those of Bonny. Upon Bonny itself, the only result of this war seems to have been a fine of 2000*l.* in puncheons of oil, inflicted upon it, as the aggressor, by the English Consul, to whose arbitration the quarrel was referred. On the Mission its effect was rather to exhibit the influence of Christianity. The armistice which led to peace was agreed to at Archdeacon Crowther's request; funds were collected by the Church to support the families of such of the Christians as were sent with the forces engaged with Service of thanksgiving for peace at Bonny.

New Calabar, an act which called forth the commendation of the chiefs; and after peace was proclaimed, a Thanksgiving Service was held in St. Stephen's Church, which was attended by no less than 766 persons, including several principal men of Bonny, some of whom appeared at a Christian service for the first time.

Another striking illustration of the position of Christianity in this strange, half-barbarous, but commercially prosperous place is the adoption, on two occasions, of a public ceremony of prayer and praise at the laying of the foundation, and again at the completion, of a chief's private house. Archdeacon Crowther writes:—

> We have been asked to lay the foundations of two houses with prayer, during the year, at Bonny town. The first was that of Chief Squiss Banigo, which was laid in the presence of 102 persons, including the chief, on the 6th January, by the Bishop, at the time when the agitation against Christianity was in its highest stage. The other, that of Theodore Pepple, son of late Chief Frederick Pepple, at King George's quarters, was laid on the 16th November, in the presence of about fifty persons. The former, a thorough English storied house, highly finished with expensive furniture and carpets, was opened by me with praise and prayer at the invitation of the chief on the 31st of October, in the presence of about sixty persons, among whom were King George Pepple, three European supercargoes, and three ladies.

Influence of the Sailors' Church at Bonny.

There are two churches at Bonny, St. Stephen's and St. Clement's. The latter is for the shipping population, European and African, and the services are in English. The existence of this church has not been without its influence upon the Native population. It corrects the idea that Christianity is for the black man only, and that the white man needs no religion. Bishop, clergy, and lay teachers on the Niger being all Negroes, and many of the European traders and sailors not appearing in any way identified with the Mission, and rarely attending public worship, there has sometimes been only too much ground for this strange notion; and when Mr. Ashcroft visited the river in 1877, and joined in some prayer-meetings, no little surprise was manifested at the sight of "an Englishman singing hymns!" At Bonny no such mistake can now be made, St. Clement's being well attended, and the supercargoes, with Captain Boler at their head, taking a kindly interest in the work generally. The present general agent of the African Steam-ship Company has forbidden all Sunday work in the hulks on the river, and allows the clerks, carpenters, and coopers (mostly English-speaking negroes) to attend the services. St. Clement's congregation, therefore, as the Archdeacon expresses it, "is in itself a sermon every Sunday" to the surrounding Native population.

Church services and classes at Bonny.

St. Stephen's is the church for the Native converts of Bonny. The services have been conducted by the Archdeacon and the Rev. J. Boyle, chiefly in the Ibo language. No opposition or difficulty has lately occurred, and the congregations have continued to grow. "The church, enlarged three times, and which can bear no more stretching, had to contain, Sunday after Sunday, a congregation of 1000 to 1200 on more than six occasions, the average being 900." Besides the church services, three weekly classes have been held, one for communicants, with 102 members, another for candidates for confirmation, with 252 members, and a third for catechumens under instruction for baptism, in which are enrolled no less than 870 persons. The converts are taught also in the Sunday-schools, which are very large, consisting chiefly of adults. Some of the most promising young men have been pressed into service as teachers, and for them Mr. Boyle has begun a teachers' meeting, which he hopes to develop into a Young Men's Christian Association. The day-schools for boys and girls are much smaller, the value of education not being yet understood by many; and though regular school fees are got from most of the 53 boys, the 49 girls have to be taken free to induce their parents to send them. It is to be hoped that the efforts of Mrs. D. Crowther and the wives of the other agents in school work will prove of real advantage. The proposed Boarding-school, which it is hoped will in time produce teachers for the Mission, is not yet properly started; but two leading chiefs have already given their sons for it. The Bonny converts are being trained to give of their substance to God's service, and in the last two years have contributed 149*l.*, the greater part of it in manillas. Instances are also given of thankofferings for recovery from sickness and other special mercies.

Out-stations around Bonny.

Besides these two churches, there are smaller congregations at outlying places. At King George Pepple's plantation, "two hours' pull" from St. Stephen's station, a chapel has been built by him for his dependents there, in which he himself gives addresses whenever he is there on Sundays. When Archdeacon Crowther has occasionally ministered there, he has never found the congregation below 90. At Peterside, opposite Bonny, a chapel has been built within the last few months by three other chiefs. Here, too, from 70 to 100 persons attend the services. The same three chiefs have also engaged a schoolmaster at their own expense, and opened a boys' school. At Juju Town the chief was still hesitating, but 115 persons attended a service held by the Archdeacon in his house; and pending his decision about a chapel for them, thirty went by water every Sunday to St. Stephen's, headed by a sub-chief. At the interesting new station of OKRIKA, thirty miles up one of the creeks, which has been noticed in the last two Annual Reports, the Sunday services, taken by volunteers, have been attended by 400 to 500 souls.

Since the foregoing was in type, political difficulties have arisen at Bonny, with the nature of which the Committee are imperfectly acquainted, but which certainly seem unfavourable to the progress of the Mission.

Spread of Christianity in the Brass District.

The two stations on the Brass river, Tuwon and Nembe, present much the same features of encouragement and of solicitude as Bonny. Tuwon is the old Brass station, with a church called St. Barnabas'. Archdeacon Crowther writes, "There is not a household whose chief is not a Christian or church adherent. Sacrifices and jujus are things now not known in the town: Christian worship has taken their place." There are 933 baptized Christians, of whom 266 are communicants; and the catechumens number 255. The services are in the Brass dialect of the Idzo language, into which nearly the whole Prayer-book has been translated. At Nembe, the Rev. J. D. Garrick, one of the men ordained by Bishop Crowther shortly before his recent visit to England, is stationed. This place has only lately been occupied by a mission-agent: the movement towards Christianity, like that at Okrika, is purely indigenous; and its growth is remarkable. When Archdeacon Crowther visited it in August, the congregation on the Sunday numbered 820 in the morning, and 546 in the afternoon. There are 407 baptized Christians, of whom 116 are communicants; and the class of catechumens has a roll also of just 407 names. Two chiefs and several sub-chiefs belong to this class. During the year, 107 adults and 67 children were baptized, "some of the former having been persecutors of Christians in their own day, doing harm to the flock of Christ; but having obtained mercy, are now praising the Lord."

Church services and classes at Nembe.

It thus appears that about four thousand persons are making some profession of Christianity in the Delta districts. The majority, no doubt, have little knowledge of divine truth, and especially little conception of the purity and holiness of the true Christian life. But they have at least come under religious instruction, and the responsibility of their teachers is indeed a heavy one. It has become one of the Society's most solemn duties to provide agents for the Niger Mission who shall commend the Gospel by their consistent lives and holy conversation as much as by their regular teaching; and the Committee fervently pray that the Lord Himself will "separate" for this service men after His own heart from Sierra Leone and Lagos, as well as from the infant Churches of the Delta themselves. Meanwhile they do praise Him for all the truly wonderful work by which He has shown that the imperfections and inconsistencies of His own professed servants shall not cause His word to return unto Him void; and they commend these rapidly growing Christian communities to the special and unceasing prayers of all the Society's friends.

MIDDLE AND UPPER STATIONS.

All the stations above the Delta are comprised in the Archdeaconry of the Upper Niger, and are under the superintendence of Archdeacon Henry Johnson. His report of the year is a most interesting document.

Beginning at the south end of the Archdeaconry, the first stations are OSAMARE and ALENSO. Then comes ONITSHA, and nearly opposite to it, across the river, ASABA. At the confluence of the Kworra and the Binue are LOKOJA and GBEBE; and higher up the former stream, 320 miles from the sea, is KIPO HILL. To work these seven stations there are four clergymen besides the Archdeacon, and six or seven lay teachers, all of them, of course, being Africans. Under the present vigorous administration, however, the work is being so developed that a considerable increase in the staff must be looked for. May it please God to raise up the right men!

Striking tokens of God's favour at Onitsha.

ONITSHA, which has always been specially remembered as the oldest station on the Niger, has now a painful interest as the scene, six years ago, of the lamentable crime already referred to. And the Committee are deeply sensible of the mercy of God in making it since then a field for very signal manifestations of the power of the Divine word. In the last Annual Report a letter from Archdeacon Johnson was printed, describing a remarkable revival of aggressive Christianity at this place. He now reports some not less remarkable struggles with the opposing influences of heathenism. The first result of the awakened interest gave him a congregation of 1100 hearers on Christmas Day, 1881.

The next result was, as might be expected, a revival of heathen energy. Superstitious customs were observed with fresh zeal; the aid of the spirits of the dead was invoked; special sacrifices were offered; and the people were forbidden to attend the Christian services. Nevertheless, no less than 136 persons enrolled themselves as converts from idolatry and members of the class of catechumens; and of these 43 have since been baptized. These have given good evidence of being subjects of Divine grace. Mr. Johnson mentions their habits of prayer:—

New converts.

> Two or three will enter the church together on their way to the market; one will lead the devotions of the rest, and conclude with the Lord's Prayer and Benediction. There is nothing pharisaic in this practice, as frequently no one is near to see or hear them. I have found the children imitating the habit. To direct and encourage it, I preached on Luke xviii., when I dwelt on the two parables, the one inculcating importunity and frequency in prayer, the other showing what constitutes true and acceptable prayer.

Victories over heathen customs.

The conflict with heathen customs has been marked by some signal successes. A neighbouring chief, Omodi, king of Umasere and Iyawo, died during the year. He had been very regular at church, despite the jeers of the king of Onitsha, and although he had not openly professed himself a Christian, he directed on his death-bed that no human sacrifices be offered at his grave. Such an omission would be an unprecedented disgrace; and his nephew determined to disregard the injunction. The catechist in charge of the mission earnestly protested, and at length succeeded in averting the massacre by obtaining for the nephew the gift of a cow and a keg of powder from Captain D. McIntosh, of the United African Company, whose unfailing kindness in this and every other matter the Archdeacon gratefully acknowledges, and who wrote, "Stop the sacrifice by all means: I enclose an order on the Factory for whatever you may require out of my private purse. A few pounds must not be grudged when a human life is at stake." On another occasion ten women, eight of them converts, were rescued from a violent death to which a peculiar superstition of the country had doomed them. At length, in October last, the king of Onitsha himself, on the occasion of an annual royal festival, unexpectedly and to the astonishment of all made a proclamation that the whole town was in future to attend church, and that any who could not attend were to remain at home, and not go to farm or market on Sunday; and ever since a public service has been held at his own court, and he and all his dependents have assembled to hear the word of Royal edict in favour of Christianity.

God. "I do not pretend," writes the Archdeacon, "to know the motives by which he is actuated. I cannot say he seems deeply impressed by the truths of the Gospel. But the fact remains."

Still more interesting, if possible, is the account of a new opening at Obotsi, a town five or six miles off. This must be given in Mr. Johnson's own words :— Inviting opening at Obotsi.

In the month of March an attempt was made by some of our leading members to visit the cannibal tribes of that town, to seek for opportunities of preaching to them the good news of salvation. The interest grew. On Easter Day, fifteen of our communicants went over to tell the story of the Resurrection. At the house of a chief they addressed 142 persons; then they met another group, consisting of 169 persons, to whom also they repeated the story. Another chief invited them; but before they could reach his house, he had come out with his followers to the number of 206: those also heard the message. No fewer than 517 persons heard that day the sweet story of the Gospel from the lips of their own countrymen, many of them for the first time in their lives. The visits assuming proportions not before anticipated, the evangelists were organized into bands and relays, so as to insure regularity, and in order to prevent any weariness on their part.

On the 12th November I visited the town myself. I was very favourably impressed by all I saw. Though the inhabitants enjoy the unenviable reputation of being man-eaters, yet everything about their town shows a love of neatness and order which one does not meet with at Onitsha. I preached before one of the kings (there are three or four), when there was a congregation of 110 people. I made them repeat in their own tongue, sentence by sentence, the Lord's Prayer, and then addressed them on the subject of God's love to sinners. After I had finished, the king requested us to move on to where there was to be a large gathering, consisting of all the chiefs, and an immense multitude of the townspeople. Accordingly we went, and my heart did leap for joy, on beholding the glorious scene which unfolded itself before my eyes. The kings and chiefs sat in a semi-circular form, each one's spear being stuck in the ground just in front of him. On their right, but at a respectable distance, were seated the titled women. The favourite servants of the chiefs were all ranged behind their masters, and the dense mass of common humanity occupied the space in front of the arena. I addressed them on the Parable of the Prodigal Son, catechizing as I went on. . . . . Remarkable reception at Obotsi.

Of those who accompanied me, one, who is a man universally respected by his countrymen, dwelt on the desirability of Obotsi endeavouring to imitate Onitsha, by receiving the Gospel, and having a place of worship for themselves. I could not quite follow him, but I could perceive the excellent impression which his words made on the people. In fact, I was that day particularly struck with the peculiar force and beauty of Native eloquence. The people listened well enough while I was being translated; but it was nothing to be compared with the fixed gaze which they directed to those who were speaking directly to their hearts

There could not have been less than 1500 people assembled together on that occasion. The Christian women who accompanied me acted the part of churchwardens,—setting people to proper places, directing them when they should kneel, and checking anything like misbehaviour on the part of both men and women. It was a memorable day to us all, and will not be easily forgotten.

Have we not a clear call to occupy Obotsi? I think so. The members of the Onitsha Church are still going over on Sundays. I am very anxious for the first step to be taken in the advance to the interior, and it seems to me, viewing all the circumstances in connexion with the regular visits to Obotsi, that the Lord is plainly saying to us—"Go forward."

Converts at Asaba;

At ASABA, the immolation of human beings at funerals continues without check; and other obstacles and difficulties beset the work. Nevertheless, three converts were baptized during the year. One of them is described by Archdeacon Johnson as a man of "transparent simplicity," whose own account of his conversion was this:—"I was wandering, and the Lord put a hook to my ears and drew me back." Another was about to qualify himself for a petty kingship by killing a man, when his young daughter died, notwithstanding assurances by the heathen priests to the contrary, and he thereupon made up his mind to attend church and learn to worship the Christian's God instead.

GBEBE was one of the earliest stations occupied on the Niger, and here the first baptisms took place in 1862; but it was given up when the town was destroyed in a civil war. Three years ago it was reoccupied by a lay evangelist, Mr. P. J. Williams; and Archdeacon Johnson, in a letter received just too late for last Annual Report, described the baptism of five adult converts on Feb. 19th last year. One was a princess, and another her maid, who received the names of Sarah and Hagar. The former, whose native name is Yino, had to undergo much opposition from her family, which she bore meekly. "Hagar" is now reported on by the Archdeacon as "a bright star in the Gbebe Church. Not only when at home, but also when away on trading tours, she used to let her light shine, and was noticed even by the heathens as an exemplary Christian."

LOKOJA is a station which has given the missionaries anxiety. There are some eighty professing Christians, but their morale is low. The Archdeacon, however, has energetically set himself to rebuke sin, and to stir up to repentance and to prayer for Divine grace. He found that special services in Passion Week last year appeared to have a reviving influence; and on Easter Day 200 were present, including inquirers. He then divided the congregation into small classes, each with a leader, and instituted prayer-meetings; and he is now able to report some improvement in their religious habits, and he trusts also in their spiritual condition. Some evangelistic work, too, has been done.

Twenty towns and villages have been visited and the gospel preached in them.

KIPO HILL is the most advanced station geographically, and is in the Mohammedan kingdom of Nupe. The king of Nupe, Umoru, who had often received Bishop Crowther cordially at his capital, Bida, died in June; and it is doubtful what toleration will be granted to the Mission by his successor, Maliki. The station has not hitherto been a fruitful one; but it is of great importance as an outpost in the heart of Mohammedan Africa, and it is close to a great highway of trade. Death of the king of Nupe.

Archdeacon Johnson is making active preparations for opening the proposed Preparandi Class and Boarding-school. For the former, six young men at Onitsha are already being prepared by a Fourah Bay graduate of Durham University, who has been engaged for the purpose. In translational work the Archdeacon and his helpers have been busy. He has sent home both Igbira and Nupe reading-books and catechisms for printing, and the Four Gospels and Prayer Book in Nupe are in preparation. New Preparandi Class.

This is but an inadequate summary of the work done on the Upper Niger, and done in the teeth of many difficulties besides those of heathenism. Mr. Johnson dwells upon the immoral lives of many of the immigrants engaged in trade, and the discredit thus brought on the Christianity they so unworthily profess. "The most enlightened Christian," he says, "residing in the Niger, will have much to do to keep the flame of religion burning bright in his own soul; and how then can young and uninstructed converts resist influences so subtle and so evil from those whom they regard as their superiors?" The Niger exhibits the vice of Corinth without its refinement; and the solemn exhortations of St. Paul to the Corinthians are needed at Onitsha and Lokoja—"Ye are not your own, for ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are His." Low morale on the Niger.

EAST AFRICA MISSION.

Causes of thankfulness in East Africa.

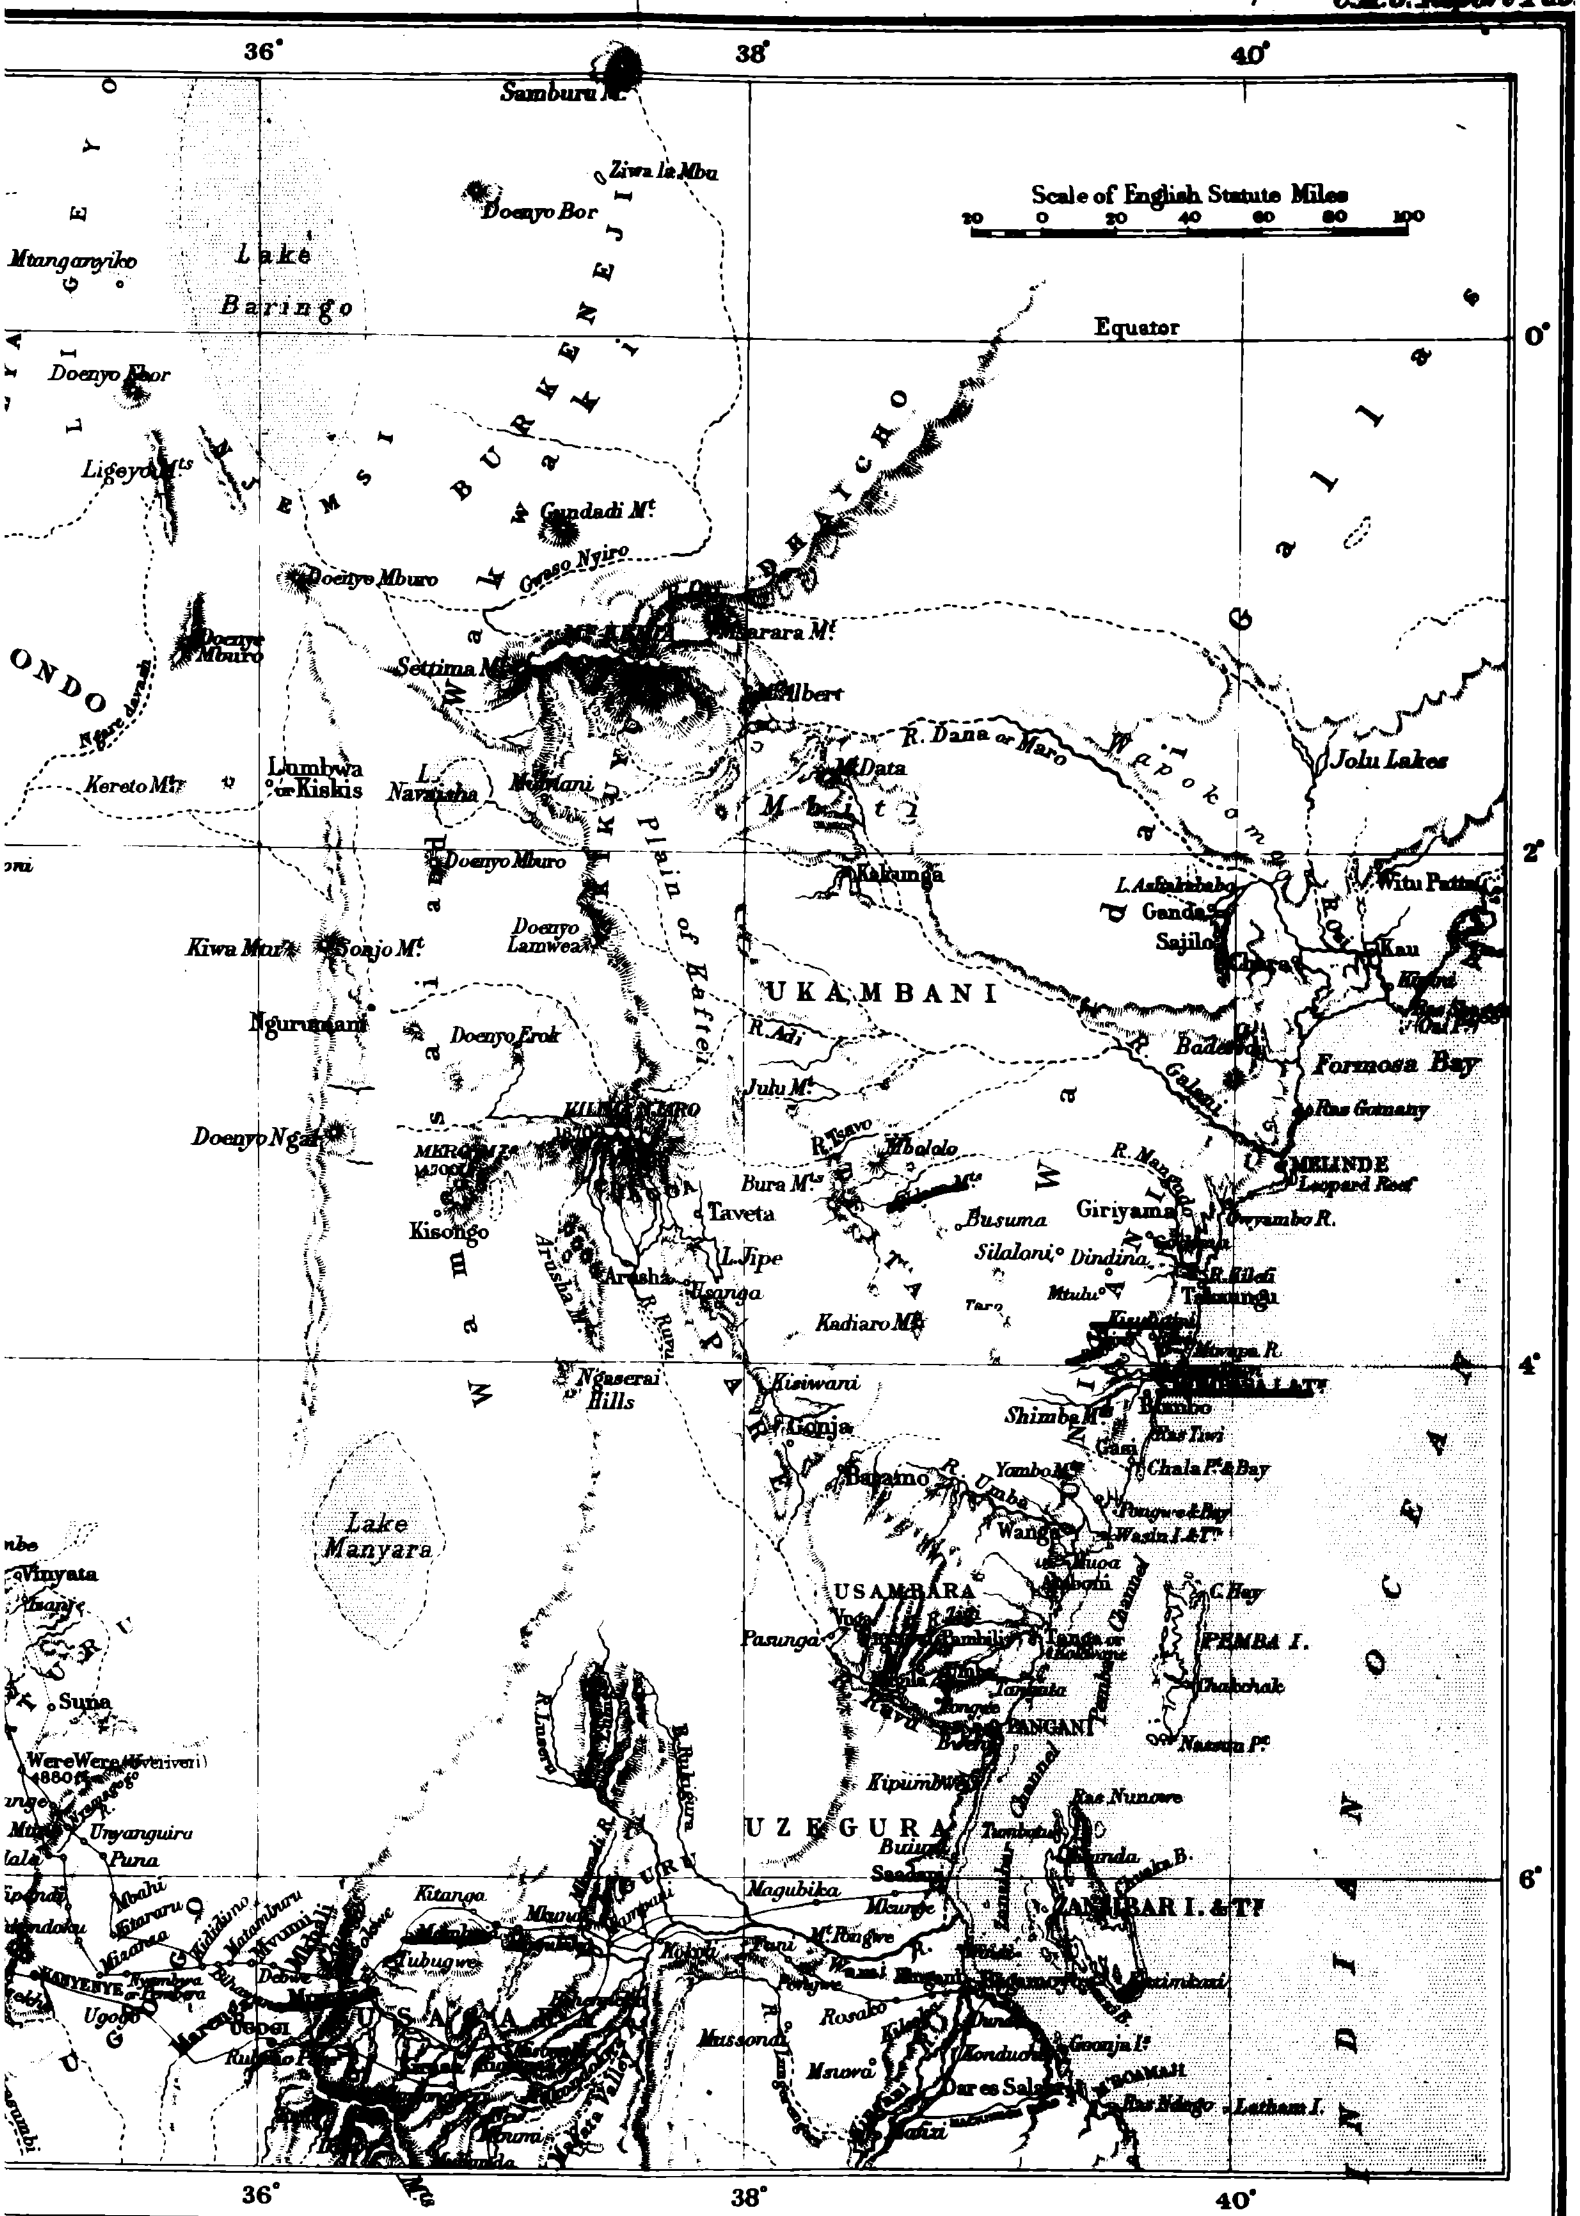

THE Committee unfeignedly thank God for a year of quiet and uneventful progress in the East Africa Mission. Causes of anxiety, indeed, there have been; but, in the gracious providence of God, even these have worked together for good. Charges brought against the Mission by the Wali of Mombasa only resulted in its complete acquittal by the Sultan of Zanzibar, who wrote to the Society a letter of confidence and friendship. The fighting between the Sultan's troops and the rebel chief Mbaruk placed the settlements, which lay, as it were, between two fires and were suspected on both sides of sympathy with the enemy, in serious danger for a time; but the only result was to illustrate the faithfulness and discretion of the leading Native agents, especially one in temporary charge of Rabai, the station most in peril. The return home of the senior missionaries left the whole Mission in charge of younger men; yet not only have they been able to report peace and progress at the settled stations, the good conduct of the liberated slaves generally, and no less than seventy-one adult baptisms, but the long-projected move forward has been made into the interior, and a new station has at last been established in the Teita country. The health of the missionaries has been providentially sustained—a fact calling for the more thankfulness in the review of a year saddened by the loss of valuable men belonging to other Missions.

The late Bishop Steere.

The Committee would especially notice with deep regret the deaths of Bishop Steere, of the Universities' Mission, and Dr. Southon, of the London Missionary Society. To the lamented Bishop the Church Missionary Society owes a heavy debt of gratitude, both for his constant personal kindness to its agents passing through Zanzibar, and for his important works in the Swahili language, which are largely used at all its stations. Dr. Southon also had given frequent and unstinted aid to the missionaries in Unyamuezi.

The Rev. W. S. Price, whose most important services during his temporary mission to East Africa the Committee gratefully acknowledge, returned to England in July. He has presented a valuable report on the position and prospects of the Mission, which will be most useful to the Committee in forming and carrying out their plans for its development. He especially urges that Frere Town be made the permanent base for all the Society's work on the coast and in the Interior. To this end a Mission steamer is essential, to put the Settlement in regular communication with Zanzibar and with the starting-points on the mainland of the caravan routes to Mpwapwa and beyond. On this account as well as others, the Committee rejoice to be able, after many delays, to report the completion, and despatch to Africa, of the memorial steamer Henry Wright. Designed by the engineers, Messrs. John Thompson and Son, and built by Messrs. Green, of Blackwall, under their superintendence, she seems admirably fitted for the service marked out for her. The Memorial Fund, contributed in sums large and small from all parts of the country, and indeed of the world, exceeded 5000*l.*; and the Committee's grant of 1000*l.* has been available towards the expense (about 1250*l.) of placing the steamer, fully fitted, on the East African coast. She was launched on March 10th, the ceremony of naming her being performed by the eldest daughter of the beloved friend whose memory she perpetuates. She sailed on May 5th, and arrived at Port Said on May 28th, having proved herself in the Bay of Biscay an admirable sea-boat. The Committee fervently hope that her future career may fulfil the purposes indicated by Sir John Kennaway in his touchingly appropriate speech on the occasion of the launch. "Henry Wright," he said, "would not have wished for his memorial an accumulation of hoarded treasure, but something which in its entirety should be giving effect and impetus to the carrying on of the work to which he gave his life. That form of beauty about to spring into life which we see before us to-day would, we hope, best have satisfied his wishes and his prayers as a means to the great end that Africa may be won for Christ."

The Henry Wright steamer.

Shortly before Mr. Price left the coast, the serious difficulties already alluded to arose with the Arab rulers. The Wali of Mombasa, who has all along been a very doubtful friend of the Mission, suddenly blockaded Frere Town by stopping the ferry that connects it with the town of Mombasa, and stationing soldiers to see that no one crossed. It was supposed that his anger was aroused by an attempt made just before, which will be noticed presently, to establish an out-station in the Shimba country; but there were probably other reasons, and at all events a general hostility to a Mission which is a standing protest against slavery. A few days after, a dhow from Zanzibar brought a letter from the Sultan complaining that Mr. Price had closed the ferry, and thereby caused great inconvenience to his subjects!—expressing reluctance to report him to the British Government, but fearing he would be compelled to do so, &c. After the failure of several attempts to get away from Frere Town, owing to the obstacles thrown in the way by the Wali, the Sultan's own steamer unexpectedly appeared, to take both Mr. Price and the Wali to Zanzibar. Once face to face with his Highness, and with Colonel Miles, the British agent, at his side, Mr. Price had little difficulty in making the truth clear;* and the affair ended with the Sultan ordering the Wali to apologize, and writing the following letter to the Society:—

Letter from the Sultan.

From Barghas Bin Saeed
To the Committee, Church Missionary Society.
Zanzibar, 6 Shaaban, 1299. (23 June, 1882.)

As our friend Mr. Salter Price is proceeding to England, we take the opportunity to write and offer you our salutations, to inquire respecting your welfare, and to assure you of our increasing friendship and regard for you. Nothing has occurred in these parts worthy of mention except what is good and pleasing, and should you require aught of us, the sign is with you, and salaam.

Perils in war-time at Rabai.

The other external difficulty was caused by a raid of the insurgent chieftain Mbaruk, who has for some years defied the Sultan's authority, but who in July last, emerging from his retreat in the interior, threatened Mombasa with a considerable force. He himself visited Rabai with 250 men, to the great alarm of the people, but professed himself friendly. This friendliness, however, was a doubtful advantage, as the Sultan's troops supposed the Christians to be siding with him; and the Wali, with 1500 men, appeared at the station. William Jones, the African catechist (one of the men known as "Bombays," educated twenty years ago by Mr. Price at Nasik), was in charge in the absence of any European missionary, Mr. Binns having had to move to Frere Town; and he seems to have been graciously guided to act with very great courage and discretion. "I got all my people," he writes, "to sit down in our courtyard, while others were patrolling the place with walking-sticks in their hands instead of arms; and we were never thought more fools than on that day;" and after describing how the contending forces agreed to respect the neutrality of the settlement, he concludes, "It is wonderful how our Heavenly Father, through His infinite mercy and goodness, has preserved us from all dangers.'"

The Committee do indeed thank God for the happy deliverance of the Mission from both these dangers. And they would take this opportunity of again acknowledging the indebtedness of the Society to the British authorities, consular and naval, on the coast, one of whom, Mr. F. Holmwood, the Consul, attended a Committee meeting in July last, and expressed his hearty interest in the Society's work.

The Rev. A. Menzies, whose merciful recovery from dangerous illness was mentioned in last year's Report, has also returned to England, after three years' earnest labours at Frere Town. The Rev. H. K. Binns, so long connected with Rabai, is now in charge of Frere Town as senior missionary; and Mr. H. W. Lane, who went out in May, is Lay Superintendent of the settlement. The Rev. W. E. Taylor has continued to conduct the educational and medical departments. The Rev. A. D. Shaw, who also sailed in May, has taken charge of Rabai. The Committee have also sent out a young lay missionary, Mr. J. A. Wray, on the Extension Fund, who has gone forward into the interior, and has begun a station in the Teita country.

Progress at Frere Town.

The Annual Letters from these brethren have given the Committee great satisfaction. Mr. Binns reports that at FRERE TOWN there are 264 souls, mostly liberated slaves; of whom 157 are baptized, 21 adults and 24 children having been received into the visible Church during the year. There are 33 communicants, who appear to be all "Bombay Africans"—a class of the community to whom the settlement owes much, as almost all the skilled work has been done by them, and the various offices of trust filled by them. A large class of candidates for confirmation, liberated slaves, await the visit of a Bishop. "Many show by their walk and conversation that they are daily endeavouring, by God's grace, to lead holy lives; but this," he naturally adds, "cannot be said of all." The people have contributed in the year 57 dollars to the Native Pastorate Fund, "exclusive of offertory and book money." Mr. Taylor reports well of the day-schools, with their 88 children. Of the Sunday-school and prayer-meetings he writes,—

> Mr. Lane has infused new vigour into the Sunday-school, he being a practised superintendent, and it is now in a truly flourishing condition. The school has always been a favourite with the children, but it is now so more than ever. Some of our scholars have lately given us a practical proof of their love for the Sunday-school, in continuing their attendance after their marriage and settlement in life, it not having been the custom previously.

A prayer-meeting, open to all boys in the settlement, is held every night in the week at my house, and managed by a committee of the boys and young men. This meeting is perfectly free, and the attendance, registered at seventy-seven meetings, shows an average of almost twelve and a half. A hymn, a portion of Scripture in English or Swahili, as the president chooses, two prayers, the second open to the meeting, the Lord's Prayer and Benediction, comprise the worship.

On Sunday there is another meeting, when the attendance is usually about twenty, and sometimes approaches forty. It lasts one hour, and is also entirely voluntary. It has hitherto been conducted by myself, James Deimler, one of the young teachers, giving his services at the harmonium. We have hymns from Moody and Sankey. Short prayers, sometimes numbering eight or nine. We sometimes have an address from one of the elder boys, which is always listened to with attention. One evening, Isaac Taylor, a helper of Mr. Shaw in his missionary work at Rabai, gave us a spirited and interesting account of his and Cecil's educational work in the large village of Fimboni. His speech infused among his audience quite an eager spirit to go and do likewise, for, not much more than a year before, our visitor had been a fellow-scholar with them. The attendance at these voluntary meetings, when it is considered that all present have been twice to church and twice to Sunday-school in the course of the day, indicates a lively interest in religion, and the prayers and general tone are very encouraging.

Mr. Taylor, though not a fully qualified medical man, has considerable medical and surgical practice, not only among the people attached to the Mission, but also among the Suahili, Arabs, and Hindus of Mombasa and its neighbourhood; and General Matthews, the commander of the Sultan's army, sent several cases to him during the fighting with Mbaruk already referred to. "I have had many opportunities," he writes, "of preaching Christ in my medical practice, and have been able to lend Arabic works, as Al Kindy and Pfander's Mizan, in quarters where they may do good. Of the Arabs resident in Mombasa, there are several said to be well disposed towards Christianity, but afraid to declare their belief."

Moslems of Mombasa.

Mr. Lane reports very favourably of the agricultural and industrial department; and the produce of the Society's land is now valuable. Above a thousand cocoanut-trees, planted in the last seven years, are bearing fruit.

Agriculture at Frere Town.

Of RABAI or KISULUTINI, which has grown to be much the larger settlement of the two, having nearly 600 souls connected with it, both Mr. Price, before he left, and Mr. Shaw since, have written in very encouraging terms. The former, describing a Sunday service in the shed used for divine worship pending the erection of the now urgently-needed church, says,—

An East African congregation.

The little room was crammed. It was a strange, and to me a most gratifying sight. There were a goodly number of Bombay Africans— my old friends and pupils—most of them in one way or another occupying posts of usefulness in connexion with the Mission. They are easily picked out from the rest by their being better dressed, and by their being able to read and take part in the service. Then come the better class of settlers, who are also beginning to affect clean clothes, and who, profiting by the instructions of their pastor, are gradually taking up a higher position in the church, and not a few of them giving promise of usefulness. And lastly there were some Wanika and others, just emerging from semi-barbarism, with little on save their black satin skins, and whose eyes are only just opening to the light. Altogether it was a sight to gladden one's heart, and to quicken one's faith in the power of the Gospel. . . . What would I not give to have such a well-behaved congregation of attentive listeners when I get back to Wingfield!

And Mr. Shaw writes on Nov. 29th,—

We have now been nearly three months on the station, and have seen much to encourage and cheer us, amongst which are the following:—

1. The regular attendance of the people at our services, and their evident desire to learn.

2. The general good behaviour of our people. Although we have nearly 600 in our village, it is the exception if I have one case in a week of wrong-doing.

3. The grand opening in the surrounding villages for the extension of Christ's Kingdom: most of the villages have repeatedly asked for a teacher.

4. The friendliness of all our immediate neighbours.

Freewill offerings in East Africa.

On Nov. 5th, I had a pleasing proof of the earnestness of our people to help in the work. I had told them to bring some offerings to help defray the expenses of cleaning our church. They came in such numbers that it was impossible to get them inside. The building was completely filled, having 247 adults and about 60 children inside, and outside were 160 more. Most brought something. In the plate was Rs. 19:55, of which there were 713 pice. The corn, &c., sold next day for Rs. 18:28, making a total of Rs. 38:23, which is no mean sum for these poor people, who live on about Rs. 4 each a month.

We have four of our young men (who were released from slavery some years ago) working in the school and neighbouring village, and are glad to testify to the thorough Christian character which they possess; were these alone the result of past years' labours, one might say with admiration, "What hath God wrought!" Amongst our villagers are many bright children of God, "epistles known and read of all men." There are some things, however, which give us sorrow. One is a lack of real Christ-seeking amongst many of our adherents. Many, we must confess, come and settle for the sake of our protection, and they attend our services as a matter of course; but it does not seem that the seed has taken root. Let not, however, despair find a place amongst us. We rejoice that such people come under the teaching of the Word.

New station in Giriama.

The GIRIAMA Mission is now worked from a newly established station on Mwaiba Hill, called Kamlikeni (i.e. "Come to the hill and praise God for the book"), some forty miles north of Frere Town, where George David, the tried Native catechist, is in charge. The place was fixed upon by Mr. Price, who visited the district in February last year. In October Mr. Binns went there, accompanied by his wife, who, being the first white woman ever seen in those parts, excited great attention. George David has 36 Christian adherents at Kamlikeni. There are also about 25 more under their own chief, David Abe Sidi, near Fulladoyo. It was important that the Mission should be in no way identified with the very interesting but irregular voluntary settlement of runaway slaves at this place, described by Mr. Price in the last Annual Report. The Society has every sympathy with these poor people; but connexion with them could only bring upon the Mission the hostility of the Arab and Suahili population. Abe Sidi and his Christian followers, therefore, were persuaded to leave the outlawed community and establish themselves at a separate village a little way off.

Visit to Shimba.

One of the most important incidents of Mr. Price's stay at Frere Town was his visit to the Shimba highlands, lying south of Mombasa.* This country is inhabited by the Wa-Digo, a sub-tribe of the Wa-Nika, whose name is familiar to the readers of Krapf's Travels. Nearly forty years ago he fixed on these hills as a proper spot for a mission station, but no step has ever been taken to establish one, and, as Mr. Price observes, "men, women, and children, hidden away in the jungle, with their hopes and fears, and joys and sorrows, are living and dying and passing into eternity without Christ and without hope. They have but a poor lot in this life, and there is nothing to cheer them in the prospect beyond." He gathered the elders together, and notwithstanding their timidity, succeeded, on a second visit, in making friends with them, and obtaining their consent to receive a teacher. The conference took place at midnight, round a blazing fire :—

I stated through William Jones, who thoroughly understands their dialect, simply what my object was. "We are not hunters or traders or slave-dealers, but servants of God, and our wish is to build a house on Kwali where a missionary may live among you, and instruct you in God's way. We ask nothing from you, only that we may live peaceably among you and do you all the good we can."

One after another the sages spoke out their minds, and we had a display of native oratory, which would make the fortune of a rising member of Parliament. It was the real thing: a ready flow of persuasive language, which acted like magic on the assembly, and drew from them, at the close of every period, a united and hearty response of approbation. In pulpit or on platform I never heard such eloquence. Certainly the Natives, male and female, poor and ignorant as they are, possess a marvellous power of utterance; and our friends to-night were evidently Beaconsfields and Gladstones among them. If only these men were enlightened by the Holy Spirit, and had the love of Christ in their hearts, what preachers they would be!

As reporters were not present, I can only give the gist of what was said. It was to this effect: "We have understood what you say, and it pleases us much; but we have too much reason to fear from the coming of strangers amongst us. Mbaruk came in the same way; he said, 'I am a peaceable man, let me live among you as a friend,' &c.—and no sooner had he got a footing in the country than he began to rob and oppress us, and sell our children into slavery. We hope it will not be so in this case; we have heard what you have done at Frere Town and Rabai, and if your intention is to benefit us in the same way, we are only too glad you should come amongst us."

New Mission in the Teita country.

A still more important move has been made in a north-westerly direction, where the people of Teita and Chagga have long been awaiting the messengers of the Gospel. On January 18th of the present year, Mr. J. A. Wray, accompanied by Mr. Binns, started for Teita, in hopes of establishing a station there. After a very trying journey, the route taken proving almost waterless, they arrived at Teita Hill on the 26th. On the 29th they ascended the mountain to a height of 4600 feet (which is not the highest point), and descended to the further or western side, to the village of a chief named Mwakitsutsu. There they were cordially received, and proceeded to put together a house, the iron and timber for which had been carried with the caravan. The house was finished on February 18th, and the next day Mr. Binns left again for Rabai, which he reached by another and better route in four days. Mr. Wray has been ill since, and Mr. Shaw went up temporarily to his assistance.

The Committee would again express their interest in the expedition, sent out by the Royal Geographical Society, under the leadership of Mr. Joseph Thomson, to explore the country between Mombasa and the Victoria Nyanza. They trust that it may be abundantly prospered, and that it may lead to the speedy opening up of those still little-known regions.

NYANZA MISSION.

Mpwapwa, 1876; Rubâga 1877; Uyui, 1879; Mamboia, 1879.

Grounds of hope in the Nyanza Mission.

IN reviewing year by year the history of the Victoria Nyanza Mission, all the Society's friends must deeply feel, with the Committee, that God has been better to them than their fears. Apprehensions have from the first alternated with hopes, and sometimes almost destroyed them; yet again and again dreaded dangers have been averted, and untoward events have fallen out rather unto the furtherance of the Gospel. The cautious language in which the Committee have reported on the Mission seems rebuked by the course of events; and if doubts are still entertained by any of their friends whether the favour and blessing of God are upon the enterprise, it is high time, if only out of gratitude for His great goodness, that such doubts should be abandoned. The continuance of the Mission in U-Ganda itself despite its heavy losses, its marked external and material progress, the gathering of the first converts into the visible Church by baptism, the increasing influence of the intermediate stations between the coast and the Lake, the successful march up the country of the new party of six men sent out last May, and the preservation through grievous sickness of their beloved leader,—all these are signal mercies, for which the Committee render praise to the Most High.

But while it is a plain duty thus to acknowledge the good hand of our God upon us, the Committee do not forget, nor do they wish their friends to forget, the many adverse influences with which the Mission has to contend, and the tremendous obstacles to be overcome before it is possible, humanly speaking, to look for the raising up of a Church of redeemed souls from these darkest of dark regions. Let the whole Society "continue in prayer, and watch in the same" —only "with thanksgiving."

The new Nyanza party.

The new missionary party, consisting of the Revs. J. Hannington, R. P. Ashe, W. J. Edmonds, J. Blackburn, E. C. Gordon, and Mr. C. Wise, reached Zanzibar on June 19th. Mr. C. Stokes, who is now the regular caravan-leader and general agent of the Society for the interior, had prepared everything for them beforehand, and they were able to leave the coast for their long land journey on the 30th of that month. The Universities' Mission kindly arranged a special Communion Service for them in the great church built by Bishop Steere on the site of the Zanzibar slave-market. They were accompanied by Henry Wright Duta, Mr. Pearson's Uganda boy, whose baptism was mentioned in last Annual Report. They reached Mpwapwa on July 29, and Uyui on September 2. To this station Mr. Edmonds and Mr. Blackburn had been appointed, so that only four, with Mr. Stokes, had to go on from thence; but these were detained some weeks by the dangerous illness of Mr. Hannington, and at length it was resolved to leave him and his nephew, Mr. Gordon, behind. Messrs. Stokes, Ashe, and Wise, accordingly started for Kagei, but after marching sixty miles they returned, as a lesson to the village chiefs of U-Sukuma, rather than pay the "hongo" of guns and powder demanded of them. On October 16 they again started, with Mr. Gordon and Mr. Hannington, the latter being a little better, and insisting on going forward. This time, however, instead of taking the direct route to the Lake, they proceeded to Urambo, the capital of the great African potentate, Mirambo, where the London Missionary Society has a station, with the view of trying a new route through that chieftain's territory. Mirambo received them very cordially, and gave them a head-man to guide them; and in November they reached a place called Msalala, on the west side of Jordan's Nullah, where Mr. Stokes left the other four, and returned.

Msalala was found to be unhealthy, and all the party suffered from sickness; and after the arrival of the next caravan, which brought the boat intended for use on the Lake, they visited the village of a chief named Roma, on the Lake, some distance west of the mouth of Jordan's Nullah, to ascertain its suitability for occupation. This chief proved troublesome; and Mr. Hannington and Mr. Gordon proceeded to the old station at Kagei, east of the Nullah, intending to make a start for U-Ganda thence. But Mr. Hannington's health now entirely broke down. He had had to be carried almost the whole way from Uyui to the Lake, and had suffered severely on more than one occasion by the desertion of porters causing a failure of the commissariat; but his faith and courage were invincible, and the Committee have been deeply touched by his letters, written often in extreme weakness, but all breathing the truest missionary spirit. At length, however, he felt that it was not the will of God that he should remain in Africa, and allowed the other brethren to persuade him to turn his face homeward; and having returned to Msalala, he left that place for the coast on Feb. 7th. The Committee rejoice that he has been preserved to reach England in safety; and even under the shadow thrown upon the Mission by his retirement, they would thank God for giving the younger men such a leader during the first months of their career in Africa. Messrs. Ashe and Wise have since joined Mr. Gordon at Kagei, and the former proposed immediately sailing for U-Ganda. Mr. Stokes has come to England for a short visit, after five years' constant travelling in Africa. So also has Mr. Copplestone of Uyui, who has been out somewhat longer, and has suffered frequently from sickness.

U-SAGARA MISSION: MPWAPWA AND MAMBOIA.

The title of the U-SAGARA Mission is retained for the present, as being familiar to the Society's friends, and also as the only name that can be stretched to include both the stations. But it is now ascertained that neither of them is in U-Sagara proper at all. Mpwapwa would be more correctly described as in U-Gogo, the people being mostly of the Gogo nation (Wa-Gogo); although a pori or desert lies between it and the Gogo territory as generally understood. Mamboia is in Nguru or U-Guru. U-Sagara lies south-east of the former place, and south of the latter. The boundaries of these various districts are, however, quite undefined, and only indicated by differences of dialect; the Government being of the simplest patriarchal character, almost every village having its independent chief.

Through the goodness of God, the Committee have again, for the fifth year in succession, the great satisfaction of naming the same four brethren, Dr. E. J. Baxter, the Rev. J. C. Price, Mr. H. Cole, and Mr. J. T. Last, as the missionaries at the two stations; and when this Report was drafted, they had also the equal pleasure of reporting the good health of Mrs. Last and Mrs. Cole. Dr. Baxter wrote on Nov. 24, "We cannot be too thankful that during the past twelve months not one of the six Europeans in our Mission has had even a slight attack of malarial fever."

Varied work at Mamboia.

At MAMBOIA, the nearest station to the coast, Mr. and Mrs. Last had an encouraging year of varied work—Sunday services and classes, daily services, day-schools for men and women and children respectively, visits from and to the Natives near and far, evangelistic tours in neighbouring districts, and linguistic studies in seven different dialects. Of the spiritual aspects of the Mission, Mr. Last writes:—

"Though our gracious Master has not seen fit to crown our efforts hitherto in His work with the conversion of souls, still I think there is great cause to be thankful. We may rejoice in the fact and praise God, in that the Natives do really take a greater interest in divine things than when I first came to Mamboia. This is shown by the three following proofs:—First, a chief, Msamwenda by name, and two of his wives, always attend church regularly. He is on my baraza [reception-verandah] nearly every day, ever ready to listen to any spiritual conversation. This man will not allow any of his people and slaves to work on Sunday, but gives them every opportunity to attend the services. Secondly, the number of Natives who have attended church voluntarily is much greater. Thirdly, the greater number of Natives who come to my baraza to talk, and the interest they take in what I read and say to them, lead me to hope that God is working in the hearts of these people.

His industry in linguistic work will be seen from the following:—

Linguistic work in U-Sagara.

(a) I have been working at seven different languages and dialects. These are the Megi, Sagala, Nguru, Zeguha, Kamba, Humba, and Masai. Of these, the Megi and Sagala are very similar to each other, as are also the Nguru and Zeguha the one to the other. Kamba is more distinct. These five are all languages of one family. The remaining two, Humba and Masai, are closely related to each other, but totally different to the five afore-mentioned. (b) I have made a grammar of the Megi language, and a vocabulary of about 6000 words; also some little attempts at translation of prayers, &c. (c) I have made a short grammar in the Kamba language, and a vocabulary of about 2000 words. (d) In the Nguru language, I have nearly completed a short grammar, and have about 4000 words. (e) I have several hundred Zeguha words. (f) I have not written a Sagala grammar, but I have a good number of words. (g) In the Humba language I have a vocabulary of about 6000 words. (h) In Masai I have a number of words and phrases. (i) In Nyamwezi I have made a collection of about 2000 words.

The Committee have received with deep regret the news of the death of Mrs. Last, on March 10th, from sun-stroke. She will be remembered as the first Englishwoman to reside so far in the interior of East Africa; and she had been most successful in winning the affections of the people. The loss to the Mission is great, as well as to the bereaved husband. Dr. Baxter writes, "She died in harness; and when her dark sisters think of their 'white mother,' they will be reminded of the heavenly home of which she used to speak, and whither she has gone; and thus thinking of her, God grant that they may be led to long to follow her."

Dr. Baxter and the Rev. J. C. Price continue at MPWAPWA.

A Mission homestead in Africa.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole have moved lately to a place called Kisokwe, six miles off, where the land is better fitted for cultivation. It is described as "a second Eden, healthy and beautiful, with streams of rich soil." Dr. Baxter in his general report on the Mission, thus describes it, and the good work already done by Mr. and Mrs. Cole:—

We have acquired, about six miles from here, a most fertile plot of ground, which is capable of supplying ourselves and passing Europeans with vegetables at any season of the year. This is a boon, the hygienic value of which it is difficult to estimate, since without it we should be able to obtain but few fresh vegetables, and those only during the rainy season. Here, surrounded on all sides by hills, Mr. Cole has built his Salem Cottage, with the necessary out-buildings, including a church. From this centre, in the cool of the day, he visits the surrounding villages, which being cut off from Mpwapwa by high hills, would otherwise seldom see the face of a white man. Visiting and studying the language are amongst the chief features of his work. The Natives have voluntarily attended some of his Sunday services, and have exhibited an appearance of great interest in the Word spoken. On one occasion the chief remained about two hours after the service, talking about what he had just heard, and other matters, such as witchcraft. Mr. Cole was the means, on one occasion, of preventing this chief from going out with guns to fight. Their servants can read a little, and it is pleasant to hear them reading aloud, from the portion of the Bible which they possess, in their spare moments.

Of his own station Dr. Baxter reports that "not a few of the people on the Mission, (i.e. the people in its employ, mostly from the coast, not Wa-Gogo) have renounced some, if not all of their heathenish ways." He mentions one man, a foreman, who was a Mohammedan, but who is not far from the kingdom of God, and whose consistency of life "would certainly put to shame many at home of whose Christianity we have no doubt." Mr. Price finds the country people themselves very slow, both in understanding and in heart; but he has had as many as sixty at his Sunday services, and the names of nearly seventy children are on his school-roll. The doctor has used the opportunities afforded him by his medical practice—which, however, is not large—to "point out the deadly character of sin's disease, and the need of the Great Physician." He has also been occupied in translating Bishop Steere's Swahili exercises into Ki-Gogo. The experiment of carrying on a little ostrich farm, to help in the maintenance of the Mission, came to an untimely end, through two lions devouring the four birds.

U-NYAMUEZI MISSION: UYUI.

Mr. A. J. Copplestone continued alone at this station until the arrival of Mr. Hannington's party, and the necessarily burdensome secular occupations of such a place left him little time for direct evangelistic work. He has, however, been increasingly gaining the confidence of the people, who are very ready to listen, though very slow to understand; and the chief, "Hundred Spades," though not personally unfriendly, will not yet allow the children to be taught. He is more and more impressed with the importance of Uyui as a missionary centre; and now that it has been reinforced by the arrival of Mr. Edmonds and Mr. Blackburn, there will be better opportunities of making known the Gospel.

Death of Dr. Southon.

Mr. Copplestone had the sad task, last summer, of attending Dr. Southon, the L.M.S. medical missionary at Urambo already mentioned, in his last illness, and of committing his body to the grave. The doctor had unfortunately shattered his arm by a gun accident, and although, at his request and under his direction, Mr. Copplestone amputated it, the operation proved unsuccessful, and the patient sank, after some weeks of terrible suffering, on July 26th, deeply lamented not only by his missionary brethren, but by the chieftain Mirambo himself, over whom he had gained no small influence for good.

U-GANDA MISSION: RUBAGA.

During the whole period under review, the Rev. P. O'Flaherty and Mr. A. M. Mackay have continued the sole representatives of the Society at the capital of King Mtesa. The last Annual Report brought the story of the Mission up to Christmas, 1881. Later dates are only to Nov. 19, 1882; but up to that time the king continued friendly, the people accessible and teachable, the secular work, building, cultivating, &c., successful. The best news of the year is the baptism of the first five converts. Mr. O'Flaherty wrote, on April 1st:—

First baptisms in U-Ganda.

> On March 18th, the anniversary of my arrival here, I baptized five young men. Their new names are Henry Wright, Edward Hutchinson, Philip, Mackay, and Jacob. Others actually wept when they were not admitted.

Much of the spiritual future of the Mission may depend on the character of these five young men; and they should be remembered continually before the throne of grace. In an interesting summary of work, by Mr. Mackay, dated March 26th, 1882, there is an encouraging notice of them, and also of the teaching and translational labours:*—

> About fifty young men, average age twenty years, have been taught to read (and some to write) within the year. Many of these have been carefully instructed in the way of salvation, and not a few of them show signs of having received the truth into their hearts.
> On the 18th inst., after careful preparation, Mr. O'Flaherty baptized five young men, who, so far as we could judge by their answers, diligence, and behaviour, have resolutely made up their minds to become disciples of Jesus Christ, and face every risk.
>
> A considerable number more are anxious for baptism, and we hope that in a short time, after fuller instruction and when we know them sufficiently, we may be able to welcome them too into the fold of the Church below.

One class of pupils has gone through the whole of the Gospel of St. Matthew and the Acts of the Apostles; another class has studied St. Mark; another has read chiefly lessons in Old Testament history; while some have read two or three of the Epistles. These have all been read in Ki-Swahili, and rendered sentence by sentence into their own language, either by the pupils themselves or by us. All of them, and many more, have first read and become perfectly familiar with a pamphlet which we printed in their own language containing the Lord's Prayer, the Creed, the Ten Commandments, and a series of Scripture texts.

Translations in U-Ganda.

The work of translation has been continued. A large part of the Old Testament lessons, the service for Morning Prayer, and the Baptismal Service for adults, have been translated. Former translations have been revised; while we have added very largely to, and corrected, our previous vocabularies and grammar.

The later letters only mention that the converts are "going on satisfactorily," "growing in knowledge, and, we trust, in faith." Others had been under instruction; but some had been sent off on war expeditions, and some changes among the chiefs in office had resulted in a diminution in the number of visitors.

In the report just cited, Mr. Mackay reviews the general position of the Mission, and the secular work done. Some brief extracts may be made:—

Industry and civilization in U-Ganda.

The relations between the Mission and the authorities have been, as usual, somewhat chequered. For many months the Arabs especially offered most violent opposition to us in everything. Meantime they are quiet, and so far friendly as to enter into business negotiations with us, advancing us calico for bills on Zanzibar. The king has been especially friendly and generous, while the chiefs seem not to prohibit their dependents and servants from coming to us for instruction. Suspicion of our aims and objects has prevailed at times, but that has as often blown over, while more than once, liberty to teach as we like has been granted by the king in court.

Several of the head chiefs encourage their harems also to learn something of Christianity; but we have been able to occupy this great opportunity in only a feeble manner compared with how we might and would. For we are only two. Generally speaking, the attitude at the present moment is peace.

Within the year, also, we have got repeated extensions of land, so that our present ground is at least five times its original extent. All the land is now, by Mr. O'Flaherty's unwearied labours, brought under excellent cultivation. Besides some thousands of plantain-trees in our new land, five hundred young ones have been planted by us in the open parts. We have reaped excellent crops of maize, millet, beans, peas, tomatoes, and sweet potatoes, besides other things, and a fresh crop is in the ground.

We have a fair herd of cattle and goats, mostly presents, as we seldom buy any.

We have erected, and hope (D.V.) soon to finish, a house of wattle-and-daub, the first of the kind ever permitted to be built in the country. The walls are all built in with stones and red clay, while a thatched roof preserves the plaster (of white clay) from being washed away by rain. We have an upper storey, with a solid staircase. The building is therefore looked upon by the Natives as a marvel of constructive skill.

Our carpenter's shop and forge have been busy throughout the year. Some lads were sent to us for instruction in the use of tools, but most of these left after learning a little. One is by this time of considerable assistance in working both in wood and iron.

A wheel was never seen before, until we made a cart, which has proved of the greatest service to us. We made for it a powerful screw break also, as the roads are very much up and down. We broke in a pair of bullocks for the yoke, and these have taken kindly to their work.

Our last attempt has been a plough, and in this we have succeeded. We had a few pieces of an English plough, but the main parts were wanting. These we have forged, and now the instrument stands complete. To the Natives this looks the oddest thing they ever saw. They will believe anything of it—the prow of a boat, a piece of a cannon, or anything else—but that it is a thing for hoeing with they believe a pure imposition on my part.

We have built an oven, with a brick chimney and iron door, for baking bread. The Natives are fond of inspecting this curio. It looks not unlike the small fetish-huts which they erect everywhere in honour of the lubarè. They are astonished to find it nothing other than a white man's pot for cooking "dry food." Looking-glasses, rat-traps, and other small things we have made for the people; but some trifles which we have made in the turning-lathe have taken their fancy more than anything else.

Recently, on our recommendation, a public market has been established, where the produce of this and neighbouring countries is daily sold in exchange for calico and cowries.

The king has conceded a port near the north end of Murchison Bay, where canoes and boats may land passengers and goods. Hitherto our port has been on the main lake, some thirty miles off; and the way to it over very rough country—hill and swamp. The new port is only some three hours distant.

The three miles of way between this and the court, where the market is held, have been hitherto impassable, in some places, for even a donkey. We have widened and levelled parts, and built a dyke or embankment across the swamp, with a broad bridge of logs resting on piles in the centre. The fame of this has spread far and wide.

We have tried to manufacture some sugar out of cane grown in the country. In this we were successful. Coffee and cotton grow everywhere in the country, and we have a little of both in our own garden. We mix the Native coffee with what we get from England, and find the mixture an improvement on either.

Mr. O'Flaherty has been busily engaged in linguistic work. He has made draft translations of St. Matthew's Gospel and part of St. Mark, a short Scripture History, parts of the Prayer-Book, and Bishop Steere's Suahili Tales; and has also been compiling a grammar, vocabulary, &c.

The letters of November 19 mention that the French priests had abandoned their Mission and left the country. It is stated that they took with them forty slave-boys and some women, to form a colony in Unyamuezi. Mr. O'Flaherty and Mr. Mackay purchased from them many useful articles which they were leaving behind.

Mr. Mackay, it may be here observed, is now the only one left of the original party of eight sent out by the Church Missionary Society in 1876. Four are dead, and three have retired (but one of these, Mr. Wilson, has lately offered again, for Palestine). Of the four men of the Nile party of 1878, none remain in Africa (but two have been assigned to other Missions). Of others who have been sent since viâ Zanzibar, two have died and two retired. Yet the succession of willing labourers fails not in East and Central Africa any more than it did in West Africa sixty and seventy years ago. Will not the great and marvellous results which, despite all human infirmities and imperfections, the West side of the Dark Continent does exhibit, be surely, by the same Almighty power and grace, paralleled on the East side, if only faith is steadfast and patience has her perfect work?

EGYPT MISSION.

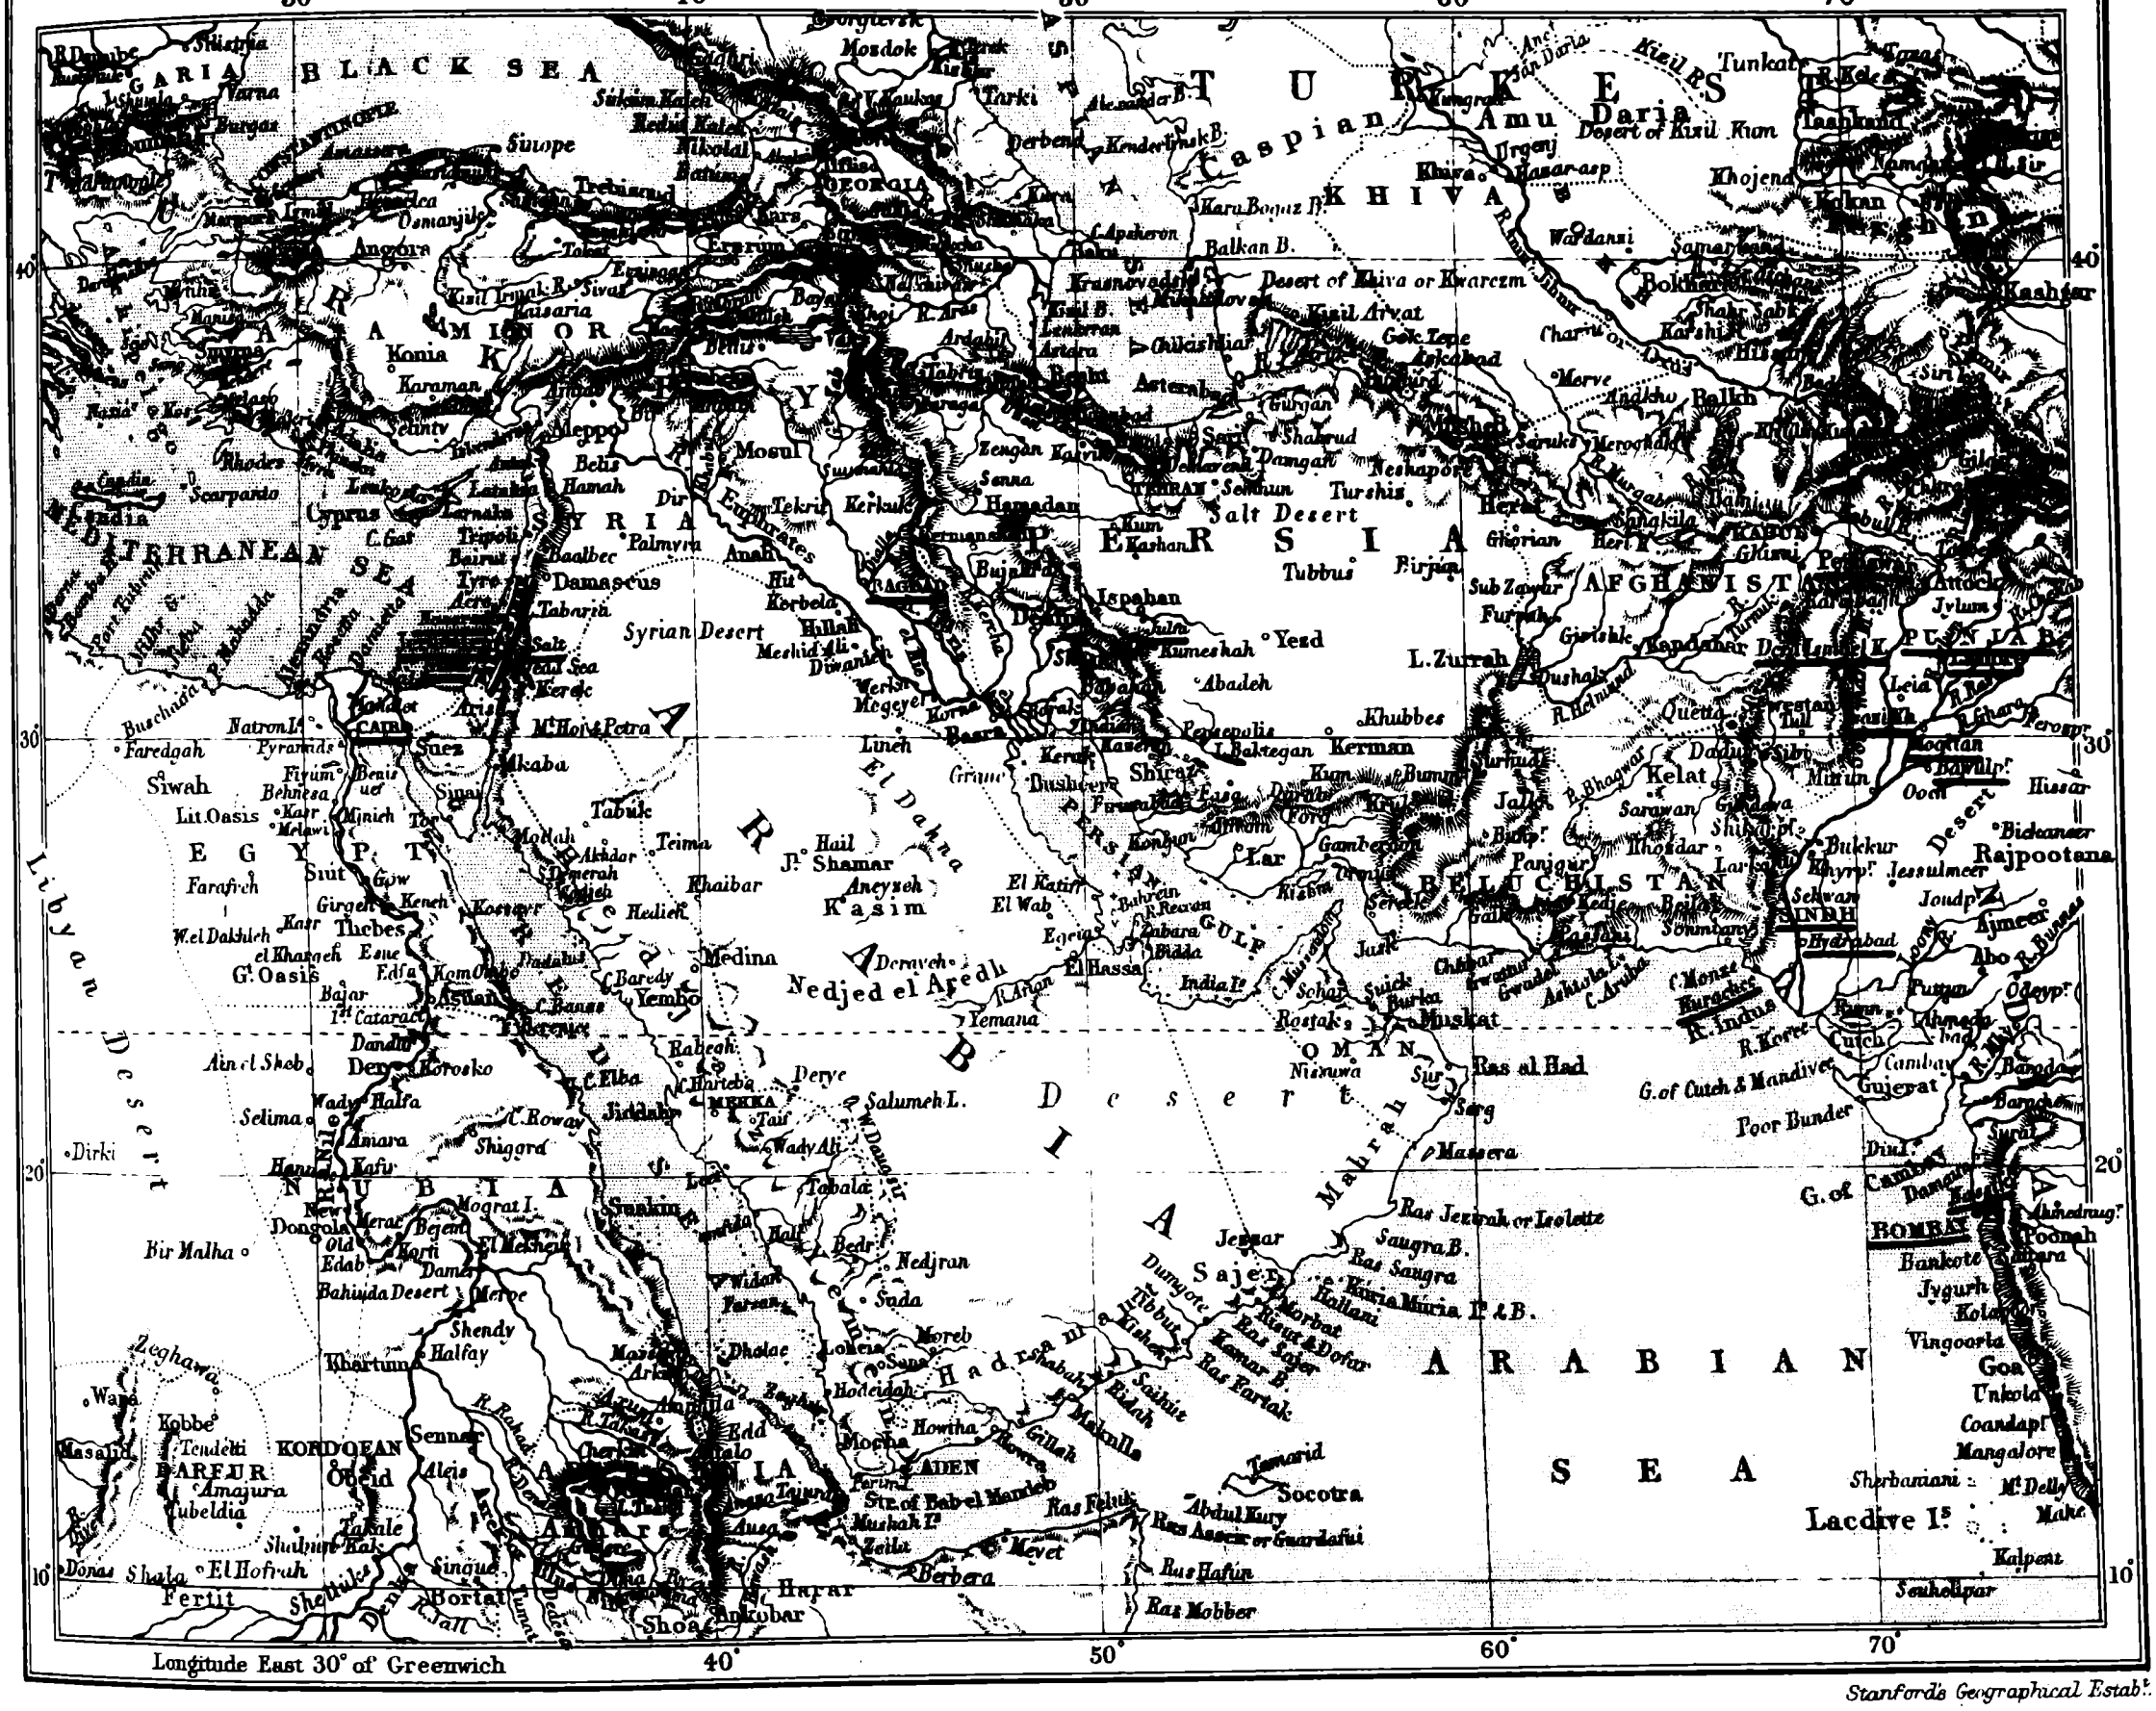

Cairo, 1882.

Islam and the C.M.S.

THE Committee feel that a peculiar responsibility rests upon the Church Missionary Society to care for the Mohammedan population of the globe. That section of the human race answers in a special sense to the phrase "the East," which forms part of the Society's full title. And while it is painfully true that the Church of Christ has done little indeed for the evangelization of the Moslem world, it is not less true that the C.M.S. is at the present time more largely engaged in that work than any other Society—probably more than all other societies together. It is a work of exceptional difficulty, a work calling for very special faith and patience. Even in India, where religious liberty is secured by British rule, the Moslem population have proved the hardest to reach, although it has pleased God to gather from among them many eminent converts, and in the past year to vouchsafe conspicuous blessing to the efforts put forth for their salvation, as the present Report shows. But in countries where Islam is the state religion, as in the Turkish Empire and Persia, the profession of Christianity by a Mohammedan involves him in peril of his life, and conversions have been few and far between. Nevertheless, the Committee feel it to be their solemn duty to hold up the banner of Christ even in lands like these. In this conviction they have much developed the Society's Palestine Mission in recent years; they have supported Dr. Bruce in his courageous enterprise in Persia; and they have in the past year essayed, in dependence on the guidance and protection of the Most High, the occupation of Bagdad and of Egypt.

The old and the new plans for Egypt.

More than half a century ago the Society had an Egypt Mission, a branch of its great enterprise for the enlightenment and revival of the Eastern Churches. That enterprise, which at first promised well, did not prove successful, although a large number of the Coptic clergy, and one Bishop, were trained in the C.M.S. Seminary at Cairo. The Society's object now is quite different. The Copts are but a fraction of the Egyptian people. Ninety-five per cent. are believed to be Mohammedans; and it is to them that the Committee would direct their efforts. This step had been decided upon before the recent war, in response to the repeated and earnest invitations of Miss Whately; but the Egyptian campaign, and the dominant influence it has given to England over the destinies of the country, much enhance the responsibilities of English Christians to give Egypt the Gospel of Christ.

The Committee are thankful to have been able to entrust the carrying out of this important design to a brother of long experience in the East, and a ripe Arabic scholar, the Rev. F. A. Klein, who was a missionary of the Society in Palestine from 1851 to 1877. Mr. Klein reached Cairo on December 16th. He was cordially received by Miss Whately, and has begun public Sunday services in Arabic in the hall of her school. He writes very hopefully of the openings, both in Cairo and the villages up the Nile Valley, for the proclamation of the Gospel. He has been joined by John Ahmed Tewfik, the Turkish ulema whose conversion was recorded in last year's Annual Report; and the Committee pray that the Lord will give both the veteran missionary and the new recruit favour in the sight of the Egyptians.

PALESTINE MISSION.

Jerusalem, 1851; Nazareth, 1852; Salt, 1873; Nablûs, 1876; Jaffa, 1876; Gaza, 1878.

"THE past year," writes the Rev. J. R. Longley Hall, the Society's missionary at Jaffa, has been an eventful one for the Palestine Mission. "The close of 1881 and the commencement of 1882 gave much promise. The people seemed to be more willing to hear the Word, our schools were more full than usual, and the number of inquirers and applicants for tracts and portions of Scripture was much larger than in previous years, and we had every reason to expect a year of great blessing and advancement in the work. This, however, was not to be fully realized." The cause of disappointment was the excitement occasioned by the military rebellion in Egypt. An anti-European agitation, believed to be fostered by Arabi Pasha, was carried on, Mr. Hall writes, "without the smallest semblance of secrecy, and as long as there was no actual ill-treatment the Government did not interfere, until the month of July; indeed, in many places the governors, judges, and other officials did everything they could to encourage the agitation, and excite the more ignorant portion of the inhabitants to rise. About July, however, the Turkish Government was seized with a sudden panic. It was led to believe that France had only separated from England in the Egyptian expedition because she intended to take possession of Syria, and that the smallest disturbance in Syria would be jumped at by France as a pretext for wresting the country from the Sultan. Very strict orders were immediately issued to all the pashas and governors that agitation should be put down with a strong hand, and some of them obeyed the order to a certain extent. But the excitement and the bitter feelings towards Europeans were too great, and had gone much too far, to be put down by any number of pashas and governors, however sincere in their efforts to prevent disturbance, and the danger and insecurity to life and property increased."

Effects in Palestine of the War in Egypt.

The danger, at the time, appeared to be equally great, whether Arabi should be successful in resisting the English army, or be defeated. However, the event proved that the agitators were "entirely cowed" by the news of the British successes; and through God's mercy, the work of the Mission soon resumed its usual aspect of quiet and patient teaching.

Rev. W. Allan's visit to Palestine.

The Rev. W. Allan, an active member of the Committee, has been visiting Palestine, and writes in terms of thankful surprise at what he has seen of the Society's Missions. Some extracts from his letters will be found below.

Offer of Rev. C. T. Wilson.

The Committee have had peculiar pleasure in accepting an offer from the Rev. C. T. Wilson to join the Palestine Mission. Mr. Wilson is well known to the Society's friends as having been one of the original Nyanza Mission party, and as having come back to England with the envoys from Uganda. After having been engaged for a year or two in parochial work in Hampshire, he desires again to labour in the foreign field; and in returning thither he will now be accompanied by Mrs. Wilson.

JAFFA.

Perils at Jaffa during the war.

The work at Jaffa seems to have been specially tried by the interruptions caused by the war excitement already mentioned. A Mohammedan friend called on Mr. Hall during the Ramadan fast, and warned him of his danger, stating that the Imâm had told the people that as soon as the fast was over they were to "eat for a week, and get strong, and then go and kill every Christian." Twice he was threatened, in the open street, with death "within a few days;" and his two servants left him on hearing that his house was the first to be attacked. But "the angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear Him and delivereth them." Of the work of the Mission in these trying circumstances, Mr. Hall writes:—

Our services and schools were well attended in the early part of the year, but fell off terribly during the summer. Bands of Moslems assembled several times outside our schoolroom, during service, and threw large stones upon the tiles of the roof. These and other foolish annoyances very much intimidated our poor people, and a large number of them absented themselves for a time. In August hardly anybody came to our evening meetings, with the exception of the teachers and servants of the different Mission establishments; but we continued them as usual, and I believe all felt that though the numbers were so much smaller, there was a warmth and heartiness about the meetings which rendered them specially enjoyable.

A Bible-woman among Moslem women.

The Bible-woman's work has been very encouraging, and has been less hindered by the political and fanatical agitation than other branches of the work. From forty to sixty or seventy women have attended the different meetings, and immediately after the close of the Egyptian revolution, many Moslem women who had absented themselves for three or four months began once again to come to the meetings. They are all grossly ignorant even of the very first elements of religion, but they seem willing and anxious to hear and learn. The Bible-woman was many times threatened and insulted by Moslem women, in her house-to-house visitation, and I was obliged for a time to tell her not to go to Moslem houses; but the amount of actual work done by her was in no way diminished by this, as she was able to visit more Christian houses.

At the out-stations, Lydd, Ramleh, and Abûd, there was less interruption; and at the latter place, which Mr. Hall visited at the height of the excitement, he met with quite a friendly reception:—"They received me most kindly when I visited them in their own houses, and listened attentively as I told them of Christ crucified for them."

The Rev. W. Allan's testimony to the excellence of the work is the more valuable, because the knowledge he had acquired in the Committee had prepared him to find many weak points. It will be read with unfeigned thankfulness:—

Excellence of schools in Palestine.

I cannot tell you how pleased and surprised, how delighted, I am with almost all that I have seen at Jaffa, Ramleh, Lydd, and Abud. I am perfectly amazed at the amount of scriptural knowledge, both on the text and doctrines of the Bible, which the children possess, and which far surpasses anything that I have ever met with in any school in England. In spite of the excellent reports which the children of my own national schools obtained year by year from the inspector, they would be nowhere in a competition with the boys of Ramleh and Lydd. In every school they all seemed to understand the way of salvation clearly, and only to need the Spirit's quickening grace to make the Word effectual. It seemed to me as if, so far, the Native teachers had done their part of the work, and as if what remained to be accomplished depended almost as much upon us at home as upon those in the field, I mean fervent intercession for the outpouring of the Holy Ghost.

Another feature which has struck me powerfully is the close attention with which all, children and adults, listen to the religious instruction given them. In all the schools, but more especially in Abud, the zest with which they listened to what was said, and answered the questions put, and the sparkling eyes and animated countenances with which they drank it all in, were most touching, and almost made me weep with joy. No fewer than seven of the fathers of the children came into the Abud school, and squatted in a row against the wall listening with interest to the proceedings.

As regards Arabic services, which consist on Sunday of the full Church of England service, Litany, Ante-Communion service and all, I found at Jaffa thirty men, and thirty women, and about forty children present; and at Ramleh, at the usual Wednesday evening service, and they have three such services in the course of the week, there were fifteen men present, besides ourselves, who listened eagerly to an address by the teacher, and to another which I gave them through an interpreter. At Abud I was told as many as forty attend the Sunday service. I considered the mothers' meeting at Jaffa, at which forty were present, a most encouraging and successful gathering, and I was thankful to have the opportunity of addressing them also through the excellent Bible-woman who acted as my interpreter. In her visits to the Native women she often has as many as twenty gathered together, listening to her instruction.

If those who think that missionaries exaggerate results would compare what Mr. Hall says in his last Annual Letter about Ramleh with what may be gathered from this letter, it might tend to modify such an idea.

Haifa, at the foot of Mount Carmel, where the Rev. Seraphim Boutaji ministers to a small congregation and where there is also a school, is regarded as an out-station of Jaffa, and is under the superintendence of Mr. Hall.

GAZA.

The Rev. A. W. Schapira has continued his zealous labours throughout the year, notwithstanding the influence of the Egyptian war. The much-lamented Professor Palmer, who visited Gaza on his way to the Bedouin desert where he met his untimely death, advised Mr. Schapira to leave. "It was," writes the latter, "a very hard time for us. I objected to a Moslem washing dirty things on our ground: he told me to shut up, or else he would wash them in my blood, as Arabi had already broken the English flag, and I was entirely at their mercy. This was said to me in the presence of a policeman, whom the governor had sent to me for newspapers. He not only did not interfere, but encouraged the man by laughing." Mr. Schapira, however, stuck bravely to his post; and he was soon afterwards able to render important service to the Government in connexion with the efforts to ascertain the fate of Professor Palmer and his companions. The particulars cannot be printed here; nor can some deeply interesting incidents of Mr. Schapira's missionary work—concerning which it need only be said that the evidences multiply year by year that, if only religious liberty were proclaimed, there would be an inviting opening indeed to the Mohammedan population. Even under existing circumstances, the door cannot be regarded as altogether closed, as Mr. Allan's account of the Gaza schools, &c., &c., will show:—

The late Professor Palmer at Gaza.

An open door to the Moslems at Gaza.

> I was much interested in Mrs. Schapira's Mothers' Meeting of Moslem women. A panic had arisen, as it often does among them, owing to a report having been spread that a person (myself) had come to take them to England, where they would be killed, so that the attendance was less than usual; still there were over thirty, and they entered with lively interest into the animated and fluent explanation of Scripture given by Mrs. Schapira's admirable co-worker, Mrs. Jokander.
> I visited also each of the four schools, finding altogether 137 actually present, sixty-three of whom were Moslems. I gave up a visit to the ruins of Askelon in order to see the work as completely as possible, and, except the Mothers' Sewing Meeting on the Wednesday, I think I had a glimpse of everything, and was deeply gratified with the nature of the work. The Moslem girls exhibited none of that reserve which I think I mentioned characterized the boys in replying to questions, but unhesitatingly described Jesus as the Son of God. Three of the female Moslem scholars were young women rather than girls. The scholars here repeated in English the hymn, "Pass me not, O gentle Saviour," and sang in Arabic, "How sweet the name of Jesus sounds," &c. The teachers are marvellously efficient, and the pupils have responded to their instruction to an extent that is really incredible.

Gaza Medical Mission.

The Committee regret much that the medical missionary whose appointment to Gaza was mentioned in last Annual Report withdrew his offer; and another has not yet been found. In the meanwhile the dispensary has been carried on efficiently by the Native doctor. More than 8000 patients attended during the year (the number of visits was more than twice as many). "Every morning," writes Mr. Schapira, "our work commences with the reading of a portion of the Holy Scriptures, and an address. We speak to individuals: the doctor then sees them. He also attends poor sick Moslems at their houses, where he reads and speaks to them."

Closing of the Gaza slave-market.

One remarkable result of the Mission has been the closing of the Gaza slave-market. Mr. Schapira obtained the imprisonment of seven slave-dealers, and secured the freedom of two slaves who took refuge in his house, "and thus," says Mr. Allan, "made it too hot for the dealers in human flesh to prosecute their profession." Another opportunity of doing good occurred in connexion with the immigration of several Russian Jews, who had left their own country on account of the recent persecutions, and came to settle at Gaza. "Not knowing the language, and also finding Turkish officials hostile to them, they came to us for advice. Very soon we gained their confidence, and now we have them almost daily at our house, where many opportunities present themselves for preaching to them the crucified Jesus, as also their King and Saviour."

Jewish refugees at Gaza.

JERUSALEM.

The Revs. John Zeller and T. F. Wolters divide the work in the holy city. The Rev. Michael Kawar is pastor of the Native congregation; and several out-stations are visited by Mr. G. Nyland, who resides at Ramallah. Mr. Wolters was absent for some months on a visit to Europe, which threw a great deal of additional labour on Mr. Zeller, and he was unable in consequence to correspond with his friends in Germany and England and collect the usual large amount of subscriptions by which the Gobat Diocesan School and Orphanage is supported. The Committee have therefore felt it right to make a grant to this institution for the one year, although the maintenance of boarding-school children and orphans is not, as a rule, regarded as a proper object for the General Fund. Mr. Zeller, they feel, is entitled to cordial support in his untiring labours. Of this school Mr. Allan writes,— The Gobat Diocesan School.

> More than half the children in the Orphanage seemed not only able to speak and read, but to think in English, and poured forth with almost too great volubility the most copious stores of knowledge on all portions of Scripture and all the doctrines of Christianity, even when I catechized on the Epistle to the Galatians. I never heard in any school in my life, or in any examination, such an amount of head-knowledge exhibited. Still there were traces of their answers having been learned by rote, so I proceeded to question and cross-question them, and the result showed that they had a considerable amount of intelligent acquaintance with the meaning of what they had been saying, though not so much as appeared on the surface. I am speaking, it must be remembered, of their examination in English; when they were questioned in Arabic, they appeared to answer in a different style altogether,—I mean with a perfect comprehension of what they were talking about.

It is usually from among the most promising boys in this school that students are chosen for the Preparandi Class, also under Mr. Zeller's charge. In this important institution, which provides the Mission with schoolmasters and catechists, there are thirteen pupils. Mr. Allan examined them in English, with which they are acquainted, and found their knowledge of Scripture "most satisfactory." One of them, a Mohammedan by birth, but an inmate of the Diocesan School from his infancy, was received into the Church by baptism in September last, together with a Druse from Mount Lebanon. The students visit the surrounding villages, to read and tell of the Gospel to the Moslems. Among the places visited are Siloah, the Mount of Olives, Bethany, &c., at all which they have been encouraged by a friendly reception. Preparandi Class at Jerusalem.

Of the out-stations Mr. Wolters writes, "I cannot help looking on them with pleasure, thankfulness, and hope," especially on account of the free opportunity afforded by the evening gatherings for the preaching of the Gospel. "One cannot," he justly remarks, "speak of a closed door in Palestine as long as one can, without trouble, get a roomful of people, night after night, willing to listen with interest to the message of salvation through Christ."

The Rev. M. Kawar, in his report, mentions visits to the Lepers' Home and Prussian Hospital, and says,—

Both Christians and Mohammedans receive the Word of God with joy. A sick Moslem man said, "Our lives are spent in vanity; we never hear any word of comfort or spiritual consolation from our sheikhs." I asked another (to whom the doctor had said he must prepare himself for death) what was his hope in death. He answered, "I put my whole trust in our Lord Issa, of whom you spoke to me the other day; on Him do I rely."

A new printing-press has been supplied to the Mission, which has much facilitated the printing of the books and tracts enumerated as published in last year's Annual Report, as well as of some others. Mr. Zeller has also been engaged, with the Revs. M. Kawar, Chalil Jamal, and Nasr Odeh, and a Committee of Native laymen, in revising the Rev. F. A. Klein's Arabic Prayer Book.

NABLÛS.

Influence of the book-shop at Nablûs.

The work of the Rev. C. Fallscheer, described in last year's Report, has been carried on steadily during the past year. Perhaps the most interesting agency is the book-shop, concerning which Mr. Fallscheer writes:—

> We sold during the past year more than ten pounds' worth of books; and this is a great wonder in this town, where the people some years ago would not give a penny for a book. Our book-shop is nearly the whole day full of inquirers and readers, learned and unlearned Mohammedans, officers from the Turkish troops, Samaritans, Christians; sometimes also Jews, of which there are very few here. We preach plainly to them Christ crucified; not entering much into disputation, as they always produce the self-same arguments against Christianity, —that the Holy Bible is falsified, that a triune God is impossible, that Christ was not crucified, &c. We place our Holy Bible in their hands, and beg them to read and to search, and prove to them from the Scriptures that God has made Christ to be sin for us, who knew no sin, that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him. We point them to the great sacrifice, by which all can be sanctified, and made perfect. We preach to them the word of reconciliation and righteousness, which is imparted to faith. They become astonished and think about it, and by-and-by, if one or another is sincere, he will comprehend what we say: many of them are no longer so insolent as in former times.

Mr. Fallscheer visits the interesting Samaritan remnant in Nablûs at least once a fortnight, and some of them frequently visit him. The Messianic prophecies of the Pentateuch are faithfully put before them; "yet," writes the missionary, "all deputations and teachings have been in vain; all human effort has failed; only the Lord can open their hearts by His power."

A member of the Nablûs congregation died in October, while on a visit to a brother at Bethlehem. Mr. Zeller, who went over from Jerusalem for his funeral, writes:—

He was a true Christian, endued with many Christian gifts and graces, as humility, kindness, and faith. He was nearly blind, but bore his affliction with much patience. On the evening before his death he arrived in Bethlehem apparently well, dined with his brother, and prayed as usual with a loud voice before going to rest. But soon after lying down he called his relatives to him, and said he felt his end was coming. They said they would call a doctor, but he answered, "Jesus alone is the Right Physician, and I want Him for my soul, for I require no medicine for my body. We will pray to Jesus our Saviour, that He would receive me by His grace into His kingdom." Then he knelt down at his bed, and whilst he was praying the Lord took his spirit to a better world. The funeral was attended by hundreds of Greeks, Latins, and Protestants, and was remarkable for the quietness and reverence which all showed during the service in Mr. Müller's chapel, and on the burial ground. This peaceful and beautiful death had evidently made a great impression upon the people. Death of a Nablûs Christian.

NAZARETH.

The Rev. J. Huber, with the Native clergyman, the Rev. Nasr Odeh, continues in charge of this station and its out-stations. The Rev. F. Bellamy has also resided here, having been still unable to do more for the Hauran than to pay it one visit; and he has since returned to England in consequence of his wife's ill-health. The Nazareth congregation is of a very mixed character, and causes much sorrow and anxiety; but the schools both in the town and in the out-lying villages are well attended and doing an excellent work. Of the Boys' School in the town Mr. Allan writes, "It proved to be in a thoroughly creditable and efficient condition. I asked all who could tell me the way of salvation to hold up their hands, and chose the lowest of the twenty who did so to answer. His reply was, 'Through Jesus Christ our Lord.' I called him out and asked him to explain what he meant, which he did fully and admirably." The Girls' School also he describes as thoroughly successful and effective.

SALT.

Of this station, where the Rev. Chalil Jamal is labouring very earnestly, the best report that can be given is in the words of Mr. Allan, whose account is most encouraging:—

The work on this side Jordan is profoundly interesting, and offers, in the fullest sense, an open door, so far, at least, as such a thing is possible in the Turkish dominions. There seems to be a remarkable absence of that fanaticism which usually characterizes Moslems, and a strong desire not only for teaching, but for religious teaching. The people are peculiarly docile and simple-minded, and remind me greatly of all that one reads of the North American Indians. Their gregarious nature, their habit of frequenting other people's houses, and of receiving others hospitably at their own, affords great advan- An open door on the East of Jordan.

tage in proclaiming the Gospel, and I am quite sure that money spent this side the Jordan without delay—for a few years will probably make a great difference in the nature of the people—will be attended with the most encouraging results. Here, in Salt, it is evident that the Gospel has already taken root in a way that it has not done in any other place I have yet been in, and in the villages which I have been visiting the ground seems to be quite ready for the seed that may be sown to germinate.

Services and schools at Salt.

Some 3000 of the people of Salt are said to have left for tent life before we arrived, and this affected the congregation so, that the number of men present last Sunday was 32, women, under 30, and many children. There were altogether 27 communicants. I preached, Mr. Jamal interpreting. I have done so again this afternoon. Morning congregation, to-day about 50 adults, and this afternoon, 30. At the morning prayers, in church, last Monday, there were 16 present, and there have been about the same number, or rather more, every evening at Mr. Jamal's house.

Testimony of a Turkish official.

The school is in a most flourishing state. Last month the average attendance was 63, of whom 52 were boys, 23 of these being Moslems. On the 2nd inst., when I inspected the school, the number actually present was 55. The ten senior children were examined out of Conybeare and Howson's "Life and Epistles of St. Paul," on the history of St. Paul and St. Stephen, and not only answered accurately the most far-fetched questions, but drew the personal lessons from the life of Stephen, in reply to questions of my own, most admirably. The Kadi's son is one of the scholars. The sons of the Kaimakam were so, but they are now gone to Nablous. About a fortnight ago the Kaimakam wrote to the Pasha, saying, "The best school here, and the only one that can be relied on, is the Protestant School." He further said, "The Protestants here are a peaceful community, who do not trouble the local government, or use any kind of intrigue." Two of the Moslem boys, about thirteen years of age, have acknowledged to the master their full belief in Jesus as the Son of God, and the Saviour of sinners, and give evident signs of being under the Holy Spirit's teaching.

I have been greatly interested in hearing Mr. Bahnam's accounts of his work among the Bedouin. It is very clear that here also there is a glorious field open to the C.M.S.

Canon Tristram, in his Report on the Palestine Mission referred to last year, urged the importance of stationing at Salt a Native medical missionary. The means to do this have been supplied by Mrs. Henry Wright, who has contributed 600*l.* to the Extension Fund for the purpose.

PERSIA MISSION.

Centre of gravity of the Persia Mission.

It is not unnatural that the Rev. Dr. E. F. Hoernle, who was in charge of the whole Mission at JULFA during the greater part of the year, should open his Annual Letter by remarking that "the centre of gravity of our Persia Mission has not been in Persia at all (paradoxical though it may sound), but at home. The interest," he continues, "which Dr. Bruce's visit home has awakened in Persia will have a far larger share in the history of the Mission, when it comes to be written, than any work accomplished here." There is truth in this observation; but not because the work at Julfa stood still during Dr. Bruce's absence. Church services, schools, orphanage and industrial school, visitation of the people, &c., have been carried on by Dr. Hoernle. The congregation comprises 144 souls, of whom 64 are communicants. In the schools there are 135 boys and 48 girls.

Dr. Hoernle has made two interesting journeys during the year to Yezd, a town more than a hundred miles east of Ispahan, and to Charmahal, a mountainous district to the north-west. Of the former place he writes:—

An opening at Yezd.

I tried to gauge how far Yezd might be considered an open door. Now (1) I found the mollahs not only ready but anxious to enter into religious conversation. They have been so little accustomed to religious discussions with intelligent Christians, that they will bring forward the crudest arguments; but they never said anything insulting to our holy religion. (2) There is a considerable Babi element (adherents of the Mohammedan sect of Bab, half-religious, half-political, so furiously persecuted about thirty years ago) in Yezd. They dare not openly profess their creed, but to the Europeans they will admit it. The Babi took four Testaments from me for distribution. How far they can be considered inclined to Christianity I cannot say. They have hardly had an opportunity of becoming acquainted with it. On the general rule, however, that all Babis look with more favour on Christianity than Mohammedans, the presence of a Babi element is a favourable factor. (3) There is a considerable Gebar element in Yezd, the remnant of the old fire-worshippers. They have suffered great persecutions, and up to three years ago could be molested and insulted with impunity in the streets. But owing to the representations of the British minister in Teheran, and the liberality and firmness of the present governor, their condition has very much improved. They welcomed us heartily; were anxious we should come and see their school and place of worship; were willing to explain all about their religion, and respectfully listened to all I had to say. I could not help thinking that a great work might be done among these descendants of the old religion of Persia. (4) Last, but not least, the present governor is a very liberal and enlightened man, anxious to have a school, for which he begged me to provide teachers. To gain Yezd would indeed be a great gain to the Mission in Persia.

Occupation of Baghdad.

The event of the year, however, in connexion with the Persia Mission, is the occupation of BAGHDAD as a C.M.S. station. This historic city is, indeed, in the Turkish Empire; but it has a special religious interest from the stand-point of Persia, in that it is the great resort of the Persian Mohammedans—who, as is well known, are Shiahs,—being in the immediate neighbourhood of the famous Shiah shrines at Nedjef, Kerbela, &c., which are visited by many thousands of pilgrims in the course of the year. Baghdad may also be regarded as a link between the Society's Persia and Palestine Missions, not merely in a geographical sense, but linguistically. Arabic and Persian are both vernaculars there; while Turkish is only the language of the Ottoman governor and his immediate subordinates. The Bible Society has for the last two years maintained two colporteurs there, who are directed from Ispahan by Dr. Bruce; and the hopeful aspects of their work encouraged him to appeal to the Church Missionary Society to occupy the city as a regular station. He himself, by his own exertions while in England, raised a considerable sum for the Extension Fund to enable this to be done; and it was in response to an address delivered by him at the London College of Divinity, St. John's Hall, Highbury, that the first missionary appointed, then a student there, was led to offer himself for the work. This was Mr. Bernhard Maimon, a converted Austrian Jew, acquainted with two or three oriental languages. Having completed his theological course, he was ordained in September, and two months later started for Baghdad, which he reached, viâ Bombay and Karâchi, on Jan. 24th of this year. By an arrangement with the Bible Society, he will supervise their work, and receive half his stipend from them. In the meanwhile the Rev. T. R. Hodgson, the Society's missionary at Jabalpur, had also volunteered for the new Mission. His offer has been accepted; but illness has compelled his coming to Europe before proceeding to Baghdad.

Mr. Maimon met with a friendly reception from most sections of the population. Considerable numbers have attended his services, and a boys' school was quickly opened, and attended by some 120 boys, one-third of whom were Moslems. The Roman Catholics alone showed hostility. They complained to the Turkish governor, and he ordered the closing of the school, on the ground that Mr. Maimon had (through inadvertence) omitted to observe certain official regulations. He has appealed against this decision; but even if he should fail to get it modified, there is abundance of work to be done in and around Baghdad, as the following letter from him shows:—

Baghdad as a Mission centre.

Remember, that by establishing your work here in Baghdad, you are working for the entire Orient—India included. One of the Mullahs of Kásimain, a suburb of Baghdad, with a population of about 20,000, told me the other day that to that place alone come annually upwards of 25,000 Shiahs from India and the Gulf! It is estimated that Kásimain has about 5000 visitors daily. And let me tell you without boasting, that I was the first who ever sold a Bible in that place. No colporteur has ever ventured over the bridge—Kásimain is on the other side of the Tigris—before I came; but now that place is visited twice weekly, and almost each time the Lord opens the hands of some of them to buy a Bible or a New Testament; and may we not hope that with their hands the Lord will also open their eyes and heart?

I have been away from Baghdad about a week, at Hillah on the Euphrates, to find out whether any work could be done there for the British and Foreign Bible Society. There is only one Christian, an Armenian, living in that place, the brother-in-law of Mazarallah, our faithful shopkeeper in the shop which I have taken for the Bible Society in the largest bazaar. This Christian, Minas by name, has promised me to open his house to any person I might send to work for the Lord, and so, after prayer to God for wisdom and guidance, I sent our two colporteurs to Hillah for a week or two. Yesterday they wrote me to say that they sold in that place in about a week eighty-five copies of Bibles, New Testaments, and Gospels.

Beginnings of work at Baghdad.

At present your work in the mission-house is as follows:—

Sunday at 8 a.m. Native Service with Sermon, in Aramaic, interpreted by Mazarallah into Arabic; at 11 a.m. English Service; at 4 p.m. Native Service, as above; at 7 p.m. Prayer-meeting in English, attended exclusively by Natives who understand English.

Wednesday at 7 p.m. Prayer-meeting in Arabic; at 8.30 choir practising for the English Services on Sunday.

Saturday at 7 p.m. Prayer-meeting in Arabic; at 8.30 p.m. a short Service of Song in English, attended by Natives.

Visiting, from 5 a.m. to 7 or 8 a.m.; and from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Daily in the office from 12 to 2, to receive visitors.

Daily in the Reading-room from 7 to 8 p.m., when there are no Prayer-meetings or other things going on. There are brief prayers accompanied by Scripture readings in the Reading-room.

INDIA.

Progress in India as shown by the Decennial Statistics,

THE progress of Christianity in India is witnessed to very remarkably by the Decennial Statistics of Protestant Missions lately published. Including Burma, but excluding Ceylon (to correspond with the Government Census), the number of Native Protestant Christians is 492,882, or almost half a million of souls. This, indeed, is still but a small fraction of the total population; but what would have been thought of half a million Native Christians in the days of Carey and Henry Martyn, of Bishop Heber and Dr. Duff? Taking India alone (without Burma) the rate of increase in the decade has been 86 per cent., a rate fifteen times that of the general increase of the population as shown by the Census. The communicants are now 113,000 in India proper, an increase of no less than 114 per cent. in the ten years. The Church Missionary Society has by God's blessing fully shared in this advance, and it still stands first of all the societies in the number of its converts, who are almost one-fourth of the whole (in India proper).

and by the Census of 1881,

The Government Census of 1881, the results of which are in course of publication, has again, like the partial Census of 1871, been a surprise to those who disbelieve or doubt the progress of Christianity in India. A leading London daily newspaper says, "It was not supposed that the Christian population of India was so large as it is now shown, or that it exceeded in number the warlike race [the Sikhs of the Panjab] which fought so good a fight against our own army less than forty years back." The total number is given by the Census as 1,862,634. This, however, includes the European population, and the Syrian Church of Travancore, and the Native Romanists (who are mostly the descendants of the converts of two centuries ago). These three classes account for nearly three-fourths of the whole. The details are not yet published; but the number of Native Protestant Christians, who are the real result of the Missions of this century, has meanwhile been separately ascertained by the returns for the Decennial Missionary Conference lately held at Calcutta. The figures are, India proper, 417,372; Burma, 75,510; Ceylon, 35,708; total, 528,590.

The Committee do not wish to over-rate the importance of these figures. They do not forget that a census cannot distinguish between the true spiritual children of God and those who merely bear the Christian name. They would not even lay too much stress on the remarkable increase in the number of communicants. Nevertheless they are constrained to call upon all their friends to join them in praising God for what is on the whole clear evidence of His blessing on missionary work, evidence which all the world can see. And they do so the more heartily because of the testimony which has come in to the Church Missionary Society this year from all parts of India. Never in the Society's history has so remarkable a bundle of Annual Letters and Reports been received—so full of deep interest, so suggestive in grounds of encouragement. Trials, disappointments, perplexities there are, and very real dangers; but amid all these, unmistakable tokens everywhere that the Lord is prospering the work.

and by the reports sent to C.M.S.

The number of adult baptisms last year in connexion with the Society in India was less than usual, yet it considerably exceeded one thousand (the figures are not yet complete). Although the great majority of these converts were from the low-caste or non-caste people of the south, yet there have been interesting cases of Brahmins and others of high caste taking up their cross and following Christ.

Brahmin converts.

One of the most interesting Brahmin cases is that of a widow in North Tinnevelly, who was brought to Christ by the instrumentality of a Native Christian physician, whom she consulted for a diseased eye. He failed to clear her bodily sight, but he seized the opportunity to point her to the Great Physician, and was privileged to open the eyes of her understanding, and to turn her from darkness to light. From the Telugu Caste Girls' School at Masulipatam the first two converts have been gathered in, though their steadfastness was sorely tried by the bitter opposition of their families. The new Divinity School at Allahabad, which had not been thought of as a directly evangelistic agency, has been blessed to the conversion of a young Hindu of the Kayasth (writer) caste, who was arrested by reading over its door the words, "Abode of the knowledge of God."

The power of divine grace on the heart of a Brahmin has been illustrated in a man who died lately in a hospital at Calcutta, of which he had been an inmate five years. He had received the truth from the lips of a C.M.S. missionary who visits the hospital, and had embraced it with his whole soul. "He would sometimes speak of the hard rules he had submitted to as a Brahmin, and how ineffectual all his efforts had been to give his guilty conscience peace, and he would contrast such efforts with the deep joy and peace which Jesus had graciously given him." After receiving the Lord's Supper shortly before he died, he exclaimed, "Now is the object of my birth fully realized!"

Mohammedan converts.

There have been signal instances also of the power of truth upon Mohammedans. In Krishnagar a profound sensation has been created by the baptism of four Moslems, who have had to undergo much suffering, the house of one being set on fire, and the wife of another carried off. At Bombay Mr. Deimler has twelve Moslems under instruction for baptism, and he has besides baptized one young man from Aurangabad, sent to him by the Rev. Ruttonji Nowroji. This convert's father and uncle are maulvis in the Government service, and he has forsaken home and family and friends to follow Christ. A learned Persian munshi, at Allahabad, after repeatedly rejecting the approaches of a Christian maulvi there, was found by him one day weeping, and on being asked why, replied, "For my sins," and pointed to a Persian New Testament which had been left with him as the source of his knowledge of his sins. He was baptized on Christmas Day. (Further particulars of these several cases will be found under the heads of the respective stations.)

Progress among Non-Aryan tribes.

The Non-Aryan hill tribes continue to present a most inviting field for evangelistic effort. The Santâls, indeed, have not been coming in as once they did; but the Pahâris living on the tops of the hills which the Santâl villages skirt, who have hitherto been very hard to get at, seem now to be yielding. In November six whole villages renounced idolatry and placed themselves formally under Christian instruction. The Gônd Mission in Central India, systematically begun only three years ago, bids fair to be one of the most interesting and fruitful of C.M.S. enterprises. None have yet been baptized, but there are many, writes Mr. Williamson, "whose knowledge of the truth is growing stronger and stronger, and whose worship of Christ as the Saviour, ignorant and partial though it be, is surely expelling the old idol-worship from the heart." And he adds, "When once the reaping-time is come, the harvest will be no scanty one: they will come out in whole villages." The Bheels, too, writes the young missionary working among them, have entirely lost the fears and suspicions which at first made it almost impossible to approach them. The Koi Mission on the Godâvari has now again the advantage of Mr. Cain's presence; and Mrs. Cain—for whom, as well as for valuable help in other forms, the Society has to thank its friends in Australia—has already succeeded remarkably in winning her way amid the extremely unapproachable Koi women. Among the Arrians of Travancore, whose name is familiar in connexion with the late Henry Baker's work, there has lately been a remarkable movement towards Christianity; and at one place, in November last, ninety-seven gave up their idols and removed their kudumis [sacred hair-tufts] at one time. It is thought by many observers that these races might be won almost en masse if there were men to send to them. But with (hitherto) not one missionary for the Pahâris, only one for the Gônds, one for the Bheels, one for the Kois, one for the Arrians, is it surprising that bright hopes are not always fulfilled?

Evangelistic work.

Throughout India, notwithstanding the numerical weakness everywhere of the missionary staff, the reports show that the various branches of missionary effort—evangelistic, educational, pastoral—are being zealously prosecuted among all castes and classes. Active evangelistic work especially has been carried on with increased vigour and enlarged faith and hope. Letter after letter might be quoted in illustration; especially to show the ability with which it has pleased God to endow many of the Native evangelists, who are, as one missionary justly says, the true "Salvation Army for India."

Female work.

To the need and the value of woman's work in direct evangelization among the masses of the people frequent testimony is borne. This is quite distinct from zenana-visiting or female education, the two spheres usually associated with lady missionaries, though it must not be forgotten that Miss Clay (of the C.E.Z.M.S.) and others are already engaged in evangelistic work among the villages. "Let us preach to the poor," says Mr. Williams of Krishnagar; and this his wife has done, accompanying him on his itinerating tours. Mrs. Reuther and her daughters, at the last great festival of the goddess Parbatti at Kangra, took a harmonium out into the street leading to the golden temple, and both preached the Gospel and sang hymns to thousands of pilgrims. A Native Bible-woman, at Jabalpur, on the Frances Ridley Havergal Fund, is specially mentioned as having "carried the message of God's love to many a toiling and weary, maybe hopeless sister, in many a dark home." In Bengal, a class for Christian Hindu widows is proposed, to train them for systematic work of this kind among their country-women.

Educational work.

Not less energetic has been the Society's educational work in India; and this, too, God honours with His blessing.

Several converts have been registered who are the fruit of Mission Schools. Many others, young men of position who are students at the higher colleges, avow their belief in Christ, but cannot bring themselves to face the social ruin involved in baptism. The Society's educational agencies in India, consisting of no less than 1160 schools of all grades—from the Anglo-Vernacular college to the humblest village school—have become increasingly important in view of the probable issues of the Vice-regal Commission on Education, which has been prosecuting its inquiries throughout the year, and is now preparing its Report. There can be little doubt that one important result will be a great impetus given to Primary Education; and that more responsibility than hitherto will be thrown by Government on local effort. From the statesman's point of view, these will be steps in the right direction; and although some of the most experienced of the Society's missionaries are apprehensive as to their effect upon mission schools, the Committee think there is reason, on the whole, to look forward hopefully to the opportunities which extended education will give for missionary work. The Committee have heard with much pleasure of the satisfaction expressed by the President and other members of the Commission with the Society's schools visited by them. At Jabalpur, in particular, the President, Dr. Hunter, in a public address, referred to the important work done by the C.M.S. High School, and informed the missionary, Mr. Hodgson, that it and its branch institutions presented the largest assemblage of boys he had seen in India, "a proof of its efficiency and value, as well as of its popularity."

Female Education.

In Female Education, besides the important work done by the societies specially devoted to it in association with C.M.S. missionaries, the Church Missionary Society itself takes an active share. Its own schools give a Christian education to more than 11,000 girls, which in India is a good proportion to set against the 33,000 boys. The majority of these schools are for heathen girls, and their purpose is evangelistic. But there is an increasing provision for the daughters of Christian parents. The Boarding Schools for Christian girls, in particular, exercise a happy influence for good, not only training them for eternity, but fitting them for the duties of their earthly life—providing teachers for the district schools and wives for the Native agents. Two of these are especially interesting as being still conducted by the venerable and devoted widow ladies who founded them long ago. The Elliot Tuxford School at Mengnanapuram is still carried on by Mrs. Thomas, sen., after forty-six years' service; while Mrs. Baker, sen., continues her loving labours in the similar school at Cottayam, which she founded sixty years ago.

Decennial Missionary Conference

The Decennial Missionary Conference, held at Calcutta in December last, was an occasion of remarkable interest. Never were so many missionaries assembled together in one place. At the previous Conference at Allahabad, in 1872, there were 136 present. At Calcutta there were about 470. The debates were animated and well-sustained, while the essential unity of evangelical Christians was abundantly manifested. A resolution was passed commending to the prayerful attention of all the Home Societies the necessity of every effort being made to send forth a largely increased number of labourers. The Secretaries of the Conference, in forwarding the resolution to England, called attention to the great obstacle to the spread of the Gospel presented by Hinduism, numbering its 190 millions of followers and cemented by the system of caste into a compact whole, to the special claims of the fifty millions of Mohammedans, to the rapid rate at which the English language is spreading, to the readiness of the aboriginal tribes to hear the Gospel, to the scope there is for the greatest variety of talent, &c., &c. The Committee, on receiving this communication, expressed their hope that the Church Missionary Society will be able to continue to devote to its India Missions what it expends on them at present, and also the due proportion of any general increase of men and means with which it shall please God to entrust it, looking forward at the same time with a confident hope to the latent energies of the Native Churches being gradually developed, and to a more rapid and vigorous extension of missionary work being brought about thereby.

Need of Christian literature.

There is one branch of collateral effort which seems to be especially important at the present time, in view of the probable results of the Vice-regal Education Commission; and that is the preparation and circulation of sound and healthful literature, not only of directly religious books and tracts, but of works of general usefulness and interest pervaded by a Christian spirit. This subject, the Committee are aware, is before the societies whose special sphere it is to provide the printed page for the Indian peoples; and they pray that the guidance and blessing of God may accompany every effort made in this direction.

Causes of anxiety in Bengal.

THE Committee are deeply impressed with the importance of developing and strengthening their work in those parts of Bengal and those sections of its population that fall to the Society's share. Although the Native Christians connected with the Society in Calcutta and its environs, and in Krishnagar, are numerically stronger than in any other part of India, except Tinnevelly and Travancore, they have not yet as a body put forth the energy and resourcefulness in organization which may be observed elsewhere. Yet it is in Bengal, apparently, that both theological and ecclesiastical controversies are likely to cause anxiety. While most desirous to recognize good work in the missionary enterprises of all who name the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Committee dare not shut their eyes to the undoubted fact that certain recent developments of Church of England Missions in Calcutta have resulted in the Native Christian mind being troubled with questions familiar enough to the divided Christendom of Western Europe, but which it had been hoped the Churches of the Far East might have been spared. The Native Church is now exposed on more than one side to influences which cannot be regarded as beneficial. The Committee pray that the Lord will deliver it "from all false doctrine, heresy, and schism."

Remedies for disturbing influences.

To two leading agencies the Committee would look, under God, for the remedy for these disturbing influences. (1) To the Divinity Class conducted by the Rev. W. R. Blackett, which, though small at present, will, it is hoped, grow by God's good blessing into a college like that at Lahore, and send forth year by year an adequate supply of Native agents for both pastoral and evangelistic work, established in the faith and filled with the Spirit. (2) To the Native Church Council, which is now in excellent working order, and which will tend to bring the several congregations into closer fellowship one with another, that they may be "all of one heart, and of one soul, united in one holy bond of truth and peace, of faith and charity." There is a third agency that must not be forgotten: (3) the circulation of sound theological literature; and the Committee have heard with much satisfaction that the Society's missionaries are engaged in the production of a series of tracts or manuals, to be published in English and Bengali, upon the great fundamental truths of the Gospel, and upon certain questions regarding Church order which have lately come to the front.

Bengal Native Church Council.

The Bengal Native Church Council held its second Annual Meeting in May, 1882, under the Presidency of Mr. Blackett, and with the great advantage of the presence of the Bishop of Calcutta as Patron. The financial statement for the year, presented by the Treasurer, Mr. Omesh Chunder Dutt, showed an expenditure of Rs. 4335, chiefly for the stipends of three Native pastors and twenty-four lay agents, towards which Rs. 1108 had been contributed by the congregations, and the rest supplied from the Society's grants, and from interest on invested Pastorate funds. Discussions took place on "The best means of raising the condition of Bengali Christian women," and "The best means of making our Church services attractive;" papers being read by the Rev. Koilash Chunder Biswas, Babu Josiah Basu, and Babu G. Chunder Biswas, and nearly all the delegates joining in the debates.

During the year, two brethren were added to the staff of the Bengal Mission, the Revs. R. R. Bell and A. J. Santer, both from the Islington College. Miss Neele has returned to Calcutta, accompanied by an additional lady missionary, Miss Alice Sampson. On the other hand, the Rev. F. Gmelin, who only rejoined the Mission at the beginning of the year, was, to his great disappointment, invalided home again almost immediately. The Rev. E. H. Thornton has also retired; and the work at Burdwan has been undertaken by the Rev. Piari Mohun Rudra, while Mr. Rudra's place at Trinity Church, Calcutta, has been taken by the Rev. Rajkristo Bose. A sixth Native clergyman was added to the Society's list for Bengal by the ordination, in February, 1882, of the Rev. Koilash Chunder Biswas, who has been appointed Pastor of Bollobhpur, in the Krishnagar district. The other locations remain as last year.

CALCUTTA.

In Calcutta there are two clergymen connected with the Society who have little direct missionary work, but whose labours deserve the recognition and prayerful remembrance of friends at home. These are the Rev. H. P. Parker, M.A., Secretary to the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, and therefore the Society's representative for the whole North-India Mission; and the Rev. C. S. Harington, M.A., minister of the "Old Church" and its parochial district.

The work of the Old Church.

The work in connexion with the Old Church is mainly among Europeans and Eurasians; but not exclusively, as Mr. Harington's Annual Letter shows. This letter is subjoined on the present occasion, on purpose that the important work it briefly describes may not be forgotten by the Society:—

1. The Congregation attending the Old Church has improved. We have had valuable pulpit help from our brother Blackett during the past year. The communicants average 160 per mensem, exclusive of about fifteen of the Hindustani-speaking congregation.

2. The latter attend well a Sunday afternoon schoolroom service, conducted by a layman well acquainted with their patois; and fairly on Wednesday afternoons, when the Hindustani reader conducts it. I am glad to say, that I am able from time to time to read prayers for him, and to administer the Holy Communion. I have also had occasion to marry and baptize in the language. An average of over sixty of the women of this community attend the weekly mothers' meeting held by our indefatigable Bible-woman.

3. Our weekly prayer-meeting in the Mission room is not well attended, but a small number come regularly.

4. The numbers at our Schools have been good. At the day-school an average of eighty per mensem have attended. We have an excellent head-master, who was previously for eight years in connexion with the Society at Kandy, and he is assisted by four efficient female teachers. We very much desire to secure a building for school and evangelistic purposes, in remembrance of the late Rev. J. Welland. The two Sunday-schools have gone on favourably, and Mr. Parker has started a third for children of semi-Chinese parentage, which draws about thirty of that race. The Destitute Girls' Home, founded by Bishop Stuart, has eighteen East-Indian inmates, and meets with kind support.

5. Evangelistic Services are held weekly in Bow Bazaar, and a fresh impulse has been given them since the beginning of Advent, by Mr. Parker and a few earnest lay helpers. The Hindustani preaching to Jews and Mussulmans, by the reader, gave rise to some warmth of feeling, and has been dropped at present. He takes a share, however, in the preaching in Wellington Square.

6. Dr. Baumann's work calls forth a certain amount of interest, and the Sunday-school contributions at the close of the year showed an increase.

7. Mr. Parker and I take turns at the Sailors' Home morning prayers, and two laymen take each one day weekly. But a reader is much needed. The Sunday services there are regularly kept up.

Another Annual Letter of which extracts are now printed for the first time in the Society's Report, is that of the Rev. Rajkristo Bose, who (as already mentioned) has succeeded Mr. Rudra at Trinity Church, where he has a congregation of 475 Native baptized Christians, and 72 unbaptized adherents:—

Native congregation of Trinity Church, Calcutta.

My chief work is among the Native flock, among whom, I am thankful to say, are men and women who have voluntarily devoted themselves to the work of God. God grant that the flock entrusted to my ministry may become a glorious Church, and prove a sparkling gem in the crown of Jesus. Our voluntary agents go about preaching to the Hindus, Brahmos, and Mohammedans, read lessons in church on Sundays, teach boys and girls in the Sunday-school, and collect small subscriptions from poor Christians.

Our Sunday and weekly services are conducted just as usual, and I am happy to say well attended. Since last September we have started a prayer-meeting and Bible-class in the parsonage every Saturday evening, when we study the life of Christ by comparing the four Gospels. Once a week our brethren meet in the house of one of them to pray and read the Scriptures together. Our labour is not in vain in the Lord, and we trust we shall "reap in due season, if we faint not."

In addition to the Trinity Church congregation I have to work among the inmates of the Almshouse and the Leper Asylum. There are both Christians and heathens. I am assisted by three brethren in this important branch of my work. Divine service is held in both these places every Sunday, as also three times in a week.

For the last month and a half I made occasional visits to the Calcutta Medical College Hospital, and the Sealdah Campbell Hospital. In these places the Gospel of everlasting salvation is preached to a great number of Hindus and Mohammedans, who sit in darkness and the shadow of death.

A Temperance Society at Calcutta.

The conduct of the Native Christian tenants has been, upon the whole, very satisfactory, though now and then instances occur which give me pain, and make me despair. For example, some of our tenants are addicted to strong drink; but, God be praised, we have been able to start a Temperance Society, and most of this class of persons have come forward to sign their names, in order to become members of the Society, and from that day they have proved themselves sober.

I go about preaching morning and evening among Hindus, Brahmos, and Mohammedans, and a number of educated Brahmos of the New Dispensation visit my house twice a week. . . . . Some five years ago I thought that the Brahmos were no obstacles to the preaching of the Gospel of Jesus, but now my firm conviction is that much good will not come out of the movement. The Brahmos of the New Dispensation are Hindus dressed in a lovelier garb. Here I express my hearty thanks to Babu Bhagaban Chandra Chatterjee, B.L., who assisted me in controverting some of the objections against Christianity made by the Brahmos who regularly see me at the parsonage.

Death of J.B.Ghose.

Mr. Bose also mentions the death of Babu Jadu Bindu Ghose, whose remarkable story is told in the late Mr. Vaughan's *The Trident, the Crescent, and the Cross. He heard Mr. Lacroix of the L.M.S. preach in the streets sixty years ago, and for half a century he was a seeker after peace. He was baptized ten years ago by Mr. Vaughan, and became a devoted Christian and evangelist.

In Trinity Church there is also held, on Sunday evenings, an evangelistic English service, which is attended by a large number of educated non-Christian Babus. For this service the Rev. Dr. C. Baumann is responsible; and he also superintends the well-organized and extensive direct evangelistic work among many other classes of the population of Calcutta, as well as the outlying congregations at Thakurpukur, Kristopur, Bonhugli, &c. The Committee regret much that the report of this most interesting and encouraging work has again not yet come to hand.

* See also C. M. Gleaner, April, 1879, and June, 1880.

Bengal Divinity School.

The Divinity School had five students at the close of the year, but others were expected. It need scarcely be said that the labour of lecturing in the various branches of a theological course is as great for five as for twenty-five, more especially when they are not sufficiently equal in knowledge to form one class; and the Principal, the Rev. W. R. Blackett, has keenly felt the need of assistance. The younger brother associated with him, the Rev. W. A. Ball, has hitherto been absorbed in his preliminary study of Bengali. Mr. Blackett also had to suspend his teaching altogether for two or three months, in order to go to other parts of India with his colleagues on the Vice-regal Education Commission. The Committee gratefully record their high sense of the value of Mr. Blackett's labours as a member of that Commission.

Boarding Schools: for Christian Boys;

The Native Christian Boys' Boarding School and Young Men's Hostel is doing a good work. There are fifty boarders, most of them sons of respectable Bengali Christians, who pay for their maintenance and education. Most of these are pupils of the C.M.S. High School, but a few are undergraduates of the Calcutta University. There is a Christian head-master, Babu Parbati Charan Banerjea, who works under Dr. Baumann's supervision. There are three "monitors," "bright, godly, and earnest (Native) undergraduates, who have united themselves into a close triumvirate for the promotion of the spiritual good of their juvenile charge." These monitors hold a prayer-meeting with the boys every Saturday evening, teach them in the Sunday-school, and have compiled a Hymn Book for them, translating into Bengali such hymns as "A few more years shall roll," "Pilgrims of the night," "Just as I am," "Jesu, still lead on," &c. The last-named hymn is a special favourite. The Rev. G. H. Parsons is now assisting in the work of this institution.

and for Christian Girls.

A new Christian Girls' Boarding School has been lately opened, under the energetic superintendence of Miss H. J. Neele, formerly of Agarpara, who returned to India last autumn, commissioned to undertake this important work. Miss Alice Sampson is associated with her. The school is located at Christ Church Parsonage, Cornwallis Square, and was opened on February 7th, with a service in the adjoining church, at which the Bishop of Calcutta preached. It has been successfully begun with forty-one pupils, all boarders except eight. The Committee pray that much blessing may be vouchsafed to the institution, which, with that blessing, cannot but be a real benefit to the Native Christian community.

The Rev. F. Gmelin has furnished a report on AGARPÂRA, although (as already stated) he had scarcely arrived there, in the early part of last year, before his health broke down and he had to leave. The Mission here is on a much smaller scale than formerly. Mr. De Rozario's Anglo-Vernacular School was closed some years ago; but a similar school has replaced it, under purely Native management, in the same buildings, which are hired from the Society. The upper-class Boarding-school for girls has been superseded by the new one in Calcutta. The Orphanage remains, and some small vernacular schools; and evangelistic work is carried on by a zealous catechist. But Agarpâra has become an important station of the Church of England Zenana Society, three of whose ladies reside in one of the C.M.S. houses.

BURDWAN.

The Rev. Piari Mohun Rudra, late pastor of Trinity Church, Calcutta, is now labouring at this station. In his report he mournfully contrasts its present condition with what it was in the days of Weitbrecht and Greaves. The plague of fever, which has wrought such havoc in past years in the town and district, seems to be abating; but its enervating effects are seen in the congregation. As an evangelistic centre, however, Mr. Rudra finds Burdwan more than sustaining its old reputation. "I find," he says, "people more eager to listen than I am able to preach. The work is more than I and my small staff can overtake. It is very encouraging, and the field very extensive." But, that there is an underground movement, so to speak, in India, which will spread without the assistance of regular evangelists, is most strikingly illustrated by the following remarkable communication in a later letter from Mr. Rudra, dated January 16th:—

Remarkable movement: an independent Native evangelist.

I have come across a set of men who are on their own account preaching Christ in the villages round about Assensole. One of them received the Gospel, and was baptized in Cachar some three years ago. Since returning to his own village he openly declared his faith in Christ, and was excommunicated by his caste. But he persevered, and began to preach Christ by composing Christian hymns. Before his conversion to Christianity he was considered as a Guru by Vaishnahs, and had a number of disciples. Since his conversion he has been visiting his disciples and telling them of Christ and of the great salvation He has wrought. This he has been doing for some time past, and the result is that about sixty persons, scattered in different villages, have expressed a wish to join him. About a dozen have joined him, and he has, at the request of the candidates, baptized two. About half-a-dozen go about singing in the district, preaching Christ, and they are provided with food by those who listen to them. He is trying to influence men of his own class, and not unfrequently his hymns bring him to the notice of bigoted Hindus, and he is obliged to enter into a controversy with them.

I had a long talk with him, and gave him some instruction as to the subject-matter of his preaching, and corrected some of his erroneous notions. I told him not to baptize, but to refer to me whenever he found any one willing to join the Church. I gave him some portions of the Scriptures, Gospels, and a number of tracts, and the Book of Common Prayer in Bengali. He has set out visiting those people in the villages to whom he had preached, and would give me a report of how he found them on his return. He has agreed to join us and to refer to us, whenever he finds people ready to receive baptism, for instruction and administering the rite. We had a prayer-meeting with them yesterday before we parted.

The whole affair shows that God has been working in this country silently and quite unknown to the world. God has, through the instrumentality of this one man, caused the Gospel to be preached to thousands in this part of Bengal. He receives no pay, but works with his own hands part of the year when he does not go out to preach; but in his preaching tours, lives on the people who hear him. The Christian hymns he has composed are suited to the people for whom they are intended, and when they sing, they sing with such devotion and fulness of faith that they move the hearts of the audience.

KRISHNAGAR DISTRICT.

Bishop of Calcutta's testimony concerning Krishnagar.

The Committee are thankful to report marked signs of revival and growth in Krishnagar. The Bishop of Calcutta, after his visitation of the district in February last year, wrote as follows:—

I am thankful to be able to record that I was everywhere impressed with the marked signs of improvement since my last visit.

The churches have all been thoroughly repaired and decently fitted with suitable furniture; the behaviour at church and the congregational character of the services have much improved, and there seemed, in every place, at least a certain number of thoroughly earnest and intelligent Christians.

The agents seemed to be more conscious of the responsibility of their position, and more single-hearted in disinterested devotion to their work; and the training school seemed to be making its influence felt in a higher tone manifested in the younger agents. Altogether, I must thankfully bear testimony to the zeal and devotion of our departed brother, Vaughan, as shown in these results produced amidst many anxieties and discouragements, and hopefully commend the work to his successor, in the full confidence that in due time we shall reap, if we faint not. May the sevenfold gifts of the Spirit be ever present with him and his fellow-labourers, European and Native!

Results of Rev. J. Vaughan's work.

The Rev. A. Clifford, in his first report as missionary in general charge of the district, dwells on the great work done there by the late Mr. Vaughan. "He set things on a firmer footing than he himself, perhaps, was conscious of; and though, indeed, many of the evils he so vigorously fought against have not been wholly uprooted, they have received such a check as will, I hope, if the same line of action is still pursued, at last bring about their complete destruction." The improvement, however, in the spiritual condition of the Christian community of 6128 souls, although perceptible, is slow; and Mr. Clifford has been saddened by some cases of grievous sin on the part even of teachers. But it is a sign of progress that these cases now cause indignation among the people. The battle against caste, also, has been won; and the leading men who opposed Mr. Vaughan have either lost their influence or ceased to oppose. The Romanist aggression, reported in previous years, continues, but feebly. "In several places they have shut up their schools and withdrawn in despair."

Prospects and policy in Krishnagar.

Mr. Clifford suggests four heads of policy for the conduct of the Krishnagar Mission:—(1) the development of self-government and self-support; (2) the training of good catechists; (3) the promotion of a system of instruction for Christian girls and women and of evangelization among women generally: (4) efforts to make the schools for Christian boys more efficient. Under the head of (3), he notices a plan on foot for establishing a class of Christian widows, to train them as female evangelists and Bible-women.

Itinerating in Krishnagar.

The Rev. H. Williams has zealously prosecuted his important itinerating work. The district specially allotted to him has an area of 627 square miles, and contains 620 villages, with a population of 335,000, which gives the very high figure of 534 souls per square mile. For five months in the cold season he was out in camp, preaching from village to village, and in that time visited 122 villages. He is thoroughly convinced of the value of the plan he was instructed to work upon:—"Instead of the Gospel being quickly forgotten, as a great deal is when the missionary only drops down here and there in the large towns, by the village-to-village itineration it becomes the theme of conversation throughout the whole district." Three months also, in the rainy season, he spent in travelling by boat. In the winter tour, Mrs. Williams accompanied her husband:—

A lady's work among the women.

She was able to do much for the women. It was her practice to go each evening, with a Bible-woman, into the village near the tent. An invitation to sit down at one of the houses was, with hardly an exception, quickly offered, and soon a large congregation of women assembled. Indeed, the difficulty she had was the great number of listeners. The women must bring their children with them, and such an audience is difficult to manage. She was much encouraged by their receptiou of the truth.

Work of this kind might be taken up more thoroughly with great advantage. In the villages, the hearers are not from the rich class, but they are from all castes, from the Brahmin downwards. When a district has been taken up as a field for itinerating, a Mission to the women is as necessary as to the men. It needs no argument to show what a great help one Mission would be to the other. An anecdote will illustrate this. A boy in one of our schools was explaining the Parable of the Sower; I asked him to which of the four classes he belonged. His answer was, "We are the stony-ground hearers; because in the school we learn the truth, and believe it, but when we go home our mother, aunt, and sisters, laugh at us, and taunt us for becoming Christians, so we quickly give it up."

In the last Annual Report mention was made of the readiness of the Mohammedans, who are three-fifths of the population in this part of Bengal, to hear the Gospel. The Committee have now to report, with deep thankfulness, that it has pleased God to call out some converts from among them. Mr. Williams writes:—

Converts from Mohammedanism in Bengal.

In November, 1881, a very respectable and fairly well-educated Mussulman came to us for baptism. He was well spoken of by Nasr-ud-din, the man baptized by Mr. Vaughan three years ago, and who has nobly held his own while living all alone among his Mussulman relations. He had an intelligent knowledge of Christianity, and the points of difference between it and Mohammedanism, and was ready to go back to his own village without throwing himself upon the Mission for support. A fierce persecution ensued, and he yielded and fell. The Mussulmans throughout the district raised a shout of triumph. They confidently began to boast that there was now no fear of any others coming forward for baptism. The result of the man's fall and return to Mohammedanism was remarkable, and perhaps without precedent. Owing to the caste feeling among the Mussulmans, the small party who received him back were outcasted by their co-religionists, and up to the present time remain so. As they are leading men, the ferment in the district was extraordinary. Maulvies were brought, letters written to distant places, and meeting after meeting held to discuss the matter. Christianity, therefore, got a place in men's minds such as it would not have got if fifty men had been baptized and had remained firm.

But the triumph of the Mussulmans was short-lived. In July, two men, a woman, and a child were baptized. They are all relations of the man who had fallen away, and they had been witnesses of the sufferings he underwent. The most determined efforts were made to prevent their baptism. Two nights before it took place, the enraged Mussulmans set fire to the house of one of the candidates. The inmates were aroused in time to save the house. Two days after, in the presence of a large crowd of Mussulmans, the four were baptized. One of the men has not yet had his wife restored to him. They, with Nasr-ud-din, now form a little church in the village of Tertulberia, and are commending the Gospel to their neighbours and relations by word and example.

But Moslem bitterness is often encountered. The Rev. J. W. Hall relates an incident which illustrates both this and the meek spirit of some of the Christian agents:—

A soft answer which did not turn away wrath.

Manick, who was acting as our dâk (messenger) between Bollobpore and Tertulberia, had left us in the morning; but long ere he reached the Bhairub (a then swollen river, and consequently dangerous to cross) night came on, forcing him to seek shelter until dawn. Going to the house of a Mussulman he asked for a lodging (which, I may say, is never or seldom refused). The Mussulman, however, turned a deaf ear to his request, on the ground that his masters were up in Tertulberia making Christians of the people. "You are a low, mean lot, you Christians," said the man. "Ay," replied Manick, "I own we are a poor despised people." When the man found that his thrust had not gone home, he said, "Nay, you are a great people." "True," replied Manick, "we are a great people; we are the sons of the living God;" and the angry Mussulman turned him out into the dark night.

Can a mission preacher be also a school manager?

Mr. Williams, in addition to his evangelistic work, superintends the village schools as best he can. "What," he asks, "would be thought at home if a mission preacher were to become, not only inspector, but sole manager, of forty-three schools, scattered over two counties, and numbering 2177 scholars (500 girls and the rest boys)?" Nothing, surely, could better illustrate the burdens of our missionaries, and their need of sympathy and help.

Training Institution

The Training Institution at the town of Krishnagar is conducted by the Rev. J. W. Hall. Thirty students are being prepared to be teachers and evangelists. The bad conduct of one or two ex-pupils has had an unfavourable influence, and given much cause for solicitude. Mr. Hall has also opened a book-shop in the town, "with a very nice young Christian as shopman," by which means a good sale of Christian books has been secured, and thousands of tracts have been distributed.

SANTÂLIA.

The Rev. J. Brown has continued in charge of the TALJHARI and BAHAWA districts, residing himself at Bahawa, and having under him three Native pastors, viz. the Rev.

Sham Basra at Lakhipur, the Rev. William Sido at Chuchi, and the Rev. Bhim Hasda at Taljhâri. The Rev. J. Blaich is at HIRANPUR, and the Rev. A. Stark at BHAGAYA. The GODDA station has a Native pastor, the Rev. Ram Charan. The Committee thank God that they have been enabled to add two missionaries to the Santâlia staff in the past year, the Rev. Arthur J. Shields, B.A., of Jesus College, Cambridge; and Dr. W. P. Johnson, of Edinburgh University, the latter a medical missionary. These two brethren, with their wives, are an important reinforcement; and the Committee earnestly trust that their health may be preserved, and that a lengthened and useful missionary career is before them. Both are at present at Taljhâri.

The statistics are not complete, no report again having been received from Hiranpur. In the other four districts there are 1967 baptized Christians, of whom the very large proportion of 745 are communicants; also 63 catechumens. Supposing Hiranpur to be the same as last year (92), these figures show an increase of 80 adherents. The baptisms were—adults, 31; children, 99.

Light and shade in Santâlia.

The general tenor of the reports is somewhat discouraging as regards the Santâls. There are no large accessions from among the heathen, and the Christians are lacking in spirituality and zeal. Mr. Brown, nevertheless, writes that he is "filled with fresh hope, seeing so many earnests or signs of the ripening of the harvest here and there." One trial has been in itself a token for good, viz. the death of "the bright and promising catechist, Joel Barsa," of whom it is said, "His confidence in God was remarkable; he had no fear of death; he was perfectly resigned to the will of God."

Pahâri converts: cheering prospects.

On the other hand, the work among the Pahâris of the hills has given Mr. Stark much encouragement. In November six whole villages renounced idolatry and placed themselves formally under Christian instruction. In January of this year some of the more advanced were baptized, including the devil-priest himself, who, on being asked what he had done with his demons, replied, "I have buried them, and told them to come near me no more." "What did they say?" "Say," he exclaimed; "what can stones say?" Mr. Stark expects to register 200 converts from these villages alone. The Pahâris, he says, are "a people more ready to receive the Gospel than any I know in India, or it may be in the whole world." "The work among them," he adds, "is most cheering, though it is very hard and rough, owing to the hills and jungles in which they live, and the distance of the villages from one another." There are 95,000 of these people, according to the Census of 1881. They are "a savage and uncultivated race, immersed in drunkenness and almost every other vice," yet "a very simple and trusting people, with unbounded confidence in the good-will of the English." Mr. Stark has two Boarding Schools for the Pahâri children, one with 50 boys, and the other with 24 girls. Seven converts were baptized from among them.

Pahâri and Santâl translations.

The translations into the Pahâri language of the Gospels of St. Luke and St. John, and the Church Catechism, by the Rev. E. Droese, of Bhagalpur, have been printed in the past year. So has the revised edition of St. Matthew in Santâli. A Bible History in the latter tongue is ready for press, and the larger part of the Prayer-Book in Pahâri.

Medical work in Santâlia.

There are dispensaries at Bahâwa and Taljhari. The former has been worked by Mr. Brown, and the latter by a Native doctor. The attendances have been 3000 and 4665 respectively. Dr. Johnson has now taken charge of the one at Taljhari.

A Daily Prayer Union has been established by Mr. Brown in connexion with the one established in this country by the Rev. H. L. Harkness. He reports 65 members, and expected the number would be 300 or 400 shortly.

A year or two ago, a considerable number of Santâls emigrated to the Maldah district, north of the Ganges. A few of them were Christians; and a catechist was sent both to minister to these and to preach to the heathen. He holds Sunday and daily services, and carries on two schools.

BHAGALPUR.

The venerable missionary, the Rev. E. Droese, continues at his post. The Rev. A. W. Baumann now divides the work with him. Nor must the zealous and loving labours of Mrs. and Miss Droese be forgotten. Some brief passages from Mr. Droese's full and interesting Annual Letter are subjoined:—

Work of an old missionary.

Mr. Baumann and myself agreed that he should take superintendence of the orphan boys and day-school, attend to the preaching work in the town of Bhagalpur, have charge of the Bhagalpur Mission out-station, Jumalpur, Monghyr, and take his turn with me in conducting divine service on Sundays for our Bhagalpur Native congregation.

The Girls' Orphanage has remained in charge of Mrs. and Miss Droese. The work in the district at Sahibganj, in the hills there at Ganga Parsad and Phulkiya, has been looked after by me, which, in addition to the duties devolving on me as missionary in charge of the Bhagalpur Native Christian congregation and of the treasurership of the Mission, and literary labours in Malto, the language of the Rajmahal hill people, has proved to be more than enough for me at the advanced age of sixty-five, and in a state of health by no means quite reliable as yet after my last severe illness.

In the villages around Phulkiya, where our Satgurua converts live, the people, Hindus and Satguruas, keep very shy, especially of the missionary, though they seem to be more accessible to our Native readers. In one village I was one day, again and again, very plainly told, and that in a not at all conciliatory manner, that I had better not come again with the story of Jesus Christ; the people had no mind to be caught in a net, and that I should give up all hope of bringing disgrace and ruin on them, as I had done for the Satgurua converts of Phulkiya.

Some months after, when cholera was raging in that neighbourhood, and carrying off large numbers of the people, the men of that very village, and many other villages thereabouts, sent to Phulkiya for medicine, nay, begged that our catechist and the leading man among the Christians would come and give medicine, and pray over the sick and dying. This was of course responded to, and almost all the people thus ministered unto recovered. On one occasion a Christian man and his sister were called to a heathen family, almost every member of which had been seized by the sickness. So these two Christians spent in that house of misery, which none of the heathen relatives and friends could be prevailed upon to come near to, above a week, tending and ministering to that heathen family in their time of need. The head of that household died, but all the others recovered. Afterwards many a heathen and Mohammedan was heard to say, "Behold, our Brahmins and teachers forsook us, and would not, as long as the sickness lasted, come near even our villages; our relatives and friends kept aloof, for they were afraid; but these Christians were not afraid of death, and they cared for us as if they were our relatives."

There are 208 baptized Christians at Bhagalpur, 46 at Phulkiya, 42 at Sahibganj, and 89 at Jamalpur. Of the Bhagalpur congregation Mr. Droese says, "Most of the people lead consistent Christian lives, and there are amongst them such as must be looked upon as truly loving the Lord Jesus."

The Rev. A. W. Baumann reports an interesting baptism:—

A Hindu convert.

A Hindu youth of the Kshatriya caste was educated in our Boarding School at Pattra. I made the acquaintance of this young man when at Godda, and when his father put all kinds of obstacles in the way of his becoming a Christian, he left his father's house, his own wife and kindred, and came to Bhagalpur. Here he read with me for about four months, and was prepared for baptism, which he received on the 29th of October, 1882, in the Mission church. He chose for himself the name Masih Barnau Dás (the servant who tells about Christ), for he gave this as the reason, that as he himself had been brought to the Saviour by hearing His servants narrate the history of Christ, so he felt bound to tell others also about this Saviour.

North-West Provinces.

Agra, commenced 1813; Meerut (Mirât), 1815; Benares, 1817; Gorakhpur, 1823; Azimgarh and Jaunpur, 1831; Lucknow, 1858; Allahabad, 1859; Faizabad, 1862; Aligarh, 1863.

The N.-W. Provinces Church Council.

The sixth Annual Meeting of the C.M.S. Native Church Council for the North-West Provinces was held on October 19th and 20th at Jabalpur, in the Central Provinces, the congregation of that town being connected with this Council. The Rev. B. Davis, M.A., the Chairman appointed by the Parent Committee, presided. The Rev. Madho Ram, pastor of Jabalpur, preached the sermon. The Treasurer, Mr. G. E. Knox, presented the accounts, which, as printed, are of a very elaborate character, detailing the receipts and expenditure at every station, and distinguishing between pastoral and evangelistic work. The Rev. David Mohun, pastor in Allahabad, then submitted his report of a journey he had taken, at the request of the Council, to visit the congregations at Jaunpur, Azamgarh, Gorakhpur, Basti, and Faizabad, and obtain information upon their feelings regarding various matters under consideration by the Council. This was followed by a business-like discussion on the affairs of all the congregations seriatim; after which the Rev. Davi Solomon, pastor of Lucknow, read a paper "Concerning all intoxicating things," in which he dwelt on the evils of drink, and the temptations to excess among Native Christians. An animated discussion ensued. The Committee rejoice to observe in the proceedings of the Council many tokens of growing strength and independence, and of increasing readiness to "look, not every man upon his own things, but every man also on the things of others."

The missionary staff in the North-West Provinces remains much the same as last year. The Rev. W. Windsor has retired; and the Rev. W. Latham, M.A., has been appointed to the vacancy thus created at Lucknow. The Rev. I. T. H. Hoernle has come to Europe on furlough; and his place has been taken by the Rev. G. H. Weber, who returned to India in the autumn. Two more Native clergymen were ordained by the Bishop of Calcutta, at Allahabad, on December 13th, viz., the Rev. Mark Drummond, of Lucknow, and the Rev. Benjamin Tobit, of Gorakhpur: the former to be stationed at Aligarh, and the latter at the Christian village of Basharatpur.

The Committee cannot but notice in this place, with deep regret, the death, during the last year, of two former missionaries of the Society in the North-West Provinces, both of whom left their mark upon the Society's Indian Missions, the Rev. Christian Theophilus Hoernle and the Rev. Henry William Shackell. Mr. Hoernle was originally a missionary of the Basle Society in Persia, whither he went in 1825. He joined the C.M.S. North-India Mission in 1838, and laboured in its service for forty-three years. The stations both at Secundra and Mîrat owe much to his good management and untiring zeal.* Mr. Shackell was 10th Wrangler in 1857, 2nd Class Classics, 1st Class Theological Tripos, and Fellow of Pembroke. He worked with the greatest devotion for seventeen years at Agra, Aligarh, and Benares, and afterwards in the Santâl Mission. The stations of Aligarh and Godda were established at his private expense. It was his privilege to baptize the Rev. Madho Ram, now of Jabalpur, and the Rev. Tara Chand, now of the S.P.G. Delhi Mission.

BENARES.

The missionary staff at Benares, and the allotment of the multifarious work among its members, are without alteration. The congregations in the city and out-stations comprise 345 Christians, of whom 151 are communicants. This shows a very slight falling off, which is more than accounted for by the deaths in one out-station alone, Jaunpur. There were 12 adults and 26 children baptized during the year. The number of scholars in the various schools is 1647, of whom 535 are in Jay Narain's College, 94 in the Female Normal School, 75 in the Girls' Orphan School, and 112 in the Industrial School, &c. Of the first-named institution the Rev. B. Davis continues Principal, besides acting as station missionary and (as above mentioned) Chairman of the North-West Provinces Church Council. The three others are under the care of the Rev. J. and Mrs. Treusch. As the Committee have not reported on these in detail for some years, some extracts are subjoined from Mr. Treusch's Annual Letter:—

The Institutions at Benares.

Our chief work at Benares is the management of the Normal and Industrial Schools, and the Girls' Orphanage. I say "our work," because Mrs. Treusch takes a most active part in carrying on the work in these three institutions. The household affairs rest almost entirely upon her, and many other duties which could not possibly be done by any one else than a lady. She gives regular assistance in the Normal School, her work being the teaching of translation from Urdu into English, and the superintendence of the practising in teaching of the first-class girls, whenever I have no time to do so.

* See C.M. Intelligencer, June, 1883.

She superintends likewise the classes engaged in translating from English into Urdu, besides helping me in giving the singing and harmonium lessons.

The Normal School has been steadily progressing year after year. There have been ninety-four girls under instruction this year. One was married to a Brahmin convert, at some far-off station of the Scotch Mission. She writes the most interesting letters. The Hindu women there, seeing her read, write and sew, &c., are so much amazed that they call her a deodá. The pen with which she writes, and her little drawings, these poor women consider as the tool and produce of witchcraft, which they dread to touch. I greatly hope that she will by-and-by make herself useful among these poor benighted women. Female Normal School;

The behaviour of the majority of our girls is very good. Many of the girls join the prayer-meeting, which they of their own accord started among themselves some years ago, and which they hold twice a week, conducted by one of their teachers. About the same time when they introduced this prayer-meeting, I observed that some of the upper-class girls, when school was over, wrote down what they could remember of the explanations I had given on that portion of Holy Scripture which we read for our daily morning devotion before we begin our school-work.

We have 78 orphan girls in the Girls' Orphanage, of which number 13 are in the Normal School. Miss Hopffer, who came out at the beginning of this year, is living in this institution. She came out chiefly for the Industrial School, with a view of helping Mrs. Treusch also in the Orphanage. I am thankful we were not obliged to break up the Industrial School, which no doubt would have been its fate if the Committee had not kindly helped us in getting her out. This institution is self-supporting, and offers to our Christian women an opportunity of earning their bread, and to our Normal and orphan girls, that of getting well acquainted with needlework as well as other kinds of work of which young women ought to have a good knowledge. It is only the voluntary work of the Normal girls which enables us to make this school self-supporting and to carry it on. The orphan girls also are gradually taught to assist this institution by working for it. Some girls therefore have begun lace-making, and others are taught fine needlework by Miss Hopffer. Industrial Girls' School.

Hitherto has the Lord helped us! We praise His holy name. May He grant us strength also in future to labour on faithfully as long as it may please Him to allow us to do His work!

Mr. Treusch also reports on the out-stations of Chunar, Ahraurah, and Gharwah, which fell to his charge when Mr. Hooper and Mr. Hackett removed to Allahabad. It is interesting to see the results of Mr. Leupolt's energy in former years:—

In and around Gharwa we have four boys' schools, attended by about 100 boys. Old Gideon, a catechist, visits the schools, teaches the catechism and Bible, and reports to me on the schools. He as well as the teachers are paid from our Gharwa fund, or rather the income of the estate. With regard to this I am happy to say we are now reaping what our dear brother Leupolt has sown. On buying the estate for the Benares Church Missionary Association, he wrote in his account-book that he hoped when once it should be free, i.e.

when the debts on it should be paid off, it would prove a help to the Mission. I have paid off the rest of the debt, and I trust I shall be able to spend something in improving these schools, as well as those of the other out-stations.

The Rev. F. E. and Mrs. Walton have charge of the Boys' Orphanage, with its 50 inmates; and Mrs. Johnson superintends the City Girls' Schools, with their 360 pupils, while her husband, the Rev. J. J. Johnson, is occupied mainly in direct evangelistic work. He gives an interesting account of his visits to the maths, or Hindu monasteries:—

Visits to Hindu monasteries at Benares.

On careful examination, it is very striking to find how many maths, or religious houses which we may call monasteries, are scattered everywhere throughout the city. These are inhabited by various celibate orders of ascetics and devotees called Daudis, Sanuyasés, Sadhus, Yogis, &c. The head of each math is called the "Mahant," or superior, who is treated with great respect by the rest of the Sadhus, who are his chelas; their usual custom on re-entering the math after returning from the quest for alms or from bathing in the Ganges being to go up to him and devoutly prostrate themselves at his feet. Many of these ascetics, especially the younger men, are real students of their sacred books, and earnest thinkers about religion; but many, on the other hand, are intensely lazy, stupid, and apathetic, and seem to have adopted this mode of life, not that their hearts and souls, delivered from the cares of the world, might be free to seek after and attain to the life of perfect peace and union with Brahma which was the original aim of these institutions, but that they might pass through the present birth as easily as possible.

During the year the Native pastor, Aman Masih, and I, have visited many of these maths. Our custom has been to visit one or two of them a week, and, on being allowed to enter, to fraternize freely with the yellow-robed ascetics, sitting down beside them, and holding discussions with them about religion in general, and the true religion to be sought after by all.

One day, an intelligent young grihasth guided us to a math on the river-bank. In it we found two old men, one fat and apathetic, the Mahant, the other wholly blind, his devoted disciple. Being invited to sit down we began by inquiring, "To what order do you belong?" "The order of Sanuyasés, founded by Shankaracharya." "Kindly tell us your name, and the name of this math." The names were given, and we went on, "But you have not always been a Sadhu, you have been a householder in the world?" "Yes; but I left all that long ago, even my name as a Sanuyasé is different." "How do you spend your time? You say you are a Vedanti, do you read the Vedant philosophical books?" "No; I do nothing all day but eat and drink and meditate." "On what?" "On nothing; I am become one with Brahma." "Yes," said the young grihasth, with enthusiastic faith, "he has become one with God." "What!" said we, "This fat, jolly old man, who talks only of eating and drinking, who does not read, nor think of spiritual things, or even of the imperishable Brahma, can he have become one with God?" Here the old Mahant laughed heartily, but the young man again gravely declared that, in spite of such seeming contradictions, the fact of oneness with Brahma was not to be doubted. The old man seeming quite satisfied with his mode of life and his theory, it seemed quite hopeless to awaken any higher thoughts in him.

Several of these ascetics, however, have shown themselves really interested in our work, and also earnestly impressed. One old Mahant asked for a copy of the New Testament, which I gave him. I learn that he is reading it. Another, a thoughtful young Mahant, has also taken a copy, and is doing the like. He has, in his turn, several times visited me, and talked earnestly about difficult points in Hinduism. Another Sadhu volunteered to become a Christian, but has not yet fulfilled his word.

Azamgarh, now an out-station of Benares, is superintended by Mr. Johnson. The High School there, of which Babu Prio Nath Ghose is the able head-master, continues to prosper, and has again been very successful in the Government examinations.

GORAKHPUR.

The Rev. Henry Stern reports as follows :—

The number of Native Christians in connexion with this Mission, comprising Gorakhpur, Basharatpur, Sternpur, and Basti, is much the same as last year, i.e. 792. There were forty-two baptisms, among whom were two adults only. The number has slightly decreased on account of several orphan boys having been sent to Cawnpore in order to learn a trade and earn a livelihood in the lately-established boot and shoe manufactory, in which some hundreds of Native Christian boys are employed.

The great number of orphans on our hands are a continual cause of anxiety as to their future settlement. We cannot settle all of them, neither in Basharatpur nor in the new village. We ought to have another piece of land for this purpose.

The new village, Sternpur, the foundation of which was laid on the 6th of January, has now several Christian families located there. In the course of the year a chapel, with rooms for a boys' and girls' school and eight cottages, have been built; a well has been sunk and a large orchard laid out. The chapel has as yet not been opened for divine service. It has as yet no internal fittings. A reader or catechist must be located there; all of which, together with the opening of a school, will be done I hope in the new year. Some of the jungle has been cleared, and fields of rice, wheat, and barley have taken its place. Owing to scanty and unseasonable rains, not so much in the way of cultivation was done as was anticipated. A great deal remains to be done. The culturable area is only 175 bighas, or about 120 acres, and this will not support more than twenty families. Well, a beginning has been made. May God give the increase!

The new Christian village of Sternpur.

There are eighteen schools in connexion with the Gorakhpur Mission, with above 1200 pupils, of whom more than 300 are girls. In these latter are included thirty-three zenanas, with sixty-six pupils. In the last departmental examination, held in December, 1881, our school was the best in the Benares circle. As an evangelistic agency, our schools are silently permeating the mass of pupils with Gospel truth. During the last year the Gospel of St. Matthew was the subject in all the classes; and in the highest also the Epistle to the Ephesians.

Gorakhpur Native Missionary Association.

The Native Missionary Association continue their operations, of which an account is given in the monthly missionary prayer-meetings. There are two colporteurs engaged in this and the Basti districts, and a Bible-woman is doing a good work, and meets with a kind reception in the several villages about Basharatpur.

From the Bishop of Calcutta's account of his visit to Gorakhpur in July, 1882, some paragraphs may be given :—

Bishop of Calcutta at Gorakhpur.

I arrived on the 14th of July. In the evening I drove out to inspect the new buildings, &c., which will make a new village for Native Christians. I was greatly pleased with it all: the plan is well devised, the houses excellent in every way, and built at a most moderate cost, and I found crops already springing up on the ground lately occupied by jungle. The young men who are the proprietors seemed to be very intelligently enthusiastic about their prospects, and their devotion to agriculture gives proof of the excellence of the system under which they have been trained from their childhood at Basharatpur. I most earnestly wish every success to their new venture.

On Saturday morning I held a confirmation, when 100 Natives, mostly young men and young women, were presented. Their appearance and behaviour justified me in hoping that they were all sincere in their profession of faith, and of devotion to their divine Master's service.

On Sunday, the 16th, I drove out to Basharatpur and addressed the Native congregation at their service, Mr. Stern interpreting for me. I also inspected the orphanages there, and some of the villagers' houses. Nothing can be more satisfactory, and very definite results have manifestly been secured. The people are prosperous and well conducted, and are living in a natural way, but amidst order and comfort which it is most thankworthy to note. Returning to Gorakhpur, I addressed the Native congregation at the 3.30 service, Mr. Stern again interpreting. On Monday I distributed the prizes to the boys, and addressed a large gathering of Europeans and Natives, and I afterwards inspected the orphanage and girls' school.

I received a most favourable impression from all I saw, and altogether I consider that there is no more successful Mission anywhere. I do not think of the number of conversions, nor do I mean to say that there is not much still needed, especially in the matter of competent agents: Mr. Stern should have a superior man for a Native pastor to take immediate charge of the Christian community in Basharatpur, and in other respects he should have more assistance; but the character and tone of the work is excellent, and I especially note the neatness and order and cleanliness which prevail everywhere. Mr. Stern's energy seems to be inexhaustible, and his zeal is inspiring.

The ordination of a Native pastor for the Christian settlement at Basharatpur, the Rev. Benjamin Tobit, has been already mentioned.

ALLAHABAD.

The N.-W. Provinces Divinity School.

The Divinity School, conducted by the Revs. W. Hooper and H. M. M. Hackett, has had fourteen students at different times during its first year. Two of these were the two men who were ordained on December 6th. Four were supported on scholarships provided by friends: of whom two, between the first and second parts of their course, have been sent to Bhagalpur to engage for a time in active evangelistic work. The other eight are lay agents of the Society. The studies are thus described by Mr. Hooper:—

The studies for the first year now past were: 1. In Scripture, Psalms and Isaiah, St. John's Gospel and Epistles, and the Eps. to Romans and Galatians. 2. In Christian Doctrine: the fundamental subjects of God, the World, and Man. 3. In Church History, that of the Oriental Churches. 4. In Hinduism: the Vedas. 5. In Islam: the Life of Mohammed. 6. In Science: Astronomy. Now, this year, we are teaching the same class—1. In Scripture: the other Poetical Books, Jeremiah and Ezekiel; Acts, Hebrews, and the Epistles of St. Peter and St. Jude. 2. In Christian Doctrine: Christology in all its departments. 3. In Church History, that of the Latin Church. 4. In Islam: the contents of the Koran. 5. In Hinduism: the Philosophical Systems. Meanwhile, they continually receive instruction in the Prayer-book, in homiletics (theoretical and practical, i.e. sermon writing), and either Sanscrit and Hindi or Arabic and Urdu, according to choice; and this year I am showing them the principles of the development of God's Kingdom as contained in the Bible.

Some Native Christian teachers.

There are three Native assistant-teachers, viz., a pandit (for Hindi and Sanscrit), a maulvi (for Urdu and Arabic), and a general teacher for the lower class. The maulvi is a Christian convert from Islam, Hasn Ali, who was originally brought to a knowledge of the truth by the Rev. A. Lockwood, and has been employed in the C.M.S. school at Jaunpur. The general teacher is John Baptist Ventura, one of an old Native Romanist family, who was with Dr. French in the Lahore College. There is also an evangelistic agent, Jânaki Datt, the remarkable old Brahman pandit of Azamgarh, whose conversion was reported last year under the head of Benares. Mr. Hooper gives a most interesting and pleasant account of him:—

Sequel of Jânaki Datt's history

His influence on the students; in the city;

Jánaki Datt has been a great comfort and a great help to us. Active, earnest, tender-hearted, full of strong faith in Christ and in prayer, overflowing with love to men, unselfish, humble, living only to do good, and withal venerable in appearance though small in stature, and strictly keeping up all national Hindu habits of life, he is indeed a blessing in our midst. Though his work is with outsiders, the students owe a vast deal to him. He has relieved me of a great deal of care on their account. Often has he made peace when two students were likely to quarrel. Often have his loving rebukes effected much more than my interference could have done. And even in teaching he has spent numberless hours in private help to the students, especially those weak in Hindi, entirely of his own accord. Then, to speak of his evangelistic work, he spends several hours daily in the city, not preaching in the street, but seeking interviews with respectable Hindus. His whole appearance wins their respect, and they hardly know whether more to marvel or rejoice, when they discover that

Jánaki Datt's first desire is, as it should be, to save his own family. He has this year brought his wife and eldest son to believe on the Lord Jesus; and the same may be almost said of a married daughter who has been living with him all this year, and whom he has now taken back to her husband according to Hindu custom. This husband has received his wife without any dislike, and there is good hope of both of them being eventually received into the Church.

The Divinity School has received a special token of the favour of God by being made the means of winning an interesting convert from Hinduism. Over its door, facing the street, is an inscription in English, Urdu, and Hindi. The Hindi words are "ABODE OF THE KNOWLEDGE OF GOD." Within a few days of their being painted up, four Hindu devotees, passing through the city on their way to Agra, were attracted by the inscription, and applied to be taught "the knowledge of God." After an hour's earnest converse with Mr. Hooper, they went on their way, delighted to have received the Gospels of St. Luke and St. John.* In their case the seed has been but sown: in another it has already sprung up and brought forth fruit:—

The "Abode of the Knowledge of God."

A Hindu convert.

Early in May a young Káyastha, who for many years had, indeed, been dissatisfied with Hinduism, but scarcely knew anything of Christianity, stopped a few days at Allahabad. One day he passed by and saw the Hindi words, "Abode of the knowledge of God." Perhaps, thought he, I shall here at last find what I am seeking. He ventured in, and was providentially directed to the class-room where the Native Christian assistant master, an old Lahore Divinity School pupil, though a Hindustani, was expounding St. Matthew to the lowest class in the school here. He was much pleased with what he heard, and the master invited him, when the lesson was over, to come to his house for more talk on the subject; this he continued to do for several days. His mind was full of objections to the doctrines of the Gospel as they were now unfolded to him; but his teacher's patient explanations, by God's help, removed them one by one. Gradually he came into contact with the other students. An innocent speech of one of them was a stumbling-block to him for a while. He had begun frequently to attend the chapel services; and one Sunday morning he stopped, unobserved by the officiating minister, to witness—of course only to witness—the Lord's Supper. This he could not make out at all; and on asking a young student what it meant, was told that it was "to quicken our love to Christ." "So Christians," he thought, "need eating and drinking to quicken their love to Christ!" But an Urdu booklet on the Lord's Supper, published at Lahore, was quickly helpful to dispel his doubts. Intercourse with Jánaki Datt also was most blessed to his conversion. The Principal, who was rejoiced to see the Native brethren working so well, was the last for the inquirer to make the acquaintance of.

* See C. M. Intelligencer, Dec., 1882, and April, 1883.

Humble as he is, he is remarkably bold. As soon as his baptism was fixed for Sunday, the 2nd July, he took every opportunity of inviting Hindus to come and convince him of what they must think to be his errors, before it was too late. Not a single pundit took the trouble; and those of his own caste only plied him with arguments of a worldly nature. Having a particularly heathenish name, he changed it, and took the name of Sadánand, which may be variously interpreted, "True joy," or "Everlasting joy." Certainly his countenance ever since shows that he has the former; may he be kept by the power of God to inherit the latter! The sermon on the occasion was, accidentally as man would say, the one of a course on the Magnificat, which expounded the words: "He that is Mighty hath done to me great things."

Six months later, Mr. Hooper writes of him, "Sadanand has continued to walk very consistently, and to grow in grace; a sure sign of which is a deepening sense of his own sinfulness. His wife is still opposed to the truth, but she is much less bitter than she used to be."

Another interesting convert is the fruit of the influence of the Christian maulvi, Hasn Ali, among his Moslem friends:—

A Mohammedan convert.

He meets with and influences educated and respectable Mussulmans all round. One of these is employed by Englishmen in high positions here to teach them and help them in Persian. Hasn 'Ali, got hold of him soon after coming here. He was then a professed Sufi; and while far more tolerant than most Mussulmans, evinced a great dislike to Christianity; so that after several attempts, Hasn 'Ali left him for a while. After some months he went to call on him again, and found him weeping. On inquiring why, he received the answer: "For my sins." On being asked how he had come to such a knowledge of his sins, he pointed to a Persian Testament which Hasn 'Ali had left with him before he broke off intercourse. Soon after this, he had to go up to Naini Tal. After some time, in the school vacation, we went there too, and Abdullah began visiting me on Sunday. At first, though he had lost faith in Islam, and liked what he knew of Christianity, yet he was afraid it also might prove equally disappointing. Not long after, however, he told me he was quite convinced that Christianity was true, but wanted to be a Christian secretly, for fear of losing his respectability. That was at the last interview I had with him at Naini Tal; but God carried on the work in his heart, as He had so wonderfully done so far. Immediately on our return here, he came and said he had made up his mind to be baptized, and wished me to administer the sacrament on Christmas Day. Since then he has continued to come to me for instruction on Sunday, and given great satisfaction. I am taking him through the Epistle to the Hebrews, as the concisest exposition there is of the unique glory of Christ, and our duty to Him.

Varied labours of a missionary.

Once a month Mr. Hooper holds a missionary meeting at Muirabad, the neighbouring Christian village of which the Rev. D. Mohun is pastor, at which he describes the various C.M.S. Missions in turn. He also conducts the examinations of all the Society's Native lay agents in the North-West Provinces. He is also Secretary for those Provinces of the Indian Female Normal School Society. Of literary work he observes that there is much that might be done if he had time; but that at present he has "only three irons in the fire." These are serious enough, for a man with so many onerous duties on him: they are, (1) the carrying through the press of the revised Urdu Prayer-Book, (2) the revision of the Hindi Prayer-Book, (3) the revision of the Hindi New Testament. In the two latter works he of course has coadjutors. The Committee commend all these multifarious labours to the prayerful sympathy of their friends.

LUCKNOW.

The appointment of the Rev. W. Latham to this station has been already mentioned. But the chief burden must still for some time rest upon the Rev. G. B. Durrant, assisted by the two Native clergymen, the Revs. Davi Solomon and W. Seetal. The educational and evangelistic agencies require a much larger staff, and Mr. Durrant contrasts the position of Lucknow with that of Delhi, where the S.P.G. and Cambridge Missions are carried on in comparative strength among a smaller population. A fresh example of the value of the seed-sowing work of Mission schools is supplied by his Annual Letter:—

Another Hindu convert.

The year under review closed with one of those bright gleams of encouragement which God from time to time graciously sends to gladden the missionary's heart. Towards the end of the hot season I was informed that a kayasth (writer), a man of good character, employed in one of the Lucknow railway offices, was anxious to see me with a view of obtaining instruction and being prepared for baptism. One interview sufficed to show that, so far as man could judge, he was in earnest in his desire to embrace Christianity.

He told me his story. More than twenty years ago he was a pupil in Mr. Ziemman's Mission school, at Gazipur. There, from the daily Bible instruction, he received his first impressions of the truth of the Gospel. Years passed away, and the boy grew into a man, and entered upon the work of life. The impressions he had received, though allowed to slumber, never wholly died out. From time to time they were revived, and on more than one occasion he fully made up his mind to join himself to the Church of Christ. But the cares of this world and the fear of man proved too much for him. On each occasion he allowed himself to be drawn back into his former state of carelessness and indifference. Last summer a great sorrow darkened his house. Two of his sons—both of them little children—were cut off suddenly by cholera. This trial was the means of leading him to Christ. He seems to have regarded this bereavement as a judgment from God for his previous indecision, and unwillingness to accept Christianity. He felt he must delay no longer, but must at once follow what he was assured were clear indications of God's will.

Both he and his wife were regularly instructed, and showed so clearly the earnestness and reality of their faith, that we felt there was no occasion for a prolonged probation. On Christmas Day, during the morning service, they, with their three children, were baptized in the presence of a crowded congregation, and so far their life has been such as to fill us with thankfulness and joy. They are witnessing for their master as bright and happy Christians.

The Lucknow Mission has been again burdened with the charge of Faizabad, for which place the Committee have not yet been able to allot a missionary. Mr. Durrant is thankful that the Indian Female Instruction Society has begun work there. The Rev. F. Abel has the pastoral care of the Native congregation.

AGRA.

St. John's College:

The staff at this great central station is the same as last year, with the addition of Mr. A. H. Wright, who has gone back to his old post at the head of the Normal School and the Boys' Boarding School and Hostel. St. John's College is reported on by the Revs. R. J. Bell and H. Lewis. The number of students has risen from 391 to 510; and there are many tokens of the high reputation in which it is held by the citizens of Agra. It received much praise from Dr. W. W. Hunter, the President of the Viceregal Education Committee, who visited it officially in August, and congratulated the missionaries on its success as an educational institution, saying, "You are doing a great work." The moral influence of the College has been evidenced in the case of many of the old students. One, who is now private secretary to a Hindu Rajah, said to Mr. Lewis, "Believe me, it has been only the principles of truth inculcated by the Christian teachers of St. John's which have preserved me from being drawn into the whirlpool of intrigue and lies that exist at my master's court." Mr. Bell writes:—

its moral influence;

Many of our old pupils call to see me when on a visit to their friends in Agra. Many of them are frequently located in stations where there are missionaries. These ex-pupils invariably look upon such men as their friends. The other day, an old ex-student, who has a good practice as a lawyer in Central India, called to see me, and in conversation I asked him if there was any missionary in his station. He at once replied, with a beaming countenance, "Yes, sir; and he is my best friend. I had him living in my house for some weeks, and we had many conversations on religious subjects." So, instead of shunning these servants of the Lord, they welcome them as friends. This feeling is not singular. Several have expressed the same pleasure in numbering missionaries among their best friends. Thus I hope we may rest assured that our Christian training is not lost. Many will, in God's good time, rise up and acknowledge that they are the servants of the Lord Jesus Christ.

its old pupils;

Mr. Bell adds some interesting facts in noticing the Native Christian master who is supported by Haileybury College:—

its Native Christian master.

Our Haileybury master (a Native Christian) told me the other day, that he heard with much pleasure some of our students boldly standing forth as defenders of our religious system of education. There is, in Agra, a Students' Association, and lectures are periodically delivered by some of its members. He was present when a paper on "Education" was delivered. After the lecture, discussion followed, and one of St. John's students pointed out that the lecturer had omitted an important factor in his educational scheme, and that was religion. He argued that no education could be complete without it, and maintained that a course of instruction like he enjoyed at St. John's College was the best fitted to educate the whole man. Many objected to his remarks, but happily he was upheld by two or three other students of our College, who ably defended their bold fellow-student.

I may here mention that our Haileybury master has during the year delivered his lectures to the students of this College and entrance classes. He has bestowed much labour on the preparation of his lectures, and has endeavoured to render them interesting as well as instructive. I may name some of the subjects he took up: "Mohammed," "Contrast between his character and Christ's," "Observations of Hinduism," "Pantheism," "The Hindu Divinities," "The Vedic Age," "The Ancient Doctrines as regards matter and the formation of the Universe," "The Doctrine of Hindu Sages on the same," &c., &c. We continue to be much indebted to the masters and pupils of Haileybury, who continue to show their interest in the spiritual well-being of our students by remitting their annual subscriptions, whereby their important lectureship is maintained.

Agra Girls' Schools.

Miss L. Ellwanger, who has been labouring zealously ever since the Mutiny in the charge of four Girls' Schools for the upper and middle classes of both Hindus and Mohammedans, sends an encouraging report, showing the good and increasing influence exercised by these schools upon the girls, and indirectly upon the parents. One rich maulvi, however, has removed his daughters, "two bright, superior girls," being afraid they would become Christians, as they "constantly sang Christian hymns and read Christian books at home."

Evangelistic work is carried on systematically by the Rev. C. G. Daeuble, with a staff of catechists, both in the city and in the neighbouring villages; and many thousands have thus heard the Gospel message—ten thousand, it was computed, at the great annual mela in November. He also exercises a kindly supervision over the city congregation of 230 souls, of which the Rev.

Katwari Lall is still the pastor, not having been removed as intimated in last year's Report.

Secundra and its influence.

The larger congregation of 526 souls at SECUNDRA has diminished from causes which are not unsatisfactory. The Rev. J. Erhardt, who continues to superintend the Christian village as well as the Orphanage and schools, writes,—

> Of our grown-up people we have lost a great number; so that our list of communicants has fallen from 146 to 105. Five families are engaged now in the Panjab Village Zenana Mission, three at Jandiala, under the energetic guidance of Miss Clay. Three of our young men have been attached, as probationers, to the staff of readers, and one has gone to the Theological School at Allahabad: others left as teachers and artisans; the latter swell the numbers of our colony at Ajmere. Twelve girls have been married. From most of these we have had very encouraging accounts, those in the Village Zenana Mission having given particular satisfaction.

Mr. P. M. Zenker was to have removed from Agra City to MATTRA, but on account of a difficulty in regard to house accommodation he is working the latter district from the former place, besides fulfilling many other duties, such as instructing the agents, giving lessons in St. John's College, holding Bible-readings, supervising the Bible Society's colporteurs, literary work, &c. He is assisted by his sister, Miss Zenker, who superintends the Native Bible-women.

ALIGARH, which is now regarded as the centre of an itinerating district in connexion with the Agra Mission under the arrangements made by the Committee three years ago, has the advantage of a resident European missionary, the Rev. J. Stuart. He has been much encouraged in the past year by an unwonted interest which has sprung up in some special evangelistic meetings which he has held weekly. The suggestion of these meetings seems to have come from a professedly Christian munshi from Delhi, who turned out to be an unworthy character; but Mr. Stuart continued them with a success that surprised him. They consisted of short addresses, prayers, and hymns, and were held in the Girls' School:—

Interesting evangelistic meetings at Aligarh.

> The first night we had over 100. I rejoiced with trembling; for like many other things, if it did not expire with its birth, I was afraid at least that when the novelty passed away, it must speedily come to naught. However, to my astonishment, the next weekly meeting was larger—and the next, and next, and next, each succeeding week, was larger still, until now we number between 200 and 300 each meeting night. I declare, if any one had told me twelve months ago that such a thing was possible, I would have set him down as a wild visionary. For just fancy whom our audiences are composed of. "The scum of the town"? Not at all, the upper respectable classes, I think, predominate.

The small Christian congregation at Aligarh will now have a Native pastor, one of the two men ordained on Dec. 6th, the Rev. Mark Drummond, having been stationed there.

MÎRAT.

The return home on furlough of the Rev. I. G. Hermann Hoernle, and the appointment to the station of the Rev. G. H. Weber, have been already mentioned. Mr. Hoernle has furnished another of his very full and detailed Reports—so full, indeed, that it is not even possible to give extracts here that should at all suffice to describe the numerous branches of mission work of which Mîrat is the centre. The two pastorates, which are the spheres of labour of the Revs. D. Jeremy and J. Richard, are thus described:—

Mirât Pastorates.

The whole Mîrat Mission is, at present, divided into two Native pastorates. One of them comprises all the congregations and stations in the Mîrat district, viz., Mîrat city and cantonments, Kankerkhera, Malyana, Ghazeeabad, Ikla, Pilkhua, and Sabli. The other pastorate includes the three Christian villages of the Annfield colony. Both pastorates contain about an equal number of Christians, but the Annfield pastorate is more compact and consolidated, and resembles more the state of a parish at home, because the Christians there live all close together in villages which are wholly Christian, and without any non-Christian inhabitants whatsoever. The Mîrat pastorate is very different in this respect. It may well be called a pastorate in partibus, as the Christians belonging to this parish live scattered about in six or seven places, and as none of the places occupied by them are entirely Christian, but very much the reverse.

Both pastorates stand in connexion with the North-West Provinces Church Council, and the pastors with the other delegates regularly attend the Church Council.

Of the schools, Mr. Hoernle writes,—

Mirât Schools.

All kinds of schools are represented in this Mission. We have English and vernacular schools, boys' and girls' schools, and mixed schools; schools for evangelical purposes, where Hindu and Mohammedan children chiefly attend; and parish schools for Christian children only, though, of course, non-Christians are not excluded if they like to come. The most important of all these is the Anglo-Vernacular High School in the city of Mîrat. This school is one of the oldest educational institutions in these provinces, if not the oldest of its kind, for we celebrated last August the fiftieth anniversary of its existence. The event was commemorated by a public meeting in the great school hall, when the Bishop of Calcutta, who happened to be here on visitation, took the chair and distributed over eighty prizes and good conduct cards. The hall was full to overflowing; many had to remain outside for want of room. Besides the specially invited guests, European and Native, and the 300 pupils of the school, the parents, relatives and friends of the boys mustered in great force, a clear testimony in itself to the popularity of the school. It is worked efficiently under a Native Christian head-master, assisted by four Christian and several non-Christian masters.

Bishop of Calcutta at Mirât.

That schools like this one, where more than 300 boys are almost daily instructed in Scripture and in the truths of the Christian religion, are of great importance as evangelistic agencies, should not be gainsaid. Though the direct results in the shape of baptisms may be few, especially so long as the boys are at school, yet the constant hearing of, and reading in, our holy books, must have a gradual effect on some young hearts. We are taking part, by means of such schools, in that great process of direct and indirect preparation for the Gospel which is proceeding now in this country, and until the completion of which we shall not see Christianity conquering and superseding the old religions.

The Bishop of Calcutta's written notice of the visit to Mîrat here alluded to shows that he was much pleased with the Mission. In the city and at the Annfield settlement he confirmed sixty candidates.

Inquirers gone back.

Among the inquirers of the year, two are specially mentioned, both of whom caused disappointment. One was an educated man, represented as a Brahmin and a rich merchant, who seemed hopeful, but suddenly disappeared, it is not known why. The other was a remarkable illustration of the power wielded by a Hindu mother:—

Influence of a Hindu mother.

He is a well-educated man. Having gradually made the acquaintance of the leading men of our congregation, he told them that for more than ten years he had been an inquirer after the truth. Being firmly convinced in his heart that Jesus was the true Saviour, he had several times resolved to be baptized; but each time his filial affection for his aged mother, whose only son he was, and who was most bitterly opposed to his taking such a step, proving too strong, he had drawn back again. His conscience troubling him, however, on that account, he had no peace, and therefore he was now fully and firmly resolved to carry out his old intention as quickly as possible. As all our people spoke very highly of him, of his knowledge of the Bible, of his sincerity of heart and upright character, I promised to baptize him as soon as it could be done conveniently. During this time his mother happened to be absent with some relatives at Allahabad, and to save her feelings as much as possible, he wished to have the baptism over before her return. Some officious Hindu friend, however, must have telegraphed to her of his intentions, for the very day before the one fixed for his baptism she suddenly came back again, and trusting upon his well-known weakness, the great love he bore her, what with her cries, lamentations, and reproofs, she must have again prevailed over him against his better knowledge. To cut a sad story short, he was himself so ashamed, that he did not show himself again before his Christian friends, and shortly after he left the station altogether. The last I have heard of him is, that he is now in the service of the Kashmir Rajah, no doubt in his medical capacity.

Traces of good from Calcutta College.

You will be glad to hear that he received his first impressions about the truth of Christianity, whilst reading as a pupil in our late Cathedral Mission College at Calcutta, which is a proof amongst many others that the religious instruction given in our schools and colleges is not altogether in vain.

Central Provinces, etc.

JABALPUR.

THE Rev T. R. Hodgson was the missionary in charge of the important station of Jabalpur during 1882; but having voluntarily offered himself for the new Baghdad Mission, he has been accepted for that post by the Committee, as before mentioned. The Rev. J. P. Ellwood has succeeded him at Jabalpur. The Rev. Madho Ram continues the pastor of the Native congregation, now numbering 126 souls, 119 of whom are baptized, and 49 are communicants. A new Mission church has been built, the first stone of which was laid by Mr. G. E. Knox, during the meeting of the Native Church Council in October. The contributions of the Native Christians for religious purposes during the year amounted to Rs. 425. With part of this sum they entirely support a charitable dispensary, which is managed by one of the Mission agents, Pandit Jagannath. At this dispensary there is daily preaching, and a Sunday evening service.

New church at Jabalpur.

Native Dispensary.

Of both the evangelistic and the educational agencies Mr. Hodgson gives a very encouraging account:—

Success of schools at Jabalpur.

> Our scholars have increased from 800 to 1000. This results, I may fairly say, from the growing popularity of our schools, and, what is better, from a consciousness on the part of the parents that their children do become better men for having been taught in our schools. We have been as successful as we could hope for in the Government examinations, boys from our schools heading the list of candidates in the Central Provinces. We open the High School Department this year with fifty boys, as against fifteen, the largest number we ever had.
> The chief matter of interest during the year was the visit of the Viceregal Education Commission to Jabalpur, before which I attended to give evidence. The President and members of the Commission visited our schools, and the President was good enough to say that the schools presented the largest assembly of boys he had yet seen in India. It was a proof, certainly, of the efficiency and value, as well as popularity, of Mission schools.
>
> There is no doubt that a deep and widespread movement is manifesting itself in relation to Christianity in this country, indicative of great results and changes. The persistent preaching of the Gospel in bazaars and villages has much to do with this movement, as well as the dissemination of Gospels and Christian books. In Jabalpur the patient and earnest labours of our catechists have been beyond all praise: the more so on account of the small amount of personal supervision I have been able to give to their direct preaching-work. Regular classes and meetings for prayer have helped to equip them for it spiritually and mentally.

An F. R. Havergal Bible-woman.

Jane, the Frances Ridley Havergal Bible-woman, has carried the message of God's love to many a toiling and weary, maybe hopeless, sister, in many a dark home, brightening it, I trust, with rays of comfort from the Sun that rises with healing in its wings. She has been kindly supervised by a voluntary lady helper in Jabalpur, who (unusual accomplishment!) knows the language of the people well, studied it, in fact, on purpose to be able to do this work.

MANDLA (GÔND MISSION).

The Committee have not yet been able, as they desired, to reinforce this Mission; but they hope shortly to add to it a medical missionary. Meanwhile, the Rev. H. D. Williamson has been zealously engaged in the work, and his report is a most interesting and hopeful one. Some paragraphs are subjoined:—

Encouraging prospects of the Gônd Mission.

There has been much, very much, to encourage me, but it is exceedingly difficult to represent it in a letter. Annual returns can take no account of those cases, so cheering to the missionary, in which knowledge of the truth is gradually growing stronger and stronger, and worship of Christ as the Saviour, ignorant and partial though it may be, is surely expelling the old idol-worship from the heart. And amongst the Gônds there are many such cases. God alone knows when they will become actual enrolled members of His Church; but of this I am sure, that there are even now many who, in their ignorant way and according to their light, do offer up their daily prayer to our Lord Jesus Christ. And the nature of the people is such, that when once the reaping-time comes the harvest will be no scanty one; they will come out in whole villages, as has been the case amongst the Kôls and other aboriginal races.

In whatever direction I travel, I find the same friendliness and the same deep interest. After perhaps a year's absence from a village, we revisit it, and find the name of our Lord Jesus Christ remembered by young and old, often more than merely remembered, worshipped; and when one sees the simplicity and the teachableness of these people, one longs for the Holy Spirit to be poured out at once in showers of blessing upon them.

I was able this year to be out amongst them from November till the end of May, and for the greater part of that time had three Native helpers with me, so that, dividing off, as we always do, into two parties, we were able to visit ten or twelve villages every day. Our best time for preaching is the evening, when the day's work is over: at that time we collect them all in the head-man's house, and when they are comfortably settled with a fire and the inevitable chilum (pipe), we give them a Gospel address, and afterwards I generally show them some coloured Bible pictures, which are a great delight to them, and are most useful.

Fireside preaching among the Gônds.

Among many other signs of progress may be specially mentioned the fact of the Gospel news spreading from village to village independently of us; and the testimony to this has been often given us in some such words as the following,—"We have not heard you speak before, but we have heard of your preaching. Is not Jesus Christ being preached all through the district?" Sometimes, when preaching in a new village, one is astonished to hear one of the audience say to the others, "Yes; Jesus Christ is the true guru, you ought to worship Him:" on inquiry, it turns out that he has heard us elsewhere, and he is surprised if we do not recognize him.

In illustration, Mr. Williamson relates an incident for which space must be found:—

A Gônd faqir.

I arrived about mid-day on a Saturday in a village called Banguar, some sixty miles from Mandla, and, as my custom is, inquired for the head-man's house, to find a lodging for myself and catechist. When I arrived there I found a convenient little hut attached to his house, so there we established ourselves. The owner had just left that morning to go to another village; however, late in the afternoon he turned up. He had spent many years seeking salvation, and finding nothing to help him in the Gônd religion, he had sought advice from a wandering Hindu priest, who advised him to leave his home and become a fakir. Accordingly he went and took up his abode just outside his village under a pipal-tree, where he lived and meditated for a whole year, being very highly reverenced in consequence as a devotee. However, this gave him no peace of mind, and he returned to his former work as head-man of the village. The day that I arrived it had been his intention to go away for three or four days, but when he got about ten miles from home, something, he could not tell what, compelled him to turn round and come back again. When he found that a Christian padri had arrived in his village, he was as much convinced as myself that it was God Himself who had led him back, and he spent the whole of that day and the next with me, questioning and discussing. At our morning and evening prayers, and the Sunday services, he sat and listened with the deepest attention; and as he could actually read (a most extraordinary fact for a Gônd) I was able to leave a New Testament and some tracts with him, which he most gladly received.

"A true saint."

To show the simplicity of the people, and the little things which may influence them, I may mention what this man told my catechist afterwards: he said to him, "Your sahib must be a true saint." "Why?" said the catechist. "Oh, because when I told him that his servant had been asking again and again for milk for him, and that I had done my best but could not get him any, he was not at all displeased, but said, 'Never mind, I can easily do without.'" It evidently did not need much to make a man a saint in his opinion!

There is a small congregation of Christian Hindus at Mandla, and an Orphanage. The Bishop of Calcutta, in December, confirmed 16 candidates, most of them from among the orphans.

KHERWARA (BHEEL MISSION).

Kherwara is not in the British territorial division called the Central Provinces, but in the Meywar district, Rajputâna, about fifty miles east of Oodeypur. It is the station occupied at the end of 1880 as the head-quarters of the new Bheel Mission established at the instance of the Rev. E. H. Bickersteth, and by means of his benefac-tion. The Rev. C. S. Thompson, who was appointed to begin the work, has sent an encouraging second report. "The attitude," he says, "of the Bheels, Hindus, and Mussulmans towards us is greatly changed. The Bheels have lost their fears and suspicions. The Hindus and Mussulmans appear to find a pleasure in helping us." The dispensary has had, under God, no little influence in commending Mr. Thompson to the timid and suspicious Bheels. A great number of patients have been successfully treated, and their gratitude has been touchingly manifested. A few Bheel young men have been brought in to the station and put to school, with a view to their being sent out hereafter as teachers. Three of these Mr. Thompson believes are ready to embrace Christianity.

Cheering aspect of the Bheel Mission.

The Rev. H. P. Parker, the Calcutta Secretary, visited the Mission in November, and has reported very favourably of its prospects; and the Bishop of Calcutta having strongly endorsed his appeal to the Society to take it up permanently, the Committee have determined at the close of the present year, up to which time Mr. Bickersteth's benefaction provides for it, to accept it, on its present footing, as part of the Society's general work. But in order to increase its influence by placing a second missionary at Kherwara, Mr. Bickersteth has, since the accounts were closed, presented another contribution of 1000*l.*, which, with some further gifts from other friends, will be gladly applied to that purpose. The Committee thank God that a people so long neglected will thus have increased opportunities of hearing the Gospel; and they look forward with humble hope to the Bheel Mission being privileged to gather not less fruit than has been gathered by other Missions to the aboriginal hill tribes.

PANJÂB AND SINDH MISSION.

SINDH: Karachi, 1850; Hydrabad, 1856.

Slow but steady progress in the Panjâb.

THE statistical returns for the year show the total number of Native Christians at the various C.M.S. stations in the Panjâb and Sindh to be 1412, of whom 806 are adults. The communicants are 393. There were 117 baptisms in the year, 33 being of adults. The Native Christians contributed for religious objects the sum of Rs. 2182.

Progress, therefore, is still slow in the Panjâb. It is indeed a cause for thankfulness that the rate of increase (in all Missions) during the last decade was higher than in any other part of India except Bombay, being no less than 155 per cent.; but this is accounted for by the small figures at the beginning of that period. "Our means and our strength," said the Society's veteran missionary and Secretary, the Rev. R. Clark, addressing the Native Church Council in December last, "are still small. Only a few additions are made to our Church each year. Very little indeed is as yet contributed by our Native Churches. Yet where we have a long journey to make, we are contented to make one march at a time. He who would climb to a great height, must ascend step by step."

Panjâb Native Church Council.

The Council Meeting at which these words were uttered was held, not, as usual, in the city of Amritsar, but in the village of Jhandiala, where Miss Clay, the devoted honorary missionary of the C.E.Z.M.S., has her head-quarters, and also the itinerant Native missionary employed by the Church Council, the Rev. Mian Sadiq. The Bishop of Lahore was present, and preached the opening sermon. A notable incident was the presentation to the Bishop and the Council of the following address of welcome by a deputation from the Sikh and Mohammedan inhabitants of Jhandiala:—

Heathen welcome to a Christian Council.

We, the residents of Jhandiala, express our joy at the coming of your Lordship and the members of the Native Church Council to our town, and we offer you our congratulations. Although we differ in religion from you, yet we are ready and willing to sympathize with our Christian friends in many things, in the same manner as we, who are Hindus, Mohammedans, and others, do with each other, notwithstanding our religious differences. We hope that our friendship with you will be useful to us, and that you will diffuse sound and enlightened views among us, such as are now spreading everywhere under the beneficent rule of the English Government.

We hope your Lordship and all the other gentlemen will continue to remember us when you go away from our town. May our sympathy and friendship with you day by day increase!

AND OTHERS.

The subjects and readers of papers at this meeting were—Village Schools, by the Rev. Mian Sadiq; On the Appointment and Examination of Catechists, by Mr. Chandu Lall; Evangelistic Services, "with singing, and possibly with instrumental music," by the Rev. Imad-ud-dîn and Mr. Mya Das; What is the best way to make the Church independent? by Mr. (now the Rev.) T. Edwards. One of the lay delegates, Mr. Mya Das, who is a Native Government official, is an honorary catechist under the Council; and he reported to them that he had been requested to conduct services for the English troops at Ferozepore for more than two months, during the absence of the Presbyterian chaplain. "My hearers," he said, "were all foreigners, and I was the only Native among them."

The Society's European staff in the Panjâb is without change since last year's Report, except that Mr. W. Briggs has returned to his post at Mûltân, and that Dr. E. Downes, of Kashmir, has come to England. Four Natives have been ordained by the Bishop of Lahore, viz., Mr. Thomas Howell, on June 29th, 1882, and Messrs. Thomas Edwards, Malik Ishaq, and Nobin Chandar, on February 25th of this year. The Rev. T. Howell has been appointed a deacon-evangelist at Pind Dadan Khan; the Rev. T. Edwards, Pastor of the Native congregation at Simla; the Rev. Malik Ishaq, to the Beluch Mission, Dera Ghazi Khan. The Rev. Nobin Chandar will not now be on the Society's list, though long one of its agents; as he was ordained as pastor of the Batâla congregation belonging to the Rev. F. H. Baring's independent Mission.

Death of Rev. Daud Singh.

On the other hand, the roll of Native clergy loses its oldest name, by the death of the Rev. Daud Singh, pastor of Clarkabad. He was the first Sikh ever received into the Church of Christ, having been baptized by the Rev. W. H. Perkins, then S.P.G. missionary at Cawnpore, in 1844. He joined the C.M.S. Panjâb Mission at its commencement in 1851, and in 1854 was ordained by Bishop Wilson. The Rev. R. Clark writes:—

"His characteristic was his quiet, gentle disposition. I never heard of his having had an enemy, and never knew of his speaking ill of any one. A fine, handsome Jat Sikh—courteous, brave, truthful, loving, —he was loved and respected by every one. We honoured him, and we trusted him. For several years he had been pastor of Clarkabad, where he settled the disputes of the Christian cultivators, and by his example and by his words he taught them the way to heaven. He was Mr. Bateman's trusted friend and colleague there."

Death of Mrs. Baring.

Another mysterious trial laid upon the Church in the Panjâb was the death of Mrs. Baring on July 28th. She had been connected with the Society for several years prior to her marriage to the Rev. F. H. Baring, first as the wife of Dr. Elmslie, of the Kashmir Medical Mission, and after his death as a most devoted and beloved worker at Amritsar, where she superintended in succession the Girls' and Boys' Orphanages, and the Native Bible-women. The Committee deeply lament the loss to the cause of Christ of one who set so bright an example to all about her; and they sympathize unfeignedly with their bereaved friend, Mr. Baring.

AMRITSAR.

Amritsar: the staff.

The Rev. R. Clark, the Society's much respected senior missionary in the Panjâb, who is Secretary to the Panjâb and Sindh Corresponding Committee, resides at Amritsar, as the principal central station. The general superintendence of the Amritsar Mission itself is taken by the Rev. T. R. Wade. The Rev. A. T. Fisher has continued at the head of the educational department, and has also superintended the book-shop and colporteurs, and acted as secretary to the Vernacular Publishing Committee of the Panjâb Religious Book Society. The Rev. E. Guilford, who was sent out in 1881, has now taken up regular work as an itinerant missionary in the Amritsar tehsil (district), and it is proposed that his head-quarters shall be at the village of Taran Taran. An important Medical Mission has been started in the city, with two or three branch dispensaries, by Dr. Henry Martyn Clark, Mr. R. Clark's adopted son. The Boys' Orphanage, under Mr. H. F. Beutel's charge, is now at Clarkabad. The Girls' Orphanage in the city is carried on by the Rev. Bhola Nath Ghose and Mrs. Ghose, with assistance from one of the Church of England Zenana Society's ladies. That Society's staff also render important aid in the superintendence and teaching of the Alexandra Christian Girls' Boarding School and the Lady Lawrence Girls' Schools, and in the medical charge of the inmates of the various institutions. The Rev. Imad-ud-dîn continues his useful labours as a preacher, lecturer, and writer. The Rev. Mian Sadiq Masih is now, as already mentioned, an itinerant missionary in connexion with the Native Church Council.

Mr. Wade reports that the regular church services for the Native congregation in Amritsar were largely attended also by Hindus, Sikhs and Mohammedans, the part of the church allotted to non-Christians being often densely crowded. Unfortunately the roof became unsafe and had to be removed, and for want of a building the regular congregation is temporarily divided, while for outsiders there is no accommodation at all. The Native Church Committee, which works very satisfactorily, at once undertook the repairs and enlargement of the building, though unable to meet the cost without help.

Converts.

Seven adult converts were baptized during the year. One of these was the municipal engineer mentioned in the last Annual Report. He underwent much persecution, his wife refusing to cook for him or to give him food out of any of her vessels. She was supported in her opposition by a strong body of his friends, and Mr. Wade sorrowfully reports that they were in part successful in influencing the convert. The wife, however, died soon afterwards, and the husband sold his property in the city and removed to his village. Mr. Wade, visiting him there, found him terribly emaciated and care-worn owing to his bitter trials. "He positively declares that he has never denied Christ, nor ever can, and that he prays to Him daily." Such men need to be supported by fervent prayer on the part of friends at home who hear of their cases.

Concerning evangelistic work Mr. Wade writes :—

Evangelistic services.

Open-air preaching has been carried on regularly at the best stations in and near the city, every day in the week, and generally twice a day. Evangelistic services have also been held on Sunday mornings in the City Mission School. At these services two addresses have been generally given, hymns and bhajans sung, and prayers offered. They have been conducted mostly by volunteers, and we thank Mr. Keyworth, Vice-Principal of the Christian Vernacular Education Society's Training Institution; Mr. G. Lewis, the Judge of the Small Cause Court; Mr. Rallia Ram, pleader; and others who have kindly helped in this good work. We have sometimes had 150 present at these services. The women who wish to attend are allowed to sit behind a curtain. The singing is greatly appreciated.

At the large cattle fair near the city, during the Dewali holidays, we pitched two tents, put up texts and pictures, and had regular preaching from morning till evening for a whole week. It is estimated that from 20,000 to 30,000 people attend this fair. They come from almost every part of the Panjab, and most of them are village people. The singing and preaching attracted large crowds. Some sat for hours on the benches or mats, and listened to the Gospel, others held friendly discussion or asked anxious questions inside the tents, whilst the standing crowd at the roadside increased or decreased according to the powers of the preacher who was addressing them.

A band of Christian faqirs.

Mr. Baring from Batala, and Mr. Weitbrecht from Lahore, kindly sent us each a band of helpers: others joined us from out-stations, and a company of Christian fakirs, in their dark yellow garments, remained with us the whole time. The Hindu devotees and Mohammedan fakirs fraternized freely with these at first, but when they soon afterwards discovered they were Christians, a Hindu "jogi" was heard to exclaim, "Alas! alas! the last stronghold of Hinduism has been entered by these Christians." We had about twenty preachers, besides the colporteurs who roamed through the fair with their Christian books for sale. Mr. Baring also brought in his book-cart, nicely fitted up, and covered with texts and pictures on the outside, and laden with books within, which was wheeled through the principal streets in the city and other places where crowds were collected. Some 3000 small tracts were given away to those who could read, and multitudes must have heard the Gospel, many for the first time. We hope to have similar preaching campaigns at all our great fairs.

CLARKABAD has lost its pastor by the death, already mentioned, of the Rev. Daud Singh; but it has the advantage, since the removal thither of the Boys' Orphanage, of Mr. H. F. Beutel's presence; and a Native catechist named Sant Shah, one of the Narowal converts, who has been through the Lahore Divinity School, works under him. No description of this interesting village having yet appeared in the Annual Reports, Mr. Beutel's account of it is subjoined:—

Christian village of Clarkabad.

Any good map of the Panjab will show the Bárí Duáb canal, which comes out of the Ráwí river at the foot of the hills near Madhapore, crosses the Bárí Duáb between the Ráwí and Biás rivers in a south-western direction, and joins by a small escape the former river again a little beyond the large forest and railway station of Changa Manga. On the right bank of this canal, fifty-six miles to the south-west from Amritsar, or thirty-six miles nearly south from Lahore, you will find Clarkabad, being so called after its founder the Rev. R. Clark. The small railway station of Kote Radha Kishan, on the Lahore-Multan line, is only three miles distant.

Clarkabad is but a small village with about 700 inhabitants, of whom about one-third are Christians, the others partly Mohammedans, Sikhs, and Hindus. Most of them are cultivators, called pats; a few others are carpenters, blacksmiths, weavers, shopkeepers, mihtars, &c. The area of land (rakh) which was made over by Government to the C.M.S. Mission, on a lease for ten years, in 1869, comprises 1935 acres, of which about three-quarters have been brought under cultivation. The lease was resumed in 1879 for another five years, after which time it is to be hoped that Government will permanently make it over to the Mission.

For several years little had been done for the cultivation of the land and the village as a Christian settlement, till Mr. Bateman took it into his hands. Since then a constant progress has been going on. The small village was gradually more populated by Christian settlers, although most of them were not of a superior class, having been brought together from different quarters of the country, and thus the place assumed more and more the character of a Christian settlement. Year after year more of the rakh (waste land) was brought under cultivation, so that there is now comparatively little left quite unprofitable.

One of the finest improvements that Mr. Bateman afforded for the village—apart from his spiritual work—was the building of a pretty little church, which was nearly completed on the date of its consecration in March, 1881; also a nice little well, which he had dug in front of the church, is now a great boon to the village. At the same time the building of a mission-house, our present residence, has greatly added to the improvement of the place. Besides the Orphanage, a school-house for boys and some outhouses have been built, roads laid out, and more than 2000 trees and shrubs planted; a new wall around the village, the digging of a large tank, and some new watercourses in the fields have been commenced, &c.

LAHORE.

Lahore Divinity College:

The Divinity School has continued under the charge of the Rev. Dr. H. U. Weitbrecht, who has been assisted by the Rev. C. Merk and the Rev. Dina Nath. It is interesting to hear that the latter lectures in Greek, Hebrew, and theology. The number of students has averaged twelve. The Native brethren whose ordination has been already mentioned had all studied in the Divinity College, and one or two others of its alumni have been sent out into the field as catechists.

Visit of the Lieut.-Governor of the Panjâb;

In April last year the College was visited by Sir Charles Aitchison, the new Lieutenant-Governor of the Panjâb. Dr. Weitbrecht says,—

> He is a warm friend of all Christian work. He came in with his private secretary to morning chapel, and afterwards went over the grounds and buildings, and then drove down to see the new bazaar church. Sir Charles had only been in Lahore a short time, and all the more did we feel encouraged by his ready sympathy.

the new chapel.

The new College Chapel was opened by the Bishop of Lahore on February 24th. The cost, Rs. 12,000, was provided for by a sum of money left by the late Rev. G. M. Gordon for the purpose, together with some gifts made in memory of him by friends in England. "If," writes Mr. Clark, "our dear brother Gordon could have seen from heaven his chapel filled with the overflowing congregation of Natives and Europeans, and heard the hearty singing and responses of those who had assembled together to set it apart for the worship and service of God, he would have rejoiced with us, and have praised God for His great mercy."

The Rev. Yakub Ali ministers to the Native congregation of Holy Trinity Church, Anarkali. There are 250 baptized Christians, of whom forty are communicants.

Dr. Weitbrecht has superintended also the station of PIND DÂDAN KHAN, on the Jhelum, where a newly-ordained Native missionary, the Rev. T. Howell, is now posted.

KANGRA, KÔTGÛR, AND SIMLA.

Mrs. Reuther continues to superintend the work at KANGRA, where she laboured so long with her late husband. Including DHARMSALA, the hill-station, there are 67 Native Christians connected with the Kangra Mission. There were 21 baptisms during the year, 16 being performed by the Rev. R. Clark at one time, at Dharmsala. Most of these persons were domestic servants in English families, and more than one owed their conversion to the influence of Christian masters and mistresses.

Baptisms at Dharmsala.

Mrs. Reuther has herself, with her daughters, engaged zealously in evangelistic work. She writes,— Ladies' evangelistic work at Kangra.

> The great autumn mela in honour of the goddess Parbatti was held here in October for ten days. Whilst Mr. Matthews, accompanied by a retired catechist, preached in the bazaar, my daughters and myself, with Sarah, the schoolmistress, went out every morning and afternoon to sing and speak to as many women as we could get to listen. As we do not possess a portable harmonium, we brought out the church harmonium, and took our stand not far from the city gate, through which most of the pilgrims pass on their way to and from the golden temple. The music soon attracted large crowds. We had intended to gather women only around us, but found it impossible, as the men who escorted them evidently were averse to letting them go out of their sight. Two-thirds at least of the crowds were men, who behaved so respectfully and listened so quietly and attentively that we could not object to their presence. The women listened, but said very little, whilst many men professed to believe in Christ in their hearts, and said they had no faith in their gods and goddesses; that they came to the mela only to escort the women, who were bent upon making the pilgrimage. We alternately sang and spoke to the people. After each hymn one of us addressed them and told them the Gospel story in a few simple sentences, such as they could easily understand and remember. Thousands of pilgrims from all parts of the Panjab, from Agra, Lucknow, Allahabad, and Benares, attended the mela, but comparatively few could hear the Gospel. What were the voices of two preachers, one of them a feeble old man, and of four women, among such immense crowds of pilgrims?

From KÔTGÛR, where the Rev. Arthur Bailey is stationed, no report has been received.

The Native congregation at SIMLA, which numbers 150 souls in the season, has now an ordained pastor, the Rev.

Thomas Edwards, a South India Native Christian who had long acted as honorary lay pastor while engaged in his secular calling The Rev. W. Rebsch, formerly the Society's missionary at Kôtgûr, but now retired, gives the school, and the work generally, a kindly supervision.

MÛLTÂN.

The Revs. T. Bomford and H. Rountree have been stationed in this city, and Mr. W. Briggs has now rejoined them. There are 53 Native Christians, of whom 21 are communicants. Two adults have been baptized, viz. a girl of 18, belonging to one of the principal Mohammedan families, who had long been in Mrs. Briggs's school, and a Hindu youth. These baptisms caused great excitement in the city, as the people believed them to be the first admissions of veritable Mûltânis into the Christian Church. The schools in Mûltân and the out-stations suffered at once by the withdrawal of boys, and new scholars have been holding aloof. This effect of the conversions, however, according to the analogy of similar cases, will be but for a while. Baptisms at Mûltân.

Mr. Rountree has now undertaken the separate charge of an extensive itinerating district, that of Mazoffagarh, thus fulfilling the design of the benefactor whose gift to the Extension Fund led to two additional missionaries being placed on the frontier of British India. The Committee earnestly pray that the new field—for it is virtually new, although there has been a catechist at the chief town—may prove a fruitful one. Mr. Rountree's first report is written in a hopeful spirit, and he relates several incidents of an encouraging character. New district for itinerating.

DERA GHAZI KHAN (BELUCH MISSION).

The Rev. A. Lewis and Dr. A. Jukes have been somewhat discouraged by the continued difficulties experienced in finding a suitable place for the head-quarters of this Mission, from which the Beluchis could be reached. For the present, however, they remain at Dera Ghazi Khan, making journeys towards the frontier as opportunity offers, and seizing every occasion to make known the Gospel of Christ. Dr. Jukes's medical work has done much to conciliate the people. As already mentioned, one of the newly-ordained Natives, the Rev. Malik Ishaq, is now associated with Mr. Lewis.

DERA ISMAIL KHAN AND BANNU.

These are the two stations of the DERAJÂT MISSION founded in 1861, in response to the appeals, and partly with the benefactions, of Colonel (now General) Reynell Taylor and other Christian officers. The Rev. W. Thwaites is at DERA ISMAIL KHAN, and the Rev. T. J. Lee Mayer at BANNU; while the Rev. John Williams, the Native medical evangelist, continues the work he has so patiently carried on at Tank for fifteen years. At the first-named station, the principal agency is the school, from which, a few years ago, came a group of interesting converts. One of that group is now the head-master, and another is an assistant-teacher. Mr. Thwaites writes that some of the present pupils are "at least looking for the door of the kingdom of God," and some have "their hands actually on the door, but without the courage to open it." "God grant," he adds, in words that all readers of this Report will echo, "that the Holy Spirit may soon encourage and embolden them to open it and enter, and keep them from doing as so very many do, withdraw their hands and go far away from the blessing they had almost touched!"

The Dera Ismail Khan school.

There are 26 Native Christians connected with Dera Ismail Khan, and 16 with Bannu. At the latter station, Mr. Mayer has met, as usual, with "determined opposition, insult, and violence," from his Moslem hearers in the bazaars. A more agreeable and not less useful part of his work has been translations of the Scriptures into Pushtu. The Psalms, done by him, were in the press when he wrote, and Isaiah, Job, and Ezekiel in the hands of the examiners.

Pushtu translations.

A letter from Mr. Mayer, dated February 23rd in the present year, gives some very interesting details, especially connected with a recent visit paid to the station by the Bishop of Lahore and the Rev. R. Clark:—

> The illustrated lecture, with the diagrams of the Religious Tract Society on the MSS. of the Holy Scriptures, was a perfect success. I held it in the schoolroom, which was densely crowded, and had powerful lamps put behind which showed up the character to perfection. Several people were unable to get in, and I trust many have profited by the instruction given. It gave me an opportunity of preaching the Gospel to many, who would perhaps never hear it in any other way. The officers (Native) of the regiments also attended, which was a great step in the right direction.
>
> Since then we have had a visit from the Bishop and Mr. Clark, who have refreshed our spirits and cheered our hearts. It was only a flying visit, but the Bishop gave a most interesting address to a fairly-filled meeting on "Home influence," another to the school boys, besides confirming the daughter of the Scripture teacher, Masih Dyal, and Abdul Masih's two sons, Ummed and Mirh Masih, who came in from Esa Kheyl on purpose. They both promise, I think, to follow their father, and gave me much pleasure in examining and preparing them for Confirmation. I daresay the Bishop and Mr. Clark will both write much fuller and better reports of those few days than I can. We had our usual stormy meeting in the bazaar—a glorious listening crowd, again broken up by the bitter hostility of the Mullahs, and the violence of their disciples; however, I was very thankful the Bishop was not hurt. There were three or four thousand people in the bazaar, and they rather lost their heads, as they generally do when excited by fanatics. Violent opposition from Moslem fanatics at Bannu.

To-day, I had rather a quieter day, thanks to two policemen, who kindly prevented my books and person from being seized—which is all one wants. I don't at all mind a row, because I can generally get them quiet for a few moments, and put in the whole Gospel plan when once I get their attention; but when five or six fellows are tugging at one's clothes, and shoving one about like the crush at a football-goal, it becomes rather difficult to keep one's footing, to say nothing of the thread of one's discourse. A few Sundays back, I was preaching on Paul's conversion, when a Mullah, a very old and bitter opponent whom I had once or twice brought to a standstill in his arguments, again came up and began cursing me as usual, and hissing out the "Kalima" in my face. I took hold of him by the sleeve and showed him to the people, and said, "Paul was once such an one as our friend here, ever speaking against the Way, the Truth, and the Life, but when God revealed Jesus Christ to him, he became a changed man, and went about preaching the truths he once destroyed, which God grant you may do, old man." It is not a thing one would always do, but I had the Christians, Benjamin and Masih Dyal, with me, and I invited them to pray for him, and taking off my hat before the crowd, simply asked God to change his heart and reveal Jesus to him. He seemed completely dumfoundered, and, repeating the Kalima, at once withdrew, nor have we seen him since.

The Bishop and Mr. Clark, while on the same tour, also visited Dera Ismail Khan. Mr. Clark reports very encouragingly of both stations. He also mentions Tank, and to illustrate the wide-spread influence of the Rev. John Williams's medical work, he states that in the latter six months of the last year there were 4108 patients, of whom 2000 were Pathan mountaineers who came down for the purpose. Tank Medical Mission.

PESHAWAR.

The Revs. T. P. Hughes, W. Jukes, and Imam Shah, continue their untiring labours at this great frontier station. The Rev. J. H. Knowles was also attached to it during the year, but he has since been transferred to Kashmir. Mr. Hughes reports as follows:—

The past year has been one of unusual anxiety, in consequence of strenuous efforts having been made by the Mohammedans to get back two of the most important converts of our Afghan Mission. In the case of one, an Afghan farmer, they actually hid his wife, a Mohammedan, for several days, until he recited the Kalima (or Muslim creed) in the mosque. But, I am thankful to say, his faith was Trials of Afghan converts.

stronger than it at first appeared, and after this temporary apostasy, he came back a penitent Christian to the fold of Jesus. The other was the case of a young Afghan gentleman, a Syud, to whom his family promised in marriage the prettiest girl of his tribe, if he would return to Islam. He has, however, come out of the trial, I trust, a more earnest and zealous Christian than ever,

There have been similar trials at Amritsar and other missionary stations. And, of course, we, at Peshawar, must expect them, living as we do in the very centre of Mohammedan bigotry and fanaticism.

Memorial Church at Peshawar.

Our Memorial Mission Church now stands some twenty feet above the ground, and should be opened about Christmas next. I am glad to find that there is kindly feeling towards the erection of this church in the city, and I sincerely hope that a God of Grace will restrain the bigotry of the Muslims, and enable us to open it in peace and quietness, not only as a house of prayer, but as a preaching station. At the recent General Conference in Calcutta, there was a key-note which rang through nearly all the speeches. It was given by the speaker, who said, "We have attempted to strike Hinduism through the head, but we must now attempt to strike it through the heart." For years this has been my conviction regarding Islam, and, God helping me, it shall be the study of the remaining portion of my life not to attack Mohammedanism with the spirit of a Crusader, but to appeal to the Muslim's heart by the tenderest appeals of sympathy and love.

Mr. Jukes, who conducts the educational department, thus writes concerning two important agencies for influencing the Afghans:—

Afghan Hostel.

Afghan Hostel.—Of all the boys in the school, which numbers some 400, none are so promising as the lads of our Afghan hostel, about a dozen altogether. One or two are sons of most respectable chiefs in our own territory, three are Christians, and the rest Mohammedans. Several of them have been with us many years, and are now studying in the highest classes; the most advanced of them being Ghapur Khan, son of the most loyal chief in this district. They are all very steady lads, regular in their studies, and I trust have higher moral principles than those who daily attend school from the city. These lads were at first most bigoted, and opposed to any definite Gospel truth, having specially been warned by their friends and relations to resist any attempt on our part to teach them any doctrinal truth. But such opposition no longer exists; on the contrary, these same lads are now far better instructed in Gospel truths than their class-fellows: in Scripture they are the first in their class, in secular subjects also they stand equally well, and in cricket they are the leaders of the school. In every way they are most promising. I have never been able to give these lads any regular instruction on their return to the hostel after school-hours, but constant intercourse with them has had the most marvellous effect upon them, and of some it may be said they are not far from the kingdom of God. Mrs. Jukes has recently commenced a Sunday afternoon class with them, which they seem to like very much indeed.

Peshawar guest-house.

Guest-House.—This is becoming more popular every year, and is our most valuable agency in bringing together men from all parts of Afghanistan and Central Asia. Whenever any of them can read we give them copies of the Bible to take back with them to their homes.

Chiefs, maulvies, farmers, and ploughboys, all alike find a home in our Mission compound, where they can stay as long as they wish, whenever they have occasion to come to town from their country homes; and instead of going to inns and lodging-houses, all flooded with evil, they always receive a welcome in a Christian guest-house. They enjoy our hospitality for a day or two, and then if they wish to stop longer they can do so at their own expense. It has thus become a recognized home for all classes of Afghans.

New work in Hazara.

A quite new district for itineration was taken up during the year by the Rev. J. H. Knowles, who was sent out on the special gifts made to the Extension Fund for work on the Afghan frontier. He removed from Peshawar to the Hazara district to the north-east, fixing his head-quarters at Haripur, the chief Native city, where a Native doctor was the only English-speaking person within 22 miles. He and his wife were received with every token of goodwill by Native Rajahs and Nawabs, and by the people generally; and the prospects of the Mission looked most encouraging. But in the providence of God the work had soon to be suspended, Mr. Knowles having been lately transferred to Kashmir. The Committee earnestly trust that a successor may speedily be found for this inviting field.

Afghan evangelist in Kafiristan.

An important event in the history of the Peshawar Mission has been the successful visit, last summer, of an Afghan catechist, Syud Shah, to Kafiristan, the peculiarly interesting country lying north of Afghanistan. He met with a most friendly reception, and had many opportunities of making known the Gospel.*

KASHMIR.

Dr. Downes has returned to England after five years of incessant toil among the sick and suffering of the Kashmir Valley; and the Rev. J. S. Doxey has also come home. Dr. Arthur Neve has assumed charge of the Medical Mission, and the Rev. J. H. Knowles has been appointed to take up the work of the ordained missionary. The Mission has now the advantage of a Native Christian helper of some experience in both hospital and evangelistic work, K. B. Thomas, formerly of Delhi. There has been one adult baptism, that of a young Mussulman woman, who had been living in a Kashmiri Christian family. She was publicly admitted into the visible Church, the service being explained to the crowds of spectators, who seemed deeply interested, and made no interruption. She has since been married to a Kashmiri Christian.

Baptism of a Moslem woman in Kashmir.

* See C.M. Intelligencer, July, 1883.

Kashmiri translations.

The Rev. T. R. Wade, who is now at Amritsar, has passed through the press, his Kashmiri translation of the four Gospels, 1000 copies of which have been printed; and also the Morning and Evening Services. The rest of the New Testament, and most of the Prayer-Book, are also ready for printing. Copies of the Gospels, nicely bound, were sent to the Maharajah of Kashmir and to his Vizier, and were very kindly acknowledged.

Sindh.

THE two senior missionaries, the Revs. J. Sheldon and G. Shirt, are in England; and there is, the Committee fear, little hope of the former being permitted to resume the work he had so patiently carried on for twenty-eight years. The Revs. J. Bambridge and A. E. Ball are at KARÂCHI, and the Rev. J. Redman at HYDRABAD.

KARÂCHI.

Varied work at Karâchi.

There are 69 baptized Christians at this important station, of whom 29 are communicants. All the mission agencies are being zealously worked by Mr. Bambridge. The schools, which are under Mr. Ball's management, have 558 boys and 30 girls (besides 90 girls in the schools of the C.E.Z.M.S.). In the High School there are 134 pupils, of whom 18 are Mohammedans, 14 Brahmins, 94 other Hindus, 2 Parsees, and 6 Christians. Mr. Bambridge writes:—

> It has, we trust, been a year of honest harmonious work, and so far as God has given us agents and opportunities, the good seed of the Word has been quietly scattered in the schools, the zenanas, in the houses of the people; and sown more broadcast in the church, the bazaars, the Bible-class, and the mission-house, to all who have cared to listen. This has been our daily occupation, and it rests with the Sovereign Lord of the harvest to determine the time and degree in which fruit shall be reaped from this barren waste of humanity—Sindh, sadly overgrown as it is with the thorns and tares of Hinduism and Mohammedanism.

HYDRABAD.

Here there are but 15 Native Christians, of whom 8 are communicants; also three unbaptized adherents. There are 20 other Christians at Sukkur and Kotri. The schools, with their 350 boys and 100 girls, as at Karâchi, are important, especially the High School, with its 180 students, an unusual proportion of whom are of the upper classes.

In November Bishop French visited the station, and wrote as follows:—

Bishop French at Hydrabad.

I have to record a most pleasant visit to this Mission, between November 25th and 30th. One has still to regret that the spiritual "showers are withholden," and that of the two promises made to Abraham and the children of his faith, "Blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee," the second has not apparently been fulfilled to the two missionaries and their worthy partners. The little band here seems to combine the special advantages supposed to belong exclusively to the missionary brotherhood and sisterhood both, with those that belong to the married missionary life, at its brightest, holding forth the purest domestic examples, to the great help of the flock.

On Saturday evening, the 25th, I met the Native flock at the mission-house (Mr. and Mrs. Redman's), holding conversations with three inquirers, and with various members of the congregation. It was an interesting evening. After tea I addressed them at some length, on 1 Thess. v. 11—16, mentioning some cases in which valuable traits of character have appeared in Native converts at Rohtak, near Delhi, suggesting ingenious methods of working for Christ.

Mr. and Mrs. Redman's diligent and steady progress in Sindhi gives much promise for the future, when the full "Ephphatha" is spoken. Indeed for the whole Native Church in the Punjab and Sindh, the utterance to them of this one word from the Lord's own lips seems the one thing needed; all that is needed.

November 26th.—On Sunday morning, at 11.30, I baptized a young convert, of Brahmin parents, whose uncle is a member of the Mission. Afterwards I addressed the Native flock on Ephes. ii. 19, 20, "Now, therefore, ye are no more strangers and foreigners," &c.

November 28th.—To-day I addressed the Mission High School for over three hours. Mr. Redman has almost an impracticable task in hand, in attempting to instruct profitably 180 boys (of whom an unusually large proportion are in the upper classes) without an English or Eurasian master under him.

On the 29th, I spent an hour and a half in the Mission girls' school, which in point of numbers is an unusually flourishing institution. Of the instruction I cannot judge, not being a Sindhi scholar. The singing of bhajans, and repetition of texts, were highly satisfactory.

WESTERN-INDIA MISSION.

(European Missionaries first arrived in 1820.)

PATIENT and quiet work, evangelistic, educational, and pastoral, without startling incident and without the long-looked for showers of blessing, has again characterized the year in the WESTERN-INDIA MISSION. One important event has been the commencement of the new Divinity School, under the Rev. R. A. Squires, at Kirkee, the European suburb of Poona; but the question is still under consideration whether this place shall be its permanent locale. With him will be associated the Rev. T. Carss, who will also have an itinerating district. The Committee regret much that their brother, Mr. Squires, should commence his important work in the shadow of a great trial: it having pleased God to take from him his wife on January 16 last.

Divinity School for Western India.

The Rev. W. A. Roberts is now in England. The Rev. F. G. Macartney succeeds him at Nasik, and is himself succeeded at Malegâm by the Rev. A. Manwaring. The brethren of Western India, assembled in Conference in February last, have sent an urgent representation to the Society of the need of at least three more men. The claims of the Bombay Presidency cannot be disputed; and the Committee will greatly rejoice if the Church at home supplies them with men and means to reinforce the over-burdened staff there adequately.

Claims of Western India.

BOMBAY.

The Rev. H. C. Squires, Secretary to the Corresponding Committee, adds to that office the duties of Minister of the English congregation at the Girgaum Church. The congregation of this church raises about 150*l*. a year in aid of C.M.S. work, in addition to supplying the minister's stipend. The Annual Report of work in connexion with the church speaks of Sunday-schools, a Girls' High School assisted by the Indian Female Instruction Society, an Association of Lay-Helpers, &c. The Marathi congregation, of about 100 Native Christians, is ministered to by the Rev. Appaji Bapuji.

Robert Money School.

The Rev. H. A. Bren is Principal, and Mr. J. Jackson Vice-Principal, of the Robert Money School, in which there are 272 scholars, viz. 95 Brahmins, 150 other Hindus, 5 Moslems, 15 Jews, 2 Romanists, and 5 Protestants. Mr. Bren writes in a very hopeful spirit of the influence of the Scripture lessons, in which almost all the boys take great interest, and which lead to conversations showing that they understand and appreciate the Christian religion. Thus, the bread has been cast upon the waters, and will, as he fully believes, be found after many days. A hostel for Christian boys is carried on in connexion with the school.

Bombay Mission to Mohammedans:

The Rev. J. G. Deimler's report of the Mission to Mohammedans is a long and interesting document. He thus summarizes his work:—

The superintendence of the large household of the Zenana Mission of the Indian Female Normal School and Instruction Society, comprising four ladies, and fifteen girls of the Normal School; the keeping of accounts; an extensive correspondence; receiving Native visitors and inquirers; attendance at meetings of various societies; examination of Urdu tracts presented for publication; the superintendence of a colporteur to the Mussulmans; occasional duty in the Society's English church; instruction of inquirers and converts; the superintendence of the Society's catechist; a weekly service in Urdu; visiting shops, houses, the Native hospital, the poor-house, the Sipahis' lines, the gardens, the bunders, the Native hotels, street-preaching, translational work, cause our time to be fully employed.

We receive constantly a number of Native visitors, and some inquirers of both sexes, who have become acquainted with us either in connexion with the Zenana or Mohammedan Missions. They call either for the sake of friendship, or on business, or for religious inquiry. In connexion with the Zenana Mission, Mrs. Deimler has at times social gatherings of Native ladies, most of whom have been visited or taught by the zenana ladies, and on these occasions European ladies interested in the work are invited to meet them.

Mohammedan inquirers whom I cannot teach myself for lack of time, are regularly instructed by the catechist. We have at present about twelve more or less hopeful inquirers under instruction.

Conversion of a Mohammedan gentleman.

Mr. Deimler has baptized a young Mohammedan from Aurangabad, whose story is remarkable. He was a Persian writer under the Nizam's Government, and his father and uncle, "of a very respectable and influential family of the Sayids," are maulvis and also government servants. He was on a visit to the latter, who is a first assistant-judge at Aurangabad, and came under the influence there of the Rev. Ratanji Nowroji, who thus relates what occurred:—

A learned Mohammedan came to discuss with me. He had read the Gospel of St. Matthew, which I had given to one of his pupils, and wished to dispute with me on the supposed discrepancies of the Gospel narrative. Our conversation, carried on in a quiet and friendly manner, lasted for four hours, during which time four or five of his pupils sat quietly listening to us, none of them daring to take part in it in their master's presence. One of them was much impressed with the fact that while Mohammed died and rose not again, Christ died and rose again, and is now, according to the teaching of the Koran, in the fourth heaven. As soon as he got opportunity, he asked his teacher to explain to him the reason of this great difference. His master desired him to fetch two stones, one larger than the other, and to put them in the scales. "Now hold up the scales, and see which of the two stones lies nearest to the earth. Is it not the heavier one? It is for the same reason that Christ, being lighter, has gone up into heaven; but Mohammed, being heavier, lies low on the ground." This strange reasoning has had a contrary effect upon the youth, for the fact of Christ's having risen again from the dead convinced him of the truth of Christianity. He began to come to me privately, and after a few visits he earnestly desired me to baptize him both expeditely and privately. I firmly objected to accede to his wishes, for I felt sure he needed further instruction, and a private baptism was not desirable for any one who wished to take up his cross before the world. But sympathizing with his fears of meeting with fierce opposition from his people, I sent him to Mr. Deimler.

Mr. Deimler now takes up the story :—

The poor fellow now realized for the first time what it is to forsake parents and relations for Christ's sake. He asked Mr. Ruttonji, with tears in his eyes, whether he would experience the same kindness and sympathy in Bombay which he had received from him. He found a home in the Hostel; and after a couple of months, being persuaded of his sincerity, I baptized him in the presence of a considerable number of Mohammedan converts, and other Christian friends. Amongst the former was our dear brother, Maulvi Sayed Safdar Ali, Assistant-Commissioner in the Central Provinces.

The usual difficulty of putting this youth in the way of supporting himself presented itself most forcibly to my mind. Having been in prosperous circumstances, he was unaccustomed to the fare and clothes of a poor man. He was for the first time away from his parental home, and bereft of parents dear to him, and of home comforts. His case deserved sympathizing consideration, and his faith could not be taxed beyond endurance. He had escaped from his home with only one suit of clothes, and with no money. In this embarrassment I addressed myself to my tried friend, Mr. Clark of Amritsar, asking his advice and assistance. Mr. Clark consulted with Mr. Baring of Batala, and before long I had the cheering reply that Mr. Baring was glad to receive the youth, and to do what he could for him; that I could not do better for him than send him to Batala, which was the best place in all North India for young converts, and that he would have the same prospects as other young Christians. Thus my fears were removed. I was ashamed of my little faith, and truly thankful to God for His help in the time of need, and also to the dear friends in the Panjab.

NASIK AND SHARANPUR.

The Christian settlement at Sharanpur :

The Rev. W. A. Roberts was the missionary in charge of the Christian settlement at Sharanpur during the year under review; the Rev. C. Mountfort has been engaged in evangelistic work, chiefly in the city of Nasik; and the Rev. Lucas Maloba has laboured both as Native pastor and evangelist. There are 342 Christians at Sharanpur, of whom 110 are communicants. Mr. Roberts reports as follows :—

The past year has witnessed steady, continuous, and, I trust, effective work. From many points of view our present position may well give rise to thankfulness and hope. We have been enabled to place the truth before considerable numbers by preaching, conversation, and tract and book distribution; our institutions have flourished; the schools show numbers to the good when compared with last Report, and have now prospect of a larger increase; all the pecuniary wants of the Mission have been supplied; the Native Church, with one grave exception, has been preserved from causing "the enemies of the Lord to blaspheme;" and the agents of the Mission have been nearly all kept from serious sickness, though deaths from cholera and fever have been numerous around us.

Native Church.

We have no large accession of numbers to the Native Church to report. There have been three adult and twelve infant baptisms, and one intelligent young man trained as a Roman Catholic has joined us. There have been four other candidates for baptism; but a Brahmin, who ought to have known better, turned out a great deceiver; and the motives or knowledge of the other three were judged imperfect. The means of grace have been regularly offered both upon Sundays and weekdays in this and the out-stations, and I trust that the Native Christians are practically learning that a religion which does not in a measure manifest itself in the daily and common life, is as "salt which has lost its savour." The Native Church Committee, as in former years, has regularly met, and has aided in the distribution of the funds collected at Native services, and in other ways.

Orphans.

We have had but few changes in the Orphanages during the year, but the numbers have slightly increased. Both boys and girls have been industrious and, upon the whole, well-behaved, and their training has progressed satisfactorily. We have at present fifty-six children, the number of boys and girls being exactly equal.

Farm.

The Farm, in connexion with the Orphanage, has had the most favourable year hitherto experienced. I find we have realized about thirty-five per cent. profit upon the money expended during the year. Of course this does not take into account the original outlay made some years ago. The locusts that did considerable damage in the talukas round, did us but very little injury.

Normal Class.

I have personally given special attention to the Normal Class, taking two subjects daily. We have read and studied together two books in the New Testament, and revised portions of the Old. Parts of the Prayer-book have been thoroughly taught, and the boys have committed a considerable portion of Scripture to memory; e.g., many prophecies relating to Christ, several Psalms, the Sermon on the Mount, the 12th chapter of Romans, the 13th of 1 Corinthians, and the whole of the Epistle of St. James.

JUNIR.

The Rev. Alfred Manwaring has carried on during the year the evangelistic mission in this town and district. The most hopeful part of his work has been conversations with visitors, both Hindus and Mohammedans: but there is also preaching in the bazaars and in the villages, tract distribution, and vernacular schools; and the first girls' school ever known in Junir was opened in August. The Rev. Sorabji Kharsedji, who is now an honorary missionary, is reckoned as attached to this district; but his wife and daughters being engaged in the Victoria High School at Poona, which is affiliated to the I.F.N.S. and I.S., he lives at that town, and labours mainly among the educated and well-to-do classes of both Hindus and Mohammedans.

MALEGÂM.

The Rev. F. G. Macartney continued at this station during the year. The Native Pastor, the Rev. Shankar Balawant, has retired, owing to age and infirmity. There are 124 baptized Christians and 20 catechumens. The out-stations of Chandor, Dhulia, Ranâla, and Koveda, have been well worked. The guru's son at Ranâla, Kashiram, whose case has been mentioned in the last two Annual Reports, has, the Committee grieve to say, yielded to the unceasing efforts of his wife and her relatives, and openly apostatized. The old guru himself, Dasharat, seems very faithful, and has asked for baptism; and although the son's case, which has proved a stumbling-block to some inquirers, emphasizes the importance of caution, Mr. Macartney looks hopefully for such evidence of the father's true conversion as should warrant his public admission into the Church.

The old guru at Ranâla: apostasy of his son.

AURANGABAD.

The Rev. Ratanji Nowroji continues his zealous labours at this furthest station of the Western-India Mission. The Native Christians now number 533, of whom 290 are communicants. There were 13 adult baptisms in the year. All branches of work have been assiduously cultivated. The most interesting incident in Mr. Nowroji's report, the conversion of a young Moslem, has been already mentioned.

SOUTH-INDIA MISSION.

(European Missionaries first arrived in 1814.)

Madras, commenced 1814; Travancore and Cochin, 1816; Tinnevelly, 1820; Telugu Mission, 1841.

I. Madras.

The Rev. E. Sell continues Secretary of the Madras Corresponding Committee; and the Rev. J. Ilsley is temporarily assisting him in various ministerial and other duties which at present happen to fall upon him. The Revs. M. G. and H. D. Goldsmith have conducted the Mohammedan Mission during the year, but the former has come to England for much-needed change after ten years' service. Mrs. Vickers also is presently visiting this country. The Native clergy are the same as last year, the Revs. W. T. Satthianadhan and V. Simeon being the pastors of the Southern and Northern congregations respectively, and the former being Chairman of the Native Church Council; while the Rev. Samuel John is the evangelistic missionary in the city, especially among the educated Hindus.

Native Church in Madras.

The various reports of the Native Church Council and the Pastorates occupy more than fifty pages in the three numbers of the "Madras C.M. Record," and are full of interesting details. Connected with the Council, i.e. with the two Pastorates and the outlying Palaveram District, there are 1543 Native baptized Christians, of whom 659 are communicants. There were 61 baptisms in the year, of which 17 represented accessions from heathenism; while 20 Romanists were received. The contributions of the Christians to religious objects amounted to Rs. 2346. There are 22 schools, with 1122 scholars. The Native Agents of all kinds working under the Council number 70. One of these is a "servants' missionary," and is mainly supported by English families with a view to his giving Christian instruction to their Native servants. The separate reports of the Pastorates describe in detail the services, classes, missionary meetings, mothers' meetings, communicants' meetings, Day and Sunday schools, open-air preachings, public lectures, committee meetings, &c., &c., and will bear comparison with any parochial report in England. Mr. Satthianadhan's report on the Palaveram District is especially interesting. A few sentences are subjoined:—

In November, 1881, a meeting was held at the Mount for the purpose of inaugurating measures for developing a spirit of self-help and for stirring up the congregations to greater activity and liberality. It was largely attended by the people and agents. The tone of the meeting was one of sadness and disappointment, especially as it followed immediately on the breaking up of the Mission, and the transfer of some congregations and schools to other Missionary Societies and the rest of the work to the control of the Madras Native Church Council. One speaker remarked thus: "The cannon ball discharged from the artillery at Salisbury Square struck the fort of the Palaveram and Mount Mission and dashed it to pieces." The other addresses also partook very much of the same sombre character. As chairman, I had the last word to say, and tried to correct the impression produced on the minds of the people by observing that the Parent Committee would have the Native congregations to rely more upon the Divine Head of the Church and upon themselves, than upon Missionaries and Foreign Missionary Societies.

The result of the meeting was an increase of effort and liberality on the part both of agents and people. They of their own accord held meetings in different congregations, and the burning question of self-support was freely ventilated and zealously advocated. To these earnest appeals there was an evident response in the fact that not only agents, but many of the people also, came forward to contribute something towards the cause.

Monthly meetings of Native agents.

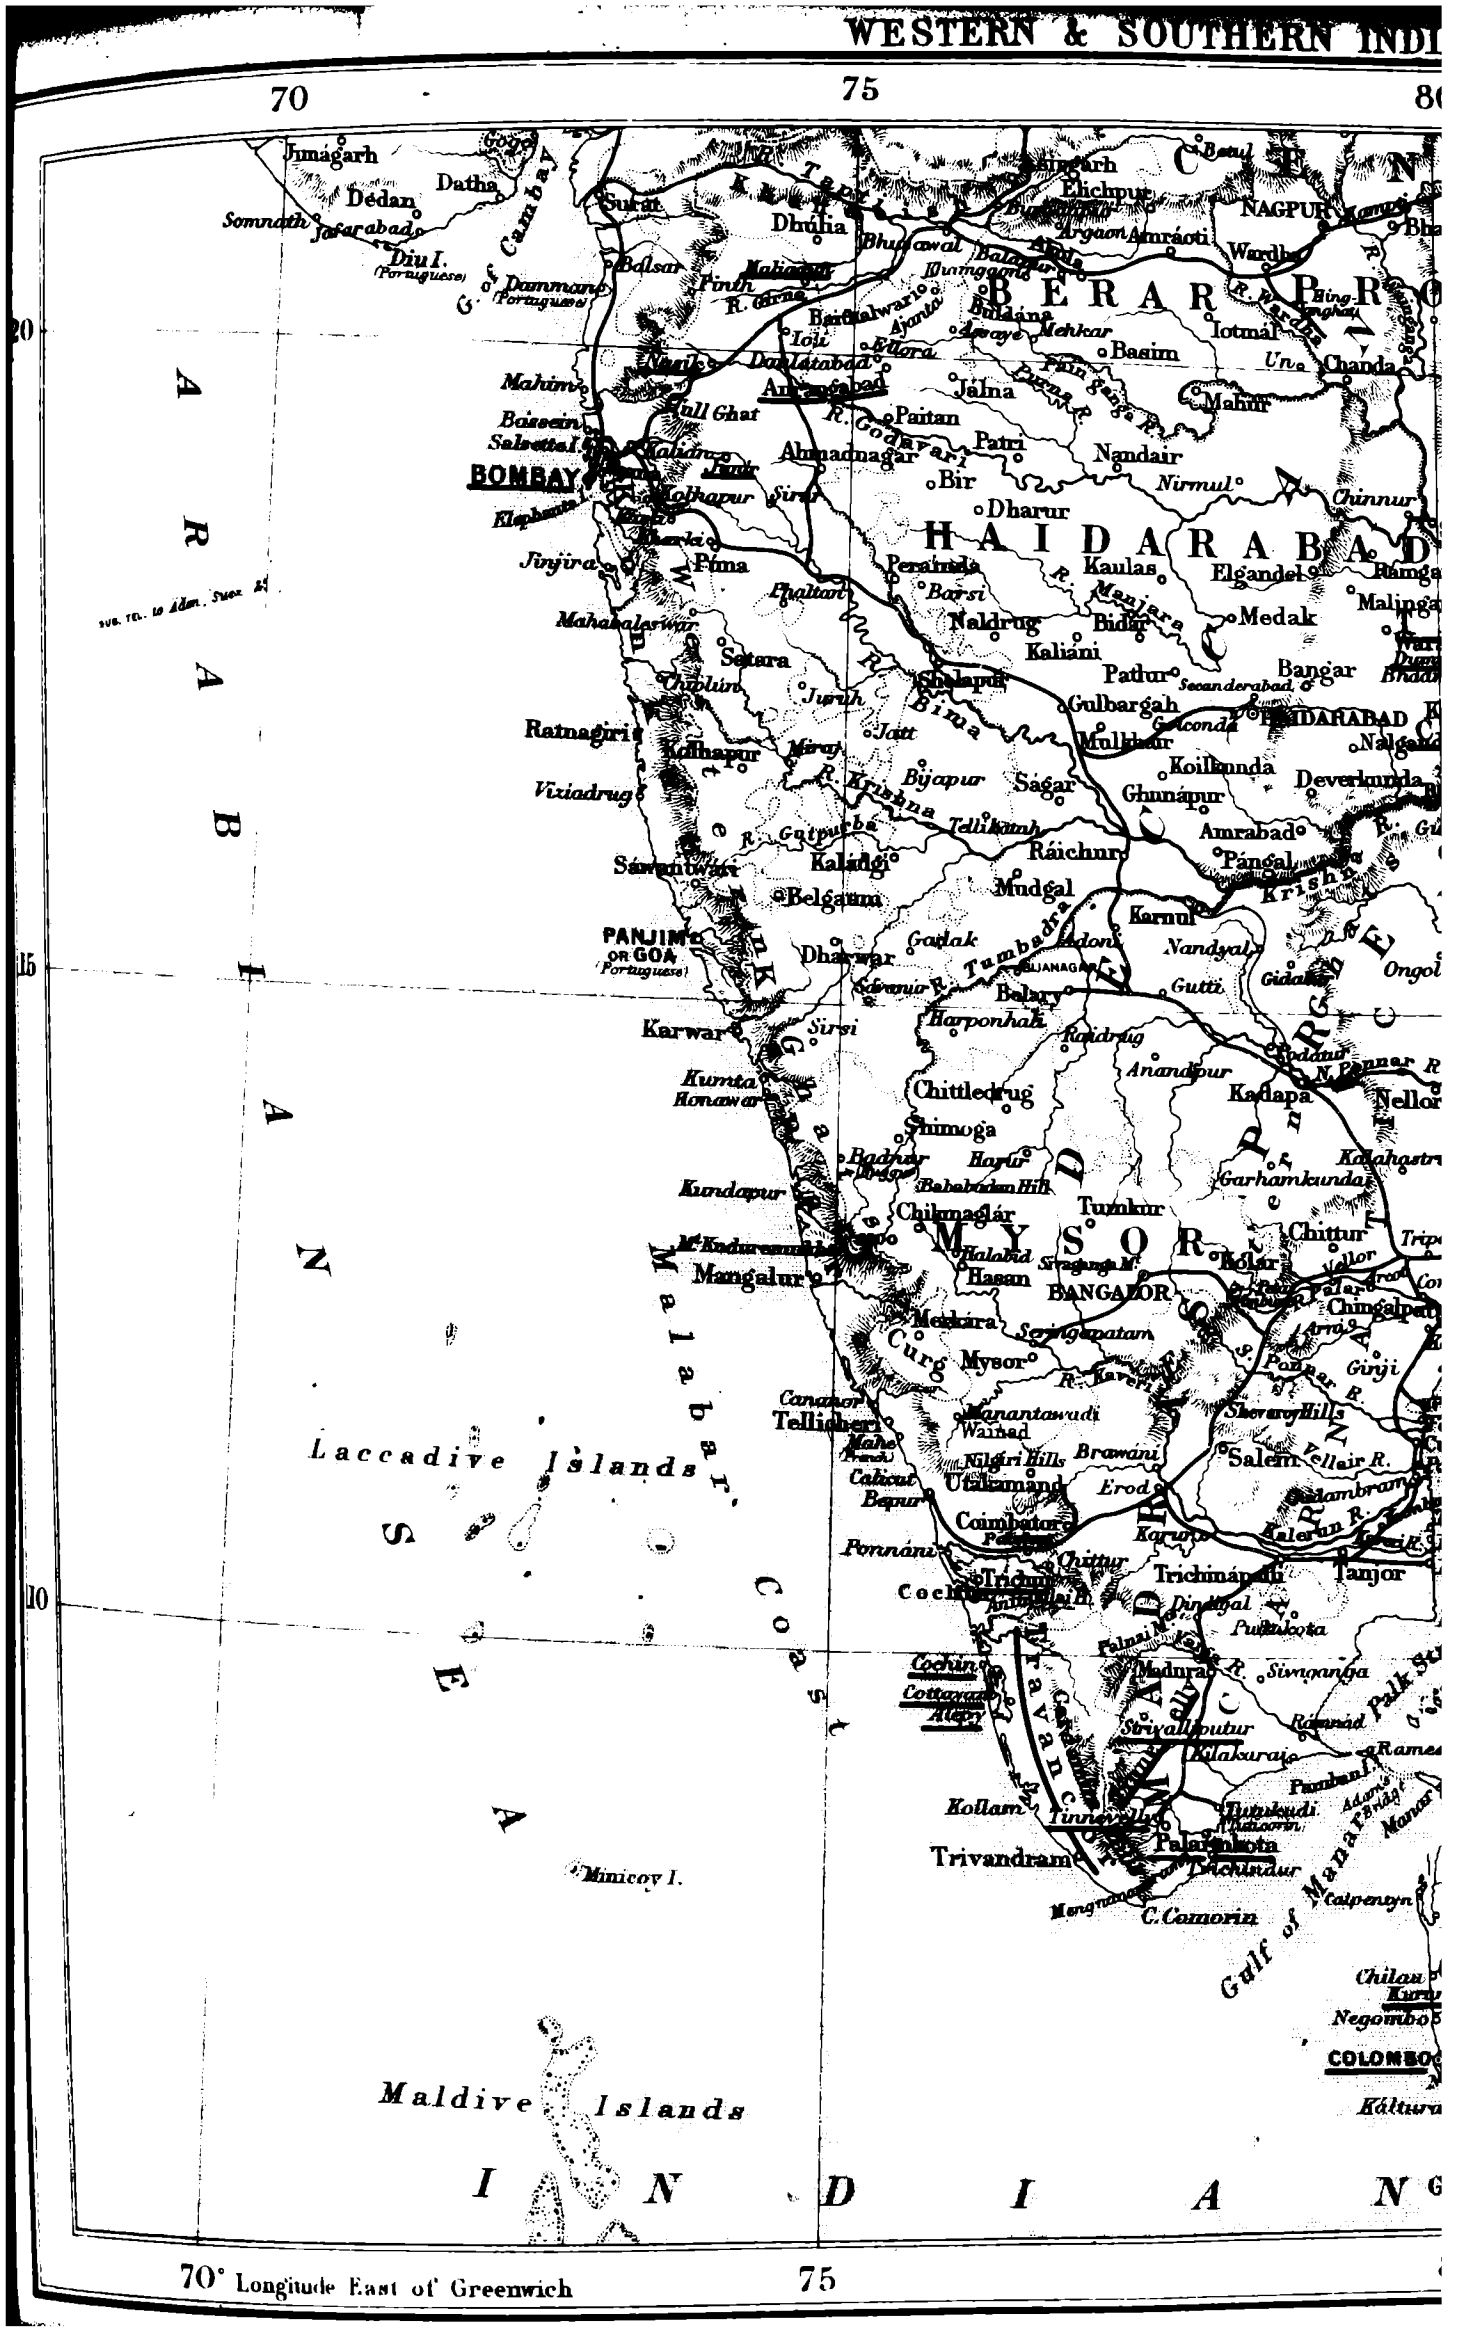

The agents' meeting every first Thursday of the month at the Mount is preceded by a short service in the station church, when a sermon is preached by one of themselves, and the Holy Communion administered by myself. Their journals are read and accounts settled. Then one reads his sermon to be preached at the next meeting day, followed by criticisms from the other agents and myself. Then any cases of difficulty in connexion with the congregations and schools are referred to me for advice and decision. At about 3 p.m. the meeting closes with prayer. At 5 p.m. we meet again, and after prayer sally forth in two companies to different parts of the town to deliver our message to the people who throng the streets and bazaars. A few Tamil Lyrics sung at short intervals attract and keep together large crowds, and every one present endeavours in his turn to speak a word for Christ, and is generally listened to with much attention. By the time these two companies return, a fair number of the congregation, between thirty and forty, are assembled for prayer in the same schoolroom. Several of the agents and members take part in the meeting by giving short addresses and offering up prayers.

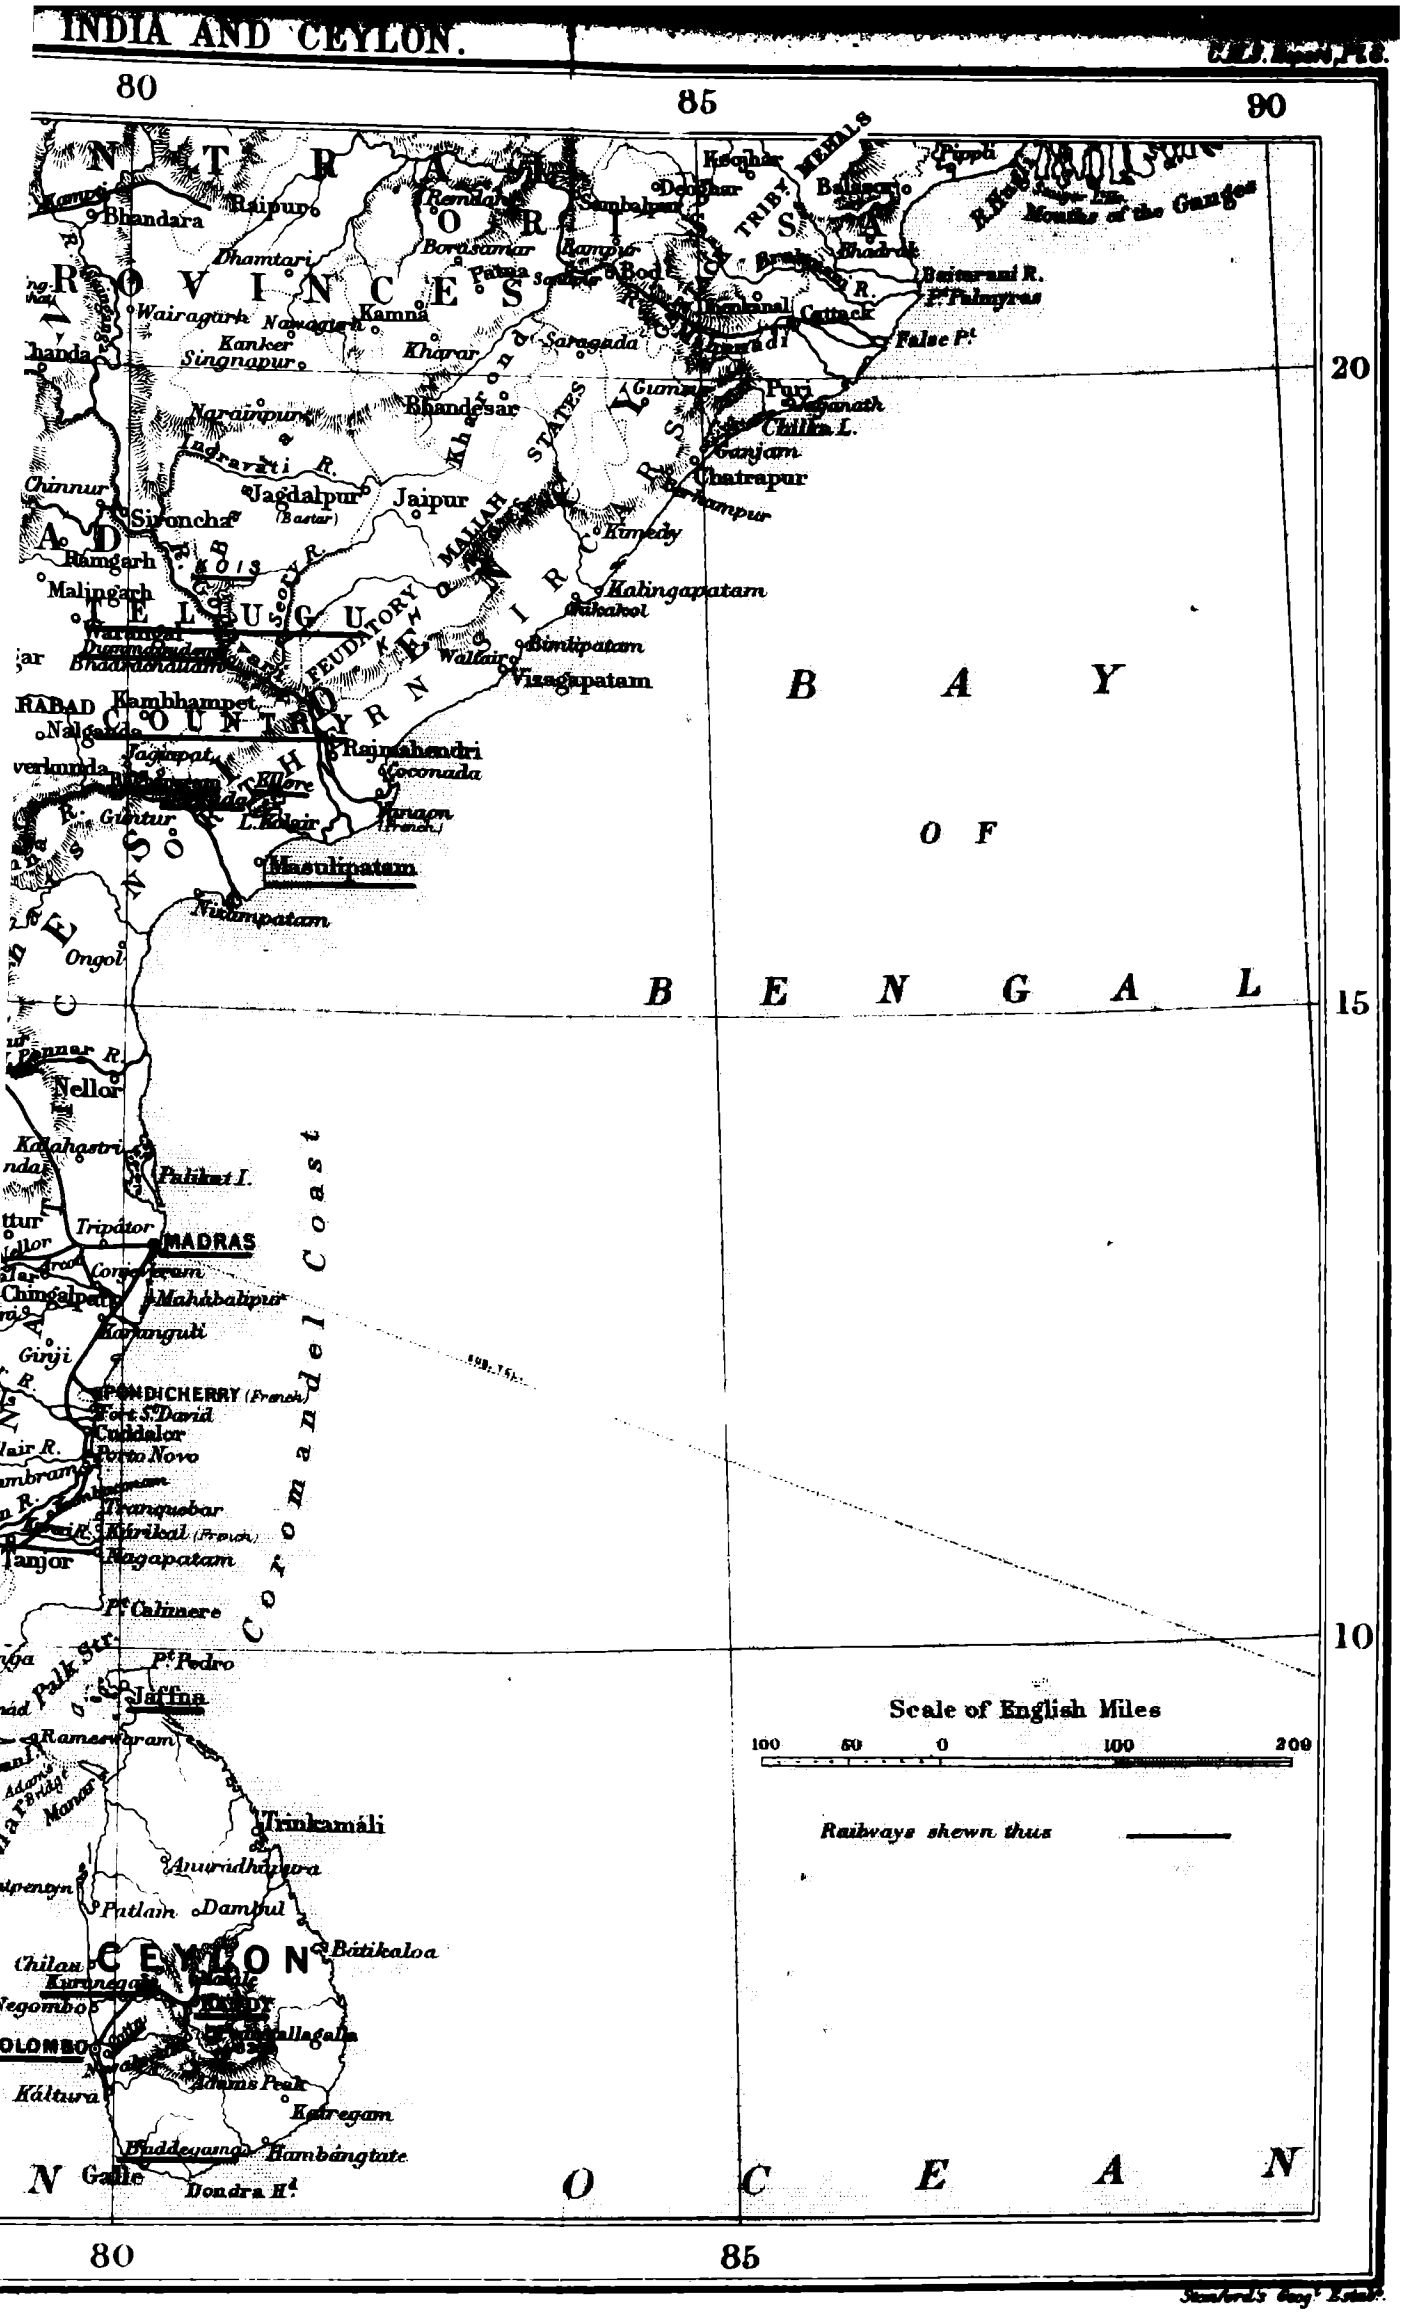

Work among educated Hindus.

The Rev. Samuel John describes his work among educated Natives as of three kinds, "(1) house visitation and individual conversation, (2) addressing Hindus collectively at public meetings, (3) publishing lectures on religious subjects." At the conclusion of an interesting letter, in which he dwells on the varieties of belief and unbelief professed by the men with whom he comes in contact, he sums up his views on evangelistic work in Madras in these words:—

1. Evangelistic work should always be direct appealing to the hearts and consciences of Hindus.

2. Christian preachers should not be satisfied with what they have done, but consider it as little or nothing to what they have yet to do.

3. Christian preachers or evangelists should not allow themselves to be disturbed or terrified by the different changes that are taking place in the religious views of the Hindu community.
4. A steady, patient, persevering, and energetic effort should characterize all evangelistic or missionary work among Hindus.
5. The sympathies and prayers, both of English and Native Christians, will considerably help those who carry on evangelistic work among the heathen.
6. Public meetings should be frequent, and be necessarily attractive and interesting (music is indispensable).
7. Hindus who are Christians at heart should form special objects of our prayers.

Mission to Mohammedans in Madras:

The reports of the brothers Goldsmith on the MISSION TO MOHAMMEDANS tells of unceasing efforts for their conversion, though hitherto there have been no visible fruits. A Mussulman whom Mr. Henry Goldsmith met one day on the road refused a tract offered him, remarking surlily that all men were becoming Christians. "We wish," writes the missionary, "we could feel that his prophecy were true, but whatever were his private opinions, such a result is far from being visible as yet." "Yet, as ever," writes Mr Malcolm Goldsmith, "we have great cause for thankfulness, in the steady progress that has been made. The Divine Master is with us, and has carried us on safely, with sufficient proofs of His presence." The following extracts are gathered from the Annual Letters of both the brothers:—

We are spending the fortnight of the Muharram holidays at Bangalore. This is a very great Mohammedan centre, each part of it, both the old town and the modern cantonment, having a large and prosperous community. As in former years that I have been here, so now, a great door has been open for Hindustani preaching. Two interviews have been held with a reputed saint, disciple of the late Akhund of Swat, who has a hundred disciples here, and more elsewhere. A public discussion has been held in the committee-room of the Bangalore Bible Society, and others in open shops, or on the roads. Two or three men have for some years past set themselves up to oppose and blaspheme, and these have had to be encountered; but, thank God, have been to some extent silenced. There are some who profess to be inquirers, and we cannot but rejoice at seeing many who listen with apparent thoughtfulness, and take and read the tracts and books that we distribute.

Public discussions;

In Madras there has been, during the last eight months, a stir in consequence of a public challenge which we made for proof from the Quran, of the intercession of Mohammed. Some Native papers and private individuals have endeavoured, but unsuccessfully (so far at any rate as the main point of the terms of the challenge required), to prove that Mohammed must be the intercessor at the Day of Judgment. The strained character of their arguments has given excellent opportunities for the setting forth of the Christian hope in Christ. A Hindustani pamphlet of eighty pages was written against us, quoting prophecies of the Old Testament, verses of the New Testament, and lastly passages from the Quran, to establish Mohammed's position. We advertised a meeting in reply, which was followed by others, all helpful to our own cause. The writer of the pamphlet announces that he is bringing out a much larger book, with more copious quotations from the Bible. Such things cannot but help us by creating an interest, and spreading some sort of information, however imperfect, of the teaching of God's Word.

Gospel meetings; Meetings in Madras have been carried on in the Gospel Hall, which is thrown open for meetings four times a week, including Sundays. We often get a few Mohammedans in, and have preaching or conversation in Hindustani. At times Hindu students come in, and for them addresses are given, generally on some portion of Scripture, in English. There is much less now than formerly of foolish questioning and controversy.

Harris School; In the Harris School there is daily Scripture teaching. In some of the higher classes it is carried on under difficulties, the boys disliking it; but in the lower classes it is cheerfully received. In any case there can be no doubt of the great good that it effects: we value it accordingly. We are constantly brought to look upon ignorance as one of our worst enemies in the bazaar, and we return with thankfulness to school duties, feeling more that an education conducted on Christian principles brings men into a position far more accessible to the Gospel, and we have reason to look for precious fruit sooner or later from the educational efforts now put forth.

Service for faqirs and beggars; We have started a service for those faqirs, beggars, and others who abound in a place like Madras. It commences at 10.30 a.m. by the singing of a hymn and prayer, the General Confession, Good Friday Collect for Jews, Turks, &c., and the Lord's Prayer. Then a portion of Scripture is read, and an address delivered by either of us; closed by another hymn and an extempore prayer. In this manner—a plan adopted by Henry Martyn, by-the-bye—a congregation is collected of from twenty-five to fifty persons: a few old women who come are accommodated behind a "purda" in one part of the verandah. After this we have a Sunday-school, my brother taking the elder and brighter boys, while I address myself to a class of smaller boys, amongst whom are a few lepers who cannot read.

Bazaar teaching; Bazaar Work is carried on as usual nearly every morning of the week before the sun is too powerful, in the streets and alleys of Triplicane and Royapettah. A monthly supply of Hindustani handbills from North India, as well as small books, distributed gratuitously, form the usual introduction to our conversations. Not unfrequently a small crowd will gather to listen or to argue. For the wider diffusion of the work, my brother and I usually start in different directions. This work is not always agreeable to the flesh, on account of the ignorance of the lower class of Moslems, who ply us with foolish questions. We vary the work by an occasional call upon Native doctors, who are as a rule courteous and ready for a friendly chat. There is also an editor of a Mohammedan newspaper on friendly terms, and who has taken up the cudgels of controversy in his Jaridai Rozgar, which has further helped to make our objects known.

A pious maulvi. We have been particularly interested in one old maulvi, to whom we have paid visits in his own house. He sometimes asks me into a retired part of his house; and more than once, to my surprise, has called his wife to listen behind the "purda" to the Padri Sahib, and the "Injil." He seems a really pious old man, and astonishes me by using such expressions as "by the help and guidance of the Holy Spirit." He must have picked this up from some Christian book. I have pointed out, as gently and yet as clearly as I can, some of the differences between the Bible and the Quran, and he listens to the Gospel story with evident interest; but I cannot yet feel that he has given up his belief in Mohammed.

The Christian subadar, Tálib-ud-din, whose interesting history was narrated last year, has returned to his own home at Raipur in the Central Provinces. His five months' work in Madras is noticed with thankfulness, and it was he who suggested the Sunday-service for faqirs and beggars.

OOTACAMUND.

The Rev. S. Paul's Annual Letter to the Society gives the usual regular account of his pastoral work among the 430 Tamil Christians under his charge, his five schools with their 232 scholars, and his literary labours. In the past year he has written a book for communicants, entitled The Beauty of Jesus, and, Notes on the Articles of Religion as a text-book for candidates for theological prizes offered annually by the Bishop of Madras. The Rev. J. H. Bishop, of the Travancore Mission, who has been staying at Ootacamund, writes in warm terms of Mr. Paul, and his work. It is supported by local contributions, and, though in connexion with the Society, draws nothing from its funds.

A Tamil pastor's literary work.

II. Tinnevelly.

The Mission is divided into ten districts, each with a Church Council, viz. 1, Palamcotta; 2, Dohnavur; 3, Suvisêshapuram; 4, Mengnânapuram; 5, Paneivilêi; 6, Pannikulam; 7, Nallur; 8, Surandei; 9, Sivagâsi; 10, Vageikulam; the last two being in North Tinnevelly.

The Committee thank God that their venerable friend Bishop Sargent is still, notwithstanding renewed attacks of illness, enabled to hold on at his most important post, and to exercise over the growing Tinnevelly churches connected with the Society the influence of his lengthened experience and matured wisdom. During the year his health was to some extent invigorated by a visit to Australia and New Zealand, although, while in those colonies, he was constantly engaged in speaking and preaching in behalf of India. After his return to Tinnevelly he was again seriously ill; but another voyage to Calcutta, to attend the Conference of the Indian Bishops, once more revived his strength, and in March he was able to preside at several meetings of the Native Church Councils in Tinnevelly.

The European staff of the Society's Mission comprises the Revs. V. W. Harcourt, H. J. Schaffter, and T. Kember, and Mrs. and Miss Thomas: all being engaged in educational work. The number of C.M.S. Native clergy, 64, is less by one, owing to the death, on September 14th, of the Rev. S. Paramanandam, of Satthankulam. The statistics show little alteration. There have been no large accessions from among the heathen; but the catechumens are fewer and the baptized Christians have increased, owing to the former having, by baptism, recruited the ranks of the latter. The total of adherents is 55,757, only 447 more than last year; but the baptized are 42,128, an increase of 1494. The communicants have risen from 10,167 to 10,572. The contributions of the Christians to religious objects amounted to Rs. 26,906, against Rs. 25,427 in the preceding year.

Progress in Tinnevelly.

Tinnevelly Church Councils.

The Tinnevelly Provincial Council, which consists of 96 clerical and lay delegates from all the C.M.S. districts, has chiefly deliberative functions. The executive power of the Church lies with the District Councils, which though so small relatively in respect of the areas they severally represent, are equal to the Councils of North India as regards the number of Christians and of clergy connected with each. Of these District Councils Bishop Sargent is Chairman of eight, and the Rev. Viravagu Vedhanayagam of the two in North Tinnevelly. The largest, that of the Mengnânapuram District, held its last half yearly meeting on March 3rd of the present year, and its proceedings may be cited as a specimen. Twenty Native clergymen and thirty-two lay members were present, the Bishop presiding. The Chairman, in his opening address, drew attention to the growth of the congregations in the Mengnânapuram district in ten years, the baptized Christians having increased in that period from 9674 to 14,697, the total adherents from 12,877 to 18,182, the communicants from 2107 to 3789, the children at school from 3140 to 4069, the Native clergy from 14 to 21, the contributions of the people from Rs. 5879 to Rs. 7907. It is significant that most of these figures show an advance of half as much again. The Council then proceeded to practical work. Transfers of pastors from one district to another were arranged, schoolmasters and catechists engaged and located, petitions from some of the congregations considered, subjects of local interest discussed. One pastor received a rebuke for having lent the "church globes" (lamp-glasses) to adorn a heathen wedding; two congregations which asked for aid in purchasing gongs for their churches were informed that they must bear the whole cost themselves; a resolution was passed exhorting mission agents not to allow the use of "tom-toms" at their marriages, "as they are expected to set a good example to others for renouncing worldly show and avoiding vain expenses." The minutes of this meeting are signed by the Rev. Joseph David, Pastor of Mengnânapuram, and Secretary of the Council.

Several of the District Councils have found themselves in financial straits, owing mainly to the increase in adherents, for whom teachers and prayer-houses have had to be provided, combined with the reduction year by year of the Society's grants to the Council Funds by 5 per cent. The Committee, having fully satisfied themselves of the real necessity of the case, have agreed, without infringing the principle of an annual diminution in the regular grants, to vote additional sums for specific purposes for five years, in order to give the Councils time to recover lost ground. This is an illustration of the Society's need of increased resources, not only for extension and expansion, but for the maintenance of existing work in fair efficiency.

W.C.Jones agents in Tinnevelly.

The action of the William Charles Jones Fund itself, which is already doing much for the evangelization of Tinnevelly, has helped to strain the resources of the Native Church, which can only claim grants from it for the support of fresh agents when two-fifths of their cost is provided on the spot. But the Christians of the Province rejoice, as do the Committee, in the good which, under God, that Fund is effecting. The reports of its work in the various districts, sent in by the Revs. Jesudasen John, Isaac Gurubadham, P. David, and Joseph David, and by Messrs. A. David, V. Gnanamuttu, T. Simeon, and D. Samuel, the four latter being lay secretaries of Councils—are full of interest. Some extracts are given at the end of this Report, under the head of the William Charles Jones Fund. In his Annual Letter to the Committee, the Rev. Dêvasagâyam Gnânamuttu, Pastor of Nallur, writes,—"Numbers, I am sure, who may have the happiness of hearing Christ preached to them by these agents, and be converted to Him, will praise God for giving this noble mind to Mr. Jones to devote his money, and to bring them to the light of the knowledge of the Gospel."

Report of a Tamil pastor of 35 years' standing.

The same venerable Native clergyman, who has now been a minister of the Church for thirty-five years, having been ordained in 1847, writes encouragingly of his district. His letter is selected as a specimen from among several others:—

> Having, on my own part, passed the year which draws near to its close in the spirit of the Scripture text, which says, "As dying, and behold we live; as chastened, and not killed," I give an account of the work which was carried on by me and by my helpers in this pastorate.
> At present I have the charge of thirty-seven congregations; the most distant of these congregations being nine miles distant from my station; and these congregations contain a total number of 959 Christians—681 of this number being baptized and 277 unbaptized; 117 communicants, and 183 school-children. . . .

Spiritual State of the People.—The great end aimed at among the people for whom so much labour and pains are bestowed, many devout men not only sacrificing their money, but also earnestly praying for them, while others spend their time, strength, health, and their life too in making known the good tidings of the Son of God, the Saviour of sinners, and in gathering disciples for Him, is the salvation of penitent, believing sinners. I rejoice to say that we have more or less gained this point. For I can safely hope that many in my pastorate are real converts to Christ, and real followers of His steps and precepts, though they are not free from infirmities and faults. Nothing, I presume to say, would separate them from the love of their Saviour, and that all the true signs of the people of God are manifestly seen in them, though in feebleness. They live in peace with their neighbours, and bear with those who persecute them. The Christian people in this pastorate, on the whole, love their minister and other spiritual teachers, and they love also the people of God. Some sixteen persons in the whole pastorate take an interest in other Christians' welfare, speak to them when they do wrong or neglect the means of grace, and correct them and stimulate them by their words and examples in well-doing, and visit the sick and distressed Christians. Others hold conversation with the heathen about Jesus Christ. Others quietly walk in the steps of the Redeemer, and display the excellency of Christianity by their consistent Christian walk. Character of Tamil Christians.

In order to keep them up in their Christian course of walk, and not to be slacker in it, they are carefully taught in Scriptures, Church Catechism, and in Bishop Caldwell's Elementary Catechism of Christian Knowledge, a book which is very useful to the Tamil congregations.

As to the contributions of Christian people, I render my hearty thanks to God for having given them a mind to love God's objects, and contribute towards them cheerfully according to their means. . . The people wish to have their churches built substantially with brick; and with this view they collect money among themselves, little by little, and in various ways, and accumulate them into a fund. Besides the above payment of money they furnish their churches with oil for light, they supply wine and bread for the Lord's Supper, give bells, globes, and other furniture to their churches, in the way of vows and thankofferings. On Easter Sunday a collection is made among them for the Bible Society, and on Christmas Day a subscription is given by them for the object of preaching to the heathen. Native Contributions at Nallur.

The Rev. V. Vedhanâyagam relates an interesting conversion:—

A Brahmin widow had been a private inquirer for a year and a half, and then she had grace to come forward so boldly as to cast in her lot with the Christians. After being under Mrs. Kearns's motherly care and training for more than a year, she was baptized on the 20th October, at Sachiapuram, by the Bishop of Madras. Vedhanayagam, one of the voluntary agents at Kurwikulam, has been the means, under God, of her conversion. Having a diseased eye, she went to him for treatment, he being a Native physician. This opportunity he availed himself of, and pointed out to her the Spiritual Physician, and Brahmin widow brought to Christ by a Native doctor.

though the efforts he used for the cure of her bodily eye were ineffectual, his efforts for the enlargement of her spiritual eyes have been far more effectual.

Tinnevelly Educational agencies: Training Institution.

Of the Training Institution at Palamcotta, the Rev. T. Kember reports that there are 75 students in the Normal Class, and 8 in the Theological Class. The latter could readily be made larger, but the Native Church has already as many pastors as it can support, and for evangelistic work lay catechists are as useful and less expensive. Not that the clergy in Tinnevelly are highly paid. They are simple men, mostly drawn from the same class as their village congregations; and one of the purposes of the Society's additional grant already mentioned is to enable the Councils to raise the stipends of some of them to Rs. 20 per mensem, about 20*l.* a year. Mr. Kember mentions that nearly all his 81 students are members of the Bible and Prayer Union.

Anglo-Vernacular College.

The Anglo-Vernacular College in the heathen town of Tinnevelly continues to grow and prosper. The Rev. H. J. Schaffter reports that he has now 250 students. "Our numbers," he says, "are slowly rising, and the numbers of the Hindu College as steadily declining. Two years ago I had less than twenty in my matriculation class, against 120 in the Hindu College. Now they have dropped to 60, and we have risen to 42." There are some who show manifest signs of a work of grace in their hearts. One of them was so open in his confession of Christ, that Mrs. Lewis, the excellent missionary of the Church of England Zenana Society, was forbidden (by the father-in-law) to visit his wife. "What of that?" said the young man to Mr. Schaffter; "they cannot shut out Christ from our hearts." There are a few Native Christian students in the College; and these assist in the open-air preaching which is carried on by the Native Christian masters (one a B.A., and the other an F.A. of Madras University), by leading the singing and distributing tracts.

A Hindu Brahmin's testimony to Mission Schools.

The good influence of a school of this kind is illustrated by an incident that occurred in connexion with the last annual Prize Distribution, in January of this year. Just before the proceedings commenced, Mr. Schaffter received a letter from a Brahmin gentleman, the Sub-Judge of the district, whom he has never met, enclosing Rs. 20 to be added to the prizes, and containing these significant words:—"I owe my limited knowledge of English to the London Mission's Schools at Bellary, and I always take some interest in mission schools. Owing to a want of religious teaching in Government schools, boys of the present day sometimes grow rather selfish and atheistical." This is the testimony of a heathen Hindu.

Sarah Tucker Schools.

The Sarah Tucker Institution, under the Rev. V. W. and Mrs. Harcourt, also flourishes, and extends its beneficent influence all over the Tinnevelly districts. In the central Training Institution there are 110 Christian girls; in the six Boarding Schools, at six of the chief pastorate stations, there are 150 Christian girls. There are 50 or 60 Branch Schools, each with about 30 heathen girls of the higher castes: "some sixty strings," as Mr. Harcourt expresses it, "all radiating from the Sarah Tucker Institution, and the ends of each terminating in a group of interesting children, Christ's lambs not yet gathered in."

Elliot Tuxford School: Work of Mrs. Thomas.

Many years have passed away since any account has been given in the Annual Report of the Elliot Tuxford School at Mengnânapuram, which has been carried on for so lengthened a period by the venerable widow and daughter of the founder of that station, the late Rev. John Thomas. This year the Committee have had the satisfaction of receiving a report from Mrs. Thomas, part of which is subjoined:—

> There are at present ninety-seven girls learning in the Elliot Tuxford School. They are divided into seven classes, and are taught by one Native master, and five mistresses, who are all some of the early pupils trained here. My daughter takes the classes alternately in different subjects every day, and thus becomes personally acquainted with the attainments of each girl. We have every reason to be satisfied with the progress made in secular subjects.
>
> Of the religious state of the pupils it is at all times difficult to speak definitely, for the outward behaviour of the majority is correct; but of some we are happy to say decidedly that a real change of heart has been experienced, and their consistent conduct greatly encourages us. We know that very many of them meet in their recreation hour for united prayer, and to study God's Word together; and have at such times expressed the benefit they have individually realized.
>
> We constantly have the opportunity of seeing a great many of our former pupils. Seventy of them are engaged as schoolmistresses and Bible-women in this and in other districts; and 136 are the wives of Native pastors, catechists, and schoolmasters. Those in this village, together with several other young women, come to our Bible-class every Sunday.

Visit of the Governor of Madras.

It only remains to notice that the Governor of the Madras Presidency, the Right Hon. M. E. Grant Duff, visited Tinnevelly in September, and was received with due honour at Palamcotta. Addresses were presented to him at the Training Institution, and the Sarah Tucker Institution, and also by the Native Christian Community; to all of which his Excellency returned friendly replies.

III. Travancore and Cochin.

Allepie, 1816; Cottayam, 1817; Cochin, 1817; Mavelikâra, 1839; Trichur, 1842; Pallam, 1845; Tiruwella, 1849; Kunnankulam, 1854; Mundakayam, 1855.

THERE has been no change during the year in the Society's missionary staff in Travancore and Cochin. The Native clergy are one more, by the ordination of one of the agents, W. Kuruwila. The Committee regret that having received no complete reports or returns, they are unable to give any figures, or to report at all upon the Native Church in the principal districts, Cottayam, Pallam, and Mavelikâra. They do know, however, that Bishop Speechly has been hard at work, guiding and developing the pastorates in connexion with the Church Councils.

In an interesting paper contributed to the Madras Church Missionary Record in December last, the Rev. C. A. Neve notices the present condition of the Syrian Church. From the following extract it will be seen that there are in it features both of encouragement and discouragement:—

Condition of the Syrian Church.

In the Syrian Church, reforms have made more advance during the past thirty years than at any previous period. According to an account published by themselves a short time ago, there is a reform party whose object it is to bring back their Church to Scriptural purity, by rejecting Mariolatry, invocation of saints, and prayers for the dead, and by introducing prayers in the known tongue, instead of in Syriac.

But besides much that is superstitious which is still retained, there are also lamentable divisions and lawsuits continually rending the Syrian body. Rival Metrans divide the Churches. Party-spirit runs high. Instead of all banding together in the common cause of the great Head of the Church, there are strifes and envyings among them, and missionary efforts to evangelize the heathen are unknown. The property of the Church is being squandered on lawsuits, and the churches generally are in a most neglected and ruinous state.

The great redeeming feature in the Syrian Church is that so far from withholding the Word of God, as the Romanists do, they read it in the vernacular in their churches, and many of the people possess it and read it at home. Mar Athanasius (the Metran of the reforming party) is a subscriber to the Bible Society, and Dionysius (the Metran of the rival party) also last year issued a pastoral letter, urging his people to buy the Word of God and to read it for themselves.

Half the boys in the C.M.S. College, Cottayam, still belong to the Syrian Church. They read and study the Scriptures as carefully and readily as the lads of the Anglican Church. God's Word has entered. The letter of it is widely known. Many, doubtless, in this ancient Church have a true love for it. In many points which we regret and cannot approve, these people are bound by the strong ties of custom, customs which they have contracted by being for many centuries under the deadening influences of Romanism and Heathenism.

COTTAYAM, PALLAM, MAVELIKÂRA, TIRUWELLA.

The whole of the superintendence of the Native pastorates in these districts, which are under the Northern and Southern Church Councils, is now the personal work of the Bishop himself, whose residence is at PALLAM. The Rev. F. Bower, who is stationed at TIRUWELLA, is mainly engaged in evangelistic work. At COTTAYAM, the Rev. C. A. Neve is Principal of the College, and the Rev. J. Caley has taken over the Cambridge Nicholson Institution from the Rev. A. F. Painter, who had temporarily succeeded the Rev. W. J. Richards.

Educational Institutions in Travancore.

In the Cottayam College, which is what is elsewhere termed a superior Anglo-Vernacular or High School, there are 236 boys in average attendance. In the Cambridge Nicholson Institution, which is the Divinity Class and Training School, there are nineteen students, six having been sent forth into the Mission during the year. There are four Hindu Girls' Schools in Cottayam, which were founded by Mrs. J. H. Bishop ten years ago, and are superintended by Mrs. Neve; average attendance, 130. The prizes in these schools were distributed in August last year, by the First Prince of Travancore. The Christian Girls' Boarding School, with its 48 girls, is carried on, as it has been for sixty years, by Mrs. Baker, sen.; in addition to which, Miss Baker has 100 boarders and over 130 day-scholars under her charge.

Fenn Scholars.

It is known to many friends of the Society that a fund was raised in memory of the late Rev. Joseph Fenn, one of the founders of the Travancore Mission, to maintain scholarships in the Cambridge Nicholson Theological Institution for Native students. The first two Fenn scholars have now been appointed, C. L. Thommi and P. A. Stephen. Both of them were students in the Cottayam College,—of which (or rather of the old College it replaced) Mr. Fenn, sen., was Principal more than sixty years ago,—and are undergraduates of Madras University, the former having passed the Matriculation Examination in the second class, and the latter in the first class.

The only report which is to hand from a Native pastor is from the Rev. Oomen Mâmen, of Changanachery, a town and district lying midway between Pallam on the north, and Tiruwella on the south. The work is of a very varied kind, among Syrians, Romo-Syrians, Mohammedans, and Hindus; and chiefly among the Chogan caste, and the out-caste Pulayas and Parayers. The last-named class are pirates on the large back-waters of Travancore. An evangelist, a Christian from among themselves, is employed among them by the Native Church Missionary Association.

ALLEPIE.

The Rev. W. Clark continues in charge of this district. There are 867 baptized Christians, of whom 375 are communicants; and also 52 catechumens. Mr. Clark's report of them is, speaking generally, unfavourable. There is much spiritual dulness, much inconsistency of life, and evidently great need of an out-pouring of the Holy Ghost, that nominal Christianity may be transformed into real Christianity.

ALWAYE AND COCHIN.

This extensive district, partly in the north of the kingdom of Travancore and partly in the south of the kingdom of Cochin, was designed to be the field of the Rev. J. Caley's labours on his return to India. But the exigencies of the Mission having caused the Cambridge Nicholson Institution to be entrusted to his care, it has not been possible for him to do more than visit it. In December, he and Mrs. Caley spent a fortnight in riding through the district, and during that tour he "saw more opposition to the Gospel from the heathen, and more darkness in the Syrian Church," than during the whole time he has been in Travancore. The condition of the Syrians may be gathered from the following:—

A Syrian mass paid for by a Hindu.

When we were at Perawam I had a conversation with a Nair who was very anxious to obtain an appointment in the police. Being told that masses were powerful, he went to the Syrian priest of his place, and gave him four chuckrums (28½=1*s.* 8*d.*) to perform a mass for him. Think of a Hindu with his kudumi on his head going to a Church called Christian and hiring for four chuckrums a priest to prepare a mass, knowing it to be for the purpose of securing a secular appointment, and it will not take long to determine whether the presence of such a Church be a help or a hindrance to the spread of the Gospel.

Near Alwaye we have a school at a place called Medembatheri, which is for both Syrians and heathen. When Mr. P. M. Werghese visited the school, he asked who Mary's son was. "Patriarch of Antioch," answered the children. A little afterwards the Rev. J. H. Bishop visited the same school, and on asking who died for our sins was told "St. George."

MUNDAKAYAM AND MELKAVU (ARRIAN MISSION).

The Rev. A. F. Painter is now in charge of the interesting and important field of labour among the Hill Arrians, of which MUNDAKAYAM is the centre. It pleased God to take from him his young wife (a sister of the Rev. C. A. Neve, and of Dr. A. Neve of Kashmir) in June last year; and after that sore trial he handed over the Cambridge Nicholson Institution to Mr. Caley, and it was ultimately arranged for him to undertake the Arrian Mission. In this district the Arrian Christians, the fruit of the late Henry Baker's work, are not in all respects satisfactory, and need much spiritual help and counsel; but the condition of things seems more hopeful in the more northern district of MELKAVU, which is worked by the Rev. W. Kuruwila in connexion with the Native Church Council. The Christians there seem more ready for self-support in respect of Church ordinances than even the more settled congregations of the plains. In Mr. Painter's district a considerable number of Arrians have joined the Church within the past few months. He writes:—

In my former travels I had visited several of the Arrian villages, and late in October commenced more systematically, chiefly among those who live in the territory of the Pûnyatt Rajah. The late Rajah was a bitter opponent of Christianity, and the Rev. H. Baker was compelled to remove all who became Christians from his territory, and settle them on Sircar land. Others, who were not willing to leave their homes, were forced to remain heathen. Thus the Rajah placed a dam, as it were, across the stream. But intercourse with our Christians at Erumapara and Melkavu led them to think seriously on religion; and when I visited them I found the seed falling upon prepared hearts. Most had never seen a sahib before, for no European has ever visited these hills as far as they remember; but they were ready to trust me, because they knew how Mr. Baker had toiled for the good of others, and they argued among themselves, "This sahib must love us, for he has taken all this trouble to come and see us, not to get anything from us, but to tell us of God." We talked and prayed with them; a council was held, and the dam which the Rajah had placed was swept away by God's blessing, and ninety-seven renounced heathenism, gave up their idols, and allowed me to remove their kudamis. Arrian converts.

They are simple, timid people, and were in great dread of what the Rajah would do. The Rajah's servants were very busy threatening them, but a note to him was sufficient to get some recalled, though not to stop all. All is, I trust, going on well. They are learning very diligently, and the number has increased to 196, besides thirty who joined at Erumapara, our old station.

Thus one reaps where another has sown, and the work done in God's name by Mr. Baker goes on long after he has entered into his rest. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord; for they rest from their labours, and their works do follow them." May I not, too, think that He who saw these sheep scattered without a shepherd and ready to hear the call had purposes of mercy and love to them as well as to me, when He broke up my home and sent me forth to seek them?

TRICHUR AND KUNNANKULAM.

The Rev. J. H. Bishop continues in charge of these districts in the northern kingdom of Cochin. His communications during the past year have been among the most interesting which the Committee have received; and they only regret that they are unable at present, with the funds at their disposal, to respond as they would wish to do to his earnest appeals, and to enter into the important plans he has laid before them for the development and extension of the work.

The baptized Christians in these districts are 915 in number, of whom 309 are communicants: and there are also 31 catechumens. The baptisms during the year were, adults, 23, children, 47. The Rev. Jacob Chandy is pastor at Trichur, and the Rev. P. M. Varugisa (sometimes spelt Wirghese) at Kunnankulam. A third pastorate, Mankutte with Pattikâd, is under the charge of a lay reader. Of the baptisms, the most interesting case was that of a Chogan family at Paranyi, an out-station of Kunnankulam. Mr. Bishop writes:—

A Chogan convert's trials and triumph.

A young man (whom we subsequently named Thomas), who had formerly learnt in our Mission school at Paranyi, became deeply impressed with the truth of Christianity, and was most anxious for his soul's salvation to embrace it. On one occasion we had a little service of praise and prayer in the Mission school there, and received him as a catechumen, after he had publicly made a confession, and then signed a written declaration of his faith in Christ. A short time after, while we were holding a devotional conference in Trichur, a Nambûri Brahmin and some Nairs, hearing of his conversion, sent for the lad, and by threats and intimidations compelled him to renounce Christ. They gave him some "holy water" to sprinkle in his house, and told him to make a feast for his caste friends and relatives, and thus he could be received back into Hinduism. He was also made to swear by the thigh of the Nambûri that he would not be baptized. But much prayer was offered for him: the young man was frightened, and miserable. Twice he came over to Kunnankulam to see me. And a short time ago, on a visit paid to Paranyi, we were rejoiced to find our prayers were more than answered. We prayed for the restoration of this young man; but we found his grandmother (aged 70 years), his mother (a widow), and his sister of ten years, quite as anxious as he was to be baptized, and acquainted with the elementary but fundamental truths of our holy religion. Thus the whole family were saved. They besought us not to defer their baptism. So the following Sunday they were all baptized in St. Paul's Church, Kunnankulam. The baptismal answers of the grandmother were very correct and fervent, spoken from the heart, and not in the exact words of the book. It appears the father of the lad, when dying some years ago, told his family that Christ was the only Saviour, and bade them embrace Christianity.

Mr. Bishop gives a very interesting account of his evangelistic tours. He meets with considerable opposition, and in one place he encountered a Brahmin who goes about the country blaspheming Christianity, and calling himself Matla Khandan, "Destroyer of Religion." "He is a modern Celsus, clever at ridiculing the Christian faith." Yet many are intellectually convinced of the truth of the Gospel. One man said, "I believe Christianity is the true religion, but if I embrace it, my relations will forsake me, and my property will be taken from me; how can I gain my livelihood?" Mr. Bishop gives a sad picture of a death-bed:—

A modern Celsus.

A rich heathen's death-bed.

During another Mission tour I was called in to see a dying Chogan who sent for me, a wealthy man, who, though convinced of the truth, was kept back through fear of incurring shame and through love of money. He had formerly given a piece of his compound at Puthucheri for the site of a church. His grandsons, bright, intelligent lads, attended the Mission school there. It was a pitiful sight. His stalwart sons supported the dying heathen man in their arms, and his grandsons fanned him. "What shall I do? What shall I do?" was his cry. He was troubled about his soul, and wept much. We pointed him to the friend of sinners, and prayed for him. He knew and, I trust, believed that Jesus was his Saviour, but he did not seem to understand the meaning of baptism or the distinction of Persons in the Holy Trinity, and it was impossible in his weak, dying state to make him understand it, and therefore, lest he should rest in the mere outward ceremony as a sort of "mantram," or charm, we dared not baptize him. His sons, too, were opposed to it. But the grandsons, and, I think, one of the sons, are seeking the Saviour, and I trust will soon be converted and baptized.

Result of secular education.

Of the necessity of Christian education Mr. Bishop writes strongly. "The English-speaking youths, educated in Government schools, seem to be satisfied with secularism, or practical atheism. Their religious sense seems destroyed." He especially lays stress on female education; and he has a Christian Girls' Boarding and Day school, a day-school for the "Syro-Chaldæans" (an offshoot from the Romanist sect), and a Caste Girls' School. Zenana work also is carried on in Trichur; and the wife of Satyadasen (the Brahmin evangelist referred to in previous reports), meets with much encouragement, and some rebuffs, as a Bible-woman.

The variety, and the unity, of the Mission agencies in Trichur can best be realized by a most interesting account of a Devotional Conference of the agents held in August last year, which has been printed in the C.M. Intelligencer (March, 1883). The Committee thank God for all the good work which is being so zealously carried on, and trust that a rich blessing may follow it.

IV. Telugu Mission.

The Telugu Mission comprises Masulipatam, 1841; Ellore, 1854; Bêzwâda, 1858; the Koi Mission (Dummagûdem), 1860; Râghapuram, 1872; Amalâpuram, 1876.

THIS Mission has suffered severe losses. Not only have the Revs. A. W. Poole, W. Clayton, and W. G. Baker, who were on the home list last year, now finally retired under medical orders, but the Rev. E. N. Hodges, the Principal of the Noble High School, has been compelled to come home with his wife, who has been dangerously ill; and the Mission is temporarily deprived of its senior missionary by the absence in England of the Rev. F. W. N. Alexander. On the other hand, the Rev. John Cain, with his excellent Australian wife, has resumed his work on the Godâvari; and they were accompanied from Melbourne by two other ladies, called out (as Mrs. Cain originally was) by the loving zeal in the Redeemer's cause of the Rev. H. B. Macartney, jun., whose noble auxiliary work for the C.M.S. Missions in South India was noticed in last year's Annual Report.

Progress in the Telugu Mission.

The statistics of the Telugu Mission give 4084 baptized persons, and 1939 catechumens, total 6023, which is an increase of just over fifty per cent. in three years. The baptisms in the year were, adults, 274, children, 335. The Telugu Church has one weakness which much impedes the growth and development of its organization. There is a fair number of Brahmin and other high-caste converts; but all the remainder belong to the lowest castes—if they can be called castes—especially the Mâlas. What may be called the middle classes of the population have scarcely been touched in the Telugu country; so that a broad and deep gulf separates the two sections of the Christian community. None are more sensible of this than the leading converts themselves; and it is now desired to make specially earnest efforts to make known the Gospel to the classes not yet reached. With reference to the Brahmin converts, who are the fruit of the educational work begun by Robert Noble, a passage in the Rev. A. W. Poole's remarkable speech at the Society's Anniversary this year must be quoted:—

Influential positions of Native Christians.

Exactly opposite to the Noble School there stands the Native court-house. The judge, who daily administers impartial justice in the name of the British Government in that court-house, is a converted Brahmin from the school. The magistrate in the adjoining district is another; the minister of the Native congregation and missionary in charge of the district of Masulipatam is another; two of the head-masters of our Anglo-Vernacular schools and seven assistant-masters in those schools are all men brought to the knowledge of God in the Noble High School of Masulipatam. One of them edits the Native Christian magazine. All our translating, writing, teaching, guiding and directing the work of the Native Church, is in the hands of that small but steadfast community.

Telugu Native Church Council.

The Eighth Meeting of the Telugu Provincial Native Church Council was held at Ellore, on February 7th and 8th of the present year, the Rev. F. W. N. Alexander presiding. The chairman delivered an address on the subject of self-support, and, after full discussion, an important minute was adopted by the Council, which is so interesting as to deserve to be quoted here in full :—

The Council, having heard the principle of self-support expanded on very fully by the Rev. F. N. Alexander, and being impressed with its deep importance, individually pledge themselves to do their utmost, both to help and to induce others to do so; at this time, especially, when three of their own class of men are about to be ordained and placed in three pastorates for their own special benefit. The Council feels that it is now more than ever incumbent on the congregations to show their thanks to Almighty God by increased subscriptions.

Native Council's plans for self-support.

In reference to this, certain modes of collecting money for the benefit of the Native Church in all the Telugu districts were suggested by some of the important members of the Council. After much deliberation, the following were proposed and accepted unanimously.

1. Box or pot collection. This is to be made by the head of each family, and an account rendered either to the catechist of the circle or to the agent in the station once a week.

2. On festival days, e.g., Christmas Day, 1st January, Easter Day, and Whit Sunday, the people are expected to contribute more liberally than on ordinary occasions.

3. Marriage fee is to be raised from Rs. 1 to Rs. 1½, this being the minimum for the future.

4. When women attend the church for the first time after child-birth, and request to be churched, they should be required to pay at least a fee of 2 annas, as a thankoffering for the safe delivery.

5. Repairs of prayer and school-houses are in future to be attended to by the Native Christians themselves in their respective villages. In case of new buildings for Christians, it has been resolved that small grants should, from time to time, be made from the Council Funds for the materials alone, such as timber, bamboos, &c., the rest being expected to be contributed by the Christians themselves. The inquirers, however, are expected to build their own prayer-houses, &c., except under very special circumstances.

6. The firstlings of the flocks, of cattle and of the brood, according to the ability of the donor, should be set apart, and, when full grown, be sold, and the sale proceeds credited to the Council Funds.

MASULIPATAM.

The Rev. E. N. Hodges was at the head of the Noble School during the year, and was assisted by the Rev. W. G. Peel; the Rev. J. Padfield still conducts the Training Institution; and the Rev. Manchala Ratnam, Chairman of the Masulipatam Native Church Council, is in charge of the Masulipatam district. In the Noble High School there are 392 students. Mr. Hodges reported as follows:—

Noble High School.

Last year I had the pain of recording the relapse of an old pupil after declaring his desire for baptism. The Epistle to the Galatians, which I was reading last year with the F.A. students, gained fresh light and force to me from that occurrence. And, if I mistake not, it will be the universal testimony of missionaries to the heathen that the Word of God, by its wondrous insight into human nature, and its still more wondrous scheme of redemption, is being fulfilled to their understanding, and in their experience, in many ways which are not so manifest in Christian lands.

If we take the case of liberty and bondage, or the whole argument of Galatians, and read it in the light of Hindu society bound down by the galling chains of caste and the traditions of the elders, we find in it new point and meaning. How often has one heard confessions from boys and young men of the misery of this cruel bondage, who yet lack the faith to burst their bonds and take on them instead the easy yoke and light burden of Christ!

Or take again the case of hope—one of the essential marks of the Christian religion. The Hindu must confess that his religion is "without hope," even as, in spite of all their gods and goddesses, it is "without God." Who can conceive a greater and nobler contrast to this than "the hope set before us in the Gospel"? Who can realize the joy of proclaiming it in such full measure as the missionary?

Idols in a sick-room.

Last night I was at the sick-bed—I fear the dying-bed—of one of my boys. I call him a boy, but he is the father of two children. The whole family was gathered around, and his poor old mother was sobbing in an inner room—a painful instance of sorrowing without hope. I pointed to the many pictures of their gods adorning the walls of the room, and hanging just over his head, and asked if they gave any comfort or hope at such a season. The utter blank on the father's face was more than an answer. Their gods are as dumb for power or comfort in time of need, as Baal was to his worshippers on Carmel. They have no message of light and love and peace for their poor deluded worshippers, and so I had a glorious opportunity of preaching unto them Jesus. Thank God, that through the influence of the Noble School, that name was not altogether strange or unknown in that family, and there was an open door for me at once to the hearts of all in that household, which otherwise would have been jealously closed.

We have had several very hopeful cases among our boys this year. One who was anxious to come I have thought well to keep back on account of his age. But though young, his mind seems quite fixed. Among the older boys, too, we have had tokens for good. One writes to me, "At times I feel very happy at the thought of baptism. Please help me in this initial stage by making my mind steady to seek the way of salvation through Jesus." I think I can see a general softening of tone and manner, and certainly an increasing confidence in our good-will and affection throughout the school.

On this last point Mr. Peel gives an illustration:—

Two boys, who were reading for the Matriculation Examination, have lately died; the one a few days ago, the other two or three months ago. We cherish great hopes that the latter has entered into our Redeemer's eternal home. His conduct was noticeable as being that of an earnest learner. Shortly after his death, as I stood one Sunday morning on the school verandah steps talking to the members of my Paley class, allusion was made to the death of N—. Thereupon I plainly and seriously asked the boys what they thought and knew about the religious views of him who had passed from out of the midst of us during the term. They answered, "He had faith. He was a Christian in heart. He would have confessed himself to be a Christian but for family difficulties;" in other words, but for that monster dragon, caste. During the few minutes' conversation all seemed to be much subdued, and no one gave vent to bitter expressions. Hopeful cases among Noble School pupils.

The College students have undoubtedly, but perhaps unconsciously, become more gentle in opposing Christian truth, more ready to listen to evidences in its favour, and much more appreciative of the sterling qualities of a Christian. In the High School also there are not wanting many indications of the leavening influence at work, and in the Middle School too there are some dear, bright, intelligent boys, whose young minds feel it impossible, on the one hand, to continue to believe in Hinduism, and on the other, to reject the simple way of salvation which the Bible offers them.

From the Caste Girls' School, now superintended by Mrs. Peel, the missionaries have had the joy of receiving a second convert, a girl named Paidamma, a child-widow like Sheshamma, the first convert from these schools, mentioned last year. The Committee thank God for this fruit of the work so long and zealously carried on by Mrs. Clayton and other ladies. Fruit from the Caste Girls' School.

In Mr. Padfield's Training Institution there are 28 students. In December, 20 sat for a Government certificate for schoolmasters, of whom 17 passed, 15 of them in the 1st class. Mr. Padfield also reports well of the spiritual character of the young men. Mrs. Padfield sends a satisfactory report of the Sharkey Memorial Girls' Boarding School.

The Rev. M. Ratnam, in his Annual Letter, is able to tell of a considerable increase in the Native Christians under his charge. More than 200 baptized persons and 70 catechumens have been added to his lists, the former now numbering 1389, and the latter 1001. One of the newly-baptized converts is a young Brahmin, who gained his knowledge of the Gospel in an Anglo-Vernacular School formerly conducted by the late Rev. Ainala Bhushanam. Mr. Ratnam has four evangelists on the W. C. Jones Fund. He writes as follows of his Sunday-schools:—

Of all the Sunday-schools in the district, the one at Masulipatam stands most prominent. This institution has been keeping up its Telugu Sunday-schools.

importance for the last twenty or twenty-five years. At present there are 106 scholars on the rolls. They are sub-divided into several classes, according to their ability, and are systematically instructed. This institution has been blessed to many souls, as a great many who had not otherwise the means of knowing Christ have been led to value Him. Prizes are given every year to teach the pupils diligence, carefulness, and punctuality. May the Lord abundantly bless this institution which has led so many to Christ.

BEZWÂDA.

The Rev. John Harrison has remained at his post through another year, despite the weak health which, in last year's Report, was expected to bring him home immediately. The work in his district flags somewhat for want of more agents. Inquirers are numerous; but they are scattered over many villages, some of which are as much as eighty miles apart. While, therefore, the baptized Christians have increased in the year to 404, the catechumens have decreased to 159, a greater falling off than is accounted for by the transfer of some to the ranks of the baptized. The Anglo-Vernacular School, the head-master of which was once a Brahmin scholar in it and is now a graduate of Madras University and a Christian, is doing a good work; as also is the Caste Girls' School, with its ninety-one high-caste pupils.

ELLORE.

Progress at Ellore.

Before leaving for England, the Rev. F. W. N. Alexander was able to send home an encouraging Annual Letter. The baptized Christians have risen to 901, and the catechumens to 335, a total increase in the year of 163. Four new towns have been occupied. The Hindu and Mussulman girls' schools are now superintended by ladies of the C.E.Z.M.S. Three "circles" of villages, comprising nineteen little congregations, have been placed under the superintendence of the Rev. Samuel Vores, the Tamil clergyman who joined the Telugu Mission two years ago, and who has had the language to learn, and has now passed his examination. So also has the Rev. H. W. Eales, who has taken Mr. Alexander's place during his absence.

During the year, Mr. Alexander was much engaged in preparing three of the converts from the Mâla population for ordination as village pastors. It was hoped that they would have been ordained before he left; but this proved not to be possible.

No report is to hand of the High School conducted by Mr. Martin Browne and the Rev. G. Krishnayya.

RAGHAVAPURAM.

Progress at Raghavapuram.

The report of this extensive and diligently worked district is furnished by its devoted missionary, the Rev. J. Stone. Last year he recorded a large increase in the number of adherents. For the most part they have remained steadfast, and have been baptized; so that besides some who have died, the number of baptized persons has risen from 753 to 949. The caste feeling alluded to last year is on the decrease. The Christians of Mâdiga and Mâla origin seem to unite more freely. "Still," adds Mr. Stone, "it will only be by much prayerful watching, with firm prudent checking, that this enemy will disappear." He mentions that some of the elder Christians join the evangelists at times, for half a day or an evening, and go out and take their part in telling "the old, old story." The members of the District Council, too, have taken more upon themselves, and are beginning to realize what their duties are.

Mr. Stone relates a very touching instance of loving self-denial in giving to God's service :—

Self-denial in giving: a buffalo-calf as a thank-offering.

The subscriptions to the Church Fund are Rs. 126: 8 in advance of those of 1881. (Subscriptions in 1881, Rs. 366 : 1 : 7½; in 1882, Rs. 492 : 9 : 7½.) This is encouraging. During the year 1882, I came across several cases of real self-denial in giving, especially in the shape of vows. These and thankofferings are favourite ways of giving with the Christians. An agent named Nakka Moses, who had been a schoolmaster, and afterwards an evangelist for some ten or twelve years, showed signs of consumption, and was very ill. He vowed that if it pleased God to restore him, he would give his calf-buffalo as an offering. He got better, but, alas! only for a short time. Still he lingered on some time, and about four months ago he died full of trust in Christ. So peaceful was his death, and so pleasing his countenance after death, that even large numbers of the heathen requested to see him for the last time, and not a few shed tears over him who had told them the way of life, and had so glorified God in his death. On the Sunday after he was buried the poor wife brought the calf and tied it up in the prayer-house enclosure. After service she told me, through her uncle, that although her husband had not been restored to her in health, yet inasmuch as the Lord had been pleased to take him, and thus release him for ever from all pain, she wished to present the buffalo-calf as a thankoffering. I tried to persuade her to keep it, reminding her of her two sons, whom she would have to bring up; but she persisted in her request, and so I was obliged to yield. The buffalo was valued at Rs. 3: 12, and a member of the District Council gave 4 annas more to make up the sum to Rs. 4 (about 8*s*.).

Under the head of evangelization Mr. Stone refers to the Brahmin mentioned last year, and adds other interesting facts :—

Although we have had no converts from the upper classes, yet there are several who are not far from the Kingdom of God. A Mohammedan and several Sudras have put themselves under regular instruction. The Brahmin whom I spoke of in my last Report as having asked for more light, has not as yet had courage to come publicly to the light. Still I have great hope of his coming out. He has suffered much persecution at the hands of his relatives, and at one time, when he was ill and unable to move, they got away his wife from him, and left him without any help, saying that he must look to his Christianity for assistance. Not being able to communicate with me, and not knowing what to do in his extremity, he pacified his friends by giving food to eight or ten Brahmins, and now they are all friendly with him again. He is as anxious as ever to serve Christ. He would have come out ere this, but he has been kept back partly by not being able to clear some debts he had, and partly because his wife seemed likely to come with him.

The seeker for "more light."

Among the lower castes there are many openings. Seven new villages have been added to our list, and the total number of adherents has increased from 1215 to 1290. Many are most anxious to learn about Christ. In one instance, two families in a village about fifty miles from here, got hold of a young man, a Christian, who was baptized by Mr. Ellington, and who had learnt to read a little, and are keeping him in their village to get instruction from him. They, in return, give him his food and clothes. A few weeks ago they sent to inform me that they had learnt the Creed, Ten Commandments, &c., and the way of salvation through Christ, and desired me to come and baptize them.

A village supporting its own evangelist.

Schools of various kinds are carried on as elsewhere. The account of the Sunday-schools may be quoted :—

Sunday-schools.—A circular on Sunday-schools, issued by our Bishop, rather stirred us up to try and make them more effectual, both as a means of building up our Christians and evangelizing. For many years there had been a Sunday-school in Raghavapuram. Still it needed more life, and so we tried at once to re-organize not only this, but all the Sunday-schools in the district. In Raghavapuram there had always been a difficulty about numbering the classes, from the fact that the old people who could not read did not like to feel that they were in a class below the young men and women who could read, and vice versâ. To get over this difficulty the catechist, following Galatians v. 22, 23, called the old men's class "Faith Class," the old women's class "Peace Class," the young men's class "Obedience Class," and so on.

How to name Sunday-school classes.

AMALAPUR.

This is the youngest station of the Telugu Mission, and is conducted by a Native layman, an ex-Brahmin, one of the Noble School converts, Mr. Atsanta Subbarâyadu. He carries on an Anglo-Vernacular School, which has 111 scholars, of whom 63 are Brahmins, and the rest of other high castes, except 8 Mohammedans. His wife, who is the daughter of one of the Tinnevelly Native pastors, conducts a Caste Girls' School for the C.E.Z.M.S., and supplies an interesting report, signed "Catherine Subbarâyadu."

She has 52 pupils. Some other humbler schools have also been opened. The first convert of this Mission, a Mâla, was baptized by Mr. Poole four years ago; and now Mr. Padfield, while on a visit to the station, has baptized that convert's wife and three children, and two other young men.

DUMMAGUDEM (KOI MISSION).

The Rev. John Cain arrived at his old station, with Mrs. Cain, after an absence of nearly two years and a half in England and Australia, in October last. They received a very warm welcome, the streets being festooned, guns fired, &c. Mrs. Cain was not long in setting to work, and her previous knowledge of Telugu gave her an immediate entrance to the houses of both Christians and heathen. She has also already won her way among the timid and retiring Koi women. She writes:—

A lady's work among Koi women.

> The poor Koi women are very timid, and oh! so stupid. The first time I went to see some of them at Nallapalli, about four miles from here, I was very disappointed; they all ran away, though I went at the request of the men who have been Christians for some time, but are greatly troubled at the indifference of the women; one head-man begged me to go to his house, because, he said, "Satan will not let the women go." So I sat at the door and shouted to the women; I only know a few words of Koi, but they all know Telugu, and I spoke about my mother; gradually they drew nearer and nearer, and when they had grown a little familiar I spoke about my mother's God. I paid another visit to that village last Sunday, and they were all very friendly; I invited them to come to our house. These are ladies, clad in about one and a half yards of dirty rag in their homes, making up for the clothes in the quantity of cheap jewellery they wear on their necks and arms; some of them are better dressed than others, but all wear the minimum of clothing.
> On Tuesday, to my surprise and joy, just after I got home from school, twenty-five Kois, most of them women, came up to the house. A few men with them said their ladies would give them no peace till they brought them to see me. They all sat down on the floor and stopped for about an hour, while I told them of Him who had been born that we might live.

The outlying Missions started by General Haig in the Râkapalli district, 50 miles to the south, and at Mokpal in Bustar, 75 miles to the north, as described in last year's Annual Report, are carried on by the Native evangelists. The Committee are glad to say that the Tinnevelly Church did not, as was feared, draw back from its proposal to provide men when one of the two it first sent fell sick and retired. Another Tamil joined his brother evangelist, S. Suviseshamuttu, at Mokpal, notwithstanding the discouraging tidings that met him en route of the death of the Native Christian hospital dresser from cholera. In December Mr. Cain and the Rev. I. V. Razu visited them; and the former writes as follows. Hardly anything in the present Report is more significant and suggestive of hope for India than this simple recital:—

With all that we saw we were exceedingly pleased, and could not but thank God most heartily that the Tinnevelly Church had been able to send two such men, and that grace had been given them to remain so bold and faithful, and so loyal to their master in such an isolated post in a strange land. S. Suviseshamuttu has evidently acquired a very good hold of the language for the time, less than a year, that he has been there, and has also picked up a very fair colloquial acquaintance with Telugu. His mind is wholly bent on his work, and he is so afraid of letting anything hinder his more perfect acquirement of Koi that he has given over reading any but the most important books in his own language. Judging from what we saw, the Kois have learned to trust him, even though more than one Bastar official did his best to prevent them coming to him.

The new evangelist is a much older person, but is possessed by a burning zeal to tell of the love of his Master. He was in great distress of mind when we arrived, for two months had elapsed, and he had not been able to talk and preach to the Kois. I comforted him in many ways, by many examples, and with many Scripture promises, and we had more than one special prayer that the gift of the Koi tongue might be granted to him. The evening before we left, he and the other evangelist came to our shed, and after a short conversation told us what happiness our visit had given them, that it had been quite a festive occasion, and that therefore they wished that they might be allowed to sing one of their Tamil hymns of praise and thankfulness to our Lord. So there we stood, whilst the two out of full hearts blessed and praised the Lord for His goodness and loving kindness.

The Committee regret to hear that the second evangelist—the elder of the two—has since been called away to his rest while on a visit to his home in Tinnevelly. Prior to this, however, Bishop Sargent had informed Mr. Cain that three more had volunteered for the work; and happily the means for their support have been provided from Australia.

CEYLON MISSION.

I. Singhalese Mission:—Kandy, 1818; Baddêgama, 1819; Cotta, 1822; Kurunêgala, 1880.

II. Tamil Mission:—Jaffna, 1818; Colombo, 1852; Tamil Cooly Mission, 1855.

THE Society's missionaries in Ceylon have an excellent custom, which the Committee would be glad to see adopted in other parts of the world. Their Conference annually appoints a sub-committee of three to prepare a short general report on the Mission as a whole, which draws attention to any features of marked interest in the work of the year. The report for last year, which is signed by the Revs. J. Ireland Jones, J. Allcock, and J. G. Garrett, states that "there has been some success and encouragement at every station." "As a direct result," it continues, "of the year's work, under the Divine blessing, one hundred and fifty-five adults have been baptized, while among the 200 baptisms reckoned as those of children, there were many young people approaching very nearly to adult age." The Sub-Committee then proceed to give some incidents of the year, and to notice the different Mission agencies:— Ceylon: Baptisms;

Some special cases amongst the number of adults baptized were mentioned in the reports—cases which are interesting, as showing that the name of Jesus has lost none of its power. At Negombo the Gospel came to one who was in prison, with no hope of deliverance in this world, bringing him the joyful knowledge of sin forgiven for the Lord Jesus' sake and hope in the world to come. Others heard the Gospel by the way-side, and listened to it, as in the case of a stone-mason in the Baddegama District, and in that of one called Daniel, at one of the stations of the Tamil Cooly Mission. The report for the Jaffna District also mentions the conversion of a man who was previously the Manager of a Heathen Temple, and whose case illustrates very clearly the text "Cast thy bread upon the waters, and thou shalt find it after many days."

The work in the Kandian Itinerancy has been continued in face of considerable opposition and almost persecution, and through its instrumentality many thousands of Buddhists have heard the good tidings, and several satisfactory baptisms have been the result. Open-air preaching has also been continued in the streets of Colombo and Kandy to large and attentive crowds. Evangelistic work;

The Reports mention several pleasing proofs of spiritual life which have been manifested among the Native Christians, at various stations. At Liyanwela, an out-station in connexion with the Cotta Evangelistic work, a Bible-reading has been started, and the Christians assemble on Sunday evenings for the study of God's Word. In Kandy, a Young Men's Christian Association has made vigorous and successful efforts to spread the knowledge of Christ among the Character of Native Christians; heathen in some of the neighbouring villages. At Mampe, in the Cotta district, the people have shown increasing interest in the work of their Sunday-schools, and have an association formed for rendering them more efficient.

Schools; The educational work of the Mission presents varying features. It is lamented that the village schools of the Kandian country and Cotta district have been far less productive of religious results than might have been anticipated; but still our school work has not altogether been without encouragement. Seven lads in Trinity College, Kandy, have, as far as men can judge, become real converts; at Munamalle, near Kurunegala, four schoolboys, who have been under instruction for some time, have been baptized.

Contributions of Native Christians; In a Church which is being pressed on to a position of pecuniary independence, it is pleasing to notice growing liberality. The contributions for the year, from Natives only, amount to over Rs. 13,000. This is the more gratifying, when it is remembered that the year has been one of much commercial depression throughout the island. This, while it has chiefly affected the European colonists, has largely affected Native interests also. The ability to give has been certainly less than in former years, but the people have been, at most of the stations, liberal in their gifts. Our European supporters also have, in some parts of the island, nobly maintained their part in helping the Mission.

There are, however, some features less encouraging, and which must be stated in order to afford a true view of the whole Mission. The Native Church in some places is very weak, its members showing but little interest in their Christian profession; and the numerical progress in all places is very slow. There is, on the part of some of the Native teachers, far too little of real zeal and earnestness. We need well-trained spiritual agents.

The disposition of the Society's missionary staff has not materially changed during the year. The Rev. Henry Newton, minister of Galle Face Church, has come home; while the Rev. John Field, formerly of Lagos, has temporarily taken his place, and the Rev. R. T. Dowbiggin is now on his way back to Ceylon.

In reviewing the stations in detail, the same order as last year will be observed, the Singhalese and the Tamil work being described separately. But before beginning this survey, it may be mentioned here that English services are also held in several places, with the sanction of the Bishop of Colombo, for the benefit, not only of the Europeans, but of those Singhalese and persons of mixed descent who habitually use the English language. In Colombo the missionaries minister in two regular churches, Christ Church, Galle Face, and St. Luke's, Borella. In both these, services are also held in both the native languages.

Trinity College, Kandy. Here also may be noticed the important school at Kandy known as Trinity College, in which the instruction is given in English. The Rev. J. G. Garrett continues his able and successful work as Principal. There are 208 pupils, whose nationality is thus described:—"English, 8; European descent, 58; Singhalese and Low Country, 70; Kandyan, 52; Natives of Ceylon, 14; Malays, 6; Moors, 3." In religion they are divided as follows:—Church of England, 73; Presbyterian, 20; Wesleyan, 15; Roman Catholics, 26; Christians of other denominations, 17; Mohammedans, 6; Hindus, 10; Buddhists, 41. The Committee rejoice that it has pleased God to call to His faith and service no less than eight of the non-Christian students. Of five of these, who came out together just at the close of the year, Mr. Garrett writes:— Conversion of students.

The whole five boys are the ones I would have pointed out as the least likely to be influenced of all our flock. The wildest of all was made a chief instrument in leading two of the others to confess the name of Jesus; after first being seized by the hair, and getting twelve black weals from his father's stick on his back, for "disgracing him and his people and his nation by forsaking Buddhism." And strange to say the father's anger was in the first instance roused and kindled against him by these very two of his class-fellows who afterwards were won by his consistent conduct. The other two, making up the five, were the very head boys in our College class. Their conversion has caused a good deal of surprise among their friends, their fathers being in each case most determined Buddhists in their own districts, very distant parts of the island from here. Of one of them, I read in a local paper a few days ago, that in a large meeting near his father's village, where he had gone for the holidays, "he boldly confessed and declared to his kith and kin what the Lord had done for his soul."

The future of the Anglican Church in Ceylon is still in some respects uncertain. The Committee appointed by the Diocesan Conference last year to consider and report on the whole subject—of which two C.M.S. missionaries, Mr. Jones and Mr. Higgens, are members—is still sitting, and engaged in important deliberations. The Committee doubt not that the same Divine Hand that has hitherto protected true religion in the island from influences that seemed fraught with peril will continue to overrule all things to the accomplishment of the Divine purposes.

I. Singhalese Mission.

COLOMBO AND COTTA.

The Rev. E. T. Higgens has been the missionary in general charge of Cotta, and of the Singhalese work in Colombo, during the year. The Cotta district is 35 miles long by 10 or 15 broad, with a population of 50,000 or 60,000 souls. There are three pastorates, the pastors being the Rev. H.

de Silva at Talangama, the Rev. H. Kannangar at Nugegoda, and the Rev. D. Jayasingha at Cotta itself. The congregations comprise 1217 persons, and there are almost 3000 children in the schools. Mr. Higgens finds the state of the Native Church in spiritual matters better than when he had charge of the district twenty years ago; but its growth is slow, and the mass of the people in the district are still heathen, although a large proportion of the population, at least in and around Cotta, have passed through the mission-schools. He notices the life and earnestness of the recent converts at Liyanwela; and he refers with thankfulness to the evangelistic work carried on in Colombo by two catechists, who preach at certain street-centres, particularly about the police-courts, and visit the gaols and hospitals. "The Mohammedans," he says, "are often amongst the most attentive of our hearers, and many of them purchase tracts and books."

Native Church at Cotta.

Death of an old Ceylon Christian.

The Rev. Hendrick de Silva records the death of an old member of the Talangama congregation, Carolis Almeida, who was a rigid Buddhist when that place was first visited many years ago, and vehemently opposed the missionaries. His boys, however, attended the mission-school; and they, having embraced the faith of Christ, persuaded their father, with great difficulty, to go to church with them. There the Word of God proved quick and powerful, and sank into his heart. He and his two sons were baptized the same day, and throughout the remainder of a long life he was a consistent Christian.*

BADDÊGAMA.

The Rev. J. Allcock was in charge during the year; but he has since come home, and the Rev. J. W. Balding has taken his place. The two Native pastors, the Revs. A. S. Amarasêkara and G. A. B. Perera, continue at their respective stations, Dodanduwa and Balapitimôdara. There are 695 baptized Christians, and 105 catechumens. The schools are attended by 1825 children.

A daily prayer-meeting.

A feature of the work at Baddêgama is a daily prayer-meeting, which has now been held for more than seven years. A short address is given on the daily text in the Church Missionary Almanack, and prayer is offered according to the Society's Cycle of Missions.

Baddêgama has been visited by the American Theosophist, Colonel Olcott, who is most active in his antagonism to the Mission. He warned the priests of the district that "Mr. Allcock was like a spider, and his village schools like a spider's web spread over the district to catch the little Buddhist boys and girls." An ex-priest who had embraced Christianity he tried to persuade back into Buddhism. "I am not a dog," said the convert, "to return to my vomit." The colonel offered to show him 145 falsehoods in the Bible. "If you could show me one," was the reply, "I would renounce it. Pray spare your pity. If you can believe there is no right, no wrong, no God, no judgment, no soul, no responsibility, no conscience, you need for yourself all the pity you possess, and more."

Hostility of Colonel Olcott, the Theosophist.

Among the conversions reported in this district is one which is due to the posthumous influence of a Christian woman gone to her rest:—

Conversion through seeing a Christian death.

On the 5th of November, I baptized a man of Kitulanpitiya, and gave him the name of Abraham. I asked the man what stopped his wild career, and how his eyes turned to Jesus. He replied that it was the peaceful death of a Christian woman in Kitulanpitiya two or three years ago which made the deepest impression on his mind. She was suddenly called away from the world with only thirty minutes' notice. That short period was not spent in fear of death or talking about the things of this world; she could speak or think of nothing but "her kingdom," as she called it. She showed not only perfect submission to separation from husband and six children, but a glad and bright hope of being present with Christ. This was the first Christian death he had seen, and therefrom the desire to live the life of faith and die the death of the righteous grew.

Another baptism, that of a young woman whose name has occurred in previous Annual Reports, is reported by the Rev. A. S. Amarasêkara:—

Baptism of Anagihami.

She received her first impressions and professed her willingness to be a Christian, when she was attending the Patuwata Girls' School, about eight or ten years ago. But her parents gave her in marriage to a Buddhist, so that she was not allowed to carry out her wishes. Her impressions, however, remained, and she was a secret follower of Christ. She lost her husband about two years after her marriage, when she was left at liberty to follow her convictions in regard to religion. She opened a school for the girls of her neighbourhood, and took pleasure in teaching them (without any pay) not only reading, writing, and needlework, but also the way of salvation through Christ Jesus. After a sufficient course of instruction, and due test of the sincerity of her profession, I admitted her into the visible Church of Christ by baptism in last April. Her former name, Anagihami, was changed to Anna, and I think it is a suitable name for a Christian widow.

KURUNÊGALA AND KANDYAN ITINERANCY.

The Rev. J. Ireland Jones has again had the full burden of this extensive field of labour upon him. The Rev. L. G.

P. Liesching is now also located in the district; and there is one Native pastor, the Rev. J. P. Kalpagê, at Kaegala; but Mr. Coles's absence is greatly felt. Nevertheless, Mr. Jones finds himself able to write in a brighter tone than last year. The evangelistic work, in particular, has presented many features of hopefulness, notwithstanding the opposition of the Buddhists. On one occasion this opposition grew into open violence; but the incident only afforded a fresh illustration of Christian meekness on the part of an old Native evangelist:—

Meekness of a catechist.

Two of the catechists and two evangelists, one of them being old Abraham of Talampitiya, went to Narammala, to be present at the sale of the Government share of the paddy (rice) crop. The concourse of people was very large, and many listened attentively; but after the preaching, a man came behind Abraham and struck him so violently on the eye that for a time it seemed doubtful whether its sight would not be lost. Some recommended him to bring a charge against the person who assaulted him; but he refused, saying, "I am ready to suffer much more than this for my Lord. And why should I complain? the first time I heard a catechist say that Buddhism was false, I stood by ready to strike him." I am thankful to say that the old man has suffered no permanent injury, and is at work, "instant in season, out of season," preaching and teaching Jesus Christ.

Conversion of schoolboys.

The schools have been blessed of God to the conversion of souls. No less than ten of the elder boys in one school asked for baptism, four of whom were selected after careful examination, and admitted into the Church in November. Mr. Jones, however, points out the weakness of many of the village schools as mission agencies, and the danger to the teachers of sacrificing spiritual to secular success, in order to secure the Government grant-in-aid. He has also anxieties from the sluggishness of some of the little congregations, who do not respond to his invitations to self-government and self-support. Their want is the same as elsewhere, "the out-pouring of the Holy Spirit, making Christians more Christlike, and converting truly those who only bear His name."

KANDY.

The two town congregations, of which the Revs. H. Gunasêkara and B. P. Wîrasinha are pastors, do not present any special features of interest this year. The Rev. J. G. Garrett, however, describes an effort in connexion with one of them which must be mentioned:—

A Native Y.M.C.A: its evangelistic work.

A very worthy young man, who has for the past two years been both head-master of our boarding establishment and one of the teachers in the Collegiate School, and a number of other Singhalese young men, for the most part members of Mr. Gunasêkara's congregation, though not exclusively, organized a Young Men's Christian Association some time ago, which has been greatly blessed. I have felt among the College boys a very good influence, which I believe may be traced to this agency. But besides self-improvement, these young men have devoted themselves to preaching the Gospel to their benighted fellow-countrymen. In one village, a few miles from here, they have now a flourishing little school and about a dozen converts, who have yielded to the simple, earnest pleading of these young missionaries.

A curious incident I may mention as illustrating this effort. Our master here, and one or two others, went to a very celebrated Buddhist temple, where a very large image of Buddha is worshipped. As they were there, a crowd collected, bringing their flowers and lights as offerings to earn merit for their souls. The young men looked on, and attracting the attention of the devotees, some priests came and began to talk with them. Of course, Buddhism and Christianity was the subject, and before they left, my young friends had a grand opportunity of preaching the Gospel of Jesus, and contrasting it with the follies of idolatry, in the very temple of Buddha and before the image and his shrine.

The converts are not yet baptized, but Mr. Gunasêkara is about to examine and admit them into the visible Church.

II. Tamil Mission.

COLOMBO.

The Tamil Mission in Colombo, which extends, as regards the pastoral care of Native Christians, to many smaller places along the western coast of Ceylon, has been superintended during the year by the Rev. J. I. Pickford. Miss Matilda Hall has been in charge of the Girls' Boarding School. The whole number of Christians is 941, of whom 260 are communicants; and there are 31 catechumens. The largest congregation, that of Slave Island, which assembles for worship in Galle Face Church, has had the advantage of a Native pastor, the Rev. John Gabb.

The various branches of the work, pastoral, educational, and evangelistic, have been faithfully carried out, not without blessing, though without much of special incident.

KANDY: TAMIL COOLY MISSION.

Tamil Cooly Mission.

This important and extensive Mission has had during the year, almost for the first time, three European missionaries in full work, besides two Native clergymen. The Rev. W. E. Rowlands continues in general charge; the Rev. H. Horsley has the districts north of Kandy; and the Rev. F. Glanvill (with whom the Committee truly sympathize in the death of his young wife) has now undertaken those south of Kandy, residing at Haputale. Of the two Natives, the Rev. Pâkyananâthan Peter is at Pelmadulla, in the southern district, and the Rev. Aralanâthen Gnânamutthu at Dikoya. Mr. Rowlands writes, "We are able to look back upon almost a year of very happy work together, and the Mission has been more thoroughly superintended than was possible before."

Progress.

Scattered over the coffee estates there are 1427 Christian adherents, Tamil coolies, in connexion with the Mission. Of these, 1321 are baptized, and 415 are communicants. The contributions of the Christians have risen to Rs. 2913, another large increase, and this in a year of much depression, which has unfavourably affected the schools, reducing their number to 19, and that of the scholars to 743. The baptisms in the year were, adults, 46; children, 78. Some of the conversions have been suggestive of much encouragement. Mr. Rowlands thus relates one:—

A cooly convert.

A cooly on an estate was led to Christ in a way that exemplifies the truth of the Psalmist's testimony, "The entrance of Thy words giveth light: it giveth understanding unto the simple."

It appears that a boy who came to see a relative brought with him a copy of the Gospel of St. Mark in Tamil, which I had given him at one of our schools, twenty miles off. This little book he left lying about, evidently not caring much for it; but it was designed of God, in His wonderful providence, to be a means of blessing to another poor soul that had been wandering in darkness. One day a young man, named Silembram, said to the boy, "If you don't want that book, give it to me." He did so; it was taken to the "lines," treasured up, and read constantly, until the reader found from it that there was no other way by which he could be saved than by believing in the Lord Jesus Christ, which he was from that moment led to do.

When I visited the district, about three months later, I found him well prepared, and baptized him by the name of Daniel. As soon as his heathen relatives saw that he had become a Christian they put him out of their "lines," and would not allow him to cook and eat with them any longer. This is a real trial to any young man, because—in addition to the persecution involved—he has to bear the inconvenience of having no one to cook his food, and is obliged to shift for himself as best he can. But Daniel, happily, had "counted the cost," and was, as I have said, kept steadfast in the faith of Christ. On examining him, previous to his baptism, I was much pleased with the clear grasp he had of the plan of salvation, and of his own utter inability to do anything by which he could render himself acceptable to God.

JAFFNA.

The Revs. E. M. Griffith and G. T. Fleming are the missionaries in the northern peninsula of Jaffna, where there are three stations, Chundicully, Nellore, and Copay, and an extensive field of evangelistic work in the great plain called the Wanny, which occupies a large part of the northern portion of Ceylon. There is an English school at Chundicully (which is Mr. Fleming's special work), a Girls' Boarding School at Nellore, and a Training Institution at Copay. The Native Christians are put at 901, but apparently the number is not complete. There are no less than 2909 scholars in the various schools. Among the converts of the year were two Tamil gentlemen of good position, one of them being an official in the local court, and the other having been the hereditary manager of a famous Hindu temple. Both have had to undergo severe domestic persecution for Christ's sake. Of the latter, Mr. Griffith writes :—

Conversion of a Tamil official and a temple manager:

The conversion and baptism of the Udayar of Mugamalai has caused a great sensation. He attributes his conversion to early impressions of the truth received in the Mission school some thirty years ago, and to these impressions being lately revived by the persevering and prayerful efforts of the catechist.

Trial;

The trials he passed through, both before and after his conversion, were many and severe. As he was the hereditary manager of a famous heathen temple, by which he gained much money and popularity, he had to face much self-sacrifice for the sake of Christ. He had also the opposition of his wife and a large circle of heathen friends. The catechist visited him frequently during this struggle, and he often found him quietly reading his Bible in solitude. A public ceremony was performed in the temple, over which he was manager, only a few days after his conversion. On missing him from the temple, for the first time, his relatives were very angry. The wife kept at home, and wept as one who had lost her husband. Devil-dancers uttered curses, and predicted an ill-fate to him within a certain time. But, thanks be to God, no attempts of whatever kind on the part of the great Adversary moved him from the faith.

All this has had a good effect upon the wife. She acknowledges the wonderful power of the Word of God, and though a bitter enemy a few months ago, she will now calmly listen to the Scriptures being read by her husband; and a short time ago, when the colporteur was passing with books, she bought a copy of St. John's Gospel for her servant, that by reading it he might become, she said, as good as her husband.

MAURITIUS MISSION.

Division of the Mission: 1. Tamil-speaking Coolies (Madras Branch), 1857; 2. Bengali and Hindi-speaking Coolies (Calcutta Branch), 1857; 3. The Seychelles Islands, 1875.

THE census taken in the Island of Mauritius in 1881 shows that out of a total population of 360,000, no less than 250,000 are immigrants from India and their descendants. Among these, most of whom are Tamil, Bengali, or Hindi coolies on the sugar estates, the Society's Mission is carried on. Among the Tamils, the Revs. H. D. Buswell and Nigel Honiss have laboured during the past year, assisted by two Native clergymen, the Revs. T. Ephraim and John Ernest; and among the North-India coolies, the Rev. F. Schurr, assisted also by two Natives, the Revs. C. Kushalli and Samuel Sunker Singh. The last-named was ordained by Bishop Royston on September 10th. Mr. Schurr has now been transferred to the retired list as a miles emeritus, after nearly forty years' service in Bengal and Mauritius. The Committee have agreed to fill the vacancy by the appointment, in local connexion, on the Bishop's recommendation, of the Rev. C. A. Blackburn, who has already had some experience of work in the island, and who understands Hindi.

Native Church of Mauritius.

The number of Native Christians connected with the Society again shows a satisfactory increase, notwithstanding the frequent deductions due to the return of families to India on the completion of their term of service. There are 1607 baptized persons and 65 catechumens, total 1672, against 1551 last year. The communicants are 359. There were 102 adult baptisms in the year, and 55 of children. The members, almost all of them poor labourers, contributed Rs. 592 for church purposes. The Native Church Council, consisting of four clerical and nine lay delegates from the congregations, with the Rev. H. D. Buswell as Chairman, and Colonel Robinson, R.A., as Treasurer, continues to work well. The Bishop accepted its titles to orders for the Revs. J. Ernest and S. S. Singh.

Evangelistic work is carried on systematically in all parts of the island, both by regular catechists and by volunteers. The Committee are thankful that the Society at last has a Chinese Christian evangelist labouring among the now numerous coolies from China; and at least two Chinamen were among the converts baptized during the year.

Educational work in Mauritius is of the greatest importance. The vast majority of the Hindu children receive at present no education at all; and Archdeacon Mathews has observed that "whoever occupies this field will be master of the future of Mauritius." Bishop Royston and the Society's missionaries have earnestly appealed to the Committee for funds to enable them to increase the number of Protestant schools; but although the cogency of the appeal is indisputable, it is not possible at present to respond to it. Meanwhile the excellent work done now, though on a comparatively small scale, by the Society's schools, must not fail to be recognized. This department is under the charge of the Rev. N. Honiss. He writes:—

Important work of Christian schools in Mauritius.

My day-schools, which are now established in all parts of the island, occupy a good half of my time, and they are very encouraging. Through their instrumentality we can point to both adults and children who have been brought into the pale of the Church. I regard each school as a farmer may his fields, which have been sown with unmistakably good seed. We have now twenty-four schools.

In those schools under Government inspection my examinations are limited to the subject of religion. We begin with the Lord's Prayer, the Creed, and the Ten Commandments. Then follows a brief history of our blessed Lord, and a series of texts which are learnt by heart—at least it is our earnest desire that they may be learnt by heart, as well as head. When examining the schools, some of the parents are sure to turn up, and this forms an admirable opportunity of talking to them through the children. In some instances the parents are petty shopkeepers, or for other reasons may be found at home in the daytime, which leads to domiciliary visits with the children, and another favourable opportunity is offered for preaching, or talking about the Gospel.

When I have an open day on Sundays I generally arrange with some one of my masters to assemble the parents of their pupils in the school-room for a religious meeting, and these have, I have reason to believe, been attended with God's blessing.

But Mr. Honiss's chief work is the Orphanage and Boarding School at Plaisance, to which, as mentioned in last year's Report, the Native Church in Mauritius owes almost all its leading members. This institution continues to sustain, by the blessing of God, the high reputation won by it and its predecesors.

SEYCHELLES.

There are forty-seven African children in the Industrial Home in the Island of Mahé, conducted with so much prayerful perseverance by Mr. H. M. Warry. No detailed report has been received.

SOUTH CHINA MISSION.

South China.—QUAN-TUNG PROVINCE: Hong-Kong, 1862; Canton, 1882.
FUH-KIEN PROVINCE: Fuh-Chow, 1850; Hok-Ning, 1882.

The China Mission now "two bands."

THE C.M.S. China Mission has become "two bands." South China and Mid China being now entirely separate Missions in respect of administration and finance, and acknowledging the episcopal jurisdiction respectively of Bishop Burdon and Bishop Moule, it will be convenient for the future to treat them separately in the pages of this Report. The Committee render thanksgiving to God for the real progress of which this is but an outward token.

Bishop Burdon, of Victoria, Hong-Kong, has returned to China after a season of fruitful labour rather than of rest in England. Although strictly speaking a Colonial Bishop for one of the smallest of British possessions, it has always been his desire to be still as truly a missionary as he was during his twenty years' labours in direct connexion with the Church Missionary Society; and in the present conventional division of China into three quasi-dioceses, or rather fields of episcopal missionary effort, he is responsible for the work of the Church of England in the whole country south of the 28th parallel of latitude, containing a population estimated at ninety millions of souls. The Committee rejoice to hope that a fresh impulse will have been given to the Society's work in South China by the plans formed in conjunction with Bishop Burdon during his stay in England. In the first place, his efforts to raise funds for new work in Western Quan-tung were graciously prospered; and while some of this work will be undertaken by the Bishop himself, 1500*l.* out of the sums entrusted to him was paid by him to the Society's Extension Fund, to warrant the Committee in arranging for the establishing of a new C.M.S. station at Hoi-how, the recently opened Treaty Port of the great Island of Hainan, an island with a population of probably two millions. In the second place, the plans referred to last year for uniting the Missions at Hong-Kong and Canton with those in the Fuh-Kien Province in one organization under a Missionary Conference and Finance Committee, with the Bishop as Chairman, have been matured, and the first meeting of the Conference has just been held.

Extension in the Quan-tung Province.

W.C.Jones China and Japan Fund.

The proceedings at this Conference do not belong to the year now under review; but it may be mentioned that the first application which the Committee have received for a grant from the new William Charles Jones China and Japan Fund has emanated from it. This Fund has already been noticed in the introductory paragraphs of this Report; but the Committee cannot allude to it for the first time under the head of China, without again expressing their thankfulness to God for so noble a dedication of His servant's substance to the cause of Christ, and their fervent hope that the resources it supplies may year by year be increasingly prospered to promote the evangelization of the Chinese Empire.

HONG-KONG.

The Rev. J. B. Ost is the missionary in charge. The Rev. Lo Sam Yuen, who has been Native Pastor for some years, has now partially retired owing to age and infirmity. The number of Native Christian Adherents on the island of Hong-Kong, and at one out-station on the mainland (the others being now reckoned to Canton) is 91, of whom all but six are baptized, and 33 are communicants. Eleven adults were admitted into the Church during the year, one of them being the wife of Yeung A Pui, the mercantile employé whose conversion was mentioned last year, and two others being youths brought to a knowledge of Christ by his influence. There are five students in the theological class; and one who was a member of it has died trusting in the Saviour. The educational work carried on is very important, and the schools highly efficient. There are 450 boys and 150 girls in them. At the last government examination only one boy failed out of 71 presented from St. Stephen's Boys' School, and the examiner, in his official letter, spoke of the "extraordinary success" of the school. Of the evangelistic preaching in St. Stephen's Church, Mr. Ost gives an interesting account:—

"Extraordinary success" of Mission Schools.

Sunday evening services at St. Stephen's, Hong-Kong.

Every Sunday evening there is preaching to the heathen. The church-doors are thrown open about six p.m., when numbers crowd in and listen to the words of eternal life, set forth by one of their own countrymen. I often wish that some of the readers of the C.M.S. periodicals could drop in to St. Stephen's Church some Sunday evening and watch this motley assembly for a short time. Men in every conceivable state of dress and undress, standing, sitting, and lounging about in all attitudes, some wrapt in earnest attention, others gazing curiously about the sacred edifice, and deciphering the golden characters on two tablets on which are inscribed the Creed, Lord's Prayer, and Ten Commandments, yet not so utterly absorbed as to entirely miss what the preacher is saying.

In addition to this Sunday evening preaching, the church has been thrown open for the same purpose on three other evenings of the week, when the students from the Training Institution have frequently taken part. It has now been arranged that there be daily evening preaching, Saturdays excepted, on which days the church must be got in readiness for our Sunday services. As you are doubtless already aware, the church is admirably situated in a thickly populated Chinese locality (Taiping Shan), fronting the Chinese recreation-ground, where hundreds congregate daily. There is thus a large number always ready at hand to be drawn into the church when preaching commences. I want to have a stall for the sale of Bibles, Bible portions, and tracts, in the porch at the entrance of the church, where those who have been interested by the preaching of the Gospel may find books which will give them further Christian instruction, and aid them in their search for the "pearl of great price." This I propose to set going next month, and when started it will, I earnestly trust, become the means of much lasting blessing to many.

CANTON.

This great city has been occupied, not for missionary work among its own population, which is in the hands of other societies; but as a centre from which to superintend the now numerous out-stations in the interior of the Quan-tung Province. The Rev. J. Grundy took up his residence there at the beginning of last year. The out-stations, which are almost all large and important towns, are, taking them in order westward from Canton, Shin-Hing-fu, Tung-On, Lo-Ting-Chow; and returning southwards, Yan-Ping, Hok-Shan, Kong-Moon, Heung-Shan, Wong-Pi. (One other, Kow-loong, being just opposite Hong-Kong, is attached to that station.) The total number of Christians in these eight towns is 66, of whom 12 are communicants. Thirteen adults were baptized during the year. Of some of the converts belonging to Lo-Ting-Chow, Mr. Grundy writes:—

Barnabas and Cornelius at Lo-Ting.

One was a young man whose father is the proprietor of a jewellery shop. Soon after the catechist Yeung's arrival in Lo-Ting, he began to attend the preaching of the Gospel. Daily, for several months, he visited Yeung, who read to him the Word of God, and prayed with him. Eventually he embraced Christ as his Saviour, and ever since has been zealous in bringing his friends to hear the "good tidings." One of them, a schoolmaster, has since been baptized. He is not in the least ashamed to confess Christ. Whether in the shop, or at home, or visiting his friends, he introduces the subject of the "holy religion of Jesus." His Christian name is Barnabas, and he proves to be of great assistance to the catechist in his work. Another is one of the partners in a large clothing and drapery establishment. He too, like Barnabas, was unremitting in his attendance at our chapel. At night, when the business was closed, he might be seen with a small lamp going, with eager step, to learn the saving truths of the Gospel. At present he is rather shy at being seen in the company of Barnabas or Yeung. But this will soon wear away. During my last visit to Lo-Ting, he walked with me several times, apparently without any feeling of shame. His Christian name is Cornelius.

This city is notorious for female infanticide:—

Female infanticide in China.

Lo-Ting-Chow, and the surrounding country, needs the Gospel more than any district that I know. The horrible practice of female infanticide prevails to an enormous extent. There is scarcely a family that does not destroy every female child with the exception of the first. I know of one family in which nine female children were born, and one only was saved alive. On the birth of a female child, a woman is called in whose sole occupation is to murder these poor innocents. She proceeds as follows:—A basin of warm water is prepared, in which a piece of rag is dipped, and then placed over the child's mouth, and thus the poor babe is suffocated. During this proceeding, the old woman mumbles a few words supposed to be a prayer for the infant she is murdering. Child-murders of this description take place every day in Lo-Ting.

Less persecution, by the mercy of God, has had to be endured in the past year; and the Chinese magistrates in the towns of Quan-tung appear to be singularly fair in their conduct, and ready to protect the Christians. At Tung-On, however, which is a new station, taken up in lieu of one mentioned last year (Tak-Hing), the catechist met with vehement opposition from the gentry. They threatened, if he preached the Gospel in the house hired as a chapel, to surround it with emaciated lepers, and so scare away any who might be disposed to come. Similar difficulties have occurred elsewhere, but have been, by God's goodness, surmounted; and Mr. Grundy does not count among them personal threats, such as "the usual cry" after him of "shat kwai," "kill the devil!"

Quan-tung promises to be a great field for the work of the William Charles Jones Fund; especially its western districts, where no other Protestant society is labouring.

Province of Fuh-Kien.

The Fuh-Kien Mission has now for the first time seven English Missionaries. The superintendence of the different districts is undertaken by the Revs. J. R. Wolfe, Ll. Lloyd, and W. Banister; the Theological College and Boarding School, with the inspection of the educational work generally, by the Rev. R. W. Stewart, now assisted by the Rev. Charles Shaw; and the new station of Hok-Ning-fu is occupied by Dr. B. Van Someren Taylor and the Rev. J. Martin.

The Native clergy are the Revs. Wong Kiu-Taik, Ting Sing-Ki, Sia Seu-Ong, and Ngoi Kaik-Ki.

Progress in Fuh-

The following statistical table will show that the 119 stations and out-stations are still arranged in fourteen missionary districts, but these are not quite the same fourteen as last year. On the one hand, Ang-Iong and Sang-Iong are now again included, as they were formerly, in Ku-Cheng; on the other hand, Ing-Chung and Sieng-Tu appear to be sub-divisions of Taik-Hwa. A comparison of the table with that of last year shows that the adherents have increased by 355, and that there are as many now in the Fuh-Kien Province alone as the Society had in all China three years ago.

Native Church Councils in Fuh-Kien.

During the past year, important steps have been taken towards the organization of the now large and growing Church on the same plan as in Tinnevelly and other parts of India. In time it is hoped that every district will have its regular Native Church Council, composed of delegates from the various pastorates or groups of congregations, each pastorate having its own local Church Committee. Thus the Lo-Nguong and Lieng-Kong districts, which for the present combine to form one Council, have been divided into nine pastorates, which comprise 26 congregations, consisting of 1331 adherents. The starting of this system involves no little care and labour, particularly in explaining its meaning and purpose and advantage to the converts, so many of whom are illiterate villagers. Mr. Wolfe writes:—

Past and present work in Fuh-Kien.

In former years I had only to report new ground broken up, station after station occupied for Christ throughout the prefectures, details of interesting cases of conversion fresh from heathenism, accounts of long preaching tours, and narratives of conversations and discussions with men under different and various circumstances. This preliminary work has now to some extent, at least in our more advanced districts, been succeeded by a more regular and settled state of things, and the missionary's time and attention in such a district are taken up more with what we may call the more prosaic work of organization, visiting one little congregation after another, setting in order the things that are wanted, encouraging the Christians to steadfastness and earnestness in the cause of Christ, and endeavouring to stimulate a spirit of self-dependence on pastors and catechists and people. This is the sort of work I have been chiefly engaged in during the year, in the districts of Lo-Nguong and Hok-Chiang, and I am thankful to be able to say, that notwithstanding the many defects and shortcomings clearly manifested in these little churches and congregations, I look forward with greater hope than ever to the realization, in these districts, of the great result for the attainment of which the C.M.S. exists and labours.

There will also be a Provincial Church Council, consisting of delegates from the District Councils, as in Tinnevelly. In the meanwhile, the less formal but not less interesting Annual Conference of agents and local representatives was held in December last as in former years. As usual, the account of its proceedings is deeply interesting. Mr. Wolfe says:—

Native Christian Conference. Papers by Native agents;

The Conference commenced on Monday, December 11th, with preliminary services and Holy Communion on the previous Sunday. The subjects discussed during the conference were:—

1. "Foot-binding of Female Children." Paper by Rev. Ting Sing Ki.

2. "Persecution and Law-suits." Paper by Rev. Ngoi Kaik Ki.

3. "School and Education." Paper by Sing To, one of the city catechists.

4. "Women's Work." Paper by Ting Sing Ang, catechist at Heng-Iong.

5. "Medical Work." Paper by Rev. Wong Kiu Taik.

6. "The best mode of exciting a spirit of liberality in contributing money for support of Christian objects." Paper by Yek Sieu Me.

On Saturday evening, December 9th, preceding the Conference, there was a missionary prayer-meeting held, and many had an opportunity of giving their experiences as to the success or otherwise of the Mission-work at their stations during the year. Devotional meeting on Monday evening, December 11th, was conducted by Rev. Wong Kiu Taik. Subject: "Thy Kingdom Come." Tuesday evening, conducted by Ting Cheng Seng. Subject: "The Power of Faith." Wednesday evening, by Rev. Ngoi Kaik Ki. Subject: "Sanctification." Thursday evening, by Ling Seng Mi. Subject: "The sympathy of Christ with His people." Friday night, by Li Cheng Mi. Subject: "The blessedness of showing mercy."

An appeal from a Chinese clergyman;

Saturday evening, Dec. 16th, a closing missionary prayer-meeting was held. All the meetings were deeply interesting, but this one was the climax. A great deal of enthusiasm was manifested, when towards the close the Rev. Sia, of Lo-Nguong, rose and related the history of the Lo-Nguong congregation, and told how much he needed enlarged accommodation for the numbers who came on Sundays to worship. He laid before the meeting the difficulties in the way of enlarging the present church building, and then informed the brethren that a large house in the city had been offered to him for the small sum of $2000. This house and the ground on which it stands, he said, cost over $50,000 some years ago, that the tiles and stone in it would of themselves bring $2000, if put up for sale, and he then appealed to the Conference and all present to enable him to procure this house, by helping him to raise this sum sufficient to purchase it. The Lo-Nguong Christians headed the list with $200. Mr. Ahok, a Native Christian, who was present, gave $500, and before the meeting was over, the Rev. Sia had promises of more than $1100. Another rich Chinaman, though not a professing Christian, gave $100, and the English community subscribed nearly $400 more. We hope the rest may be forthcoming. The Rev. Sia, however, has purchased the house in faith that the remainder of the money would in some way be provided, and I rejoice to say it is now in the possession of the Native Church of Lo-Nguong. It is a good start given to the Lo-Nguong Church, on its first endeavours towards self-government and self-support.

and the response.

The detailed reports of the various districts are, perhaps, less remarkable for thrilling narratives than in some previous years; but it is the same chequered history of trial and triumph. The notices and extracts in these pages can be but very brief and fragmentary.

The numerous accessions in the Lo-Nguong District, which have led to the Rev. Sia Seu-Ong's earnest appeal to his brethren for a larger church (as mentioned above), are almost entirely from the villages. The larger towns continue to be comparatively barren; and in Lo-Nguong City itself there were only four adult baptisms in the year. But when the general progress of the district is observed, as illustrated by the 74 adult baptisms in the year (besides 36 of children), and by the total of 1125 adherents, it is no wonder that Mr. Wolfe should write:—

A missionary's hope.

Though the success has not been very striking nor brilliant, my own hopes of the final victory of Jesus in this district have been brighter and stronger than ever. I have worked here when there was not a single individual who knew Christ in this region, and I think I may be excused in indulging in hope.

The spiritual state of the Christians in the Hok-Chiang District is reported as unsatisfactory. They are numerous and scattered, and many of them are very ignorant. They need a larger supply of teachers.* The kind of influences that surround Chinese converts may be gathered from a notice of Ma-Pe, in the Lieng-Kong District. This town contains some 1400 families, and according to the local customs' return, 200 dollars' worth of opium is smoked every night. "Ignorance, superstition, bigotry, vice, and opium-smoking combine to oppose the blessed Gospel in this place." Chek-po, in the Ku-Cheng District (pastor, the Rev. Ngoi Kaik-Ki), is interesting this year for conversions from among the slaves of opium. Mr. Banister writes:—

Effects of opium.

Several of the baptized were formerly opium-smokers, and after suffering torments for years, they have by the grace of God overcome the habit. The Native Christians said to me, with regard to the cure of opium-smoking, that if they come and learn the doctrine and ask the help of God, they succeed in overcoming the habit, but if not, they fall again victims to this body and soul destroying vice. I shall not soon forget the good confession of one young man from this place, once an opium-smoker, who stood up at the last quarterly Conference at Ang-long and told what God had done for him. He is now desirous of joining our students' class, and he spoke of the motives which moved him. He said he wished to serve God by telling others what God had done for his soul. "Once," said he, "he was like a dead man, now was he alive unto God; once he was like the Prodigal Son, now had he returned to his Father; once he was blind, now could he see."

* See Mr. Wolfe's full account of the Hok-Chiang District in the C.M. Intelligencer of April and May, 1883.

Some converts.

In one of the darkest corners of the province a gleam of light has been vouchsafed. Mr. Banister, after baptizing a vermicelli-seller at PING-NANG, named Pau Chong Wong, who had given a good proof of his whole-heartedness by closing his shop on Sunday, wrote in his note-book, "The first-fruits of Ping-Nang. Alleluia!" At Kwo-Leng, in the NING-TAIK District (pastor, Rev. Ting Sing-Ki), one convert is a fruit of Dr. Taylor's medical work, having come to him to be operated on for diseased jaw, and having, while under his care, heard and believed the message of salvation. This man "is very earnestly endeavouring to make known God's love in Christ Jesus, and he has already brought in his brother and a fellow-workman to be candidates for baptism."

In its external relations, the Committee thank God that the Fuh-Kien Mission has had less to disturb and hinder it than for some years previously. The Chinese authorities have become more reasonable. An excellent site has at last been secured for Mr. Stewart's College; leave has been given to re occupy IONG-PING-FU, and repair the long since damaged and deserted chapel; and although KIONG-NING-FU is still closed, the mandarins have fulfilled their promises by helping to obtain a chapel for the catechist in a neighbouring village. On the other hand, several cases of severe domestic persecution are recorded. Of Hong-Puang in the LO-NGUONG District, Mr. Wolfe writes:—

Cruel treatment of a Christian woman,

Some of the members of this Hong-Puang congregation have suffered severe persecution during the year on account of their faith. One poor woman was dragged through the mud and cruelly beaten because she would not worship the ancestors nor pay money towards the idolatrous ceremonies. Her husband had also been beaten, but as he was able to escape he did not suffer very much. The poor wife lay speechless on the bed for some days. While in this condition I visited her, and it was indeed sad to look on the pale wan face of the poor bruised body lying on the pallet, but delightful to witness the number of Christian men kneeling with me around her bed, asking God to forgive their persecutors and to turn their hearts.

And Mr. Lloyd reports a case of persecution at Sieu-Nang, in the HOK-NING-FU District—

There has been sad trouble at this village this year, the oldest of the Christians having been very severely beaten by some of his heathen neighbours. There was an old feud about a piece of land, and the hatred of the heathen was increased by the old man joining the Christian Church. As he was returning from his day's work in the fields, he was brutally attacked by a man named Wong and his two sons, who beat him about the head and neck with hoes, inflicting such severe injuries that Dr. Taylor quite expected they would be fatal. News of this attack reached us at Hok-Ning early on the morning of Palm Sunday, and Dr. Taylor and I walked over to the place, some twenty miles, to see what could be done. We found the old Christian lying on the floor in the house of the men who had injured him, covered with blood, and very weak from loss of blood. We washed and dressed his wounds as well as we could.

After our departure next day, the Hok-Ning magistrate, who had heard of the affair, sent out runners to capture the guilty parties, and they succeeded in arresting the two sons of the man Wong; he himself was so afraid, that he took opium and poisoned himself. During the night a party of the villagers attacked the house in which the prisoners were confined, rescued them, and secured the runners in their place; they then made for the chapel, and broke open the door. The catechist and Christians escaped by the back entrance, and came to Hok-Ning. The magistrate had several interviews with me on the subject, and eventually issued a proclamation, exhorting the people to desist from such malpractices, and to suffer the Christians to worship God in peace.

New Mission at Hok-Ning:

The occupation of HOK-NING-FU city by Europeans during the past year, as a northern outpost, has been an important move forward. The brethren had an excellent reception, and have met with no opposition, not even with incivility. An appeal is now made to the Committee to set apart two men for HING-HWA as a corresponding southern outpost for large districts in which the C.M.S. Mission has of late years been spreading; and an interesting account of these parts of Fuh-Kien has been sent by Mr. Banister.*

The means employed at Hok-Ning to make known the Gospel have been, Mr. Lloyd writes, "threefold, viz., direct preaching and conversation in the chapel and elsewhere; the distribution of Christian literature; and the opening of a dispensary." The effect of Dr. Taylor's medical work was immediate and unmistakable. Mr. Lloyd says,—

Medical work;

Dr. Taylor had a large number of patients, some 1200, during the first eight weeks he was there, and was enabled to benefit a great many of them, though of course some were past all human aid. It was very sad to see so many afflicted with blindness, for which nothing could be done, and extremely difficult to convince them of the fact. They believe that the foreign doctor can do anything, and that his statement to the contrary is only a ruse to extort money from them. So instead of leaving they usually go down upon their knees and entreat his aid, or come close to him and ask him for how much he will restore their sight. Most of the patients gladly listened to the preaching of the Gospel, and seemed much interested to hear of the miracles of Jesus, some of them expressing a wish that He were here now, so that they might go to Him. Of course the greater disease of the soul is always pointed out to such, and the willingness of Jesus to heal that, as shown in His sufferings and death.

* This, with the other recent reports from the Fuh-Kien Mission, will be published in the C.M. Intelligencer.

A passage in the same letter, regarding opium, is too significant to be omitted :—

Cultivation of Opium.

We were sorry to see the large extent of ground under opium cultivation; more and more is being grown every year, and as it pays far better than anything else, the explanation is easy. I am glad this is the only prefecture in which I have ever seen it growing, but I fear we shall not be able to say so long, as it is getting nearer and nearer Ku-Cheng. Two or three farmers have grown it at Sioh-Chio this year for the first time, and although it is looked upon as something to be ashamed of at first, yet the people soon get accustomed to seeing it, and very little comment is made. Apropos of the opium question, I might relate here that when Rev. Ting Sing-ki was at Hok-Ning-fu, I mentioned that an English gentleman had stated his belief that opium was not only innocious but positively beneficial to the Chinese; and asked him what he thought of such a statement as that. His reply was, "In my opinion, nobody but an opium-smoker could have said that."

Rev. Ting-Sing-ki on opium.

Needs of the Fuh-Kien Native Church.

As on a previous page it was mentioned with regard to Bengal, so it may now be mentioned with regard to Fuh-Kien, the growing Church has three specially important needs, good organization, good literature, and good training for its teachers. The steps now being taken to promote the first have been already noticed. As regards the second, which is of course as yet in its infancy, Mr. Lloyd writes :—

Literary work in Fuh-Kien.

With funds kindly placed at our disposal by the Religious Tract Society, we have during the year printed another 1000 of the hymn-books mentioned in last Annual Report, 500 copies of the One Hundred Texts of the Irish Church Missions for use in our schools, and have purchased 16,000 illustrated Scripture cards, which find a ready sale. I have completed the translation of the first five of the Minor Prophets, and they will shortly be published. The colporteurs of the British and Foreign Bible Society, who are under my superintendence, have sold between 7000 and 8000 Bibles and portions of Scripture.

And, as regards the third, Mr. Stewart reports :—

Educational agencies :

Theological Students.—During the last two terms we have had in all, for a shorter or longer period, twenty-one students under instruction in the College. Of these, two have gone out as catechists, and one, a well-educated literary man, who has been with me for nearly four years, and who, I have every reason for believing, is a true Christian, has taken the place of assistant teacher. He has given me great help in teaching Chinese writing and classics, and in the general management of the College.

Divinity School ;

Our studies this year have been the books of the Old Testament from Joshua to 1 Kings inclusive, part of St. John's Gospel, the Epistle of St. James and the Epistle to the Hebrews, the first eight of the "Thirty-nine Articles," the Tai Hok Catechism, and Mr. Faber's Commentary on St. Mark's Gospel; a portion of the New Testament has also each day been learned by heart, and a short address given by the students in turn at morning prayers. Five afternoons each week have been devoted to Chinese classics and writing, and we have also endeavoured to improve their singing powers.

Boys' Boarding School.—We have had seventeen boys in this school during the year.

Country Schools.—I visited the country schools several times during the year, and I am thankful to be able to report a large increase in the number of the scholars. There are now 390 names on the books, an increase of more than 100 over last year. Among these there are some ninety, the children of heathen parents, learning our Christian books. Who can tell what effect this may have on their future lives? Country schools;

Girls' Boarding School.—In the C.M.S. Girls' School, under the charge of Miss Goldie, of the Female Education Society, there have been during the year thirty-eight children. The Foo-chow foreign community have again generously supplied sufficient funds for the maintenance of the school; and in addition provided a heavily-laden Christmas-tree, to the great delight of the children.

Bible-woman's School.—This year there have been altogether sixteen women studying at Foo-chow—nine of these have now left us, and seven are still here, and we expect five more to join us after the Chinese New Year holidays. One of these women had been working for some years as Bible-woman, and only came down to Foo-chow to improve her reading, and have an opportunity of learning more of the Bible for herself. She returned to Ku-Cheng district last summer, and is now working at Ngu-Tu. Three others were appointed by the Conference to be Bible-women, and are sent to the three districts of Lo-Nguong, Ning-Taik, and Hok-Chiang. The woman who has gone to Hok-Chiang is the widow of poor Ting-Ing-Soi, who suffered so much when a catechist there, and who was greatly beloved by the people. She seems to have imbibed much of his gentle Christian spirit, and we have great hopes of her future usefulness. School for Bible-women.

The Committee are glad to say that new buildings for the College Boarding School are now in progress. These will replace what were destroyed by rioters in 1878. For nearly five years Mr. Stewart has been without suitable accommodation for his students, difficulties and obstacles of all kinds having risen up one after another, particularly in obtaining a site. Through God's mercy these have at last been surmounted; and the compensation money paid by the Chinese authorities, which replaces the fund raised by Mr. Stewart's personal friends in Ireland for the original buildings, is available for the new ones.

MID-CHINA MISSION.

CHEH-KIANG PROVINCE: Ningpo, 1848; Hang-Chow, 1861; Shaou-hying, 1870.

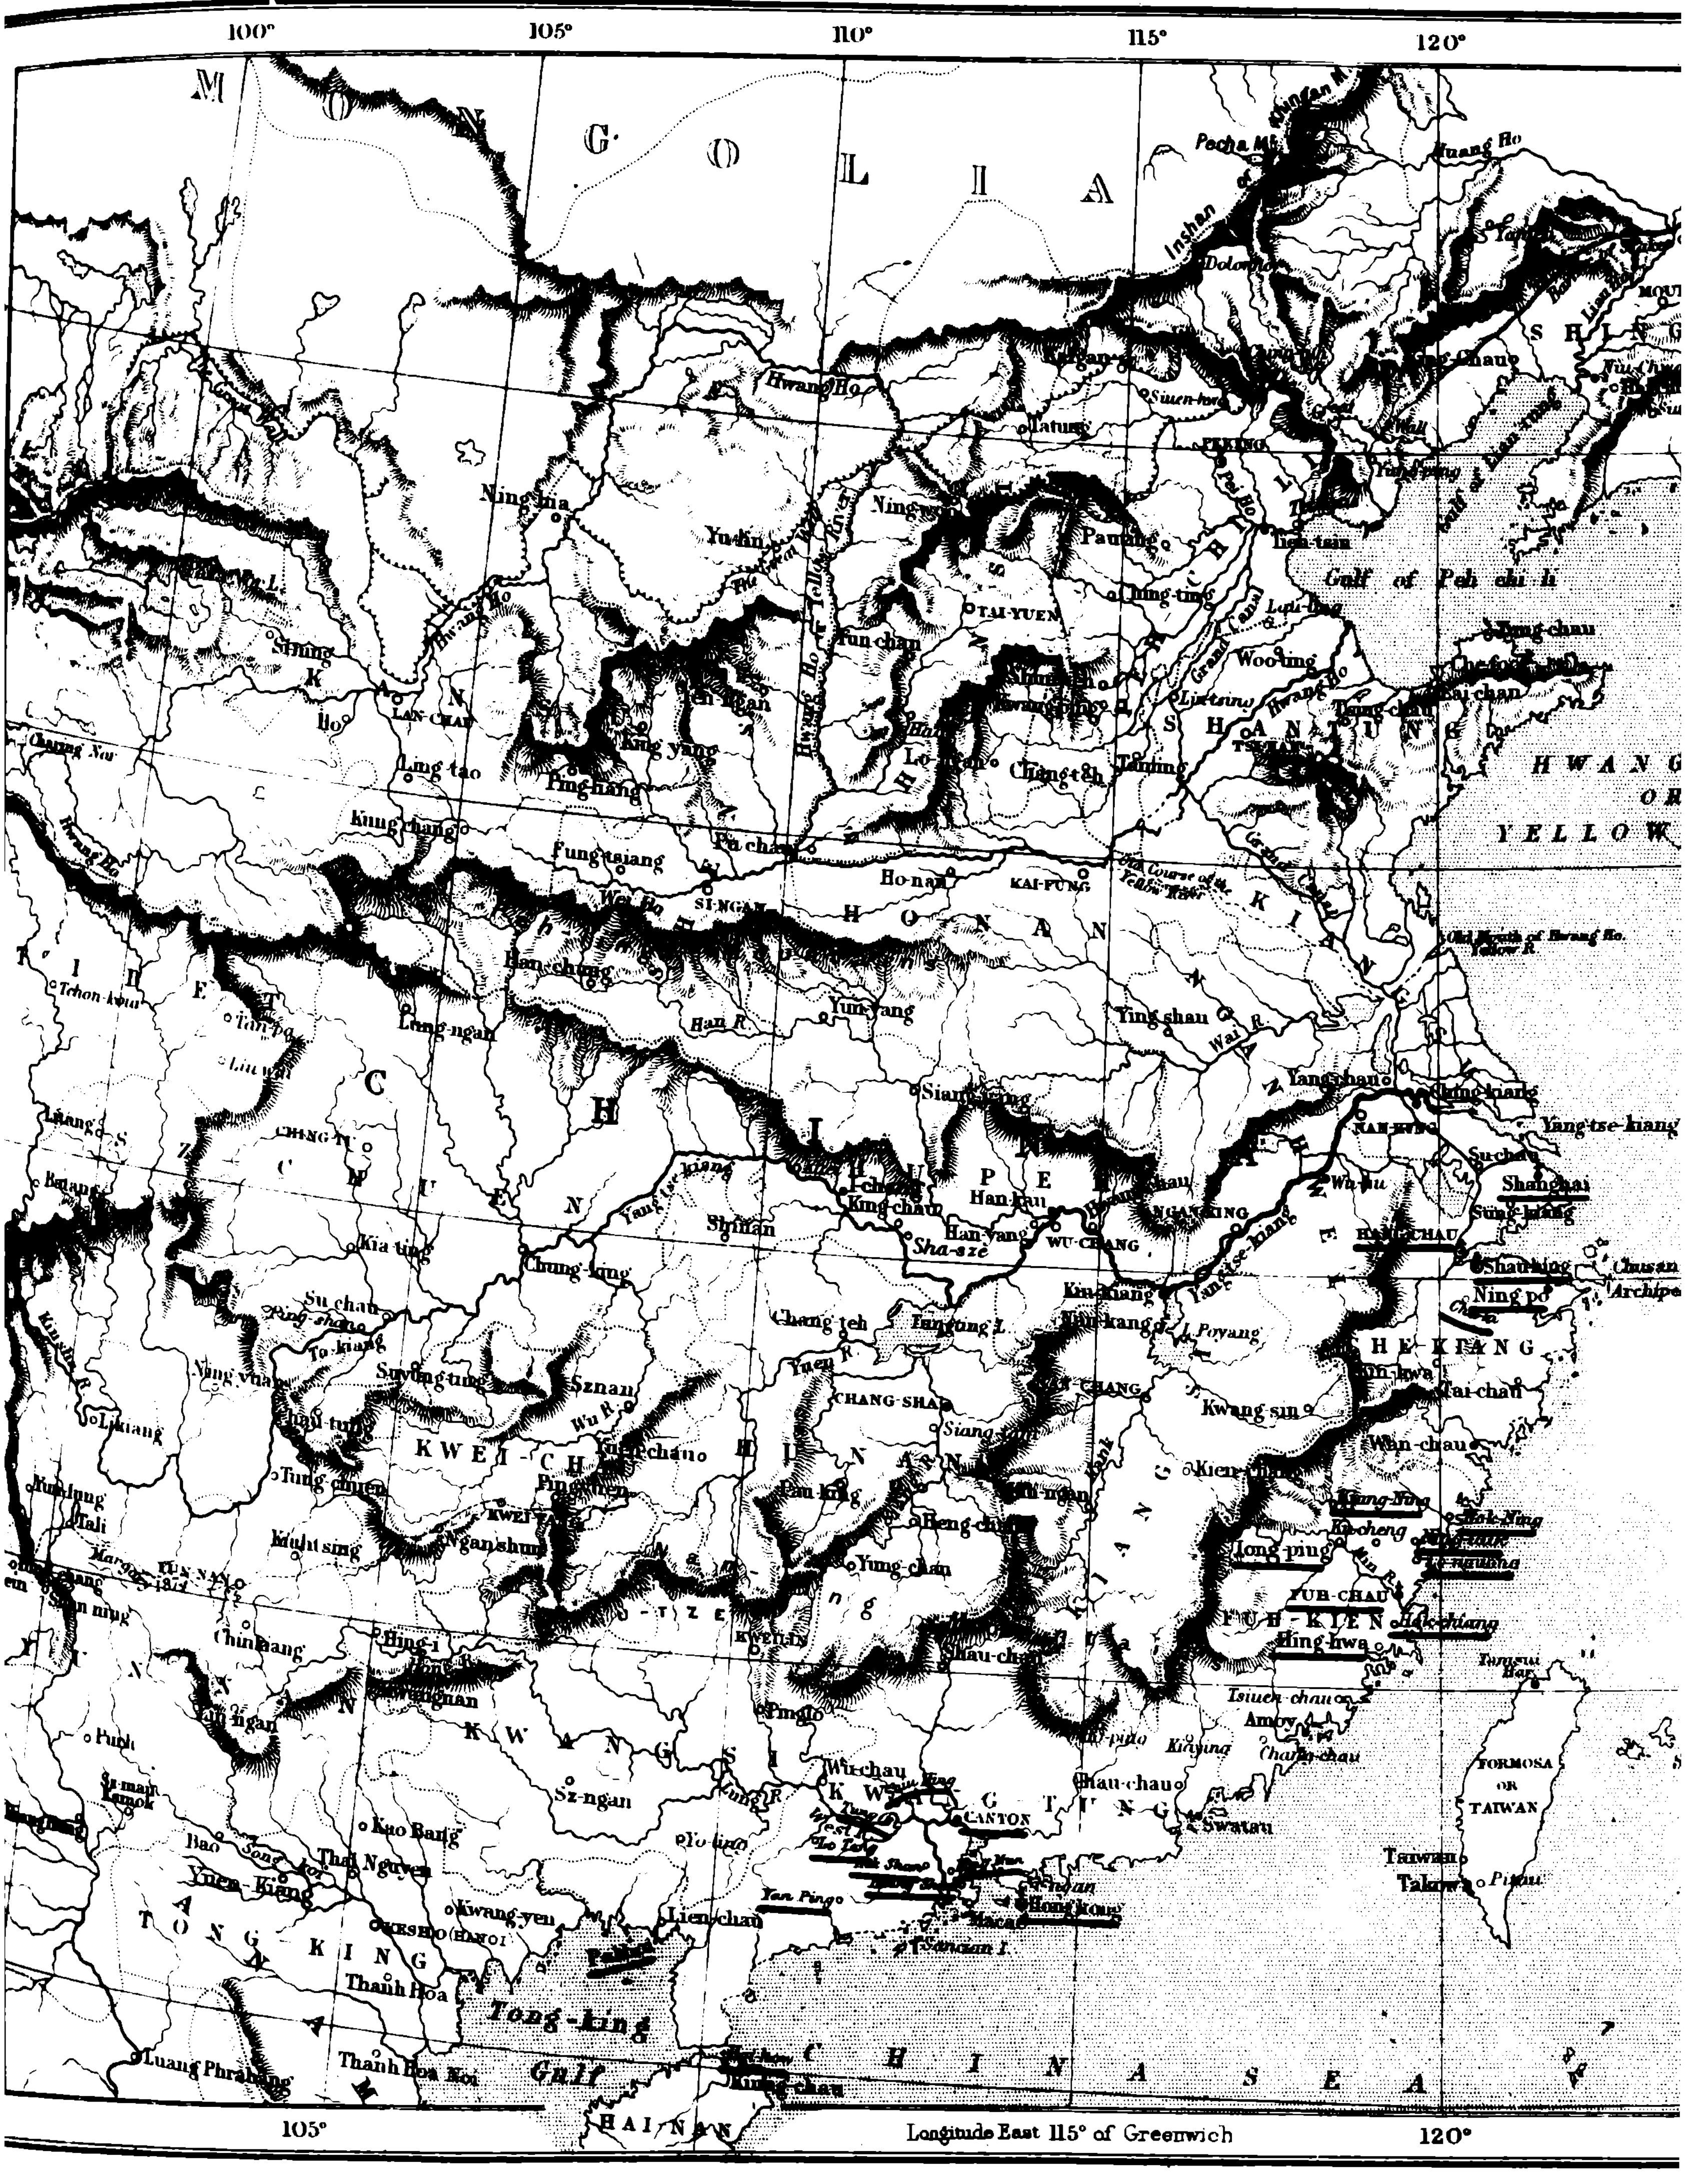

Claims of Mid-China.

THE quasi-Diocese of Mid-China has a population estimated at 156 millions. It is in these Central Provinces that the most energetic work of other great missionary societies is carried on, particularly by the China Inland Mission in the far interior; and all that work must not for one moment be forgotten in considering the overwhelming claims of China. Yet it is a poor contribution from the Church of England to the evangelization of these vast territories that its missionary staff should consist of a Bishop and eight clergymen (three of them at home), three laymen, and two ladies (besides the wives). Bishop Moule has been much discouraged by the numerical feebleness of his little band, and by the failure of health and consequent departure of two of them; and although he has been cheered by the return to the field of his brother, now Archdeacon A. E. Moule, this supplies no reinforcement to the Cheh-Kiang Mission, as the Archdeacon succeeds at Shanghai the veteran missionary and distinguished scholar, Canon McClatchie, who has now retired after nearly forty years' life in China. The Rev. J. C. Hoare has gone back to his important work in the Ningpo College, after a very brief visit to this country, accompanied by his wife, a daughter of the Society's old and esteemed friend, the Rev. Canon Patteson of Norwich; but he is without a colleague, his brother-in law, the Rev. R. Shann, having been invalided home—as also has been the youngest member of the Mission, the Rev. C. B. Nash.

NINGPO.

The English missionaries in this city and district during the year were the Revs. J. Bates and R. Shann and Miss M. Laurence. The four Native clergymen—of whom Bishop Moule writes that he has received from all "ready help and true sympathy"—are as last year. The Native Christians are between 600 and 700 in number; and of these 255 are communicants. There are 18 schools, with 266 scholars. Six adults were baptized during the year, one of whom is a wine distiller, and keeps a farm of 57 acres. The Church Council is working well, and almost all the out-stations are now placed under its superintendence. A Prayer Union has been established, concerning which Mr. Bates writes:—

CHINA AND JAPAN.

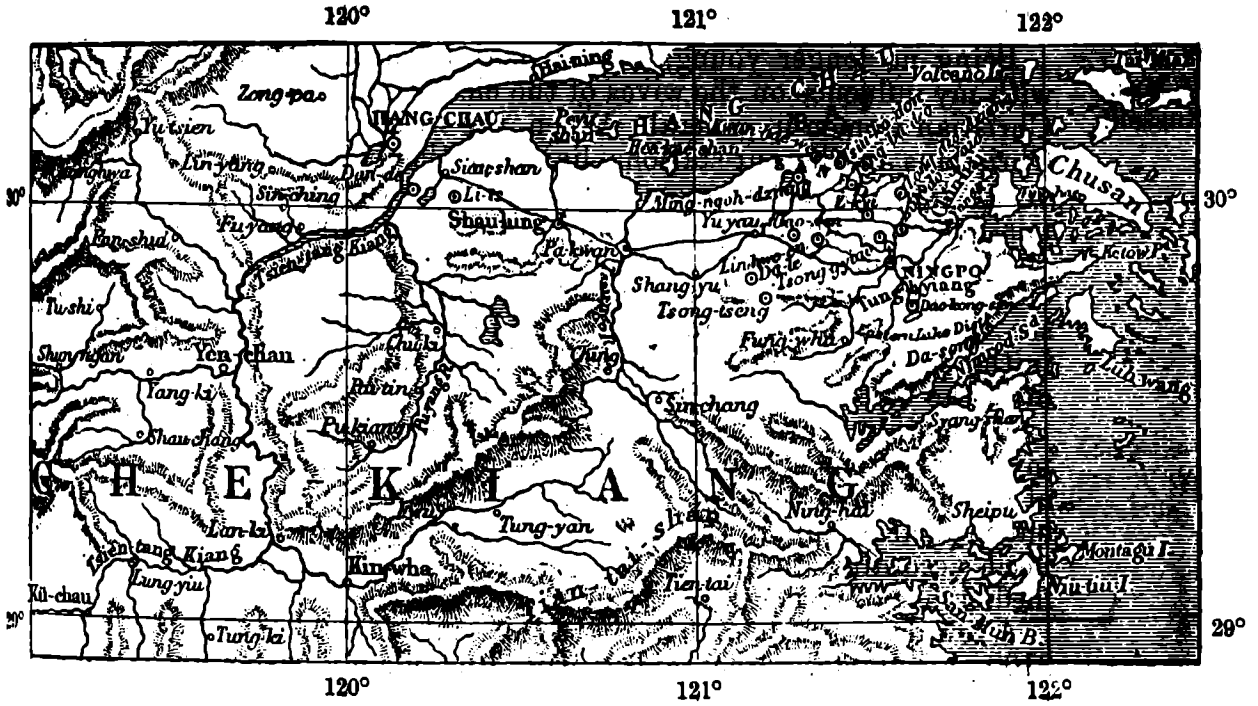

Stanford's Geographical Estab.t 55 Charing Cross.

Prayer-Union at Ningpo.

The Prayer Union established by the Rev. H. L. Harkness, of Worcester, was brought to my notice a short while ago, and after correspondence with Mr. Harkness, he offered to help me with funds if I would print and circulate in Chinese the short prayer—"Heavenly Father, give me the Holy Spirit, for Jesus Christ's sake. Amen." I accepted his offer, and have since had some hundreds of cards printed with this prayer. They have been circulated among the Chinese, and some of the missionaries here have bought copies from me. For inquirers I have found the prayer to be very useful. It is simple, and falls in with Chinese ideas, who like to be taught with what words they should pray. At a meeting of the catechists I devoted a portion of our time to a Bible-reading on the Holy Spirit, His office and work, and then told them something of the Prayer Union. The subject interested them much, and nearly all of them expressed a desire to join the Union. They also promised to ask the Christians at their station to join the Union; and since then I have received the names of many who have promised to pray daily for the outpouring of God's Holy Spirit.

PART OF THE PROVINCE OF CHEH-KIANG.

Ningpo College and its results.

Mr. Shann reports on the educational work. The new buildings for the College and Boarding School were opened on April 1st, 1882, with a short service and an address by Bishop Moule. There are thirty boys and young men in this important institution. Six senior students were sent out into mission work early in the year, five of whom have done well. The four Native assistant masters are all old scholars. These masters and the students hold a weekly prayer meeting among themselves; and some of them also form a Preaching Union, each member of which pledges himself to go out and preach to his countrymen once a week. Affiliated to the College are seven country schools, all taught by masters trained within its walls. In these schools nearly all the children of the Native Christians, between the ages of 7 and 14, are being instructed, so that there is a good hope that the next generation of the Christian community will be fairly educated. The schools also serve as a nursery for the College. The Committee thank God for all this excellent and expanding work, a truly happy result of seven years' labour, since Mr. Hoare went out in 1875.

Mrs. Russell, the widow of the lamented Bishop, still works on in connexion with the Ningpo Mission; and the Committee regret that by an oversight her name has not appeared in previous Annual Reports in the Society's list of missionaries in China. This year she has kindly sent the following brief account of her work, which the Committee present with pleasure and thankfulness :—

Work of Mrs. Russell.

Being no longer young, I work mainly through my Bible-women, with my influence on the wives of the clergy, and catechists, and the Christian women in general. When the weather is mild I visit the Christians in the out-stations, living in the boat (the mission-boat), or at Sanpoh, in a room set apart for the accommodation of missionaries; on these occasions always accompanied by one of my Bible-women. There is always a good deal of talking to the heathen, either in the homes of the Christians, where numbers would come to see the foreign lady, and hear her talk in the Native tongue, or in the boat, as many as it could hold, several times during the day, or in the houses of friendly heathen, &c.

My mornings are fully occupied in studying the Word of God with my Bible-women, and instructing others, women and children, of whom I have several. Several of them are very young. I give out medicines, supply the catechists with what they and their people need according to my ability, or assist them in procuring such medicines not in my power to give gratis, &c.

A few days ago an old Christian of sixty-eight came to me with $100, about 20*l*. She said, "Mrs. Russell, my sister and I have saved this money, will you put it into a bank? we may need some of it, but we may not. At our death we would like it to go to the Kong-wi Society, as a thankoffering." I felt much touched. The two sisters are quite alone, having lost their husbands early in life, and all their children. The woman who brought the money has been connected with us for a great many years; she was my servant for a number of years. She is a true Christian, and so is her sister. They do what they can for their blessed Master in furthering His cause in this land. They walk here nearly every Sunday, a distance of a mile and a half, to attend church.

Work of Miss Laurence.

Miss Laurence has been once more engaged in her useful labours, schools, itinerating, and literature. In the latter branch of work, she has revised a Vocabulary in English and the Ningpo Colloquial, and, in conjunction with the Rev. Dzing Ts-sing and the Rev. Wông Yiu-

Kwông respectively, has been translating the Book of Deuteronomy in the Colloquial and the Dublin Text Book in the classical style.

Mr. Bates dwells upon the increase of idolatry in Cheh-Kiang, and justly urges that it should stir the hearts of Christian people with compassion for the poor people so "mad upon their idols." He says,—

Increase of idolatry in Cheh-Kiang.

Temple restoration is going on everywhere. I have not seen anything like it for the last sixteen years. It is not so long since the ravages of the Taiping rebels were in every one's mouth, and when people took occasion to speak contemptuously of their gods that could not save them in the time of their troubles and distress. The idol-temples lay in ruins, no one caring scarcely either to visit them or to take any notice of them. I have even seen placards exhorting the people not to rebuild these places. But now, wherever one travels, temple building and restoration are the order of the day. Though the mass of the people are poor, they manage to contribute vast sums of money for the purpose. In the city of Ningpo, for example, I have seen a temple that was dilapidated, unsightly, and very seldom used, suddenly become one of the most popular places for heathen worship that there is to be found! Thousands of dollars have been spent on its repairs and decorations. Not many days ago was the "K'œ Hwong," or dedication festival, for this temple, and I was amazed to see the multitudes of people that thronged the streets and visited the temple for worship and pleasure.

He also gives melancholy information regarding the increasing growth of opium, thus confirming what has already been quoted from Mr. Lloyd of Fuh-Chow :—

Increase of opium cultivation.

It used to be a rare thing to meet with opium growing in this region, but now it has become quite a common sight. In travelling by the canal route to Sœn-poh, a distance of some forty li, I saw scarcely anything else but opium the whole way. The great plain of Sœn-poh is overgrown with it. In a district near the lakes, and in the plain beyond, near to Nimrod Sound, opium nearly takes the place of rice. The authorities seem to connive at the cultivation of the poppy, and the farmers find it pays far better than any other produce.

And it is remarkable to see how unconcerned the people are beginning to feel upon the subject from a moral point of view. When opium-growing was a rare thing, a few years ago, I recollect the blush of shame which rose on the countenances of some with whom I remonstrated as to the evil they were bringing upon themselves, and the vice to which they were giving encouragement. But now all that has passed away; opium-growing has become an established thing.

Opinion of Native agents on opium.

I requested the catechists on one occasion to write me some papers upon it. The evils of the habit are strongly commented upon by them, and illustrated from personal knowledge. Amongst the evils are mentioned, short life, emaciation, waste of property, deaths in the public roads, selling of wife and children, suicide, &c. The case of a man is referred to who sold his wife for 130 dollars (26*l.*). He had been in good circumstances, but so enslaved was he by the vicious habit of smoking, that he lost all he had, and at length committed suicide. They all concur in speaking of it as a great hindrance to the spread of the Gospel; and they all unite in saying that if the Government were to discountenance the trade and the practice of opium-smoking, the people generally would give their support and approval.

SHAOU-HYING.

The Rev. J. H. Sedgwick has taken Mr. Valentine's place at this station, and was joined in December by the Rev. A. R. Fuller. There are still but 39 baptized Native Christians, no accessions being reported for the year. Mr. Sedgwick expresses his deep sense of the absolute dependence of the Mission upon the Holy Spirit, and earnestly asks for prayer that His gracious influences may be vouchsafed to a field which at one time looked so promising, but which has for some years been unfruitful.

HANG-CHOW.

At this great city, the capital of the Cheh-Kiang Province, Bishop Moule himself resides. The missionary immediately in charge is the Rev. A. Elwin: and Dr. D. Duncan Main carries on the Opium Hospital. There are 220 baptized Christians, the large majority being in the villages of the Chu-ki district, some distance to the south. Ten adults were baptized during the year under review; but later letters mention others within the last few months.

Persecution in the Chu-ki district.

The faith and patience of the Chu-ki converts have been severely tested by violent persecution. One of the worst cases was that of a woman whose name is interpreted as "Mrs. Chapter," the first convert at San-tu, whose touching story was related in last year's Annual Report. The heathen held her down by the hair of her head upon her back on the floor, and "pounded her face with a stone," injuring her so severely that Mr. Elwin could not recognize her. The Chinese magistrates, however, behaved well, and ultimately a paper was signed by the assailants promising that the single Christian family at San-tu should not be molested. Of another case Mr. Elwin writes,—

I must add a few words about the girl, "Golden Chain," mentioned in the Bishop's letter published in the Intelligencer, July, 1882, page 424. A few days after her baptism a company of about twenty men, headed by her future father-in-law, attacked her father's house at "Halfway Hill." Her mother, a tall powerful woman, tried to hold the door against them, but was overcome, knocked down, and beaten very severely—so severely that she was in bed for weeks afterwards in great pain. Her husband was also injured, but not so severely. We found out afterwards that although "Golden Chain's" future husband had given his consent to her baptism, her future father-in-law had not. When he had heard what had happened he determined that she should be married, and thus removed from Christian influence at once. He therefore hired a band of men, and organized an attack on the house, which was successful, the girl being carried off by force and married at once to her heathen husband.

From what I have since heard I believe this young Christian girl is endeavouring, in the most difficult of all positions, to serve the Master. I would say, "Pray for her," the only Christian in her village, and entirely cut off from every external Christian influence.

Mission Hospital at Hang-Chow.

Dr. Main has been much encouraged by the gratitude of the patients at the Mission Hospital, of whom there have been 3000 during his first year there, and by their readiness to receive Christian teaching, both by word of mouth and in the form of books and tracts:—

I have had to see as many as 230 patients in one day, at a temperature of 93° in the shade.

Our object at the hospital of course is only to use the medicine as a means to an end, the chief thing being to bring the patients into contact with the Gospel; so while they are in the waiting-room, waiting, one of the catechists faithfully preaches the Gospel to them, and earnestly deals with them personally about their souls As they individually pass through my hands in the consulting-room I endeavour to make known unto them the "new doctrine" as far as my knowledge will permit.

I have not been able to take all the patients into the hospital that I would have liked to have done, for fear of this department of my work running in too much upon my time; still several opium-smokers and general patients have been under treatment. Morning and night the in-patients hear the Word read to them with exposition and prayer.

As regards results I cannot say much: they are with God. Healing the sick and faithful preaching of the Gospel have been done in the name of our Lord. One cannot but believe that good is done. It is encouraging to see how earnestly they listen to the preaching, and many of them inquire as to the new doctrine. Patients come from all parts of the country, many of them hear the Gospel for the first time, they buy the Scriptures, receive tracts, &c., and surely as they go forth to their homes they must spread abroad the glad tidings of salvation. It is ours just now to sow in tears, labour faithfully, and to rejoice that the reaping-time is coming by-and-by.

SHANGHAI.

The Ven. Archdeacon A. E. Moule is now in charge at this station, and acts as Secretary of the Mid-China Mission. The important English school, with its 54 boys, Chinese, European, and Eurasian, has been carried on with Christian zeal, and with much success in an educational sense, by Mr. G. Lanning and Mr. J. W. Stickson. The former writes:—

Notwithstanding increased competition, we have been able more than to hold our own, and to maintain the position which the school has gained in the consideration both of the foreign and Native residents. Our old scholars, too, I am happy to say, have, as a rule, done us credit. Many of them hold good appointments, and give satisfaction to their foreign employers.

That the secular instruction is appreciated I know. As for the religious, that has never been lost sight of. Every day the school is opened with prayer. Every day there is a Bible-lesson; and almost every day opportunities arise during the general lessons of adding to or illustrating the religious teaching.

Causes of solicitude at Shanghai.

The Shanghai Mission has always been a small one, and presents few features of encouragement. Mr. Moule cares for the little handful of Native Christians connected with the Church of England, and has lately opened a new chapel in a busy suburb for preaching to the heathen. Mrs. Moule has a Bible-class for the women, and has been cheered by finding how much Scripture knowledge they have acquired. But Shanghai has never been especially a C.M.S. field. Work is done on a larger scale by other English and American societies. To all, however, it is, like most great commercial ports, a field of peculiar difficulty. "What with the allurements of the race for money on the one hand," writes the Archdeacon, "and the discouragements of unchristian Christian example on the other, one cannot be surprised at its comparative barrenness." The two or three thousand foreign residents take little interest in missionary work, although out of their abundance they give fairly large collections for C.M.S. at the English church which is the pro-cathedral of the Mid-China Diocese. "And how," says Mr. Moule, "can our feeble missionary agencies make their voices heard above the clamour of business and money-making? At any rate," he adds, "a large reinforcement would show the heathen and our own half-Christian countrymen that we are in earnest, and not at play." That is what the Church Missionary Society ought to give to Mid-China.

JAPAN MISSION.

Nagasâki, 1869; Osâka, 1874; Tokio, 1874; Hakodâte, 1874.

WHILE these sheets are passing through the press, the appointment to the new English Missionary Bishopric for Japan is announced. The Committee have received with the liveliest satisfaction from his Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury the intimation that he has selected for that important sphere of labour the Society's valued missionary, the Rev. Arthur W. Poole, M.A., late Rugby-Fox Master in the Noble High School at Masulipatam. They thank God that the choice should have fallen upon one who is already a missionary, and a C.M.S. missionary, and who, having devoted himself, while in India, specially to the difficult work of making known to the educated classes that Gospel which is too often "foolishness" unto them, has peculiar qualifications for the leadership of Missions to a people so quick-witted and receptive of European culture as the Japanese. They ask the prayers of all the Society's friends for Mr. Poole, that in the arduous post to which he is called he may be richly endued with the Spirit of the Lord, "the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the Lord." The new English Bishop for Japan.

The arrangements for the Bishopric have involved questions of jurisdiction between the authorities of the Church of England and those of the sister Church in the United States, there being already an American Bishop at the capital of Japan. Whatever may be ultimately settled regarding the conventional formation of two territorial quasi-dioceses—if this be necessary, which is not the opinion of the missionaries on the spot—there is little doubt that the work of the English Bishop will be mainly directed to the western and southern half of Japan, and the northern island of Yezo, while the central and northern portions of the main island will remain with Bishop Williams. This would not of itself necessarily involve the withdrawal of the C.M.S. Missions from these latter districts; but the Committee have long had under consideration the desirableness of the Society concentrating its efforts in the fields which it has hitherto most energetically cultivated, and which correspond with the sphere likely to be allotted to Bishop Poole. At present, of the three "Anglican" societies, the C.M.S. is at Nagasaki, Osaka, Tokio, and Hakodate; the S.P.G. at Tokio and C.M.S. plans for Japan.

Kobe; the American Church at Tokio and Osaka. The Committee now propose to withdraw from Tokio and to develop and strengthen their work at Nagasaki and Osaka as far as their available resources in men and money will permit; retaining also the Yezo work, of which Hakodate is the centre. From Niigata, hitherto also a C.M.S. station, the solitary missionary had already withdrawn, as mentioned last year.

Case of the Rev. W. Dening.

The Society's missionary staff in Japan would have remained the same as last year, but for one circumstance which has caused the Committee much anxious concern—the disconnexion of the Rev. Walter Dening. The work in the Island of Yezo, with which he has been identified from the first, has had its own features of peculiar interest; and the Committee would have rejoiced if they could have looked forward to its being still carried on for many years to come by so energetic a missionary. But being challenged to give their explicit sanction to the public and dogmatic teaching, in Japan, of novel views regarding some of the most profound and solemn of theological questions, they felt, while desirous in no way to abridge the reasonable liberty of the Society's missionaries on minor and doubtful points, that they had in this case no alternative but to lose the services of a zealous agent rather than consent to the demand which his letters distinctly made upon them.

The circumstances of this case have been fully detailed in the Society's publications, and it is not necessary to enter more fully into them here. The matter was complicated by the intimation from Mr. Dening that he intended returning to Japan, and resuming his work at Hakodate, the majority of the converts there having adopted his views; and the Committee had to consider the obstacles which might thus arise to the development and extension of the Society's Mission in Yezo. They felt, however, in view of the past history of the Mission, and of the openings for evangelistic effort, not only among the Japanese population of Yezo, but among the Aino aborigines, that they could not divest themselves of their responsibilities to the Church at large for the Mission in that island, and to the converts whom God had given to the labours of their missionaries; and therefore that Hakodate station must continue to be occupied, and be strengthened rather than weakened. Additional particulars regarding it will be given on a further page. Here it may be thankfully added that negotiations with the friends in this country who are supporting Mr. Dening have resulted in satisfactory arrangements under which the Society will continue to carry on its own work, and that the intercourse which has taken place between Mr. Dening himself and the Society's missionaries since his return to Japan has been of the friendly character consistent with their mutual relations as still clergymen of the same Church and servants of the same Master.

Buddhist revival in Japan.

The strong footing Christianity has gained in Japan may be measured by the determination with which the forces of heathenism are being arrayed against it. "Throughout the whole of Kiu-Shiu (the southern island) there has been a Buddhist revival." At the well-known port of Kagoshima Buddhism scarcely existed four years ago; but there, as in so many other places, it is gaining on Shintoism. The Buddhist priests have gone down from the north in force, and several fine temples have been built, the funds being to a large extent supplied from the old sacred city of Kioto, which is their great stronghold. With reference to Saga, another city in Kiu-Shiu, the Rev. A. B. Hutchinson writes:—

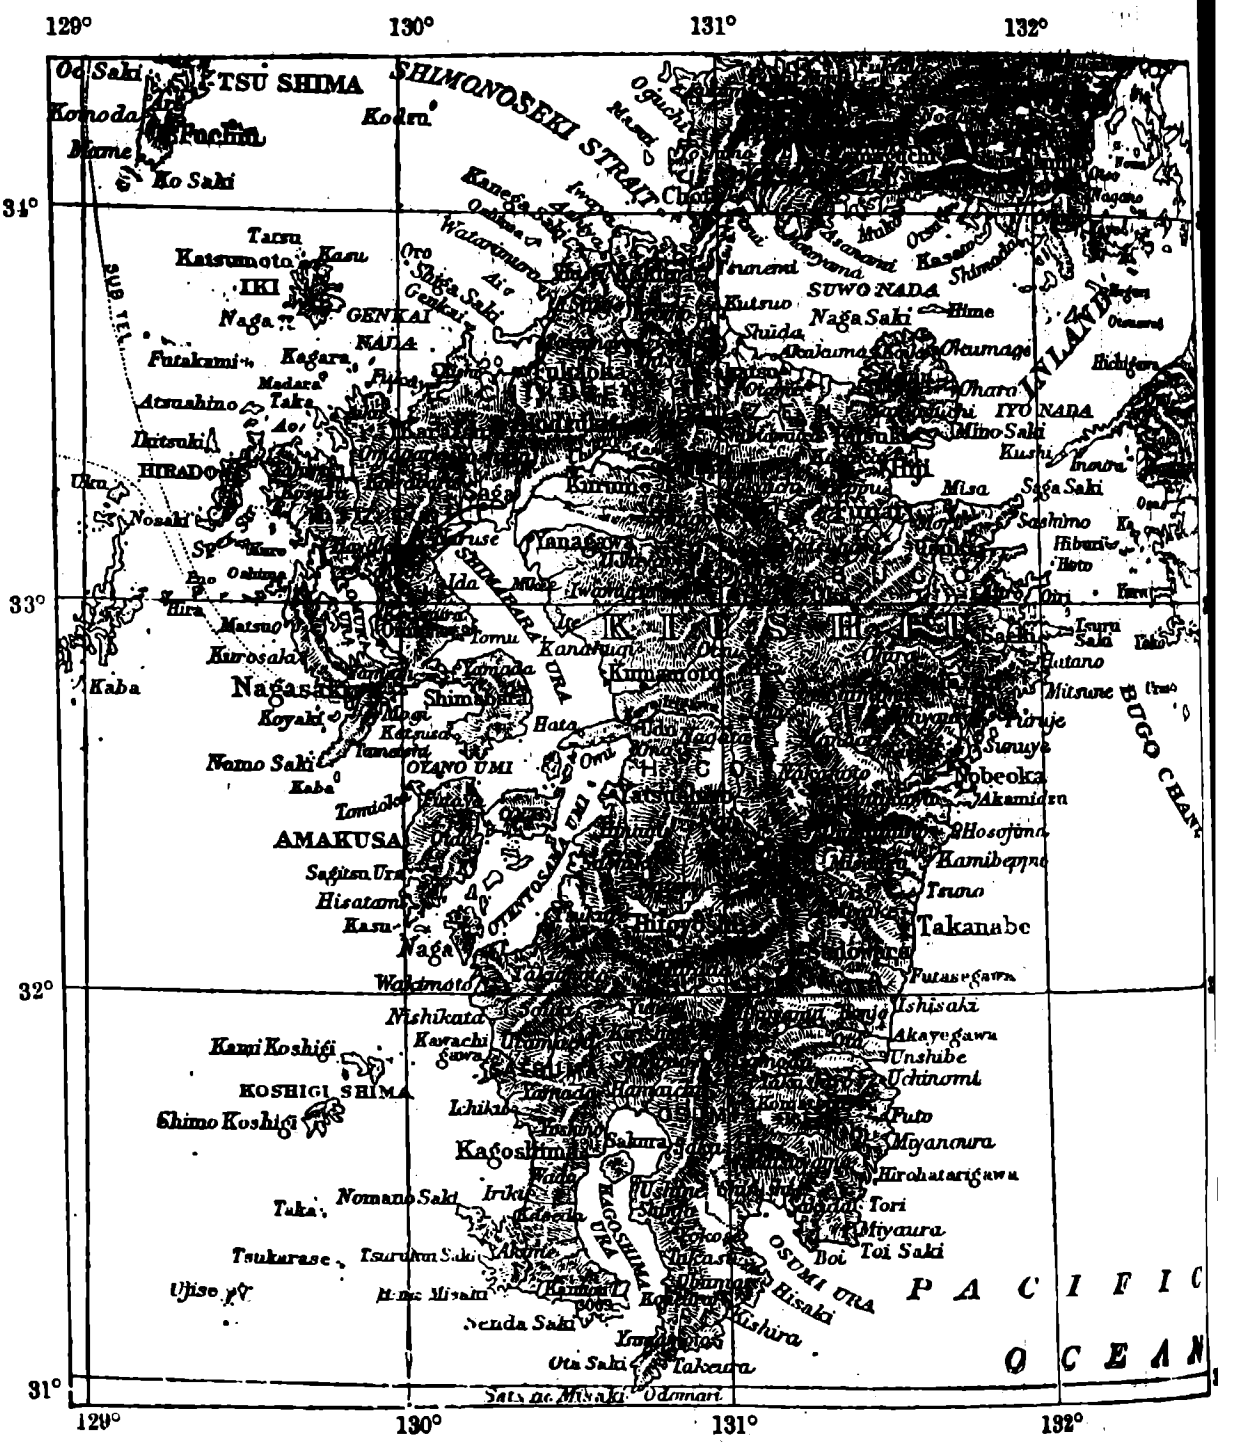

> Close to the Shin-shiu temple is a new theological college, in modern style, for training young priests. Although the largest is at Kioto, this energetic body does not aim at centralizing their efforts there, but wisely provides these training institutions near where the future work of the students is located. Another proof of their energy met us here and at Kumamoto, in the announcement, by advertisement, of an important forthcoming work against Christianity.

In the central island the Buddhists, roused out of their old apathy, are spending vast sums of money upon the restoration and rebuilding of temples. A new temple in course of erection for the great Shin sect at Kioto is to cost a million sterling. "These and many similar facts," writes Mr. Warren, "indicate that Christianity is a felt power, and that the struggle which is to terminate in its triumph has commenced."

NAGASAKI.

In addition to the always interesting report of the Rev. H. Maundrell, who has been labouring at this city, the southern port of Japan, since 1875, the Committee are indebted to the Rev. A. B. Hutchinson, late of Hong-Kong, who joined him in the spring of last year, for some valuable letters, which give a very vivid account of the important and expanding work now carried on in the island of Kiu-shiu, with its seven millions of inhabitants. Two missionaries are all that the C.M.S., all that the Church of England, all that the Christian people of whatever name in Great Britain, have allotted to those seven millions of souls. The only other Protestant Missions in Kiu-shiu are American Methodist and American Presbyterian, and both are feeble in numbers. What, then, are these two missionaries doing? Mr. Hutchinson thus succinctly replies :—

Thirteen years have passed since the C.M.S. entered Kiu-shiu; what are we now doing as missionaries of the Church?

1. Working a school at Deshima. Jacob Watanabe San manages it, assisted by Paul Kimura San, a certificated master. Mrs. Goodall most kindly gives daily English instruction in the afternoon, and some three or four Native gentlemen, in addition to the scholars, avail themselves of her kindness to learn English, and possibly be drawn towards higher learning. I take four of the theological students in mathematics, geography, and history, daily in the afternoon. Summary of the work in Kiushiu.

2. Holding a daily short service in the adjoining church at 9 a.m. and at 4 p.m., in the vernacular, with singing. This is mainly for the pupil-teachers of the school, but it attracts outsiders also. It testifies to them of Christianity as a religion of worship. It may ultimately afford opportunity also of preaching, as I make progress in the language.

3. There is the training work at St. Andrew's College, which Mr. Maundrell carries on continuously, and which is capable of great extension, if means and a worker be granted specially for this important purpose.

4. On Sundays full morning and afternoon service is held in the Deshima church, and a shortened service, with preaching, in the evening. Besides the great festivals, Holy Communion is administered fortnightly. These services are all well attended by the Christians. A fair but fluctuating number of heathen are present from time to time.

5. We have, in conjunction with the British and Foreign Bible Society, rented a good house and shop in a main thoroughfare. In this are offered for sale (besides the Word itself) commentaries, tracts and religious works generally. Preaching has also been commenced by our Deshima catechist, and one of the theological students. In the evening it provoked serious opposition; in the morning it has been carried on without interruption.

6. Added to the above local agencies, are the three out-stations at Saga, Kumamoto, and Kagoshima; each of these already the nucleus of a church: the two latter, by the colporteur, also diffusive agencies over a considerable area in the country round. At each of these two there is also a school in good working order; that at Kumamoto being singularly well managed.

The above form altogether as effective an agency for spreading the knowledge of the truth in this island as circumstances and the means at our disposal permit.

When I compare the results, considering the time in which they have been reached, with Mission work in other lands, there is surely good reason for us to thank God and take courage.

The number of Native baptized Christians connected with Nagasaki and its out-stations is 180, with 20 catechumens. Of these, 50 are communicants. Thirteen adults were baptized during the year. The majority of the converts, as mentioned in former reports, are in the cities of Kagoshima, Kumamoto, and Saga. Of all these important centres of evangelization, interesting and encouraging accounts are to hand. Mr. Hutchinson thus describes a visit to Kagoshima:—

We were welcomed by Messrs. John Koba and Paul Morooka, the catechists, and by the schoolmaster, and took up our quarters in the upper room. We looked down upon the school, a simple building of wood, erected by one of the Christians at his own expense. The scholars, about thirty in number, were assembling, and soon we were joining in the singing, and opening prayers. Most of the children are Christians, and refreshing indeed it was to hear such strains as, "Jesus loves me, this I know," and "Glory to Thee, my God, this night," in the midst of the great heathen town. The rain unhappily set in, and more or less interfered with the attendance at the services, &c. But in the evening, the whole front part of the ground-floor being thrown open to form one long room, evening service was held, and preaching followed, about eighty being present. The congregation sit on the tegami, or mats, in Native fashion, and the whole scene had a simple primitive appearance which was very striking.

The congregation, in one respect, form a contrast with most of those connected with the Society in different parts of the world. The poorer classes are in a minority:—

Social position of Japanese Christians.

We visited all the Christians during our stay at their homes, being welcomed everywhere with Japanese courtesy and hospitality. Mr. Yoshi I is a wholesale and retail druggist; Mr. Yamamoto is a confectioner; but the majority of members are of Samurai families. These live in pretty detached villas, each with its quaint garden, with stone lanterns, dwarfed trees, and bright flowers picturesquely arranged, so as to afford a pleasing vista to the residents. As a class these gentlemen have suffered severely by the great changes that have passed over Japan, and many find it extremely difficult to maintain their position. It is from this class that our students and catechists here have been drawn, a unique feature in the work. These Satsuma Samurai furnish three-fourths of the present government and administrators of Japan, their Native energy giving them the pre-eminence everywhere over their countrymen; and it is these to whom, in Kagoshima, we have most ready access.

In such a congregation it has been particularly important to introduce self-government and self-support from the first. A Church Council has been formed, and a sub-committee appointed to raise funds to build a church.

Open-air baptism at Kagoshima.

We proceeded to a village about four miles off, viz., Sani Katta. There are about 300 people here, and no temple of any kind. The uncle of Mr. Uchida, and a nephew, were desirous of professing themselves believers in the crucified Jesus of Nazareth, in presence of their own kith and kin. We first held a preaching to those of the assembled villagers who could leave their fields in the village itself. Mr. Maundrell, the catechist, the fine old Christian, himself aged sixty-six, and then myself addressed the people. He set forth very clearly and briefly the reasons for his seeking to make public profession of his faith in, said Mr. Maundrell, a most satisfactory way. My words were translated sentence by sentence by Mr. Koba the catechist, and then, after singing a hymn, we descended the hillside to the rapidly flowing river, and there, in the river itself, were baptized Barnabas and his nephew Joseph, the first-fruits of Sani Katta. I could not but admire the calm courage of the grand old man, standing in the stream, in presence of his family, to be enrolled a soldier and servant of the King of kings. Was it not a taking possession of the district in the name of Christ, a sanctifying of the waters of the little river to a holier work than they had ever known before?

No wonder the two missionaries, as they "glanced at the portrait of Henry Wright on the wall of the little upper room" at Kagoshima, said, "What would he not have felt could he but have been with us here, and have seen this work so specially dear to him?"

At SAGA also, social Christian intercourse with the Native Christian families is noticed by Mr. Hutchinson:—

A social evening in a Japanese Christian family.

We spent a really social evening amongst the brethren and sisters, Japanese life permitting both sexes to meet at a common meal, converse being free and unrestrained. One little girl played the kotto, or harp, very nicely, singing to it a plaintive air; whilst some of the gentlemen played a game called go, a sort of draughts, which afforded much amusement. I was glad to learn that gambling is not a common vice in domestic life, as it unhappily is in China. The evening closed with singing and prayer, and we felt that it was good thus to partake in the social life of our fellow-believers.

Our visit to Saga made us feel exceedingly grateful. The Church here and at Nagasaki has had to pass through a severe trial during the past three months, owing to the defection of a catechist who is nearly related by family ties to most of the Christians here. It therefore cheered us greatly to find such signs of life, and a spirit of unity amongst the Christians. There was order and reverence in the services, evidencing the steadiness with which divine worship is maintained by the catechist, and there was an energy and earnestness in the little flock, which make us reasonably hopeful for the future of the Church in this great district.

The opposition mentioned in last year's Report as besetting the work at KUMAMOTO seems to have come to an end. Indeed a very curious change of feeling is observable, which Mr. Maundrell thus describes:—

The opponents opposed.

A considerable change has taken place at Kumamoto, where John Ko, with his wife and children, has been working steadily throughout the year. There is a very numerous and influential body of advanced liberals amongst the upper classes, who are strongly agitating for representative institutions. Though not Christians themselves, they are not hostile, but regard Christianity with favour, believing that it will further their object. Consequently there has been little or no demonstration of hostility against the preaching-place this year. It is quite remarkable to see how the tables are turned. Last year it was our lecture-room which was decried and stoned: this year the persons who then stoned us and tried to suppress the preaching—the conservative and anti-foreign party—have themselves been stoned, and their meetings attempted to be suppressed because they are regarded as obstructionists!

But there has been open violence in Nagasaki itself. A new preaching-place having been secured in a busy thoroughfare, Jacob Watanabe, a catechist, began Sunday evening services in it. A mob assembled, smashed the shutters, and stoned the preacher; and fifty Japanese policemen came to restore order. At their request, a morning instead of an evening hour was fixed, and since then there has been no interruption.

OSAKA.

Work and progress at Osaka.

The Revs. C. F. Warren (who is Secretary of the Japan Mission), H. Evington, and G. H. Pole are the missionaries at this station. The Native Christian adherents connected with it are 97 in number, 74 of these being baptized, and 43 communicants. Nine adults were baptized in the year. The mission church has been removed to a better site, and enlarged at a cost of $927, of which $532 was raised on the spot in various ways. Close by, a small cottage has been erected for the caretaker, "in which there is a guest-room, where Native Christians coming from a distance can take their mid-day meal, which they bring in their neat little lunch boxes, between the Sunday services." A theological class has been started, under Mr. Warren's direction, with three students to begin with: the principal subjects of instruction being the Old and New Testaments, the Articles in Archdeacon Moule's Chinese edition with Scripture proofs, and Van Osterzee's New Testament Theology.

But as at Nagasaki, so at Osaka, the most promising work has been at the out-stations. Of this Mr. Evington has charge.

At Tokushima, in the island of Shikoku, the Committee rejoice to hear, the remainder of the Fukui family mentioned last year have been received into the Church. The elder Fukui and his wife were baptized on Aug. 2nd, and the wife and child of their son in February of this year. The baptism of three other adults is also reported. But the Gospel has now spread much further. Near the extreme south-west end of the main island, on its northern coast, is the province of Iwami, corresponding very much in position to the north coast of Cornwall in England. It is reached by steamer from Osaka to Hiroshima on the Inland Sea (30 hours), and then three days' journey over the mountains. In this remote district God has given the Society converts in a very interesting way. Mr. Evington writes:—

Conversion of a young doctor,

We had some people from this province staying in Osaka during the spring. A young doctor and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Santo, returned before having time for full instruction, but not before stating that they had determined to renounce idolatry and serve the true

God. Communication was kept up with them by letter. In the summer we determined that two of the theological students should spend part of their vacation there. They were welcomed by Santo and some friends, but their work soon raised opposition from amongst the Buddhist priests of the Shin or Monto sect. One of the men returned towards the end of September; the other continued to work on quietly, preaching and expounding the Scripture till I joined him at the beginning of December.

I found eight or ten people taking a greater or less interest in the way of salvation: among them the doctor, his wife and grandmother, and a man named Noda, with his wife. I was very pleased with the earnestness of Dr. Santo and his wife, who do not seem to hide their light under a bushel, and instead of being moved by the opposition that was raised, their faith became strengthened. I baptized them, with their grandmother, an old lady of about seventy, on December 17th.

Noda's case is an interesting one. He was originally a Buddhist priest of the Jodo sect, but had resigned his office some ten years ago; since then he has been engaged in trade. When Terasawa and Yamashita first arrived in Watadzu he came forward to oppose them; not in connexion with the other priests whom I have mentioned above, but alone, seeking to argue and cavil. Since he has become an earnest inquirer we have had testimony from all around to the change in his character. His rough, boisterous manner towards both his wife and others has wonderfully toned down, and he is willing to listen and be taught. He, with his two children, were baptized on the same day with Dr. Santo. His wife, I felt, had not sufficient knowledge and personal interest to justify her baptism at present, although she partly expected it: she feels the power that it has had over her husband.

and of a Buddhist priest.

TOKIO.

The intended withdrawal from the capital of Japan has been already mentioned. The Committee take this step in the interest of the Mission as a whole; but they do so with regret, remembering that Tokio has given the Society some notable converts—two especially in the past year. These are the husbands of the two ladies whose conversion was mentioned in last Report. Mr. Ozaki, the gentleman who has been connected with the Japanese Legation at Rome, was baptized by the Rev. J. Williams on April 16th, 1882, and Mr. Hada on May 28th:—

Baptisms at Tokio.

For some time doubts about the resurrection of Christ alone prevented them from applying for baptism; but they happened to meet a Native pastor of one of the Presbyterian churches in Tokio, and mentioning their difficulties to him, he entered with full sympathy into their case, and put the matter before them in such a way that their doubts were completely dissipated, and they soon after expressed to me their wish to be baptized. I think that purposely to keep His servants humble, God so works that scarcely any one, singly and unaided, can claim to have led a single soul to Christ. There has been some previous work of preparation, or there are a variety of concurring conditions and circumstances, which, if honestly taken into account, would ever lead the successful Christian worker to form a very humble estimate of himself and his work.

Mr. Hada has been a great help and comfort to me. Both he and Mr. Ozaki were elected to serve on the Church Committee for the latter half of last year, and were of great service to me in that capacity. They are both very intelligent, and, I believe, study their Bibles in their own homes.

The Committee doubt not that the 34 C.M.S. Christians of Tokio will be well cared for by other Missions; and they commend them all to God and to the word of His grace.

The Rev. P. K. Fyson, late of Niigata, is still residing at Yokohama, engaged in the translation of the Historical Books of the Old Testament into Japanese. He has baptized two women who have been nurses in his family.

HAKODATE.

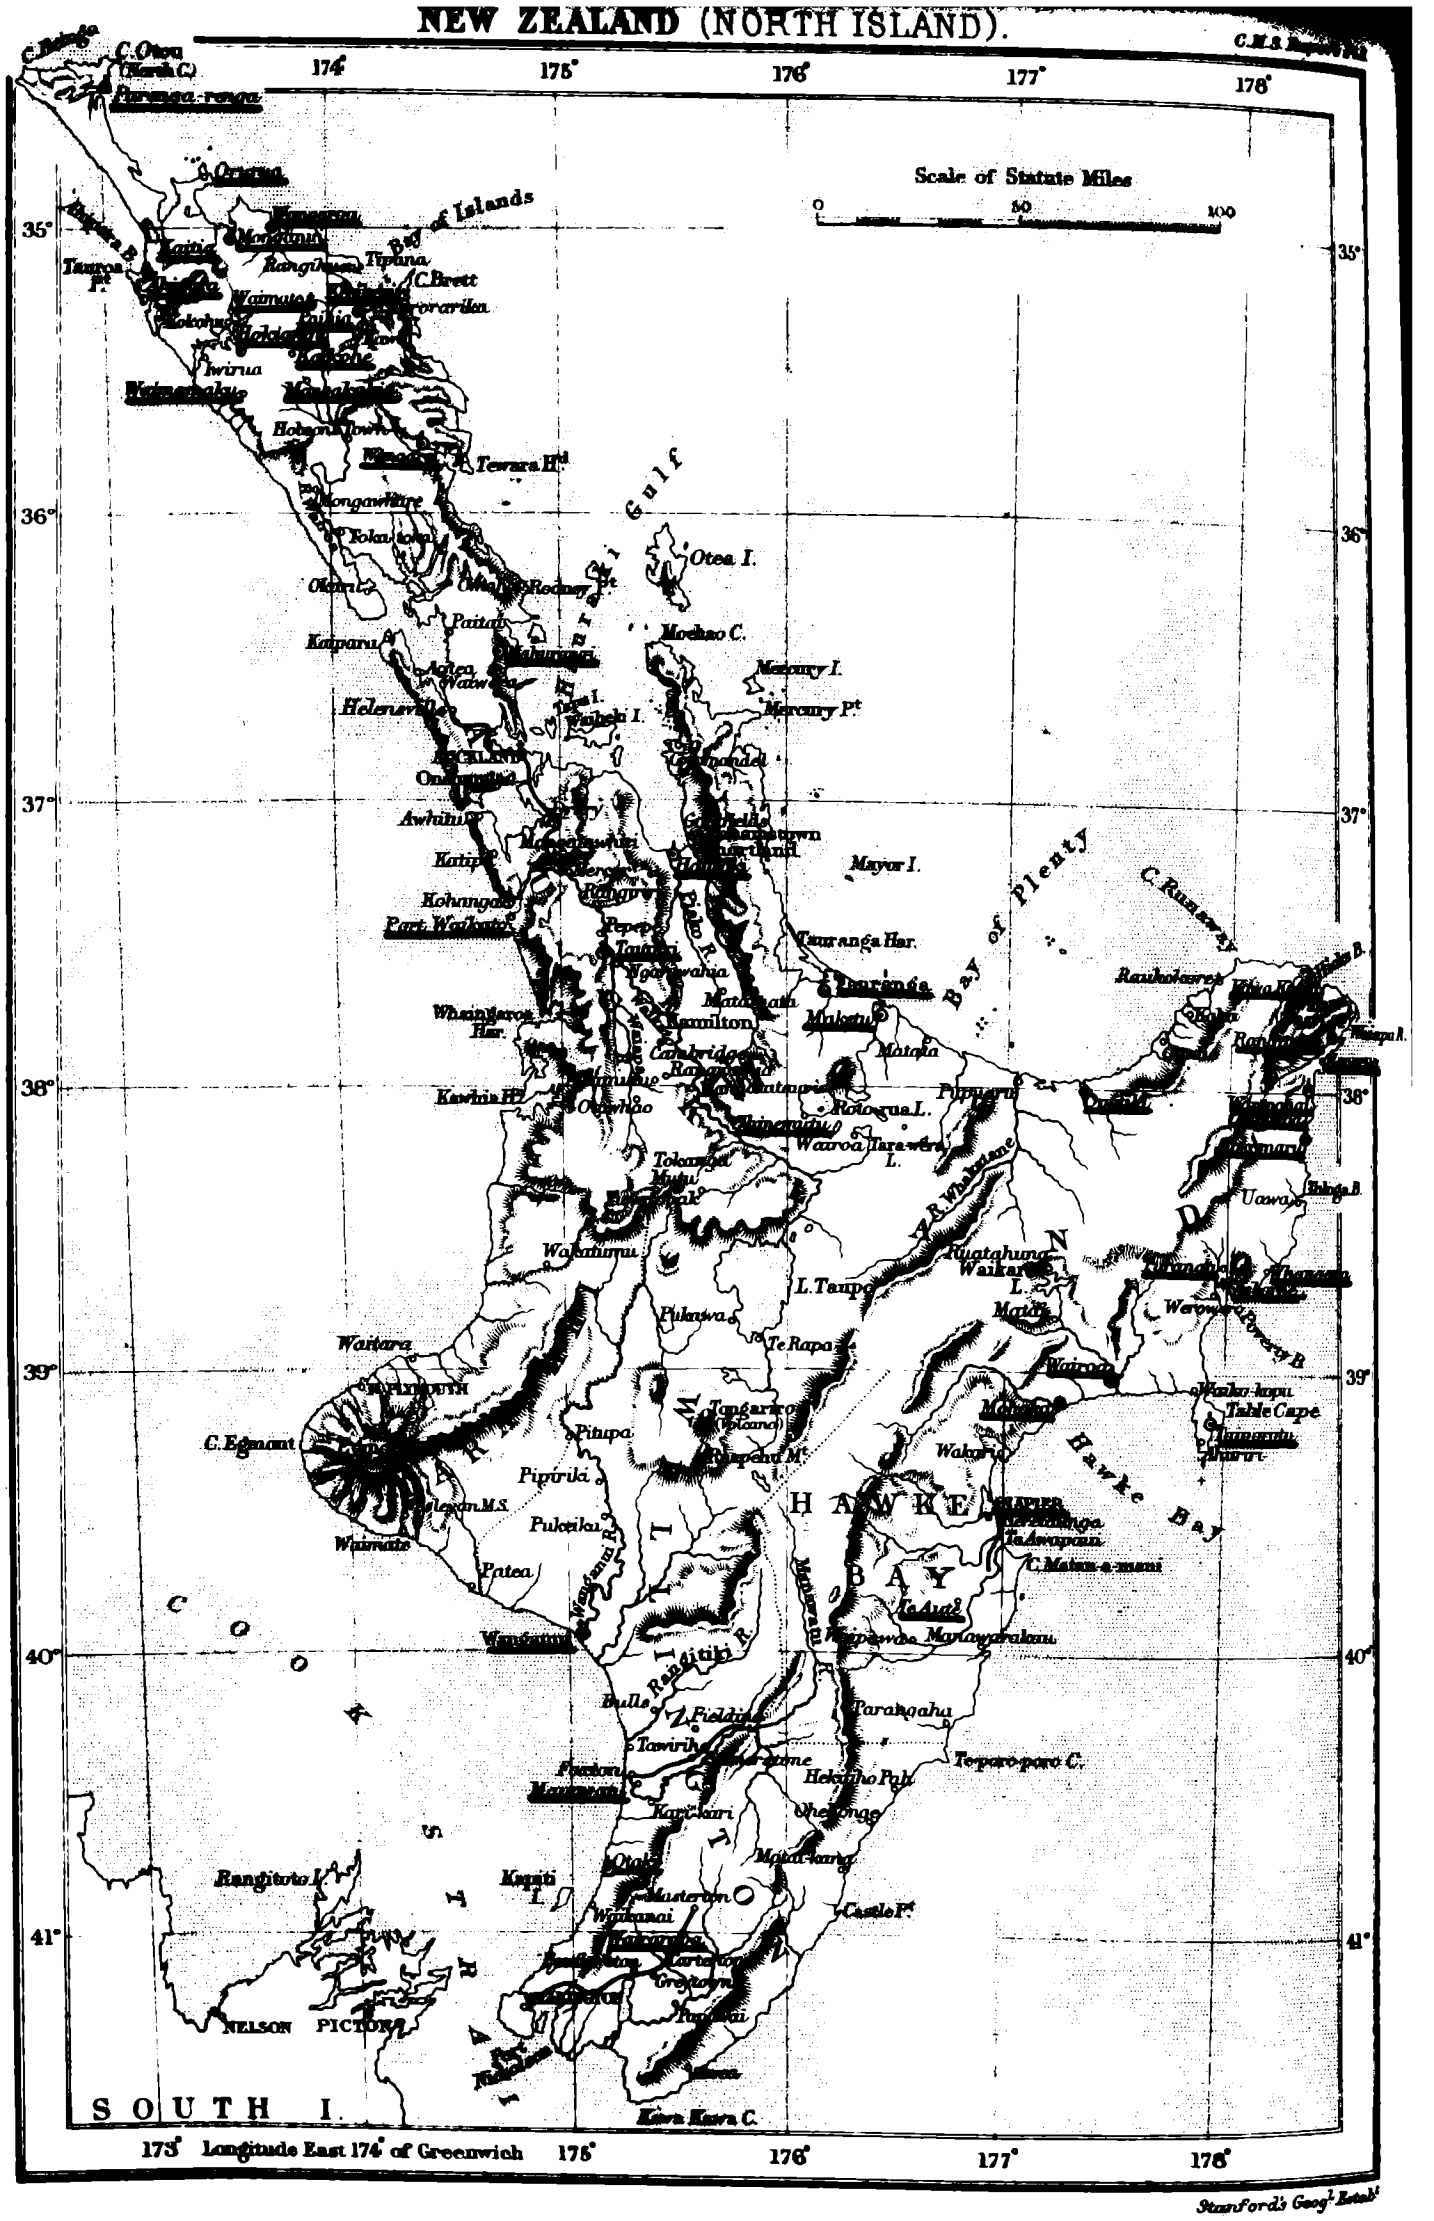

Prospects at Hakodate.

The Rev. W. Andrews laboured at this station during the year, finding, the Committee are glad to say, the cooler climate most beneficial to his health, which had seriously failed at Nagasaki. He has been joined within the present year by Mr. J. Batchelor, the lay missionary who had previously been at work among the Ainos, but who had come to England to prepare for holy orders. He went out again, without waiting to complete his course, when difficulties arose with Mr. Dening regarding the future conduct of the Mission (which have been already referred to); and his presence at Hakodate has been very useful, as he is known and trusted by the Native Christians, to whom he has been able to explain fully the Society's action in Mr. Dening's case. Before the latter left for England, the twelve adult males among them gave him a letter to the Committee, formally notifying their secession from the Society in case Mr. Dening were disconnected. Three of these have since withdrawn their names from this document, and with their families now form a nucleus for the C.M.S. congregation of the future.

NEW ZEALAND MISSION.

European Missionaries first arrived in New South Wales, 1810; proceeded to New Zealand, 1814; Mission confined to the Northern Island.

DIVISION OF THE MISSION.

I. Northern Division, comprising the Diocese of Auckland.
II. Eastern Division, comprising the Diocese of Waiapu.
III. Western Division, comprising the Diocese of Wellington.

The Maori Christians and the Colonial Church of New Zealand.

THE NEW ZEALAND Mission, and the NORTH-WEST AMERICA Mission, far apart as they are geographically, and as regards many of their characteristic features, are yet alike in one important respect. In these countries the Native races are, or soon will be, in a minority as compared with the colonists, and even if, as the Committee trust, their gradual decay has been arrested, they will not as a distinct race occupy a leading position by the side of the colonial population. It follows, therefore, that the time cannot be looked forward to when, as in India and China, the Church of the people would be, predominantly if not wholly, a Native Church with its Native Bishops and Native Synods. On the contrary, the Maori Christians are already in some respects absorbed in the Colonial Church of New Zealand, and the Christian Red Indians in the Colonial Church of the Canadian Dominion. The consequence of this to the Church Missionary Society is important. The Society is enabled to contemplate the ultimate transfer of its work among these races, as it becomes more and more settled and pastoral in character, to the Colonial Dioceses in which it is carried on. In India and China, the Society can only retire from a district as the Native Christians themselves become strong enough to stand alone and to attract the heathen around them; and then only to go on to other districts yet unevangelized. In North America and New Zealand it can look forward to leaving its Indian and Maori children to the care of the English Bishops, with the happy consciousness that by God's good blessing its work will then be done.

This is a well-understood and long-recognized principle; but the present is an appropriate time to place it on record, because in the past year some important steps have been taken in the direction indicated. In New Zealand, a Mission Board has been established, comprising the three Bishops of Auckland, Waiapu, and Wellington, with three missionaries, three laymen, and a Secretary, to administer the Society's grant to the Mission and the revenue from the

New C.M.S. Mission Board for New Zealand,

Society's lands in the island; and an arrangement has been made for a yearly diminution of the former, and for its cessation at the end of twenty years, subject to the personal claims of individual missionaries on the Society. The grant, over and above the stipends of the missionaries, begins at 1100*l.* a year; which with about 1400*l.* a year, the income from the lands, gives the Board 2500*l.* a year for agents locally engaged, Native clergy, schools, &c.

This scheme has been cordially welcomed in New Zealand, and the first meeting of the new Board was held at Napier in February, all the members being present, viz. Bishops Cowie, Hadfield, and Stuart; Archdeacons Clarke and Williams (Secretary); the Revs. R. Burrows and S. Williams; and Messrs. Larkins, Clarke, and Tanner. Some of them had travelled long distances to attend. The proceedings were of the most practical character, and the Committee thank God for the happy inauguration of a plan which will in course of time not only relieve the Society's funds, but avoid the inconvenience of administering what is now mainly pastoral work at a distance of twelve thousand miles.

Veteran missionaries retired.

One of the provisions of the new scheme is that whenever a missionary of the Society in New Zealand dies, or is placed on the retired list (which tranfers his stipend to the Disabled Fund), 100*l.* a year shall be added to the general grant at the disposal of the Board, i.e. the grant which itself diminishes annually. Advantage has been taken of this provision to "retire" the four senior missionaries, and thus secure a larger grant to start the descending scale with. These are Archdeacon A. N. Brown, of Tauranga; the Rev. J. Matthews, of Kaitaia; the Rev. B. Y. Ashwell, of Waikato; and the Rev. S. M. Spencer, of Rotorua. These veterans have served the Mission for 54, 52, 50, and 40 years respectively. The Committee cannot feel too thankful to God for the great and good work their venerable brethren have been permitted to do in years gone by, and for the grace that enables them still to bring forth fruit in old age.

The staff has been strengthened by the engagement of two additional clergymen in local connexion, viz. the Rev. Alfred O. Williams, a grandson of the late Archdeacon Henry Williams, and the Rev. E. Jennings, from the Diocese of Nelson. On the other hand, the Rev. J. S. Hill has withdrawn, to take up evangelistic work among the colonial population at Auckland.

For the first time for many years the Committee are in possession of authentic and fairly complete statistics of the Maori Church. From a return presented to the General Synod of the Church of New Zealand at its last session, the following figures are gathered :—

Native Church Members .	14,600	12,000	5265
Native Clergy . . .	13	13	3
Native Catechists . . .	156	80	30
Churches	41	24	27
Schools	1	2	1

This shows a total of 31,865 Maori church members, or 6000 more than the Society reported last year. In fact, the difference is still greater; for the figure of 15,570 given last year for the Diocese of Waiapu, which was furnished by Bishop Stuart, no doubt included adherents who are not counted as "church members;" and if there is an outer circle of corresponding numbers in the other dioceses, the total of Maori professing Christians (of the Church of England) cannot be far short of 40,000. These are all in the Northern Island, in which the whole of the work of the Church of England among the Natives has been under the auspices of the C.M.S. There are, besides, about 2000 Maori Christians in the Dioceses of Nelson, Christchurch, and Dunedin, in the Middle or Southern Island, where the Society has never laboured, although one of the C.M.S. Native clergymen is now employed there. Number of Maori Christians.

The Committee are glad to observe that the General Synod, on receiving these returns, passed a resolution calling upon "the members of the Church throughout the Ecclesiastical Province to make special efforts for the recovery to the faith of those portions of the Maori Church which, since the war, have lapsed into indifference or false religion." In the meanwhile, the C.M.S. Mission Board have issued an appeal for local funds to supplement the Society's grant; and the Committee earnestly trust that the colonists may be led to take a more active and sympathetic interest in the spiritual welfare of their Maori brethren.

I. Northern Division: Diocese of Auckland.

1. Bay of Islands (Paihia and Waimate), commenced 1814; 2. Auckland (Hauraki), 1833; 3. Kaitaia, 1834; 4. Waikato, 1840.

The Society's missionaries in Auckland diocese are the Rev. R. Burrows, who for many years has done such valuable service as Secretary of the Mission; the Revs. J. Matthews and B. Y. Ashwell, who, as already mentioned, are now on the retired list; and Archdeacon E. B. Clarke, of Waimate, who superintends, with unabated energy, the pastorates in the northern peninsula. The Rev. F. T. Baker, one of the colonial clergy, who is employed under the Board to minister also to the Maoris in his district, has been lately transferred from Te Koporu to Waitara in the province of Taranaki. The Bishop of Auckland, Dr. Cowie, writing to the Society in November last, said, "I am thankful to be able to report that the missionaries are in good health, and are doing excellent work. The Rev. Joseph Matthews, whom I visited at Kaitaia in the beginning of the year, continues to be of great use to us, specially in instructing his many Lay Readers, by whom so much of our ordinary ministering to scattered congregations is done."

Letter from Bishop Cowie.

The Committee sincerely sympathize with Archdeacon Clarke in the loss of his venerable and highly respected mother. Mr. and Mrs. George Clarke, who were school children at Wymondham in Norfolk when the late Rev. Henry Tacy was curate there, went out to New Zealand in connexion with the C.M.S. in 1822. Mrs. Clarke, who survived her husband seven years, died on December 8th last, within a few days of her eightieth birthday. The burial service, at her own request, was said at her funeral in the Maori language, by the Rev. Hare Peka Taua. "I left my home," she said, "for the good of the Natives; I have spent my life amongst them; and I would like that they should carry me to the grave and read the service over me."

The late Mrs. Clarke.

Scarcely any information has reached the Committee lately regarding the condition of the Maoris in this diocese; but the Rev. F. T. Baker draws a marked contrast between those of the northern peninsula, among whom he has been labouring for some four years, and those of Taranaki, to whom he is now sent. Of the former he writes,— Varying religious condition of the Maoris.

> Great attention has been paid by the people to the ordinances of religion. The number of communicants has increased, and the people have greatly risen in the estimation of their European brethren for their honesty, sobriety, and general good conduct.

But in Taranaki, he says, it is very different:—

> This district, as you are probably aware, is the stronghold of Te Whitiism, the strange form of religion adopted by a large section of the Maori race under the teaching of a fanatic named Te Whiti. The whole field is overgrown with tares. At first I could only hear of four or five who still adhered to the Christian profession, but I have since been able to get the names of forty, scattered however in twos and threes over a wide area of country. But even among these the fire has burned very low. I get some of them together as frequently as I can, and endeavour to revive the dying embers. They are chiefly old men and women, whose allegiance to the good old way the Enemy has not been able to subvert. The young men will as yet have nothing to do with our religion, their faith in Te Whiti being as strong as ever. They are, however, disposed to be friendly, and I hope by God's help an opening may be made among them before long.

Mr. Ashwell, who even in his old age and with many infirmities is as zealous as ever to do what he can for the people he has loved so well, writes,—

An aged missionary's work.

I am thankful to say God has not left me without tokens of His blessing, especially at the small Orakei Native village, five miles from Auckland. I began to visit this village about two years ago. My congregation for the first ten visits consisted of six adults and a few children. Many of the Natives were fond of ardent spirits, and I was greatly discouraged.

After the tenth visit a few more began to assemble, my congregation increased to twenty, and continued to increase. On my first visit after my dangerous illness I was greatly surprised to find a full congregation, at least sixty Natives—all coming at the sound of the bell: no entreaty now, but all willingly and orderly filling their places in the house of God, repeating most heartily the responses, and singing in parts their hymns. Bible-classes and singing-classes are also now well attended. I was overjoyed, and the chief, Paul Tuhaere said, "You sowed the seed, and see it has tupa'd" (i.e. sprung up). "It was you, E te Ahiwera" (oh, Ashwell). I said, "Paul, you must not say so. From first to last it is from God alone, to Him alone be all the glory."

There is a little encouragement even among the twelve Maoris still in the gaol. Of two I have great hopes that they love the Saviour. Every fortnight I have a little class with them, that is, with all the Maori prisoners. At the hospital one Native I met with, whom I visited, died, with a simple trust in Christ.

At St. Stephen's School I catechize forty Native boys in their own language every Tuesday. I have been going through the Parables with them.

II. Eastern Division: Diocese of Waiapu.

1. Tauranga, 1835; 2. Rotorua and Maketu, 1835; 3. Turanga, or Gisborne (now including Wairoa), 1840; 4. Waiapu (East Cape), 1842; 5. Napier (Te Aute), 1844.

Work of Bishop Stuart.

It is scarcely necessary to say that the Bishop himself, Dr. E. C. Stuart, is an old and experienced missionary of the C.M.S., and still remains on its list, the episcopal stipend being paid from its funds. His important services during twenty years in India are well remembered; and the Society is now still more deeply indebted to him for his active labours in its behalf in New Zealand. The missionaries in the diocese are—Archdeacon Brown, of Tauranga, and the Rev. S. M. Spencer, of Rotorua, both now on the retired list; the Rev. G. Maunsell, at Opotiki; the Rev. W. Goodyear, at Maketu; Archdeacon W. L. Williams, at Gisborne; and the Rev. S. Williams (who is an honorary missionary), at Te Aute. The Rev. A. O. Williams has been engaged by the Board to conduct the Training Institution at Gisborne, under the Archdeacon's superintendence; and Mr. J. W. Duffus, who has worked for some few years as a lay evangelist in the Tauranga and Opotiki districts, continues also on a similar footing.

Death of Mrs. Spencer.

Mr. Spencer has been called to suffer heavy trial by the loss of his wife, who had been a faithful labourer among the Maori people for forty years. Nowhere does the Native race exhibit greater deterioration than in the Rotorua district, and nowhere is there less even of professed Christianity among them. Yet they all mourned their white mother's death; and, like Mrs. Clarke, she was buried by a Maori, the Rev. Ihaia Te Ahu. Mr. Spencer thinks there are now signs of revival among them.

Improved condition of Waiapu Maoris.

Archdeacon Williams reports decided improvement in the religious condition of the Maoris of the East Coast districts. "A great deal of the demoralization of eight or ten years ago has passed away. The Native clergy are supported mainly by the contributions of the people; the Native Church Boards excite a fair amount of interest; the congregations are increasing in numbers; the people generally are desirous for the education of their children." Out of fifteen Maori churches on the coast, eight have been built and three rebuilt, in the last ten years. The Native Church Boards are working well, and growing in influence.

III. Western Division: Diocese of Wellington.

First occupied by Bishop Hadfield in 1839. 1. Wanganui, 1840; 2. Otaki, 1842; 3. Wairarapa, re-occupied, 1877.

THE Society's missionaries in the Wellington Diocese are the Rev. J. McWilliam at Otaki, and the Rev. T. S. Grace at Wanganui. The Rev. E. Jennings has been engaged by the Board, also for the Otaki district. The Committee are thankful to mark the encouraging tone of Mr. McWilliam's report:—

Revival of spiritual life in Otaki and Wanganui.

I am glad to be able to report that at several of my preaching-stations, most noticeably at Ngawhakaraua and Horrowhenua, a very marked revival of religious interest is manifested. The people in a body attend the services, and are most attentive and earnest. They eagerly surround me in the evenings with their Bibles in their hands to have their discoveries talked over and noted, and their difficulties explained.

An evening so spent is a great treat to me, and I thank God for such evident signs of the Spirit's operation in their hearts, and for being enabled in a humble way to aid in the work.

I have three times, by special request of the people, visited the Wanganui district during the Rev. T. S. Grace's absence in England. I there also perceived a very marked inclination by many who have been led away by Te Whiti and other heretical teachers, to return to the old paths, and to seek peace and rest again within the bosom of the Church of Christ. I think Mr. Grace has before him a wide and fertile field already white to the harvest, waiting only for the putting in of the sickle.

The Bishop of Wellington, too—who will be remembered as the Society's able and faithful missionary, the Rev. Octavius Hadfield, from 1838 to his consecration in 1870, and whose name is still retained upon the list—writes more hopefully of the outlook, although he laments the utterly inadequate provision for the spiritual destitution of the Maoris in these Southern districts:—

Letter from Bishop Hadfield.

The state in which this diocese has been during the last six years, since the death of the Rev. Basil Taylor—who was for some time previously more or less an invalid—has been to me a source of much anxiety and grief. The Rev. James McWilliam, stationed at Otaki, has been the only English missionary in a diocese which is more than three hundred miles in length, over the whole of which the Maori population is scattered, living no longer as formerly in large Pas, but in numerous small villages. Although assisted by three Maori deacons, he has been quite unable to do more than give a general superintendence, except in his own immediate neighbourhood. In a greater degree this applies to myself—with the multifarious duties I have to discharge—though the fact that I have to travel all over the diocese necessarily brings me into communication with the Maori population in many places, albeit the time I may be able to spend among them is short.

I have just returned from a visit to the West Coast. My journey extended about 170 miles from this. I remained all day at Otaki on my return. I everywhere found that the Natives were settling down to a regular mode of life, and were engaged in their old, industrious occupations, having, apparently, almost forgotten Te Whiti and his prophecies.

I believe that the present time presents a favourable opportunity throughout the whole diocese for more direct missionary efforts among them.

NORTH-WEST AMERICA MISSION.

I. Southern Division: Diocese of Rupert's Land.
II. Eastern Division: Diocese of Moosonee.
III. Western Division: Diocese of Saskatchewan.
IV. Northern Division: Diocese of Athabasca.

Bishop Machray and the four dioceses in Rupert's Land.

WHAT has been said under the head of New Zealand regarding the future of the Native Church applies also, mutatis mutandis, to the future of the Native Church of North-West America. The Christian Red Indians will gradually be absorbed, as the Christian Maoris are being absorbed, into the Church of the Colony; and this has been greatly facilitated by the wise measures of the present Bishop of Rupert's Land, when he arranged, eleven years ago, for the division of his immense diocese into four dioceses which, vast as they are, are small by comparison, and when he secured experienced missionaries as the first occupants of the sees. The Committee thank God that both Bishop Machray himself, and his three brethren, are still permitted to work on vigorously in their respective important spheres of labour, and rejoice in the development, year by year, of the Indian section of the Church under their guidance. They cannot begin a brief review of the Society's Missions in that great country without a passing word of sympathetic interest in the arduous efforts the Bishop of Rupert's Land is now making to provide for the spiritual care of the crowds of white immigrants now pouring into Manitoba and the adjacent territories; and although the Church Missionary Society cannot have the privilege of bearing a share in a movement lying outside the range of its proper work, its members will watch that movement with the prayerful hope that it may be abundantly blessed, not only in its immediate purpose, but also in indirectly fostering the spread of the Gospel among the Indians.

Urgency of Red Indian Missions.

The importance of Christian hands being stretched out to save the remnant of the Indian population of these remote regions before the demoralizing influence that too often accompanies a white immigration sweeps them away, is suggested by the fact that the Canadian Pacific Railroad is being laid down across the great Saskatchewan Plain at the unprecedented rate of four miles a day, bringing with it many conveniences and appliances of civilization, but other novelties also of a far different character. Even in the Peace River district, some hundreds of miles to the north, within the Diocese of Athabasca, settlers are already arriving.

Future plans for N.-W. America.

In North-West America and the North Pacific, the Society's expenditure is more than three times that of New Zealand, and there is no prospect of material reduction for some years to come. From local resources comparatively little is at present to be looked for; and the many thousands of still unevangelized heathen, especially in the Dioceses of Saskatchewan and Caledonia, call rather for the extension of missionary work than its contraction. Nevertheless, in the Dioceses of Moosonee and Athabasca, and partly also in the mother Diocese of Rupert's Land, arrangements are in progress for consolidating the Society's grants into a lump sum to be locally apportioned, subject again to the personal claims of the missionaries, and to such conditions as the Committee may feel it necessary to lay down. These block grants, if not at present to be diminished, are on the other hand not to be increased, except it be for definite extension work, such as the additional Eskimo Missions now being established.

Southern Division: Diocese of Rupert's Land.

1. Province of Manitoba, 1823; 2. Fort Alexander district, 1864; 3. Fairford or Swan River district, 1842; 4. Cumberland district, 1840.

Present state of old stations.

The two Secretaries of the North-West America Mission, Archdeacon Cowley and the Rev. R. Young, continue on Red River, the former at Dynevor and the latter at St. Andrew's. The latter parish is this year entirely independent of the Society, fifty-four years after the first establishment of the station by Mr. Cockran. The Committee heartily wish it God speed. Of the Indian Settlement near Dynevor, the Archdeacon writes thankfully. The divisions of the preceding year have been healed, and the Rev. B. McKenzie, the Native pastor, is working happily. So also is the Rev. G. Bruce at Fairford in the Swan River District, notwithstanding the efforts of the Romanists to draw away his people. Mr. Bruce is one of the few missionaries in North-West America who have sent proper statistics. He reports at Fairford, and its out-station, Staggville (50 miles off), 850 baptized Native Christians, 800 unbaptized adherents, 75 communicants, 150 scholars (85 boys, 65 girls), and 40 baptisms in the year, of which ten were of adults. The withdrawal of the Rev. J. Reader from the Society leaves Devon vacant and the Cumberland district without an English missionary; but there are Native catechists at Moose

Lake and the Grand Rapids of the Saskatchewan. In this district there are 870 adherents (number baptized not stated), of whom 330 are communicants. Five adults and 57 children were baptized during the year. From Touchwood Hills, where the Rev. G. Cook is pastor to 144 Christian Indians, there is no report; nor is there from the stations in the FORT ALEXANDER district east of Red River, Islington and Lac Seul, where the Rev. Baptiste Spence and the Rev. J. Irvine are at work. The extensive RAINY LAKE district, in the extreme east of the diocese, towards Lake Superior, the Rev. R. Phair continues to work from Fort Francis, now called Alberton. He reckons 40 baptized Christians and 24 unbaptized adherents; but the chiefs who have long been halting between two opinions are still kept aloof by their plurality of wives.

Students in St. John's College, Winnipeg.

In St. John's College at Winnipeg, the Bishop's valuable institution for training agents, the Society has four students. Of one, the Bishop writes, "Not strong as a student, but growing up with much promise of being a devoted and useful minister of Christ;" of another, "Will not distinguish himself, but studies steadily;" of a third, "Works conscientiously; doing very creditably;" of the fourth, "As usual, a perfectly splendid record: he has never been surpassed in our school."

Sioux Mission.

Of the Bishop's Sioux Mission, towards which the Society gives an annual grant, the Dean of Rupert's Land, Mr. Grisdale (himself a former C.M.S. missionary), has furnished an interesting account.* The band of Sioux Indians among whom it is established occupy a reserve of 8000 acres, 125 miles west of Winnipeg. The missionary, the Rev. W. A. Burman, is labouring with much earnestness, and a true spiritual work is going on.

Eastern Division: Diocese of Moosonee.

Moose Factory, 1851; York, 1854; Albany, 1855; Little Whale River, 1877.

Bishop Horden at Moose.

BISHOP HORDEN reached the log-hut at Moose, which is his episcopal palace, in August, having travelled from England viâ Canada. The Canadian Pacific Railway took him as far as Mattawa, which fifteen years ago consisted of three houses, and is now a thriving town. Thence he had eighteen days' journey (700 miles) northwards by canoe viâ Temis-camunque and Abbitibe, during which he suffered not a little from the extreme heat, the thermometer standing as high as 110° in the shade. On reaching Moose he found that the Rev. Henry Nevitt and Mr. J. Lofthouse, the new reinforcement to the C.M.S. Moosonee Mission, who had been sent out by the annual ship viâ Hudson's Straits, had already arrived. Mr. Nevitt will remain at Moose with the Bishop; Mr. Lofthouse was appointed to Churchill, to work among the Eskimo, but he spent last winter with Mr. Peck on the east side of Hudson's Bay, to make acquaintance with the language and the people. The Rev. G. S. Winter continues at York; the Rev. T. Vincent, upon whom the Bishop has conferred the title of Archdeacon of Moose, at Albany; and the Rev. J. Sanders (an Ojibbeway Indian), at Matawakumma.

Prior to Bishop Horden's return, Mr. Vincent was in charge at Moose. There had been a good deal of sickness, and several Indians had died; "but," he writes, "for all, death had lost its terrors: they had found the Saviour, who was to them life, yea, eternal life." On arriving, the Bishop found a class of candidates ready for confirmation; and of these and some others he sends an interesting account:—

Red Indian confirmation candidates.

On August 27th, after due examination, I confirmed forty-five young Indian men and women, and subsequently three others, the whole of whom had been carefully prepared by Mr. Vincent. Except two, whose knowledge did not satisfy me, these were all the persons of the Indian congregation of a suitable age for confirmation. Our Indian congregation there is composed of the entire Indian population, excepting such as are attached to the English congregation. The conduct of the candidates at the time of the service was marked with deep solemnity, and I could not but feel assured that the prayer at the imposition of hands was, in many cases, fully realized.

Then, on Nov. 26th, I confirmed all the English-speaking young people, half-caste and Indian, between the ages of fifteen and twenty. There was not a single exception; and during the preparation for the rite, which extended over many weeks, scarcely one was ever absent from the class. They came, too, from many quarters—from Moose, Albany, New Post, Matawakumma, and East Main; all spoke English fluently; all could read their English Bibles; all were well acquainted with the Church Catechism; all appeared deeply impressed with the gravity of the step they were about to take—that it was something far deeper than making a mere formal promise they were required to take. The number was seventeen.

Another would have been present, but he had already "come to the company of just men made perfect." He was a young Indian, Benjamin Sutherland by name, who received his education at our Mission School. When old enough he entered the service of the Hudson's Bay Company, and was sent into the interior, whence he returned to Moose last summer in feeble health, and when I first saw him he was confined to his bed. There I confirmed him; there, too, I administered to him the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper; and within a few days, he passed away in peace, firmly believing that for him, individually, Christ had poured out His blood on Calvary.

Besides those confirmations, I held one at Albany on the last Sunday of the year, when I confirmed twenty-three candidates.

Ojibbeway and Cree translations.

During the winter, the Bishop was busily engaged upon Ojibbeway translations, particularly the Acts of the Apostles. He was assisted by the Rev. J. Sanders, who has already himself rendered the Peep of Day into his mother-tongue. At the same time, Mr. Vincent was preparing a Cree version of the Pilgrim's Progress. "All," writes the Bishop, "is activity; every one is at work; all feel how necessary it is to work while it is still called to-day."

Of the Christian Indians at ALBANY, Archdeacon Vincent writes thankfully and hopefully. He has also visited Rupert's House, where he met the Mistasinnie and Nitchequan Indians from the far east of the diocese:—

> These parties had come from their distant homes to get their supplies from the coast. Most wished to talk to me of their difficulties and trials, and to receive a word of counsel and encouragement.
>
> This interesting people are now scattered over a large extent of country; some distant from me at least 800 miles, where there is neither church nor house. Yet, I believe, that day after day, prayer and praise ascend from many a wigwam to our common Father and our loving Saviour. What has the Gospel not done for these poor people, when it has brought to the hearts and homes of so many that joy and peace which passeth all understanding!

Prayer and praise in Indian wigwams.

Books in Ojibbeway.

Mr. Sanders, of Matawakumma, sends a full account of his journeys up and down the southern districts of the diocese. He has now four books in Ojibbeway, viz. St. Matthew's Gospel, a hymn-book, a catechism of Bible history, the Prayer-book nearly complete, and a hymn-book with 100 hymns. "Nearly all our people at Matawakumma and Flying Post can read, and like their books well, especially the hymn-book, as they are very fond of singing."

How Red Indian Christians live and die.

The Rev. G. S. Winter sends a report not less pleasing, of YORK, and of its out-stations, Churchill and Severn. Everywhere the Red Indian who has once received the Gospel manifests the power of it in his life. At York, one of the Samatawa tribe (who were the last to forsake heathenism) died during the year; and the record is that "his was a most triumphant departure." Mr. Winter was not able to visit Severn last year; but Mr. Mowat, the Hudson's Bay Company's officer in charge there, came to York, and reported that "whenever the Indians come to the fort, almost the first thing they do is to enter God's house; and after that they have service morning and evening."

The Rev. E. J. Peck's report on the ESKIMO Mission is as full as ever of joyful thankfulness and fervent hope. It is dated July last year, and in the twelve months previous he had baptized 19 adults and 10 children. The whole number of adult Eskimo baptized up to that date was 64, and of children 40; and there were 40 catechumens, making 144 Christian adherents, the fruit of his five years' labours. Two had died "with a firm trust in the Saviour." One unbaptized Eskimo, named Tettikgak, who heard the Gospel four years ago, returned to his hunting-grounds 800 miles off; and it has since transpired that through his instrumentality many of his people are leaving their heathen customs, and desire Christian instruction. No wonder Mr. Peck commences his Annual Letter with words like these—"The past year has again brought to light tokens of God's power and loving-kindness amongst the Eskimo." Eskimo converts.

Western Division: Diocese of Saskatchewan.

THE Diocese of Saskatchewan is, speaking roughly, 700 miles square, and comprises an area of nearly half a million of square miles. When the Bishopric was founded in 1874, this vast country was peopled by some 30,000 heathen Indians, a small number relatively to the extent of territory occupied, but larger than that of the Indian population in the other dioceses of the North-West put together. There were a few small settlements of white people; but there was not a single missionary in the Saskatchewan territory proper, though there was one on English River, in a remote corner of the diocese. "There were," as the energetic Bishop, Dr. McLeah, lately said, "no endowments, no missionaries, no churches; everything had to be begun as far as the Church of England is concerned." Nine years' progress in the Diocese of Saskatchewan.

These words are quoted from the Bishop's address at the first meeting of his Diocesan Synod on August 31st last year, when he was able to report that he had sixteen clergymen on his list, of whom eight were C.M.S. men, six S.P.G., and two supported by private contributions. The eight of the C.M.S. were the Revs. Canon J. A. Mackay, J. Hines, T. A. Clarke, S. Trivett, J. Settee, J. Sinclair, and D.

Stranger, together with the Rev. D. J. S. Hunt, who was expecting to go out last autumn, but has been prevented by the illness of his wife. While these sheets are passing through the press, however, one of this year's Islington men has started in his stead, so that the number of eight will be kept up. Of the seven above named, Mr. Settee, Mr. Sinclair, and Mr. Stranger, are Indians; and Mr. Mackay also is a native of the country, though of Scotch descent.

Work of Bishop McLean.

Meanwhile, immigrants are pouring into the Saskatchewan territory; and the Fertile Belt, as a large part of it is called, promises to become in a few years the home of a mighty people. To provide for their spiritual wants is not the work of the C.M.S.; but the Committee rejoice that other societies are able in some degree to supply the need, and that their indefatigable friend, Bishop McLean, has been enabled to do so much for the development of the Church of England in the country during the last seven years. But it is of the greatest importance that the Indians should be brought at least under Christian ministrations before the tide of immigration fills the land; and this Society may thank God for the part it is permitted to take in spreading the Gospel amongst them.

The first principal C.M.S. station as we leave the eastern boundary of the Diocese and move westward is PRINCE ALBERT, on the North Saskatchewan river, a little above the confluence of the two great branches. Here the Bishop resides; and here are located the Rev. Canon J. A. Mackay and the Rev. J. Settee. The latter venerable Indian brother,

An aged Red Indian clergyman.

—who writes, "Give my Christian love to the Committee, and tell them I am now an old man, having served the beloved Society now 52 years,"—has charge of the Cree congregations at South Branch and Nepowewin, comprising together 344 baptized native Christians, of whom 110 are communicants. The latter district, including Sturgeon Lake, has been dignified by the Bishop with the title of a rural deanery, and Mr. Settee is the first rural dean. Mr. Mackay acts as Secretary of the Society's Saskatchewan Mission, and is also Cree tutor in Emmanuel College, the training institution for the Diocese. This college, though quite in its infancy, has thirty students; twelve in the college classes, and the remainder in the collegiate school. Six students have been ordained since it was opened, and five others are employed as catechists and schoolmasters. The Society maintains four Indian students in the college, and that number have been sent out into mission work during the past year, one of them being the Rev. D. Stranger. Mr. Mackay is also engaged in linguistic work, both in Cree and Sioux. In the former tongue he has prepared a volume of family prayers, of which 4000 copies have been printed by the S.P.C.K. for the use of Indian families.

At BATTLEFORD, higher up the north river, is stationed the Rev. T. A. Clarke. There are 230 Christian adherents connected with this post, of whom 80 belong to the Mikisiwuchee Reserve, a fruitful field mentioned in former Reports. A local newspaper, the Prince Albert Times and Saskatchewan Review, in its issue of December 27th last, has the following account of the Indians of the neighbourhood:—

Work at Indian reserves.

Six Indian reserves have been located and surveyed in the neighbourhood. These are inhabited by the Cree and Stoney Indians, who are cultivating their farms extensively, and have made for themselves comfortable homes, through the liberality of the Dominion Government, which assists them largely in every way. As an instance of the progress they are making in farming pursuits, we may mention that one of them at Eagle Hills has raised this summer 630 bushels of grain, and about 200 bushels of potatoes. There are about 450 of the latter, and 800 Crees. Schools have been established on three of the aforesaid reserves, under the auspices of the Church Missionary Society of England. The native children exhibit a great aptitude for acquiring knowledge, and it is gratifying to see the wonderful progress they have made in the various subjects taught them. The Rev. T. A. Clarke superintends the schools, visits the reserves alternately, on Sundays, and conducts an English service in Battleford every Sunday evening. He has been greatly encouraged in the work, by the success which has attended his humble efforts to disseminate the glorious Gospel amongst the aboriginal tribes. Although a noble work has been achieved by the Church, yet the majority of the Indians are still heathen, and much still remains to be done.

In the still wild country north of Prince Albert and Battleford is the station of ASISIPPI, which owes its existence to the untiring labours of the Rev. John Hines. Mr. Hines was on a visit to this country during a large part of the year, and the newly ordained Native clergyman, the Rev. D. Stranger, has been in charge. There are 159 Christian adherents, of whom 85 are communicants.

Nearly 200 miles to the north-east of Prince Albert, as the crow flies, is STANLEY, on English River, which is almost at the point where the three dioceses of Rupert's Land, Saskatchewan, and Athabasca join. There are here, and at the out-stations of Pelican Lake and Lac la Ronge, 550 baptized Indian Christians, of whom 140 are communicants. The Rev. John Sinclair, a Cree Indian trained at Emmanuel College, is the pastor. In June last year the Bishop and Canon Mackay visited this station, the journey thither, by boat, occupying a fortnight. At Stanley, 75 converts were confirmed, and 19 at Pelican Narrows. Of the former the Bishop writes:—

Confirmation candidates at Stanley.

June 13th. — Confirmation service, when I confirmed sixty-nine candidates. I asked a number of questions on the main truths of the Gospel, and was much pleased with the answers I received from the candidates. I was satisfied that Mr. Sinclair had trained them carefully. After the Confirmation I addressed them on the nature of the promises they had so solemnly made before God and the congregation.

In the evening a meeting was held in the school-house for the election of a vestry and other business. It was stated that the people had contributed about $50 (10*l.* sterling) in offertories during the past year, besides erecting a fence round the church and churchyard, valued at $50, and supplying the firewood and all the work in cleaning and taking care of the church.

June 14th.—Service was held in the church at 10.30 a.m. There was a second Confirmation service for the benefit of some who could not attend yesterday. On this occasion six were confirmed. I addressed the candidates, and then Canon Mackay preached to the congregation, after which Holy Communion was administered. There were one hundred and one communicants besides the clergy. The value of the offertory was $15, or about 3*l.* sterling. It was chiefly in promises to pay furs, written on slips of paper in the Cree syllabic language.

After service, an old, venerable-looking Indian was brought to me by Mr. Sinclair. He shed tears while he spoke of the delight with which he had joined in the services of the last two days, and his hope that we should all meet again in heaven. I spoke to him about God's love in Christ Jesus to us poor sinners. He was deeply affected.

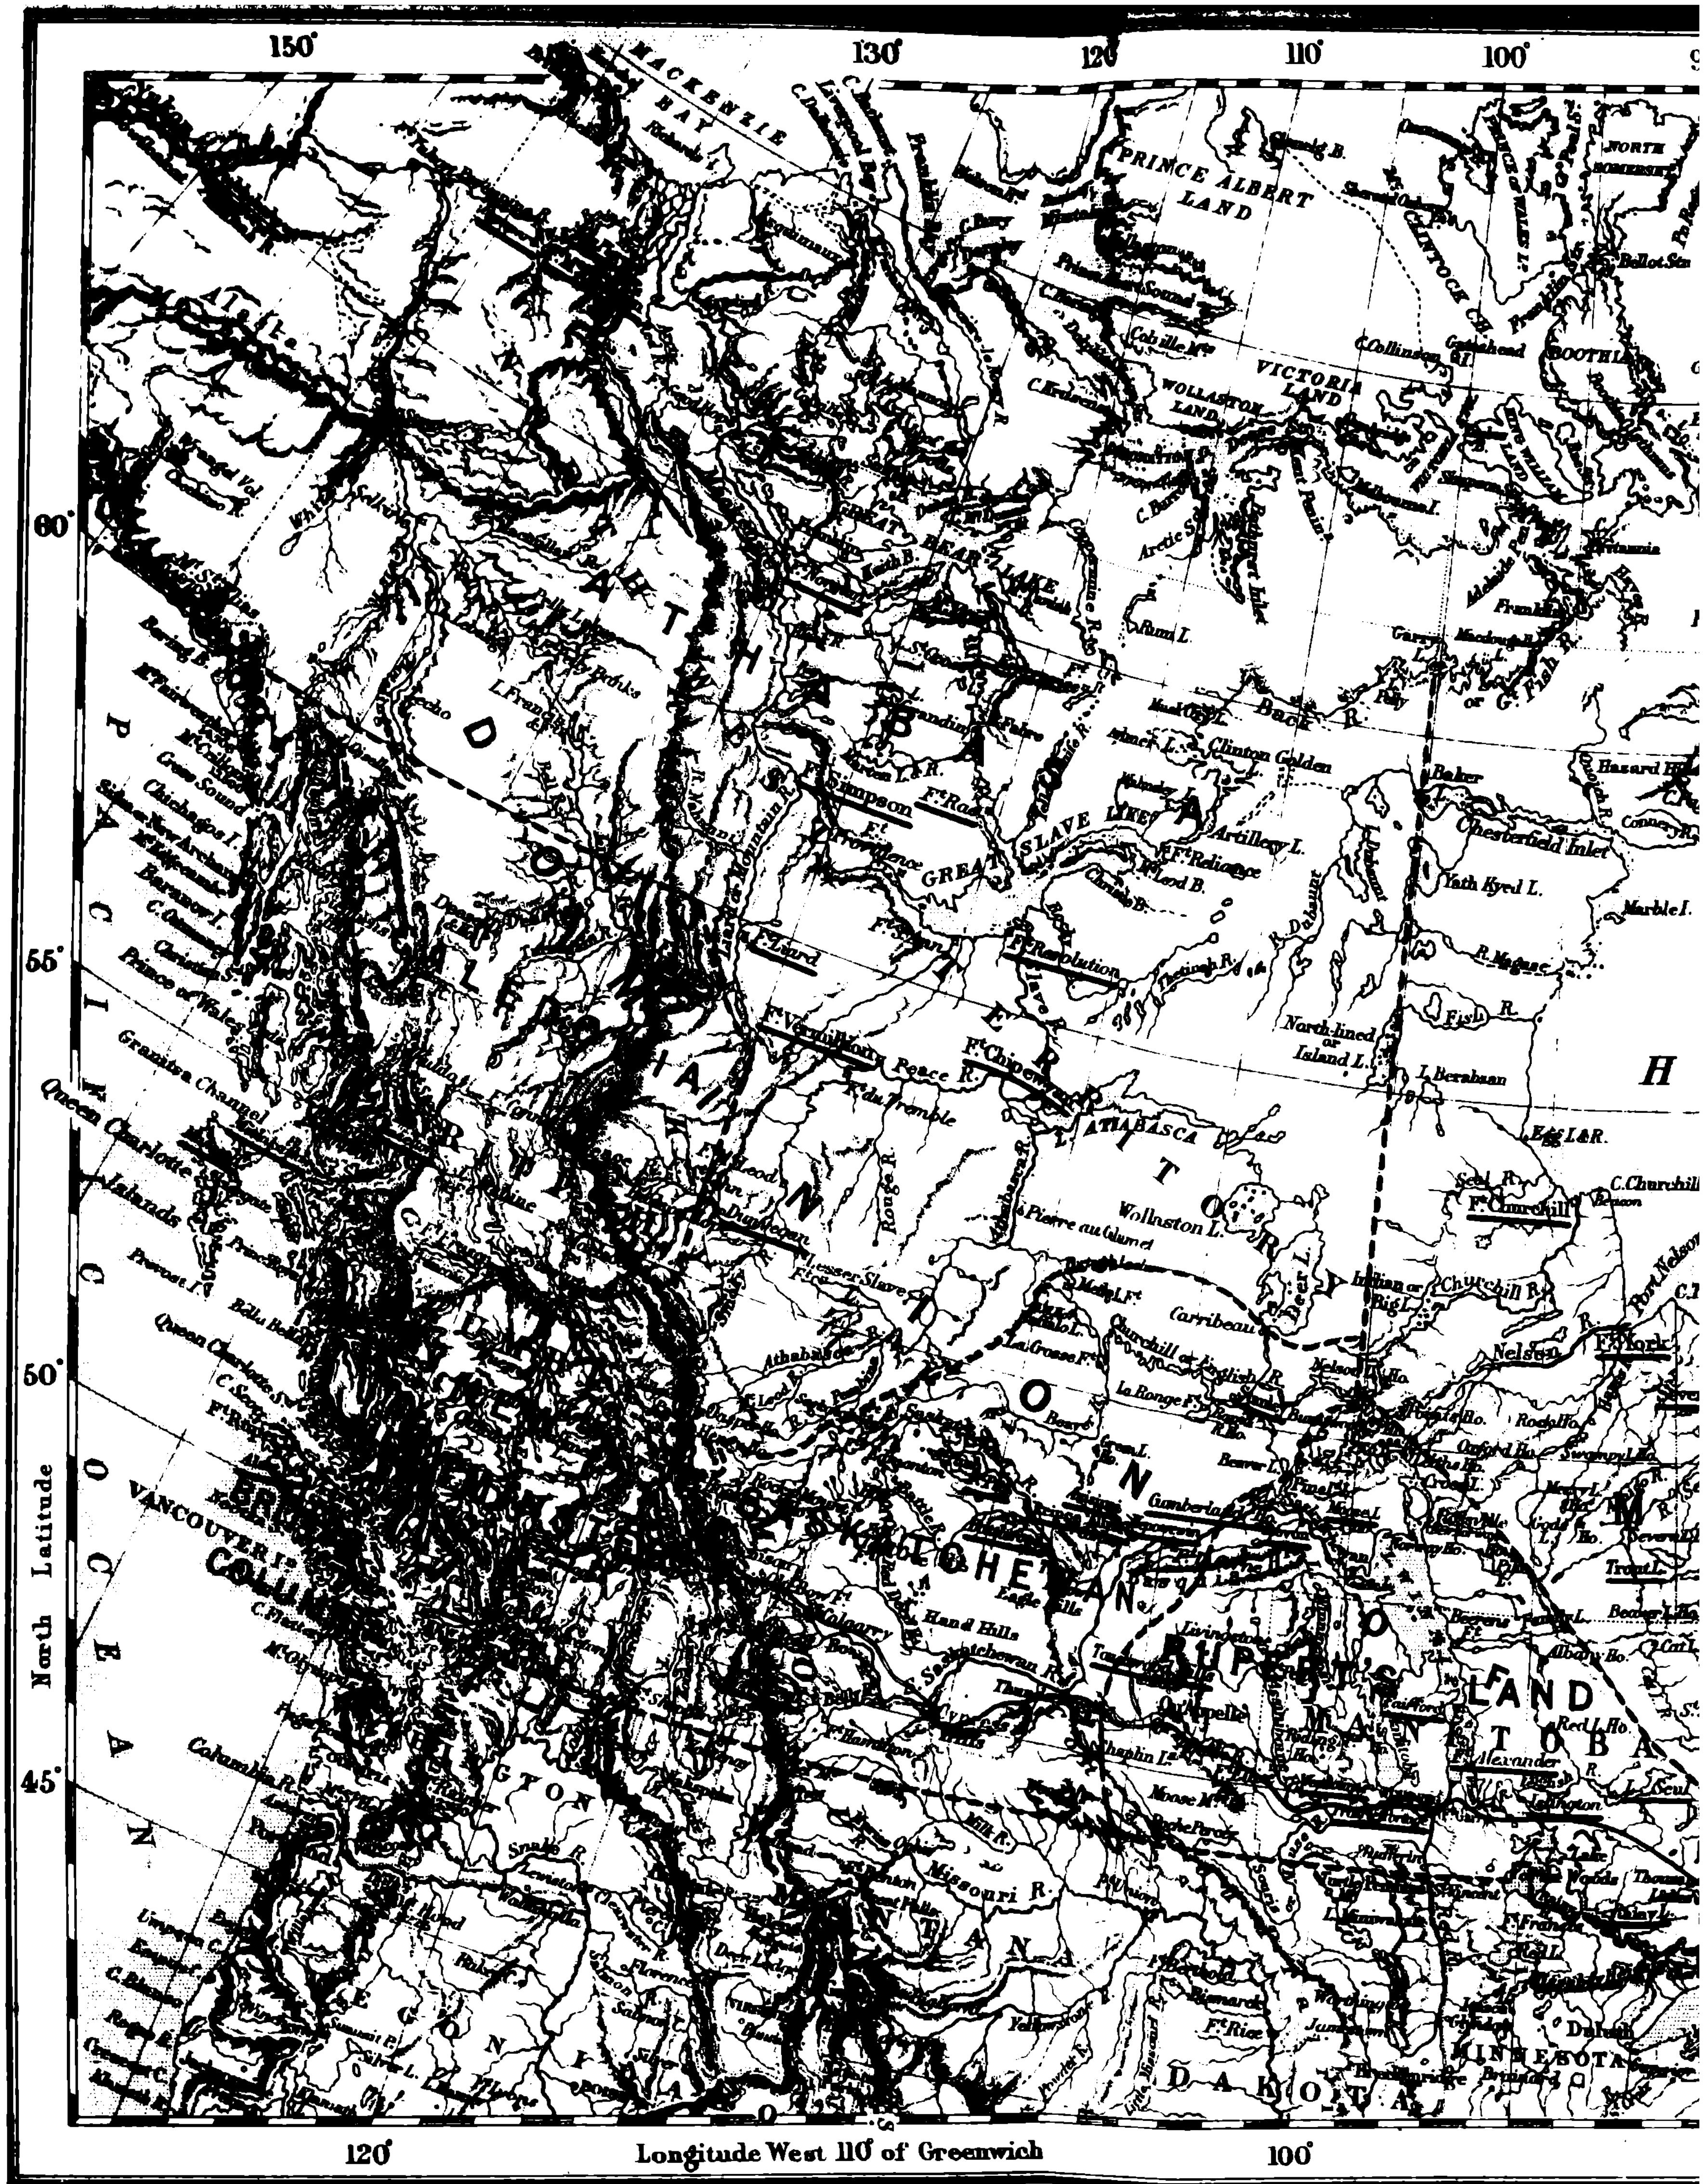

The new Blackfoot Mission.

The remaining C.M.S. station is Fort Macleod, in the extreme south-west corner of the diocese, on a branch of the South Saskatchewan, almost at the foot of the Rocky Mountains, and more than 400 miles, as the crow flies, from Prince Albert. Near Fort Macleod is a large reserve for the Blood Indians, a branch of the great Blackfoot nation, and among them the Rev. Samuel Trivett is earnestly labouring. He has also visited the Crees at Cypress Hills, 125 miles to the east, and the Blackfeet proper on Bow River, nearly 100 miles to the north. It is for work among these latter that an additional missionary is now being sent out.

upon the Mackenzie River, in Oct., 1881, proceeding northwards to Fort Norman. He was for some days and nights "carried about like a cockle-shell" among the drifting ice, but through God's mercy reached the Fort in safety. There he passed the winter with Mrs. Bompas. In the early spring he was again among the drift ice, moving on to Fort Good Hope, on the Arctic Circle. Thence he returned southwards up the Mackenzie to Fort Norman, Fort Simpson, Great Slave Lake, and Fort Chipewyan, a distance of nearly 1000 miles as the crow flies, and probably double that by the river. At the last-named place, on Aug. 19th, arrived the Rev. T. Canham and Mr. J. G. Brick, the former of whom had been sent out from England for the Mission among the Eskimo of the Mackenzie, and the latter, an ex-Wesleyan minister, had come from Canada to join the Bishop of Athabasca. Thence the Bishop ascended Peace River to Dunvegan, towards the extreme south-west corner of his enormous diocese, where, he writes, "We shall ere long be within three weeks of a railway, and within a fortnight of a telegraph station." There he placed Mr. Brick, ordaining him deacon and giving him charge of the district. In the depth of winter he returned to Fort Chipewyan, on Athabasca Lake, and thence are dated his last letters, on March 2nd. He was about starting for the far North, intending to be absent for two or three years, visiting the Tukudh and other remote Missions. In view of these never-ending and immense journeys, he now desires a division of the Diocese, especially in view of a probable speedy and considerable immigration into the Peace River territories, which are suitable for farming operations. The time for this further step in the Church organization of British North America seems hardly yet to have come; but it is not far off, and the Committee look to Him who has so marvellously blessed similar plans in the past to the extension of His spiritual kingdom, to indicate both the hour and the man. The Bishop's words, however, may be quoted:—

Bishop Bompas's journeys.

The future of Peace River.

> The valley of the Peace River is now much spoken of outside as desirable for colonization, and a few Canadian families have already arrived there as pioneers. The river acquired its name when the contending tribes of Indians were persuaded, about a century since, to bury their weapons of war at Peace Point, and since then the land has been one of quiet and tranquillity. Do not these now harmless savages shame the Christian nations of Europe ever prone to war? Where shall the pit be found deep enough to bury their bristling armaments?
> Our efforts are however directed to win Peace River as part of the dominions of the Prince of peace, and in this respect too we have an advantage in this country, that there is no opposition to the Christian message, except as to the divisions of Protestants and Catholics; so that when we are able to plant a Mission, and station a Mission agent, in any new district, we are able in some sense to hold possession of the country in the name of our Sovereign Saviour without any one opposing or gainsaying his sway.

The only drawback is that the great extent of the country renders my own superintendence of the Missions rather superficial, for the diocese is about 3000 miles long; but if the zeal and affection of friends at home would provide an additional bishop for Peace River, then I think the whole diocese, as large as half Europe, might be viewed as nominally at least a Christian country, an end that I should say it were worth an effort to accomplish.

Meanwhile it is a relief to the mind bewildered by the accounts of Bishop Bompas's unparalleled episcopal travels, to come upon the following sentences in the same letter:—

Rest and trust in journeyings oft.

This land of retirement and rest offers considerable attraction to a contemplative and sedate mind; and if grace is given in heart and mind to ascend and dwell above, the turmoil of earth is so far removed that the rest of heaven may almost be begun below; while our constant dependence on our Heavenly Father's care and providence makes this life a good school for trust, and the scarcity of food and hunger impresses the truth that man shall not live on bread alone, nor his mind be fed alone by the giddiness of worldly gaieties, "but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord shall man live."

Plans for Athabasca.

The Society's friends are aware that hitherto the whole work of the Diocese of Athabasca has been maintained by C.M.S. funds. A fixed general grant, however, has now been agreed upon, in addition to the stipend of the Bishop, and of such of the agents as are missionaries sent out from England; and this sum the Bishop hopes to supplement by other funds raised in England and Canada, and to a small extent even in the Diocese itself. The stations at present occupied, and the missionaries, are as follows:—

Fort Chipewyan, on Athabasca Lake. Rev. W. D. Reeve, who is Financial Secretary of the Mission.

Fort Vermillion, on Peace River. Rev. A. C. Garrioch.

Dunvegan, also on Peace River. Rev. J. G. Brick.

Fort Resolution, on Great Slave Lake. Mr. J. W. Garton.

Fort Rae, also on Great Slave Lake.

Fort Simpson, on Mackenzie River. Rev. W. Spendlove.

Fort Norman, on Mackenzie River.

Fort McPherson, on Peel River. Rev. T. H. Canham.

Rampart House, on Porcupine River. Rev. V. C. Sim.

Messrs. Reeve, Spendlove, Canham, and Sim are missionaries of the Society sent out from England. Mr. Garton also was from this country. The rest, and other lay agents not named, are from Manitoba or Canada. To the list of C.M.S. missionaries, however, must be added the name of Archdeacon R. McDonald. For some years he has been in the extreme north, working the Tukudh Mission; but being now in weak health, and having valuable MS. translations which no living man but himself can pass through the press, he has left his remote post and come south, intending to reach Winnipeg and thence come over to England. But he spent last winter at Fort Chipewyan, finding at the time no means of transport to bring him further. He writes thence on Dec. 30th that he has rendered the whole New Testament, and the greater part of the Prayer-Book, into the Tukudh language.

Tukudh translations.

No complete returns of the Athabasca Mission have been received since the Bishop, three or four years ago, stated the number of Christian Indians as 3000, of whom one half were of the Tukudh tribe in the extreme north. An extract from Mr. Sim's letter may be given, describing his arrival at the headquarters of this latter always interesting Mission, Rampart House, on the borders of Alaska. It is dated Dec. 17th, 1881 :—

Cheering account of Tukudh Indians.

There were a good number of Indians here when we arrived, so there was plenty of hand-shaking to be done and lots of visitors to be received. Prayers were held every evening while the Indians remained, and they are generally conducted when any number of people are assembled here. My first and chief work since my arrival has been to acquire the language. The Company's interpreter gives me lessons, and I find Mr. McDonald's translations a great help.

There is plenty to be done here. School daily for the Indian and half-breed children at the Fort, and teaching the Indians when they come in. They do this very often; and sometimes when they are here I am occupied from morning to night in teaching them. They will come before breakfast, and frequently just when I have been going to bed more have come wanting to be taught. It is wonderful the desire of the people to learn. It was only last winter they received their books, and already numbers of them can read, some of them really very well. Frequently when I go into their lodges I find them poring over their books, and the children often seem as eager to learn as the adults. Of course all are not equally earnest and desirous to be taught: there are some who, while regular in their attendance at prayers, and attentive to the instruction given them, yet afford but little ground to the missionary for much hope as to their present spiritual condition. But perhaps such cases are allowed to be in order to humble us and make us feel our need more of the aid of God's Holy Spirit. May He indeed pour out that same blessed Spirit in a still more abundant measure upon this people!

At the invitation of the chief I spent last week with a large band of Indians, camped about a day from the Fort. It was the first time I have visited the Indians in the woods, and I was much cheered and encouraged by what I saw. Morning and evening we met for prayers, and almost the whole day I was occupied in teaching from lodge to lodge. Everywhere I was gladly received, and the people were exceedingly kind.

NORTH PACIFIC MISSION.

(Commenced 1857.)

Metlakahtla, 1862; Kincolith, 1867; Queen Charlotte's Islands 1876; Hazelton, 1880; Alert Bay, 1881.

Trials at Metlakahtla.

AFFAIRS at METLAKAHTLA have continued to give the Committee deep concern. In the last Annual Report they related the circumstances which have led to the separation from the Society, and from the Church of England, of Mr. Duncan and the majority of the Indians settled at Metlakahtla village. A minority of about one hundred souls, comprising, as the Committee are assured, most of the chiefs and the most intelligent Christians of the community, still cleave to the Society as represented by Bishop Ridley and the Rev. W. H. Collison. The seceders have found an ally in Bishop Cridge, of the "Reformed Episcopal Church," who has been to the settlement to support Mr. Duncan, and has baptized a large number of his unbaptized adherents.

The Committee have been hoping that although the division at Metlakahtla appears now (for the time) to be irreparable, the two Christian communities might live side by side in peace and mutual respect. But this hope unhappily has not so far been realized. The minority have been placed in a very trying position, and the friendly toleration which they might fairly have expected from their brethren has not been extended to them. At length, in January last, the difficulties came to what seemed likely to be a serious crisis. Disputes had arisen regarding certain buildings, particularly the schoolroom, which is the Society's property but built on the Indian "reserve," and other buildings standing on the Society's land but claimed (it is said wrongly) by Mr. Duncan's party. The Government at Victoria were appealed to, and the result was that Bishop Ridley was authorized to use the schoolroom for services as he desired (the church has all along been retained by Mr. Duncan, and the missionaries excluded from it). Apparently the attempt thus to use the school led to very violent and unwarrantable acts by Mr. Duncan's party. His Indians pulled down by force the buildings claimed by them on the Society's land; but they seem to have shrunk from carrying out their expressed intention of destroying the school also. For some days the settlement was in a very serious state; but Bishop Ridley and Mr. Collison succeeded in preventing the loyal Christians from forcibly resisting these riotous proceedings, and by God's mercy the dreaded conflict was averted. Since then, there has been outward tranquillity; but it may possibly prove to be for the best interests of the Society's adherents, as well as for the interests of peace, to afford facilities for their removal to a new settlement.

The Committee have received letters from the larger section of the Metlakahtla Christians, in reply to a communication which had been addressed to them explaining the Society's action and expressing the Committee's earnest wish that the way might be opened for their return to the fellowship of the Church. These letters, which are written by a teacher of mixed descent formerly in the Society's service, who is well acquainted with English, contain unmistakable evidences of the misleading statements by which so large a body of professing Christians have been induced to separate from the Society and from the Church of England. A reply has been sent, correcting some misconceptions, and conveying the cordial good wishes of the Committee. There does not seem to be any present prospect of winning back the disaffected party; but the Committee do not forget that a similar division in Tinnevelly fifty years ago resulted ultimately in the return of all who had separated themselves. They commit Metlakahtla and all its people to His care unto whom all hearts are open, all desires known, praising Him for the manifestations of His quickening and converting grace in the past,—especially for the converts who have departed this life in His faith and fear, and thus were taken away from the evil to come,—and praying that He will enable all the Indian Christians, if not to resume their outward union, yet to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

The Society's staff, under the Bishop, now consists of five clergymen and one lay agent. The Revs. T. Dunn and C. Harrison have been sent out during the year; and Mr. Woods has been engaged on the spot. On the other hand, the Committee regret to say that the Rev. R. Tomlinson has joined Mr. Duncan; and Mr. Sneath has also left the Mission. Mr. Collison is with the Bishop at Metlakahtla; Mr. Dunn at Kincolith on the Nass River; Mr. Harrison at Massett in Queen Charlotte's Islands; and Mr. Woods at Hazelton, in the interior. At this latter station, also, the Rev. W. G. Faulconer has continued; and the Rev. A. J. Hall at Alert Bay in Vancouver's Island.

Of the congregation at KINCOLITH, comprising 210 baptized Indians, Mr. Dunn, after his first welcome, which was a hearty one, felt compelled to write unfavourably. He is not a novice in missionary work, nor is this the first mission-field he has seen. His previous experience in Ceylon give his opinions additional weight. And he expresses his clear conviction that, in the past, the spiritual interests of the Indian adherents of the Mission had been too much subordinated to the temporal; and that those characteristic features of Metlakahtla and Kincolith which have most impressed visitors, and have drawn so much public attention to the work, have been, however good in themselves, the causes of defect in a spiritual sense. His later communications, however, are much more encouraging; particularly his account, dated April 20th last, of a recent confirmation at Kincolith—the first which Bishop Ridley has been able to hold since his arrival in the Diocese. The letter also throws light upon some of the difficulties which have troubled the Society on the coast:—

Bishop Ridley's first confirmation.

> The Bishop visited us at the beginning of March; and on Friday evening, the 9th, he confirmed 25 persons, 13 women and 12 men. This, I believe, was the Bishop's first Confirmation since he came to the diocese. Many held back who, I hoped, would have come forward. They were afraid to take the step; some, I fear, lest it should displease Mr. Duncan and Mr. Tomlinson, and others because it was a new thing to them. However, after it was over, several came to me to offer themselves as candidates for the next Confirmation. Our next step is the Holy Communion, for which I am gradually preparing them.
> Another duty which they have still to be taught is the duty of giving of their substance and their labour for the service of God. We have not as yet had a collection in church. Mr. Duncan, it seems, has told his people at Metlakatla that that is the first thing which will be brought forward by us if they allow us to introduce the Lord's Supper. Some of our people asked me a short time ago, if it was true that they would be asked to give money, and whether the people in England did so. I told them if the people in England had not done so, they (the Indians) would still have been heathens, as it was the money collected in England which enabled the Church Missionary Society to send out missionaries; and I further told them that, according to God's Word, it was clearly the duty of every Christian to help to send the Gospel to those who were still in darkness.

Now I have found that when the Christians here have read for themselves and clearly understand that any duty is taught in the Word of God, they always accept that duty. They have great reverence for God's Word, and if at any time I tell them that they ought to do so and so, or they ought not to do so and so, they ask, "Does the Bible say that?" I answer it does. Then they want to have it pointed out to them. When they have fully satisfied themselves that it is there, they make no further objections. One of the men who most strenuously opposed the introduction of the Lord's Supper asked me to mark the passages in the Bible where the Lord's Supper was mentioned. I did so, and after several days he came to me and said that he now saw that he was wrong. He was not going to fight against God's Word any more, and would be willing to come to the Lord's Supper when it was introduced. He had gone to every one who had the least knowledge of English, and had gradually made out the meaning of the verses, and then his scruples were gone. He is one of our most intelligent Christians.

I am thankful to say that many are now evincing signs of a greater desire for a closer walk with God. All these things are encouragements amidst the many discouragements.

On the Skeena, at and near HAZELTON, a new settlement at the forks of that river, Mr. Faulconer and Mr. Woods have carried on the work begun with so much zeal by the Bishop himself, during the winters of 1879-80 and 1880-81, among the Kitikshean tribes. The former is assisted by J. T. Wade, one of the first six of this tribe baptized two years ago, who, young convert as he is, is described by the Bishop as more advanced than any other Indian in the Diocese.

MASSETT, in Queen Charlotte's Islands, is the place first occupied by Mr. Collison six years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison arrived there on March 31st of this year, and were cordially welcomed by the Hydahs. He has begun daily school and Sunday services; and the latter are attended by seventy Natives, men, women and children, "who seem to take an interest in the Saviour's message."

First Kwagûtl converts.

The Committee rejoice to say that the Kwagûtl Mission (now so spelt) at ALERT BAY has received the first droppings of the shower of blessing so earnestly looked for in Mr. Hall's letter printed in last year's Annual Report. The first two converts have been baptized, youths who gave good evidences of a true change of heart, and were not afraid to confess Christ before men. One of these, named Wâmis, was admitted to the Church on earth only just before he joined the Church in heaven; but the other remains, and is faithful despite much opposition from his people. Of the latter Mr. Hall writes, on Jan. 21st of this year:—

At our morning service to-day we baptized our second convert, and this evening he spoke in the school of the love of God from John iii. 16. He was the most prominent boy in our school at Fort Rupert, and on one occasion at a feast, when our work was being derided, he stood up and manfully defended me. He cried while he said, "I love Mr. Hall, and I love the school, and I shall never love your ways." This was singular for a boy of fifteen. After we came to Alert Bay, he sent a letter, asking me to let him come and live in my house. He came to us in November, 1881, and I sent him to spend the winter at Metlakatla. Last March on his return here a party came from Fort Rupert to take him back. He refused to go, and told his friends that if they troubled him, he would go to Victoria and never return.

For one year he has given great satisfaction as a catechumen, often engaging in prayer at our meetings, and assisting me in the day-school. We ask for your prayers on his behalf.

The Committee unfeignedly thank God for these seals to the zealous and patient labours of Mr. and Mrs. Hall at their isolated station: and they would earnestly emphasize the request in the letter just quoted for the prayers of God's people at home. There is a Divine and gracious purpose, it cannot be doubted, for these long-neglected tribes of British Columbia.

CONCLUSION.

Gravity of the Society's work.

THUS, all round the world, the Society's work goes on and prospers. And this despite much human infirmity, and many experiences of the malice and power of the great Enemy. Week after week throughout the year letters are coming in to Salisbury Square from all parts of the world, and few mails arrive without bringing before the Committee cases of perplexity and anxiety—many of them, indeed, but small matters, yet each in its own measure calling for wise and gentle handling, and in the aggregate involving many long hours of prayerful deliberation. If an inspired Apostle could crown his enumeration of trials and sufferings with an allusion to "that which came upon him daily, the care of all the Churches," and continually ask for the intercessions of his converts, may not a modern Committee, with its deeply-felt weakness, beg the sympathy and prayers of friends in the responsible task committed to it in so many parts of the world?

Request for prayer.

The principal causes of anxiety in the past year have been noticed in their proper places. One harmful result of trials such as those in connexion with Metlakahtla, the Niger, and Japan, is that they always loom large in the public eye, and tend to divert attention from the far more extensive branches of the work where quiet progress is undisturbed by divisions and dissensions. But while the Committee desire to be reminded by every disappointment of the unworthiness and imperfection of all human agency, and to be humbled by the thought of how much more thoroughly and rapidly God's work might be done if those who have the high privilege of doing it were more united in faith and love, they are led all the more to see that it is the Lord's right hand and His holy arm alone that hath gotten Him the victory. For the victory is not doubtful. The heathen may rage, and the people imagine a vain thing. The kings of the earth may set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord, and against His anointed. But the immutable decree has gone forth, "Yet have I set My King upon My holy hill of Zion." "Ask of Me," says the Lord Jehovah to His royal Son, "and I shall give Thee the heathen for Thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for Thy possession." And when the day comes for that great promise to be fulfilled before a wondering universe, then,

Human failures remind us that the work is God's;

and His victory is sure.

from the lips of thousands whose hearts have often been saddened in their work on earth by the infirmities of men and the wiles of the devil, will rise up the cry put into the mouths of all friends of the Church Missionary Society on this First Day of May, "Who is so great a God as our God?" (Text in C.M. Almanack, May 1, 1883.)

But each of us may take his part;

In the meanwhile, let each take the part allotted to him, however lowly it be, in the great work of hastening on that glorious day. The Committee would earnestly and affectionately call upon all who are associated with them—not only their missionary brethren and sisters abroad—not only the secretaries and treasurers at home—but the little child with its missionary box and the poor widow with her mite to drop into it—to give themselves with greater earnestness to His service who loved them and gave Himself for them. Truly the Lord hath need of them, and of all they can do. Wonderful as has been the growth of the Society and its Missions in the past, it is impossible to look out upon the vast populations of Africa and the East, of India and China and Japan, and to see the doors everywhere standing wide open, without the deep conviction that it is as yet only on the borders of the great harvest field. At this present moment, taking station by station, there would be required, merely to impart a fair efficiency to existing work, and to follow out the natural development of that work in obedience to the apparent calls of God's providence, at least one hundred additional missionaries. There is therefore work for all to do. And it is work, as all who have engaged in it know, which speedily brings its own reward. As tidings come in from one quarter and another of new fields opening, new enterprises begun, new stations established; of minds influenced, hearts touched, souls saved; of idol temples falling and Christian churches rising in their stead; of all the building, fitly framed together, growing unto an holy temple in the Lord;—he who has taken his little share in the work will rejoice and be glad, and his joy no man taketh from him. He will find human weakness marring many a fair scheme; unforeseen obstacles will often present themselves in his path; but he will see that the Lord's work stops not for a moment, that the Lord's purposes are ripening fast; and again and again will burst from his lips that same triumphant and adoring cry, "Who is so great a God as our God?"

for there is work for all,

REPORT OF THE WALTER JONES FUND.

THIS Fund was established in 1873 by a gift from Mr. W. C. Jones of $100,000 American Bonds, the interest on which was to provide for such additional Native Agents, whether ordained or unordained, in their Africa, Palestine, India, and Mauritius Missions, as the Church Missionary Society might employ. The agents for 1882 remained for the most part as in previous years, but the Panjâb has been added to the list of Missions receiving grants. Few special details, however have been received at home, and we must refer to the pages of the preceding Report for general information. The agents in the Niger Mission are at work in Bonny, Brass, Akassa, Alenso, Onitsha, and Kipo Hill; in East Africa, at Frere Town, Rabai, and Giriama; in Palestine, at Salt, Nazareth, and Nablûs; in India, at Calcutta, Gorakpur, Azimgurh, Fyzabad, Lucknow, Benares, the Panjâb, and South India; and also in the Mauritius.

REPORT OF THE WILLIAM CHARLES JONES INDIA NATIVE CHURCH FUND.

THERE are now fifteen Native Church Councils in India receiving grants from this fund. As no special reports have been received either from the N.W. Provinces or the Punjab, readers must be referred to the pages of the Report proper (pp.89–121) for accounts of the work in those Missions.

MADRAS.

The fund supports a special agent in Madras, Mr. A. Nallatambi. Besides his general work in the districts, he visits the Hospital and Eye Infirmary. He concludes his report as follows :—

In the different places I visit, I find that the people, though a little indifferent in the beginning, soon become conscious of their sinful state, and listen with great attention to what I say concerning Jesus Christ. Those that have become Christians conduct themselves with propriety, and contribute to the Church as liberally as their means will allow. A few are anxious to become Christians, provided they could find means for maintenance, as they would have to give up their all on becoming Christians.

TINNEVELLY.

Copious reports have been supplied from all the districts subsidized by the fund. The difficulty in giving extracts from the Catechists' own statements is selection. Of Mengnanapuram, the pastor, the Rev. J. David, says :—

The good work aided by the Jones Fund, which was commenced in these parts in the year 1880, has been more or less successfully carried on without interruption for another year. The gospel of salvation is making progress amidst the opposition of enemies, and the prejudices of bigoted people long bred in superstition. During the year that has closed, 132 souls have joined us from among the heathen.

Many who put themselves under Christian instruction during the previous years, have been received into the Church by baptism, and a few of them have become communicants.

The catechists on the whole have discharged their duties satisfactorily. Three of them who seemed rather slack in their duty were brought to the notice of the Church Council and admonished. They all keep journals of their work, which are examined monthly, and remarks made upon them.

Of Palamcotta the pastor reports that the catechists paid no fewer than 2586 visits, and sold over 5000 Christian books and handbills.

A catechist writes :—

Earnestly seeking the help of God, I have conducted the important duty of preaching the Gospel in the twelve villages near Palamcotta, and eight villages adjacent to Murappanadu along the bank of the river. I endeavour in my preaching to set forth the chief truths of the Gospel, and to impress upon my hearers the fact that they are sinners and need pardon and salvation, that Jesus Christ alone has procured salvation for them by His sufferings and death on the cross, and He alone can impart it. Some people remain listening with tolerable attention, and, I believe, comprehend the main points of the subject set before them, frequently admitting their truth, but showing no disposition to lay them to heart. In my conversations with the higher classes, I find them generally disinclined to receive the statements I make about the truth of our holy religion.

There is a respectable heathen at Kottur so impressed with the truth of the Gospel that he is really desirous of embracing it openly, but his friends are hindering by various means. I feel sure he will one day confess himself a Christian.

Another says :—

A youth in Seval acknowledged with all his heart that he would seek to obtain remission of sins by Jesus Christ alone; but when he was asked to attend public worship he said he would first try and get his mother and brothers to join him, and so prevent unpleasant feelings on their part if he acted independently of them. In a short time he succeeded, and now attends the church in company with four members of his family. Besides these, five other persons in the same village, and ten in the adjoining village of Gobalasamudram, abandoning their heathen idol gods, have become the worshippers of the true God.

And another :—

The Word of the Lord does not at all return fruitless. God is gathering His sheep from out of the world in various quarters in different ways. Sometimes He chooses a certain individual, at other times He selects a whole house or two or a whole family. For instance, one family in Mathupatcheri, two in Naneikinaru, one in Puthur have been brought to the fold. Three individuals in Alantha have also joined the flock. K——, of Nareikinaru, having gathered religious and moral information from our handbills and tracts, expressed a desire to become a follower of Jesus Christ. His wife was altogether against his intention, then he began to teach her about Christ, then he began to call his sons by Christian names, and now he, his wife and children, and another family, his neighbours, are ready to be baptized. A young man, S—— by name, and about twenty-one years of age, was thoughtless about salvation till the simple truths of Christianity shone on his mind, and having a great desire to learn to read books for himself, he began immediately, and now he can read very fairly. His parents proposed to get him married, with the object of putting an end to his further thoughts about Christianity. But without agreeing to this proposal, he eagerly desired and has become a member of the Christian flock.

A colporteur on this fund has been appointed in the large heathen town of Tinnevelly, and religious books are sold in the great bazaar street, and thus the love of the Lord Jesus Christ is explained to all. As the words of his report run, "I have thus disposed of religious books 1646 copies, and of the Bible portions 154 copies for Rupees 36 : 6 : 11, and further I have personally preached to 6030 men."

In Dohnavur the agents are the same as last year, seven in number. They have worked about twenty-four days a month. Every day they have visited two or three villages, walking, on an average, about five miles, and have preached in several places daily to a number of about twenty-two persons. The following table will show the work done by the Dohnavur catechists during the year passed :—

	No. of villages visited.	No. of people preached to.	No. of books sold.
Moses	396	7,168	113
Andrew	352	9,271	310
Abraham Pillai . .	350	5,867	222
Gnanayutham . .	304	4,634	199
S. Simon . . .	302	3,142	39
Parangothi . . .	352	7,801	173
Nallamuttu . . .	284	6,140	260
Total . . .	2,340	44,023	1,316

Andrew says :—

In the commencement of my preaching it was impossible to enter without fear, into some villages, as I frequently met with men of blind zeal, who looked at me with anger, driving my hearers from listening to the Word of God. It was also difficult in some places to gather even a small crowd; and so I had often to preach to individuals, visiting them at the places where they reside. But now I am cordially received, and as soon as they see me come near, they assemble to hear the great truths of salvation. Their attention is very remarkable, for disputes are at once silenced by any earnest listener. Even the respectable men of higher class, who once despised the catechists and our holy religion, attend such gatherings and encourage me, saying, "Go on, catechist, your religion is so good it ought to be accepted by all of us."

Nallamutta says :—

On the 8th December last, I went to preach at Valleur, a large village, where a great festival was held in honour of Subramanian, the second son of Siva. The place in and around was filled with hundreds of people, who had come down from Travancore and from all parts of Tinnevelly. The Gospel was then preached in several places. Tracts and Scripture portions were sold, and abundant handbills were distributed gratis. The people were very glad to hear the good news of the Saviour, and some praised the Christian religion, expressing a disparaging opinion of their own religion. One said Christianity makes men good, wise, and bold. How wonderful is it to see ignorant, poor men, since they became Coristians, have been improving in many ways. They have also such boldness as publicly to argue for, and speak in assemblies in recommendation of their newly-accepted religion. Many others concurred with them, exclaiming that their own religion was very contemptible, and to be given up.

Moses, Catechist of South Dohnavur, gives the following account of his work :—

My circle is so thickly populated as to number about sixty-seven hamlets within four miles. I have been here working for about twenty-two years. The Word of God has been sown everywhere, and I can venture to say that there is not one who has not heard it. I know most of the people of the poor class who wish very much to become Christians, being thoroughly sick of devil-worship. Humanly speaking, many hundreds of them would have long ago embraced Christianity, had they not been hindered by the rich and influential men, who, being land-holders, do not allow others either to embrace our religion or to send their children to our schools.

M—— N——, an old man in one of the settlements, became a Christian. This was soon told to the landholder. He sent for the new Christian, who was asked to give a reason for the change of his religion. The old man was enabled by the grace of God to give him a very proper reason. He said, "Sir, the change I have made is for the better. I was a devil-dancer and served the devil all my life; but all was to no purpose. I feel sure that the Christian religion only is good and profitable to all men. This has made me a Christian. But I shall be obedient to you as I have been hitherto. I assure you that Christians or their religion do not teach us to disobey those who, like you, are our superiors.' This honest statement of the poor man made no impression upon the heart of the landholder, who reviled him with abusive language, and threatened that some calamity would befall him. Yet the good old man was firm in his faith, and remained a Christian until his death, which took place a few days after he joined us. When he was dying, he called his sons to his bedside and advised them to be steadfast in the profession of Christianity, and directed that his body after his death should be buried with Christian prayers by our catechist. He died in Christ, though unbaptized. His sons are still Christians, obeying the advice of their good father.

Copious and interesting reports have come in from Paneivilei from all the catechists. Space, however, does not allow of more than two quotations :—

I visited once some persons at Mangalacurichi who were once Christians, and who apostatized twenty years ago, and read them Jeremiah iii. 22, and Luke xv. 20. Comparing their miserable condition to that of the prodigal son and the lost sheep; I pointed out to them their ungratefulness and disobedience to their Creator. In the meantime the love of the Saviour in seeking sinners was clearly shown to them, and my conversation turned as follows :—"You are indifferent about your soul; you rather stick to the world and do not care about the world to come. Seek your Heavenly Father and the great Shepherd of mankind. He calls you. Listen to His voice, follow His statutes." Then they raised the objections, saying, "We are heinous sinners; how will He accept us? What benefits will He bestow if we seek Him?" Whereupon I told them, "He will save you from hell and from the wrath of God. He has fixed a day when He will judge all the people of the world, both the dead and the living; the wicked He will punish, and the righteous He will reward. Don't think your sins are heinous and therefore He will not pardon them. He will accept you as the prodigal son, and give you pardon and peace of mind. Believe in the Lord Jesus, who shed His blood for you." Convinced by my preaching, about fifteen of them have joined the Church and attend prayer regularly.

In Nallur, eight catechists are labouring against six in last report. The Pastor writes:—

The district is surrounded by heathen, Mohammedans and Romanists. There is not the least favourable tendency on the part of the two latter classes towards Christianity. We have our inquirers and converts from the former, who in general are favourably disposed. The Romanists are now strengthening and fortifying their position.

All the agents are unanimous in stating that educated Hindus hold the same views respecting the one God as Christians do; but the doctrine about the divinity of our Lord is the great stumbling-block to many. They have their own mediators in a sense, and could not accept Christ, as He was not one of themselves, or one by whom they received any of their religious teachings. They, nevertheless, express great admiration for the Bible and its moral teachings, but specially for the character of Christ as portrayed in the Gospels.

The agents have visited 2850 towns and villages, and preached to 46,000 people.

The Rev. D. Samuel, of Suviseshapuram, says:—

The agents sell tracts not only to the educated people, but also to the uneducated, who buy them at their hands and give them to their children to read for them. Some of them spend their leisure hours by thus listening to their children reading our Christian tracts. Sometimes when the preachers meet with those who are not able to read, they themselves read out to them one or two handbills, or a portion of a tract, and explain to them what they have read. Now and then they recite suitable texts of Scripture, and ask them to commit them to memory.

There are at present seven agents who have been set apart for this special work of this year; two of them being substituted for the two former agents: one in the place of Sargunan (catechist), who was ordained deacon at the beginning of the year, and another in the place of Vethakannu (catechist), of Parappadi circle, who departed this life a little before the middle of the year. The labour of the departed catechist of Parappadi circle is worth being recorded. Every one who knows him bears testimony to his true Christian life. He was working in this district for a space of nineteen years, both as a congregational and as a Jones' Fund catechist. He had been appointed a Jones' Fund catechist since January, 1880, and being located at Parappadi, carried on his itinerating work with great diligence and remarkable zeal in seventeen different villages. During the three years of his work in this department he was blessed to see the fruit of his labours in his own lifetime. In twelve villages a goodly number of heathen came over to Christianity; and in one village called Emenkulam about 100 souls placed themselves under Christian instruction in the beginning of the year, about four months previous to his death. The Emenkulam people in September handed over all instruments of their idolatrous worship to the Bishop, as a sign that they had totally abandoned their former heathen worship.

Last year we were unable to do more than refer to the work in North Tinnevelly. A full report of the work in Surandei has this year been forwarded, of which the following are extracts :—

1. In order to bring their work to a more effectual kind, the four catechists have been instructed each to form reading-classes in some important centres, and attend them in their regular visits. At present there are some fourteen youths receiving instruction in this way.

2. A man of S——— was convinced of the folly of idolatry after reading through the Gospel portions and certain other religious tracts; since then he has renounced idol-worship. One day, when he was demanded to pay his usual rate of fee for idol-worship, he, on the understanding that it would be a great sin against God, not only refused to give the money for it, but handed over the same to the catechist of the place to be given to poor Christians. Now he and his family attend the Church and prepare themselves for baptism.

3. It is to be further observed that the power of God has, during the year, done some extraordinary change even among the common people, who are incapable to read either our scripture or any other religious books.

4. The heathen seem to have a high notion about our Bible and other Christian books, which they think would teach morality to young men. Once when a catechist was reading to a crowd the story of the Prodigal Son, an old man, whose sons had been behaving disobedient, and giving him much trouble, heard the whole story attentively. The following day he went to the catechist and asked for the book which he had been reading the previous day, giving him at the same time a story of his disobedient boys. Taking the book home, he read the story to his sons, who in the course of a few days were made better in their behaviour.

TRAVANCORE.

The Rev. K. Koṣhi, Secretary of the Travancore and Cochin Provincial Council, writes as follows :—

An extensive and important work is going on among the Hindu and other non-Christian population. By conversation held in private houses, and open-air preaching to large audiences at heathen festivals, as well as by handbills, tracts, or Scripture portions distributed or sold, the evangelists were enabled last year to bring the Gospel to the homes and ears of thousands of their heathen countrymen. Not the low and illiterate classes only, but Namburis, Tamil Brahmins, Konkanis, Sudras, and Wariars, and other castes, both high and middling, have heard the message of salvation by Jesus Christ; and the bearers of the message, on the whole, have been well received. In the pastorate of C—— frequent calls were made at the house of a Namburi Brahmin by the agents there. The Namburi manifested his pleasure at these visits, intimating his desire for their continuation, and has received Christian books from the agents. There is also in the same pastorate a Kottâram, or palace, whose inmates are related to the royal house of Travancore. Some of the younger members of this family are interested in reading the Holy Scriptures, several portions of which, and a New Testament, all in Sanscrit, they have received from the evangelists, and often ask them important questions on matters of religion.

TELUGU MISSION.

The Rev. M. Ratnam, Chairman of the Masulipatam Council, writes as follows:—

We have four agents on this fund, whose salaries range from Rs. 11 to Rs. 5. They have travelled during the year 2718 miles, and preached the Gospel to 17,046 heathen and 2031 Christians, when they visited their respective stations. These agents are an invaluable accession to the Society's staff in spreading the Gospel in this benighted land.

The Rev. F. W. N. Alexander, Chairman of the Ellore Council, hopes the grant for next year may be extended, as there will be special necessities:—

Not only were two Native pastors coming on the funds at an expense of Rs. 480, but six new teachers from the Training Institution will have to be provided for.

The foregoing extracts show the varying features of the work—success and failure, encouragement and opposition. "The seed is the word:" when the blade springs up and is withered or choked, "it is an enemy that hath done this;" but the Spirit of God is greater, and His word shall not return void, but "prosper in that whereto He sent it."

REPORT OF THE HENRY VENN NATIVE CHURCH FUND.

AFRICA.

The Sierra Leone Native Missionary Society has received 100*l.*, and the Native Church 90*l.* It is interesting, with regard to the latter, to record that the present year has begun with a balance of 136*l.* The work of the Native Church is described in the Report itself (p. 20); but a recent letter may be quoted here:—

> We have just celebrated the twenty-first Anniversary (the coming of age) of the Sierra Leone Native Pastorate Auxiliary Association. On the 21st of May there was a public tea-meeting at the Grammar School. The sum of 20*l.* was realized, to be devoted to the interests of the Native Pastorate. On the next day the Bishop preached the Anniversary sermon in the cathedral from Zech. iv. 6, 7, and on the 23rd the Annual public meeting was held.

One of the Native clergy, the Rev. O. Moore, has been transferred to the direct work of the Society as Principal of the Grammar School; another, the Rev. D. Felix, died suddenly on the public high road, while on his way to call upon the Bishop. A new helper has been ordained, the Rev. H. P. Thompson, who is now Curate of Trinity Church.

INDIA.

Sums have been granted to aid the work at Gorakhpur, Allahabad, Lucknow, Agra, Mîrat, and Jabalpur. Mr. Stern, of Gorakhpur, specially mentions the good work which the Native Missionary Association, aided by this fund, is doing. Respecting Lucknow, Mr. Durrant writes:—

> I have only to say that we have endeavoured to carry the general evangelistic work on as efficiently as possible, with the means at our disposal. Just as the year closed, one of our oldest and most valued workers was called to his rest, and I have not as yet met with any one fitted to take his place; but I am thankful to say that the work in the Lucknow bazaars and in the villages has been patiently carried on throughout the year.
> During last cold season we made an extensive tour through the villages and towns of the Lucknow district, and had much interesting work. But the ignorance of the people is so dense, and their prejudice so deep-seated—they are so bound, hand and foot, by the chains of caste and custom—that to impress and instruct them is a task of peculiar difficulty. In every nature, however sunk, there is a vulnerable spot if we can only reach it. But for this we must live more amongst the people, and visit them oftener.

Of the work of the catechist at Jabalpur, the missionary writes that the Church Council have placed the Henry Venn catechist, of their own accord, in a spot where he can work in co-operation with the C.M.S. catechist.

For South India the grants have been exactly as last year. The grant for Madras is given to the Madras Church Council, which controls the Native work in the city.

In Tinnevelly the grant is dispensed by Bishop Sargent to the Councils. In the Telugu Mission it pays the salary of a Native pastor. Bishop Speechly has promised to send a detailed Report home respecting the work of the catechists on the fund in Travancore, but it has not yet been received.

CEYLON.

The Tamil Cooly Mission and Cotta receive grants from the fund. Respecting the latter Mr. Higgens writes :—

Our evangelistic work throughout the district has been carried on during the year. The Liyanwela portions of it on one side, and Colombo on the other, are the chief centres of this work. Our Liyanwela catechist engages largely in it, while the catechist and reader at Angampitiya (both partly maintained by the Henry Venn Fund) are almost entirely employed in evangelistic work.

The Christians of Liyanwela district show much more of the earnestness and life of recent converts, to whom the Gospel is a new light and brings new life.

MAURITIUS AND CHINA.

A grant has been made to the Native Church Council in Mauritius, and 20*l.* to Fuh-Chow (pp. 162 and 168.)

REPORT OF THE FRANCES RIDLEY HAVERGAL FUND.

THE object of this Fund is to provide for the employment and, if need be, the training also of Bible-women, and translating and publishing selections of Frances Ridley Havergal's books.

During the year 1882, seven Bible-women were employed, viz., one each at Jhandiala and Amritsar in the Punjab, at Lucknow, Jabalpur, and Andul (near Calcutta), at Bombay and at Masulipatam. One brief quotation must be made concerning the Bible-woman at Jabalpur:—

> Jane, the Frances Ridley Havergal Bible-woman, has carried the message of God's love to many a toiling and weary, maybe hopeless, sister, in many a dark home. I have preferred that she should labour among the poorer classes of the people who dwell so thickly round this neighbourhood. She has been most kindly supervised by a voluntary lady helper in Jabalpur, who (unusual accomplishment!) knows the language of the people well, studied it, in fact, on purpose to be able to do this work.

The works in preparation besides those mentioned in the last Report are "Royal Bounty," "Royal Commandments," and "Royal Invitation" in Hindustani. A translation of "My King" in Hindustani, by Mr. Warren, of the American Presbyterian Mission, appeared month by month in a magazine published at Allahabad, and will probably be published separately. Mr. Durrant says of the work of translation, "Translations need careful revision. If they are to be worth anything, they must be done slowly. Hasty work will be a failure. I will see what I can do towards forming a Native Translational Fund." Some of Miss Havergal's works are now being translated into Malayalim by the Rev. W. Clark of Allepie.

The Punjab Corresponding Committee have been invited to take action in the work of translating and circulating.

Suggested Order of Proceedings at a Meeting Preparatory to the Formation of an Association in Aid of the Church Missionary Society.

1.—Mr. will move, and Mr. will second, a Resolution, "That be requested to take the Chair."

2.—The Chairman will briefly state the object for which the Meeting is assembled, and then call on the Rev. to offer up the usual Prayer to Almighty God, for a blessing on the proceedings of the day.

3.—After Prayer, the Chairman will make such further observations as he may deem necessary, and then call on Mr. to move the first Resolution.

FIRST RESOLUTION.—Moved by

Seconded by

That this Meeting fully recognises the duty incumbent on Christians to employ all suitable means for the propagation of the Gospel throughout the world; and hails, with thankfulness to the Great Head of the Church, the labours of the CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY in its various Stations in Heathen Lands, and among decayed Christian Churches.

SECOND RESOLUTION.—Moved by

Seconded by

That an Association be now formed, and entitled, "The Church Missionary Association;" and that the following be its Officers and Rules:—

PRESIDENT. VICE-PRESIDENTS.

COMMITTEE:

with power to add to their number.

RULES.

I. Annual Members of this Association shall be all persons subscribing annually One Guinea or upward: or if Clergymen, Half a Guinea; and also such persons as shall collect in its behalf One Shilling or upward per week.

II. Life Members shall be Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upward; or if Clergymen, such as shall contribute Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas; and Executors paying bequests of Fifty Pounds.

III. Annual Governors shall be Subscribers of Five Guineas per annum.

IV. Life Governors shall be Benefactors of Fifty Pounds.

V. Members will be entitled to receive the Annual Reports of the Parent Society, and to vote at its General Meetings. Subscribers of Ten Shillings per annum will receive a copy of the Annual Sermon and Abstract of Report. Collectors of Sixpence and upward per week will receive a copy of each Monthly Number of the "Church Missionary Record;" and Collectors of Two Shillings and upward per week will receive a copy of the Annual Report in addition to the "Record." Governors will be entitled to receive the Reports; and, if Members of the Established Church, to vote at Committee and General Meetings of both the Association and the Parent Society.—Clergymen will have the same privilege as Governors. Contributors of 1*d.* a-week and upward will be entitled to receive the Parent Society's "Quarterly Paper."

VI. The objects of this Association shall be, to call forth the zeal of well-disposed persons, and particularly those of the Established Church, in support of the Church Missionary Society—to recommend proper persons who may offer themselves as Missionaries to the Parent Society—to disperse as widely as possible Missionary information—to promote the formation of Branch Associations—and to procure Collections and other Contributions.

VII. The whole of the funds so obtained, after deducting incidental expenses only, shall be remitted to the Church Missionary Society, in aid of its designs.

VIII. A General Meeting shall be held annually, on such day as shall be fixed by the Committee; when a Report of the Proceedings of the Association shall be read, and an account of its receipts and disbursements presented, duly audited.

THIRD RESOLUTION.—Moved by

Seconded by

That the success which, under the Divine Blessing, has attended the Church Missionary Society in its efforts to make known the Gospel of Christ among the Heathen, is a loud and providential call for increased exertions, for devout thanksgiving to Almighty God, and for continual prayer for a more abundant out-pouring of the Holy Spirit to render the means employed successful.

FOURTH RESOLUTION.—Moved by

Seconded by

That the new and enlarged openings for Missionary exertion, in different quarters, demand our best energies to make known the blessed Gospel of Christ to Heathen and Mohammedan Nations.

PROPER FROM OF A BENEFACTION TO THE SOCIETY BY WILL.

No. I.—Form of a Bequest of a Common Legacy.

I give and bequeath to the Treasurer for the time being of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East the sum of Pounds *free of Legacy duty for the general purposes of the said Society to be paid within calendar months next after my death, exclusively out of such part of my Personal Estate as by the Laws in force at my death may be bequeathed for charitable purposes and in priority to all other payments thereout but to be subject to abate proportionably with other Legacies in case my general Personal Estate shall be insufficient for payment of them all in full. And I declare that the receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society [or each of the said Societies] shall be an effectual discharge for the said Legacy [or Legacies respectively].

No. II.—Form of Bequest of the Residue, or a Share of the Residue.

And in order to give full effect to the bequest hereinafter contained for charitable purposes I direct that my Debts, the expenses of my funeral and of the probate and execution of this my Will and the Legacies bequeathed by this my Will or any Codicil thereto† shall be paid out of such part of my Personal Estate as by the Laws in force at my death may not be bequeathed for charitable purposes as the primary Fund‡ and in case only of the same being insufficient for payment thereof then out of such part of my Personal Estate as may be bequeathed for charitable purposes as the ultimate Fund: and subject as aforesaid, I give and bequeath unto the Treasurer for the time being of The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East for the general purposes of the said Society, such part of my Residuary Personal Estate as by the Laws in force may be bequeathed for charitable purposes [or if a share only of the Residue be intended to be given, then, instead of the words in Italics, say, "such sum of money as shall be equal to one fourth or one half (according to the intention) of my whole Residuary Personal Estate to be paid exclusively out of such part thereof as may be bequeathed for charitable purposes or such less sum as the said last mentioned part of my Personal Estate will extend to pay"]. And I declare that the Receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society shall be an effectual discharge for the said residue [or sum of money, as the case may be]. And as to the remainder if any of my general Residuary Personal Estate I bequeath the same, &c.§

* If so intended.

‡ If it be intended also to charge the Debts and Legacies on Real Estate, then add, "and in the next place out of my Freehold and Copyhold Estates."

§ The latter Clause to be filled up according to the Testator's wishes, but it must not be for any charitable purpose.

NOTICE TO TREASURERS AND SECRETARIES OF ASSOCIATIONS

THE COMMITTEE of the Church Missionary Society beg to remind the Treasurers or Secretaries Associations that the Society's financial year ends on the 31st of March.

All Moneys belonging to the year must be received at the Society's House by that date, order to ensure their being included in the accounts.

As the practice of admitting accounts into the Report on which some portion of the mo remained unpaid on 31st March is now discontinued, it will be necessary to their insertion t the amount of each Account be fully paid to the Society by that date. Where this is not t case, the Account will of necessity be returned to have the unpaid portion eliminated from it.

Much labour and expense is saved to the Society by sending in the Lists and Accounts as so after the money as possible. If not so sent the lists are liable to be excluded from the Repo The date at which the Accounts of the Association are closed, and the names of the Local Offic should be specified. Should no names be given it will be assumed that they remain the same in the previous Report, and the List will be so printed. Where the Account or the List is printed one, two copies should be forwarded.

Where an Association has branches connected with it, the Accounts of the Branches must be fo warded to the Secretary of the Association some time before the period for forwarding the Account of that Association to London. When this is not done within a reasonable time, such Branches shou be considered as self-excluded, and the Accounts forwarded without them.

To prevent mistakes, it is requested that Branch Associations will in every case, where pra ticable, forward their Money and Lists through the Association with which they are connected and not direct to the Parent Society.

The Lists and Accounts should be written legibly to avoid mistakes in printing, and made up in th manner in which the same are printed in the Parent Society's Report. A Form of Account may b had on application at the Society's House.

The Committee would also strongly urge for universal adoption, the practice of making early remittances after the 1st April on account of the year's receipts in the hands of the Local Treasurer. This course would tend to equalize in a greater degree the Income and Expenditure in the earlier months of the Society's Financial year, and save the Society a considerable yearly sum. They are glad to observe that the suggestion has been partially carried out during the present year, but they are desirous of seeing it more generally adopted.

II.—ENGLISH ASSOCIATIONS.

NOTE.—All Contributions from Associations are for the year ending December 31st, 1882, except where otherwise stated.
