STATIONS, CLERICAL OR LAY MISSIONARIES, AND NATIVE CLERGYMEN

SUPPORTED EITHER DIRECTLY BY THE SOCIETY, OR BY NATIVE CHURCH FUNDS SUBSIDIZED OR AIDED BY THE SOCIETY.

JUNE 1, 1887.

* A STATION is the place at which a Clerical or Lay Missionary is stationed, or at which Native Christians are located under Native pastoral superintendence in connection with the Society. The letter (m) means Married. —Wives of Missionaries, &c., though not named, except when engaged in some specific employment, are always expected by the Society to lay themselves out to do good, in every practicable way, among Native Women; such as cultivating familiar intercourse with them, educating children, and instructing the adult women.

The figures after the Names of the European Labourers show the date of their first connection with the Society's Missions.

This mark * denotes that the Missionary to whose name it is prefixed is in Local Connection. It includes Europeans who have joined in the Mission, and Clergymen who were born in the country in which they labour.

The mark ‡ denotes that the Name to which it is prefixed is that of an Agent supported by Native Church Funds aided by the Society. The Native Ministers in New Zealand are supported partly by Subscriptions from Native Christians, and partly from the rents of lands belonging to the Society in the Colony.

The Names of Native Clergymen are printed in italics. The figures after their names show the date of ordination.

All the names under one station or department of work are printed in order of date, without reference to nationality, sex, orders, or other difference, except that in the case of Colleges, &c., the Principal stands first.

At the Annual Meeting of the Society, held at Exeter Hall on Tuesday, May 3rd, 1887, being the Eighty-eighth Anniversary—

SIR JOHN H. KENNAWAY, Bart., M.P., President, in the Chair,

AFTER READING OF SCRIPTURE AND PRAYER;

The Annual Report was read, followed by the CHAIRMAN'S Address, after which, on a Motion by the RIGHT REV. THE LORD BISHOP OF SODOR AND MAN, V.P., seconded by the REV. CANON B. F. WESTCOTT, D.D., V.P., Regius Professor of Divinity, Cambridge, it was Resolved—

(I.) That this meeting desires to put on record the expression of its deep and affectionate appreciation of the eminent services rendered for over fifty years by their late honouried President and Treasurer, Captain the Honourable Francis Maude, R N., and heartily welcomes to the post of President the Society's long-tried friend, Sir John H. Kennaway, Bart., M.P., and wishes him the abundant blessing of God in the discharge of its important functions. and has much thankful satisfaction in appointing Sir Thomas Fowell Buxton, Bart., to the office of Treasurer; that the Report, of which an Abstract has now been read, be adopted and printed under the direction of the Committee; that the thanks of this meeting be given to the Very Rev. the Dean of Ripon for his Sermon before the Society last evening, and that it be printed and circulated; that the Committee be appointed for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies; and that, in view of the distinct tokens there are that God is in a remarkable way at this time going out before His people and inviting them to go forward; and of the many appearances there are that the end of the age is fast drawing on, this meeting joyfully recognizes the solemn duty resting upon it of making more enlarged and more earnest efforts in co-operating with God's great purposes for the Evangelization of the world.

The Treasurer, SIR T. FOWELL BUXTON, Bart., having briefly addressed the Meeting, on a Motion of SIR M. MONIER-WILLIAMS, K.C.I.E., D.C.L., V.P., Professor of Sanskrit, Oxford, seconded by REV. T. R. WADE, Missionary from the Punjab, it was Resolved—

(II.) That, in this Jubilee year of the reign of Queen Victoria, this meeting desires to record its devout thankfulness to Almighty God for the so long preserved life and reign of our beloved Queen, and for all the wise, and noble, and gracious qualities which have distinguished her for the long period of her reign; for the peace and prosperity which have befallen to this nation and realm throughout it; for the marvellous general extension durind it of Missionary opportunities and Missionary efforts over the Queen's vast Colonial and Indian Empire, and over the world generally; especially, for the blessings vouchsafed throughout Her Majesty's reign to this Society in its world-wide operations; for the noble army of men and women who have given themselves, for Christ's sake, to the Society's work, and the success which has been given to His own glorious Gospel through their efforts; and send up their earnest prayers to Almighty God for the continuance of His richest blessings on Her Gracious Majesty, and that her reign may still be made subservient to the extension of God's Kingdom in the world.

On a Motion of the REV. J. JOHNSON, Native Pastor from Lagos, seconded by REV. R. P. ASHE, B.A., Missionary from Buganda, and supported by the VEN. ARCHDEACON LEFROY, M.A., Canon of Liverpool, it was Resolved—

(III.) That many tokens of the gracious influences of the Holy Spirit working on the hearts of God's people at home and in the Mission-field, brought to notice during the past year, afford solid and abundant encouragement in the more vigorous prosecution of this great Missionary enterprise. The forwardness of University graduates to give themselves to this work, especially from the University of Cambridge; the remarkable proofs of zeal and effort during the recent Metropolitan Simultaneous Meetings; the touching letters from many of the poor in this country, evincing heartfelt interest in the work of this Society; the heroic witness to Christ of the suffering Native Christians in Uganda; the instances of Christian liberality in Africa, India, China, Japan, and New Zealand; the marks of earnest Christian life and zeal observed by Mr. Wigram and his son in various places throughout India; all these and other indications of the blessing of God on the work, afford solid encouragement for its more vigorous prosecution.

At a Meeting, held at Exeter Hall, on the Evening of the same Day—

THE VERY REV. THE DEAN OF WINDSOR, V.P., in the Chair,

Addresses were delivered by the Chairman; the Rev. H. Sutton, M.A.; the Rev. W. Williams, Missionary from Krishnagurh; the Rev. R. P. Ashe, B.A., Missionary from Buganda; the Rev. A. G. Smith and Mr. D. Deekes, about to proceed to Eastern Equatorial Africa; the Rev. J. Johnson, of Lagos; and Mrs. Sorabji, of Western India.

XXII. The Patrons, Vice-Patron, President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Secretaries, shall be considered, ex officio, Members of all Committees. Governors, being Members of the Established Church of England, or of the Church of Ireland, shall be entitled to attend and vote at all Meetings of the COMMITTEE.

XXIII. Five Members shall be necessary to form a Quorum of the COMMITTEE; and Three of each of the Committees provided for in Law XII.; in each case exclusive of the Secretaries. In cases of equality of votes, the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

XXIV. All payments on account of the Society shall be signed by Three Members of the COMMITTEE, in Committee, and the Lay Secretary, or in his absence by one of the other Secretaries.

XXV. The Accounts of the Society shall be audited and reported upon by Public Accountants appointed by the COMMITTEE; and Five Honorary Auditors, members of the Society (of whom not more than two shall be members of the COMMITTEE), shall be appointed annually by the COMMITTEE for the purpose of considering the Reports of the Public Accountants, and of making recommendations thereon, and generally on the Accounts to the COMMITTEE once at least in every year.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXVI. In the selection of Candidates for the Missionary office the following course shall be pursued. The cases of Candidates who are already in Holy Orders, or who are University Graduates, or whom it is proposed to send out without further training, shall be considered by the Committee of Correspondence, the Candidate having (as a rule) appeared in person before them, and a report having been given, after a personal interview, by one or more members of the Clerical Sub-Committee. If any Member of the Committee of Correspondence shall show reason for requiring further information, the consideration shall be deferred till a subsequent Meeting of that Committee. Other Candidates shall be examined by the Clerical Sub-Committee, which shall report to the Committee of Correspondence.

XXVII. A Candidate nominated by the Committee of Correspondence, and accepted by the COMMITTEE, shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time that the COMMITTEE shall decide, and be subject to such Regulations as may be established by the COMMITTEE for the direction of Missionaries: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society.

XXIX. Each Candidate, when duly prepared and finally approved for Missionary work, shall go out, either ordained or unordained, at the discretion of the COMMITTEE.*

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the COMMITTEE: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society, to the satisfaction of the COMMITTEE, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, such provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable as in the judgment of the COMMITTEE is suitable. The COMMITTEE shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support. The COMMITTEE shall be further empowered in special cases to make such arrangements with those employed by them as they may think fit.

GENERAL.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. All questions relating to matters of Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, respecting which a difference shall arise between a Bishop of the Church of England abroad and the COMMITTEE, shall, in the absence of any tribunal having legal cognizance of the same, be referred to the Archbishops and Bishops of the Provinces of Canterbury and York, whose decision thereupon shall be binding upon the Society and its agents and representatives.

The proposed reference shall be made by the COMMITTEE, through His Grace the Primate, accompanied by such explanations and statements as the COMMITTEE may deem advisable.

XXXIII. The object of the preceding Law being only to provide a mode of settling questions relating to Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, as to which no provision has yet been made by the Society, it is not to be so construed, as in any other respect to alter the principles and practices of the Society, as they are contained in its Laws and Regulations.

XXXIV. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon its designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

* The Bishops of the Church of England, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth [ecclesiastically speaking] the Society's Missionaries; and in the event of their being appointed by the COMMITTEE to labour at stations within the jurisdiction of a Bishop of the Church of England abroad, it is the practice of the Society to apply to the Bishop for licenses, in which are specified the districts to which the Missionaries have been assigned. This is done on the understanding that licenses will neither be refused, nor when granted be withdrawn from the Missionaries during their connection with the Society, except for some assigned legal cause.

PRAYER USED AT THE ANNUAL MEETINGS OF THE SOCIETY AND AT THE OPENING OF MEETINGS OF THE GENERAL COMMITTEE.

ALMIGHTY and most merciful FATHER, we give Thee humble thanks for the light of Thy Gospel. Make us more grateful for this Thy mercy, and more zealous for the salvation of all mankind.

Visit in mercy the Church of Christ; enrich it more abundantly with the grace of Thy Holy Spirit; and bless its endeavours to make known Thy Truth. Unite, as one man, all who are truly labouring for Thee. Disappoint the designs of Satan. Let all Christian Societies live in harmony and love; give them wisdom in all their plans; perfect Thy strength in their weakness; and direct their labours to Thy glory.

The harvest truly is great, but the Labourers are few! O Thou Lord of the Harvest, send forth labourers into Thy Harvest! Fill with Thy Spirit those whom Thou hast sent forth; and enable them faithfully and boldly to preach, among Jews and Gentiles, the unsearchable riches of Christ. Keep them from the snares of the world, the flesh, and the devil; deliver them from all evil; and make them wise to win souls.

Upon all the Native Converts whom Thou hast gathered to Thyself, through Thy labouring servants throughout the world, pour out Thy Holy Spirit, that, as Thou hast begotten them again unto a lively hope, so they may ever be followers of Thee as dear children. Deliver them from all remaining darkness and ignorance; destroy and abolish in their hearts all that remains of Satan's kingdom; grant that their faith, and hope, and love may grow exceedingly; make them to be ready to every good work, and more especially to exert themselves for the salvation of those around them; that so, by their zeal and faithful testimony, by their holiness and faithfulness, they may glorify Thy name before their countrymen, and bring in unto Thee, from the midst of them, such as shall be saved.

Have compassion, O Most-merciful Father, on all those who have come under instruction, though they be not yet altogether Christians. Convince them effectually, by thy Word and Spirit, of their sinful and miserable state; pour upon them the spirit of grace and supplication, and draw them to Jesus.

Take away blindness from the Jews. Let them receive Thee, O Jesus, as their Messiah, and proclaim Thy saving Name among the Gentiles.

Deliver all Mohammedans from the delusions of the False Prophet! O Thou True Prophet of Thy Church, enlighten them by Thy Holy Spirit, and bow them down at the foot of Thy Cross!

Pity blind Idolaters who are kept in cruel bondage by the god of this world. Turn them from idols, that they may serve the Living and True God.

O Thou Almighty Saviour, who by the right hand of God art exalted, and hast received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, shed forth His light and grace on this dark world!

Cause all Christians, we beseech Thee, to sow bountifully; that they may reap also bountifully. O Thou that lovest a cheerful giver, let all grace abound toward them, that they may minister liberally of their substance to the making known of Thy Name!

With these our humble prayers, we join our praises and thanksgivings for what Thou hast already done in making known Thy salvation; perfect Thy work, O Lord; shortly accomplish the number of Thine elect; and hasten the coming of Thy Kingdom.

Be present with us, O Lord, at this time. Give us all a single eye to Thy glory. May Thy blessing rest upon our meeting; and may all our hearts be this day quickened and encouraged to fresh and persevering efforts in Thy Service.

We ask these mercies for the glory of Thy Name, through the merits and mediation of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ; and would ascribe to Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, Three Persons in One God, everlasting praise. Amen.

OUR Father which art in Heaven: hallowed be Thy Name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil: for Thine is the kingdom, the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

PRAYER USED AT THE OPENING OF MEETINGS OF THE COMMITTEE OF CORRESPONDENCE.

ALMIGHTY GOD, our heavenly Father, who hast purchased to Thyself an Universal Church, by the precious blood of Thy dear Son, we give Thee hearty thanks that it hath pleased Thee to call us to the knowledge of Thy grace and faith in Thee, and to appoint our lot in an age and country, where the true light shineth. We bless Thee that Thou hast awakened us in some measure to feel our responsibilities. We praise Thee for what we have seen and heard of the power of Thy Word among the heathen; we adore Thee for Thy many servants who have gone out from amongst us to toil, and suffer, and die in making known Thy salvation; and we thank Thee that Thou dost allow us, unworthy sinners, to unite together in this work of faith and labour of love.

We humbly confess our past lukewarmness in this Thy service, notwithstanding these Thine inestimable benefits and mercies. For our Lord Jesus Christ's sake, forgive us our past negligences, and so endue us with Thy Holy Spirit, that we may more earnestly seek Thy glory in the salvation of souls.

Grant us, we beseech Thee, Thy very present help at these our meetings. We ask, most gracious God and Father, for a constraining sense of the love of the Lord Jesus, and for wisdom to direct us in all our endeavours. Increase upon us the spirit of power and of love and of a sound mind. Give us faith and courage; give us zeal and patience; give us a single eye to Thy glory, and help us to bear and to forbear. The silver and the gold are Thine, O King of kings! Supply us with what is needful for our great work, and make us faithful stewards of Thy bounty, for proclaiming to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ.

We pray also for all who are united with us in the direction of this sacred cause.

May Thine especial blessing rest upon our Committees, with their Secretaries, throughout the world. Bestow on them the help that we feel so needful for ourselves. Enable them to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace, and ever to find favour in the sight of all with whom they may have to do.

Especially we beseech Thee to look, O most merciful Father, upon our Missionary brethren. Draw out our hearts towards them more and more; and while they are bearing the burden abroad, give us grace to help and succour them by our sympathy and prayers at home. Bless every letter written to them from this house, and all our intercourse with them. We pray for them that they may be filled with Thy Spirit. Grant that the same mind may be in them which was also in Christ Jesus. Let them never lose their first love. Raise them above the cares of this world. Help them to deny themselves and to endure all things for the elect's sake. Give them the tongue of the learned. Clothe them with humility. Teach them to follow peace with each other, and with all men. Support them under spiritual distresses, temptations of the adversary, bodily sickness, domestic anxieties, and hope deferred. And so confirm Thy word from their lips by the power of the Holy Ghost, that through them multitudes may be turned from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto Thee, our God.

We commend to Thee the Missionaries' children entrusted to our charge. Bring them all to a true knowledge of, and faith in Thee. Defend them with Thy heavenly grace that they may continue Thine for ever, and daily increase in Thy Holy Spirit more and more, until they come into Thy everlasting kingdom. Give all needed grace to those who have the direction of the Home in the discharge of the arduous work with which Thou hast been pleased to entrust them.

We most heartily thank Thee, O Lord, for those whom Thou hast already sent forth through this Society; and we pray for a yet larger outpouring of a Missionary spirit on our younger Clergy, on the members of our Universities, on those who are elsewhere preparing for this holy work, on the young men of all ranks and orders throughout our land. And herein do we implore Thy special favour on our Islington Institution, that its numbers may be replenished continually; and that none may go forth thence but such as shall be able ministers of the New Testament, full of Faith, and of the Holy Ghost.

We praise Thee, O Thou God of all grace, for the Converts, the Native Catechists, and the Native Clergy, whom Thou hast granted to us in our several Missions. As Thou hast raised the Native Churches thus far, bring them, we pray Thee, to full ripeness and perfectness of age in Christ. Pour out upon them Thy Holy Spirit; Stablish, strengthen, settle them, and so enlarge their liberality, that they may both maintain Thy word among themselves, and may make it known to the regions beyond them, till all the Gentiles hear the glad tidings of Thy love.

And now, O Lord God, be Thou in the midst of us to-day. Give us a constant sense of Thy presence, and may all our undertakings be begun, continued, and ended in Thee, to the honour of Thy great name, for the sake of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

PRAYERS FOR MISSIONS,
SUITABLE TO BE USED AT MISSIONARY MEETINGS AND IN PRIVATE.

I.—From the Book of Common Prayer according to the use of the Church of Ireland.

Almighty God, who by Thy Son Jesus Christ didst give commandment to the apostles that they should go into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature; grant to us whom Thou hast called into Thy Church a ready will to obey Thy Word, and fill us with a hearty desire to make Thy way known upon earth, Thy saving health among all nations. Look with compassion upon the heathen that have not known Thee, and on the multitudes that are scattered as sheep having no shepherd. O heavenly Father, Lord of the harvest, have respect, we beseech Thee, to our prayers, and send forth labourers into Thy harvest. Fit and prepare them by Thy grace for the work of the ministry; give them the spirit of power, and of love, and of a sound mind; strengthen them to endure hardness; and grant that Thy Holy Spirit may prosper their work, and that by their life and doctrine they may set forth Thy glory and set forward the salvation of all men; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

II.—For a Blessing on Missionaries and their Labours.

(By Archbishop Sumner.)

O most merciful Saviour and Redeemer, who wouldest not that any should perish, but that all men should be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth, fulfil Thy gracious promise to be present with those who are gone forth in Thy Name to preach the Gospel of Salvation in distant lands. Be with them in all perils by land or by water, in sickness and distress, in weariness and painfulness, in disappointment and persecution. Bless them, we beseech Thee, with Thy continual favour, and send Thy Holy Spirit to guide them into all truth. O Lord, let Thy ministers be clothed with righteousness, and grant that Thy word spoken by their mouths may never be spoken in vain. Endue them with power from on high, and so prosper Thy work in their hands, that the fulness of the Gentiles may be gathered in, and all Israel be saved.

Hear us, O Lord, for Thy mercy's sake, and grant that all who are saved by Thy Name may be one in Thee, and may abound more and more in prayers and in free-will offerings, for the extension of Thy kingdom throughout the world, to Thy honour and glory, who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

III.—For Missions, and for Grace to help them.

(By Bishop Christopher Wordsworth.)

O Lord Jesu Christ, Saviour of Mankind, who hast commanded Thy disciples to go into all the world and to preach the Gospel to every creature, and who hast declared that this Gospel of the Kingdom shall first be preached to all nations, and that then the end shall come; we humbly beseech Thee to raise up men full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and send them forth to do the work of evangelists by spreading abroad the glad tidings of salvation; and so to fill us with Thy love, and to quicken us with Thy grace, that we may labour joyfully with them by prayers and offerings for their work, so that finally at Thy Second Coming to judge the world, we together with them, and with those who have received the Gospel at their hands, may rejoice in Thy presence with exceeding joy, and may praise Thee for evermore, our holy and most merciful Redeemer, our most worthy Judge Eternal, our most mighty Lord and God, to whom, with the Father and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory now and for ever. Amen.

IV.

(By Bishop Cotton, of Calcutta.)

O God, who hast made of one blood all nations of men to dwell upon the face of the whole earth, and who didst send Thy blessed Son to preach peace to them that are afar off, and to them that are nigh, grant that all the people of heathen and Mohammedan lands may feel after Thee and find Thee; and hasten, O Lord, the fulfilment of Thy promise, to pour out Thy spirit upon all flesh, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE ANNUAL SERMON,

Preached at St. Bride's Church, Fleet Street, on Monday Evening, May 2, 1887,

BY THE

VERY REV. W. R. FREMANTLE, D.D.,

DEAN OF RIPON.

"FOLLOW ME, AND I WILL MAKE YOU FISHERS OF MEN."
Matt. iv. 19.

THESE words were spoken to the disciples, who had already believed that Jesus was the Christ. They had seen where He dwelt, and abode with Him that day. They had returned to their usual occupation, and as two of them were casting their net into the sea, and two were mending their nets on the land, Jesus invited them to follow Him in order that they might learn a new profession, of which their present profession was an emblem—they were to become "fishers of men."

Such was the first command of Jesus to His first disciples at the commencement of His ministry; and His last command, before His ascension into heaven, was like unto it, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature."

There is a deep underlying connection between these two commands. During His ministry upon earth Jesus taught His disciples the divine art of winning souls, in order that when He was taken from them, they might go forth as His witnesses and gather in the harvest. This first and this last command give a dignity, and authority, and pre-eminence to the office to which they were called, so that we may say that the first duty, the highest duty, and the last duty of a true believer in Jesus Christ is to be a fisher of men—in one word, in its largest sense, to be a missionary.

We must not fail to observe that this great commission was made to the disciples in a parable. To us the parallelism between the fishers on the Sea of Galilee and fishers of men on the broad expanse of the world, is clear and beautiful, but this had to be explained to the young disciples. They knew little beyond their own business of catching fish, they were to learn how to catch men. And this wonderful art was to be learned not in the schools of Jewish rabbis or in books of Greek philosophy, but by following Jesus, who by His example and teaching would make them fishers of men. Accordingly, Jesus prayed Peter to thrust out a little from the land, that He might have space and opportunity to preach to the multitudes who thronged around Him from the ship, and having won the interest of the people with the gracious words which proceeded out of His mouth, He bade Peter to launch out into the deep and let down the net for a draught. The miraculous draught of fishes interpreted the parable; sea and land were brought together to symbolize the universality of the good tidings, which were to be made known from sea to sea, and from pole to pole, and the same almighty and supernatural power which could enclose such a multitude of fishes, could by the power of His Word gather from the depths of sin and ignorance countless multitudes ofprecious souls.

Nor was this all, for in the selection of fishermen to be His apostles there was a fitness of antecedent training which had its parabolic relation to their future holy office. As the faithful shepherd was taken from the sheepfolds to be the King of Israel, so the hardy, simple-minded, and patient fishermen were chosen to be the heralds of salvation to a world of sinners. There is, I say, a fitness in this, for the fisherman's life has more points of parabolic resemblance with those of a missionary than any other profession. He embarks upon the great wide sea, in whose depths are things creeping innumerable, both small and great beasts, and whose waves and winds he cannot control. By day and by night, in the exercise of his skill and labour, he is entirely dependent upon the providence of God for safety and success; and what is this but the life of the fisher of men?

Friends and home and all forsaking,
Lord, they go at Thy command.

Launching out into the deep, they cast the nets at the bidding of Christ. Dangers from within and from without, storm and tempest, cold and hunger, privation, contradiction, and persecution await them; their art will be baffled, their patience tried to the uttermost, their hopes crossed, their nets and appliances tested, and, perchance, broken at the moment of their greatest success; nevertheless, their labour is not in vain, they have caught men: souls, precious souls, are their crown of rejoicing, and the reward of their labour.

But this involves an entire consecration of all the energy, intelligence, and capacity of the man. There is no room for half measures or divided service. The whole body, soul, and spirit must be devoted to this highest and holiest of all professions, if he follows Christ to become a fisher of men.

This was the solemn conviction to which I came when, for the first time, I heard the anniversary sermon in this church, fifty-two years ago. The words of the preacher touched my inmost soul. I could not get rid of them for days and weeks afterwards. He said, We want young men to go out. We want him to go out who, as a minister of a small country parish, is spending the moral power which he has acquired by a complete education, in teaching 200 rustics, who would still have the Gospel preached to them though he embarked to-morrow. At that time the Church Missionary Society had one English missionary in Sierra Leone, three in New Zealand, and twenty-four in India, in all forty-five; ten Lutheran and six Native. The want of missionaries was very urgent. Health, and other considerations, after much prayer and searching of heart, made it plain that I was not to have the privilege of undertaking this high and blessed work, but I may be permitted to bear my humble testimony before this great congregation, that the greatest delight and encouragement in ministerial work at home has been when I have been engaged in helping forward the work of evangelization abroad, and very specially in connection with your beloved Society, to which, under God, I owe a debt of gratitude which no words can express.

My object now, by the blessing of God, is to show that the work of the Church Missionary Society, and the blessing which has rested upon it, is an exposition of the words of my text, which, in some particulars, I will now proceed to illustrate.

The first point to which I invite your attention is,—

1. The manner in which this divine art of winning souls is learned, and upon which its entire success depends.

"Follow Me." This was a call totally different from the conventional call of a rabbi or teacher in Israel; it was a call to enter upon a new service, of which their former occupation was typical and preparatory. It was a call to follow Christ, not only in the hearing of His Word, but in doing the will of God.

This constituted the sublime and unique example of Christ. It is true that He came into the world to save sinners; to redeem both body and soul from the grave; to complete the new creation and to restore all things; to present to Himself a glorious Church, not having spot or wrinkle, and to establish His kingdom of righteousness over all for ever. But all this was subordinate to one great all-absorbing motive, which He expressed Himself: "I came down from heaven not to do Mine own will, but the will of Him that sent Me" (John vi. 38). This absolute surrender of His own will He repeated again and again. "I am not come of Myself" (John vii. 28). "Neither came I of Myself, but He sent Me" (John viii. 42). "My doctrine is not Mine, but His that sent Me" (John vii. 16). "I have not spoken of Myself" (John xii. 49). "The word that ye hear is not Mine, but the Father's that sent Me" (John xii. 24). "I must work the works of Him that sent Me" (John ix. 4). "My meat is to do the will of Him that sent Me" (John iv. 34). These and other statements to the same effect prove that, however much He may have had at heart the salvation of a world, the one object of His life was to do the will of God. We must, then, draw a sharp line between what may be termed the impulses of humanity and obedience to the will of God. It has been observed (Fry, "Christ our Example") that, had there been any motive in the bosom of Christ of sufficient power to move Him to action without reference to His Father's will, it must have been His benevolence—His tender pity for the children of men, the advancement of the gracious work of their salvation. Yet Jesus lived for thirty years in obscurity, probably working for His daily bread. Did not compassion move Him all that time? Doubtless His compassionate eye looked on the sick and bereaved with as much pity then as when He worked miracles to relieve them. But for thirty years, so we have reason to believe, Jesus preached no Gospel, offered no mercy, healed no diseases. And why this loss of time and opportunity, when men were perishing around him? Because He did not feel, or was not willing? No; but because His hour was not yet come. Jesus did not live to gratify His benevolence. He did not act upon the impulse of mere humanity. He did not speak by the dictation of His own feelings. He lived, acted, and spoke for the accomplishment of His Father's will, and therefore waited His appointed time. In whatever sphere of action we find our Lord engaged, this was the predominant rule, "Father, not My will but Thine be done." Now, if this principle be applied to the missionary aspect of our Lord's life, we shall see that the first step in seeking the salvation of souls consists in the absolute consecration of self to the will and the work of God. The mysteries of the Kingdom of Heaven are learned by the faithful following of Christ. "If any man will do the will of God, he shall know of the doctrine." "He that followeth Me shall not walk in darkness, but shall see the light of life." We have not reached the true missionary standard until we can say, "Not my will but Thine be done." We have not learned the divine art of catching men until we can say, "Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do? Here am I; send me."

2. In following Christ, the disciple has to learn submission to the Providence of God.

Throughout the whole of His ministry, our Lord led the ordinary life of man. He journeyed from place to place, and had food and lodging provided by the hospitality of friends or purchased out of the common fund of the disciples; He needed rest and sleep, and renewal of strength for the labour which He had to undergo; He had not where to lay His head; He had no home of His own. Thus He set us an example that, on the one hand, the work of saving souls is independent of worldly possessions, and, on the other, that the labourer is worthy of his hire; for God, who careth for oxen, will feed His faithful servants. Before He entered upon His ministry, He worked at a trade; when He began to preach, others ministered unto Him of their substance. He performed a miracle to feed a famished multitude; we do not read of His being miraculously fed Himself. This uniting of His work with the faith and love of the Church forms an instructive feature in the subject before us. All must take part in the work. Mary listens, Martha serves. The missionary is sustained by the love of the Church. Such is the example we have to follow. The Lord of Glory, who has legions of angels at His command, who can turn stones into bread, or make the fish to provide the tribute-money for you and for me, accepts at the hands of such selfish, half-hearted sinners as ourselves the pence and the pounds which are with so much self-denial and labour collected by our missionary agents and associations. And we must add to this that Jesus sought not honour from men or the substance of men that He might spare Himself. The bare suggestion of it was abhorrent to His nature. "Get thee behind Me, Satan, thou savourest not the things that be of God. Wist ye not that I must be about My Father's business? I have meat to eat which the world knows not of." No consideration of self-indulgence or personal convenience ever interrupted His work; the close of the twelve hours of the day was not rest to Him. He spent the night in prayer; He entered into the ship as He was and fell asleep; He is awakened to still the storm. So precious was time, so precious the opportunity, so precious the salvation of souls, that it could be said of Him, as of no one else, "The zeal of Thine house hath even consumed Me."

This following of Christ, whithersoever He goeth, magnifies the office of the missionary. If motives of position, preferment, and distinction influence the clergy of a Christian land with an Established Church, a parochial system, an orderly organization, a parsonage and social privileges—and it would be difficult to define what is the limit to such considerations—yet in the grand outlook of evangelization, in going to regions beyond, in speaking peace to them that are afar off, breaking up the fallow ground, planting the rose in the wilderness, attacking the strong man armed in his palace, breaking Dagon to pieces in his own temple, plucking souls as brands from the fiery furnace, calls forth a higher exercise of faith, and courage, and prayer, and enduring hardness, and a higher spiritual reward. And herein is that saying true, "One soweth and another reapeth." The reaping that whereon we have bestowed no labour bears no comparison with the blessing of those who at early dawn are first in the field, and have borne the burden and heat of the day. We dare not disparage the dignity of the missionary calling; it is special, and blessed are they whose hearts are filled with the burning zeal of their Master; who count not their lives dear unto themselves; who go forth for His Name's sake, bearing His reproach, ready to spend and be spent, in season and out of season, and for the joy set before them fight the good fight, keep the faith, and finish their course, looking only for the crown of righteousness as their exceeding great reward in that day.

3. We must follow Christ in His method of teaching.

It has been said that Jesus did not teach religion as a system, but that He went everywhere preaching the Gospel of the kingdom and doing good. He knew what was in man, and as a fisher of men knew where and how to cast the net. How, then, did He preach? Did He begin with elaborate and scientific arguments to prove the being of a God? Did He appeal to the hearts of men as if they were like a sheet of paper upon which they could of themselves write good or bad? Did He speak of the forgiveness of sin as the recompense of man's righteousness? or of the atonement for sin as the sacrifice of bulls and of goats or the routine of ecclesiastical ceremonial? No! the beginning and ending of His doctrine was Himself. "I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father but by Me." "I lay down My life for the sheep." "I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto Me." "I am the door, by Me if any man enter in he shall be saved." In every discourse and in every parable there was an appeal to the conscience, proving the impotency of man and the sufficiency of the Gospel of the grace of God. He warned them to flee from the wrath to come, He encouraged them to watch and to wait for His second coming in glory. And so the common people heard Him gladly, and the Priests and Pharisees were put to silence.

This is the only way to catch men. The fisher of men will follow Christ in preaching Christ, the one only name given among men whereby we may be saved. The conscience of sinners is not disturbed by scientific or metaphysical arguments, any more than the fish at the bottom of the sea by spears or hooks and lines and shallow nets which do not reach them. If we follow Christ's teaching, we must follow Him into the conscience and heart of every human being. The net we spread must be wide enough to take in all, deep enough to reach the lowest, small enough to embrace the little ones, large enough to hold the great and mighty, strong enough to keep all in its loving, living, and omnipotent influence. And where shall we find this but in the breadth, and depth, and length, and height of the love of Jesus, which passeth knowledge?

But there is a feature in the teaching of Christ which must of necessity form an important element in His method of imparting the truth of the Gospel, and that was the power of adaptation; and this was twofold. First, in the language which He used. It is an open question as to the languages in which our Lord spoke, whether Greek, Hebrew, Latin, Aramaic, or Chaldee. The presumption is that He spoke several languages. He quoted the prophet Isaiah in the synagogue at Nazareth. He addressed Peter in Greek. He seems to have employed language well understood of the people; this may be seen in the passage, John viii. 43. "Why do ye not understand My * dialect? because ye cannot receive My word." It is not your inability to understand My form of speech, but the spiritual truths I utter. Thus His language was plain and intelligible to His hearers. And in following Him the missionary must know the language of those to whom he is sent, and thus in his measure develop the Pentecostal gift of tongues. This miracle was granted to show the value of oral testimony. The living witness must precede the book. He must learn how to speak to the people before he can translate the book for them to read. This has been the experience of the Church in all ages. When the Pentecostal miracle ceased, the first evangelists had by ordinary means to learn the languages of the people to whom they were sent, and it is an interesting fact to record that for seventeen centuries the Word of God was not preached or translated into more than twenty or twenty-five languages. But at the close of the last and commencement of the present century a great impulse was given to it by the revival of Missions to the heathen, and we may say that of the 280 languages in which it is now preached, and translated, and circulated, with but very few exceptions, the work has been done by missionaries; and what adds to the interest of the fact is that while learned scholars and professors in our universities have taken little part in the work, yet the translations bear the impress of the Divine blessing, for they have been subjected to severe criticism, and have passed the ordeal with very general approval of their excellence and accuracy. The fishers of men were not to be men of one language, nor was their message to be expressed in one language. The nations and people to whom they were sent were not to be taught the language of Caanan in order that they might hear the truth, but the messengers were to learn their language in order that they might make known in their own tongues the wonderful works of God. The Catholic religion of Jesus does not depend upon its prayers and doctrines being spoken in one tongue, whether Hebrew or Latin, but in the dissemination of the truth in every language and dialect spoken throughout the world. Thus all idea of centralization as to locality, nationality, or ecclesiastical supremacy is absorbed in the grand reality that the Gospel of salvation, like the sun, has but one source; and as the sunbeams, under different conditions of the atmosphere, assume varieties of colouring, yet spring from the same fountain of light, there is perfect unity in their essence, but great diversity in their manifestation.

* τὴν λαλιὰν τὴν ἐμήν.

But it was not only in the form of speech, but in the adaptation of personal sympathy that the following Christ teaches a very practical lesson. He knew what was in man, and He became a man to His fellow-men. Take, for example, the woman of Samaria. Two formidable hindrances had to be removed before she could listen to the message of salvation; the first was prejudice against the Jews, and the second the hardening of conscience produced by a long course of immorality. "Give Me to drink" at once proved that all caste distinction had no place in His mind, and the faithful detection of the great sin of her life brought home the conviction that she was in the presence of the supernatural, one more than a prophet. Or, again, take the case of Nicodemus. Here was an earnest inquirer, a Jew well instructed in the letter of the law, but destitute of spiritual life. The course which our Lord took with him was not to refer to the ruler's sins, but to his ignorance of the need of the new birth. "Art thou a ruler in Israel, and knowest not these things?" and thus He led him to the great subject of the atonement. Here was adaptation, wisdom, patience, and love. Though all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge were stored up in His mind, and He could utter things which would have baffled the comprehension of angels, yet He adapted His instruction to the capacity of His hearers. He was a teacher of babes. This combination of the largest intellectual developments with the deepest sympathy, establishes a very important principle; namely, that it is not the man of limited mental power or of inferior education that is best fitted to deal with the ignorant. Intellect without grace is apt to despise less gifted creatures, but the truly enlightened mind, constrained by the love of Christ, delights in simplifying truth and imparting it to the least and lowest. Thus our Lord applied to Himself the prophecy of Isaiah, "The Lord hath anointed Me to preach the gospel to the poor." Thus at Jerusalem He is not found in the palaces of the great, but in the porches of Bethesda, among the impotent, blind, halt, and withered.

If this be true, it will explain much that has taken place in our missionary experience in India and other countries where the system of caste prevails. We have had not unfrequently to meet the taunt of preaching only to the most ignorant and least influential classes of the heathen. Our reply is, Jesus did the same, and this proves the necessity of adaptation. The ministry which is suited to the Hottentots or Bechuanas of South Africa would be inappropriate for Brahmins and Mohammedans in Hindostan, or the disciples of Confucius and Buddha in China. The missionary must not only know the language, but he must know the people. The Gospel is the power of God to every one that believeth, and the only remedy for the sins of the world; but great skill is required in the application of it to every individual case. Missionaries must be fishers of men. The common notion that all are to be treated in the same way; for example, that the sending forth a complete Church organization, a Bishop with priests and deacons, the Liturgy, and the administration of the sacraments and the like, will necessarily make its way into the hearts of a heathen people, does not seem to be the course which our Lord adopted. He sent forth His disciples two and two into every village and town where He Himself would come. His commission to them was, "Behold I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves; be ye therefore wise as serpents and harmless as doves. As my Father hath sent Me, even so send I you." No work requires more wisdom, tact, faith, judgment, and heavenly patience than the work of a missionary. Allowing to all faithful servants of the Lord the same sincerity in prayer and of promised help and blessing, yet we see practically a very different result in the labours of one man from those of another. In the most honoured and successful there has been a traceable cause and effect, not in the amount of intellectual, or physical, or moral power, but in the adaptation of the individual sympathy. Have we not had many bright examples of this conformity to our Lord's example? Have not our hearts been cheered by the wonderful progress, through the blessing of God, made by the holy sagacity, the sanctified love, and devoted self-denying perseverance of beloved fathers and brethren whose record is on high, and whose converts may be reckoned by thousands and hundreds of thousands?

It was the bending of all the energy of mind and affection to the individual case which gives so glorious a view of the condescension and wisdom of Jesus, and it is the same spiritual discernment and painstaking effort to meet the particular condition of those to whom the messenger is sent which will accomplish those great results of which, under God, we have had so many proofs in the work of our Society. If we pray for more missionaries, let us not forget to pray that they may be able ministers of the New Testament, apt to teach, wise to win souls, fishers of men.

4. And I come lastly to consider another lesson in the following of Christ, and it is His compassion for the misery and the multitude of the unevangelized.

Jesus was brought into contact with a suffering as well as a sinful world, and as His ministry advanced, so the magnitude of it developed. We are told that when He saw the multitudes He was moved with compassion, because they fainted, and were scattered as sheep having no shepherd. His personal contact with the world discovered its wants, and the more He helped, the more the wants were revealed. In this our Lord manifested His real, true, and intense humanity. For, until we enter personally upon a work of charity, whether for soul or for body, we do not know how much misery exists around us. Helping one case brings to light another, and the very help afforded induces others who need it to make their sorrows known. By following the footsteps of Jesus we become acquainted with the ignorance and misery of our fellow-creatures; and then, how to help them becomes the all-important question. We think we can overtake a few; but when vast numbers are presented to us we are appalled. "What are these among so many?" Sad enough it is to see one sufferer, one unconverted man or woman, one blasphemer, one idolater, one infidel; but when these are multiplied by hundreds and thousands and millions we exclaim, "Who is sufficient for these things?" But the mission of Jesus is to the world. The mission of His Church is not to a favoured locality or a limited population, but to the whole world. His disciples are to become fishers of men. Have we realized the claims which an unevangelized world has upon us? We come into contact with multitudes of people commercially, socially, politically; we trade with them, we interchange hospitality, acts of kindness and friendship, and treat them as belonging to the common family of man; but do we, as we come into close relationship with them, realize the enormous number of them who are living without Christ and without God in the world? Think of the astonishing fact that, notwithstanding the Gospel has been preached for more than 1800 years, there are 856,000,000 of heathen, 170,000,000 of Mohammedans, and 8,000,000 of Jews (1,034,000,000). What have we done, what are we doing for them? We have had possession of India for more than a century, and we have not provided them with more than one missionary to 480,000 people. What must they think of their English conquerors? their imperial governors? Either that we do not believe in the Christian religion, or that it has no life in it. And what is their moral condition? Fainting and distressed, as sheep having no shepherd. Think of a flock of sheep scattered, hunted, and worried in a vast wilderness, falling into pits, caught in thickets, cast in ditches, drowned in swamps, and left helplessly to be devoured limb by limb by wild beasts and birds of prey. Yet this, touching as the sight would be, is nothing compared to the state of the heathen world, full of the habitations of cruelty. Our Lord was moved with compassion when He saw the wretched objects of disease who came to Him; and what are our feelings when we hear and see the terrible moral, spiritual, physical, and social effects of sin in the unevangelized population of the globe we inhabit? Yes, they are our brothers and sisters, many of them our fellow-subjects and fellow-citizens, living and dying without Christ and without hope. But Jesus healed them all, showing that He had a power which no one else possessed. He restored a withered arm which no surgical skill could touch; He cleansed the leper for whom the physician had no remedy; He raised the dead when all human efforts to retain life had been exhausted—He did that by His almighty power which the ordinary means at man's disposal could not do.

And this is what we have found in our missionary experience—the Gospel has done that which the wisdom and power of man could not do. Let me illustrate this by a very brief retrospect of some of the operations of the Church Missionary Society.

We may trace one of the earliest causes of the origin of this Society to the existence of a gross and inexcusable sin, which no human effort ever did or ever will cure. Authorized by law, encouraged by public opinion and by the consent of professing Christians, the curse of slavery was not removed until godly men, moved with compassion for these miserable slaves, united in prayer, and formed themselves into a society for their emancipation. This was done in the face of much reproach and opposition on the part of capitalists, magistrates, planters, and owners of property in the West Indies. But faith and love triumphed, and now the slave-markets are closed, the slaves are set free, and many of them have become ministers and missionaries to their own countrymen. Sierra Leone, with its bishop and clergy, is a self-supporting Church. The River Niger has its Native bishop and Native pastors in a climate where the European cannot live. Churches and congregations are increasing in Lagos and Yoruba; and now, following the track of Krapf, and Gobat, and Livingstone, the Gospel is unfurling the banner of the cross at the source of the Nile, where the martyred Bishop Hannington, and Native martyrs from among the firstfruits of the Gospel, have sown the seed of the Church with their blood in the centre of the most savage of savage kingdoms.

We claim the emancipation of the slave for the Gospel—nothing but this will do it. Colonies may be planted, scientific travellers may explore, and bands of Jesuits may get a footing, but there is only one influence which will make Ethiopia stretch out her hands to God free from chains, and that is Christ.

Again, we may see faith triumphing over the impossibilities of human policy in the aggression which Christian Missions have made in India. I do not speak of the labours of Schwartz and other German missionaries, but confine my illustration to what England has done for India. It is now exactly 100 years since Carey and his band of devoted men went to India. They were refused admission upon the same principle as if they had been a contraband article of trade. At that time the authorities winked at the cruelties and immoralities practised at heathen festivals, paid the pilgrim-tax, and the expenses of Juggernaut, notwithstanding the protests which were made by Christians both at home and in India—for the work of evangelization was going on. One of the first converts from Mohammedanism, named Abdallah, was martyred at Bochara in 1807. His intimate friend, Sabat, betrayed him, and, like Saul at the stoning of Stephen, was present at his execution. He saw first one hand cut off, and then the other, and then his head, but, as he confessed afterwards, the martyr never changed. Sabat was converted afterwards by reading the Bible, and became the assistant of Henry Martyn in translating the Bible into Persian. But it was not until the year 1816 that the Church Missionary Society was enabled to send out a missionary to Bengal. The faith of Christ's people triumphed over the cupidity and cowardice of diplomacy. In 1829 Suttees were abolished, the bloody orgies of Juggernaut ceased in 1857, the three provinces of India became Episcopal Dioceses, and we have now ten bishops and 668 clergy (a large proportion of whom are Native), and this without reckoning the missionaries of the American Church and the Presbyterian and other denominations. But this is not all: the policy of the Government has changed. Now, viceroys and officials of every rank, civil and military, confirm the reply made by Lord Palmerston to a deputation of the Bible Society: "It is not only our duty, but it is our interest, to promote the diffusion of Christianity as far as possible throughout the whole length and breadth of India; and, independently of Christian considerations, they believe that every additional Christian in India is an additional bond of union with this country, and an additional source of strength to it." Again I say, we claim the change which is taking place, morally, spiritually, and socially, in India for the Gospel.

May I trespass upon your attention for a few moments to remind you that what was impossible for the enterprise of commerce in the islands of the Pacific, and especially in New Zealand, was accomplished by the energy of faith?

The ferocity and cannibalism of these savages presented an insuperable barrier to intercourse with Europeans. Marsden's prayers and courage led to the conversion of New Zealand, and it is now an English colony with six bishops and twenty-four Native clergymen, and 25,000 Native Christians. And what more shall I say of the Polar region of Far West America, where the lucrative trade in fur could only tempt a few Europeans to settle, and where the Natives were demoralized by ardent spirits? Who would have ventured to say, seventy years ago, that we should have six bishops, twenty-two European clergy, ten country-born clergy, and five Native clergy? We used to speak of the impossibilities of China, with its withering influence of the opium trade, of Japan, and of Persia, but these are passing away—the faith of the Gospel triumphs! And now, what is the relation in which Christianity stands to the world in this Jubilee year of the most happy and prosperous reign of a Queen who has always lived in the hearts of her subjects, and under whose government more has been done for the spread of the Gospel than in any previous fifty years of English history? More churches and places of worship have been built, more bishops and clergy and ministers and missionaries have been employed, more institutions for the prevention and reformation of vice, more hospitals and homes for every form of disease (curable and incurable), more charitable institutions for the relief of the poor, more colleges and schools for the education of all classes, have been organized and supported, and these reproduced in the vast fields of emigration to our colonies and dependencies; and yet, with all this, and a similar progress in other countries, we can only reckon 450,000,000 of professing Christians, and 1,000,000,000 of heathen and Mohammedans—like the dawn of the morning on the mountain-tops appearing. Are we not in the very infancy of our work? Are we not brought back to first principles? What hope is there for converting so vast a multitude when the heathen and Mohammedans increase year by year in larger numbers than the converts that are made from among them? The only answer is, "Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men." "Unto you which fear My name shall the Sun of Righteousness arise with healing in His wings."

This is the answer, the only answer we can make to the rationalist who taunts us with the charge that the Gospel is a failure, saying, "Where is now thy God?" What Christ has done in the past, we must do, by His grace, in the future; and while we are mending the nets of civil government, of education, and social science, let us obey the command of Christ to follow Him into the higher service of spiritual influence, for it is this which gives power and permanency to all moral progress. The weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God the Holy Spirit. To be followers of Jesus and fishers of men is to take the first place in all that is holy, and good, and true, and loving, and peaceable. Missionaries have been, and are, the greatest benefactors of the world. It may be said of them—

(1) That they have been foremost as travellers in exploring unknown regions, and have, by God's blessing, been more successful in promoting civilization and social progress in all parts of the world.

(2) They have entered upon their work generally in the face of the greatest opposition, and have accomplished it where all other agencies have failed.

(3) They have proved that the preaching of the Gospel is universally applicable, and just as efficacious to save souls now as it was when it was first preached at Jerusalem, or Samaria, or Antioch.

(4) That missionaries have been the true development of the Pentecostal gift of tongues, and are increasingly adding to the number of those who are preaching in every language under heaven the wonderful works of God!

Who is there amongst us that will not rise to the great opportunity? With our experience of the past, with the advantages of the press, the railway, the steam and electric communication, and all the appliances of modern invention and progress, shall we not make this year of Jubilee a starting-point for greater zeal, self-denial, prayer, liberality and co-operation, and thanksgiving than we have ever made before? And so much the more as we see the day approaching, shall we not, whether we would be missionaries or not, whether we ought to be missionaries or not, whether we might be missionaries or not, with humble, believing, and obedient hearts, say, "Nevertheless, at Thy word we will let down the net."

THE following system for spelling NATIVE NAMES is recommended to the Society's Missionaries generally for adoption in their letters and reports, unless any of them should prefer a still closer approximation to the more elaborate scheme of Professor Lepsius. This system should not be applied, of course, to those well-known places of which the spelling has become so fixed that it would be mere pedantry to disturb it; as, for instance, Travancore (Travankur), and Lucknow (Laknau). Other well-known names, spelt correctly according to this method, are not pronounced accordingly by English residents. For example, the a in Lagos is always pronounced by English residents, when speaking English, as in the word make.

â usually as in '*f*ather' (in North-Indian words as in '*a*ll').
e as in '*p*en.'
ê as in '*f*ête.'
i as in '*th*in.'
î as in '*p*ique.'
o as in '*n*ot,' or as in the French '*b*onne.'
ô as in '*n*ote.'
u as in '*f*ull.'
û as in '*tr*uly.'
ai as i in '*th*ine.'
au or ou or ow as in '*b*ough.'

It needs only to be noticed further that—

y always sounds as in '*y*ou.'
g " as in '*g*o.'
j " as in '*j*oin.'
gn as in 'poi*gn*ant.'
ng as in 'thi*ng*.'
ei as in '*v*ein.'

h has always a separate sound, except in ch as in '*ch*urch,' and sh as in '*sh*e;' th and dh should, therefore, not be used in South Indian names to express the dental t and d.

c whether for k or s, being superfluous, is not used.

Doubled letters should each be pronounced distinctly, as in Italian.

ae represents a sound intermediate between a in 'mat' and e in 'met.'

GENERAL REVIEW OF THE YEAR.

(READ IN EXETER HALL.)

"Ye shall hallow the fiftieth year, and proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof: it shall be a jubile unto you."—Lev. xxv. 10.

Such was Jehovah's command to Israel more than three thousand years ago, when a proclamation "throughout all the land" meant throughout a country about the size of Wales. This year, the whole British Empire is celebrating the jubilee of its gracious Sovereign, and "all the land" means immense territories in every quarter of the globe. But the Church Missionary Society, heartily uniting in the national thanksgiving, rejoices the more because its high and holy function is to proclaim liberty far beyond even the vast regions that own the sway of Queen Victoria. To it and its sister societies "all the land" means "all the world;" and "liberty" means freedom indeed—freedom from sin and sin's consequences—freedom for ever and ever—freedom purchased at no less a price than the blood of the incarnate Son of God.

The Queen's Jubilee.

The subjects of Queen Victoria may well praise the King of Kings for the wondrous blessings vouchsafed to the empire during the fifty years of her reign. But there is one feature in the past half-century which will be unnoticed by many of the eloquent pens now engaged in magnifying its material and social progress. That feature is the opening up of the world to missionary enterprise. Fifty years ago, the Church of Christ, even had it been as zealous as in fact it was inert, could not have fully carried out its Captain's marching orders. In China the door was shut; in Japan it was sealed; even in India important provinces could not be entered; the greater part of British America was inaccessible; the greater part of Africa was totally unknown. The Committee recall with deep interest the fact that the year ending June, 1837, was the year in which were sent out the first C.M.S. pioneer missionary to China, and the men who were afterwards the first to enter East Africa and the first to enter the Yoruba country; and they render humble and heartfelt praise to God for the marvellous progress of the Gospel in those and other lands during her Majesty's reign. The Society has sent out more than 900 missionaries in the fifty years, and its clergy have baptized more than 80,000 adult converts from Heathenism and Mohammedanism, besides tens of thousands of the children of converts. Fifty years ago, only three Native clergymen had been ordained to the ministry of the Church of England: since then, 355 have been ordained in connection with the C.M.S. alone. A mere enumeration of the peaceful deaths of Native Christians, the tokens of the final and complete setting free of the former slaves of sin and Satan, would be a rich reward for all the Society's labours.

But time will not permit of this inviting retrospect being continued. The Committee turn to pursue the humbler but not less grateful path of recording the blessings of the past year. And in beginning with the Society's losses of friends and fellow-workers, the Committee do not leave that path; for each name on the roll-call suggests thanksgiving for blessings received.

First they name the veteran Treasurer of the Society who, on Lord Chichester's death last year, took also the President's chair for a few months, Captain the Hon. Francis Maude. "God grant," he said in Exeter Hall last May, "that we may have more Annual Meetings like this!" Another Annual Meeting has come round; but he has joined a more glorious gathering in the immediate presence of his Lord. From the Vice-Presidents' list disappear the names of the Earl of Enniskillen; Lord Kinnaird and General Sir William Hill, the ardent promoters of Christian education and Zenana Missions in India; Bishop McLean of Saskatchewan, fatally injured in the midst of his indefatigable labours; Bishop Titcomb, late of Rangoon; and Daniel Wilson, for fifty-four years Vicar of Islington. Of Honorary Governors for Life the Society has lost Archdeacon Birch, of Blackburn; Canon James Bardsley, of Manchester; Canon Linton, late of Oxford; the Rev. H. Barne, of Clifton; the Rev. G. C. Hodgson, of Corbridge; above all, George Townsend Fox, of Durham, one of the staunchest friends the Society ever had. Of retired missionaries, C. A. Gollmer, of Lagos; Robert Hunt, of Rupert's Land; and James Long, of Calcutta. Of missionaries in the field, William Oakley, the veteran of Ceylon; George Shirt, first of Sindhi scholars and translators; the brave and resolute Philip O'Flaherty, of U-Ganda; Mrs. Harding, of Lagos; Mrs. E. Hoernlé (née Bruce), of Persia; Mrs. Maundrell, of Japan; Mrs. Hooper, Mrs. Herbert, and Mrs. Atkinson, of India. Also four Native clergymen, among whom must be named Robert Noble's first Brahmin convert, the Rev. Manchála Ratnam, of Masulipatam.

Turning from the Church triumphant to the Church militant, the Committee to-day introduce to the Society, with thankful satisfaction, the new President, Sir John H. Kennaway, Bart., M.P., and they present for election to the office of Treasurer (in accordance with Law VII.) Sir Thomas Fowell Buxton, Bart. The names of Kennaway and Buxton have been prominent and honoured in C.M.S. circles for seventy years, the one in the West of England and the other in the East; and the Committee rejoice now to see them attached to the Society's two principal lay offices. The New President and the New Treasurer.

The Bishops of Lincoln and Ely, having joined the Society as members, have accepted the office of Vice-President, in accordance with Law II.; and the Committee, under the powers given them by Laws II. and XIII., have appointed the following to the same office, viz. the Bishop of Melbourne (Dr. Goe), the Bishop of the Church of England in Eastern Equatorial Africa (Dr. Parker), the Anglican Bishop in Jerusalem and the East (Dr. Blyth), the Bishop-designate of Saskatchewan (Dr. Pinkham), the Rev. Lord Forester, the Dean of Gloucester (Dr. Spence); the Ven. Archdeacon Cooper, of Kendal; the Rev. C. F. Childe, formerly Principal of the C.M. College; and Sir Douglas Fox. New Vice-Presidents.

The list of One Hundred Honorary Governors for Life has eight vacancies, six by death and two by transfers to the list of Vice-Presidents. The Committee have had no little difficulty in selecting the names for these eight vacancies, so numerous are the friends who may be truly said to have "rendered very essential services to the Society." After prolonged consideration, they nominate the following:—the Ven. Archdeacon Seaver, Belfast; the Rev. J. W. Consterdine, Alderley Edge, Cheshire; the Rev. E. W. Foley, Jevington, Sussex; the Rev. Herbert James, Livermere, Suffolk; the Rev. H. B. Macartney, jun., of Melbourne; the Rev. H. W. Webb-Peploe, St. Paul's, Onslow Square; A. S. Leslie-Melville, Esq., Lincoln; and General J. G. Touch, a most active member of the Society's Committees in India and in London. It is with especial pleasure that, in a year when Great Britain and her Colonies are being drawn closer together in common interests and mutual sympathy, they include in the list the name of Mr. Macartney, who has for many years, by his own personal efforts in Australia, rendered valuable aid, both in men and money, to the Indian Missions.

Missionary Candidates.

The Committee thank God that an increasing number of His most devoted servants among young men and women are being led to consider the claims of the foreign field upon them; and they rejoice to report that no less than eighteen University graduates were accepted in the twelve months under review. Twelve of these were from Cambridge, the largest number ever received in one year; two from Oxford, one from Dublin, and three (medical men) from Edinburgh and Glasgow. Also, four ladies; and twelve young men for training: thirty-four in all, out of eighty-two who definitely offered, and a much larger number who did not advance beyond preliminary inquiries. The Society might easily have a larger staff if it lowered its standard; but the Committee consider that for foreign service picked men are needed, and that mere numbers are of far less importance than that those selected should be not only converted men but men wholly consecrated, and men of mental, physical, and spiritual power. Missionary life is a life that tests body, mind, and spirit. Bodily perils are the last to be thought of; but even they cannot be forgotten in a year when one missionary has been shipwrecked with wife and child on the desolate coast of Hudson's Bay while the thermometer was below zero; when another narrowly escaped drowning from the upsetting of a mission boat in India; when a third has been gored by an African buffalo and seriously injured; and when a fourth has been confined to his room in Persia more than a hundred days by the effects of an accident.—In addition to the recruits enlisted in England, the Committee have had the great pleasure of enrolling in the Society's ranks the late Commissioner of Rawal Pindi, Mr. H. E. Perkins, who has joined as an honorary missionary after thirty years of Government service in India.

The Church Missionary College continues to supply about half of the Society's missionaries, and the Committee report with much satisfaction the frequent evidences of the excellence of their training. At the Bishop of London's Trinity Ordination last year, one of the Society's students was appointed to read the Gospel;* and within the last fortnight it has been announced that of six men who sat for the recent Oxford and Cambridge Preliminary Theological Examination, five were placed in the first-class, in which class were placed only fifteen out of the whole number of sixty-eight candidates who passed.

The undoubted advance in missionary interest at home, to which, under God, the Committee look for a larger supply of well-qualified missionaries, has been manifested in many ways. It is true that, to reap the fruits of that increased interest, organization is needed; but organization will now find Christian people ready to respond to its efforts. Manchester is a conspicuous instance. Fresh energy thrown into the anniversary arrangements resulted in a magnificent gathering in the great Free Trade Hall, the largest for many years. In Liverpool, the new Lay-Workers' Union is growing. The London Unions have had a prosperous year. Several of the County Unions are doing excellent work. A modest and quite informal organization worked through the C.M. Gleaner, and called the "Gleaners' Union," has evoked a surprising amount of interest and sympathy on the part of scattered workers of all classes and ages in all parts of the country, and indeed of the world; and six thousand members have been enrolled by name in Salisbury Square within ten months. But beyond all, the Committee have again this year to render unfeigned praise to God for the Simultaneous Meetings, both those of October in Ireland, and those of February in London. The London meetings and services, some two thousand in number, surpassed all expectations in the interest they aroused; and the Committee are assured that in very many parishes the results are manifest in new or improved organization, new prayer-meetings, new working-parties, new methods of circulating missionary periodicals; while many hearts have been touched with the desire to spend and be spent, at home or abroad, in the Master's service. Large special contributions have also been received through the influence of the meetings. The Committee record with peculiar pleasure the memorable Thanksgiving Service held at St. Paul's Cathedral, which was lent to the Society by the Dean and Chapter for the first time. They thank the Bishop of

C.M.S. Unions.

* The same thing occurred at this year's Trinity Ordination, June 5th, 1887, when an Islington man again read the Gospel.

Rochester for his sermon on that occasion, and also both him and many other willing friends who worked hard in preaching and speaking throughout the F.S.M. Week.

Children's Home.

The Committee regretted much to receive the resignation of the Rev. A. J. P. Shepherd, Director of the Children's Home, on account of ill-health; but they have welcomed as his successor the Rev. F. V. Knox, M.A., Demy of Magdalen College, Oxford, late Chaplain in the Punjab, and formerly Assistant-Master at Merchant Taylors' School. The new buildings at Limpsfield are rapidly approaching completion.

Funds.

The Committee next report on the Funds. Last year they had to announce the largest Ordinary income ever received. This year, with unfeigned thanksgiving to God, they announce an Ordinary Income 6555*l.* higher than that of last year, namely, 207,798*l.* This advance, however, is more than accounted for by the inclusion in the year's receipts of 6921*l.* specially contributed to cover last year's deficiency; while all the ordinary branches of income are lower except Legacies, which are 6000*l.* higher. Associations stand for 2070*l.* less; but this is mainly due to the receipt of large legacies by some of them in the preceding year, and several show a gratifying advance, particularly in London. But many of the gifts which have been particularly welcome are not included in Ordinary Income. More than 4000*l.* has been received in London in connection with the February Simultaneous Meetings, a large part of which goes to the Extension Fund. St. Paul's, Onslow Square, has given 2500*l.* to start a new Mission. All Saints, Clapham, has given 1050*l.*, and other churches smaller sums, all in addition to their usual amounts. The Extension Fund has also received an anonymous donation of 3000*l.* for work among Mohammedans, and numerous other sums, making up 8452*l.* in the year. To the C.M. House Fund has been given 1582*l.*, and to the new Children's Home 2274*l.* Of these various amounts 1540*l.* has been contributed in Jubilee Thankofferings. The grand total of receipts on all accounts, including Special Funds, Interest, &c., is 234,639*l.*

The Ordinary Expenditure has been 204,324*l.*, in addition to 4311*l.* chargeable to the Extension Fund. The nett result of the year, as regards Ordinary Receipts and Expenditure, is to replace nearly half the deficiency of last year; and other receipts, including Government grants for freed slaves in Africa, have raised the balance of the Contingency Fund, which is the barometer of the Society's financial position, to 10,500*l*. But it must be remembered that the Committee have been severely restricting their grants to the Missions; that it is absolutely impossible to keep the expenditure at its present figure while God is everywhere blessing the work; and that the increased supply of men will of itself involve increased outlay. The Committee earnestly appeal to their friends to save them from the hard task of cutting down estimates, refusing urgent applications from every part of the world, and missing the opportunities of development and expansion which the Lord so continually sets before them.

The Mission Field!

In the brief and totally inadequate review of the Society's Missions of which time admits, the Committee this year take them once more in geographical order.

West Africa has received the unusual gift of two more University men. The intercourse the Committee have had with their African brother, the Rev. James Johnson, who has been warmly welcomed to this country, has deepened their conviction of the importance of superior men devoting themselves to the inviting West African fields, especially in view of the aggressions of Mohammedanism. Christianity is suffering at present from its apparent connection with the terrible curse of the African drink-traffic; and Christian men must gird themselves for a struggle with this growing evil not less strenuous than that of their fathers with the slave-traffic. Nevertheless the Native Churches, especially at Lagos and in the Niger Delta, are flourishing in many ways; and the Committee trust that as they are rapidly growing in self-support and self-government, they will now prove themselves to be self-extending by invading both Pagan and Mohammedan territories in the name of the Lord. What their 25,000 members need is the out-pouring of the Holy Spirit upon themselves. For that the Committee ask definite and fervent prayer. New stations have been opened on both the Kworra and Binué branches of the Upper Niger, one of them 400 miles from the sea, the highest point yet reached by the Mission.

African Drink Traffic.

Extension on the Niger.

On Eastern Equatorial Africa have again been concentrated the interest and sympathy of the whole Christian world. The publication of the last diary of the lamented Bishop, and of the admirable Life of him by the Rev. E. C. Dawson, has proved James Hannington's title to a place in the very front rank of the heroes of Christendom. The cruel sufferings of the persecuted Christians in U-Ganda, and their faithfulness unto death, have shown the whole world, just at a time when scientists are telling us that Christianity is effete, and hasty travellers are pronouncing converts a failure, what the grace of Christ can do in the hearts of very humble and half-taught believers. The Committee thank God for being permitted to see Mr. Ashe in England, and for His gracious preservation of Mr. Mackay, who was well on the 24th of January last. They feel that a Mission with so unique a history, with so many repeated tokens of the signal favour of the Most High, continues to call for undaunted faith and courage in its prosecution. One of the first things Mr. Ashe said on landing in England was, that if the Society now sent a man to U-Ganda, he claimed the honour of being that one; and it is in this spirit that he will shortly return, and that a fresh party will sail next week. But no Mission in India or China ought to lose one penny through Africa being reinforced; and the Committee appeal for special offerings to cover the expenses of this new party, and to provide a new and superior vessel for the Victoria Nyanza.

But U-Ganda is not Eastern Equatorial Africa. The Society must not forget Msalala, and Uyui, and Mpwapwa, and Mamboia, and Frere Town, and Rabai, and Taita, and Chagga; and the Committee rejoice that the now widely-extended Mission has this year received such a leader as their much valued friend and fellow-worker, Bishop Henry P. Parker, who was consecrated on St. Luke's Day. North India's loss is Africa's gain indeed!

Work in Mohammedan Lands.

The Society's work in the Mohammedan Lands of the East—Egypt, Palestine, Mesopotamia, Persia—is still carried on amid great and peculiar difficulties. It is a "work of faith," and calls for the "patience of hope," and the Society should in prayer "remember without ceasing" the brethren engaged in it. A very remarkable report has been sent home by General Haig, of his recent journey to the ports on both sides of the Red Sea, which was undertaken by him with a view to possible openings for the projected Gordon Memorial Mission to the Soudan, and for the Arabia Mission on which his heart is so much set. His inquiries have shown how jealously some of the doors into those lands are guarded, but has indicated an inviting opening for work in what was formerly called Arabia Felix, which has been taken advantage of by the young medical missionary at Aden, who moved thence to Hodeidah for the purpose.

India and Ceylon have been the first to reap the advantage of the very interesting tour through the Society's Missions undertaken by the Honorary Clerical Secretary. Mr. Wigram and his eldest son, by incessant journeys, carefully mapped out for every day and hour, have succeeded in visiting almost all the Society's principal stations in our Indian Empire, and not a few of the smaller ones; and the Committee have received with great thankfulness accounts from all quarters of the encouragement afforded to their missionary brethren by these visits. It has pleased God to give both of them spiritual power for counsel and exhortation; and the Committee pray that as He has permitted a most elaborate programme to be carried out all over India with only two days' failure in five months, so He will grant the same preservation and guidance through China, Japan, and North America. The great lesson urged by Mr. Wigram upon the Society at home is the urgent need of reinforcements. Almost every Mission in India is under-manned; much work is standing still, or being only just kept going; while everywhere the opportunities for both development and extension are manifold. The Committee call upon their friends to pray without ceasing for more labourers to go forth into the great harvest-field of India.

Mr. Wigram's Tour.

An important part of the Society's Indian work is the building up of the large Christian communities gathered from among the heathen. While throwing these as much as possible upon their own resources for administration and support, the Society cannot neglect the duties of training their clergy and teachers, helping in the education of their children, providing for them Christian literature; above all, fostering their spiritual life. The now rapid spread of the Gospel in India is resulting, inevitably, in the growth of an hereditary and nominal Christianity, which may count in statistical tables, but which is really a source of serious weakness. Its existence is a proof, indeed, not of the failure of Missions, but of their success. Its absence would be a miracle which we have not seen in Europe, and must not expect to see in India. But its presence is a loud call to us to strengthen to the utmost the nucleus of true religion around which it has gathered. It is to this end that the Committee have arranged to send a Special Mission to India in the ensuing autumn, for the purpose of holding services for the Native Christians, akin to those of Parochial Missions at home. They hope that ten able and devoted clerical and lay brethren will go for six months; and they ask for the prayers of all their friends in behalf of this important scheme, and also special contributions to enable them to carry it out fully.

But the Evangelization of the Heathen and Mohammedan population is still the Society's chief work in India. It is not possible in this brief summary to tell of the abundant fruit granted in the past year to missionary effort of all kinds. But the Committee report with special thankfulness the successful planting of the new Medical Mission at Quetta by Dr. S. W. Sutton, while they deplore the death of the Rev. G. Shirt, who went up there with him.

The great field of China continues to be worked by other societies with a force and energy which the Committee rejoice to observe, all the more because the C.M.S. can devote to that great empire so small a proportion of its own resources. Its work, however, continues to receive signal tokens of the Divine blessing. In Fuh-Kien and Kwan-tung, Bishop Burdon has confirmed in the year more than 900 of the Society's converts. The University of Dublin, which is already represented in the Fuh-chow staff, is arranging to send forth and support a missionary of its own in that fruitful field. To Mid-China Bishop Moule has just returned, with a small but valuable reinforcement, which the Committee hope may soon be added to. It is remarkable that the Chinese Government, which just before the Queen's Accession, knowing the religion of Christ then only as taught by the Jesuits, put forth an imperial decree "to forbid Christianity with vigour," have signalized the year of the Queen's Jubilee by a proclamation "calling on the people to live at peace with Christian missionaries and converts, and explaining that the Christian religion teaches men to do right, and should therefore be respected."

Progress in China.

Japan is still more conspicuous for its favourable attitude towards the Gospel. The chief anxiety with regard to that strange country is whether the nucleus of a true and strong and living Church will be established before the whole nation embraces, from political motives, an imperfect and lifeless Christianity. The number of Native Christians is increasing rapidly, having more than doubled in three years; and they are manifesting singular independence, and a strong desire for an organic union of the different denominations. The 1600 Christians connected with the three Episcopal Missions have lately formed themselves into a distinct "Japan Favourable attitude in Japan.

Church," accepting "for the present" the English and American Bishops and English Prayer Book and Articles, but avowing their determination hereafter to claim entire independence. The first three Japanese clergymen connected with the Society were ordained in February by Bishop Bickersteth.

Passing over New Zealand and North-West America, both which Missions have given much cause for thanksgiving to God, the Committee come, finally, to the North Pacific Mission. The report of General Touch and the Rev. W. R. Blackett's visit to Metlakahtla fully confirmed them in their sense of deep gratitude to Bishop Ridley, and showed the real character of the opposition he has had to contend with. The Canadian Government have since taken very necessary steps to vindicate law and order; and there is every reason to hope that, by God's blessing, the dark clouds that have so long hung over Metlakahtla are breaking, and will ultimately, it may be very soon, pass away.

The Deputation to Metlakahtla.

In conclusion, the Committee advert briefly to two matters of exceptional importance, the Jerusalem Bishopric and Native Church Organization in India.

The Committee received with satisfaction an intimation from the Archbishop of Canterbury that he desired to revive the Anglican Bishopric in Jerusalem and the East. This Bishopric, which was founded in 1841, mainly through the influence of the late Earl of Shaftesbury and other Evangelical leaders, and supported partly by an endowment raised by them (mainly through the efforts of the London Society for Promoting Christianity among the Jews), and partly by an annual payment from the King of Prussia, has been in abeyance since 1881, owing to difficulties arising with respect to the continuance of the subsidy by Prussia. The Society has been much inconvenienced by the consequent absence in Palestine of those episcopal ministrations which, from 1813 downwards, it has used earnest efforts to obtain for its various Missions. As a temporary expedient, the Committee sought the assistance of Bishop Hannington when on his way to Africa in 1884, and of Bishop Cheetham when on a tour in the East in 1886; and with the sanction of the Archbishop of Canterbury, those Bishops held confirmations and ordinations in the Society's Missions, as well as in those of the London Society for Promoting Christianity among the Jews. But both Societies have repeatedly expressed their desire to see a resident Bishop appointed. On the other hand, those who object to the presence of any Protestant Bishop in lands occupied by the Greek and other Eastern Churches have used their influence to prevent such an appointment. The Archbishop decided that a Bishop ought to be sent, and with a view to this he invited the two Societies to help in making up that portion of the episcopal income which had been previously contributed by Prussia. By the Trust Deed, the original endowment is under the control of the Archbishops of Canterbury and York and the Bishop of London; and under these circumstances they alone were practically able to arrange for the appointment of a Bishop. The Committee considered it their duty to assist, and voted a grant of 300*l.* a year, limited to one occupant of the see; the London Jews' Society doing the same. The two Archbishops and the Bishop of London then appointed Archdeacon G. Popham Blyth, late of Rangoon; and the Committee have good right to claim that he will heartily support the Society's work, some of which he saw on his visit to Jerusalem in 1885, and of which he spoke appreciatively to the Archbishop before his appointment. That work, mainly designed for the evangelization of the Mohammedan population, yet certainly not excluding efforts to enlighten members of the unreformed Churches of the East, the Committee steadfastly purpose to carry on as the Lord shall enable them.

The Committee have confined themselves to a bare statement of facts, because a difference of opinion has arisen regarding their action in this matter, and because it is proposed that the subject shall be discussed at the Monthly Meeting of the General Committee in June. Meanwhile they ask the earnest supplications of their friends that the Holy Spirit may now and at all times direct and control their deliberations.*

* The Committee Meeting here announced took place on June 13th. The following Resolutions were adopted:—

I. That this Meeting, in view of the very special circumstances of the Jerusalem Bishopric, and looking at the very grave differences of opinion existing among many of the warmest supporters of the Society in regard to the action of the Committee thereon, forbears from passing any resolution dealing with that question, but humbly and prayerfully leaves the matter in the hands of Him who is the Great Head of the Church, the all-wise Disposer of events.

II. That this Meeting desires to place on record its firm and continued adhesion to the principle of the selection of the Society's agents by the Committee, and not by any outside authority whatsoever, so as to ensure that none but Protestant and Evangelical men may be sent out as agents of the Society.

But the Committee have been much engaged during the year in the consideration of still larger questions, affecting both the present and the future of the Indian Native Churches. Missionary work is simple enough while it is merely the preaching of the Gospel to the heathen; but just in so far as God blesses that primary branch of it does it become complicated and difficult. What are the relations of the Native Christian congregations, gradually built up and provided with their own pastors, to one another, to the Society and its missionaries, to the Bishop and his Diocesan organization, to European Christians and clergy in the country, to other Native Christians attached to the Church of England, and to Native Christians of other denominations? The Committee look forward to the day when the Indian Church or Churches will be fully organized under Native Bishops; but during the present transition time, with its inevitable anomalies, great wisdom is needed by all concerned. How to foster the independence of the Native Christian community while retaining such influence over it as may guard it from error; how to secure Native clergy and councils their rightful position in relation to the Diocese without subjecting them permanently to the forms and arrangements of the national and established Church of a far-distant and very different country; how to combine elasticity in Church arrangements with faithfulness to fundamental truth:—these are great problems; and the Committee deeply feel the responsibilities in these matters which press upon them more and more as the Missions grow and develop. They hear with thankful satisfaction that the result of their prolonged consideration of the arrangements for Native Church Councils in Bengal has proved acceptable.

Native Church Organization.

It is, indeed, a great and solemn task which the Society as a whole entrusts to the Committee, and they desire more and more, as they render up their yearly account, to realize their own insufficiency. Now and again a particular Mission, like that in U-Ganda, or a particular subject, like the

---

III. That in grave cases of exceptional character, where it may seem of urgent necessity to give assistance in supporting those who are not agents of the Society or appointed by it, the most extreme care and jealous firmness shall be used to secure the appointment only of men who are in full sympathy with the principles of the Society.

IV. That every such case, when it may arise, shall be decided upon its own merits, and in humble dependence on the leading of God's Holy Spirit; and that former grants shall not be held to constitute precedents.

Jerusalem Bishopric, excites public attention; but the amount and variety of business involving the sittings of Committees and Sub-Committees for several hours on three and four days a week for ten months in the year, is little understood by friends at a distance. The work needs a strength and a wisdom far beyond that of the strongest and wisest men. The Committee ask for the prayers of all members of the Society, that they and their Secretaries may seek nothing but the glory of God in the salvation of souls and the edification of Christ's Church; that they may govern all their plans and policy by the Word of God; that they may always continue faithful to Protestant and Evangelical truth; and that they may be guided to apply aright the old spiritual principles which have been the Society's strength from the first to the ever-new and ever-changing circumstances of its world-wide work.

But it is with no doubtful heart or fearful spirit that the Committee make this request. They know that the Lord Himself is with them, and they bless His Holy Name for the assurances of His presence and favour and blessing. Never was continual and fervent prayer for Missions, and for the C.M.S., more general. Never were more constant and heart-stirring tokens of the love and sympathy of God's believing people received in Salisbury Square, in letters and in gifts, from old and young, from rich and poor. Never did the Society and its holy cause inspire more enthusiasm. Never did men, and women too, more consecrated in heart and life to Christ offer themselves for its service. And never was the outlook more hopeful in the Heathen and Mohammedan world.

The Committee would lift up their eyes from all the trials, and perplexities, and questionings, and disappointments, which must needs be in every work in which man is engaged, and, looking up to the everlasting Throne, exclaim with joyful confidence, "The Lord of Hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge!"

Missions.

WEST AFRICA MISSION.

(European Missionaries first arrived, 1804.)

Sierra Leone, 1816; Port Lokkoh, 1876.

THE term "West Africa Mission" applies only to the work carried on by the Society at Sierra Leone and at Port Lokkoh.

Bishop Ingham's primary charge.

Bishop Ingham delivered his primary charge in St. George's Cathedral, Freetown, on May 19th, 1886. On a three years' retrospect he was able to say that while experience had moderated any undue expectations he may have had in taking charge of the diocese, yet he had seen enough of the difficulties and drawbacks surrounding the Native Church to wonder sometimes that there was any progress at all. He spoke of being encouraged by the organization and machinery of the Church, while he lamented that spiritual life was not more vigorous. It had been resolved as an outcome of the Special Mission (reported last year) to establish a branch of the Church of England Temperance Society and a Purity Society, "to meet and deal effectively with the two greatest sins" of the West African Coast.

Proposed Temperance and Purity Societies.

SIERRA LEONE.

The Fourah Bay College: Appointment of a Vice-Principal.

The Rev. F. Nevill has visited England for the sake of his health, but was absent less than five months from his post as Principal of the Fourah Bay College. He has been cheered by the appointment of the Rev. Horace McC. E. Price, of Trinity College, Cambridge, son of the Rev. W. Salter Price, the Society's old and devoted missionary formerly at Nasik and at Frere Town, East Africa. Mr. Horace Price sailed on the 1st of January, and has commenced his labours as Vice-Principal of the College. Thus for the first time in the history of the Mission, Sierra Leone has two English University men.

The students.

During Mr. Nevill's absence the College was left under the charge of the Rev. S. Spain and Mr. M. Wilson, Native tutor, whose excellent administration fully justified the confidence reposed in them. This year commenced with nineteen students in residence, of whom nine were preparing for missionary service in connection with the Society, four were schoolmaster students from the Sierra Leone Church School Board, two were from the Native Church of Lagos, one was preparing for the Rio Pongas Mission, and three were self-paying. Mr. Nevill believes that the "Special Mission" of last year was a great help to some of the students. The Sunday-schools.

Sunday-schools in Cline Town, and the one held in the Mohammedan School for Christians, are conducted almost entirely by the students. Three students passed the examination in Arts (first year-subjects) of the Durham University; one also passed in Theology, and one in Medicine. Miss Nevill has been "of the greatest possible help in the College and at Cline Town."

Examinations.

The Grammar School.

The Grammar School is supported entirely by the fees. The report shows a slight diminution in the number of pupils, 171 as against 183, forty-seven having left, and only thirty-eight been admitted. Of these seventy-nine are boarders. Of those who left, four entered Fourah Bay College and seven entered the service of the Brazilian Submarine Telegraph Company. The Native Principal, the Rev. Obadiah Moore, says, "The introduction of the telegraph into the West Africa settlements is perhaps the most noteworthy feature in the events of the Colony during the year, and it is interesting that the Natives first engaged in the working should be pupils of the C.M.S. Grammar School." Two of these pupils carried off the first two prizes awarded by the company for proficiency in their art, and are now located at Bathurst on the River Gambia. The mother of these two lads, who are twins, is the widow of one of the oldest of the Society's agents. As soon as they received their first monthly stipends they remitted to their mother sufficient to enable her to pay their last quarter's bills at the school.

Success of the pupils.

At the two half-yearly examinations the students acquitted themselves very creditably. The following are the subjects of examination, the examiners being gentlemen of great influence on the coast:—

Examinations.

The subjects examined were, besides elementaries: Latin—Cæsar' Virgil, and Cornelius Nepos, and White's Latin Delectus; Greek—Alcestis of Euripides, parts of Herodotus, Xenophon's Anabasis, and Frost's Analecta Minora; English—Roman, Grecian, and French Histories; French—Charles XII.; Political Economy—Handbook of Modern Science; Trigonometry, Algebra, and Euclid up to book vi.; English Classics—Annotated Plays of Shakespeare, Gray's Poems, and Scott's "Lady of the Lake;" and, the most important of all, the Scriptures.

Among the prizes given at the former examination were six handsomely-bound Polyglot Paragraph Bibles, presented by Miss Effie Buxton, of Easneye. The Juvenile Association of the school contributed 43*l.* 9*s.* 1½*d.* to the funds of the Sierra Leone Church Missions, the whole of which was raised within the school premises from the teachers and students. The Juvenile Association.

Miss Ansell, to the Committee's regret, has felt obliged to retire from her responsible charge as superintendent of the Annie Walsh School. Her health has been much tried by frequent fevers. Miss Helen Bisset, at the close of her first year, writes of trials, disappointments, and difficulties, but also of many encouragements. "And," she adds, "the presence of Jesus hallows all, making the smallest and most menial work sacred." An excellent examination was passed by the girls, and a vast improvement was remarked, not only in their attainments, but also in their appearance and behaviour. Their examination in Scripture knowledge gave special satisfaction. The school branch of the Y.W.C.A. has thirty members. The Annie Walsh School.

The number of adherents of the Sierra Leone Church is about 14,000, of whom about 6000 are communicants. But in addition to the enrolled members there are probably at least half as many more who consider themselves members of the various congregations. About 3000*l.* a year is raised by the Church, supporting fifteen parishes with their out-stations, thirty-nine day-schools, and the local Missionary Society. The Bishop has started a local edition of the C.M. Gleaner as a diocesan magazine. The Sierra Leone Church. The C.M. Gleaner in Sierra Leone.

The Sierra Leone Church Missions held its eleventh annual meeting on March 17th, 1886. Two clergymen, the Revs. N. H. Boston and N. M. Bull, are employed on the Bullom Shore and in British Quiah respectively, besides several lay agents at these places and their out-stations. There are 184 communicants connected with the Mission, and the income, including 95*l.* from the Henry Venn Native Church Fund, was 460*l.* in 1885. The Sierra Leone Church Missions.

PORT LOKKOH.

The Rev. J. A. Alley is in charge, and is assisted by the Rev. S. Taylor, B.A., Native clergyman. English services for the Sierra Leone Natives are held, as well as services for the Timnehs. The congregations are not large, in respect to adults, the average numbers being thirty-three at the morning service, in English, and ten at the Timneh service. There are eighteen communicants. The children Port Lokkoh.

learn the 100 texts of the Irish Church Missions, and are catechized on them. Quarterly missionary-meetings are held.

Both Mr. Alley and Mr. Taylor made itinerating-tours last year. During the dry season the former visited and addressed the people in fifty-three towns and villages. He says there is a silent leavening effect going on, and the better keeping of the Sabbath now than formerly is remarked by the heathen themselves.

The Committee are desirous to extend the work at Port Lokkoh, and with that view have appointed the Rev. N. S. Davis, lately tutor at Fourah Bay College, to the Mission. Local difficulties, however, have caused some delay to his entering upon the work.

Death of the Rev. C. A. Gollmer.

LAST year the Committee had to record the death of the Rev. Henry Townsend, on February 26th. Before the year had concluded, on December 23rd, the Rev. Charles Andrew Gollmer, another of the three founders of the Yoruba Mission (Bishop Crowther was the third), was called to his rest. Mr. Gollmer, after studying at the Basle Seminary and the Church Missionary College, was engaged for four years, from 1841-1845, in the Sierra Leone Mission. But in the latter year he was transferred to the Yoruba Mission, in which he laboured most earnestly and devotedly for nearly twenty years till 1862, during which time he only twice visited England. Since his retirement he had been engaged in translation work, having undertaken the revision of the Yoruba New Testament, part of the Old Testament, the Book of Common Prayer, &c. His honoured name is represented in the mission-field, and at Lagos, where he himself spent much of his time and strength, by his son, the Rev. C. H. V. Gollmer.

His translational work.

While the Committee have, by the departure of these aged veterans, been reminded of the lapse of time since the Society's efforts for the Yoruba country began, they have had a pleasing proof in the visit of the Rev. James Johnson, African clergyman of the independent Lagos Native Church, that a rich reward has been vouchsafed to their labours. At the same time, his visit has afforded opportunities of discussing plans both for the further development of the Lagos Church and for the extension of the Interior Mission, which, by God's blessing on his energy and thoughtfulness, the Committee hope may be carried out. They are pleased to state that the University of Durham are about to confer an honorary degree of M.A. on Mr. Johnson.

Visit of the Rev. James Johnson to England.

Return home of Archdeacon Hamilton.

Archdeacon Hamilton has just returned home. The Committee thank God for the vigour of mind and body, and for the wisdom and love given to His servant for the special work for which he went out. Bishop Ingham writes from Lagos: "I cannot sufficiently express my sense of the good he has been permitted to do here."

LAGOS, AND THE COAST DISTRICT.

Lagos: the staff;

The staff has consisted of Archdeacon Hamilton, in charge of Christ Church, Faji; the Rev. C. H. V. Gollmer, who, with Mrs. Gollmer, has returned during the year, and has resumed charge of the Training Institution, in which the Rev. J. W. Dickinson assists. Mr. Gollmer was accompanied by an Islington man, the Rev. J. Vernall (who read the Gospel at the Bishop of London's ordination), and by Miss Eliza Krusé, daughter of a former missionary in Egypt. The latter was sent out in consequence of the lamented death of Mrs. Harding; and has, together with Miss Kendall, conducted the Female Institution. The Rev. T. Harding, on being relieved from the superintendence of the Training Institution, after a short stay at Abeokuta, has come home on furlough.

Visit of Bishop Ingham;

The Bishop of Sierra Leone visited Lagos in April. On the 17th he admitted the Revs. J. W. Dickinson and J. Vernall to priests' orders at Christ Church, twelve Presbyters assisting in the laying on of hands. On the 20th the Bishop delivered his primary charge to the clergy, churchwardens, and lay delegates, at which twenty-one clergy were present, and forty laymen. The same day took place the first sitting of the Diocesan Conference in the hall of the Grammar School, when Archdeacon Hamilton read a paper on "The Diocese of Sierra Leone and its Requirements." The following day the morning sitting of the Conference was for men only, and the subject of "The Marriage Tie" was admirably opened by Mr. I. H. Willoughby, a member both of the Native Church Committee and Church Council. The Rev. J. B. Wood, as the oldest missionary present, appropriately introduced the last subject, which was "The peculiar Difficulties in the way of Church and Missionary progress in Western Africa, and how to meet them."

The Training and Female Institutions;

In the Training Institution, twenty-one students have been preparing to become teachers. The Female Institution has about fifty girls; the number of boarders is somewhat less than last year. Miss Kendall reports most satisfactory examinations passed at Christmas. Some of the girls show much talent for music and needlework, "doing crewel-work most beautifully." The two Emelia Venn scholars (supported from a fund raised by friends in Hereford, in memory of the late Miss Venn) who completed their four years' course last year, were both, Miss Kendall believes, decided Christians, and will be a credit to the Institution. One condition of the scholarships is that candidates signify their purpose of being educated for the service of the Church Missionary Society or of the Native Church.

The Grammar School

The Rev. Isaac Oluwole is the Native Principal of the Grammar School, assisted by Mr. Henry Carr, B.A., an African Fourah Bay graduate of Durham. There were sixty-five pupils at the close of the year. The subjects studied were much the same as at the Sierra Leone Grammar School. A steady improvement is reported in the conduct of the boys. The fees for the year amounted to 268*l*.

St. Peter's, Faji, will henceforth be no longer reckoned among the stations of the Society, as the charge has been accepted by the Native Pastorate Committee, who have re-appointed its respected pastor, the Rev. T. B. Wright.

The Native Church.

The Lagos Native Church, therefore, now comprises five pastorates, viz. Breadfruit, Aroloya, Ebute Ero, St. Peter's, and Ebute Meta. Connected with the Native Church in the Coast District there are 2574 Christian adherents, including 1057 communicants. Fifty-three adults and ninety-four children were baptized during the year. These are exclusive of those in connection with the Society.

At Badagry, where the Rev. D. Coker is the Native pastor, Bishop Ingham confirmed twelve candidates in April last. A lay catechist, Mr. E. W. George, has been placed at Lekki, in succession to the Rev. S. Pearse, who has entered the service of the Lagos Native Pastorate Committee.

INTERIOR MISSION: ABEOKUTA AND IBADAN.

Interior Mission.

The Rev. J. B. Wood's letter from ABEOKUTA records many things which evidence progress and afford matter for praise. Fifty-seven adults have been received into the visible Church during the year, and the communicants have increased by sixty-one. The total amount contributed was 560*l.*, less than the year before by 57*l.*, but more than 1884 by 39*l.* The Church Council is building two mission-houses, at Ikereku and Gbagura.

Baptisms and contributions;

On the other hand, there is also much to excite compassion and sorrow, and to call for prayer. Domestic persecution (proceeding even to the length of poisoning converts), and the offering of a human sacrifice, are painful reminders that the Church in Abeokuta is still but a little flock; it is less than five per cent. probably of the whole population. Mr. Wood's account must be given:—

Persecution;

The authorities in this town do not, as a body, sanction persecution of Christians; but there is, nevertheless, persecution at times, and such as is hard to be borne. At the beginning of this year, as I was coming up from Lagos, I met a man, who, with his child, was going down to Lagos, hoping there to confess himself a Christian, which he dared not do in Abeokuta for fear of being poisoned. He carried out his wish on arriving at Lagos; but six months later I heard that poison had been given him, and that he was very ill from it. In one of our congregations here there is a Christian woman who was formerly a heathen priestess, and as such obtained for herself and family great gain. It is not needful to say that such gains ceased when she became a Christian. Her relatives took great offence at her change of religion and their consequent loss. Her daughter, a married woman, followed her mother's example, and became a Christian also. One day one of the members of the family was praising the god Ifa, and telling how great his power was. The younger of these two women was present and expressed her disbelief in the power of Ifa. A threat was uttered against her. Shortly after this, poison was administered to her, from which she soon died. This year the daughter of this woman, a girl of about fourteen years of age, was poisoned, and died within a few days of its being given her. This girl's grandmother, and another woman who lived in the same house with her (also a Christian, and because she was a Christian), were ordered to leave the house, and the order had to be obeyed. When the matter was brought to the notice of the chiefs, the command was given that these women should be received back into their house, and that no Christian should be persecuted for the sake of religion in that part.

Romanists at work;

During the past year the Romanists have been actively at work amongst our people, seeking to draw them away. They appear to be much more desirous to convert our people than to gather in heathen and Mohammedans. I am inclined to think that they will find, in the long run, that by following the course they have adopted they have over-reached themselves.

It may seem hardly credible that, in the year 1886, a human sacrifice should have been offered in Abeokuta; yet such was the case. It is an old custom in the Ikereku township to offer human sacrifices periodically, and this year the custom was observed, and a man was put to death as a sacrifice. I heard of what was intended before it took place, and did everything I could to prevent it, but in vain. Only once before (and then I was pleading for the sparing of human life) had I seen such fiendish and frantic determination to persist in their purpose as was shown by a part (not all) with whom I had to do. They told me I must be content with their promise that they would never offer another human sacrifice after the one then near—a promise on which not much reliance can be placed. The sacrifice was made for the purpose of warding off death and securing prosperity. Very soon after it had been made, death carried off an unusually large number of people of all classes in the Ikereku township. The power of the various townships in Abeokuta is such that, in many respects, they can do what they please, and the other townships, which do not agree with their action, are unable to hinder them from doing what may disgrace all. Whether such a sacrifice would have been offered if it had depended on the voice of the whole town, it is hard to say; but I do not think it would have been allowed. Human sacrifices

The Committee rejoice to learn that after a long period of devastating wars, mentioned in former Reports, peace seems now to be virtually secured. By the request of his Excellency the Governor of Lagos, the Rev. C. Phillips, and the Rev. S. Johnson, Native missionaries of the Society, made three successive trips into the interior. The first was to the three principal battle-fields to gain the consent of the several belligerents to the interference of the Lagos Government. With the exception of the Ofa battle-field, where the Ilorins were encamped against the Ofa people, and refused to accept intervention, their efforts were successful; a suspension of hostilities was effected, and messengers were sent back with them to Lagos. Upon their representations the Governor prepared a treaty, and Messrs. Phillips and Johnson returned to obtain the assent and signatures of the kings and chiefs. Upon these being forwarded they were requested to accompany two commissioners of the Governor and to assist them in superintending the breaking up of the camps, the quiet withdrawal of the armies, and the restoration of peaceful and friendly intercourse. This third expedition was only successful in breaking up one of the three battle-fields, that of the Ibadans and Ijesas; but subsequently their example was followed by the Ife and Modakeke people, and only the Ofa battle-field remains. The Government warmly acknowledged the services of Messrs. Phillips and Johnson. C.M.S. Native pastors requested by Lagos Government to mediate for peace; Peace restored.

At IBADAN the Rev. D. Olubi, assisted by three Native catechists, has patiently laboured, winning increased influence and respect among his restless and turbulent fellow- Ibadan.

countrymen. He attended the Conference at Lagos in April, and Bishop Ingham rejoiced to have the opportunity of meeting him for the first time. The number of adherents in Ibadan, connected with the three congregations which worship at Kudete, Aremo, and Oke Ogunpa respectively, is 446, of whom 219 are communicants.

Adherents.

The Rev. S. Johnson has been appointed to reside at Oyo, but the peace negotiations in which he has been engaged have hitherto prevented this. There are fifty-six adherents and twenty-four communicants in this town. At Iseyin, where a Native catechist is in charge, there have been fourteen adult baptisms during the year. At Ogbomoso also four adults have been baptized.

Out-stations.

Ode Ondo.

The Rev. Charles Phillips, Native missionary at ODE ONDO, scarcely, as he remarks, spent three full months in the station during the whole of last year. In February he took part in the Special Mission held by the Revs. S. W. Darwin Fox and F. W. Dodd at Lagos; and subsequently he was engaged, as already mentioned, as a peacemaker among the mutually hostile tribes. One effect of the treaties applies especially to Ondo, viz. "the blow which has been dealt to the custom of human sacrifices." The Ondos, in 1880, signed a treaty with the Lagos Government in which they engaged to abolish such sacrifices, but have since violated their promise. Accordingly, when they applied to be made parties in the recent general settlement, they were refused until they had "given satisfactory assurances of their intention to observe the former treaty." Mr. Phillips says:—

Custom of human sacrifices discontinued.

> Not only were a he-goat and a sheep substituted for the usual annual sacrifices of a woman and a man to the two deities, the Esu and the Oramafe, during the year, but since my return from Lagos in June, not one human sacrifice has been made at the funerals of their great people, not even when the Ondo king himself died in December. Our earnest prayer is that it may please God to grant that this horrible custom may never recover from the blow.

Mr. Phillips gives the number of adherents at Ondo and its three out-stations, Ilesha, Ayesan, and Itebu, as 283, and the communicants as 62. The Rev. M. J. Luke, who is giving temporary help at Breadfruit Church, Lagos, during the Rev. J. Johnson's absence in England, will, it is hoped, upon Mr. Johnson's return, take charge of Ilesha.

Mercies, old and new.

THE past year has been one of many mercies in the Niger Mission, former mercies renewed, and new mercies granted, answers to past prayers, and assurances of future progress. The Committee thank God for the continuance of the honoured and beloved Bishop's singular health and vigour, also for the safe return of Archdeacon Johnson to his sphere of service in the Upper Niger. Among the signal mercies to the Mission the Committee reckon the preservation of Archdeacon Hamilton, who since 1883 has been enabled to fulfil the arduous duties of the Secretariat of this Mission, as well as those, since 1885, of the Yoruba Mission. The Committee were thankful to accept the offer for this special post of the Rev. J. A. Robinson, M.A., Scholar of Christ's College, Cambridge (1st Class Theological Tripos), formerly Curate of Trowbridge, who proceeded to the Mission last February.

The new Secretary.

In July Bishop Crowther, accompanied by Archdeacons Hamilton, Crowther, and Johnson, were conveyed in the Henry Venn to Lokoja, where they held a Finance Committee, and deliberated for several days on the work of the Mission, and the needs of the various stations. On August 1st the Rev. P. J. Williams was admitted by the Bishop to priest's orders, the three Archdeacons all taking part in the service, an unprecedented event in the African Missions of the Society.

Ordination.

Later, in the month of August, the Bishop and Archdeacons Hamilton and Johnson, together with Mr. Hales, the engineer of the Henry Venn, proceeded up the Quorra. Leaving the steamer at Egan, they went by canoes and on horseback to Bida, the capital of Nupe, and obtained permission of the Mohammedan king Maliki to the occupation of Wunangi, close to Bida, as a Mission-station. After returning to Egan for the Henry Venn, they continued their progress up stream as far as Shonga, the king of which is subject to Ilorin in the Yoruba country, which is only three days' journey distant. Shonga is opposite Rabba, which was temporarily occupied in 1857. A site was chosen, and Mr. J. J. Williams has been appointed to be the agent. After returning to Lokoja, at the confluence, a short trip was taken up the Binue, in September, and finding that Yimaha, the place previously chosen as the most eligible for a station, had been in the meantime occupied by the Roman Catholics, they resolved, if the king's consent can be obtained, to open the first station on this branch of the river at Loko. On the way down the river Ida was visited, and an agent appointed to reoccupy it. The Henry Venn has thus been made largely instrumental in promoting the extension of the Mission. For the narrow creeks of the Delta, where it cannot be safely used, a small steam-launch has been purchased, and, by Archdeacon Crowther's special request, has been called the Loftus, after a son of Mr. Wigram.

The Henry Venn.

The Committee regret that Mr. Hales has been compelled by repeated virulent attacks of fever to return to England. Mr. J. Burness, a member of the C.M.S. Lay Workers' Union for London, having completed the buildings of the Preparandi Institution at Lokoja to the admiration of all, has since been occupied in useful and necessary building operations at several of the Delta stations.

Lokoja Preparandi Institution

Important evidence on the subject of the liquor traffic in Africa has been collected by a Committee of Delegates of various missionary societies engaged in Africa, who have met at the Church Missionary House. Much of this information has been published in the form of a pamphlet edited by the Rev. Horace Waller. It is proved that Hamburg and Bremen are the most wanton wrong-doers, for of 8,751,527 gallons of spirits exported to Africa from the United Kingdom, Germany, Portugal, and the United States in 1884, 7,136,263 gallons were sent from these two ports. Mr. James Irvine, of Liverpool, declares that it is not an overestimation to say that 3,000,000 gallons of gin and rum are annually consumed in the rivers of Niger, Brass, Benin, New Calabar, Bonny, Opobo, Old Calabar, the Cameroons, &c. In other words that 20,000 tons are consumed on a coast of some 250 miles. Yet, notwithstanding the accumulated evidence of European traders, of missionaries, and of Natives, both Christian and Mohammedan, the Secretary of the Hamburg Chamber of Commerce sent the following reply to a letter addressed to him by the Rev. R. Lang :—

The liquor traffic:

Chamber of Commerce has had no opportunity to go into the question of the liquor traffic in Africa, nor is it known to them that in any part of Africa spirituous liquors are used as a currency and a circulating medium with the Natives. The question of the liquor traffic has been brought before the public through the press, and frequently by the Imperial Diet warmly discussed. Merchants of this place interested in the African trade are of opinion that measures for the limiting of this trade are injurious to the development of the trade with those countries, and that the importation of those liquors as carried on at present has no injurious effect upon the Natives. The assertions made by opponents that the cheap liquors imported into Africa are deleterious on account of ingredients contained in them have been disproved by an official investigation made upon ordinary so-called trade rum which was sent in by the Governor of the Cameroons.

ARCHDEACONRY OF THE LOWER NIGER.

Factious chiefs.

At Bonny, the factious proceedings of several chiefs necessitated the interference of the Consul, Mr. Hewett, by virtue of the British Protectorate. Two chiefs were fined, and a governing council of six chiefs was formed, whose actions are subject to the Consul's approval and veto.

King George Pepple reinstated.

King George Pepple, who was deposed in 1883, was reinstated by the unanimous concurrence of the chiefs and people on the 22nd of January last. These changes have operated favourably to the Mission. The prohibition against church-going has been removed, and Archdeacon Crowther has received an earnest invitation from the Board of Council to return to Bonny, which he has done, succeeding the Rev. J. Boyle in the charge of the station. Bishop Crowther has sent a consecutive account of events at Bonny since 1883, which he concludes by saying:—"This brief statement will give some idea what struggles the Bonny Church has gone through before these favourable changes took place; and yet it has been supported through them by the invisible influences of God's Holy Spirit, so that the power of darkness has not prevailed against it. 'Not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit saith the Lord of Hosts.'"

Archdeacon Crowther invited to return to Bonny.

Anniversary celebrations.

The twenty-first anniversary of the work at Bonny was celebrated on the 2nd of May last year. Eight hundred were present at a special thanksgiving service, including King George and several sub-chiefs. On Christmas Day, though it rained very heavily, the attendants at church numbered 1032. On the following Sunday, the weather being fair, it was found impossible to accommodate the numbers who came. 2118 persons were counted who attended the services, 500 of whom had to content themselves to remain outside the church.

A new church needed.

The need is felt of a new church at Bonny, to replace the present one, which is becoming dangerous. Towards this object, from May, 1885, to December, 1886, the people have contributed 924*l.* 14*s.* 9*d.* in cash and in kind; this in addition to 42*l.* 15*s.* 3*d.* the amount of church collections, &c., for the year. Mr. Boyle says that of some of the converts it may be said, "In a great trial of affliction, the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded to the riches of their liberality."

Baptisms and confirmations.

On February 20th, twenty-seven adults, selected out of a large number of candidates, were baptized, and on the 27th, sixty-four well-tried candidates were confirmed. "Five of these latter," Bishop Crowther writes, "were women, some of whom in the days of persecution had been put into a canoe and paddled into the river, and left there helpless, to be tossed up and down by the surging waves in order to frighten them to relapse. Others were sent to the farms of influential chiefs, and put in irons. (A sixth was banished to a town on the mainland, of whom nothing more was heard, but it was strongly suspected she was murdered)." One of the chiefs who then tried to frighten them to recant was present and witnessed their confirmation.

Okrika: baptisms.

The Rev. W. E. Carew, Native pastor at Okrika, has admitted sixty-two adults by baptism into the Church. The average attendance at church on Sunday mornings is 500; there are 100 adult scholars in the Sunday-school, and forty children, and eighteen young men meet in a Bible-class every Sunday morning.

Nembe and Tuwon.

At Nembe, the capital of the Brass territory, the Rev. J. D. Garrick labours. He has visited Sierra Leone on furlough. Tuwon is the port of Brass, and has been in the charge of Archdeacon D. C. Crowther. The new iron church of St. Barnabas, the liberal offerings for which of the Native Christians were referred to in the Report of last year, was opened by Bishop Crowther on October 10th, when forty-five persons were confirmed. On the 17th, Mr. S. Peters, of Tuwon, was admitted to deacon's orders. On the latter occasion upwards of 500 were present, and ninety-eight partook of the Lord's Supper. The offertories at these services amounted to 30*l.*, and the Committee had the happy surprise of receiving this amount with a memorial of the leaders and churchwardens of the church requesting the Committee

ARCHDEACONRY OF THE UPPER NIGER.

New agents for Lokoja.

Archdeacon H. Johnson, on his return from England, engaged five new men as agents at Sierra Leone, who, with their families, proceeded to Lokoja, making a mission party of twenty-two persons.

Osamare has been re-occupied, and an agent has been appointed to Alenso. At Asaba, the few converts still meet together on Sundays for prayer and reading God's Word, and are anxious to have a teacher again amongst them.

Converts needing a teacher.

For Onitsha the Archdeacon earnestly requests prayer, that the progress of evil may be arrested, and the old love and zeal may return. "The influential members of the congregation do not know their letters. All that they know of the Gospel plan of salvation is what they have been taught from the pulpit, and what they have learnt at class-meetings. The majority of them hold family prayers in their houses, but the reading of the Word of God forms no part of the worship, for the simple reason that they cannot read."

Persecution at Obotsi.

At Obotsi, the out-station of Onitsha, persecution has broken upon the infant Church. The Archdeacon says:—

I have no doubt that all who heard the story of their earnestness and zeal when in the height and bloom of their first love will sympathize with them now that adverse winds blow upon them, and will pray that their faith may not fail. I have been encouraging them with the grim story of the martyrs of U-Ganda, dwelling strongly upon the unflinching courage shown by the converts in the very face of death, and exhorting them to endure to the end, trusting that God will turn away the persecution, and make their fortitude and endurance a means of drawing their brethren to the profession of that faith which now they would fain destroy.

My last Report (that for 1884) left the convert community flourishing. About sixty-seven persons, adults and children, had been baptized; there was joy and peace everywhere. Over one hundred names were on the list of catechumens. Even the heathen were looking on with interest to the movement, and promising to join, should they see from the lives of the converts that the new religion was better than the old. The prospect was hopeful and full of encouragement, and only a resident teacher was needed to give completeness to the outward organization of the station, and guarantee a regular and sustained teaching and building up of the converts. But dark clouds have arisen: persecution has taken place. I have inquired into the whole affair, and come to the conclusion that it is to the over-zeal of the converts—zeal untempered by prudence and discretion—that the cause of the persecution is attributable. Not content with going out regularly among their heathen neighbours to persuade them to adopt the Christian faith which they themselves had embraced, they invariably showed their contempt for the national religion by insulting the gods wherever and whenever occasion offered For example: there is a river called Idemiri (the name of one of the gods) which is full of fishes. These fishes are not allowed to be touched by any one, being dedicated to the god of the river. But the converts saw in them nothing but good food, and hence would catch and eat them. You can conceive the shock and pain it would give to a born and bred heathen to see his god so treated. They left the offenders to his vengeance, but he seemed to have taken no notice.

Again, there are certain kinds of snakes which are held sacred. Many keep them in their houses, sacrifice to them, and otherwise pay them divine honours, and maintain, when you speak to them of their folly, that they worship Cuku (pronounced Chu-ku, the name for the true god), under those sinuous and scaly forms. The converts would not only kill these creatures, but would make savoury dishes of them, and enjoy them. Again, there is a day in the year when "Orisa," the great national god, is worshipped by the whole town. Throughout the day no one is allowed to eat coco (an edible root) but yam. On such occasions the converts would ostentatiously peel, cook, and eat coco in the presence of the heathen, and would mockingly tell them to go and report to the god, and ask him to come and punish them if he could. Considering that the converts are but a handful in comparison with the whole population, you can see the risk they ran of being persecuted when "the cup of their iniquity" became full in the estimation of the heathen. The crisis came about in this way: One of the Church adherents—not a baptized Christian—went and took a title ("taking horn," according to Native parlance); but, in imitation of the pernicious example set by some of the Onica converts, compounded for it by a direct payment, instead of going through the usual rites and ceremonies. Not long after he had done so, he fell sick, and his heathen friends naturally attributed the illness to his wilful neglect of obeying the customs. He was persuaded to go through the usual forms, and to abjure Christianity altogether. He yielded to their importunities, and relapsed. But this did him no good, for he grew worse and died of the illness. On hearing of the event, the converts assembled themselves, and went to the house of the dead to sympathize with the relatives. The latter no sooner saw them than, regarding them as the source of their troubles, they tied, flogged, and left them exposed to the broiling sun.

The gods defied.

When the news spread abroad, which it quickly did, the kings and chiefs thought they saw their opportunity to revenge themselves on the Church for the insults offered to the gods. They at once took up the matter. The live-stock of the converts were seized and appropriated, under the pretence that they were to be sacrificed to the offended gods. A regular persecution was set on foot. No one was allowed to attend service: converts from Onica were threatened with bodily harm should they again make an attempt to go over to teach. The chiefs even went so far as to threaten to break down the church and use the materials to repair the dilapidated idol-temples. The Bishop happened to be here when the persecution was at its height. He negotiated with the chiefs through the medium of the Onica authorities, but the former returned for answer nothing but insults and defiance. After a while our principal convert at Onica began to move again in the matter. He and a few others went over and remonstrated with the heathen. With tact and prudence they succeeded

The chiefs revenge themselves.

Bishop Crowther negotiates.

The result. to pacify them to such an extent that they were willing to connive at the converts' going to church as heretofore, and at the Onica converts paying the usual Sunday visits.

Gbebe. The Rev. P. J. Williams labours at Gbebe. As already mentioned, he received priest's orders in July, since which he has gone to Sierra Leone for a much-needed rest after a continuous stay of twelve years in the Mission. Mr. O. Thomas is now in charge.

Opening of Lokoja Preparandi Institution At Lokoja the Preparandi Institution was opened on St. Matthew's Day, September 21st, by the Bishop. Mr. S. J. Smart is the tutor, and there are six students. Mr. H. S. Macaulay, grandson of Bishop Crowther, who has been educated at the Islington College, has been assigned temporarily to this station. The Rev. C. Paul has been permitted a short leave of absence from Kipo Hill to visit Sierra Leone, two of the new agents being left to carry on his work. The new stations at Wunangi and Shonga have been already referred to.

EASTERN EQUATORIAL AFRICA MISSION.

1. Mombasa District.—Mombasa, 1844; Kisulutini (Rabai), 1846; Frere Town, 1875; Kamlikeni (Giriama), 1882.
2. Teita and Chagga.—Sagalla (Teita), 1883; Moschi (Chagga), 1885.
3. U-Sagara, U-Nyamwezi, &c.—Mpwapwa, 1876; Uyui, 1879; Mamboia, 1879; Msalala, 1883.
4. U-Ganda.—Rubaga, 1877.

"Always bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life also of Jesus may be made manifest in our body." This text, the solemn appropriateness of which, immediately after the receipt by telegram of the first intelligence of the U-Ganda massacres, was deeply realized, was chosen by the preacher on October 18th, St. Luke's Day, when the Rev. Henry Perrott Parker, M.A., was consecrated at St. James's Church, Paddington, to the Bishopric of the Church of England in Eastern Equatorial Africa. The Bishop's previous spheres of labour after graduating at Trinity, Cambridge (2nd Class Theol. Tripos), in 1875, were first at Exeter, where he was curate for three years under the Rev. J. G. Davis, of Holy Trinity Church; second, from 1878-1885, at Calcutta, where he was Secretary of the Society's Corresponding Committee, and rendered most valuable service; and third, for less than twelve months, among the Gonds of the Central Provinces of India, to whom he was sent at his own very earnest desire, and whom he left to accept the still more arduous and self-denying duties of his present office. The Committee thank God for the appointment, and would earnestly commend him to the prayers of all the members of the Society, "that," in the words of the Rev. H. C. G. Moule at his consecration, "not intermittently and on occasion, but everywhere and always, he may dwell in the secret place of the Most High, Christ dwelling in his heart by faith; that he may daily submit himself to the calls and cares of his environment in the strength so simple, so versatile, so prevailing, of a soul which has entered into the dying of the Lord Jesus, and bears it about always in the body."

Consecration of Bishop Parker.

Bishop Parker left England on November 3rd, and landed at Frere Town on November 27th, having met Mr. Ashe at Lamoo, and received the latest intelligence from U-Ganda. Before the year closed he had visited Zanzibar, Rabai and Kisulutini, and the Giriama country. In January he visited the Shimba country, and went a second time to Zanzibar, where he was presented to the Sultan, and also met Bishop Smythies. In February he visited Mr. Wray at Taita and Mr. Fitch at Chagga; and he was hoping when he wrote in April, to start in June for Mamboia by the direct land route. The Committee have received from the Bishop numerous and valuable suggestions respecting the work at each station hitherto visited, while from the missionaries who have met him expressions of thankfulness for his wise and sympathetic and spiritual influence have been general. One says, "Bishop Parker's powers as a ruler and organizer are so manifest that all increasingly rejoice at his appointment. God has answered prayer to the fullest extent."

Bishop Hannington's diary

Exactly a week after the consecration of Bishop Parker, on October 25, the diary of Bishop Hannington, his predecessor, reached the Committee, containing minute entries (so minute that the magnifying-glass is necessary to decipher them) by the Bishop's hand for the months of August, September, and October, 1885. The last entry was on Thursday, October 29th, the day doubtless of his death. "I was held up," he wrote, "by the thirtieth Psalm, which came with great power." How rapidly and fully was its closing assurance realized: "Thou hast turned for me my mourning into dancing: Thou hast put off my sackcloth, and girded me with gladness; to the end that my glory may sing praise to Thee, and not be silent. O Lord, my God, I will give thanks unto Thee for ever."

The German delimitation.

The Committee have observed with interest, not wholly free from anxiety, that the effect of the agreement arrived at between England and Germany, respecting the delimitation of East Africa, is to leave a large part of the Society's Eastern Equatorial Africa Mission within the German protectorate. The stations along the old route to the interior, namely, Mamboia, Mpwapwa, Uyui, and Msalala, will thus be under German control, and also Chagga; while Mombasa and Taita are in the territory reserved for the extension of British influence.

Sickness in the Mission.

Changes in the staff, and especially the number of workers, male and female, forced by sickness to come home, have been unusually great, even for East Africa—so much so that Bishop Parker wrote soon after reaching Frere Town that he found himself Bishop of a handful of invalids, weekly decreasing in number.

Last year, on July 21st, the Rev. Philip O'Flaherty died in the Red Sea, from the effects of African fever, when on his way home. Dr. Baxter came to England in January, attended by Mr. J. Roscoe, Mrs. Baxter having been sent home the previous October. The Rev. A. D. and Mrs. Shaw arrived in March, but the former was able to return almost immediately. Not from ill-health, happily, the Rev. R. P. Ashe has visited England for a few months, arriving on January 3rd. Mr. H. W. Jeanes retired from the Mission in September, on account of his father's death. On the other hand the Revs. H. K. Binns, J. Blackburn, and J. C. Price have returned to the Mission; the Rev. A. N. Wood, an Islington man, joined the U-Sagara Mission in August, and Mr. C. W. Hodder the Mombasa Mission in December; the Revs. W. Roper, M.A., A. G. Smith, W. Morris, and Mr. D. Deekes went out in May of this year; and the Rev. R. P. Ashe returns, accompanied by the Rev. R. H. Walker, M.A., of St. John's College, Cambridge, late Curate of All Souls', Langham Place, in August. Dr. V. Ardagh and Miss Fitch also sail shortly for Mombasa.

The Henry Wright. The Henry Wright was under the care of Captain Wilson until his return to England at the end of last year; the Committee are glad to hear that he has felt able to renew his engagement, as he is universally trusted and respected by the missionaries.

I.—MOMBASA MISSION: FRERE TOWN AND RABAI.

The Rev. A. Downes Shaw has been Clerical Superintendent at Frere Town, except for three months, from March till May of this year, when he accompanied Mrs. Shaw to England after her serious illness in January. Mr. T. England continues to be master of the school. Miss Harvey's work is among the girls of the school and the women. She, too, had a serious illness in December. It was indeed through nursing her that Mrs. Shaw became ill. The Committee have heard with much gratitude of the great kindness of Bishop Smythies and the Universities' Mission in Miss Harvey's need. A lady nurse, Miss Shaw, was sent from Zanzibar by the Henry Wright, and when Miss Harvey could take the journey she was invited for change and rest to visit their stations, and finally on her return Bishop Smythies spared another of his workers, Miss Allen, to stay a month with her at Frere Town. Mr. Charles William Hodder, late a sergeant in the Connaught Rangers, with which regiment he served recently in South Africa, has been added to the staff as a lay agent. Mr. Dodd, lately working with the Universities' Mission, preferring the views and methods of the C.M.S., has, with Bishop Smythies' approval, been engaged temporarily to manage the new printing-press. The Rev. Ishmael Semler is the Native pastor.

Liberated slaves.

Sixty-four more liberated slaves have been sent by the Consul at Zanzibar to the Mission, many of them children. Those received on August 7th were "so very weak and sickly that they had to be lifted from the dhow into the Mission boat, and on landing some of them fell down upon the beach, for they had not the strength to walk. They were in a most filthy condition, and covered with ulcers."

The School.

Mr. England sends an interesting letter of the School. Of the children from among the freed slaves, he says:—

> What a change has now come over them! Here they have been clothed and fed and their sores attended to. They now sit with others who were once like them, listening day by day to the preaching of the Gospel. What very strange news it all must seem to them when they are told that God sent His dear Son to die for them because He loves them so. They, poor slaves, whom every one looked down upon, to be loved by the great God! This is indeed hard for them to realize. But the Holy Spirit can teach them. Some of the boys are sharp and intelligent and are getting on well. They all learn the 100 texts (as used by the Society for the Irish Church Missions), and some of the classes can repeat the whole with the exception of a few that have not yet been translated into Kiswahili; as also the first and twenty-third Psalms. It is important that they should know the Holy Scriptures which are able to make them wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus.

"Many lights shining for Jesus."

Twice a week after school-hours the boys go to him for Bible-reading and prayer. "Many little lights are to be seen shining for Jesus," and he mentions one boy whom he found one evening in the empty schoolroom on his knees in silent prayer, whilst all the others were outside playing. The same boy, on another occasion, he found alone learning off one of the Psalms by heart. Mr. Shaw examined the school in November. He had not done so before, and was greatly pleased with the answers and work of some of the boys. "What specially pleased me," he says, "was that the boys were able to answer questions which were out of the general run. In taking the classes viva voce I purposely abstained from using the school-books, yet in the upper classes I generally got good precise answers." Some of the boys' papers on dictation, Scripture, grammar, arithmetic, and drawing have been sent home, and they are certainly surprising, especially the answers on the Old and New Testament, remembering what many of these children so recently were. The children are as fond as ever of singing, and a church choir has been formed from the best voices. A large dormitory has been built for the boys, the old one having become too small. Mr. England says :— A choir of ex-slaves.

At eight o'clock the boys end their play and file in the dormitory for bed. The beds the boys sleep on are a number of smooth boards placed upon iron stands similar to a long low platform at home. A hymn is sung and prayer offered, after which all join in the Lord's Prayer; then follows a few minutes of perfect silence for the boys to engage in silent prayer. They wrap themselves up in their sheets (each boy has his own) and look very much like mummies. They use no pillows, nor anything in the shape of bedding, with the exception of their sheets. They go to bathe soon after five o'clock in the morning, and attend the service at half-past six.

Rabai, upon Mr. Shaw's removal to Frere Town, was under the charge of the Rev. W. E. Taylor for a few months; but the Rev. H. K. Binns, upon his return from Tasmania in July, resumed his old charge which he left in December, 1883. Before the year closed, however, Mrs. Binns was dangerously ill, and was compelled to come to England with three sickly children. Mr. Binns was himself seriously ill about the same time, but he felt it his duty, in the enfeebled condition of the Mission, in spite of the medical certificate, to remain. The Rev. W. H. Jones, the Native clergyman who so successfully conducted the remnant of Bishop Hannington's expedition from the Lake to the coast, has assisted Mr. Binns, being responsible for the pastoral work. Of his first visit to the station on December 7th, Bishop Parker wrote :— Rabai.

On Tuesday, Dec. 7th, I left at about one o'clock for Rabai. The boat journey is about eight miles up a narrow creek with mangrove thickets on either side, and wooded hills beyond. It is very pretty at high tide, and we had wind and tide in our favour. We landed at Bandarini before four o'clock, and about an hour's walk over hilly but fertile and pretty country brought me to Kisulutini. At the landing-place the Rev. Wm. Jones met me; further on, Jonah Mitchell and Nathanael, the evangelistic agents; and further on again, Cecil and the other school-teachers, and the Rev. H. K. Binns. Mrs. Binns and the three children were not in good health, and went down to Frere Town the next day for a change. The new church is far advanced towards completion, and will be seated for about 600. At half-past six next morning I saw how much the larger building is needed. That is the hour for daily morning prayers, attended by catechumens as well as the baptized. The present building holds only about 200. It was crammed from end to end, many sitting on the ground, and about as many more were assembled in the court outside. Daily prayers over, the baptized went away, but the church remained quite Bishop Parker's impressions of Rabai.

filled with catechumens, who were instructed for an hour by the Rev. Wm. Jones. Then, at nine o'clock, was the day-school. In connection with the Rabai Mission there is certainly plenty of work to be done, and every one seemed busy. In the afternoon I went to an out-station, Kisimani, where a little house has been built for Jonah Mitchell, who has already commenced a little school and preaching there. Next day the itinerating preacher Nathanael, acted as our guide to the villages of Kaya Fimboni and Kaya Bomu, and we looked out for a suitable site for the establishment of another out-station, from which a Native teacher and evangelist might visit these two villages and the Rovuma shambas.

Giriama Christians.

Mwaiba, in the Giriama country, where the Society has a rest-house, was visited a few days later, and the catechist Jeremiah told the Bishop that the little band of Christians now includes six communicants, and that there were nine catechumens under instruction. Gona, one of these, was impressed by the preaching of Andreas, one of the original converts at Petanquo, whose lameness has not prevented his bearing a faithful witness to the truth. The Bishop has proposed arrangements for regular itineration in this district by missionaries from Frere Town.

A new settlement.

In the Shimba Country the Bishop has selected a suitable site for a new settlement. The place chosen is 1200 feet high, with a sea view, and will be useful, it is expected, as well for a sanatorium for missionaries, as for a settlement for the freed slaves to be removed thither from Frere Town.

II.—TAITA AND CHAGGA.

Sagalla re-occupied.

THE station at Sagalla, in the Taita country, which was closed in 1885 in consequence of the dispersion of the people by the famine, was reopened last July by sending a Native catechist from Frere Town, Jonah Mitchell. On his way thither he was attacked by a number of highwaymen, but most of the booty was afterwards restored by the leader with an apology. Mr. J. A. Wray returned to Sagalla two months later, and received a warm welcome. The people have continued to return in small companies, and the deserted villages are becoming inhabited. A distressing calamity befell one of these companies in March last, which painfully illustrates the mutual hostility and distrust of the various tribes. Mr. Wray says:—

Mr. Wray's return welcomed.

> You know that most of the Sagallas fled to the Giriama country during the famine, and now that it is over they are coming back by degrees. The other day a company of about sixty people got their things together and started for Sagalla. They had with them goats, fowls, cloth, &c. The road to Sagalla happens to be the high-road to Ukambani, so the Wa-Kamba are constantly passing along it. The Wa-Taita and Wa-Kamba have long since declared eternal war against each other. The sufferings of the former have been so great during the famine, that their spirit seems to be entirely broken, so for fear of meeting the Wa-Kamba on the road they chose out a waterless road, which no one knew, and started. However, it was not long before their water supply was exhausted and the pangs of thirst began to set in; they went on in hopes of finding water, but night came and no water was found. As the sun arose they began to feel exhausted, and sought in vain for a cool shade: they found it impossible to drive their goats along, so they abandoned them. Their fowls were next left, then cloth, then bags, everything became too heavy to carry, so by night everything was left behind—in some cases their quivers were too heavy; still no water was reached. Next day became a struggle for life along the bed of the river Voi, but not a trace of moisture could be found; they licked the dew off the grass, and say now that honey was never sweeter. On they went; but they could no longer keep up to each other, first one, then another fell out, so that almost everybody was alone, battling for life. The sun seemed to be blazing down in all its strength upon them; sight, hearing, and speaking failed them; they dug themselves graves in the bed of the river and covered themselves over, thinking it would cool their bodies. One was bitten by a snake and died. By evening they came across a large bulb full of water, but when they tasted thereof they could not drink it; one man drank freely of it, but he was dead next morning. At length one of them reached Sagalla and told the news. The alarm was given all over the hill, and next morning all who were able were on the way carrying water and food to relieve them. They found them as I have already described, some sitting by the wayside not being able to speak, others buried in the sand. They were too far gone to drink the water when it was brought to them. After tearing them out of their graves, they had to pull open their jaws before they could pour water down their throats. They tell of one poor woman who had hid herself behind the creepers which overhung the river; they had passed her without seeing her. She happened to moan once or twice, so they turned back and found her mourning over her dead child, which she had just buried. It is now eight days since the news came, and relievers have been coming and going all the time. It is now seventeen days since they started, and it is not very likely that the missing ones will turn up now, so we may conclude that they are dead. There are eighteen missing.

An illustration of tribal hostility.

Natives digging their own graves.

Dead from thirst.

There is one little incident connected with it which I ought to tell you. The Sunday following, I took for my subject Israel's wanderings. With reference to the thirsty caravan I said that we who were here could not help them on the spot by giving them water; but we would pray for them, so we all knelt down, and they repeated a prayer which I had composed for the occasion; we prayed that God would send them rain, and before three o'clock that same day there came a grand shower right over where they were. Some men who ran into our church for shelter, remarked, "Why this is exactly what we prayed for this morning. This will save many!"

"This is what we prayed for."

At Moschi, the capital of Chagga, the Rev. E. A. Fitch has laboured alone since Mr. Wray's departure for Taita in Moschi.

September. Progress has seemed to him very slow, both his own in acquiring the language, and the people's progress in manifesting interest and confidence. He wrote in May, 1886, "My heart aches to do higher work," namely, than building. "What have we done? Nothing. What are we doing? Must it be said again, Nothing? I want it to be at least 'living for Jesus.' I try to talk to the people, but they do not understand me as they do Mr. Wray; my tongue is not yet framed to their accent. . . . There is one thing, and I don't take it as a bad sign, for it shows they notice us: last week we discovered a man with a congregation imitating in ridicule our Sunday prayers."

Slow progress

Heathen mimicry a hopeful sign.

The uncertainty and fickleness of Mandara are a great source of discouragement. At times he has been most pleasant, at other times the reverse, once even giving orders to "turn out in four days, or soldiers shall be sent to help you out." More than once he has forbidden his people, under penalty of death, to sell anything to the Mission agents, and such orders have been given without any warning or reasonable cause. In August he became outrageous at the non-arrival of a bedstead which had been promised, and refused the present of a musical-box which was offered to him, asking when the missionaries were going away, as they were not the kind of Europeans he wanted. Mr. Shaw, however, during a short visit in October, reasoned successfully with his Majesty, and the arrival of the bedstead in November perfectly restored his good-humour. Mr. Fitch says: "He was immensely delighted with it; the wire spring mattress took his fancy very much. He called all his wives to look at it, and kept saying, 'Thank you' to me, and talking to his wives on its excellence." In Christmas week he asked when a church was going to be built. The news to April 4th was that he was still friendly, and was learning the alphabet.

Mandara's fickleness.

A commissioner from the Manchester Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Buchanan, arrived at Moschi in June, with the object of opening up the country for English trade. He commenced to build a house, but left the place after a few weeks' experience of Mandara's treatment. By the help of Native builders from the coast, a house for Mr. Fitch was finished in July, to his great satisfaction, after wearisome and protracted labours under every kind of difficulty.

An encouraging paragraph from Mr. Shaw's letter after the visit referred to above must be quoted. He says:—

I feel convinced that there is a time of spiritual awakening coming to East Africa. I saw in many places a real desire for teaching about God; at one place the Natives sat round me on the ground, and one said, "Go on, teach us about God, we will sit here all night." At Taveta the people, when asked if they would like some one to live with them and teach them, said, "That is the very thing we want." The Wachagga would come to learn if only permitted. As I think over the events of my journey Psalm lxxii. comes into my mind; "He shall come down like rain." "He shall have dominion from sea to sea." "They that dwell in the wilderness shall bow before Him." "All nations shall serve Him." "All nations shall call Him blessed." "And let the whole earth be filled with His glory; Amen, and Amen." Signs of spiritual awakening.

III.—U-SAGARA, U-NYAMWEZI, &c.

THE changes occasioned by sickness and other causes at the four stations which lie on the route from the coast to the Lake have been numerous, so much so that of the eleven missionaries mentioned in last year's Report, only three have continued throughout the year in the stations in which they were then at work, viz. the Rev. H. Cole at Mpwapwa, and the Rev. E. C. Gordon and Mr. C. Wise at Msalala.

U-SAGARA MISSION: MAMBOIA AND MPWAPWA.

Mr. J. Roscoe was absent from MAMBOIA for four months in the beginning of 1886, under medical treatment at Mpwapwa. During this time Mr. H. W. Jeanes did his best in his ignorance of the language to keep the congregation together. In August the latter left to return to England, as already mentioned, and Mr. Watt was removed to Mpwapwa in September. Mr. Roscoe, however, had returned in May, and continued in charge till December (when he accompanied Dr. Baxter to England); and the Rev. A. N. Wood, who was sent out with a view to his going on to Uyui, has remained at Mamboia since his arrival in August, having made so much progress in the language that he was able, when left alone in January, to conduct the services in the school. There were three adults baptized in August, Ulidi, Mwana, and Lupanga; the first named had been a decided Christian, Mr. Roscoe says, for some months, and is very useful in the school, where he takes the children in the alphabet-sheets. A fourth, a M-Ganda, was baptized in November by the Rev. R. P. Ashe. He had been an earnest inquirer for five months. His name is Lwanga Tofiki; he arrived at Mamboia in January, 1885. The church was opened in September, eighty persons being present at the services. Changes in the staff. Baptisms. A church for Mamboia.

Dr. S. T. Pruen, whose departure from England in May was mentioned in last year's Report, reached Zanzibar on July 14. His journey from the coast was interrupted by a bad attack of fever, occasioning a short stay at Mamboia. He was carried forward to MPWAPWA at the beginning of September, too ill to hope to proceed to Uyui for several weeks. A more far-seeing wisdom than the Committee's altered his immediate plans. A few days after his arrival Dr. Baxter was obliged to convey his sick wife to the coast. In November Dr. Baxter was himself lying between life and death, and before he could be sent home, early in December, the Rev. H. Cole was dangerously gored by a buffalo, laying him aside for several months. Thus Dr. Pruen was almost immediately introduced both to the painful sufferings and to the engrossing labours of an African missionary, and to these the responsibilities of the Secretariat of the Mission were temporarily superadded. May the power of Christ rest richly upon him!

Illness of missionaries.

Mr. Cole gored by a buffalo.

The Rev. P. O'Flaherty, on his way down to the coast, made a short stay at Mpwapwa in May last year, and conducted morning and evening classes of the inquirers. He baptized ten of them who had been candidates some short time. One of them was a lad, John Edward Mugori, who had been seized and severely bitten by a hyæna, and showed great patience under his sufferings. Another was Dr. Baxter's cook, of whom he relates the following incident which occurred a few months later:—

Mr. O'Flaherty at Mpwapwa: baptisms.

> I may mention a pleasing incident which happened last Sunday. During the week I found that our cook, who was recently baptized, and has hitherto been blameless, had taken a little oil out of a tin which I had left in the kitchen to warm, for his private use, and when I asked him, he at first said it was some other oil. I told him how wrong he was in first taking the oil, and then telling a lie, and told him to repent and obtain pardon from God. After morning service on Sunday, when the people were about to disperse, he stood up and asked them to be seated. He then told them that hitherto no one had been able to accuse him of stealing, &c., but during the past week he had done very wrong. I had shown him his fault, and he passed a restless night. He dreamt he saw a man carrying a banner, and he let the banner fall. This man he saw was himself, and now as we were met together at the feet of Jesus he wished to confess his sin before them all. He evidently felt it behoved him as one who belonged to Christ, not only to confess to Jesus, but also to make public acknowledgment of his fault.

A Native convert's repentance.

At Kisokwe Mr. Cole has been greatly encouraged. Mr. Roscoe, while staying with Mr. Cole during April last year, wrote, "Real work is going on at Kisokwe at a marvellous rate." In June, 1886, Mr. Cole wrote himself:—

Kisokwe: "Real work at a marvellous rate."

The less noise one makes about his work, the greater blessing, I believe, he may expect. I have often felt I should like to be where no European could see what I did. The holiest joy is realized in doing good where no one sees us but God. But, perhaps, it will be false modesty and absolutely wrong not to make known to the Committee the triumphs of the Cross of Christ in this corner of the vineyard during the past few months. I have been lost in wonder, love, and praise in contemplating the miracles of grace wrought by the power of the Holy Ghost. The day before yesterday, I walked up and down the garden, crying aloud: "Glory to God! Glory to God!" Truly the Son of man hath still power on earth to forgive sin.

A combat with Satan.

Let me now tell you the cause of my joy the day before yesterday. A little boy about ten years old related to me a combat he had with Sheitani (Satan) while at work the other day, and it came out quite incidentally, that he and two others had had prayer together the same day in the forest. But this was not all, he expressed his desire to become a follower of Christ, and said the Saviour had washed all his sins away. The simple, candid manner in which he expressed himself left no room for doubting his statement, and when the interview was over I betook myself to the garden and gave vent to my feelings in the manner stated above.

Farahani, whose change took place under Price, and was baptized here, is going on wonderfully well. At present he is superintending the building of the church at Kisokwe, but he teaches every night on his return, and he prays with and for the children, and very earnestly exhorts them to turn to the Lord. I teach him and Tofiki every night, with the view of their becoming evangelists.

Tofiki, alias Samson, renders invaluable assistance in various ways. Every morning about 6 a.m. he goes (voluntarily) to the chief's house, about three-quarters of a mile off, talks to the chief about his soul, then collects his children and brings them here to be taught, and takes them home about four o'clock in the afternoon. He teaches morning and afternoon, and again at night, besides performing the duties of cook, washerman, &c., &c. I ought to mention that in addition to the above he preaches occasionally, both in Swahili and Kigogo. His wife, who is also a bright Christian, cooks gratis for the chief's children, who are living here, and scarcely a day passes but that some one is fed from their table for Christ's sake and the Gospel's. They are indeed showing forth the praises of Him who hath "called them out of darkness into His marvellous light."

"The outlook bright and fair."

You will rejoice with us in hearing that the outlook is bright and fair, compared with what it was three years ago. The great cause for thankfulness with regard to the movement is that the converts proclaim Christ boldly, and display an earnest desire of seeing their brethren brought to the Lord. It is but the day of small things with us as yet. But there is a real work of the Spirit going on, and who knows but on the day of Pentecost, which is very near, we may have a mighty outpouring of the Holy Ghost? Lord, increase our faith!

Within a few weeks of his unfortunate accident, while still forbidden to sit up, he had himself carried to the schoolroom, where he conducted the usual services. On March 26th he wrote in pencil from the bed that the baptized "were going on well," and that others were seeking baptism.

Last year, in May, an agent of the French Government, a Mons. Revoil, visited the station for medical advice, and, though a Roman Catholic, attended daily at family prayers. The following letter has been lately received from the Foreign Office by the Committee:—

Dr. Baxter thanked by the French Government.

Foreign Office, April 2nd, 1887.

SIR,—A communication has been received from the French Ambassador at this Court, requesting that the expression of the deep sense of gratitude of the French Government may be conveyed to Dr. Baxter, missionary at Mpwapwa, for the care and attention bestowed by him on M. Revoil during a dangerous attack of fever from which that gentleman was suffering while travelling in the Lake district of Africa on a mission from the French Government.

I am accordingly directed by the Marquis of Salisbury to request you to take the necessary steps to convey to Dr. Baxter the thanks of the French Government for the assistance rendered by him on the occasion in question.

I am, Sir, your most obedient and humble servant,

T. V. LISTER.

U-NYAMWEZI MISSION: UYUI.

Mr. D. A. L. Hooper at Uyui.

Mr. Douglas Hooper removed to Uyui in April last year, and, with the exception of three months, during which the Rev. W. E. Taylor was his companion, he has been there alone. Mr. Taylor returned to the coast in February on account of fever. Upon Dr. Junker's arrival at Uyui in September, en route for the coast, conveying the latest news from U-Ganda, Mr. Hooper immediately wrote to the Committee offering to cross the Lake and to take Mr. Mackay's place. He does not see much ground for encouragement in the work at Uyui. Mr. Taylor, however, writing in December, mentioned "Mr. Hooper's little flock, comprising lads from U-Ganda, U-Soga, U-Nyoro, and several negro tribes in the Soudan," and said, "His work with the young is remarkable."

MSALALA.

Msalala.

The Rev. E. C. Gordon and Mr. C. Wise have had the almost unique privilege in this Mission of being allowed to continue at the same station throughout the year. Notwithstanding they have not been suffered to pursue their work in peace. On the contrary, for several weeks last year, in January and February, they were surrounded by war arising from the jealousy on the part of neighbouring and more powerful chiefs towards Chasama, the chief of Msalala. This culminated in Chasama being taken prisoner by strategy and the destruction of the village. Mr. Wise wrote in March, 1886:—

Tribal war and its results.

Mr. Wise's account of it.

On Jan. 24th the chiefs surrounded the village, and between four and five o'clock in the afternoon the first shots were fired, and continued off and on for twelve days; then there was perfect silence for a few days, then I was informed that peace had been proclaimed, and that our chief had paid an indemnity, and they were only waiting for Chasama to leave his village and go in the enemy's camp to shake hands. But Chasama fearing they would either murder him on arriving in their camp, or would enter his village by stealth while he and his head-men were away, refused to go to the camp, but offered to meet the enemy's chiefs half-way between his village and their camp, where there was a perfectly open space. The enemy finding they were foiled in their attempt of treachery, immediately opened fire upon Chasama, who at once entered his village, locked the gates, and defended his village bravely up till last Thursday, February 25th. The previous day a large number of Zulu warriors arrived, and pitched on the opposite side of the village gate by themselves, away from the enemy's camps. On being asked what they had come for, they said they had been sent to Chasama by a friend of his to make brothers with him, and to order the enemy off, and if they refused to go, they (the Zulus) had received orders to stand by Chasama and fight for him. This fair speech quite took our young chief off his guard, and being desirous of help, foolishly left his village and went to the camp of the Zulus, from whence he never returned to his village, the village having been left open for his return. When the sun had set, his brother, who had been left in charge, shouted to know when he was coming in, the only answer he got was that they had not quite finished their shauri (agreement). Darkness immediately followed the setting of the sun, of which the enemy, together with the Zulus who had been engaged by them to carry out this bit of treachery, took advantage and stealthily crept up to the stockade in the darkness, entered the village, and surprised the natives, killing them right and left. The enemy had a warm time of it for a few minutes, but eventually succeeded in dispersing the natives, many of whom they captured, principally women; many of the men escaped, and many were slaughtered, and in less than an hour after sunset the whole of the village was in flames. The next day the enemy came down upon me for tribute, and I had to pay them 172 cloths in all. They have spared the life of our chief, but still hold him prisoner. They brought him here this morning as they were going away, to say farewell. They are bound on another expedition before returning to their homes.

For a short time it was debated whether the station should be abandoned, as the whole neighbourhood had been made desolate; but the missionaries resolved to stay. By the end of March the people were already returning to settle, and things were looking hopeful. Proofs were seen of the growing influence of the brethren, to which was attributable the unusual clemency with which Chasama was treated by his captors. Friendly visits continue to be paid by rival chiefs of consequence, whose inquisitive interrogations give opportunities for directing their sordid minds to Divine truths.

IV.—U-GANDA.

The return of Mr. Ashe to England

THE visit to England of the Rev. R. P. Ashe has brought the uncommon, the almost unexampled, trials of this Mission before the minds both of the Committee and of the Christian public with a specially solemn and thrilling force. If anything was needed to increase the sympathy of the members of the Society in the suffering Church in U-Ganda, the solemnly simple and pathetic narrative of one who has shared with Mr. Alexander M. Mackay the anxieties and dangers of last year was best calculated to have that effect. The Committee pray that the profound interest which has been excited may not prove evanescent, but that more prayer may be called forth, more zeal provoked, and more fruit appear to the glory of God.

Mr. Ashe's narrative.

It will be convenient to present briefly an account of events since the beginning of 1886. The Rev. P. O'Flaherty had left U-Ganda in December. Mr. Ashe's letter of Jan. 31 (referred to in the Report of last year) stated that he had administered to forty-two communicants on Sunday, the 17th, and that the Bishop's Bible had been recovered. He also gave account of several of the congregations presided over at the various centres by members of the Church Council:—

The U-Ganda congregations and the Church Council.

Some time ago there was an interesting case. Samweli, one of the king's pages, went to the village or nyalo where his mother and grandmother and other members of the family were living. He spent a week or two teaching them, and speaking to them of eternal things. The consequence was that they burnt all their charms, and threw away their magic horns, at the cost of a good deal of annoyance from their friends; however they persevered. This is about a fortnight ago, and the mother and various others came regularly and were (most, I was going to say, anxious; but anxious is a word which hardly expresses it) rather interested in the teaching and in the worship of God. The old lady, the grandmother, was for a time dangerously ill, but when she managed to come seemed quite as interested as the others. The grandmother, and mother, and a little wee granddaughter, who had learned to read, were all baptized a few weeks ago. They came under cover of darkness. They belong to Zacheria's congregation; for now we dare not collect the people here, so there are various centres presided over by members of the Church Council.

There is Nua's centre, taking in Gabunga, the little chief who is baptized, and Shem and others. Nua, or Waluhaga, is the king's head blacksmith, and has shown himself a most earnest and humble Christian, and so hospitable to the brethren. His house is quite a sanctuary in times of trouble. He had as many as five or six of our family with him during the last scare.

Exemplary converts.

Fredi Wigram, or Nidza, quite close to us; he too is a very earnest man, and has taught many.

Robert Munyagga, a gatekeeper at the king's enclosure, allows many of the pages to collect at his house.

Then last, but not least, being, I should think, the most numerous congregation of all, is Nasengeje, presided over by Sembera, who is well known to you, doubtless, from Mackay's journals. Also Thomas, another of Mackay's earliest pupils. Their chief, Munabulia, or Mayanja, or Isaya, is baptized; he is a great jolly giant, but one would like to see more of the true mettle about him. One sees, though, that those who are not against Christ are on His side, and Isaya, if he does not help much actively, allows the little church to flourish under his care. A young chief named Mutegomba was lately baptized. He was pressed for some cloth, and was about to do the thing that comes as natural to a Muganda as eating his dinner, namely, to sell one of his people. Our friend Muira, of frequent mention, pointed out to him that now he was a disciple of Jesus he must not sell people like cattle, but must be a father to his slaves, and not part with them. Our Christians are learning to avoid the word slave; now they talk of their children. May they learn to avoid all traffic in human beings, whether buying or selling! Mutegomba assented to Muira's words, and the girl was not sold. I always feel that one should be very cautious in relating such incidents, for if one hears afterwards that the shining example has relapsed, it makes one feel that it was only after all a story, and not a solid result. Yet when all that is of human infirmity is deducted, I think it would be an extreme want of gratitude to the Divine doer of all that has been accomplished not to acknowledge that His word has taken root here, and not to praise Him for those who are, as far as we can see, walking in the narrow way. There are at present nine candidates for baptism; but I hope that we may now look for rather more knowledge than formerly.

Slave-selling prevented.

The Church Council proved very helpful in advising the missionaries respecting candidates for baptism. Mr. Ashe wrote in May:—

Help of the Church Council.

> I think I recollect your asking for information about the Bambeja or princesses. I am sorry to say that in this country, where morality is at the lowest ebb, the princesses are notorious for their immorality. We have now some slight barrier against admitting improper persons to baptism in the Native Church Council; but formerly we had nothing to go by, except the assurances of the candidates themselves.

Until Easter the relations with the king remained unchanged. The missionaries were tolerated, but apparently only for the sake of the presents which were wrung out of them from time to time, and on account of Mwanga's interest in the cloth-making machinery which Mr. Mackay was rapidly completing. In May, Mr. Ashe described the spinning-jenny as a wonderfully complex and delicate apparatus. They were hoping to be able to weave plantain fibre, and boys were cleaning it for the purpose; the loom was already finished. On Easter Day, however, April 25th, rumours of the approaching persecution reached the Mission. It was "a day of terror." Nevertheless, on that day three baptisms took place, one being that of Yonatani, or head page of Namasole, the queen-mother, a "most earnest and intelligent lad, eager to learn himself and eager to teach others," "one of the best customers for reading-sheets and books." The two others were young men who had been learners for more than a year. The communicants assembled in three parties, morning, afternoon, and evening.

Mr. Mackay's mechanical ingenuity.

Baptisms.

An eager pupil.

Communicants.

On the three occasions forty-five communicated, of whom fourteen were women. Mr. Ashe says:—

> We thought it better to have the communion service only, so as to let them get away quickly. I think our commemorating our Saviour's death under circumstances of uncertainty helped to make us look forward more earnestly to the Heavenly Feast, where there will be no more fear.

Christian marriages.

On Sunday, May 16th, an interesting ceremony took place, viz. "the marriage by joining of hands in the presence of the Christians," of three of the Native Christians. More princesses were also desiring baptism. One of these had actually learned to read not only the "Matekas," that is the Creed and the Lord's Prayer, printed in syllables for the use of beginners, but all the other papers printed at the Mission press, though she frankly admitted that she did not understand much about them, and when spoken to of repentance "she seemed bored." Of these "Matekas" over 1200 copies have been printed and sold. Editions of Prayers and of the Litany, and a second edition of hymns, were in great demand. In the first edition of the last named the hymns were in Swahili, with one or two attempts at Luganda. But the second consisted of seventeen, all in Luganda. The Litany and hymns and Gospel-sheets, containing about two chapters of St. Matthew, were sold for twenty cowries each, a little more than a penny; the alphabet and spelling-sheets, to encourage children, for five cowries, or a farthing.

Mwanga's caprice.

Meanwhile the capriciousness of Mwanga was becoming more marked, and his temper more violent and desperate. At the end of April he gave orders that Mr. Mackay's head should be cut off if he went along a certain road, which road he had only a few days before given him leave to use. Between the 18th and the 26th of May (the actual date is not given in the letters) the storm broke out in all its fury. Writing on the latter date Mr. Ashe said:—

Outburst of persecution.

> The first actual trouble arose from a page who was baptized here last February, refusing to consent to a sin of which it is a shame even to speak, and to which the king had wished to make him a victim. The lad refused, and was cruelly beaten, but has since been released; but this, and the fact of a princess having burnt some magic charm, so enraged the king that he sent and apprehended most of the leading Christians, both those who read with the Frenchmen and ourselves. We hear that eleven victims have already sealed their testimony with their blood. Several members of the Native Church Council have been arrested. We hear that as many as seventy people have been seized, and we hear that they are going to burn them, which may the good Lord forbid! In the midst of the trouble Mgr. Livinhac arrived in canoes.

At the end of June both Mr. Mackay and Mr. Ashe wrote fuller particulars. On June 25th Mr. Mackay said:—

It is now a full month since the bloody persecution of Native Christians began. Those who were at the capital, and best known, were of course first arrested. About a dozen were butchered at once. Several were mutilated (Asiatic manner) afterwards; many were speared or otherwise killed in the endeavour to capture them in various parts of the country; while thirty-two were burnt alive in one huge pyre, after having been kept prisoners over a week. Of course the great body of our people (as of the Frenchmen's) took warning and fled into hiding. A few of them have since come to light, having got influential friends to intercede for them, and have been pardoned on the understanding (i.e. on the part of the king) that they renounce Christianity. But a large number still remain in hiding, able to move about only under cover of darkness. Converts burnt alive.

Mr. Ashe is writing to the House, and will give details of how our people have been killed. It grieves me to think that a massacre of Native Christians elicits so little feeling in our Christian country, while the murder of one or two Europeans rouses intense interest. It should not be so. Let some of our friends at home fancy themselves exchanging places with us, and see their friends with whom they yesterday talked and ate, and prayed, to-day ruthlessly seized and hacked to pieces almost before their eyes, and their members left lying to decay by the roadside so as to produce an abominable stench for days. At this moment I recall vividly the voice and face of a man who came here almost daily. Several voyages he made with me in the boat, to and from Msalala. He was further a member of our Native Church Council. The executioners suddenly appeared before his house to arrest him, but were afraid to enter. At the time he was engaged in holding prayers with several lads. These bolted through the thin reed wall of the house and escaped. One alone remained with him. "Do not be afraid that I will shoot you," cried the Christian; "come in and take me." They bound him and took him, as also the friend with him, before the king. "Do you read?" "Yes." "Take him and roast him," was the summary sentence. The two were condemned, but one bought himself off by getting his friends to pay a woman and a cow. Roberto was kept a few days in the stocks, and then an arm cut off and roasted before his eyes. Next a leg was severed, and that also burnt. How much further the torture went I do not know; I only know that what was left of the man was committed also to the flames. Others tortured.

Nua, the chief of all the blacksmiths in the land, was one of our most prominent people. On hearing that arrests were being made he hurried off his wife and children, as well as some two or three Christian lads who were living with him. Then he sat awaiting arrest: nor had he long to wait; the executioners arrived and led him off unresistingly. For a week he was kept with the other prisoners, and we hear that he appealed to the executioners to embrace Christianity. Seeing among those in the stocks with him a chief who had been condemned for shooting and wounding a man and stealing cattle, Nua implored the executioner not to execute the cattle-stealer along with those who were dying for their faith. This was reported to the king, who sent and pardoned the cattle-stealer, but left Nua to be burnt alive with the others.

A convert preaching to his executioners.

The executioner's testimony.
After the massacre the head-executioner reported to the king that he had never killed men who showed such fortitude and endurance, and that they had prayed aloud to God in the fire. This caused merriment in the court, the king remarking that "God did not rescue them from his power."

You will naturally ask, "Did we do nothing to save the lives of our people?" We had just to remain helpless, as we were in the case of the Bishop, and endure the dreadful anguish in silence.

Père Lourdel had gone to court (at Munyonyo). He was waiting an audience, sitting quietly in the king's store, when he suddenly saw the pages and others being arrested. Every moment he expected arrest himself. He saw them being led off to execution, many of them his own pupils; but, as he told me, without a word or a cry from any one—except one lad, who shed tears. Hearing that the Katikiro was leaving the court, he joined that dignitary on the way down the hill, and implored him not to kill the lads thus for no reason, but rather to send him and his brethren away as they had taught these lads. The minister replied, "It is our own children whom we are killing, and not yours." "But why do you not hold us guilty, for it is we who have taught them to read?" "You are guests; you may teach as much as you like, but I will kill every one who learns."
The French priest and the Katikiro.

On the 29th I went to the capital at Munyonyo, and found M. Lourdel in the storehouse. By-and-by we were called into the king's presence. I told the Père that I meant to speak for the prisoners, would he help me? He said that he had done his best the other day, and would not say anything more. I said that it was always well to try again, when unsuccessful at first. After being ushered in, letters were produced by the king. They were from Dr. Junker, who was expected to arrive in a day or two. Some of the letters were two months old, although written not far off. I reminded the king that he had a short time ago promised me anything I liked if I would show his gunsmith how to make cartridge-cases, and now I asked my reward:
Mr. Mackay pleads for the condemned would he give it? "Yes." I said that I begged the lives of those condemned but not yet executed. This took him aback. He said that they were all already killed. I knew that this was not the case, and pleaded again. He then said that if any remained alive, "there may be five or six, or even ten, I shall not kill them." I begged that the executioner be brought and given orders accordingly. This was not done, nor would he give me a messenger to go and tell the executioner, but insisted that he had already given orders to spare several, while all the others were dead. I pressed my request as far as I thought it advisable to go without irritating him, and thus causing the immediate execution of all in bonds and probably the arrest of more. So I desisted. I returned to Munyonyo two days after, hoping to be able to renew my application, but I obtained no audience. In two or three days more the poor people, thirty-two in number, so far as we can ascertain, were bound together in one heap, and slowly burnt to death. More burnings alive.

What anguish of soul we have experienced no words can express. This terrible massacre has not, however, come unexpectedly. Ever since the king came to the throne, things have tended that way. We are only surprised that it did not take place before. Again and again we have felt ourselves on the verge of it. Even to us on the spot we can hardly yet realize the dreadful nature of the atrocity. Our place is watched, but only loosely so, as we have given the officer appointed to arrest the people coming to see us a handsome douceur, and he in consequence is less strict than he might be. At the beginning of the trouble a large armed band arrived to search the place. We had just got warning a few minutes before, and hastily sent away the readers who had come that day. Now every night a few come from their hiding-places to see us, and our sleep is much broken. To one or two who were allowed their liberty on payment of a fine, we have helped to advance the amount; while to a chief who is himself a Christian, and who was ordered to hand up two of his boys for execution, we advanced two tusks of ivory, by the payment of which he has been let off meantime. As was to be expected, several have been put to death who were not Christians at all, but were accused of learning. A few have been pardoned because their services could not well be dispensed with, some having charge of the king's goods. Another is useful in crossing the Lake to fetch traders; another is a handy gunsmith; while yet another—a sub-chief—is building the king's new capital at Mengo.

The Mission-house searched.

Converts pardoned because useful.

Mr. Ashe sent a brief notice of twelve of those, including the two mentioned by Mr. Mackay, "who have been killed for the testimony of Jesus." Of one, Kidza Musali Fredi Wigram, he gave the following particulars:—

He was baptized Sunday, September 21st, 1884. An earnest Christian and very regular attendant, has caused us deep thankfulness, most zealous in teaching others; one of those last baptized was one of his winning. When our dear children were murdered he was standing by. The cruel chief who was his over-lord (he himself having a small post called Musali), and who was carrying out Mwanga's fearful command, threatened to burn him and all his household. Fredi replied, "Very well; do so. I am a Christian, and I am not afraid." This was merely a threat. When the chief heard that his Musali was to be seized this month (June, 1886), he warned him to fly, but Fredi refused, and was taken and unmercifully clubbed to death before being flung into the flames. When I found heart to visit the scene of our children's murder, it was he who led me to the place. When we reached it, he knelt with me, and poured out his heart to God, that He would bring His salvation to those in darkness. In no long time he was to be a partaker in that blessed death: "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord." Fredi was elected a member of the Native Church Council, was married, and a regular communicant.

Valiant for the truth.

On June 6th the following printed letter was distributed for circulation among those who were hiding:—

A letter to the scattered converts.

"People of Jesus who are in Buganda. Our Friends,—We, your friends and teachers, write to you to send you words of cheer and comfort, which we have taken from the Epistle of Peter the Apostle of Christ. In days of old, Christians were hated, were hunted, were driven out and were persecuted for Jesus' sake; and thus it is to-day.

"Our beloved brethren, do not deny our Lord Jesus, and He will not deny you on that great day when He shall come with glory. Remember the words of our Saviour, how He told His disciples not to fear men, who are only able to kill the body; but He bid them to fear God, who is able to destroy the body together with the soul in the fire of Gehenna.

"Do not cease to pray exceedingly, and to pray for our brethren who are in affliction, and for those who do not know God. May God give you His Spirit and His blessing! may He deliver you out of all your afflictions! may He give you entrance to eternal life through Jesus Christ our Saviour!

"Farewell. We are the white men: we are your brethren indeed who have written to you."

Recovery of Bishop Hannington's diary.

On June 19th the diary of Bishop Hannington was recovered by Mr. Mackay, from Kulugi, the Katikiro or Prime Minister.

The work was now carried on in secret, under the cover of darkness, but candidates for baptism were not deterred by the imminent risk from coming forward. On the night of June 19th two of the Kasengigi people received baptism, and on the 25th, at 3 a.m., three other candidates applied and were baptized. Before the end of June fourteen had been admitted into the Church since the persecution began, and on July 11th five other baptisms are mentioned.

Baptisms after the persecutions.

On Sunday, June 27th, Mr. Ashe was consulted on a point of conscience:—

Sunday, 27th.—Wakened again at about 3 a.m. by Thomas and Yoana and Samweli. Samweli in great doubt what to do. Does not like to take flight; fears the king will think he has stolen some of the things. He knows the king wishes to kill him. I said, "Let us put the matter before our Heavenly Father." So we knelt down and prayed. I told him that our Saviour Himself kept out of the way when they wished to kill Him, and how St. Paul constantly took flight. We finally agreed that he should get up very early and go with the things to the head-storekeeper's private place and leave them, and then quietly slip off.

Mr. Ashe, in a later letter dated July 12th, reported that Samweli had successfully accomplished this plan, and, though specially marked for murder, was in safe hiding, as also Henry Wright Duta and many others.

Dr. Junker in U-Ganda

On June 2nd Dr. Junker, the Russian traveller, arrived at the capital. The missionaries had already resolved to demand permission from the king to leave the country. They came to this resolution under the conviction that satisfactory terms to secure liberty of conscience for the people could only be made with Mwanga when they should be beyond the reach of his power, and with the intention (D.V.) of returning after such terms should be granted. They determined, however, not to urge this demand until after Dr. Junker's departure. Accordingly, in August they sent the king a large present, and requested to be allowed to leave. Mwanga positively refused to let Mr. Mackay come away, but gave consent to Mr. Ashe's departure. After he left, during September, teaching was continued. Visitors called every day, "and," Mr. Mackay wrote on the 28th, "with some I have read and re-read in the past month two or three of the stiffest books of the New Testament." Mwanga had been suffering from rheumatism, and had accepted Mr. Mackay's medicine, under the influence of which he had recovered. Mr. Mackay added, "The Lord may touch his heart yet—no other power can. He has been giving good presents to old Isaya, whose boys he was bent on burning last June! Let us have patience. We shall yet see the salvation of God."

The missionaries' request to leave.

Mr. Ashe allowed to go.

"We shall yet see the salvation of God."

The latest news is dated January 2nd. Those imprisoned for the faith were not yet liberated, and those in hiding did not venture to come to light. Teaching was still carried on, and Mr. Mackay was experiencing a little favour at head-quarters. At Christmas a hundred or more gathered at the Mission, and other Christians had little celebrations at their country homes. Great eagerness was manifested to purchase the sheets of St. Matthew, and Mr. Mackay hoped that the whole Gospel would be in the people's hands in a few months.

Eagerness in purchasing Scriptures.

The Committee have suggested to Bishop Parker that he should proceed to the south end of the Lake, whence he might carry on patient negotiations with Mwanga through trustworthy Native messengers. Mr. Ashe considers it not unlikely that tact and patience may be rewarded by the king's promising security of life and freedom of movement for the missionaries, and toleration for the converts. It is purposed to put a small boat upon the Lake as soon as possible, in addition to the Eleanor, which is much dilapidated, and if the Committee's hopes for U-Ganda are not soon prospered, they trust it may prove useful for extending the Gospel along the southern and eastern shores of the Lake.

Bishop Parker's plans.

New boat for the Nyanza

The Committee desire to "rest in the Lord, and to wait patiently for Him" in making and prosecuting their plans; and for these dear brethren they are assured that "the Lord shall help them and deliver them; He shall deliver them from the wicked, and save them, because they trust in Him."

Statistics of the Eastern Equatorial Africa Mission.

We have received no statistics of the Mission except for Frere Town, which are as follows:—Native Christian Teachers: Male, 6; Female, 4. Native Baptized Christians, 345. Catechumens, 126. Infant Baptisms, 38. Schools, 2. Scholars: Boys, 112; Girls, 76. Last year's statistics for Kisulutini were: Baptized Christians and Adherents, 1220. Communicants, 90. School, 1. Scholars, 190. It is difficult to arrive at correct figures for the Interior in lack of information. Mr. Ashe reports that notwithstanding the murders at Buganda, there are still nearly 200 baptized Christians and 100 catechumens. Baptisms last year, were 4 at Kisokwe, 4 at Mamboia, 10 at Mpwapwa, and 19 at Buganda. Schools in the Interior, 5. Scholars, about 150.

EGYPT MISSION.

THE difficulties of the work in Cairo have in no degree diminished, nor have the encouragements been greater than before. Mr. Klein reports:—

The Moslims of Cairo are a peculiar community, distinguished by features which are probably not to be found in any other Moslim community in the Turkish empire. They have, to a great extent, received elements of European civilization, bad and good, which some outwardly adopt, others submit to. European institutions and organizations have been grafted upon the old Oriental Moslim tree, and curious and unnatural fruits are generally the result of this process. Pieces of new cloth have here and there been patched upon the old garments of Islam, but are in constant danger of being torn away and making the rent worse. Islam in Egypt (the large towns chiefly) having assimilated to itself many European elements and submitted to many Western organizations, is, on the one hand, more liberal than it is to be found in any other part of the Turkish empire; on the other hand, however, it may with equal right be called more orthodox, intolerant, and fanatical than it is to be found elsewhere. Liberalism is the outward appearance; orthodoxy and fanaticism the inward spirit. I have never, during my long stay in the East, either seen or read of any place in the Turkish empire where there is such a constantly recurring public exhibition of Moslim worship and ceremonies and festivals. Every now and then there is a "moolid"—i.e. anniversary of one of their famous saints, from Mohammed down to the poorest dervish. Parties of men, women, and children crowd to these moolids from all parts of the country; they come on foot, on donkeys, horses, or camels, with drums and fifes, and banners flying; and they bring their provisions with them, sometimes for a fortnight. In the large encampments formed on these occasions, amusement and traffic are combined with religion and worship, and every night the frantic "zikrs" are performed before the admiring Moslim crowd, now by this, now by another of the various religious orders of Islam. Pashas, sheichs, and beggars crowd to these meetings, and strengthen or revive their Moslim zeal and ardour by these religious exercises. Zikrs there are all the year round, now in this mosque, now in another. Ramadan is the season for crowding to the hundreds of large and small mosques and chapels. A number of mosques are dedicated to famous saints and sheichs, and the visits to the same are the means of obtaining special favours from God, through the intercession of the favourite prophet, saint, or sheich. The departure of the pilgrims for Mekka and the sending of the "holy carpet" are the occasions for grand ceremonies, in which the Khedive and all the ministers and great men take part. Every pilgrim who returns safely from his pilgrimage is met by crowds of people with music and banners. Koran readers are in request at every joyful or sad advent. The child that is circumcised is taken about in state in the streets of Cairo. The Azhar University, with its 8000 students of Islam and several hundreds of professors, teaching and preparing zealous, if not always very learned missionaries of the religion of Mohammed, is no mean instrument in kindling and keeping alive the fire of true Islam orthodoxy and zeal.

Among these masses of ignorant, prejudiced, self-sufficient, and hostile Moslims there may be—and, thank God, our experience teaches us that there are—individuals searching for and loving the truth, and they will hear the voice of the Lord. Individuals searching for the truth.

A grant of money by the British and Foreign Bible Society has enabled Mr. Klein to rent a room to be used as a Bible depôt and reading-room in a much more central and more easily accessible quarter than the former one. Eight hundred Bibles and portions have been sold, and also a good number of Arabic copies of the Mizan-ul-Haqq and the Kindi. Occasionally Moslims enter the depôt and engage in discussion. An intelligent Effendi declared that Islam was an "anachronism." Visits are paid to the Native quarters by a Native assistant. The congregation at the Sunday Arabic Services, held in Mohammed Ali Street, fluctuates. Several young men have joined the congregation, and some Copts are observed to attend regularly. At the Old Cairo School there are between sixty and seventy pupils, about one-half being Moslims, the other Copts. The Gizeh School has had to be closed owing to intrigue. Another in the heart of the Mohammedan quarter has been opened in its stead, in which about eighty pupils are taught.

Visit of Bishop Blyth.

Bishop Blyth visited Egypt in May last, on his way to Palestine, and conferred with the Rev. F. A. Klein.

ARABIA MISSION.

Arrival of Dr. Harpur at Aden.

Dr. F. J. Harpur arrived at Aden on April 10th, and at once began the preliminary labours of learning the language (Arabic), cultivating the acquaintance of the Aden people, and seeking to win the confidence and overcome the shyness of the Bedouin Arabs from the Interior. He writes:—

Learning Arabic under difficulties.

In order to pick up the colloquial Aden Arabic, acting on General Haig's advice, I got a large number of sentences written from a selected number of common words. Two boys came each day for several hours and repeated these sentences over and over again with Mrs. Harpur and myself. In addition to this I went to an Arab munshee for an hour every morning, making no objection to his proposal for me to go to his house, as it seemed a good way of learning something of what went on in an Arab house. In most Arab houses there is a raised part covered with rugs in the room where the master sits and receives his guests. Here my teacher sat eating his "cot," smoking his pipe, shouting at his men, roaring (occasionally) at his children, entertaining his guests, and teaching me—all at the same time. This may appear to be a rather curious way of getting a lesson, but it was not without its value, for if we were interrupted by people coming in, I made their acquaintance and listened to their conversation. As soon as I was able to understand a little Arabic, I commenced to go to the bazaar in the evenings, and sat outside a coffee-shop, the fashionable resort of most of the Aden people. There I made a few acquaintances, but often had to sit silent for a long time, apparently looked upon as a suspicious character.

Arabs from the Interior.

The Arabs from the Interior do not mix much with the Aden people. They remain in Aden from four to twelve days while they sell their coffee, &c., and buy a return load of cloth, &c., for the Interior. A few days ago we had a visit from a Bedouin, the son of a Bedouin chief. His brother, who has been teaching me Arabic, told him about me, and he expressed a wish to come and see me, which we, of course, were very glad of. I heard afterwards that he was much pleased at being allowed to come, having been under the impression that he would be turned out if he ventured inside a European house. Occasionally I have gone, after sunset, to try and talk to the Bedouins. A great many of them when in Aden sleep in the open air with their camels. It is amusing to see the way they will start away if I come up close to them without their noticing me; but when once or twice they got over the strangeness of a European coming to sit down with them, I have had friendly conversations with them. Occasionally I have met one or two who could read, and they were pleased to get a small book to take back with them to their country. Surgeon-major Colson, who has charge of the Civil Hospital, has been most kind, always letting me see any surgery that goes on there.

In January Dr. Harpur moved for a time to Hodeidah, on the eastern shore of the Red Sea, at the suggestion of General Haig, as an interesting opening for medical missionary work seemed to present itself. After a few weeks of quiet and successful medical work, the local authorities interposed by requiring him to get his diplomas ratified at Constantinople, and obliging him to stop practising in the meantime. An interest in the Gospel had been manifested by some of the patients. Dr. Harpur wrote in March:—

Removal to Hodeidah.

Medical work suspended.

We try to have reading together and prayer in the sick-rooms daily. Usually all are ready to come as close as possible, and I try to get where each patient can hear. I have two or three spare books, and those who can read try to read along with me. I try to read of the birth, death, and resurrection of Christ, including Isaiah liii., and the simplest parables and a few of the miracles. One of the patients, a man from Hodeidah, could read well, and the Bible and Testament were left near him. He did not seem to take much interest in it at first, but gradually I noticed he was employing some of his time in reading the Sacred Book, and as he read more he appeared more interested, until he spent several hours reading each day. One Saturday afternoon, as I was going out to see patients, I noticed him as usual reading, and on coming into the house an hour afterwards I heard him reading aloud to a friend who had come in to see him. As I passed by he asked me to stop, and inquired what the price of the Bible was. He was astonished to hear it was so cheap; and then he asked me, should I leave Hodeidah, to sell him the book. I was very sorry that I could not sell it to him there and then; but it is the only entire Bible we have with us in Hodeidah, it having been thought advisable not to alarm the Custom-house people on our arrival.

Arab interest in the Scriptures.

The Committee regret that Dr. Harpur has been obliged by illness to come home.

At the beginning of last year the Committee resolved to send a missionary as soon as possible to visit Suakin and other ports on the Red Sea, with a view to obtaining reliable information as to the possibility of establishing a Gordon Memorial Mission in the Soudan. They very gratefully accepted in July an offer made by General Haig to undertake this mission, and he left London for that purpose on October 12th. He reached Alexandria on October 19th, and left Suez, after spending ten days at Cairo, on November 5th. At Jeddah, the principal port for Mecca, he remained five days; thence he crossed to Suakin, the chief outlet for the trade of the Soudan, where he spent twelve days. On November 28th he proceeded to Massowah, whence he recrossed the sea to Hodeidah, and reached Aden on December 5th; on the 7th, with Dr. Harpur, he visited Zeila, Bulhar, and Berbera, on the Somali Coast, returning to Aden on the 12th. They left again for Hodeidah on the 21st, and were so much interested in the place that they determined, anticipating the Committee's sanction, that Dr. Harpur should spend three months there, and took a house accordingly. General Haig, accompanied by Ibrahim, the Bible Society's Aden colporteur, went inland from Hodeidah to Sanna, a distance of 140 miles, where he spent a week, after which, turning south, he journeyed through the high table-land of Yemen, and reached Aden on January 29th.

In April General Haig visited Muscat (spending a fortnight in Oman) and Busrah, whence he ascended the Tigris to Baghdad, and reached the Mediterranean vid the Syrian Desert and Damascus. This latter journey occupied more than seven complete days and nights; seventeen hours of each twenty-four being spent in the saddle and four in sleep.

General Haig's report.

The Committee would commend to the thoughtful and prayerful perusal of the Society's friends the valuable report which General Haig has presented of his tour. The conclusions he arrived at can here only be very briefly summarized. The Hedjaz, lying along the eastern side of the northern half of the Red Sea, appears at present to be quite closed against any direct missionary action. But the Soudan, the Somali country, and Yemen he considers to be open to the Gospel to some extent at once, and likely to be more so within the next few years. In the Soudan he points out Assouan as an important centre, possessing great advantages and facilities; but Suakin, in spite of a very unhealthy climate, he regards as a place destined to exercise a commanding influence, and as offering an open and inviting field for a Medical Mission. The Somali-land has been placed under the British Protectorate. General Haig speaks doubtfully as to whether the British representatives would oppose missionary efforts, but so far as the Natives are concerned he considers the field a promising one. Of Yemen, and especially of Sanna, he speaks as most important and encouraging. The Arabs showed no trace of fanaticism, but on the contrary seemed everywhere willing to listen to the truth, while the numerous Jews showed a touching eagerness to purchase the Scriptures.

Closed and open doors.

In Oman General Haig believes there are important openings for the Gospel, and he was encouraged to believe that the Government would offer no opposition. From these appearances, and its geographical position, reaching at its western extremity to about 200 miles of Riad, the capital of Nejd, he was led to conclude that the shortest, easiest, and safest route into Central Arabia will be from this quarter.

In these Mohammedan countries it is painfully evident the Church of Christ owes long arrears of unpaid obligations, and the Committee ask for prayer that they may be guided to decide wisely where and how their next efforts shall be made.

PALESTINE MISSION.

Jerusalem, 1851; Nazareth, 1852; Salt, 1873; Nablûs, 1876; Jaffna, 1876; Gaza, 1878; Hauran, 1883.

THE appointment by the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, and the Bishop of London, of the Ven. G. P. Blyth, Archdeacon of Rangoon, to be Bishop of the Church of England in Jerusalem and the East, has been already referred to. He was consecrated on March 25th, at Lambeth, and proceeded to visit parts of the diocese committed to his care. The precise limits geographically of the Bishop's sphere of influence are not, the Committee believe, clearly defined; but they embrace lands which have for centuries been under the corrupt government of Moslem rulers, and the baneful influence of the religion of Islam, and where, alas! the Christian Churches have lost long since the salt of holiness and the light of simple truth. The Committee venture, therefore, to solicit in behalf of his Lordship the fervent prayers of such as love the peace of Jerusalem, that he may be a shepherd to Christ's flock, holding up the weak, healing the sick, binding up the broken, bringing again the outcasts, and seeking the lost.

Consecration of Bishop Blyth.

"The field has its own peculiar difficulties," to quote from the Rev. J. Huber's Annual Letter, "but the land of the Bible has its own special promises." One of these difficulties is the pronounced hostility of the Government to the work. This has lately been more manifest even than before, more general and systematic, and inspired, to all appearance, from Constantinople. So seriously has this inimical policy interfered with missionary work that the missionaries of the various British, German, and American Societies which have operations in Syria and Palestine, have been driven to address a memorial on the subject "to the representatives of the Christian Powers at the Sublime Porte." The grievances to which this memorial directs attention are the following :—

Government hostility to the work.

Missionary memorial to the Sublime Porte.

1. Interference with the personal work of missionaries themselves.
2. Interference with the building of churches.
3. Interference with the rights of religious worship.
4. Interference with schools.
5. Interference with hospital work.
6. Virtual prohibition of the right of petition.

The ground alleged for interference with Mission-schools is that the law requires that they should have certificates either from the Nuzarat el Ma'arif (Superintendent of Education), or from the Local Board of Education. But such Boards have not been created in Palestine, and certificates from the Superintendent are most difficult to obtain; consequently both schools and teachers are at the mercy of the authorities at any moment. The prohibition of the Rev. W. F. Connor's residing at Irbid, and the closing of the Hauran schools, were mentioned in the last Annual Report. In January last the Rev. Chalil Jamal received orders to close the boys' school at Salt, which was opened in 1866, and has been visited and commended from time to time by several Pashas, in which, moreover, the children of the Local Government officials were educated. Happily the order was rescinded on February 1st, by the Government of Constantinople. Again, in November, a colporteur of Mr. Hall was arrested at Selfit, near Nablous, and sent first to the Governor-General of Damascus, and by him to the Governor of Lebanon. After a few weeks' detention, during which he was exposed to many privations, he was released.

Arrest of a colporteur.

JAFFA.

The Rev. J. R. Longley Hall visited England to obtain surgical aid for one of his children in September, returning in January to the Mission. During his absence the Rev.

H. Sykes removed to Jaffa from Ramleh, where he is located while learning the language, and Mr. Hall wrote very thankfully of the "splendid order" in which he found everything upon his return. Mr. Hall reports a year of steady progress. The attendance at the services has been larger, especially at the evening services. The book-shop is of increasing importance. Moslems daily call there either to find fault with or to inquire about the truths of Scripture. The work among women has developed. There are now three meetings held weekly, which are "very largely attended," and the women are regularly visited at their own homes by the Bible-woman.

A year of steady progress.

At Lydd and Ramleh the schools have increased during the year, and the tone of the Ramleh congregation has much improved, "due very largely," Mr. Hall says, "to the work and influence of Mr. Sykes." The school at Abud is very small, but there are cheering tokens of God's favour and blessing. Moslem children are beginning to attend from neighbouring villages. Two young Moslems who regularly attend the services say that the teaching they received in the school in past years has led them to believe in Jesus as the Saviour of the world, although they dare not come out openly and confess Him.

Schools at out-stations.

Mr. Hall says, in conclusion:—

I cannot express too strongly my thankfulness to God for the nice spirit that prevails among my Native fellow-workers. Never was there a time, I think, when they have been so united and so ready to sink private feeling and personal wishes in order that the work may advance, and God's glory be extended.

Spirit of Native workers.

JERUSALEM.

The Rev. J. Zeller's strength has been taxed severely during the year. The direction of the Preparandi Institution and of the Gobat Boarding School are his proper charge; but in addition to these the absence of the Rev. C. T. Wilson has thrown upon him the general superintendence of the work at Jerusalem and its out-stations, and Mr. Hall's visit to England necessitated his undertaking for a time the duties of the Secretariat. Sickness in his family has superadded private cares to these multifarious public duties; but he has been strengthened for both, and extols the mercy of the Lord for His sustaining grace. The Rev. Ibrahim Baz assists him in the Preparandi Institution, and the Rev. Nasir Odeh is pastor of the Native congregation.

The importance of the Preparandi Institution it would be impossible to over-estimate. Under present conditions, while the Mission schools are almost the only means of affecting the Mohammedan population, it is scarcely too much to say that the only measure of success which seems possible depends upon the efficiency of this Institution. If the teachers be converted men, sensible of their privileges and responsibilities, it will certainly follow that a spiritual work will be wrought throughout the land. There are seventeen students; five left in the autumn, four of whom are employed in the Mission, and six were admitted. The following are the subjects of study:—

Subjects of study.

The Holy Scriptures, the Sacred History, "Mizan-ul-Haqq," the explanations of the Thirty-nine Articles and the Creed, Church History, Universal History, geography, arithmetic, algebra, Euclid, natural philosophy, mental philosophy, Arabic grammar, rhetoric, caligraphy, composition, writing lectures, book-binding, and a ittle music and English.

Orphanage and Printing Press.

In the Gobat School and Orphanage on Zion there are sixty-one children, of whom six are Moslems. Several books, (including Luther's Commentary on the Epistle to the Galatians), and pamphlets, have issued from the Printing Press during the year.

Mr. Odeh thinks he observes signs of increasing spirituality in the Congregation, and their contributions have considerably increased. The new edition of the Arabic Hymnal has proved a great attraction to the people. On one occasion a dragoman of the Pasha, hearing the singing, turned into the church, and remained to the end of the service. He expressed much pleasure in the simple mode of worship, and listened with interest to the sermon from Matt. vi. 33. Mr. Odeh asks prayer for the Moslem girl baptized by Mr. Wilson last year. He believes her to be a Christian from conviction, but she is easily influenced and needs constant guidance. The Moslem girl whom Mr. Wolters baptized has been married to a member of this congregation. There are seventy names on the roll of the girls' school; the average attendance is about fifty. Mr. Odeh feels very deeply the responsibility of his charge, especially the work of instructing and exhorting his people. He says:—

> As to my own preparation, I can truly say I have striven, through the help of the Holy Spirit, to draw deep from the well of God's Holy Word, and tod eliver the simple and saving message of the Gospel of Christ, and my heart has yearned and pleaded that every sermon or address delivered this year might be the means of leading some soul to the Saviour.

Colportage.

The Bible colporteur has several times during the year visited all the villages and Bedouin tribes between Hebron and Nablous, and has had many excellent opportunities of reading portions of the Word of God to Mohammedans, and of discussing religious subjects with them. In one village the Mohammedan schoolmaster, by order of the Cadi of Jerusalem, seized his copies of the Scriptures, but the sheikh of the village protested against these proceedings and returned them to him. "This clearly shows," Mr. Zeller says, "that the opposition is not due to the fanaticism of the Moslem population, but to direct orders from Government officials."

Opposition not due to fanaticism.

Mr. G. Nyland reports on Ramallah, Bir Zeit, Jiffna, and Taiyibeh. At Ramallah he has Bible-meetings twice a week, attended by fifty men, and sometimes by a Greek priest. The schools are well attended; in all of them there are some Moslem boys.

GAZA.

The Rev. J. Huber has conducted the evangelistic work of this station, and the Rev. R. Elliott has carried on the Medical Mission. Mr. Huber says the two schools for boys and girls are the brightest spot in the work. Most of the children are very wild, but they learn very easily large portions of the Old and New Testament. At the instigation of the Pasha of Jerusalem a mosque has been built between the two schools, and it was necessary, in order to give the worshippers access to it, to cut off a portion of the boys' school. A Bible depôt and book-shop have been opened, and a Bible-woman is engaged, who holds two weekly meetings of from thirty to forty women, nearly all of whom are Moslems.

Bible dépot opened.

Mr. Elliott, whose former work was in the Santal Mission, is painfully impressed with the difference in the attitude of the Moslems of Gaza to that of the Santalis towards the Gospel. When he wrote in December the average number of patients was about thirty per diem. There are a large number of quacks to whom the people resort, whose panacea is—"One verse of the Koran written on paper; water, two cups: grind together and swallow." Mr. Elliott says the patients listen attentively to the preaching, and often ask very pertinent questions, showing that their interest has been aroused.

NABLOUS.

The Rev. C. Fallscheer was absent in Germany for a few months last year, during which the Rev. W. F. Connor was in charge. Mr. Fallscheer considers the persecution lately instituted is a proof that an impression is made by the proclamation of the Gospel. "All are fearing the Gospel," he says, "and they will make every effort in future to stop it. Almost every day our patience is tried, but the Word of God is not bound, and shall accomplish that which pleases Him." Altogether, at Nablous, and the out-stations of Rafidieh, Nisf el Jebil, Burka, and Zebabdeh, there are 89 communicants, and 142 children in the schools, of whom 98 are boys.

NAZARETH.

The clergy at this station are the Revs. T. F. Wolters and S. Boutaji. Mr. Wolters asks the question, "What signs are there of life?" And in answering it he portrays faithfully the discouraging aspects of the work. From the point of view of the profession of Protestant truth he thinks there is little to be desired. The attendance at church, too, though poor, is far better than it was. But if the every-day life of the church members be taken as the test, the result is disappointment and sorrow. He says, "Can there be life where there is a manifest unwillingness to make the least sacrifice for Christ? and where, on the contrary, religion is regarded simply as a means to worldly gain?" At Nazareth, however, some of the women afford a ray of hope; they were brought up in the Female Education Society's Orphanage, and their whole demeanour shows that a work of grace is begun in their hearts. A few of the men, not more than three or four at present, also seem to be in earnest. The colporteur evangelist has visited more than 160 villages and towns, in some of which he met with a very encouraging reception. Mr. Wolters mentions one general result of the Mission, which is important. He says:—

Discouraging aspects of the work.

Wide prevalence of evangelical knowledge.

> There is a wide prevalence of evangelical knowledge leading to trust in Christ alone in time of need. I am told that it is not uncommon now for Greeks and Greek Catholics to give up the invocation of saints and even the Virgin Mary in times of sickness and death. The name of Christ is invoked much more frequently than used to be the case. Does this fact not prove that there is a good work gradually growing outside the boundaries of our own Protestant community?

There are seven out-stations, at each of which there is a Mission school for boys, viz. Haifa, Acca, Shefamer, Abilin, Mujeidel, Reneh, Kefr Kenna. At the three first of these there are congregations. Haifa has lost its Native pastor, the Rev. Michael Kawar, who died on November 12th.

Mrs. Jane Low, honorary missionary at Haifa, states that the Mohammedan religious preacher, the Khatib, let one of his houses in the Mohammedan quarter of the town to the Mission for schools, and that in consequence the number of Moslem pupils has increased.

SALT, AND THE HAURAN.

The Rev. Chalil Jamal has been much troubled by the action of the authorities in first threatening to close the school, and then actually ordering it to be closed. The congregation, however, and the communicants, have somewhat increased, being respectively 320 and 50. "The chapel is overflowing on almost every Lord's Day morning." The members of "The Soul-winning and Prayer Union Mission" meet once a month for prayer. Two meetings are held weekly for Bible-reading and prayer; and a prayer-meeting for the agents on Monday mornings at 8.30.

School closed.

"A Soul-winning and Prayer Union Mission."

The Rev. W. F. Connor is in charge of the Hauran schools, but has been unable to visit them during the year.

After enumerating the various opposing forces to the work in Palestine, Mr. Wolters asks :—

Under these circumstances what is our duty? To surrender? No; and again I say, No! The Society often puts forth the statement that the object of this Mission is to reach the Mohammedans. We have gained foothold within the fort, and we will hold it until we are actually driven out.

PERSIA MISSION.

The C.M.S. and other bodies in Persia.

"In our work in Persia we are brought into contact with the Gregorian Armenian Church, the Roman Catholic Armenian Church, and the American missionaries and their Protestant congregations and labourers," Dr. Bruce writes in a valuable paper published in the Intelligencer for June, 1887, and in reference to a controversy which has lately excited considerable interest, he adds:—

> Your missionaries in Julfa have always acted towards all these above-named Christian bodies with perfect equality; they have never treated any of them as heretics or schismatics, but treated them all alike as sister churches in Christ, and on every possible occasion informed their priests and members that their object was not to draw proselytes from them to the Church of England, but to work with them for the evangelization of the Mohammedans.

Missionary Conference at Julfa.

A Missionary Conference was held at Julfa in June, 1886, at which all the five European missionaries were present, viz. the Revs. Dr. R. Bruce, Dr. E. F. Hoernle, and G. R. Ekins, of Julfa; and the Rev. T. R. Hodgson, and Dr. Henry Martyn Sutton, of Baghdad. To Dr. Bruce, to whose invincible devotion since 1869, when he first visited Persia, the work is due, and who has witnessed its growth since 1875, when the Mission was formally adopted by the Society, it was an occasion of joy and thanksgiving thus to meet four European brethren, and to confer with them on the needs of the stations and the openings for further extension. Dr. Bruce has returned to England with his family, and Dr. Hoernle has succeeded to the general charge of the work during his absence.

Death of Mrs. Hoernle.

At Julfa Drs. Bruce and Hoernle have had trials and disappointments, both private and public, during the year. On September 10th Mrs. Hoernle, the daughter of Dr. Bruce, died in childbirth. The Committee learned with much thankfulness of the abundant Divine consolations which both father and widowed husband experienced in this heavy bereavement. The Mission, too, is a loser by her death. Mr. Ekins has been unwell, and confined to his rooms almost from the date of his arrival in June last year. First he suffered from fever, and then in September was prostrated by a kick from a horse.

The opposition of the Prince-Governor, incited apparently by the Armenian Archbishop, has led to the destruction of a school which the Native congregation had erected, and no reparation has been received. These troubles had a double effect. They led to a considerable, but only a temporary, falling off in the number of attendants at the services. In every item the statistics show a small decrease on the previous year. The communicants are 93 against 98, the scholars 300 against 323, and the contributions 43*l.* 8*s.* 7¾*d.* against 44*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.* By the beginning of this year, however, the chapel was as crowded as ever, and Dr. Bruce does not think any real harm was done. On the other hand, by God's great mercy, some very real good was the result. The spirituality of those who continued faithful during the trial was visibly increased. Their troubles drove them to the Throne of Grace, and a daily prayer-meeting was started.

Opposition of the Prime-Governor: a school destroyed.

Communicants and contributions.

Dr. Bruce's references to the Y.M.C.A. and to his translation work will be read with interest:—

My chief comfort has been in a class which I have held three times every week for the members of our Y.M.C.A. and school-teachers. Some of them have, I trust I may say, developed considerably in spirituality, in capacity for business, and in efforts for the extension of Christ's kingdom. One of them has been appointed as manager of the Industrial School and teacher of the orphans who are employed in it. And he has done his work so faithfully and kept the accounts so correctly, that I have been delivered from a great burden of care and anxiety which I had to bear in previous years. Another brother keeps all the accounts of the Bible Society and of the C.M.S. Secretariat, and is an invaluable helper; and two or three others are equally valuable as teachers in the schools.

Y.M.C.A. in Julfa.

Three of our brothers have also carried on the most valuable of all the branches of our Mission work, that of disseminating the Word of God in Persia as colporteurs of the British and Foreign Bible Society. Their work is one the fruits of which will only appear when Christ comes to make up His jewels.

I have been obliged lately to devote as much time as I can spare to the revision of the translation of the Bible in Persian, as I wish to take home with me a second revision of the whole of the New Testament, and a first revision of Genesis, Exodus, and Psalms. There is no work so necessary for Persia as this. The first labours of all missionaries should be directed towards giving the people the Word of God in their own language. I realize the difficulty of it more and more. I believe a good translation can only be made by the translator studying almost every verse of the Bible devotionally and critically for his own soul's good, and then, with earnest prayer for the Holy Spirit's guidance, making his last revision for print of the translation. I have had to do this now with the whole New Testament, and got through, after several years' labours, from St. Matt. i. 1 to Rev. xix., and hope to reach the last verse of Rev. xxii. a day or two before we shall (D.V.) start for home.

BAGHDAD.

Native prejudice diminished.

Mr. Hodgson returned in November, after his attendance at the Julfa Conference, and Dr. and Mrs. Sutton in January. The prejudice of the people has been greatly diminished; a leading merchant of considerable influence has professed great friendship for Mr. Hodgson, and showed a disposition to entrust his boys and girls to him for education. The small Native Protestant community holds together, and evinces considerable interest in Mission work. Services are held on Sundays in Arabic and also in English. General Haig, who called at Baghdad in April last, describes it as a most important centre for missionary operations among the Arabs.

Protestant community.

On his return journey from Julfa, Mr. Hodgson visited Bushire, and was welcomed in a very friendly spirit by some of the leading Armenian merchants. Some of them, who were trustees of about Rs. 3000 or Rs. 4000 raised for opening a school at Bushire, offered the money to him for that purpose. In January he visited the place again, and hired a house for a Native agent, for the rent of which the Committee has undertaken a joint responsibility with the Committee of the British and Foreign Bible Society.

INDIA.

Of the many duties which devolve upon the Committee, one of the most responsible is the teaching and training of the various congregations connected with the Society to unite together for purposes of self-support, self-government, and self-extension. Accordingly in many of the Missions, and more particularly in those of India, Pastorate Committees have been formed, representing particular congregations; Church Councils, consisting of representatives of a number of Pastorates; and Central Councils, consisting of delegates from two or more Councils. The question as to the relation which these organizations shall bear to the Bishops, and the dioceses in which they are formed, has been recently raised in the Panjâb and in Bengal, and with a view to defining that relation, the following Resolutions were adopted by the Committee in November last:—

Self-support.

Church Councils.

Resolutions on Bengal Native Church Councils, agreed to by the General Committee, November 16th, 1886.

Resolutions on Bengal Native Church Councils.

1. That in all the Society's plans for the development of its Native Church Council system, three objects have been aimed at—(a) to stimulate self-support in the Native Christian communities, and thus, amongst other advantages, to gradually release the Society's funds for more directly evangelistic purposes; (b) to train the Native Christians for taking an active part in the conduct of their own Church affairs, with a view to the further development of their Church organization when the right time shall come, under the varying circumstances of different countries; (c) to foster the deepening of spiritual life among the Native Christians, and the stirring up of them to efforts for the conversion of the surrounding heathen.

2. That the Society has yet a further object in view in all its teaching and training of the Native Christian communities under its charge, viz. to encourage and foster in them a steadfast adherence to the principles upon which the Society itself is based, so that the influence they will exert in the Churches of the future may be of a distinctly Evangelical character.

3. That the Society deprecates any measure of Church organization which may tend to permanently subject the Native Christian communities in India to the forms and arrangements of the national and established Church of a far-distant and very different country, and therefore desires that all present arrangements for Church organization should remain as elastic as possible, until the Native Christians themselves shall be numerous and powerful enough to have a dominant voice in the formation of an ecclesiastical constitution on lines suitable to the Indian people—a constitution which the Society trusts will, while maintaining full communion with the Church of England, be such as to promote the unity of Indian Christendom.

4. That, at the same time, the Society fully recognizes the fact that its Native Christians in India are members of the Church of England in that country, and therefore that they have distinct relations, in each diocese, with that diocese and its Bishop. The Society looks forward hopefully to the time when there will be Native Bishops; and it does not forget that the maintenance of their relation to the dioceses and Bishops of the Church of England in India is, under present circumstances, a necessary step to that desirable consummation.

5. That although the immediate purpose for which the Native Church Councils were formed, was the exercise of patronage and the administration of funds, yet, inasmuch as they have in reality become, to some extent, the incipient Church bodies for general Church administration, the Society does not now propose to limit their functions.

6. That it is essential, in any rules and arrangements for these Councils, that the principles stated above, in Resolutions 1, 2, and 3, should be borne in mind; and the Society feels that the presence ex officio of either the Bishop or the European Missionaries as a body in such of the Councils as control the Native Church funds, would tend to interfere with one or other of those principles. Moreover, it is, and always has been, an essential condition of the Society's pecuniary aid that it should retain an ultimate control over the bodies administering its grants; and the Society is of opinion that the ex officio presidency of the Bishop over a Native Council administering its grants, would, if it did not prevent that control, at least tend to cause friction in the exercise of it.

7. In order to give effect to the above considerations, the Parent Committee are willing that the draft rules for Native Church Councils in Bengal should be altered in the following particulars:—

(a) That power be given to the District Church Councils to administer the Native Church funds independently of the Central Church Council.

(b) That such (if any) of the European Missionaries of the district as may from time to time be appointed in that behalf by the Parent Committee, shall be members respectively of the District Church Councils and of the Central Church Council.

(c) That the Bishop shall be President of the Central Church Council, and that the Vice-President shall be appointed by the Parent Committee.

(d) That the Vice-President of the Central Church Council shall be the Chairman of its Executive Committee.

(e) That provisions be inserted which will enable the District Councils to have such a control over landed and other property as will be recognized and enforced by courts of law.

Mr. Wigram in India.

The Rev. F. E. Wigram, and his son, Mr. E. F. E. Wigram, landed from Ceylon at Tuticorin, the port of Tinnevelly, on November 3rd. After rapidly visiting the Tinnevelly, Travancore, Madras, and Telugu Missions, they proceeded by train to Poona and Bombay. Christmas Day was spent at Nasik, and New Year's Day at Jabalpur. Thence they went to Allahabad and Calcutta. After seeing something of the North India Mission, including the work in the Santal country, they returned westward, viâ Gorakhpur, Lucknow, Agra, and Meerut, to the Panjab and Sindh. On March 18th they left Bombay for China. On the conclusion of this very arduous tour, Mr. Wigram wrote:—

With the exception of two sermons which should have been preached at Lahore, I have been permitted to fulfil every engagement, and have been carried through the whole work assigned without once missing train or boat, and without suffering, though at times with some weariness. My heart is full of gratitude for the mercies vouchsafed and the help given to me and to my dear boy during these five months. We do not forget how much we owe to the many who have been "helping together in prayer for us," and desire that for the gift bestowed on us by means of many persons thanks may be given by many in our behalf; and may answered prayers quicken our dear friends to continued intercession!

From every station visited thankful testimony is borne to the refreshment and encouragement which their visit afforded, both to the missionaries and the Native clergy. The Committee thank God for His merciful protection and sustaining power, and especially for the words of ripe wisdom and of deep spiritual experience which were given to Mr. Wigram in addressing the numerous and various assemblies of Natives, both Christian and Non-Christian, whom he met.

NORTH INDIA MISSION.

(European Missionaries first arrived, 1816.)

During the greater part of the year under review, the Rev. Alfred Clifford, M.A., has carried on the Secretaryship of the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, which governs the extensive work of the Society comprised under the title "North India Mission." But since April, when Mr. Clifford returned to England in consequence of ill-health, the duties have devolved upon the Rev. P. I. Jones, who joined the Mission last year. The following divisions of the Mission are the same as have been used in recent Reports, viz. (1) Lower Bengal, including Calcutta; (2) the Santal Mission, with Bhágalpur; (3) the North-West Provinces; (4) the Central Provinces and Rájputána.

LOWER BENGAL.

Calcutta, 1816; Burdwan, 1817; Krishnagar, 1831.

The Bengal Native Church Council, which was formed in 1880, held its sixth annual meeting on July 27th and 28th, 1886, and this was probably the last occasion of its being convened, as the Parent Committee have gladly sanctioned a proposal made by the Executive Committee of the Native Church Councils for Bengal.

Council, for the establishment of two Native Church Councils for Bengal, one for Calcutta, of which the Rev. J. W. Hall is appointed the first President, and the other for Krishnagar, of which the Rev. H. Williams is the President. This division for the work's sake will not, the Committee confidently hope, tend to disunion of the workers, inasmuch as a Central Council has been formed whose functions will be in the main deliberative rather than administrative, to which each Council will elect members. The meeting last July was held at Krishnagar. The Bishop of Calcutta was present; also, as visitors, the Principal of Bishop's College, and two Native clergymen connected with the S.P.G., besides most of the European and all the Native clergy of the C.M.S. Papers were read by Babu Kedar Nath Bhattacharjea, of Kidderpore, and by the Rev. Kailas Chunder Biswas, of Bollobhpur, on "The means of improving the Spiritual Condition of the Christian Community." The latter laid stress upon the Church's dependence upon the Holy Spirit, and urged the necessity for earnest prayer. He also recommended the systematic reading of God's Word, diligent attendance on religious ordinances, reading of Christian biographies, missions conducted by eminent preachers, &c. A proposal was considered to start a Provident Fund for members of the Church of England in Bengal.

A Native pastor on spiritual progress.

The Bishop in concluding, mentioned that there was life in the Church of Bengal, and that he had abundant evidences brought before him of it that day. With regard to Romish assaults upon the Church he thought they were quite contemptible, inasmuch as the Roman Catholic priests bought converts with money and did not win them over by intelligent persuasion. He thought he would consider himself insulted if any attempt was made to change his faith, by an offer of money, and would reject the offer with indignation. He exhorted the brethren to be actuated by the same feeling. Poor as he was, like St. Peter, he exhorted brethren to rise up and walk, in the strength of God, supplied by His Holy Spirit and His Word, through the length and breadth of the land.

In conclusion the Bishop advised, to organize a band of faithful and devoted men whose especial work would be among the brethren troubled with these Romish priests, and who would be best fitted to meet their attack, and persuade the people to be steadfast in the faith.

First Meeting of Calcutta Church Council.

The first meeting of the Calcutta District Church Council was held in January. Mr. Wigram was in Calcutta at the time, and was present.

CALCUTTA.

The evangelistic work in and around Calcutta has been under the general charge of the Rev. Dr. C. Baumann until March last, when he took his furlough, and was succeeded by the Rev. J. W. Hall. The Mohammedan work is carried on by the Rev. Jani Alli, M.A. The Rev. W. H. Ball has had charge of the Divinity School and of Christ Church. The Girls' Boarding School has continued under Miss H. J. Neele's superintendence, assisted by Miss A. Sampson, whose health the Committee are thankful to learn has much improved. The Rev. C. S. Harington is minister of the "Old Church." Miss Hall has been added to the staff of workers among the women of Calcutta and neighbourhood, while Miss L. Payne, who has conducted the Agarpara Orphanage, has been invalided home. The Rev. R. K. Bose, Native Pastor of Trinity Church, has been removed to Burdwan, and the Rev. M. S. Seal is Native Pastor at Kidderpur.

Mr. Wigram visited Calcutta in January, and the following is extracted from the Calcutta Localized Edition of the C.M. Gleaner :—

Mr. Wigram in Calcutta.

It would be difficult to recall here the number of meetings of various sorts which Mr. Wigram attended, at nearly all of which he either gave formal addresses or spoke a few words of counsel and encouragement. One of the most noteworthy, however, was a social gathering of Bengali Christian gentlemen of various denominations at the house of the Rev. W. H. Ball. On this occasion, after an hour or so spent in conversation, the meeting took a somewhat more formal turn, and Mr. Wigram put some thoughtful questions regarding the present needs and future prospects of the (Native) Church in Bengal, which were replied to by some of the leading gentlemen present in a way which was most interesting and suggestive. Mr. Wigram, at the conclusion, gave a short address, in which he explained the policy of the C.M.S. in North India, and its hopes and desires as to the future development of the Church as understood by himself or set forth in the publications of the Society. We believe he came away much impressed by the excellent Christian spirit, as well as by the manifest ability and good sense of those leaders of the Native Christian community whom he had met.

The Committee are glad that the valuable report written by Dr. Baumann for the "Calcutta Church Missionary Association" has this year reached them in time for extracts to be made in this Report.

A fifty years' retrospect.

We celebrate this year the Jubilee of our beloved Queen-Empress's reign, and as we cast our thoughts back over the last fifty years, we feel that we have good cause to rejoice. There have been during this period great victories in India over priestcraft, superstition, bigotry, and idolatry. Hinduism is by many degrees less real now than it was then; it has less heart, less power, less control; the bonds with which it binds its votaries now are not what they were then. The men of God who dealt their blows upon the dagon of fifty years ago found it a very solid and compact block indeed; it gave out sparks of indignation and wrath, but seemed as if it would never break; men of God nowadays find the response of a hollow ring as they strike the senseless image, clearly showing that its substance has been eaten away, that a hollow shell alone remains, and that the day of demolition is doubtless approaching.

The "dagon" of fifty years ago and now;

The dark blots of the Koran;

And as with the Hindus, so it is with the Mohammedans. The thoughts of the West, the experience and science of the West, are beginning to reach the Mohammedan world, and many and curious are the efforts that are being made by Mohammedans to hide the dark moral blots of the Quran and of Mohammed. But though an infinitely greater preparation is needed before Christianity will win its victory over Islam, the work of disintegration and also of a drawing towards the Truth has commenced, as may be learnt from the following remark from a Mohammedan to a Christian: "There are three eras which mark our treatment of your Scriptures; at first, we bought them and gave them to the children to be made fireworks of; now we buy them, but we do not understand them. But then," he added, "a third era will come; we shall buy them and understand them."

The lot of women.

Very cheering, too, is it to remember the various efforts that are being made to ameliorate the lot of the women of the land, and to spread divine truth among them. Thousands and thousands of little girls, both in their homes and in the girls' schools, are hearing the true story of Jesus of Nazareth, instead of outrageous myths which everybody here believed half a century ago. In many schools the girls know more about Christianity than Hinduism. During recent years the medical training of Native women has received a great impetus, thanks to the exertions of Lady Dufferin, who was, we believe, inspired to this work by the Queen herself, and thanks to our Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Rivers Thompson, who offered a manly resistance to those who endeavoured to shut Native females out from medical training.

The Native staff has been diminished by the death of a veteran lay preacher, at the age of sixty, and by the paralysis of another. The latter is Pandit Mohan Lall Vidyabagish, of whom Dr. Baumann says:—

A paralyzed convert's faith.

He is one of the most advanced and zealous Christians we have, and a man of more than ordinary intelligence. But though confined to his bed, he makes his bed his pulpit, and many come to see and be instructed by him. Besides, he writes tracts and little books which are gladly read by his learned countrymen, and now he is engaged in composing a little work called Dharma Darpan, or the Mirror of Religion. He is manifestly growing in grace and in the knowledge of Jesus Christ our Lord. No one can behold his happy face without being convinced of the peace that rules in his heart. One morning we said to him, "Pandit, what will you take for the interest you have in Christ?" He looked me full in the face, and after a moment's reflection said, "Well, sir, there isn't wealth enough in this world to buy it." I shall never forget the expression of his face as he spoke those words, which told of a calm and abiding trust in his Saviour.

Among the inquirers and visitors of the year have been some men of high culture and intelligence. One of them was a famous Brahmin, "whose name is a household word in the whole of Bengal." When asked whether he had ever read the Bible, he looked "with blank amazement, and then slowly and gravely replied that he had read the New Testament eighty-three times and the Old Testament twenty-seven times." A Brahmin reading the New Testament eighty-three times.

For a few months the Rev. R. R. Bell gave valuable assistance to Mr. Bradburn in the management of the Boys' Boarding School and College Hostel, but ill-health compelled him to leave, and he has now come home. Mr. W. Johuri, B.A., is now the second master. The number of boarders has increased; the highest number at one time during the year was sixty-seven. Of these thirty came from the Krishnagar district, fourteen from Calcutta and its neighbourhood, six from the Santal Parganas, one from North-West Provinces, six from Burmah, and ten from other places. Four boys were prepared and presented for confirmation by Mr. Bell, in whose hearts he believed there was a real work of the Holy Ghost. They were all the sons of old and valued agents of the Society, and had read together in the school for several years. Boys' Boarding School and College Hostel.

Among the Chamars of Calcutta there are five boys' and two girls' schools, which are attended by about 400 children. When the Rev. F. E. Wigram visited these schools, while they were reciting texts, he asked which text they loved best. Several boys replied with one voice, "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that all who believe in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." The Chamars.

The Leper Asylum has been regularly visited. Last year, on Easter Monday, April 26th, a neat and simple church, which had been built on the grounds of the Asylum to supply a convenient place for the assembling of the converted lepers to unite in public worship, was opened, and an address was given by the Bishop of Calcutta on the words, "My peace I give unto you." At a second service on the same day five persons were baptized, two of whom were lepers. Since this church was opened, morning and evening prayers have been held daily by the catechist in Bengali, and a communion service once a month by the missionaries. The chapel services have already been the means of the conversion of a poor leper woman, eighty years old, and blinded by her disease. Leper Asylum. An aged leper convert.

She had been very indifferent before, but the united singing and praying in the chapel touched her heart, and made her ask for baptism. After the expiration of a sufficient interval for testing her character, and after due instruction in our most holy faith, she was admitted by baptism into the visible band of Christ's followers and received the name of Lydia. Soon after her baptism she was rather sharply examined by the Native doctor, a Hindu, as to the reason of her becoming Christian. "Was there no God to give you peace among the many Hindu gods and goddesses?" "No," was her decided reply, "none of our gods could help me, for they were all sinners. But I have found Him now, the true Saviour; His name is Jesus, and to Him I shall cling in life and in death, for He has cleansed me indeed by giving His holy life for me, which no Hindu god or goddess did!"

"All our gods were sinners."

Divinity School.

Mr. Ball reports of the Divinity School:—

Mutual Improvement Society.—I have introduced a Mutual Improvement Society, which meets once a week. One week a member reads a selected passage, after which the others criticize him, and three or four give impromptu speeches on subjects selected by the Secretary. The next week two students read papers on some interesting subject, after which the rest discuss it. These subjects are either suggested by myself or by the students. We have discussed during the year such subjects as the following:—"The Future of the Bengali Church," "How to deepen the spiritual life of the village congregations," "How the future ministry shall be paid," "How to choose Native pastors," "What is necessary to make a successful pastor?" "What is necessary to make a successful evangelist?" and many others. Some of these were exceedingly interesting, and sometimes had to be adjourned till the next meeting. The uses of these meetings are obvious. They enable me to criticize the students more freely than I could do at other times without hurting their feelings. The students also learn their faults. They gain practice in extempore speaking, and it gives us an opportunity of discussing many questions which of necessity could not be discussed during lecture hours. I have always taken the chair at these meetings.

A Mutual Improvement Society;

Its discussions.

Subjects Taught.—The subjects taught during the year have been the Prayer-book, St. John's Gospel, Old Testament, historical evidences of the Christian religion, homilies.

Vaughan Memorial Prize Fund.—The subject for this year was the "History of the Prayer-book." Examiners mostly Native pastors of the S.P.G. The prize was gained by Solom Biswas, one of the students of the Divinity School, and the Examining Committee has recommended the S.P.C.K. to print it.

Tracts and Scriptures distributed.

During the year the students and myself have distributed over 60,000 tracts, all of which have been carefully given away. We have also sold over 2000 portions of Scripture. During the cold weather we were out in tents for over a month, during which time we had some most interesting work, and sold over 60 rupees' worth of Christian books.

Girls' Boarding School.

Girls' Boarding School.—Miss H. J. Neele has continued in charge, assisted by Miss Sampson. The school is crowded to its utmost capacity, and the conduct of the girls has been good. One or two of them look forward to becoming medical missionaries, and Miss Neele hopes that many when leaving will take up active work for the Saviour. One aspires to be an authoress, and has written a book which the Vernacular Society has accepted for publication; another has decided poetical talent, and has written several hymns and poems for various occasions, the last being for the Jubilee at Agarparah, when two of her hymns were sung. A painful glimpse of the sorrows and sins of Native life in Calcutta is afforded by Miss Neele's description of her missionary work:—

A literary and poetical pupil.

My missionary work outside the boarding-school (irrespective of Augurparah) has been principally among the Christians of this neighbourhood, and former Augurparah or Burdwan orphans or their children, who always come to me with their troubles. Some have become widows with families to maintain; others have sick husbands, or children needing medicine or letters to the hospital; others have been forsaken by their husbands; while others, we grieve to say, have had to be sought for and brought from evil places, driven to sin by want or the temptation of wicked companions.

Sorrows and sins of Native life.

One whole day was devoted to seeking out and rescuing a poor child of twelve or thirteen years of age who had been sold by her parents for a sinful life; another day was taken up in tracing a poor young woman who had been turned out of her home at night by her husband and had wandered we knew not where. There is indeed so much to be done in this way that it would give full occupation to a missionary lady; she would, however, need to have a home where such sorrowing or sinful ones could be received and some means of occupation found for them, and it is my earnest prayer that ere long such a refuge may be formed.

Christ Church has been under Mr. Hall's charge. There is a congregation (besides the girls of the High and Normal schools, who attend this church) of about forty, twenty of whom are communicants. Many of these are working in connection with different mission societies. Twenty girls were confirmed, many of them from the normal schools, during the year, whose intelligent faith convinced Mr. Hall that these schools are "doing an extremely valuable work."

Christ Church.

At Trinity Church there is a congregation of 450. Mr. Bose reports two baptisms of adults, one of a gardener on his death-bed; the other of a high-caste Brahmin of the Mymensing district, who had studied Sanskrit and English at Benares and in Calcutta, and had tried in vain to find peace in Hinduism or in the Brahmo-Samaj.

Trinity Church baptisms.

The Garden Reach Anglo-Vernacular School, under the Rev. Jani Alli, has been sorely tried by want of proper accommodation and by uncertainty as to the future locality of the school. As the Committee explained last year, the original buildings were pulled down by Government to enlarge the city docks. The school was conducted in a building lent temporarily by the Port Commissioners. In January this had to be vacated, and it is disputed whether the C.M.S. can claim compensation from the Commissioners, not being a registered body. Taking advantage of these difficulties the Moslems have opened two schools, which have affected the Garden Reach School very materially. It was closed in May with 213 boys, for the summer vacation, and reopened in June with sixty-three boys. By February last, however, it had gradually risen to 136. In September the Rev. Jani Alli opened a school at Mutyaburg (where the ex-King of Oudh lives) in a large mud room in one of the narrow back streets.

New school at Mutyaburg.

There are fifty-two boys in it, reading English, Urdu, and Persian, with religious instruction an hour a day. It is attended by the children of the relatives and followers of the ex-king. Amongst the boys is a young prince. This school is the first and only one of its kind in and around Calcutta—I mean specially for the Mussulmans—where the Bible is taught. Money for this school I have to find. The pupils are not advanced enough to put the school under Government inspection.

A royal pupil.

During the year three adults and four children were baptized, viz. a young Afghan brought up at Simla, a Persian pedlar, and an Indian Mohammedan woman, with her two sons. The Persian was brought by the Arab mentioned in last year's Report as baptized on December 17th, 1885, who was himself brought to Mr. J. Alli by a Persian baptized in July the same year. The latter went back to Bushire to settle his affairs and return with his family to Calcutta, but died there early last year. Mr. Alli also conducts a service for Mohammedans in the Old Church on Sundays at 8 a.m. and at 4.30 p.m. for the Hindustani-speaking poor East Indians in the Welland Memorial Hall.

Baptisms.

Clustering round Thakurpukur, which lies on the Diamond Harbour Road, ten miles south of Calcutta, are several villages in each of which are found from one to three families of professing Christians. In Thakurpukur itself there are about twenty-two families. For eight months in the year the whole country is covered with water and consequently difficult of access. Mr. Hall gives a sad account of the spiritual condition of these Christians. He found drunkenness rife among them, and Church discipline wholly wanting.

Low spiritual tone of Christians.

At Krishtopur, six miles east of Calcutta, where there is a congregation of 187, Mr. Hall says: "The people are openly bad. They do not endeavour to conceal their drunkenness. Being isolated most of the year and cut off from Calcutta by the Salt Lakes, this place has evaded the vigilance of the revenue officers, and much illicit traffic in liquor (tari) has gone on for years. Though the place is prosperous the people have not given anything for Church work for some time." One member of the Church Committee here, an old Christian, is exercising a good influence.

On the other hand, Bonhugli, about seven miles north of Calcutta, bears a very different character :—

Bonhugli is my bright spot, and my heart turns to it with thankfulness, for it has borne fruit and promises to bear still richer fruit in days to come. Here we have an honorary catechist, and about fifty Christians. Babu Ramanath Mondol is a well-to-do tradesman, engaged in the sale and repairs of musical instruments in Calcutta, while at his home a prosperous violin factory is carried on.

A bright spot.

The little church is situated on the road-side, and always looks neat and clean. A nice harmonium has been presented by the inhabitants, and the services are hearty and refreshing. The only need now is a larger church, a school-house, and a cemetery; all of which I hope may be supplied in time.

It is nice to think the C.M.S. gives nothing to the support of this little Mission, except an evangelistic catechist, Babu Luke Biswas, who lives at Baranagar, and labours amongst the educated Hindus.

I hope in a few days to baptize one of these Hindus, a compounder in the service of a Native medical man. There are many Baranagar men who are true believers in Jesus Christ—they read their Bibles daily, and pray to God through Jesus Christ—but they either do not see the need of baptism or shrink from the persecution that baptism must inevitably bring. If only we could spend more effort and time upon this promising field, I have no doubt that many would come out and confess Christ. Oh, for means and men!

At Baranagar, which is near Bonhugli, a young Brahmin, named Mohendra, was baptized on February 10th, at Christ Church. On the previous Sunday he visited Mr. Hall, who says :—

After a most interesting conversation, he told me he had made up his mind to go home to his father's house and reveal his final decision to his wife. I felt that he was entering upon dangerous ground, and while his wife was not wholly opposed to his becoming a Christian, yet his parents, who are staunch Hindus, might shake his purpose. I reminded him of Jesus Christ's words to the three men mentioned in the latter part of Luke ix. Christ was there, and His word to him now was, "Follow Me." His answer to that solemn call was, "Lord, I will follow Thee; but first let me go bid them farewell which are at home at my house." He seemed at length to feel the peril of his position, and to fear the loss of that desire, which now filled his heart, to follow Christ. He knew the power of parents' tears and entreaties; and after kneeling together in earnest prayer, he rose and said, "I am ready to be baptized where and when you will." The medical man under whom he works has instituted a persecution of Mohendra which promises to be keen and cruel. A large number of Brahmins have banded themselves together, and are determined, if possible, to compel his denial of Christ, and receive him into their midst through certain abominable rites. God give him grace to be true to the vows he has made.

Agarpara jubilee.

On February 2nd at Agarpara the jubilee of the Mission in that place was celebrated. Over 400 people assembled:—

A living history of fifty years' work.

There might be seen the veteran missionaries, the Rev. De Rosario and his wife, who spent many years of faithful toil—and saw the fruit. There too were old bent women, who had found shelter under Mrs. Wilson's loving care in their girlhood. Women of all ages, from the old down to the child, now under the care of kind Miss Neele, all met—linking the past with the present, and presenting to the eye a living history of the work of fifty years. Infant baptism, adult baptism, marriage, Holy Communion (Bengal and English visitor kneeling side by side)—feast, sankirtan (song), gifts of presents, fancy sales, all found place in that busy day—and from the arrival of the steam-boats from Calcutta until evening fell Agarpara had not seen such a day's gathering of Christians in its whole history.

The Rev. M. S. Seal has been stationed at Kidderpur since 1867, and, reviewing the work of twenty years, he writes:—

The Gospel preached in 500 villages.

The message of salvation has been carried from time to time to the inhabitants of no less than 500 villages; the love of God proclaimed in the principal fairs and bi-weekly bazaars, within an area of about fifty miles; interesting and encouraging conversations held with people; prejudices and erroneous notions of many removed; and sixty-seven adults baptized.

BURDWAN.

No Annual Letter has been received from the Rev. Piari Mohun Rudra, who laboured at this station until last spring. He has been succeeded by the Rev. Raj Kristo Bose.

KRISHNAGAR DISTRICT.

This district has been under the charge of the Rev. H. Williams, but he has recently come home, obliged by the state of his health to anticipate his furlough by one year. He is succeeded by the Rev. P. M. Rudra, who has been withdrawn from Burdwan for this purpose. The Rev. J. W. Hall has also been removed to Calcutta. The Rev. G. H. Parsons has been therefore without a co-worker in the itinerating work of the Mission. The Rev. A. J. Santer continues in charge of the Normal School at Krishnagar. The Committee have appointed the Rev. C. Hope Gill, B.A., of Queen's College and Ridley Hall, Cambridge, lately Curate of North Shields, to reside at Krishnagar for the purpose of studying the language. While bemoaning the feeble condition of the Mission as regards its European staff, and heartily seconding the appeal for men which the missionaries reiterate in turn, the Committee thank God that, for the first time in the history of the Mission, they are able to commit the superintendence of the entire Christian community with joy and confidence to a Native clergyman; and also that the staff of Native pastors has been increased by the ordination in July and December of two catechists, Babu Daniel Biswas, and Babu Gopal Biswas, who are located respectively at Ratnapur and Joginda, the pastorates in which they laboured before ordination. The other Native pastors are the Rev. Mohan Biswas at Solo, the Rev. Koilash Chunder Biswas at Bollobhpur, and the Rev. Sartok Biswas at Kapasdanga. Ordination

Mr. Williams refers again this year to the proselytizing efforts of the Romanists, and shows how God has made them to work for the good of the Church :—

Romish activity.

The year will be remembered for the desperate attack made by the Romanists upon our Church. Many attacks have been made previous to this, but never with such resolution as this time. By giving money and by public controversy, the priests have tried to advance their cause. As was to be expected in a community where the vast majority are poor day-labourers, and where religion has never been in a flourishing condition, many were induced to profess themselves Romanists while the money lasted. The attack was, to a certain extent, successful only in those villages where we are still suffering the consequences of our neglect of the people in past years. In other places the priests failed to do us any serious harm. In the public controversy held in April they suffered such a defeat that it is not likely that we shall have another challenge. This trial has not been without some good results to the Church. The doctrines of the Gospel are, I believe, understood more clearly than if they had never been brought out in contrast with Romanism; the people, by standing together to resist, have gained strength as a community, the exercise of discipline upon those who have returned has further developed our Church system, and the immoral methods have been more clearly and more widely revealed than ever.

Krishnagar Church Council.

Again, alluding to the establishment of the Krishnagar District Church Council, which he calls an important event, he gives a practical proof of the value of the existing organization :—

The Church Committees do their work as well as can be expected. We had a remarkable proof of their worth at the time of the Romanists' attack. At that time three leading congregations were without their catechists, who were staying at the Divinity School preparing for Deacons' Orders. When they went away, I laid before the Committees of those Churches the responsibility that would rest upon them. I pointed out that they would be answerable for the welfare of the Churches while their leaders were away. Right nobly did they respond. Nowhere did the priests meet with such vigorous opposition as in those Churches. Their attempts to do mischief were completely foiled by the members of the Church Committees.

Discussion with Romanists;

The Native pastor at Bollobhpur, the Rev. H. C. Biswas, gives an account of a public discussion with Romanists which took place in the Mission compound, at which several Hindus and Mohammedans and a few leading Zemindars were present by the invitation of the priest.

At the beginning of the discussion our superintending missionary said that the pastor of this church (Bollobhpur) would take part in the discussion. The priests objected, and said they wanted to argue only with Europeans. Our superintendent replied, "You are attempting to destroy his Church, so of necessity you must be prepared to allow him to argue with you."

Some time was wasted over this discussion, and then I read an opening address, to which the whole congregation listened attentively. The pith of the address was as follows:—"Have you not received the light of the Truth from the Church Missionary Society? They have given you the Bible and have instructed you in it and put translations of it into your hands. Is it your wish that we should take the Bible for your guide or not?" All replied "Certainly! that is what we shall appeal to." I then read the challenge put forth by our superintending missionary, in which ten of the chief errors of the Roman Church were stated, and asked the priest if he was ready to defend those doctrines by proofs from Scripture. The priest was unable to give any answer. After a discussion which lasted nearly three hours, the priest was unable to defend his position and was reduced to silence. After this discussion the perverts began to return to the church. By the advice of the superintendent I did not receive them again without putting them through some discipline. They had to stand up at the Sunday service and ask pardon from the congregation. On this matter we got special help from our church committee. At the present time, with two or three exceptions, all have returned. The few who still hold out are those who for grievous offences have been excommunicated and now profess to be Romanists, and a few of their relations remain with them in the hope of getting money. These also might return if they had not to face the discipline which is being exercised in a matter of this kind for the first time.

He rejoices at the accession to the ranks of the Native clergy, recalling that when he went to the Mission, nine years ago, there was only one. "There is no doubt," he says, "that the people greatly value ordained pastors. The ordinances of religion become more real to them when they are performed regularly and conveniently." He dwells upon the efforts made during the year to bring the several pastors and catechists together for prayer and mutual counsel. Three conferences were held in 1886, at each of which the Rev. P. Ireland Jones was present and gave most helpful addresses.

A gratifying evidence of the esteem in which missionaries are held by the people among whom they live and labour is given by Mr. Williams:— Esteem in which missionaries are held.

The Indian Government is establishing a system of local self-government throughout the country. The people—Hindus and Mussulmans as well as the Christians—were desirous that I should go on the board for the Meherpur sub-division. I consented, intending to go on by nomination—some of the members are elected and some nominated by the Lieutenant-Governor. Through some mistake, the magistrate allowed my name to be put up on the day of election. The result was gratifying, as showing the position we missionaries hold in the esteem of the people. The number of votes given for me was far in excess of the number given for any other candidate. Having won the seat at the election, I resigned, in order to allow the second candidate to come in, and the Lieutenant-Governor put me on by nomination.

Mr. Santer, in addition to the charge of the Training School, has also the supervision of the other schools of the district, thirty-eight in number. He has drawn up a "school routine" for these schools on the lines of the Government course, and considerably above the former standard, by which a boy having worked through the various classes of a school will be ready to enter the C.M.S. Normal School at the same standard as the Government Normal School. He says that the spiritual tone of the Normal Schools seems to be improving. He endeavours by individual and private conversations with the boys on spiritual matters to win their confidence and draw them to Christ. Training and District Schools.

The following illustrations of the state of mind towards the Gospel of many educated Hindus are given by Mr. Santer and Mr. Ireland Jones. The former writes:—

In the neighbourhood we have a Native gentleman living who owns a great part of the district. He has been to England and passed through an engineering college, and through a large workshop at Middlesborough, and has gained a practical knowledge of engineering. He, of course, has lost caste, but that does not trouble him; and he refuses to exert himself by various devices to re-enter his caste. He is regarded by all the common people in the district as a Christian—losing caste and becoming a Christian is much the same thing in their minds. I visit this gentleman, and he has been to us and dined with us, and we hope by degrees to draw him nearer to us by bands stronger even than caste. But at present he does not show any inclination to declare himself. Not troubled by losing caste.

And the latter:—

On returning a visit of ours, the Munsif of Krishnagar gave me the opportunity of a long talk. He is a Brahmo. His words to me were something of this kind, "I should like to see all India Christian." He has translated Uncle Tom's Cabin into Bengali, considering the book second only to the Bible, and Tom's character an ideal one. When pressed as to the need of personal decision, he said, "Oh, I have "I should like to see all India Christian."

settled that long ago! No, no; don't expect that I am going to become a Christian. Christ certainly was very good, but as to His being Divine, that is impossible."

Narrow escape from drowning.

Mr. Parsons had a narrow escape from drowning in August. He was out as usual during the rainy season, itinerating in his boat, when the latter capsized in a wide river, and he was only saved after drifting down the river on a plank for about an hour. His fellow-labourer, Kidarnath, a zealous and devoted Native catechist, was drowned.

The appeal for reinforcement is very earnest. After a three weeks' tour over the whole district, Mr. Jones says:—

"Send us more men."

Everywhere we had heathen listeners, and I can only join the appeal of every other missionary of the Society in this new ubique ab omnibus, and say, "Send us more men!" Here we have one single itinerating missionary, Mr. Parsons, for these millions. Every other missionary has local work.

While Mr. Williams complains:—

It is in the evangelistic branch of the work that the decrease in the staff has made itself felt. We had thought that the evangelistic work was fairly well started when we had three missionaries engaged in it. The work had begun to be most promising. We saw clearly that the cause why so few converts (I might almost say, no converts) had been won in past years was simply because the people had not been evangelized. I was working in the Meherpur sub-division, with its 338,000 inhabitants. Messrs. Hall and Parsons were labouring in the Krishnagar sub-division, with its 375,000 inhabitants. Now, after labouring four years, I have been withdrawn from my field, and Mr. Parsons is left alone in the Krishnagar sub-division. Already the result is seen—only one baptism in the Meherpur sub-division, and the falling back of those who were coming on so hopefully. It was not by working in this way that Tinnevelly was won for Christ. Well-supported and continuous effort is required to overthrow Hinduism and Mohammedanism from their throne in the hearts of these myriads, and not weak and ill-sustained attacks such as we make.

Most thankfully will the Committee respond if men will offer in sufficient numbers to enable them to do so.

Steps to Truth in Bengali.

Mr. Parson's Bengali translation of Steps to Truth, mentioned as in preparation in last year's Report has been published under the title of The Ladder of the Christian Religion.

SANTALIA.

The Committee thank God that they are able to record again this year, as for several years past, that the staff of the Santál Mission continues unaltered. Sickness and death have thinned the ranks of most of the Indian Missions, and it was no surprise for the Committee to read in one of Mr. Wigram's letters that Santalia was the first "strong Mission" he had visited. The Rev. F. T. Cole is in charge of Taljhári, where also the Rev. J. Blaich has the large Boys' Boarding School. The Rev. J. Tunbridge is at Hiranpur; the Rev. J. Brown at Baháwa; the Rev. A. Stark at Bhágáya; and the Rev. A. J. Shields at Godda. The health of Mr. and Mrs. Shields, "tried rather above the average by the want of suitable food, isolation from civilization, and other causes inseparable from life in Godda," necessitated their taking a short furlough, and they went for a few months' rest to Victoria. Not only did the bracing mildness of a Victorian winter reinvigorate them mentally and physically, and the happy converse with Christian friends refresh their souls, but they returned laden with generous proofs of an interest in their missionary work. Through the influence of the Dean of Melbourne, and of his son, the Rev. H. B. Macartney, drawing-room and schoolroom meetings were obtained. Moreover, fellow-passengers on board the steamers to and fro readily contributed, in most cases unsolicited, by which means about 180*l.* was obtained, much of it being promised annually, enabling Mr. Shields to open up fresh ground, and also to give assistance to other necessitous stations. The impression left on their minds was that a very considerable amount of help might be obtained from Australia for the C.M.S., in addition to what is already being given.

A "strong Mission."

Unsolicited help.

The Rev. F. T. Cole sends an interesting account of his work at TALJHÁRI. There have been seventy-two baptisms during the year, twelve of whom were adults, making the total number of baptized Christians in that district 1035. Of the readiness of the Santáls to hear the Gospel, of the conduct of the Christians, of the organization of the living Church, and the completion of the material church, of the Paharis, the dispensary, and the work of translation, Mr. Cole must be allowed to speak. He says:—

Santál baptisms.

> The Taljhari district is now mapped out into centres, so that the whole can be regularly visited. I never remember having such cheering audiences as we have had this year. The catechists say the same. The people are thoroughly convinced of the truth; it only needs the breathing of the Spirit: a nation could easily be born in a day. It is the settled conviction of the people in this district that it is only a question of time. Were our holy religion only a form the people would accept it at once, but they are candid enough to acknowledge that they love their sins, and do not care to give them up.

Conduct of Christians giving joy.

The conduct of the Christians as a community has given me much joy. The more I know them, and the temptations which surround them, the louder is my song of praise for the great grace which has been given to them. Nothing but the grace of God could have kept the great majority of them from the evil. The attendance on the means of grace is very satisfactory. My wife's weekly Bible-classes are very well attended. There have been several cases of grievous sin during the year, but they have all except one expressed their sorrow and conformed to Church discipline. The Lord Himself has strengthened them that stand, He has in most cases raised up those that have fallen, and from the past we are quite assured that He will continue to beat down Satan under our feet.

The Church Committee for the district acts as a District Church Council, and is a great help to us in the care of the churches and scattered Christians. There are fifteen members elected by the people, who take a real interest in their work, and spend much of their time in looking after the Christians in their respective circles. We hope to set on foot during this year a Church Council for the whole Santal Mission. We are convinced the time has come for it.

Completion of church at Taljhari.

The church at Taljhari is at last finished. The tower was shaken soon after its erection by a severe earthquake, but we have strengthened it by iron rails, and the engineer now says that it is perfectly safe. Last year there was a picture of it in the C.M.S. Almanack as it was.

There are two congregations of Paharis in this district: these have given me much joy in ministering to them. At Jhapsi, one of them, the people have built a new chapel in their own style during the past year. We had some interesting baptisms from these two congregations last November. As there were candidates from both, we met at a place situated midway between the two villages, close by a spring about twenty feet square, which is completely shut in by large trees: whilst on all sides are lovely clumps of tall bamboos. It is in a picturesque glen on the top of the hills, and formed an appropriate spot for the ceremony. The people were gaily attired (the Paharis are naturally very fond of colours), and they had also decked the place with wild flowers for the occasion. The catechumens were placed on one side of the rivulet which issued from the spring, and were examined publicly. After that the baptismal service was read, and one by one they entered the water and then passed out to the other side where the Christians were standing. We trust it was no mere sign, but that each was washed in the fountain opened for sin and uncleanness, and that they have crossed over once and for all from the kingdom and power of Satan into the fellowship of saints.

Dispensary

The dispensary is doing a useful work; it is a grand opportunity of quiet testimony for the Master. The Native doctor is an earnest Christian, and has been in the Santal district for twenty years; he renders valuable help in the Divinity School in addition to his medical work. During the past year we have enjoyed having a brother missionary with us, the Rev. J. Blaich. He has the entire charge of the large boys' boarding-school which has been established in Taljhari for the benefit of the whole Santal Mission. We are expecting great things from it, especially in the supply of trained teachers.

Santali translation.

We have also revised the Santali Gospel of St. John, and translated the Epistle to the Romans. These have been printed by the Bible Society. Besides these, we have carried through the press two editions of St. Luke's Gospel in the same language. Seven members, chosen by the Bible Society, form the revision committee, of whom three are C.M.S. missionaries. We are at present engaged in revising the Psalms and St. Matthew, and are translating for the first time the Epistle to the Corinthians. We have also published a Santali Third Reading Book on Sanitary and Physical Science at the request of the Government Inspector of Schools.

Mr. Tunbridge at HIRANPUR has been making special efforts to induce the Native Christians to take up voluntary evangelistic work, and not without success :—

Voluntary Native evangelists.

Some have gone out with our readers preaching, and so gaining knowledge and courage. We found it hard to move some to the work, and impossible to move others, though all acknowledged the necessity for the effort, and promised to do what they could. I now make voluntary work for Christ a great and special point with all new converts, as I feel strongly that a sleepy Church is a heavy weight round the missionary's neck, and brings very little glory to Christ our Lord. I see more and more how needful it is to bring the spiritual character of Christianity well to the front with both heathens and Christians.

New out-stations.

Two new out-stations have been opened,—Askandha among the Santáls, and Chatra, on the hills among the Paharis, both of which have yielded fruit; the latter has given seventeen converts. It is the first movement among the Paharis in the Hiranpur district.

The Mohammedans are manifesting a spirit of inquiry. Some of them are being led to feel that their own creed is defective and lifeless. Mr. Tunbridge writes :—

Accessions from Mohammedans.

One most intelligent and educated man told me the other day that his prayer, day and night, to God was, that He would show him the "true way." He has since confessed his conviction that Christ is the Saviour, but plurality of wives makes his case a difficult one. For several years we have had a solitary Mohammedan convert, but last Christmas a very dear old man of about sixty was baptized after a year's probation, and has ever since given evidence of the most simple faith in Christ. He has lost wife and children for the Saviour's sake, and suffered all kinds of trial since his baptism, but holds on and declares very humbly that so long as God gives him breath he will never deny Christ. Since then a whole family of five in the same village have followed his example, and thrown in their lot with the Lord's people. About ten miles from here the Americans are meeting with great success among these people. We have more inquirers, but I am not quite sure of them yet.

A little scholar bringing his family.

At Hiranpur there have been twenty-three adult baptisms. A little day-scholar was the means of bringing over his whole family and the village head-man, his uncle, since which two other families in the same village have followed their example. The total number of baptized Christians is 165, and of communicants 35.

Mr. Shields reports twelve adult baptisms at BHÁGÁYÁ and out-stations. The work among the Paharis is especially hopeful.

Translation in Malto.

The Rev. E. Droese, who formerly laboured in this Mission, but is now stationed at Annfield, has completed the translation of the Book of Common Prayer into Malto. He has also published a tract on The Way of Salvation, and is engaged in translating the Book of Psalms in the same language. This last will be the first instalment of the Old Testament given to the Paharis, and hitherto only the Gospels of St. Luke and St. John of the New Testament have been published.

BHAGALPUR.

The Rev. G. H. Weber continues at this station, but no report for the past year has been received.

NORTH-WEST PROVINCES.

Agra, commenced 1813; Mirát, 1815; Benares, 1817; Gorakpur, 1823; Azimgarh and Jaunpur, 1831; Lucknow, 1858; Allahabad, 1859; Faizabad, 1862; Aligarh, 1863.

THE Rev. W. Hooper has come to England, and Mrs. Grime has been transferred to the Panjâb. The Revs. J. Erhardt, J. W. Stuart, and A. W. Baumann have returned to the field. The Rev. T. Carmichael, formerly Wesleyan missionary in North India, has been added to the staff.

Tenth anniversary of Native Church Council.

The tenth Annual Meeting of the N.W.P. Native Church Council was held on the 6th and 7th of October at Mirát, under the presidency of the Rev. J. P. Ellwood. The Bishop of Calcutta was present. The treasurer, the Hon. G. A. Knox, C.S., reported a marked improvement, especially at Lucknow, Jabalpur, and Agra, in the efforts made to increase and foster independence.

The Annual Meeting of the N.W.P. Conference was held on 3rd, 4th, and 5th November, 1886, at Gorakhpur, the Rev. H. Stern presiding. Much regret was expressed at losing Bishop Parker, and deep interest in his new sphere of labour was manifested. The Conference adopted The Messenger, published at the Secundra Printing Press, hitherto under the title of The Secundra Messenger, as the C.M.S. paper for the N.W. Provinces, and agreed to request the Bengal and Panjâb brethren to join in assisting to make it an Evangelical Church paper for Upper India.

The Secundra Messenger.

BENARES.

"Benares is a depressing place from its visible and rampant heathenism," are Mr. Wigram's words, written in Benares last January. The Rev. R. J. Bell has been in charge at Benares, having succeeded the Rev. B. Davis when the latter left for England. The Rev. A. H. Wright is Principal of the Female Normal School and Girls' Orphanage. The Rev. J. J. Johnson is engaged in evangelistic work, especially among Hindu pundits and devotees, and is also responsible for the supervision of Azamgarh. The Native Pastor at Benares is the Rev. Aman Masih Levi, and the Rev. Katwaru Lal helps in evangelistic work.

Female Normal School and Girls' Orphanage.

Before his last return to England, Mr. Bell was engaged at St. John's College, Agra, and his Annual Letter relates several incidents of the year affecting his old charge, and proving the great value of the Christian influence exercised in our Missionary Colleges. On his return to India he found old students of St. John's, Agra, engaged on the line of railway, one as stationmaster and another as assistant-stationmaster, who gave him a cheery welcome. One of them, a Hindu, brought him fruit and refreshment, which he would not allow him to pay for. A few words of serious conversation showed that he had not forgotten all the Bible instruction received. And again :—

A few weeks ago one of my masters went to the south of India to visit his relatives, one of whom he was to bring back to Benares. I gave him a letter of introduction to one of my old students, who was holding a high judicial position under the Nizam—a position which he obtained by merit and worth. After leaving St. John's, where I was officiating Principal in 1873, he entered the Nizam's service, at the invitation of Sir Salar Jung, who had some conversation with my young friend on the character of St. John's College, and the instruction given. He entered in a subordinate position, but, through his diligence and ability, rapidly rose to the office of collector and magistrate. Before leaving India in 1884, I had a visit from him, and this gave me a good opportunity of recalling to his mind the Scriptural instruction he had received. His letters, too, informed me of his progress and his thirst for knowledge. My assistant-master, before he called upon my young friend, made many inquiries respecting his position and character, and from all sides he said he heard the same remark, that "he was an able, upright, moral, and faithful servant of the State." When he called to give his letter of introduction he met the father, a secretary in the Public Works Department, who said he was so impressed with the high moral advantages of a Mission College that he recommended all his friends, if they valued moral character in their sons, to send them to a Mission College like the one in Agra (St. John's). The son echoed his father's words, and stated that if he had not received religious Bible instruction, he would never hold his present position of importance, acting with justice and honesty, for it was one of responsibility and temptation; but he had learned to love truth and morality, public and social, for which he was grateful. His letters of bygone days bore like testimony. After the above conversation, he wrote to welcome me back to India. I wrote in reply to thank him. In my letter I told him that one of my daughters was with me, and had been trying to gather subscriptions to buy a portable harmonium to help her in teaching our boys and girls to sing hymns and bhajans and songs, and that she needed about a hundred rupees more, and that if he could help I should be very glad. By return of post I received an order for one hundred rupees, with the request that I would "ask my daughter to kindly accept it from one who was her father's pupil many years ago."

Visits to schools of Sanskrit philosophy.

Mr. Wigram was much struck with the ready access which Mr. Johnson obtains to the Hindu monasteries and devotees. He visits the schools of Sanskrit philosophy, temples, and sacred bathing-places on the banks of the river. With those Hindus, so numerous in Benares, whose chief occupation is the study of their sacred Shastras, and who are intensely devoted to the performance and defence of those duties devolving on them according to their various sects and modes of life, Mr. Johnson aims at directing his discussions and conversations to these points: "The holy perfect personality of God, His love to man as a Father, the hope of eternal happiness in His presence hereafter, and the true mode of emancipation from the world by forgiveness and life in Christ."

The Native pastor at Jaunpur is the Rev. Nathaniel Rahim Bakhsh; and Babu G. C. Bose conducts the High School at Agamgarh.

GORAKHPUR.

The Rev. H. Stern, in the thirty-sixth year of his labours in connexion with the Society, and thirty-fourth at Gorakhpur, has been greatly cheered by the arrival of the Rev. T. Carmichael, who has gone there for the purpose of developing more fully the evangelistic work by systematic itinerations, &c. There have been two adult baptisms, one that of a small farmer in a village fourteen miles from Gorakhpur, who first heard the Truth during a mela at Ajodhya, in Oudh.

A rival school sold by auction.

Mr. Stern draws attention to the fact that the higher education at Gorakhpur and at Basti, up to the matriculation examination, is entirely in the hands of the C.M.S. A rival school which was opened at Basti, supported by many influential natives, has been sold by auction and closed, and most of the pupils returned to the Mission school, which has again its full complement, over 200. In the three orphanages, two at Gorakhpur and one at Basharatpur, there are still over 200 inmates. Altogether, at Gorakhpur, Basharatpur, Sternpur, and Basti, there are 875 baptized Christians, of whom 330 are communicants, and 1567 children are taught in the 19 schools.

ALLAHABAD.

Death of Mrs. Hooper.

The Committee have deeply sympathized with their brother, the Rev. W. Hooper, in the loss of his wife. Mrs. Hooper had only returned from England a few months when her health required her removal to Naini Tal. Immediately on his return to Allahabad from taking her thither, Mr. Hooper was summoned back by telegram to witness her death on August 15th. Herself the daughter of a former C.M.S. missionary, the Rev. G. Candy, of Bombay, she took a most loving interest and quiet share in her husband's work, and it is not surprising that he writes of her loss to the Divinity School as, "humanly speaking, irreparable." Mr. Hooper has returned home on account of his family, and he is doubtful whether it will be in his power to return. Under this apprehension Mr. Hooper, in his Annual Letter, naturally reviewed his twenty-five years of labour in North India, and reflected that the work in which at first he felt least interest, and for which he thought himself least fitted—the work, namely, of assisting the Native Church—has been that in which he has been permitted to reap most fruit, and which makes it so painful to him to leave India.

The Divinity School and its work.

Of the Divinity School and its work Mr. Hooper writes:—

> The subjects I taught, from November, 1885, to July, 1886, and in which I examined in August, 1886, were—I. Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, and Song, three hours; II. Jeremiah, and Introduction to Ezekiel, three hours; III. Acts, three hours; IV. Hebrews, three hours; V. History of the Church of Christ, from the end of the eleventh to the end of the sixteenth century, two hours; VI. Doctrines concerning the Person and Work of Christ, two hours; VII. Explanation of the Prayer-book, from beginning of Litany to end of Collects, one hour; VIII. Hindu Philosophy, and its Refutation, one hour; IX. (to two students) Hebrew—the Syntax, the translation of Gen. i.—xxii., and a little composition, three hours. In addition, the pandit taught them Sanskrit and Hindi, and the Christian maulvi taught two of them Arabic, and all of them the contents of the Quran.
> Since the vacation, having only four months for regular lectures (as

I must examine them before I go, and they must have time to prepare for this), I am teaching much fewer subjects, but for longer times each; my object being to accomplish what I begin. Thus I am taking—I. Daniel and the Minor Prophets for six hours a week; II. Revelation for six hours, but I hope to be able to take Ephesians and Colossians also; III. the Prayer-book for three hours, viz. the Communion Service, but I hope to finish the whole somehow; IV. The Doctrines which concern the Person and Work of the Holy Spirit, in the Individual and in the Church, five hours. I have, I believe, given in detail the doctrines included in these two courses in previous Annual Letters, viz. four and three years ago respectively; so I need not repeat them.

On Sunday mornings, from Christmas, 1885, to Christmas, 1886, I preached on the Epistle for the day, or some verse in it; and since then I have been similarly taking the Gospel. On Sunday afternoons, from Advent Sunday, 1885, to the last Sunday of 1886, I preached on the Messianic prophecies in the Old Testament; and though I took only those that are clear and straightforward, and admit of no other sense, yet I found abundance, not only in number enough for the whole time, but also of instruction, each prophecy having its own individual aspect of the one great theme. Three week-day mornings in the week I have been expounding St. Luke, and have now begun the Pastoral Epistles in church, and the other three, the Books of Samuel and Kings. On Wednesday afternoons the students have assembled in my study for prayers for, and hearing information on, God's work in the world; and one evening in the month I have, as before, spoken at greater length at Muirabad on some special Mission. On Sunday mornings, after church, I have had all the Christian men in the compound, except the students, to my study for answering any questions, and removing any difficulties which may have occurred to them, either in reading the Bible or in intercourse with heathens. And on Saturdays I have had all the Christian women in the compound for a Bible-class, at which I examine them on a certain portion which they have to prepare in the week, and I give them marks, and hold a special examination of the whole at the same time as the students are undergoing theirs. This is the nearest approach, which I think as a rule feasible and good, to what our American and Canadian brethren think proper in a Divinity School, viz. making the women regular students as well as the men.

Three students, as you already know, passed out of the Divinity School this year, to go forth to work for God. It is the first time that more than one has gone forth thus trained and equipped; and hence we cannot but regard it as rather an event in the history of the School. You are aware what difficulty I had in getting work for them in connection with the C.M.S.; but happily I was at last successful, and each of them has got a place suited, I hope, to his capacities, though one of them has had to go all the way to Karachi to find it. All three of them were particularly well equipped; two of them intellectually superior to any who had passed out of this School before; and the third, who was somewhat less clever, was more spiritually minded. Indeed, if all three had not given me unmistakable proof of being actuated by the love of Christ as the ruling passion of their lives, I should consider their mental equipment rather a cause of regret than of congratulation. But, though the two cleverer, and especially the cleverest of all, certainly had need to watch against pride, yet I am confident that this will be kept in check by the great object of their training being continually kept before them.

In place of these three we have now three more, though very inferior in mental and spiritual attainments.

I have now to tell of a convert whom God has given us. He is of the writer caste, and belongs to the Mirzapur district. He had for a long time been occasionally coming and paying visits to our Christian maulvi, and was increasingly attracted to the Gospel. At last, in February, 1886, he brought his family and occupied a vacant house in this compound. I soon found him worthy to be admitted formally as a catechumen, and would probably have baptized him sooner, but that I could spare so very little time for instructing him. At last, however, I could conscientiously baptize him, and did so on the Sunday after Ascension, the 6th of June. Since then, being unable to find any other means of livelihood for him, and having a vacant scholarship at my disposal, I have admitted him as a student, though I admit that this course has many and grave objections. To my mind, the practically strongest barrier to the increase of converts in this country, and the one of which I see no solution in the present artificial state of things, is the fact that in many, if not most cases, men are thrown out of employment by the mere fact of their conversion. I have a young Brahman friend in this city, who but for this would probably have been a Christian these four years; for his understanding of Christianity, and his intelligent wish to become a Christian, would at any time within that period have justified me in baptizing him. But, though I have tried every expedient which I can think of, I cannot get him any work to take the place of his present one, which, though perfectly innocent, is wholly dependent on the goodwill of non-Christians. And I could quote many such instances.

Janaki Datt has, with diminished strength, continued his quiet labours among the people. He has himself been, it seems to me, steadily growing in the grace and the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour.

The Rev. D. Mohun is the Native pastor of Muirabad, and Pertabgurh, formerly an out-station of Faizabad, which is thirty-six miles from Allahabad, has been placed under his supervision. There are four Christian families there, and a catechist is stationed among them.

LUCKNOW AND FAIZABAD.

The Rev. W. Latham was in charge of Lucknow last year, but has since been removed at his own request to Jabulpur, and the Rev. H. Lewis has succeeded to his duties. The Rev. T. F. Robothan, after passing his language examination, was also removed to Agra. The Rev. A. E. Bowlby has charge of the schools. The Rev. D. Solomon is the Native pastor of the congregation. Babu Solomon Nihal Singh is the head-master of the High School, and is in every way "indefatigable in his endeavours," as Mr. Latham testifies.

Mr. Latham mentions some recent converts, and gives proofs of increasing interest in the Gospel:—

There have been four baptisms of heathen adults during the year. One a woman from Miss Marston's hospital, who has since passed away. Three were men, two clerks in offices, and one a servant. They are in no way dependent on the Mission for support, and have gone on steadily in their Christian profession. The Persian Hakim mentioned in last year's Report is working happily in Bombay, under the superintendence of the Rev. J. G. Deimler. He labours chiefly among his own countrymen. The Arab is still in Lucknow, partly dependent on the Mission for support. General Haig kindly helped the Mission with money for the support of these two men.

It should be noticed that in no instance has there been any opposition to the baptisms above-mentioned, nor have I heard of any annoyance being offered to the new converts. Truly times are changing in India, but I fear apathy is taking the place of active opposition; and it must be so, until the Spirit is poured out from on high.

There have been many inquirers during the year; and it is to be noticed by the numbers of portions of Scripture sold that interest is greatly increasing in Christianity, and that it is the Word the people are interested in, and not in what may be said about it. In the villages which I have visited there appeared to be a general knowledge of Christian truths, and in some cases one could see how near to the kingdom they are. Many of those who can afford it possess New Testaments. The catechists, both in the districts and in Lucknow itself, are decidedly earnest and active. A little has also been done in the near-lying districts by laymen, and a great deal is being done by them in city and Sunday-schools. It would be a great help if some kind friend would constantly supply the Mission with plain Urdu texts. There is nothing like the pure unmixed Word for going home to the conscience, and staying there. There is an average of about 150 in the heathen Sunday-schools.

Hira Singh, the Christian pundit who was stationed in Gosainganj, an out-station, has returned to the Divinity School, at his own request, for further instruction.

Work among women in the villages near Lucknow has been commenced:—

Work among women.

Through the kindness of a lady, who has given a sum of money for the purpose, there has been a good work going on in the neighbouring villages among the women since the beginning of June. I have chosen the villages all round in our vicinity rather than the city itself as the scene of our new Bible-woman's labours, because, strange as it may appear, the villages within ten miles receive far more instruction than the villages within four or five. The reason is, catechists are stationed at a distance, and the city catechists cannot walk so far; besides, their work is in the city bazaars. I have given the Bible-woman a dooly, in which she is carried to her work. She is a truly good woman, and had been employed in school-work by the late lamented Mrs. Durrant.

Of the Sunday-school Mr. Bowlby writes:—

Sunday-school at Lucknow.

A Sunday-school is held by the Christian masters every Sunday morning, which is well attended, and of course is voluntary. The average attendance is about 120. None of the boys attending this are Christians, and if they were so could not be more attentive. The head-master started this venture of himself some few years back. There is no singing to attract, for he is not musical, and has no one helping who could lead. The way of teaching is an address or series of short addresses, with questions following, to see whether they have understood, and to drive home what has been said.

FAIZABAD has been without a resident European missionary during the year, but the Rev. J. J. Johnson, of Benares, has visited it from time to time. The Rev. F. Abel is the Native pastor. Mr. Johnson has also visited, as often as possible, the out-station of Ayodhya, where a catechist is stationed. At this renowned centre and citadel of Hinduism his experience at Benares gave him special advantages. He says:—

I went to the chief places of sanctity and Hindu worship, and had a good many conversations with temple-priests, pandits, and others. Two pandits in particular appeared to be men of highly enlightened views, and not averse to discussing the doctrines of Christianity, and reading books on the subject. One of these being a Ramanuja, there is much in his system which gives it a closer affinity to Christianity than the system of the ordinary Vedanti. For to the Ramanuja the world is real, the soul has a separate existence from God, and He is the infinitely good, the Ruler of the human soul and all things. This learned Hindu, who is well known and greatly revered in Ayodhya, I have often visited, and have always been received with great friendliness. With his disciples around him, we have sat down, often for two or three hours together, and discussed the relations between his own doctrines and those of Christianity, and whether the latter did not present a still nobler view of God and the present rank and future destiny of man. He has accepted from Mr. Wigram (who went with me to visit him when passing through Ayodhya) a Sanskrit Bible, and has promised to read it at his leisure.

AGRA, MATTRA, AND ALIGARH.

The St. John's College at Agra is under the Principalship of the Rev. G. E. A. Pargiter. The Rev. and Mrs. James Erhardt have returned to their old work at Secundra, which during their absence the Rev. H. Lewis superintended. Mr. P. M. Zenker has had charge of the evangelistic branch of the Agra Mission in addition to his usual work at Mattra. The Rev. J. W. Stuart has returned to Aligarh. The pastoral work at Agra has been under the care of the Rev. W. Seetal, Native clergyman.

Mr. Zenker has made preaching-tours into various parts of the district, and says:—

I only wish our Society could allow me more men and means! There is no need to go far beyond the limit of our present sphere. On the contrary, close to our very doors there is a practically boundless extent of Mission-field that has scarce been touched, and that would afford numerous sites for the establishment of new stations.

"A practically boundless extent untouched."

In Agra, as well as in Muttra, there are hundreds and hundreds of villages which have never been visited, even by a Native evangelist. Many of them the Lord has enabled us to reach once! How many years will pass till they may hear the name of Christ a second time? I make it a great point to leave in every village visited one or more leaflets, tracts, or gospels; but that is, after all, only a poor device.

Literary dangers.

He calls attention to a danger which arises from the literary awakening of the Native mind. He has obtained information that seventeen periodicals are published, directly or indirectly, by the Arya Samaj men, of which ten appear in the N.W. Provinces. They have also begun to publish anti-Christian tracts, taking those of the R.T.S. and C.V.E.S. as their models. A refutation of one of these tracts entitled "Isu Pariksha" ("Jesus tested") has been written by one of the catechists, Nanak Chand, a converted Brahmin of the Panjâb; and in the large hall of St. John's College, for five weeks in August and September, he read out his pamphlet in the form of a lecture. Mr. Samuel Thomas, the first Christian master of St. John's, acted as chairman. The lectures were, of course, in the vernacular, and proved an unqualified success. Hundreds of students and grown-up men were present, many of whom took an animated part in the discussions. At Firozabad the success was, if possible, still greater when Nannak Chand delivered an extract from his lectures there. He was working on another cycle of five lectures dealing with Sin, Fate and Freewill, the existence of God, the idea of Divinity, and Salvation, which he hoped to deliver in January and February last.

Christian lectures and discussions.

St. John's College: success of students.

At St. John's College the school year begins in July and ends in May. Of the nine students in the College department, six went in for their first Arts Examination in April last year, and five of the six passed; a greater success than the College has attained for many years. Two of the five were Christians, the only two of the nine students who were Christians. The students in the school department did not do so well, but were not behind the general average of passes, namely, twenty-five per cent. Mr. Pargiter notices that in many of the classes the same boy who was first in secular subjects was also first in Holy Scripture, showing that "Biblical study in no way hinders success in other branches of learning." In July last year the College reopened with eight, and the school with seventeen students; two of the former were Christians, and seven of the latter. There are three branch schools, one of which has nearly ninety boys. In the Boarding House there are twenty boys.

In January and February the College was visited by a succession of distinguished visitors:—

Early in January, General Rogers, C.B., V.C., commanding the station, kindly came down and distributed the prizes of the annual examination to the lads. At the close he addressed a few words of kindly sympathy to the boys, and exhorted them all to work hard and do their very best.

Early in February Mr. Wigram came. He also addressed the whole school assembled together, telling them of the kindly interest felt in their welfare by many people in England, who desired nothing but their good. He hoped they would pay earnest heed to the Scriptural instruction they daily received, and that God would open their hearts to believe on that Saviour who alone could do them lasting good.

On Feb. 3rd, the Earl of Aberdeen, the Countess of Aberdeen, the Earl of Buckinghamshire, and Lord Brassey attended the meeting in the College Hall of all the Native Christians, when addresses were presented to Mr. Wigram. After Mr. Wigram's speech, the Earl of Aberdeen and Lord Brassey both spoke, and expressed their sympathy with Christian work in India, hoping that all Indian Christians would, by their holy lives, commend their faith to their Hindu and Mohammedan fellow-countrymen.

On Feb. 5th, at 12 o'clock, the Earl and Countess of Aberdeen, the Earl of Buckinghamshire, and Captain Sinclair visited the College. We assembled all our 500 students in the College Hall, and then the Earl of Aberdeen gave a most useful and practical address, which was translated by Mr. S. Thomas, our Haileybury lecturer. After this, a half-holiday having been granted in honour of their visit, our visitors saw the boys play cricket, and the Earls of Aberdeen and Buckinghamshire, and Captain Sinclair, went so far as to join in the game, by bowling several overs. They then subscribed to the cricket-club, inspected all the buildings, and took their leave, expressing themselves much pleased at the important work which was evidently going on.

On Feb. 10th, the Marquis and Marchioness of Stafford also visited the College. They spent one hour among us, inspecting the classes and the buildings, and witnessing a game of cricket. The Marquis also spoke a few words to the boys in the hall. They were extremely kind and affable, and took the greatest interest in all they saw going on, and before leaving subscribed to the cricket-club.

Mr. Pargiter concludes:—

We are building up a new type of man, even if we are not making many converts, and this new Indian will play a very important part in the future history of India. We are also training the future leaders of the Indian Church in our boarding-house, and inducing an esprit-de-corps which, I trust, may be of great value in building up the scattered portions of the Church in these provinces. In faith, we are sowing good seed in youthful minds—leaving it, it may be, to others to reap the fruit of saintly life in adult years.

"Purification and increase."

The Rev. W. Seetal writes that "purification and increase have been the leading features of the year" in the Native congregation. In Agra and out-stations there are 415 adherents, as against 290 for 1885; and the contributions of these for the past year have increased more than thirty per cent.

The Rev. H. Lewis begins his report of a busy and happy year at Secundra with reflections which the Committee are sure will be echoed by many joyous workers in all the various fields. He says:—

Surely the years in India must be shorter than they are in England, they pass by so quickly. "Swifter than a weaver's shuttle" is an apt description of their flight.

A missionary's reflections.

I hope you will not think from this we are negligent sentinels on the Lord's watch-tower; for, believe me, we have been neither slothful nor sleepy. No; time has passed quickly with us—as I am sure it must pass with every worker in the mission-field—for a very different reason, and that is, there is a superabundance of work to be done; congenial work it is too, thank God—and in doing which the missionary can have but one regret, which is that time is so short, and our poor human ability so small. An earnest seeker for lost souls would like the length of an eternity and the might of an infinity to work in and labour by, that is supposing his wants could be supplied according to the measure of his own ardent desires.

Very painful is the following incident, and well calculated to enable friends in England to realize what turning Christian in India means, and what unparalleled difficulties the system of caste presents to the work of the Christian missionary:—

Persecution of a dying convert.

A young Native doctor, of respectable caste, came some three years ago to undertake the medical duties of the Orphanage. In time he became so impressed by what he heard of the truth of the Christian religion, that he accepted baptism and became a disciple of Jesus. The usual result immediately followed. He was solemnly cursed and cast off for ever by his infuriated family. Henceforth he was to be to them as one even worse than dead. Having been absent from home for some years, the full force of the calamity was not realized by the young fellow. He regarded the action of his family as only a momentary outburst of anger. Time, he thought, would soften the blow; and although it was not possible for him to be one with his kindred again from a point of caste fellowship, still he felt sure the old love would revive.

Two years later he began to develop symptoms of consumption, and on the disease increasing with fatal rapidity, he caused word to be sent to his father that he was dying. The old man, moved no doubt by his parental instinct, at once set out, accompanied by his youngest son, to take a last look at his renegade, though once favourite son. On entering the sick chamber, the recollection of the disgrace brought on his family by the dying man seemed to strike the father with double force, and dark, revengeful anger soon put to flight all feelings of a tender and compassionate nature. There lay the wretch who had dragged the family honour through the dust, and who had bartered his soul for base gain. There he was—the ungrateful son of his father. Had he not fondly hoped that the son would be a stay and a comfort to him in his old age? And was it not for the son's hand, as a last duty, to open the way for his father's soul to bliss?* Greet him! embrace him! Certainly not. It would defile them to touch so unclean a creature. They felt contaminated in even breathing the atmosphere of the place in which he lay. They must stand afar off. They would talk with him from across the room; and suiting their action to the word, they removed to the extreme end of the apartment, and from thence poured on the poor sufferer a torrent of abuse, which the dying man and his trembling wife were powerless to resist. No epithet was too vile, no language too strong, in their furious denunciation of him. And when describing the scene to me afterwards, the poor fellow said, "Sahib, bad as it was, I could have borne it all from my old father; but when my younger brother—the one who by all Hindu usage and custom is bound to show me, as the eldest son, the most punctilious reverence and respect—when he joined in and sarcastically complimented me on having turned out so noble a creature as a Mahte —that is one of a despised scavenger caste—I felt my cup of bitterness was too full." Poor, dear fellow! my heart bled for him as he related the story. To me there was something so despicably mean in taunting a dying man in such a savagely barbarous way, that I could not help feeling intensely indignant, and yet the thing is often done. Unnatural as it might seem, it is only too true that respectable Hindus would rather poison their children than consent to their falling into the irremediable disgrace of turning Christian.

A few days after the occurrence the doctor passed away to his rest. To the last he was undaunted in his faith, and had no regret for having preferred Christ to even the closest and dearest earthly tie.

Two Hindus, of good caste, were baptized in January, 1886:—

Baptism of an old and a young pilgrim.

One was an old man, far advanced in life, named Lachmi Narain; the other his son, Ram Narain, a boy of thirteen or fourteen years of age. For some years they had led a wandering life as pilgrims, pursuing their weary way on foot to most of the sacred places of Hinduism, and observing zealously all its many heathenish rites and ceremonies. By the merest chance—to speak after the manner of men—their feet were turned into our gates, while on their way to Muttra, the birthplace of Krishna, the Hindu Christ. Accepting an offer of instruction in Christian truth, which we made to them, they remained as hearers and learners of the Word for three months. At the end of that time, and on the old man expressing with folded hands his most earnest wish to abandon "Zát, Kapra, aur Khánd pína,"† and in fact everything connected with his old religion and mode of life, in order that he might become a follower of Jesus, we admitted him and his son by baptism into the visible company of believers. Since his baptism the father—a very dear old man he is—has given us every proof of his being a true Christian. The son, a sharp and intelligent youth, and educated beyond most boys of his years, we hope will grow up to be a pillar in the Church.

The Secundra Orphanage.

The number of inmates in the Orphanage is 335. The Committee acknowledge with gratitude their indebtedness to the Berlin Ladies' Missionary Society, which sent out and supports Miss Schultz, Miss Tillich, and Miss Wahl, for work among the girls. Miss Schultz has had charge of the girls' school; Miss Tillich of the hospital; while Miss Wahl has been responsible for the girls' sewing department. The following incidents of the Orphanage year are given by Mr. Lewis; among them will be remarked with interest the selection by Mr. Lewis of "an honest boy, who would always speak the truth," to become a page of H.R.H. the Duchess of Connaught:—

Prayer answered.

On May 23rd we had a remarkable experience of the power of prayer, which I must inform you of. It may encourage some doubting one to believe in the efficacy of earnest supplication to God. It was a Sunday, after morning service, and just at a time when all seemed well, I was startled by a message that two boys had been accidentally poisoned, and were lying at the point of death. Hastily running to the boys' quarters, I found there two youths of sixteen and seventeen years of age, under the writhing power of some powerful drug. Both were unable to speak, and were evidently suffering excruciating pain. Strong emetics were instantly prepared, and we forced them through their fast-clenched teeth. The power to swallow, however, was gone, and all our efforts for their restoration seemed of no avail. On inquiry, it turned out that the Native doctor, a Mohammedan, in return for some small service they had done for him, had prepared, as he thought, an effervescing draught for them. Instead of taking tartaric acid, however, he had mistaken the bottle and given tartar of antimony, a strong arsenical poison. The result was that the boys became violently ill; and although an emetic had been administered to them, the mischief could not be overcome. Finding the case so serious, and expecting every moment the two sufferers would pass away, I told the teachers and lads standing near to go off to the schoolroom and there beseech the Lord to save them. In the meantime we renewed our efforts to rid the poor fellows of the presence of the drug. But all to no purpose, until at last we were compelled through sheer helplessness to leave them in the hand of God. After a period of intense anxiety, however, our prayers were answered. The deadly coma passed slowly off, and the lads were able to take the remedies provided for them. A few hours later they were beyond danger, and the next day they were able to walk about, though considerably torn by the struggle. On the following Sunday both boys returned public thanks for a wonderful and almost miraculous deliverance from what seemed certain death. They have since shown every evidence of real thankfulness for the lives which had been so mercifully spared to them. I trust the event will have a solemnizing and sanctifying effect on the whole course of their future career, and make them both willing and faithful servants of Christ.

Of the general health of the Orphanage I am thankful to be able to report a good year. Few deaths have taken place compared with other years, though the dreaded visitor has too often made us feel very sad. Sixteen girls have left us during the year as brides. I trust each will be a shining light for Christ. The boys were honoured this year by a selection from their midst of one of their number to serve as a page to H.R.H. the Duchess of Connaught. A boy who was "honest, and would always speak the truth," was asked for, and I was thankful to be able to choose one—a bright, handsome, gentlemanly little fellow, of twelve years of age, named Damodar, who, from my past experience of him, was likely to fulfil the requirement made.

A mission pupil becomes a royal page.

In the Report for 1884-5 a short account was given of a new Village Zenana Mission in the neighbourhood of Runkutta, where the wife of a Native catechist found ready access to the houses of Hindus and Mohammedans, even those of the Thakurs, the highest caste. This year Mr. Lewis reports the first baptism:—

Village Zenana Mission: first baptism.

On October 31st we gathered in the first-fruits yielded by our recently established Village Zenana Mission; the convert being the Mohammedan niece of one of our catechists. She had come to Secundra to live with her uncle, and was daily instructed for some months in the truth of the Gospel by Miss Reimpell, the Bible-woman. She is a bright young girl of about seventeen years of age, and we have every reason to hope she will be a truly devoted follower of Jesus. Her name was Bunyadi—foundation; which seems singularly appropriate to the circumstances, seeing she is the first "living stone" we have laid in the future spiritual temple we hope to build for Christ in this Village Zenana Mission at Secundra. There was a good deal of opposition raised by the father of the girl, but God enabled us to get over that.

This new work which Miss Reimpell, assisted by three Bible-women, is doing in the numerous villages around Secundra is an exceedingly interesting and hopeful work. The daily visits of these female evangelists are everywhere and always welcomed by the people, and work sufficient for six more Bible-women and a second European lady might easily be found, if only they were forthcoming.

The four catechists and two colporteurs have worked with a good will during the year, itinerating in the cold season, and preaching twice daily during the hot season in places nearer home. Several "melas" or religious fairs were attended, and "it was cheering," Mr. Lewis says, "to observe on these occasions the eagerness with which our teachers and villagers volunteered to take part in the preaching work." Mothers' meetings have been held weekly by Mrs. Lewis, on Mondays, and on Fridays an Urdu prayer-meeting is held in the Christian village.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Stuart have returned to their old station at Aligarh, where the Rev. Nemi Solomon is the Native pastor.

MIRAT.

The Rev. J. T. Hermann Hoernle superintends the various agencies, pastoral, educational, and evangelistic, in Mirat and neighbourhood. He does not write very hopefully of the work. With most of the few inquirers, he says, temporal and secular difficulties outweigh their spiritual and religious needs. There have been four adult baptisms.

An aged missionary

At Annfield, in the Dehra Dún valley, the Rev. E. Droese continues in charge; in his seventieth year, and the thirty-eighth of his missionary work, his prayer is that he "may be given a little longer time, and health to serve the Lord in His cause in India." The Rev. J. Richard is the Native pastor in charge of the Native Christians, and he gives religious instruction daily to the 100 children of the Annfield School, after morning service, which the children attend. Miss Droese has almost daily a meeting from twelve to three at one of the Christian villages for needle-work, Bible-reading, prayer, and hymn-singing. She also engages in zenana visitation, and is encouraged from time to time by incidents which show "how quietly and unobtrusively the sowing beside all waters is going on in the closed-up houses of India." She mentions the following:—

A missionary's daughter.

Another pupil, of some thirty-five years of age, knew all about our Lord's history. She says that she was taught by a Zenana lady, when she was a little girl, in her mother's house. She seems to admire the "Holy Christ," and she says that she knows that they all ought to be Christians. At my last visit to her last season, while bidding her good-bye, she suddenly threw up her arms, and began most eloquently to sing the praises of Jesus, and as she went on, she called Him "her Lord"—"her God"—"her Saviour;" and added, "You think I do not love Him, but I do; He is my all and my everything." I said, "Then you ought to be a Christian!" "Yes, we ought," she replied; and sank down as if exhausted and half-ashamed of her vehemence.

"He is my all and my everything."

Another woman I met in one of the houses could read a little. On being asked who had taught her, she told me that her elder sister had been taught by a Zenana lady, and that when her sister once visited her father's house, after an absence of several years, she taught her—the younger sister.

CENTRAL PROVINCES AND RAJPUTANA.

Jabalpur, 1854; Mandla (Gônd Mission), 1879; Kherwara, Rajputâna (Bheel Mission), 1880.

JABALPUR.

The Rev. J. P. Ellwood reports a year of vigorous and successful prosecution of the various branches of the work. He is Chairman of the Native Church Council, and also Secretary of the North-West Provinces Missionary Conference. The Rev. W. Latham has been thankfully welcomed, by whom, it is contemplated, the work at Jabalpur itself will be superintended, leaving Mr. Ellwood free for out-station work, itinerating, &c. Mr. Ellwood records the ingathering of the first-fruits of the Marwara Mission in the person of a young man who "promises fairly well." Of Mr. Wigram's visit in January, he says: "It seemed to serve as an incentive to all the Native brethren very much in the same way as the visit of a missionary to an English village." "They have won our hearts," the Christians said after Mr. Wigram and his son had left.

Ingathering of first-fruits.

MANDLA (GOND MISSION).

The Rev. H. D. Williamson continues in charge at Mandla, and has been assisted, as last year, by the Rev. E. P. Herbert and Dr. W. Johnson. A heavy trial of affliction has fallen upon Mr. Herbert in the loss of his wife, ~~two~~ days after the birth of her child in November last. Though so short a time in the Mission, she had greatly endeared herself to all, and gave promise of being a most valuable worker. The Committee sympathize deeply with him in his loneliness, and pray that he may be enabled to testify with a brother-missionary under a like affliction—"God has indeed showed me great troubles and adversities, but He has turned and refreshed me with the richest of blessings."

Death of Mrs. Herbert.

Mr. Williamson's Annual Letter is a deeply interesting one. He gives particulars of the converts whose baptism was alluded to in last year's Report:—

It will be remembered that at the Bhoi Baba's baptism two of his former disciples were present, and that one of these, Prabhu Das, was baptized in the June following. The other, Sauna by name, would have made confession of his faith at the same time, but he was prevented from moving by an attack of illness. No opportunity for his baptism presented itself until February, when I went down to Marpha, from which place his village is distant about fifteen miles, and there he met me, accompanied by the other two converts, who greeted me with the most touching affection. Another man, named Damri, of Marpha, had also been under instruction, and it was arranged that he, too, should be baptized at the same time: this man is not a Gond, but of the Pankha caste, nearly all of whom are disciples of the reformer Kabir, who profess not to worship any idols, and wear a sacred necklace as a sign of their profession. On Sunday, the 21st, then, we gathered together in the little unfinished hut which my catechist, Pandit Dayal Masih, is soon to occupy, my wife and myself, my three catechists, the two Gond Christians, the two catechumens, and over forty heathen Gonds and Hindus; a congregation so large that half had to stand or sit round the doorway outside. All listened with rapt attention to the prayers and hymn-singing, and to the exposition of Matt. v., with which I commenced; and then explaining to all present what the meaning and purpose of baptism was, I baptized the two catechumens, the Pankha first breaking off his necklace and handing it over to me in presence of all. The latter is rapidly learning to read under the tuition of the Bhoi Baba; the attempts of the other to do so have hitherto proved fruitless: he is too old, I fear. Many superstitious fears with regard to baptism have been now dispelled amongst the Gonds in those parts.

The difficulty of visiting these scattered converts is considerable, and camping is only possible from November to April. When itinerating is possible it is attended with much encouragement, as the following quotations show :—

After travelling and preaching hither and thither in other parts of the district, I returned in April to Marpha, and finding the young man still of the same mind, and apparently a real believer in the Lord, I baptized him also, in the presence of his uncle and the other Christians, and a few heathen: his name is Mangal Das. Leaving Marpha, I directed my steps towards a village called Basadongri, some thirty miles away north on the Nerbudda, where the Bhoi Baba informed me there were two men who, having heard the Gospel from his lips, were very desirous of becoming Christians. Going thither by a circuitous route, in order to include some other large Gond villages in my tour, we were about a week before we arrived: three of the five Gond Christians accompanied us, and also some other Gonds who wished to hear more of the Gospel, one of them a nice old man, rather similar in character to the Bhoi Baba, who had, like him, been a sort of fakir, and had a small following of disciples. On arrival at Basadongri, we found that the mind of one of the two men mentioned had changed with regard to Christianity, and that the other had scruples, rightful and conscientious ones, about his ability to give up certain former customs when he should become a Christian, which led us to dissuade him from coming forward too hastily, until he had fully counted the cost. We had much prayer and conversation with him, and the next day left for another village, thinking that we should not for months to come be likely to see him again, for we were well on in the hot season. However, that same evening, nine or ten miles away as we were, into our camp he walked, and came to me with the brightest face to say that all his difficulties had melted away, and that he could not let us go without being baptized—would I baptize him? When I found how evidently he had found peace in the Lord, I could not feel myself justified in delaying further, and the next day he was baptized. His name is Mithu. What had influenced him more than all else, I found, was the death four days before of one of the villagers in full faith in Christ, a man whom I had never seen, who had been taught by the Bhoi Baba; on his death-bed he would not allow his friends to bring in the exorciser to perform the usual magic rites, but died with the words on his lips, "Jesus Christ is coming and is taking me up."

A conscientious Gond.

Death of a Christian Gond.

In a village called Jeora we were welcomed with more than ordinary cordiality by the Bhoi, and after the preaching he told us that, since we had told him of Christ, he had given up all his gods and worshipped only Him, and "see," he said, "how He has blessed me. While all the other crops of the village have been destroyed by blight, mine have all escaped." And he showed us the heaps of good grain piled up in his granary. This man we have just revisited, and found as staunch as ever; but as regards baptism he cannot yet be brought to offer himself.

A year and a half to test Christ.

The people of another place said they would worship Jesus Christ for a year and a half to try Him, but that if their old gods brought evil upon them in consequence, then they would return to them and leave Jesus Christ. The fear of the malevolent influence of evil spirits is a very great and real deterrent in the way of these people abandoning them for the worship of the Saviour. The few Gonds who can read are very eager for books; would there were more who could do so! One man followed me for nearly twenty miles to receive a Testament, and among Hindus in the district we give away a good many Gospel portions and tracts, which are very highly prized. The magic-lantern exhibitions always draw large crowds; in one place we had over 500 people present, and some hundreds arrived after 10 p.m., when it was all over. Such numbers represent twelve or fifteen villages, many of them lying ten miles or more away, and nothing else would draw the people so far away from home.

The magic-lantern.

The following shows that the Church of Christ has not been in time to anticipate the spread of Hinduism among the Gonds :—

Gonds influenced by Hinduism.

Much is still being done through the influence of Hinduism to strengthen idolatry and recommend the adoption of Hindu gods. The Hindus are looked up to naturally as a higher, more civilized, and more opulent race, and the Gonds who grow rich and of some importance as landowners are very ready to ape, not only Hindu customs and dress, but Hindu religious observances. A temple in one of the Gond villages, which used to be a mere mud hut, we found, when we visited it this year, to be all renovated and whitewashed, and hundreds of Gonds from all parts we hear are accustomed to pay it an annual visit with their offerings. Among the rough stones of the Gond deities there, we also saw one or two Hindu idols; but, of course, Hindus would not think of attending a Gond temple, a proof therefore of these idols being worshipped by the Gonds. This is the only building at all like a temple belonging to the Gonds throughout the district, as far as I know; their gods are seldom honoured with more than a rough bamboo-shed, and not often even with that.

A Gond rest-house.

A rest-house is being built in the Mission compound at Mandla for the purpose of affording free accommodation to Gonds who may wish to be near the missionaries for a season; and the Native congregations at Mandla and Mangalpur have contributed towards its erection.

KHERWARA (BHEEL MISSION).

The Rev. C. S. Thompson is engaged in itinerating, and the Committee have not received an Annual Letter from him. The Rev. G. Litchfield is stationed at Kherwara. A boarding-house and school opened during the year was filled almost immediately. Mr. Litchfield says, "The difficulty now is not how to induce them to come to us, but how to provide for the numbers that offer themselves." There are twenty-nine students, who are daily taught by a Native schoolmaster in the three R's and in Scripture truths.

It is deeply interesting to watch the light of God's truth dawning upon these dark, ignorant aborigines, and to feel that the Holy Spirit is really working in their hearts, for several of them undoubtedly believe on Christ as their Saviour, although none as yet have openly confessed Him by baptism. The deep questions they sometimes ask, and the apprehension they show, not merely of the facts of Christ's death and resurrection, but of its personal interest to themselves as sinners, leads to the conviction that their joining the visible Church of Christ by baptism is only a question of time. The value of their training has been shown recently in a manner that they could all appreciate, as I was asked to supply the Government Medical Department with two educated Bheels for the post of public vaccinators, a post that insures regular and good pay. This incident will be helpful to our work, as "proving the advantage of education," an advantage which the Bheel, in his wild state, is slow to understand or to wish for. Let me earnestly ask your prayers on behalf of this band of young men, that courage may be given them to openly confess Him on whom they are learning to believe, and to become in their turn "Heralds of the Cross" to their benighted countrymen.

Government request for educated Bheels.

During the year also a Sunday service in Hindi has been begun, which is attended by from thirty to forty. By the suggestion of a Christian servant of Mr. Litchfield, one of the fruits of the C.M.S. Orphanage at Benares, a Sunday-school has been opened. This servant gives one-tenth of his wages to God's work, and by the reality of his Christian character does much to commend the Gospel.

Bheel Sunday-school.

Dispensary. The dispensary continues its good work, some hundreds attending every month for treatment, many travelling long distances. By this means they become acquainted with the missionary and his work, and the medical treatment prepares in all directions open doors for the Gospel.

Girls' school. Buildings have been erected for a girls' school and boarding-house, towards which not only the Bishop of Exeter (the originator of the Mission), the Earl and Countess of Dufferin, and several military officers who are or have been stationed at Kherwara, assisted; but the heathen Prince of Dungerpore, after inspecting the young men of the boarding-school and hearing them read portions of the Sermon on the Mount, and sing a hymn, and exhorting them to apply their minds well to what was being taught them, "as it was good," gave Rs. 200 to Mrs. Litchfield towards her girls' school fund.

Donation from a heathen prince.

Mr. Litchfield's request for prayer will not be neglected.

It is a mistake to think, as some in England do, that missionaries must of necessity be always living in the heights; we have our times of depression and trial like others, perhaps even to a greater degree. Not in bodily hardships or discomforts, concerning which it would be effeminate to speak, seeing that military and civil officers pass through the same experience in the path of duty without a murmur; but in spiritual isolation and separation from those many Christian "helps" which you at home enjoy so richly. It is in these latter things that missionaries find their greatest trials, and I earnestly beg your prayers on our behalf that the more we may experience of the deadening influence of this isolation, the more closely we may be drawn to Him who can supply "all our need," however great it be. Request for prayer.

A Government Commissioner becomes a C.M.S. missionary.

THE Committee have accepted with much thankfulness Mr. H. E. Perkins' offer of service as an honorary missionary of the Society. Mr. Perkins has lately resigned his important position under Government as Commissioner of Amritsar, and now will devote himself to missionary work. His father was formerly a missionary of the S.P.G. at Cawnpore, and he and Mrs. Perkins have long been cordial friends of the missionary cause in the Punjab. A very hearty reception was accorded to them by the Christians of Amritsar on November 2nd.

Reinforcements.

Dr. Ernest Neve, M.D. (late Resident Physician at the Livingstone Memorial Training Institution and Dispensary, Edinburgh), the Rev. R. Heaton, of Islington College, and Mrs. Grime, who laboured at Allahabad from 1878 to 1885, have joined the Mission, and have proceeded to Kashmir, Sindh, and Clarkabad respectively. The Rev. H. G. Grey, M.A., of Wadham College, Oxford, and late Vicar of Holy Trinity, Oxford, who offered for Quetta, will proceed thither (D.V.) in October. The Rev. T. R. Wade and Dr. A. Jukes have come home on furlough; while the Revs. A. Lewis and H. Rountree have returned to their former stations of Dera Ghazi Khan and Pind Dadan Khan.

The Revs. T. Holden and Dina Nath (Native) were ordained priests on Trinity Sunday at Amritsar, and on March 6th the Rev. E. Corfield received priest's orders, and Mr. Sahib Dyal deacon's orders at Lahore.

AMRITSAR.

The staff at Amritsar.

The arrival of Mr. H. E. Perkins, C.S., has rendered it less difficult for the Rev. T. R. Wade to come home for a much-needed furlough, after twenty-four years of missionary service, ten since his last visit to England. The Rev. A. G. Norman superintends the educational work; the Revs. R. Bateman and E. Guilford carry on the Itinerant Missions; and Dr. Henry Martyn Clark conducts the Medical Mission. The Rev. W. T. St. Clair Tisdall also resided last year at Amritsar, at the request of the Punjab and Sindh Corresponding Committee, where he had temporary charge of the Training College lately given up by the C.V.E.S. Mr. H. J. Beutel superintends Clarkabad and the Boys' Orphanage there. The Rev. Dr. Imad-ud-din is engaged in preaching, lecturing, and literary work; and the Rev. Mian Sadiq is evangelistic missionary under the Native Church Council. The Alexandra Christian Girls' Boarding-school, and the Lady Lawrence Girls' Schools, are worked for the Society by the ladies of the C.E.Z.M.S. The Committee have heard with much regret of the death of Miss Bowles, the head of the Alexandra School, after less than a year of missionary service.

Death of Miss Bowles of the C.E.Z.S.

Mr. Wade reports fifteen adult baptisms; one of these was a jamadar in the Punjab Native Infantry:—

Baptism of a Native official.

On March 14th I baptized Sardar Sundar Singh. He was at that time a "jamadar" in the Punjab Native Infantry. Before baptizing him I communicated with his commanding officer, who was of opinion that he could not hold his position in the regiment if he became a Christian. The matter was referred to Government, and the answer received was very distinct, that no Native soldier should suffer any disabilities by becoming a Christian. The officers in his regiment gave him a good character; but he himself confessed to me, with tears in his eyes, that God only knew what sins he had committed, for he now saw that to be sin of which he had before thought but little, but that he looked only for pardon through Jesus Christ. He was offered his choice whether he would be baptized on a week-day by the Bishop, who was then visiting Amritsar for a day, or whether be would be baptized in a full congregation on the Sunday. He replied that, as he and his past mode of life were well known here, he would rather make his public renunciation of sin and his confession of faith in Christ before all the Christians and any others who might choose to be present. He also desired that, as a loyal subject of a Christian Government, he might be baptized in his full uniform. Many efforts were made by his former friends and others to divert him from his purpose, but he remained firm, and answered the baptismal questions in a solemn and manly way. The change that came over him was noticed and talked about in the city, and afforded our catechist a good opportunity of explaining what Christianity really was. A village "jat," who was here as an inquirer at the time, was baptized a few days afterwards, and engaged by the Sardar as his servant to cook for him. After his return to his regiment he was the means of the baptism of another of his servants. The Sardar afterwards volunteered to go to Burmah, and he is now serving there as a Native officer on Rs. 150 per mensem. He has already been in several engagements with the Dacoits, and writes in a humble Christian way to beg a constant interest in our prayers that he may continue a true and faithful servant and soldier of Christ. His brother here is now reading the New Testament to see what the new religion is like.

Baptism of a Native officer.

As Christianity spreads, new difficulties are met with. The question as to the re-marriage of converts from Mohammedanism and Hinduism respectively has presented itself during the past year. According to the Mohammedan law, which has been enforced by a decision of the Lahore Chief Court, the baptism of either Mohammedan husband or wife is ipso facto a divorce. On the other hand, in the case of a Hindu husband or wife, the law provides that a divorce can only be obtained in the Civil Courts, and that only when the heathen party refuses to live with the Christian. Cases of each kind are reported by Mr. Wade:—

Baptism of a Moslem's wife.

The second wife of a Mohammedan in Amritsar had long been an inquirer; she had openly confessed her belief in Christ amongst her friends, and had borne considerable persecution. At length, after consulting the Bishop, I baptized her. She was then, for the sake of further instruction and protection, taken into the Converts' Home. Her former husband was now most anxious that she should return to him as his wife, but this she positively refused to do, saying that Christianity had taught her that one man should only have one wife. The man tried every means in his power to get possession of her, even threatened to commit suicide, but she declared she would rather run away than return to him. After more than a twelvemonth she was married to a Christian, and has been going on well since.

When Hindu infants or very young children are married with all the Hindu rites of marriage, and are afterwards baptized, the former Hindu infant marriage is still binding according to law. Some years ago I induced such a boy-husband to put his girl-wife in the Alexandra Girls' School, and as she is now almost grown up there will be, by the Bishop's consent, before she goes home, the Christian ceremony of marriage performed in our church.

Three courses of lectures have been given in the city mission-school, of which Mr. Wade says:—

Lectures in English and Urdu.

Lectures.—There have been three courses of lectures given in the large room of the city mission-school. The first course consisted of seven lectures in English, given by missionaries and friends, on some of the evidences of difficulties of Christianity. These lectures were all afterwards published. The attendance when they were delivered was generally good.

The second course consisted of nine lectures, delivered in Urdu by Pundit Kharak Singh, on the teaching of the Vedas compared with that of Christians and the members of the "Arya Somaj." These lectures were exceedingly well attended, and were always followed by a lively discussion. They were afterwards printed in Urdu, and translated by Dr. H. M. Clark and printed in English.

The third course consisted of three lectures given by the Rev. Ram Chandar Bose, M.A.; the two first on "Man" and "God" in English, and the third on "Christianity compared with other religions" in Urdu. These also were well attended, especially the last.

Brief reports are also forwarded of Mr. A. Athim honorary lay evangelist), Diwan Sahib Dyal (lay pastor, since ordained), M. Nur-ud-din, Babu Ilyas, Fazl-ud-din, and Pundit Kharak Singh (catechists). Mr. A. Athim has written several tracts on Christian evidences. He says, "I feel ashamed at my own want of increased growth in grace and holy devotion. Of one thing, however, I am quite sure; I enjoy the blessed bosom of my Saviour, from which nothing can ever separate me. My life is now drawing near its close, when all my sorrows, pains, and troubles will be over for ever and ever; and I am deeply thankful to my Saviour that He has kept me firm, and that I can rejoice in hope of the glory of God." Pundit Kharak Singh, itinerating catechist, says, "During the past year I have preached to about 25,744 people, in 292 towns and villages; I have delivered 48 lectures on Hinduism and Christianity and have prepared 18 for publication." A Vedanti Sadhu, or Hindu faqir, has been baptized.

Tracts on Christian evidences.

Evangelistic work.

Mr. Norman, in his report of the High School, refers to the rival school opened by influential Mohammedans, and to the proof it affords of the popularity of the Mission school:—

The High School;

> It is very satisfactory to state that notwithstanding the great pressure brought to bear upon boys, especially those who are Mohammedans, by important members of the city, to leave my school and read in that of the Islamia, the numbers in the main or chief school are slightly above the average of the last ten years. A Mohammedan boy was forced by his guardian to leave my school during the holidays and read in the Islamia school. The boy very unwillingly went and received a reward of Rs. 2 at a prize-giving, but when I returned from the hills the boy came back immediately. Another Mohammedan said, "My boys shall read where they like," and they liked to read in the Mission school. It is indeed a cause for great thankfulness that so many boys are sent to the Mission school when two others exist where there is no Scripture instruction. We work, believing that our school has God's blessing upon it, and we do pray to be guided by Him to do always what we think to be for the best. My head-master has told me that Natives do acknowledge the moral power of Christianity, and, though they will not become Christians themselves, see that there is a better spirit in boys from Mission schools. This is especially noticed when they appear in public, and it does us credit.

Both at the High School and at several of the branch schools—of which latter there are twelve—there are inquirers. At the Majitha School, under Babu Chatterjee, two or three are specially hopeful, and one has been baptized.

Inquirers in schools.

Connected with the Medical Mission, under Dr. Henry Martyn Clark, there is a main hospital at Amritsar, a dispensary at Jandiala, and a hospital at Narowal. This last has been built during the past year; rather it has been three times built, having twice fallen in consequence of the heavy rains. The Amritsar hospital was visited and inspected during the year by Sir Charles Aitchison, Lieut.-Governor of the Punjab. Patients go to it from all parts of the Punjab. Dr. Clark says :—

Amritsar Medical Mission.

Visit of Lieut.-Governor to hospital.

> We have won the public confidence. As we are a Christian institution, people believe that not only will they get the best treatment from us, but that they will get it in the best and kindest way. A man who had suffered for fourteen years from a very painful disease, and had refused to submit to an operation, having heard of our hospital, came to us for treatment. He had to travel more than 100 miles over rough country roads, sometimes in a cart, but mostly on foot, and every step must have caused him considerable suffering. His one anxiety was whether he should succeed after all his trouble, for he had heard that the doctor was often away, so, despite his suffering, he hurried on as best he could. The friends of this poor fellow considered his case so hopeless, that they accompanied him to the borders of the village, marching in funeral procession, weeping and singing dirges, and they parted from him as from one whom they would never see again. Their apprehensions seemed likely to be only too true, for the operation performed was a most formidable one, and under bad circumstances. I had no hope of the man's life; but contrary to my expectation he made a good recovery, without a single bad symptom, and went home rejoicing.

One hundred miles on foot to be cured.

At Jandiala a Christian doctor is in charge of the dispensary, with the result that more patients come, for they are now treated with Christian consideration, and the religious work is thoroughly done. Some members of the Jandiala Municipality endeavoured to deter people from attending, by saying that the Christian doctor would ruin their caste, but the reply given was, "What good will caste do us if we die?"

Itinerating, healing, and preaching.

Dr. Clark has twice during the year accompanied Mr. Bateman in itinerating, healing and preaching. The first tour was in the Narowal and Batala districts, and they were much cheered by the marked progress which the Gospel has made. In a Mohammedan village they had a "unique experience," the people were anxious to hear and pressed them to go again. Some of them remarked after the preaching, "Mohammed is not our father, nor have we made a contract with him to accompany him to perdition. If you can show us that your way is right, why not walk in it?" At one place they had forty baptisms. He describes the interesting scene on this occasion :—

Open-air baptisms.

> The congregation gathered by the side of a little river near the village, and lined the bank while the candidates assembled on a little island in the stream. Each one as he was baptized came across and joined the Christians at the river-side. The scene was one not to be forgotten, as, in the solemn stillness of the evening, in the soft light of the setting sun, old and young confessed their faith in the Lord Christ, and were baptized in His name from the waters that flowed calmly by.

The second tour was in the Jandiala district, and his account of this is even more remarkable. He says:—

We expected to find things in a backward state, as no one goes to the men in these villages. We were very agreeably disappointed. The district is a purely Sikh one, and village after village received us with open arms. Our tents were surrounded all day long by crowds of Sikhs (not so much the poor of the land, as the well-to-do zemindars) anxious to hear the Gospel, to which they listened with an attention and interest delightful to behold. Where we stayed for two or three days, the same people came day after day, and sat listening hour after hour. We hardly needed to go to villages—the villages came to us. One longed for the time when the fine stalwart men, who received us so cordially and listened so attentively, should be soldiers of Christ; and if only we are able to press forward, and are strengthened as we should be, there is no reason why it should not be so. In one village a Mohammedan was inclined to argue, when an old Sikh stopped him by saying, "I can hear you talk any day, but I have left my work undone to hear these beautiful words; do sit still and hold your tongue." In another village we came on a group of Sikhs, about sixty in number. They asked us what we wanted. When they heard the nature of our message, they at once said, "If you can tell us of a Saviour, do; we shall only be too glad to hear you. We look to our gurus for salvation, but we know it is foolish to do so—for they do not even promise to give it—but what can we do? we know of no one else." At the close of a most interesting conversation, a fine, respectable old Sikh said, "From henceforth I shall look to Christ only." His friends said, "We cannot say we shall do that, but we will get Christ's book, and we have a lad here who can read. As work is slack now-a-days, we will make him read to us all day long, and then we shall be able to decide about the matter. In another village a splendid old Sikh was greatly impressed by the truth. He had been a soldier of Ranjit Singh, and had fought the English in the Sikh wars, had thereafter, shoulder to shoulder with the British soldier, done his part at the storming of Delhi, during the Mutiny. After years of service he had settled down in his village. He thought of the trials that awaited him, if he were to follow Christ, shook his head mournfully, and said, "I have not the strength! I have not the strength!"

Crowds of Sikhs listening.

"Can you tell us of a Saviour?"

As I write, an application has reached me from one of these villages, on behalf of 150 families of low-caste people (about 350 souls), who desire to be instructed and baptized, and I feel certain that in all human probability, a missionary in charge of Jandiala would, in these villages, very soon have the joy of gathering great numbers into the fold of Christ.

There were nine baptisms during the year as the fruit of the Medical Mission, making a total of twenty-three since the work began four years ago. Dr. Clark has also delivered a series of lectures against the Arya Samaj, which he has published in English and Urdu.

Baptisms.

Girls' Orphanage.

Mrs. Wade reports with thankfulness on another year of happy work at the Girls' Orphanage. Three girls have passed the Upper Primary Standard, and seven the Lower Primary, while the remaining younger classes are, according to the inspector's report, above the Government standard for children of their age. Two girls of the school obtained Mrs. Baring Memorial Scripture Prizes. Three girls have been married during the year; one is working as a Bible-woman under Miss Wauton, and one of the elder unmarried pupils has been placed with Miss Greenfield, of Ludhiana, to be trained in dispensing. Two-thirds of the children will be transferred to Clarkabad, some of the elder girls only remaining in the present school.

Memorial Girls' Schools.

There are eight Lady Lawrence Memorial Girls' Schools, worked for the C.M.S. by the ladies of the C.E.Z.M.S., having 196 pupils. Among these little ones, tokens for good are not wholly wanting, as the following touching story shows:—

Death of a Brahmin pupil.

Y. was a promising Brahmini pupil in the fourth class. She read everything with great eagerness; but the book she loved best was the New Testament. So rapid was her progress that we hoped soon to advance her into the Normal class; but a still greater honour awaited her. One day we missed her bright face in the class; the teacher went to inquire the cause, and found Y. in burning fever, but quite happy, with her beloved books under her head instead of a pillow. "Prabhu Yesu healed the sick, do you think He can make me well?" asked the sufferer. "Yes," said the visitor, "if you ask Him; but you must add that if it is not His will to make you well, to take you home to Himself." A few days later the teacher went again, and found the child very near the "Border Land." "I have left off praying to get well," said Y.; "I am only asking the Lord Jesus to take me home." Another week of pain and the prayer was answered. All that was mortal of her was taken to the Ganges—tribute to a dead faith—the living part, we trust, has gone to the Living Saviour.

Itinerant work.

Mr. Guilford says that in his itinerant work he observes "an earnest and increasing spirit of inquiry after the things which make for peace." The three village schools, supported by voluntary contributions, are flourishing. His allusion to the Leper Asylum at Tarn Táran will be read with deep interest. There have been nine baptisms during the year, making nineteen Christians within the Asylum, of whom two are children. He says:—

Leper Christians.

The conduct of these people is most exemplary, and is to us the cause of much joy and thankfulness. The Native doctor in charge of the place informed us, a short time ago, that the Christians were the only inmates of the asylum who gave him no trouble. Some few months ago he expressed to us his astonishment at the simple honesty of one of them on the occasion of the annual distribution of blankets amongst a part of the lepers. The man was called up by the doctor to receive a blanket; but he refused to take it, saying that as each person was entitled to a blanket only in each alternate year, and as he had received one the previous year, he had no right to one on the present occasion. The doctor, who is a Mohammedan, felt constrained —in the presence of all the other lepers, who, by the way, he said had taken advantage of his recent arrival amongst them, been lying to him, and trying to deceive him in the matter of the blankets—to confess that he attributed the man's truthfulness to his simple faith in Jesus. Testimony of a Mohammedan doctor.

Mr. Bateman's report begins with general remarks on itinerating, and the changed conditions of the work in the Amritsar district:—

The first condition of satisfactory itineration is avoidance of all stationary engagements. A calendar and a watch are more likely to hinder than to help a man in carrying it out. He should be well out of reach of the telegraph, and not easily accessible by posts. He should be free to go or to stay anywhere. He should move frequently, but not far, returning at least twice in a year to every place, and visiting hopeful spots often. A horse should be an unmixed evil, and while he travels light himself, he ought to be able to invite and entertain Christians and inquirers who come to him. His wants should be few, and his camp should cause no inconvenience to the village where it is pitched; if it does, he will at once overstay his welcome and injure his work.* Experience helps him to fulfil the required conditions, and they grow less irksome as he increases the circle of his acquaintances among the people. Helps and hindrances in itineration.

A report of itinerant work ought to be little more than a string of anecdotes, culled from a diary and toned down with a few generalizations. Things, however, have changed so much during the last ten or fifteen years that it is no longer possible to keep to the ideal. There is a much more general acquaintance with the truths of Christianity. Welcomes are more hearty, and opposition is more definite. It used to be difficult to arrange to spend Sunday with Christians or even inquirers; now, wherever one halts for the day of rest, one is disturbed by the feeling that one is wanted in half a dozen other places, all within reach. So that while work is far easier and pleasanter than it was years ago, there is an ever-increasing balance against one under the head of work left undone. So large is this balance that only to give an account of what is going on is by no means to present the picture present to one's own mind.

* Foot-note by Mr. Bateman:—In spite of one's self, sometimes one becomes a burden. We decided to stay for five days at a friendly village. One of the head-men came to say that he could supply all our needs, and that we should be very welcome, but that he was in great difficulty as to how to provide us with brandy, which he knew from experience all Englishmen must have, and he feared that our stock had run out. I was once charged with idolatry of the bottle, and with burning candles in the worship of it. An eye-witness was produced to prove the accusation. It turned out that he had looked through the window of a rest-house at night and seen the Mission party on their knees round a table, in the middle of which, for want of a candlestick, an empty treacle-bottle had been placed, with a candle in its neck. This scene the observer described as showing the real relation of Christians to brandy.

The increased readiness of the people is also noticed:—

Not only the low-caste people, but Hindu and Mohammedan cultivators also show much more readiness to learn than formerly.

Readiness of Natives to listen.

After drawing a village blank one day we went to a knot of about a dozen men who were husking maize in a field. I sat down and began to assist in the work without more ado than the usual greeting. I answered a few questions on ordinary subjects, but showed no desire to do more than get through the heap of maize before me. In a few minutes the owner of the crop begged me to desist, saying, "We can do that, but you can tell us the Word of God." After a little preaching, the same man said, "We know it is all true, and if you will live among us another fifteen years we shall all be Christians." Though I could not expect to work for fifteen years longer, my heart swelled with joy as I thought of one in England who will soon, I trust, take my place in a rich harvest-field, not of Indian corn, but of Indian souls.

Baptisms and congregations.

In the Batala Tahsil, which, during Mr. Weitbrecht's furlough, is included in my itinerancy, there are similar hopeful signs. I have fifty-five catechumens there, fifteen in the Ajnala Tahsil and eighteen near Narowal. In Batala Tahsil forty-four have been baptized; in Ajnala none, and in Narowal seven during the year. The congregation at Fathgarh now numbers just one hundred, and that at Tapala fifty-three. There are schools in both of these places. In the latter the zamindars persecute the Christians, and will not allow us land to build a school-house or church upon. I have received excellent help from our Native evangelist at Batala, as well as from Fateh Muhammad the catechist and Amba Bhaggat the reader. To be associated with such as these, who work for their Heavenly Master's sake, and need no spurring and little direction from me, is a real comfort.

Mr. Bateman goes by medical orders to Kangra for the hot months, and while there had four adult baptisms. Two of these were a faqir and his wife, whose story he tells:—

Baptism of a faqir and his wife.

The man is a Udasi faqir, or member of a colony of Panjabis, settled several generations ago in the Mirat district. He married young, but left his wife, a mere child, at home, while he went out in search of God. He searched all the sacred places of pilgrimage, and sought, by prayer, austerity, and the companionship of devotees, to find Him. He not unfrequently came across missionaries, but never listened to their preaching, as he was convinced that they had no knowledge of God themselves. At the end of about eighteen years he returned, in despair, to seek, in family life, the peace which he had failed to find abroad. His wife, now grown up, begged him to renew his quest, and to take her with him. So they travelled together for seven years. Two sons were born to them; but nowhere did they find more than dumb idols and greedy Brahmins at the shrines they successively visited. At last they heard of a sacred fountain near Kangra, where the purest water bursts unaided from the mountain-side, and where neither Brahmins nor idols should mock their hopes. The water was all that they could have desired, but it could not refresh their souls. Moreover, their pony was killed by falling over a cliff close by, and their cooking-vessels were stolen on the sacred spot itself while they were engaged in worship. The vessels were recovered, and were kept by the police pending the apprehension of the thief. Days passed in vain expectation, and A. determined to leave his pots behind him and escape from the scene of his loss and disappointment. When he had got about a mile out of Dharmsala, a Brahmin, learned in astrology, stopped him, saying that such and such a star was against him, and it would be madness to proceed. So he went back to Dharmsala, and having neither money nor food, nor pots to cook it, he was glad to hear of a certain excellent Englishman who gave coppers to the poor on Sundays. He went and got his coppers; but the donor told him of forgiveness of sin through faith in a crucified Saviour, and as he listened the scales fell from his eyes, and he went to fetch his wife. The Word of God was explained. They put themselves under instruction, and six weeks later A. was baptized, rejoicing in the Lord with all his house. The thief is not caught yet, and he is still without his cooking-vessels; but their loss, he says, was the greatest gain he ever had. He is working with me, and his wife and children are under Miss Tucker's wing in Batala.

Mr. Datta's report.

Dr. D. N. Pridhu Datta, Civil Surgeon at Kurnal, filled Mr. Bateman's place during the first three months of his absence, and has given a report, which is valuable as showing the much patience and longsuffering, as well as good humour and ingenuity which preaching in the cities of the Punjab requires. At Batala, e.g., Dr. Datta says :—

Certain young men, who called themselves members of the Arya Somaj, often wished to obstruct our work, but we made it a point not to discuss with anybody, but simply to declare the glad tidings of God's free salvation in and by Christ. Our advice to the objectors used to be, "Come and walk with us after the preaching is over and we will talk over your difficulties quietly." Very few ever followed our advice.

Preaching by moonlight.

Dera Nanak.—Our preaching here was during the day and in the evenings by moonlight. We always had a large audience—sometimes really a listening audience. Here we allowed discussions after we had delivered our message. These discussions sometimes became so noisy that we used to stop them by starting off a bhajan. This would appear rather quaint, but what else could we do? This used to quiet them down. At the end of a bhajan we repeated the same course again, a Bible-reading and address and a discussion. We found if we did not allow the discussion people would not stop to the end of our addresses, and in their own words, "It would not have been fair."

Narowal.—Street-preaching in this town is very seldom done. Christ has been preached mainly by personal intercourse and school-work. Though we were desirous of following this plan, we felt that personal intercourse was now out of question, as the people had lately become determined to avoid much familiarity with Christians. So much united were they in this resolution that if any one was seen going beyond an outward formality, that man was threatened severely. So we stood up in the open air, sung, read, and spoke. At first this went on well, but after a few days the people showed opposition, the seniors by contemptuous gestures, the juniors by shrieking and saying "Ho! ho!" at the top of their voices. Here, too, we adopted the system of shifting our ground and preaching by turns. The people saw, whether we were foolish or wise, we were sincere, and our one wish was that everyone else should, like ourselves, know and follow Christ. We preached in the villages round about Narowal. We found that most people in this neighbourhood knew something at least of Christianity. In Mohammedan villages we had opposition, in Hindu villages indifference, and in Kuka villages attentive hearing. They said our religion was next best to their own. These people are very hopeful, for they truly are more moral and godly in their daily lives than others. They practise truthfulness, sobriety, devotion, and charity, according to the standard given them by their teacher, Ram Singh. In one village they actually in a body sat down in a very devotional attitude and listened and talked to us for more than an hour, and all at their own request.

Our party consisted of different workers at different times. Once ten Batala boarders were with us; at another time most of the resident Narowal Christians; again we were joined for ten days by the two Hoshiarpur Christian faqirs. I found these were of great service in the villages, where they were looked upon as devotees, but in the towns they were hissed and hooted; an experience that I had not gone through before. We thanked God most earnestly each day on our return, for we felt that God each day taught us what sort of men we must be if we desired effectually to stand up in His name. Our flesh did not relish the dirty jokes sometimes flung into our teeth; the bad language they used; the evil motives they charged us with. I, for my part, often felt inclined to resent it, but the Lord preserved us and showed us something of what it is to be like the Master who taught us to bless those that curse us and to pray for those who despitefully entreat us. All of us counted it a very great privilege to engage in the work I have so described, unworthy as we were to do so.

Christian village of Clarkabad.

Mr. Beutel continues in charge of the Christian village of Clarkabad with chequered experience. Disaffection and lawlessness were excited by one or two intriguers during a short absence of the missionary, necessitating a reference to the tahsildar. On April 1st, 1886, the foundation-stone was publicly laid of the Girls' Orphanage buildings, to which, when completed, the inmates of the Amritsar Girls' Orphanage will be transferred, and to preside over which Mrs. Grime reached Clarkabad in January last.

BATALA.

Christian Boys' Boarding-school.

The Rev. E. Corfield is in charge of the Christian Boys' Boarding-school. The number of boys is now fifty-four, and Mr. Corfield writes of improvement in discipline and tidiness, and, in some degree, in spiritual and intellectual power. Lachmi Chand, whose baptism and subsequent poisoning was mentioned in last year's Report, has given up his Christian profession. Mr. Corfield in writing of this heavy sorrow says, "We can only hope that his mind has been affected by the poison which he received, and that his apostacy will only last while he remains under its deadly influence." The school supported by the Y.M.C.A. (vide last year's Report) has begun to bear fruit, two baptisms having taken place during the year. "The chief Mihtar, whose son attends this school, has set apart a room for Christian prayer." Baptisms.

KANGRA, KOTGUR, SIMLA.

Mr. William Briggs (retired missionary) has resided at KANGRA. At KOTGUR the Rev. Arthur Bailey is the missionary. Miss Louise Ellwanger was prevented from proceeding from Europe to the Mission last year. The congregation at SIMLA is presided over by the Rev. Thos. Edwards, Native clergyman.

LAHORE.

No Annual Letter has been received from this station. The Rev. F. A. P. Shirreff, who, with Mrs. Shirreff, has come home, conducted the Divinity School. He has been assisted by the Rev. T. E. Coverdale. The Rev. Dina Nath is assistant tutor at the College; and the Rev. Yakub Ali is the pastor of the congregation.

PIND DADAN KHAN.

The Rev. H. Rountree has returned to this station. No report has been received. The Rev. T. Howell, a Native clergyman, assists.

MULTAN.

The Rev. T. Bomford and the Rev. T. Holden are the missionaries at Multan. The latter was ordained priest on Trinity Sunday at Amritsar, since which day, as Mr. Bomford reminds the Committee, "for the first time in the history of the Multan Mission, there have been two missionaries, both in priests' orders, and both qualified in the language." "It has been a year not of harvesting, but of hard work with a view to future harvests," is the burden of both their Annual Letters. They labour on in hope and do not faint, assured that the reaping time will come. In the meantime encouragements have not failed them. A young Mohammedan was baptized by Mr. Holden on November 7th, whose story he relates:— A view to future harvests.

A young Mohammedan, a patwari (land steward) by profession, but who, for the last two years, has been practising as hakim (doctor) in the city, came to me last July asking to become a Christian. For years, he said, he had ceased to place unqualified confidence in Mohammedanism. There had been a growing conviction in his mind that the system was imperfect. With candour had he more than once expressed this opinion to his friends and relatives, but they Baptism of a Moslem.

managed for a time to convey the impression that his conclusions were preposterous. At length he decided, no matter the consequence, to inquire fully into Christianity. I lent him a copy of the New Testament, and Dr. Pfander's Mizan-ul-Haqq, in Urdu, and asked him to come again as soon as he had read them, telling him if he remained in the same mind I would instruct him regarding the Christian faith. He came again in the course of a fortnight, more determined than before to cast away the shackles and chains in which he was bound. Babu Brij Lall Datt, at that time a student in the Lahore Divinity College, was staying with me during his summer vacation, and he gave him regular instruction until his holidays expired, when I took him in hand myself. It was also my privilege, on November 7th, to admit him by baptism into the visible Church of Christ on earth. At his own request he received the name of Fatih Masih (victory of Christ), though his old one, Khuda Bakhsh (Theodore), would have been decidedly appropriate. On hearing he had publicly confessed Christ his friends were indignant and their persecution virulent—perhaps more so than we can learn, for he is an unostentatious and silent man, thinking far more than he speaks. What incensed them most, he tells me, was that his abandonment of his old religion should be the only result of seventeen years' careful training in the Koran. Accusations of ingratitude were brought into requisition, but to no effect. His and their ideas on this point are at variance. Then the forces of persuasion were arrayed. His father, a worker in silk, well-to-do and highly respectable, offered him money, clothes, ease, and numerous other baits if he would confess his conduct had been sacrilegious; but all to no avail. At last the thunders of excommunication were employed, and on pain of bodily harm he was forbidden to go near his father's house. Poor fellow, he feels the last most of all! Nothing, however, has tended to make his faith wane. Nay, he seems stronger than before. I ask your earnest prayers on his behalf, that he may be kept firm on the Rock, and that God will compass him with His favour as with a shield.

Village itineration and bazaar-preaching.

Mr. Holden engaged in village itineration during the cold weather, and in bazaar-preaching during the hot season. Occasionally he found villages "where none but Government servants had ever been before:"—

We had the greatest difficulty in persuading them we were in no way connected with the Sircar. Often were we met with the remark, "If you are not connected with the Sircar, why have you come here?" Such a question, I need hardly say, was at once seized upon as the foundation for a simple address, in which we tried to point out we were servants of the Great Sircar, to whom all owe allegiance, and that our message was one of peace, pardon, and salvation. We are better known now. No such question is asked. Our advent has ceased to awaken their curiosity or agitate their minds. It is patent more friendly relationship is developing between us, for not seldom they visit me now.

A preaching student.

In the bazaar-preaching he was assisted for two months by Babu Brij Lall Datt, the student in the Lahore Divinity College alluded to above, who is, he says, "a first-rate bazaar preacher, and a man of great ability." The audiences were usually quiet and orderly. Mr. Bomford mentions two encouraging features:—

(i.) The interest taken in Mission work by the few Europeans who trouble themselves about it has steadily increased of late, and it is not unusual to find two or three coming to the Native church in preference to going to their own church, and their confidence in the work is shown by the steady increase of subscriptions. (ii.) The sale of books this year reached the highest figure yet reached in Multan, a total of Rs. 92, and this is a most hopeful sign.

DERA GHAZI KHAN.

Dr. A. Jukes worked alone during the greater part of the year, being rejoined by the Rev. A. Lewis in October, accompanied by Mrs. Lewis. "We were delighted to welcome them back," he writes. Dr. Jukes was taken ill while at Fort Munro in May, and again in October both he and Mrs. Jukes suffered from fever. They have been compelled to come home. Dr. Jukes reports 8446 out-patients during the year, 137 in-patients, 23,208 visits, and 81 major operations. The number of services held at the hospital during the year was 374. The vivid picture which these figures suggest to the imagination of the busy life of a Medical Mission is more fully exhibited in the following quotations from Dr. Jukes' letter:— Medical work.

We began the year by a fortnight's itineration to the north of Dera Ghazi Khan. We stayed the greater part of the time in two canal bungalows, kindly placed at our disposal, in the neighbourhood of two villages. We had the dispensary open here on ten days, and treated between 900 and 1000 sick. I preached sometimes three or four times a day to various audiences.

On my return to Dera Ghazi Khan my time was more than usually occupied by hospital work, the daily attendance of out-patients being from 100 to 150. The hospital beds were full, operations frequent, and many had to be refused admission. Vacant beds were occupied by fresh cases as soon as room was made for them. There are daily addresses to the out-patients, and special services for the in-patients, mostly undertaken by our catechist, Ghulam Qadir Shah, three or four times a week; Dr. Najin-ud-din taking the out-patient addresses in my absence.

Several interesting visits from Natives of importance are related. The wife of a famous Punjab saint, herself the descendant of the kings of Delhi, was brought for cure by her husband, who promised a camel in the event of success. She was far gone in consumption, however, and returned to her home, forty-five miles to the north of Dera Ghazi Khan, to die. The saint accepted a Persian Testament and promised to read it. Patients have come 160 or 170 miles solely for the purpose of surgical operations; the chief of the Marri The wife of a Punjab saint brought to be cured.

tribe, living in the neighbourhood of Thal Chotiali, came some 150 miles. Dr. Jukes says:—

"God blesses his hand."

The common expression about me is, "God blesses his hand,"—a fact for thankfulness, and I have often been successful when I little expected it, or much more quickly than I expected. I can only explain it by repeating the belief of patients in another Mission, "Pills are good, but pills with prayers (believing) are much better."

Dr. Jukes paid a visit to the Khetran country, recently brought under British rule, at their own urgent request:—

The Tahsildar, a native magistrate, is a Brahui Baluch, and showed us every attention. I treated him for some slight ailment, and he was very pleased to receive a Persian Testament, which he began at once to read, or have read to him, and he was much interested in it. I treated a few hundred cases, and was asked to come and open a hospital or dispensary there.

Translations.

Dr. Jukes has also been engaged in translating the Psalms and Collects, and revising Morning Prayer into Multani.

The Bishop of Lahore visited the Mission in March, 1886, and made the following entry in the hospital visitors' book:—

Visit of Bishop French to Dera Ghazi.

". . . This interesting Mission station only needs Mr. Lewis' speedy return to form a frontier station of very fair promise. Dr. Jukes' work in the hospital is becoming very highly appreciated. It is clear he is held in great respect, to which his thorough and single-hearted devotion to his work amply entitles him. Padri Izháq also carries great weight with the people, and his high respectability of birth and character make him clearly the right man in the right place. The Native assistant-surgeon seems an honest and genuine Christian worker, and I find a decided improvement in Ghulam Kadir's preaching. It comes out of the heart more, as well as being more thoughtful and better prepared. . . . I preached at the small Native church near the city gates on Sunday, March 21st. There were twelve communicants, the whole, in fact, of the adult Christian community. The sermon was listened to patiently by a large non-Christian hearing in the portico. It appears to me the preaching of the Gospel and the kingdom has won the ear of the people, as I have not seen it before. There are some probable signs of its being in touch with their hearts in a few cases, as appears from visits by inquirers.

Dr. Jukes has supplied the following table, showing the work done by the Medical Hospital from the opening:—

	In-patients.	Out-patients.	Visits.
1881	—	875	1139
1882	—	2524	8584
1883	12	3989	16,023
1884	32	5911	18,887
Totals . . .	156	20,609	66,302

Mr. Lewis, upon his return to Dera Ghazi Khan, after an absence of three years (half of which interval was spent at Lahore), observes with thankfulness decided marks of progress, which he attributes under God to the Native pastor, the Rev. M. H. Ishaq, of whose work during his absence he speaks most highly. It will be remembered that Mr. Ishaq is a Jat by race, from the Beluch frontier, who was baptized at Karáchi by Mr. Sheldon in 1865, and was prepared for Orders at the Lahore Divinity School.

An efficient Native pastor.

The new military road from Dera Ghazi Khan to Quetta presents openings for work among the Beluchs of the Suliman Hills. "Let the army of Christ march along it to victory over Satan and his dominions," Mr. Lewis pleads, and the Committee would earnestly say "Amen."

DERA ISMAIL KHAN, BANNU, TANK.

In the Derajat Mission the same three brethren continue to "hold the fort," viz. the Rev. W. Thwaites at DERA ISMAIL KHAN, the Rev. T. J. L. Mayer at BANNU, and the Rev. John Williams, Native medical missionary, at TANK. In this frontier Mission the husbandman needs long patience waiting for the precious fruit.

Mr. Mayer dwells upon his bitter disappointment at losing, under circumstances related in last year's Report, his one Pathan convert after twelve years of labour. He says:—

Disappointed hopes.

> Truly, in this country, it is casting bread upon the waters, and much of our preaching seems carried away by a strong and merciless stream. God will know and will keep His own, and when once we get one or two strong converts, we may look for great things.
> It would seem as though evil powers had combined to hinder the work of preaching the Gospel among the Afghans, to hand over our converts to the virulent persecution of Mohammedan fanaticism, to keep back many who would come to us through fear of the consequences.
>
> But God's ways are not our ways. We can only go on sowing in simple faith and prayer, and commit the issues to His hands, feeling sure of this, that His Word shall not return to Him void.

Translation work proceeds steadily. "Soon," writes Mr. Mayer, "we shall have a decent Bible for the Afghans."

A Bible for the Afghans.

Mr. Thwaites reports a year "of much hope and much disappointment, of much joy and much sorrow, and of much blessing and comfort."

> Work has gone on steadily in most of the departments of the Mission; the school has made progress; the people have heard the Word in the bazaar; there have been many inquiring visitors to the missionary at home. Some pleasant and encouraging journeys have been made into the district. The Christian congregation has grown in spirituality, and there is now also a small daughter congregation across the River Indus, at the town of Bhakkar.

A congregation of three.

The congregation here referred to at Bhakkar consists of three members: the Naib Tahsildar of the place, who is a son of the Rev. Mulaim-ud-din, Native pastor at Dera; his wife, who is a daughter of the Rev. M. Hamid Ishaq, Native pastor at Dera Ghazi Khan, and a sergeant in the police. These form a little church, meeting for worship in the house of the Tahsildar.

The school has encountered opposition from the English-educated Natives, some of whom are old pupils (of the school). It is not, however, wholly out of favour, as the Municipal Committee of Dera have granted Rs. 300 towards the expense of building a boarding-house.

Confirmation.

The Bishop of Lahore confirmed four candidates in February.

Miss Johnson of the C.E.Z.M.S., the Committee regret to learn, has been seriously ill, and has gone to Amritsar to be under Miss Wauton's kind care. "She has done brave, noble work in her loneliness and weakness, and her departure will be a serious loss to Dera," Mr. Thwaites testifies.

Medical work at Tank.

Mr. Thwaites has visited Tank, and reports the growing work of the hospital under Mr. Williams, Native doctor and pastor. During 1886 there were 9375 new patients, and 15,971 visits recorded; 56 in-patients were treated, 14 major operations, and about 1862 minor were performed. The following is an instance which shows, as Mr. Thwaites remarks, what real Mission work this frontier hospital is doing:—

> A Waziri youth from the hills has manifested much aptitude and much boldness in learning the lessons of the Gospel. He first of all heard the message in the hills, from one who had been under the care of John Williams in the Tank hospital. The mullahs also heard the message, and were in a rage, and the youth was desirous of knowing more of the teaching which they cursed so bitterly, and at last found his way to Tank, where he is now reading with our dear brother and makes no secret of his wish to know more of the Saviour. It is in this way this frontier hospital is doing real Mission work; from it the message is carried across the limits of British authority into regions beyond the Waziri hills as far as the great fortress of Ghazni. The message is carried by people who have been treated by Dr. Williams, and his kindness, sympathy, and love make the message pleasant to hear, and make the hearers willing to talk of it again at home.

PESHAWAR.

The Rev. Worthington Jukes, M.A., has been left again with only one European missionary brother, the Rev. A. E.

Day, the exigencies of the work, or rather the fewness of the workers, having compelled the Committee to remove the Rev. T. E. Coverdale to Lahore. Mr. Jukes pleads, with perfect justice, that it is not possible to do more than keep all the machinery in motion. The printed report, however, which has been sent home, shows that this has been done zealously and steadily, and that the motion has been by no means mechanical. The School, the Literary Institute, Itinerating, Boarding-school for Afghans, Guest House, Catechists' Bible Classes, Interviewing Natives, Preaching, Bible Translation,—all these agencies have been maintained by two missionaries, aided by the Rev. Imam Shah, Native pastor, and several Native teachers and catechists.

Edwardes' High School.

The Edwardes High School, named after the late Sir Herbert Edwardes, has increased greatly in popularity; its fees have more than quadrupled, and a large number of the pupils have been successful in the Government examinations.

The Hostel.

The Hostel still continues to be specially blessed. The lads are constantly under the missionaries' influence. Every Sunday Mr. Jukes invites them to his drawing-room for tea and friendly conversation, finishing up with hymns, in which they not only join, but each boy has his favourite, which he not seldom commits to memory. The lad whose baptism, the first in the new church, was mentioned in the Report for 1885, is now a student in the Lahore Divinity College. His influence in the school is still operative. Mr. Jukes writes of him and other inmates:—

Students in the Hostel.

> He has already influenced for good several other lads who were and are still in the Afghan Boarding School, especially one young fellow whom I formerly had occasion to expel, but who in the meantime had joined the Native Army. This young soldier was admitted by me as a catechumen last May; and although he begged for baptism, I thought it prudent to wait a little longer, and he returned to his regiment at Pindee, where the American Presbyterians baptized him without any reference to me. I regret their action, not so much for the lad's sake, for it did not much matter to him who baptized him, but for our Mission's sake, for it might have been the means of influencing many of our waverers who sadly need the encouragement his baptism would have afforded, and I am sorry to say that the missionary who baptized him has been trying to justify his conduct. The young lad is exceedingly bright and happy in his new belief, and in addition to his being a manly soldier of our Queen-Empress, he is a loyal soldier of the Cross, and is making his influence felt among his soldier comrades. His brother is a private tutor in an Afghan chief's family, and whilst outwardly he is angry at his brother's becoming a Christian, he is inwardly convinced that his soldier brother is much braver than himself, and I have little doubt that before long he will follow in his footsteps.

was one of the greatest religious teachers in the district, to whom the Rev. R. Clark presented a Pushtu Testament shortly after the establishment of the Peshawar Mission, under circumstances of no little danger, for in those days no European could travel in those parts alone. This patriarchal old man received the volume with much gratitude, and was much abused ever after in consequence. His family have been very intimate with us ever since. The grandson became an inmate of the boarding school, and rapidly passed the Middle School Examination and Matriculation Examination of the Punjab and Calcutta Universities, and is now one of the masters in the Mission School here, and in charge of the boarding-school. From the commencement he was a most satisfactory character, and the truths he has learned, together with the exemplary characters of the two young men above described, have had a very good effect on him, so that he too is a real seeker after Divine Truth. Almost every Sunday when he, with all the other lads, come in to hear us sing hymns, he has invariably asked Mrs. Jukes to play that beautiful hymn "I heard the voice of Jesus say."

In this way other lads are being similarly impressed, especially a younger cousin of his, called by A. L. O. E., whom he has visited two or three times, the Bird of Paradise, who has exhibited the greatest timidity in the expression of his belief, but who has grasped the necessity for salvation sooner than his elder cousin. Unfortunately he is suffering from incipient consumption, and a change to his village was considered advisable; but before letting him go, I admitted him as a catechumen in our Mission House Chapel, having shown undoubted proofs of the grace of God working within him. His father also has long ago given up his faith in Islam. He would not so much mind his son becoming a Christian were it not for the abuse that would be heaped upon him by his relations. Other cases might be given, but I forbear. Enough to show the spirit of inquiry that is being evinced.

The Hujrah or Guest House.

The Hujrah or Guest House is "known now all over the district, and even beyond the frontier." Some use it simply as a convenience, others, chiefly of the Maulvie class, go for discussion, and very precious are the opportunities afforded for presenting the saving truths of the Gospel.

Discussion with a Maulvie.

I never let them go without having a long chat with them. Their chief object, until they know me, is to entangle me in some argument. I commence by asking them a series of questions connected with their own religion, which they ought to know, but of which they frequently show more ignorance than knowledge, and having subdued something of their boundless pride, I prove to them that they have nothing to comfort them, and that in God's sight they are dead. Only a short time ago one such young Maulvie came to see me with a friend who had not such pretensions to learning as his proud companion the Maulvie. The Maulvie commenced the attack, showing by his manner that he hoped soon to floor me, the very idea seemed too much for him, but I let him go on without saying anything for some time, after which I asked him some few simple questions about forgiveness of sins, the nature of Atonement, the alleged sinlessness of Muhammad, &c., asking him to prove his points from the Quran which I put into his hands. He was so non-plussed and became so confused, that his companion could not help laughing heartily. I explained to him the true nature of religion, and how it was only through Christ he could obtain that satisfaction which all mankind was in search of. Some of these young Maulvies come regularly to me, and the interest they display is intensely encouraging. One of them is in now, and just before leaving me last night, said with much pathos, "I really want to believe all that you believe, and all you tell me." Constantly am I told that what I talk about is just what they want to know, but what they never hear in their villages from their own Maulvies. I never mince matters with them, but go to the point at once, feeling that I may never have an opportunity again of putting before them "the whole counsel of God." The result is that I receive warm invitations from all parts of the district, and my great regret is that my hands are so tied here, with such a multiplicity of work, that I cannot accept them, and so a great deal of the good that is partially done remains incomplete, and the seed which is sown, dries up for want of watering and proper nurture. Numberless cases I could mention where the good work has begun, and which would go on could I spend months each year in going about through the district. There are many centres in my district, especially Abbottabad and Mardan, where I have several inquirers, and where they beg and implore me to make my visits more frequent, but which is absolutely impossible until more men are sent out from home to assist me.

KASHMIR.

The valley of Kashmir continues to be the scene of the labours of Dr. A. Neve and the Rev. J. H. Knowles. Dr. Ernest T. Neve joined his brother last December. Mr. Knowles writes, "On the whole 1886 has been a decidedly good year." He had the "unspeakable joy of admitting nine people into the Church by baptism—three men, three women, and three children (six Mussulmans, thorough Kashmiris, a Sikh and his wife, and a Christian's child). The Mussulmans were disposed very favourably towards our religion through Qadir Baksh's life and teaching, and the Sikhs have been coming to me a year or more." He gives the following interesting account of his work in the church, the hospital, and the school:— Nine baptisms.

The Church.—The congregations vary from eighty or more to twenty people, according to the number of patients in the hospital. I have two services with sermon, on Sundays; and one service, with sermon, on Wednesdays, in Hindustani and Kashmiri: special holy-days extra. Besides these, Dr. Neve has a short service for Christians on four days out of the week. In this way I have preached about 150 times. The fundamental doctrines of the truth and prominent features in the Christian life and character have been treated more or less fully, and God has blessed His Word.

Then comes individual dealing with the patients. Alas! that this important work should have been followed up so meagrely! Granted that it is very difficult to have to speak to those whose whole attention seems to be absorbed in their aches and pains; granted that it is not very pleasant to have to squat by those who appear to be nothing but Individual dealing with patients.

a collection of sores and smells: yet, what would Christ have done? Oh, for more of His Spirit! Now and again I have had nice times with these poor creatures, but sometimes I have felt that I might as well have spoken to the wall.

School. The school has gone forward a stride or two, as I expected. The numbers have increased, interest has deepened, and more real missionary work has been done than in any previous year. Strictly speaking, the school is more of a Christian home than an educational institution. My wife and I both attend daily for two hours or more, and endeavour, by Evangelical addresses, Bible lessons, and goodly talks on all manner of subjects, to win the boys for Christ. This is our desire. We care not so much for their high attainments in history, geography, mathematics, &c., though they are making fair progress in these, as to be able, by God's blessing, to start them on an honest, sincere, upright way of life. We have seen tears in the eye when telling the lads of Jesu's love: we constantly have their testimony as to the truth of what we say; and there would be conversions were it not for the counteracting influences of home. We have started a cricket-club. Wickets, balls, leg-guards, &c., were subscribed for by Native friends. Play twice a week, weather permitting, and have grand games.

On four days of the week a service is held for the hospital out-patients by Dr. Thomas, the Native house-surgeon, to congregations varying from 10 to 200 people.

QUETTA.

Death of the Rev. G. Shirt. The Rev. G. Shirt arrived in Quetta on the 4th of April (Sunday), and Dr. S. W. Sutton on the 6th. On June 16th Mr. Shirt died. Dr. Sutton has therefore been left alone to pursue his medical work and superintend the building of the Mission-house during the greater part of the first year. During October he had the pleasure of welcoming for a week the Revs. R. Clark and J. Bambridge. The Bishop also visited Quetta in November, with the primary object of pressing forward the building of a much-needed church for the garrison. "He took every available opportunity of going into the fruit-market and preaching to his friends the Afghans," says Dr. Sutton. The Bishop was at Quetta on the Day of Intercession for Foreign Missions, and gave an address at one of the three special services held in the Durbar Hall.

Dr. Sutton has found helpful friends in the officers at the station, civil and military; Mr. and Mrs. West, Mr. Ingle (cantonment magistrate), and Captain and Mrs. Candy, who insisted on taking him as their guest for three months after Mr. Shirt's death. Unexpectedly also, a Hindu pundit, who holds the post of Extra Assistant Judicial Commissioner,

A site given for a hospital. gave timely and effectual assistance in providing a suitable site for the hospital.

Dr. Sutton, in the retrospect of his first few months of missionary work, has found, as he says, "a great deal to write about." He dwells with affectionate and reverent tenderness on the recollection of Mr. Shirt's labours and sufferings:—

Mr. Shirt's last labours;

Sunday Services in the vernacular were begun at once; Mr. Shirt's tent serving as a church and for interviews with any Natives who called on us; my tent serving as dining-room, &c., as well as for my bedroom. On our very first Sunday our church proved to be too small for us, so that some had to sit outside. We began with a congregation of eight Natives, four of them Christians and four unbaptized Punjabis. The four Christians were my munshi (Yakoob) and his wife (Rahmat), a servant of Mr. Shirt's, who was born of Christian parents in the North-West Provinces, and Samuel Pillay, a Native hospital assistant attached to the Civil Dispensary. The service was held in Urdu, except the second lesson, which was read in Persian. Finding ourselves already too large a congregation for such a church, we at once obtained permission to use a room in the Anglo-Vernacular school; and there we had our service every Sunday morning, until Mr. Shirt was taken ill.

Dispensary Work.—A fortnight after our arrival we were fortunate enough to find a house in one of the quieter bazaars, which made a comfortable home for Yakoob and Rahmat, and served at the same time as a small dispensary. We immediately began work on a small scale. We commenced each day with prayers in the dispensary, after which I sat down to the study of Persian and to see any patients who might find their way to us. The people were not long in finding us out.

Bazaar Preaching.—Preaching in the bazaars was begun by Mr. Shirt about the same time, and continued twice a week as long as Mr. Shirt had health and strength to do so. He was accompanied by Yakoob and myself, and it was always very interesting to me to listen to such a master of the art of bazaar-preaching, though I could then understand but little of what was said. His plan was to preach in Urdu on Tuesdays, and in Persian on Fridays.

A very short time only had elapsed before it became known, even in surrounding villages, that there was a padre sahib living in a tent who could even speak Brahui, and that there was a doctor sahib with him. Consequently, we began to find a few Natives, in good position amongst their own people, calling upon us, chiefly out of mere curiosity at first, but sometimes on account of some sickness. Our first visitor was one Sirdar Dost Mahomet, whose chief object in life seemed to be the obtaining of rifles, guns, and revolvers. But with whatever object our visitors came, Mr. Shirt always managed to turn the conversation in the right direction.

His last earthly Sabbath.

His last earthly Sabbath.—Sunday, June 13th, was Mr. Shirt's last earthly Sabbath. At his request we had Holy Communion in his room at mid-day, administered by the Rev. E. S. Hall, chaplain to the forces. It was a service which might well cheer the heart of the sick missionary, as the congregation included his last two converts at Sukkur, Yakoob and Rahmat, and a Mahratti Christian (Dwaharnath) who had recently come to Quetta. The other members of this little congregation of communicants were Capt. and Mrs. Candy, Mr. West, and myself. After the service was over, he remarked that he could not tell what was to be the end of his illness, but that he was content to leave himself in the hands of his Heavenly Father. He could only wish to recover for two reasons, "for the sake of the Lord's work in Quetta, and for the sake of the wife and children at home." "I hold not my life of any account, as dear unto myself." Acts xx. 24 (R.V.).

Conversion of a Persian Moslem.

Yakoob is a Persian, a native of Shiraz, and was formerly a devout Mussulman. Besides his native tongue he can talk Hindustani and Sindhi. He was first attracted by the Gospel of Christ through hearing Mr. Shirt preach in Sindhi in the bazaars of Sukkur. He has told me how he stood in the crowd and listened, and how he said within himself, "This is very good, and if it is true, I am far from the truth in following Mohammed." He took notice of the days and the parts of the bazaars which Mr. Shirt chose for preaching, so as to hear more of what he had to say, and then watching him home, so as to know where to find him, he came and placed himself under instruction.

Led to Christ through bazaar-preaching.

After a while, "full of joy," he brought his wife Rahmat to Mr. Shirt, and diligently read the Scriptures to her, and explained them so far as he could. She was a Mohammedan of Lahore. Within twenty-four hours of my arrival in Sukkur, I engaged him as my munshi, and began the study of Persian; and frequently, while reading with him the Persian Testament, I have been struck by his intimate knowledge of Scripture narrative and doctrine, and by the readiness with which he could turn to any passage he was thinking about. Last January I had the pleasure of seeing them both baptized by Mr. Shirt at Sukkur, and in March they came with us to Quetta. After Mr. Shirt's death, which poor Yakoob felt very much, I suggested that we should resume the bazaar-preaching, but found that he had never allowed it to drop. Whilst I had been nursing Mr. Shirt, he had been going to the bazaars twice a week all alone, and had preached alternately in Urdu and Persian. His heart was thoroughly in the work, as he could never forget that it was through bazaar-preaching that he himself was led to Christ. He would also take opportunities of going into the bazaars or the market in the evening, and get into conversation with one and another, and occasionally he would invite some one into his home in my dispensary, so that he might read the Scriptures to them, and perhaps compare the Scriptures with the Koran. This he was well able to do, having for years been a devout reader of the Koran.

"Infantile convulsions" of the Quetta Mission.

But as infants are often liable to "infantile convulsions," so it has been, Dr. Sutton remarks, with the infant Quetta Mission. First came the illness and death of Mr. Shirt, and then the faithful Yakoob was removed:—

Imagine my amazement when a warrant was one day put into my hands for the arrest of Yakoob as an old deserter! I immediately went with him before the cantonment magistrate, and found that he was accused, on his own confession, of deserting from the 1st Native Mountain Battery at Karachi. After questioning him about it, I found that he had been engaged as a schoolmaster and a pay-clerk in the battery at Poonah, Quetta, and in the Zob Valley expedition, and that afterwards he and others deserted from Karachi on account of the insults and ill-treatment which his wife and their wives received from the Havildar of the battery. It seems that after becoming a Christian, this was on his conscience, and that he voluntarily wrote to the Commander-in-Chief to ask for pardon, having first consulted Mr. Shirt; but neither he nor Mr. Shirt had ever said a word to me on the subject. At the suggestion of the station staff-officer, I wrote to the Commander-in-Chief of the Bombay Army, pointing out that Yakoob had never taken any oath or solemn affirmation to serve the colours, and that he had written the letter asking for pardon entirely of his own accord, although he might reasonably have supposed that he would never have been discovered if he had kept silent. Meanwhile Yakoob was kept under arrest in the quarter-guard of one of the Bombay Infantry regiments now here. I was kindly allowed the use of an adjoining vacant room, and was even allowed to take him there without any guard as often as I liked, so for three weeks I had my lessons in Persian there, and on Sundays we had our native service in the same place. At the end of that time the answer to my letter came that Yakoob was to be taken forthwith to Poonah for court-martial, and there he is at the present time in prison, undergoing his sentence of four months' imprisonment with hard labour. The immediate consequences were that I had to close my dispensary, I lost my bazaar-preacher, and I lost my munshi. Rahmat went down with him as far as Karachi, and shortly afterwards was engaged as an ayah by Mrs. Redman at Hydrabad, so that she is being well taken care of. He has been cheered in his prison by a visit from Captain and Mrs. Candy.

Importance of Quetta as a Mission station.

Dr. Sutton, and all who have visited Quetta, are deeply impressed with its importance as a Mission station. He says:—

Representatives of many peoples.

> Every time one goes into the bazaars or the fruit market one meets representatives of many peoples. Afghans of various tribes, Brahuis, Baluchis, Sindhis, and Punjabis are in great numbers. Conversation goes on around one in Pushtu, Brahui, Persian, Urdu, Sindhi, Punjabi, and other Indian languages, so that the eye and the ear are being constantly reminded how many nationalities are mixed together in this central point. If the seed of the Gospel is sown here, a great tree must grow, spreading out its branches in all directions, north, south, east, and west. It certainly looks like a truly great harvest waiting to be gathered in. With two such large places as Quetta and Mastung, and a great number of villages round about, I may surely say that "a great door and effectual is opened unto me."

SINDH.

The death of the Rev. George Shirt on June 16th, 1886, was deeply lamented by the Committee. In him the Society lost one of its ablest and most devoted missionaries, and the Punjab and Sindh a zealous and disinterested friend. He was a student at Islington College, and in 1866 joined the Western India and Sindh Mission. He took his B.A. degree at Cambridge in 1884, during his furlough, and proceeded, at the special request of the Committee, to Quetta in 1885 as leader of the new Mission. He arrived there on April 4th, 1886, and within two months was overtaken by the malady which so rapidly terminated in his death. Mr. Shirt's most important work was in Sindhi translations, of which language he had acquired a more thorough knowledge than any other missionary. He did the largest share in translating the whole of the New, and a large part of the Old Testament, also the Prayer Book, "The Pilgrim's Progress," &c. Very earnestly do the Committee sympathize with the widow and eight children of their departed friend.

Mr. Shirt's Sindhi translations.

KARACHI.

This prosperous commercial city has been occupied by the Revs. J. J. Bambridge and A. E. Ball; the latter has come home on furlough. Mr. Bambridge is apprehensive that the growing wealth of the place is a hindrance to the success of the missionary. All classes are well-to-do, poverty through necessity is almost unknown, and thus, too often, "the cares of the world and the deceitfulness of riches entering in choke the Word, and it becometh unfruitful." There has been one adult baptism; and of many disappointing inquirers, four intelligent English-speaking young men have persevered. Mr. Bambridge writes of them :—

Missionary success hindered by wealth.

> All these trace their impressions in favour of Christianity to the teaching they received as schoolboys. One of them, a very intelligent man, an old pupil of Mr. Sheldon's, told me that he had not been a real Hindu since he was ten years of age.

The English lectures which Mr. Bambridge planned to give, as mentioned in last year's Report, were delivered during the summer months in the Town Hall, on Sunday mornings at 8.30.

English Lectures to educated Natives.

> The subject of my first course was "Hinduism compared with Christianity," while the second course embraced "Some of the leading truths of the Christian Creed." My audience was never a very large one; but in my opinion always sufficiently encouraging for me to keep steadily on. In many instances I noticed the same faces Sunday after Sunday, and on more than one occasion, when, for some reason, a Sunday had passed by without a lecture, I was asked the reason why.

Mr. Bambridge explains the importance he attaches to this means of reaching the educated Natives, emphasizing at the same time the necessity of a missionary being thoroughly conversant with the vernacular, the religions, the character, manners and customs of the people. He says :—

My experience is, that in many of our large centres, as in Karachi, English is rapidly becoming the language of the higher and better educated classes. Such men we find will not deign to listen to the preaching of the Gospel in the vernacular, whilst numbers of them will gladly hear what the missionary has to say, if addressed in some public building in the English language. The upper classes of Indian society, through their contact and competition with Englishmen, are in many ways becoming rapidly Anglicized, though by no means Christianized. Christianity comes before them as a new religion, they hear and see much of it in a new language, in which very many theological expressions are happily shorn of those anti-Christian associations which, somehow or other, seem yet to cling to even our best equivalents and translations from the vernacular. Our holy religion also advances new claims, and it is my growing conviction that our educated classes will be mainly induced to listen to these claims, when brought before them through the medium of the English language, by public lectures, friendly discussions, and a specially prepared and selected literature.

Christianity a new religion.

The Literary Society for English-speaking Indian gentlemen, of which Mr. Bambridge is president, numbered 280 members at the end of its first year, in August last. The following are some of the lectures of the year, selected as typical of the subjects brought before the educated Natives, and as illustrative of the valuable help given by the European residents:—

Literary Society for Indian gentlemen;

"The Evils of Infant Marriage," Mr. P. A. Mistri, Head-master of the Government High School; "Evil," Mr. F. C. Constable, M.A., barrister-at-law; "Breathing and the Blood," Rev. F. B. Sandberg, M.A., chaplain; "Through Russia and Siberia," Mr. S. Grant, F.R.G.S.; "Temperance," Rev. W. Bowser, M.A.; "Peace," Mr. J. Polten, C.S., LL.D.; "Colour and Taste," Mr. H. Treppass, C.E.; "Reptiles," Rev. F. E. D. Cobbold, B.A., chaplain; "Coins, and what they teach us," Mr. E. Leggett; "My journey through Persia," Rev. G. Shirt, B.A.; "Air," Mr. J. T. Taylor, B.A.; "Pernicious Literature," Rev. A. E. Ball; "Historical Places in India," Captain Pelham Burn (Rifle Brigade), illustrated by the magic lantern. Captain Burn also gave a special lecture (illustrated) on the "Pilgrim's Progress," with an explanatory Gospel address, when the hall was well filled.

Subjects discussed.

The Bishop of Lahore, during his visit in August, delivered a lecture to over 800 in the Town Hall, on "The Life and Character of the Great Cyrus," the Commissioner being present and taking the chair. The Bishop was also present at two of Mr. Bambridge's "At Homes," the first for the Native Christian congregation, the second for the upper class Native gentry. Five young people were confirmed; and the Bishop gave an address on the Amritsar and U-Ganda Missions at the monthly meeting of the Church Missionary Union.

Lecture by Bishop French.

Confirmations.

In March Mr. Wigram spent three busy days at Karachi.

On the last of them, March 15th, he addressed a large and important gathering of English-speaking Indian gentlemen in the Town Hall. His entry in the Record book of the Mission of this meeting may be quoted :—

Mr. Wigram at Karachi.

My subject was, "Some impressions left on my mind by what I have seen during my five months' tour in India and Ceylon." The chair was taken by Mr. E. T. Candy, C.S., Judicial Commissioner in Sindh. The object of my tour having been the study of our missionary work, my "impressions" all bore more or less on that subject, and I spoke with great plainness, and was struck with the marked attention and courtesy of the audience. I congratulate Mr. Bambridge on the influence which he has evidently gained with many of the leading Indian gentlemen of the place. May it bear fruit in many of them being brought out on the Lord's side!

The relations of the missionaries with a goodly band of European residents is most satisfactory, and the interest elicited from them in our missionary work is indicated by the large amount of work carried on without any expense to the Society.

Evangelists and Sunday-schools.

The Rev. Bhola Nath Ghose, the Native pastor of the congregation, gives an encouraging report of his people and work. Two Native evangelists are located at Runchore Lines village. The Native Christians voluntarily do the teaching in two Sunday-schools, at which the aggregate average attendance is 136. An anonymous friend is getting printed 1000 copies each, in Sindhi and Gujerathi, of the 100 texts used in the schools of the Irish Church Missions.

Mr. Ball, who superintends the educational work, &c., says, "It is our boast that our schools draw nothing from home." He remarks on the disadvantage under which the High School labours, as compared with the opulent Government School.

I sometimes marvel that we do as well as we do. We make no secret of the fact that the great object of our education is conversion to Christianity, and none are exempt from religious instruction. We have here one of the best Government High Schools in the Presidency, well found in every way, with an excellent staff of teachers, and possessing all the prestige and affluence of a Government institution; whereas, we have to live from hand to mouth, and cannot pay our masters so well as we often should like. Our first assistant master, for instance, gets about the same stipend as the master of the lowest standard in the Government school.

Sales of books and tracts.

The work of book-selling at the book-shop, and by colporteurs, is also under Mr. Ball, and he reports a remarkable advance in this department during the past few years at Karachi. In 1882, 5662 books and tracts were sold; in 1886 the number was 17,873. The following is Mr. Ball's analysis of the sales :—

The sales in Karachi have been as follows:—In English, 645; in various vernaculars, 11,416. This number is made up in the vernacular of 13 Bibles, 40 New Testaments, 2190 portions of Scripture, and 8115 books and tracts; and in English of 90 Bibles, 47 New Testaments, 4 portions of Scripture, and 6316 books and tracts, including school-books.

A language analysis of the vernacular sales shows the following results:—Sindhi, 3685; Urdu, 1290; Gujerathi, 4396; Gurmukhi, 453; Hindi, 652; Marathi, 554; Tamil, 305; Persian, 4.

In addition to these, 1058 tracts were sold in the Runchore Lines book-shop. On the other hand the two colporteurs occasionally meet with opposition, especially from Mohammedans, who will purchase tracts and tear them to pieces on the spot.

HYDRABAD.

The Rev. J. Redman has laboured on in faith and hope, alone most of the year (the Rev. A. W. Cotton having gone to Sukkur), but since November the Rev. R. Heaton has resided at Hydrabad, while learning the language. Mr. Redman says:—

Unfruitful labours.

The past year has not been more fruitful in manifest results than its predecessors, and I often think that were it not for the assurance that the Master Himself called me and sent me here, I should feel that I was a cumberer and a failure and not fitted to be a missionary. We would take up the song of Habakkuk and say, "Although the fig-tree shall not blossom, neither fruit be in the vines, and though the fields shall yield no meat; yet I will rejoice in the Lord, I will joy in the God of my salvation; for the Lord God is my strength." And after all the barren field is no new experience for God's labourers. But we do long and pray for converts, perhaps a little selfishly sometimes, the good Lord knows: sometimes, too, one's heart almost fails and cries out with Rachel, "Give me children, or else I die." Still, thank God, we are not without marks and tokens of His love and favour. Still He is with us, and that is better than all besides. We have many blessings to thank our Heavenly Father for during the past year—blessings in our children and friends, blessings of health and home, and blessings, too, in our work; for though we cannot this year record any adult baptisms, yet we feel increasingly how great is our privilege in being allowed to be workers together with God and witnesses for Christ.

As year after year passes away, deeper and deeper grows the conviction that the only thing that can make the missionary's work a success is the pouring out of God's Spirit upon the missionary, and upon those whom he teaches and to whom he preaches. You will continually, I know, join with us in supplicating this blessing.

Most of the towns of any importance on the east side of the Indus were visited during the year, and more than 12,000 books were sold.

SUKKUR.

This was a favourite out-post station of Mr. Shirt's, and here he baptized in January, 1886, Yakoob, Dr. Sutton's Persian munshi, and his wife Rahmat. The Rev. A. W. Cotton has had charge of it, assisted by Abdul Masih, a Native reader. There have been three baptisms of adults during the year, and Mr. Cotton speaks of Frequent inquirers.

Increased interest, deeper sympathy, greater earnestness, more frequent inquiries, more regular visits, and a stronger desire to possess Christian books and acquire some knowledge of the great truths of our most holy religion.

Sukkur is a convenient centre from which to visit the whole of North Sindh, and the largest towns have been visited as a rule once a month. At Kohri, a town on the opposite side of the Indus, bazaar-preaching and book-selling have been carried on, generally once a week.

Examining the Koran, the Granth, and the Gospel.

A well-to-do Native gentleman in this town had bought the Koran, the Granth, and the Gospel. He said that he was seeking after truth, and was about to examine carefully these three books to see which was the true revelation from God. I believe he is still continuing the inquiry.

Larkana has been visited monthly. A Native Christian here is striving to lead others to Christ. Jacobabad and Shikurpur both visited monthly. At the latter place Mr. Cotton relates the following occurrence :—

"Come and tell me about your Saviour."

During last hot weather, when visiting this town alone, I was walking along the road. An old man passed me who was driving a bullock-cart. He called out to me, "Are you not a missionary?" I replied, "I am." He then said, "Come here, tell me something about your Prophet and Saviour, Jesus Christ." He stopped the bullock-cart, and I read and explained to him the Parable of the Prodigal Son. He told me his name, and asked me to get up into his cart and tell him more about the Christian religion. As it was late, and I had made another engagement, I was obliged to leave the old man. He promised to have the Gospels read to him very often.

How A.L.O.E.'s books are admired.

About two weeks ago, when walking through a narrow street in this town to visit a Native friend, a Sindhi schoolboy, about twelve years old, addressed me thus, "Sir, where are your books? A schoolmate of mine bought a Gospel of St. Luke from you a month ago. He has let me have it to read for a little time. But now I want one of my own. I have never before read such a good book. Do you know a lady called A.L.O.E.? Have you any more of her books? She writes very good stories for schoolboys. Her books are so interesting that I can't help spending my pocket-money in buying them. I hope she will write some more books in the same style. Now, sir, be sure you come to our school within a month; there are other boys besides myself who want to buy a Gospel, the Epistle to the Romans, and some of A.L.O.E.'s books."

BOMBAY.

The Rev. H. C. Squires has returned and resumed his former duties as Secretary of the Mission. The Rev. H. A. Bren had been transferred temporarily to Nasik, but was obliged in consequence of Mrs. Bren's health to come home, and Mr. J. Jackson has been sole superintendent of the Robert Money Institution. The Rev. J. G. Deimler has been obliged by ill-health to come to Europe; and the Rev. W. T. St. Clair Tisdall has succeeded to his work among the Mohammedans. The Rev. J. M. Macdonald, who went out in 1885, has worked in connection with the Girgaum Church. The Rev. Appaji Bapuji is the pastor of the Maráthi congregation.

Mr. Jackson reports an increased number of pupils in the Money School. This year it is 211, while last year it was

The Robert Money School.

175. This increase is due chiefly to a large accession of Brahmins, the number being 71, an increase of 30. They are distributed in the various classes as follows:—

Number of boys according to standards:—VII. standard class, 30 students; VI., 33; V., 37; IV., 55; III., 29; II., 14; I., 13. Total, 211.

From which it is plain that the strength of the school is in the upper classes. It is these classes of which Mr. Jackson says, "they take great interest in their Scripture lessons." Another Christian master has been added to the staff, a former inmate in the hostel, who matriculated from the school. His name is Dayárám K. Shinde, and he has given up his Government employment to engage in mission work.

Interest in Scripture lessons.

The Society has also a Girls' Boarding-School for Native Christian children, and a Vernacular and an Anglo-Vernacular girls' day-school for Christians and non-Christians. These schools trace back their origin by an unbroken continuity to one of the first schools for Native girls, established more than fifty years ago. They were founded, including the Money School, in 1836.

Girls' schools.

The Girgaum Church has an English congregation, but Mr. Macdonald, in addition to the work of visiting the European members of his flock, holding a weekly Bible-class for young men, a weekly gathering for prayer and Bible study of the Mission agents, meetings for the young, &c., has been able to do something among the educated Natives. He says:—

Work among educated Natives.

Some time ago some of our Zenana ladies made an effort to get the husbands and brothers of the women among whom they were working to come to a meeting to hear the Gospel message addressed by friends in Marathi, and this has resulted in a meeting held once a week, on Sunday evening after church, at which from seventy to one hundred have attended. As the majority of these are students and understand English, I thought it was an opportunity not to be lost of beginning a work for which I had been hoping. They seem very willing to listen, and I trust that this is but the beginning of a work which will grow and spread among them.

Work among Bombay Moslems.

In the Mohammedan Mission Mr. Deimler has been assisted by a catechist, Mohammed Husain; and also by Hakim Mirza Husain Effendi, whose work is among the Persian and Arab population. These number between 4000 and 5000, and he seeks to visit them in their houses, shops, and places of public resort. Mr. Deimler says of him:—

He is generally cheered in his work, but occasionally instances of repulse meet his message of peace. He is in the habit of furnishing me weekly with a copious Persian report of his work. I think we have good reason to expect the divine blessing, if not in immediate conversions, yet in the enlightenment of the minds of these people.

Mr. Deimler has endeavoured to correspond with Mussulmans whose acquaintance he has made, and with former converts now in other parts of India. He recently received an interesting account of a teacher whom he baptized ten years ago. He says:—

A staunch Moslem convert.

I received, only the other day, a letter from a Zenana worker, in which, referring to Sharifabai, she says, "Sharifabai does indeed confess Jesus Christ as her Redeemer wherever she is. The result is that she is not allowed to stay in one house for any length of time. My heart often aches for her, for Mohammedans are so cruel in their persecutions wherever their religion is concerned. I am sure that, but for the knowledge of our power in this station, Sharifabai would long ere this have been made away with. I have often tried to persuade her to come and live with us, but she steadily refuses, always hoping that her life and words may bring her children to the knowledge of Christ's love. Two of her daughters live in S——, and although she is not allowed to live with them, still she often has an opportunity of meeting them. In spite of all she has to suffer, her trust in God is perfect. I have never in my life met a more beautiful Christian character." Such are news of a convert which rejoice the heart.

NASIK.

The Rev. H. A. Bren was in charge of Nasik for six months (from May till December), when he was relieved by the return from England of the Rev. W. A. Roberts. The Rev. L. Maloba is the Native pastor at Sharanpur.

Mr. Roberts has sent a printed general report of the work. At Sharanpur the Normal Class for the training of teachers for the vernacular schools had six students last year, and began this year with ten. In the Poor Asylum, supported by European residents, there were nineteen inmates. Seventy-three children were in the Orphanage and Boarding School. The Farm, which usually is a source of pecuniary profit (but was not so last year), furnishes a healthy occupation for the children, and gives them some insight into the care that is necessary to procure a livelihood. The schools at Nasik, Camp Deolali, Igatpuri, Ekdara, and Yeola are well reported of.

Industrial and educational.

POONA AND JUNIR.

The Rev. Sorabji Kharsedji is the honorary Native missionary at Poona. The Committee have had the pleasure of an interview during the year with Mrs. Sorabji, who came to England at the invitation of I.F.N.S. & I.S. Her absence has been greatly felt in every part of the missionary work at Poona. Her husband says:—

The value of a Native clergyman's wife.

I feel as if I had lost my right hand. Often, when I have been in need of her wise counsel and prompt action, I have been forced to wait and hesitate. The mercy and wisdom of God in providing a help-meet for man never before came home to me so forcibly. I must take this opportunity of observing that my wife, who is still in England, speaks with heartfelt gratitude of the kindness and love shown to her by people in that Christian land. May He who does not forget even a cup of cold water given in the name of a disciple reward them a thousand-fold.

A Native minister's literary labours.

Mr. Sorabji's literary labours have exercised an influence among his former co-religionists. During the year he has published the second part of a work on "Comparison of Zoroastrianism and Christianity." He says of this :—

It was issued to the public in the month of May. It will be remembered that the first part of the work, "Zoroastrianism," was printed in the early part of November, 1885, and although I cannot tell whether any copy found its way out, through the workmen employed in the press, yet I was surprised to find that two lectures were delivered in Bombay, in April last, by a scholarly Parsî priest of Broach. In these he most enthusiastically rejects, on the same line of argument as my own, the writings of the Zend Avesta, with the exception of about seventeen sections called "Gathas" (hymns), which he declared to be the only production of Zoroaster, their great prophet. That these lectures were accepted and appreciated by the orthodox Parsîs is evident from their publication and free distribution among the whole community by their own religious Society, called "Ranumai Mazadiasnan." Our Parsî friends are now on the right track, and I have no doubt that if they continue their researches calmly and impartially they will find that their respected sage, though a great reformer, and worthy of honour for having kept the ancient Iranians from the debased idolatry into which their Aryan cousins, the Brahmins, fell, yet can lay no claim to be called a divinely commissioned prophet, since he lacked all those credentials which are accorded to a divine prophet, as shown in my little book. In fact, the learned editor of a most respectable and widely-circulated Guzrati newspaper, the Rast Goftar, in an able article of his issue of the 14th November last, only claims for his so-called prophet the dignity of a renowned reformer; and I have not denied the worthy sage this honour. But our Parsî friends do not consider that we men, as sinners, need more than a mere reformer—yea, more than a prophet—a saviour, or according to Isaiah's prophecy, copied in their own books, a "Soshyos"—one who would come and subdue all evil, and save mankind from their sins (vide Comparison of Zoroastrianism and Christianity, pages 192 and 193, where a full explanation of this prophecy is given). God grant that the Parsîs of the present day, like the Magi of old, may find the true "Soshyos," whom their forefathers of the Avasta age expected to come and restore all things.

Zoroastrianism and Christianity.

Baptisms.

Under God's blessing the year was begun by my admitting into the Church of Christ by baptism a girl of the Vani caste named Gangubai. She was baptized on the day of the Epiphany, after more than a year's instruction and probation. She was sent to us from Bombay by the Society's veteran missionary, the Rev. J. G. Deimler, and I am thankful to say that she continues steadfast, and is being trained for household work. As I was not able to write this report before the end of last year, I may mention also that I had the happiness of baptizing, on the 16th of January, a whole family, consisting of a man, his wife, their six daughters, and a grandson. The man had heard the Gospel preached for several years, but he did not think seriously on the subject till about two years ago, when he came to me and received regular instruction.

He is about fifty years of age, and, being lame—that is, having one of his legs amputated in boyhood, he lives partly by begging and partly by being employed as a ramosee (watchman). Four of his children attend our ragged school; they used to carry home the truth they were taught there to their mother who was opposed at first to her husband's wishing to accept this novel religion. However, God's mercy and power are not limited, so after a while she sought Christian teaching along with her husband; and thus the whole family was received into the Christian Church, after due preparation, on the date above mentioned.

MALEGAM.

The Rev. A. Manwaring has returned to Europe under medical advice. Since his departure the Rev. E. J. Jones has been residing at the station, while learning the language.

A painfully effective description of the work allotted to one missionary in this sadly undermanned Mission is supplied by Mr. Manwaring :—

A district of 10,000 square miles.

One minister of the Gospel, with six or eight Native catechists and Scripture-readers, scattered over an area of 10,000 square miles. He has one out-station 200 miles off, to get to which fifty-two miles by road must be travelled besides the railway journey; another out-station, in a different direction, 100 miles by road! and three others at shorter distances of thirty-two, twenty-four, and twenty-two miles by different roads. Why, the travelling alone requires a man of iron constitution. Besides this there is the work of ministering to the different congregations, Native and English; the superintendence of schools (in this district eight) with about 450 scholars: the odd missionary and Committee meetings to attend; street preaching; keeping the various accounts of the Mission; and the accounts of school-books and tracts sold, often involving a great deal of labour; and the other odd duties that arise, besides sometimes having to arrange and collect for new buildings, and to see that they are properly built.

Mr. Jones dwells upon the same fact, saying :—

One missionary among a million and a quarter.

In this district, with a population of about a million and a quarter, last year Mr. Manwaring was the only missionary itinerating, and he, through illness, could only do so part of the season; and now this year not a single itinerating missionary is working among these vast multitudes. If our friends at home knew how often the cry goes up from our lips, "Oh, for more men!" they would not rest, but plead until this Mission is more adequately manned.

On the other hand, the latter, in reviewing his first year of missionary work, says :—

One thing impressed me very much, and that was the amount of quiet work being done. Results are as yet against our Western India Mission, but seed is being sown in such a way that if we go on in a spirit of faith and hope we shall soon see great results.

"We shall soon see great results."

The children in our schools are having their minds permeated with Christian truths. An incident which occurred since I came here will show this. I was exhibiting by means of a magic lantern (kindly given by some Christian friend at Tettenhall Wood) some Scripture scenes to our Native Christians. Some pictures represented scenes in our Lord's life; others His parables. Some of the heathen boys from our school were present. They not only recognized the pictures, but were able in some instances to give a very minute account of them, and in some giving even the words of our Marathi Bible. Surely such work as this must tell, especially on a people who are fast losing their belief in their own religious system, and are looking up to anything connected with us as vastly superior to their own.

The Native Christians were gathered together at Christmas, and meetings for conference and edification were held for three days.

One of these days was devoted to our missionary meeting, a Sepoy, Guntputras, first telling the story of his conversion. Vishwasrao, who has just paid a visit to the American Mission at Ahmednagar to take unto himself a wife, told us "how they conduct their preaching in those districts." Then an old man, Shivaba, told us of his work among the villages, and Samuelras of his among the people of the railway junction at Manmad. Afterwards I told them (through an interpreter) of some of the work the C.M.S. is doing in other countries. In the evening Mr. Goray, our head-catechist, gave a lecture on "China," followed by a magic-lantern exhibition of Scripture and English scenes.

We all felt that our meetings had not been in vain, and determined that in the new year we would strive to serve our Master better. On New Year's Eve, unknown to me, the Native Christians gathered at the house of the catechist, and there, in a short service, reconsecrated themselves to the Master's service.

The Committee are thankful to notice the following remark in Mr. Jones' letter:—

A missionary rejoicing in his sphere.

Formerly my secret wish was that the Committee would not send me to India. Anywhere else I would have liked to have gone; but I seemed to have a dread of coming here: the work seemed of so difficult a nature. But now I heartily rejoice, and desire to be nowhere else, but in Western India.

AURUNGABAD.

The Rev. Ruttonji Nowroji is the Native pastor in charge of this station. From its commencement in 1860, Mr. Nowroji has been alone at Aurungabad, first as lay agent, and since 1870 as ordained pastor. So great has been the blessing upon his labours that he is constrained to ask for a large increase of Native helpers to enable him to instruct the increasing number of inquirers. "Out of a large number of candidates," he says, "I only baptized thirty-seven adults and thirty-nine children, the rest being still under instruction and probation." He proceeds :—

Bright signs of a large harvest.

Bright signs of a large harvest are everywhere visible, but the means at my disposal are lamentably inadequate; and I am at a loss to know what is the best course to adopt to meet the great want of this flourishing Mission.

I have upwards of 1100 Christians living in eighty villages in the Aurangabad district. Some of them are near each other, but many are at a considerable distance. These Christians are mostly poor, and are from the lowest classes of the Native community, with a sprinkling of the higher classes. The majority of them know not how to read or write, and, surrounded as they are by the heathen, whose influence is anything but wholesome, it is evident that they stand in need of constant teaching and supervision. With the exception of a few congregations who have the advantage of Christian teachers and preachers residing among them, the rest have only occasional visits paid to them. It would not, then, be wrong to say that they are like sheep without a shepherd.

The need of Native pastors.

I am convinced that it is our most imperative duty to meet their pressing want, and that without delay. Some of the larger congregations need ordained pastors; and these may be selected from among our experienced and faithful catechists. The Lord Bishop of Madras is willing to ordain faithful men of Christian piety who know their Bible well, without requiring them to go through the usual theological course of study; and as such men will minister to humble congregations, neither their stipend nor attainments need be far beyond the reach of their congregations. For village churches we need village pastors; but for city churches we may have a more competent ministry. For smaller congregations we need men who are able to read the word of God, and conduct divine worship. These men need not be highly educated, nor even up to the standard required of readers. Until the churches are able to provide for a superior class of teachers their present want will be supplied if I can give each congregation an earnest-minded teacher at a very small salary, such as those few I have already employed. I pay them a very small salary, so small that some of the congregations will, I hope, ere long undertake to pay it themselves. I need twenty-five such men, and if I obtain means for their support, say about 100 rupees per month, guaranteed for a few years, I shall be able to meet their pressing need. Besides teaching and looking after my scattered Christians they will prepare catechumens for baptism, and preach to the heathen at large. The work is rapidly increasing, and new congregations are fast springing up in every direction; and if we desire it to expand and grow, and become permanent, we must have a large staff of labourers for this Mission.

Mr. Wigram at Aurungabad.

Mr. Wigram visited Aurungabad in December. Mr. Edmund Wigram gives an account of the visit. He says :—

Tuesday, December 28th.—A night journey and rest at the station, and then at 4 a.m. start on the back-seat of a tonga, a kind of low, comfortable dog-cart drawn by a pair of ponies, and with an awning over it, and by mid-day the end of our fifty-four miles' drive, and well into the Nizam's territory.

Mr. Buttonji welcomed us on our entrance into Aurungabad, and his three daughters and three of his sons at his bungalow. The work here is very interesting. There are Christians now in some eighty or ninety villages, and, thank God, the work really seems to be prospering, and without any European missionary engaged in it. He much wants agents, though he has some besides those whom the Society supports. To these he gives just enough money to support them in clothing, while the Christians in whose districts they work provide them with food—a step towards self-support by a poor Church. The Christians are mostly from a low caste; but there are some formerly Khumbis or other still higher castes in the Mission.

A Native official's estimate of Native Christians.

If you look at the current Report [i.e. for 1885, 1886], p. 129, last paragraph, you will see the story of the baptism of some converts in face of a peremptory message from the Mohammedan head-official of the village that they should instantly be turned out if they were baptized. It also tells there how in answer to prayer this trial was averted. Now here is the sequel. The said Mohammedan presents his compliments to Mr. Ruttonji, and will he please come and baptize some more people—these Christians are making so much better villagers.

SOUTH INDIA MISSION.

MADRAS, commenced 1814; TINNEVELLY, 1820; TELUGU MISSION, 1841.

THE Society's South India Mission comprises the work (1) in Madras and neighbourhood; (2) in the Telugu country, and (3) in Tinnevelly. The Travancore and Cochin work, although also in South India, is a distinct Mission, as being in a different diocese; whereas these are under the Episcopal supervision of the Bishop of Madras, to whose fostering care and experienced counsels during an episcopate of twenty-five years, the progress and consolidation of the Native Church is greatly due. These Missions are administered by the Madras Corresponding Committee, the secretaryship of which has been resumed by the Rev. E. Sell, B.D., upon his return to Madras after a short visit to England.

I.—MADRAS.

Madras, 1814; Ootacamund, 1870.

The Rev. E. Sell, B.D., as stated above, is Secretary of the Corresponding Committee. The Revs. M. G. and H. D. Goldsmith continue to conduct the Mohammedan Mission, the latter also having charge of the Divinity School. Mrs. Vickers is engaged in Zenana work in the southern part of Black Town, and Mrs. H. D. Goldsmith is engaged in the Zenanas and schools. Urgent home duties have compelled Miss Goldsmith to return to England.

Bishop Gell's episcopate.

In November last Bishop Gell completed the twenty-fifth year of his episcopate. The Committee thank God for this signal instance of His goodness to the South India Mission in preserving His servant to watch and to guide with sympathy and with judgment the growing Native communities in his diocese. It was a happy circumstance that the visit of Mr. Wigram and his son to Madras synchronized with this event. On November 27th, the very date of Bishop Gell's consecration in 1861, his lordship had invited the clergy of Madras to meet Mr. Wigram at breakfast; and these took advantage of the opportunity to present an address of cordial and respectful congratulation, accompanied by a personal gift. In this address the Bishop was reminded of the progress of the Church in the diocese during his episcopate :—

Mr. Wigram at Madras;

Progress of the Church in Madras diocese;

When in 1863 your lordship delivered your primary charge, there were in the diocese 38 Native clergymen, 48,252 Native Christians, but now we can speak of 109,874 Native Christians, with 124 Native clergymen, and two Bishops, specially set apart for Mission work, at their head. In addition to this large increase in the Native work, in what is now the Madras diocese, we ought, for the purposes of a fair comparison of the present with the past, to add the Bishop of Travancore and Cochin with the 16 Native clergy and 18,206 Native Christians of that diocese, making a total of 3 Bishops, 140 Native clergy, and 128,080 Native Christians in a territory once entirely under your lordship's spiritual care. This large increase is full of promise, and leads us to look forward with hope to the time when the Church of India, self-supporting and self-governing, shall be a light to the Eastern world.

After replying to this address Bishop Gell introduced Mr. Wigram to his guests. He said,—

Mr. Wigram is a successor of one of the greatest benefactors to the Native Church in India and in many parts of the world—the Rev. Henry Venn,—the well known Secretary of the C.M.S. To him the credit is due of the organizations which now exist in the Native Church in India and in other parts of the world. It was he who planned the system of Church Councils and Church Committees. All who watch it see that it is effectual in promoting the corporate strength of the Native Church, leading all to be interested in their own Church affairs. It has tended not only to the promotion of external good, but to the promotion also of inward spirituality. In due time we shall see further work carried on, and the authorities are ready to hear of any improvements which might be deemed advisable. Having said these words I now introduce to you Mr. Venn's next successor but one—my friend at Cambridge, Mr. Wigram.

Addresses to Mr. Wigram;

Several addresses were presented to Mr. Wigram by various classes of Native Christians at Madras. One, however, was especially remarkable, as being not by Christians, but by two hundred Hindu gentlemen, residing at St. Thomas' Mount. These assembled in the C.M.S. Hindu Girls' School, the Bishop of Madras presiding; and after prayer (in English) by the chaplain, the Rev. W. W. Elwes, the following address was presented :—

A Non-Christian address to Bishop Gell and Mr. Wigram.

To the Right Rev. Frederick Gell, D.D., Lord Bishop of Madras, and Rev. F. E. Wigram, M.A., Hon. Secretary, Church Mission Society.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR LORDSHIP AND REV. SIR.—We, the inhabitants of St. Thomas' Mount, heartily welcoming you and your friends, beg to express our utmost joy to see you amongst us. We beg to say that we appreciate the benefits conferred upon us by the Church Mission Society and by its sister Missions working here. The Mission maintains schools for young girls and boys of this place, and takes care of the spiritual life of our Christian brethren here, which are entrusted to the charge of our ever beloved Rev. Mr. Satthianadhan, under whose care and management, with the sweet encouragement and co-operation of you all, more benefits we are sanguine will be conferred on us to bear fruitful results.

The Mission shows its kindness most patiently towards us by conferring on us benefits in various ways, even without our asking for them, and also by its self-sacrifice; and this kindness has taken its root in the soil where it is sown, and the present tribute of gratitude is its shoot, which will, we hope, grow by degrees into a big tree, yielding wholesome and sweet fruits. We beg to say that the Hindus, as a nation, are ever willing to cherish a sense of deep gratitude for the good that is conferred on them. Hence the kindness shown by the Mission in its various respects, over which you have the honour of having the benign control, is, and will ever be, gratefully and kindly remembered by us.

We therefore beg openly to express, on this important and rare event, our sense of deep gratitude to the Mission work, and to thank your lordship and you, rev. sir, for paying this kind visit to a people whose welfare is ever at your heart.

We, in the end, very humbly request that the Rev. Mr. Wigram may be pleased to convey our deep-felt gratitude and thanks to the disinterested body who are so much working at home with him for the benefit of the public all over the world, and also to her most gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress of India, who is the head of your holy and benign Church and the loving and gracious mother of us all.

Praying most devoutly for the long life and prosperity of your lordship, and of you, kind rev. sir, and other friends, and lastly of "our gracious Queen-Empress of India."

The Rev. W. T. Satthianádhan describes what followed :— Mr. Satthianádhan's account of the ceremony.

Mr. Wigram then addressed the audience. He thanked them heartily for their kind expressions of welcome, and spoke at some length of his own Christian experiences. He spoke in a most impressive manner about the influence which Christianity had in ennobling man's life, the high aims and aspirations which it was the means of putting before him in this world, and the assurance of the future glory which it gave to all its true professors.

Mr. Wigram's address was listened to with breathless attention by his large Hindu audience, and one and all were deeply impressed with the power and earnestness of his remarks. The Lord Bishop of Madras also spoke a few earnest words to the Hindu gentlemen present, and impressed on them the necessity of testing Christianity by reading one of the Gospels and seeing for themselves whether it is worthy of their acceptance.

Another Hindu gentleman, a Brahmin official, in proposing a vote of thanks, thanked Mr. Satthianadhan for having introduced them to the distinguished visitors, who evinced such great interest in their welfare.

Mr. Henry D. Goldsmith, in reporting on the Theological Class, corrects an error made in his Annual Letter of last year, which was quoted in the Report. He says :— Theological Class.

In my Letter I said (see page 133 Report) that "Mr. Subbarayudu is a matriculate, the first ordained man of that standing, I believe, in the C.M.S. Native Church in South India; while Mr. Peter is the first F.A. who has appeared as a candidate for ordination." I have since learnt that there were three matriculates besides Mr. Subbarayudu, and one F.A. besides Mr. D. Peter in the C.M.S. South Indian Mission, if we include Travancore, at the time I was writing. I have apologized to these brethren in person or by post, and trust they have pardoned my carelessness, and I now hope you will kindly do the same, and make note of this correction.

There have been five students during the year, viz. P. N. Devanayagam, who entered in April, 1884, and completed his three years' course in May last; the three recommended by the Palamcottah, North Tinnevelly, and Masulipatam Church Councils respectively, mentioned in last year's Report; and P. G. Simeon, B.A., who joined in July, 1886, having Students; given up Government employ in order to devote himself to the work of the ministry. G. H. Asirvatham, the student from Masulipatam, has carried off the second Bishop's Greek Testament prize in the Presidency during the year.

Their missionary spirit: bazaar-preaching.

The missionary spirit of the students is manifested by their daily intercession for the Missions mentioned in the Cycle of Prayer, and by their voluntarily undertaking bazaar-preaching. Of the latter, Mr. Goldsmith says:—

Bazaar-Preaching.—At Whitsuntide a remarkable movement was started in Madras by a Wesleyan missionary for simultaneous preaching in different quarters of the city. Many Native pastors and helpers took the matter up, and the result has been that some congregations—as Zion Church for instance, where our students attend the Sunday morning service—have set on foot organized preaching centres in the bazaars. It was holiday time, and I am thankful to say my pupils threw themselves heartily into the work, and two of them were appointed by the Rev. Mr. Satthianádhan as leaders of different centres. These open-air services have been kept up twice a week by them in the evenings, and those who live near here hold meetings in the "Thousand Lights" bazaar, about a quarter of a mile from this house. As this has all been quite voluntary on their part, it is really encouraging.

Subjects studied.

In the Greek Testament St. Matthew's Gospel, Acts xiv. to the end, Ephesians, 1 and 2 Timothy, and Titus. Westcott's Study of the Gospels has been used. In Church History, the first three centuries; in Pearson about 140 pages; Butler's Analogy, Part I.; Prayer-book with Barry; Articles with Browne (nearly the whole). In the Old Testament, besides general reading, 2 Samuel has been more carefully studied. Every Saturday a sermon is read by one of the students, which is open to criticism afterwards, and finally looked over and corrected by myself.

Harris School for Moslems.

The Harris School for Mohammedans, under the Rev. Malcolm G. Goldsmith, has still further increased its numbers. The year 1886 began with 86; by the end of November, when Mr. Goldsmith wrote, it was 130, of whom 126 were Mohammedans, two Hindus, one Roman Catholic, and one Protestant. Four of the boys passed the Madras University Matriculation Examination, of whom only one was a Mussulman, one was a Tamil Christian, and two were Hindus.

Mr. Goldsmith continues the preaching at the rice-shop on the Triplicane road, rented since April, 1884, when the patwa (edict) which reduced the number of boys in the Harris School to twelve, also led to the expulsion of the missionaries from the Gospel Hall by the landlord. In the controversies which are inevitable in Mohammedan work, Mr.

Goldsmith has introduced a new method to prevent aimless obstruction :— Prevention of aimless obstruction.

For frivolous opponents we have introduced the use of a register, in which to enter their questions (and sometimes their signatures), and the answers given to them. This keeps matters to the point, prevents foolish reiterations of objections, and is handy for reference.

The bazaar-preaching is not always pleasant or encouraging, but is manifestly the only way for reaching most of the people. Our experience here is, that two or three resolute opponents present themselves day after day for months together. A great advantage of their coming is that they insure a good large audience. They have a fair knowledge of the Gospel, and of controverted passages. We do not despair of their being conquered by the truth in due time. They have, on a few occasions, called on us at this school on Sundays, and engaged in discussion here.

Masih Dyal, the police-constable referred to by Mr. Henry Goldsmith in the Annual Report for 1885 (page 143), as an instance of what a tract may do, has been removed from the police, where the rules prevented his doing much for Christ, and appointed as an evangelist. Both the brothers speak highly of his help in their evangelistic work among the Hindustani-speaking Mohammedans. Being a Rajput by birth, he knows Hindustani fairly well, and can also read and write in Tamil and Telugu. Mr. Malcolm Goldsmith says :— A Policeman becomes a Preacher.

His cheerful earnestness is very effective, and he loses no opportunities for speaking for his Master.

And his brother says :—

I have not met a man who seems better fitted for this kind of work. He is very patient and amiable and clear in his grasp of the truth, which he puts forth in a persuasive and gentle way. He has to bear many an insult which would try the temper, if not the faith, of one less spiritually taught.

Mr. M. G. Goldsmith mentions the baptism of two converts, one of whom was sent from Cuddalore, the other handed over by the Salvation Army :— Baptism of Moslem youths.

Baptisms.—On January 14th, a Mohammedan boy, of the Tamil-speaking Labbe (or—as he is more strictly—of a branch called the Kailan) class, was sent here from Cuddalore by Miss P. M. Reade. His name was Sait Mohammed, and his age nineteen years. He proved to be an earnest inquirer, and, after due testing, was baptized by immersion in a picturesque, and in every way suitable tank in my brother's compound, on April 12th, in the presence of several Christian friends and a few Mohammedans. He was given the name of Abdul Haqq (servant of Him who is the Truth).

On February 14th, a young Mohammedan, who originally came out in the Salvation Army, and having been handed over to us by them, has since been employed in various ways, was baptized in Zion Church by the name of Abdur Rahman Masihi. He subsequently left his secular employment for direct Christian work under the Salvation Army in Guzerat. Having become dissatisfied with them, he has been in Bombay with missionaries there. He has given good proof of sincerity, but, like many others, is not easily provided for with employment.

During the holidays, which are contemporaneous with the Mohammedan celebrations of the Ramazan and Muharram, viz. in June and October, Mr. M. Goldsmith visited Mysore, at the invitation of the missionaries of the Wesleyan and London Missionary Societies. He says :—

C.M.S. help invited by other Missions.

The other missionary societies, to whom the other parts of the presidency have been assigned for Hindu work, receive a Hindustani missionary to the Mohammedans (especially if he belongs to the C.M.S.!) with great cordiality. They are unable to take up more than the Hindu part of their fields, which is large enough; and they most hospitably help in every way any one who comes to the Mohammedans. The Bangalore (United) Conference made a resolution to invite the C.M.S. permanently to occupy the Mohammedan part of their district, but I have not heard whether this reached Salisbury Square.

English services.

The two brothers are jointly responsible for the English Sunday services at Trinity Chapel, and have also at 11 a.m. on Sundays, a service in Hindustani for paupers, at which between 200 and 300 generally attend.

Mrs. Vickers, assisted by a Bible-woman, supported by C.M.S. friends in Australia, labours to make the Gospel known to the women in the southern part of Black Town. She writes :—

Work among women.

In only one case as yet have I found even a slight knowledge here of Christian doctrine or practices.

It is difficult to say whether Christianity is making much way or not; those who can look back twenty or thirty years say it is, and the one or two recent conversions have caused less stir than one did some years ago.

An adult convert has been received into the Church, Subama, aged fifty-six, the mother and aunt of several Mission agents, who had given up hope of her conversion. There are two schools, one in Pulicat, the other in Coromandale.

Work among educated Hindus.

Work among the Educated Hindus is carried on by the Rev. Samuel John, who is brother of Mrs. Satthianadan, and of the Rev. Jesudasen John, of Palamcottah. His knowledge of the vernaculars, Tamil, Telugu, and Hindustani, opens for him a wide field for usefulness, and gives "a pleasing variety to his work among Hindus." He is thus able to converse with every individual he sees in the public roads, streets, and lanes in the city, the court-house, mercantile and Government offices, and various institutions, and to all he presents "a printed paper in his own language, containing suitable words of admonition." He makes some interesting observations as usual on the religious attitude of the various classes of Natives:—

Religious attitude of educated Hindus.

The striking characteristic of the non-English-speaking classes is that they seem to know more of their own religion than the English-speaking people. As a matter of fact, they endeavour to acquaint themselves with the teaching of the Vedas, Shastras, and Puranas, and attach themselves with greater tenacity to the various ritual and ceremonial practices enjoined by the same. The learned amongst them indulge in speculations of antiquated character, and look upon them as solid truths. In one word, the imaginary and delusive theories and speculations of the ancient (Rishis) of India are regarded by them as paramount authorities for all the incongruous, inconsistent, absurd, and in some cases persistently sinful practices of the nation. While some firmly hold that the Jivatma (the human soul) is one with the Paramatma (the Divine soul), thus annihilating the distinction between right and wrong, others positively assert that they are two distinct entities, that the miseries to which human beings are subject are the effects of the sins committed by them in their former births. In contradistinction to these two classes, I do not infrequently come across men who, while holding the distinction between the Jivatma and Paramatma, restrict it to certain conditions, and that the residence of the soul in the flesh is sin, and therefore, to get rid of sin is to get rid of existence. Generally speaking, Hinduism as it manifests itself among the non-English-speaking masses of this great city, is a religion which has Pantheism for its basis, though there is a verbal acknowledgment of Theism, and from this fountain proceed all manner of unmeaning, useless, and, in some cases, positively injurious practices under the semblance of religion.

While this is the state of things among the uneducated classes, the religious character of the so-called educated Hindus presents an aspect no less erroneous than it is indefinite and unsatisfactory. Certainly a very large portion of them still adhere to the popular views and superstitious practices, and by way of endorsing them continue to wear the religious marks on their foreheads. Of course, the marks worn by educated men are not like those perpendicular and horizontal lines which run parallel to each other, consisting three in number, but assume the form of a round spot, made of sandal-wood powder, or of any other mixture. There are some men who appear to be totally indifferent in regard to religious things, their motto being, "Let us eat and drink, for to-morrow we die." Others, as I have frequently noticed in my annual reports, drink deeply of the impure and unwholesome waters of the eastern and western infidelity and atheism, continue to style themselves materialists, sceptics, secularists, theosophists, &c. The religious position, therefore, of the so-called educated Hindus is more diversified and more shattered than that of their uneducated brethren. Comparatively speaking, the uneducated classes have at least a semblance of religion, while the educated classes have none whatever. Brahminism, if it be strictly examined and the practices and proceedings of its adherents carefully watched, will be found to be from beginning to end a mere mimicry of Christianity.

Mr. John's time and labours have been specially devoted to the Hindu population residing in Black Town; making visits to their houses in the mornings, and holding meetings in English and the vernacular in the evenings. For the latter purpose a preaching-hall has been opened during the year in one of the public streets of Black Town, which accommodates seventy persons. Mr. Edmund Wigram gives the following account of a visit paid to this hall by his father and himself:—

A preaching-hall opened.

> This preaching-hall is right in the midst of the Native part of Madras, where there really are streets—otherwise Madras is a huge straggling place, miles long, and our drives were of considerable length altogether. As the hall opens on the street, anybody can drop in, and they get it about full night after night, perhaps 100 men, very ready to argue if they are allowed to, which of course won't always do, as argument alone is no good. Our drive through these Native streets was very interesting, and then it was certainly surprising in a quarter like this to be told, "You may speak to them in English, they will all understand you." So we did, speaking to about fifty men, as it was a little early in the evening for the place to be filled.

The Native Church Council.

The four clergymen under the Native Church Council are the same as last year, viz. the Rev. W. T. Satthianádhan, Chairman of the Council, and Pastor of Zion Church, Chintadrepettah; the Rev. S. Paul, Pastor of Black Town and Royapuram; the Rev. T. Ephraim, who labours twenty-five miles to the north of Madras, at Pulicat; and the Rev. D. A. Peter, B.A., who is stationed thirteen miles to the south-west, at Punamalli. Mr. Satthianádhan's Annual Letter gives an interesting account of Mr. Wigram's visit.

The fishermen at Pulicat.

At Pulicat, the Rev. J. Ephraim has been permitted to see signs of improvement in his congregation of fishermen:—

> They are now learning to give at least a trifle of their earnings to their pastor. This act of doing, I believe and earnestly hope, will lead them to help the Church in future. They attend very regularly the church and the Lord's Table. They are to be praised for their improved decency and regularity. Some of them are very strict to those who neglect divine service, and shun those who continue in sin from their community—neither speak to them nor entertain them into their quarters. Some are very anxious to bring their Roman Catholic relatives and heathen friends to the church and to the prayer-meetings. Thus our church services and prayer-meetings are well attended.

OOTACAMUND.

Ootacamund.

The Rev. M. Nallathambi is the Native pastor who ministers to the Tamil Christians of the Church of England at Ootacamund and Coonoor, and on the Wy-naad plateau. The expenses of this Mission continue to be borne partly by the contributions of the Native Christians, and partly by subscriptions of English residents and visitors, as mentioned last year. No report has been received.

II.—TELUGU MISSION.

The Telugu Mission comprises Masulipatam, 1841; Ellore, 1854; Bêzwâda, 1858; Koi Mission (Dummagûdem), 1860; Râghavapuram, 1872; Amalapuram, 1876.

THE Committee are thankful to have been able to send an instalment of the reinforcements so urgently needed by this Mission. The Rev. J. Stone has returned, leaving Mrs. Stone in England, for a few months only it is hoped, to complete the recovery of her health. The Committee's hope is that Mr. Stone will devote himself to systematic itinerating work, with a special view to reaching the higher classes of Hindu society. The Revs. C. W. A. Clarke and E. T. Pegg have been added to the staff, the former to take charge of the Noble High School.

Deaths of the Rev. Manchala Ratnam and the Rev. D. Stephen.

On the other hand, the Committee have to mourn the loss by death of two Native clergymen, the Rev. Manchala Ratnam, the superintending pastor of the Masulipatam district, who died November 11th, 1886; and the Rev. Domatatti Stephen, the pastor of Raghavapuram, who died from the effects of a snake-bite, on January 12th. The latter read the address of the Native Christians to Mr. Wigram when he visited Raghavapuram, on December 11th, and was comforted by his sympathy on the recent loss of his wife. The former was the first Brahmin convert of Robert Noble. Baptized in 1852, he was ordained deacon in 1864 and priest in 1866, and after fulfilling several educational and pastoral cures with marked ability and success, he was placed, in 1880, in the arduous position of pastor in charge of the Masulipatam district. He was also chairman of the District Church Council, and secretary of the Provincial Church Council. He had thorough command of English and was very acceptable as a preacher to Europeans. He was a good scholar in the vernacular Telugu and Sanscrit, was acquainted with Hindustani and Tamil, had some knowledge of Greek and Latin, and a slight knowledge of Hebrew. As a translator his linguistic accomplishments gave him great power, and he rendered most valuable assistance in the revision of the Telugu Bible and Prayer-book. "That God may be magnified in our bodies whether by life or by death"—these were his last intelligible words, spoken in prayer at the weekly prayer-meeting of the Mission agents at Masulipatam; he was suddenly seized by a fit, and was called "from the footstool to the throne," as the Rev. J. E. Padfield has written. In the Masulipatam churchyard his mortal remains add one more to a sacred group. There lie Robert Noble and Edward Sharkey side by side, and Mrs. Sharkey and their adopted daughter; and there also lies Ainála Bhushanam, and now Manchala Ratnam. May the Lord indeed be glorified by His servant's death, as He was by his life.

Mr. Padfield's Telugu commentary.

The Rev. J. E. Padfield has completed the second volume of a Telugu commentary on the New Testament. The Madras Christian College Magazine, a Native publication printed in English, says, "Mr. Padfield cannot be too highly commended. He has resisted the temptation to follow the difficult pedantic Sanscritic style found in Telugu books, and has given us book comparatively simple in its vocabulary and clear in its style."

MASULIPATAM.

The Noble High School.

The Rev. C. W. A. Clarke has been appointed to the charge of the Noble High School. The Rev. W. G. Peel, who has conducted it most efficiently since the Rev. E. N. Hodge's departure to Ceylon, expresses much thankfulness for the appointment.

Mr. Peel reports a successful educational year. Eleven passed the middle school examination, fourteen (two in the first class) the matriculation, and two the F.A. Two boys who declared themselves disciples of Christ have been removed from the College; one entrapped by his relatives to prevent his baptism, the other to have a Hindu burial, but, Mr. Peel believes, "a Christian welcome beyond the grave." The former was M. S——, a boy in the Senior F.A. Mr. Peel was "quite taken aback" by his wish to be baptized. "He was the very last boy I should have expected to make such a request." But after a patient and careful examination by Mr. Peel, Ratnam Garu, and others, it was felt that his contrition was sincere.

A convert entrapped.

A great stir was made in Guntur, and very subtle plans were laid to secure the person of the youth. During one interview, M. S. said, "Not friends, not 10,000 pieces of gold, will separate me from Christ." I was encouraged. M. S. also telegraphed to Guntur: "Professed Christianity: no change." In the afternoon of the eventful day a youth came with a lie on his lips, saying that a friend was at the gate of the compound, eagerly desiring to speak to M. S. I said, "Let the friend come in." "He will not come, he is too orthodox," was the reply. "Then I will go and see him, and tell you what he says," I said. "No," said S., "I will go." He went. There was no friend at the gate. "He is just a little higher up the road," said the lying friend. "S., do not go outside the gate," I pleaded; "you will no longer be under my protection." "Yes, I will; I can trust my friend," S. replied. So he went outside. No visitor was in sight. "He is in a house hard by," urged the friend. So it went on, until S. was persuaded to enter a house and was separated from me and from my protection. Every kind of promise was made to S. that he should be allowed to return to me. I waited about an hour at the open door. The man who wished so much to see S. never turned up. With sickening disgust I realized once more the horrible depth of perfidy which the Hindu heart and mind can be guilty of. I felt quite certain that the whole thing was a hoax, and that no one was waiting to see S. From that evening I have not seen S. He is watched in Guntur. If the change of heart be the work of the Holy Spirit, liars and relatives will not be able to stay God's work.

Of the latter Mr. Peel says :—

Just before Mr. Wigram arrived, a very dear boy, Darbha Surayza, who had been a pupil in the school from his earliest years, was taken ill. He managed to crawl to school in order to hear Mr. Wigram's address. It was his last effort. Hearing that he was growing weaker, Mr. Clarke and I visited him. He plainly confessed, in the presence of his elder brothers, that he had no faith in Hinduism, and that he was trusting in Christ for salvation. The next day, with Anantam Garu, I visited him again. He said he was trusting in Jesus. I begged him to let me take him to my house in order to nurse him, but he murmured, "My mother!—I can't go." I had not the heart to say more. Had he had more strength I would have urged him strongly to come and be baptized; but the poor boy was struggling with his enemy—death. In a few hours dear Surayza passed away. Thus died one of our brightest boys. He took a distinguished place in the first class in the Matriculation Examination, 1885, and was one of the most intellectual boys in the F.A. Junior. He was foremost in the games, and exceptionally diligent and sharp as a student. Death of a young convert.

The Rev. E. T. Pegg has taken charge of the Training Institution.

The Rev. J. Stone has taken temporary charge of the Masulipatam district, which the Rev. M. Ratnam worked before his death.

BEZWADA AND ELLORE.

The Rev. F. W. N. Alexander continues in charge of both these districts. Mr. Martin Browne and the Rev. G. Krishnayya carry on the Ellore High School; and the Rev. Samuel Vores, a Tamil clergyman, has a pastorate in the Ellore district, of whom Mr. Alexander says :—

Mr. Samuel Vores takes nearly one-half of the Ellore district off my hands. He has zealously spent his time travelling among the congregations, and I am very much indebted to him for the help he has given me.

Baptisms in Ellore district.

In the ELLORE district there have been 256 baptisms, 116 being adults, the largest number recorded, the average for the last five years having been 162. Three new villages have been occupied, and one re-occupied, and several others are pressing for Christian instruction. "There seems," Mr. Alexander says, "a general movement towards us in villages round Ellore." The following examples are given:—

Progression.

A new village, begun since my return to India, has given us over forty baptisms at one time. These converts were cruelly treated by the landlord of their village, but they stood firm, and by God's blessing they prospered, notwithstanding their trials; and now they feel free and happy as the servants of Jesus their Lord.

A "fruitful mother of spiritual children."

Nayedagudeim, one of the older congregations that gave us so many new Christians last year, has still continued the fruitful mother of spiritual children, and this year again we had many baptisms there. In one of our northern circles twelve young men who are Chucklers, have combined to enter the Christian fold. Three of them have had the courage of their convictions and are now Christians. The rest are kept back by heathen masters, who threaten to deprive them of bread if they leave off worshipping idols. An old man and his aged wife with two grown-up sons were also baptized, and in our farthest northern station, thirty-seven miles from Ellore and quite close to the Nizam's border, seven people were baptized before the year closed. These are the tokens of our triumph, and by them the Gospel is spread on every side.

The High School for Boys.

In the High School Mr. Browne reports 300 boys. At the prize distribution in February last the Bishop of Madras was in the chair, and there were present—

The Collector, Mr. L. C. Miller; the Judge of the Subordinate Court, Mr. Ranga Aier (a Brahman of the highest sect); the European residents, and, with very few exceptions, all the leading gentlemen of the Hindu and Mohammedan community to the number of nearly three hundred—so that the spacious room was quite crowded.

A token of gratitude from an old pupil.

Mr. V. L. Narasimham, a leading pleader of the town, and an old pupil of the Noble College, sent unsolicited a contribution of Rs. 10 to the prize fund, with a letter, in which he said, "I send this as a token of my deep gratitude to the Church Missionary Society, to which I and all my family owe our present prosperity." The Judge, Mr. Ranga Aier, during the meeting made a speech, in the course of which he said, "In the name of the public of this town, I beg leave to offer my best thanks to the Church Missionary Society, who have very generously opened and maintained an institution so beneficial and so instructive to hundreds of children of all classes in this town." He was kind enough to close his speech with some highly complimentary remarks on the management of the school. In his speech from the chair, the Bishop expressed much pleasure in listening to the encouraging remarks of the Judge, and contrasted this with what he had seen in former days when our missionaries were but coldly received by the people. A number of Hindus and Mussulmans received prizes for Scripture knowledge. Mr. James Andrews, a former collector of the town, contributed several prizes to the school, in which he used to take and still takes much interest, though now stationed in a distant part of the country.

Mr. Browne adds:—

The results of the systematic study of God's Word from day to day in all our classes, is, we know, working a great change in the character of many of our students, and I am happy to say that I can name some who are of the best among the boys in every sense, who know indeed the truth as it is in Jesus, though as yet, from causes chiefly concerning their age, the truth has not made them free.

Exercise of discipline.

In the BEZWADA district it has been found necessary to exercise a severe discipline. Nine persons have been excommunicated for immorality and apostasy, and 43 catechumens have had their names struck off for non-attendance at Divine service and other causes; while 46 persons have been temporarily suspended from attendance at the Holy Communion. Notwithstanding these measures, there has been a net increase of 52 adherents, and of 79 baptized Christians, though the number of communicants is 16 less than last year. There has been most encouragement among the Chucklers, of which caste 21 were baptized in Manikonda and five in Nepalli. Mr. Alexander relates the following interesting story, the early events of which have been reported before:—

Encouragement among the Chucklers.

In the famine of 1878-79 a Christian of Chuckler origin left Guntur, which is on the other side of the Krishna and belongs to the American Lutherans. Driven by famine, this man wandered on till he found refuge and support in a village within the Nizam's border, twenty miles north of our farthest congregation. There he married a heathen wife: she and his mother-in-law became true converts. This influence extended from the Chucklers to the Malas, and when an evangelist passed that way he found a number of willing converts: a school was established by Mr. Harrison, and I have had the privilege of baptizing the first-fruits. The man's wife, two old women over seventy years old (one a Chuckler the other a Mala), and several more were baptized; and there we have a light shining in a dark place far within the Nizam's borders. A faithful evangelist is stationed there in charge of the little flock and making known Christ to the villages round.

How the work spreads.

The Rev. Kandavalli Peter has been removed to the Bezwada district. Mr. Alexander says of him:—

I have much cause to be thankful for Mr. Peter's help. He is most faithful, laborious, and efficient in ministerial and visitorial duties, and I have the greatest trust in his ability and faithfulness.

Bishop Sargent continues with unabated love and interest to foster and to lead the Native Church which he has ministered to for more than fifty years. In December last he sent to the Tinnevelly congregations a circular describing the cruel trials to which the Christians of Uganda had been exposed, and suggesting that part of the offertories for Christmas Day should be sent to Uganda. The response to this appeal was most hearty, and 80*l.* was contributed. An exceedingly interesting and touching letter was written by the Rev. Jesudasen John, Pastor of Palamcottah, to the Uganda converts, of which only the opening and closing paragraphs can be quoted here :—

DEARLY BELOVED IN THE LORD,—The Christian brethren in Tinnevelly have heard with the deepest concern the trials through which Christ's infant Church in U-Ganda has been called to pass.

I am a convert of the third generation in India. My grandfather was brought to the knowledge of the truth in the year 1761. So it is now one hundred and twenty-five years since my family were called from heathen darkness to the blessed light and privileges of the Gospel of Christ.

There are now above 100,000 Protestant converts in this province of Tinnevelly, wherein, with many other helpers, I have been labouring as Christ's servant for above forty years. But as we look back on the past, our Church lacks the bright crown which so justly belongs to your Church, as martyrs for the faith in a loving Saviour, whose Gospel reached you only so short a time ago, and whom having not seen you have loved even unto death. We wish you, dear Christian brethren, to feel assured of our sympathy with you in your severe trials, for "when one member suffers all the members suffer with it." We gladly send our little assistance through the Committee of the Church Missionary Society to help you as they shall think best.

In conclusion, our earnest prayer for you all is that "the Lord Jesus Christ Himself and God, even our Father, which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and good hope through grace, may comfort your hearts and stablish you in every good word and work."

With every feeling of esteem and love in the name of all the Christian brethren in Tinnevelly,

I am, your faithful brother in the Lord,

JESUDASEN JOHN,

Pastor of Palmacottah.

RAGHAVAPURAM.

Losses by death.

The Rev. J. B. Panes has had many losses and many gains at Raghavapuram during the past year, which he says "has been a memorable one in our Mission." Sickness and death have been busy. The Native pastor's death (the Rev. D. Stephen) has been mentioned. That was in December. In November Mr. Panes lost his own little son, three days old; then the Native pastor's wife; then the wife of an evangelist; after that, a bright, promising Christian boarding-girl, besides many others. On the other hand, there has been marked and steady progress in the various branches of the work. The Christian adherents have increased from 1761 to 2054. There have been 68 adult baptisms. The contributions of Native Christians have considerably increased; the amount raised in the year was Rs. 817. Mr. Panes gives four subjects for thanksgiving.

Four subjects for thanksgiving: 1. Extension;

1. Extension, both internal and external:—

While thankfully adding new villages to our list, we have also been glad to see the work developing in places where the Gospel has been preached for years. In Râghavapuram itself and other villages in the pastorate, inquirers are still coming forward. Thus in the pastorate, twenty-five adults have been baptized during the year. In Lingâlapett, eight miles distant, in the Kanchichacherla Circle, some years ago a number of persons through fear of persecution, relapsed into heathenism. In the beginning of the year they all returned, manifesting much sorrow for their past unfaithfulness, and each one giving a small thankoffering upon the occasion of their commencing anew to serve the Lord. Since then, several of their heathen neighbours have been baptized after due preparation, and now there is a goodly number of inquirers in the surrounding hamlets.

Through the aid of a special grant for extension work, we were able to place an evangelist in Proddutûru (the village mentioned in last report) some nine months ago. His work there and in the immediate neighbourhood has been owned and blessed of God. While able to establish the inquirers, instructing them more fully in the way of the Lord, he has also been a true evangelist to the heathen. In Râmapuram, a few miles distant, four families—twenty-six persons in all—have just placed themselves under instruction.

In December a village named Kalakudem, containing twenty-nine inquirers, and Mâmunûru, containing twenty-four, were wholly unoccupied. An old evangelist, stationed in Bandypalem, in charge of a congregation, asked me to come and see inquirers in two villages in which he had preached. I did so, and found seventy poor Madiga people anxious to be instructed, and this at a time when some Christians of their own class had been attempting to raise caste difficulties.

2. Increased interest;

2. Increased interest manifested by the heathen:—

This year many more small books, tracts, and portions of the Bible have been sold than we have known formerly. The Bible Society have just appointed a colporteur for our district. A heathen village munsiff (i.e. the chief village authority) is zealously learning to read from one of our Christian teachers, and whenever I see him freely converses upon the doctrines of Christianity. In September, in a distant place, I sold a copy of the four Gospels, and several other books to a Mohammedan, and at the same time had a long conversation with him. I found him most open to conviction, and greatly interested in the histories of Abraham, Joseph, and other old Testament characters. On Saturday and Sunday he stood outside our prayer-house and listened to the prayers and teaching which was given, and he himself afterwards gave me some help in urging the people to send their children to school. May God graciously open his heart that he may receive Christ as his Saviour.

3. Mr. Wigram's visit;

3. Mr. Wigram's visit:—

Situated as we are, they had to take a long and difficult journey to get to Râghavapuram. Hence, we all thought it exceedingly kind of them to come so far and spend three days in our station (on December 11th, 12th, and 13th). All our agents (except two, prevented by sickness) and a great number of the district people came in to meet them. They were welcomed by our people at a special meeting held in the church on Saturday evening, when the Native pastor, the Rev. D. Stephen, presented an address on behalf of the Native Church. Mr. Wigram answered the various points brought forward, and made some practical remarks on Matt. v. 13, 16. On Sunday morning there was a large congregation of more than 500 people, of whom about 100 partook of the Holy Communion. Mr. Wigram's address, which was founded on St. John's 1st Epistle iv. 16, was listened to with great attention. In the afternoon, Mr. Wigram, Jun., visited and addressed the Sunday-school, and later on nineteen persons, adults and infants, were baptized at the evening service, when quite 600 people were present. Mr. W. again addressed them on Isaiah xl. 28—31. It was a day which will not soon be forgotten in the history of the Râghavapuram Mission. With the large congregations we realized the value of the spacious church more fully than we have ever done before. Monday was spent in visiting the schools, and in special intercourse with the agents. One incident must be mentioned. The village munsiff, of whom we have spoken above, came to see our English visitors, and he, entirely at his own suggestion, bought an English Bible, and presented it to Mr. Wigram, expressing the hope that Mr. Wigram and his son would thereby remember him when they were far away from Râghavapuram.

4. Special services.

4. Special services held at end of the year:—

As the year drew to a close we could not help feeling how many solemn calls God had given us during the past few months. So we arranged to hold special services with our Râghavapuram people during the last week of December, to draw out, if possible, some spiritual response to God's calls, and to urge upon our people more fully the claims of the Master. We were able to carry out our plans, and were greatly helped by Anantam Garu, a Christian brother from Masulipatam, who works in the Noble College, and had come to spend part of his holidays with us. His appeals for a closer walk with God, and for more thorough consecration to His service, struck home to the hearts of many of those present. The harvest had just begun, so many were busy in the fields; but upon the whole the attendances were good. On New Year's morning, after the regular service and New Year's address, many stayed behind for a special prayer-meeting, to offer thanks for past mercies, and solemnly dedicate themselves to the Lord anew.

DUMMAGUDEM.

The Rev. J. Cain reports a year of "decided progress." The Rev. I. V. Razu has continued his faithful services.

A long missionary tour.

Mr. and Mrs. Cain took a long missionary tour early in 1886, travelling more than 300 miles, and yet he says, "We did not once visit any villages out of the circle which includes Christians connected with the Dummagudem district." The motive for this journey and the results of it are thus given :—

The outlying work in the Malkanagiri Taluq, and the earnest desire for baptism on the part of the mother of the (then) solitary Christian in the Rampa Taluq necessitated this long, hard tour, over rough hilly country, where no English lady had ever been before, and perhaps may never visit again, at all events for some time to come. We were expected, but when we arrived in Pullangi, in Rampa, the women were terribly disappointed when they saw my wife, as they concluded from the sight of her riding habit and sun-helmet that she must be an English lad in attendance on me!

Villagers surprised at seeing an English lady.

The work in the Malkanagiri Taluq is under the superintendence of the Tinnevelly catechist, M. Gnanasigamani Pillai, who now resides at Pode, the largest and healthiest village in that taluq. It lies on the western side of the taluq, three days' march from most of the villages containing Christians, but ill-health of the whole family compelled us to choose that village, and it enables him to evangelize in non-Christian parts. He visits the six villages containing Christians very frequently, and as there are always one or more in each of these villages who can read, it is not difficult for him to arrange for their Christian instruction with the help of the New Testament and the Telugu adaptation of Steps to Truth. Lingayya, the first convert, is a Walter Jones agent at Bejjikavada, and S. Yonah occupies Chitrakonda, teaching the school there, and building up the Christians in the faith.

I had the privilege of baptizing twenty-eight adults, and twenty children in those parts, so that now there are more than seventy Christians there, where less than four years ago there was not one. The work is of a more indigenous character than any other part of the district, and we pray earnestly that it may continue so, although it will be very difficult to keep it so, and yet provide for the faithful building up of the people. "The sight at Chitrakonda was one we are not likely soon to forget. At mid-day on Sunday we found our school shed far too small, so we assembled under the neighbouring tamarind-trees, a goodly assembly for that small village, eighty-five present, not including ourselves or a number of lookers-on, who stood farther off watching the scene. The candidates sat in rows, family by family, and I cannot describe the thrill of pleasure we felt, when all around the responses in the service were taken up, even by a group of women and girls, none of whom were Christians, or even catechumens."

Amongst those baptized were Lingayya's cousin and his son, from the far-off village of Korakonda, who had obtained most of their knowledge of Scripture truth from the New Testament itself, and a small catechism I compiled for the district. A young girl of thirteen was fully prepared and earnestly entreated for baptism, but I hesitated at first, as her mother is still a heathen, although a regular attendant at prayers, and promised that her child should never be asked to do anything contrary to Christ's teaching. All the leading Christians urged me to comply with the girl's request, and gave such good testimony as to her conduct, that I could no longer refuse, and called her to me. So she came tremblingly forward and meekly kneeling down in the presence of all the congregation was admitted into the visible Church of Christ. One incident shows how the truth had laid hold of some of them. On our way to Chitrakonda we halted at a village, and three women came up and told us they were "praying people" and were going to be baptized. My wife showed them a picture of the Crucifixion, and an old woman instantly exclaimed, "O Jesus, to think that Thou shouldst have borne all that for our sins: how we should love Thee!" A man and wife at Bejjikavada, stern opponents of Christianity, were baptized, having been won over to the truth by the loving conduct and earnest prayers of their sweet little daughter.

"O Jesus, how we should love Thee."

We opened a promising village school at Pode, but the master has just died of dropsy, the complaint which has carried off more of our useful agents than any other. Another young man is about to set off in a few days to carry on the school, but we are terribly short-handed. To reach Pullangi, in Rampa, before Sunday, we had to climb over a hill, marked 3946 feet above the sea-level. The single catechumen at Pullangi, was Baleshudu's mother, a very old, white-haired, vigorous woman, who was intensely grieved when her son became a Christian. Baleshudu's only child, a little motherless girl, ten years old, learned eagerly from her father, and used to beg her grandmother to listen to the good words, but apparently all in vain. On one occasion when Baleshudu was away, the child became very ill, and when about to die pleaded again with her grandmother, "Oh! grandmother, I am going to die, but I am going to Jesus; you must come too." Thus the old woman's heart was softened; she listened to her son's teaching, and when we arrived we found that she was well prepared for baptism. Baleshudu has since married a Christian girl from our boarding-school, and his nephew (who read for a year in our Dummagudem boys' school) has married another, and although there are some things which have disappointed us, we know that they are faithful witnesses for Christ wherever they go. The two latter brought us last week a paper drawn up carefully, showing us where they had preached, the number present on the several occasions, and the subject of their preaching. The young wife does her share of the preaching, and her husband remarked to Mrs. Cain, "They will always listen well when a woman preaches." When we were there, we were well received, and were thankful to learn that most of them knew something of the Gospel story, and one intelligent man remarked, "Ah, if we did not have to leave off so many things and live such pure lives in your religion many of us would join."

A little child shall lead them.

In the medical work, the help of Miss Graham, of the C.E.Z.M.S., is greatly valued.

Mr. Wigram was not able to include Dummagudem in his hurried tour, but he wrote a letter to the Christians, to compensate in some degree for his inability to visit them. Mr. Cain says:—

Letter of Mr. Wigram to Dummagudem Christians.

His kind affectionate letter was translated and printed, so as to be in the hands of the majority of the Christians on Christmas morning, and Razu Garu used that letter as the text of his discourse on that great day of the year, to most of our Christians.

III. TINNEVELLY.

The Mission is divided into ten districts, each with a Church Council, viz. 1, Palamcótta; 2, Dohnavúr; 3, Suviséshapuram; 4, Mengnánapuram; 5, Paneivílei; 6, Pannikulam; 7, Nallúr; 8, Surandei; 9, Vageikulam; 10, Strivilliputtur; the last two being in North Tinnevelly.

The staff has not undergone any change during the year. The Revs. T. Walker and A. K. Finnimore, who went out last year, have resided at Palamcottah, while studying the language. Mr. Edwin Keyworth has conducted the Training Institution and the High School, and the Rev. V. W. Harcourt the Sarah Tucker Training Institution. The Rev. Henry Schaffter has had the College at Tinnevelly town; and Mrs and Miss Thomas have continued their labours at the Eliot Tuxford School. The Ven. Archdeacon J. Caley, of the Travancore Mission, is in temporary charge of the North Tinnevelly district.

The Committee thankfully draw attention to Mr. Walker's happy sense of the privilege of his new work.

I should like to express my thankfulness for the privilege which has thus fallen to my lot. There is no shadow of regret as I look back. The fears entertained about my health have hitherto proved groundless, and I have been quite as robust in India as I was in England. This may be an encouragement to other young clergy at home, whose friends at present hold them back on the score of risk to health. Then, again, I have found in the mission-field a very real "communion of saints." I shall always thank God for bringing me to Palamcotta, into the midst of a little company of devoted missionaries. For the example set before me by Bishop Sargent and by the other missionaries, both of the C.M.S. and C.E.Z.M.S., I owe Him a deep debt of gratitude. To me, coming from a warm centre of Christian love and unity in England, this has been no trifling boon. I ought to say that Bishop Sargent has been like a father to me, and his advice and kindness have been invaluable.

One thing more it is only just to say. I never had any special wish to come to India; China, or some other modern field, with its romantic surroundings, had more attraction for me, but now I can see the wisdom of the choice of those in whose hands I placed myself for guidance. To come to India as a missionary means to love India and to desire to win it for the Master. Romance aside, I am sure that it is well for young clergymen like myself to place themselves unreservedly in the hands of those who know best the needs of the foreign field. I can only say, looking back, that it has been good for my own soul that I am as I am, and where I am, and that I can recommend the King's Foreign Service (though it be but barrack-service, like mine at present) to the Junior Clergy Union at home.

Mr. Walker and Mr. Finnimore were called upon soon after their arrival by a deputation of influential Native Native deputation to new missionaries.

Christians, who welcomed them very warmly in view of their destined work to evangelize the high-class Hindus, and suggested to them the desirability of giving English lectures without delay. This they have done. Mr. Finnimore's subjects (Mr. Walker's are not mentioned) were, "The Free Agency of Man;" "Virtue the path Nature intended man to tread;" "Individual and national excellence." Mr. Walker has had a Sunday-afternoon class of high-caste heathen youths, numbering from twenty to fifty; and has visited heathen gentlemen in their own homes in the early mornings during part of the year. He says:—

> One sees, by such interviews, how thoroughly educated men are losing faith in Hinduism, and coming to the belief that God is One, a Spirit who must be worshipped "in spirit and in truth."

The Training Institution.

Mr. Keyworth sends a cheerful report of his first year at the Training Institution. He feels it a great privilege to have a school in which all the staff and students are Christians. He has been much cheered when on his friendly rounds, by "finding two or three students praying together in secluded places or reading the Bible, writing their thoughts on texts, or copying the discourses of pastors, and studying other Christian literature, often without any views for examination."

A busy missionary.

Mr. Harcourt, since Mr. Kember's return home, has had his already onerous work increased by the care of the Palamcottah High School, and the management of the Bible Society, Tract Society, and the Christian Vernacular Education Society, as well as the Secretaryship of the Tinnevelly Conference. The Committee thank God with him that health and strength have been given for such a multiplicity of cares and engagements. His own proper work comprises the charge of the Sarah Tucker Institution, with 160 pupils, five boarding-schools, with 150 pupils, and 45 caste branch schools, with 1150 pupils. These last named belong to the most respectable families, nearly one hundred being Brahmins. Of one of these 45 schools, which he had just visited, Mr Harcourt says:—

> I will tell of one particularly interesting Brahmin Girls' School, with forty pupils, the most graceful, dear little things you can imagine—rich Brahmins' children. The wonder is that we can get them to a Mission school where the Bible is faithfully taught. And the girls are not mere children where it does not matter what they learn, as they may soon forget it; but the girls in the higher classes, the fourth and fifth standards, are thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, and sixteen years old; and now I have made one of the oldest of them a monitress, with a small pay. The school-mistress, a true Christian widow, asked me to close the school with prayer after they had sung a Christian lyric, "Praise Jesus." At the end of my prayer the girls themselves began the Lord's Prayer, and recited the whole of it, and then I gave the blessing, and the children lowered their hands from their eyes. Any one who knows what caste is in India, and the Brahminical caste, and of the seclusion of high-caste women, will marvel at this account; but it is strictly true. One of the elder girls gave me a prettily-worked woollen doily as a memento. We use also Bishop Caldwell's nice little Tamil Catechism, with the clearest Evangelical doctrine in it, and it is treasured up in the memories of these dear children, and no doubt finds a way to their heart when God's Holy Spirit visits them in time of trial and serious inquiry. I have no doubt that many of our children, though not received into Christ's outward and visible Church by baptism, are incorporated with His hidden spiritual Church by a true faith in Him.

High School.

Mr. Schaffter mentions an event of the year at the High School, Tinnevelly Town, which has encouraged and cheered him:—

Baptism of a Brahmin undergraduate.

Last year I baptized, in June, a Brahmin undergraduate of the College, and he had to be sent away to Madras to escape from the persecutions of his relations. After six months, spent under the kind care of Mr. Satthianadhan, he came back and joined the College, hoping all trouble was at an end; what was our sorrow when, in two months, he suddenly disappeared, no one knew where. Several weeks of anxious suspense followed, and then we heard he was shut up in his home, and no one was allowed to hold communication with him; but prayer was made for him for the next four months. It was a season of much trial for us; how much more for him. Many sneering remarks were made, that I took no notice of, among my Brahmin boys; but they all showed their intense interest by travelling to his home, and seeing for themselves how he stood the ordeal; in fact, the only news we could get of the young man for four months was through these Brahmin fellow-students of his, for none others were admitted into the street where he was confined. It caused no small stir among the whole Brahmin community, and to hear the plans made to draw him back made us faithless ones tremble. Many are too bad to mention; but imagine the strain to the young convert's faith, when a Christian of high caste, who had been a catechist of another Society, was brought to him and advised him to yield to the present storm, pray to Christ in the heart, and put on the sacred thread and marks, just to please his parents! After four months of literal incarceration, the young man, who was wonderfully preserved, escaped, and has come back to me, and is again reading in the College, where he is a mighty testimony by word and life to the power of the Saviour.

A Native pastor of forty-two years' standing.

The Rev. D. Gnanamuttu, Native pastor in the Nallur division, has retired from his pastoral charge in the sixty-ninth year of his age, and the forty-second of his services in connection with the Society and the Native Church.

Archdeacon Caley reached North Tinnevelly in the last week of December. He, with Mrs. Caley, immediately started on a tour of the whole district, intending to spend a week at each pastorate.

TRAVANCORE AND COCHIN MISSION.

Allepie, 1816; Cottayam, 1817; Cochin, 1817; Mavelikára, 1839 Trichur, 1842; Pallam, 1845; Tiruwella, 1849; Kunnankulam, 1854 Arrian Mission, 1855; Alwaye Itinerancy, 1881.

THE Committee greatly regret that they have not been able to strengthen this Mission during the past year. In consequence of Archdeacon Caley's absence, by the Committee's request, in Madras and in North Tinnevelly for the greater part of the year, the important Cambridge Nicholson Institution has been without a European missionary. The Revs. J. H. Bishop, W. J. Richards, A. F. Painter, and C. A. Neve, together with Mrs. and Miss Baker, have been the only Europeans labouring under Bishop Speechly in his large and populous diocese. Mr. Bishop, moreover, has come home in feeble health; indeed upon his arrival in England he had a severe recurrence of fever, and was received for nearly a month into the London Hospital. The Committee hope to send out a University man for the Cambridge Nicholson Institution in the autumn.

The Cambridge Nicholson Institution

The Bishop and several of the brethren make grateful mention of the kind influence in behalf of the work, and liberal support to it, of the recently-appointed Dewan, or Prime Minister, of Travancore, T. Rama Row, Esq. He is a Mahratta Brahmin, and is brother-in-law of Sir Madava Row, the well-known Indian statesman. He was educated at the London Mission School in South Travancore. He was absent from Cottayam when Mr. Wigram and his son reached it on November 13th, but he sent his carriage and ponies to convey them from the landing-place, and offered it for the whole of their stay. He returned home purposely to see Mr. Wigram.

Support of the Prime Minister of Travancore

The Bishop has kindly forwarded to the Committee the reports made to him by the Native pastors of the TRAVANCORE PASTORATES.

Travancore Pastorates.

There are fourteen pastorates, under two Native Church Councils. The NORTHERN or COTTAYAM COUNCIL comprises the pastorates of Cochin (town), Cottayam, Pallam, Arpukara, Changanachery, and Olesha.

The Rev. K. Kuruwella, at Cochin, presented thirty-seven candidates for confirmation. A special mission was held in September, when the missioners were the Revs. Isaac Row and J. H. Bishop, and Mr. Lackshmana Rao, a Brahmin convert from Mysore. As a result a Prayer Union with twenty members has been started, and prayer-meetings are held twice a week, "when the Bible is read and explained by some of the young men in turn, and extempore prayer offered." A Prayer Union.

Archdeacon Koshi is at Cottayam. He made his first visitation of his archdeaconry in January, 1886, and was everywhere received with marks of respect and affection. Six weeks were spent in the tour. He is also engaged very busily on the revision of the Malayalim New Testament, as the following Resolution of the Madras Auxiliary Bible Society witnesses :— First visitation of Archdeacon Koshi. Translational work

"Notes are to be invited from all able judges by the four bodies represented in the Revision Committee. As far as possible the chief delegate of each body collects the opinions of his friends and sends them to Mr. Koshi. It is proposed to go through the four Gospels and Acts at the next meeting. To this purpose, all the notes ought to be in Mr. Koshi's hands by the 1st of May. Mr. Koshi arranges them, gets them printed and circulated in small interleaved tracts, one on each portion. . . . These are to go out as they are finished—the last not later than by the 1st of October, 1886."

He has not yet, however, received the assistance he so greatly needs in his pastoral work.

The Rev. J. Chandy, pastor of Pallam, laments the low spiritual tone of his flock.

In the Changanachery Pastorate there are five congregations within a radius of eight miles of the central station. The members are most of them either Pulayars or Eastern slaves. Of one congregation the Rev. Kiti Jaco reports, "Notwithstanding extreme poverty they have assisted in erecting a residence for a teacher." And of another, "The people shine as beacon lights in the midst of paddy-fields among the heathen around." "The people shine as beacon lights."

The pastorates of the SOUTHERN or MAVELIKARA COUNCIL are, Mavelikara, Kannit, Talawadi, Putupalli, Kattanam, Koduwalanyi, Mallapalli, and Elantur.

On Trinity Sunday, Mr. J. K. Joseph (Native) was ordained deacon by Bishop Speechly in Mavelikara Church, which was the first ordination ever held there. Mr. Joseph is the brother of the Rev. K. Kuruwella, of Cochin, and, with Archdeacon Koshi, they make three pastors contributed by the parish of Márámanna, once the scene of Malpun Abraham's labours for the enlightenment and reform of his Syrian brethren, in which he was much aided by the missionaries of the Society. First ordination in Mavelikara Church.

On Trinity Tuesday the clergy of the Mavelikara Church

"The Pastor in his home."

Council assembled and were addressed by Archdeacon Koshi on "The Pastor in his Home." The Bishop says:—

> Very excellent were his remarks under the following heads:—(1) His spiritual life; (2) The improvement of his mind; (3) Disdaining to take offence at little things, and forbearing; (4) Cleanliness in person; (5) A student in God's Word; (6) Much in prayer. Afterwards several of the clergy arose, and made some appropriate remarks on the subject.

"The Pastor in his Pastorate."

In the afternoon we again met, when the Rev. J. Chandy gave an address on "The Pastor in his Pastorate," and touched on—(1) Preaching; (2) Catechizing; (3) Sunday-schools; (4) Visiting all alike, seeking for fellow-helpers, who must first be converted: the sick must first be visited, then others; (5) Preaching to the heathen. Remarks were again made by some of the clergy. The meetings were much appreciated, and to me it was a very pleasant time.

On the following Thursday sixty-eight were confirmed.

The church at Mavelikara.

At Mavelikara the Rev. Oomen Mamen is the pastor. The pastorate contains 190 houses distributed in six villages; besides which there are four out-stations, one of Chogans, three of Pulayars; the latter, though very poor bring liberal offerings to church. Mr. Mamen enumerates heathen gentlemen whom he has visited:—

Visits to heathen gentlemen.

> A Zilla judge, a moonsiff, the tasildars, the police inspectors, the masters of the Sircar, English and Malayalam Schools, the princes of the Special English School and the rajahs, the uncles and other near relations of H.H. the Ranee of Travancore. One rajah I visited regularly in his illness, and was requested to pray for him, which I did, and on his recovery he expressed his satisfaction for my visits and exhortations. On some Sunday evenings my wife and daughters, accompanied by a few schoolboys, visited the judge's mother and niece, who welcomed them to their houses and listened to the boys' singing, &c., with much interest. They have no prejudice to read Christian books which I have given them.

Singing at a judge's house.

Wanted—a collecting box.

The Rev. A. J. Jacob, of Kannit, says, "There was no charity-box in the church, so that the people always made complaints for it;" one was accordingly presented by a member of the congregation.

At Putupalli the pastor is the Rev. E. Varkki John, who also superintends the Kathanam Pastorate; in the two, five stations are included. At Putupalli there are some fifty families, who are divided into four prayer-meetings:—

Monthly prayer-meetings.

> The members of each party meet every month in turn in one of the houses, where I read a portion of Scripture, give exposition about its contents, and pray with the men assembled. Also the collection for the Native Church Fund being over, we partake of the coffee or rice, if there be any, prepared by the owner of the house, and part one with another.

There was a difficulty in getting the women to attend the Saturday meetings in church, as most of them are traders in coarse sugar. Mr. John tells us how it was overcome:—

Rice offerings by women.

I myself, or one of the agents, go round and visit the houses on the day preceding these Saturdays and remind them of the meeting. I am glad to say that this has had a good effect. We meet in the church for prayer; after a little teaching and prayer the rice offerings, which they bring either in the church pots or in any other vessels, are measured in their presence and collected. Each woman carries to the house of the Lord what she kept in the pot given her by the pastor for that purpose. The chief members of congregation thought it was a dishonour for their wives to do this. But I persuaded all of them except some three or four who are still shrinking, to come and take these pots. I made my wife to do it. I told them, if necessary, I can send her with this pot to any one of the houses if they make their wives meet there for this purpose, and not to the house of the Lord only. There is no dishonour whatever in this. The Mankuri women gave me this idea; I saw them doing this at the first day on my going to Mankuri, after my taking charge of this pastorate. This was a beautiful sight to me. One by one the women came in with brass pots or baskets, with rice in them, on Sundays to the church. Only those who love the Lord, His house, His ministers, His Word, and His people, can continue to be very regular and punctual in these things.

At one of the out-stations, Bessiepuram, they are trying to finish the chancel of the new church; the estimate for the stone-work is some 300 rupees:—

Church-building: help in kind.

I have only some 200 and odd in hand: however I have commenced. About 5000 stones are cut and brought for building, people are helping me very much. They brought some ten boats full of sand without receiving any hire, and they have agreed to carry some 3000 stones gratuitously. These works have saved some thirty rupees. They are all poor, and we cannot expect much from them.

Mr. John's concluding words are of special importance, and in his prayer the Committee are assured many will unite:—

Need for Native individual effort.

Christianity is preached in all the principal temples and markets in these days. Hindus know now that we have such a custom, still there are people among the Christians who think that it is the duty of the pastor and the reader to speak to the heathen and not theirs, and that was the manner hitherto. Now this must be changed, our people must have fresh ideas about the work, they are not to imitate the Syrians around. To convince our people of their reponsibility, a Mission is to be held in each of the pastorates. We can do greater things in Travancore if we have unity, if we have the mind to meet troubles, if we love the Lord Jesus more, and if we help one another in our works. Travancore and her people have some peculiarities. May God grant special gifts to all the workers in this field so that His kingdom be strengthened and established everywhere by them!

The work at COTTAYAM directly depending on the Society consists of the College, the Cambridge Nicholson Institution, and a Girls' School.

The Cottayam College.

The special object of the College is the social, moral, and religious improvement of the Syrian community, and, through them, the evangelization of the heathen. More than half the students are Syrian Christians, and only 34 out of 320 are Hindus. The Rev. C. A. Neve, the Principal, reports that eleven boys passed the Matriculation of the Madras University, with one exception a larger number than any previous year. There were forty-two boys confirmed during the past year, most of whom Archdeacon Koshi prepared. Mr. Neve has promoted the organization of a "C.M.S. College Association of Voluntary Church Workers," the members of which met Mr. Wigram and his son at a social gathering. The objects of the Association are:—

College Association of Church Workers.

(i.) To promote the spiritual life of the members, by mutual prayer, intercourse, and study of the Scriptures. (ii.) To extend the kingdom of Christ by personally labouring in some one or other of the branches of Christian work carried on by the Association. The branches of work are—(i.) Teaching in Sunday-schools. (ii.) Open-air preaching and house-to-house visitation. (iii.) Distribution of tracts. Besides which certain meetings were arranged to be held for the mutual benefit of the members, for reading the Scriptures and prayer.

Cambridge Nicholson Institution

At the Cambridge Nicholson Institution for training Native agents, the number of students at the end of 1886 was only sixteen, three training for catechists, and thirteen for schoolmasters, less by eight or nine than it is built to accommodate, and less than it has had for several years.

The Girls' School, under Mrs. Baker, was visited by Mr. Wigram. Mr. E. Wigram says:—

Mrs. Baker's Girls' Schools.

In 1818, Mr. Baker, one of the missionaries, was joined by a young bride, who founded a school for girls. We visited her—still very fairly young as to spirits, I should say—and her school before tiffin, and found her most enthusiastic about the girls and their work. Mrs. Baker is eighty-four years old now, and has a son, Mr. Samuel Baker, living with her, who now superintends the Cottayam C.M. Press. He was born the last time she visited England, in 1833! Another girls' school we visited is looked after by her grand-daughter, Miss Baker, whose mother—widow of the Rev. Henry Baker, another old C.M.S. Travancore missionary—and sister live with her. So they are a regular Travancore missionary family, with old Mrs. Baker still looking after her girls' school which she founded over sixty years ago, and through which several generations of girls must have passed, grand-daughters, great grand-daughters—and I don't know what more distant descendants may not be possible—of former pupils, as early marriages have been the rule. The girls, both in this school and in her grand-daughter's, are all Christians, with no exceptions as far as I can remember: in the latter school, about an equal number of Protestants and Syrians.

A Travancore missionary family.

A request for prayer.

She says, "I need your prayers, and remember my dear old school and me at the throne of grace."

No report of the Alwaye Itinerancy has been received, owing to Archdeacon Caley's absence.

Mr. Richards sends an interesting account of his second year at ALLEPIE. A special mercy of the year has been the unexpected recovery of his own little son, aged six:—

The doctors and the trained nurse had given him up, but prayer was being made of the Church unto God for him. I sent post-cards daily throughout the weeks of his illness to our missionary friends, to the Bishop his godfather, and to Trichur and Cottayam, and God raised him up. A young Englishman, who by God's grace had through my words been turned from infidelity and shameless blasphemy (as he himself told me and all Alleppey knows) to believe in and trust in Jesus as his God and Saviour, took his turn at watching by our sick boy's bed as gentle as a woman.

An English convert's gratitude.

A copy of the Mizan ul Haqq was sent to Mr. Richards, and this is what became of it:—

I received it on March 11th, and in company with a sympathizing European friend went and delivered it to the Arabi Koya or Khoja, a native of Mecca, and holding credentials from the Sultans of Turkey and Jeddah, and also special honours from the Government of Travancore. He had heard of the book before and received it with the greatest reverence, putting it on his head and saying, "Very good, very good; my best salaams." Since then he has been reading it very carefully, for when I went with Mr. Wellesley Bailey, of the Mission to Lepers, to pay the Koya a visit, I asked to see it, and he produced both the Mizan ul Haqq and the Bible in Arabic. The former was full of markers in various places. On my first giving him the volume he insisted on my there and then cutting the pages for him. It is difficult to talk with him freely, for he has a Malayalam Mussulman always about him, who seems to be a sort of spy upon him. Pray for him. I told him once of the conversion of Furkatullah by reading the Mizan ul Haqq.

Mohammedan reception of a Mizan ul Haqq.

Four adults were baptized on Whit-Sunday at Punnappra, four and a half miles south of Allepie, from the slave caste.

Baptism of slave-caste adults.

The following narrative from the lips of the chief candidate from Koyikeri is very interesting:—"Account of what took place at Warakunnam Hill: I, Arakatara Wallawan, of Koyikeri, was one of those who arrived at this hill for harvesting. Those who came set up four camps, of which the Christians occupied three and the heathen one. Being then a heathen, I took up my quarters with these. The dew was very heavy and the weather excessively cold [at night], so, copying the example of the Hill people, we made a large fire and lay down, each one resting his head in his 'puttili' (a hood, made of plaited reeds, used sometimes as a head-covering and sometimes as a bag for holding dry grain, &c.). Owing to the comfort of the fire we soon fell asleep. I felt a pain on the outside of my ear, got up sharp, lit the fire, and made a search to know what was the cause of it. Under the puttili I found a 'tawitta' snake a foot long or so, having four legs on each side, tail and head pointed. I was hesitating what to do, those experienced telling me the impossibility of reaching the sorcerer's house (to extract the poison), and I well knew that the road was full of wild elephants, tigers, and other evil beasts. In this state of uncertainty, by the advice of the people—the Christians—in the other camp, we all agreed to fall down on our faces and give worship to that Almighty who has authority over all poison. On this, one of the Christians produced a copy of the Gospel, that great medicine, and he having read a small part, prayer was made, after which, in a marvellous way, I became well. In consequence thereof I resolved to become a Christian." So far Wallawan's account. He certainly showed at the time all the fatal signs of snake-bite, vomiting blood and so forth, but I cannot account for his saying the reptile had eight legs, unless it were a tarantula such as I killed a few days ago, over seven inches across, and perfectly capable of causing much suffering. Wallawan's new name is Joseph, "adding."

In some of the congregations the poverty and distress are very great. The slave converts, when work fails, as it does for a certain period every year, can only live by involving themselves in debt. Yet it is of one of these that Mr. Richards tells the following touching history:—

Healed at baptism.

A poor man of Punnappra congregation has been a cripple since his baptism. The circumstances are interesting. He was then covered with ulcers, and so impotent that the Alleppey missionary of those days—1865—the Rev. Alexander Johnson, had to baptize him in the boat; he could not get to church. His sores from that time healed, and until the other day Lazar, as he was named at his baptism, never once missed church for twenty-one years. I went to see him. Dropsy had set in, once more attacking the poor foot which hangs loose from the ankle. We had prayer, and I comforted and cheered him with God's promises; and his patience and past history edified me. He has since got well again—sufficiently so to attend church.

A large "parish."

The charge of the TIRUWELLA DISTRICT has also devolved upon Mr. Richards during the year; 2000 Christians are found in twenty-one places, scattered over 500 square miles. He has been the only clergyman in these two districts, but hopes to have the assistance of a Native clergyman. Bishop Speechly visited the district in November, and confirmed 267 persons. Subsequently Mr. Richards administered the Holy Communion at Puvattur, Ayrur, and Kaviur, to more than 230 communicants. Of this service at Ayrur he says:—

A first communion.

The 147 communicants at Ayrur had never partaken of the Holy Supper before, as a Communion Service had never before been held at Ayrur, where the congregation numbers 500. I had to ride from my boat eleven miles from 7 to 10 a.m., spent ten to eleven in catechizing and instructing, and began the service at twelve, and got home at 7 p.m.—a rough and long way. I cannot tell you how very thankful I felt and grateful to God for enabling me to "break the bread" for the first time to so large a number and in a new place. Others had sowed; was I reaping or sowing? Rather, I was "watering." May God give there an increase! The converts at Ayrur are from the slave caste, and their Syrian masters are very unfriendly. It is often the case that the least likely profit most by the grace of God.

ARRIAN MISSION.

The MELKAVU district is under the charge of the Rev. W. Kuruwella, Native pastor, and is connected with the Southern Church Council. Mr. Kuruwella describes a Y.M.C.A., consisting of forty members from the various congregations under his care. These are their rules — An Arrian Y.M.C.A.

(a) Amongst forty members, excepting five who cannot read, all the rest once every day read a chapter in the Gospel and a Psalm, and all must privately pray. (b) When they assemble together, each must give an account in turn of his spiritual work. (c) Every day they must give needful advice to themselves and to their households. (d) At every opportunity they must preach the Gospel to the heathen. (e) They must help those that are sick in the Church. (f) If they see any weakness in the Church, they must advise with love secretly those committing it. (g) When there is need, some must help me in my journeyings. (h) In all spiritual work they must show suitable earnestness.

The Bishop has kindly forwarded an extract from one of Mr. Kuruwella's letters, which he has translated, relating to a Sudra family in Melkavu who have become inquirers :—

Mr. Kuruwila, after relating books he had read which led the man on, says: "Through being convinced of the goodness of the Vedam as far as his knowledge went, he was desirous of joining, but he only knew well the Romanists as believers in the Vedam. The idea he conceived not seeing in them, and finding in them several disgraceful and wicked deeds without shame committed, which existed only in a small degree amongst devil-worshippers, his hope decreased. Sometimes when he discussed the above matters with some (Romo) Syrians, they would speak of the faults of their superiors (i.e. ecclesiastical superiors), and say that all these evils existed through them. 'We cannot read the Vedam. If we read it, their falsehood will be evident, and through that their support will be less. But there is a heretical sect on the hill: we have not the knowledge which their children have. Their manner of life is very good. They can read the Vedam, but it is reported that heavenly happiness is not theirs.' Then he inquired of special friends amongst them concerning the particulars of the hill, and fairly understood. After this he earnestly endeavoured to come here at some time." Romanist opinion of Protestant converts.

The Bishop adds :—

The above extract is interesting, especially in the character given of our Melkavu people by the Romanists, but as they are heretics, and belong not to the true Church, forsooth, "heavenly happiness is not theirs"!

MUNDAKAYAM is the centre round which the Rev. A. F. Painter works. In the south-west the converts have been gathered chiefly from among the Pulayas. The work among the Arrians is in the north-east. Mr. Painter laments the dearth of trained Native agents, and longs to hear of a good appointment to the Cambridge Nicholson Institution. Two Dearth of Native agents.

years since Mundakayam, Kootakel, and Etakunna were formed into a pastorate, but have reverted to the Mission. Yet the work goes forward steadily, and Mr. Painter says: "To myself it appears more and more certain that India will be won for Christ through the poor and despised of men." The following are some instances of progress:—

Instances of progress

At Chowoora, an out-station of Mankompu, the head-man, whose wife, it will be remembered, through his opposition, died a heathen, and who, though I had frequently visited him when ill and given him medicine, remained a bitter opponent, came to me a few months ago and said, "I have long resisted Christ, now I want to be His slave." With him came two brothers with their families. One is a man highly respected by heathen and Christian. Others have followed, and we hope that Chowoora will soon be won for Christ.

The work at Mawati, among the wild Ulladens, is encouraging. In March last I baptized the first-fruits; among them the old head-man. He has lost much, and has been persecuted by the Poonyatt Pillays and some of his own family. Formerly, as a devil-priest, he was much feared, and received many presents. He gave up his massive brass belt and bells and leg-rings.

Passing thence twelve miles south, I am glad to be able to say that the little congregation of ten, literally "the church in the house," of Curran, has increased to thirty-five. Among these is the widow of the late head-man, who is much respected.

South-west of this again, about four miles from this and four miles west of Kootakel, a new station has just been opened among some Arrians, who long ago resisted God's call through Mr. Baker. At first three became catechumens, one of whom was much persecuted by a Mohammedan. Seven others followed his example. On my visit there, November 26th, fifteen others professed their willingness and desire to learn of Christ, and on the following Sunday I received them (thirteen adults and two infants) as catechumens in Mundakayam Church. They gave away implements of devil-worship and the figures of their ancestors. And so the Gospel of the blessed Saviour is finding its way into the hearts of men and drawing them to Him; and the kingdom of God is growing and spreading.

COCHIN: TRICHUR AND KUNNANKULAM.

The Rev. J. H. Bishop reports again a year of much blessing in the work. He is deeply persuaded that real and lasting success in missionary work depends upon the spiritual life of the Native Church. His conception of the relation of the missionary to the Native Church, as linking it to the Church at home, and as communicating to the former some of the inherited privileges and blessings of the latter, is concisely stated:—

Relation of the missionary to the Native Church.

On account of his close connection with the Church at home, the vast amount of devotional literature and Christian biography at his disposal, he has enormous advantages over his Native brethren in this matter. He can keep himself thus in contact, as it were, with the spiritual life of the Church at home, and be a medium in communicating fresh spiritual ideas, and introducing new methods of work to his Native fellow-helpers. His own soul, in imparting spiritual blessing to others, will be wonderfully stirred up and blessed. He will, too, no longer be a solitary witness to the heathen, but will carry along with him the prayers of the whole Native Church.

Special "Mission" at Trichur.

A Special Mission was held again in September last year, at Trichur, similar to the one held in the same month of 1885. The Rev. Isaac F. Row, of the Anglo-Indian Evangelization Society, Mr. Lakshman Ran, from Colar, Mr. John Peter, travelling evangelist, and Colonel Bredin, son-in-law of Bishop Sargent, kindly assisted. The general effect of these services, Mr. Bishop says, has been "to raise the spiritual tone of the congregations, to stir up the Christian workers to greater effort and expectancy of definite spiritual results, and to make the line more clear and marked between the true and the nominal Christians."

Baptisms at Trichur.

There were twenty-nine adult baptisms, viz. nineteen men and ten women, last year. Among them was a Nair convert of good family, Cornelius Ramen, who was brought under deep conviction of sin during the special services of 1885. Some of the women baptized were the fruit of the Zenana Mission. Besides these twenty-nine, five were baptized early this year. Mr. Bishop says:—

Zenana Mission.

> One of these was a blacksmith (the first we have had from this caste), and another a brazier (a woman); both of these, with a little help, at starting, have been able to maintain themselves in their respective employments and the blacksmith, a very bright and intelligent young man, with a wife and small family, is now teaching his trade to one of our schoolboys. It is an immense relief to us when converts have a suitable means of livelihood provided for them, and a great gain to the Church when the caste monoply of trade is broken down and useful manual employments introduced into the Christian community.

The Rev. P. P. Joseph has been placed by Bishop Speechly at Trichur since Mr. Bishop left. The latter finished his Annual Letter at Brighton in June, which refers gratefully to the kindness he experienced in the London Hospital:—

> It was a new and strange experience to me, teaching me, among other things, to sympathize more with human suffering. Being suddenly transferred as it were from a heathen land into this noble healing institution, supported mainly by the charity of the Christian public, and seeing and experiencing the most attentive and skilful medical treatment and the sympathizing ministry of branch sisters and nurses, the spiritual consolations from the chaplains, city missionary, and ladies of the Flower Mission, the thought again and again forced itself into my mind, how vast are the benefits conferred by a Christian civilization, but not appreciated enough, even perhaps by true Christians, who have not been able to contrast this state of things, this care for the poor and the rich, with what obtains in heathen lands.

The benefits of Christian civilization.

CEYLON MISSION.

(Commenced, 1817.)

I. SINGHALESE MISSION: Kandy, 1818; Baddêgama, 1819; Cotta, 1822; Kurunêgala, 1880.
II. TAMIL MISSION:—Jaffna, 1818; Colombo, 1852; Tamil Cooly Mission, 1855.

AFTER exactly five years of patient, and sometimes anxious, deliberations, the Committee appointed by the Constituent Assembly of the Disestablished Church of Ceylon on July 6th, 1881, presented its report on July 6th last year. The meeting which received this report was composed of the Bishop, all the licensed clergy of the diocese, and upwards of 127 lay representatives. The report was adopted with unanimity by the Assembly at this its last meeting, and on the following day with equal unanimity by the Synod, composed of identically the same persons, at its first meeting. All the proceedings were most harmonious, and all united, at their conclusion, in a joyful "Te Deum." Under present circumstances, while the Ceylon Church is predominantly European, the Committee are thankful to observe that the new constitution binds it closely to the Church of England, even providing that any resolution passed at any time by the Synod inconsistent with that connection would be ipso facto null and void.

Report of Church Committee.

The Rev. W. Oakley, within a fortnight of this happy settlement of controversies, in which, as Secretary of the Mission, he had taken an active part, was called to his rest on July 18th. He was educated at Islington, and proceeded to Ceylon in 1835, and he never once came home. With the exception of a few months spent in visiting the Missions of India, he never took furlough. His life therefore affords an almost unprecedented instance of more than half a century of continuous missionary labour. The Committee, in reviewing Mr. Oakley's lengthened career, thank God for His grace bestowed upon His servant; for the wisdom and judgment with which he directed the affairs of the Mission during times of great perplexity and difficulty; for his firm grasp of truth, and the steadfastness with which, when obliged to contend for the faith, he maintained the Scriptural and Evangelical principles of the Society; and for the consistency and gentleness of character which endeared him to his missionary brethren, and gained for him the respect and affection of the whole Christian community of Ceylon, both Native and European.

Death of Rev. W. Oakley.

Mr. Wigram's visit.

Ceylon was the first of the Society's Missions visited by Mr. Wigram and his son. Twelve busy days—from October 20th to November 2nd—were spent in a rapid inspection of the various agencies and holding brief but precious intercourse with missionaries and Native Christians at Colombo and Cotta, at Kandy, Kurunegala, and Baddegama. It was found impossible to visit Jaffna.

First ordination in Singhalese.

On December 21st, St. Thomas's Day, the Bishop of Colombo ordained, at Baddegama, the Revs. G. A. Bastian Perera, and H. de Silva, to priests' orders. The service was conducted in Singhalese for the first time in the history of the Ceylon Church.

I. WESTERN AND SOUTHERN PASTORATES.

COLOMBO.

The Rev. E. T. Higgens, in addition to the Secretaryship of the Finance Committee, which has devolved upon him since the death of the Rev. W. Oakley, continues to minister at the English Church, Galle Face; the Revs. D. Wood and J. I. Pickford carry on the work among the Tamils; and Miss Eva Young superintends the Girls' Boarding School. The English congregation of Galle Face contribute handsomely to the Colombo C.M.S. Association; an annual bazaar, conducted by the Ladies' C.M.S. Working Party, realized last year over Rs. 1200. A Portuguese service is held by Mr. Higgens for the poor Eurasian population of Slave Island every Sunday, for whom also an afternoon day-school is maintained. Street-preaching for the Singhalese people of Colombo is kept up, and a boys' and two girls' schools are provided for their children, 136 of whom are on the lists.

Street-preaching.

A week of prayer.

The week of prayer in January, 1886, was, Mr. Pickford says, "remarkably well attended, and the warmth of the meetings was very delightful."

In the same month the Bishop of Colombo confirmed twenty-four candidates. Eleven of these were from the boys' and girls' boarding-schools.

The Tamil Native Church.

Of the Tamil Native Church, Mr. Wood says "there is very much to be thankful for." The amount given to the Native Church Fund is Rs. 1060, being Rs. 75 more than the previous year, which was the highest recorded till then.

But in addition there was collected at the Communion offertory for the poor Rs. 7·23, by the Juvenile Association Rs. 54·77½, and for the pastor's house-building and hostel fund Rs. 208·13, making a total for all purposes of Rs. 1394·19, against Rs. 1108·20 in the previous year. This increase is due mainly to the larger amount given to the Native Church Fund, and to the fact that special efforts have been put forth towards raising funds to build a house for the pastor. The desire is to build a "hostel" as well if funds are forthcoming. This will supply a temporary lodging for Native Christians passing through Colombo, where they will be under Christian influences. Not unfrequently, being strangers to the place and having no friends, they are cheated and robbed. The addition to the Church by baptism during the year for all the districts was forty-four, viz. twenty-one adults and twenty-three children.

Baptisms.

Twenty adults have been baptized. One of these converts, baptized by Mr. Wood, was formerly of Mengnanapuram, in Tinnevelly, where his parents lived near the church, but would have nothing to do with the Christian religion. His interest was first excited by hearing Christians singing hymns which were said to have been composed by a convert he had known in his own Indian village as a bitter opponent of Christ's religion. To these hymns on the evils of devil-worship, and glories of the Gospel, he listened eagerly, and shortly desired to embrace the faith of Christ. Mr. Wood is told that he spends the greater part of Sunday in reading the Word of God and in prayer.

Influenced by singing of hymns.

Another of the converts was employed at the Government Hospital, when he read the Gospel of St. Luke, and was subsequently instructed by the catechist. Two others were patients in the hospital, and one was a young woman, "who decided for Christ in connection with the Salvation Army."

Hospital converts.

In the Pettah (a suburb of Colombo so-called) there is a Mission-room, and an increasing interest is manifested. "Four thousand visits," Mr. Wood writes, "have been made to the room during the year by Christians, heathen, Buddhists, and Mohammedans." Among the last-named Mr. Pickford has attempted to do something, conducting street-preaching in the Mohammedan quarter of the town. Opposition was anticipated, but, instead, they were thankfully surprised to find a willingness to hear the Word. "Shutters of houses gradually opened, and heads of women and children pressed against the window-bars; the women often sending out the younger children to get a book or tract."

COTTA.

The Rev. S. Coles has resided at Cotta, where he has conducted a Theological Class, preparing seven students for the sacred ministry. Except one, these have all been previously employed, either in scholastic or evangelistic work, and he says of them, "I believe them all to be decided Christians, and anticipate that, with God's blessing, they will become useful agents in the extension of His kingdom after two more years of training." They have passed a creditable examination in the Old Testament as far as the Books of Kings, the New Testament to the Epistle to the Romans, the Thirty-nine Articles, the Prayer Book, and English Church History. On Saturdays they engage in street-preaching, and on Sundays assist in different churches. In the autumn Mr. Coles took them on a fifteen days' preaching-tour through the villages south-east of Cotta. Mr. Coles has also been engaged in revising the Singhalese Bible, and the Order for Morning Prayer. He mentions that a branch of the Children's Scripture Union, started in Ceylon, has now 1000 members.

Translational work

The Children's Scripture Union.

The Rev. R. T. Dowbiggin has superintended the pastoral and evangelistic and educational work at Cotta. The Rev. D. Jayasinha, the Native pastor of Cotta, died on January 1st. In his Annual Letter, written less than a month before his death, he reported a gratifying increase (1) in contributions to Church Fund, Rs. 92 more than the previous year, in spite of prevailing depression, (2) in the number of prayer meetings in private families, and (3) in the number of communicants. The Rev. H. de Silva is pastor of Talangama and Welikada and the three other pastorates, viz. Nugegoda, Mampe, and Slave Island, are committed to catechists.

Death of the Rev. D. Jayasinha.

Mission Schools.

As usual, Mr. Dowbiggin's letter gives several interesting facts proving the value of the Mission Schools as an evangelistic agency. At Liyanwala a pupil, who has since joined the training class for teachers at Cotta, has been baptized.

"Are you Buddhist or Christian?"

He was brought to decide for Christ by a question put to him in the presence of his schoolfellows. I knew he was an inquirer after the truth, and only hesitating to cast in his lot with the people of God; and on the day of the grant-in-aid examination, when the religion of each pupil is noted on the schedule, I said pointedly to him, "Am I to write you down a Buddhist or a Christian—which are you in your heart?" After a moment's hesitation, he said, "A Christian."

Baptism of daughters of Buddhist priests.

Two pupils at the Girls' Boarding School have been baptized, both the daughters of Buddhist priests, who consented, after some importunity, to their daughters confessing the faith of Christ. Owing to depression in trade the aggregate number of pupils in all the schools is less by 185 than last year, viz. 2400, compared with 2585. The efficiency which has long characterized them is still maintained; an average of 85 per cent. of passes was obtained in the grant-in-aid examination, while the Girls' Boarding School obtained 96 per cent. In the second class certificate examination for mistresses, held by Government in August, only six passed, and five of these were from the Girls' Boarding School. The one who is superior to all the rest is a "shy, retiring girl, but given to much prayer." The grateful affection with which Mr. and Mrs. Dowbiggin are regarded by many of the pupils was illustrated by a letter from a young woman who left the Boarding School in July. She wrote:— Respect for Mr. and Mrs. Dowbiggin.

"MY DEAR MR. AND MRS. DOWBIGGIN,—This is my last day at school. I have been in the school about eight years. Yet it seems to me as a very short time. I have been under your kind protection all these years. Before I leave you I wish to thank you for all your kindness and care for me. I cannot tell how much trouble you have taken about me. Even if I try, I am not able to thank you enough for all you have done for me. But, dear sir and madam, I pray God my Heavenly Father to bless you and reward you for it. I know He will do so, and also you will never lose your reward. For it is written, 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me.' Though you have done it to a poor, fatherless girl like me, yet the blessed Lord will account it as it is done unto Him. I beg you to pray for me, that I may receive the guidance of the Holy Ghost. I know that I am not worthy to undertake such a work as to be a teacher in a school, but I will try to do my best by the help of God. I know God has called me to do some of His works, so I am willing to go. I may be able to use my talents to the glory of His name. My dear Saviour will help me."

There are six students in the Training Class preparing to become schoolmasters. Training Class.

BADDEGAMA.

The Rev. J. W. Balding reports a falling off in the number of adherents and of communicants, and also of pupils in the schools. The numbers are: adherents, 497; communicants, 137; and scholars, 1203. Scarcity of food, the consequence of prevailing depression and poverty, has brought sickness and fever; 950 applicants have been supplied with medicine. Nevertheless, the contributions have been increased by Rs. 220 over the previous year. Depression in the work.

The district of the Baddegama Native Church Council is divided into five pastorates. The Rev. J. P. Kalpage, Native deacon, is stationed at Baddegama. He gives an account of four deaths, one of an old man who was suffering from leprosy, who, shortly before his death, urged his heathen wife to embrace Christianity, and she now attends the church. Another was that of an old woman aged ninety, who had been a Christian nearly sixty years. Native Church Council. Testimony of dying converts.

A third was that of a young man whose last audible words were, "I am thirsting for Christ." At Balapitiya the Rev. B. Perera is stationed. At the other three pastorates, Dodanduwa, Bentotte, and Kitulampitiya, catechists are at work, and at Elpitiya, where Rs. 500 have been collected towards the erection of a small church, an itinerating catechist labours.

II. CENTRAL PROVINCES.

KANDY.

Singhalese congregations.

The Singhalese congregations at Kandy, Katukele, Gatambe, Kaduganâwa, Gampola, and Nâwalapitiya are under the pastorship of the Rev. H. Gunasekara, who is assisted by one lay teacher and four voluntary Native agents. There are 463 adherents, of whom 158 are communicants, while 19 adult converts have been baptized during the year.

Trinity College.

The Rev. E. Noel Hodges is in charge of Trinity College, and the Rev. J. Ilsley continues to render valuable help. The number of students is somewhat less than last year, but the report of the Government inspectors shows progress in attainments, 85 per cent. having passed. Of the first three divinity students who have been under training at the College for the last four years, and have finished their course, one lies in a precarious state of health at home. He is a son of the Rev. B. Perera, Native pastor in the Baddegama district, and was the best student in the class, while his "holy, consistent life was a bright and living example" which won him the highest esteem, both of his teachers and fellow-students. "The influence of these Divinity students," Mr. Hodges says, "has been very helpful, especially in regard to the discipline and moral tone of the boarders, and the spiritual care of inquirers, in whom they have shown a constant and loving interest." Mr. Ilsley says:—

Influence of Divinity students.

> We were hoping that some would have confessed Christ in baptism this year. Six boys have written home for permission to be baptized. They are all of good Kandyan families, and just the boys we want to reach. We were praying and hoping that God would make all clear; but so far their way has been hedged up. Their friends deliberately refuse to allow them to become Christians. All sorts of stumbling-blocks are put in their way. Their fathers threaten to disinherit them. They are charged with insincerity, their friends saying that they only wish to become Christians to please their masters. They are ridiculed, and if God in His providence removes one who is firm and is baptized, as He did a few months ago, the suffering and death are looked upon as a punishment for joining the Christian faith.

Opposition to converts.

One, however, was baptized in September, whose Buddhist father made no difficulty at all, and only regretted his inability to be present.

Mr. Hodges says :—

All our studies are sanctified by the Word of God and by prayer. The Christian boys have prayers and address daily in chapel, while the Buddhists are separated, and have a special address, taken by myself and Mr. Ilsley every other week. This is followed by regular Scripture lesson with chosen texts to be learnt in every class. Mr. Ilsley continues his plan of seeing Buddhist boys in private while the Scripture classes are going on, and to this personal dealing I would attribute much that is hopeful. Dealing with Buddhist scholars.

The boarders assemble for evening prayers just before bed-time, when I give a short pointed address. We have been lately going through St. John, in which the divine, and therefore exclusive, claims of Christ are so clearly stated—enforced as they are by His wondrous words and works, a twofold witness, which nothing but the wilful blindness of our depraved nature could fail to behold, and beholding, to admire.

I think it shows the importance of the boarding establishment in view of our work that all the six boys who were stirred up (as we have mentioned) to seek for baptism were boarders. I ask for prayer on behalf of these lads, for the boarding-house, and for the College, that we who are in charge may be found faithful, and that our work may be rewarded. In the Annual Sermon for the C.M.S. the Archbishop refers to education as the "nest of religion." May the Holy Dove brood over us to bring forth life, and to warm and nourish our nestlings in the strength and beauty of holiness! For this we wait and pray daily, and we shall not ask in vain. "The vision is yet for an appointed time." Education as the "nest of religion."

KANDYAN ITINERANCY.

The extensive district comprised within the Central, North Central, and North-Western Provinces of Ceylon is divided between them by the Revs. J. Allcock and L. G. P. Liesching for the work among the Singhalese. "We have many reasons to rejoice and be thankful," writes the former. Sixty-three adults baptized have been part of the visible results of the year's labours. He gives several examples :— Baptisms of Singhalese.

The first boy whom we baptized from Anuradhapura School had to bear a severe test. When it was known by the boys of the school that two or three of their number were determined to put on Christ the heathen boys, after school, called on all the boys of the school to declare themselves. "Let Buddha's boys come to Buddha's side, and let Christ's boys come to Christ's side," said they. All the boys except two went to Buddha's side; only William and James stood on Christ's side. Then said Buddha's boys, "What! only you two?" And then James began to waver, and denied his Lord. When the time came to meet the candidates for baptism, James asked for baptism. But William objected. "You denied the Lord," said William; "you are not worthy of baptism." With shame and humility James answered, "I was tempted, and I was overcome; "What! only you two?" A schoolboy's profession.

I repent and I believe." And so both of them made a good profession before many witnesses.

The Ratmiwala congregation has received a valuable acquisition in the family of Samuel Singhalegey. On Easter morning, 1886, Samuel, his wife Dinah, and two sons were baptized. I have since baptized his only unmarried daughter, who took the name of Elizabeth. He is a man of property, and well spoken of by his neighbours as a skilful Native doctor. His reasons for renouncing Buddhism were given with much lucidity and simplicity. "Buddhism," says he, "is a doctrine, not a religion. There is no God or Buddha to create, or preserve, or to give increase. Buddha teaches that there can be life without previous life, that there can be effect without a cause, design without a designer. If that be true, there can be salvation without a Saviour and heaven without a doctrine. If the world, beauty, fragrance, music, savoury food, came to existence without a previous Supreme Being, then my salvation will come to me whether I work it out or not. But now," he says, "I have seen my sins. I have seen my Creator, Jesus, and the Holy Ghost, and I desire to make my profession in a room built by me on the spot where I worshipped forty years a false trinity—Buddha, the doctrine, and the priests. This is only a trinity of abominable and sinful men, which can neither take away the abomination I have committed nor save me from committing sin in the future."

Native reasons for renouncing Buddhism.

We have had three interesting baptisms in Kotmele, a large district twenty-five miles south of Kandy. Their baptismal names are Matthew, Mark, and Luke. In this district I was very much struck with the severe remark of a heathen philosopher: it was intended to be very sarcastic. A weak Christian went to him to tell him that the father of Matthew intended to leave all that he had to the Buddhist priests. The heathen philosopher coolly replied, "Oh! those whose estates are in heaven need not take thought about the estates of this world." I have known some heathens to die from grief at the loss of their estates. But Matthew says that he is quite free from care about the present and the future. Flesh and blood could not do this: I believe his testimony.

Baptisms in Kotmele.

Treasures in heaven.

Mr. Allcock is encouraging the development of Church organization, and Church Committees are being formed:—

One at Anuradhapura, ninety miles north of Kandy; another at Hanguranketiya, eighteen miles east of Kandy; another at Nuwara Eliya, forty miles south of Kandy; and another at Yetenuwara, ten miles west of Kandy. There are now settled congregations in all these places.

Formation of Church Committees.

At Hanguranketiya a church has been built and furnished at the sole expense of a Native Christian, Mr. C. H. de Soysa, at a cost of not less than Rs. 5000. The educational work has been extended during the year. This among the Kandyans, and especially female education, has never received the same measure of attention as at Cotta and Baddegama, with the result that, as Mr. Allcock fears, "in education and morals Kandyan women are one hundred years behind the Singhalese of the maritime provinces." But during the year the number of girls under instruction in the schools of this district has increased from 127 to 221. More than twenty converts in Mr. Allcock's portion of the district alone have been gathered from schools during the year. Mr. Liesching's division of the district includes Kurunegala, Kegalle, and Talampitiya. Of the last place he writes, "this is one of the brightest parts of our work." School converts.

I do not think it sanguine to look for and expect a general movement towards Christianity on the part of these low-caste and much despised Durayas, similar to what has already so abundantly taken place among their confrères, the Shanars of Tinnevelly, and such as is now taking place among the Chuhras of the Punjab. Already it is most delightful to notice how Christianity is beginning to leaven their home-lives; how heathen customs are being relinquished, yielding place to Christian; how the Bible in the vernacular is penetrating remote villages and hamlets, at a time when Mission-schools are giving the rising generation in them the power of understanding and the desire of searching its sacred pages; how strictly the sabbath is observed, and how neglect of it is regarded by fellow-Christians as a serious inconsistency; and how family life, in all its charm and beauty, is now prevalent in places where through generations Satan has reigned supreme, holding the people down, his willing slaves, by means of the chains of lust, polyandry, and unmentionable abominations. Movement towards Christianity of low-caste Natives.

TAMIL COOLY MISSION.

This Mission has been reinforced by the addition of the Rev. J. D. Thomas, as mentioned in last year's Report. Inasmuch, however, as the Rev. H. Horsley left Ceylon on account of Mrs. Horsley's state of health before Mr. Thomas' arrival, the numerical strength of the Mission remains as before. The Rev. J. D. Simmons has continued his endeavours to cope with the work.

The Rev. P. Peter, who resides at Pelmadulla, is Native assistant missionary, and the Rev. A. Gnanamuttu is Native pastor at Kandy. There are 28 Native catechists, 11 Native schoolmasters and 1 schoolmistress, 1698 adherents, and 452 communicants. Forty-one adults were baptized during the year.

The printed report relates an incident in Mr. Simmons' district which illustrates the interest which is taken in the Sunday services, &c., and also gives instances of liberality :—

One of the superintendents was staying with a kind friend on a very wet Sunday morning. His friend said, "Let me send a message to the catechist saying that you will not go to the church this morning, because I am sure that no one will be there to-day beside the catechist and yourself." The well-meant offer was declined, and the missionary's heart was gladdened to find a church nearly full of people when he arrived. A man and his wife had walked eight or Enthusiasm of inquirers.

nine miles that wet morning in order to be received into the fold by baptism.

Native contributions.

Three thousand three hundred and six rupees have been received into the Native Church Funds. The congregations of Dickoya and Maskeliya have undertaken the entire support of their catechist. Hitherto they have borne half the expense and the Mission the rest. Besides this they are now paying Rs. 60 a year to an assistant itinerator. They have also spent more than a hundred rupees in purchasing a communion service and lamps. At the last service which the missionary attended there were 120 present; thirty-seven remained to the Lord's Supper, and the collection amounted to Rs. 13·50. The schoolroom which is used for the services has been enlarged by adding about one-third to its former length. At each end of the room there is now a stained-glass window. The accommodation and the appearance are greatly improved by these alterations.

At Lindula the Christians have shown a similar liberal spirit. The catechist is paid entirely from the Native Church Fund. Two new tablecloths, a handsome alms-bag, and new hymn and Prayer-books have been presented as gifts.

The Pussellawa congregation gives Rs. 5 towards the catechist's salary, and the Haputale and Badulla congregations each give Rs. 5 a month to the Native Missionary Association.

Among the converts one was the son of a Christian in Travancore, but he was not baptized as a child, and grew up amongst the heathen and lived as one. The teaching and influence of another Christian have led him to repentance and faith.

Influence of Native Christians.

Mr. Horsley has given a report of the northern division for nine months, i.e. from January to September. During that time there were eleven adult baptisms. One of these converts was a head-kangani, or overseer of coolies, who had been an inquirer for some time. Another was a Saivite of good caste, of whom Mr. Horsley says:—

Notable baptisms.

He had been an opponent to Christianity, and had often held long arguments with the catechist of the district on the subject of religion. In course of time it pleased God to incline the heart of this once-bitter opponent of the truth to listen to the preaching of the Gospel in the "lines" and at "muster;" and on more than one occasion he came to the catechist's house to inquire more perfectly into the truths of Christianity; and at length placed himself under Christian instruction. He was baptized last February, and has since then been regular in his attendance at the house of prayer.

The reports of the catechists labouring in this division contain several encouraging features. Mr. Horsley, to whom the reports were sent, says:—

Encouraging work of catechists.

From the journals of the catechists of the northern division of the Tamil Cooly Mission, it is pleasant to learn that the habit of holding family prayers, after the evening meal, is on the increase, three of the catechists making special mention of it. It is gratifying also to hear that the heathen listen more attentively to the preaching of the Gospel in their "lines" and at "muster," that some readily buy

Christian books and portions of the Bible, and that superstition is relaxing its hold in some places. One catechist mentions the case of a woman having taken off her charms and burnt them; also of another who consented willingly to cut off her matted hair, which she had allowed to remain uncombed for many months in fulfilment of a foolish vow.

Another reports four adult baptisms in his district. Of these, three persons have been led to embrace Christianity through the influence of a pious conductor, who is in the habit of holding family prayers in his house, and of inviting any of the heathen, who are so minded, to attend.

Another mentions the case of a widow woman, named Marial, who is doing what she can to teach the children in her lines to read and to sing Christian hymns.

Another catechist mentions the case of a Nicodemus. This secret disciple of the Lord Jesus was once a bigoted heathen, and had actually begun to build a temple in honour of Genesa, the belly god. On one occasion the catechist gave him a tract entitled the Heart Book, which made a deep impression. He is now reading Pilgrim's Progress in Tamil, and even invites others to listen.

III. NORTHERN PROVINCE.

JAFFNA.

The staff here is the same as last year. The Rev. E. M. Griffith is in general charge of the work, except the Chundikuli Seminary, which is under the Rev. G. T. Fleming. The Revs. G. Champion, J. Niles, and J. Backus are the Native pastors at Chundikuli, Kopay, and Pallai respectively.

In the five pastorates there are 1048 Christian members and 481 communicants. There have been 25 adult baptisms during the year. Rs. 3537 were raised last year by the Native Church, an increase of Rs. 838 over the previous year. Mr. Griffith gives the following particulars:—

Kopay Training Institution

1. The Kopay Training Institution has done well during the year. It passed a good Government examination, obtaining 90 per cent. All the five Queen Scholars passed satisfactorily, and at the Entrance Examination for Queen Scholarships three others (the number allowed by Government for the Mission) obtained scholarships. Since the introduction of the New Code, ten Queen Scholars have passed out of the Institution, and wherever located have done well, except in one instance. There are now forty-three students in the Institution, sixteen fresh ones having been admitted at the last Mission examination in February. All, I am thankful to say, is progressing well. Special care is taken of the spiritual life of the students, as well as of their mental and moral training. The pastor and resident catechist, when possible, assist in the daily Scripture lessons. After very careful preparation, six of the students were accepted and baptized on last Easter Sunday, April 25th. Though most are heathen when they enter the Institution, with rare exceptions they earnestly seek and obtain baptism before the end of their course of three, five, or seven years. On the Bishop's visit nineteen were confirmed. There are now eleven communicants among the students. The general health of the boys has been very good. This I attribute a good deal to the daily drilling, gardening, and athletic sports insisted on in the daily routine.

Nellore Girls' Boarding-School and Training Institution

2. The Nellore Girls' Boarding-School and Training Institution.—There are fifty-five girls in this Institution. This includes a pupil-teacher and two Queen Scholars. The latter have just been accepted as such after examination by the Government. In the report of the Director of Public Instruction for 1885, lately to hand, our school stands first on the list of all boarding-schools in Ceylon, obtaining the highest Government grant per head, viz., Rs. 29·20. It is the largest boarding-school of the Church Missionary Society in the island. The Government examination last August was good, the school obtaining a percentage of eighty. No less than thirteen passed out this year in the eighth standard, whilst twenty-five fresh ones have been admitted. We endeavour to pay special attention to the Scriptural instruction of the girls, and not without evident fruit. There were sixteen confirmed by the Bishop on his late visit. The elder Christian girls each look after a heathen girl, and show much concern about their spiritual welfare.

Schools at Jaffna.

3. Schools.—These have increased since last year from fifty-four to sixty vernacular schools. This number includes seventeen girls' schools. The number of scholars taught in them throughout the Mission is 3069. The annual Scripture examination in all our schools this year showed satisfactory results, and the usual prizes were given to two of the best boys in each class.

Death of head-master of Chundikuli Seminary.

The Chundikuli Seminary has suffered a great loss by the death of its Native head-master, Mr. Evarts, last October. Mr. Fleming says of him:—

> Although his family position and property gave him the opportunity of living in ease and independence, he chose rather to serve under the Mission, and worked hard for the good of his people, but always in a quiet, unobtrusive way. In short, he had that simple piety and charity, that devotion to duty, that self-respect and respect for others, that kindness and gentleness of manner, and that firmness of character and aim, which combine to make a thorough Christian gentleman.

Friends at Jaffna propose to build a boarding-house in his memory, and that of his predecessor, Mr. Williams. For the first time four boys have been presented from this school for the Cambridge Junior Local Examination, and all passed. Owing to several causes the attendance fell off during the year, but began to recover at its close, when the number was 239. There are evidences, however, of spiritual progress which the Committee notice with thankfulness. Mr. Fleming says:—

Success of Jaffna boys at Cambridge Local Examination.

The Y.M.C.A.

> The Christians are beginning to feel their responsibility towards their heathen neighbours, and voluntarily to take up aggressive work amongst them. The leading members of our Y.M.C.A. spent a day during the Michaelmas holidays in Mundative, a large island in the lagoon. They visited a great many houses, speaking to the people and distributing tracts. They addressed the school-children in the morning, and in the afternoon assisted at an encouraging meeting of adults, gathered in one of the compounds by the Society's catechist. Several boys also banded together, styling themselves the Chundikuli Gospel Association, and collected among their friends no less than thirty-six rupees for the Native Missionary Association. This latter was an entirely spontaneous movement amongst the boys themselves.

A "Gospel Association."

There are 325 Native Christians, of whom 120 are communicants, under Mr. Champion's care. At the beginning of the year, and again during Lent, special efforts were made to deepen their spiritual life. In almost every Christian family meetings were held, and the duty of not only reading but searching into the Word of God, was pressed upon them. Nineteen members of this congregation were confirmed. Their contributions to the Native Church Fund exceeds the pay of their pastor by Rs. 118, and in addition to this Rs. 116 was paid by them to the Jaffna Native Missionary Association.

Efforts to deepen spiritual life among the Native converts.

At Pallai, out of eighty-one adult members of the congregation, sixty-one are communicants. The services are held at present in the pastor's bungalow, which is uncomfortably small for the purpose. At four out-stations also services are conducted. Sunday-schools are held in each of the nine schools. A catechist, two readers, and a Bible-woman are engaged in evangelistic work; and Mr. Backus says, "Every village, and perhaps every house, in the district has been visited during the year; and in every part of the district there are inquirers, and candidates for baptism." At Nauthurai, a family of seven have turned to Christ through the influence of the eldest daughter, who was a pupil at the Nellore Boarding School, and the heathen temple-shed in front of their house is now turned into a cattle-shed. Ten candidates have been confirmed. The contributions are larger than ever before. Including the out-stations the number of adherents is 326, of whom 200 are unbaptized.

Sunday-schools.

A temple-shed turned into a cattle-shed.

Mr. Niles' is also an interesting report. At Kopay and three out-stations there are 255 adherents and 120 communicants. Thirty-two have been confirmed during the year; 155 children are taught in the Central Sunday School by fifteen Sunday-school teachers, and 150 in five other schools. Ten adults were baptized, six belonging to the Training Institution, and the other four all received their first impressions at different Mission-schools.

One of these was a girl of eighteen years old, who received some lasting impressions of the Gospel at the Nellore Boarding School. Her father, a very obstinate man, kept her back from attending the school afterwards, but the good impressions grew in her mind imperceptibly. She continued to read God's Word secretly, and to pray privately. She at last opened to me her wishes to become a Christian, and showed evidences of conversion, and was admitted into the Church in October last. She has been instrumental in turning the mind of her mother to the same Saviour whom she publicly avowed. This woman learned of Christ many years ago at the Nellore Boarding School, and while she was a candidate for baptism her father got her married to a heathen man. Since then the good seed appeared to have been hid for several years. One day, when I knelt to pray in her house, the mother also knelt with her daughter, and followed our prayer with tears running down her cheeks. She said at the end of the prayer, "I am a great sinner, since I had hitherto neglected the service of God. I am now determined to be a follower of my Saviour, notwithstanding the opposition of my husband."

MAURITIUS MISSION.

Division of the Mission: 1. Tamil-speaking Coolies (Madras Branch, 1857; 2. Bengali and Hindi-speaking Coolies (Calcutta Branch), 1857; 3. The Seychelles Islands, 1875.

As mentioned in last year's Report, Bishop Royston came to England under medical orders in June, and the Mission has been bereft during the year of his wise and loving oversight. Shortly before his departure the Bishop opened a training institution at Bishopsthorpe, which promises to be of great service in supplying qualified men to the Native Church Council. The staff of ordained labourers, European and Native, in connection with the Society remains unchanged. The Rev. H. D. Buswell is the Secretary of the Mission. After four years' service in Ceylon he went to Mauritius in 1866, and during the last twenty years, bisected by one visit to England in 1876, he has been privileged to see the quiet growth of the Mission. He observes that in 1866 there were one Native clergyman and nine lay agents, now there are four and sixteen respectively. Then there were 445 adherents and 72 communicants, now there are 2088 adherents and 421 communicants. Then there were six schools and 388 scholars, now there are twenty-five schools and 1409 scholars. He adds another figure, which missionary statistics more seldom afford, viz. that 6000 have been baptized since the Mission commenced in 1856. There have been eighty-three adult baptisms and sixty-three of children during the year, while sixty candidates were confirmed before the Bishop left. Of the baptisms, eight were of Chinese, among whom a catechist is especially assigned to labour.

Growth of the Mission.

Baptisms since commencement of Mission.

The pastorates are now five in number, through the division of the Central Pastorate into two, called North and South Central. The Rev. J. Ernest retains charge of the former of these, which contains the older and more established congregations, and the Rev. J. F. Chorley has the pastoral charge of about 230 Christians in the South Central Pastorate, scattered over an extensive area. The last-named Native clergyman, and also the Rev. C. Kushalli, have "experienced the discipline of sorrow" by the loss of their wives, the Committee learn, with much sympathy, from the printed report. This printed report is the seventh of the Native Church Council, and contains an interesting record of multifarious labours: evangelistic and scholastic; services for Christians, Mohammedans, Hindus, and Chinamen; in Hindi, Tamil, and Malayalim; weekly visits to hospitals, reformatories, prisons, and asylums; prayer-meetings, mothers'-meetings, magic-lantern lectures, and free night-schools; showing how industriously it is sought by all means to save some. Five Bible-women were employed during the year, three during the whole year, and two for shorter periods. The staff of volunteer agents is increasing. Mr. Buswell states that in one place sixteen were won over and prepared for baptism by one of these. Of the blessing which accompanies the special efforts in hospitals, &c., the following are examples.

Hospital work.

The Rev. C. A. Blackburn, whose work is among the North India Coolies, says:—

Barkly Asylum has, as usual, offered a wide and rich field for labour. There are always hundreds of patients there, and going from bed to bed as I do, saying a few words to each sufferer, it is evident that thousands have heard the Word of Life this year again.

On the 4th of August I baptized a Gosaïm or religious man, who had heard the Gospel for some time, but resisted the calling of God. Now, he had been very ill, and had asked to be taught, but was not decided to renounce his false religion and embrace Christianity. I again showed him the necessity of trusting in Christ only for salvation. Afterwards he was baptized, and renounced aloud, and in presence of a crowd of Hindus, the worship of the Devatas, &c., and boldly confessed Christ crucified. Then he began to pray: "O Jesus, Saviour, take my sins away," and repeated this prayer several times with an expression of intense earnestness.

Baptisms.

After his baptism he seemed to be peaceful and happy, and continued so to his end, for his days were numbered, and two months later he left this world. He was full of faith to the last moment. I came and prayed with him; he offered this short prayer again: "O Jesus, Saviour, take my sins away," and thus ended this mortal life.

The bold confession of faith made on the day of his baptism was the means of bringing another man into the Kingdom of Christ. For when I addressed those who were looking on, and listening while the baptismal service was going on, a man answered me by saying, "I am wishing to be saved too." After talking to him more directly, he understood the necessity of being taught. And he told me to go and try to influence his wife also, who was in the women's ward. So I went there, and spoke to her for some time. When she heard that her husband was going to be a follower of the true Saviour, she asked to be taught. While I was speaking to her about her soul and the salvation that Christ has brought to sinners, another woman who was listening quietly attracted my attention, and I said to her, "Would you not like to be saved too?" She said she would, and accepted the message of salvation. Shortly afterwards they were all three baptized together in St. Stephen's Chapel.

A Bombay man, to whom I had been speaking when he was at the hospital, came to me some time after leaving the Institution, and desired to become a Christian. He was accordingly prepared and baptized.

At our annual races I distributed about eight hundred portions of Scriptures to Hindus, Mussulmans, and Creoles, and preached the Word to thousands of the pleasure-seekers. Finally, I must say that the preaching of the Cross has, now and then, as is always the case, excited opposition, and we have met with some very serious ones in several places, when we have been most rudely insulted by Hindus, Mussulmans, and also by perverts. Thank God, we have not returned evil for evil, but kind words, and blessing even. May the Lord bless our feeble efforts to bring souls to Him and glorify His great Name among the heathen! Distribution of Scriptures.

Mr. Blackburn also refers to the earnest labours of David Ramcharn (the volunteer agent apparently referred to above by Mr. Buswell), and gives an interesting account of the conversion of a Bhagat, or devotee :— Conversion of a devotee

The energetic efforts of our volunteer agent, David Ramcharn, have not abated, but, I think, increased during this year. He has been caring both for Christians and Hindus, and has accompanied me in my monthly visits to the Christians and the heathen in the village camps, and Sugar Estates camps, and private cottages.

An intelligent man, educated and of a certain rank, has been in the habit of receiving us in his house, when he always gets some people to listen to the reading and preaching of the Scriptures. He has a great influence on a lot of well-to-do Bhagats, or devotees. On one occasion when we called he was alone, and spoke more confidentially to us, asking several questions about the Divinity and work of our Lord Jesus Christ, and was quite touched when he learned more plainly the great love of the Saviour; and from that day he seems to have made up his mind to study the Gospel, and comes to church on Sundays, and brings some of his friends with him. If the Lord blesses our efforts, he will soon embrace Christianity, and will then, I trust, help to bring others into the fold of the Good Shepherd.

There is also another Bhagat whom David Ramcharn once invited to come to church; he came, and after hearing both the catechist and myself preach, has not ceased attending the services now for several months. Lately, when I was leaving after the service, he ran after me, and said how he was satisfied with what had been said, and desired to be taught, adding that a man like him, well known among the high castes, requires to be well instructed before he is baptized.

There has been a remarkable conversion in this district. A pious man once met our church guardian, who was a friend of his but separated from him for a long time. In the course of their conversation the church guardian informed him that he had become a Christian. The Bhagat inquired very earnestly what was Christianity, and came a second time when he met our agent, and attended the service.

Some time afterwards he heard me preach, and had a conversation with me. Then he asked to be instructed for baptism. Ramcharn prepared him, and I baptized him on Christmas last. His public profession of faith was touching; he said he had been searching for the truth for years, and had learned all the books of Kabeer, &c., but only now had he found the true Saviour whose love had touched his heart. Then he removed his bead, which he had been wearing for a long time, and gave it to us as a sign that he no more trusted in his former religion. Since his becoming a follower of Christ he has not once missed coming to the service.

At his request I prepared him for confirmation, and presented him to the Bishop at St. Paul's Church on the 16th May; after which he said, "Now there is yet one thing wanting. Christ said, 'Abide in Me and I shall abide in you;' please prepare me to take the Lord's Supper." He was accordingly prepared and partook of the Sacrament for the first time at Pamplemousses—for he lives at Montagne Longue. Since his baptism he has been trying hard to bring others to Christ. Wherever he goes He speaks for His Master, for such, says he, is his only ambition now.

Resistance to the truth overcome.

The baptism of one who had long resisted the truth took place in February, 1886. Veirasami Naidos, while young, was in the West Indies, St. Helena, and Ascension. After the death of his benefactor, General Houston, he lived in England as the servant of a clergyman, who often spoke to him about his soul. He then wandered to Queensland, Tasmania, and India, and some sixteen or twenty years ago went to Mauritius, where at length he yielded to the importunate appeals of Christian friends.

Orphanage and Mission Schools.

The Rev. Nigel Honiss has the management of the Plaisance Orphanage, and of the Mission Schools. Of the former Mr. Honiss writes:—

We have had an average number of forty-six boarders and twelve day scholars during the year. Of the former eight are supported by Government, twenty-three by special contributions from friends at home, and fifteen by the general funds. These numbers are small compared with those of former years.

But formerly there were no less than sixty-five supported by Government, while now there are but eight. When Government closed their own orphanage in 1877 this large number of children was sent to, and maintained at Plaisance. Since then the waifs and strays of Mauritius are, under certain regulations, committed to the care of any one disposed to take charge of them without expense to Government, and failing that they are sent alternately to Roman Catholic and Protestant institutions.

Our object is to train them, hoping they may themselves become teachers, and that our hopes so far have not been altogether disappointed the following statistics will show. There are seventeen volunteers connected more or less with the ministerial and evangelistic work of the Mission; and out of this number no less than twelve have been or are still connected with the educational branch of our work. The same remark applies to three out of four of our Native pastors, to five out of twelve of the delegates of the Native Church Council, to four out of five of the youths in training for catechists at Bishopsthorpe; while no less than thirty-three of those who were in our schools are now monitors or teachers.

Government grants-in-aid.

Of the twenty-five schools eighteen receive Government grants-in-aid, and, with one exception, were well reported of. Mr. Honiss remarks:—

It must be borne in mind that results from a missionary point of view are not quite the same as those which satisfy a Government inspector. Reading, writing, and arithmetic are of course very necessary in the education of children, but we regard faith, hope, and charity as things of vastly greater importance. We desire above all things that school children may be able to read their title to mansions in the skies, that they may come to know how and why their names may be written in the Lamb's Book of Life, and that they may satisfactorily work out the problem, "What shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" Results of this nature it is difficult to tabulate. But I am satisfied we are working on the right lines, and, regarding the peculiar conditions of mission-work in Mauritius, that we are right in bestowing a large portion of our available means and efforts upon the young.

Zeal of a Native teacher.

Except one, all the teachers are communicants. One of them has, in the past year, brought four persons to the knowledge of the truth. Though himself a Tamil, and unacquainted with Hindi, he taught a man the Lord's Prayer in that language through the medium of English characters.

SEYCHELLES.

Industrial Institution at Venn's Town.

Mr. E. Luckock's first Annual Letter is one of thankfulness for personal mercies, and for encouragement in the work. The Industrial Institution on the island of Mahé, which is known as Venn's Town, contains thirty-one girls and sixteen boys. Mr. Luckock has applied himself to the Creole language, and begins to find himself understood. In the meantime both he and Mrs. Luckock have endeavoured to impart some knowledge of Divine truth through the medium of English and French. He says:—

I must turn to my record of work. Spiritual work stands first in importance. Of this I can only report that it has been sowing-time, and perhaps in many cases hardly more than ploughing. Our Sunday morning services have sometimes had a fair supply of outsiders, either friends of the children or some of our widely-scattered neighbours; but I regret that oftener we have had only the school-children. I have endeavoured to bring home the meaning of my addresses by numerous quotations from the Scriptures, which I have read in English and French, and sometimes, with Sylvan Baltide's help, I have translated them into Creole. The interest manifested at times, as well by the children as the adults, has encouraged me to hope that, not only was I understood, but that the Word also was finding its way into their hearts.

Bible-class.

My wife has conducted a Bible-class for the elder children on the Sunday afternoon, with only an interval of a few weeks, during which I have carried it on; and she has, at times, by questioning, found that they had very fairly understood the purport of the morning address, besides remembering the chief points of her previous Sunday lesson.

When I arrived, I found the elder ones were in the habit of learning the Collect and Gospel for the day, and repeating them for the morning class, and I have continued the practice and have been surprised at the correctness with which some have been able to repeat the whole of a long Gospel. I trust that by this means they are obtaining a good hold of the Gospel history, as well as a good store of the life-giving Word. The younger ones I take in the afternoon, and repetition of the Catechism is varied with verses from the Scriptures in English and Creole; in the morning one of the elder girls teaches them the Catechism, which they are learning in English and French.

Sewing-class.

My wife has conducted a sewing-class for the girls, and the new work prepared for the examination is very creditable. She is also labouring hard to induce them to repair the clothing in a respectable manner; the fashion here, of Creoles, as well as Africans, might well excite the envy of a London professional beggar, who wished to move the passer-by to sympathy by his vain endeavour to conceal his rags.

CHINA.

THE Society is engaged, and is the only Church of England agency engaged,* in two of the three divisions (for diocesan purposes) of the vast Empire of China. A glance at the accompanying map suffices to show that the measure of the Church's liberality has not even in a remote degree attained to the measure of the line which God has distributed to His people, a measure which reaches to the far Western Provinces, and to the regions yet beyond.

The Committee have already, in the "General Review of the Year," drawn attention to the Proclamation issued by the Chinese Government at the close of last year, calling on the people to live at peace with Christian missionaries and converts, and explaining that the Christian religion teaches men to do right, and should therefore be respected. The motives which prompted this wise and liberal decree were doubtless secular and political; nevertheless, remembering by Whom "kings reign and princes decree justice," the Committee cannot fail to discern the hand of Him Who has the key of David, and they would desire themselves to hear, and would call the attention of the members of the Society to His voice saying, "Behold, I have set before thee an open door; behold, I come quickly." IN the portion of China conventionally attached to the Diocese of Victoria, Hong-Kong, the Society has work in (1) the Island of Hong-Kong, (2) the interior of the Kwan-tung Province, with Canton as a centre, (3) Western Kwan-tung, (4) the Province of Fuh-Kien. The Diocese of Victoria.

Bishop Burdon made two important tours to visit and confirm the congregations in his diocese last year. The former was in April, when he, accompanied by the Rev. J. Grundy, travelled by boat up the West River, and visited four of the widely-scattered and numerically feeble out-stations of the Canton District. The second was in September and October, when he made a visitation of the whole of the Fuh-Kien Mission and confirmed 873 Christians, of whom 696 were males. The Bishop's journals of these tours were published in the Intelligencer for January, May, and June, and are invaluable for the vividness with which they depict the condition of the Native congregations, the difficulties which attend the work, the discomforts which the workers must endure, and the rich and plentiful fruits of their self-denying labours. The Committee thank God that, after thirty-three years of missionary toil, Bishop Burdon is still able to undertake such arduous journeyings by land and water. Bishop Burdon's tours.

The Bishop remained at Fuh-Chow in order to preside at the Half-yearly Conference of the Missionaries, and at the Annual Conferences of the Catechists and delegates of the Missionary Conferences

HONG-KONG.

The Rev. J. B. Ost continues in charge of Hong-Kong, and also acts as Secretary to the South China Finance Committee. After six months spent in England, Mrs. Ost has returned and resumed her valuable work among the women. The Rev. Fong Yat Sau is the pastor of St. Stephen's. A marked increase is manifest in the contributions of the Native Christian congregation, which has given much encouragement both to their pastor and to Mr. Ost. They have raised over $150 for the purpose of sending the Gospel to their fellow-countrymen on the mainland, and, with the aid of a grant from the William Charles Jones Fund, they have placed a catechist and schoolmaster in the Tsang-Shing district, their headquarters being at a village called Lung-mi-tsün, where there are already three baptized Christians. Mr. Ost visited this place in November, accompanied by Mr. Fong, and the latter on his way met an earnest Native Christian brother who had been led by him to serve Christ when he laboured as a catechist among the Chinese immigrants at Melbourne. Mr. Ost describes the services at St. Stephen's Church and at the Victoria Gaol:—

Native missionary zeal.

I am glad to say that some of our schoolmasters take an interest in this evangelistic work, and give voluntary help by regularly preaching four evenings each week. In addressing the heathen, the method pursued is as follows:—The person who preaches writes out on a blackboard in large characters the text, or portion of a text, he is going to base his remarks upon. This board is suspended from the front of the preacher's platform, and in such a position that every one in the church can see what is written on it. Those present who can read, read and re-read the characters, whilst of those who are unable to read (not a few) call a reading friend to their assistance, and hear the characters read for them. In this way an interest is excited in the minds of many, and then when the preacher preaches and unfolds the meaning of the sentence or sentences he has chosen, constant reference is made to the text, which in this way becomes indelibly fixed in the memories of at least a few. On more than one occasion have I been cheered by hearing a man repeat to a friend as he passed out of the church door the text which had been written out on the blackboard.

Evening preaching.

In connection with the evangelistic work of the Church, I ought to mention our weekly Sunday morning preaching to the prisoners in the Victoria gaol. By kind permission of the Superintendent (Major-General Gordon), we hold the service in a shed in the drill-yard. It is splendidly adapted for the purpose; and here, to a congregation varying from 150 to 300 men, "Jesus and the Resurrection" is preached. For some time past I have noticed a marked change in the conduct of the men, and this I attribute to the working of God's Preaching in the Victoria gaol.

Spirit. When I addressed the men last Sunday there were over 300 present (at least, so one of the warders informed me), and I was much struck with the rapt attention with which they listened to me whilst I dwelt upon God's great love to us as manifested in the gift of His dear Son.

An interesting baptism took place at St. Stephen's Church in March last. Mr. Ost says:—

One Sunday, in the early part of the year, a poor-looking but respectably-clad Chinese lady came into our church and waited after service to see me. On being asked into the vestry for quiet talk, she said that she was most anxious to be baptized, and thus to profess openly her faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. Her knowledge of Scripture truth was surprisingly great; not mere head-knowledge, but from the way she spoke it was easily seen that her desires after truth and godliness were earnest and genuine. Her history, as related by herself, was this:—Some ten years ago, she, with her husband and friends, were living in this colony; and wishing to have her daughters educated, she sent them to a neighbouring school—our C.M.S. Girls' School, Tai Ping Shan—little thinking that in doing so she was opening the way to such joy as she had never before experienced. The Scriptures of course held a prominent place in the teaching, and from her little ones A Yan heard bit by bit the whole story of the Gospel. She then began reading for herself some of the easy Scripture books brought home by her children, the result being that, although she could not see her way to becoming a Christian at once, she discarded her idols and determined never again to take part in the idolatrous worship to which she had been so devoted all her life. Her husband tried by every means in his power—by entreaty, by command, by ill-usage—to induce her to return to her former beliefs, and even her children insulted and abused her, but all to no purpose. God by His Spirit supported her. She remained steadfast in her refusal to sin against God by joining in their heathen worship. In the year 1884 her husband was made a petty military mandarin, and was summoned to Formosa to join the army there assembled to oppose the French, his wife and family accompanying him. No sooner did they arrive there than Mrs. —— sought out the missionaries and Native Christian teachers, and when she could escape from the house she used to start out to see and talk with them; and if her husband was away from home she would gladly receive them into her house, eagerly drinking in all that they taught her of this new religion. At last she became so convinced, by the working of God's Spirit in her heart and mind, of its truth, that she openly declared herself to be a Christian. And though her daughters had already arrived at the age when girls are usually betrothed and married, she determined to keep them unmarried, and let them bear all the consequent reproach, rather than see them united to heathen husbands. This open avowal of her belief brought down upon her great persecution from her family. Her husband and his principal wife subjected her to all kinds of illtreatment, and even her own son openly disowned her. This state of things continued until her husband's death in the autumn of last year, and then she found out that, not content with harsh and cruel treatment during his lifetime, he had culminated all by leaving herself and her daughters almost penniless. This, however, did not utterly cast her down, for she had that peace of God in her soul which made all her troubles light, and collecting the little that still remained to her, she returned to Hongkong, the place endeared to her as being the spot where ten years before she had first heard the Word of Life. Her first care then was to seek out St. Stephen's Church, and to ask to be admitted by baptism into Christ's Visible Church. Her earnestness and piety were so marked, and her knowledge of the plan of salvation so clear, that it was felt by all to be quite unnecessary to insist on any long delay, and accordingly, after a few weeks of further instruction, she was baptized March 14th. I shall not soon forget the happy peaceful look which lighted up her face, nor the deeply earnest manner in which she behaved all through the service. Shortly after her baptism she was admitted into our women's class for training Bible-women, where she has been making satisfactory progress with studies, and she gives proof of being an efficient helper in our work among the women.

Her baptism.

CANTON DISTRICT.

The Rev. J. Grundy, to whose care this district is assigned, spent five months of the year itinerating. Last year's Report mentioned disastrous floods in these districts. Subsequently, in autumn last, the rice-crops failed in consequence of drought. The Mandarins, from the Viceroy downwards, publicly visited the temples and performed certain ceremonies before the idols with the object of bringing down the much-needed shower. Mr. Grundy, however, was assured, that they only did this to pander to the popular ignorance and prejudice, they themselves, and the great mass of the educated and mercantile classes, having no faith in these superstitions. Nevertheless, this unbelief in the current follies of their fellow-countrymen does not seem to render these literati more accessible to the truth. On the contrary they studiously hold themselves aloof from the "hated foreigner," while in some places they take an attitude of decided hostility. In Kong-Moon, for example, where Mr. Grundy was violently attacked in 1884, they have lately practised a new mode of opposition. They have opened a preaching-hall close to the Mission chapel, have fitted it up in the same style, and at the same hours that preaching is going on at the chapel they give daily expositions of the Sacred Edict, the sixteen moral maxims of the Emperor Nang-Hi. This effort was so far successful that the Mission congregations dwindled down almost to nil, while their place was simply crowded with patient listeners.

Native disbelief in idolatry.

Opposition to Mission preaching.

The number of baptized Christians is 109. Six adults have been baptized during the year, and twenty-five were confirmed by Bishop Burdon at four of the out-stations visited in the spring of last year.

Baptisms at Canton.

The faithful catechist at Lo Ting, Leung A Fo, has been removed by death. He was baptized in California more than thirty years ago. Mr. Grundy says of him :— Death of a catechist.

In August last, at Lo Ting, Leung A Fo, our esteemed and dear fellow-labourer, peacefully entered into rest. His history was rather remarkable. Baptized in California more than thirty years ago, he was for many years in the employ of the Baptist Mission to the Chinese. Afterwards, on moving to Nevada, he joined our Church, and was engaged by the Bishop in the capacity of evangelist. He returned to China at the close of 1878, bringing with him numerous testimonials and letters. In 1879 the Rev. E. Davys despatched him on an itinerating tour into south-western Kwang Tung. He returned after many months' absence, reduced to great straits, having been robbed of most of his belongings, and compelled in consequence to sell his clothes to enable him to reach Hong Kong. Shortly afterwards I sent him to Lo Ting to take up the work begun there about eighteen months before. From his arrival the work increased and prospered until about two years ago, when persecution arose and nearly stopped it. Altogether he has been instrumental in leading eighteen souls to the Saviour. Several of these have passed to their rest, but of the others six were confirmed last spring, and two more were unavoidably hindered from coming to the service. His knowledge of the Bible was remarkable, his mind being simply stored with its truths. He was a good Chinese scholar withal, and could write those curious antithetical sentences so much admired by the Chinese, with great ease and accuracy. He was good, too, at translating hymns. All the hymns sung at Lo Ting were translated by him from the English. In his preaching he was simple, earnest, and practical. I feel that we have lost a valuable fellow-helper. The immediate cause of his death was an attack of dysentery.

WESTERN KWAN-TUNG.

Dr. E. G. Horder has resided several months at PAKHOI. The Rev. W. Light, an Islington man, was sent out last autumn to engage in evangelistic work, and especially, it is hoped, to itinerate, after learning the language. The Committee regret very much to hear of Dr. Horder's having been nigh unto death from an attack of dysentery. When convalescent he went to Australia for a sea-voyage, and Mr. Wigram had the pleasure of meeting him in April at Hong-Kong.

PROVINCE OF FUH-KIEN.

No change has taken place in the staff of European missionaries. The Revs. R. W. Stewart and C. Shaw have had charge of the educational work; the Revs. J. R. Wolfe, W. Banister, and J. Martin have superintended the various districts; and Dr. B. Van Someren Taylor has carried on his Medical Mission at Fuh-Ning. The Rev. Ll. and Mrs. Lloyd have been at home throughout the year. The Committee hope to send out an additional clergyman in the autumn, to be supported by the Missionary Association of Trinity College, Dublin.

Both Bishop Burdon, after his visitation of the Mission last autumn, and Mr. Wolfe, in his Annual Letter, call attention to the pressing want there is of Native teachers. Mr. Wolfe says:—"From some cause or other we do not now get men of the same sterling stamp that used to come forward fifteen or seventeen years ago. There is not the same zeal or willingness to endure in those who go forth now that was prominent and remarkable in the earlier catechists of this Mission. Even in numbers we are sadly deficient, and already we find it impossible to supply vacancies occasioned by death or other cause." This is a matter of grave anxiety, and again, as last year, the Committee would solicit special intercession to the Lord of the harvest in this behalf. He adds, nevertheless:—

Native teachers of sterling stamp needed.

An "open door."

> There never was a time in the history of this Fukien Mission in which there were so many open doors and so many splendid opportunities for the free proclamation of the blessed Gospel than there is now. There is a remarkable willingness on the part of the people to listen, and an unusually favourable disposition on the part of the authorities to give free toleration and protection to the Christians in the exercise of their religion throughout this beautiful and densely-populated province. Prejudices have been broken down, misunderstandings have been removed, and the aims and objects of the Christian religion are better understood and appreciated than ever they have been before, especially in the older stations of the Mission. Surely all this is cause for gratitude and thankfulness to God on the part of the whole Church in general, and of the C.M.S. in particular, and a strong reason why the latter should take a larger and a more practical interest in the evangelization of this province than it has yet done.

Theological College.

The Theological College has experienced a trying and disappointing year. The number of students has been unusually small, twenty-two men altogether under training, but only seven when the year closed, nine having been sent out as catechists or schoolmasters, and several having left on account of ill-health. The health of the students has suffered from a serious outbreak of a disease called biri-biri, well known in Japan, but which, until quite recently, had not visited China. Nearly all the students were attacked by it, one of them fatally. Mr. Stewart says of him:—

Death of a student.

> He had been with us at prayers the previous evening; during the night he was heard walking about, and complained that he could not sleep. His friend advised him to lie down in his bed, but he replied that it was of no use, and added, "I feel as if God my Father was going to call me home to-night, and I shall be rejoiced if it is so." These were his last words; and as he lay in his coffin in our little chapel, surrounded by those with whom on the previous evening he had joined in worship, an awful feeling of the nearness of eternity filled every heart. And yet there was no sting in a death like this, thanks be unto God who gave him the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Boys' Boarding School.

The Boys' Boarding School has been far more cheering. Mr. Stewart says it is the great hope of the Mission for the supply of catechists of ability to fill responsible positions. There have been thirty boys all the year through; some of whom are about eighteen years old. The Bible is the chief text-book. The general behaviour of the boys "has been everything that could be desired," Mr. Shaw says. Their health, too, has been excellent, and this Mr. Stewart attributes very much to their outdoor exercises. Football has been introduced to their intense delight. "They never seem to tire of it, and their tutor, the Rev. Mr. Ngoi, is perhaps the most enthusiastic of all."

Bible-women's Training School.

Twenty women have been under instruction in the Bible-women's Training School, and four have left for active work in the Mission.

Girls' Boarding School.

The Girls' Boarding School, superintended by Miss Bushell, of the Female Education Society, had forty-six girls at the close of the year. It is supported by the English community of Fuh-Chow.

Country schools.

The number of Country Schools has been largely increased through valuable help from Ireland and Tunbridge Wells. There are now seventy-four schools, with an attendance of 832 scholars, 394 being children of Christians. The zeal of the masters of these schools is stimulated by small grants, dependent on the result of the children's examination in the Scriptures. Two hundred and four, nearly one-fourth of the whole number of scholars, many of them heathen, earned the grants last year. Of these seventy-four schools, only eleven are supported by the Society's funds; $24 suffice, in addition to the scholars' fees, to support one such school for a year.

The eleven Districts have been worked as last year, but Mr. Banister has now taken up his permanent residence at Ku-Cheng, and the district of Hing-Hwa was put temporarily under the care of Messrs. Stewart and Shaw, to superintend it in connection with their educational work. Mr. Wolfe reports of Hok-Chiang, Lieng-Kong, and Lo-Nguong; Mr. Martin of Fuh-Ning and Ning-Taik; and Mr. Banister of Ku-Cheng, Kiong-Ning, Yong-Ping, and Hing-Hwa.

The HOK-CHIANG district has considerably improved during the year. Some of the pastorates which last year were mourned over, are now causing joy and thankfulness in part. At Kwang A there is an increase of thirty catechumens, and there is evidence of reviving zeal and spirituality. The number of adherents has largely increased at Twai-Ku, owing to the zeal and energy of one of the members who was converted through seeing his eldest son, who had been insane for many years, suddenly restored to perfect health by the special prayers of the Christians. At Keng-Tau there has been an evident improvement in every way. There are six villages in which are Christian congregations, under the pastoral care of the Keng-Tau catechist, and through his zeal and energy a new life seems to have been infused into the entire pastorate. In the village of Tiang-Pieng especially, a very wonderful work has been going on during the year, and the number of catechumens has increased from three to seventy, or more. These are now about to erect for themselves a small place of worship. They have already subscribed in money and labour over $200, and they have applied through their church council to the William Charles Jones Committee for a grant to assist them to finish it. The catechist at Sang-Au has been called to his rest. He was appointed a catechist by the Rev. G. Smith in 1862, and was then the only catechist in the Fuh-Kien Province connected with the C.M.S. He was the first to occupy Lo-Ngnong city, and it was through his means that the Hing-Hwa Mission was started.

Health restored through prayer.

Bishop Burdon visited the district and confirmed 400 adults. But for special hindrances there should have been 200 more. The Christians throughout the district received the Bishop with great enthusiasm, often going to meet him a considerable distance, by special delegates, with fife and drum and crackers, and escorting him to his destination.

Confirmations in Lo Nguong.

The work in the LIENG-KONG district has been fairly encouraging. The new buildings in the city excited great interest, and the attitude of the people has been on the whole very friendly, though there has been no increase of the numbers of the City church. The Tau-Ka pastorate, which embraces three congregations, at Tau-Ka, Mape, and Chia Siok, has given much cause for encouragement. At the last-named place the interest was partly arrested by a bitter persecution. In spite of the magistrate's proclamation forbidding interference, the persecutors drove the police out of the village, tore down the school-house, and severely beat the schoolmaster and several members of his family. But at the end of the year the Christians, assisted by a grant from the Lo-Nguong Church Council, and $100 from J. Love, Esq., purchased a large house for public worship, &c. Persecution at Chia Sioh.

The district of Lo-Nguong, both the city and the country pastorates, calls for fervent prayer. The most hopeful and encouraging fact recorded is that many of the Christians and most of the catechists have been lamenting the state of things, and have been earnestly praying to God for an outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon the entire district. Many of the most energetic members of the city congregation have died during the year. Bishop Burden confirmed between 200 and 300 in the course of his visitation. Natives praying for revival in Lo-Nguong.

At Fuh-Ning Dr. Taylor's medical work has greatly increased. There were 771 in-patients as compared with 416 of the previous year; of these 227 were opium patients. Of out-patients there were 5828, an increase of 1460 on the year before. Dr. Taylor conducts a class for instructing his patients in Divine truth every afternoon, and he mentions some incidents which prove that his teaching has been understood, and remembered, and repeated. Among the patients whom he was enabled to cure was a military officer of high rank. He gratefully presented Dr. Taylor with "a very pretty banner," which was carried through the street with the accompaniment of music and a good deal of pomp. Medical work at Fuh-Ning.

Sowing the seed has been the main work of the year in the Fuh-Ning district. A large influx of literary men, teachers, students, and their friends, during the several weeks of the literary and military examinations held in that city, and again, later in the year, a conflux of soldiers, brought together for a special review, afforded precious opportunities for this sowing. Mr. Martin says:— Sowing the seed in Fuh-Ning.

> We did our best to prepare for them, and got as strong a force of preachers and colporteurs as we could then command. We had a continual succession of visitors, both here and at the hospital, and having an extra preaching-station connected with the church, we arranged that the two companies should assist each other whenever necessary. On the whole, our visitors were most polite, and were very willing to listen to what we had to say. They stayed for upwards of an hour. Two of them seemed convinced that the doctrine of Jesus was in some respects superior to that of Confucius, but the third got very angry, and left us with derisive shouts and laughter. An interesting and encouraging feature connected with this visit is worth mentioning. Later on, when Mrs. Martin was talking to the women-students about these three young men, they said: "Oh, yes; we heard the loud voices, and when we understood what it was, we met in the catechist's wife's bedroom, and prayed that God would give the catechist patience, teach him what to say, and that He would open the hearts of the young men to receive what was said." With this working together in prayer, can we doubt that the seed was not sown in vain, and may we not look for it to bring forth fruit? Before the examinations were over I heard that the Mandarins had issued a proclamation, telling the students they could please themselves about visiting us, but if they did go, they were to be careful not to cause any disturbance.

Mandarin proclamation to keep the peace.

At Cho-Uang the violence of a few young men necessitated an appeal to the Mandarin, who bound over the disturbers to keep the peace:—

While at the Yamen, the catechist said he prayed that he might be able to witness for Christ; and, to the great surprise of those who were present, he preached Christ in a few sentences to the Mandarin and his subordinates. This catechist has had some very interesting preaching-tours. At one village the people were anxious to detain him, and he could only get away by promising to visit them a second and a third time, and to stay two or three days with them.

Preaching to a Mandarin.

One of the results of Mrs. Martin's visit with her husband to the Ning-Taik district, mentioned in last year's Report, was to invite a few Christian women to reside for a time at Fuh-Ning, with a view to their returning, after a course of study, as voluntary teachers to their neighbours. Four have been thus under instruction, and one of these has returned to her house at Lek-Tu, where she has been working very earnestly for Christ. Mr. Martin found on visiting the station that she had already persuaded two women to join the little band of Christians who have rented a house and meet together daily for reading and prayer. A woman here has suffered much for Christ's sake, but in spite of hard words and blows from her husband, is standing firm. Mr. Martin writes:—

Female teachers.

Her husband will not let her go to the chapel, and will not permit her to read any of our books; he has taken some from her and destroyed them before her eyes. When I was there, some of the Christians told me this woman wanted me to call on her husband; but as an older Christian said it might bring more blows to the woman, I decided not to go. So I wrote on a slip of paper (Matthew xi. 28): "Come unto me;" "Believe in Jesus, and be not afraid, for God loves you;"—gave it to our sister, and told her to take it to the persecuted, and to tell her we would all pray for her and her husband. A few days after my visit, the Rev. Ting called at the chapel, and when the woman heard he was there, she and her two daughters-in-law went to see him and to join in the service. On her return, the husband of the mother-in-law asked her why she disobeyed him and went to worship God. He then struck her and knocked her down. She said, "If you beat me till I am dead I shall not fear, for I shall then go home to God." This aggravated her husband still more, and he took up a chopper, and, holding the iron, struck her with the handle on the shoulder. He might have gone further, but was hindered by some who were present. Two days after this, she called on the late student at the chapel, and said: "Although my husband struck me with the chopper the other day, you see I am all right now. Praise the Saviour! The Annual Conference is near, and the catechist will be going. Please give this half-dollar to him as my Church subscription, and tell him to ask all the missionary ladies and our Native sisters to pray for me and my house, and to ask God to turn the heart of my husband."

He also relates the story of another Christian wife, at Hwo-Leng, who has had trial of cruel mockings and scourgings, and has obtained a good report through faith:—

Another case.

She was locked up in a loft by her husband, and kept a prisoner for three or four months, but was able to persuade somebody to buy a hymn-book for her. About this time, her husband and a few friends of his met the catechist in the street and struck him, and before the case was settled the woman was released. For two Sundays she walked through the rain to the chapel, and her husband, making some other reason an excuse for his anger, struck her, and not long after she died from the effects of the blow. Truly, women have no little cause to keep them from our services. They are entirely under their husbands' control, and are likely to be subjected to all kinds of ill-treatment. Again, I would ask for earnest and continued prayers for the women and girls of Fuh Ning and Ning Taik.

Illness of Rev. Ting Sing-Ki.

The Rev. Ting Sing-Ki, of Ning-Taik, has been dangerously ill, but was restored through God's blessing on the medical treatment of one of Dr. Taylor's Native assistants.

Baptisms in Fuh-Ning and Ning-Taik.

Bishop Burdon baptized 104 men and forty women in these two districts of Fuh-Ning and Ning-Taik, and his earnest words, Mr. Martin says, went home to many hearts.

Mr. Banister writes with thankfulness at having commenced residing at KU-CHENG, though it does involve privations and discomforts of a trying kind. He says:—

Missionary discomforts

Here in Ku Cheng, being so far from the sea, the diet of the Natives is chiefly salt fish and vegetables, with occasionally a bit of fowl or pork, both of which are abominations to people who cannot shut their eyes to their filthy feeding. There is no beef or mutton, and rarely any game, and we are regarded as specially eccentric barbarians because we want fresh milk, which we cannot get at present. A true missionary, however, soon learns to dispense with many things thought necessary at home. I would ask your prayers for us in our new home, that we may be made meet for whatever work the Master has in store for us.

I have hitherto been like a non-resident incumbent, with my two parishes, each larger than Lancashire, one in the north and one in the south, and living midway between them. I am thankful that I have now been relieved from the oversight of Hing Hwa and the southern district; it therefore appears in my report for the last time.

Native Christian respect for Bishop Burdon.

In the ten pastorates of the Ku-Cheng district, with three exceptions, Mr. Banister records quiet growth and progress. During the Bishop's tour last autumn, he confirmed 133 at six different centres. Very interesting were the spontaneous expressions of honour and respect shown by the Native Christians to the Bishop.

On our journey from Sang Yong to Ping Nang, after we had ascended the last mountain-pass which brought us into the Ping Nang hien, we came to a fine level plateau, and we espied in the distance, near to a solitary farm-house, a table placed by the roadside with cakes and tea prepared in the wilderness for the distinguished foreigners. Though the tea was not the finest Pekoe, and without cream or sugar, and served in common bowls of earthenware, we drank with thankfulness, and after a little rest and a few words of salutation we passed on our way to Kwang Yong and Tong Kio.

MID-CHINA MISSION.

KIANG-SU PROVINCE: Shanghai, 1845.
CHEH-KIANG PROVINCE: Ningpo, 1848; Hang-chow, 1861; Shaou-hing, 1870.

BISHOP MOULE has returned to his diocese cheered by the knowledge that his visit to England has been made conducive to the promotion of Christ's Kingdom in China. Two additions have been made to the staff. Mr. Herbert Hickin, M.B., C.M., Glasgow, sailed in December to join Dr. Duncan Main at Hangchow; and the Rev. John Neale, B.A., of St. John's College and Ridley Hall, Cambridge, accompanied the Bishop on his way out. The Committee also hope to send out in the autumn Mr. Charles J. F. S. Symons, B.A., of St. John's College, Cambridge, and Miss Mary Vaughan, daughter of the Rev. James Vaughan, late incumbent of Christ Church, Brighton. Reinforcements.

SHANGHAI.

Archdeacon A. E. Moule is still the only missionary deputed by the Society to prepare the way of the Lord in this populous mercantile city. And even he, as the Secretary of the Mid-China Mission, has had duties to discharge, and has been called upon to make journeys to visit other stations, which have made not inconsiderable inroads upon the time available for direct missionary work. That he should enumerate prominently among the discouragements of the year the "terribly slow progress of work, and the little fruit appearing" is not surprising. There is progress, however, as six adult baptisms attest; and, mainly through the influence of other and stronger Missions, the Gospel is getting widely known, so that in some parts of the country "it is the exception to meet with persons who have never heard any Christian truth." Archdeacon Moule dwells with special thankfulness on the character of the Native helpers sent to him from the Ningpo College:— Work of Archdeacon Moule.

I feel especially thankful for the harmony which has been maintained between the three Shanghai catechists and schoolmasters, and the two catechists who have joined me from Ningpo. The superior ability and knowledge of the latter might, but for God's special grace, have excited in them pride and affectation of pre-eminence, and in those others corresponding envy, dislike, and distrust. But the reverse, thank God, has taken place, and Church work, with a share of preaching, has been arranged without a hitch. I cannot feel too thankful for these helpers from Ningpo. They are always ready for work. They have paid three visits, of a week or ten days each time, to the country east of Shanghai, and they are full of hope that permanent country work may be organized ere long. Besides this, with Catechists from Ningpo College.

their help, added to that of the Shanghai workers, we have kept two preaching-rooms, and the reading-room, and three schools, besides three Bible-women, at work throughout the year.

In Shanghai 2000 Europeans and Americans reside amidst 200,000 Chinese, "2000 missionaries," Mr. Moule says, "for good or evil." The following circumstances are noteworthy as tending to excite in them a sense of responsibility, and an interest in missionary work. Mr. Moule says:—

The widow of the late Joseph Thorne, Esq., Mayor of Lewes, and formerly of Shanghai (a brother of Cornelius Thorne, Esq., Chairman of the C.M.S. Finance Committee in Shanghai), having found the inexpressible blessing and support of the Gospel on the occasion of her husband's sudden death last November, has asked me to accept one of her Chinese houses in Hongkew (the American settlement), rent free, and to place a suitable Christian family there to carry on a kind of memorial mission in remembrance of her husband. This chapel has been fitted up, and was dedicated to God's glory on November 12th, the anniversary of Mr. Thorne's death.

The Rev. H. C. and Mrs. Hodges, our good friends at the Deanery, have guaranteed the catechist's salary, so that the whole enterprise (with the exception of some fittings provided by other friends in England) is a free gift.

Apathy in regard to Missions.

On June 1st eleven of the leading laymen in Shanghai (eighteen were invited, but some were prevented by various causes from attending), together with Mr. Hodges and Mr. Muirhead (a veteran missionary of the L.M.S.), met at my house for a friendly conversation on the causes which may account for the apparent apathy shown by laymen with reference to Protestant Missions in China. All but one of those present took part in the discussion. The want of information as to our work; the seclusive, if not exclusive, life of missionaries; their mutual differences, or, more bluntly, want of interest in Christianity; and doubts as to its paramount claims, were specified.

Missionary meetings were suggested (to become meetings of missionaries only, as one shrewdly remarked), and I then ventured on the proposal that a meeting or conversazione be held once or twice in the winter at which laymen should be the chief speakers, giving reports of Mission work in Shanghai from their own independent observation. This I am trying to organize, and four at least—a banker, a lawyer, and two leading merchants—are pledged to perambulate the place and see what we are doing.

Translations.

Archdeacon Moule has prepared a Chinese Church Hymnal, arranged in the order of the Hymnal Companion of the Bishop of Exeter, and is translating the Commentary on the Epistle to the Romans of his brother, the Rev. H. C. G. Moule.

Bible-class and school.

Mrs. Moule conducts a Bible-class for Christian women, and two other classes weekly for both Christians and heathen.

The Anglo-Chinese School, under Mr. G. Lanning, has 43 students, of whom 22 are Native, 14 foreign, and 7 Eurasian.

NINGPO.

THE charge of the evangelistic and pastoral agencies of the Society in Ningpo rests upon the Rev. J. Bates, who also presides over the Native Church Council. The Rev. J. C. Hoare continues Principal of the College, and has been assisted by the Revs. W. L. Groves and J. H. Morgan. The Committee regret that Mr. Groves' illness, mentioned in last year's Report, has necessitated his return to England, and he has for the present resigned his connection with the Society. Mrs. Russell and Miss Laurence labour among the women and girls. An additional labourer was added to the staff by Mr. Hoare's marriage in September, to Miss Ellen T. Gough, daughter of the late Rev. F. F. Gough, formerly C.M.S. missionary at Ningpo. The Native pastorates continue under the charge of the same four Native clergymen; viz. the Revs. Dzing Ts-sing and Wong Yiu-Kwong labour in the two Ningpo pastorates; the Rev. Kwong-Yiao is at Z-Ky'i; and the Rev. Sing Eng-teh is at Kwun-hæ-we.

Mr. Bates reports upon itineration, pastoral work, and the Native Church Council. In Itineration he has been assisted by thirteen Native catechists, who were formerly under the charge of the Native Church Council, but are now directed by the Society's missionary. Three of these have died during the year, one over eighty years old, of whose "consistent example and quiet, persistent labours many both of those who have passed away and of the present members of the Church at the Lakes, have been the direct fruit." Mr. Bates says of their work:— Itineration

I have given them districts, and sent them forth two and two as regular itinerants. In these districts they find out places amongst the people where they may lodge for a week, or a fortnight, or a month; and from their lodgings as a centre they travel round the towns and villages in a circuit of about ten or twenty li. In this way a good deal of ground is covered, and the agents are brought much in contact with the people. Going forth two and two.

I endeavour to follow the agents in every direction as my opportunities allow me. I meet them in their several districts for consultation and prayer. I accompany them on their preaching tours. I lodge with them in the houses where they reside; or, if the canal or the river is convenient, we travel together in boats. I have kept a record of these journeys, which have extended over the hills west of the city of Z-Ky'i, the San-poh plains, the plains beyond the hills south of San-poh, and also part of the Vong-hwô heen. The particulars which I have noted in my journal are to me very interesting, because they show that God has given us an open door without the accompaniment of "many adversaries." Opposition indeed we rarely meet with. The people are always friendly. Opposition rarely manifested.

Interest of Buddhist nuns.

One day we passed through a village where, after conversing for a short while, we were about to leave. Two Buddhist nuns drew near to listen, and became much interested. They bought tracts, and asked us many questions. One or two other women seemed much impressed, and requested that they might be taught to pray. Our prayer-cards were exhausted, but we wrote out a prayer for one, who said that her son could read, and that she would learn the words from him. Lest her son should not quite comprehend what he was to teach she called him, in order that he might learn it also from us. This is a sample of our experience on these occasions.

Tokens of blessing.

I am thankful to say that there are some evident tokens of the Lord's blessing on our labours. I have reckoned up about ten hopeful inquirers altogether for the year, all of whom, I trust, may in due time receive baptism. Two of them have already been baptized by the pastor at Kwun-hoe-we at my request. It is my intention, wherever possible or convenient, to place all applicants for baptism under the care of the pastors. One of the inquirers is the fruit of an itinerating tour I had in the spring of the year in Vong-hwô. She is apparently a very earnest woman. Not long after her application for baptism she had to suffer a good deal of trouble from her own son, because she refused to join in ancestral worship. Another is the married daughter of an old Christian who has just died. She withstood for a long time the visits of the Native agents, but since her father's death she has fairly broken down, and expressed her desire to follow in her father's footsteps. An old man, far away among the hills west of Z-Ky'i city, but in the Zü-Ziao heen, after receiving several visits from the Native agents, has professed his trust in Jesus, and led an old friend of his and the village schoolmaster to become a Christian.

The Pastoral Work for which Mr. Bates is responsible consists of two small congregations too remote to be included in any of the pastorates. These are at Zi-kô-du, in the Vong-hwô heen, and at Loh-kô-bu, on the borders of the Z-ky'i and Zü-Ziao heens. The former of these has appointed a Church Committee, and Mr. Bates gives an interesting account of one of the members, whose name is Mô Ts-seng :—

A Native Church Committee

> He conducts the services every Sunday in my absence, and acts as treasurer. He is the only member of his family, and the only person in his own village, who is a Christian, and he has always felt most anxious about the spread of the Gospel among those so near to him.
> Last summer he built a new wing to his house, chiefly for the benefit of one of his sons; and now he thinks that he ought to have a day-school for boys, and for this purpose, with his son's consent, he has set apart the upper storey of the house. The school is to be opened next month. The furniture of the school is to be supplied at the expense of the Zi-ke-du congregation, and a schoolmaster is to be placed in charge by Mr. Hoare. Mô Ts-seng has also proved a very consistent and courageous Christian. One day I noticed that he had written on the cover of his account-books which he carries about with him on his visits to his customers (he is a wine distiller) the year of our Lord, as well as the Chinese year, and I asked him the reason of this. "Oh," he said, "when people see that they ask me for an explanation, and this gives me an opportunity for preaching the Gospel." Truly he is not ashamed to show his colours. His eldest son's wife died the other day, and an attempt was made to have heathen ceremonies. This he steadfastly resisted, even though the neighbours opposed him, and made much trouble about it.

At Loh-kô-bu a Christian boy has witnessed courageously for Christ :—

A school-boy's witness for Christ.

Two of the Christians have died during the year. One, an aged man, passed away very peacefully, and in his last moments he exhorted his wife to be steadfast in her profession of Christ. His little boy, who is a pupil in the Ningpo College, just got home in time to see him die. When his father's remains were being placed in the coffin (a very important ceremony with the Chinese), this little boy read a chapter from the Bible, sang a hymn, and offered prayer. The neighbours who came together to witness the ceremony were very much impressed with the boy's conduct, and when the Native agents went to visit the family early the next day (they had just by chance heard of the old man's death) quite a large crowd of people came gether to hear the Gospel. One cannot feel too thankful for such results from our Christian schools.

Baptisms.

In the Native Pastorates there have been fifty-eight baptisms, but the proportion of adults is not indicated. One of the pastors, the Rev. Dzing Ts-sing, mentions a woman who "does not object to laborious walks in her frequent visits to the villages round to speak the Word," and one or two others who "work hard and stint themselves that they may have to give to the Church Fund, the Poor's alms, and such like objects, some $7 or $8, others $4 or $5 a year (equal 22*s.* to 26*s.*, or 13*s.* to 16*s.* 3*d.*)."

Self-denial of Native Christians.

Theological Class :

Mr. Hoare has devoted himself to the Theological Class, and to carrying out the system of "peripatetic teaching," leaving the rest of the work to Mr. Morgan during his absence. Of the students and their studies and preaching Mr. Hoare says :—

its study :

As for the study of Scripture, I can hardly describe the constant pleasure that it has been, day by day, to work over the sacred pages with intelligent, and I can with the deepest thankfulness say, spiritually-minded students, with the best helps from modern criticism that I can command, and with dear old Scott's Commentary as my mainstay for spiritual and practical teaching. To complete the course of Scripture study, I have just given them a course of forty outlines of sermons preached by my father on the Epistle to the Ephesians, to serve as a model for practical and connected exposition of Scripture, and also, I hope, to help them in sermon-writing hereafter.

So much for study. To pass on to the evangelistic work done by the students, I can only speak with heartfelt thanksgiving for the grace given to these young men. They have preached with me in town and village, and as I have listened to them, whether preaching or conversing with inquirers, I have indeed been made to feel that they are taught of God. The first half of the year we confined ourselves to the Ningpo district. Starting out in two boats, in one of which the students lived, the other was my home and lecture-room, we fixed on a district near the lakes, and steadily preached round and round it. By fixing on about a dozen of the larger towns and villages we formed a circuit which we could work round in a fortnight; and these towns and villages we visited regularly once a fortnight from March till the beginning of June. The preaching, through the grace of God, had a marked effect. We have not indeed seen any actual conversions as yet in that district; but many heard, and listened with interest, and some began to pray. In the midst of our work we had one bright piece of encouragement in meeting with a man who had heard the preaching of the former set of students two years ago, and who now, through the teaching of the Holy Spirit, is a "living" Christian; but apart from that we were much encouraged by what we saw; and when the students, having finished their examinations in the summer, revisited the district, they came back rejoicing with the report, "Most of the people know the story of the Cross, and some are praying." And I have no doubt that in that sentence lies the secret of the power of their preaching—for power there is, such as called forth the inquiring remark of one of the Native clergymen, who came and joined us for a time, "They hold up Christ crucified, and Him alone before the people, teaching them at the same time to pray for the gift of God's Holy Spirit." I believe that many are praying that prayer now; and our Heavenly Father will hear and answer it according to His promise.

The secret of preaching power.

Encouraging results.

After the October Conference a visit was made to Chu-ki, where much encouragement was felt from the manifest results of former visits. Of the four candidates left after the previous visit, two had been baptized; and the students found in almost every village it was known that "Jesus died for our sins." During this visit Mrs. Hoare, too, was diligently engaged. Mr. Hoare says:—

Mrs. Hoare's work.

I must not forget that we have been working double this time. As soon as we arrived, my wife, through the help of a catechist, collected a class of half a dozen Christian women from the outlying stations, and she has been giving them a course of regular instruction, in the hope that they may be thus better qualified to teach their neighbours. At the same time she has carried on regular visitation with these women both in the city and neighbouring villages, and we hope that two women at least are being led to a true knowledge of the Saviour. One, a well-to-do woman in the city, in whose house my wife had taken refuge from a troublesome crowd, came out to see her and to learn more the next day, in spite of all the warnings of her neighbours that her eyes would be taken out, &c., &c. She sat listening the whole morning, and went away saying, "In my heart I believe; in my heart I believe." Since that she has come to the Sunday service, and has guided my wife to the houses of her friends. But if it is difficult for the men to break away from their surroundings much more difficult is it for the women. And it is piteous to hear them asking, "Who will help us when you are gone?"

"Who will help us?"

Mission hospital at Ningpo.

A vacant building has been utilized as a Mission hospital, Dr. Daly, the doctor of the port, having kindly given his medical skill, and God has set His seal to the work by the conversion of souls.

A T'ai-chow man came into the hospital for treatment. He had before heard something of true religion, and had been taught of the unity of God, but as he listened to the tale of a Saviour's love, which was being told as usual to the patients, he exclaimed, "That is just what I want." He himself accepted Christ, and his old father, who came to visit him, did the same, and they were both baptized by Archdeacon Moule before they went home. They both begged for preachers to go to their homes to help them in spreading the glad tidings which they had learned; and as the itinerating band had just been set on foot, and had been placed under my superintendence, I promised to send the members of that band down as soon as possible. The sequel of their story, so far as we know it at present, is a strange one. The old man started home before his son, was taken ill at his home, and before his son could reach him died; so soon passing into the presence of the Saviour whom he had but just learned to love. The younger man reached his home to find his father dead, and his house sacked.

An "itinerating band."

The "itinerating band" referred to in the last extract from Mr. Hoare's letter, consists of two former members of the Theological Class. Their object is to spread the Gospel to "the regions beyond." They have made extensive itinerations in the Nying-hæ and T'in-dæ districts, south of Ningpo, and have met with much encouragement; in the last town three converts were desiring baptism, and there were other inquirers.

Miss Higginbotham has been sent out by the Female Education Society to assist Miss Smith at the Society's Girls' School.

SHAOU-HING.

The Rev. J. D. and Mrs. Valentine have been alone since June last year, when the Rev. A. R. Fuller was invalided home.

The Committee would especially invite earnest prayer for this station. Mr. Valentine says: "We hear of showers of blessing in other lands, and we long, and pray, and work for the same here; yet the blessings come not." There are thirty-eight Native baptized Christians, of whom seventeen are communicants. Mr. Valentine has printed in Roman character a translation into the Shaou-hing dialect of the first part of the Collects, Epistles, and Gospels. There are seventeen pupils in the school, and he says they have never before been so well instructed in Holy Scripture as last year, which he attributes to the excellent teacher sent from the Ningpo Training College. One of the pupils is anxious to become a Christian, and Mr. Valentine has heard of four who have become Christians after leaving the school, and says, "It may be God's way of saving this people." He adds:—

Prayer for Shaou-Hing.

Translations.

Two little girls have learned to read, and to read very nicely, too, in the Roman character, having been taught at home, and chiefly by two boys of the family who were formerly in our school. They bring their books and read or recite to my wife with evident pleasure what they have thus learned.

HANG-CHOW.

The Rev. A. Elwin returned to Hang-chow at the end of last year. The Revs. J. H. Horsburgh and G. W. Coultas have continued there, the latter studying the language. Dr. Duncan Main has conducted the Hospital work, and has been rejoiced by Dr. Hickin's arrival.

Death of Miss E. O. F. Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. Horsburgh, and indeed the whole Mission, have mourned the loss of Miss E. O. F. Ward, Mrs. Horsburgh's sister, who had joined them only five months before. Mr. Horsburgh says:—

> For many years her heart had gone out in yearning for the heathen. Often had she been kept back from coming. At last an opportunity presented itself; she felt it was of the Lord, so did her friends, and they let her come. At a ten days' notice she started for China, but the wrench was more than her sensitive nature could bear. She kept up bravely, brightly, as long as she could, yielding her whole soul to the learning of the language, and to helping and sympathizing with others; then a collapse, and she was gone—gone from us, at home with Jesus.

Declensions of catechists.

Mr. Horsburgh's letter mentions two painful declensions of catechists, one at Hang-chow, the other at Fu-yang; and he fears that Luke Chow's influence at Chu-ki is not good.

Evening evangelistic meetings.

Evening Evangelistic Meetings were held in the church during the summer and proved very successful.

> We distributed bills of invitation in the neighbourhood, pasted a good notice outside, hung a big text over the door, and sang hymns at the church gate to encourage the passers-by to enter. Neatly-worded phrases, so peculiar to the Chinese, written on strips of red paper, invited those who came to abstain from talking, from smoking, and from nudity. At each meeting we had short addresses and sometimes a few words of personal testimony. Mr. Coultas joined in heartily, and was able to sing some hymns as solos. The people listened, and we prayed the Lord to let the words sink into their hearts. Several Native Christians helped us, and Dr. and Mrs. Main, Miss Laurence, and other friends. At Miss Laurence's suggestion, the subject for each night, such as God, Jesus, Sin, Salvation, was written in very large characters, and hung on the wall for all to see. It was written so large they could hardly forget it. Nor, I think, could they forget some of the hymns, particularly, "Jesus loves Me." We sang it over and over again so many times. These meetings we continued every night, excepting Saturdays (prayer-meeting night), for five weeks. It was hard to close them, but there was no help for it.

Attraction of hymn-singing.

> "'How to reach the masses' is a problem in China as much as in England," Mr. Horsburgh says. "We need to scheme, and work, and wait, and pray, and believe. In the darkness here there is no appetite for the Gospel." And he proceeds to dwell on the painful ignorance of the people:— "How to reach the masses."

It is difficult to bring oneself to realize how unenlightened the people are. Did Mrs. Main tell you of one poor woman at the hospital? She was talking to her of Jesus, and asked: "Do you know what is whiter than snow?" The poor woman at first was utterly puzzled, but presently her face brightened, she had evidently solved the mystery and eagerly answered—"Quinine." Ignorance of the people.

When at Fuyang, quite an old man came in whilst we were preaching. Our good catechist Liang-p'in asked him if he had any sins. He replied, "No, none at all." "Have you?" he said, turning to another. "Yes," was the answer. This was more hopeful, so the catechist continued, "How many sins do you think you have committed—one hundred?" "One hundred! oh no, certainly not." "Ten, then?" "No, not so many as ten;" and the man appeared to be sincere. "Not so many as ten? Well, what about to-day? Haven't you sinned to-day?" "No." "Haven't you done anything wrong?" "No." "Haven't you said anything wrong?" "No." "Haven't you had an angry heart?" (Chinese idiom). "No." "Nor a jealous heart?" "No." "Nor an impure heart?" "No." "Haven't you told a lie?" (A little hesitation, but recovering.) "No." Seeing no hope of making any impression in this direction, the good catechist somewhat changed his line of attack. "Come, now, my friend; have you had your supper?" "Yes." "And did you have your dinner?" "Yes." "And a good breakfast this morning?" "Yes." "Very well, these good things and everything else you have come from God. It is God who makes the rain fall and the sunshine, and without the rain and the sun there would have been no rice, and you would have had no breakfast, nor dinner, nor supper. Have you remembered to thank God to-day for all He has given you?" "No, I haven't," was the reply. And it was evident the arrow had gone home. "Well, isn't that a sin, quite a great sin, and it was the same yesterday and the day before. Now how old are you?" "Thirty-one." "Well, never mind the one, say thirty. One sin a day, that is 360 sins a year (Chinese reckoning). And thirty years—how much does that come to?" But before there was time for the calcution, the poor man, quite horrified, exclaimed: "Oh dear, I never knew it was like that. My sins must be 'su-peh-pien-tih' (beyond all count)." And yet, in spite of our earnest appeals, the new discovery struck him evidently more as a matter for wonder and amusement than anything else. So little do they realize what sin is, and whom they sin against. But we must not be discouraged. Who knows even in this case what shall be the end of this beginning! A sinless Chinaman. "Sins beyond all count."

Dr. Duncan Main's Annual Letter has not been received. A Chinese thief, in February, dug through the mud walls of the hospital compound and stole the whole of his surgical instruments and appliances, the value of which was more than 150*l*. Theft of Dr. Main's surgical instruments.

JAPAN MISSION.

Kiu-shiu, 1869; Osaka, 1874; Tokio, 1874; Hakodate, 1874.

Political and social reforms.

Higher education of women.

THE material and commercial development of Japan, which has astonished the world during the last few years, is being succeeded by extensive political and social reforms. The revision of the treaties now going on is expected to open the whole country to the unrestricted residence of foreigners. The date fixed for the commencement of representative government is fast approaching. And at the present time the foremost social question in Japan is the higher education of women.

But it is possible to be too sanguine regarding the progress of Christianity. While on the one hand, Japanese statesmen and public writers are openly discussing its claims to be the national religion, Europeans, on the other hand, are discovering "graceful religious sentiments" in Buddhism, deprecating Evangelical Christianity as unsuited to so bright and happy a race as the Japanese, and showing in their own lives how little they are influenced by the simplest moral teaching of the Sermon on the Mount.

Spread of the Gospel.

Meanwhile the Gospel is spreading rapidly. There are now more than 13,000 adult baptized Protestant Christians, besides children; and the candidates for baptism are numerous. The numbers have more than doubled in three years, and the increase in 1886 exceeded 3000. The great majority are Presbyterians and Congregationalists connected with the American Missions. The three Episcopal Missions, C.M.S., S.P.G., and American, have together about one-tenth of the whole. The C.M.S. has 665 baptized and 93 catechumens. Its baptisms in the year were 179 adults and 64 children, showing a much-increased ratio of progress.

Desire of Japanese Christians for organic union.

The Japanese Christians are manifesting singular independence, and a desire for organic union among the various bodies. The Presbyterians of different societies are already united, and form the strongest Christian community in the empire. The Congregationalists are uniting. This year the Episcopalians have formed themselves into one organized "Japanese Church," the constitution and canons of which were agreed to in a Synod held last February with remarkable unanimity and enthusiasm. While accepting the leadership of the two bishops, Bishop Williams, of the American Protestant Episcopal Church, and Bishop E. Bickersteth, and recognizing their episcopal authority, the Japanese Christians took a prominent part in the discussions, and avowed their desire for an independent national episcopal Church, separated for a time from the other Churches, but looking forward to union hereafter.

Work of Bishop Bickersteth.

Bishop E. Bickersteth landed in Japan in April, 1886. He has since visited all the stations, and most of the out-stations of the Society's Mission, and confirmed about 150 of the C.M.S. Christians, and in February last admitted three to deacons' orders, the Revs. Terata, Nakanishi, and Terasawa. He has appointed the Society's senior missionary, the Rev. H. Maundrell, to be his Archdeacon.

NAGASAKI.

Death of Mrs. Maundrell.

The Ven. Archdeacon Maundrell has had charge of the work in the southern island of Kiu-shiu. The Committee heard with deep sympathy of the heavy affliction which fell upon him in March last by the death of Mrs. Maundrell, a few days after the birth of a child. The Rev. A. B. Hutchinson has laboured at Nagasaki, and the Rev. J. B. Brandram, while studying the language, has spent six months of the year away from Nagasaki, three of them at Kumamoto, giving occasional assistance in public preaching and in Bible-classes, &c. Miss Harrison, of the C.E.Z.M.S., received a warm welcome at the end of last year. Church Committees have been established at Nagasaki, Kagoshima, Kumamoto, and Saga. There are altogether 283 Native Christian adherents, of whom 103 are communicants. Fifty adults have received baptism during the year, and sixty-four have been confirmed.

Church Committees.

The Theological Class has been transferred to the Osaka Theological College, where six Kiu-shiu students are being prepared.

The Deshima congregation has not greatly increased. Archdeacon Maundrell says both of Deshima and of the preaching-place at Shindaika Machi: "The attendance of outsiders is not such as to show that there is a thirst among the people of Nagasaki for the truth." During the summer they were closed by authority as a precaution against the spread of cholera.

Girls' Boarding School.

Mrs. Goodall's Girls' Boarding School preserves its bright and humble path of Christian usefulness. Of the eleven boarders, six are now regular communicants.

Evangelistic work.

Of the catechists, Jacob Watanabe is at Saga, in charge of the few Christians in that town, and of others scattered about in the provinces of Hizen and Chikuzen, and with a vast field to evangelize; and John Matsuka is at Kumamoto, for the work in the province of Hizo. Stephen Koba and John Ko are at Nagasaki for further training with a view to ordination.

Mr. Maundrell reports Kagoshima and Saga as "low in numbers, low in knowledge, and low in means."

Native effort for self-support.

At Kumamoto the Christians are making great efforts to become self-supporting. Mr. Hutchinson writes:—

> Mr. Brandram, who has spent nearly three months at Kumamoto, tells of one innkeeper who sets aside a fraction from the account of each guest for the church, and of an earnest sister who devotes half the profit on every article she knits and sells towards the church fund.

Mr. Brandram's three months' stay was from October to December; but he had made a previous visit at the end of March, when he helped in some united evangelistic services, and baptized six persons. He says:—

> When I arrived I found that the Christians belonging to the three Churches there (our own, the American Board of Missions, and the Methodist Episcopal) were arranging a series of united preachings. I readily agreed to help. There were four meetings, two on Saturday and two on Sunday. I spoke three times—twice by an interpreter, and once in Japanese. We had audiences of four or five hundred, who listened for more than two hours at a time most attentively. I was very much struck at the delight with which the Christians all spoke of the large and quiet audiences, as marking a new era in the work at Kumamoto. On the Monday following the Christians spent the evening together.

Encouraging baptisms.

I baptized six persons at this time; five of them were adults, the sixth was the catechist's baby. I was most pleased with their answers. They appeared to be really trusting Christ, and to be showing by their lives that they had "turned from idols to serve the living and true God;" and now, at the end of my second visit there, I am able to speak with thankfulness of their conduct.

One was a policeman. He was baptized a day or two before the others, as he was ordered to Tokyo to go through some special training. He had heard the Gospel three years before, but had only learned regularly for six months. Another, aged twenty-eight, four years before had heard and at first exceedingly resented the truth. He is a man of good education, and seems very earnest now. Of the three others, one was a woman sixty-four years of age, who had for some time past been a zealous Buddhist, going daily for five years to a temple several miles distant. Her grandson, a medical student, died the year before last. During his illness one of our Christians, a young doctor, visited him, and spoke to him of Christ. The Word thus spoken was brought within reach of the grandmother, and after his death she came to our catechist inquiring about Christ. She told me the day and hour when she first heard. She is wonderfully earnest, and people seeing her happy face have asked her the reason for her joy. She is most regular in attending the services. Another grandson of hers, a schoolboy aged fourteen, was baptized at the same time.

The remaining adult was a married woman of twenty-four. She told me that a long illness had set her seeking for comfort, and this she had now found in Christ.

OSAKA.

The Rev. H. Evington is Secretary of the Japan Mission. He spent a considerable portion of the year away from Osaka, visiting the out-stations, of which he has general charge, as well as of the two city congregations. The Rev. G. H. Pole conducts the Theological College, and superintends the Boys' School. The Rev. G. Chapman resided at Fukuyama for three months at the end of last year, partly for the work's sake, and partly on account of his health, but chiefly with a view to improving his knowledge of the language. The Rev. W. J. Edmonds, who arrived in December of 1885, and the Rev. T. Dunn, who joined the Mission last year, have been engaged in the study of the language. Miss Jane Caspari works among the women and girls. Miss E. B. Boulton, of the Female Education Society, has been reinforced by Miss Hamilton. The number of Native Christian adherents at Osaka and out-stations is 387, of whom 167 are communicants. There were ninety-eight adult baptisms during the year. A terrible visitation of cholera in the summer interfered somewhat with the work, but far more with the trade of the city. A more important event of the year was the opening of a new hall of the Y.M.C.A. on November 3rd (the Emperor's birthday). Mr. Evington says :—

New hall of Y.M.C.A.

> This hall has been built with contributions from the Japanese Christians, largely aided by the Young Men's Christian Associations of England, America, and Australia, and it is capable of holding considerably over 1000 persons. Several large public meetings have already been held in it, and the first week of 1887 saw it filled at the prayer-meetings of the Evangelical Alliance.

At Trinity Church, Mr. Evington reports, the congregations are large; on Christmas Day there were 132 present, and fifty communicants. At the Church of the Saviour there has been a large number of baptisms, and some men of thought are being drawn to the services. One of these, a married man, has entered the Divinity School at his own charges, and "promises to be a thoughtful and successful student."

Mr. Evington has forwarded a translation of reports written by Messrs. Nakanishi and Terasawa, the Native catechists connected with the Church of the Saviour and Trinity Church respectively, both of whom were ordained last February by Bishop E. Bickersteth. Mr. Nakanishi gives a list of the services and meetings held weekly in the Church of the Saviour :—

Native services and meetings.

> On Sunday morning, prayers and preaching, average attendance 50 or more; afternoon, prayers and exposition, average attendance, 40; evening, prayers and preaching to the heathen, average attendance, 30; Tuesday evening, catechumen's class; Wednesday afternoon (3 o'clock), women's class—St. Matthew—attendance, 12; Thursday evening (7 o'clock), twice in the month, prayer-meeting—other nights, Bible-class, attendance, 10; Friday evening (7 o'clock), prayers and preaching, attendance up to 50. Every 8th, 17th, 18th, and 28th of the month preaching to the heathen, attendance from 20 to 50. Out-stations Moriguchi and neighbourhood: Meetings held almost every Sunday.

Mr. Terasawa's report takes a wider scope, and gives his impressions on the general conditions of the work :—

Spiritual and temporal condition of Osaka.

> 1. General Condition of Osaka.—This city is the second "Fu" in the kingdom and the commercial centre for Shikoku and Kiu-Shiu, and because it is an enterprising commercial city, the tendency of the people is rather to the acquiring of material wealth than to follow after righteousness. They are more ready to hold back and to take care of self than to move forward and embrace a new faith. There are now fourteen places of worship in the city, and the total number of Christian believers is above 1000, but many of these are natives of other places. There has been a marked advance this year in religious matters; even newspapers that deal entirely with material interests have spoken of the necessity for religion, and thus the minds of the people have been much moved to consider it. They acknowledge fully their sinfulness, and although they do not seek admission to the Church, they give a general consent to the teaching of Christianity. "They are," in the words of Scripture, "ripe for the truth."

2. The State of the Churches.—Whilst there has been an advance outside the Church there does not seem to have been the same within; believers have lost power to contend with the world, and their minds are turned more towards learning and eloquence than the power that comes of faith. Is not this cause for anxiety? State of the Church.

3. The State of the Episcopal Church in Osaka.—There are five places of worship connected with the Episcopal Church in Osaka and about 400 Christians. There are signs this year of more effort to secure union, and this should be a mark of advancement.

4. Trinity Church, Osaka.—Last year (1885) by reason of the floods, cholera, and the great depression of trade, the contributions to Church funds were considerably affected and the people were unable to give the requisite amount to their pastor; indeed, sometimes only Yen 6 of the promised Yen 10 were collected and handed over the following month. This year with difficulty the full amount has been subscribed and a small contribution made to evangelistic work. In addition to this, the more earnest amongst us have been putting together money for the removal of the church into the city.

Mr. Pole's health has been severely strained by the anxious and responsible charge of the Theological College, which he has borne alone. He says:— Theological College.

> The kind sympathy and assistance of my colleagues at the station, and of Miss Caspari and my dear wife (especially) have cheered me, and the constant thought that our loving Saviour is graciously pleased to condescend to use every willing vessel, however weak, and filling it with His divine fulness, cause it to bear some fruit to His glory, has been an abiding source of strength in such hours of gloom and despondency. Blessed be His holy name for any and all results which may flow from what He has enabled me to do for Him this year.
> I have continued working on the lines fully reported in my Annual Letter of last year, but, in consequence of the extension of the current year's work till June of next year, I have been able to deal rather more fully and exhaustively with the new subjects on which I have lectured. These have been—in Old Testament: Joshua, Ezekiel i.-xxxii., Prov. i.-ix.; a course on Landmarks of Old Testament History (Adam to The Dynasty of Omri); in New Testament: St. John's Gospel i.-iii., Rom. i.-iii.; in Dogmatics, &c.: Pearson on the Creed; in Church History: Second Century to Polycarp; Paley's Evidences; Rationale of Prayer-Book: Morning and Evening Prayer, and Litany; and Ancient History of Egypt. Besides this new work, the first-year students have been taken through St. Matthew's Gospel and the Epistles to Galatians, Ephesians, and Philemon, first century Church History, and first course of Dogmatic Theology, the lectures on which I prepared last year. The Preparandi students have been taken through a condensed and revised edition of Mr. Maundrell's Old Testament History, and a course of eighteen lectures, prepared by myself, on Outlines of New Testament History, as well as a course on the Geography of Palestine, also prepared by me. All these lectures have been carefully written out in Romanized characters, and also copied The curriculum.

out from the original rough drafts of my teacher into the Japanese character, and are ready for future use by any one, whether Japanese or foreigner. During the next six months I propose finishing the course on Ezekiel, Proverbs, John, Romans, Old Testament History (from Jehu to Herod), Church History (second century), and taking in addition the Book of Judges (to follow on and connect with Joshua) and a course on the Thirty-nine Articles. The above course all belongs to the second year, except the subjects mentioned as taken with the first year and Preparandi students; but of course I have been obliged, from lack of assistance, to take the first and second year students together, as far as possible, in the Scripture subjects.

Boys' School.

In the Boys' School there are forty-two boys on the roll, of whom fifteen are boarders. Most of them are children of well-to-do Christians, and all pay their own fees.

There are four chief out-stations, Tokushima and Fukuyama in the island of Shikoku; Iwami and Matsuye in the extreme west of the main island of Hondo. The catechist at Tokushima, Mr. Makioka, reports ten adult baptisms at Tomioka, fourteen miles from Tokushima. He also relates a remarkable story of a man at Kotajunamura, three miles from Tokushima:—

A case of "diseased faith."

This man is forty-nine years of age and very peculiar. Seven or eight years ago he was a policeman, and afterwards became "kocho" [head of the village]. Whilst kocho he bought a copy of the New Testament in Chinese, with diacritical marks to assist in the reading, and by degrees perceived that he ought to worship Christ. From this time he gave up his whole time to the study of the Scriptures, and, finally (dreadful to relate), placing bread and spirit upon a shelf after assembling his family, brake the bread and said, "This is Christ's flesh," then, taking the wine, he said, "This is Christ's blood." He then caused his family to eat and drink. He punished his wife because she did not believe in the true God, and told her that such as she were unfit to live, rather she ought to have a mill-stone tied to her neck and be drowned. For five years he gave up his work and made the reading of Scripture and prayer his duty; latterly, however, he has perceived his mistakes and grieved over them, and has received baptism.

The outlook at Fukuyama is promising. There are small congregations also at the village of Yera and at the small town of Fuchin, where rooms for Christian worship have been secured. At Fuchin the Christians, Mr. Chapman says, are all of the better class, and all very earnest. There have been six baptisms there. One of the Christians, an influential merchant, has opened a school for teaching English. Mr. Evington relates the following of the first convert from Yera:—

Baptisms.

An exemplary convert.

He is a farmer, of no special education, and was at the time getting his living truly by the sweat of his brow. He dragged his heavy cart over the bad roads to Fukuyama on Saturday, and spent the Sunday with the Christians, returning on Monday morning. He is now the great settler of disputes for the village. It was related of him in my presence, a few days ago, that instead of doing as the ordinary middlemen do, going to the house of each and speaking ill of the others, he gets the disputants together and sits between them, then laying open the New Testament, explains to them their duty of being reconciled to one another, with the general result that an understanding is come to.

The distance from Osaka to Iwami is 650 miles. Mr. Evington made two visits during the year. Matsuye in Idzumo promises, he says, to be a flourishing station. It is the centre of local government and of education. Seventy students listened with interest to two addresses by Bishop Bickersteth in November.

TOKIO.

The Revs. J. Williams and P. K. Fyson have laboured during the year at the capital of Japan; the latter, while still engaged by the British and Foreign Bible Society upon the work of Bible translation, has also had charge of the congregation worshipping at St. Paul's Church. He reports seventy Christian adherents, thirty being communicants; twenty-three adults were baptized during the year. He gives a bright account of the congregation, of their sense of dependence on God shown by their zeal in prayer, and their unwillingness to depend on man, leading them to make liberal offerings for their spiritual privileges. They contributed $230. Mr. Fyson says :— Translations. Baptisms.

> The congregation, as a whole, has grown in strength and spiritual life, and has exhibited a good deal of zeal, both for the spiritual welfare of its own members, and for the evangelization of those without. In addition to defraying all its own Church expenses—no money whatever being received from foreign funds—it has also provided the principal part of the support of two of its number specially engaged in evangelistic work. Perhaps the most encouraging feature is its zeal in prayer. The week-day prayer-meetings are most regularly attended and evidently much enjoyed; and to give a single special instance, after the usual week of prayer at the beginning of the year, held conjointly with other bodies of Christians, this congregation resolved to have a second week of prayer by itself, and the last meeting on the Saturday was the best attended of all. Native prayer-meetings.

Mr. Williams has opened two preaching-stations in suitable centres in the city, while Mrs. Williams has had a meeting for women. Both have been blessed with fruit, and six converts were baptized by Mr. Williams in January last. At the house of one of these a class for religious instruction has been opened on Saturday afternoons from 2 to 3.30 p.m., which Mr. Williams calls a "Saturday Sunday-school." It is attended by about twenty-five children. "A Saturday Sunday school."

This is followed by a meeting for older people. This work was started by the schoolmaster, Tanaka, and other voluntary workers, without any suggestion from Mr. Williams.

HAKODATE.

Work among the Ainos.

The Rev. W. Andrews and Mr. J. Batchelor have laboured in the island of Yezo, the former at Hakodate, and the latter among the aboriginal Ainos. The Rev. Terata, who was ordained last February, has been appointed to be the first Native pastor of the little congregation at Hakodate. It consists of five families, who have undertaken, in addition to providing the means of defraying the expenses of the church, to find the rent of his house. Since the opening of their little church at Christmas, 1885, Mr. Andrews says the attendance at the services has been more regular, and he also reports a growing interest in Church matters, and increased spirituality. There are several out-stations; one, at Kushiro, about two hundred miles by sea from Hakodate, has two families of Christians and ten inquirers. The total number of adherents is sixty-six, of whom thirty-six are communicants. Four adults have been baptized.

Aino baptisms.

Bishop Bickersteth visited Yezo and inspected the Aino Mission in August. He had the pleasure of baptizing two adults and one child. They consisted of Mr. Batchelor's servant and his wife and child.

Aino translations.

Mr. Batchelor has prepared for printing a translation of the first seven chapters of St. Matthew.

NEW ZEALAND MISSION.

European Missionaries first arrived in New South Wales, 1811; proceeded to New Zealand, 1814; Mission confined to the Northern Island.

DIVISION OF THE MISSION.

I. DIOCESE OF AUCKLAND. II. DIOCESE OF WAIAPU. III. DIOCESE OF WELLINGTON.

THE Society's work in the three dioceses of the Northern Island of New Zealand is under the management of a Mission Board which consists of the three Bishops, Archdeacon Clarke, two other missionaries, and three independent laymen, with Archdeacon Williams as secretary. In the whole Mission the Society has twelve European and twenty-seven Native clergy. There are 18,241 Native baptized Christians, 2562 of whom are communicants. There are 357 voluntary unpaid Native agents. The contributions of Native Christians for religious purposes amounted during the year to 1471*l.* 6*s.* 9*d.* These figures are extracted from statistical returns which Archdeacon Williams has sent this year—the first for very many years. They show that although the number of Native Church members is nearly twice as many as the number reported up to four years ago, the figures presented to the Synod of New Zealand in 1882, which have since been followed in the Committee's Reports, were far too high.

I.—DIOCESE OF AUCKLAND.

ARCHDEACON E. B. CLARKE superintends almost all the Maori work in this diocese. The Rev. R. Burrows, who resides at Auckland, is secretary of the "Land Board" which manages the properties of the Society in the island. His frequent visits in this capacity to different parts of the country give him excellent opportunities for direct missionary work. The Rev. J. Matthews, who joined the Mission in 1831, resides at Kaitaia, and though nominally retired from active service, is still doing an invaluable work. The Rev. F. T. Baker resides and labours at Waitara.

The "Land Board."

In his Annual Letter, Archdeacon Clarke gives an interesting review of the different Native parochial districts in the diocese. The northernmost station, near the North Cape, is Parengarenga. The pastor, the Rev. H. K. Taitimu, is also the principal chief of his tribe. All the population, about 350, are professed Christians. There are three neat wooden churches in the district, one of them at the North Cape. Eighty miles south is Ahipara. The Rev. R. Kamiti, in addition to this district with its five out-stations and two churches, has had the ministerial charge of Hokianga, vacant by the Rev. P. Patiki's death. Kaitaia, ten miles east of Ahipara, was the first Mission station established north of the Bay of Islands. As mentioned above, the Rev. J. Matthews resides there. What Mr. Clarke says of him and of the district must be quoted :—

A venerable pioneer.

That venerable pioneer of the Gospel, Rev. Joseph Matthews, than whom the Society has not a more earnest missionary, resides here. To his teaching the Native Church are indebted for most of the northern clergy. The good old man is, I am happy to say, likely soon to realize the fulfilment of a long-cherished hope, the building of a substantial church to take the place of the old one, which, after seeing nearly fifty years' service, has become almost unsafe. The church is now in course of erection, and will be completed early in next April. As a mark of gratitude and respect to Mr. Matthews, collections were made in every church in the northern archdeaconry towards the cost of the new church. Associated with Mr. Matthews is the Rev. M. Te Haara, who, in consequence of what we hope to be a temporary mental malady, is not taking full duty. There are five or six out-stations. At Awanui, one of them, the Natives have just completed a neat little church, costing 300*l*., which is to be opened by the Bishop, together with the one at Kaitaia, in April. The population of the district is between 300 and 400. The fame of Mr. Matthews' classes, at which he gives his teachers their sermons for the following Sunday, and other valuable instruction, is well-known throughout the north.

Twenty miles further south is Oruru, the pastor of which, the Rev. R. W. Tangata, who was the senior of the northern Native clergy, and "a most worthy man," died in April last. The next district is Waimate, fifty miles south of Oruru, which has six churches and eight out-stations, at distances varying from eight to twenty-five miles from the centre. This place is Archdeacon Clarke's headquarters when in the north, and his testimony is :—

Evidences of Native conversion.

As these are the people with whom I am most intimately acquainted, I may say that the change in their life and conversation is very marked. At one time they were a reckless, intemperate, improvident people, but now a complete change has come over them: their habits have so altered that the contrast is most gratifying. Though surrounded by European settlers, they are no longer led away by temptations, but are honest and trustworthy. Many of them take contracts for road-making under the Government, and the testimony of the officials in charge of the work is, that they are more reliable and faithful than many of the European contractors. Surely this is proof that their principles are of a cast above the common. Their attendance at the Sunday services, and their devout manner, might be followed with advantage by many white people who profess and call themselves Christians.

Kaikohe is the most populous of the northern districts, about 902. It has six out-stations and three churches. Waimamaku is on the west coast; the most distant of its eight out-stations is seventy miles off. The Rev. W. Te Paa, its minister, is the youngest on the staff, but has won the entire confidence and affection of his people, and is a special favourite with the Kingites. Paihia, on the Bay of Islands, with seven out-stations and three churches, has sustained a severe loss in the death of its "plodding, earnest" incumbent, the Rev. R. Paerata, the particulars of whose untimely decease are given below. Whangarei is situated half-way between Auckland and the Bay of Islands. Its population of 400 is scattered over a large area; in no instance are there more than fifty in one settlement. The Natives during the year have built a "remarkably nice church," costing 350*l.*, and are preparing to build a minister's residence. The minister, the Rev. A. Te Wharemu, has been transferred to the diocese of Waiapu. Wakatiwai has three churches, and a population of about 800.

Scattered parishes.

There are four districts south of Auckland. Hauraki has a population of 800, of whom a little more than half are Church members, the rest being Hau-haus and followers of Te Kooti. Mr. Clarke says:—

> Many of the people are living in comfortable wooden houses, and in European fashion. Though surrounded by a large foreign mining population, and in consequence subject to temptation, there is very little intemperance and immorality amongst them. They have settled down to be an orderly, law-abiding community.

Temptations of Native converts.

Lower Waikato has been troubled by Mormon missionaries. The Rev. H. Tarawhiti, of Upper Waikato, has lately lost his wife.

Of the Kingites the Archdeacon says:—

> With regard to the work amongst the Kingites I confess to being somewhat disappointed. I thought that the time for their returning to the faith was nearer than it has proved to be. While all acknowledge the puerility of their so-called Hau-hau religion, there is no general desire to renounce it for the true faith. I do not think we must expect a change until their relations with the Government are on a more satisfactory footing. Tawhiao, the king, has gone back to the old superstitions of his ancestors. When pressed to renounce his folly he replies, "Wait till we have come to a proper understanding with the Government, and then when our land claims are settled I will listen to you." Strange as it seems, that while keeping aloof from Christianity he will not hear of the Maori clergyman being removed. When last in Waikato I heard of the death of Tawhiao's son, and went a considerable distance out of my way to visit him. After expressing my sympathy in native fashion, I asked him to allow me to read the funeral service, but he refused, saying that he preferred to do so himself. In spite of present disappointment I still believe that the day is not far off when there will be a general movement towards Christianity. May God hasten it!

Two of the Native clergy of whose character and work Archdeacon Clarke wrote in terms of affectionate appreciation in his Annual Letter, have since been taken to their rest under circumstances of peculiar trial to the Archdeacon himself. On April 20th he wrote:—

Deaths of two Native clergy, and a Maori M.P.

"I was dumb, I opened not my mouth; because Thou didst it," best describes my condition at the present time. My spirit is crushed, overwhelmed within me. It is with the greatest sorrow that I have to report the loss of three of our best men, two clergymen and one layman. They were taking a distinguished part in the work of the Master when He almost suddenly called them to rest from their labours. They were men whom, to speak as men, we could ill spare. What adds to my grief is the fact that their deaths were caused by food eaten at my table.

The first to be taken, on the 6th, was Ihaka te Tai, the Maori Member of Parliament. He was a chief of the highest rank, and had considerable influence in the country. Being a thoroughly God-fearing man he was always on the right side, and used his influence to promote the moral and spiritual welfare of his people. For more than twenty years he was the principal teacher in the Paihia district, and at one time had a great desire to enter the ministry, but was not encouraged on account of delicacy of health. He was, without doubt, the most consistent Maori layman in the whole diocese, and by his bright example, as well as activity in doing good, did, perhaps, more practical work for the Master than if he had been in orders.

He was a member of the Native Church Board from the first, and proved himself the most useful man in council. We shall miss him sadly, for none so wise or lovingly persuasive. His influence was not confined to the Natives only, for the Europeans loved and respected him.

The next to be called away was my dear Native brother, the Rev. Renata W. Tangata, of Oruru. He died on April 7th, in his fiftieth year. After working as a lay teacher for several years, he was ordained deacon by Bishop Selwyn in 1867, and priest by Bishop Cowie in 1872. I cannot write of him with calmness, for he was a specially dear personal friend; a man greatly beloved by all who knew him. It was of him that I wrote in my last Annual Letter as a model pastor, so wise, so gentle, and yet so firm. He was the senior of the Native clergy north of Auckland, and looked up to by all his younger brethren. He was an eminently spiritual man, and endowed with considerable preaching power. His loss is simply incalculable, for we have not at present one so fitted to lead others as he was. He was chosen as the leader of the special mission to the alienated people of the Waikato and King country, and won the confidence and respect of many who at first treated him with contempt and abuse. He happened to be on that mission during the late volcanic eruption at

A model Native pastor.

Tarawera. He was on the island of Mokoia, in the Rotorua lake, on the night of the outburst. Whilst the people were paralyzed with fear, he alone remained calm during the awful scene. I have been told by some who were present how he groped about from house to house covered with the volcanic mud that was falling, exhorting and praying with the terror-stricken people, who thought that the end of the world had come. The Hau-haus and Roman Catholics of the place simply crouched at his feet, saying that they were only safe close by this man of God. But I cannot write more of him now.

The next to go to his rest, on April 10th (Easter Day), was the Rev. Rupene Paerata, pastor of the Paihia district. He was ordained by Bishop Cowie deacon in 1873, and priest in 1876, having for some years proved himself an efficient lay teacher. Though not possessed of the brilliant powers of his friend Renata, nor so highly educated, he was an earnest, plodding worker, and greatly respected. A simple-minded Christian, his life was a continuous sermon. I do not know what poor Paihia will do now that it has lost its clergyman and head lay teacher. God's ways are not our ways, nor His thoughts our thoughts; and behind this frowning providence He has His own designs, which we shall know hereafter.

It would have been sad enough to have lost these dear fellows under any circumstances; but it is ten-fold more so to me, from the fact that we have been the innocent cause of it. On March 28th, 29th, and 30th, we had the usual triennial meeting of our United Native Church Boards at Hauraki. On the Sunday previous, Horu Papahia, a Gisborne student, was ordained deacon, when dear Renata preached the sermon. The meeting was the most satisfactory we had ever held, and after the three days' session the members dispersed with hopeful anticipations of the future results. The Northern party had to pass through Auckland on their way back to the Bay of Islands, and had to wait three days for the steamer. On Saturday, April 2nd, about a dozen of them, with two English friends, dined at our house. A beef-steak pie, of which several partook, had become fermented, and hence the terrible results. Several of our guests and my wife were taken ill, and medical aid had to be called in. On Monday the three who have since died were much better, and as the steamer was leaving that evening they determined to go, though strongly urged to remain both by the doctor and myself. They had a rough passage of about twelve hours, and arrived at their homes in a thoroughly prostrate condition. In a few hours after landing, Ihaka succumbed from exhaustion; the day after Renata, and in four days Rupene. Medical men are unanimously of opinion that if they had not persisted in going to sea in their enfeebled state there would have been no loss of life to mourn over. My wife and Hone Papahia, who was living in my house, were very ill—my wife especially so—but I am thankful to say that both are better. The bitterness of Mrs. Clarke's grief is enhanced by the thought that it was through her ignorance that the disaster occurred.

II.—DIOCESE OF WAIAPU.

THE East Coast district is under Archdeacon W. L. Williams; the Rev. G. Maunsell is at Opotiki; the Revs. W. Goodyear and S. M. Spencer (the latter retired) are at Maketu; a lay evangelist, Mr. Duffus, is at Tauranga; and the Rev. S. Williams is at Te Aute, the extreme south of the diocese. Archdeacon Williams and the Rev. E. Jennings conduct the Theological Class at Gisborne.

In March of this year Bishop Stuart proceeded to Opotiki for the purpose of instituting a clergyman to the Europeans there. He preached on Good Friday on "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." The church, which the Maoris still call Hione (i.e. Sion), is the same as existed in Völkner's time, at the east end of which is his grave, and on the pulpit of which the fanatical Hau-haus placed his head after hanging him on a neighbouring willow-tree. In his sermon the Bishop appropriately referred to Mr. Völkner's kneeling down, after his murderers had stripped him for his execution, and praying for their forgiveness. The Bishop remarks in his letter that the man who tied the rope is still living in the neighbourhood.

The volcanic eruption.

In June last year the neighbourhood of Lakes Tarawera and Rotorua, in the TAURANGA district, was visited by a destructive volcanic eruption. Maketu, Mr. Goodyear's station, is about twenty-three miles from the scene of the catastrophe, and he hoped that so solemn a visitation would prepare the people's hearts (three-fourths of those in the district are followers of Te Kooti) for the Gospel message, but his hopes have only partially been realized. He says:—

> The past year has been an eventful one for us. Mount Tarawera, which had been quiescent for over 1000 years, has during the past year belched forth destruction to life and property. One hundred and sixteen souls have been ushered into eternity without a moment's warning. The tribes living near have not only been decimated, but the survivors have been rendered homeless and destitute. The suffering thus caused was promptly met by the generosity of the settlers and the Government rations. The far-famed Terraces have entirely disappeared, though new geysers and fumaroles have been developed. The impression produced on the native mind by this catastrophe led me to think that we should have a great revival in the Church, but this unfortunately has not been realized. There have been increased attendances at God's house, multiplied services, numerous classes; but not to the extent I had anticipated.

Effect on the Natives.

> The prayer-meeting, or "Po karakea roa," which I have started throughout my district, held twice a week, has been the means of indicating to the Natives around us that we are in earnest and believe in a prayer-answering God. Whilst at the same time it has stirred the pulsations of the native heart into renewed action.

The daily prayers have been conducted throughout the district without a break during the year.

At Maketu, my centre, our little Church has increased, and, I trust, advanced to a more spiritual apprehension of the truth.

Miss Spencer's class for Maori women has been carried on during the year, excepting a break during the trying times of the eruption. My own class for young men and teachers has been the means, I hope, of doing some good; at any rate, the seed has been sown. Women's class.

Mr. Duffus, at Tauranga, is assisted by an earnest Native teacher. He mentions the Huria settlement, where most of the people have now given up the Te Kooti form of worship, and regularly attend the Mission service, abandoning the Sunday work and the observance of Saturday as a day of rest. A prosperous branch of the Church of England Temperance Society has been established at Tauranga; nearly all the young people and about half the adult Natives have become total abstainers. Sabbath observance. The C.E.T.S. at Tauranga.

Of Opotiki Mr. Maunsell says:—

Those who are specially of our flock have as a rule given cause for praise, although, as experience too often shows, individuals here and there disappoint fond hopes. Of those who have separated themselves, I think I may say that there are appearances of a drawing nearer to us. Our form of service may not always be acceptable, and their own decidedly preferred; objections, frivolous enough in our opinion, but all-powerful in theirs, may be often alleged; but the Word preached is cheerfully listened to, and often considerable knowledge of the Bible shown; and a greater disposition to use the New Testament and its gospel teaching. At a large gathering—about 700—on the verge of the Wiwera country, last July, I had a most friendly reception, and after addressing them, an emissary of Te Kooti's—his principal chaplain so to say—replied, and expressed his pleasure at the ministers attending such gatherings, as he looked upon them as the real teachers, and urged the chiefs to receive them kindly, and hoped that we should become united, and quoted Eph. ii. 13. I pointed out, of course, that the true outward expression of unity was to return to the forms of sound words which they, under mistaken notions and bitter feelings, had abandoned. Next day, to show their good-will, they formally made me a small symbolical present of money and food, while I in return gave them some Scripture histories and Prayer-books. My horse got away from me, and they freely lent me another to get home with, showing still further kindness. Spirits were strictly forbidden at their feast. Mutual efforts at re-union.

The rest of the diocese, from Hicks' Bay, near the East Cape, southward, is divided into eleven districts. Several new churches have been recently built, making twenty-two, while there are forty-two other places in which services are regularly held.

Mormon missionary effort.

Mormon missionaries have been making strenuous efforts to get disciples amongst the Maoris, and have succeeded in establishing themselves in some places.

Theological class.

III.—DIOCESE OF WELLINGTON.

Accident to the Bishop of Wellington

The Committee heard with much regret of a serious accident which befell the Bishop of Wellington last February. A fire having broken out, he got up to ascertain its whereabouts, and fell downstairs a distance of twenty feet.

Ordination.

On November 1st, All Saints' Day, the Bishop ordained three Native deacons to priests' orders, viz. the Revs. E. Te Ngara, A. Te Haua, and P. Te Mahauariki.

The Rev. A. O. Williams, of Wanganui, reports:—

I think I can truthfully say that there has been a much greater interest taken by the Natives in Church work during the past year. The congregations are larger and more attentive, the communicants are steadily increasing in number, and a good deal of interest has been taken in the matter of church buildings.

Church-building by Maoris.

On Christmas Day, 1885, a new church was opened at Parewanui for divine worship. It was built at a cost of 430*l.*, all of which, excepting a sum of 40*l.*, was given by the Maoris themselves. It may be added that the church was opened free of debt, this being a rule from which I hope never to depart.

During the last six months subscriptions have been freely given towards the erection of a new church at Putiki, the old one having fallen into decay. Over 200*l.* has been given and promised, and the building will be begun almost immediately. At Turakina also, money is being collected for a new church, and we have about 30*l.* in hand, besides 21*l.* subscribed by the Napier Maoris. I should mention the fact that they (Napier Maoris) also gave over 30*l.* towards the Putiki Church. I hope that both these will be finished before the end of next year, and possibly one up the Whanganui River.

Baptism of Hau-haus.

A reference to the statistics will show that several adults have been baptized this year. They were originally Hau-haus, but they have attended my services ever since my arrival. After a course of preparation they were admitted into the visible Church of Christ. Others have expressed a wish to be baptized, but have demurred upon being told that they must first submit to a course of instruction. I do not, however, think that there are very many unbaptized adults in my district, for even the Te Whiti people tell me that they have all been baptized, either by the Church of England or Wesleyan missionaries. It must therefore be understood that by Native baptized Christians I only mean those who attend the services.

The temperance work is progressing steadily and satisfactorily. Those Natives who became abstainers in Mr. Grace's time, have, with only two exceptions, faithfully kept their promise, and are now feeling the benefit of it in being always provided with better food and clothing. The total number of Maori abstainers in my district is now 500.

Romish efforts.

The Romanists are making great efforts to lead away the people up the Whanganui River. Three priests and two nuns are stationed amongst them, and there are rumours of others coming shortly. The Committee will doubtless remember that in Mr. Taylor's time there was a Roman Catholic Mission up the river. It was given up for some years—in fact, until about four years ago. So far as I can ascertain none of the Natives who had been in connection with the Church Missionary Society have joined the Romanists, nor do I think there is much danger of their doing so.

The Rev. J. McWilliam superintends the OTAKI district. He also speaks of efforts of Romanists and others to lead his people away, and of church restoration:—

The Mormons have been trying hard to gain converts in this district; but they have not as yet had any great success. A few in the Manawatu district did join them, but several of these came back again when I told them a little of the true history of that sect.

Roman Catholic bribes.

The Roman Catholics have also been very active of late, not only among their own people, but covertly also among ours, offering them exemption from offertories and other indulgencies as bribes to join their ranks. To their influence I attribute the growing unwillingness of my people to contribute anything to the Church.

Maori doctors and their prescriptions.

There have also been several Maori doctors in the district lately, pretending to be able to tell the cause of all their ailments and diseases, and to cure them, partly by faith, they say, in God, and partly by incantation and senseless ceremony. All these causes have tended greatly to shake the faith of the wavering and weak-minded, and to make it a time of great trial and anxiety to me. I trust, however, and believe that all will ultimately result in good, and the really faithful and sincere will be built up more securely in the faith. At several places, notably Oroua Bridge, in the Manawatu district, my visits are looked forward to and prepared for in a way that gives solid proof that the people are sincere and in real earnest about their spirital welfare, and I always return from those places cheered and strengthened in heart and faith.

The church at Otaki.

Since the beginning of the year our church here at Otaki, one of the largest and finest Native churches in the country, has been thoroughly repaired and strengthened, at a cost of over 300*l.*, the greater part of which was raised by Europeans, and is now I think almost as good as new.

Decrease of drunkenness.

I am most thankful to be able to report a very marked decrease in the drinking habits of the Natives throughout the district. A drunkard is now the exception, whereas a few years ago it used to be just the other way; as a consequence, they are everywhere better clad, housed, and fed, and have many more material comforts than they had formerly, as well as being much more open to the influences of religious teaching.

NOTE.—The only educational institution under the control of the Mission Board, and supported by funds under its management, is the Theological College at Gisborne. St. Stephen's School at Parnell, Auckland, which has 48 boys and 2 teachers; Te Aute School, in the Heretaunga district, Hawke's Bay, with 60 boys and 4 teachers; Otaki School, with 30 boys and 24 girls; and Hukarere School, Napier, with 50 girls and 3 teachers;—all receive more or less superintendence from missionaries of the Society, but are neither under the control of the Mission Board nor supported in any degree by its funds, and therefore are not included in the above return. Of the number of Baptized Christians, those attached to the first 15 stations, being in the diocese of Auckland, are said to have been obtained by actual enumeration. The rest are approximate estimates based on Government Census Returns.

NORTH-WEST AMERICA MISSION.

DIVISION OF THE MISSION.

I. Diocese of Rupert's Land. II. Diocese of Moosonee.
III. Diocese of Saskatchewan. IV. Diocese of Athabasca.
V. Diocese of Mackenzie River.

The Society's Missions in the several dioceses above enumerated, which form the ecclesiastical province of Rupert's Land, are directed to the Red Indians. As European colonists gradually extend their settlements and multiply and prosper, the Committee hope they will increasingly recognize their responsibilities to the natives of the soil, and that eventually the Society's funds may be relieved from the charge. The Committee mark with much satisfaction and thankfulness a growing sense of this duty in the help, both of means and of agents, which has been and is rendered, by Christians in Canada. In the meantime the efforts of the Church of Rome are ubiquitous and unrelaxed, and the very docility which has made the Indians an easy prey, as compared with other races, to the zealous "winner of souls," exposes them the more to the flatteries and enticements of subtle men. The Society is, therefore, under every obligation to continue its labours in their behalf, even in places where, as in the Moosonee Diocese, nearly the whole population have become Christians, until God raises up for the Red Man friends to whom the Society's trust may be transferred.

Romish opposition.

I.—DIOCESE OF RUPERT'S LAND.

1. Red River district, 1823; 2. Fort Alexander district, 1864;
3. Swan River district, 1842; 4. Rainy Lake district, 1874.

During Bishop Machray's recent visit to England, from which he has now returned to his diocese, the Committee had the advantage of conferring with him respecting the Society's Mission.

The Ven. Archdeacon Cowley—venerable indeed after forty-six years of missionary service—is the secretary of the Mission, and also takes, together with the Rev. B. McKenzie, a full share in the Sunday duties of St. Peter's and its outstations. The Rev. R. Phair came home with his family last autumn for a well-earned furlough, but cheerfully returned almost immediately to take charge of Lansdowne under peculiarly painful circumstances. Mr. Owen, an Islington man, who, owing to an infirmity of the eyes, was not able to complete his course, accompanied Mr. Phair on his return, and is stationed with him at Lansdowne, and is studying the language under his instruction. The other clergy, country-born and Native, continue as for the past few years, with the exception of the Rev. P. Bruce, of Lansdowne, who is no longer connected with the Society.

At St. Peter's Indian Settlement, the Rev. B. McKenzie reports increased attendance at the services, and a more general readiness to contribute towards parish expenses, minister's salary, &c. About $900 has been contributed, besides labour freely given, towards the repairing and enlarging of the church. Both he and Archdeacon Cowley refer to the "strenuous and persistent efforts" made by the Romanists to draw the people away. The method of defence adopted has been the opening of additional schools, and increasing the number of preaching-places to seven. The Rev. J. Settee, in his old age, usually takes two of the schoolroom services, besides superintending the Sunday-school, while the clergyman in charge of the Government North School, the Rev. Mr. Davis, voluntarily takes a service at Oak Point, at a distance of some ten or twelve miles from his home.

Native contributions.

The Committee regret that no report has been received from any other missionary of this diocese. Archdeacon Cowley reports that at Fairford the Rev. G. Bruce is now aided by his nephew, Mr. G. Cook, an ex-student of St. John's, and that the services are well attended, and the Sunday-school is quite a success. He also states that at Lac Seul, where the Rev. J. Irvine is in charge, the Indians are nearly all Protestant Christians. There is an out-station at Frenchman's Head which thrives vigorously. The Rev. B. Spence, of Islington, "whose forte," as the Archdeacon says, "is in Indian," has forwarded a letter written by the teacher of the Government School. Whiskey having been introduced, a Temperance Society was formed, and about fifty were induced to sign the pledge.

A Temperance Society.

II.—DIOCESE OF MOOSONEE.

Moose Factory, 1851; York, 1854; Albany, 1855; Matawakumma, 1876; Little Whale River, 1877.

Bishop Horden has communicated to the Committee his desire to raise 10,000*l.* to be placed at interest to provide the stipend of his successors in the See, thus relieving the Society from its present responsibilities in that respect. He has more than 5000*l.* in hand. He further expressed his intention of handing the whole amount to the Society, the interest to be appropriated to the above purpose. The Committee have undertaken to add 1000*l.* when the other 9000*l.* has been raised.

The Bishop has sent a cheerful review of the work of the past year in his diocese, and at Moose, where he resides. At considerable inconvenience he has distributed all his ordained fellow-workers to remote evangelistic stations, leaving himself alone responsible for the ministerial and scholastic work at Moose, as well as for the episcopal supervision of the diocese. The Committee rejoice to learn that he has been blessed with exceptionally good health, and has felt equal to the strain. His time has been much occupied in translational work; and he has fully prepared for the press a revised translation of the Prayer-book in the Cree language, and has completed an enlarged hymn-book containing one hundred and fifty hymns, all, except three or four, being his own translation. The Divinity Class, the Bishop says, is progressing favourably:—

The Prayer Book and Hymns in the Cree language.

> One of the students will, I trust, be ordained in the early part of the summer; for a time he will be retained at Moose as schoolmaster and Indian pastor; he has not only been taught book-learning, but is proficient likewise in everything needed in missionary life in Moosonee; he is helpless in nothing; he is, too, thoroughly dependable, and quite proficient in both the Cree and Ojibbeway languages. I have the support of this class on my own hands, assisted by a grant from the S.P.C.K. For several other heavy expenses I am likewise responsible.

The Divinity Class: a promising student.

The health of Moose was much better last year than in the two previous years, owing to the unusually long summer, the river having broken up in April, and not closed again till the middle of November.

The Rev. H. Nevitt has sent his first Annual Letter from Rupert's House, which he reached, after four days' travelling in a sledge drawn by dogs, in March last year. Mr. Vincent, the Hudson's Bay Company's officer, gave him a cordial welcome, receiving him into his house until the erection of the "parsonage." The long summer gave excellent opportunities for instructing the Indians. Mr. Nevitt says:—

The opportunities of "an Indian summer."

> Nature put on her beautiful summer garment much sooner than usual, and the Indians came in two or three weeks earlier than other years. I was specially glad of this latter, as it gave them a longer time than usual at the place, and so enabled me to give them more instruction than I otherwise could have done. During their stay at the station I held two services daily for them, and had school for their children, visited them in their tents, and had personal conversations with many in my room. They were all very attentive, and were anxious to learn all they could of the truths concerning their salvation. This was especially the case with regard to the inland Indians, who are so completely cut off from all the public means of grace year after year, except the three or four weeks they spend at the place each summer. The lonely, isolated life which they lead appears to deepen their desire for spiritual instruction, and impels them to make the best use of the only opportunity they possess of receiving it. As the children have had no regular instruction, most of them are, naturally, rather backward, but they made very fair progress during their short stay.

Mr. Nevitt made a missionary journey to Mistasinnee and Waswanopë, which occupied fifty-seven days, in the autumn. The Indians were rejoiced to see him, having not been visited for three years.

At Matawakumma, the southernmost station in the diocese, the Rev. J. Sanders is the Native clergyman in charge. He reports a decided improvement in the moral and spiritual tone of his people, which had been affected banefully by the advent of white men. The rigorous winter of 1885-6 caused much suffering. "In three cases," he says, "it was just a hair's-breadth escape from terrible starvation. To hear the story of each case is very sad, and to know how they were delivered is really very marvellous." Mr. Sanders spends a good portion of the year in visiting the distant out-stations. At Missinabie he held service in the kitchen of a trader, the weather not admitting of out-door services as on previous visits. The room being only large enough to receive half the people at a time they were divided into two parties and two successive services were held. At Flying Post he administered the Holy Communion to twelve Native Christians.

A "North-West" winter and its suffering.

Archdeacon Vincent writes from Albany of the pleasure he derived from his recent visit to England. It had been a long-cherished wish to see, at least once, the land of his ancestors. He was enabled by his visit to carry his Cree translation of Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress through the press, and he expresses his gratitude at receiving the beautifully bound volumes from the Religious Tract Society. He returned to his station viâ Winnipeg. The journey from this place occupied eighteen days in canoes, after leaving the railway 220 miles from Winnipeg. At Lac Seul he was met by a party of Christian Indians from Osnaburgh, the nearest out-station in his own district. His arrival there was welcomed by gun-firing and most hearty greeting. A party of Crane Indians had come thither at least 200 miles to meet him. He says of them :—

The Pilgrim's Progress in Cree.

Baptism of Crane Indians.

They are a fine set of men, thoroughly in earnest about religious matters, and seeking to know the truth as it is in Jesus. The men, and most of the women, read the Syllabic character well; they have a fair knowledge of the leading truths of Christianity, and are accustomed to have daily family prayer. After we had been several days together they asked to be baptized, and when I had prepared and examined them I felt inclined to ask, "Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized?"

After spending eight days with the Christians at Osnaburgh, and administering the Lord's Supper, Mr. Vincent proceeded to Marten's Falls, where a catechist now is stationed, supported by Bishop Horden. He arrived at Albany at the end of June. He says :—

A missionary welcomed by his people.

On the evening of the fourth day from leaving Marten's Falls about 4 p.m., Albany is in sight, flags are flying at the fort and Mission, and as we approach we can see the bank of the river is lined with people. On landing we received a warm welcome; all press forward and give us a most hearty greeting. How thankful I felt to be home again in the midst of my dear ones, after an absence of nearly ten months! How glad I felt that evening to see our little church quite crowded; to have again the old familiar faces before me, and to hear the same voices praising and blessing God! Could the feelings of all our hearts be put into words, none, I am sure, could express them better than those of the Psalmist, "Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless His holy name. Bless the Lord, O my soul; and forget not all His benefits." Of course, we have much to tell and much to hear, but taking all things into consideration I believe that our temporary absence has done good, that it will strengthen that bond of love which should exist between Christians individually and Christian communities.

He reports that the church offertory and the sale of Indian books during the past year amounted to about 30*l*.

The Rev. G. S. Winter's return to York from a visit to England had a very different termination from that of his brother missionary. The Committee deeply sympathized with him and his wife in the trials of shipwreck, and hardship, and serious losses of food and clothing which they were called upon to bear. They sailed in June by the annual ship for York Factory, and a very uncomfortable voyage culminated, on August 30th, by the ship striking on a reef. Mr. Winter wrote :—

A shipwrecked missionary.

Monday, August 30th, may very fitly be described as a day of agonizing suspense, for the ship was striking the reefs and bottom more or less from 11 a.m. till she finally went aground as high as was possible for her to go, at 9.30 p.m. The captain knew she was lost at 3 p.m. When the tide went out she was high and dry, and it was marvellous to behold the way we had been brought. We could see in the distance some of the reefs she struck, and large boulders. On Tuesday we walked ashore to a wild, barren spot, where we had to remain in a state of suspense for a fortnight, amid the cold, biting winds, hail and snow-storms from the northward and eastward. We came on here in an open boat in fifty-six hours, and truly thankful we were to get inside a house. The place where we were cast ashore is near Cape Churchill, forty miles south of Churchill post, so there was no possibility of walking there. We had simply to remain until succour came. We have lost everything except a few boxes containing personal effects. Our pantry will be completely empty all through the winter, but we trust in God to provide for us. I know the Indians will do what they can to help, but that will be very little, for many died of starvation last winter, and it almost breaks my heart to have to tell them we have no clothing for them.

I thank God that we are all well, although my dear wife was beginning to feel exhausted, owing to the exposure and want of sleep.

The Committee were greatly relieved and rejoiced to hear, by a subsequent post, of the great kindness which the Christian Indians displayed, gladly sharing with Mr. and Mrs. Winter whatever they had, and refusing any payment.

An unintentional testimony.

The Committee observed with pleasure a probably unintentional testimony to the fruits of the work at York, in an issue of the New York Herald. Colonel W. R. Gilder, who is at the head of an expedition to discover the North Pole, sent a message from York Factory, dated December 10th, stating that he would probably be detained there till after Christmas, owing to the refusal of the guides to start on a journey before they had partaken of the Christmas communion.

A missionary's privations.

The Rev. J. Lofthouse, who is at length stationed at Churchill, refers to the privation which the ship's loss brought on himself and Mrs. Lofthouse and other Europeans :—

No one can rightly understand what it means to us unless they were here. We depend on the ship for everything, and its being lost means the loss of everything. Flour, pork, beef, and all the little necessaries of life are lying useless upon the sea-shore, about forty miles away, while many here are short or without them altogether. Fortunately for the Mission here, I had provided beforehand, and although many of the things are greatly damaged by lying here for two years, they have proved very acceptable. Indeed, but for these and some pork and beef which Captain Gordon let us have, I fear the Mission must have been given up another year, for the Company cannot even supply their own people with proper food.

The work at Churchill, it is clear from the last sentence of this quotation, is attended with no common risk of insufficient supplies. Owing to its sterility and inaccessibility Mr. Lofthouse has had the greatest difficulty in obtaining timber to build a house. This was supplied from Canada, as related in last year's Report, but it proved insufficient to complete the work, and it does not appear how the rest can be obtained. The spiritual work has not been without encouragement. Mr. Lofthouse says :—

With the fort people we have regular Morning and Evening Services, with two Bible-classes (men and women), besides Sunday-school. During the week, some of the women come to Mrs. Lofthouse to learn to read, the men coming to me in an evening.

Sabbath observance.

I am very thankful to say that all appear very anxious to live for God. Last winter nearly all the men were in the habit of going to their traps on Sunday; this winter I do not think any of the men have been off once. This may appear but little in the eyes of English people; but here it is the one great temptation, and to see men fighting against and overcoming it speaks volumes for God's truth. Several of the men have spoken freely to me of their desire to live for God, and, what is still better, prove the truth of their words by their lives.

There are twelve Native communicants.

"In journeyings oft."

The Rev. E. J. Peck, writing in August, 1886, from Fort George, speaks of the year under review as one of "journeyings oft." He went to Little Whale River in March, a journey from Moose of 600 miles, taking twenty-eight days, and remained till May. The Eskimos, he was glad to remark, had taken care of their little books, and had continued to read them during his absence in England. He describes the death of a woman of his "little flock," who was at first violently opposed to the truth :—

Testimony of a convert.

Gradually her heart was drawn towards the Saviour, and I was able at last to admit her into the visible Church by baptism. During the last years of her life several bore witness to the consistency of her Christian character, and when near unto death she spoke of her decease with calmness and joy, and bore witness, even in the dark valley of the shadow of death, to the Saviour's love and power. Surely one has, in a fact like this, a mighty incentive to go on preaching the simple Gospel! Surely I have no reason to grow faint-hearted or discouraged by the way! The story of the cross has not lost its power. Jesus is, in truth, mighty to save.

In May he proceeded to Fort George, where he remained instructing the Indians about a month, and returned to Moose. In July he returned to Fort George, accompanied by Mrs. Peck. There are at this station, or near to it, about 300 Indians, and Mr. Peck purposes to labour among them in the summer, visiting Little Whale River when the Eskimos are there. Writing of Mr. Peck's journey to and from Little Whale River, the Bishops says: "No one unacquainted with Moosonee can at all comprehend the hardship and privation sustained by our brother in this journey."

The Rev. Gilbert Cook has been withdrawn from the Gordon Reserve Christian Settlement, Touchwood Hills, to engage in more distinctly evangelistic work among neighbouring Indians.

Death of Bishop McLean.

THE Society's work in this diocese has suffered a severe loss by the death of Bishop McLean, resulting from an accident met with while travelling in his diocese. In the twelve years of his episcopate he worked most untiringly in building up the work of his great diocese.

His successor.

The Archbishop of Canterbury has appointed the Ven. William Cyprian Pinkham, B.D., Archdeacon of Manitoba, and a member of the Society's local committee, to succeed to the bishopric. He will be consecrated, God willing, at Winnipeg, on August 7th, the week of the Provincial Synod, at which Mr. Wigram hopes to be present. The Committee pray that the future Bishop may be endowed with every gift needful to fit him for his solemn charge.

Meeting of Diocesan Synod.

A few months before the late Bishop's death, on August 4th, the Synod of the diocese met at Prince Albert. Of the twenty-two clergy of the diocese only eleven were able to be present on account of the great distances to be travelled. Exactly half of the clergy are members of the Society's staff.

Death of the Rev. R. Hunt.

The Rev. Robert Hunt, who went out with Bishop Anderson in 1849, and in 1850 founded the station at Stanley, in this Mission, where he laboured ten years, died in England last August, in his eighty-first year. He was one of the band of missionaries who accompanied the heroic Captain Allen Gardiner to Tierra del Fuego, but escaped the terrible fate which befell his companions.

The Rev. Peter Badger (Native) and the Rev. I. J. Taylor exchanged places last year, but the latter is now to be located at St. James', Prince Albert. The Rev. J. R. Settee assists Mr. Badger at Devon. At the other stations no changes have taken place in the staff.

Schools.

Archdeacon J. A. Mackay, of Battleford, has opened two new schools. There are now schools on five of the seven reserves of the district. At Red Pheasant's Reserve, he says, there is a marked improvement. Nearly all are baptized.

On the Assiniboine Reserve, on the other hand, where a school was opened last year, the Indians are heathen, and have never come under Christian instruction. They are very superstitious, but their prejudices and fears are being overcome, and some attend the service and send their children to school.

The Rev. J. Sinclair is at Stanley. He says that there is always a good attendance on Sacrament days, "some even come from 100 miles to join in the Holy Sacrament." He adds:—

Family worship.

Upon the whole, it is very encouraging to learn that the Indians are all very attentive that way, to have family prayers morning and evening wherever they are, even when they are all here at the station, although they go to church morning and evening. It is very pleasant in the evening about dusk, when you go out, to hear them singing in every tent and house, having family prayers always at one time—first thing in the morning after every one gets up in the tent or in the house; they all do the same before they go to church.

The Rev. S. Trivett, of Fort McLeod, mentions a painful incident:—

Before the annual sun-dance came on this year, I visited all the Indians, and persuaded them to give up at least the torture; yet a few days before the dance the Minister of the Interior appeared in the neighbourhood, and, as I had been informed, intended visiting the Indians on the Sabbath. I drove into Macleod, and asked him not to do this, as it would be encouraging them, and over twenty lodges had promised not to attend the sun-dance this year. He said he was anxious to see the Indians, and as his time was fully occupied, he must go on the Sabbath. This he did, nearly all the citizens of Macleod following him; and a "pou-wou" was held with the Indians, and presents given on the Sabbath, several young warriors cutting off their fingers and giving them to the sun, that the hon. Minister might witness the horrid rites.

At Blackfoot Crossing, the Rev. J. W. Tims has not yet been privileged to reap fruit among the Blackfoot tribe.

Indifference of Blackfeet Indians.

The Indians, with few exceptions, appear to receive the proclamation of the Gospel with a stolid indifference, almost always saying, after I have done speaking, that they pray as their fathers taught them. Their prayers are all associated with smoking and feasting. They pray with the stem of the pipe pointed towards the sun, after which it is lit and smoked. A portion of their food is elevated in a spoon, and, after a prayer, is spilled upon the earth. The prayer always consists of petitions for food, kindness of white men towards them in making them presents, and for long life for themselves and their children.

In house-to-house visiting he is often interrupted in the midst of his teaching and asked if he has brought any tea or tobacco, &c. He mentions an encouragement from without:—

Help from the Toronto Woman's Auxiliary to Missions.

You will be pleased to hear that a great interest in the Blackfeet has been elicited from the Toronto Diocesan Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to Missions. In March last the lady secretary wrote to me and offered to send out a box of clothing, which came in due course. Since then the Auxiliary has guaranteed the sum of $300 per annum for the support of a lady missionary to work amongst the women and girls. A lady was found who consented to commence the work, when, to our disappointment, she fell ill, and has since been obliged to resign altogether the work she was looking forward to. The Woman's Auxiliary is now appealing in the Canadian papers for a lady who will be willing to take up the work, and I trust that this next year will see a work commenced which will be a valuable aid to the Missions. Some parishes in Toronto have, in addition to this, just sent two boxes of articles for a Christmas-tree for the school-children.

IV. DIOCESE OF ATHABASCA.

Fort Chipewyan, 1867; Fort Vermilion, 1876; Fort Dunvegan, 1882.

Bishop Young reached his diocese in June, and in the following four months made several long boat-journeys on Peace River, between Forts Chipewyan, Vermilion, and Dunvegan, the first being 541 miles from the last, and Vermilion about half-way between. At Dunvegan, on August 8th, the Bishop ordained the Revs. A. G. Garrioch and J. G. Brick to priests' orders.

Ordinations.

Archdeacon Reeve resides at Chipewyan. Mr. Garrioch has been placed by the Bishop in charge of Dunvegan. Mr. Brick went to Canada for a few months' furlough in the winter; upon his return he was to be stationed on the Peace River, a few miles above Smoky River. Mr. Holmes has opened a school on the Slave Lake. The Bishop heard that in the district of Slave Lake there had been more than sixty deaths of children and adults from measles and whooping-cough.

Slavi translations.

Archdeacon Reeve has finished the translation of the Slavi Gospels in the Syllabic character. He mentions the baptism of an old French-speaking Cree half-breed woman at Fort Chipewyan:—

Romish tactics defeated.

She is the grandmother of all my scholars, and related to almost every one in the neighbourhood. Her husband has ever been a staunch Protestant; but she, for many years, was inclined to Romanism, and the priests tried hard to induce her to join their communion, and to be baptized secretly, i.e. unknown to her husband. To this, however, she would not consent. At length one of the "sisters," in an excess of zeal, tried to win her over by saying that Protestants are devils, and that the (then) newly-erected church was for the worship of the devil! This had an effect contrary to what was intended, and so roused the old lady's indignation, that she never afterwards attended their services, and last summer, after a rather severe attack of illness, feeling old age creeping upon her, she sought admission into our Church. After some little instruction, I had the privilege of admitting her, and on the following Sunday she became a communicant. Since then, both she and her husband have undergone a great amount of physical suffering, but I fear it has not been sanctified to them, and neither of them have fulfilled the hopes which at one time I entertained.

V. DIOCESE OF MACKENZIE RIVER.

Fort Simpson, 1858; Fort McPherson and Rampart House (Tukudh Mission), 1874; Forts Norman, Resolution, and Rae, 1881.

Bishop Bompas' Annual Letter is dated June, 1886! But several letters have been received since, the last written in January. The arrival in August and September of the Rev. C. G. Wallis and Mr. J. W. Ellington, and also the return of Archdeacon McDonald, greatly encouraged him. On August 29th the Bishop admitted Mr. Ellington to deacon's orders, and also Mr. D. N. Kirkby (a son of Archdeacon Kirkby), who has joined the Mission from Winnipeg. Ordinations. On September 21st a Synod of the diocese was held, at which the Bishop and five clergymen (the above-mentioned and the Rev. W. Spendlove) met for conference, being the largest number ever gathered together at one time in this the largest diocese in the world. The Diocesan Synod. Archdeacon McDonald, Mr. Wallis, and Mr. Ellington have since gone forward to the Tukudh Mission. Mr. J. Hawksley, a carpenter from Nottingham, was sent out last May in partial response to the Bishop's earnest request for a builder and two farmers. The latter the Committee were not able to find.

Statistics of the North-West America Mission.

Deputation to Metlakahtla.

THE past year has been one which will be memorable in the history of this Mission. For six weeks, during April and May, General Touch and the Rev. W. R. Blackett, the deputation sent by the Committee to Metlakahtla, patiently endeavoured to ascertain both the real state of events and also the general opinion of the Indians in the place. They held familiar intercourse with the people, especially with the Indians attached to Mr. Duncan's party. They also had two meetings at which they met the Indians as a body, communicating through a practised interpreter. They had long interviews with Mr. Duncan and the Rev. R. Tomlinson, his coadjutor. "We were careful," one of them wrote afterwards, "to set aside mere hearsay and surmises, and to learn the facts as much as possible on full and reliable evidence. We have left no stone unturned to reach the truth, and have been enabled in consequence to form clear and decided opinions on most of the points that came before us."

Happily there is good reason to hope that the peculiar difficulties of the past two years will not recur, and the Committee are under no temptation to depart from the course of self-restraint and courteous moderation which they have endeavoured to observe in all their allusions to Mr. Duncan and his acts. There are a few points, however, which the report of the deputation has brought out very emphatically, which are too important to be passed without notice. In a few words they explain both the reasons which led to Mr. Duncan's disconnection from the Society, and the causes of the recent crisis. Mr. Duncan's religious methods were the reasons for the former; his secular methods were the cause of the latter.

Their Report.

In his religious methods two radical flaws are indicated by the deputation, the neglect of translating the Holy Scriptures, and the withholding the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper from the Indians:—

> Although the Indians attached to Mr. Duncan have had the benefit of his teaching for upwards of twenty-eight years, they have not yet had any portion of the Word of God, in their own tongue, put into their hands. Mr. Duncan's defence is that he did not dare to translate the Word of God into a rude language like Tsimshean, which contains no terms to express many of those which occur in the Scriptures—a plea which is negatived by experience; but it is to be observed that Mr. Duncan incurs a much greater responsibility by continuing to teach only by word of mouth, translating at the moment the Word of God, and by allowing those who have a very slender knowledge of English to teach in the Sunday-school in Tsimshean, with only an English Bible in their hands. We found John Tait—one of the most advanced of the party—so teaching. His knowledge of English is, as we found, very imperfect, and when giving evidence before the Government Commission in November, 1884, he pleaded he did not speak English. He was therefore sworn and examined through an interpreter. All the classes that we saw were being taught through the Tsimshean language from the English Bible, and that by persons having generally but a very elementary knowledge of English, who were required off-hand—with probably previous preparation—to translate that which Mr. Duncan deliberately shrinks from translating. It will be obvious that what is reduced to writing, however imperfect, is subject to criticism by other scholars, and susceptible of revision.

On the subject of withholding the Lord's Supper from the Indians for all these years, Mr. Duncan pleaded the danger of superstitious observance, and the inconsistency of allowing the Indians to touch an alcoholic beverage, from which by law they were excluded. We do not think it necessary to do more than state the latter plea; but with respect to the former we have to observe that the danger is one which, in the case of these uncivilized races, has not been specially experienced in the history of Missions, and appears to us to be altogether insufficient as a reason for countenancing the neglect of our Lord's direct command, much less for encouraging such neglect, and the plea is negatived, even at Metlakatla, by actual experience, in the case of those Indians who are attached to the Society.

The secular methods, which brought about the serious and painful friction of the past few years, were in pursuance of a claim to the land in behalf of the Indians, not as wards of the Crown, but as absolute owners by succession from the original inhabitants. They were led accordingly to repudiate the Society's right to the property known as Mission Point, consisting of two acres of land, which was conceded to the Society by the Government in 1864. On May 4th the following notice was published:—

Metlakahtla, British Columbia,
May 4th, 1886.

To the Church Missionary Society, of Salisbury Square, London, England, its deputies, agents, and all others who may have power to act for it.

NOTICE.

We, the people of Metlakahtla, hereby notify you to move off and leave that part of the village site of Metlakahtla commonly known as Mission Point, as we cannot consent to your occupying this portion of our land to be a continual source of disquiet and annoyance to our village.

Government action.

After the departure of the deputation events moved rapidly. Early in September the Indians, sanctioned by Mr. Duncan, successfully resisted the efforts of a Government officer to survey their reserve. A month later, while Bishop Ridley was absent in Victoria, and Mr. Nash was unwell and confined to his house, about one hundred Indians, led by Mr. Duncan's chief lieutenants, taking advantage of Mrs. Ridley's helplessness, erected a building of wood in the Bishop's compound, and occupied it with armed men. After the Bishop's return, Mr. Nash went to Victoria to report these proceedings, and returned in H.M.S. Cormorant early in November. The ringleaders were apprehended and order was restored. The Weekly Colonist, the leading newspaper at Victoria, gave the following account of the Government measures:—

H.M.S. Cormorant, which left on October 28th for Metlakahtla with Judge Harrison, Commissioner Taylor, Supt. Roycraft, and Police-constables Brooker and Campbell on board, arrived in Esquimalt Harbour yesterday afternoon at 3.30. The Cormorant took the outside passage on the up trip, and arrived at Metlakahtla on November 3rd. A landing was effected without any resistance being offered; but no arrests were made until the 5th, considerable parleying going on between the Government officials and the Indian representative in the meantime. The Indians requested a short delay to enable the Boscowitz to arrive. Their request was granted. The Boscowitz arrived on the 4th, and on the 5th the superintendent and two constables arrested four of the ringleaders in the council-house of the Indians, in the presence of about 300 Indians. No resistance was offered. The Goverment gaol, the key of which was in the possession of the Indians, was then broken open and the prisoners placed in the gaol in charge of special constables. Other arrests followed from day to day until eight had been arrested.

The injunction made in the Supreme Court of Victoria, ordering certain of the Indians to tear down the house which had been erected by them upon the disputed two acres, and which joined so closely upon the mission-house of the Church Missionary Society as to darken the windows, was not obeyed by those ordered. Unaccountably, however, the building was found to have disappeared on the afternoon of the 11th. During the time the Cormorant was at Metlakahtla Mr. Tuck commenced the survey of the reserve, and it will undoubtedly not be now interfered with.

The Committee heard with gratitude from Bishop Ridley that the decisive steps taken by the Government were largely due to the intervention of the Bishop of Columbia, whose representations of the cowardice of insulting and intimidating a lady excited the indignation of the authorities.

The Mission staff has remained as last year until May, when the Rev. W. H. Collison came home on furlough, and the Rev. C. B. Nash took his place at Kincolith.

At Metlakahtla Bishop Ridley has been assisted by the Revs. C. B. Nash and R. W. Gurd. There are nine students in the Preparandi Institution, four of whom are Tsimsheans, three Gitikshians, and two Hydahs. Mr. Blackett, after his return, gave the Committee his impression of the Society's work at the station :— Work at Metlakahtla.

The Indians connected with the Society amount to about a hundred, out of a total population which is sometimes stated as a thousand, but which probably is not really much more than six hundred. They gather for worship, since the church and school were taken from them, in a room attached to the mission-house, which was originally built as a sort of common room, and is adorned, somewhat incongruously, with grotesque Indian carvings. They are a highly intelligent, faithful, brave little body, manifestly improved by the trials they have gone through. The Bishop has been a faithful and patient leader among them, and has as good cause to be proud of them as they have of him. They value highly the translations of the Gospels he has had printed, declaring they had never before heard a whole chapter read consecutively, and stating in their figurative style that formerly the door of Christian truth was just held ajar for them to peep in, while now it is thrown wide open, so that they can behold all the glory of the Saviour.

Kincolith is on the Nass river, and Mr. Collison reports :— Work at Kincolith.

I am glad to be able to inform you that notwithstanding the determined opposition of the Indians in connection with Mr. Duncan to the Government survey of the Indian reserves (which the Indians in connection with the Methodist Mission have also joined), and the efforts made to induce our Indians here to join in a like resistance, they have not only stood apart and evinced no sympathy with the agitators, but they have rendered all the assistance in their power to the survey party, and together with their brethren of the Aiyansh Mission have had to face and combat the prejudices excited in the minds of the heathen against the survey, from the same source. This fact, and their readiness to have the provisions of the new "Indian Advancement Act" applied to them, and also their desire to receive the Indian agent, indicate their progress in principles of loyalty, and in obedience to the laws.

Early in December we resolved on inviting the heathen of the villages up the river, and accordingly about one hundred responded to our invitation. They arrived in front of the village in their canoes, which were all abreast and lashed together, whilst they danced and sang, dressed in all the insignia of the old style, still held to by the heathen Indians. This, with the number of flags flying from their sail-poles, made quite a striking sight, as they approached the shore. The Christians, all dressed in holiday attire, assembled on the beach, and formed in a double line from the water up to the village, through which the visitors passed, whilst the village brass band played. There was much hand-shaking and greeting. On entering the house, where food and warmth had been prepared for them, I gave them a short address of welcome, after which I called upon Philip Latimer, one of our oldest Christians, and who is a teacher and elder, to speak a few Social gathering of Christian Indians.

words to them. He said, "Brethren and chiefs, it is now quite a number of years since I resolved to abandon the ways of our ancestors, and follow the ways of God. I remember how much you opposed me, and several others who joined me, and when we left to come down and settle here, you gave us up as lost. You can judge for yourselves to-day, when you look on our numbers, how much God has blessed us. The 'Giattkadin,' who believe in God and follow in His ways, far outnumber those of you who hold on to heathenism. Look at the numbers of children and young people amongst us, whilst with you the old people form the greatest number." After Philip had concluded, we sang a hymn and prayed, and then food was served out to them. Afterwards the villagers came forward, and invited each householder, his friend or friends, until all were provided for. They remained with us one week, and on the Lord's Day all were present at every service, when I gave special addresses suited to them. Our old church could scarcely accommodate the increased numbers, so that many of our Christians had to deny themselves and remain outside. They were most attentive to the Word preached, and evidently deeply interested, and I doubt not but that much good will arise from their visit, as much of their heathen prejudice has been broken down, and a good impression made. The way has thus been opened up for further effort, which we hope to make at the spring fishing, when all meet.

Week of Prayer.

The week of prayer was duly observed, and the special services every evening were well attended, though we had to follow the programme of last year, not having received one for the New Year; but we received, I trust, fresh blessings from the presence of the Lord. The necessity for a new church we have felt more this winter than ever. On more than one occasion we have had to hold our services in the mission-house instead, every corner of which has been filled to inconvenience. At other times we have had to labour hard to remove the snow from roof and floor before the services. This, in a climate so severe, is very trying. Just now the snow is so deep that we can walk over the mission-house easily. Notwithstanding much sickness, both in the mission-house and in the village, we have had but one death during the winter, God having blessed the medicine and means used to the recovery of many.

Work at Aiyansh.

Mr. J. B. McCullagh reports a year of much sickness at Aiyansh, and the school-house was converted into a temporary hospital. He gives an interesting account of some of the patients :—

Some of these cases are interesting and perhaps worthy of mention, especially that of Agwilakha, a powerful Niska chief. He is quite an exceptional character, and has been a particular crony of ours ever since we came here, frequently calling to see us, to make my wife a little present of fruit, or to hear a little music. He seems most earnestly in his element when ransacking my tool-chest or whetting his axe or hunting-knife on my grinding-stone; and his penchant for spectacles ("spucks" he calls them) and silk handkerchiefs is somewhat amusing. All along he has been a most confirmed heathen; in fact he and Skoten have been justly regarded as the principal pillars of the heathen temple on this river. But to proceed, one beautiful morning early in June last, while engaged with some men on the new Mission buildings, we were startled by cries of distress proceeding from the forest. Presently, Gwinpazqu, Agwilakha's boy, made his appearance running and wailing, "Haiawa! haiawalth babi" (Alas! alas! my father). "My father lies upon yonder mountain," cried he "stricken with the 'lokqu;' he has eaten nothing these eight days, and is faint and dying. Haiawa! haiawa!" and the poor lad resumed his lamentations. No time was lost in despatching assistance with a little medicine, restoratives, &c.; and after a couple of days Agwilakha was brought in with just a spark of life flickering in the socket of his emaciated frame. I had him placed in the school-house, and did all in my power for him, rarely leaving his bedside during three days. A change for the better then set in, followed by gradual recovery. His first request on feeling a little better was that some leafy branches might be set up around his bed and a few pictures of scripture subjects, which I had formerly shown and explained to him, hung upon them. He then requested those present to sing a hymn and to pray with him; after which he lay listening to the explanations of the pictures, In faltering speech he expressed himself deeply penitent and determined to lead a new life should he recover. "Death," said he, "overtook me on the mountain, it struck me low: my blood made red the snow for a long way" (he was vomiting blood) "while crawling to my little hut by the stream. I remembered Shimoigiat lakhage (God). I besought Him. 'O Shimoigiat,' I said, 'hold me up;' and He did. Four days, and we found the little hut by the stream. My flesh was black: I knew it meant death. 'Wait my son,' I said to Pazqu, 'until my end has come, then hasten to your brother, to Muguiliksqu. Tell him where I lie, that he may come, and take me away and bury me,' Two more days, I still breathed; then I sent Pazqu to you, and soon came the men and carried me here on their shoulders. Blessed are they! 'I shall recover,' you say. Perhaps so; but Agwilakha is dead; he died on the mountain; with mine own eyes I saw him die; his old life ended there. Henceforth, my life shall be like a thing lent to me; He who lent it shall own it. Great has been His mercy to me; the heart of a child has come to me. My speech is finished."

His resolve.

Before passing on to the next case, I might just mention how my old friend, quite recently, discomfited a party of Zimsheans in my defence. The Zimsheans had called a council (of rebellion) at Gitwinzilk, a village about nine miles below us. Agwilakha, being in the village, went in to hear what they had to say. They began by denouncing Brother Collison and myself as enemies to the Indian race, saying we were leading the people blindfold to perdition; and that it was at my special request the land survey was undertaken on the Nass! When they had finished speaking, Agwilakha stood up, his heart on the war-path against them. "You are liars," said he, "and I will prove it here now. How many winters has Mr. McCullagh seen in our country?" "Four with the winter coming." "How many winters since Mr. O'Rielly laid the measuring chain around our villages cutting out the land?" "Six with the winter coming." "Now, count and say, did Mr. McCullagh ask the Government to cut out our land two years before he saw our country?" The Zimsheans did not answer. "Now," continued Agwilakha, "who brought Mr. O'Rielly to the Nass? You Zimsheans. Who persuaded us to allow him to cut out our land? You Zimsheans. Who was his interpreter? David Lisk, a Zimshean. Now you want us to believe that the chief at Aiyansh did it. Do you think we are no-hearts (fools)? Do you liken us to little children? We know Mr. McCullagh; we know how his heart walks; we have proved him true. Now begone, and leave us in peace." "The Zimsheans never lifted their heads," said my informant, "they were put to shame before all the people."

I must now give you an account of another of my patients whose recovery produced a favourable impression among the heathen.

"Medicine Men" confounded.

One day, while passing through the village of Gitlakdamuks, I was accosted by a repulsive-looking individual—a medicine-man. "I was just coming down to see you, Shimoigiat," he explained; "it is not often I ask you for anything, but I want a little black paint now." "What do you want black paint for?" I inquired, thinking, perhaps, he had added something new to his materia medica. "Oh," said he, "I have just made the coffin for Laubagan's wife, and I want to paint the railings around her grave." "And when did she die?" I asked. "Oh," he replied, "she is not dead yet, but," in quite a matter-of-fact tone, "she soon will die!" "I will see her then," said I, turning into the house. Here I found Laubagan supporting his wife in his arms, while she was struggling and gasping in the relentless grip of a ruthless cough. Having observed her for a little, I concluded that, if left as she was, she would indeed soon fulfil the medicine-man's prophecy, but that with a little stimulant and nourishment she might be sustained and brought under the healing power of some proper medicine. She was just like a mummy, save of a lighter complexion. Wrapped up in some blankets, and placed in a canoe, she was soon comfortably accommodated at Aiyansh. Just as I expected, she soon began to improve, slowly but surely, and, much to the astonishment of every one, two months later she resumed her accustomed household duties, while the medicine-man's own wife died and filled her coffin.

Mrs. McCullagh has a class for instructing Native girls.

Work at Hazelton.

Since May of last year the Rev. J. Field has been stationed at Hazelton, which is situated on the left bank of the river Skeena, about 180 miles from the sea. There is a population of about 350. There are sixteen baptized Indian Christians in the village, eleven adults and five children. Mr. Field has not been encouraged by manifest fruits of his labours. Disquieting reports from the coast have been industriously circulated, ascribing to the Government and the C.M.S. the purpose to rob the Indians of their land. Mr. Field says: "The people evince no sympathy whatever towards the Christian teachers. The doctors and old people are decidedly hostile; the young are indifferent." The attendance at church, however, was good during the summer; and in October an Indian publicly expressed his intention 'to turn from bad to good,' but after three months was flattered into attending a potlatch, and he and his family went back to heathenism."

QUEEN CHARLOTTE'S ISLANDS: HYDAH MISSION.

The Rev. C. Harrison's work among the Hydahs is deeply interesting. He says:— Work at Massett.

Since my last Annual Letter our house was entirely burnt to the ground. Last September the old mission-house was completely destroyed, together with all our provisions for the coming year, and most of our clothing. We were for once in our lives homeless and houseless. The Indians soon, however, erected for us a cabin twenty-one feet long and nine feet wide, in which we lived during the six winter months. On March 1st we entered our new house.

During the winter of 1885 I was very busy. There is sufficient work for two white men at Massett. Five days every week I taught in the school. We had an attendance of ninety daily. All the Indians look upon me as their doctor, and a great portion of my time is thus occupied. In all their difficulties the Indians ask for my advice, and in all their troubles they come to me as their friend. Every Monday evening I had my catechumen's class; Tuesday evenings I saw the members of the confirmation class; Wednesday evenings I devoted to translations; Thursday evenings I held divine service in the church; Friday evenings the members of the choir met for practice, and I was present during the whole of each meeting; Saturdays I devoted to the preparation of my addresses for the coming Sundays. A missionary's duties.

I have this winter revised some short lessons on the Old Testament characters, compiled a dictionary, and written easy lessons in the Hydah language. I have also translated into the Hydah—Morning Prayer, Evening Prayer, Litany, Prayer for all conditions of men, General Thanksgiving, Communion Service, Public Baptism of children, Baptism of such as are of riper years, Order of Confirmation, Solemnization of Matrimony, the Burial of the Dead, and the Churching of Women. Translations.

The people of Skidegate and Gold Harbour desire to have the Church of England established in their midst. Most of the Indians and all the whites are favourably disposed towards the Church of England, and have frequently asked me to visit them, and also to write to the C.M.S. for another man to assist me.

I have during the past year baptized 80 Hydahs—men, women, and children. I have now on the baptismal register 178 names. There are 21 couples on the marriage register. We have 30 members in the catechumen's class. The Bishop has confirmed 23 of our people, so we are now able to participate in the blessings which result from faithfully receiving the Holy Communion. Baptisms.

Last winter we bent the joists in our small building, which we use as a church. The people were determined, if possible, to squeeze themselves into it. The young men brought rough lumber to the church, then brought in a ladder, and placed the lumber across the joists. This took them about three hours to accomplish. When service time came, the young men and boys were the first to arrive, and all went up to their newly-constructed seats. The consequence was that too many went up, and some of the joists began to bend, and we had to order some of them to come down. They did this in order to make room for the old people. Even by so doing we could not get all the people into the building, and many with a sorrowful heart had to return home without hearing the message of salvation.

We are in great need of a larger church. We must have one. We have done what we could towards its erection. The people have done what they could towards it. On Sunday morning, January 17th, I made a collection on behalf of the New Church Building Fund and realized 100 blankets, and one coat, valued at fifteen dollars to me and thirty to the owner. He will redeem his coat as soon as he is able to raise the money.

Native contributions towards a church.

I also received one and a half dollars in cash, and the promises of twenty-three dollars more. It was impossible to see me near the communion table that Sunday morning, as the blankets quite hid me from sight. The blankets average five shillings each, i.e., one and a quarter dollars. The coat was given by a chief who had no blankets, to show that he was in earnest and heartily desired to assist. The church about to be erected will cost about 300*l*. The Indians are very poor, yet they have assisted to the utmost of their power.

During the disturbances at Metlakatla and the Nass our people were very quiet and kept the peace. At that time many of the evil-disposed Indians tried to lead our people astray, but they held firmly to the Church of England, her doctrines and her Bishop. They were also staunch supporters of the Government. Great praise is due for the manly way in which they have conducted themselves during the troublesome times through which the Church has passed in this diocese. It is my firm opinion that the number of Church of England followers has increased, and that from the late disturbances much good has arisen. We have two stations on Queen Charlotte's Islands, which are now ready to embrace teachers sent to them by the Church. I do sincerely hope that those stations may soon be occupied, and that also by the C.M.S., so that the whole of the population of the islands may be members of our beloved Church.

Church Council.

The Church Council which I formed about eighteen months ago continues to be the means of greatly improving our people. Regularly, for the past eighteen months, after the ringing of the first bell, have the baptized met together for prayer, and regularly have we received fresh tokens of good from the hand of our ever-bountiful Father. I have also noticed, during the past year, a greater degree of brotherly love existing among our people, and especially amongst the baptized. I yet have good reason to think that, if seasonable help can be obtained, not only the Massett Hydahs, but the whole of Queen Charlotte's Islanders will, not long hence, become genuine Christians. Our people value their Church, and the privileges to be obtained by being members. Twenty-three of them received the Holy Communion the same morning that they were confirmed, and most of them realized, as it were, that they were in the presence of God, and of His dear Son, who died to save their souls. Our people truly feel the effect of distinctive Christian teaching, and appreciate the privileges of baptism, confirmation, and the Lord's Supper.

Almost all of our Massett Indians desire to be baptized. Up to the present time I have not had the opportunity to thoroughly instruct each individual, therefore I have kept some of them waiting, and hope to baptize most of them after the erection of our new church.

VANCOUVER'S ISLAND: KWA-GUTL MISSION.

The Rev. A. J. Hall says:—

In reviewing the past year, I find that it has been one of joy, not unmixed with sorrow. The year opened with the baptism of three youths, who had been taught in the mission-house; school attendance slightly above the preceding corresponding quarter; services attended regularly, and increased during the summer and autumn months. There appeared every reason to hope that a steady growth in grace was manifesting itself; indeed, twenty young men declared their willingness to embrace Christianity and forsake their heathen customs. This effort on the part of those who at least desired to reform their outward conduct, brought down every possible power to oppose them. It happened most unfortunately that Alert Bay was the place chosen to hold the monster "potlatch" this winter—about 400 visitors from other tribes have wintered here, and the heathen party has triumphed by inducing most of those who promised to be faithful servants of Christ to join them. Yes, triumphed for a time; but we know it can only be for a time, for the victory is won, and we will watch with patience and pray for the fulfilment of the promise. The Kwagutl Mission.

The greatest outward hindrance to the Gospel is the minority of the women. Three young men during the past year determined to marry; for one couple the banns were published, but the people protested and prevented the marriage.

There have been seven baptisms—one was that of a young woman who left us four years ago, and has been "kept" wonderfully. She returned requesting baptism. She is still with us, and gives great satisfaction. Baptisms.

Mr. Price has made several journeys to neighbouring tribes, which he will give you an account of himself.

This year St. Luke's Gospel has been translated, and the child's book Peep of Day completed by one of the Mission boys. The S.P.C.K. are now printing portions of the Book of Common Prayer and hymns. Translations.

MADRAS.

The Rev. W. T. Satthianadhan has forwarded the following Report:—

The evangelists on the fund continue their labours in connection with the Church Council. One of them, an agent of forty years' standing of the C.M.S., is working in the city and suburbs of Madras. He has been very zealous in proclaiming the Gospel to the large population of this city. His Tamil journals, sent to the Council from time to time, are full of encouragement and hope. He has been the means of leading a few souls to the foot of the Cross. This agent writes:—

"I thank God for the many blessings which have attended me during my frequent visits to the thirty-two suburbs of Madras to preach the Word of God. Many people show an inclination to know more about Christ, and receive tracts and handbills. Crowds of people often resort to the People's Park to amuse themselves. I speak to them about their souls; some listen with attention, while others turn a deaf ear. Many people are not prepared to take up the Cross and follow Christ.

"Some people read carefully the tracts given them. I am glad to report that the Church servant, Mathurai, has already received baptism. I also preach to the numerous patients in the General Hospital. A Brahmin once told me that the Bible is the only true revelation, and that Christ is the only Saviour. I am pleased to find that many patients evince a great desire to know about Christ."

The other evangelist is labouring at Manmiangalam, a large village of unbroken heathen darkness. He teaches the Bible every day to the many Hindu boys in the school, and also preaches the Gospel to the Brahmins and other castes of people who inhabit the village; and visits all the villages, about thirty, around this centre, and carries the message of salvation through a Crucified Redeemer to all the people living in them. His journals show that the people listen to them with much attention on the whole. As he is a good singer, he often sings Christian lyrics, and explains the truths of Christianity contained therein with much acceptance; he scarcely ever meets with opposition.

At Valarpuram and Pulicat are large centres of population, and if a catechist on the fund could be employed he would have ample scope for evangelistic work. I need hardly add that by means of this fund thousands of people in many Indian towns and villages, sunk in heathen darkness and superstition, are directed to the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world.

TINNEVELLY.

In Tinnevelly, eleven agents are employed at Palamcotta, fourteen at Mengnanapuram, seven at Suviseshapuram, five at Dohnavur, seven at Paneivilei, seven at Nallur, and five at Surandei. In North Tinnevelly eleven are employed.

The reports of these agents are so lengthy and full that a difficulty is found in condensing the information. The entire report of the work of the agents in one district, Mengnanapuram, as compiled by the Native pastor, the Rev. J. David, is printed in full to serve as a type of all. It will be seen that the advances of Romanists are a special hindrance to the progress of Scriptural Missions in India.

The catechists of the Jones' Fund have almost all of them carried on their work very diligently during the year. The result of their labour is obvious. One hundred and thirty persons have newly embraced the Gospel. Almost every catechist finds the Roman Catholics to be great obstacles in his way, especially as money is freely used by them or promised.

1. S. H. speaks highly of religious tracts and handbills as a means of bringing Christian truths before the heathen. They often ask him to read them a tract or handbill, or get their children to read it for them. Those who cavil in conversation hear attentively when a tract is read. The catechist was once speaking to a few poor women when a man, who had once been a Christian, came there, and vigorously opposed the catechist. In the course of the dispute he himself told them that he was once a Christian, but his relatives began to oppose and abuse the catechist who used to visit him. When asked the reason the relations said, "Since you began to come to our house and read your book and pray here our demons have fled to mountains. What shall we do now?" Here the man was stopped short by the women, who exclaimed, "Yes, sir; just so, just so." The catechist then explained to them the power of the Word of God and the folly of trusting to demons.

2. A. speaks very hopefully of the work, notwithstanding the many obstacles he meets with. Knowledge of the truth is being diffused, and in that proportion heathenism is losing its hold on the people. Only heathen landlords on the one side, and the money of the Roman Catholics on the other side, prevent large accessions to the Mission. The catechist is fairly appreciated everywhere, and is attentively listened to. Once when he was preaching in the market at Lathankulam, a certain Mohammedan asked the catechist to give him twelve different tracts for one anna. This co-religionist, who stood by, told him it was highly improper for him to buy or read Christian books. But the man was not to be daunted. He bought the books, saying that they contained good truths, and that he would purchase them for an anna, which he might otherwise spend in the market upon some trifling thing. The catechist learned afterwards that the man had read those tracts carefully and was reading also a portion of Scripture, which he had somehow obtained. The catechist gives us an instance of his experience with the Roman Catholics also. He was once preaching to some at Pirandarkulam when one of them began roughly to denounce the Protestants. "You apostates," he said, "can never get to heaven. Hell is your lot, and you catechists especially will go there." But the man was at once reproved by others, who said, "You fool, if this catechist, who has been telling us of the Lord Jesus and His sufferings, and makes it his business to call people to know Him and worship Him, if this man, whose knees are worn with kneeling in prayer to Him, be shut out of Heaven, will you, who never think of Him, gain admission there? To what purpose dare you quote the words of our priests, who never go about heathen villages, nor preach to the heathen at all? This catechist has been only proclaiming the Saviour's praises." After this rebuke the man was silent.

3. I. S. has to work among the heathen, Roman Catholics, and Mohammedans. On Sundays he is assisted by Christian laymen who accompany him to preach the Gospel in neighbouring villages. He finds the people willing to hear and read religious tracts. The recovery of a Christian from a dangerous disease made a great impression on the surrounding heathen, and the catechist availed himself of the opportunity to set before them the power of the Gospel as curing men of the disease which affects the soul. One, a Nadan, a bitter opposer of the Gospel, greatly cooled down on hearing a description of the last judgment. He also took away a handbill with him to read. The catechist preached also at Trichendur, where thousands of heathen resort annually to celebrate their festival. The results are unknown to man.

4. J. has to work among various religionists. He preaches among them five days a week. He sometimes has recourse to singing in order to collect hearers, and then suits his address to the ability of the audience to understand it. He is at a loss to account for the practical indifference of the heathen to the Christian faith, while at the same time they loudly acknowledge it to be the true religion. Deceitfulness of riches, caste pride, inconsistency of Christians, fear of landlords, love of the world, all more or less contribute to this result. But he is glad to report that two persons have placed themselves under Christian instruction as the immediate result of his labours during the past year.

5. P. has a good opportunity of proclaiming the Gospel to many heathen, as his house stands by the side of the great road leading to the great heathen shrine at Trichendur. He mentions the Roman Catholics as being the chief hindrance to Christianity by their imitations of heathenish festivals and ceremonies. He reports that a woman in a village who had backslided with others many years ago has sought admission into the Church, and continued firm in the faith till her death. Since then a whole family has followed the same course and seems to be in earnest.

6. J. A. preaches the Gospel amid ignorant, superstitious, and cavilling people. His experience, however, is varied. Those who oppose him violently at one time listen to him patiently at another, and he is encouraged to go on with his work.

7. G. speaks very encouragingly of his work. The heathen, he says, are astonished at the progress of the Gospel in these parts, where no Europeans are employed and where secular help is not so supplied to converts as in olden times. They are struck with the contrast between the Protestants, who pray for the heathen, and the Roman Catholics, who loudly condemn them to destruction. The heathen on all sides seem to acknowledge Christianity as the one true religion, and cavilling has become rare. Four persons have been baptized as the result of his labours.

8. N. has to work among the heathen, Roman Catholics, and Mohammedans. There are a number of backsliders in his circle of villages. He preaches in streets, speaks to people in their houses, and distributes tracts. People everywhere listen quietly and confess to the truth of Christianity, but their reasons for not professing it are the same everywhere, the simple fact being that the truth has not yet reached their heart.

9. M. speaks of religious tracts as being very useful in Brahmin villages. The catechist may not be allowed to go into their village, but the children as soon as they see the books come to him in large numbers, often accompanied by their parents. Sometimes the catechist introduces himself to a Hindu schoolmaster and questions his pupils on their lessons, and gets permission to speak to them and sell them tracts. Thirteen backsliders have returned by his labours from the evil of their ways. When the catechist was expounding to them the parable of the lost sheep, one of them remarked, "The shepherd must ever after its recovery have fed it from his own hands." They all have continued firm, and I trust they will continue stedfast unto the end. In another village seventy-five souls have embraced Christianity. The head man among them lost his son the day after he had pulled down his old heathen temple. The heathen thought that he would surely backslide, but he has had grace to stand firm. All these new adherents are bitterly persecuted.

10. A. A. reports that the knowledge of the way of salvation is more diffused every year among the heathen, and the excellency of Christianity is acknowledged by them. Notwithstanding the hindrances to Christianity, caste pride, custom, and superstition, thirteen souls have accepted the Gospel invitation by means of his labours. At another village also a certain man with his whole family has placed himself under Christian instruction, notwithstanding the cruel opposition of his relatives.

11. S. has different religionists in his circle. Many of them had one time professed themselves Christians for a few months and then backslided. His experience with them all is like that of his brother evangelists.

12. A. has frequently preached to a large number of hearers. Once two Mohammedan boys, who had been pupils in a Mission-school, listened to the catechist eagerly, avowed their belief in Jesus, and purchased some tracts. Once while preaching to about forty hearers, a woman among these said that she was wishful and ready to embrace the Gospel, but her husband was altogether against it. What could she do? The catechist considers her as not far from the kingdom of God. Several persons have likewise expressed their intention to become Christians after a certain time, but it is feared that this is mere talk.

13. M. has to work among heathen, Mohammedan, and Roman Catholics. The learned heathen dispute against the Gospel that it is very simple, while their Shastras are clothed in elaborate poetry. The catechist uses Christian lyrics so as to get them to hear the Gospel. In one of his lyric-preachings he had as large an audience, he thinks, as 500 persons, who listened very attentively. One of them, a village Moonshiff, spoke of the Gospel in high terms to people who came to his Catchery the next day, and when asked by some one whether he was going to become a Christian, he said, "Yes, but not only I, but you and all our people must become Christians," and forthwith he sent for the catechist, and asked him to visit his village as often as he can, and promised that he would have everything ready for him. The catechist has great hopes of the village Moonshiff's ere long becoming a Christian.

14. V.'s experience with the heathen is like that of the other catechists.

A great and glorious work is being carried on in this dark land by these catechists, and the barriers against it must in time fall. It is progressing year by year. We have no doubt but that many will rise up in the last day and joyfully confess before the Redeemer of the world that they were converted through the instrumentality of these Jones Fund men.

TRAVANCORE.

The Ven. Archdeacon Koshi writes as follows:—

Messrs. —— and ——, of Mavelikara, have mentioned in their joint report an incident which is as remarkable as it is interesting. A dramatic play organized by a rajah and other great people of Cherukol, a heathen village not far from the residence of the evangelists, was lately acted in the Cherukol temple for the first time. This drama, called Eramathu Kali, or the "seventh play," lasted several successive nights, being intended (like other religious performances of the Hindus) as much for amusement as to please the deity. It was proposed that there should be, for one night, a representation of an evangelist preaching, and a Brahmin holding a high office in the temple was elected for the purpose. Assuming the dress, tone, and manners of one of our evangelists, this Brahmin appeared on the stage, announcing himself to be a Christian teacher, and invited all present to listen to him. He further challenged all such as had anything to object to his words to come forward and state their objections. He then began to speak in praise of the Christian religion, and gave a somewhat clear and correct outline of its principal doctrines. The more intelligent members of the audience then made their objections against several points. But these he refuted one by one with such skill and ability that his opponents felt really ashamed, and were silenced. After this he proceeded to attack Hinduism, and exposed the folly of idolatry in such a clever and jocose manner as to excite much merriment, and was greeted by many of the audience with loud shouts of applause. It may appear strange how such a thing could possibly have happened. But the temple authorities, in assenting to the proposal, might have intended no more than to have some merriment at the expense of Christianity; while under the excitement of the moment matters unconsciously passed on from jest to earnest, and the conviction prevailing in the minds of many respecting the superiority of Christianity might have led the crowd, for a while, to forget other considerations and applaud the pretended evangelist. Mr. —— and his colleague had preached in the vicinity of the above temple, and warm discussions had taken place between them and the very Brahmin who acted on the stage the part of the Christian evangelist as above described.

In the thickly populated parts of the country, when repeated visits are made, the agents are subjected to various annoyances and insults. But, on the other hand, the forbearance with which insults are borne has elicited praise from thoughtful Hindus. Many persons have told the evangelists themselves that their patience under provocation has struck them as an excellent feature in their character, and the expression as patient as a reader (upadesi) seems likely to pass into a proverb in some parts of the country.

The Rev. O. Mamen writes:—

The two Jones Fund Readers were regularly itinerating in various villages to preach to high castes. I am thankful to state that I was much encouraged in this work in being enabled to visit several respectable and influential families, to whom I distributed tracts, handbills, and Bible portions.

Other reports mention the work of the agents at Elantur:—

"The Jones Fund Reader carries on his usual work of house visiting and distribution of tracts and handbills. At the Oram and Ulsavam festivals, at Aranmula and the Omellur fair, myself and my agents go in company, for open-air preaching. Two Chogan families have expressed their desire to join us. May God give them courage to come forward and confess Christ publicly!

At Changanasheri:—

Concerning the evangelizing work carried on, the Jones Fund Reader is as efficient as usual. He works diligently in the town, in the market, and in the villages around. The Gospel of Jesus is carried on to the high-caste people, who are numerous in the pastorate. Frequently he accompanies the pastor with handbills, tracts, and Bible portions to the palace of a rajah who lives in the town, and to the adjoining Namburu's houses.

CHINA.

The following are extracts from the report of Dr. Van Someren Taylor, medical missionary at Fuh Ning:—

We have been able to carry on our work more efficiently than ever previously we were able to do; and though we cannot point to any conversions, yet we have the assurance that a good number have had the Gospel placed before them, and that they have become intelligently acquainted with the truth we desire to spread.

A little incident has shown us that our work has not been in vain, and leads us to hope that the work is spreading. A catechist was on his way to Fuh Ning by a route not usually travelled over. At one place he had to wait for a boat, and had to preach. One of the listeners hearing him preach invited him to his house, and entered into conversation with him; from that conversation he learnt that the man who had invited him in had been here at this hospital, had heard about Christ, and that the people of his village were willing for us to open a chapel there.

I have a class every afternoon, when we question our hearers, and by this means find out how far we are reaching them.

I still, however, feel the need of a ward for women.

I see the in-patients four times daily; by this means I see that they get the proper amount, and at the proper time.

During the past year I have had five students, or, more correctly, three assistants and two students.

An interesting report of Dr. Main for 1885 has been sent, but our space will not permit of printing retrospective information.

JAPAN.

The following report was specially prepared by the Principal of the Osaka Divinity School for the trustees of the fund :—

Nearly double the number of students who last year availed themselves of the benefits of the Institution have received instruction here during the current year; the total being twenty-five. Of these eight belong to the American Episcopal Mission, and have paid fees for tuition, &c., to the amount of yen 77·50. Of the remaining seventeen, two are the temporary pastors of our two churches, five were second-year students, three are first-year students, and seven are Preparandi students. Of the five second-year men, one has been suspended for a year, a second died of typhoid fever in May, and a third, Terata, has now completed the two years' training for which he was sent down from Hakodate, and is hoping to be ordained deacon, and return for work there in a month or two. So that there are only two of our own second-year men left for next year; but as the pastors of our churches and the American Episcopal students study with the second-year classes, the loss of the three men will not in any way diminish the work necessary to supply the instruction for this class. Of the seven Preparandi men, two have lately been sent up from the Nagasaki station, and give promise of working well. But one, an Osaka man, having failed in all the examinations of the year, and thus proved his incapacity for satisfactory study, has been requested to resign his connection with the Institution. The result of the Christmas Examination (including all subjects, such as English, Greek, Chinese, &c., &c.), shows that, with the exception of the above-mentioned student, who was not classed at all, an average of sixty-four per cent. marks was obtained by each student, or nearly two-thirds of full marks; the highest being eighty, and the lowest forty-three per cent.

The students have, as usual, under Mr. Evington's direction, spent a great part of their vacations during the year in the country district, visiting our out-stations and preaching the Gospel of the kingdom. As I have to spend the greater part of my own time during vacation in preparing lectures for the following term's work, it is at present quite out of the question my accompanying them on these tours; but I hope in a few years, if God permit, when my lectures and text-books will mostly be completed, to spare time to go round with them myself. They have also, of course, regularly taken their share of preaching at our churches and preaching in this city. The students hold a daily prayer-meeting in the College at one p.m., which has been kept up regularly during the year; and the Friday evening devotional meeting has also been continued without intermission; as have also daily morning and evening prayers during term time. With the one exception mentioned above, I have no reason to be dissatisfied as to the spiritual-mindedness of the students as a whole, though I have had cause for anxiety regarding a spirit of self-righteousness and pride exhibited by one or two occasionally.

REPORT OF THE WALTER JONES FUND.

During the past year the sum of 855*l.* has been granted for the objects of this fund, which is to provide for the support of additional Native agents, lay and clerical, in the Society's African, Indian, Palestine, and Mauritius Missions. The appropriation is as follows:—

Niger (one year)	175
Palestine (ditto)	160
North India (two years)	170
Punjab (ditto)	100
South India (ditto)	160
Travancore (ditto)	40
Mauritius (one year)	50

There is no special report of the work of the agents in the Niger Mission, or Palestine, though allusions are made to it in general terms by correspondents.

In North India the agents number seven. One works as bazaar-preacher at Ajudhya, and others in the same capacity at Faizabad and Sultanpur. Three others work under Mr. Stern at out-stations and one at Lucknow. The Rev. H. Lewis wrote the following brief report of the latter:—

> The chief points to be noticed concerning the agent supported by the Walter Jones Fund are these. He and his wife are stationed permanently at Man, an out-station of Lucknow, ten miles distant. The work has gone on steadily. The boldness with which inquirers come in would be encouraging were it not so largely mixed with mere curiosity. The gradual dying out of persecution would also be cheering were not apathy fast taking its place.

From South India Reports have been sent. The Rev. W. T. Satthianadhan writes as follows respecting the Madras workers:—

> I send you a brief account of the work of the two evangelists on this fund who are labouring at St. Thomas' Mount in connection with the Madras Native Church Council. Mr. Moses, who was formerly a schoolmaster of the C.M.S., has been working as an evangelist for the past several years. He travels about a good deal. Having divided the large district into several centres, he spends about a week in each and visits all the villages around. One half of the month he is touring in the district, preaching the Gospel everywhere. The other half he spends at headquarters; but St. Thomas' Mount being a large centre, he goes out every day, visits the towns and villages around, and endeavours to place the truths of religion before the minds of his numerous audiences. There have been no cases of actual conversion in connection with his work, but he is sowing the seed broadcast, and we may hope that in due time it will spring up and bear fruit.

Another young Brahmin convert is associated with him in this work, and they often go together; and while the one is engaged in preaching the other keeps the audience in order, and a good work is thus carried on by them.

Like all the people of India, those in the Chingleput district are attached to their ancestral religion. Yet many of them acknowledge that Christianity is the true religion, and that it will spread throughout the world, but they are so fettered by caste and custom that they are not able to act up to their convictions. May the Holy Spirit enlighten them and lead them to the Saviour!

The Rev. J. B. Panes, of Raghavapuram, writes of the work of the agents in that district:—

With regard to the agent's work, his time is divided between the town of Jaggipett and the surrounding villages. The morning is frequently spent in visiting near villages and preaching the Gospel to the heathen generally, whilst the needs of adjoining Christian congregations are also attended to. By encouraging and correcting when necessary the schoolmasters and minor agents, he does useful work for me at such times as I am travelling in other parts of the district. In addition to this, I direct him to spend several days each month travelling outside of Jaggipett. His afternoons, and the remaining portion of his time are spent in teaching Scripture in our Jaggipett Boys' School, and in preaching in the bazaar, and house-to-house visitation. I have myself at fixed intervals examined the boys in the schools, and find they have an intelligent knowledge of the Gospel history, and are able to answer important questions concerning the meaning of the great facts in our Saviour's life. They are also well acquainted with the Book of Genesis, and some portions of Old Testament history. The agents' bazaar-preaching extends over the whole town. Many people listen with respect and interest, and it has a seasoning, healthy influence upon the whole population. In his latest letter to me he asks for special prayer on behalf of a Komaty youth who has been inquiring for more than a year, and one whom I know, from personal intercourse, is convinced of God's revelation, and believes in Christ as his Saviour. I join with him in asking for prayer in this case. Courage to confess Christ by receiving baptism is what this youth needs. His friends are trying to marry him to a heathen girl, and he is anxious not to do so; hence we may well say that this is a crisis—a turning-point in his spiritual history—and we earnestly ask the prayers of all God's people that he may be able to give himself up wholly to God, and make the choice which Moses made, who chose rather to suffer affliction with the people of God than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season.

As regards Travancore, the Rev. J. H. Bishop supplies the following:—

I have the pleasure to send you a short report of the Walter Jones agents in connection with the Trichur and Kunnankulam Mission districts in the diocese of Travancore and Cochin. They are two in number, and they work together. Daniel is a Mission agent of long experience. Though somewhat advanced in years, he is robust, of a vigorous constitution, and, like Caleb of old, still strong for service. He is a very fluent and accurate speaker. His Malayalim is always of a good type; even the highest Brahmins will listen to him with respect. Sometimes his addresses are very powerful. But his fluency occasionally degenerates into verbosity. His companion, Asshur, is in many ways a marked contrast to him. He is a much younger man, and weaker in constitution. He was the favourite servant of the late Rev. H. Harley, and attended him on his dying bed, and seems to have imbibed something of the gentle and tender-hearted disposition of his master. He also acquired from him a thoroughly good experimental knowledge of English and Native medicine, which is of great use to him in his itinerating work. He also accompanied Bishop Speechly as his private servant in his tour through North India, visiting Benares and other great cities. This knowledge of men and things serves him well in his addresses to the heathen. He reads and speaks English fairly, and Tamil fluently, though Malayalim is his Native language. It is a great advantage to him to be able to read Tamil books; and he has a fine voice, so he can chant, as he often does, to the great delight of the people, the wonderful sayings in favour of Christianity of the great Tamil sage, Aghastya Mumi. He can also sing Malayalim lyrics.

The agents' whole time is given up to preaching the Gospel in the villages and markets of this populous Native State. They come into headquarters once a month, and take some part in the work going on here. I allow them a boy to cook their rice, so that their whole time when itinerating may be given up to preparation for or employment in the Lord's work.

We have a few centres besides Trichur, where agents can stay for ten days at a time, itinerating in the neighbourhood; such as Kunnankulam, Eringâlakuda, Paranyi, Cherpa, Thalakôttukam, Puthusheri. We sadly want a few more centres. Their work is broadcast sowing the seed of the Word by preaching, house-to-house visitation in the dêshoms (i.e. revenue divisions), and distribution of handbills. They are often accompanied by both or one of the Bible colporteurs. As often, too, as I can, I accompany them, generally with some boys to sing; so that we form a strong preaching party, and are able to attract attention and get larger audiences.

The work done by these evangelists is most invaluable. My own opinion is, not half enough of simple preaching of the Word, the proclamation of the truth, the call to repentance, is done by us. Our agency is small and the field large, and travelling very slow.

Several of our recent converts first heard of the Gospel through our public preaching. It is impossible to deny that a vast number of Hindus of all castes in this and other districts know that the way of forgiveness of sin and acceptance with God is through Jesus Christ, the Saviour of the world; that He died for our sins, and rose again triumphant the third day; and that He will come again to judge the quick and dead; and that He is the only Saviour. A great many believe it, but fear of man, the power of caste, and the tremendous practical difficulties of gaining a livelihood when they are cut off from their tarawât or family circle, deter them from making a public confession. The Malayâlis, more than, perhaps, any other Natives, are exceedingly prone to put off coming to a decision about anything that involves a little present loss or difficulty. I am very thankful to the God of all grace, who alone can supply us with faithful fellow-workers, that my two brethren, Daniel and Asshur, are real co-helpers, spiritually-minded men, earnest and active in the Master's service, and willing and glad to suffer for Him. Sometimes we are honoured by being hooted, and addressed in abusive language, but rarely pelted.

YORUBA.

The Rev. N. Johnson, Acting Secretary of the Committee of the Lagos Church Missions, thus writes of the work:—

The Committee of the Lagos Church Missions desire to express their hearty thanks to the Society for the sum granted them from the Henry Venn Fund for Mission work. They will be always grateful for any such substantial help at any time.

At present the Mission is in its incipient stage. It has three stations —Iganmu, Isaga-tedo, and Ojo, and the fourth is soon to be taken up. It keeps two men under a regular itinerant work; and has a school of some thirty children at Iganmu, under a trained master. At the last anniversary meeting, held a couple of months ago, very strong appeals were made for more men to serve in the mission-field. I am happy to say that the efforts were not unsuccessful; and there is every likelihood of an increase or two on the present staff of agents in the field.

Our first station at Iganmu continues to prosper spiritually. In my last official visit to the place what I saw of the people convinced me that the Holy Spirit is at work among them. The vigorous activity of the catechist in charge, no less than the manifest zeal and earnestness of the bulk of the people to disseminate the word of life in the villages around, and their efforts to compel others to come in, showed too plainly that there is real life in the Church.

The present felt want at Iganmu, which is now about to be supplied, is an enlarged substantial chapel to replace the present one now in use, which is found to be too small to accommodate the number of worshippers.

Isaga-tedo is the second station, beautifully situated, well inhabited, and full of little children. This is an advantage over Iganmu, which consists of farm villages and hamlets interspersed. Isaga, however, is not as encouraging as Iganmu in regard to congregation. The soil is evidently hard; still the catechist in charge is not without some encouragements in his work. His frequent itinerating excursions in the numerous villages and hamlets around are attended with cheering results; and with God's blessing I have no doubt that a healthy Church will be formed there. At present only about a dozen souls (children included) are under a regular course of instruction in the place.

The third station was Ojo, a central place, where periodical markets are held every ninth day, when people come from various quarters, some two, some four days' distant. The Archdeacon and myself visited the place some time last year, and already a nucleus of a future church has been formed, though with some difficulty. Ojo is reached from Lagos both by land and water, and is a promising field, though it is one of Satan's strongholds.

What now particularly engages the attention of the Committee is the need of men, called of God, to assist in the spiritual battle against the kingdom of darkness.

TRAVANCORE.

The Rev. J. Chandy sends the following special report :—

This fund still continues to be much appreciated by the Councils, as its object is to help in educating the converts from the Pulaya caste. During the year ten pastorates in connection with the Church Councils received grants from this fund. At the meeting of the Provincial Council, held in February, 1887, reports of the grants from the Henry Venn Fund were read by the pastors in turn, and the Council expressed its thankfulness for the results attained by means of the grant. It appears from the reports which were presented, that the grants are usefully employed, and that a good work is being carried on in several pastorates by their help. Children and adults among the poor illiterate Pulaya congregations are being stimulated to learn to read, and also to qualify themselves to compete for the annual examinations, when prizes are given to those who prove themselves diligent and deserving.

There was a time when the question of providing for the instruction of these Christians caused grave anxieties to the Church Councils, as the Native Church was not able to make adequate provision for the increasing bodies of converts. But now, though the grant from the Henry Venn Fund by itself is inadequate, yet the Council feels very grateful for the help it affords, and by which it has been enabled to surmount a difficulty to a certain extent.

Annual examinations were held as usual by the pastors and their helpers, and it is found that the number of those who can read is increasing.

It is also pleasing to record that the grant indirectly helps evangelistic work, for those who have been taught are generally diligent in teaching others, and they read the Word of God to their heathen friends and relatives, and very often the result is that they succeed in bringing them to the Church of Christ.

CEYLON.

The Rev. R. T. Dowbiggin sends us the following interesting account of one of the Henry Venn agents at work under his superintendence. He placed a catechist at Nambapana, and writes respecting the work :—

Friday, 21st January.—To-day an important step was taken at Nambapana—the baptism of the first converts to Christianity in that neighbourhood. We have been carrying on school-work there for some eight years, and these are the firstfruits unto God from among that people. It was after great deliberation that I baptized these first candidates, for the moral condition of the people is very low indeed: their habits and family life are certainly a very unpromising soil in which the seed of the Word can flourish: perhaps not worse than Corinth, though probably less refined in their vicious practices. A catechist, as well as the two school-teachers, is now settled there, and this will be a great help and source of strength to our two new and young converts, who have for three or four years been asking for baptism, and I felt I could no longer delay it. They are young men of nineteen and sixteen years of age, who have been taught in our school, and still attend it, though the elder will leave at Easter. The elder belongs to a very low caste, and the other to the highest or Vellala caste. Several of the villagers came to witness the baptism, and after fully explaining the rite to them, I asked if any one present could give any reason why the candidates should not be baptized; but they said "No," and testified to their good conduct.

The paper, written by an agent on the Fund, sent by Mr. Dowbiggin is headed "A Journey to Kuruwiti Korale":—

I, accompanied by brother J—— W——, left Augamfutiya on the 19th January, at about 7 a.m. First we preached to about sixteen men, at Pinnawula and Waga, on the elements of Christianity. While we were passing through Waga we saw a very old man, very weak and bent with age, sweeping the road. When asked why he did so, he said he could do no other meritorious deed to get to heaven. We were grieved, and explained to him that with a wicked and sinful heart we could do no meritorious deed, and that we should get rid of the sinful heart and get a new one, and spoke to him about the way of salvation. It seemed that he eagerly listened to us, and tried to understand what was said to him. Afterwards we arrived at Labugama at about ten o'clock, and preached to about twenty people. After breakfast we left Labugama, and travelling by the bye-path leading to Ratnapura from Labugama we preached of Christianity to about forty-eight men at Ralatawáwa, Meepoté, Kápáwala, Iddamalgoda, &c. The inhabitants of these villages are very barbarous and ignorant. The scenery of this district resembles that of the Hill Country, besides most of them imitate the Kandian costume. On the 20th we preached to about thirty men at Meennána and Kandangamuwa. At about ten we reached the village tribunal at Kandangamuwa, and explained to the president and nineteen men the elements of Christianity. Although the president showed no pleasure in the Word, yet he received us and spoke to us in a friendly way. In this village there is a good Government School. The same day, travelling by the bye-path between the thirty-ninth and the fortieth mile posts on the Ratnapura road, we preached to about forty men at Ellawalla, Akurana, and Mátnurpola. This district is hilly, and abounds with fields.

When travelling, heavy rain, accompanied with thunder and darkness, threatened us, and we were exposed to rain till about 8 p.m. Owing to the scarcity of houses it was very difficult to get food, though we could hardly get shelter in a rude hut; when we sought for a place to sleep, we found a small wretched bed on which we lay down, though we could not sleep the whole night. On the 21st we preached to twenty-six men at Iddangoda and Kiriella. In the Iddangoda Government School we read several passages from Scripture, and tried to explain them. At first they showed no pleasure to listen, but gradually they began to listen to us. On the 22nd we preached to thirty-three souls at Nambapana and Ingiriya. They listened attentively and received tracts. On the 23rd we preached to about twenty-nine persons at Poruádanda and Kalupahana.

REPORT OF THE FRANCES RIDLEY HAVERGAL MEMORIAL FUND.

THE interest of this fund is divided between providing expenses for the translation and printing of Miss Havergal's works into Indian languages and for the employment of Indian Bible-women in villages as evangelists and readers.

Under the first heading Rs. 200 have been granted to Ceylon, Rs. 200 to North India, Rs. 500 to Madras, and Rs. 200 to Travancore. During the year Morning Bells, in Tamil, translated by the Rev. S. Paul, and also Royal Commandments, in Telugu, translated by the Rev. D. Anantam, have been published. Little Pillows and Royal Invitation, in Tamil, are in progress. In other Missions the works mentioned in last Report are in course of preparation also, but the missionaries state the work of correct translation is a slow one, and it is better to proceed slowly, doing the work well, than by rapid action to produce such translations as may be faulty, and require revision at a later time.

Under the second division five Bible-women are employed, viz. one at Jandiala, one at Aurangabad, one at Jabalpur, one at Masulipatam, and one, as before, under the superintendence of Miss Clay of the Church of England Zenana Mission in the Punjab. It is to be regretted that references to the work of these women have this year been exceedingly meagre.

For Statement of this Fund, see pp. 284, 285.

REPORT ON HOME OPERATIONS.

Simultaneous Meetings.

AMONGST the Home operations of the Society, the Simultaneous Meetings * held in London last February occupy a very prominent place. They were successful beyond all expectation. The meetings and services held between February 6th and 13th were about two thousand. On February 6th it is believed that 800 missionary sermons were preached. Not including the London clergy, about 130 clergymen and laymen lent their aid as speakers. The main features of the movement were as follows: (1) Many of the parishes joining held a kind of Missionary Mission, setting apart the whole week for the meetings. (2) The aggregate meetings, numbering about 50, for deaneries or combined parishes, were as a rule crowded to excess. (3) Numerous drawing-room and juvenile meetings were held. (4) In some cases the ordinary parochial arrangements of the week were turned into a missionary channel. (5) Non-parochial meetings were held in connection with the Young Men's Christian Association, the Church of England Young Men's Society, and at Sion College, and addresses were given to the employés at many large shops and warehouses. (6) Nearly half a million of the F.S.M. tracts and papers were distributed. (7) The meetings were concluded by a united Service of Thanksgiving in St. Paul's Cathedral, which was attended by an immense congregation. A singularly thoughtful and able sermon was preached by the Bishop of Rochester. The collection amounted to 90*l.*, the largest ever known at an evening service in St. Paul's. As immediate results of the whole movement special contributions exceeding 4000*l.* have been sent in. But the fullest justification of the effort will be found, the Committee firmly believe, in the manner in which it has helped to intensify missionary zeal, and deepen missionary interest.

The London "F.S.M."

In October, 1886, Simultaneous Meetings were held in Ireland, which were attended by many of the speakers who took part in the English F.S.M., and which the Committee hope will have increased the interest taken in missionary work in the afflicted sister island.

London C.M. Unions.

The Committee record with thankfulness the increased and increasing strength imparted to the Society's work by the three London C.M. Unions. Their modes of working were referred to at some length in last year's Report.

---

* A full account of these meetings will be found in a pamphlet of 72 pages entitled "Reports of the London F.S.M.," price 6*d.*

Lay Workers' Union.

Although the "LAY WORKERS' UNION" has not added to the number (350) of its members, it has not failed to strengthen those lines of action which have already had so much success. The average attendance at the "monthly" meetings at the C.M. House has risen from about fifty to nearly 100, and besides these, gatherings were held from October to May almost weekly, either missionary Bible-readings, or classes, or model lectures, or training lessons, or debates on some missionary topic. The stimulus thus given to the acquisition of information renders doubly efficient the plan of quarterly simultaneous addresses in Sunday-schools. To the three districts in which last year these addresses were found so successful, viz. Islington, Paddington, and South London, the important Rural Deanery of Kensington can now be added. For these efforts, embracing over 100 Sunday-schools, the Society's ordinary staff of deputations is not taxed. They are undertaken, as a rule, by zealous members of the junior clergy and of the Lay Workers' Union. The same can be said of the very large majority of magic-lantern lectures given throughout London.

Union of Junior Clergy.

Marked progress has been made by the UNION OF JUNIOR CLERGY. Its numbers have risen to 260, an addition of sixty during the past year. Its "monthly" meetings last for two hours. The highest number present at any one meeting was 116, the lowest fifty-five. The profitable character of these gatherings can be estimated by the subjoined programme:—

Rev. T. W. Drury, "The Qualification and Preparation of a Missionary."

The LADIES' UNION has added 400 members to its list, which in the middle of July contained 967 names. The hon. district secretaries have increased from 14 to 25. New work is being gradually developed in their several districts, and recent returns chronicle the starting of eight missionary prayer-meetings and nineteen C.M.S. working parties, all of them outcomes of the Union. Ladies' Union.

The large new room at the C.M. House has been almost always crowded at the monthly meetings of the Union, and at the series of lectures given by the Editorial Secretary. Each of these series embraced three lectures. The subject of the lectures in the autumn was "Japan;" in the winter, "Missions in Mohammedan Lands;" and in the spring, "The North India Mission of the C.M.S."

Five successful gatherings of lady Sunday-school teachers at the C.M. House have helped to draw closer the bonds between the Society and the Sunday-schools of the districts from which they came. The teachers invited represented the districts of Harrow and Hampstead, of Bloomsbury and St. Pancras, of East and West City, of Kensington, and of Paddington.

Even of more importance than results which may be tabulated is the impulse which, by degrees, previously existing forms of parochial machinery are receiving. There is manifest increased attendance at missionary meetings, increased interest in the Juvenile Associations, increased efficiency in missionary teaching, increased diligence in box-collecting, in the promotion of sales of work, the circulation of missionary literature, &c. In addition, the Committee earnestly pray that the crown may soon be placed upon all these home missionary activities; they desire that many members of all three Unions may be led to offer themselves for, and may go forth into, the foreign field.

Gleaners' Union.

The GLEANERS' UNION is an outgrowth of the past year. The following statement explains its origin and purpose, and its growth up to May of this year:— The Gleaners' Union;

I. ITS OBJECT.—To unite in one fellowship all who labour, at home or abroad, in connection with the Church Missionary Society; all who pray for its Missions; all who are interested in the cause it represents, viz. the Evangelization of the World; all who desire to take, in any way, a personal share in its work of preaching the Gospel to the Heathen and Mohammedan nations. its object:

To this end the GLEANERS' UNION has been established. Not the Gleaner Union, but the GLEANERS' UNION—the UNION OF GLEANERS. Each member, by enrolling his name, undertakes to become (if not so already) a Missionary Gleaner, and to seek, as far as possible—

1. To glean, out of the field of Holy Scripture, the messages of God regarding His purposes of mercy to mankind, His commands to His people to make Christ known everywhere, and His promises of blessing to all who work for Him.

2. To glean knowledge and information about the Heathen and Mohammedan world, about missionary work in the world, and, in particular, about the Church Missionary Society; first, for personal instruction and profit, and secondly, for use in interesting others in the cause.

3. To glean the sympathies and the services of others to help in the work. Every Gleaner is to invite others to become Gleaners.

4. To glean the offerings of young and old, rich and poor, for the treasury of God.

5. Lastly, but first of all and above all, to glean blessings from the bounteous hand of the Lord, for Missions and Missionaries and Missionary helpers at home and abroad, by regular and definite prayer in union with his fellow-Gleaners.

its origin; II. ITS ORIGIN.—In the second week of February, 1886, several hundred special meetings in connection with the Church Missionary Society were held in various towns and villages in all parts of England. These were known as the "February Simultaneous Meetings," or, familiarly, the "F.S.M." The chief object of this movement was not to collect money, but to arouse Christian people to a sense of the obligation laid on them to fulfil the one great last commission of Christ to His Church, the evangelization of the world; that commission being not for missionaries and missionary committees only, but for every individual Christian; and its fulfilment consisting, not merely in money gifts, but in interest, sympathy, prayer, personal effort.

It was afterwards desired to perpetuate what was called the "F.S.M. spirit," by devising means for binding together all fellow-workers and sympathizers, young and old, rich and poor, at home and abroad.

To save the Hon. District Secretaries, and Secretaries and other leaders of Local Associations and Unions, from the burden of establishing a new organization, it was arranged to do so less formally and officially through the medium of the Church Missionary Gleaner, which directly reaches many thousands of the Society's supporters, and which could become at once the organ of the movement. Hence the idea of the GLEANERS' UNION.

its advantages; III. ITS ADVANTAGES.—(1) "Membership" in the Church Missionary Society is strictly defined by the Society's Laws and Regulations, and, being dependent upon a certain money subscription, excludes large numbers of devoted friends and zealous workers who ought to be brought into common fellowship. The Local Associations, where they are well worked, bring together all grades of missionary helpers, but, strictly speaking, membership in them is limited in the same way; and they are, in fact, primary organizations for raising funds. The county and other local Unions are distinctly for the inner circle of C.M.S. friends, for conference and common action. The GLEANERS' UNION (1) is world-wide, (2) welcomes all as members, (3) brings every member into direct connection and, if necessary, communication with Salisbury Square, (4) and thus fosters the sense of union and fellowship.

(2) The GLEANERS' UNION has been especially welcomed by scattered and unnoticed workers. A large proportion of the members enrolled are of this class. Numerous letters from them express in very touching terms their pleasure at being thus enabled to join a band which links them all together, and links them also with the headquarters of the Society. But others, who have already every advantage of association with their fellow-workers, are also joining in large numbers and thus encouraging others, and it is hoped that gradually the GLEANERS' UNION will enrol all the members of the Society, as well as thousands who work and pray for the cause outside the circle of legal membership.

(3) Every "Gleaner" (i.e. member of the GLEANERS' UNION) has his name enrolled at the Church Missionary House, and receives a Card of Membership. The Society can thus, if occasion should arise, communicate directly with many of its best friends, of whom it formerly knew nothing.

(4) A page or two of each number of the C.M. Gleaner is devoted to the GLEANERS' UNION, and contains correspondence, hints as to work, Bible studies, missionary questions, &c., as well as full particulars regarding the progress of the Union. Very many "Gleaners" look out for these pages with additional interest as belonging specially to themselves.

IV. ITS PROGRESS.—The UNION was announced in July, 1886. Its practical working began in November, 1886. By April 30th, 1887, Six Thousand members had been enrolled. Several local branches have been formed, and are found very helpful; but every member is registered individually at headquarters. its progress.

V. THE CARD OF MEMBERSHIP.—The Card of Membership, or "Gleanership," is inscribed with the name and registered number of the holder. On the back of it is a declaration to be signed by the holder (if he think well to do so), as follows:—

Believing that the Evangelization of the Heathen and Mohammedan World is a solemn duty laid upon the Church of Christ by her Divine Lord, and binding upon every Christian, I desire to be helped by my membership in the GLEANERS' UNION to join in prayer and work for the cause, as I may be enabled so to do.

The signing of this is quite optional; but members are recommended to sign, solemnly, as in the presence of their Lord and Master, with earnest prayer for His enabling grace, in order that their personal obligations to obey His last command may be the more impressed upon their minds.

VI. HOW TO BECOME A "GLEANER."—Send your name and address to the Editor of the Church Missionary Gleaner, Salisbury Square, London, E.C. How to become a "Gleaner."

Remit One Penny, for a Card of "Gleanership;" and also, if desired—

One Shilling and Sixpence if you wish the C.M. Gleaner posted to you monthly.

Sixpence if you wish the Quarterly Paper ("Gleanings from the Gleaner") posted to you quarterly.

One Penny for a Cycle of Prayer on a wall-sheet, or on a stout card. (N.B.—Those who do not order a Cycle in this form will receive it in the smaller form with the Card of Membership.)

Provincial C.M. Unions.

The most prominent feature of the Society's work throughout the country has been the gradual development of Unions. The word "Association" still holds, and must hold, its ground; but the two forms of organization indicated by the words "Union" and "Association," where they co-exist, do not interfere the one with the other. Church Missionary Associations are to be found almost everywhere. In many large towns the financial columns of the Report chronicle a General, a Ladies', and a Juvenile Association, each with its secretary. The Association occupies itself mainly in collecting funds, and with this view holds its meetings; but in some towns the work of an Association scarcely differs from the work of a Union. In York, for example, the Young Men's Branch of the C.M.S. has eighty members, all of whom belong to the Gleaners' Union, and holds monthly meetings for the reading of papers and discussion and prayer. The Ladies' Association holds quarterly meetings. The term "Union" has been growing in favour because expressing a stronger bond between its members, and more definite obligations. The rules of all Unions may be classed under these three heads, viz. their members agree to pray for, to work for, and to read about the Missions of the Society.

County Unions.

The COUNTY UNIONS have, during the past year, increased by six, from twenty-four to thirty, representing thirty-three counties. These six have been formed in Berks, Hereford, West Kent, Lincoln, Shropshire, and Westmoreland. A beginning has also been made in following the example set in London. Although there is a County Union in Warwickshire, yet in Birmingham a "C.M. Union of Junior Clergy for the Rural Deanery of Birmingham" has been started. Lay Workers' Unions in Bedford and Liverpool are additions to those in Hull and Ipswich mentioned last year; and besides the Ladies' Union for Norfolk, and that for Cambridge and Cambridgeshire already existing, two new Ladies' Unions, one for Bedford and Huntingdon and one for West Herts, indicate a forward step in a movement towards a general formation of Ladies' Unions, which the Committee hope will now rapidly grow.

A few remarks may be added about the County Unions. They admit as members always clergy and laity, and, in most cases, ladies. They hold two, sometimes three, meetings in the year, at different centres. One of these is chiefly a business meeting, when the hon. district secretaries consult together and report upon their work. In two cases, in Norfolk and in Somerset, a list of local clergy willing to lecture upon particular mission-fields is circulated amongst the clergy of the county.

With the exception of the Norfolk Union, but three of the Unions have an age of seven years, and this fact renders it as yet difficult to estimate the general effect of their working upon the country.

The reports sent in—but there are some exceptions—strike generally a note of encouragement and hopefulness, and the Committee confidently feel that in the effectual working of these Unions lies in the future a main source of the Society's strength. In proof of this, they subjoin the Report of the Rev. E. D. Stead upon the effects of the Suffolk C.M. Union :—

This Union has now been in existence seven years; and I am thankful to say (1) that it has proved most useful as a bond of union between the friends of the Society in all parts of the country, and as a means of creating greater interest in the work of the C.M.S. generally. (2) That it has been the means of drawing out men for work in the mission-field. Four, all for Africa, have already gone forth from our ranks, the Revs. E. A. Fitch, W. S. Price, W. Roper, and T. Walker. (3) The funds contributed from Suffolk have not fallen off, but have rather increased, in spite of the very severe agricultural depression; and this is undoubtedly due, under God, to the zeal and energy displayed by members of the Union. (4) The meetings continue increasing, both in size and interest. The one last held at Ipswich, in April, was the best and largest we have ever had.

General.

Missionary spirit at the Universities.

The growing missionary spirit at the Universities of Cambridge and Dublin, referred to in last year's Report, has received practical illustration. From Cambridge twelve men have been accepted by the Society, a number double that of any former year. Seven of these were members of the CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY CHURCH MISSIONARY UNION. This Union, begun in 1858, holds weekly meetings during the October and Lent Terms, and in the present year will be installed in its own room in the Henry Martyn Memorial Hall.

The DUBLIN UNIVERSITY CHURCH MISSIONARY ASSOCIATION has started a DUBLIN UNIVERSITY FUH-KIEN MISSION in connection with, and under the control of, the C.M.S. Men and means will be provided by the University, and already one man, the Rev. T. S. Collins, has been appointed to aid in the Theological College at Fuh-chow.

The character of the anniversaries in the larger towns contains many encouraging features. Those of Manchester, Liverpool, and Bristol may be specially mentioned. Juvenile or preparatory gatherings were held on the Saturdays preceding the anniversaries; Simultaneous Sermons were preached in the C.M.S. churches on the following Sundays, and on the subsequent Mondays, at Manchester, in the afternoon, there was a conference of clergy; at Liverpool, a conference of clergy and laity; while in the evening the largest buildings available were packed by enthusiastic audiences; at Manchester the vast Free Trade Hall, at Liverpool the Hope Hall, and at Bristol the Victoria Rooms. The collections at the Manchester and Bristol meetings doubled those of last year; at the Liverpool meeting they were 15*l.* in excess. The thrilling story of the Rev. R. P. Ashe touched every heart.*

Taking a general review of the whole country, the position and prospects of the Society afford ground for much thankfulness and encouragement. It is true that the long-continued agricultural depression, which has most seriously affected the incomes of the clergy as well as of the laity, has in some places diminished the sums sent up to the Society. It is also true that livings vacated by its warm friends have in many cases been filled by men having little or no sympathy with its Evangelical principles, and that in such cases either no support or very cold support has been rendered. But it is equally true that the earnest efforts put forth by a large number of Hon. District Secretaries, and the consolidation and extension of work brought about by the many Church Missionary County Unions which have been formed within the last few years, have, to some extent, made up for these adverse influences. New friends are coming forward to take the place of those who have passed away. Parishes are in many cases much better organized than heretofore, earnest workers of all sorts are found, and thus the Committee feel that they may look forward with hope to the future as well as look back with gratitude to the past.

* Accounts of these anniversaries will be found in the C.M. Intelligencer. Manchester in the April, Bristol in the May, and Liverpool in the June number.

The thanks of the Committee are due to the large number of volunteers who preach and speak on the Society's behalf. Out of a total of 7509 sermons recorded as preached during the year, no less than 4797 were preached by the parochial clergy. Of the remainder, 1712 were preached by the Association Secretaries, and about 1000 by missionaries on the deputation staff. Out of a total of 2868 recorded meetings, the Association Secretaries were present at 1732. The parishes which have been gained show a net increase of 35.

And I declare that the Receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society shall be an effectual discharge for the said residue [or sum of money, as the case may be]. And as to the remainder if any of my general Residuary Personal Estate I bequeath the same, &c.§

* If so intended.

NOTICE TO TREASURERS AND SECRETARIES OF ASSOCIATIONS.

THE COMMITTEE of the Church Missionary Society beg to remind the Treasurers or Secretaries of Associations that the Society's financial year ends on the 31st of March.

All Moneys belonging to the year should be received at the Society's House by that date, in order to ensure their being included in the accounts for the year then closing.

The Committee would also strongly urge for universal adoption, the practice of making early remittances after the 1st April on account of the year's receipts in the hands of the Local Treasurer. This course would tend to equalize in a greater degree the Income and Expenditure in the earlier months of the Society's Financial year, and save the Society a considerable yearly sum. They are glad to observe that the suggestion has been partially carried out during the present year, but they are desirous of seeing it more generally adopted.

Sums remaining unpaid on the 31st March are no longer shown in the Accounts as Balances. The Contribution Lists should therefore agree in total with the amounts actually paid to the Parent Society to that date.

Much labour and expense is saved to the Society by sending in the Lists and Accounts as soon after the money as possible. If not so sent the lists are liable to be excluded from the Report. The date at which the Accounts of the Association are closed, and the names of the Local Officers should be specified. Should no names be given it will be assumed that they remain the same as in the previous Report, and the List will be so printed. Where the Account or the List is a printed one, two copies should be forwarded.

The Lists and Accounts should be written legibly to avoid mistakes in printing, and made up in the manner in which the same are printed in the Parent Society's Report. A Form of Account may be had on application at the Society's House.

Where an Association has Branches connected with it, the Accounts of the Branches must be forwarded to the Secretary of the Association some time before the period for forwarding the Accounts of that Association to London. When this is not done within a reasonable time, such Branches should be considered as self-excluded, and the Accounts forwarded without them.

Branch Associations should in every case, where practicable, forward their Money and Lists through the Association with which they are connected, and not direct to the Parent Society. If sent direct, the Association or District with which such Branch is connected should be specified.

Contributions to Special Funds are, where possible, taken out of the lists and transferred to the funds to which they respectively belong. In cases where the lists are received too late for this purpose, the transfers will be made in, and the amounts deducted from the contributions of, the succeeding year.

XX.—STATEMENT OF CONTRIBUTIONS, SCHOOL FEES, GOVERNMENT GRANTS, &c., RECEIVED IN THE VARIOUS MISSIONS OF THE SOCIETY DURING 1886.

This Statement has been compiled with a view to giving to the Society's friends the best statement possible of the sums received (in connection with its work throughout the world) in addition to the Contributions to the General Fund, and to the Income derived from Special Funds in the Parent Committee's hands.

The following figures are therefore assumed to be exclusive of the sums shown in the General Account of Receipts and Payments on pp. 272 and 273.
